A LUCKY BREAK.

It begins to look as though these good United States of ours are getting a pretty good break. At least we are getting some good object lessons as to what we should do and should not do.

There's been a lot of talk, especially among university students and a lot of people who just do not like to work about the advantages of state socialism.

Up until two or three years ago it looked as though these elements were making some headway in our country.

But the object lesson that England is now providing us is doing more to kill the socialist movement in the United States than anything that has happened in years.

As the war drew to a close over in England they thought that maybe state socialism would be the answer to the troubles of the English people. They thought that less work, more play and government dictation of all business was the perfect answer to the troubles of the day.

They voted for it—and now see what they have got! Less food than they had during the war. Less clothing, less heat, less leisure, less entertainment, less everything.

One English resident recently wrote to a relative in Michigan and declared that the future is absolutely hopeless for the young people who must remain in England.

That's what state socialism has done in a few brief years to the mighty English empire. It is good that we have had such an object lesson before we made a similar foolish step in this country—and we were on the brink of doing so up until the last national election.

HOLLYWOOD-ON-THE-POTOMAC.

The public seems pretty much disgusted with the fact that the senate committee investigating war frauds has made out of its inquiry. It has been turned into a cheap, publicity show by both senate members and witnesses.

Probably the most interesting comment that has been made by any writer who has been closely connected with the inquiry is contained in an article written by Harlan Trott in a recent issue of The Christian Science Monitor. Without bias and with a clear insight into the maneuverings going on in the senate chambers, Mr. Trott says:

"Many who have been following the Hughes investigation closely this past fortnight believe that one reason why the Ferguson subcommittee's show has gone so badly is because it was a show."

"The Senate subcommittee's approach to the task of finding out whether the $40,000,000 in Government contracts awarded the Hughes aircraft interests was honestly or wisely spent has been badly out of focus."

"You have to give Senator Homer Ferguson (R) of Michigan credit for his sincere, tireless, hard-slugging work as chairman. But the onetime judge and law school professor is no showman. Senator Ferguson thinks and acts in terms of Washington, not Hollywood."

"Consequently, the subcommittee has let itself be pushed around first by one witness and then another. Neither Howard Hughes nor his publicity man, John Meyer, have accorded the Senate subcommittee the courtesy and respect which such a high-ranking body deserves."

"Mr. Hughes has been especially belligerent toward the Senate group. His embroilment with Senator Owen Brewster (R) of Maine in the newspapers before the hearings began, and the extent to which the sensational nature of the Hughes probe was permitted—either by the Committee or by the accused—to 'leak' out to the press, were not calculated to enhance the dignity or impartiality of the proceedings."

"Some of the principals in this Senate inquiry have permitted personal animosity to blunt their perspective. The powers of investigation vested in Congressional committees confer no right to assail the character of a witness in advance of the inquiry. This Senate hearing was a fact-finding mission, not a 'trial,' as Senator Ferguson inadvertently termed it."

"A certain hardheaded kind of forthrightness, a determined willingness to 'let the chips fall where they may,' as Senator Brewster himself has expressed it, are admirable qualities in a public official, but they are not calculated to smooth the path of Senatorial inquiry."

"The chair made angry threats to clear the spectators from the room on several occasions. But it permitted the crowd to hiss the subcommittee and to applaud when the witness made an unruly outcry, without resorting to this step."

"One almost suspects that an investigative group less susceptible to charges of 'politics' would not have hesitated to insist on maintaining respectful order in the room even if it meant barring spectators. The crowds' sympathies appeared to center pretty largely upon Elliott Roosevelt and Mr. Hughes."

"Doubtless, some of this was inspired by the glamor surrounding both names. But a good deal of it appeared to be based on the public assumption that neither of these young men is a 'pushover' in whatever he undertakes. That, and the natural feeling Americans entertain en masse for whoever appears to be cast in an underdog role."

"Many believe Senator Brewster was indiscreet in becoming involved in the Hughes investigation. His close personal ties with officials of Pan American Airways — Mr. Hughes' most bitter aviation rival—and his leadership in sponsoring 'community airline' legislation favored by Pan American did not enhance public confidence in the objectivity of the Senate investigation."

"Much of this could have been avoided had the Hughes aircraft interests become part of a general inquiry and their 'entertainment' expenditures examined in the course of an over-all investigation of wartime waste and extravagance which was by no means limited to the Hughes enterprises."

"If that was the original plan of the Senate investigators they got off the track when they singled out the Hughes-Kaiser-Roosevelt trio to start with. Perhaps they have learned a lesson. When hearings are reopened in November they may follow more closely the unspectacular but effective pattern of the old Truman Committee."

Plan Wildlifer Tri-Club Meet for October 5

"Big-time" competition is expected when Wildlifers from Plymouth and two neighboring organizations compete in the first tri-club conservation meet ever to be held in this region. The date for the event has been fixed by Bill Rambo, chairman, for Sunday, October 5 at the Multi-Lake club grounds, between Wolverine and Commerce lakes. Besides the Western Wayne County Conservation club, the Gasco Conservation club, of Detroit, and the Multi-Lake Conservation association, of the Walled Lake area, will compete for honors.

Being a stag affair, only members of the three clubs will be admitted to the contest. Trophies will be given in each division, while a grand trophy will be awarded the club garnering the most points. The main award will be used each year with the winning club having it in possession until the next meet.

Each club will enter individuals and teams for competition in the following events: trap shooting, rifle shooting at a moving target and at a stationary target from prone position, archery contest, bait and fly casting, horseshoe pitching and a softball game.

Also, plans call for a barbecue to be served along with other refreshments. Further information will be available later and at the same time Chairman Rambo will announce his committee helpers.

Lutherans Hold Harvest Festival

By common consent the decorations for Harvest Home at the Lutheran church last Sunday were considered the very best that had ever been accomplished for the occasion. The festival was begun back in the days of the depression to bring home the cause and necessity for giving thanks for the harvest even under the stringent circumstances of those years. It has been repeated without fail each year.

Closely following the instructions given by Jehovah to the congregation of Israel, as these are recorded in the 26th chapter of Deuteronomy, the congregation endeavored to carry out the spirit and pageantry of that ancient Harvest Home to the letter in the annual observance.

"Thou shalt take of the first of all the fruit of the earth, which thou shalt bring of thy land that the Lord thy God giveth thee, and shalt put it in a basket, and shalt go into the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to place His name there. And the priest shall take the basket out of thy hand, and set it down before the altar of the Lord thy God."

In keeping with these injunctions and during the reading of the eleven verses in which they are written, the Lutheran congregation re-enacts the sacred rite of the acknowledgment and dedication of the harvest to God. At the beginning of the reading two of the deacons, one bearing a decorative basket of fruit, the other a basket of vegetables, proceed to the chancel step. After the reading the pastor receives the baskets from them and places them upon the altar, saying, "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me, bless His holy name; bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits." The congregation responds with the threefold Hallelujah. After this, the deacons still standing at the chancel entrance, the classical prayer of thanksgiving for harvest, Psalm 104, is read.

The entire ceremony is enhanced by the lavish decorations, beginning at the altar and literally covering the entire auditorium of the church. These decorations, this year, were in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. Edward Schacht.

New Candy and Refreshment Stand Now Open Next to Penn Theatre

A new candy and refreshment stand was opened last weekend next door to the Penn theatre on Penniman avenue. The new addition for theatre patrons and other local residents is a 14 by 18 modernistic cedar and glass block building.

The store will open at 11 a.m. and remain open until 11 p.m. evenings selling soft drinks, ice cream, candy, popcorn, and cigarettes. It will be managed by Vincent Simonetti who recently completed a years service in the Army. Previous to entering the service he was president of the senior class at Plymouth High School in 1945 and is well known in the city.

The store has a brightly colored awning on the front and is further decorated by an unusual, modern, solid lighting effect. An umbrella table and chairs are also available for the comfort of its patrons.

Daisy Employees Picnic in Park

Last Saturday afternoon members of the Independent Daisy Employees Association held a tenth anniversary celebration in Riverside Park. Approximately 400 employees and their families attended. Raymond Papini, IDEA president and chairman of the planning committee, announced.

The entire party was a fifty-pity proposition, consisting of a pot luck and refreshments.

One of the afternoon sport events was a baseball game in which non-IDEA members defeated the members. Games, races, and contests completed the sport roster.

Further entertainment was furnished by "Our Own Show", a drama group organized by Stewart Dodge. It consisted of skits, and instrumental and vocal solos and trios.

Socony Executive Rotary Speaker

R. J. McDowell, of the personnel department of the Socony Oil Company, spoke to the Plymouth Rotary Club last Friday on the theme, "You." His talk concerned itself with the human factors in the business world. The necessity for the right type of person to represent the business, with the qualifications of enthusiasm, initiative, and appeal was stressed.

Business, said Mr. McDowell, is carried on by people, and through the medium of personal relationships. Basic integrity in the product, and honesty in advertising are necessary corollaries of good business. The training of personnel, and their full loyalty to their company was stressed.

An appeal for the guidance of youth in the proper channels of vocation for which they are fitted was made by Mr. McDowell. He closed his talk with the stress on the importance of realizing the importance of the individual with whom you are dealing. It was one of the most helpful talks for men in all branches of work that the Rotary Club has had.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Charles Neal, a guest and Mrs. Milton Laible and Miss Evelyn Schrader attended the United Nation program, style show, and tea in the Crowley Milner auditorium. It was sponsored by the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs.

Jaycees Hear Weitzel Appeal for Americanism

In an appeal to Jaycees and auxiliary members for their support in stamping out un-Americanism in every form, Anthony "Tony" Weitzel, Detroit News columnist, was the honored guest at a meeting of the group last Wednesday evening at Saddle Ridge club.

Speaking extemporaneously and in the combination humorous-serious style of his column and WWJ radio show, "Of Cabbages and Kings", Weitzel said that in order for there to be a living America all forms of bigotry, race prejudices, class hatred, and foreign-born ideologies must be stamped out. An organization such as the Junior Chamber of Commerce was in a most advantageous position to lead such a drive, he declared.

The evening was planned by the Jaycee Ladies' auxiliary and was under the general chairmanship of Mrs. John B. Gaffield. Others on the committee were Mrs. Marvin Terry and Mrs. William Otwell.

Tables for the dinner which preceded the program were attractively decorated with flower arrangements and long white tapets with silver holders. Place-cards aided in seating the members and guests numbering more than 50. An excellent baked ham dinner was served by the club.

Everyone interested in chess is cordially invited to attend the weekly meetings and get in on these events.

Enrollment at New High in All 3 Local Schools

Enrollment in Plymouth schools reached an all time high this week when a final count of 2,288 students was recorded. School officials are facing a difficult problem in trying to find classrooms in which to accommodate the children.

The largest jump in enrollment was noted in the kindergarten where plans were made to accommodate 180 children and 205 entered. This poses the most serious problem for school officials in that there are no rooms available that will be suitable for kindergarten purposes.

This year 110 tenth graders that attended here last year have now been taken in the Livonia school system. Both 9th and 10th grade Livonia children now attend schools in Livonia township and all 11th and 12th grade children from Livonia will be out of the Plymouth schools in the next two years.

Even with the exodus of Livonia children the local enrollment is increasing so fast that harried school officials are fearful of the problem that they will have to face next year.

A total count on Tuesday of this week recorded 1,142 children in the elementary grades and 1,142 in the junior and senior high schools. According to superintendent Helmar Nelson the district will be forced to build a new grade school next year if the enrollment continues to grow on the basis that it has in the last two years. An estimated 250 children are expected in the kindergarten next year and there are over 1,000 pre-school age children in the district. When they enter, with the new children that move into this area, Plymouth's two grade schools cannot possibly house them.

Golf League Closes Season

Golfers of the Hilltop Wednesday Night League will conclude their activities for the season with a program of golf events tomorrow (Saturday).

Twelve teams have participated in the League's activities since early spring. Todd's Market was awarded the first place trophy after accumulating 44 points. Second place honors went to Terry's Bakery with 41 and a half points.

Rosedale P.T.A. Opens Fall Work

The roster of officers for the coming year is headed by President Mrs. Lloyd Nelson. Mrs. Frederic Bokelman is chairman of the Ways and Means committee, while Mrs. Donald Pickles heads the Room Mothers. The Founder's Day and Membership committee is under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Bruce, while Mrs. Charles Wilson, assisted by Mrs. J. C. Calhoun and Mrs. Burt French, is chairman of the Program committee. The Publicity committee is headed by Mrs. Robert Hermans.

All members are urged to watch the Mail for notice of the October meeting.

Bodies of Eight Local War Dead to Be Returned

Fifteen delegates from the local VFW post attended a special meeting in Detroit last Monday for instructions on the burial service of World War II casualties. The bodies of 8 Plymouth men are expected to arrive next month.

At the Detroit meeting Col. Pitt of the Ordnance department stated that 952 bodies will be returned to the states. Regarding identification, Col. Pitt said that each body will be thoroughly inspected four times before it reaches its destination in order to eliminate any possibility of a mistake.

An escort will travel with each body, and will remain with it until released by the proper authority. If a military funeral is requested, the veteran's organization will then remain guard over the body.

The Michigan Health Department has prohibited opening the caskets.

The delegates present at the meeting were Edwin C. Brown, post service officer and commander of the ritual team; Donald L. Peck, public relations officer and officer of the ritual team, and Al Miller.

Anyone desiring additional information may obtain it from any of these men.

Communication

September 16, 1947 Mr. Elton Eaton, Editor, The Plymouth Mail, Plymouth, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Eaton: Your Editorial of 12 September indicated that you would publish any letters pertaining to the water question as a means of keeping the public informed. This letter is being written with that in mind.

In July 1947 the City Manager advised water users that it would be from fifteen to eighteen months before pipe could be obtained to make the proposed water improvement. At the last meeting of the City Commission (9-15) it was brought out that the $600,000.00 in bonds that may be issued under Ordinance 133 must be sold now and that the money will be deposited in the account of the City. This will mean that we must immediately start paying interest, or at least accrue it, as well as establishing a reserve for the retirement of the bonds as required by the Ordinance. It then follows, and was confirmed at the Commission meeting of 15 September that the increased rates will have to become effective almost at once to provide the needed revenue to pay interest, engineering expense, and bond retirement. Interest alone will cost $18,000.00 per year. The proposed cost of the construction was first estimated at somewhat over $500,000.00 but has now increased to $600,000.00 and we have no assurance that it will not cost more than that. Since we are going to have to wait from 15 to 18 months to build the water improvement system, or "water monument" anyway it seems that it might be good judgement to defer any action on the issuance of bonds or incurring of a debt or the increase of water rates until we can go ahead with the improvement. We may build the system a lot cheaper, we sure will if at that time we have WPA projects again, and that's a possibility. We may have to pay interest at the rate in excess of 3 percent at that time but we will have saved the $18,000.00 per year in the meantime plus the saving in construction costs and that makes sense to me.

The proposed water rates are sure high and again it appears that they are based on the theory of collecting where it is the easiest. Got the income from "those who have" meaning an excessively high charge on businesses using large quantities of water. Commissioner Henderson indicated that his water rates will under the proposed set-up be so high that his company may decide to drive their own well. There may be others do the same thing and if they do the City has lost a water customer forever, and present and future income. Why should our high consumption rate be greater than that charged by other cities including some with soft water? Also our "Dear Water Users" should note carefully that the rates will be about double the old rate and that they will receive a bill each two months double the bill they formerly had for three months. This is just another trick to make the public think that the rates are being raised only a "little bit" when in reality each of the rates shown has to be increased 50 percent to be comparable to our present quarterly rate.

The City Manager requested the engineers to submit rates based on billings each two months instead of quarterly as is done in almost all other cities. The facts are that the engineers recommended continuing on a quarterly basis but followed the request of the City Manager who wished to make it "look good" for public consumption. This misleading action will require sending out from 3600 to 4000 more statements per year meaning more work for clerical employees in the preparation of them as well as a greater expense for supplies, printing and postage. It would appear that efficient and economical management would require the more efficient of the two methods to be used.

In arriving at the rates proposed in the ordinance 138 and in the question of quarterly or bi-monthly billing the advice or suggestions of the Citizens Water Study Committee appointed by the previous City Commission was not solicited. This Committee is still available and I am sure would be glad to meet with the City Commission, and the City Manager, to enable them to benefit from their years of experience if they were asked. I think that they should be requested to study the proposed rates and perhaps the entire ordinance for even the City Manager might benefit by their considered opinions. This matter is of considerable importance to a lot of people. It is one of the largest, if not the largest, ever undertaken by the City of Plymouth. A project of this magnitude and importance warrants having all the brains available to avoid making serious mistakes of judgment the results of which may be with us for a long time.

Sincerely Harold Jacobs

America's oldest legend, still widely believed, is that the Pilgrims aboard the Mayflower made their first landing in this country on December 21, 1620, on a rock in what is now Plymouth, Massachusetts. Actually, they first came ashore on Cape Cod the previous November 11th. The rock story is not substantiated by any historical records and did not start until 121 years later.

Blood spots left at the scene of a crime are sometimes difficult to discover when they have fallen on wallpaper or colored textiles. In such cases, the blood may so absorb the dye in them that the stains become the same color and therefore, are virtually invisible.

ARE YOU GETTING THE MOST FOR YOUR FOOD DOLLAR TODAY?

A&P IS THE STORE THAT KEEPS PRICES LOW BY KEEPING PROFITS LOW (Last 5 Year Average: only about 1c on a dollar)

Especially nowadays, when your food dollars count, you can count on your A&P to give you a lot for those dollars. Day in and day out A&P's money-saving prices offer you more good eating . . . not merely a few special items—but on every item of food for your table . . . not occasionally—but every day of the week. Your A&P is able to do this because A&P keeps both expenses low and profit low (A&P's profit has averaged only about 1c on a dollar in the last five years). We repeat—when dollars count—when you want to get the most food for your dollars, then A&P is your kind of a store.

HOWDY FOLKS: We just now heard about a man who got a pain in his back as he tuned the radio and said to his wife: "I do believe I'm getting lumbago!" His wife's answer was: "What's the use, you won't understand anything they say."

"Was it hot where you had your vacation this year?" "Terrible, and no trees! We took turns sitting in each other's shadow!"

He: "Don't you hate people who talk behind your back?" She: "Yes, especially at the movies."

We don't want you to talk behind our back either. We'd rather you come and tell us how we can improve our service. We'll do our best to cooperate.

THE QUEENSLAND—The trouble with many contemporary (modern) homes is that they range over so much territory that they are beyond the price level of the modern-inclined family that must build on a limited budget.

The Queensland is a contemporary home designed especially for those who must watch costs carefully. Under an attractive hipped roof its floor plan arranges logically in the modern fashion. The living room is large and open to light and air on three sides. The kitchen is in front looking out over the street on what, since the advent of the automobile, has become the least attractive outlook of most plots. Like most modern houses, this house need not have a cellar. An adequate heater room is provided in the first floor. For those who insist on a basement the detailed working drawings provide a cellar alternate.

From a flag stone terrace, one enters a vestibule equipped with a good coat closet. A turn to the right and one enters the large living room. The kitchen opens to the left of the vestibule and is large enough for a permanent dining alcove. This is attractively placed in the corner window giving unobstructed views up and down the street. To balance the corner window in the dining alcove, a similar window is placed in the bedroom on the other side of the house. The exterior effect achieves the symmetry of fenestration that is a fundamental of good architecture. And, on the inside the use of corner windows in two strategic spots helps to make the attractive arrangement of furniture easy.

Like all the houses of our series, The Queensland was designed to the exacting requirements of Housing Plan Service as well as to conform to the standards and construction requirements of Federal Housing Administration. The electrical plan was checked by the National Arecuate Wiring Bureau. Blueprints and specifications may be had, inquire at our office.

There's no margin for error in prescription work — not when health lies in the balance. That is why our scale is so delicately balanced that it can accurately measure a weight as infinitesimal as a pencil mark on a piece of paper. But precision instruments alone cannot assure accuracy. D.A.R. NEWS

Monday afternoon fifty members and guests of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution gathered at Greenmeade, the home of Mrs. Sherwin Hill in Northville, for their first fall meeting.

A short business meeting at which Mrs. Earl Mastick was presented with her past-regent bar by the present regent, Mrs. John Burkman of Northville, preceded the program of the afternoon.

Two vocal solos, "The Gypsy Love Song" and "Bless Our Home" were rendered by Mrs. Charles Wolfe, accompanied by Mrs. J. Rusling Cutler. Mrs. Hartman Litchward of Detroit was the speaker of the afternoon and her topic was "Iran-Past, Present and Future". Mrs. Litchward and her husband spent twenty-two years in Iran as medical missionaries and presented firsthand information on conditions there.

Tea was served at the close of the afternoon.

Summer Program Most Successful

The Plymouth Recreation Commission has just completed one of its most successful summer seasons, according to Recreation Director Ralph H. Johnson. During the 11 week program, from June 16 through August 29, participants in the various events totaled 24,499.

In a breakdown of costs, it was discovered that the program cost the city 10.29 cents for each participant, Recreation Director Ralph H. Johnson has announced. Going still further, the program cost each taxpayer .35 of a cent.

The 12 Recreation Staff members operated four playgrounds, two craft shops, and supervised swimming twice a week at the River Rouge Pools.

Serving on the staff were: Joan Dipboye, Jean Agosta, Barbara Lorenz, Mrs. Margaret Joyce, Doris Puckett, and Sally Gustafson.

Others were: Mrs. Highfield

Besse, Jay Daggett, Irving Stewart, David Jolliffe, Ronald Hees, and Robert Newsted.

Mr. Johnson commented that the staff did a good job "in providing an interesting and varied program." He also stated "that through their vigilance there was not a serious accident all summer."

Attendance for the athletic events totaled 9,284. This number includes both participants and spectators. The Junior Baseball School claims an attendance of 2,072, while the playgrounds totaled 10,788. Those who took part in the swimming numbered 1,668, and 523 took advantage of the crafts. Seventy-nine went on hiking excursions, 45 took part in the folk dancing, and 50 make use of the street showers.

The possible severity of hiccups is shown by a recent case in which an attack caused the death of a man in four days and twelve hours. In another case, a woman has had three attacks since 1941, each of which, after a duration of six weeks, had to be stopped by a phrenic nerve operation in order to save her life.

Smart

IS THE WORD FOR OLDSMOBILE

Styled to Stay Smart for Years!

Oldsmobile's style has "caught on" this year—has captured the public taste and fancy as few styles ever do. Tailored smartness... a look of luxury... smooth good taste in every detail... these are the qualities that make people say, "It's SMART to Own an Olds!"

And all this public enthusiasm has a very important meaning for the buyer of a 1947 Oldsmobile. The car he drives today will continue to be a source of real pride for many years to come!

What's more... with GM Hydra-Matic Drive*, this new Oldsmobile is way out ahead of the times in performance and driving ease. Hydra-Matic Drive—pioneered, proved and perfected by Oldsmobile—is still the only drive that shifts gears automatically through four forward speeds—the only drive that eliminates the clutch pedal completely. Oldsmobile—with Hydra-Matic Drive—stands today as the last word in smartness... the smart word in lasting value!

Peach Crop is One of Best This Year

The beautiful peaches which were in The Plymouth Mail window last week-end were grown at the Fegan Fruit Farm at 8009 Newburg road. According to Mr. Fegan his J. H. Hale crop this year is about the finest he has ever had and he believes this particular peach the best all around peach that is grown. Local peach growers say that the peach crop will be at its peak in this area this week-end.

Fair Exhibit is Best Under Local Man's Direction

The Wayne County 4-H Fair for 1947 proved again that 4-H'ers are good producers. There were between 500 and 600 individual exhibits at the Fair which was held August 20 to 23rd. The Fair got off to a good start Wednesday, 20th, but that night received a set-back when most of the tents were blown down during the severe electrical storm. Only by working in the heavy rain and by fastening ropes to the fence, did the 4-H leaders keep the 4-H exhibit tent from going down.

All exhibits in the tent were moved into the barn and then set up again the next morning. The farm machinery exhibit under the direction of A. J. West, Plymouth, proved to be the best ever seen at the county fair. Mr. West and the implement dealers are to be congratulated on the excellent display of farm machinery. The people in attendance were high in their praise of the exhibit. The auto and truck display arranged by Clarence Heiningner, Belleville was outstanding considering how difficult it is to get autos or trucks. Mr. Heiningner and the auto dealers with their display worked hard and put on an excellent display. The plowing contest on Friday, August 22 for the 4-H Tractor boys was so successful and created such an interest that an open class plowing contest was arranged for Saturday afternoon, August 23.

Many folks said, "This is the kind of Fair we like." With the help of the supporters of 4-H Club work in the county an even bigger and better Fair can be put on next year. The Wayne County 4-H Fair Association sponsored and planned the Fair for the promotion of 4-H Club work in Wayne County. The Fair Board wants to express their sincere appreciation to everyone who helped make the 1947 Fair a success.

Tourists Are Still Travelling North

Unseasonably weather which kept many tourists out of northern Michigan in June and July may well turn into a blessing in disguise for Michigan resort operators, according to Automobile Club of Michigan's Travel Bureau Head Harry Rogan.

For that early cold weather may have accomplished what travel men have been striving to do for many years in stretching out the tourist season, Rogan says. Tourist are creatures of habit, and they don't vacation early or late because they've always gone in July and August, he adds.

Early September reports indicate that those who stayed home in June and July this year are vacationing now. Once a person samples a week of Michigan's "Indian Summer" weather in September or early October, he'll come back again after Labor Day, Rogan believes.

Travel volumes for the first half of September are up five percent over a year ago, while this August showed a six percent drop over 1946. Auto Club routings reveal.

Basic to a really healthy tourist industry in Michigan is lengthening of the season, Rogan says. July and August do have the hottest days. But when everyone floods to resorts at once facilities can't possibly handle them. Resorts turn tourists away, and no one is pleased.

Resorters cannot profitably expand their plants for a two-month season, Rogan said. As more workers take vacations, they must be shown that Michigan can be just as pleasant in May, June and September as in July and August. From this trend will come lower prices and better accommodations, as resort operations become less seasonal, he states.

One reason given for not taking vacations after Labor Day is that children start back to school. Records show that 50,000,000 persons don't have any children. Habit is the real reason, Rogan states.

Travel routings at Auto Club till Labor Day of 1947 showed an eight percent jump over 1946. The aggregate income to those connected with the tourist industry in Michigan, from these figures, will be well above $400,000,000 for 1947, Rogan believes.

— and Tomorrow and Tomorrow

WHAT'S it like — parked here behind the wheel of this gorgeous style-pacer, with the sun smiling down, the road ribboning by, the whole world passing in pleasant review?

Well —

Maybe you've sat on a headland over the sea where you're one with the sky and the clouds and the breeze. There's a lot of that when you travel in this Buick.

Or maybe you've known the thrill of lifting a plane off the ground, and felt your spirits soar to the surge of singing power perfectly at your command.

There's much of that, too, in the eager answer of the eight big Fireball cylinders under your Buick's bonnet.

Maybe you've cruised quietly through calm waters, relaxing to the lift and swell of a truly buoyant ride — there's more than a touch of that in the way this beauty's all-coil springing floats you over the stretching miles.

There is mastery here of time and of distance. There's the steadiness of ample roadweight, and the pleasant knowledge that wherever you go you are carrying the banner of tomorrow's automobile styling.

There's a big bang in the extra conveniences you enjoy here — a front seat that adjusts itself to your comfort at a finger-touch, door windows that roll up and down at a button's command, a top that rises against changing weather at your pressure on a handy control.

Here are all the pleasures of motoring in measure to make you king for today and a thousand tomorrows — so why wait longer to get your name in for one?

"Land sakes... it's the Edison man"

Surprising, isn't it, how quickly Edison servicemen can respond to a trouble call? As small a thing as a burned-out fuse in an electric range will bring the Edison man to the most remote farmhouse with remarkable promptness.

In addition to emergency services, it's nice to know that Farm Service Advisors, Home Service Advisors, and appliance repairmen are ready to serve you—quickly and efficiently.

Part of the answer for the speed of Edison service is the number of Edison offices—86 of them throughout southeastern Michigan. Part can be found in the pride that Edison employees take in helping you get the most out of all the electricity you use.

FAIR IN THE LIGHT OF MEMORY SHINES MICHIGAN My MICHIGAN ELTON R. EATON

Just do not remember where we read it or heard it or dreamed it, but a thought has been running through our mind as to the best method of conducting the hunting season for ducks. The practice over a long period of years has been to open the season on a certain date and let hunters bang away until the close of the season on a later date. That method gives the ducks no rest at any time during the hunting season.

Here's an idea that has been floating through our mind—why wouldn't it be better conservation to open the duck season for three days each week during the fall? That would give duck hunters three days to try their luck during each week and it would give ducks four days each week in which to do a little feeding. As it is now the duck hunters keep pestering the ducks so much that they do not have time to hunt for food on the lakes and rivers where they generally land on their southward flights.

Then, too, it would give the duck hunters a little better chance to get some good shooting. As it is now, ducks are kept all stirred up from the day the season opens until it ends, with duck hunters getting no good opportunities to do any shooting.

Maybe it wouldn't work and maybe it would. At any rate something has got to be done, or else there will be no duck hunting in another half dozen years.

The shorter season and the reduced bag limit this fall might help a little bit, but we do think the staggered season is the better answer.

Utah's pronghorn problems are undergoing an extensive study, it became known today. The services of Helmut K. Buechner of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission and The Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit at Texas A. & M. College have been requested by the Utah game authorities to advise on the restoration of pronghorn antelope in the desert west of the Great Salt Lake.

Buechner, who now holds the Wildlife Management Institute Game Fellowship at Texas A. & M., has been conducting research on the pronghorn antelope for more than a year with headquarters at the Marfa, Texas, Army Air Field, his work taking him pretty well throughout the Trans Pecos region.

Many little-known points of antelope life history already have been worked out by Buechner. For one thing, he has found that the antelope eats very little grass at any time of the year, evidently preferring weeds. Among those eaten are a number that are poisonous to livestock. This helps to explain why the antelope does well in cow pastures, but does not thrive in severe competition with sheep, which, like the antelope, consume many weeds, the report emphasized.

In Utah Buechner will team up with Dr. Jessop B. Low, leader of the Utah Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit at Logan, for the purpose of making a field examination of the antelope range.

Glad to note that some of Michigan's progressive publications devoted to conservation problems are giving quite a bit of space to the campaign "Don't kill a pheasant" which was started by the Wayne County Sportsman's Club of downriver Detroit.

The hen killers during past years have been chiefly the hordes of game law violators that have swarmed out of Detroit during hunting seasons like a plague of western grasshoppers during a dry spell. Because of lack of sufficient game protection men, the lifting of road blockades during hunting seasons and the tremendous increase in the game hog population, Michigan pheasant hunters this year face a pheasant hunting season with few pheasants to hunt.

Only once during this entire year have we seen a pheasant along any of the roads in Michigan. There was a time when one would see from one to a dozen pheasants while making even a short automobile trip.

But game hogs have put an end to that. Oh yes, they say that the foxes are getting them, that the wet springs prevented them from hatching and all of that, but the game hog who killed off the hen pheasants is the real cause of the decline of the pheasant population in Michigan.

It will be interesting to note what the forthcoming season brings forth—but there is one thing sure—there will be few, if any "bag" limits of pheasants taken by the hunters.

Dr. Albert S. Hazzard of the University of Michigan and one of the learned advisors of the Michigan Conservation Department, recently wrote a pretty good article on best methods to fish for big lake trout. His article in part follows:

If you like fishing for really big trout, "Mackinaw" trolling is the answer in Michigan waters. Fish up to 50 pounds and a little more have been caught in the Great Lakes waters by sport fishermen, although a 30 pounder is considered a big lake trout. Some of the larger, deeper inland lakes such as Charlevoix, Bellaire, Torch, Elk and Leelenaw produce good fish, but generally not as large as those from Lake Michigan and Lake Superior.

In recent years the Conservation Department has had considerable success from planting two-year old trout (7-10 inches in length) in such lakes as Crystal, Benzie County and Higgins Lake. The average run of fish in the inland lakes is from two to six lbs.

Some of the best lake trout fishing will soon be under way. Nice catches are also made in the spring shortly after the ice leaves. Then the fish are in shoal water and can be taken by trolling a spoon or spinner on very light tackle—even a flyrod. Under such conditions a "laker" puts up an excellent fight and is recognized as a real game fish. Later as the water warms, the trout move out into deeper water and can only be taken by using a long wire line or heavily weighted linen line fished close to the bottom.

"Deep sea" trolling in Lake Michigan out of Northport or other points along the shore is usually before July 15, while in the Lake Superior fine catches are made into mid-August.

But again as the waters cool down in September, lake trout come in toward shore and fishing picks up after the summer lull. The closed season for commercial fishing and sport trolling during the spawning period lasts from October 1 to October 31 in Lake Huron; October 10 to November 10 in Lake Michigan; and from October 10 to November 4 in Lake Superior. This means that if you are going to the Upper Peninsula for some early bird shooting this fall, you can get a bit of lake trout trolling as well before the tenth of October.

There is no limit to the daily catch which may be taken in Lake Superior or in any of the Great Lakes by ice fishing but at present not more than 25 pounds and one fish may be kept by sport fishermen in Lakes Huron, and Michigan. Next year the daily limit on all Great Lakes waters will be off, but closed seasons will remain as they are at present.

Fishing methods for lake trout vary somewhat depending on the locality and the season. Heavy nickel spoons are used by most sport trolling parties in the summer with or without a stout rod such as employed in ocean fishing. Such heavy tackle takes much of the sport out of deep sea trolling, but is necessary to handle several hundred feet of wire line and big spoons.

In winter lake trout are taken by "chugging" near the bottom with a heavy weighted spoon or more often with six or eight inch herring or smelt fastened securely to a weighted hook. Torch Lake and Lake Bellaire furnish this type of fishing through the ice in late winter but most of the lake trout caught by this method are taken in the Great Lakes, often several miles from shore.

No matter when or how taken the lake trout is a choice morsel of food. Pan-fried, baked or broiled they are delicious, and if you've never tried them boiled you have a new experience coming. A favorite method in common use by commercial fishermen, boiling is seldom employed by others. The big fish is cut in chunks and dropped into well salted boiling water together with a large, coarsely chopped onion and some pieces of salt pork or bacon. Use just enough water to cover and cook only until the flesh is done and just starts to separate from the bones. Drain and serve with boiled potatoes and you have a fit for a king. The juice with bits of bacon and fish served as soup makes an excellent appetizer.

National Dog Week
September 21 to 27

In recognition of National Dog Week, Sept. 21-27, Miss Katherine Ashely, librarian, wishes to let people know that books about dog care and training are available through the Traveling Branch of the Wayne County Library.

Unique among them is "How to Raise Your Puppy," by Margaret Atkinson, a book written in simple terms for children which makes it possible for the child to feed, care for, and train his own pet. "In the bookmobile collection we also have Wm. L. Judy's "The Care of the Dog" which is a practical book for the layman dog owner," Miss Ashley said.

Information on specialized phases of dog training is also available through a loan system established between the branch libraries. Among the books which

Tells Methods to Keep Eggs Clean

Prevention rather than cure is the watchword when it comes to producing clean eggs, says J. M. Moore, extension poultryman at Michigan State college.

Prevention means constant attention to possible causes and taking steps to eliminate or correct them. Among the common causes of dirty eggs are wet or muddy ranges, unclean floors in henhouses, infrequent change of litter on henhouse floors, unclean or insufficient nests, and overcrowding of hen houses. All of these causes may be kept under control.

Confining hens each day until noon or at least until the eggs are gathered usually answers the problem of dirty eggs which results from wet or muddy ranges. Wire cloth having a 2-inch mesh, fixed under perches and over dropping boards will prevent hens from carrying fifth to the nests. The use of clean, dry litter and frequent renewal of the litter answers the problem of keeping henhouse floors clean. Over-crowding of hen houses can be avoided by allowing at least three and one-half to four square feet of floor space for each hen and at least one nest for every five hens.

eggs is largely one for the producer to solve. Care should be taken because dirty or soiled eggs are likely to spoil quickly if not cleaned properly.

Moore maintains that producing clean eggs in the first place is a better practice than trying to clean up the dirty or soiled eggs so they will be presentable for market.

BABSON SAYS

Babson Discusses the "Too Big" Cities

New York City, Sept. 19. If you are lucky enough to live in a city or town of modest size, give thanks for your great good fortune. For you to change to New York or some other crowd-crammed big city, might be a bad move because these economic dinosaurs may be doomed. City life for the average mortal is a drab and sorry affair. With prices high and supplies low, most big cities offer only poor sleeping quarters and tiresome meals. Someday, you will understand that health is life's priceless asset—especially for the woman.

Those who have trekked cityward and lost out, remind me of another bitter truth. Life never can be so lonely as in a great city swarming with strangers. The abysmal lonesomeness of the new-comer and outsider often leads to taking up with bad companions. Broken church ties are not renewed. Spiritual relations are neglected. The abnormality of life in a big city too often undermines moral standards that originally were firm.

Small Town Outlook Best

Due to these jam-packed cities, I would caution those of all ages, particularly young people with youthful families. Youth has the longest time to regret an error! Certainly, congested cities are not fit places to raise children,—the one highest goal of a happy married life. Thoughtful parents will think twice before sentencing their loved ones to such physical unwholesomeness and spiritual squalor.

Having been brought up in a farming and seafaring area, I cherish no delusions that the small-town or rural hamlet is all sweetness and light. Yet I can promise readers that, for all its faults, it is free from much of the degradation and ills of the overgrown and under-privileged metropolis. Furthermore, the ever-faster advance of science is adding to the advantages of country life. Think how rural life is being constantly enriched by better transportation, better communication, better education and better facilities of all kinds.

Atoms in Your Future Look too at the other side. Just as science has bettered the smaller communities, it has created new hazards for big cities. If World War III ever explodes, some of our monsters of mass living will be made-to-order targets for the enemy's atom bombs and bacterial assaults. Mankind will be less eager to lift skyscrapers to heaven, understanding full well what grim harvest of destruction may be reaped from those distant skies. The Atomic Age has put a new premium on spacious sites,—both for industry and residence. Intelligent nations will prefer to expand horizontally rather than vertically.

In the years to come, inbound, cityward migration will peter out and dry up. The outbound, countryward movement will rise to a mighty tide. Watch the workings of the Law of Action and Reaction! The building of too-big cities has been overdone. Reversal is overdue. Young people, then face a plain choice. They can follow an undated and outmoded tradition, seeking the big city in forlorn hope of making big money, or can live in small communities as God intended. Bigtown now is better equipped to deal out misfortunes than fortunes. Wise young people will ride the rising trend toward the countryside.

College Towns Choice Spots

If you can live near a college, count that an added asset for your life's career. The nearby presence of a humble institution of learning or culture, may yield more far-reaching influence than all the lumber, brick, steel and cement which big-city builders can pile together. The college of broad ideals is a part of the community where it is located and deals in inspiration as well as instruction.

Industrial leaders are interested keenly in spreading operations more widely throughout the less densely populated regions. This opens more jobs everywhere. If a healthful and economic setting aids in running a mill, how much more vital are such considerations in rearing a family? The future holds every promise that the best opportunities for health, security and happiness, will be in the smaller community. The Main Street which is built for goodness rather than bigness, will live on to bless its fortunate inhabitants long after Grand Avenue is paved with grass!

25 YEARS AGO FROM THE PLYMOUTH MAIL FILES

After being closed for the past four weeks, while the interior of the theatre was being decorated, the Penniman Allen theatre will re-open next Wednesday evening. The newly decorated interior presents a beautiful appearance, and it will be a most pleasing surprise for the patrons of this popular playhouse, when they see for themselves how handsome the theatre looks. The color scheme has been worked out in white, blue and gold, artistically blended and in perfect harmony.

Arthur J. Eckles and Oliver Goldsmith have formed a co-partnership, under the firm name of Eckles and Goldsmith, and will carry a full line of cement, lime, dairy feed, fertilizer and baskets. The new firm has purchased the property known as the old cheese factory site, just east of the Pere Marquette depot, and ground has been broken for the erection of a fine warehouse, Both Mr. Eckles and Mr. Goldsmith are well and favorably known to the people of Plymouth and vicinity, and have a host of friends who will wish them abundant success in their new business venture. Jewell, Blaich and McCardle have purchased the building formerly used by Harry Willis as a blacksmith shop near the point of the park on East Ann Arbor street, and will move their plumbing business from its present location on Main street, as soon as the newly purchased building can be remodeled to meet their requirements and needs. Display windows will be placed in the front and a show room and office will occupy the front part of the building, while the rear and second floor will be used for shop purposes. Preparations are being made for the largest total enrollment in the history of Michigan Agricultural College when the fall term opens September, 25. During 1291-1922 the number of four year students was slightly under 1,700, though the fall term registration was 1,619. The total for the year, including summer session and short course students and vocational training students receiving federal aid was in excess of 2,500.
