

Miss Virginia Hellacar Weds Melvin Sockow

Miss Virginia Hellacar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hellacar, of Cass City, became the bride of Melvin Sockow, son of Mrs. Edith Sockow, 678 North Harvey street, on Saturday, November 29. The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Sockow with the immediate family present. The service was performed by the bride's grandfather, William Thetteplace.

For the wedding ceremony, the home was decorated in pink and white. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a Faun colored suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white flowers. A wine colored suit was worn by the bridesmaid, Mrs. Shirley Gladman. Her corsage was of yellow carnations. Darwin Gladman was chosen as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hellacar wore a brown outfit with a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother was attired in old rose.

A reception followed with a buffet luncheon for approximately 100 guests. The couple will make their home at 678 North Harvey street, this winter.

Everett Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, of Newburg road, is confined to Mt. Carmel hospital with pneumonia.

Wedding Vows Spoken in Candlelight Service at First Methodist Church

At a candlelight ceremony Wednesday evening, November 26, in the First Methodist church of Plymouth, Velma Marie Evans, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Evans and George Evans of Plymouth, became the bride of Robert R. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Smith, of South Lyon.

The Reverend C. E. Doty read the service before an altar decorated with baskets of large white and bebe mums, and palms flanked by lighted candleabra.

At the beginning of the service, the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Russell Richard, sang, "Because" and during the ceremony she sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. M. J. O'Conner.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Harold. She wore a period gown of white satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice having a deep round neck of illusion outlined with lace. The same lace was used in a band in the full skirt and to edge the medium circular train of the gown. A fingertip veil of illusion was worn. The bride wore a string of pearls, a gift of the groom, and carried a white Bible mounted with a light-colored orchid. She later wore the orchid as a corsage on her traveling suit of aqua blue gabardine and brown accessories.

Mrs. William Aluia was matron of honor, wearing a dress of fuschia moire having a high neckline and elbow length gloves in matching color. Her bouquet was of talisman roses.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Holloway and Roberta Lare of Plymouth, Mrs. Robert Whittaker, sister of the bridegroom, and Claudine Tapp, cousin of the bridegroom, of South Lyon. They were attired alike in blue moire gowns designed along the same lines as that of the matron-of-honor. Each wore a matching bonnet with shoulder-length veils and carried yellow pompon crysanthemums.

Charles Smith, of Pontiac, was his brother's best man and the ushers were Robert Whittaker, of South Lyon, Harold Kock of Dexter, James Evans of Ypsilanti, and Arthur J. Wall of Belleville, all college classmates of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Evans was attired in a gown of aqua crepe with brown accessories and corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Smith wore a navy blue crepe gown with beige accessories and pink rose corsage. Mrs. Delbert Avery, grandmother of the bride, wore a grey crepe dress with similar corsage.

200 guests were present from Stratford and Embro, Ontario, Oil City, Pennsylvania, South Lyon, Fowlerville, Coldwater, Pontiac, Pinckney, Milford, Birmingham and other nearby cities.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumby acting as hosts and Mrs. Jean Peet and Mrs. Virginia Stephens serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for Monterrey, Mexico and enroute will visit his sister, Mrs. Edward Delbey, in San Benito, Texas. They will be at home at 729 South Main street after December 15.

The bride is a graduate of Plymouth High School. The groom graduated from South Lyon High School and attended the State College of Education at Ypsilanti before entering the armed services. He served 52 months, 26 of which were spent overseas in the American and European theaters, with the coast artillery and infantry. Both are now employed at the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

Right up in the FOUR-FRONT

SCATTERED across this nation are some of the cagiest automobile buyers the world ever saw.

They cut their eyeteeth on a steering wheel, so to speak—they know car values from A to izzard—and you have to be plenty good to step ahead of your price class in the volume of your sales to them.

That's why it's startling—sometimes even to us—to see the double-barreled story of public preference that's written in the sales records and registration figures:

ITEM: Only three cars outsell Buick—and all of these are in the so-called "low-price field."

ITEM: In some localities—and quite often in polls that ask "Which car will you buy next?"—Buick ranks not fourth, but third, actually ahead of one of the lowest-priced three.

Naturally, the smart buyer will ask "How come?"

Well, the most standout style of the season, the style that's the clearest forecast of wonderful things to be, undoubtedly has much to do with it.

But that isn't all. The dollar is still a pretty important measuring stick.

So we don't think Buick could be where it is if it didn't offer a bigger dollar's worth—bigger in size and substance, in lift and life, in soft ride and easy handling, bigger in the all-round happiness you'll get out of your buy.

Which suggests, of course:

Why go against the solid judgment of your fellow men? Why not see your Buick dealer now—with or without a car to trade—and place the order that will put you where you belong, right up in the four-front?

Chief Sackett Warns Motorists

Pointing to huge increases in traffic death rates during winter over other seasons of the year, Chief of Police Lee R. Sackett today warned motorists to prepare for hazardous winter weather and road conditions ahead.

"Drive slow in rain, sleet, or snow, because traffic accident rates increase 24 to 53 per cent during snow and ice months. With more vehicles operating this winter than ever before, every driver must ready his seasonal safety equipment and be on the double alert."

In cooperation with the International Association of Chiefs of Police, the chief urged study proven methods which will help reduce the toll of deaths, accidents, and traffic tieups, caused by disregard for snow, ice, and poor visibility.

"Only serious consideration of these fundamental rules, based on scientific research and tests by the National Safety Council, will save drivers and pedestrians a lot of unnecessary trouble and sorrow," Chief Sackett added.

The rules are:
1. Get the "feel" of the road surface when you start out. Test braking and acceleration ability when no other cars are near and before you are faced with an emergency.

2. Reduce speed when road surfaces are snowy or icy so you can stop in time. Remember at only 20 miles per hour it takes 4 to 12 times more distance to stop on snow or ice as on dry concrete.

3. Keep windshield and windows clear of snow and ice on the outside, fog and frost inside. Check your defroster and wipers.

4. Use steel tire chains when snow or ice conditions generally prevail. They reduce braking distances for cars and trucks from 40 to 70 per cent, and provide "go" traction often needed to start or climb hills.

5. Carbon monoxide poisoning is dangerous! Never warm your car up in a closed garage. Check exhaust system and floor boards for leaks. Old manifold type heaters should not be used unless frequently examined for leaks and other defects.

6. Good tire treads are desirable because they improve stopping on wet pavement, but do not depend on even new treads or rubber chains to help on ice or packed snow. Tests showed "rubber tire chains" while nice and quiet, actually skid further than bare tires on packed snow or ice.

Women Attend VFW Reception

Mrs. Jane Diekmann, president of the VFW auxiliary and Mrs. Grace Burley, trustee, attended the recent reception honoring Viola Silver, department president of the Michigan VFW Auxiliary, which was held in Redford.

According to Mrs. Diekmann, the members attending were told of the 500 bottles of baby food which the VFW auxiliary of Michigan donated to the friendship train. It was explained that money in the amount of $2,700 was collected for the project in seven days.

The main speaker, Maurice Cole, who is past department commander, spoke of the Liberty Bell which was completed 170 years ago. In conjunction with this, a special plea was made to keep it ringing for peace and freedom. It was stressed that the peace and freedom should extend to Europe, concluding that this country must help the peoples of that continent.

Reason shows me that if my happiness is desirable and a good, the equal happiness of any other person must be equally desirable.

TIPS FOR HOME OWNERS

To keep castors from falling out when furniture is moved, wrap friction tape around stems.

Peace is the proper result of the Christian temper. It is the great kindness which our religion doth us, that it brings us to a settledness of mind, and a consistency within ourselves.
—Bishop Patrick

To be perfectly just is an attribute of the divine nature; to be so, to the utmost of our abilities, is the glory of man.—Addison

Party-line sharing helps bring telephones to many more waiting applicants

SUPPOSE you had a choice—either having an individual line and denying some friend a telephone, or sharing a party line so that your friend could have service too.

It's through the co-operation of folks on party lines—many of whom, we know, would like to be on a line of their own—that we're able to bring telephones to a lot of other families sooner.

We're quite sure you'd prefer to share service the "party-line" way. That's why most folks feel we're right in limiting new residence telephones to party lines whenever by so doing present equipment can be made to serve more people.

It will be a great day when we again have all the cable and central office switching equipment we need to furnish everyone the kind of service he wants, when and where he wants it. And we are doing everything we can to hasten that day.

Kiwanis Members Hear Rev. Doty

The Kiwanis meeting of November 25 opened with the group singing of Thanksgiving hymns, under the direction of Chauncey Rauch. The Rev. Clifford Doty of the Methodist church was the evening's speaker.

Rev. Doty was introduced by Carlton Lewis, program chairman. The Reverend's ensuing talk dealt with the idea that Kiwanis members, through their service work which is performed all year long, live the theme of the true Thanksgiving. They willingly give their time and themselves in the performing of services for the community for persons in the community, he stated. In other words, he related, they exemplify the spirit that is Thanksgiving.

The responsibilities of tolerance lies with those who have the wider vision.—George Eliot

Officers Chosen For Leaders Club

A meeting of the Leaders club was held Monday, December 1, and officers for the coming year were chosen. The group is composed of the leaders and assistant leaders of the 15 Girl Scout troops of Plymouth.

Miss Dorothy Finney was chosen to act as president for the ensuing year, and Mrs. Robert Smith was named as vice president. The office of secretary was filled by Mrs. Gladys Bowen.

Mrs. Jean Lature is retiring president. The past vice president was Mrs. Dorothy Finney, and Mrs. Pauline Sowie is the retired secretary.

The Leaders club meets once a month, according to Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing. At that time they discuss their mutual problems and plan future programs.

Whatever is unjust is contrary to the divine will; and from this it follows that no true and abiding happiness can be gained by those who are unjust.—Stretch

Why do people say: "He's MY Doctor"?

People are quite possessive about their doctors, and for a very deep-rooted American reason. People are brought up to be individualists in this country — they know that it means something vital to be an individual "with certain inalienable rights." Their health is a very personal thing to them, and they want the mental satisfaction and peace of mind that comes from the individual choice of their medical doctors. There is both dignity and importance vested in the inalienable right to select one's doctor with a free will — and to refer to him as "my doctor." It is too much of a priceless right to be tampered with by any impersonal socializing, don't you think?

Plan on Baking Holiday Sweets Well in Advance

Peanut bars are easy to make and easy to serve. They are ideal for snack fare for the youngsters, as well as family get-togethers during the holidays.

It won't be long now before the holidays are with us, and that means the children will be home with their constant demands on the cookie jar. It means, too, there will be plenty of entertaining, perhaps not of the elaborate variety, but evenings in front of the cozy warmth of the fireplace, when there should be a simple cookie or cake to serve. Wise cooks will plan to do a lot of their holiday baking early. Some of the cookies and confections can be made early, and they will taste so much the better for it. Then, too, most women like to make such things as pudding and fruit cakes before the holidays so as to relieve the strain on the kitchen later on.

If you're making fruit cake or pudding, chop the fruits the day before and prepare your molds. Then the making of the recipe will be easy and there is less chance for error.

English Plum Pudding.
1/2 pound butter
1 pound light brown sugar
5 eggs
1 pint milk
1 pound fine bread crumbs
1 glass grape juice
1 1/2 pounds raisins, floured
2 pounds currants
1/2 pound citron
1 ground nutmeg

Cream the butter and sugar, add beaten eggs, milk, bread crumbs, grape juice, raisins, currants, finely sliced citron and spice. Steam in a buttered mold for five hours.

Have you ever made your fruit cake in little fluted paper cases for individual servings? It's really very easy and saves on baking time.

Small Fruit Cakes (Dark).
1 1/2 cups butter
2 cups dark brown sugar
8 eggs, beaten light
3 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon each of cloves, allspice and cinnamon
1 1/2 pounds raisins
1 1/2 pounds currants
1/2 pound citron, sliced thin
1/2 cup melted grape or currant jelly

Cream butter, add sugar and cream until light. Beat the eggs until frothy and add to the butter and sugar. Sift the flour and spices over the cut up raisins, currants and citron and mix well. Beat into the other mixture; add the melted jelly. Fill small paper cases and bake in a slow oven for about 30 minutes.

Small Fruit Cakes (Light).
1/2 pound butter
1 pound sugar
12 eggs
1 scant pound flour
1 to 1 1/2 pounds grated coconut
1 pound citron, sliced fine
1 pound blanched, sliced almonds
1 pound raisins, cut fine
1 pound candied pineapple, sliced fine
1/2 pound candied cherries, sliced fine
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 teaspoon mace

Proceed as in recipe above. Both children and adults like peanuts, and there's nothing better or easier than to include them in a bar type of cookie made delicious with brown sugar.

1 cup light brown sugar
1 well-beaten egg
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 cup blanched, coarsely chopped almonds

Vanilla Wafers.
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
Yolks of 2 eggs
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream butter and sugar together. Add egg yolks and cream again. Gradually stir in the sifted flour, vanilla and salt. Drop from the end of a spoon onto a greased pan in small rounds, about an inch apart, and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven until delicately browned.

Plant Disease Information

Farmers in Wayne County will have an opportunity to receive periodic leaflets on plant diseases, according to an announcement by County Agricultural Agent, E. I. Besemer. The series is called "Plant Disease Notes" and is put out by the botany and plant pathology department at Michigan State College. The series is prepared by John R. Vaughn, Extension Specialist in Plant Pathology.

The leaflets which will be issued each month, will stress timely information on the control of plant disease and also acquaint readers with the research work, extension activities and teaching program of the department. Vaughn suggests that farmers keep each number of "Plant Disease Notes" in a folder as a handbook of information on Michigan plant diseases. Agent Besemer advises that farmers who wish to be placed on the mailing list should write Dr. John R. Vaughn, Department of Botany and Plant Pathology, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

As the magician raised the elephant to his shoulders he remarked, "You know, I am going to quit this business. It's getting so the public expects too much."

"Why does your brother say, 'Honk, honk' all the time?" asked a young man. "Well, he only does it when he is crossing the street really. You see, he doesn't want people to think he hasn't an automobile."

THE VICTOR

THE VICTOR—In the Victor, we present a house that offers what is practically the irreducible minimum in accommodations, four good, livable rooms and bath. But what rooms! And what a plan! And how beautifully the architect has developed the exterior! Its lines are as balanced, its whole appearance as attractive as you might expect to find in homes costing twice as much. The Victor is one of the two minimum houses pictured this month and it is certainly an outstanding one. It has just a few luxuries: a living room a couple of feet larger each way than FHA standards call for. It also boasts an open fireplace. The kitchen has a built-in dinette, a great convenience in the house without a separate dining room. Each bedroom is 20 square feet larger than FHA requirements. There is a partial basement that would permit the installation of a "pipeless" furnace, the cheapest form of central heat. The Victor was designed according to the exacting standards of Housing Plan Service. Like all our houses, it meets FHA standards and its wiring diagram carries the seal of National Adequate Wiring Bureau which insures economy, safety and efficiency of electrical use. Complete architect's working drawings and specifications from which the Victor may be built are available. Call at our office for further information.

Grange Votes to Accept Its Part In Helping to Feed Hungry of the World

Members of the Plymouth Grange, one of the oldest in Michigan, and especially Sam Spicer, one of the charter members of the Plymouth organization and at various times a state officer, are especially interested in the action of the National Grange at its national convention held recently in Columbus, Ohio, pertaining to the world food situation.

The National Grange, accepting their international responsibilities, have adopted a program designed to bring about a better distribution of food throughout the world through free trade.

The program was drafted after a committee headed by Harry B. Caldwell, Master of the North Carolina Grange, had put earnest questions for the best counsel the members could get from men like Sir John C. Boyd Orr, Director-General of the Food and Agriculture Organizations, and their own world-traveled National Master, Albert S. Goss. The convention held recently at Columbus, Ohio, renounced the goal of national self-sufficiency, which in the past had won some favor in the Grange, and advocated a plan for freer now of food supplies among the nations.

"Every effort should be made

United States Department of Agriculture, as recommended by the American Farm Bureau Federation and introduced in Congress in the Cooley bill.

Members went to the national convention already opposed to the move, heard novelist Louis Bromfield make an ardent appeal to keep the present set-up, and finally voted unanimously in favor of keeping the Soil Conservation Service an independent agency.

With equal agreement, the Grange instructed its Executive Committee to ask Congress at the earliest practicable moment to introduce a bill to end the tie-up which exists in some states between the American Farm Bureau Federation, a private farm organization like the Grange, and the Extension Service, official agency of the United States Government and the land-grant colleges.

ACTIVITIES ENTERTAIN STUDENTS AT NOON

In an effort to relieve congestion in the halls and to keep the student body entertained, various activities are carried on each noon. Among the scheduled events are movies, dances and volleyball games.

Each volleyball game has been a challenged contest between the boys and the girls. Both senior and junior girls' teams met defeat against the boys' competition. The money taken in from the noon dances will be used for the purchase of new popular records. The beginning of the "Atomic Age" was shown in the movies which portrayed the tests made at Bikini.

SCHOOLS TOP GOAL BY LARGE MARGIN

If the European school children do not enjoy a Merry Christmas this month, the loyal students of the Plymouth Public School system who successfully put over the recent "March of a Million Pencils" drive should not be blamed.

Results show that the goals set were more than reached. The high school contributed 1,930 pencils, 1,432 tablets, and 654 boxes of crayons. Starkweather Grade school gave 926 pencils, 427 tablets, and 196 crayon sets. The Central grades made their total contributions of 645 pencils, 297 tablets, and 151 crayon sets.

The grand total for the school system: 3,501 pencils, 2,156 tablets, and 1,001 crayon sets. As previously stated, these gifts have been shipped to Lansing, from where they will be sent to Paris, France and there distributed to the needy European school children.

WAYNE, PLYMOUTH DEBATE STRIKE ARBITRATION

To debate the topic "Resolved: That the Federal Government should require arbitration of labor disputes in all basic American industries," league debaters from Wayne and Plymouth faced each other on November 26.

Coral Lidgard and Roger Kidston, the negative team, traveled to Wayne where they defeated the Wayne affirmative. Meanwhile, Karl Hoenicke and Ronald Witt, the Plymouth affirmative, met the Wayne travelers in the Central Grade school auditorium and were defeated.

Wednesday, December 3, both teams met teams from Redford Union in Plymouth's last try in the series.

After the debate of November 26 the league standings were as follows:

	Won	Lost
Ypsilanti	3	1
Plymouth	4	2

MAGICIAN GIVES PROGRAM

A talented magician from Plymouth entertained the students and faculty in an assembly last Tuesday morning.

Almost unbelievable to the eyes of students was his feature trick in which he made a girl float in midair. The admission of 10 cents per person was collected by grades 7 and 8 for their class treasuries.

Frank Henderson Aids in Contest

Frank Henderson, a member of the Grand Outer Guard of the Knights of Pythias, has been designated as one of those in charge of planning the speech contest which the organization is currently sponsoring.

All Plymouth high school students who are interested in entering the contest should contact Mr. Henderson. All contestants, in their ten minute speeches, will discuss the "Debt of the Modern World to Ancient Greece." The initial local contests will be held on or before March 1, 1948. Mr.

Henderson stated. The state district contests will be on or before April 1, and state area contests on or before April 15. The high school contest is being staged with the approval of the National Association of Secondary School Principals and the Michigan Secondary School association. The Knights of Pythias of Michigan are cooperating with the Youth Commission of their Supreme Lodge in sponsoring this contest.

The state winner will be given a prize of $100, while second prize will be $75, third prize $50, with fourth, fifth, and sixth prizes of $25 each. The winner of the International contest will be awarded a scholarship of $1000 at any college or university to be selected by the winner. The other five contestants will be awarded a scholarship of $250.

An oratorical contest among college students from all the colleges and universities in the state is being sponsored jointly with the speech department of Michigan state college. The state contest will be held today, Friday, at Kalamazoo college.

BY ELTON R. EATON

Old Uncle Sam is a pretty good neighbor. That has been proven down through the many, many years. Right now he's doing a good turn for Venezuela, one of our South American neighbors. A fishery mission headed by a biologist of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service will explore the coastal waters of Venezuela during the next year in an effort to help this South American country increase its population of aquatic food. Albert M. Day, Director of the Fish and Wildlife Service, announced today. The mission is being undertaken at the request of the Government of Venezuela, which approached the State Department of the United States with a request for technical aid in developing its fishery resources. The expenses of the mission are being borne by Venezuela. Fertility of the Venezuelan waters is influenced by the equatorial current which sweeps northward from the Brazilian and Guianan coasts, bringing quantities of nutrient salts washed down by the large rivers of the large rivers of the area—the Amazon, Maroni, Couranti, Essequibo, and Orinoco. These nutrient salts induce a rich growth of the microscopic sea life which provides food for fishes. The largest Venezuelan fishery is the one for several species of sardine-like fishers, almost entire production of which is canned. Large fisheries also exist for Spanish mackerel, and for red snapper, groupers, and other reef fishes. A large portion of the Venezuelan population is dependent on fish for food, and increased production is needed to supply domestic demand. According to a report of the Venezuelan Ministry of Development, about 20 percent of the population of the country lives from the fish in marine and fresh waters.

Seniors Compete for Scholarships
Ten seniors from Plymouth High school competed with students from other schools throughout the nation for the 119 Pepsi Cola four year scholarships and more than 550 fifty dollar college entrance awards on Friday, November 21, according to Louis Schmidt, principal. These awards are being offered by the company's scholarship board. The contestants who participated in the competition were: Betty Baker, Nancy Brannon, Bentley Crane, Sally Gustafson, Owen Hedden, Elsie Mae Keeping, Martin Krieger, Doris Puckett, John Rogers, and Doris Waldecker. The election, which determined which students should take the examination was held October 8, 1947 at a senior class meeting. They were chosen on the basis of those "most likely to make an important contribution to human progress." Scholarship winners will have full tuition and certain incidental fees paid for four years at any accredited academic college he wishes to attend in the United States, its territories, or Canada. In addition, he or she will receive an allowance of $25 a month during the four academic years, plus traveling expenses between home and college each school year. There will be five runners up for every scholarship to be given, and each will receive a college entrance award which carries a grant of $50 payable if the winner enters college by the fall of 1948. The students in each state who receive the highest scores on this preliminary test will take a second examination on January 24. The contestants in each state who receive the highest scores on this final test, and who have financial need, will win the four year college scholarships set aside specifically for that state, and the five highest runners up will receive the college entrance awards.

Wisconsin is trying an experiment that should be watched with more than ordinary interest. It is opening in certain counties the deer hunting season to bow and arrow hunters after the rifle hunters have gone home. In Michigan, the bow and arrow hunters are given the right to go into the woods three weeks previous to the opening of the deer season to rifle hunters. This gives them a real break, as a bow and arrow hunter can take a doe, fawn or buck. At any rate, the Wisconsin experiment is worth watching.

"Bill" Rambo has become quite an expert in more ways than one. The other day he was discussing the new type of Nylon fishing line he is receiving for his many Isaac Walton customers. "It is quite amazing what has been done to improve this new type of fishing line," said Bill. "The Nylon lines that first came on the market had a lot of stretch to them, so much so, that some fishermen who liked to stroll with a lot of line out or make long casts, didn't like them too well. But the makers have taken all of this stretch out of the lines. In fact, they have made the stretch almost the same as one finds in a silk or linen line. Now a fisherman can have on his reel 300 or more feet of line if he desires to. The Nylon line is much smaller than the average silk or linen line, although it has the same strength. Not only that, but one does not have to dry the line after using it. It does not rot or mildew on the spool. It certainly is a great fishing line," added Bill. "The founders of Michigan's public school system which has been copied by a number of other states are honored by a bronze tablet in Marshall. Located on the edge of the H. C. Brooks' estate on North Kalamazoo Street, the plaque is in memory of the Rev. John D. Pierce and Isaac E. Crary. The Rev. Mr. Pierce, as the first State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Crary, as Michigan's first member of Congress, formed an unbeatable combination that paved the way for the establishment of the state's present system of education. About 50 feet from the tablet is an oak tree under which the two sat one day in 1835, planning how they would set up a school system in Michigan. It was to be two years before Michigan was admitted to the Union, but already the need of an educational system was the topic of conversation of many persons, according to the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan. During the talk the two New England-trained men agreed that education should be a separate branch of the state government and that the constitution provide for a state superintendent of public instruction. Shortly afterwards Crary, important in Michigan politics, was able to do several things that greatly helped the Pierce-Crary educational plan succeed. The first was to suggest to Stevens T. Mason, Michigan's first governor, that the Rev. Mr. Pierce be appointed the first state superintendent of public instruction. Provision for such an office had been made, largely at Crary's insistence, in the constitution drawn up in the summer of 1826. This appointment was made July 26, 1836. Then, immediately after approving it, the Legislature passed an act that gave the Rev. Mr. Pierce the necessary authority. The act required him to prepare a plan for the organization and support of the primary schools and for a university (now the University of Michigan). The new superintendent had just five months to do the job. But he finished it in time and the Legislature passed it with hardly a dissenting vote, the Michigan Historical Collections information indicates. In 1837, Crary also succeeded in getting Congress to pass an act providing that Section 16 in each township in a state be given to the state for educational purposes. Previously, the townships had received such land. But the records show little educational good had come from such a procedure. However, the townships liked the system and it took all of Crary's legislative cleverness to get congressional approval of the change. The act gave the Rev. Mr. Pierce land as an endowment to support the schools of the state.

BRONSON

Babson Discusses Diamonds

New York City, Dec. 5. This week I am making no definite recommendations to anyone; but with the mess the world is in today, here are some facts for readers to consider. Moreover, they relate to changes which I have personally witnessed in my short lifetime.

German Episode

My first job, after graduating from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1898, was as a statistician for a Banking House in Boston. At that time, the leading banks in New York, Philadelphia and Boston were recommending the Reichmark 3s as the safest bonds obtainable—better than U. S. Bonds. The Reichmark, at that time, sold for about 24c.

Within twenty years, I saw these German Bonds become practically worthless. It is true that the German Government redeemed them in "Marks" but these Marks had dropped from 24 cents to 1-10,000 of one cent. Moreover, holders of German insurance policies and bank deposits suffered the same loss. Nothing like this will happen in the United States. But inflation has always existed since the days when the old European Kings clipped their people's gold coins. Inflation will continue to be a factor and the value of every currency will probably continue to decline.

What Has Happened in China?

I have always been interested in China. My ancestors were in the Chinese trade, sailing ships from Gloucester to China ports. At that time the Chinese dollar was worth 50 cents in American gold. China was ruled with an iron hand by an old lady, Tzu Hsi, the Empress Dowager, who never heard of Communism. The budget was always balanced.

Just before World War II, I was in China inspecting the Shanghai Power Company. At that time, Chinese dollars were worth 5 cents in American money or it took only 20 Chinese dollars to get a U. S. dollar. This was only a few years ago. Today, it takes about 150,000 Chinese dollars to buy one American dollar. This has not been due to any dishonesty, as was the case with Germany. It has happened through a constant failure to balance the budget.

Truth About France

Before World War I, I had numerous clients in Paris, and visited there often. The French franc, at that time, was worth 20 cents in American gold. It was looked upon as stable as our dollar is looked upon today. During World War I this franc gradually declined to about 5 cents. This was not due to dishonesty, but to failure to balance the budget.

the franc had declined to around 2 cents. Since then, through further failure to balance the budget, a huge government debt and other economic causes, the franc has declined to a point where it is difficult to get a Frenchman to accept them at any price. They are probably worth about one third of a cent. This means that it takes about 300 francs to buy one American dollar.

The British Pound

Up until World War II, the British pound has been the standard currency of the world, and it has sold for nearly $5 in American currency. During World War II, it fluctuated from $2 to $3, according to the fate of the British Navy or Army. After World War II, the pound was theoretically stabilized at $4.03 in American dollars. Apparently however, this is a fictitious amount, as illustrated by the following incident.

Some English interests have been endeavoring to purchase two Gloucester trawlers. After long negotiations (the British are wonderful traders) a price was agreed upon. The owners, naturally, expected to get dollars, but upon going to England to get the money, were told they must be paid in pounds. When my Gloucester friends returned to New York they found they could get only $2.75 in American dollars for these British pounds. This did not happen years ago; moreover, it did not happen in China, Germany, or even France. It happened last week in New York City.

What About the United States?

I believe in the United States. All I have I owe to the United States, and I am ready to give my fortune and life to the United States. But, I am unfair to my clients and readers not to frankly call to their attention what is happening all over the rest of the world, and what MAY happen in the United States. Certainly, our dollar, like the money of all other countries throughout the ages, will gradually decline in purchasing power. How far this will go, nobody knows.

What can we do to protect ourselves? First, we can work to reduce the U. S. Government debt and increase the U. S. production of goods through better work and new inventions. When talking with clients and refugees from other countries, they emphasize the importance of every family owning more real things, including a small home away from bombing danger with fertile land, fuel and other useful commodities, together with a few jewels, especially gold, diamonds and silver. Whether I talk with a German or Chinaman, a Frenchman or Englishman, they are unanimous in the opinion that gold, diamonds and silver are the only things which, at all times, are worth something, everywhere. Hence, these are known as "emergency money."

Remember, I am not recommending new diamonds or anything else as investment for profit. Almost everything looks too high to me. But as "emergency money and real enjoyment" husbands might consider buying their wives a good diamond ring for a Christmas gift.

Truckers Must Get New Weights

Frank Rambo, manager of the Plymouth branch office of the Secretary of State has just received from Secretary of State Fred M. Alger Jr., a notification that applicants for new plates for all trucks and commercial cars must be accompanied by a new official weight slip.

Previous year registration receipts will not be acceptable in applying for 1948 plates, states Manager Rambo.

He is advising all truck owners of the new regulation so that there will be no delay in securing their 1948 plates.

Health Notes

PLYMOUTH AND WAYNE COUNTY HEALTH DEPTS.

Scarlet Fever is on the increase in Wayne County as is evidenced by the increasing number of cases of the disease being reported during the past few weeks.

There is an apparent lack of understanding regarding this disease. There are still some persons who have the impression that the condition which was formerly termed "Scarletina" is different from Scarlet Fever. This is not the case. They are one and the same disease. A similar and more confusing situation exists regarding the relationship between Scarlet Fever and the so-called "Strep infection." Here again they are identical so far as the infective organism is concerned. In the case of Scarlet Fever the symptoms may be accompanied by a skin rash, while in many of the "strep" infections, such as strep sore throat, there may be no apparent skin rash. However, a person who is exposed to the infection of strep throat may develop scarlet fever with the accompanying symptom of typical scarlet skin rash.

The important thing which must be borne in mind is that all of these conditions are caused by the same infective organisms—the streptococcus hemolyticus. The only difference between all of these is that there may be a difference in some of the symptoms developed in different persons even though they have been exposed to the same source of infection. The methods of control are the same for all these conditions and include complete isolation of the patient from contact with other persons who may be susceptible to the infection. The prevention of persons suffering with any of these symptoms or who are contacts to such persons from engaging in the handling of food or milk or performing any duties which would bring them in contact with children who might be susceptible to infection. Persons suffering from symptoms of any of these forms of strep infection should be under a physician's care and the case reported to the health department, so that proper steps may be taken to prevent further spread of the infection.
