

One City, One County Question to Be Voted on Tuesday, November 4

Tuesday, November 4, is election day in Plymouth and the rest of Wayne county. There are two questions for the voters of this city to decide. One is a local issue. It pertains to a portion of the plan to improve the water supply system of this city. As the result of petitions filed with the commission, Plymouth voters will decide whether they want an iron remover and water softener plant constructed, the plant to be paid for out of water department funds. The other question is a county issue in which the voters will be asked to decide whether taxpayers in Plymouth and the rest of Wayne county want to help the city of Detroit build a new city hall. Detroit, in order to get out-county money for the city hall, has been able to induce the supervisors to propose to the voters a combined city hall and county building. If you vote to bond your property for a new "combined" county building, you are also voting to bond yourself to help Detroit build a new city hall. These are the only two issues that you will help decide at the election on Tuesday, November 4.

Women Say They Don't Waste Food But One Man Believes They Do

"Who says food isn't being wasted in Plymouth," was the comment of a city employee who walked into The Mail office last Tuesday. The visitor was carrying a paper sack which he immediately opened to display the contents. In it were sandwiches, cake, and cookies. This parcel had been found in one of the waste cans in the park, presumably left there by a student. He related that this was not a singular example of such waste, for many other such discarded lunches are found every day. Nor did the wastefulness stop with baked goods. The same visitor described fresh fruit, such as oranges and bananas, which he had found thrown on the ground, left there to rot. "And the women deny wasting food," was his comment. "Why would school children waste food if they didn't see similar waste going on at home?" he asked.

Tuesday Meat Ban or Not, Plymouth Sales Indicate No Decrease Here

A tour of Plymouth's grocery stores last Friday, plus a short chat with the men whose job it is to sell meat, seemed to indicate that meat sales have not dropped noticeably on Tuesday. Housewives were recently asked to make Tuesday a meatless day in order to conserve on the nation's food supply. The general comment was to the effect that if meat sales have dropped at all, it has not been enough to be noticeable. One grocery concern, however, reported a slight drop, but went on to state that it had been much more noticeable on October 7. Another went on to tell of a slightly higher sale of fish on Tuesday, while, on the other hand, another said that he had noticed no increase in this item. Plymouth shoppers have been buying an increased amount of cheaper cuts of meat from nearly all the meat departments recently, but the dealers went on to add that no sharp increase in this type of meat has been noted in the past week.

'Buy In Plymouth' Month Goes Into Final Week

The final week of Buy in Plymouth month begins today, Friday, with an end of month sale which will extend through next Friday, according to Robert O. Wesley, Chamber of Commerce president. This will mark the final special sale event which merchants have been sponsoring for the past three week-ends in an attempt to bring better buys in quality merchandise to Plymouth shoppers. The purpose of the entire campaign has been to show townpeople that Plymouth merchants often carry as good or better buys than those in near-by cities. The month was inaugurated with fall opening specials offered the first week-end, followed by dollar day a week later. Last Friday and Saturday special value items were offered by the merchants, and the coming week's EOM sales mark the campaign's conclusion.

All persons desiring to enter the BIP contest must have their entry blanks in by tomorrow night, Saturday, at midnight. All answers to "It's best to buy in Plymouth because..." must be written on an official entry blank in 25 words or less. Blanks can be obtained from all stores carrying BIP specials. They must be mailed or turned in to the Chamber of Commerce headquarters, in the Hotel Mayflower. Contest winners will be announced in next week's issue of The Mail. A certificate redeemable for 10 dollars worth of merchandise in any BIP store will be awarded the first place winner, and the person taking second will receive a five dollar award. Mr. Wesley has announced that the judges are Miss Elizabeth McDonald, James Latture, and Arthur Alford.

WHEREAS it is the custom on one day of each year for our citizens to join hands across the nation to render grateful tribute to our mighty Navy, and give well deserved honor and recognition to the achievements of the men and women who compose its ranks; and WHEREAS this year is an especially appropriate occasion to honor the veterans of World War II and to emphasize the importance to our nation of maintaining a strong peacetime Navy with a trained Reserve ready to man our fleet in the event of national emergency; and

WHEREAS it is fitting that our citizens be informed and aware of the current aims and activities of our Navy, victor in war and guardian in peace; THEREFORE, I Jack Taylor, Mayor of City of Plymouth, hereby proclaim Monday, October Twenty-Seventh, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Seven, as Navy Day and call upon all citizens of Plymouth to take part in observance of this day through the many channels open to them. Herein unto I have set my hand and seal this 24th day of October, 1947.

Jack Taylor, Mayor City of Plymouth. In keeping with the practice which has been in existence since 1922, the Navy League of the United States has again been designated by the Secretary of the Navy to be official sponsor of Navy Day throughout the nation. The observance will be based on a theme honoring the veterans of the last war, and the need of support for a strong fleet as an important instrument of our national security will be emphasized.

Barbara Solberg celebrated her sixteenth birthday last Friday with a party in the evening for 24 guests at her parents home on Richland road. The guests enjoyed games, and dancing and had refreshments at the close of the evening.

City Submits Water Softener Plant to Voters

So you have been planning on drinking in the near future some of that wonderful, good tasting water that in the years gone by flowed from the Plymouth "water farm" out on Beck road, directly into the water mains of Plymouth? If so, forget it for a while—maybe a good long while. Drink that delicious (?), nice smelling water (?) that is now pumped into the city water mains from a water vein that flows under Wilcox lake on the north side of the city. Former Health Commissioner Peck said "it smells bad, tastes bad and is bad," but make up your mind to drink it and like it.

It seems that there are some residents who do not like the plan worked out by the city commission to improve the city's water supply as quickly as possible. There has been objection to the iron remover and water softener plant that had been recommended by the engineers hired by the city to direct the rebuilding of the old water system.

As the result of a petition filed with the city, the city commission has decided to submit to the voters at the election to be held Tuesday November 4, the question of whether the city shall build an iron remover and water softener plant and issue bonds amounting to something like $120,000 to be paid out of the water fund for this improvement. But this is not all there is to the story. Another petition has been filed asking the city commission to submit to the voters the question of issuing additional bonds, to be paid for out of the water revenue funds, for the re- (Continued on page 7)

The boys comprising the north west battalion are: Dave Reitzel, John Monteith, William Bingley, Gary Hees, Harold Secord, Ross Willett, Wade Raviler, Fred Ferguson, and Hank Freudenberg. On Wednesday evening, October 15, members of the Masonic Hi-12 club were entertained at their dinner meeting by Plymouth Lodge No. 238 Knights of Pythias, who presented the "Burrel Lesson of Friendship Team" from Queen City Lodge No. 167. Burrel as "Dionysius," and his three sons, Eugene as "Damon," Alfred as "Pythias" and Allen as "Phyllis'us." Lighting effects were under the arrangement and supervision of Cameron Lodge, vice chancellor of the local lodge. Ernest Henry Following last Tuesday night's regular meeting, the new executive board of Kiwanis met and unanimously elected Ernest Henry to the post of secretary. This will be the fourth consecutive year that Mr. Henry has held this post. Previous to his tenure as secretary, he served as president of the organization in 1943.

Witches, Ghosts Take Back Seat to Football

The most outstanding plans for Halloween in Plymouth are being made by Coach Eddie Bender and the football team. These boys aren't concerned with ringing door bells or soaping windows either. The only thing they care about is properly scaring the Northville team when they meet on the new football field for the dedication game next Friday night. Afternoon Halloween celebrations have been planned for members of Central and Starkweather schools from kindergarten through the sixth grade. A motion picture will be shown in honor of the day, and refreshments will be served. This program will be made possible by appropriations from the Community Fund. Plans are also being made for a dance which will follow the football game. It will be held in the High school gymnasium, according to Helmar Nelson, superintendent.

Kiwanis Dance to be Informal

The annual Kiwanis Knight Klub party will be informal according to Byron Becker, chairman of the special projects committee. This party will take place next Saturday night in the High school auditorium. Decorations for this party, which is sponsored for Kiwanis members and their guests, will be based on a cabaret theme. Committee members are working at present on entertainment and refreshment plans.

City Goes Into Official Mourning as Body of Corp. Schmitz Arrives

Flags in Plymouth and Livonia were lowered at half mast Wednesday morning when the body of the late Marine Corporal James J. Schmitz arrived in Plymouth. Corporal Schmitz was killed in action on Kwajalein, in the Marshall Islands, on January 31, 1944.

A guard of honor, consisting of the combined city veteran organizations, met the train and accompanied the body to the Schrader Funeral Home. The organizations in the guard were the Passage-Gayde post of the American Legion, the Myron Beals post, VFW, and the Ex-Servicemen's club. The body will remain at the Funeral Home until this afternoon, Friday, when it will be taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adebort C. Schmitz, of 11665 Boston Post road, parents of the late corporal.

Funeral services will be performed Saturday morning at 10 a.m. in St. Michael's church of Rosedale Gardens. Following a military funeral, the body will be interred in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

The body of Corporal Schmitz arrived in San Francisco harbor October 11 aboard the Honda Knot, United States troopship.

Surviving the corporal are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adebort C. Schmitz, three brothers, Gyle, who is stationed with the United States Navy in the Philippines, John and Thomas Schmitz.

The musical group will make its first appearance at a matinee performance for school children, and the evening concert will follow at 8:15 p.m. Both programs will take place in the High school auditorium. Tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from members of the High school band, orchestra, or chorus, Wagner has also stated. The program is under the sponsorship of the school's music department.

Soprano soloist Dorothy Santapadre, well known operatic and radio star, will appear with the 50 piece musical group. A second vocalist will be Herbert Moulton, recent winner of the lyric tenor division of the Chicago Music Festival which was sponsored by the Chicago Tribune. Noted instrumental soloists appearing with the group are Fay Schackner, flute virtuoso, and Cecily Taylor, harpist.

Growth of City Amazes Old Timer

Victor (Pat) Jolliffe, brother of Evered and Robert Jolliffe, for more than 27 years a resident of the city of Los Angeles, is back in Plymouth at the present time on his first visit to his old home town in 18 years.

"Think of it! Plymouth has grown so much since I was here the last time that it was difficult to find many of the old familiar places. I knew Plymouth was growing, but I never realized that it had become such a fine progressive little city. It is nothing less than amazing to see the changes that have taken place in the last 18 years," he said. He graduated from Plymouth high school with the class of 1914.

Mr. Jolliffe is a well known gasket manufacturer in Los Angeles, which now claims to be the third largest city in the United States, having crowded ahead of both Philadelphia and Detroit in the last three years. He expects to be in Plymouth for just a few days.

Plymouth Gas Rates Go Up

Plymouth car owners will now have to pay one cent more a gallon for gasoline, according to official reports. The price increase was effective as of Wednesday morning. The increase is the result of an eight-tenths of a cent wholesale increase by major producers. The Plymouth retail gas dealers are increasing prices a cent a gallon rather than eight-tenths, to take care of additional sales tax.

Spring Flowers Bloom in Fall

It's beginning to look as if flowers aren't very "intelligent," botanically speaking. All a flower has to think about is when to bloom, but still some persist in appearing at the wrong time. Why, it's getting so no one even raises an eyebrow any more when someone excitedly explains that they have spring flowers blooming in their garden.

Last week Mrs. Walter Ebert, of 327 Farmer, announced the appearance of purple violets in her garden. A similar floral growth was discovered by Mrs. John Van Aken in the garden of her home on 6643 South Salem road. Her report stated that six of her violet plants are blooming.

The prize flower crop of the week, however, is owned by Mrs. William Schnell, 47470 Plymouth road. Thursday morning two light colored iris greeted Mrs. Schnell when she stepped outside, and after a little probing around she discovered that two other plants show signs of coming life. There is a fall blooming variety of iris, but she stated that these blooming plants are of the spring variety. In addition to this, about six weeks ago a few lilacs flowered on her bush, and about two weeks ago her honeysuckle bush produced a few blossoms.

But these are not all. Last Saturday Patrolman Jerry Prince was cleaning up his yard at 346 West Ann Arbor trail when he noticed that one of his rose bushes was in bloom. Not only that, but some of his violets were blossoming. And he had an Iris in bloom. It appears to be spring time in fall time hereabouts.

Concerning this conference for judges and prosecutors, Judge Cutler reported: "Many things discussed at this conference were not applicable or practical to our City of Plymouth. However, many things were very practical and desirable. Judges and prosecutors from all parts of the county attended and exchanged ideas and discussed recommendations of the various leaders in the field. Some of the discussion was quite heated and some pointless. It is the serious aim of the leaders in the field of traffic safety that laws in the (Continued on page 7)

State Officer Speaks to DARs

The state national defense chairman, Mrs. William Streit, spoke on national defense at last Monday's meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of the DAR. The meeting, which was the second of the year, took place at the home of Mrs. Irving Blunk. Approximately 20 members attended.

Mrs. Streit told the group she bases her hope for the future of the country on the training of young people as leaders. She cautioned, however, that at all times the people should be watchfully aware of the growing communist menace in our communities.

A short meeting followed the talk by Mrs. Streit, during which the members made plans for a series of benefit bridges which they will sponsor to raise funds for DAR patriotic causes. These causes consist of approved mountain schools, red cross, cancer drive, community chest and the veteran's memorial building.

The afternoon meeting was concluded with a tea. Mrs. Walter Nichol presided at the tea table.

Dr. Haskell Will be PTA Speaker

Dr. Robert Haskell, medical superintendent of the Wayne County Training school will speak at the Central Grade PTA meeting on October 28, at eight o'clock in the school auditorium. His subject will be "The Learning Difficulties of Children." Dr. Haskell has been connected with the Training School for many years and has worked with many leading educators in this particular field. Their experiments and experiences have been published in books and magazines that have been widely read and studied by teachers.

Everyone should avail himself of this fine opportunity to get first-hand information about the learning handicaps of children, says the committee in charge. "Invite your neighbors and friends and join us at this meeting. Refreshments will be served," reads the notice.

Community Chest Progress to be Known Tuesday

Next Tuesday committee members will discover how the Plymouth Community Fund drive is progressing when a meeting is held in the city hall, according to James Gallimore, chairman. It is hoped that people will turn in their contributions early and that reports will indicate the campaign is off to a good start. Mr. Gallimore also stated.

Although volunteer workers are attempting to reach most of the homes in the city, those who have not been solicited may turn in their contributions to Mrs. Lisle Alexander at the Plymouth United Savings bank. Donations may be made until November 12, at which time the campaign will be concluded.

The goal for Plymouth has been set at the $9,000 mark. Since nearly the total amount has been petitioned for by various community organizations, the committee members will exert every effort to see that it is reached. Mr. Gallimore has stated. Those groups asking for appropriations include: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, visiting nurse, the recreation department, and the committee in charge of the annual Halloween party.

Eternal Vigilance

Eternal spirit of the chainless mind!
Brightest in dungeons, Liberty! thou art,
For there thy habitation is the heart—
The heart which love of thee alone can bind;
And when thy sons to fetters are consign'd—
To fetters, and the damp vault's dayless gloom;
Their country conquers with their martyrdom,
And Freedom's fame finds wings on every wind.

We observe the anniversary of the Statue of Liberty, a national monument, on October 28 because it was on that day in 1886 that the great bronze colossus on Bedloe's island in New York harbor was formally inaugurated. Actually, the monument was proposed shortly after the Civil war by a group of Frenchmen who later commissioned Frederic Auguste Bartholdi, a sculptor of Alsace, to design a suitable statue. His conception of the mighty goddess bearing a torch in her right hand and a book in her left belongs now to all the ages of free men.

Stanley Malik Back from Cruise

Stanley Malik, Jr., seaman, first class, of 7350 Hix road has returned to the United States after a seven-month cruise aboard the aircraft carrier USS Antietam, unit of Task Force 38, which took him to Hawaii, Australia, the Marianas, the Philippines, Japan, and China. Task Force 38, or the Pacific Mobile Striking Force, must be prepared for duty in any part of that area. It conducts training and makes cruises to various ports in the Western Pacific. Approximate 2,000 green "pollywogs", comprising most of the men and officers of the Antietam's crew, were initiated into the "Royal Order of the Deep" when the ship crossed the Equator exactly at the International Dateline. The Antietam held memorial services for World War II dead when the task force cruised past Guadalcanal and later took part in the Philippine Independence celebration. Both men and officers look back with fondest remembrances to Sydney, Australia. The reception that the Americans received there and the hospitality shown by the Australians was called "phenomenal" by the visitors. Many Australians slept out in the open so that they would be sure not to miss the arrival of the task force fleet following morning. FLOSS ★★

Vincent Bluege is Mining College Student

Vincent P. Bluege, son of Mrs. T. Bluege of 8418 Hix road, is one of more than 200 new students attending the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton. He graduated from Fordson high school, and served in the USMMA. Vincent enrolled in the Sault Ste. Marie branch of the college in 1946, and transferred to the Houghton campus this fall, to specialize in mining engineering. In addition to the new students, 1345 other students already enrolled at the college are continuing their studies this term, making a total of 1646 on the Houghton campus. Four hundred and forty young men and women are enrolled at the college's Sault Ste. Marie Branch, and 136 are taking Michigan College of Mining and Technology extension courses at the Gogebic Junior college, making the total registration 2222 on all campuses.

Sexton says Rate Hearing is on Hearing on the application of the Michigan Bell Telephone company for a $10,400,000 general rate increase is now in its first full week before the Public Service Commission, states John Sexton, manager of the Plymouth office. In support of its plea for its first rate increase in 21 years, the company has presented direct testimony regarding steadily rising costs which have increased more rapidly than revenues and forced Michigan Bell's rate of return to the lowest point since the depression. Karl F. Oehler, General Solicitor for the company, stressed in his opening statement the importance of the good-service objective in regulatory matters. "Good service", he said, "is much more important to the telephone user than a few extra cents he might have to pay to get it. Michigan Bell wants no rates that are unreasonable." Objecting to a proposal by the Commission staff for separation and audit and appraisal studies at the expense of the company, Oehler contended the statute does not require the company to underwrite the costs of such studies by outside experts. He also pointed out that regulatory authorities in "some 20 states" had granted rate increases following hearings without directing such studies to be made. Although not a part of the record, Thomas G. Long, General

Counsel for the company, recalled that the last audit and appraisal of the company's books and properties by outside experts cost $800,000 and took four years to complete. Representatives from seven communities and two commercial groups have formally intervened in the case. The communities are Detroit, Ferndale, Huntington Woods, Iron Mountain, Pinckney, Royal Oak, and Saginaw. While proposing an increase in virtually every type of service that it offers and in each of its 252 exchanges, Michigan Bell is offering a new plan of extended-area service that would permit telephone users in most communities to call nearby exchanges "with the same community of interest" without paying long-distance charges. In addition to the extended-area plan, the company's chief proposals outstate call for: 1. Clearing of rate inequities as between communities of comparable telephone development. 2. Reclassification of outstate exchanges into eight groups, according to the number of main telephones in the extended calling areas, with uniform rates applying to exchanges in each group. 3. Creating of district exchanges at Grand Rapids and Pontiac.

The United States Naval Academy was established October 10, 1845. Latest figures show that there are 1,924 Indians in the United States Navy. The United States Navy has slightly more than 4,000,000 fingerprints on file, dating back to 1907. John Paul Jones' body was brought to this country from France in 1905 aboard the USS Brooklyn. Why not save up for some "sunny days" too?

Why not save up for some "sunny days" too? Most folks think of savings as something you set aside for rainy day emergencies. But there are plenty of "sunny day" occasions to save for too! But how soon can you pile up those "sunny day" dollars? Lots sooner than you think—if you save by buying U.S. Bonds! In fact, as little as $3.75 invested in U.S. Bonds every week will return you as much as $2,163.45 in only ten years' time. Judge Returns from Traffic Conference

(Continued from page 1) various jurisdictions be made as nearly uniform as possible and that Courts, with due respect to individual cases, conduct themselves in a uniform manner so far as interpretation of the law and general policy are concerned and thus bring about a nationwide improvement in our "Courts of first instance".

10. Consistent and appropriate penalties should be imposed and laws uniformly interpreted. 11. Courts should refrain from considering traffic cases as criminal violations and treat them as a class unto themselves. 12. A traffic court must become a great vehicle for public safety education by the education of (or explanation to) traffic offenders, cooperation with safety organizations and police departments, etc.

Automotive Club Meets at Collins

A meeting of the Automotive Maintenance Association of Michigan was held Tuesday night at the Collins Garage, according to President Alvin Collins. Approximately 30 members and guests were present to see two motion pictures which were presented by a U. S. recruiting officer.

Rotarians Hear of Germany as it is Today

(Continued from page 1) this reason, she stressed, it is of utmost importance that we give these people as much aid as possible. She briefly told of the concentration camps. In conjunction with this Miss Fisher stated that the people living in and around these areas are not as cooperative as those living in areas farther away.

Turnip Greens

Turnip greens grown on soils rich in organic matter are high in iron. Turnip greens grown in the spring generally contain more iron than those grown in the fall. The iron content in turnip greens decreases with the application of nitrogen fertilizer, the specialists explain, although such applications increase the yield of the greens.

Good Riddance

The most effective means of ridding ships of rats has been to build the ships in such a way that makes it difficult for rats to live and breed aboard them. The United States public health service pioneered in this field, and modern American ships are practically free of the long problem of rats.

American Navigator

Writings of Nathaniel Bowditch, mathematician, astronomer and navigator, formed the basis upon which modern navigation is practiced as an exact science. While commanding the "Astrea," he taught every member of his crew, including the colored cook, the principles of navigation. His American Practical Navigator, first published in 1802, is used today as a standard authority.

Flushing Animals

Flushing ewes and sows before breeding helps produce larger and stronger litters and larger litters of pigs. Flushing consists of feeding animals for two or three weeks before breeding in such a manner that they are in a healthy, thrifty condition and are gaining weight at time of breeding.

First U. S. Mines

In America the first mention of coal was made by the French missionary Father Hennepin, who saw it along the Illinois river in 1679. In 1750 the first mines were started in Virginia, and in 1755 coal was discovered in Ohio. Anthracite was discovered at Rhode Island in 1760, and about 1790 in Pennsylvania.

Nandy Warmup

Cinnamon toast is a dandy warm-up when you have a crowd in after the skate. Toast bread. Spread with fat. Sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar (four tablespoons sugar to one tablespoon cinnamon) -- why not keep it in its own special shaker? Put it in the broiler or oven to melt.

Land of Llama

Land of that famous beast of burden, the llama, Peru was the seat of the great Inca civilization. Lake Titicaca (12,500 feet), on the border of Peru and Bolivia, is the highest navigable body of water in the world. Copper is a leading export. The capital is Lima.

Landscape Work

Landscape can add work to the beauty and enjoyment of a home. Making a map of the home and grounds so that the work can be carefully planned should be the first step in the family landscape project.

Danger Point in Diet

Riboflavin is the most frequent "danger point" in the American diet, say USDA food economists. It is essential for growth and general good health and for preserving youth and vigor.

Vitamin C

Recent tests on the availability of vitamin C in raw cabbage and home canned tomato juice showed that the vitamin C of both products is as completely used as pure vitamin C itself. Four ounces of fresh, raw cabbage or seven-eighths cup of tomato juice will provide about two-thirds of the recommended daily allowance of vitamin C.

Food Stains

A point to remember in removing food stains is that hot water sets some spots, such as those made by blood, meat juice, milk and egg. In a mayonnaise stain, for instance, the egg substance will be cooked in the fabric by boiling water.

Guest Towels

Beautiful guest towels may be preserved by providing fancy printed paper guest towels in your bathroom as well. Few thoughtless guests will use your good linen under those circumstances. And a box of facial tissues in the bathroom may avoid lipstick smudges on towels.

Expensive Sport

As one of the results of a recent study of the black bear in Pennsylvania, authorities state: "It has been conservatively estimated that $5,000 is spent by sportsmen in bagging each bear. This money is spent on travel, guns, ammunition, lodgings, clothes and other items."

Large Nation

Largest nation in Latin America (larger even than the continental U. S.) is Brazil, known for the Amazon river and "Flying Down to Rio." Natural resources are large but little exploited as yet. Rubber first came from Brazil.

School Savings

During the three years since Pearl Harbor American boys and girls under your guidance have saved more than $1,170,000,000 through war bonds and stamps purchased in school.

Cooking Macaroni

Always put macaroni into boiling salted water to cook it, and keep the water boiling. The hot water drained off is rich in nutrients and may be used in soups and sauces.

Wildlife Symbol

The sheaf of grain that in some European countries is raised on a pole for the birds at Christmas symbolizes man's response to the needs of wildlife.

Ignorance is Bliss

If it rained knowledge, I'd hold out my hand; but I would not give myself the trouble to go in quest of it.—Samuel Johnson.

Gaucha Reigns as Cowboy Of South Brazil Prairies

To the rolling plains of the countryside of Brazil's southernmost state, Rio Grande do Sul, there corresponds a human type, which is thoroughly characteristic — the "gaucha." Arisen out of the struggle against Castilian domination and reared in an atmosphere of intense combative excitement, the "gaucha" has inherited from his ancestors an ardent, arrogant temperament, generous, yet overruling—a born leader. He is the cowboy of the south.

He lives a simple life, throwing himself down after a hard day's work in the cabin close to his field of action. His favorite dish is the "churrasco," a steak cut from a half-carcase roasted on the spit over an open fire. Nor will he go without his "chimarrao," mate with water from the boiling kettle, sucked from a gourd through a silver strainer. His raiment is characteristic: wide-brimmed hat, "poncho" hanging in easy folds, brightly hued neckerchief, broad leather belt about his waist and pistol in its holster, quick to the draw. Trousers bagging over top-boots with outside spurs complete his outfit.

A first class horseman, skilled in casting the lasso or the "boleadeiras," three leather-covered stones held together at a yard's distance by thongs and thrown to bring a runaway steer to a standstill by tumbling its legs—he adores races and rodeos. Brazilians are accustomed to apply the name "gaucha" to anyone born in Rio Grande do Sul, whereas in reality the "gaucha" is a type of his own, peculiar to the prairies. The truth is that the term, by the pride of its meaning, takes on the honors of a compliment.

Specialists Determine DDT Harmless to Humans

DDT is not so dangerous after all; there is remote risk of accidental poisoning by swallowing some of it in food. These statements are made by Dr. William F. Hoskins, professor of entomology in University of California college of agriculture. He points to a test where public health service doctors fed a person half a teaspoonful of pure DDT in five teaspoonfuls of olive oil, on an empty stomach, with no ill effects.

More Live Longer

In the interval from 1900 to 1944, life expectancy at birth in the United States rose from less than 50 to over 65 years, an increase of 32 per cent. This improvement, however, is not shared equally by all ages. In contrast to the 32 per cent increase at birth, the increase in life expectancy at the age of 45 is only 10.8 per cent while that at the age of 65 is almost the same, 10.4 per cent. This discrepancy exists largely because the control of infectious diseases and the improvements in medical care which have been developed have benefited children and youths, rather than the middle aged and elderly. This means that a larger fraction of Americans is living into middle and old age, although nearly the same proportion die each year thereafter as used to.

City Submits Water Softener Plant to Voters

(Continued from page 1) construction of a new water main from the Plymouth "water farm" to the city of Plymouth and installing such other water equipment as may be necessary to increase the water supply of this city.

This question will go on the ballot either at the spring election or the election to be held in November of next year.

As a result of these two petitions, the city's plan to get work started as quickly as possible on the badly needed water project is something to think about sometime in the future. City officials say no supplies can be purchased and nothing done until after these questions have again been voted upon.

While the voters still up advisory ballot last spring favored overwhelmingly immediate action upon improvement of the water system, it is mandatory that the commission, upon petition from voters, re-submit these questions again.

Those favoring the water improvement are hoping that irrespective of the delay involved, the voters will again express their desires in the matter pertaining to the iron remover and softener plant, which is the question to be voted upon November 4. Meanwhile building owners and business men are hoping that there will be no serious fires in this city.

Alan Kidston on Way Home from Korea

T-4 Alan R. Kidston, who has been stationed at Camp Sykes, Korea, for the past 11 months, telephoned his family from Seoul, Korea, last Saturday night to advise them that he is en route to the States. He is expecting to leave Korea on October 29th and to arrive in San Francisco on or about November 22. It was a very unexpected pleasure for his parents to hear his voice as distinctly as if he were calling from a nearby station.

SCIENTIFIC HALLOWEEN

Raven Seeks Jet-Propelled Witches

"Nevermore," quoth the pompous looking raven perched above the chamber door of Nucleus T. Kallikak, eminent physicist.

"Nevermore what?" snarled deep-browed Kallikak, startled from his scientific reverie of the potentialities of the bubble-gum atom.

"Nevermore, quoth, unquoth," lisped the raven with a gloomy chuckle.

"Are you giving me the bird, bird?" raged Nucleus T. Kallikak. "Now, all I want to do is tell you about a perfectly deathly idea I have to improve Halloween celebrations. I'm a morbid character, you know." The raven laughed hollowly.

"What's this idea, you seppia offspring of a feather-duster?" "Jet-propelled broomsticks for witches."

"No, I'm serious," wailed the raven, noticing Kallikak's stricken look. "Jet-propelled broomsticks would put that old-time atmosphere back into Halloween. You never see witches riding broomsticks any more on October 31. That wonderful old tradition has died. And why?" Getting no answer from Kallikak and apparently unable to answer the question himself, the raven continued: "Where do you suppose all the witches are now?"

"I don't know. Don't tell me I married one."

"Fortunately for any hapless witch you might have married, no, quoth the raven with unholly sarcasm. "They've all deserted their broomsticks and have taken to riding the buses, streetcars and subways. They're the ones who jar your upper plate loose trying to get on ahead of you and then look insulted."

"I begin to enjoy your project as you outline it," stated Kallikak as he brushed an oversized molecule from his coat. "Let's expand it a little."

"First of all, we can contact the immigration authorities and have them fix a quota for bringing banshees and leprechauns into this country from Ireland. We haven't had any leprechauns here since the Pat and Mike jokes died horrible deaths early in the 20th century.

"A good, old-fashioned Halloween," sighed Nucleus T. Kallikak as he started out to figure a quota for leprechauns and consider the means of crossing black cats with camels.

Seven Mile road, Livonia township, reported to the Sheriff's Road Patrol, Wednesday, October 15, that five windows were broken at his place of business and that this makes a total of 29 windows that have been broken in the past month. Juveniles are suspected of destroying the property.

Joseph T. VanHagen, 35030 Florence, Nankin township, reported his 1939 Nash car stolen from his driveway Monday, October 13. In the car was a complete set of carpenter's tools.

Joe Zina, 1071 Grandmont, Nankin township, reported to the Sheriff's Road Patrol that his place of business at 39369 Michigan, had been entered and tools, including an electric motor drill, and wrenches had been stolen. Entrance was gained through the front door due to a faulty lock.

Shelterbelt plantings should be cultivated to keep weeds under control and allow moisture to reach the roots and make the trees grow faster.

When the archers of Michigan were before the legislature last winter asking for special hunting privileges, many gained the impression that here was a group of sportsmen of high standards who would religiously observe all the rules of sportsmanship if granted special consideration by the legislature.

As you know those who hunt with bows and arrows can go into the woods previous to the regular deer hunting season and shoot any deer that comes within range of their arrows.

The other day a friend who is a member of an Oakland county hunting club located near Luzerne told of an incident he recently witnessed while up at the camp which does not reflect too much credit upon this new type of hunters. While one should not judge the whole by what a few do the report indicates that there are some archers who need watching.

Some of these Oakland hunters had gone up to their camp to cut some wood for the hunting season. As they were cutting wood along one of the roads, a big convertible coupe came coasting down the highway with an armed bow and arrow hunter sitting on top of each end of the back seat watching each side of the road for deer. The driver of the car was driving the auto at a slow rate and as quietly as possible.

The rifle deer hunters were furious at what they had witnessed. The incident provides a situation that will doubtless require some future legislative consideration and may result in some special favors being taken from the archers.

Michigan can expect a gradual and continual decrease in most types of wildlife, according to Paul A. Herbert, head of the forestry department at Michigan State college, in a statement he made some months ago.

There is one thing sure, pheasant hunters can tell him that his prediction as far as pheasants are concerned, is already true. The present hunting season has confirmed earlier predictions that the pheasant population of Michigan has dropped to almost zero.

This is due chiefly to illegal hunting, bad hatching seasons and also to predatory animals.

Forty years ago foresters were predicting a timber famine, Herbert points out. The years have proved those predictions correct. Today we can predict a wildlife famine with equal confidence, he believes.

According to Herbert, clean farming and the increase in dairy farming reduce both food and cover of farm game animals and birds. On the non-agricultural areas which are growing up into dense forests the same reduction can be predicted because the species of trees that grow over most of Michigan do not produce much food for wildlife. The dense tree stands, as they grow older, shade out most of the plants that furnish both food and shelter to most kinds of forest wildlife.

A wildlife famine cannot be entirely avoided but it could be made much less severe if all persons connected with wildlife came to a realistic grip with the problem. Herbert believes this is unlikely and says, "My prediction of a wildlife famine within 40 years stands."

One of the most intensive and urgently needed waterfowl investigations ever undertaken in the United States has been started by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, the Wildlife Management Institute reported today. This state project, made possible by funds allocated to Texas under the recently increased Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration (Pittman-Robertson) appropriation, will include an intensive study of the known wintering grounds of millions of ducks and geese that bask in the Texas sunshine each year from October to March.

In announcing the activation of the Texas Coastal Waterfowl Survey, W. C. Glazener, Director of Wildlife Restoration for the state department, advised that William S. Heit of Bryan, former assistant professor of fish and game at Texas A. & M. College, has been appointed project leader. Mr. Heit, who has had several years' experience in field investigation and management of duck and muskrat marshes, will be assisted by J. R. Singleton of Beaumont, who conducted extensive studies of marsh and aquatic vegetation of the coastal marshes in preparation for his master's degree received in the Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit at Texas A. & M.

Headquarters of the survey crew will be at Rockport, Texas, in the new Marine Laboratory, it was stated. In addition to investigating the "carrying capacity," in terms of waterfowl food production of the coastal marshes and bays in the hundreds of miles from Port Arthur to Brownsville, the study will include; food habits of ducks and geese in the winter range; concentration area management techniques and the importance of commercial rice growing to waterfowl. Complete waterfowl censuses will be made each year. Hunting bag checks are planned to obtain information on sex and age of waterfowl, and the life history and management of the "summer black or mottled duck" will be studied.

Following in the wake of further waterfowl hunting restrictions, this study will be in the limelight. In past years, most of the emphasis has been placed on breeding ground improvements and we must know if the comparatively small southern wintering ground can provide enough food and resting areas to support the desired millions of ducks and geese.

Thirty-one lakes in five southern Michigan counties will be opened to netting of ciscoes from November 15 to December 10, inclusive, the conservation department announces. They are: Barry County—Fish and Lime lakes. Branch county—Bartholomew, Coldwater, Dorsey, Huycks, Kenyon, Marble, Morrison, Pleasant and Rose lakes. Cass County—Baldwin, Birch, Bunker, Donnell, Harwood, Indiana, Kirks, Lewis, Lime, Long, Shavehead, Weatherbee, Wood and Little Wood lakes. Kalamazoo county—Indian lake. St. Joseph county—Corey, Klinger, Middle, Pepper and Thompson lakes.

General concern about the illegal taking of rainbow trout from the Boyne river during the spring spawning run has resulted in closing of a three-mile stretch of the river to all fishing from the last Saturday in April to May 25, inclusive, during the next two years. Spawning rainbows enter the stream at its outlet in Lake Charlevoix. Conservation commission action covering the section of the stream below the power dam was taken to strengthen a temporary order issued last year.

THE TAYLOR
HOUSING PLAN SERVICE, Inc.
607 W. 14th St.
THE TAYLOR—Modern lines distinguish this six room, two-story house, the TAYLOR. Pictured here it is finished in wide clapboard laid 8, to the weather to the top of the parapet around the second story sun deck. Above the parapet level flush siding makes a perfect background for the triple-sash casement windows. The house would look equally appropriate built of cement cinder block with a plaster coat of smooth white stucco.
The TAYLOR is one of the larger houses of our Housing Plan Series. In addition to its six rooms and bath it has an attached garage, a good sized breakfast room adjoining the kitchen, a first floor lavatory and a full basement with ample space for the heating plant, laundry and for a large recreation room.
The living room is 25 feet long. A dining "L" 11½ feet deep extends the living room to over 36 feet for large parties. It opens into a rear covered porch which in turn is supplemented by a large open terrace. The stairs rise out of a spacious hall off which the coat closet and the lavatory open. The front door is reached from the kitchen without passing through the living room. The breakfast room is 11½ feet by 8 feet. The location of the garage eliminates the necessity for a long driveway and turn-around.
The three bedrooms on the second floor are large and with abundant closet space. Two of them open onto the canvas covered deck, which is ideal for sun bathing and outdoor sleeping.
Although the TAYLOR is larger than most of the houses that have been built during the period of war shortages, war costs and war restrictions, its simple straightforward lines and its unbroken hipped roof make it an economical house per cubic foot of available space. It was designed to conform to the standards and requirements of Federal Housing Administration. Its electrical plan carries the approval of National Adequate Wiring Bureau. Complete architect's working drawings and specifications are available. Further information may be obtained at our office.

Florida Using Snow Plows to Remove Sand Piled on Roads

What sort of an experience is it to go through one of those typical Florida hurricanes, the kind where the wind howls at 150 miles per hour, the rain falls in sheets of water and the ocean waves roll sand in from the bottom of the sea like snow drifts? An interesting letter received by relatives from Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Noble, formerly of Orchard Lake, who are located just south of Delray Beach, Florida, right where the first hurricane hit Florida, the hardest, tells of their experiences during the storm and what really happens during one of these hurricanes. The Nobles are building a number of apartments for tourist trade.

Their interesting letter follows: "We had a couple of warm humid days but at night a breeze blew out of the west and north west. The ocean was very calm until Monday, Sept. 15 when it seemed to have queer little ripples and waves going in all directions, like some one shaking a pan of water. "For days the hurricane had stood still near the Bahamas. Usually one starting there, strikes northern U. S. or blows out to sea. Old timers said a hurricane never moves straight west but this one did. It headed for Palm Beach, then as it got nearer, increased in speed, coming directly toward Delray Beach. Just a few hours before the lull it turned south and struck Fort Lauderdale. The lull there was 10:30 to 11:50. Thermometer jumped from 74 to 86, sun came out and was very humid. We were told that there was a lull in Palm Beach at noon from 12 to 12:45. If so it was a hurricane within a hurricane.

"Winds at Fort Lauderdale were from 140 to 160 miles per hour. At Boca Raton the hotel was undamaged but 150 barracks were flattened and wind recorded at 175 miles; Hillsboro Light at 158 and Boynton 160. Barometer at Fort Lauderdale was the lowest, 28.2. Pressure caused one ear to snap as tho' high in a plane or the mountains. Mrs. Burry of Burry's famed shell shop suffered a migraine headache in which blood vessels burst and she died. Another acquaintance had an ear infection which broke, saving an operation. "We had weather bureau advisories every two hours, so Tuesday at 4:45 p. m. when the storm was heading for this section we decided to go to Fort Lauderdale. Had been to call on friends on Sunday and they said, if the hurricane struck, to come to their home as it was built to withstand a three hundred mile gale. It surely was for when those gust blew, it didn't even quiver. The wind and rain started from the west and north west and the waves pounded in growing larger and larger. Later the lull came after which the wind switched and came from the opposite direction. Fort Lauderdale had a south west wind and Delray Beach an east wind which lasted about four hours, blowing down all buildings under construction which the north and west winds had not previously blown down. "Before the wind shifted to the south east, the waves were so high they blew right over the high ridge and sea foam covered ALA highway. The lovely new one story house a mile south of us is about twenty feet above the ocean and waves blew over the roof. The owner stayed inside all through it and there was no lull, but the wind diminished somewhat and he went down to our buildings. They were down but the land was there and some of the vegetation. Later when the wind came from the east it took thirty feet of land and all the vegetation.

"This was the first hurricane to strike in this particular area as this one did. The greatest damage was from Boynton to Boca Raton. The casino, board walk and road is washed out at Delray Beach. Wind and the water swirled leaving the shore line in a scalloped pattern, some gaining more beach, others like ourselves losing. Fort Lauderdale had a great amount of sand wash-up on the beach road and the Isles were under two and one half feet of water. The only building damaged at Pompano Beach was the long efficiency apartment just south of the casino, where about twenty five of them were undermined and broke or cracked away from the rest. Of course many trees are down, Delray Beach losing the most, then Briny Breezes,

Gulfstream, Palm Beach and Lake Worth.

"Trailers in Briny Breezes court are kindling wood. Only about three are usable. All others were destroyed by falling Australian pines, palms and wind. Brown's house and most also those cottages north of him, of his cottages are in a heap. Very little land is left in either place but those lots were shallow, being only about forty feet deep.

"South of Lake Worth the ocean come over the bank and almost formed another inlet. Tile, roofing paper and shingles were blown off houses and furniture - soaked. All very freakish.

"Snow plows are scraping sand off the roads and on ALA highway where there is crushed rock and black top, the chain gang is shoveling it off. Every truck in Florida is busy hauling away trees and soon many of them will be replaced with fresh ones from undamaged sections. Palms especially, can be transplanted successfully at any age. The shrubs and flowers were exceptionally beautiful this year due to a greater amount of rain fall than usual. They can also be replaced and every one is working hard preparing for the coming tourist season."

It pays to share the line

There still aren't enough telephone facilities to go around. Until there are, party lines will help give service to more people. That service can be satisfactory to all if everyone shares the line considerably.

Good party-line neighbors keep calls short... stay off the line when others are using it... always carefully replace the receiver when they're through talking.

Pere Marquette Cuts Out Curves

The Pere Marquette division of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway has an extensive right-of-way improvement project in progress less than a mile north of Brighton which, when completed, will permit a reduced schedule between Plymouth and Grand Rapids.

A sharp S-curve will be eliminated and an old wooden bridge removed. About 70,000 yards of dirt will be used over a space of about a mile and a quarter, according to Harold Kellogg, division engineer. Contract for the work was awarded the Tabor Carmody Company of Grand Rapids. The new right-of-way will have a cut at places 25 to 28 feet deep.

The straightened right-of-way will permit faster operation of trains. Sometime in the future it is expected the railroad will also straighten out the S-curve just west of the Howell depot.

Residents Back Teacher's Stand

The school board of Hamburg and many of its residents are said to be standing back of the Reverend Ezra Beachy, pastor of the Mennonite church, in Pinckney and teacher in the Hamburg School.

This year the Reverend Beachy took the position as superintendent of the larger Hamburg school and was told by the board to maintain discipline even if he had to use punishment. Some weeks ago it seems he had trouble with two teen-age pupils and was forced to use punishment. One of the boys was Richard Shaner, 13-year-old son of Frank Shaner, of Hamburg, who claims that the boy was injured and obtained a warrant from Prosecutor Wilfred H. Erwin at Howell.

However, after the prosecutor had made an investigation he dismissed the case. Now Shaner has posted $100 security for costs and has obtained a warrant from Justice G. Eric Singer at Brighton. Reverend Beachy has retained Attorney Don W. VanWinkle as counsel and it is expected the case will be tried in Justice Singer's court in Brighton within at least the next ten days, if it is not again dropped for lack of evidence.

Lieutenant Commander Henry J. Roterige (ChC), is the first Catholic chaplain ever to be assigned to the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland.

Plymouth Boy is Third Alternate

Roderick Lane Highfield, 449 Auburn street has been nominated as third alternate to the 1948 class of West Point from the seventeenth congressional district.

The appointment was made by Congressman George A. Dondero following a competitive examination conducted by the U. S. Civil Service Commission. The boys earning these nominations come from various points of the district; namely, Redford township, Detroit and Plymouth of Wayne County, and Ferndale of Oakland County. The 1948 class will enter the Academy on July 1 of that year.

Edison Company Resumes Work on Street Lighting

With materials once more available the Detroit Edison Company will resume work on street lighting installation for the first time since 1941, officials of the company announce.

During the war years Edison completely exhausted its reserve supply of street lighting equipment in repair and replacement work.

In 1943 a survey was conducted to determine the street lighting needs of the 218 cities and towns in the Edison's Southeastern Michigan area.

As a result of the findings many of the communities ordered additional equipment, but the material shortage kept their orders unfilled. Now the utility concern has back orders for 2,700 over head lights and 900 ornamental street lamps on its books. Edison will commence filling these within a month and if standards, luminaries and accessories continue to arrive, they will be completed in about a year. After over two years of waiting the company is now receiving enough materials so that a full size program, halted since 1941, can be resumed.

Under a British law, a private individual is permitted to sue those involved in promoting certain kinds of public entertainment on Sunday, and also to keep the amounts awarded by the court. As this law is ambiguous and little understood, many unknowingly violate it and thus are sued. In a recent case, the plaintiff received $4,000 from a man who had staged several wrestling bouts and $3,400 more from a newspaper which had carried his advertisements.

AUTO WATER PUMPS AUTO HORNS AUTO FUEL PUMPS

By Helen Potter and Kay Knowlton

A friend of ours has a picture of her father and mother, taken just after they were married. "Aren't they cute," she always says. "I wouldn't part with it for a million dollars." And why isn't that good idea for the rest of us gals? I'll bet you haven't had a picture of yourself AND himself taken recently, for ALL of you to enjoy later on. And you should! The L. L. Ball Studio, at the point of the Park (659 West Ann Arbor Trail) specializes in lovely portraits. Call them at 72.

If next Spring turns out to be anywhere near as extended and as wet as this one was, the dips you leave in your driveway this Fall will be mudholes by next March. You'll want a well mixed fill dirt, with enough body to pack down solid, enough rough gravel to keep it as dry as possible. And you'll want it expertly laid. Call W. H. Scheppe for this service, at 226. No need to tell you that waiting until Spring is waiting too long!

Pat Cochran, who's been with Low-Lee Beauty Salon for the last year and a half, is opening her own shop. The date will be next Monday, Oct. 27, at 357 North Main. With Pat will be an experienced helper, Marian Bennette. This is a great day for Pat, opening her own business in her own home town, and she's pretty excited about it. Special note for working gals: You can make evening appointments. Phone her at 1420.

Keeping rats out of our homes has always been a national problem—a 4 million dollar a year problem. It's become even more important now, in terms of human life. Because rats consume enough grain in a year's time to feed Europe's millions of starving people. Rats are building their indoor winter nests now, and now's the time to wage war on 'em. To be safest, get the kind of rat poison that's relatively harmless to humans and domestic animals. Deane Saxon has it (Saxon's Farm Supply), at 527 West Ann Arbor Trail.

Changes in fashion from year to year would raise hob with a gal's not-too-extensive wardrobe if it weren't for the very diverting touch of jewelry. Rhinestone necklaces with matching bracelets, fringed scarves, or sterling silver bracelets with matching earrings, can make a last year's dress look entirely new. Pearl bib collars in multiple strands add their touch to the new collar line. You'll find these in imaginative variety at the Robert Simmons Co., 842 Penniman.

Scientists tell us that if you've ever seen an iceberg, all you really saw was the top; the other seven eighths doesn't show. That's Mr. Thatcher's problem, too, for the time being. Thatcher Furniture Co.'s temporary location at 33725 Plymouth Road has too little space to display the greater part of the exceptionally fine furniture they carry. But low overhead does mean unusual values in bedroom, dining room and living room suites, and in occasional pieces. (Note for non-sleepers: Mr. Thatcher is exclusive dealer for Restonic triple cushion mattresses.)

A book that you read and enjoy is one you want to lend to a friend. But help it get safely home again by pasting in a bookplate—or better still, one of those cute little pockets that's printed with your name and holds a card YOU keep while your book's out visiting. Purcell's has both bookplates and book pockets, complete with your name, at $3 a hundred. They make unusual birthday and Christmas gifts. You'll find Remington and Smith-Corona portable typewriters, too, at Purcell's, 637 South Main.

The Mayflower Hotel's dining rooms and coffee shop are co-operating with the President's food conservation program, but don't think for a minute that flavor or variety have been sacrificed a bit. The menus for meatless Tuesdays will be featuring scallops (with tangy cocktail sauce), broiled fresh lake trout, frogs legs, roast Long Island duck, lobster, and good old fashioned chicken pot pie. And, as always, those home made rolls, served up fresh and hot. Doesn't sound like too bad a time ahead, does it?

Finding really nice clothes at anything approaching a reasonable price is getting to be almost impossible, isn't it? But here ARE some, and I mean right here in Plymouth, that I want you to verify for yourselves. Dunning & Young is showing some beautifully styled suits and winter coats in a quality of materials I haven't seen since before the war. I saw a black broadcloth coat that I would love to have, and a shadow plaid, all wool, worsted suit, each at $69.95. No foolin', gals, go in and see 'em!

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS by Lynn Chambers

Begin Money Making Plans for Your Club Early in the Season

Perhaps many of you who are officers of clubs already have planned your programs for the whole year. Undoubtedly they include a number of fund raising schemes which are designed to take care of worthy causes. One of the most successful campaigns of many groups includes sales of goods baked by members. In this, of course, cakes, cookies, et cetera are donated by the women and purchased by the club members, so all profit is clear.

Now that sugar, fats and flour are back again on a prewar basis in supply, at least, it's possible to plan a bakery goods sale of this type. In case there's a problem about what to include, I've lined up several sure-fire recipes which can serve as the nucleus of the sale. Pass them out to those who don't know just "what to make."

Prune Spice Cake.
(Using oblong pan)
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup cooked prunes, seeded and chopped
1 cup sour cream

Sift the dry ingredients together twice. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and beat until light and fluffy. Fold in eggs and prunes. Add dry ingredients alternately with sour cream and beat well after each addition. Bake in a greased oblong pan in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. Let cool and frost with:

Mocha Frosting.
4 cups sifted powdered sugar
1/2 cup cocoa
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or substitute
1/2 cup strong coffee
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
Sift dry ingredients together and cream with butter. Add coffee and vanilla to make of a smoothly spreading consistency.

Graham Cracker Torte.
1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
3 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
Grated rind of an orange
1/2 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 pound graham crackers, rolled
1 cup milk
1/2 cup shredded coconut
Cream butter and sugar. Add well beaten yolks, vanilla and orange rind. Add sifted dry ingredients and cracker crumbs alternately with milk. Fold in coconut and stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in two layers in a moderate (375 degree) oven for 20 minutes. Let cool, then place custard filling between layers and frost with orange icing.

Custard Filling.
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks

In Clinton, Iowa, impetuous Ezra Adams explained to a judge that irritated at a soap opera had prompted him to (1) ram his fist through the family radio, with a hammer, (2) hurl eggs at (3) hack the set to matchwood random around the room.

1 1/2 cups cooked prunes
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons plain gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water

MICHIGAN
Believes in Promoting Rural Health

Rural health is a great deal more than a discussion topic to the medical doctors of Michigan — it is a vital program that has their fullest support. This is evidenced in many ways that were brought out at the Michigan Rural Health Conference which was held at Michigan State College recently. Being one of the sponsors, Michigan doctors of medicine utilized this Conference to search out the further avenues in which they can most practically enlarge their health services in Michigan's rural areas. This concern of organized medicine, and many other health organizations, with the health improvement of all the people of the State is one of the reasons why Michigan leads the way in health progress.

GLEE CLUBS SPONSOR BLUE JEAN JUMP

Vying for popularity with the Ypsi-Plymouth football game, the Blue Jean Jump Friday night was sparsely attended even with Tommy Michael's Orchestra supplying the tempo.

Sponsored by the High school glee clubs, the money raised will be used to buy robes for the School Choir.

It will be formed next semester and will consist of 40 specially chosen voices from the student body.

William Bateman, 1347 W. Ann Arbor trail and Robert Chute, 546 Garfield, Plymouth, are playing clarinet and saxophone in the University of Michigan's Marching and Concert Bands this fall.

The Marching Band numbers 131 this semester and it is appearing at all home football games, of which there are six this season. Twenty-one states are represented in the personnel of the Marching Band this year, with members coming from as far as Florida and Washington.

The Concert Band is known throughout the nation as one of the outstanding organizations of its kind. Its activities include an all-campus Varsity Show, Christmas program, Winter concert, Spring concert, spring out-of-town concerts, and Commencement Week engagements.

The University of Michigan Bands are under the direction of Prof. William D. Revelli, Conductor, and Harold Ferguson, Assistant Conductor.

One of the few animals able to deceive humans to achieve a purpose is the elephant. Being susceptible to stomach cramps, for which it is given a bucket of gin and ginger, the animal, after one of two cures, often develops such a liking for the liquor that, hoping to get more, it will feign cramps as many times as it can fool its keeper.

Raise More Meat With Less Feed

It's squarely up to the American farmer to produce more meat with less feed than he has been using, thinks G. A. Brown, head of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State college.

How to maintain adequate numbers of livestock and still provide cereal grains for the needy people of less fortunate lands is one of the most difficult problems this generation will face, the livestock specialist believes.

But Brown, long recognized by Michigan livestock feeders as an authority on meat animal feeding, says it is not impossible and suggests 12 rules for farmers to follow. They are:

1. Use adequate amounts of protein supplements to balance the ration and increase the efficiency of corn or other grain.
2. Make the best possible use of roughages.-----Even cheap roughages like straw and corn-stalks can be fed cattle until the first of the year when hay should be fed more liberally.
3. Feed livestock in accordance with its ability to produce.
4. Practice hand-feeding---it is more efficient although it requires more labor.
5. Market pigs at 225 pounds or less in weight.
6. The most economical and efficient gains are made by young animals and during the first part of the feeding period with older animals.
7. Short, forced-feeding of cattle gives the best utilization of grain.
8. Protect animals from cold fall rains and storms.

9. Provide warm drinking water at all times.

10. Keep animals free from both internal and external parasites.

11. Study the individual requirements of animals and feed accordingly.

12. Sort corn carefully and use soft corn immediately.

The recent film, Caesar and Cleopatra, pays particular attention to historical accuracy. For instance, in the moonlight scene, beside the Sphinx, the hundreds of stars in the sky are shown in the same positions, according to astronomical calculation, in which they were seen above the Egyptian desert in the year 45 B. C.

*Increases since 1939, from Department of Labor Index for moderate income families in large cities, and from National Housing Agency.

...our costs have gone up, too!

SOME PEOPLE get along under higher prices by using less or doing without. Some have more income to help meet higher costs. All can adjust outgo to income, to a large extent.

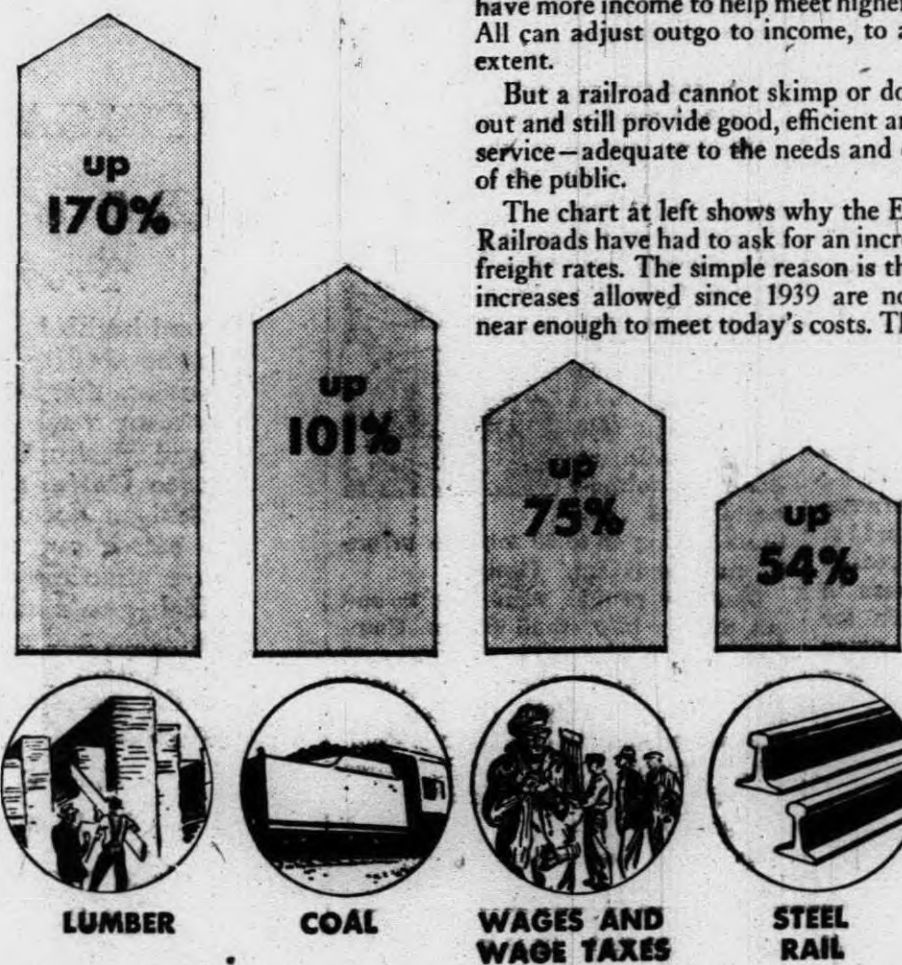

But a railroad cannot skimp or do without and still provide good, efficient and safe service—adequate to the needs and desires of the public.

The chart at left shows why the Eastern Railroads have had to ask for an increase in freight rates. The simple reason is that the increases allowed since 1939 are nowhere near enough to meet today's costs. The revenue the railroads get for hauling the average ton of freight is only 15% more, whereas the cost of operating the railroads has increased more than 65% in that period.

Only recently, for instance, an arbitration board added another $468,000,000 to our annual bill for wages and wage taxes, of which $187,000,000 is borne by the Eastern Railroads. This brings the increase in these items alone to more than 75% since 1939.

All the railroads ask is what the law says they should be allowed to have. That means just and reasonable rates. The law says there is need in the public interest for adequate and efficient railway transportation service at the lowest cost consistent with furnishing such service.

In other words, all the railroads ask is sufficient revenue to enable them, under honest, economical and efficient management, to provide the kind of service people want.

Some examples of increased costs since 1939, affecting railroad operation

Increased freight rates since 1939 have increased the revenue from hauling the average ton of freight one mile only 15%

25 YEARS AGO FROM THE PLYMOUTH MAIL FILES

The dates for the annual Red Cross Roll Call in Plymouth have been set for the week of October 30th to Nov. 4th, inclusive. The campaign in Plymouth will be carried on this year along the same lines as has been done in former years. Plymouth has always been the first to respond in the county outside of the city, and it is to be hoped that this splendid record will be maintained again this year.

Our citizens have responded nobly to the call of the Red Cross, and that there will be a general renewal of memberships in this great organization, next week, there is not a doubt. Mrs. C. B. Bennett, to whom a great deal of credit for the success which has always been attained by the Plymouth Branch of the Red Cross on former membership campaigns, has consented to again act as general chairman.

About seventy members of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce sat down to a dinner, arranged for by a committee of that body, in the Plymouth Hotel Restaurant, Tuesday evening. It was a three-course dinner, the menu consisting of soup, roast pork with dressing and gravy, mashed potatoes, green peas, apple pie a la mode, the usual "trimmings" and coffee. The service was very satisfactory and the genial proprietor of the restaurant, Mr. Mathewson, almost a newcomer here, received many expressions of gratification. Dinner over,

President George A. Smith of the Chamber of Commerce introduced first, F. R. Johnson, secretary of the Wayne County Red Cross society. Mr. Johnson outlined some of the work done by the society in the past, and what it hoped to do in the future. He placed Plymouth in the front rank for good work done in the county outside of Detroit, giving high praise to Mrs. C. H. Bennett, who always took the lead in this worthy undertaking.

According to a statement just issued by Elsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor company, Detroit, a general reduction of $50.00 a car has been made in the prices of Ford Model T cars and Ford one-ton truck, effective October 17th. The revision in prices, said Mr. Ford, "is the result of the increased volume of business which our company has enjoyed during the present year, and also, to the fact that we now own and operate many of our own sources of raw material, which enables us to continue increasing the quality of our product, and at the same time keep the prices so low that Ford cars are in reach of everybody. The new prices by types follows: Touring, $298; roadster, $269; chassis, $235; Coupe, $530; Sedan, $595; truck, $380.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Ingall very pleasantly entertained about thirty-five friends and neighbors at their home, last Monday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hakes and daughter, Helen, who are moving from the Linus Galpin farm to Battle Creek. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oldenburg, son, John, and daughter, Lillian, and Ida, Faith and Fern Wolfe called at Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Parma and Albion, where at the latter place they took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Goeller, last Sunday.

E. L. Thrall was called to Chicago on business, Wednesday. Dr. B. E. Champe, George A. Smith, Harold Crossman and George McLaren motored to Columbus, Ohio, Friday, returning home Sunday. They attended the Ohio-Michigan football game.

A regular meeting of the Woman's Club was held Friday afternoon October 20th in the club room. About thirty members and one guest were in attendance. The president, Mrs. George H. Robinson, presided. Mrs. Asa Whipple was elected Corresponding Secretary to fill a vacancy. One new name was added to the membership roll. Famous European statesmen was the response to roll call. The program was in charge of the second division with Mrs. Conger S. Hathaway, leader. Miss Helen R. LeVan, teacher in the Plymouth school, who spent the summer abroad, made an interesting comparison of the old and new European maps and called attention to the change in countries since the World War.

Teacher Takes Driving Course

Clinton Russell, Northville high school teacher, is scheduled to register here along with 65 other Michigan high school instructors and police officers for a five-day Driver-Training Institute sponsored jointly by State Department of Public Instruction and Automobile Club of Michigan. Included in registrants will be five educators from Arkansas and one from Missouri.

Ninth in a series of such institutes, which are offered alternately twice yearly to teachers and superintendents to stimulate interest in driver-training and make it possible to offer the course in every high school in Michigan, according to Eugene B. Elliott, State Department of Public Instruction Superintendent.

"Common excuse for not teaching driver-training in the schools is that we can't afford it," Institute Director Norman E. Borgerson, of the State Department of Public Instruction, told the group at its first meeting today.

"But there were 1,400 persons killed in traffic accidents in Michigan last year, and non-injury accidents cost motorists $75,000,000. That's an average of $35 per motorist."

"Records in Cleveland and Highland Park show that students who have taken driver-training have cut their accident rates by more than one-half. This means we could save 700 lives and $37,500,000 annually. The cost of training drivers in all Michigan high schools would be only $1,500,000 per year. We can't afford not to teach driver-training," Borgerson said.

Rebekah News

The past noble grand club met with Mrs. William Roach on Thursday, October 16, with a cooperative luncheon at noon.

Mrs. Mable Hunter and Miss Evelyn Stanile are in Grand Rapids attending the Rebekah assembly as representatives of the local lodge.

Mrs. Margaret Rimer, Mrs. Hazel Roach, Mrs. Margaret Bunyca attended the sessions on Tuesday. Mrs. Rimer received the decoration of chivalry on Tuesday evening at the Civic auditorium.

Thursday, October 23, visitation at Grandale when the Bible was presented by Pride of Harland.

Tonight, Friday, will be P. N. G. night. All P. N. G. and members are urged to attend the meeting at 8 p. m. Entertainment and refreshments have been planned.

A bazaar and supper are slated for November 21 and 22.

In Leitchfield, Ky., 275 lb. Maggie Oller, 39, and A. B. Farris, 99, were remarried after twenty years of divorce, because "we couldn't live without each other."

Students Thank Plymouth Hosts

While lazily patting their stomachs, members of the football team asked Coach Eddie Bender to thank the Plymouth people, on their behalf, for the fine feeds that have been given in their honor recently.

They asked him to be sure and thank F. E. Hines and Cecil Owens for the spread they gave in the team's honor at Hillside following the Belleville game. Jake Stremich is not to be forgotten while the "thanks" are being passed around either. He has planned a dinner for the band and football team after the game with Trenton tonight.

Nor has the reserve football team been forgotten. Melvin Gutherie treated them all at the Bar-O-Sweet following their game last Thursday night. Bender has stated that the boys, the coaching department, and the faculty are grateful for all that has been done for them, and that they will remember it for a long time.

In Hempstead, N. Y., the Town Board passed a new ordinance: henceforward, after sundown, horses must be equipped with head and tail lights.

Are Your Hens Laying Down on the Job?

Now's the time to step up production and take advantage of seasonal prices

Egg prices reach their yearly peak in late fall and early winter. You'll profit from this upswing of prices when you use hen-house lighting to lengthen the working day of early-hatched pullets.

It's easy to have efficient hen-house lighting. Provide about 14 hours of light daily—enough in the morning to get the birds off the roosts and keep them off—at least 15 minutes of dim light at night so that the birds can roost before "lights out." Whether you prefer manual switches or automatic clock controls doesn't matter . . . the important thing is to look to your lighting—to make sure your poultry is giving top production.

Your Edison Man Recommends:

40-watt lamps, fitted with shades and hung six feet from the floor, are usually best. Use one watt per five square feet of floor space. A hen-house 20 x 40 feet, for instance, should have four 40-watt bulbs. For further assistance, see your Edison Farm Service Advisor.

Showers Given in Honor of Jeanne Hugg
Miss Jeanne Hugg was the guest of honor of two bridal showers. One was held in the evening of October 10. Miss Marian Bauman and Miss Edna Bauman were the hostesses, the party being held at the latter's home on Currie road.

The other shower was held on Napier road, given by Mrs. Francis and Mrs. Fred Hugg on the evening of October 17. The decorations were green and white, the table holding two wedding cakes, atop one was a miniature bride, the other decorated with the name of the future bride and groom. Here also she was the recipient of many gifts.

October 25 to Nov. 1
Fixed as Apple Week
Michigan's share in National Apple Week, October 25 to November 1, will be to help supply the nation with a large quantity of high quality apples.
Michigan State college horticulturists say that through improved practices the quality and size of Michigan apples is improving each year. While weather conditions often make the crop vary from year to year, the general trend is toward a higher quality product.
Michigan producers, through the Michigan Apple Commission, are endeavoring to make large quantities of this Michigan product available during the traditional apple week and for many weeks to follow.

In Mexico City, Jose Reinaldo, charged with drunkenness, assured the cops that he had had nothing but a few snorts of orange juice spiked with a little DDT.

SPEAKS SOFTLY but carries a big Kick

Go easy, sir, when you come up behind this Buick and the little medallion over its license plate tells you it's a Roadmaster.
For this biggest of all today's Buicks rides the roads with deceptive ease and serenity.
It moves its smooth and easy way in such well-mannered quiet you may think here's one you can safely challenge.
Take our advice — and don't try it.
For with all the bigness of its eighteen feet — with all its solid steadiness of 4400 pounds of curb weight — this model packs 144 Fireball horsepower under its broad bonnet.
And it's power on instant call, power with such quick, singing responsiveness that no special gearing's needed to supply ample passing speed in any situation.
You can't miss, of course, the levelness of the Roadmaster's going. Size and weight and all-coil springing join hands here to make every mile a mile of ease.
Behind its wheel you can't help marveling that a car so big can handle so lightly, holding true on curves, coming smoothly out of sudden swerves, answering wheel and brake obediently whatever the road's condition.
And just seeing this sweetheart pass is enough to settle your mind once and for all that Buick holds the key to coming things in automotive styling.
So it's small wonder that more and more people are picking Roadmaster by name as the car they've set their hearts on.
Small wonder, either, that they're settling matters now — and getting their orders in, certain that on delivery day they'll receive the smartest, liveliest, most wanted car of its time.
Why not place yours, too — with or without a car to trade?

BABSON SAYS

Babson Discusses Vocational Education

Eureka, Kansas, October 24. The education business is booming! Schools and colleges across the country are packing them in like so many sardines in a can...

How Many Will Survive? Prewar checks on educational efficiency indicated that of every 100 students who have entered college, 56 never graduated!

A United States Office of Education Bulletin analyzes this figure of 56 "failures" as follows: 18.4% of the students flunk; 12.4% leave because of financial difficulties; 6.1% because of lack of interest; 4.0% because of sickness of death; 14.1% because of various miscellaneous causes; and 45% for unknown reasons.

Why Student Mortality Rates Are High

Mortality rates are high because too many young people go to college lacking a driving purpose. For example, I asked a sweet young thing on one college campus the other day why she was going to college. Her reply: "Because mother wants me to!"

But parents cannot be blamed for wanting their children to have some of those things they failed to get. What greater asset has a parent than a good son or daughter? The trouble is that too many parents often fail to see the defects of their offspring. They too often overrate their abilities or they too often know too little about job requirements.

We Must Better Prepare Youth for Work

Is it any wonder that employment managers and labor leaders are everywhere talking about the problem of vocational training? Two million young men and women enter the labor market each year. When these youths find themselves facing a hard-boiled job interviewer who asks them what they can do, most of them reply, "Anything". The employer knows this means, "Nothing". Yet, I am not for one moment blaming our youth.

Let me ask what you have done to further job training in your community? What do your sons and daughters know about their abilities and interests? How much business information have you given them? Do they know the traits and skills required on various kinds of jobs? What are your local employment opportunities? What are the broad vocational trends, nationally speaking? Our youth simply doesn't know. This is evidenced by all sorts of surveys. Three out of every four young persons never receive any organized guidance from school, college, or any other source.

Too Many Want "Just Jobs"

It is significant that almost all of our high school students expect always to work for someone else; it never occurs to them to provide jobs for others. The naked truth is that our present industrial order will not provide enough of these jobs. In order to give future employment to our young people we must start in now to educate the best of them to become employers. This is why I am training people out here in the center of the country to enter definite careers and employ others.

An educational misfit is a tragedy—a waste of human material. Only the man who is happy in his work, who is fitted for it by nature and trained for it through education can make the fullest use of his powers and ultimately provide jobs for others. If school committees and college trustees would appropriate even a fraction of the money in helping graduates to become employers, which they now spend on school sports, bands, etc., our youth might have a chance. Hasn't someone been shortchanging our youth? Perhaps this is a good question to ask as our football season gets underway.

Max Todd Takes Honors in Golf Competition

Third place honors in the Michigan Green Keepers association annual golf tournament went to Max Todd, owner of Hilltop golf course. Approximately 45 members participated in the competition which was staged last Tuesday. The tournament took place at the Plum Hollow links in Detroit.

In rural North Carolina, 2,068 brides and grooms waited and waited while the state supreme court weighed the legal status of the justice of the peace who had married them.

Having Baking Troubles? This Maybe, is the Cause

If your cakes, biscuits or other baked goods don't turn out just right, perhaps it is your baking pans, not the recipes, that are at fault.

Recipes baked in the same oven for the same length of time and at the same temperature may brown quite differently in different pans. Roberta Hershey, foods specialist at Michigan State college, says that most test kitchens where recipes are developed use aluminum pans.

If you don't use aluminum pans you may need to change the baking time and the temperature accordingly. In general, enamelware baking pans give the deepest brown. Glass ranks next in rapid browning, especially in an electric oven. Enamelware and glass both absorb that kind of heat well. In aluminum and tin the browning is less rapid and usually more even, unless the tin is very dark, or thin and warped so that the heat is uneven.

The shape of the pan also influences browning. Cake baked in a square pan, especially if it is enamelware, is likely to become too brown at the corners. Browning is more even in pans with rounded corners. In a deep, high-sided pan biscuits and cookies often come out too pale because the high sides "shade" them from the heat. They brown better on a flat sheet or on the bottom of an inverted pan.

Pan size counts, too, in browning. If the pan is too large for the recipe, a cake or bread mixture may spread too thin and become too brown. In these days of grain saving, we can't afford to throw away baked goods that have become too brown or didn't get "done".

Bowling is today the most popular participant sport among American women, the number playing weekly having increased from about 3,000 to 3,500,000 in the past 30 years.

Although the first ten amendments to the Constitution of the U. S. were submitted to the states in 1789, they were not ratified until 1939 by Connecticut, Georgia and Massachusetts.
