ORDINANCE NO. 136

AN ORDINANCE RELATING TO TRAFFIC AND REGULATING THE USE OF PUBLIC STREETS AND HIGHWAYS OF THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH, MICHIGAN, PROVIDING FOR THE INSTALLATION, REGULATION AND CONTROL OF THE USE OF PARKING METERS AND PARKING METER ZONES; DEFINING PARKING METER ZONES; AUTHORIZING A METHOD OF PAYMENT FOR PARKING METERS AND THE INSTALLATION THEREOF EXCLUSIVELY FROM THE RECEIPTS OBTAINED FROM THEIR OPERATION; AND PROVIDING FOR ENFORCEMENT AND PENALTY FOR VIOLATION THEREOF.

THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1. The word "vehicle" as used herein shall mean any device by which any person or property may be transported upon a highway, except those operated upon rails or tracks.

Section 2. The words "parking meter" shall mean a device which shall indicate the length of time during which a vehicle may be parked in a particular place. It shall have as a part thereof a receptacle or chamber for receiving and storing coins of United States money, a slot or place in which said coin may be deposited, a timing mechanism to indicate the passage of the interval of time during which parking is permissible, and an appropriate signal to indicate when the aforesaid interval of time shall have elapsed, also brief instructions as to operation.

Section 3. All those streets and parts of streets upon which limited parking is now permitted or may subsequently be permitted, under authority provided in the Traffic Ordinance of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, or any amendments thereof, may be designated as parking meter zones.

Section 4. The City is hereby vested with the authority to enter into a contract for the purchase and installation of parking meters and to provide for payment therefor exclusively from the receipts obtained by the City from their operation, and that said means of payment shall be in addition to other purchasing powers heretofore granted by charter.

Section 5. The City Manager shall provide for the installation of meters, including curb or street marking lines, and the regulation and operation thereof, and shall cause said meters to be maintained in good workable condition. Meters shall be placed upon the curb next to individual parking places, and meters shall be so constructed as to display a signal showing legal parking upon deposit therein of the proper coin or coins of the United States, as indicated by instructions on said meter, and for a period of time conforming with the parking limits of the City of Plymouth, said signal to remain in evidence until expiration of said parking period so designated, at which time a change of signal or some other mechanical operation shall indicate expiration of said parking period.

Section 6. When any vehicle shall be parked next to a parking meter, the owner or operator of said vehicle shall place within the area designated by curb or street marking lines as indicated for parallel or diagonal parking, and upon entering said parking space shall immediately deposit in said meter a coin or coins of the United States. Instructions upon the meter shall govern the number and kind of coin to be used. The hours during which meters will be operative shall also be governed by instructions on the meter. National holidays, namely, New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, and Christmas Day shall not be governed by parking meter regulations. It shall be unlawful for any person to fail to park within said designated area or fail or neglect to deposit proper coin or coins. Said parking space may then be used by said vehicle during the legal parking limit provided by authority given in ordinances of the City and said vehicle shall be considered as unlawfully parked if it remains in said space beyond the legal parking limit and or when said parking meter displays a signal showing such illegal parking. It shall be unlawful for any person to cause or permit any vehicle registered in his name to be unlawfully parked, as set out in this section.

Section 7. It shall be unlawful for any person to deposit or cause to be deposited in a parking meter a coin for the purpose of extending the parking time beyond the maximum time affixed by authority given under ordinances of this City which maximum time limit must be duly posted.

Section 8. It shall be unlawful to deposit or cause to be deposited in any parking meter any slug, device, or metallic substitute for a coin of the United States.

Section 9. It shall be unlawful for any person to tamper with, open willfully, break or destroy any parking meter.

Section 10. It shall be the duty of officers so instructed to take the parking meter number, State vehicle tag number, the time of violation as recorded, and such other facts as are necessary of all persons violating provisions of this ordinance, and make complaint thereof in the Municipal Court of the City of Plymouth.

Section 11. Any person who violates or fails to comply with any provision of this ordinance or any regulation or order of the Chief of Police, adopted or issued in pursuance hereof, shall upon conviction be subject to a fine of not more than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars, or to imprisonment in the City Jail or the Detroit House of Correction or the Wayne County Jail, for a period not to exceed ninety (90) days, or to both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

Section 12. In addition to the penalty provided in Section 11 of this ordinance, nothing herein shall be interpreted to prevent prosecution under the laws of the State of Michigan of any person who shall tamper with, remove or attempt to remove, or steal coins from, any parking meter.

Section 13. Parking meters are being installed for the purpose of regulation and control of parking space and for the regulation and control of traffic moving in and out of said parking spaces and zones so created. The fee required to be deposited in said meters is hereby levied as a police regulation to cover cost of providing parking spaces, parking meters, and the installation and maintenance thereof, and the cost of administration, regulation, inspection, and operation of parking meter spaces and zones.

Section 14. If any section, provision or part of this ordinance shall be adjudged invalid or unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction, then such adjudication shall not affect the validity of the ordinance as a whole, or any section, provision or part thereof not so adjudged invalid and or unconstitutional.

Section 15. This ordinance shall take effect twenty-one days from and after the date of its passage by the City Commission.

Made and passed by the City Commission of the City of Plymouth, Michigan this 2nd day of June, A.D. 1947.

Night Unit One of the W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church will have a progressive supper next Monday evening, June 9th, at 6:30 starting at the home of Elene Gretsinger at 675 Auburn avenue. The second course will be served at the home of Mrs. Fannie Booth at 1325 Sheridan avenue with Muriel Sonderegger and Chris Witwer as assistant hostesses. The third course will be served at the home of Irene Graham at 575 Edison avenue with Beatrice Highfield assisting.

Miss Ruth Drews, whose marriage will take place in June, will be the recipient of many lovely gifts at a miscellaneous shower last Saturday evening. Her aunts, Mrs. Theodore Strasen, and the Misses Esther Cordula and Hanna Strasen, were hostesses to sixteen guests in the Strasen home on South Harvey street. The home was attractively decorated in yellow and green, the yellow motif being carried out in large bouquets of yellow tulips and the green in a dainty green crepe paper umbrella spread over the gifts. After playing an entertaining card game called "Help Your Neighbor" the gifts were opened by Miss Drews. Later a lunch was served.

The Methodist Church school will present a Children's Day program at the regular church hour, 11 o'clock, on Sunday, June 8th. The Junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. Edna O'Connor, will sing. A traditional feature of the service is the floral procession for all the children of the church school. The cradle roll department has been invited and will be introduced to the congregation. The church training class will be received into full membership by the Rev. C. E. Doty and he will also conduct a baptismal service. A play, "Children of Galilee," is being directed by Mrs. Devine and will be presented by the Junior Department. The committee in charge of arrangements include Mrs. Henry Jensen, Mrs. Horton Booth, Mrs. Alan Reed, Mrs. Wesley Lickfeld and Horace Thatcher.

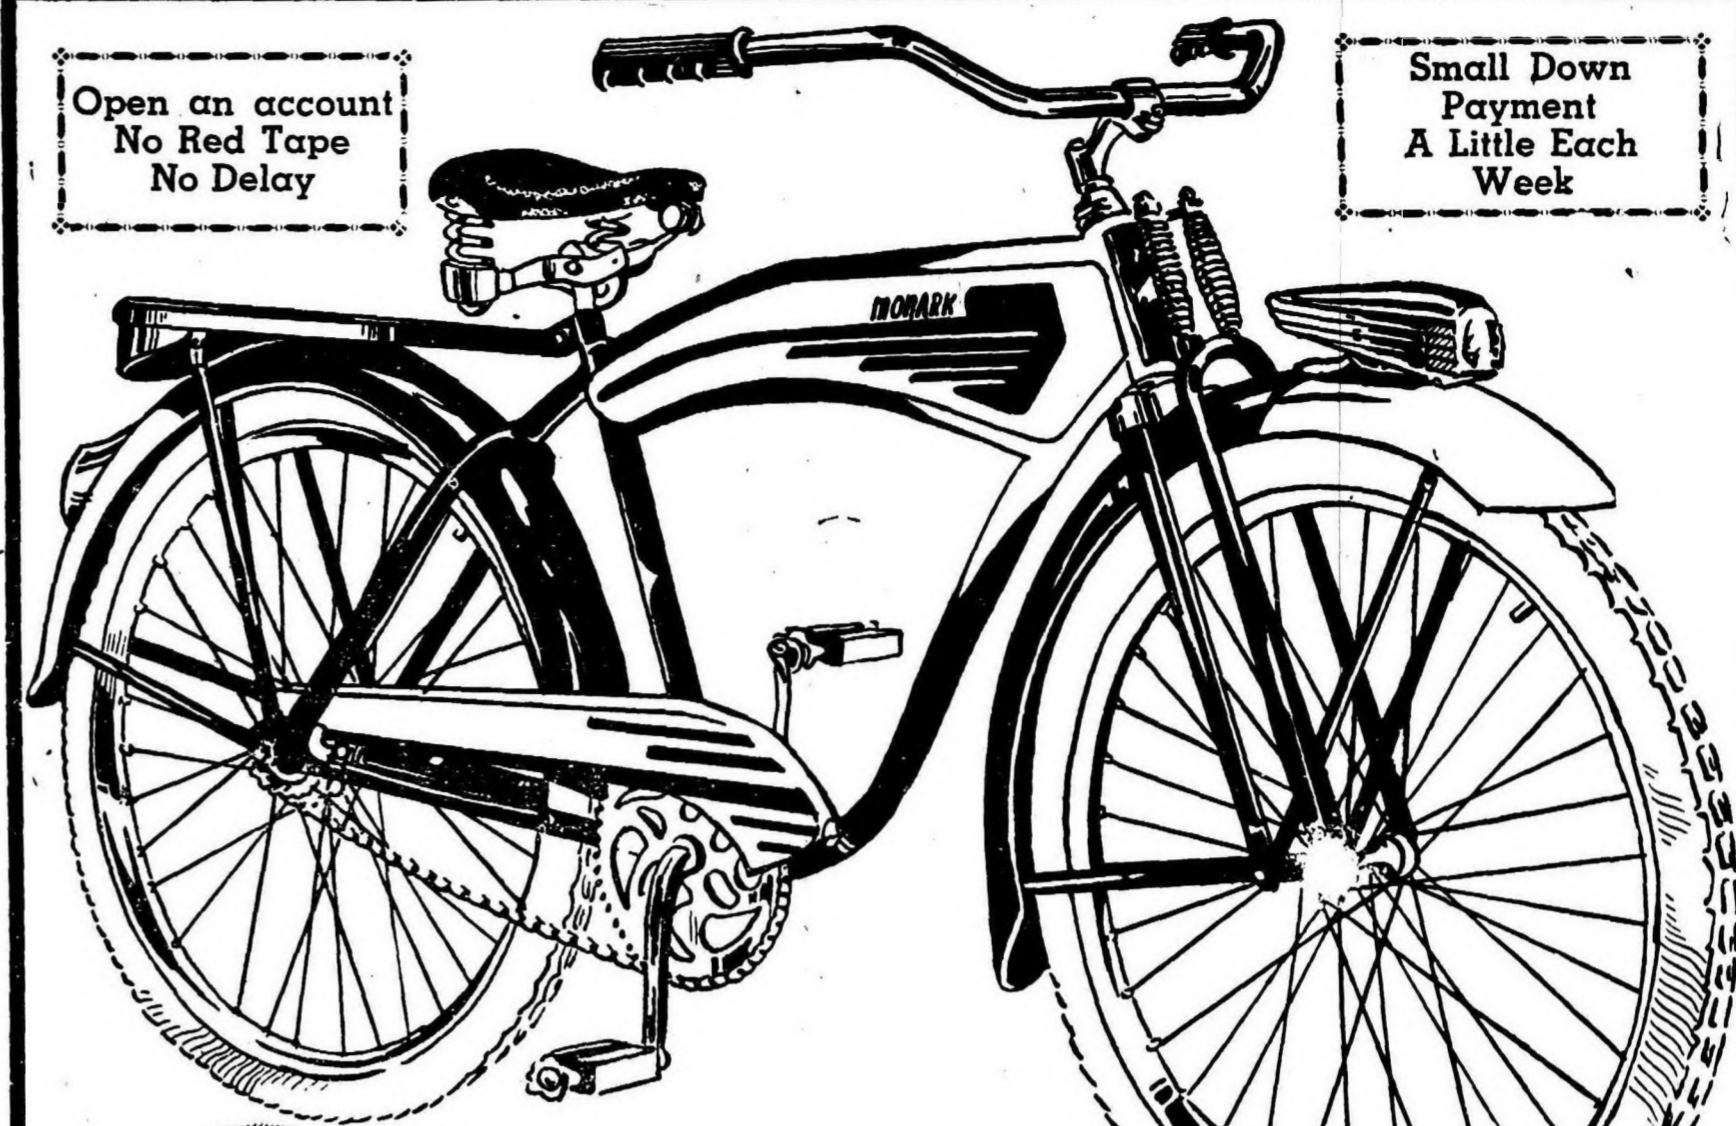

On Friday evening, May 30, Livonia's newest bride, Mrs. Charles Wagenschutz, was honored at a shower. It was held at the home of Mrs. Carl Wagenschutz on Five Mile road. About 25 guests were present at the affair. The honored guest received many lovely gifts. Bunco was played during the early part of the evening and was followed by the opening of gifts by the bride. In the late evening a delightful lunch was enjoyed. Out of town guests at the shower were, Mrs. Earl Hamilton, of Crafton, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Joseph Broganier, of Wyandotte, Mrs. Gusta Wagenschutz, of Williamston, Mrs. Walter Worta, of Detroit, Miss Clara Swanson, of Flint, Mrs. George Krumm and Mrs. Elmer Lindow, of Chelsea, Mrs. Melburn Partridge, of Tecumseh, Mrs. Arthur Morst, of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Amelia Ford, Mrs. Owen Sackett and Mrs. Clayton Cook, of Northville, Mrs. William McLelland, of Farmington and Mrs. Gus Phillips and Miss Pat Penn, of Garden City.

We approach all problems of children with affection. There is the province of joy and good humor. They are the most wholesome part of the race. For they are the freshest from the hands of God.—Herbert Hoover.

Rabies Increase Throughout State

With the incidence of rabies in southern Michigan increasing at the rate of two cases a day, a sixth county has established dog quarantine and a quarantined county has been granted a 90 day extension. May 23, the Michigan Department of Health announced today.

St. Joseph county was the sixth to be granted quarantine by the Department of Agriculture. Only three cases have been reported from the county to date but it is adjacent to quarantined counties which have a high incidence of the disease: Berrien, Kalamazoo, Van Buren and Cass. Quarantine is also in effect in Monroe county. Van Buren, whose quarantine would have expired June 18, was granted extension to September 15.

There are 153 reported cases of rabies in the state so far this year, with 43 of them having appeared from May 1 to 23, and 14 of them in the week, May 17 to 23. The majority of cases have been in dogs, but a cow, horse, cat and pig have been infected. It appears possible that the fox population of the state may be infected. A rabid dog is reported to have bitten a fox in Monroe county, and a fox in Clinton county is reported to have been chasing human beings and large animals.

This year's incidence of rabies by counties follows: Allegan 1; Berrien, 60; Cass, 10; Genesee, 3; Huron, 1; Jackson, 2; Kalamazoo, 25; Lenawee, 1; Monroe, 4; Muskegon, 1; Shiawassee, 1; St. Joseph, 3; Van Buren, 28; Wayne, 13.

The Department of Health today repeated its warning to vaccinate all dogs, to avoid stray dogs, and to consult a physician at once if bitten by an animal. The Department said too that a dog which has bitten a person should not be killed but should be confined under the observation of a veterinarian. If, to protect humans it appears necessary to kill the dog, every effort should be made to spare the brain for laboratory examination. In other words, a dog should not be shot through the head, nor should his head be clubbed. Laboratory examination of the brain is needed to spare the lives of persons who may have been bitten by the animal, the Department said.

Here's Proper Way To Cook Asparagus

Here's the way to properly cook asparagus, if by chance, any of the housewives of Plymouth do not know how to do so now. Cook asparagus so that the tips and stalks cook evenly, and so that little of the flavor, color or vitamin C are lost. Zoe McCormick, foods specialist at Michigan State college, gives some suggestions.

To cook whole stalks, tie them together loosely and stand them upright in a kettle of boiling, salted water. The water should come about a third of the way on the stalks. If the pan isn't deep enough, use another pan as a cover so that the tips may cook in steam. Cook 10 to 25 minutes. When cooking small pieces, drop them into a small quantity of boiling, salted water. Cook 5 to 10 minutes and then add the tips and finish cooking.

Save the water from the asparagus for use in soups or sauces because it holds flavor, vitamins and minerals.

Swimmers Given Caution Warning

Nine out of every ten persons who drown in Michigan are men and boys, according to figures of the Bureau of Records and Statistics, Michigan Department of Health. Only 25 women and girls were among the 265 persons who drowned in Michigan in 1946. Twelve of these were girls under ten years of age.

Deaths by drowning in the state were almost equally divided between persons under 25 years of age and those over 25 years of age. Two thirds of the drownings occurred during the summer months. However, even during these "swimming months" by far the larger share of the drownings did not occur at bathing beaches, and almost as many occurred in rivers as in lakes.

Rivers took the lives of ten children under ten years of age, 37 between the ages of 10 and 25 years, and 36 over 25 years, for a total of 83. Eighteen children under ten lost their lives in lakes, as did 27 persons between 10 and 25 years of age, and 42 persons over 25 years of age.

Miscellaneous drownings totaling 95 for the year occurred in such places as quarries and gravel pits, cisterns, well holes, bath tubs, a private canal, a dump, county ditches and ponds on farms. These included 31 children under ten years, 25 persons from 10 to 25 years of age and 39 persons over 25 years. The greatest number of miscellaneous drownings occurred in June, July and August, in keeping with the general trend in drownings.

Because there are more miscellaneous drownings than drownings in rivers and lakes the first obvious precaution against drowning is to avoid and to cause children to avoid places where drowning might occur. Other precautions are: Learn to swim. Don't show off. Don't swim in swift water. Don't swim alone. Don't swim after dark. Don't swim on an unguarded beach. Do not swim within two hours after eating a hearty meal. Don't dive into shallow water. Avoid the shock of diving into extremely cold water. And don't continue swimming when you are weary.

School Students Seek Farm Jobs

Many city and rural youth some around Plymouth, with previous farm experience have indicated a desire to take farm jobs this summer according to Mrs. Doris Shinkus, assistant emergency farm labor supervisor for the extension service at Michigan State college.

Farmers who desire to use youth workers this summer are urged to place requests with their county agricultural agents as soon as possible.

Boys for summer "live-away" work are being selected on basis of experience, physical condition and other factors which make better help. Similar qualifications are required of day workers. Most are from ages of 14 to 18 years.

Labor assistants and county agricultural agents are anxious for estimates of both "live-away" and day workers needed in order to provide sufficient crews when requested.

Get Pre-School Children Ready For Fall Now

"It is time, NOW, to prepare your child for school entrance this fall", Dr. William DeKleine, State Health Commissioner warned Michigan mothers of pre-school children this week.

"The school situation presents increased demands on the child's energy and vitality. He should be in the best of health generally, and his resistance to common childhood diseases should be fortified before he enters school," the Commissioner said.

A child who will enter school this fall should be taken to his physician now for a complete physical check-up, so that any physical defects or handicaps the doctor may discover may be corrected before school opens. He should be given booster doses of whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox vaccines. If his teeth need repairing or if his tonsils or adenoids should be removed these should be done before the summer polo season. If he requires special pediatric care or physiotherapy, the summer will allow time for such treatment. It also allows time for fitting special shoes which small feet may need, or for special rest periods which may be prescribed.

Eyes and ears should be given special attention. Eyes should be carefully examined by an eye doctor so that if the child needs glasses he can become accustomed to their use before school starts. Earaches, running ears, or tenderness around the ears should be brought to the doctor's attention. They sometimes indicate conditions which may result in serious hearing defects if they are not corrected.

"Let your child use his summer to rest and play and build himself up to his best health", Dr. DeKleine advised. Proper food and proper rest are extremely important during the pre-school summer. A child needs citrus fruits, eggs, meats, whole grain cereals, milk and vegetables, and plenty of solid and a warm food in summer as well as in winter. His vitamins should be continued. He should use iodized salt to prevent simple goiter. The average five-year-old needs 10 hours of sleep at regular hours in summer as well as in winter. He may need more rest in summer than in winter. The child should play out of doors a good share of the day, but his head and his body should be protected from the extreme heat of the sun, and parents should see to it that he does not get overtired.

It is wise to avoid unnecessary exposure to illness in the community, but a child's adjustment to school will be better if he has been encouraged to talk and play with other children. While he may catch certain childhood illnesses from them, he may also develop certain immunities through his contacts with them, the Health Commissioner pointed out.

"Parents should talk to the child about school and answer his questions. He should be kept free from worries", Dr. DeKleine said.

And then a final precaution—Take your child along his route to school; find out and teach him the safest way to go. Warn him of hazards he may encounter and counsel him to obey police officers and safety patrol personnel. Do not let him ride vehicles to school which he cannot safely handle on the entire route he must travel.

FAIR IN THE LIGHT OF MEMORY SHINES MICHIGAN My MICHIGAN ELTON R. EATON

By sailing ships, steamers, or canal towboats, early settlers poured into Michigan via waterways of Lakes Erie and Huron, Detroit and St. Clair Rivers, and the Erie Canal, Calvin Goodrich, retired staff member of the University of Michigan, writes in the current issue of the Michigan Alumnus Quarterly Review.

Whole neighborhoods in the eastern states gave up their lands and moved west by boat, Goodrich relates. The typical boat passenger in the early 1800's carried his belongings in a carpetbag—with his money perhaps tucked into his tall beaver hat for safe-keeping.

Hazardous and uncomfortable as most of the early passenger boats were, the settlers seemed to have enjoyed their voyaging, Goodrich says. For many of them, the trip furnished their only leisure in many years.

Two kinds of canal boats were available to travelers who followed the Erie Canal for the first part of their journey—line boats and packet boats. The former were cheaper, charging one and one-half cents a mile and progressing at a speed which a restless passenger could outdistance by walking. The packet boats got their name from the fact that they carried mails and parcels of dispatches. Their accommodations were more elaborate, but a packet passenger paid four cents per mile.

Emigrants who reached Buffalo had their choice of going around the south shore of Lake Erie on foot or by wagon or stage, Goodrich relates, or they could travel by boat. Most of them took the lake trip.

During the first half of the 18th century, sailing vessels far outnumbered steamers on the Great Lakes, but the rivalry between the two was keen and ruthless. A steamer running into a sailing vessel would pull away without offering aid to the injured ship or its passengers, the University man writes.

First use of steam began with a Canadian vessel built for use on the St. Lawrence. The second steamer was an American vessel built for Lake Ontario trade, and graphically named the "Walk-in-the-Water." None of the early steamers could boast of exceptional speed, but what they may have lacked in speed and efficiency they made up for with noise. Early settlers claimed that the wheezy lake steamer engines could be heard a distance of 15 miles, giving ports of call ample time to make preparations for the ship's arrival!

The art of making meals of cattail roots, skunk cabbage, lotus, ferns, duck potato and a dozen other wild plants has almost disappeared along with the Indians and pioneers that once depended on them, according to R. D. Burroughs, conservation department regional game supervisor for southern Michigan.

It still is possible for a person to sample the native foods that helped Indians and early settlers through many a hungry month. But Burroughs warns the experimenter should be a fair botanist, to avoid poisonous plants. And it takes a pioneer's patience to reduce some of these wild roots, tubers, leaves and nuts to edible form.

As a botanist familiar with the wild plants' high food value, Burroughs wonders, however, why no enterprising chemist has ever made use of the country's enormous acorn crop, for example, by developing it as a packaged breakfast food.

America is living in the shadow of a "queue society," in which "we follow the pattern of the totalitarian countries and line up to receive such dole of goods and services as the postwar that be fit to allot," Prof. William A. Paton, of the University of Michigan countries and line up to the Michigan School of Business Administration, has declared.

Writing in the spring issue of the Michigan Alumnus Quarterly Review, Prof. Paton points out that if the "queue society" is not to be accepted permanently, a revival of liberalism in economic and political thinking must be achieved.

"The liberals in the literal and historical meaning, are those who believe in liberty, in maximizing the elbowroom of the individual and restricting the scope of government," Prof. Paton defines. "The term has been misappropriated by those who support the trend toward collectivism and glorification of the state at the expense of individual right."

A major job that needs doing, the Michigan professor believes, is that of defining "free enterprise" in simple, understandable terms.

Three essential factors of a free enterprise system are suggested by Prof. Paton: (1) competitive market prices, (2) government action against monopolies, and (3) economic rewards in accordance with effort.

Market prices, if free from regulation, directs the distribution of goods and services and determines the attitudes of producers and consumers, the economist notes. But prices can be free only if competition exists, he adds. Therefore, genuine economic liberals are "staunch believers in competition and abhorbers of monopoly."

The true liberal, the genuine supporter of free enterprise, is not one who opposes government as such," Paton believes. "He clearly recognizes that government has a great role to play, in curbing pressure groups, breaking up monopolies, and preventing fraud. Government's business is to enforce competition and maintain a truly competitive market."

Prof. Paton described as "among the worst of present-day follies" the "glorification of security." Many people today believe, he explained, that they are entitled to security as a right and that the government has power to provide it.

Tells Ladies How To Wash Nylons

If any of the ladies living in or around Plymouth do not know how to wash and iron the new nylon fabrics, worry no longer.

Mary Gephart, clothing specialist at Michigan State college, recommends washing nylon blouses, slips and other garments in lukewarm water. You wash dirt off nylon fibers rather than out of them. So wash them gently and use a mild suds. Rinsing is important. Squeeze the garments carefully through several changes of lukewarm water.

To dry, hang on a hanger or roll in a towel. Some garments will not need ironing but they may be ironed with a moderate iron. On an automatic iron the "rayon" setting would be about right.

If the fabric is only part nylon, check it to see if ironing is required. If a hot iron seems necessary, try it first on a seam. A very hot iron may make the fabric sticky.

If you desire to join a Private Club, the Plymouth Country Club has a few openings. Obtain an application at the Club or write E. T. Rowland, Chairman Membership Committee. Annual fees—Men $76, Couple $100, Child $18. Payable $10 per month. Membership Restricted.

Oleson Holstein Herd Given High Rating

Mrs. James Oleson, who lives near Ypsilanti, has recently had her herd inspected and classified for type. The Holstein-Friesian Association of America announces today. The inspection was conducted by F. W. Atkeson, Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas, one of the nine officials appointed by the Association to do this work in the United States.

Among the animals classified in this herd, three were designated "very good"—the second highest scores an animal can receive; and two were designated "good plus."

The type classification, combined with a production testing program, is used as a means of proving sires and locating outstanding brood cow families in an owner's herd.

ROCK THINCLADS PLACE THIRD IN LEAGUE MEET

Placing third in the league track meet Wednesday, May 28, at the Michigan Normal College track at Ypsilanti, the Rocks collected two firsts by Plymouth's record breaking pair, Don MacGregor and George Buddy. Even though the track was muddy and one complete turn was under water, each cracked the league record in his specialty. George lowered the record of 2:11.2 set by Skip Horie of Plymouth in 1945 making the new mark 2:10.5. Don, like George, led all the way while shattering the record of :54.6 set by him last year making the new mark :54 flat. Another first was just missed by the Plymouth medley relay team which missed by a matter of inches. Walborn, 440, Todd and Blackford, 220, and Runge, 800, composed the second place medley team.

Other places won by Plymouth were: tie for second and third in the pole vault, Wagenschutz; eleven way tie for fifth high jump, Crane and Terris; fifth 100 and 220 fourth 380 relay Stewart; fourth, 220, broad jump, and 880 relay, Kaluzny; fifth, 880, Crane; fourth, 880 relay, Lowery and D. MacGregor.

The teams finished in this order: Ypsilanti, Trenton, Plymouth, Redford Union, Wayne, and Belleville.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

2000 SECOND AVENUE
DETROIT 26, MICHIGAN

May, 1947

To Our Residential Customers:

The Detroit Edison Company has a story that needs telling. It is an important but little noted phase of the story of skyrocketing prices and the now dramatic effort to stop dangerous increases in the cost of living.

The fact is that Detroit Edison fought this fight all through the days when there was no drama in it.

Through the war, and since then, there has been no increase in the price of Detroit Edison electricity to residence customers.

This Company, while PAYING higher prices for labor and materials, has been able to REDUCE the price of electricity.

Detroit Edison residence customers now use 50 per cent more electricity than they did in 1939.

This increase in use is a major factor in making possible the reductions in price.

That process, applied to ALL production, opens the door to lower prices, progress and prosperity, and to better living for the people.

Victory Report Available Here

The advertising campaign conducted by the Passage-Gayde Post 391, of the American Legion, closed successfully May 23. Plymouth's merchants and industrial establishments wholeheartedly accepted the views and aims of the local post.

"General Marshal's Victory Report", being highly evaluated as a keepsake was made possible to the good citizens of Plymouth through the combined efforts and cooperation of almost all merchants and manufacturing concerns to say the least of the hundreds confronted by the few Legion members that took such an active part in the greatest thing this Post has undertaken.

Copies of this book will be placed in schools and libraries in the Plymouth area. These books will be bound with a stiff composition cover, to withstand the yearly use they will encounter as reference material. Copies will be available to the public with semi-permanent covers, that will be illustrated—thanks to several of our manufacturers.

"General Marshal's Victory Report", is a chronological listing of events, indicating the strategy, and the numerical order in which components of our armies were committed to battle. Illustrated maps are included with directional arrows to explain where and how victories were had. The book also contains an honor roll of Plymouth veterans.

For the retail price of $1.00, this book will be made available to the public in the very future, the method of distribution has not as yet been determined by the local Post, but it is anticipated that the book will find its way into every home in Plymouth.

Public school clothing drives, held in the spring and fall in Detroit, make it possible for the Volunteers of America to clothe an average of 16 needy school children every day.

The so-called Detroit Plan of clothing school children of needy families which do not qualify for public relief has been widely copied in other cities. It was set up in 1926 by the School Social Service Committee in cooperation with the Volunteers of America.

Over 50 Golfers Enter Contest

Fifty-two golfers entered the 36 hole two day tournament at the Brae Burn club Saturday, May 31. Tom McLoughlin, Brae Burn manager, Alex McTavish and Sam Cartwright, of Detroit, posted 74's on the board. Taking into consideration the sponginess of the turf two over par was an outstanding score.

Chuch Hopkins Frank Roberts, Leo McDonald and Fred Arthur, of Detroit, came in with 84s, Bill Hamilton was alone in the 85 bracket. None of the other contestants qualified for the 18 hole play off. Forty-five players were in the nineties. The 18 hole play off scheduled for June 1st has been postponed to June 7th on account of weather conditions.

Except for one water hazard, Mr. McLoughlin has the course in excellent playing condition. Owing to a large registration of beginners this season, the club is offering free lessons by a competent instructor, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday each week during the month of June. The course is located on Five mile road (Phoenix) just past the Detroit House of Correction farm.

The Whitehouse Conference on Children in a Democracy (1940) wrote: For numbers alone, if for no other reason, those voteless fellow citizens who hold the national future in their bodies and minds are necessarily a first interest of the nation.

BABSON
SAVES

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 6. —Before the start of 1947 we all looked forward to a building boom such as we had not seen since the 1923-27 period. We know now that this anticipated boom has not materialized. Nor do we expect any such boom this year. What happened to postpone the great potential demand?

Construction Costs
We have all read about the high cost of building materials. Those of us who have wanted to build or who have been forced to build have found this only too true. Lumber has been exorbitantly high and the green lumber now on the market is not building good houses. Materials have not only been poor, but they have been scarce. Both of these factors have delayed the expected boom.

Labor is the great detriment to the building trade. The cost of labor is high and the workman is far from expert. Many men who have previously had little real experience are obtaining the same wages as skilled craftsmen. Present labor union practices do not encourage apprentices to enter the building trades. This quite naturally keeps the supply of skilled labor low and the rates high. When a man pays for a building, be it residential or industrial, he wants to know that he is obtaining sound material and the best possible workmanship while still keeping his price within a reasonable figure.

Buyers Resistance
Industrial building, although up to this time hindered by Government regulation, has had a postwar start. We have all seen evidences of this in the plans and construction begun by leading businesses and industries throughout the United States. Will this program follow through in the face of the much ballyhooed business recession? More likely this also will slack off and await the time when materials and labor are both cheaper and better.

How many veterans and others thought of building homes when "peace" at last came? How many more had decided to buy homes? If we could compare the above countless thousands with those that actually found it feasible to build or buy, we would find a wide gap between desire and realization. In addition to excessive costs and poor workmanship, building regulations have proved discouraging. Continued strikes have contributed to the general pessimism. Only those who have been forced into building or buying to keep a roof over their heads have succumbed. This has left a group, less pressed by need and better able to await more favorable opportunities. Thus, we have seen a gradual drop in prices of older houses since about September, 1946. Not all the newly built houses are being snapped up.

Demand Still Exists
There are today persistent requests for federal and state housing for veterans and others. We hear of many fires and resulting deaths brought about by overcrowded conditions and careless conversion of private homes into lodging houses. Builders of apartments and houses to rent will be encouraged only when costs of building products have evened out. They wait also for a time when the cost of labor is more predictable and their work more profitable.

As for building stocks most of them are at or near their lows for the year. Their prospects are good because of the still unsatisfied demand. They have been kept down by the failure of the building boom to progress. There has already been an indication that some manufacturers and processors of building materials may cut their prices. Should this work out manufacturers of other construction materials may follow suit. When some of the problems facing present construction are solved, then volume construction can start. When this happens we will see a rise in the earnings of building stocks. Thus, although the building boom has been delayed, I continue to feel that it will some day come.
