Evelyn Frejlach and Neal Curtiss Wed In Methodist Church

Evelyn Frejlach and Neal Curtiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Curtiss, exchanged their marriage vows Saturday evening, June 28, at the First Methodist church. The candlelight service was read by the Reverend C. E. Doty before an altar banked with peonies, stock and palms.

The bride was given in marriage by Neal Kemp, an uncle of the groom. She wore a gown of white brocade satin with a fingertip veil of delicate illusion and carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Her only attendant was Mrs. Mrs. William Epps who wore a gown of teal blue and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and painted daisies.

Nancy Lock, the flower girl, was dressed in a pink sparkled organza gown and carried a miniature bouquet of painted yellow daisies with streamers of pink stephanotis.

The groom was attended by William Epps as best man and the ushers were Edward Hicks, William Thomas, John Osterhout, and Thomas Lück.

Mrs. Michael O'Conner played the Lohengrin Wedding March and during the ceremony Miss Ardis Curtiss, sister of the groom, sang "Believe Me If All those Endearing Young Charms" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Curtiss, mother of the groom, wore a dress of flowered blue crepe with a corsage of white carnations.

Following a reception for one hundred guests in the dining room of the Methodist church the couple left on a wedding trip to Minnesota. Upon their return they will reside at 859 Irvin street in Plymouth.

Out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Edward Fischer of Dearborn, Mrs. Charles H. Curtiss and daughter Marie of Grosse Pointe, Mr. and Mrs. Zephyr Sheron and Jerrae Parrae of Wayne, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Curtiss and daughter, Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kemp, and Mr. and Mrs. William Curtiss of Detroit.

Frances Eskra and Dale Kaiser Wed in Church Ceremony

At a candlelight ceremony eight o'clock Saturday evening, June 28, in the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth, Frances Eskra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eskra of Northern street, became the bride of Dale Kaiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kaiser of Ann Arbor road. The Rev. H. F. Fredsell of Northville performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white peonies, flanked by lighted candelabra.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her floor-length gown of white taffeta featured a sweetheart neckline and puff sleeves and had a full skirt with an overskirt of net. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a lace cap and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Her only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Irene Eskra. Mrs. Eskra wore a pale blue gown fashioned along the same line as the bride's and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The best man was the bride's brother, Walter Eskra, and seating the guests were Wesley Kaiser, brother of the groom, and Robert Lamont of Detroit, brother-in-law of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Eskra wore a grey print dress with a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Kaiser wore a blue print dress with a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for the members of the immediate families was held at the home of the groom's parents, on Ann Arbor road.

The young couple left on a wedding trip which will take them to Canada and through the East and to Watkins Glen in New York. For her going away the bride chose a grey suit with white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Kaiser will be at home on Corrine street after the first of September.

Variety Show Booked for West Store Opening

Following the Friday night musical program there will be a special showing of an interesting motion picture.

No special invitations are necessary for either the Friday night or Saturday affairs. Just come, that's all, say the West Brothers.

For Saturday evening, July 12, there will be a two hour variety show, with the well known Mel Snyder acting as master of ceremonies.

Some of the special numbers will be Ray and Madeline, a comedy dance team, "Rosalee", rhumba and Hawaiian music, a well known magician and ventriloquist and at 10 o'clock there will be the 4-H Club Fair Association part of the program. During this period the presentation of the new tractor will be made to a member of the 4-H club.

At 10:30 Saturday, July 12, the evening program will be climaxed by modern and old fashion dancing in which every one is invited to take part.

Hundreds Plan To Go North Over the Fourth

most folks are going to go north to their cottages or the cottages of some friends.

Many of the business places when they close down Thursday night are going to remain closed until Monday morning. That will give many people a real Fourth of July vacation.

But Chief of Police Lee Sackett is somewhat worried about the whole thing.

"If people will just remember to drive carefully, take it slow and take no chances, everybody will come home from the four day vacation without any broken legs or arms and a car that will not have to go to the junk yard as the result of being smashed up in an accident," said Chief Sackett.

And that's good advice in any man's town. Try and see if you can come home as well off as when you left Thursday night or Friday morning.

In Pittsburg, St. Cyril's parish celebrated the final payment on a mortgage with a cherry party; the document was burned—and so was a tidy little portion of the church.

In New Orleans, Betty Ferling, 32, admitting to police that she had been married five times and divorced only once, explained: "It was so easy to do, when every one cooperated."

Honor Pin Given Charles Brake

There's a new administration in charge of Plymouth Rotary club affairs retiring President Charles E. Brake having delivered his inaugural address and newly elected President Paul Wiedman having made his inaugural speech at a largely attended meeting of the club last Friday.

After the retiring president had presented to Mr. Wiedman the sash, the new president in behalf of the club gave Mr. Brake the past president's pin.

The Plymouth Rotary club during the past year gained a number of new members and carried out a most active part in Rotary work. It also was active in numerous civic matters.

Right now the club has assumed the responsibility of raising sufficient funds for the construction of the new athletic field at the high school.

More Hospital Beds Secured

The Ex-Servicemen's Club of Plymouth wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to those people who so generously came to their aid in this recent campaign for funds to purchase more hospital beds.

The club feels that in view of the fact that they have just completed one campaign those who in this drive should be especially thanked. The funds received from this sale have resulted in the purchase of two more hospital beds.

The demand for this equipment has been so tremendous that it has been necessary to arrange a waiting list. The club is doing everything in its power to see that the beds go to those who are in real need of them. To secure the use of one of these beds, it is only necessary to have your physician verify the necessity of its use.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Keeping and Elsie Mae were hosts at a farewell picnic Tuesday evening in honor of their son, Ronald G. Keeping, of Mason, who is leaving to accept a new position in New Jersey. Other members of the family present were Mrs. H. G. Weyermeier and sons, Phillip and Fred, of Birmingham.

Here you see a squeak in the process of being exterminated...

You know, it's a funny thing the way a squeak will "telegraph" around—you think you've found it and then you find you haven't. But I found this baby—right on that little strip of rubber where the hood comes down. And I fixed it for good.

Of course, catching squeaks and squelching them is just one of the things that goes along with a thorough lubrication job. And, by the way, now is the time to have this done to your car—before your summer driving. To save you time—make a date for a lubrication job now.

Chas. H. Bennett, Born in Plymouth 84 Years Ago Celebrates Birthday

When Mr. Bennett came to reside on this earth.

As far as known Mr. Bennett is the only person who has lived continuously in Plymouth for 84 years.

"My father and mother, when I was born, lived on North Main street in the house just north of the Ernest Roe home that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson purchased a while ago" said Mr. Bennett.

"When I was a boy they moved over on Territorial road in a house where the Masonic temple now stands. At that time there was a creek that ran right back of our barn. When we cleaned out the horse stables and the place where we kept the cow, we used to pitch the stable bedding right out of the back door of the barn into the creek. That saved us from the necessity of hauling it away in the spring.

"It will be difficult for people to visualize it, but when I was a boy I fished off a bridge on Main street that crossed over an old creek right next to where The Plymouth Mail building now stands. We used to catch minnows there. Now no one would ever know that at one time a creek flowed down Fralick avenue and across Main street along the north side of The Mail building.

"Talk about floods, that flood we had here last spring was nothing like the floods we had in the old days. When we had a flood then the water used to take all of our bridges down stream. There would be days when we couldn't get from one part of the town to the other. After the floods were over we used to go down creek and pick up the pieces of our bridges, fell some more trees across the streams and almost in no time we would have new bridges.

"When some one built a board walk along in front of one or two of the stores, we thought it was about the greatest thing that had ever happened. But it was quite a few years before board walks took the place of the paths we had around town.

"We pumped our own water, we cut the wood that kept us warm in the winter, we let the cow mow the lawn, and we found lots of enjoyment in life.

"I've always tried to enjoy every day and if a person does that, he will find a lot of pleasure in life."

Mr. Bennett is as much a part of Plymouth as its name. From early young manhood he has always taken an active part in village and city affairs, and if the "record book" could be opened, Plymouth citizens would be amazed at the many things that Mr. Bennett has done over the years directly and indirectly for the good of this progressive city. But that is a record he keeps pretty much to himself.

Not only his host of friends but the entire community extends him congratulations and hopes that he will enjoy many, many more birthday celebrations.

In Chicago, Sergeant Edward O'Malley asked fellow policemen to help look for his stolen automobile, explained that it ought to be easy to spot: it still carried 1946 license plates.

BABSON SAYS

Babson Discusses Inventions

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 4.—A redheaded young man has just been telling me of his experiences with the bureaucrats in Washington. He is a natural inventor and is now working on an engine which uses air for fuel instead of gasoline or diesel oil.

My Redheaded Friend

As this young man is not a college graduate and knows little about the techniques of modern physics, he is looked down upon as a crank by the "higher-ups" in leading educational institutions. I am not up on atomic physics, but I do believe that someday the principle, for which this red-head is sacrificing his life, will be recognized.

However, my immediate appeal is that college professors and Washington bureaucrats give more courteous attention to all who come to them with an idea. Many of the revolutionary inventions have come from men like Edison, Ford and Marconi, who never saw the inside of a college, and perhaps not a high school. The poor treatment that ordinary inventors get today at Washington or at our big universities is only cruel, but short-sighted and almost treasonable.

Hope of Europe

At the present time Communism is gradually working westward, and unless stopped, will take over the whole of Europe. Yet, Washington thinks that only money is needed to stop Communism. This idea is wrong. Brains and Faith rather than money, are most needed by Europe and England today. Our policy of sending money, brass hats and politicians to feed the starving is well-meaning, but it will not have Europe from Communism.

The great need of Europe is to rebuild her universities, churches and scientific schools and to give scholarships to boys and girls who have brains, initiative and a desire to help their people. The short-sighted policy of just saving the lives of the starving without doing anything for those who are not starving but who have education and ability is a greater mistake.

Often I am asked: "What are the fundamentals of prosperity?" and I reply:—"Three, namely, Natural Resources, Enthusiastic Inventors, and Sane Religion. This is not contrary to the established economic theory that prosperity is based on "Land, Labor and Capital." My answer simply specifies that Land of itself is of no use unless it has good soil, forests, or minerals; that Labor is of no use unless it has brains, initiative and inventive powers; and that Capital is directly the result of honesty, thrift and credit—the products of religion.

In Astoria, L.I., Delicatessen Owner Frederick Beck, annoyed at wife Rose, chased her out of bed with five rifle shots that missed; tried seven swipes at her with a salami knife, but missed again.

Too many research laboratories are working on new products to tempt our housewives, rather than on reducing the cost of existing products. The reduction of the cost-of-living is primarily a matter of more inventive geniuses and more industry. Thinking more and working more is the answer.

What About Wages?

No wise economist should decry increased wages per se. Good wages are necessary to create purchasing power which is an important factor in employment. On the other hand, labor unions have done very little to bring about high wages.

Not only have many labor unions increased the cost-of-living, but they have retarded inventions and new processes which are essential in reducing living costs. The inventors of the country are mostly responsible for the good wages being paid today.

You'll Like The Friendly Atmosphere

The cost-of-living has increased in the United States about 56% since 1940. Congress and the bureaucrats here in Washington have tried many legislative laws to keep down the cost-of-living. They experimented with fixing prices, which was a failure; then with subsidizing production, which was a blunder. Now, they are experimenting with raising and lowering tariffs, which is pure politics. The chief interest amongst the Washington people seems to be to get more appropriations and more jobs, whether or not these quack remedies will do any good.

Following World War I, we had the same cost-of-living difficulties that we have today. The conclusion then was that (aside from everyone working a little harder and a little longer) the solution to high living costs rested with humble inventors of new machines, new processes and new discoveries. The same is true today.

What About Wages?

No wise economist should decry increased wages per se. Good wages are necessary to create purchasing power which is an important factor in employment. On the other hand, labor unions have done very little to bring about high wages.

Not only have many labor unions increased the cost-of-living, but they have retarded inventions and new processes which are essential in reducing living costs. The inventors of the country are mostly responsible for the good wages being paid today.

"Let our object be our country, our whole country, and nothing but our country."

A great American statesman, Daniel Webster, spoke those patriotic words in an address made on a Fourth of July at Bunker Hill.

What that great American citizen said nearly 100 years ago is as true today as it was then.

We have but one country, a country that stands for freedom, the right for any man to live as a good citizen in any way he may choose, the right to educate his family, to worship and to serve mankind to the best of his ability.

Let's keep it that way by keeping out all of the things that are unAmerican and not in accord with the doctrines of our great Declaration of Independence.

Hunting Fees To Be Advanced For Fall Season

Small game hunters of Plymouth and the rest of Michigan will pay $2 for their licenses this fall. Deer hunting licenses will be $3.50. But don't kick. All of this additional money will go into the improvement of both hunting and fishing conditions in Michigan.

Fishermen will pay more, too, but not until 1948. Their fees will be $1.50 to cover both husband and wife. Trout fishermen will pay an extra dollar.

Non-residents are going to dig down deeper into their jeans for both fishing and hunting in Michigan. Non-resident hunters will pay $15 throughout the state.

In Northern Michigan, the non-resident fee was only $5 until now. Non-resident bow-and-arrow deer hunters will pay $10, double the former rate. Non-resident rifle hunters will pay $35, an increase of $10.

Non-resident fishermen will start paying higher fees in 1948. It will cost them $4 for a season license, double the current rate, and $3 for a temporary license, which is now $1.

These increased fees made possible legislative approval of conservation budgets, which are financed out of license funds: $1,142,625 for law enforcement, $675,000 for fish work, $914,280 for game work, $535,000 for Pittman-Robertson research work, $253,085 for conservation education, $300,580 for general operations, and $61,980 for administration.

There will be some shifting of allocations for various purposes now that the new fees are set. Red foxes will have a $5 price on their heads 90 days after Gov. Sieler signs the game bill. Fifty cents out of every hunting license is earmarked for that purpose.

Earmarking hit fishing funds, too. Trout license revenues are set aside for propagation and planting of trout.

Fishing and hunting seasons will remain pretty much as they are, except that the ban on blue-gill fishing on the ice after 6 p.m. will be lifted.

There will be a "one-deer" season for bowhunters in Gogebic, Roscommon, Montmorency, Crawford, Newaygo, Alpena, Benzie, Leelanau, Iosco, Montcalm, Ionia, Oscoda, Mackinac, Iron, Schoolcraft, Mackinac and Luce Counties.

Small-game hunting will not begin until 10 a. m. for the first two days of the season, in Southern Michigan.

Possession of game and fish was liberalized. Fish may now be held for 60 days after the season closes, game indefinitely, under permit.

Gun permits will no longer be needed. But the new law will bar deer guns in the woods five days before the season, makes hunting licenses void at night during closed seasons and voids them completely 15 days before season. Net effect will be to make guns illegal in game areas during that time.

Chess Players Elect Richwine

More than 60 persons have attended the lectures on chess given at the Plymouth and Northville libraries of the Wayne County Library Systems, by J. E. Peckover, internationally known instructor.

N. M. Lazar of Northville is calling a meeting for Monday July, at the Northville Library to organize the Northville Chess Club. Mr. Lazar hopes that all those who attended the chess lectures and those who are interested in joining the Chess Club will be present at the organizational meeting.

Elected to head the Plymouth Library Chess Club were: Walton Richwine president; Joseph Haesner, vice-president; Richmond Roberts, secretary; and Walter Hammond III, treasurer. Planned by the Wayne County Public Library Board as an experiment in library sponsored recreational activity, the lectures have attracted the interest of the United States Chess Federation.

Present at the last sponsored meeting in Plymouth, Saturday, June 23 were: national officers of the Federation: Albert A. Wagner, Jr. president, Chicago, Ill.; Paul G. Giers, executive vice-president, Syracuse, N. Y.; and Edward Trend, secretary, Detroit.

With the final lecture, Library sponsorship of the project ended and the club will temporarily hold meetings and conduct games in the recreation room at the City Hall at Plymouth. In Northville the club will meet in the Kitty Harmon Room at the Library.

However both libraries are enlarging their collections of books on chess and will subscribe to the Chess Review, a chess periodical. In addition, several chess sets and boards will be available for loan.

THE DAWSON—White clapboard in combination with red brick has for long been a favorite device of architects to achieve style; the two story, six room house has for long been the favorite of home builders. In The Dawson, these two old time favorites have been combined in a design that leaves little room for improvement. The perfectly square house has the least amount of walls and roof per square foot of floor area and therefore costs less than do rambling plans. The Dawson, 26 feet by 30 feet, manages to approximate the perfect square and yet retains its pleasing lines. It has nothing of the top heavy, boxy appearance that characterizes so many small, two story houses. Cubes approximately 18,000 feet. The Dawson has been so designed that on almost any lot some living room windows may face the southern winter sun. It has the added advantage of fitting on a narrow lot. The room arrangement is ideal. Either "front" entrance leads into a hallway with a splendid coat closet. The large living room features an open fireplace. There is both a real dining room and eating space in the kitchen. A luxury is the downstairs lavatory. Large bedrooms, plenty of closets and room space for an extra lavatory are high spots of the second floor.

- and Ability to match

Give yourself five seconds, and you know that here's car styling as up to the minute as the time of day. Spend a few fast minutes to see why — and you spot both smartness right from tomorrow's designing boards and everything that should go with it. Measure the reach and spread of that Buick bonnet, brim-filled with Fireball power. Sweep your glance over the broad that spells room, the stretch that means easy-riding wheelbase, the size that tells of enough roadweight to end jounce and jitter.

Here, you tell yourself, is something to see. Here are looks to hold the eye for seasons to come — and lively, durable ability to match: . . . Rich abundance of smooth, hushed Fireball horsepower from a straight-eight kept young and lively by Accurite cylinder finish. . . Tireless coil springing on all four wheels, leveling all roads to boulevard smoothness. . . Riding poise from two steadying tons of roadweight — ease of handling from balance to draw a ballet dancer's envy. Soft, roomy cushions seating three apiece — finish that's the very last word in richness and taste. Yes, it takes no time at all to show that you and Buick belong together, should go together steady — so what's holding you back?

After all, we can't do much about getting one to you till you make your wishes plain. You do that simply by placing your order — which will get equal consideration whether or not you have a car to trade.

Most Dangerous Intersection Is Just Outside City

Would you believe it! The intersection of Ann Arbor Trail and Ann Arbor road just west of Newburg, is one of the most dangerous highway intersections in Wayne county.

That's what Sheriff Edward Behrendt declares, following a survey of traffic conditions he has made throughout the county.

Motorists are warned by Sheriff Behrendt to observe the stop signs at the corner of Ann Arbor road (US 12) and Ann Arbor Trail, because at this intersection last year there were two people killed, three seriously injured and three accidents resulting in heavy property damage. Traffic on both of these highways just outside Plymouth is heavy, especially at certain hours of the day when workmen are going to and from their places of employment.

The survey shows that in a normal 24-hour period Ann Arbor road carries a burden of 3,735 vehicles and Ann Arbor Trail carries a traffic of 2,337 vehicles. Both highways are marked by stop signs, but in their hurry to reach their destinations, motorists violate these stop signs and accidents result. This breach of traffic rules accounted for 38 per cent of all the accidents at this dangerous intersection. Excessive speed and following too closely contributed to 25 per cent of all mishaps at this corner.

"I am having this survey of dangerous intersections made," said Sheriff Edward Behrendt, "because I believe that intelligent motorists will be induced to a greater observance of traffic laws if it is pointed out to them that ignoring safety regulations causes 9 out of 10 of all traffic accidents. The survey of this corner indicates that in addition to failure to stop, failure to yield right of way and driving on the wrong side of the road likewise was responsible for accidents. The increased traffic on all the county highways, brought on by an increase in tourist traffic and summer drivers, makes it imperative that all motorists observe traffic regulations if they are going to keep our highways safe for travel."

In Goose Creek, Tex., a harried mother herded her children to the hospital, asked doctors to "vaccinate them against this spring fever I've been reading so much about."

Goldsteins Move To South Haven

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Goldstein and their son Ivan moved from Plymouth to South Haven Monday after spending 17 years in business in Plymouth.

The Goldstein Department store is now a thing of the past and soon in the same location will open a very modern women's dress shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldstein last week purchased an attractive residence facing Lake Michigan where they will spend a good share of the next few years in securing a much needed rest.

The closing out sale conducted at the Plymouth store was an outstanding success, little or no merchandise being left. Their attractive home on Roosevelt street was recently sold to Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Theobald of Dayton, Ohio who plan to move into the home as soon as it is redecorated.

Daisy Girls Trim Prison Outfit

Wednesday evening, June 25, the Daisy Air Rifle girls' softball team defeated the Detroit House of Correction team by a score of 15 to 2. The Daisy team was never in danger. This was due in great part to the pitching of Louella Canup. The game was umpired by Cass Hough.

Following the Daisy victory a weiner roast was enjoyed at Cass Benton park.

Great improvement has been shown by the team since it played the first game. Anyone who wishes to play this organization may do so by contacting Floyd Fleming at the Daisy Manufacturing Company or by calling 234-W and evenings.

Howdy Folks: To say that a woman can't keep a secret is false. There are a lot of them who won't ever tell who told them.

Teacher: "How old is a person who was born in 1923?"
Johnny: "That depends. Is it a man or a woman?"

You know the English language is something you have to use with care. For example, it is all right to tell a woman that time stands still when you look into her eyes—but just try telling her that her face would stop a clock!

Which reminds us that we have made time stop for hundreds of autos. You see, when we service a car regularly—with quality gas and oil and thorough, dependable lubrication, it practically stops growing old. It's a fact! We invite you to drive in and try our superior service.

Former Local Resident Will Again Direct Famed Sacred Music School

The School of Sacred Music at Waldenwoods endorsed by the Detroit Council of Churches and the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs and directed by Dr. Nellie Huger Ebersole of the Detroit Council of Churches, formerly of Plymouth, will open its 17th annual season, July 14 to 28. Outstanding faculty members this year include Dr. Marshall Bidwell, organist and director at the Carnegie Hall, Pittsburgh; Grace Leeds Darnell, nationally known authority on junior and youth choirs, director and organist St. Mary's in the Garden Episcopal Church, New York; Prof. Amos S. Ebersole, former member of Heidelberg College faculty, now at the Detroit Institute of Musical Art; Robert McGill, organist and choir master of Plymouth Congregational Church, Lansing, Michigan; Dr. Deane Edwards, head of the Commission on Worship, Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America; and other outstanding personalities. Waldenwoods is located 50 miles northwest of Detroit on M-23.

Classes will be conducted by the workshop method. Thirty honor members of the junior and youth choirs of Plymouth Congregational Church, Lansing, will be in residence for classes conducted by Miss Darnell and Mr. McGill.

The following worship classes will be offered in the two weeks school: "The Fundamentals in Voice Culture," "Choir Problems," "Elementary and Advanced Conducting and Junior Choir." Highlighted special courses will be offered in Organ, Repertoire, and Worship.

The 17th Annual School of Sacred Music at Waldenwoods features thirteen days of concentrated intense work in every phase of church made. The school has gained a national reputation as one of the outstanding music projects of Michigan. It affords a fellowship of students and faculty members, making for the greatest possible effectiveness of the courses.

The school is open to those desiring to attend the workshops as outlined. Registration should be arranged through the Director, Dr. Nellie Huger Ebersole, Detroit Institute of Musical Arts, 52 Putnam, Detroit 2, Michigan.

New Coach For Northville High

Baldwin High School's football and baseball coach of the past four years, Hal Helmer, has signed a contract to coach the same two sports and to teach at Northville High School next year. He has been replaced on the local staff by Vincent Secotine, a former University of Michigan football player.

Northville is a class "B" school engaging in athletic competition in a league which also includes the Farmington, Walled Lake, Milford, Keego Harbor and Holly Schools.

Helmer, who lives in Berkeley, will remain in this vicinity for the remainder of the summer. He will serve again as recreation director in Lathrup Township this season, a position he has held for the past two years. He intends to move with his family to Northville before school reopens next autumn.—Birmingham Eccentric.

How To Prevent Hay Barn Fires

The grim fact that Michigan farmers lose an estimated $250,000 each year from fires caused by spontaneous ignition of hay is important at this time of year, points out F. W. Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State College.

A few precautions can help cut the danger of hay fires. Hay should be well cured. Its moisture content should be less than 25 percent. Loose and chopped hay would be evenly distributed in the mow.

Heating of the hay takes time and the hay should be checked continually for two months after it is put in the mow. A hay prod thermometer can be made very inexpensively and will give a good check of the temperature of the hay. The outfit consists of ten feet of one-half inch electrical conduit with an oak or ash point on one end to make driving into the hay easy. Six one-quarter inch holes should be punched in the conduit above the point. A dairy thermometer on a string is then put into the conduit. A rubber pad at the bottom of the tube will keep the thermometer from breaking.

To use, the prod with the thermometer is then pulled up with the string and read immediately. If read at once, the temperature drop in the thermometer will not exceed 1 or 2 degrees F.

If the temperature reads 160 degrees F., the hay should be checked several times a day. At 180 to 190 degrees F., check often and get assistance if it should rise any higher. Don't work in the mow alone if the temperature is excessively high. Adequate fire fighting facilities should be at hand if heated hay is to be removed and someone who understands the correct removal of heated hay should supervise.

In Voluntown, Conn. (pop. 200), Assistant Fire Chief Joel Bit-god's hearing on charges that he started six fires in the last two years got snarled in legal complications: the alleged firebug is also Voluntown's prosecuting grand juror.

Michigan State Honors Editor
 New Building to Bear His Name

William H. Berkey

The classroom building at Michigan State college now nearing completion is to be named Berkey Hall in honor of William H. Berkey, chairman of the state board of agriculture, his fellow board members decided at their June meeting. Mr. Berkey will retire from office January 1, 1948, after serving 18 years as a member of the board. He has been chairman since 1940.

In making their decision, his colleagues recognized Berkey's service to the college over the period of its greatest growth and development. When he was elected to his first six-year term in 1929, the college had an enrollment of 2,900 full-time and graduate students. Enrollment for next fall is expected to be approximately 13,000.

Mr. Berkey was born in Pennsylvania, but has lived in Cass county since 1875. He is one of the best-known of Michigan's weekly newspaper editors. He has edited the Cassopolis Vigilant since 1892, and served as president of the Michigan Press association in 1923 and 1929.

The building which is to bear Mr. Berkey's name is expected to be completed in time for use in the fall term, which in September. It will be the first completed of the series of structures authorized by the legislature in 1946 to enable Michigan State college to accommodate the thousands of students seeking admission.

The building is devoted to classrooms and lecture halls exclusively, and is designed to seat 3,200 students at one time. When completed, it is expected to relieve partially the current congestion on the campus, which is now so severe that classes are scheduled from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Fireworks Show At Walled Lake

Walled Lake Amusement Park announces a spectacular program of events over the coming Holiday weekend. The gala celebration will start Thursday, July 3 and continue through Friday, July 4, Saturday, July 5, and Sunday, July 6. Topping the list of entertaining features will be a mammoth fireworks display on the nights of July 3 and 4.

This inspiring, brilliant display will comprise a program of startling effects in pyrotechnics. Gorgeous set pieces of intriguing design, comedy numbers, flaming comets and starry rockets. In keeping with our Independence Day celebration, a score of fireworks effects of a patriotic intent are also included in the big tree display. Bursting rockets will illuminate the sky while dynamic bombs burst into flame, leaving with the spectators a vivid picture of aerial beauty. A large crew of workmen have been at the park during the present week arranging set pieces and ground work for the displays and bombardments.

All rides and amusements will be ready for the holiday crowds while the entire park will be in gay decorations of flags, bunting and streamers fitting in with the holiday occasion. Bathing, speed boats, and row boats will appeal to hundreds of aquatic-minded to frolic and play in the picturesque waters of Walled Lake and roller skating and dancing will be among the diversified amusement features.

In the tree-shaded picnic groves, hundreds of tables and benches are free for family and picnic parties for that joyous spread in the out-of-doors. Free parking space for five thousand automobiles has been provided to take care of the throngs as many patrons will forego long trips into the country in order to celebrate the holiday close to home.

Plymouth Girls At Scout Camp

A pre-camp meeting at Camp Cedar Lake for Girl Scouts was held on Friday, June 20, when the Camp Counselors were introduced to the Camp Chairmen and Board members from Ann Arbor, Brighton, Belleville, Chelsea, Howell, Ypsilanti, Northville, Plymouth, Wayne, Lincoln, and Milan. Miss Francis Young, Director of the Camp, acted as hostess.

A pot-luck luncheon helped people to get acquainted, and was followed by a meeting to facilitate the opening of camp, which took place on June 25. After the meeting the Counselors took their guests to the lake for a swim, and a demonstration of water safety.

Hostesses from the various towns will be at camp on the opening day of each session to meet the Scouts as they arrive, help them to register and care for their baggage, introduce them to their counselors, and see that they are made to feel at home.

It was also planned that moving pictures of various camp activities would be taken once each camp session. It is hoped that pictures of a barn dance and candlelight ceremonies, as well as swimming and daylight activities can be taken.

Mrs. Eleanor Hammond, Camp Chairman, represented Plymouth at the meeting.

Plymouth Girl Scouts who are now attending the first session at Camp Cedar Lake are: Jean Daoust, Jane Stremich, Sacie Holstein, Lois Ebersole, Barbara Cushman, Jane Pierce, Wilma Latture, Verna Rice, Diane Arsett, Mary Louise Aquino, and Elaine Kay Dobbs.

If you have any items of interest about your family or friends please call Plymouth 6.
