Couple Observe 55th Wedding Anniversary

It is a marvelous thing which a couple can observe their golden anniversary together. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Widmaier have not only observed this anniversary, but on Sunday, December 21, they celebrated 55 years of married life.

They were married in Salem Township on that date. Following this they lived on a farm which was located on Beech Line road, six miles east of Northville. They moved from this residence Exactly eight days following the anniversary, Mrs. Widmaier died at their home. For further information see the obituary column.

20 years ago to their present home on West Ann Arbor trail. A dinner was held at their home on Sunday, in honor of the day. Those attending were their two sons and families, and Mrs. C. C. Widmaier of Ann Arbor, and Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Widmaier and daughter Phyllis Ann, of Detroit; their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Weaver, of Plymouth; Mrs. Widmaier's sister, Mrs. Tenna Fisher, and two daughters, Ruth and Selma, from Whitmore Lake; and Mrs. William Blank from Plymouth.

John Brumm to be Program Speaker

John Lewis Brumm will speak to the Plymouth Women's club at their January 9 meeting. Special guests will be members' husbands, in whose honor the entire program has been planned. The women have designated this evening as "Husbands' Night."

The program will take place at the Presbyterian church, beginning with dinner at 6:30 p.m. All members who wish to attend must make reservations by January 6. These can be made by contacting either Mrs. Eugene Benson or Mrs. J. G. Weed.

The speaker is a professor of journalism and chairman of the department of journalism at the University of Michigan. He studied at the University himself, earning both his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from there. At the present time he is an instructor in rhetoric at that school, and has been a professor of journalism since 1921. Mr. Brumm has been chairman of the department since 1928.

The University Press club of Michigan was organized by Mr. Brumm, and he has held the office of permanent secretary since its organization. He is also a member of the American association of Teachers of Journalism. In 1929 Mr. Brumm was awarded second prize in the National Drama League Playwriting contest.

Among the plays he has written are included, "The Straight Jacket", a three act tragedy; "Scrambled Eggs", a one act play.

High School Band Sponsors Dinner

The members of the Plymouth high school band gave a dinner for their parents on December 18, following the December 17 concert, according to Paul Wagner, director. He further stated that this is the first in a series of pot luck dinners which will be given this year.

The entire dinner was put on by the band members, including the cooking, serving, even to the cleaning up. It took place in the Presbyterian church.

The guest speaker of the evening was Dr. Clyde Vroman. Dr. Vroman is head of the department of Music Education at the University of Michigan, and is also secretary of the national music camp at Interlochen, and past secretary of the Michigan Band and Orchestra association. In addition to his talk, Dr. Vroman showed the group motion pictures of Interlochen.

The student in charge of the program was Doris Waidecker, band president. The next concert is scheduled for March 4, and will likewise be followed by a dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Miller have made arrangements for some 20 veterans and their wives to welcome in the New Year at a cooperative dinner party at the Veterans Memorial home next Wednesday night.

"A New Year's Message"

By
Captain William Roberts
The Salvation Army

Once again we are at the threshold of a New Year. Behind it lies a way over which we will never pass again. Ahead of us is a year which, although its days are hidden from us, will offer many opportunities and new experiences. It is the New Year that I am concerned about today.

There are many folks, who, when facing new experiences, take the view point of the fatalist. These folks believe that the way is all planned and marked before they get there and regardless of their efforts things cannot be altered so why try anyway. I am not a fatalist. I believe that we can do something about the experiences that come to us if we will and that this coming year will be for us just what we choose to make it.

In her poem "Wings of Fate" Ella Wheeler Wilcox gives a good thought for the New Year.

"One ship drives east and another drives west,
While the self-same breezes blow;
It's the set of the sails and not the gales,
That bids them there to go.
Like the winds of the seas are the ways of the fate,
As we voyage along through life,
It's the set of the soul that decides the goal,
And not the storms that divide."

At the coming of a new year the business man usually thinks of inventory and the layman usually thinks of resolutions. I would like to suggest that we combine both of them, then I believe that the coming year will be successful for all of us.

It is a good idea to take a personal inventory once in a while. The Apostle Paul in writing to the Corinthians says "Let a man examine himself." We would do well to think of the past year for a moment or two. What has been our aim as we have lived from day to day? Some would never have any aim in life. They never try to do anything, except either for themselves or their fellowmen.

As we take our personal inventory let us see whether we have had any definite aim or plans in the passing year. Then, too, we must take account of our past failures. I generally recommend that men try to be completely wise forgetfulness of the past failures and triumphs. If we know the truth, that caused our failure at some given task then the next time we try, if we will succeed. We should also view our accomplishments but let us not dwell on them too long. Remember, we cannot live today on past victories, but must go on to new achievements.

After we have made an inventory of ourselves regarding the past year, I believe we ought to make some rules by which to govern our life during the year to come. Resolutions are good if they are made honestly and sincerely. Someone has said that resolutions are made to be broken, but I think they should be made to be kept. Once we have made a resolve in the future days, let us do all within our power to keep it.

You will probably think of many resolutions which you are to keep, and I would like to suggest a few to add to them. First of all, seek God's admission and seek first the Kingdom of God. Too many times we have left God out of our planning and as a result our plans have miserably failed. They will continue to do so unless we give God His proper place. We cannot give Him the first hours of the week by attending church on Sunday. Go to the church of your choice, but go to church some place for the sake of yourself, your children, and your country. Also give God the first part of your increase by supporting the church financially.

Second, determine to use your time more wisely during 1948. Paul told the Ephesians they ought to redeem the time. We waste so much of our time in idleness and foolishness. We cannot use any other time we have except to make some lasting impression.

Samuel Johnson once wrote:

"Catch them, oh catch the transient hours,
Improve each moment as it flies!
Life's a short Summer, man a flower;
He dies — alas! how soon he dies."

Finally, I may we have a definite goal for the New Year. Again Paul writes, "I press toward the mark." We ought to resolve to do something constructive during 1948 and then set out with all our might to do it. Do not wander through 1948 aimlessly as a ship without a rudder. Choose for the best you can for God and man in this coming year.

I believe that the New Year can be a happy one for each of us if we so desire it.

What I Think and have a Right to Say
ELTON R. EATON

A NEW YEAR — A NEW OPPORTUNITY!
We always have New Year's day. We like it, because it seems, for some reason, to open a door for new opportunities, new accomplishments and new hopes.

It seems to wipe clean the slate on which we have recorded our disappointments, our failures and our sorrows. Yes, a New Year brings with it a clean slate on which to start writing a new record — a new slate for communities as well as individuals.

As we look about us there seems everywhere so much for us to do, so much we should accomplish to make our own lives more useful, to make our communities, our churches, our schools, far better and more effective than they are at the present.

The world is in a turmoil; there is no question about that. But the little things, each one of us can do will help to bring tranquility out of the turmoil that rages about us.

A New Year is at hand. Let's make it the most satisfactory as well as beneficial year in our lives.

WE'RE FOR DR. RUTHVEN!
It was good news to read that Dr. Ruthven of Michigan's great University had refused to permit Eisler, the convicted German Communist, to speak in any of the University buildings. It was good news also to read that hundreds of loyal American students backed up the University President in his position.

Eisler is a member of a traitorous mob that seeks to destroy America. He would do in America as Stalin did in Russia. He would, if he followed the usual Communist doctrine, kill, maim, women and children who dared to oppose Stalin's rule. He would burn your homes, destroy or confiscate your property, if he followed the usual Communist procedure in taking over control of a country.

All Michigan, except its traitors, thank President Ruthven for his stand for Americanism. And let it further be said that Westbrook Pegler isn't so far wrong when he says that maybe the time is at hand when there should be some shooting of traitors to America who are within America!

GOVERNOR DOES WELL.
Governor Kim Sigler has been the chief executive officer of this state for one year, minus just a few days before the clocks tick in the New Year.

He is a quiet office with probably the most serious financial situation facing the state that any Governor ever did. He had other problems, serious problems, on his desk. The previous administration had not left too orderly a house. The "gentle" did many things in efforts to trip the new Governor up as he assumed his great responsibilities. Other elements were none too friendly to Governor Sigler.

The first year of his administration is over. The Governor has done well—exceedingly well—in our opinion. He has kept the affairs of state functioning properly. He has, on the whole, made excellent appointments to various important state positions.

He has been able to ferret out the weaknesses of the state government. Not only has he been able to do this, but he has tried to do something to remedy the situations he has found.

The minor mistakes he has made are far over-shadowed by the good things he has done. We commend Governor Sigler for his excellent administration—and we feel somewhat personally elated over his success. May the second year of his administration as Governor be as beneficial to Michigan as was his first year.

Tompkin Sisters Will Appear Here

The Tompkin Sisters will be guests of the church of the Nazarene from January 4 through January 11.

The sisters are not strangers to the church congregation, and friends of the church as well. They will be glad to hear them again. The special speaker for this campaign will be the well known Methodist evangelist, Dr. C. W. Butler. Dr. Butler is the former college president and founder of the Detroit Holiness Tabernacle.

Services will be at 10:00 a.m. each Sunday, and 7:30 p.m. each evening. All are invited to attend. The church is located at Holbrook and Pearl streets.

treasurer, Edward Gayde; and J. M. Larkins, secretary.

Of the original directors, three men are still serving in the same capacity. They are: Paul Wiedman, president; Charles Bennett, vice president; and Carl Shear, secretary and treasurer. Ernest Allison was later made a director. He was Edwin Schrader who replaced his father, who had for many years been most active in the affairs of the hotel. At the present time, William Taylor, though not a member of the board, is assistant secretary.

Although much good luck fell to the men in charge of financing and building the hotel, bad luck was also around. The first bit of it turned up following the spectacular sale of stocks which seemingly went over the top. The directors had soon discovered that all the stock which had been bid for had not been paid for. Consequently, the directors had to conserve money to pay for this stock, which meant several difficult years. Perhaps one of the biggest obstacles which the hotel and its board of directors has passed, however, was the depression. Up until 1933 many hotels were forced into bankruptcy, but the Mayflower, through capable management, survived.

The hotel has not only become a popular stopping off place with travellers, but its food departments under the direction of Norbert Lofy are fast regaining the popularity that they had in pre-war days.

Hotel directors gave credit to manager Ralph Lorenz about this unusual accomplishment. They pointed out that they are among the few community hotels in the country that have been able to pay off their entire mortgage and put their hotel on a debt free basis.

Lillian Minehart is Bride of George Lyke

Saturday St. Peters Lutheran church was the scene of the wedding of Lillian Minehart and George Lyke of Manchester. The Rev. Edgar Hoenecke performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride chose a royal blue dress for the occasion, with a matching hat and corsage of pale pink carnations. Her attendant, Mrs. George Loomis, wore a fuchsia dress and a hat of the same color. Her corsage was of yellow carnations. Adolph Minehart acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at Betsy's Place on Ann Arbor road. The couple will make their home with the bride's brother on Schoolcraft road.

Good Spirits and Good Will Mixed

The spirit of good will among men at Christmas time was exemplified to members of the Police Force last Thursday.

The story actually reads more like a believe it or not tale. Christmas day a Plymouth citizen appeared before Chief L. Sackett and stated that the night previous he had struck a car. He related that at the time he was somewhat under the influence of the good holiday cheer and he wasn't certain as to the circumstances. He wanted, however, to make full restitution, and asked if the department members could help him in finding the owner of the car which he damaged.—They did.

the southwestern United States to this area, has also been seriously handicapped due to shortages of essential construction materials.

BUT (we wish those stars would look the other way for a minute!) there won't be gas for that new gas house-heating equipment you've counted on installing.

The best estimates indicate that it will take at least two or three years before NEW house heating service can again be offered to the public.

We are just as sorry as you are.

We want you to know the facts and if you are one of the hundreds of folks who are waiting to install this modern fuel for house heating we knew you'll understand our problem and we say again, thank you for the patience you have shown and the cooperation you have given us under these trying circumstances.

It's this way: It seems we aren't the only people clamoring for more steel - steel for more pipe - lines, compressors and other plant equipment.

Austin Taxi Scores Parkside Bar Team

Parkside Bar, which has coasted to two succeeding city basketball championships, received a very bad scare from Austin Taxi Service in a game played at the High School on Tuesday, December 23rd.

From the opening whistle to the final gun the two hundred spectators were constantly in an uproar caused by brilliant plays by both teams. For the first time in three years, Parkside was behind trailing 10-9 at the end of the first quarter. However Ebersole and Norman of Parkside found the range in the second quarter and Parkside led at the half 27-18.

During the third quarter Ned Washer, giant Austin center, scored 10 points and with the aid of Gordon Moe and Dough Prough tied the score at 32 all at the end of the third quarter. The lead changed three times during the last two minutes of the stanza.

The first five minutes of the last quarter was nip and tuck with the score being tied at 42-42 when the automatic time out was called with three minutes to go. With the seconds ticking away, Ebersole and Egloff with the assistance of Bob Norman broke up Austin's charges down the floor and went in to score baskets giving Parkside a small lead. Austin was still fighting desperately as Gordon Moe sank a shot just as the game ended falling two points short of Parkside on a 47-45 final score.

Player of the Week

MEN'S DIVISION: Bob Norman of Parkside Bar was the outstanding player of the week. Norman's constant "ragging" of Austin's guards bringing the ball down the floor bothered their attack considerably throughout the game. These same close guarding tactics caused Austin to make two bad passes which enabled Norman's teammates to score the deciding points in the last minute of play. Bob's faking followed by a left-hand hook shot could not be stopped as he scored 17 points to lead the Parkside attack.

HOOP NEWS

By Ralph Johnson City Recreation Director

Flash—yours truly omitted a husband and wife combination—the Moe family also plays—Betty with Fearer's and Gordon with Austin (so sorry folks)—Art Gillis played last week looking like an Ubangi—piece of metal went through his upper lip to the gum while at work—he stayed in three periods before retiring — Ned Washer took scoring lead with 81 total points—Bud Krumm threw a beautiful body block on Orlan Egloff—complained about free throw figuring they had made a first down—Dugid played a fine game against his Northville friends scoring 23 points for Daisy—Bey Everson and Art Johnson got a rest early going out on fouls before the end of the first period—Should have seen Russel of Parkside shudder every time the whistle was blown—had four fouls before the end of the first period—Plymouth Sport Shop tied for first with Parkside, plays at High School Tuesday—should be a good game as both teams use a fast break.

Plymouth Mail Scores Third Victory of Season

Plymouth Mail scored their third victory of the season downing Fearer's Standard Oil 20-14. The Mail team was extended to win as the first period score was 6-5 in favor of the Mail who also led at the half 7-5.

Martin, of Plymouth Mail, scored 8 points as Bev Everson and Pat Dunlop each scored 5 points for Fearer's.

Daisy in Second Place

Immediately following Austin's defeat by Parkside Daisy I.D.E.A. dropped Atchinson Motor Sales of Northville to third place as they rang up a 63-39 victory. Austin's and Atchinson's defeats give Daisy undisputed possession of second place.

Art Gillis, of Daisy, league leading scorer up to this game, played only the first three periods which caused him to drop one point behind Washer of Austin. Gillis, suffering from an injury, sustained at work, was forced to retire from the game due to the pain.

Dugid scored 23 points for Daisy as they led 40-25 at the half. Balko led Atchinson's attack with 10 points.

IN MEMORIAM In loving memory of our dear sister, Alma Mineart, who passed away 19 years ago December 31, 1928. Though tears in our eyes do not glisten, And our faces do not always look sad, There is never a night or a morning, But we think of the dear sister we had. Missed by her brothers and sister. In loving memory of our beloved mother, Minnie Ray Gates, who passed away one year ago December 26, 1946. Just a thought of sweet remembrance, Just a memory fond and true, Just a token of affection, And a heartache still for you. Just a sigh for the olden moments, Just a smile of love anew, Just a tear in silence falling, And a yearning just for you. Your loving children Arthur, Irving and Minnie Ray

As we say goodbye to the old year and extend a warm welcome to the new, let us each realize fully the responsibilities that are ours for the coming year. The next twelve months is a challenge to all of us so let us all strive to make the new year one of genuine happiness and full of prosperity for everyone.

SPECIALTY FEEDS

Forest to Feature New Trucks

Starting January 7, some new models of the Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks will be displayed at the Forest Motor Sales in Plymouth. A total of 248 basic chassis models are being offered in the complete new Dodge line, which range from 4250 to 23,000 pounds gross vehicle weight and up to 40,000 pounds gross train weight, according to L. F. VanNortwick, director of Truck Sales of the Dodge division, Chrysler corporation.

Front axles have been moved back and engines have been moved forward to place more of the gross vehicle weight on the front axle and provide better weight distribution. The wheelbase for conventional models through the 2-ton has been reduced eight inches, while the 2 1/2 and 3 ton models have been reduced six inches. The new trucks have been engineered so that despite the shorter wheelbases, the cab-to-axle dimensions remain practically unchanged, making it possible to use the same length bodies as before.

New ease of handling and driving has been provided by the shorter wheelbases and wider tread front axle, together with cross steering, which is a new feature on all conventional cab models. The cross steering permits a 37-degree turning angle both right and left. Drivers now can park or back into alleys or up to loading platforms with much greater ease.

Seat width has been increased to 57 1/2 inches to permit three large men to ride without crowding. The chair-height seats provide leg support under the knees and can be adjusted seven inches.

Deluxe and custom cabs have what is termed "360-degree vision" through increased glass area and installation of rear quarter windows. Windshields and windows of the new "Pilot-House" cabs are higher and wider, adding to vision and safety. Drivers can enter or leave the conventional cab easily from either side since the gear shift and emergency brake levers have been moved forward to give clear floor space from door to door.

Plymouth Men Invited to Attend Newburg Meeting

The men of Plymouth have been invited to attend a meeting of the Newburg Men's club, which will be held at the Newburg hall, Monday, January 5, at 8 p.m.

The Rev. Robert Richards has been selected as the speaker of the evening. Rev. Richards is from Detroit Moniar Lodge, East Detroit where he is pastor of Emanuel M. E. church. He will speak on "That's America."

David Nichol, Back in Berlin, Where He Was Once Chased Out by Hitler

David M. Nichol, son of Mrs. Walter Nichol of Church street and the late Rev. Nichol, who was chased out of Berlin during the early days of the World War by Dictator Hitler, is again back in Berlin writing his views and news about German conditions for The Chicago Daily News and other Knight newspapers.

Readers of The Plymouth Mail will recall that the former local high school lad who spent nearly two years in Berlin during the early stages of the recent war and before America became involved in the conflict, narrowly escaped internment in Spain after he had been directed to leave Germany by Hitler. He was later sent by The Chicago News to Moscow, where he was stationed during the entire war period.

Probably few war correspondents had the unusual opportunity that Dave Nichol had in gaining first hand information from within both Germany and Russia previous to and during the war.

In one of his first dispatches to the Chicago Daily News since his return to Berlin, Correspondent Nichol points out that he detects a note of optimism among the German people where he declared they were fanatically power-mad before the war.

His recent dispatch in The Chicago News, said:

"At what appears to be the darkest moment in Germany's postwar history, there is a curious note of optimism among people here.

"It is based on the unspoken conviction that things are so bad now, they cannot possibly be worse.

"Allies and Germans alike have seen in alarming fashion how close is the actual split between East and West. Nobody, Germans believe, is prepared to exploit these differences further.

"In fact, the effort now will be more on finding means of bridging the gap than on widening it.

"One of the most careful German commentators, Arno Scholz, editor of the British-licensed Berlin newspaper, Telegraf, believes, for example, that force or circumstances in Germany will compel the Soviet Union to return to the foreign ministers' council table.

"Anything like free elections for a national assembly, either in the eastern Soviet-controlled zone or in the entire country, would result, he says, in complete defeat for the Russian-sponsored Socialist Unit party. This, he believes, the Russians cannot afford; they must find some other way out.

"Reparations was the main point on which the London conference was wrecked. Yet the Russians Scholz says, cannot hope to get even substantial portions of the amounts they ask without finding new ways of supplying raw materials for what remains of industry in their zone. Almost the only possible solution is co-operation with other sections of Germany.

"Textile mills, which account for a large share of industrial output in the eastern zone, even now are facing shutdowns unless wool and cotton can be obtained.

"Should the Russians build higher the wall that already separates Eastern and Western Germany, then the influence of liberal elements in the east would be diminished. But so, says Scholz, would the Soviet opportunity to water down the more extreme conservative programs in such sections as American-occupied Bavaria.

"For the immediate future, most persons here expect that the four-power Allied control council in Berlin will become a 'little foreign ministers' conference.'

"The Russians are having trouble, meanwhile, riding twin horses that are going in opposite directions, so far as the Germans are concerned. At the moment, they appear to be the strongest advocate of a united Germany, a goal that is immensely popular with the German people.

"On the other hand, Russian demands for reparations that would cripple German economy for years to come are the chief reason why unity cannot be achieved. The Russians are having the greatest trouble explaining this in terms that go down well with the local populace.

"All in all, it is in the stark realities that many Germans profess to find a ray of hope in an otherwise dismal situation.

Consumers Power Plans Expansion

A 1948 construction and system expansion program amounting to $40,681,800 has been approved by the board of directors of Consumers Power Company, D. E. Karn, vice president and general manager, announced today. It is the largest one-year construction program in the company's history.

"Use of electricity and gas in the territory served by the company has been increasing rapidly," Mr. Karn said. "Expansion of our electric and gas systems has been restrained from keeping pace. For several years, wartime restrictions prevented expansion. Since then, construction work has been slowed by material shortages and other conditions. That means that our construction program during 1948 and each of the next few years must be much larger."

It is planned as a part of this 1948 program to invest a total of $17,829,200 in the construction, enlargement and improvement of power plants. Much of this money will go into the new B. C. Cobb Plant, now under construction in Muskegon. The Cobb Plant is scheduled to go into service in September. At first it will have two 60,000-kilowatt generating units. Construction work will continue at the plant, and late in 1949 another 60,000-kilowatt unit is scheduled to go into operation.

Also in the program is major construction work at the John C. Weadock Plant at Essexville, near Bay City. A new 50,000-kilowatt unit at this plant will go into service in March, and construction work will continue, looking toward the installation of two more 60,000-kilowatt units, the first of which is scheduled to go into service late in 1949, and the second early in 1950.

Expansion of the Bryce E. Morrow Plant at Kalamazoo will begin early in 1948, and a new 60,000-kilowatt unit will go into service, according to present plans, in July 1949.

"These seven new generating units—three at Cobb, three at Weadock and one at Morrow—will increase our electric generating capacity more than 60 per cent," Mr. Karn said.

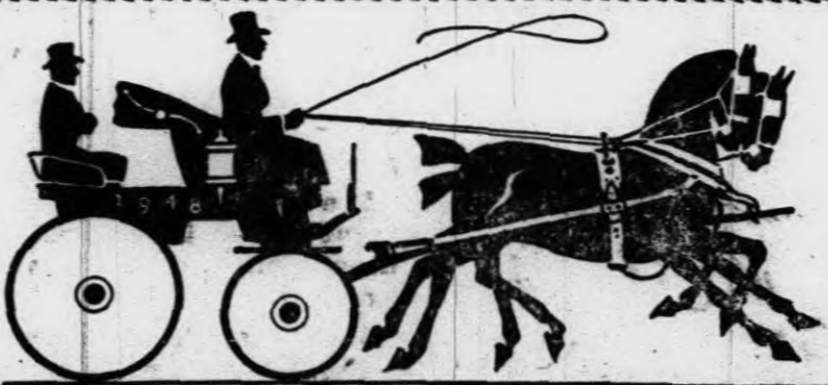

The program includes 1948 power supply projects amounting to $6,744,000. These projects involve voltage transmission lines and many substations. They are needed, Mr. Karn said, to facilitate the interchange of power between major population centers, to establish new power distribution centers and to serve large industrial customers.

To serve additional electric customers it is planned to extend and improve electric distribution lines throughout the 51-county area served by the company. The cost of these line extensions as estimated at $10,650,000. They will take electric service to about 20,000 additional customers living in cities and villages and to 6,370 additional customers in rural areas. It is expected that about 5,000 other rural customers, now living along existing distribution lines, will be connected in 1948.

Consumers already serves more than 90,000 farm customers—a larger number than any other company in America—and the 1948 program will bring the total to more than 100,000. The company operates 20,000 miles of rural distribution lines and will add 1,800 more in 1948.

Gas department projects, including many distribution system improvements and extensions in various areas, are estimated at $2,227,800. These do not include the storage field and transmission line projects of the Michigan Gas Storage Company, a subsidiary of Consumers, which is developing one of the Country's largest storage field projects in Clare, Osceola and Missaukee counties.

"This overall program," Mr. Karn said, "is a challenge both in providing the necessary funds and in completing it on time so as to take care of our customers' requirements."

A Happy New Year to All

At the magic stroke of 12, the New Year will make its advent, marking the turning of another page in the book of our lives. Lo, there is before us a clean white page; a slab of snow-white marble, whereon must be recorded the events of the coming year. What shall be written thereon?

A saga of peace and contentment, of happiness and joy, of health and happiness. That is our wish for you on the threshold of 1948.

The services of L. P. Cookingham, former city manager of Plymouth, are in apparent demand.

Mr. Cookingham, who is at present city manager of Kansas City, was recently offered a similar post by the city council of Hartford, Connecticut. ALL HAIL TO THE NEW YEAR

"Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring, happy bells, across the snow;
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true."

—Alfred Tennyson

As the glad bells peal out at the stroke of midnight to mark the passing of the old year and the arrival of the new, we pause for a moment to express our appreciation for the confidence, friendship and good will which have been extended to us during the past year and to extend our best wishes for a bright and happy New Year.

Welcome — 1948!

Plymouth Mother Praises Nurse Organization

The few times the visiting nurse has come to my home, a new mother said recently, "I have gained a feeling of self confidence in caring for my baby." When the baby was brought home there was no one else in the family that could be called on to help in the early care. The mother, therefore, called Miss Florence Thomas, the visiting nurse, who was most helpful. She competently taught her to care for the child, including bathing, clothing, and feeding. The nurse would perform the tasks the first time, and from then on they were done under her supervision. The mother didn't feel as if she needed a full time nurse, yet she realized that there were many things she must learn. Now, she stated, she is so glad she could avail herself to the services. The nurse is not only highly efficient, but is equally as cheerfully and as good a teacher. The new mother found the nurse most helpful and said that she would highly recommend her services to anyone. The nurse called at their home about six times, and through the things taught by the visiting nurse in this short time, the mother has been made to feel secure and perfectly competent in caring for the baby.

Anyone who would like to contact this mother for further information can obtain her name by calling the Plymouth Mail.

Policeman, Taxi Driver—Turns Out to be Singer

A former Plymouth policeman and taxi driver is gaining recognition as a radio entertainer and composer. His name—Lawton "Slim" Williams.

His career actually began in 1944, following his discharge from the army. At that time he broadcast over four Texas radio stations, and had his own radio show on KTRH, in Houston. At one time Slim also worked a radio show with Laura Lee, who was Gene Autry's guest singer before she left Hollywood for Houston.

The cowboy singer recently signed a contract with Sulton records and has already recorded eight original songs. Eight more were expected to be cut before January 1. Six numbers composed by Slim have been recorded by other artists on Decco, Arco and Mercury records. His first release on Sulton records under his own name is expected around January 5. The songs featured on this disc will be "Fire Water" and "Have Mercy On Me."

Concerning his future plans, Slim plans on going back to station KTRH in Houston sometime in February. At the present time he is playing in Detroit with Slim Henderson, who will return to Houston with him.

The singer's first personal appearance was with Roy Acuff, of the Grand Ole Opry, while he was broadcasting over KEYS in Corpus Christi, Texas.

In Brooks, Oregon, Betty Dunlavy, 40, was back in court for her 15th divorce, said she hoped the "right man" might still come along.

In Evreux, France, Prisoner Pierre Hennocque, having failed at hanging himself, tried to stuff himself to death by swallowing two can openers, a poker broken into ten pieces, five four-inch nails, an assortment of screws, nuts and bolts, some curtain rings and shattered wine glass—failed again.

The NEW YEAR is HERE 1948

Tells How Meats Can Be Stored

The home meat supply is important in these days of high prices for meat. According to E. D. Farwell, animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State college, proper curing, smoking and storing are necessary to insure success with home butchering.

Fresh meat should be chilled promptly after slaughter to 36 to 40 degrees Fahrenheit and kept at this temperature during the curing process. Farwell recommends the following curing ingredients for each 100 pounds of meat in dry cure: seven pounds of salt, two pounds of sugar, and two ounces of salt peter. For brine cure, these ingredients can be mixed with four gallons of water for each 100 pounds of meat.

Figure the curing time as follows: Two and one-half to three days per pound per piece for hams and shoulders and two days per pound per piece for bacon. If using the dry cure, rub one-half the curing mixture on all surfaces of the meat, using a heavier layer on the thicker cuts. Pack the cuts in a clean wooden barrel or crock, being careful not to shake off the curing mixture. After six to eight days, take the meat out of the cure and resalt the hams and shoulders with the remainder of the curing mixture.

If a brine solution is used, pack the fresh cuts in a clean barrel or crock and cover with the brine. Then place a weight on top to keep the meat from floating. In making the brine, boiling water that has been cooled should be used to avoid contamination. The meat in the brine solution should be overhauled three times at weekly intervals. When overhauling, turn the cuts over and place the cuts from the bottom of the crock or barrel on top.

After curing, the meat should be washed with warm water and soaked for an hour in cool water and hung in the smokehouse to drain for 24 hours before smoking. For smoking use any green hardwood. The meat should be hung six to eight feet from the fire and so the pieces do not touch each other. Smoke for about 36 hours with a slow, smoldering fire.

In storing, the pieces of meat should be wrapped in grease resistant paper before being placed in a protective outer bag. The bags can then be hung in a dark, cool, dry, rat-free place until ready to use.

Fire Losses

During the war fire losses have risen steadily, as they did in the last war and several following years. The highest annual loss in history was $561,980,751 in 1926. In 1942 loss was $314,295,000, and in 1943 $373,000,000. For the year ending October 31, 1944, the loss was $420,350,000, as compared with $361,485,000 for year ended October 31, 1943, and the largest loss for a similar period since 1931.

Deadly Flower

The chrysanthemum that produces pyrethrum is a single-type, daisylike flower. It happens that the powder from this simple little flower is the best all-round killer of mosquitoes, flies, "cokies," and certain other insects that has been found. One of its greatest virtues is that while deadly to insects, it is harmless to humans.

Scum Lighter

One color expert says that a manufacturer found that by repainting black boxes green, his employees seemed to tire less easily when carrying them. Green, according to this finding, makes things seem lighter than when they are painted black or some other dark color.

Easier Sewing

For easier sewing use a pint-sized jar for holding little-used spools of thread. Smaller jars house sorted buttons, pins, needles and bobbins. A box stores mending scraps. All are fitted into a convenient box or tray on the closet shelf.

Down Under The Palm Trees

What's happened to the tourist rush that Florida expected to swamp the state during the early days of December? That's the question everybody is asking down under the palm trees that were given a terrific beating early in the fall by two severe hurricanes that swept over the winter haven of hundreds of thousands of northern residents.

Some are asking if folks who wanted to get rich quick off northern dollars have killed the corn-fed geese of the northlands that have been laying the golden eggs that made Florida so prosperous for so many years.

Others say northerners are waiting to take their vacations later in the winter—that the rush will start about the middle of January when the big race track in Miami opens. But the Miami race track has nothing to do with the rest of the state, where the tourist traffic is so far below normal that even a casual visitor to the southlands notices it.

No one admits it, but prices are already slumping. Down at one of the fishing piers in Miami where a winter fishing rate card had been posted a while back, there appeared a new card the other day, advertising summer rates.

December, January and February have always been the "big" months down here. December can be chalked off, leaving only two months to go for the big harvest. Maybe those who predict the rush in two or three weeks are right. Only time will tell. But a lot of northern people who do not like to shiver in zero weather have missed a wonderfully delightful, warm December in Florida. The month has been like early June back in good old Michigan.

When H. V. Kaltenborn, well known radio commentator, the other night told a Florida crowd that the Communist party should be outlawed in the United States, the great hall thundered with applause. He declared that Communism is tricky, dishonest and a fraud.

Florida newspapers and officials are all steamed up about the numerous arrests being made in Georgia of tourists and Florida residents who find it necessary to use the highways of the neighboring state to travel southward. It all started sometime ago when a Georgia speed cop threw a Florida congressman in jail who had protested his arrest. The Governor of Georgia apologized for the incident, but that didn't end the matter. Florida papers are now telling of numerous other so-called unjustified arrests. A protest has been filed in Washington about the alleged trumped-up speeding charges and unfair tactics of the traffic officers. Maybe some congressional action is needed on matters of this kind. Michigan dollars, as well as Florida dollars, help build the highways of states like Georgia. It is inexcusable for traffic officers anywhere at any time to operate speed-traps. This practice, fortunately, has been wiped out in Michigan.

Do you desire to feel out-of-place? Then just wear a hat on the streets in Miami. Went down town the other day to see how busy the stores might be and to observe the crowds of people. Not a single woman had a hat on, and only one man outside of the writer, was observed wearing a hat. It's one habit this old-timer is too old fashioned to adopt.

In Durban, South Africa, one A. Hitler was arrested and charged with assaulting his friend, Eva Braun.

Nutrition Aids

from the American Red Cross Nutrition Service

"I" resolve is a game that is being played by a large proportion of the adults in these days. If the spirit of generosity got a little out of hand before Christmas many of the resolutions have to do with cutting down on expenditures.

Food takes a big share of everyone's income at the present time and naturally the homemaker will try to keep her grocery bills as low as possible. Economizing on food is smart only when it is done without sacrificing food value. Gambling with the health of the family is never wise.

Fortunately grocers' stocks will include foods which give the careful shopper a good return for the money. Often the main difference between choosing a food that offers a good value and one that is almost a luxury is only the matter of taking a less fancy grade.

This is a good season of the year for all kinds of citrus fruits so plentiful supplies of oranges, grapefruits and tangerines are in the stores. There will be much more juice for the money from the smaller and medium size fruits—that means more delicious flavor and more vitamins A and C for the money spent.

To give the family the most good from the fruit chill the oranges and squeeze them just before serving. While there may be only a small loss of Vitamin C when the juice is stored in a TIGHTLY CLOSED jar in the refrigerator even that loss is important in these days of high food costs. Then too the flavor of freshly squeezed juice is definitely better.

After the rich foods of the holiday meals the tart sweetness of oranges makes them tempting for dessert as well as for the breakfast eye-opener. Their ease of preparation appeals to homemakers who are ready to take things a bit easy after the holiday rush.

Children love tangerines. The small tynes feel quite grown up when they can peel their own dessert. They're perfect to tuck into lunch boxes or to top off a lunch.

For dinner combine segments of orange with sliced dates, shredded coconut or cubes of ripe banana. None of these partnerships need any sweetening for most tastes, but if the oranges are a bit tart, a little honey drizzled over the top is especially good.

For the best results pare the oranges as you would an apple, cutting through the membrane right down to the juicy pulp. Lift out each segment free from membrane. Catch all the juice in a bowl to pour over the fruit.

An abundance of oranges means time for making orange marmalade. To make the kind that has a fresh delicate flavor and a clear amber color divide the mixture into batches of two quarts or less before the final boiling with sugar. Quick cooking to the jelly stage is the secret of success.

Orange Marmalade Twelve thin-skinned oranges, 3 lemons, water and sugar.

Wash fruit, cut in quarters lengthwise, then slice as thinly as possible. Measure. To each quart sliced fruit add 1 1/2 quarts water and let stand overnight in covered glass, earthenware or enameled container. Cook slowly until tender, from 2 to 2 1/2 hours. Measure cooked fruit and divide into batches of about 2 quarts each. Bring to boiling point and add 1/2 cup sugar for each cup fruit. Boil rapidly until mixture jells, from 30 to 40 minutes. Pour into sterilized glasses and cover at once with thin layer of melted paraffin. When cold add a second thin layer of paraffin.

For people who like a more tangy spread the combination of citrus fruits in marmalade is attractive.

Citrus Marmalade One grapefruit, 1 orange 1 lemon, water and sugar.

Wash fruit, cut into quarters and cut into thin slices discarding core of grapefruit and seeds. Measure and add 3 times as much water. Let stand overnight in earthenware, glass or enameled container. Next morning boil for 10 minutes. Let stand overnight and boil for 2 hours or until tender.

Measure cooked fruit, dividing into batches of about 2 quart each. Add an equal amount of sugar and boil until mixture jells for about 1 hour, stirring occasionally to prevent scorching. Seal in sterilized glasses.

So you have got a part of that deer packed away in your food locker, have you? Going to keep it until the price of meat goes still higher?

That's good judgement, because if the New Dealers keep playing the stock markets on inside tips they get out of Washington (?) maybe the price of meat will be so high you couldn't buy it anyway.

The writer feels somewhat pleased over thin reports of so much venison being conserved in food lockers for future use. That means many thousands of people in Michigan will be having meat when meat is scarce.

We're pleased, too, because the writer was able to get through the last session of the legislature the provision in the new game laws which permits a successful deer hunter to keep his venison as long as he desires in a food locker, providing he simply gets a permit from the department of conservation to do so. Previously a person could retain venison only 60 days after the hunting season ended.

This change in the state law all came because of a raid that was made by officers upon a food locker plant over in Oakland county and a number of innocent victims of the "raid" came to the writer about it in protest.

Then along came Dave Galin with a lot of information on the subject. The upshot of it was that there was written into the general game laws enacted at the last regular session of the legislature the provision which enables the hunter who returned home with a deer to keep the meat just as long as he desires.

To our way of thinking it is a pretty good piece of conservation legislation.

The writer has received from the Michigan Department of Conservation some information pertaining to important changes in the method of administration being made within the department. Only time will tell whether the plan will be a success or a failure.

Beginning February 1, the conservation department is shifting responsibility for field activities from its office in Lansing to regional offices in Marquette, Roscommon and Jackson.

Regional administration should provide faster and more efficient service for the public. P. J. Hoffmaster, conservation director, said in announcing the change. After 27 years' steady development, the department has outgrown its original centralized organization, he said.

Provisionally named as regional chiefs are Dorias J. Curry for the upper peninsula, Harry L. Aldrich for the northern half of the lower peninsula, Harry L. Aldrich for the northern half of the lower peninsula, and Paul F. Hickie for southern Michigan. Curry and Aldrich now are regional supervisors for the department's field administration division in their respective regions, and Hickie is a former upper peninsula game division supervisor who recently returned from Japan after serving as chief for-ester on the staff of General MacArthur.

Under the new decentralized organization, regional supervisors of the game, fish, forestry, education, field administration and parks divisions will be directly responsible to the new regional chiefs. Division chiefs in Lansing will continue direction of overall programs, research, and such field stations as those for game at Rose Lake, Swan Creek and Cusino, for fish at Hunt Creek, for forest fire at Roscommon, and the training school at Higgins Lake.

Planning for the reorganization has been underway since June, when the conservation commission announced it was modernizing department machinery to meet greatly expanded current needs. Among other benefits of the new system, the commission believes, will be quicker translation into action programs of the facts learned in years of game and fish management research.

The Wisconsin Conservation department recently announced that it is borrowing about 30 deer from the cranberry area of central Wisconsin to continue its experiments in the artificial feeding of deer, and added that the animals will again be released in the country which they are taken after they have served their purpose.

For two years the Wisconsin deer research project has studied the food habits of white-tailed deer under penned conditions. The purpose of these studies is to determine the value of various kinds of food for winter feeding purposes, since the department is under a mandate by the legislature to feed the deer. The department declared it needs additional deer this year to continue its experiments.

The department plans to live-trap about 30 deer for these experiments, and pointed out that it is logical to trap them from an area where the animals are abundant, and where damage complaints show considerable loss due to deer concentrations. Since the cranberry growers of central Wisconsin have shown important losses by excessive deer, trapping will be done in this area. An attempt will be made to catch as many of the deer as possible on or near the Amundson cranberry marsh, center of the greatest deer damage complaints.

The department declared that the deer are not injured in trapping, and that they will be returned to the counties from which they are taken.

Michigan State college, the oldest land grant college in the country, was founded as strictly an agricultural school in 1855.
