CONGRESS SHALL MAKE NO LAWS ABRIDGING THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS... What I Think and have a Right to Say

IF THEY ONLY KNEW. For several weeks past different groups of the efficient and kindly spoken telephone girls...

But if they only knew what some of their friends and neighbors say as they watch them walk all day long around in a circle in front of the building...

Plymouth has long enjoyed a most efficient and courteous telephone service on the part of the operators who handle telephone calls. We hope sincerely that when this strike mess is over...

We have always been proud of the very excellent service the Plymouth telephone operators have given to this city and vicinity. We hope that the strike, when it ends, will not have destroyed that courteous efficiency...

Vaccinate 1063 Children Here

This week is being spent in checking the results. Nurse Strasen stated. Most of the vaccinations are "working", and those children that show no response to the vaccine are being referred to their family doctors for further study. All in all the results are satisfactory.

It is comforting to know, that should an epidemic of smallpox occur, the school children of Plymouth would be able to stave off this disease. The nurse warns, however, that to be absolutely certain of immunity to this disease the program should be continued every three years.

Fire Department Saves Burning Car

With automobiles as difficult to procure as they are at present, it seems newsworthy to report the burning of one.

The car belonging to Jack Phillips of Plymouth burst into flames last Sunday. The Plymouth fire department answered the alarm with their usual promptness and were responsible in keeping the damage to a minimum. Damage was estimated at fifty dollars.

The conflagration started on Starkweather street, across from the Plymouth Grill. Fire Chief Robert McAllister, stated that the flames were attributed to faulty wiring in the machine.

Dettling Has New Line Of Outboard Boats

Russell Dettling of 906 South Main street has been appointed dealer for the Robert's Boat Co. Inc. line of outboard motor boats for Plymouth.

The Robert's Clipper and the Robert's Express are by far the most advanced hull designs in outboard boats under sixteen feet long. This new designed hull is extremely roomy and seaworthy and rides at an unusually level plane. It planes flat across the water with any outboard motor up to 33 horse power.

"We suggest that you boatmen in Plymouth, who are interested in owning a boat this season look over these fine boats on display in our salesroom. Prompt delivery is being made at this time," said Mr. Dettling.

Champion and Neptune outboard motors are also available for immediate delivery.

Lt. Russell Sorenberg, coast guard captain of the Port of Detroit, says, "Outboard-powered craft less than sixteen feet long do not have to be registered. A new ruling holds that an outboard-powered is not a motor boat within the meaning of the law unless the motor is bolted or permanently secured to the hull."

Owners of boats affected can now turn their numbers in to the Merchant Marine Inspection Bureau, 430 Federal Building, Detroit."

THE CUB SCOUT AND CUBBERS' SHOW

By Harold H. Schryer

There's a story worth telling, my friends,
Of three hundred people you know,
Who forsook pleasures in coming
With their sons to the Cub Hobby Show.

One Saturday night they spent
With their boys
Intent on the things of their hearts,
And the time sped by on wings of delight
As each of the many enacted their parts.

Embanked 'round the room were the many displays
Depicting the arts and the crafts
Which to these Cubs portrayed hours of content
In completing the work and its drafts.

Most all of these works enlisted the aid
Of the mothers and brothers
and Dads
Of the boys who enjoyed to the minute the help
Thus freely passed on to these lads.

There were scrapbooks and boats
in aeroplane too,
And collections of minerals and stones;
Plus metals and paper and book-ends and toys
All made by the Smiths and the Browns and the Jones.

Now perhaps you may think that only the Cubs Felt themselves the stars of this show,
But I saw the faces of their Mothers
and Dads
Depicting THEIR importance, you know.

And rightly the gleam from these loving eyes Show (in pride of their effort well) spent
In bringing to life these inanimate things
That spelled for this moment
Junior's content.

Too numerous to count were these well guided hours
Which brought to the fore these displays
Of handiworks born from a well chosen theme
And carried on in their home

through the days.
The speakers were few, yet each
in his place,
Brought forth a well chosen
point of this game,
Which is played 'round the world
from morning 'til night
And all of us know the worth of its name.

Yes, Cubbing is fun, if everyone takes hold of its helm
And pointing towards the morrows ahead Press with vigor of purpose and aim unexcelled
For the Land of True Values to whence they are led.

Our hats we remove as we toss
a bouquet
To the men and the women we know,
Who worked hard and long to bring to success
The Western Community Cub
Hobby Show.

So many are they we can mention but few
In this space dedicated to praise
Of the efforts they spent sans selfishness all
To bring joy to these good Cubbing days.

But Blossom and Jousma, Em-Cees of the Show, Extend many thanks to the rest;
To Strong and to Hees and to Specht
For aiding their cause with their best.

To the adults and parents of Cubs
in the show
These Leaders their thanks do extend,
For how could there be such an excellent thing
Sans people in support to its end?

There are comments too many for detail herein
Of the merits we noted in mind,
But all we can say in the space
we have left
Is to the effect that true Cub-bers are fine.

How to Get Rid Of Fly Nuisance

Michigan can have fly-free fairs this summer if local fair boards comply with recommendations of the Bureau of Engineering of the Michigan Department of Health, John M. Hepler, director of the Bureau of Engineering said today.

The need for fly control at fairs is based on these facts. Fairs come at the height of the fly season. Flies spread disease when they transfer filth from the open toilet vault, the barns or garbage pile to the food counter or picnic table. Flies are a nuisance and they worry people, cattle, horses, sheep and swine.

A 95 to 98 per cent reduction of flies can be obtained through the use of the insecticide DDT in a comparatively simple manner.
Commercial companies can apply the insecticide, or where they are not available it can be applied by fairgrounds employees.

DDT should be applied two or three days before the opening of the fair, before paper or fragile decorations are in place, but after whitewashing. Food concessions in temporary housings may have to be treated on the opening day of the fair. In treating food concessions it is necessary to cover or remove all food or dishes and to avoid applying DDT to table and counter tops.

Toilets, barns, stables, sheds, pens and tents where animals or fowl are quartered or exhibited, as well as food concessions, should be treated. DDT should be applied on the surfaces which remain untouched for the most part and which are frequented by flies.
These include screens, inside walls, ceilings and the sheltered overhang of roofs.

The insecticide is best applied as a fine droplet spray, wetting the surface evenly and thoroughly without excessive running or waste of material, except in case of screens where a roller type paint applicator should be used.
The area to be covered by the spraying method is in most cases great enough to make the use of power spray equipment advisable.
Orchard sprayers can be adapted for applying DDT by a simple nozzle change or adjustment. A three gallon garden sprayer can be used to advantage in treating small areas, especially in food concessions where an even neat application is desired. A flat fan type pattern is best suited for application of DDT. The liquid spray material should be agitated while it is being applied.

An emulsified oil concentrate containing about 25 per cent DDT is the most economical to use since it can be diluted with water to any desired concentration. The recommended concentration for fairgrounds is 1 to 2 per cent for all surfaces except screens, where a 5 per cent solution should be used. The 5 per cent solution should also be used when fly killing effects are needed for more than two or three weeks. However, most 5 per cent ready mixed liquid spray materials cannot be diluted, so the stronger concentrate should be purchased. When applied with an orchard sprayer, one gallon of the diluted material will cover about 700 square feet of surface. Applied by hand it will cover about 1,000 square feet.

DDT spray is no more dangerous to handle than many common orchard spray materials. Precautions are to avoid undue exposure to falling or drifting spray droplets and if the DDT material, especially the concentrate comes in contact with the body, remove any soaked clothing and wash the wetted parts of the body with soap and water. It is not necessary for those working with DDT to use respirators if they apply the material for only one or two days,
Mr. Hepler said.

This method of fly control has been demonstrated by the Michigan Department of Health at fair grounds for the past two years.

To be what we are, and to become what we are capable of becoming, is the only end of life.—
Robert Louis Stevenson

ARE SELF-CLEANING
SLIP LESS • PULL MORE

When Lincoln was asked how long a man's legs should be, he said, "Long enough to reach the ground." That's what we say about the kind of cleats you want on your Tractor Tire, the kind that give you the most pull, least slip. Most farmers have found that the Kelly open center pattern digs in better, grips better—does more work—faster. Then, too, these cleats are wider at the base to prevent tearing. They keep clean and they last longer. Our service helps, too. Let us Full-Liquid-Fill your tires, for better traction, longer life, less trouble.

New Sub-Division For Ranch Houses

Herald Hamill and his crew of surveyors have nearly completed the laying out of a new sub-division on Merriman road, between Six Mile and Seven Mile roads.

The William Howe 80 acre farm is being subdivided into 80x300 foot lots, the plots being arranged especially for ranch type houses.

Mr. Hamill, who has laid out a large number of sub-divisions during the years, states that this one will appeal especially to those who like the one story, rambling type of homes.

The new plot will be known as the Howe Gardens. It is not known when the lots will go on the market.

Public Accepts Parking Meters As a Necessity

Quite to the surprise of every one, citizens of Plymouth have accepted the new parking meters without the general protest that had been expected. A few objections have been received, but on the whole most automobile drivers look upon them as a necessity.

"There is one thing about it, I can now find a place to park my car when I want to go into a store to do some shopping," said one driver the other day as he dropped his nickel into the parking meter slot.

City Manager Harold Cheek states that it will not be possible for a few weeks to tell what the income from the meters will be, but it is his opinion from the general use up to the present that the meters will bring to the city a fairly good amount of income.

Stealing Fish Out of Hatchery

Established more than half a century ago, the Northville fish hatchery, operated by the federal government, a few days ago reported the first theft of fish that had ever taken place from its rearing ponds.

But those who have been dipping fish out of these ponds had better think twice before doing so again, because, if arrested, they face criminal charges in the federal courts.

Superintendent Widmyer has not stated how many thefts have taken place this spring, but a sufficient amount of fish have been taken to justify a much closer watch in the future than has been maintained in the past.

Superintendent For Maybury

The appointment of Dr. W. Leonard Howard, medical director and superintendent of Arthur S. Kimball sanatorium in Battle Creek as medical superintendent of Detroit's 846-bed Maybury sanatorium at Northville was announced Friday by the Detroit board of health. Dr. Howard has been head of the Kimball sanatorium, Calhoun county's tuberculosis hospital, for the last five years and before that was medical director of the American Legion hospital near Fort Totten for more than nine years.

Fred Sheriff, president of the board of trustees of Kimball sanatorium, said the board has known for two weeks that Dr. Howard was being contemplated for the position at the Northville hospital, but that Dr. Howard's formal resignation will not be tendered until the next board meeting. Sheriff said the trustees will meet early next week to consider the resignation and appoint a successor. Several prospects are being considered, he said.

Mr. Sheriff complimented Dr. Howard on his record at Battle Creek and said that the position as medical director at Maybury sanatorium is one of the top jobs in the field of tuberculosis.

Maybury sanatorium is one of two institutions in the Detroit municipal sanitarium setup and among the largest tuberculosis hospitals in the country. He probably will take up his duties at Northville as executive head of the institution about May 15. He will succeed Dr. H. S. Willis, who resigned.

We used to know a fellow that worked only while looking for a job for his wife.

Busy Days For City Gardeners

Recent days have been busy ones for hundreds of Plymouth residents who enjoy raising garden products.

Wet weather has kept the more energetic ones from doing any work up until a week or so ago when clearing weather made possible garden plowing and spading.

While cold weather has delayed some early planting, Jack Rose, gardening specialist at Michigan State, gives several methods by which late planting can be overcome.

Rose cautions against working the soil when it is too wet. Early cultivation, when the soil is wet, can make it difficult to work all season. When a ball of earth squeezed in the hand crumbles, instead of sticking together like putty, the ground is ready to be worked.

Lack of nitrogen often affects early gardens. The bacteria in the soil that make nitrogen available to plants do not begin to function until the soil has warmed up. A high nitrogen fertilizer applied to early peas, lettuce, radishes, and spinach aids development.

For the average garden soil, Rose recommends a 4-12-4 fertilizer, applied broadcast at the rate of 3 pounds per 1000 square feet. On lighter soils, a fertilizer containing more potash, such as 3-12-12 is better. Nitrogen fertilizers, ammonium nitrate, sulfate of ammonia, or nitrate of soda, help to speed up early crops of vegetables, but care should be taken in their application.

If peas have not been grown before in this year's garden soil, they should be inoculated to enable the peas to make some nitrogen. Inoculating material for peas is available at most seed dealers and hardware stores.

The beauty of holiness has done more, and will do more, to regenerate the world and bring in everlasting righteousness than all the other agencies put together.

Tells How To Help late Planting Get Better Start

Cold weather has delayed the planting of early gardens in many parts of Michigan. Jack Rose, gardening specialist at Michigan State college, lists several methods that can be used to help plant development when the garden is planted.

Rose cautions against working the soil when it is too wet. Early cultivation, when the soil is wet, can make it difficult to work all season. When a ball of earth squeezed in the hand crumbles, instead of sticking together like putty, the ground is ready to be worked.

Rainbow was founded 25 years ago by Mark Sexton, of McAlester, Oklahoma. Therefore all assemblies are observing this twenty-fifth anniversary by having a silver tea. We hope that as many girls, Mason, and Eastern Stars will attend as possible.

Red Cross Room Open on Thursday

The local chapter of the American Red Cross announces that beginning May 15, their room in the basement of the post office will be open Thursday only.

There is still a great deal of work to be accomplished and any help which is offered will be greatly appreciated.

A report from Red Cross headquarters declare that Miss E. M. Millward and the ladies who have assisted her in the knitting program have done an admirable job. In the 935 knitted garments reported for March the Plymouth contribution was outstanding.

Writer Cites City Need For Assessment Board

The citizens of Plymouth showed what an aroused citizenry can really do when they desire to correct what appears to be an unjust act. The problem of equalization of assessments in this community has been a serious one for over 20 years. In 1938, outsiders were called in to do a job that should have been done by a qualified local assessing officer. Under our charter, the City Assessor is charged with the duties of making the assessments for the City of Plymouth. Our community has been gradually permitting the County Board of Taxation, and others, to influence, if not completely determine, the assessed values of property in this community. Other cities have found that no one person can properly assess all of the real and personal property of a community and treat everyone fair and just. Plymouth has become a city—a city with fine homes, modern stores and modern factories. It may be that we are now in need of a modern assessing system.

Out of all this local dispute, in which probably no one is completely wrong or no one is completely right, it is hoped that a movement may be started whereby citizens of Plymouth who have a knowledge of the valuations of property in this community and who have courage, ability and a sufficient desire to serve the public, can be induced to make up a board of three or more assessors. This body should not be under the control of the City Commission or City Manager but should be responsible directly to the people of this community.

An aroused citizenry makes for better government. Our community has reason to be proud of its long record of honest, conscientious public servants. It is hoped that all of the citizens will continue to show interest in their community in order that our City can continue to maintain its high place among the cities of this state.

Perry W. Richwine

Bomb Sights Made Here Are Sold For Old Junk

While it was a closely guarded secret during the war years, since the end of hostilities it has become generally known that a very large percent of the Norden bomb sights made for American flying forces were produced in the Burroughs plant in Plymouth.

Now there is a scandal brewing in Washington over the sale of these highly valuable bombing instruments to a junk dealer. So closely guarded was the secret about the making of these bomb sights in Plymouth, that the army air forces forced the Pere Marquette to back its express cars inside the Burroughs plant for the loading of these crated bomb-sights.

In addition to this precaution, two heavily armed guards were locked in each express car as it left the plant. Most of the bomb-sights were shipped to Chicago from Plymouth and distributed from that place by the army air forces.

A Washington newspaper dispatch recently revealed the following information: about the scandalous sale of these valuable instruments:

"A House committee today launched an investigation of a transaction in which the War Assets Administration reportedly sold crates of precision bombing instruments to a junk dealer as worthless scrap."

"Representative Rizley (R-Okla.), chairman of a House group investigating surplus property sales, announced that a committee investigator has been assigned to look into the deal involving Adolf Neuwald, a junk dealer in Tulsa, Okla."

"Representative Schwabe (R-Okla.) said that Neuwald found that wooden and steel containers sold to him by the WAA contained Norden bombsights and similar air instruments originally worth $107,000."

"Schwabe revealed that Neuwald had agreed to take the containers when they were thrown in almost gratis when he purchased some scrap metal."

The junk dealer was said to have sold 50 of the containers for one dollar apiece to a Tulsa dairy under the impression that they held only scrap metal.

Workmen at the dairy plant reportedly discovered Army Air Force glider bombing attachments when they opened the crates. Neuwald was said to have found bombsight stabilizers, air force flights gyroscopes, telescope sights and Norden bombsights in the remaining boxes.

WAA officials at Tulsa contended the Army Air Forces was at fault for declaring the instruments as surplus junk without opening the crates.

"Rizley, however, claims the War Assets Administration should have had curiosity enough to open the crates itself before selling the contents sight unseen."

"Among the manifold soft chimes that will fill the haunted chambers of memory, this is the sweetest: 'Thou hast been faithful.'"—Mary Baker Eddy

Sincerity is the element in which great things flourish. It is the basis of all success. It is the bridge between the ideal and the real, the fullness and the majesty, into the delights of life, which they are thenceforth to rule.—Carlyle

Save Life Of Cancer Patient

Chalk up one victory in Plymouth already as the result of the widespread interest created in the cancer threat to humanity.

Orin Ribar, twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Ribar, of Plymouth, is progressing rapidly after his recent bout with that much publicized killer, cancer.

Orin has recently returned to Plymouth from the University Hospital at Ann Arbor where he underwent seven weeks of treatment and surgery. Suffering from a melanotic growth on the fourth toe of his right foot, it was at first feared that an amputation of the leg would be necessary. Such drastic surgery was averted, however, when an examination of the lymph nodes showed no sign of a true cancerous nature. The toe and part of the foot were removed and a bone decalcification was done. The patient responded well to post-operative treatment.

After the operation more clinical tests and examinations were made and the conclusion was that there was but one chance in ten thousand that the affliction would ever occur again.

To forestall even this slight chance of recurrence another operation was decided upon. Three weeks later a lymph section was done on the lad. An incision was made in the groin and the lymph glands were removed. By doing this the slightest possible chance of the disease passing through the lymph system and into other parts of the body was overcome.

Dr. A. C. Williams was consulted at the outset and was the first to examine Orin. Recognizing the affliction for what it was, he refrained from instituting any surgery or treatment until complete laboratory tests were conducted. It was he who suggested that the boy be sent to the University Hospital.

This case is especially noteworthy in that it comes at the time when Plymouth's local chapter of the American Cancer Society is expending every effort to make their drive for funds a success. There are still a few days left in which contributions can be made and if those who haven't been heard will rally to the cause the goal will be assured. Funds are desperately needed that more lives, like that of Orin Ribar, can be saved.

As Mrs. Ribar stated when interviewed, "I truly believe that cancer can be cured if it is discovered in time."

War Assets Administration is now operating customer service centers in all parts of the country. The one for Michigan is located at 13740 Oakland avenue, Highland Park, where customers can get complete information on all surplus sales.

ROCKS CAPTURE SECOND LEAGUE GAME 7-1
 Getting an early lead Plymouth easily defeated the Belleville nine by a score 7-1 at the local field, Tuesday, Friday 29. When Plymouth was leading by only 3-1 and the bases were loaded DeWayne Becker blasted a timely triple and then scored himself on an error. Then the thoroughly down-hearted Belleville team never threatened again.
 Belleville's one run was unearned. Dobbs bobbled a grounder when two were on, thus allowing the bases to be loaded. Two were out. Then Stout walked a run over but struck out the next batter. In every inning save this he was ahead of the batters. This is shown by his two hit pitching.

Two's Smart Company

Six is no crowd

Look at it like this:

When you and your best girl roll up in this tidy number, how can folks help saying: "Who's the smart couple in the slick new Buick?"

Or when it's up to you to do the generous thing, what quartet wouldn't be glad to ride with the two of you — in the neatest, freshest bit of automobile styling on the roads today?

Fact is, this trim Buick Sedanet combines topmost smartness and companionability with an amazing amount of room.

Back of its big, Fireball-filled bonnet there's room for six—cloaked in sleek, fade-away lines that suggest a coupe.

Under your treadle foot, there's all the eager, velvety power your heart desires.

and each light-stepping wheel rides on its own soft cushion of jar-taming coiled steel.

There's huskiness to level your going-room for arms, heads and legs — lightness of handling you wouldn't think possible in a car so impressive and so sizable.

So come take a look. See, firsthand, why this is America's most wanted automobile.

See too why it's smart to settle your mind on Buick — and get your order in now. You can place yours with or without a car to trade.

Gene Alleman Discusses New Moral Force Out to Help Humanity

By Gene Alleman

Michigan's capital city, well acclimated by now to the Sigler reform wave, this week had something new and unknown to talk about in the line of moral uplift. Mackinac Island's "Moral Re-armorment" movement, led by a "task force" of between 200 and 250 converts, hit the town with a snappy musical revue called "Ideas Have Legs."

Something entirely new and different, the entertainment was a strange and yet effective combination of old-time morality—materialism and spiritual truth—and a 1947 headline theme, the present ideological showdown between democracy and dictatorialism.

Mackinac Island's "Moral Re-armorment" movement, led by a "task force" of between 200 and 250 converts, hit the town with a snappy musical revue called "Ideas Have Legs."

Something entirely new and different, the entertainment was a strange and yet effective combination of old-time morality—materialism and spiritual truth—and a 1947 headline theme, the present ideological showdown between democracy and dictatorialism.

Due to the personal popularity of the sponsor, Senator Harold D. Tripp of Allegan, whose drug store sold $32,700 in packaged liquor last year, the Senate approved the bill. No hearing was held at the time.

Opposition quickly arose from such diverse groups as the Michigan Temperance Foundation, Michigan Table-Top Licensees Congress (bar owners), Royal Oak association (liquor people), the Michigan Brewers' Association, and Federal Judge Frank A. Picard, first chairman of the state liquor control commission.

Smarting under public criticism that he stood to benefit personally from his own bill, Senator Tripp staged a highly dramatic scene and tore up his state license. He announced that henceforth he would not sell liquor in his drug store at Allegan.

Trout Fishermen Have Poor Luck

Plymouth fishermen went up north and then came back! That's the story. Streams were reported to be high and conditions were not conducive to tarring the trout, so state most of the mirros from the city who opened the season last week.

Only one or two reasonable catches were heard of here. Dr. B. E. Champe and his party managed to bring back a few fair sized ones, but for the most part the local fishermen say that there was plenty of natural food floating in the riled up waters. Therefore the fish just weren't interested in even the most enticing bait thrown to them. And Plymouth fishermen, between them, know all the different kinds to try.

Grease on shoes does no good in dry weather. In fact, it will rot the threads so that the stitching will give way. The only legitimate purpose of greasing leather shoes is to keep them pliable and perhaps to turn moisture for a few minutes. There is no such thing as a waterproof leather shoe.

NOTICE OF REGISTRATION PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP SCHOOL DISTRICT

Notice is hereby given that registrations will be accepted from the qualified school electors of the Plymouth Township School District daily from 8:30 A.M. to 4 P.M. at the school office Monday through Friday & Saturdays 8:30 to 12 noon. Registrations will also be accepted Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Starkweather School or at the home of the secretary of the Board of Education, Mrs. Alice Strong at 1274 Williams Street, Plymouth.

THE LAST DAY FOR REGISTRATION IS SATURDAY, MAY 31, 1947

On this day the school office will be open for registration from 8:30 a.m. to 8 o'clock p.m.

THIS NOTICE GIVEN BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Plymouth Township Schools
Sterling Eaton, president

YOU MUST BE REGISTERED TO VOTE AT THE SCHOOL ELECTION MONDAY, JUNE 9, 1947

WHO MAY REGISTER: A SCHOOL ELECTOR MUST BE:

- A citizen of the United States
- 21 years of age
- A resident of the State for 6 months and of the school district for 20 days prior to the date of the registration.

Due to the formation of a township unit all former registrations were cancelled by law — unless you have re-registered at the school office within the past year, you are not eligible to vote at the annual school election.

This is one of the finest groups that America has ever produced," he enthused. "I, for one, would be willing to have the State subsidize this group so they could go to every state of the Union."

The "task force" lived and dined at a capitol square hotel for two weeks or more. The premier performance was preceded with a complimentary dinner—all from the goodness of a Committee of Invitation. Among the sponsors was State Police Commissioner Donald Leonard.

Puzzling and entirely unorthodox to Lansing was the fact that no one was asked to "join" or to become a "member." No requests were made for donations. The show was free—and three performances were held.

With headquarters on Mackinac Island, Moral Rearmorment is not a sect; it has no creed; it seeks the moral regeneration of the individual. It preaches the old, old principle of the Golden Rule.

Who pays the expenses—the hotel bills, transportation, clothing and the like? Lansingites were openly suspicious, wondering when the "bite" would come. One lobbyist told us with conviction: "I'm going to get to the bottom of this if it takes me ten years."

Ray Purdy, a Christian gentleman of marked culture and winsome personality, told us that MRA was financed by persons who received "guidance" to make a subscription. Mr. Purdy is one of the MRA directors.

Our own observation: A lot of people and organizations are doing good in the world. The MRA has worth-while objectives, like the others, and it is doing good with its modernized gospel of the Golden Rule.

FAIR IN THE LIGHT OF MEMORY SHINES
MICHIGAN
My MICHIGAN
ELTON R. EATON

What effect will the high waters and floods that have prevailed throughout Michigan this year have on the fishing, many fishermen in Plymouth as well as elsewhere are asking.

Some say it will help, others say you can look for a poor season, especially in the streams.

Only time will tell. The state will, this summer, plant many hundreds of thousands of legal size trout, officials of the Western Wayne County Conservation Club have been advised. This will make it somewhat impossible to tell what effect the floods have had on the fishing this season. But fishermen will be able to tell whether the trout they catch are native of the stream or planted trout. The million or so of trout to be planted have all been fin-clipped.

Fred A. Westerman, fish division chief, points out that this marking, that will enable every fisherman this season to tell a hatchery trout from a wild one is not, as some believe, to demonstrate the extent of state plantings. Rather, he says, it is to make clear the true abundance of wild fish, as the more common error has been to overestimate the proportion of hatchery fish.

Thousands of the trout to be planted in the current season had their fins clipped as long as a year ago, and their swimming, feeding and growing in hatchery ponds has been entirely normal without the big dorsal fin, hatcherymen say. The marking is done at small cost. When fish must be handled specifically for fin clipping, the work may cost nearly half a cent a fish, but hatchery workers have kept this cost down by combining the clipping routine handling for periodical sorting of the fish and moving them from pond to pond, as their growth requires.

In this part of the state few fish were killed by the long winter season of ice that covered the lakes. This is somewhat unusual as a long winter generally raises havoc with fish in some lakes.

Lower Crooked Lake in Barry County however, lost more than 15,000 fish in the only serious winterkill of the season yet observed by conservation department fisheries men.

Thousands of sea gulls have been on the lake, feeding on the fish that suffocated when oxygen in the water became insufficient, after ice sealed out the air and snow shut out the sunlight. Because the freeze-up came relatively late last winter losses from winterkill are expected to be generally light for the state as a whole. Some lakes, however, still are ice-covered.

When he inspected the winterkill on Lower Crooked lake, district fisheries supervisor R. G. Fortney found places where the dead fish were packed solid among weeds and slush ice as far as 100 feet from shore.

How many birds hen pheasants released in the spring will produce for fall hunting is the question behind experimental release this month of 500 pheasants from Mason state game farm.

The pheasants are being planted in "harem sized" groups of about six hens per cock pheasant at Dansville state game area and at Rose Lake and Swan Creek wildlife experiment stations, where they may be observed closely. Some of the releases will be "gentle"—the birds being held and fed in pens for a while and the pens, still supplied with food and water, later opened so the birds may go and return when they choose. Spring-planted pheasants all will wear colored leg bands, for easier identification in the field.

Spring vs. fall stocking is an old debate among game bird propagators. Theoretically every spring released hen could rear a brood of eight or so—half of them legal cock birds—but for some unknown reasons this multiplication does not follow.

Originally the test of results to be expected from spring releases was to have been made with a variety of pheasants slightly different from the standard Michigan stock, but no game bird breeders could be found to supply adult pheasants of any sort in quantity.

Stagged pants are the best for woods wear. If there is any question in your mind, notice the number of lumberjacks and woodsmen who wear them. They afford freedom of movement and they have no cuffs to cause a possible fall. Tightlaced breeches are horrible for hiking.

Patrol Winners
 See Washington

Patrick O'Neil, 15445 Harrison, age 12, safety patrol leader at St. Michael's school of Plymouth was among the 120 outstanding leaders from schools throughout the state who went to Washington, D. C., Thursday on an all-expense tour.

O'Neil was selected by local school authorities to make the four-day trip after his school was cited by Auto Club for its safety activities during 1946-47.

Winning safety patrol leaders assembled in Detroit on Thursday afternoon from all parts of the state, according to Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club safety and traffic director. After being registered, the youngsters were given a physical checkup, instructions on the itinerary and trip rules.

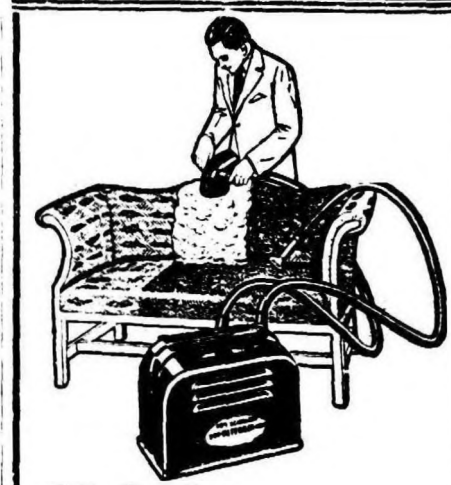

The group, along with adult supervisors and registered nurses, boarded a special Safety Patrol train at 5:30 p. m. to begin the overnight trip to Washington.

This, Friday morning, they will see downtown Washington and the Capitol building on their way to the Hotel Washington, a short distance from the White House, Arlington Cemetery, Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the first public school, Lincoln Memorial and Mount Vernon will also be visited by the group Saturday.

Michigan Senators and Congressmen will dine with the boys Friday night at the Hotel Statler, after which they will attend a National Safety Patrol Assembly in the Amphitheater near Washington Monument. They will join 20,000 safety patrol boys from all over the United States Saturday morning in a parade down Constitution avenue.

Leaving Washington Saturday at 4:50 p. m., their special train will stop at historic Harper's Ferry, W. Va., for an inspection tour and views of the beautiful Shenandoah Valley. Upon arrival in Detroit Sunday they will be routed and supervised back to their home by the Auto Club safety staff.

An extension specialist from Michigan State College will visit resorts in the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula this month for "on the spot" interviews with operators who have requested assistance. The Michigan State College service is available to resort operators who wish assistance in solving problems of layout, design, construction, sewage disposal, water supply, landscaping, equipment and arrangement of kitchen, menus or decoration. County agricultural agents will forward requests for such help to the College.

4-H Clubs Mourn Loss of Leader

By E. I. Besemer

The whole country lost a true friend in the passing of Louis Salow, Livonia township farmer.

The 4-H clubs have lost a firm and loyal friend and leader in the club work of the country. He gave generously of his time and energy and his advice on 4-H problems was always timely and sound.

Lou was treasurer of the Wayne County 4-H Fair Association and worked wholeheartedly in its organization and plans for development.

His friendly smile and words of encouragement will be missed in 4-H Livestock, 4-H Council, fair work farmers' meeting and community activities.

Loss of new seedlings, which approaches 500,000 acres per year in Michigan, is traceable to poor cultural practices in many cases, says E. I. Besemer, county agricultural agent for Wayne county.

Seeding failure generally comes from inadequate supplies of lime and fertilizer in the soil, poor seed bed preparation, using unadapted seed, or covering seed too deep.

Using adapted seed and following good cultural practices will help to reduce the failure of new seedlings. Sometimes, drought conditions, such as experienced in many parts of Michigan last summer will cause failure even when care has been taken in planting.

Farmers who had seedlings fail are thinking about what crops might be sown as emergency crops to provide pasture and hay for the coming summer. Besemer lists the following as crops that can be sown this spring and used this summer as forage for livestock: oats, millet, Sudan grass, soybeans, and rape. Farmers who wish further information on methods of planting and cultivating these crops can obtain it from the county extension office.

The use of emergency pasture is expensive and breaks up the regular rotation. Care should be taken to insure good seedlings of the more desirable hay and pasture grasses.
