Central PTA to Meet Each Month

The executive board of the Central Grade School PTA recently met with Mrs. Jack Taylor, the president, to formulate plans for the coming year.

It was decided that the first meeting shall consist of a short business session which will be followed by a social hour. This meeting will take place Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Meetings for the remainder of the year will be held the fourth Tuesday of each month.

Everyone interested in the school is invited to attend this meeting to renew acquaintances and meet the new parents and members of the faculty.

All parents of children attending the school are urged to attend the meeting and become affiliated with the school through the PTA. In this way an understanding can be established between parents and teachers and better results can be achieved for the children.

Passage-Gayde Auxiliary to Install Officers

The public has been invited to attend the installation and initiation ceremony of the Passage-Gayde post of the American Legion auxiliary. The service is slated to take place Monday evening at 9 at the Post's meeting place, which is located at 1060 South Main street.

Mrs. May, president of the 17th district of the auxiliary, will be present with the ritual team to officiate at the ceremonies.

Sportsmen Make Plans for Meet

Committees and committee chairmen for the first annual tri-club sports meet and barbecue which is to take place October 5, have been announced by William Rambo general chairman. The event is scheduled to take place on the Multi-Lake club grounds with members of the Western Wayne County conservation club, the Gasco Conservation club of Detroit, and the Multi-Lake Conservation association of the Walled Lake area participating in the events.

George Hess is in charge of the trapping contest which will take place at 10 a. m. Five man teams will compete in this event, with 50 rounds being allowed each man. At the same time the archery contest will get underway with five man teams competing under the guidance of William Keefer. A 28 target course will be set up. Ernest Henry is in charge of the 11:30 a. m. rifle competition. Each team will be comprised of five men, each being allowed 20 shots with any sights at 50 and 100 yards.

At 12:30 another rifle contest will be staged, but with a running deer target. Fred Rhoad will be in charge of the 10 man teams which will be limited to 3 shots per man. Lunch and special entertainment will be planned for 1 p. m., while bait casting will follow at 2 p. m. William Morgan will be in charge of this event. The five man teams will be limited to five-eighths oz. plugs.

Also at 2 p. m. two man teams will vie for honors in the horse-shoe throwing competition. Russ Winniger is in charge of making plans for this event. Dry fly casting will take place at 3 p. m., also with five man teams, competing under the direction of Dr. B. E. Champe. At the same time Walt Beglinger will begin organizing the soft ball games.

Points will be awarded for first, second and third place in each event and a small prize will be given to the club winning each event. The club with the most points at the close of the matches will win a grand trophy to be retained by the winning club for one year. At that time, it will again be placed in competition.

This meet will be for men only, and competitors must be members of the respective clubs.

A comparison of the suicides committed in this country during 1921 and 1946 shows two important changes in the relative frequency of the methods employed: Of every 1,000 men and 1,000 women, the number who took poison decreased from 144 to 70 among males and 325 to 204 among females, while the number who chose hanging increased from 171 to 276 among males and from 94 to 246 among females.

To Spend Winter in Old Country

Next Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Clare Dorey and daughter Patricia, of Cherry Hill, will sail from New York on the Mauretania. The ship is expected to dock at Southampton, England on October 9, from there they will travel to London where Mrs. Dorey's mother and Mr. Dorey's father live.

Mrs. Dorey's mother is 83 years of age and Mr. Dorey's father has reached 88. Both are said to be in excellent health. The latter is the father of 17 children and claims 110 living descendants.

They also expect to spend some time with Mrs. Dorey's sister and family who are also living in London.

Before they leave London, Patricia Dorey will be able to compare the school systems of England and the United States, as she is planning a visit to the school her mother attended.

In November they expect to journey to the French Riviera where they will visit another sister and family.

If bookings can be obtained, the Doreys will return in May.

Federal waterfowl regulations make it legal for those who can do it, to shoot waterfowl with bow and arrow as well as with shotguns.

THE NELSON

THE NELSON—Flexibility is as important to a house plan as to an elastic band. In the design of The Nelson, the architect has achieved the utmost in flexibility so that the plan may be adapted to fit the varying needs of families of different needs and tastes. First, it is a small house that looks much larger than it is because the garage is turned end-ways and a grand porch placed in front of it. It may be a two bedroom, a three bedroom or a four bedroom house. It may have the conventionally sized living room shown in the floor plan here, or, by leaving out the partition between living room and front bedroom, might be built with an oversized living room 22x16 ft. The smaller downstairs bedroom might be a dining room and all sleeping confined to the second floor. Or, it might be a study. Or, the second floor may be left unfinished and the house built as a four room bungalow. There are numberless possibilities. The plan conforms to Federal Housing Administration construction requirements and to the standards of National Adequate Wiring Bureau. Architect's blueprints and specifications and further information is available at our office.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH "Reality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 28. The Golden Text (Psalms 18:30) is: "As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the Lord is tried; he is a buckler to all those that trust in him." Among the Bible citations is this passage. (John 1:1-3): "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.472): "All reality is in God and his creation, harmonious and eternal. That which he creates is good, and He makes all that is made."

New State Labor Law, Effective October 11, Hits Goon Mob Rule

(By Gene Alleman)

Two weeks from this coming Saturday (Sept. 27), Michigan's new labor law will go into effect.

All labor unions and all employees will be affected, as the law imposes new obligations with respect to strikes and picketing. It seeks to prevent industrial strife by requiring the use of mediation. Strikes may be called only after the state conducts an election of employees. A strike is legal only if it is authorized by a majority of the employees involved, not a majority of those voting.

Furthermore, the new law seeks to outlaw strikes by employees of public government, public utilities and hospitals, and to settle such disputes by arbitration.

Here's how the new law will work, beginning October 11.

Suppose the workers of the Smithville Manufacturing Company, a fictitious firm as far as we know, have a dispute with their employer. The workers, or their bargaining representative, file a notice of intent to strike with the state labor mediation board at Lansing.

The state board sends a mediator to Smithville. He tries to settle the dispute by getting both sides together.

If these negotiations fail, the state board is required by law to conduct a special election to determine whether a majority of the workers of this firm favor the proposed work stoppage.

The most recent offer of management must be printed on the strike ballot. Cost of the election—printed ballots, etc.—is to be paid by the two disputing parties, employees and the management, either equally or upon some other basis agreed upon. The State of Michigan does not foot the bill.

Suppose two unions are in a row over who has the right to represent the workers. Such a dispute also goes to mediation. If mediation fails, then a special election must be called by the state board. Expense of this election is to be borne equally by the two disputing unions.

Only until the unions' dispute is settled by the workers, can a legal strike be called.

Contrary to popular belief, Michigan has not had an effective picketing law up to now.

Effective Oct. 11, it is going to have one. The law makes it unlawful for anyone to "hinder or prevent by mass picketing, threats, intimidation, force or coercion of any kind the pursuit of any lawful work or employment."

Also: The law makes it unlawful for anyone to "obstruct or interfere with free and uninterrupted use of public roads, streets, highways, railways, airports or other ways of travel or conveyance."

Enforcement of the law is up to all enforcement agencies in the following order: City police, county sheriff's department, Michigan State Police, Michigan National Guard and United States Army. State Police or the National Guard intervene only by order of the Governor upon receipt of an appeal from a mayor or sheriff. The U.S. Army intervenes only upon order of the President upon receipt of an appeal from the Governor.

The new law is the result of a public's protest against industrial strikes that affect the general public welfare. It will be interesting to see whether the law succeeds in its purpose.

The "City of London" occupies an area of only one square mile in the business center of the British capital, on the site where it was founded by the Romans. Although an integral part of London, this little section is self-governed, has its laws and customs and maintains its own courts, schools, police force, etc. Even the King must have an invitation from its Lord Mayor in order to pay an official visit.

Dr. Carney Tells of Convention

Elmore L. Carney recently attended a special meeting of the Wayne county Society of Optometrists which was held at the Book Cadillac hotel September 18. Guest speaker was Ralph Barstow, director of economics, from Covena, California.

Technical development in optometry has reached a point where it can improve the personality and earning power of many patients," declared Mr. Barstow, citing statistics to prove his point. "Between 80 and 90 per cent of all patients coming to optometrists have visual problems at the near or working point. This condition is recognized readily in the case of presbyopes which includes practically all people over 50 years of age." "It has been said truly that if it were not for the services of optometry, the majority of people over 50 would be on the economic scrap heap. But the near and working point problems of people under 50 are as urgent, even if they are not so obvious. In one group of electric solderers, doing a fussy job on small wires, the difference between the workers who had had professional visual care and those who had not, was 18 cents an hour. Also, and this was important to the management, those making the best earnings had only half the work rejected that the poorer earners did."

"The work with school children is increasingly valuable. The U. S. Census estimates that the crop of war children is 17 million. The first group of these youngsters is just now starting to school in the 1st grade. For the next six years, the schools will have bulging 1st grade classes. Then that bulge will go on through the grades for from 12 to 16 years. According to Professor Emmett Betts of Temple University, reading is the most important subject taught in the early grades of school because it is the basic skill on which all other subjects are built. The early grade children exhibit varying degrees of reading readiness and increasingly large numbers cannot keep up to the standards set by the school authorities. This is creating a serious problem in school expense, where it costs from $95 to $185 a year to keep a student in school. If the retarded child is held back and required to take a grade over again, not only is the expense heavily increased, but the child rarely improves by repeating the grade. Recently, in desperation, schools have adopted what they call "social promotion" meaning that the child is moved on grade by grade whether it earns promotion or not. It is on record that one boy in one school was thus passed until he finished high school and the only subject in which he ever passed was physical education! Yet, later, an optometrist straightened out his visual problem and he became a useful citizen and good worker."

My MICHIGAN

BY • ELTON R. EATON

Over a long period of years we have been a strong supporter of Michigan's department of conservation. We know that the department has made mistakes, but on the whole we believe that the scales balance heavily in favor of the department.

BUT!

Michigan now has, it appears, a publicity seeking hound as chairman of its conservation commission. That is, it would appear that way from the last news release sent out by the educational division of the department. And that is NOT GOOD for the department or the state.

Maybe it was just a slip on the part of some one who wrote a portion of the material sent to newspapers for use this week. More likely it was NOT, because during the quarter of a century that this service has been provided the state, never before do we recall the publishing of the position of the chairman on some question before the commission for consideration. The people want to know what the commission does, not just its chairman.

This is the first time—LET IT BE THE LAST!

While we are talking about this publicity seeking stunt at the expense of the taxpayers of the state, we're going to say something to the Upper Peninsula Development bureau about the same nauseating thing. During the past year or so we have refused to publish anything issued by this bureau BECAUSE in everything sent out by the bureau for newspaper use, George E. Bishop, secretary of the bureau, insists on having his name mentioned from once to a half dozen times. George is a nice fellow and all of that, but if this thing doesn't stop and if we have another opportunity to do so, we will certainly do what we can to knock out any state appropriation for the GEORGE BISHOP BUREAU, improperly named the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

This is the first time anything of a critical nature has appeared in this column, except a blast once in a while at the fast increasing crop of game hogs growing like rag weeds in rural sections of Michigan as well as in the goon incubator centers of the state.

We are 100 percent in Attorney General Eugene Black's corner in his effort to regain for the people of Michigan several miles of Lake Huron shore frontage that was allegedly turned over by the highway department to a real estate promoter in some so-called "exchange" of real estate.

We do not question the good intentions of the state highway department's commissioner, Charles Ziegler, but we believe he has made a serious error and we hope that he will cooperate with the Attorney General and not oppose the action proposed by Mr. Black.

for the benefit of the people of this state.

As a matter of fact the writer of this column nearly two years ago went to the state highway commissioner about that real estate development on land which we thought then, and still think, belongs to the state.

Some five or six miles south of Greenbush the state has a small roadside park, which extends from highway M23 to the shores of Lake Huron. For a distance of several miles north of this park, the lake shore runs very close alongside the highway. As a matter of fact in many places there is less than 50 feet from the paving to the water's edge.

The paved highway slab is not in the middle of the right-of-way. Why it was built this way only the highway department can tell. For some apparent reason, the land section lying between the paved road slab and the edge of the right-of-way on the lake side is only a few feet, while on the side between the paving and the woods, there is a distance of more than a hundred feet in most places. In some places it is almost 150 feet.

Not only that, but some real estate promoter has been bulldozing sand up from the lake and creating filled-in lots between the paving and the water's edge. Maybe Mr. Black can tell the difference between using sand out of the lake to create real estate lake frontage that did not exist, and removing sand from the lake for other purposes. We have a faint recollection that there is some statute covering this question.

At any rate we suggested to the state highway commissioner some two years ago that several miles of the Lake Huron frontage along M-23 north of the roadside park south of Greenbush should be developed by the state for public park purposes. We said at the time that Michigan didn't possess enough frontage along the Great Lakes for public purposes and that some four or five miles of this frontage right along the roadside should be held for public use.

The Attorney General is quoted in The Detroit News as saying that the state administrative board has never confirmed any deal that the highway department made with some real estate promoter. If that is a fact, then there is just one thing for the state to do, and that is begin the immediate development of this five or six mile of lake frontage for public park purposes instead of permitting more land to be filled in along the road with lake sand and then sold for the benefit of some real estate operator.

And that's enough for this week.

Laws on Hunting Date Back to '59

Plymouth duck hunters, who are faced with the 30 day season and bag limit of four ducks a day, may be partially consoled by the fact that hunting restrictions have been enforced for 88 years. It is these restrictions which have helped the sport survive to this day.

Digging into the history of waterfowl hunting regulations, conservation department duck specialist Herb Miller found restrictions far older than such affirmative measures as creation of good habitat by flooding with small dams. The first act on the books, in 1859, was a seasonal restriction, prohibiting killing of teal and mallards between February 1 and August 15.

First restrictions on guns, in 1865, prohibited the small cannon known as punt guns that market hunters used. Not till 1918 was the hunter limited to one gun no larger than 10 gauge. In 1930 his gun could hold no more than six shells; now the limit is three.

Shooting from power boats and sail boats was out-lawed in 1897; sink boxes and batteries were outlawed here in 1927; live decoys and baiting were out-lawed

Hobby Classes Open Next Week

The Northville Recreation committee has invited citizens of Plymouth to take part in its art, craft and hobby classes which will be held this fall and winter. The classes, which have been designed for adults, will begin next week. Those taking part in the program will meet one night a week in the Northville village hall at 7 p. m.

The charge of this course is $57.50. On October 2 the course in hat design, which has an entrance fee of $9.00, will begin. Upholstering starts September 29, while a course in antique refinishing will be inaugurated the same night. The charge for these courses is $12.00 and $6.00, respectively.

Ceramics and leathercraft for beginners will be offered September 30, with a charge of $10.00 for the first course and $6.00 for the second. The class in advanced leathercraft will begin October 2, while rug designing and making starts October 1. The fee for both courses is $6.00.

Anyone interested in the program should call Northville 794-J or write Mrs. L. Stewart, 103 Orchard Drive, Northville.

See what this brand-new Fireball engine can do for Buicks built in the past ten years

YOU see here a hood-filling straight-eight power plant exactly like those which put an eager rush of Fireball energy at the command of folks who own 1947 Buicks.

But you don't have to be the owner of a 1947 Buick to boss this husky package of concentrated power around!

You don't have to wonder, "How about delivery?"

If you hanker for the thrill of having, beneath your toe, the surging power of a new Fireball engine, we're in a position to talk business right now.

How come? The answer is simple: Out in the Buick factories, engine production is forging ahead — engines are coming off the line faster than bodies or other parts needed to build complete automobiles.

All of which means we can give you prompt delivery on 1947 power plants — brand-new, straight-from-the-factory Buick engines, ready to repower any Buick built in the past ten years.

If you own a Buick built between 1937 and 1942, the whole thing boils down to this:

We lift out the old engine — put in a new one — and send you on your happy way in less time than it would take for an overhaul.

That's why we say, buying one of these engines is the next best thing to getting a new Buick — and when you do get a new one, you'll have a better car to turn in.

Come in and let us show you how simple the whole thing is.

One answer to the manpower problem

AN ELECTRIC HAMMER MILL saves you time and money

Grind your own feed with a flip of the switch! It's quicker, more convenient and far more economical than other methods! Inexpensive electric feed grinders are available right now — and your dealer can arrange for immediate delivery.

Talk to your Edison farm man about an electric grinder — ask him to show you one at work on a nearby farm. Discover how electricity does this particular job at a fraction of your present cost. There's no obligation, of course — your Edison farm man has no equipment to sell. His only job is to help you get the most out of all the electricity you buy.

LOOK AT THESE ADVANTAGES!

1. Free one man for other work.
2. Save hours of your own time.
3. Eliminate mill trips and mill tolls.
4. Make your own hopper and bin at home.
5. Spare your tractor from this "daily grind."
6. Have fresher, better feed — when you want it.
7. Save time — no waiting for the grinder truck.

Freedom isn't Free!

A Railroad Salutes the Freedom Train Which Starts Its National Tour in Philadelphia This Week

This week the whistles will blow and the church bells will ring in Philadelphia. For there, where our Constitution was born, the most remarkable railroad train in history is beginning a national tour—a train transformed into a rolling shrine to display the great documents on which our American freedoms are based.

As the school children of Philadelphia (and 300 other cities to come) gaze on Jefferson's draft of the Declaration of Independence, or the official manuscript of the Bill of Rights, or Lincoln's pen notes for the Gettysburg address, sober thoughts will run through the minds of their elders,

FREEDOM, as world events have taught us, isn't free like the air we breathe. It isn't from everlasting to everlasting. It was won by bitter struggle, and it can be lost with tragic ease, if we and other Americans take it for granted.

The lesson of our time is that freedom must be earned, in each generation. Either we continue to earn it, or we shall wake up some morning to find that it has slipped through our fingers, as it slipped through the hands of other people in the world. A dictatorship will have taken it from us.

In our business hours many Americans speak of "Free Enterprise" as though it were a God-bestowed blessing. Some are surprised to find that it isn't listed in the Declaration of Independence under Mr. Jefferson's "unalienable rights."

But freedom of enterprise, like our political liberties, doesn't blow like the wind from Heaven. It must be earned. Either business, in serving itself, serves the public, or it invites strangling regulation.

It can almost be said that the measure of our success as a republic is the amount of regulation we can get along without. Judged by this standard, we have a long way to go. Does anyone believe that either the Securities Exchange Act or the Taft-Hartley Labor Bill is a tribute to our success in self-discipline?

THE duty of the business man and the labor leader is to make our economic freedoms work. This is a duty they have to the whole public, not merely to their own group or class. It is far better that these men should disclose and assail the wrongs in our system than that they should see, hear and speak no evil. Either we do our own housekeeping or an indignant electorate will do it for us.

What would have happened in the twenties, for example, if a few determined men in Wall Street had publicly denounced the iniquities then practised in the name of the Bull Market? Such an action would have broken all the rules of the Club, but the crash and the depression would have been easier, and business would have escaped a whole morass of legislation.

And what restrictions could the labor movement have avoided if some audacious leader had insisted that his union be accountable to the laws and customs of contracts?

It is taking us a long time to learn that, when we invite the devil to take the hindmost, the devil may take us all.

In the words of Tom Paine: "Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must bear the fatigues of supporting it."

There can be no liberty that isn't earned.

That, to us, is the import of the Freedom Train. And the Chesapeake & Ohio, which is one of many railroads over whose tracks this national shrine will pass, salutes it on the start of its historic mission. We will guide it well when it comes our way. May it have a fruitful journey!

BABSON SAYS

Babson Discusses Farm Prices Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 26. During the past 24 hours I have been flying over the great farming area of the Central West. I have not only seen things with my eyes, but also heard things with my ears.

Farmers Not Being Fooled Let me first say that farmers are not being fooled by these high prices. They know that $2.90 for wheat and $2.65 for corn is not going to hold. They remember that throughout all U. S. history, only during and directly after wars, have farmers made much money. Moreover, the wise ones are now using their profits to get out of debt, to buy for cash new machinery, and lay up a good bank balance for the future.

They also tell me that although farm prices rise gradually during boom time, yet when prices fall, they collapse all at once. This is because farmers get panic stricken when they see prices begin to fall and all farmers try to dump at once. They admit they are now playing the same game with wheat and corn as investors, in 1929, played with stocks and bonds.

Reasons for High Prices (1) Exports to Europe. During 1946 more than 15,000,000 tons of food were shipped to Europe. Heavy movements of foodstuffs to Europe will continue due to its poor crop condition.

(2) Poor U. S. Weather Conditions. The American grain harvest will be 15,000,000 tons under normal, due to spring floods and unsatisfactory growing conditions, with a constantly increasing population.

(3) Wasteful American Eating Habits. Americans have always been the most wasteful people in the world when it comes to food consumption. Higher consumer income has increased this wastefulness.

(4) Putting So Much Grain Into Liquor. The eight billion dollar liquor business consumes huge quantities of grain for brewing of alcoholic beverages. Despite starvation abroad, this "non-essential" industry continues uninterrupted in the production of liquor.

(5) Increase In The Currency

From $7,000,000,000 to $27,000,000,000. The tremendous increase in currency since before the war has greatly stimulated the power of the American public to purchase food products.

Waiting for the 1948 Tax Bill There is good reason to believe that large amounts of grain are held on the farm. This is not a case where farmers are gambling that prices will continue to rise above present inflated levels. Grain farmers are fully aware that there is an excellent chance that personal income taxes may be reduced in 1948. The farmer asks himself the question: "Why should I sell my grain now and pay an income tax on the proceeds at the 1947 rate when I can wait until 1948 and take advantage of a new tax law more favorable to the taxpayer?" Certainly with an election year coming up, politicians will look with great favor on some sort of reduction in personal income taxes in 1948.

Present Food Price Investigations There is much talk in the newspapers about distributors and processors of food products taking advantage of the present squeeze in food prices and systematically gouging the poor consumer. Quite frankly, I think this is plainly propaganda. The fact is that in most instances the farmers' percentage profit margins today are no greater than normal. What has happened is that, due to a higher dollar volume of business, the normal profits. Hence, don't blame the farmers.

The real villain in the picture is unprecedented demand for farm products both at home, where consumer income has never been so high, and from Europe where famine conditions are so prevalent. We are eating more and wasting a greater volume of food, per capita, than ever before. Even a very small reduction in our consumption of food would prevent the serious squeeze on food prices which we now face. It is most desirable to be frugal at this time, not only to assist those who are less fortunate, but to help avoid a drastic deflation as a result of further price rises. Food is the most important item in the average family budget. This is the basic answer to the problem of food prices today.

The Penniman Allen theatre reopened, Wednesday evening, and two large audiences saw Charles Ray in "A Tailor Made Man." Everybody was delighted with the beautiful appearance of the newly decorated theatre. Daniel Patterson's four-piece orchestra furnished excellent music.

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Conner on Penniman avenue, was the scene of a pretty home wedding, last Wednesday afternoon, September 20, when their youngest daughter, Elizabeth Jane, was united in marriage to Gardner Tilton of Concord, New Hampshire. The house was attractively decorated with beautiful pink and green hydrangea blossoms and ferns. At four o'clock the bridal party, to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal March, played on the piano by Miss Alvena Streng, took their places in the living room in front of a bower of these beautiful fall blossoms, where, in the presence of about sixty friends and relatives, the marriage service was impressively read by Rev. E. F. Farber of Pittsburg, Pa., former pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this place. The beautiful ring service was used.

Miss Blanche A. Robinson of this place, and William C. Watts of Detroit were quietly married by Rev. Frank M. Field, pastor of the Martha Holmes Memorial church, Detroit, at the parsonage in that city, Wednesday, September 20. They will make their home in Detroit.
