Bureau Has Drive for Membership

The 1948 Farm Bureau membership drive is now on, Harvey Vetal has announced. He emphasized that farming is a family enterprise and that there is a great need for farmers thinking, planning, and acting collectively through a farm organization. The family was established as the membership unit in the Farm Bureau in 1919 and has continued so since that time, he added.

The family membership includes membership in the Farm Bureau community discussion group in the Wayne County Farm Bureau, the Michigan Farm Bureau, and the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The community Farm Bureau is formed by a number of families within a small area, for the purpose of meeting and discussing topics in which the farmer of today is interested.

Nelson Discusses Industrial Tour

Observations and findings on last summer's educational tour were described by Superintendent Helmar Nelson at a recent meeting of the Plymouth Teachers' club.

Mr. Nelson was one of 23 Michigan schoolmen who toured numerous of the leading industries and businesses in a four weeks flying trip. During the tour, such cities as Detroit, Chicago, New York City, Philadelphia, as well as the governmental headquarters at Washington D. C. were visited by the group. The purpose of the trip, Mr. Nelson explained, was to bring about a closer relationship between business and education.

It was emphasized that research has proven children are better prepared in all fields today than those of 20 years ago. Mr. Nelson stated that to have an even more adequate program to prepare them for life, there must be a curriculum with a greater knowledge and better understanding of business, industry, and labor.

These Michigan schoolmen, therefore, met with 175 leaders of the industrial world to discuss the possibilities of such a program. Among the businesses visited were: the Chrysler corporation, Hudson's, General Electric, Northwest Airlines, International Harvester, University of Chicago. All contacts with leaders in these institutions stressed the need of human relationships and the importance of instilling the right attitudes early in life. Mr. Nelson reported.

Therefore, he added, our schools today need to teach those attitudes and develop personalities, as well as teach the basic subject materials. He asserted that industry is willing to assist us. At the present time a billion and a half dollars are being spent in research work with human relations topping the list.

The Superintendent stated that every member of the flying trip felt that his time was well spent, and that the information acquired showed that education must continue to progress along the lines of practical relations to life. He stressed that we must have a program not only confined to schools and preparatory work for college, but one that will include business, industry, and labor. Such a program will prepare a child to know more about the life he is to live in when out of school.

In addition to bumping and painting facilities, the shop includes bear equipment for front end alignment and straightening. The modern building also includes offices and a spray booth.

Oliver Receives Plaque Award

A banquet was given in honor of Charles W. Oliver and his employees last Monday evening by the Nash Motor company. It was held at the Hotel Mayflower.

At that time Mr. Oliver was presented with the plaque award, signifying he has fulfilled the requirements set up for the rigid 10-point dealer program. Eight of his employees were presented with awards in the form of lapel buttons.

At the banquet Mr. Oliver was presented with a telegram from George W. Mason, president of the Nash Kelvinator corporation, congratulating him on his achievement.

Nash zone officials who attended were: W. J. Kelley, assistant zone manager; G. Carpenter, district manager, and B. Boose, service representative.

The employees of the Plymouth Nash dealership who received lapel buttons were: Theron White, George Strasen, Louis Perkins, Charles Austin, Floyd Schroeder, Arnold Nordine, Hilda Shankles, Theodore Parsons.

Mr. Oliver was the first dealer in this area to qualify under this program.

Mix lime water and turpentine in equal parts, shake together thoroughly and put a cupful of the mixture into the water where you wash clothes that have become yellow and dingy.

While food and fuel are the immediate needs for the next few months, the long-term demand is for equipment and supplies which will rebuild industry and transportation.

Experience is what you get when you're looking for something else.

Farewell Dinner Given for Scott

A farewell banquet was given in honor of William Scott, former basketball coach, last Friday evening, January 16. It was given by members of the freshmen, reserve and varsity basketball squads in the high school cafeteria following the game with Ypsilanti.

Coach Eddie Bender delivered the farewell speech, speaking in behalf of the approximately 54 persons present. Following this, Mr. Scott spoke, expressing his regrets at leaving. He stated that he had never worked in a finer community or with a better group of people.

For the banquet, the tables were decorated in the school's traditional blue and white colors. The evening's dinner of spaghetti and meat balls was prepared by Veto Sambrome, who reportedly did an excellent job. It was served by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dobbs, Mr. and Mrs. George Farwell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Becker and Albert Allen.

Mr. Scott was also presented with a gift from the group.

Faith visits us in defeat and disappointment, amid the consciousness of earthly frailty and the crumbling tomstones of mortality.

The good things of prosperity are to be wished; but the good things that belong to adversity are to be admired.

M/S Forbes Smith Returns From Arctic Expedition

The Arctic expedition, of which M/S Forbes Smith was a member, returned to the base in Anchorage, Alaska, in time for Christmas dinner, according to a letter received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith.

The post, he wrote, had been radioed the time of their arrival and instructed to have dinner awaiting them. Forbes, however, was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Duane Olds.

During the expedition, he reported, the food was all dropped from planes by parachutes. They were clothed in headed flying suits, and consequently didn't mind the sub-zero weather which hovered around the 60 below mark most of the time. Forbes assured his parents.

Continuing his description of the interesting highlights of the expedition, he told that on a clear day they could see Siberia. Forbes stated that they were in the region where the B-29 went down a short time ago. At that time the high winds made it impossible for rescue workers to get through.

Adversity is sometimes hard upon a man; but for one man who can stand prosperity, there are a number that will stand adversity.

Adversity has ever been considered the state in which a man most easily becomes acquainted with himself, then, especially, being free from flatterers.

Auxiliary Hears Humorous Review

A review of Evelyn Barkins' "The Doctor Has A Baby" was given by Mrs. Anthony Matulis at the Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary meeting last Thursday evening, January 15. The meeting took place at the Hotel Mayflower.

Mrs. Matulis retold the story following the light, humorous vein in which it was written. She explained that the author had written the story as a protest against those people who insist on telling a new mother how to raise her child.

This meeting was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Don Rank, who was assisted by Mrs. Lee Turkett and Mrs. Wendell Lent. Decorations consisted of a spring flower centerpiece.

Chess Club Meets Every Wednesday

The Plymouth Library Chess club will meet on Wednesday, January 28, and on successive Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. at the city hall.

President Haefner announced the results of a poll taken among local chess players, showed a majority preferred to meet on Wednesday instead of Tuesday, as in the past.

Future events of interest to local chess players will be a postal match with the Flint Chess Club, a "ladder tournament" within the local club, and weekly instruction in the styles and methods of play of world-famous chess masters.

Everyone who is interested in chess or would like to learn chess is invited to meet with the club and participate in Plymouth chess activities.

Joe Merritt Hears from Fellow War Prisoner He Thought Dead

The past became vividly alive for Joe Merritt one day recently when he received a letter from a man who had been a fellow prisoner of war in Manila, a man he believed to be dead.

The writer of the letter was Robert W. Levering, known to him as the "Judge," who is an attorney in Mount Vernon, Ohio. The last Mr. Merritt had seen or heard of Mr. Levering was when the latter was taken to Japan in June, 1944. Mr. Merritt remained in Manila as a winchman for two additional months but was also taken to Japan prior to the allied invasion of the Philippines.

The letter was written, Mr. Levering stated, "To renew our friendship which was molded from a common crucible of humiliating toil and sweat in filthy holds of Jap freighters; in dirty factories and mines in Nippon, through extreme privations. . . . He also asked for permission to use Mr. Merritt's name and experiences in a book which he is writing on those years spent as Japanese prisoners of war.

Concerning the book, he related that he had the story of their experiences in outline form of around 30,000 words, and that "critics have said it is pretty good. To complete it, I must animate the narrative with real intimate facts, conversation that will make it live and tell the story as it must be told."

Specific questions he asked the Plymouth attorney to answer were, for example: "Can you explain how you felt when the stars and stripes were hauled down and the white flag went up in surrender. What were you thinking as you slugged on through the prodigious dust on the march of death? How about those beatings we used to get when 'our captors' would shake us down and find omnions in our hats or in our pant legs. Tell me what you thought when they made our boys dig their own graves before being executed at Cabanatuan? Did you forget any of the accumulated miseries of the past when they pushed us down into the crowded, stinking hold of the 'Hell Ship' headed for Japan? Did your pride register anything when they herded you down the streets of Japan, to find a curious people that have for centuries used human waste on their vegetable gardens, hold their noses and turn away at the sight and stench of us?"

He concluded stating that he believes the "American people ought to know about these things and other countless indignities we endured," and signed it—"The Judge" . . . Robert W. Levering.

Mr. Merritt reminisces that at the time they met on the islands through conversation they discovered that Mr. Levering was a distant relative of the Levering family which now resides on Penniman.

LET'S WAIT AND SEE.

Some of the "wise men" down in Washington predict that along in March there will be a real meat shortage in this country. One Washington radio calamity howler declares that there will be food riots in this country by mid-summer.

Why all this pessimism? True, we are shipping a lot of food to Europe, but we still have lots of it left. Why make such startling predictions when we don't know whether there will be even a food shortage next summer? Let's wait and see before getting all excited about something that may never happen, and probably will not happen.

NO MORE BLACK MARKETS.

Editor William Berkeley of The Cassopolis Vigilant is disturbed over the possibility of President Truman bringing back another era of rationing. The veteran Cassopolis editor declares that rationing and black marketing go hand-in-hand and that we desire no more of it. We quite agree with him. But a lot of people would like to see rationing restored so they can get some more of that black market money. Rationing is no part of the American way of life, because it is the foundation of favoritism, graft and dictation.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT.

During a recent argument pertaining to the question of granting statehood to the Hawaiian islands, the surprising statement was made that the 442nd Regimental Combat team, consisting entirely of enlisted men from Hawaii, and a very large percent being Japanese, won, man for man, more decorations than any other army unit that took part in World War II. Probably few people on the mainland of these United States ever heard of this remarkable military performance before. And still there are officials in Washington who are opposing statehood for Hawaii because of its large population of Japanese, and Chinese people.

A REAL SERVICE TO THE STATE OF MICHIGAN.

Congratulations to The Detroit Free Press for publishing the recent series of articles pertaining to the inadequate system in operation in this state for the admission of patients into state hospitals for the insane. The Free Press pointed out that large numbers of patients have been committed to asylums in this state who were not insane and should never have been admitted.

Under the laws of the state, courts are now permitted to appoint regular medical doctors to conduct the examinations of patients where requests have been made for hospital admission. But there is nothing in the law which says that a physician with proper psychiatric education and experience should be one of the examiners.

During the last session of the state legislature an effort was made to broaden the present law by making possible the appointment of examiners from other health trained groups.

During the hearings on this bill we became convinced that instead of broadening this law, it should be made more rigid, with a requirement that no patient be admitted to a state hospital for the insane until after a well trained and experienced psychiatric doctor had made an examination of the patient.

Dr. M. H. Okun of the Pontiac State Hospital has expressed a similar view in the recent series of articles published in the Free Press. He goes further and states that a patient should be under proper observation for at least a week before admission. Congratulations, to The Free Press. The publication of the series of articles on this highly important question is a real public service—especially when one realizes that an asylum commitment deprives a person of every right in the world, rights and liberties that are not taken from the most hardened criminal sent to a prison.

IT'S $50 PER DAY PLUS EXPENSES.

Blazing forth from one of the inside pages of The Detroit Free Press the other day was a likeness of the notorious "Dr." William Haber, a member of the University of Michigan faculty who knows how and when to pick off a few extra tax dollars for himself.

The announcement said he was going to Germany to serve as a special adviser to General Lucius Clay, who has been doing a pretty good job in administering the American zone without such advice as the notorious Haber might give him.

Knowing something of Haber's love of the almighty American dollar and of his devious methods of collecting them—all within the law, of course—we were interested a day or so after the appointment of Haber had been announced in a Washington newspaper dispatch which set forth the fact that President Truman had asked congress for an appropriation of $1,600,000 for administrators, deputy administrators, assistants and "experts and consultants" at $50 per day each while away from home and serving in Europe.

His recent jump on the " gravy train " takes us back to the days of the depression in Michigan, when Haber got himself appointed as administrator for the Michigan Relief Commission.

It was by the merest chance that we discovered Haber's tactics in getting good American dollars for himself while thousands and thousands of Michigan people were in dire need.

As a member at that time of the legislative welfare committee much of our time was spent in reviewing welfare records for such data as might be necessary for legislative use. As we went through these records in the auditor general's office our interest was aroused when we kept discovering Haber's name on various expense account records of several state agencies. So we turned our attention briefly to Mr. Haber's method of collecting money for himself from the state—and the way he used his automobile mileage to pile up the dollars for himself.

These facts we revealed to the Michigan state legislature—and "Doc" Haber quickly resigned his job and went back to his retreat at the University, not to emerge again for a number of years.

It has always been somewhat interesting to note how frequently members of the faculties of some of the great schools of the country get themselves a leave of absence, dabble for a while in hot political issues or get temporary jobs at big pay as does Haber, then when the "heat is on" quickly return to their public-pay security jobs in the Universities of the country.

Haber's record in connection with welfare work in Michigan at a time when there was actual distress in the state was such a shameful one that it is hard for us to understand how he is able to get himself appointed to these various highly important, but part-time jobs where big pay is the usual rule. The appointment was made by Kenneth C. Royal, secretary of the Army.

TRY IT, BEFORE CONDEMNING IT.

President Truman apparently jumped the gun the other day when he condemned the anti-inflation bill passed by congress and which was signed into law by himself. The President doesn't know, and apparently few others really know, just how effective the new law is going to be.

Let's try it out first and see if it will help to bring down prices. There is no use in condemning the measure before we really know what it will do.

The President wanted rationing again. He wanted complete control of the nation's economy—but congress refused to let him have it and as a result he has blasted the measure that congress did pass in an effort to control the nation's economy without resorting to rationing and the black markets again.

As long as he has signed the bill he should do all within his power to make it work out successfully, instead of condemning it before it even became a law.

ON THE RIGHT TRACK.

Michigan automobile dealers are asking that some steps be taken towards remedying the state sales tax law pertaining to the sale of used automobiles.

If an automobile dealer sells a used car, he is required to pay a state sales tax on the transaction. If an individual sells a used car, he is not required to turn over to the state a sales tax on the deal.

The situation is an entirely unfair one to the regular automobile dealers of the state and during the last session of the legislature an effort was made to correct the law. It was found, however, that the bill which had been drafted, would not stand up in court if it were attacked. The measure was dropped because of this situation. It is hoped that another bill, one that will meet all constitutional provisions, will be presented and enacted at the forthcoming special session. Automobile dealers are entitled to the same fair treatment as other people in business.

Fair in the Light of Memory Shines

BY • ELTON R. EATON

Do you plan to make a trip to the Upper Peninsula sometime during the coming spring or summer?

If so, maybe you will have the five-millionth car to be carried across the Straits of Mackinac.

That fact was revealed by Upper Peninsula Development Bureau officials after receiving report from the Michigan Highway Department that an all-time record number of 501,109 cars was transported over the Straits last year. Previous peak was in 1946, when 440,325 cars were ferried.

The number of passengers increased from 776,804 in 1946 to 843,119 last year.

Development Bureau officials pointed to the increasing traffic as indicative of the growing importance of Upper Michigan as a vacationland and bearing out predictions that post-war travel into the peninsula would break all records.

Including the 20,420 vehicles carried by railroad car ferries prior to 1923 a total of 4,649,064 cars and other automotive machines have been ferried across the picturesque straits.

Since 1923, the state highway department, under which the ferries have been operated, will reach the five-millionth mark sometime during 1948, probably late next summer.

Applications for purchase of state-owned land are continuing in fairly steady volume, but the conservation department's lands division is telling more and more applicants the department just doesn't have the high-quality lands asked for.

Most applicants want either recreation lands on lakes or streams, or land for farming, and there is very little of either, the department advises.

Last year the department sold 37,377 acres and 3,448 platted lots for $226,000. This year, to speed the disposal of lands outside conservation projects, likely looking properties will be offered at auction even though no one applies for their sale, in the hope that once they have been offered and transferred to the market lists they will find purchasers.

A recent check in 35 northern counties of those water front plots in which the state owns lots showed less than one per cent of the state-owned lots in these plots actually front on lakes and streams. In some counties none of the state-owned lots in water front subdivisions fronted on the water. Many of the lots that are bona fide water frontages are such poor quality swampland the department has little hope of finding buyers for them.

Harry D. Ruhl, chief of the conservation department's game division and well known to most members of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association, declares that if he had a bigger supply of owls, he's sure he could promote a lot more of crow shooting. Two days after Ruhl advised crow shooting parties that great horned owls taken in traps that protect the game farm pheasant pens would be available on loan, all nine owls on hand were snapped up by telephone, telegraph and mail orders, and a waiting list was started of late applications, which still are coming in.

The live owls make excellent decoys for crow shooting, and the chance to get an owl may have got some parties into the field that before were only thinking of crow shooting. Ruhl recommends crow shooting as a good winter sport and as an aid to farmers, many of whom can spend neither the time nor the ammunition to keep the crows under control.

Because of the owls' travel and feeding habits, the game farm does not expect to catch them again in numbers before March.

Nearly as many Michigan residents hunted deer in 1947 as in the year before, the conservation department reports after a year-end check of hunting license sales.

Where 298,086 resident deer hunting licenses were accounted for up to January 1, 1947, the count this year was 295,081—only one per cent less. Returns from resident small game hunting license sales continue to lag, with 466,321 issued to January 1, 1948, compared with 635,770 at the same time a year earlier, a decrease of 27 per cent.

Sport fishing licenses, resident and nonresident together, totalled 1,030,807 to January 1, and this total will be even larger when all 1947 fishing license accounts are closed out in the next few months.

School teachers in the southern school counties wishing to show biology classes such different types of terrain as farmland, forest, swamp, dune and lake shore are discovering all these land types may be found within one mile in Warren Dunes state park.

Ground water levels averaged at 42 shallow wells in the drainage of Au Sable, Muskegon and Manistee rivers continued stable in December at a point very close to the 10-year December ground water level average.

Her favorite novel, she added, is "The Bishop's Mantle," by Agnes Sligh Turnbull. Miss Harwood also recommended "Peticoat Surgeon," by Bertha Van Heusen. She stated that the most humorous novel published recently is "Loud Red, Patrick," by Ruth McKenney.

Miss Harwood is the author of a book column which runs in the Sunday Free Press. It is entitled "The Book Sampler." She also appears on the J. L. Hudson company's Minute Parade which is heard every Tuesday and Saturday.

Mrs. John Burkman, regent, acted as program chairman for this anniversary meeting. The singing was led by Mrs. Maxwell Moon. Several neighboring regents attended the luncheon as guests of the chapter. They were: Miss Elise A. Phinney, Elizabeth Cass chapter of Detroit; Mrs. Roy V. Chamber of Commerce Plans for Resumption of Full Time Service

According to Chamber president Robert O. Wesley there have been many local business men who have been willing to serve on the board of the organization during the last few years but with the press of their own business operations it has been impossible for any of them to give the time needed to make the Chamber a particularly active organization.

The organization is sound financially today but it will be necessary to increase the membership to afford the services of a full time manager. A survey has been made in other communities in Michigan this size to gather information in regard to cost of operation and it is estimated that a yearly budget of about $7,500.00 will be necessary to again resume full time operations.

The present board of directors of the Chamber are planning a visit to Lansing in the near future to confer with Otis Cook, manager of the Michigan Retailers Association, to discuss with him the possibility of re-establishing the Plymouth organization on a pre-war basis.

As the project crystallizes and more definite plans are made a general meeting of members of the Chamber of Commerce will be called for approval of the plan. Then, at a later date, a general meeting of all local business men and manufacturers will be held to formulate concrete plans for the program.

Rising Costs Cause Improvement Policy

City officials are viewing with interest the dilemma of the Port Huron city commission. In 1944 the state ordered the City of Port Huron to build a new sewage and garbage disposal plant. Revenue bonds were sold in 1946 for an estimated cost of $1,600,000 and when bids were opened there Tuesday it was found that the lowest bid for the building of the system was $2,000,000 higher than the estimate of the entire cost.

Local officials pointed out that rising costs may place Plymouth's proposed water improvement in jeopardy if the same condition should apply here. According to Plymouth officials, if the same condition was found here, there would be no further alternative than to delay any proposed water improvements until prices returned to nearer normal levels.

Jewish people, the Rabbi pointed out, are protesting by armed resistance the UN decision. The Rabbi explained that between the two great wars, the Jewish people were the ones who converted the country from swamp and desert to a productive and fertile land.

In conclusion, Rabbi Fram stated that he feels "confident that the people of America will decide that the Jews of Palestine have a right to defend what has been given them as a home and refuge."

Pianna was captain in 1941. Sam Lieberman and Sheldon Harris, one time Lawrence Tech players, and will be included on the line-up. Harris holds the distinction of being selected on the all-Michigan-Ohio team in 1942, while Lieberman, 6 ft. 6 in. center holds all scoring records to date at Lawrence Tech. Western Michigan's college star, Bob Deyco, was leading scorer of the Corpus Christi Naval Service team in 1943.

According to Ralph Johnson, city recreation director, the Plymouth all-stars will practice as a team at 9 p.m. Monday, January 26, at DeHoCo.

Preceding the exhibition game, Woods Studio will meet Fearers at 6:30 p.m. and Parkside Bar will play Atchinson Motor Sales of Northville at 7:30 p.m.

Registration Has Tuesday Deadline

Plymouth voters planning on voting in the February primary must register by Tuesday, January 27. Registration takes place in the City Manager's office.

To date no additional petitions have been received for the office of city commissioner. Four petitions have been filed, and an additional petition will warrant the inclusion of the commissioners on the primary ballot. Those who have filed for office are Lewis Goddard, James Houk, James Latture and Archie Shufelt.

At the primary the proposed $525,000 water works improvement program will be decided on by the voters.

Also, tickets may be procured at the door at the price of 60 cents for all ages. "God of the Atom" Film to be Shown

(Continued from page 1) men will beat each other to death with their bare fists!" The problem is not what man has, but what man is, he says.

Larry Johnston, a young physicist who aided in atomic development at Los Alamos and photographed all three wartime bombs as they exploded, also appears in the film with an eyewitness account of his experiences. "God of the Atom" is second in a series of religious-scientific films produced in the laboratories of Moody Institute of Science, a branch of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. It follows the popular "The God of Creation" which was shown last year to more than a million people in churches, schools and civic auditoriums.

The film will be shown by the Rev. J. W. McCarrell, Moody film representative.

Registration Has Tuesday Deadline

Plymouth voters planning on voting in the February primary must register by Tuesday, January 27. Registration takes place in the City Manager's office. To date no additional petitions have been received for the office of city commissioner. Four petitions have been filed, and an additional petition will warrant the inclusion of the commissioners on the primary ballot. Those who have filed for office are Lewis Goddard, James Houk, James Latture and Archie Shuffelt. At the primary the proposed $525,000 water works improvement program will be decided on by the voters.

Church Reports Successful Year

Important, forward-looking steps were taken by the Lutheran church during 1947. The first building of the large rehabilitation project was completed and put to its use as the Lutheran Day school.

Despite the large investment, the congregation heard a favorable treasurer's report on Tuesday evening. All current, increased expenses have been met, the site and school building have been paid for, and still, the total indebtedness of the congregation is under $5,000.

Annual reports showed the congregation to be in an improving condition otherwise also. The membership has now grown to almost 450 confirmed communicants, while the church attendance has made it necessary to add another, earlier service to the Sunday morning schedule. Hereafter, and until further notice, the early service will begin at 9:30 during the time of the regular Sunday School sessions, and the main morning service will begin at 10:45 instead of 10:30 as heretofore. It is thought that this will afford better opportunity for all to attend without submitting latecomers to the inconvenience of sitting on folding chairs in the aisles. The friends and visitors at worship will find this arrangement a step forward also in making them feel more at home in the church. They are cordially invited to worship at the church.

Edward Hobach, Paul Groh, George Schultz, and Roy Fisher retired from office this year, and the following officers were elected: Albert Rohde, president; Jacob Blunk, vice president; Walter Schultz, secretary, now beginning his 20th year in that capacity; William Bartel, treasurer and chairman of the Board of Trustees; Harold Stevens, financial secretary and trustee; Edwin Goebel, trustee, Lawrence Blunk, Rayner Tisch and Norman Mahrley, Sr., Deacons.

Immediately after the organization meeting the new board was welcomed by Rev. Hoenecke, entering upon the 20th year of his pastorate at St. Peter's, and instructed in the name of the congregation to dedicate 1948 to another year of labor and effort toward realizing the congregation's great goal, to establish a complete church and school service in this important, expanding community. To that end, he said, the congregation must be inspired to continue to grow while it continues to build, spiritually and physically, to supply the burning need of this confused age for positive, conservative, Bible religion. The building program must continue this year, according to President Rhode, who has already taken steps to instruct the Expansion Committee to work forward on the plans for an addition to the building already erected on the new site. This committee consists of the following: Carl Rohde, Fred Waara, Herbert Ruchman, Michael Huber, Charles Vickstrom and the President and Pastor.

Millions Spent by State in Aid to Nearly 50,000 Fatherless Children

By Elton R. Eaton

"What does Michigan do with all the tax money it takes from the pockets of the residents of this state, I would like to have you tell me" asked a good citizen of the writer recently.

The state now permits the payment of $70 per month to mothers with one dependent child, with an additional $9 per month allowable for each child up to the age of 18 years; providing the child is attending school.

At the present time there are 21,000 mothers of some 50,000 children in Michigan who are receiving payments from the aid-to-dependent fund. The average monthly payment to each family during 1947 was approximately $78 per month.

Some question has been raised pertaining to this state aid to divorced mothers, but administrators believe that children of a father who has been divorced from the mother should not be penalized and deprived of state aid because of domestic failures.

Members of the legislature as well as administrators of the aid-to-dependent children believe that it is far better for a child to be trained in his own home and provided with educational opportunities than to deprive it of this special state aid.

But this special child aid costs you a lot of money each year. In subsequent articles the cost of old age pensions as well as welfare assistance will be discussed, showing you how these humane agencies take the tax dollars and cause you to ask the question—"What does Michigan do with all the money it takes from the pockets of the residents of this state?"

What did it cost you as a foster father to more than 50,000 boys and girls of Michigan who do not have fathers supporting them, to care for these youngsters who are not wards of the state, last year?

You paid out of your pockets more than $18,500,000 to see to it that the dependent children of Michigan were cared for and kept in school.

Of this amount, $11,500,000 came directly out of the state's general fund. Local units of government put up $700,000 and federal aid (which is your tax money) put up the balance of $6,000,000.

For this one public service alone, Michigan last year spent almost as much to aid the children of widowed, divorced, deserted, and unwed mothers as it cost to run the entire state government back some 23 or 24 years ago. Those who have closely followed the development of the social aid program in Michigan will recall that the aid-to-dependent children act was first known as the so-called mothers' pension act.

The legislature passed the mothers' pension bill back in 1913 as an amendment to the juvenile court law. The measure originally provided that counties should have a right to provide financial assistance to children of unmarried mothers, or those made entirely dependent upon the mother through the death, desertion, or confinement in a prison or other institution of the father of the children.

Michigan was the first state in the Union to adopt such a law. The financing of the mothers' pensions was, under the law, made entirely a local responsibility. If some county wanted to aid the unfortunate mothers, it should do so if the board of supervisors thought it advisable. The original provisions restricted the maximum grant for one dependent child of $3 a week.

A very large number of the counties were quick to give aid to worthy mothers, but when the depression following the first World War swept the state, many of the counties were forced to curtail this expenditure.

By 1936 it developed that some 25,000 children who should have been cared for under the mothers' pension law, were dependent almost entirely upon emergency relief agencies.

It was after these facts became known that the legislature took steps to provide direct state aid to widowed, deserted and unwed mothers.

The legislature turned over to Michigan Social Welfare commission the responsibility of administering this aid and provided the funds necessary to carry on the work.

Florists of Wayne County are interested in starting an Allied Growers organization, according to a report from the County Agent, E. J. Besemer.

He has further stated that steps will be taken at the forthcoming Michigan State Florists Association meeting to get such an organization under way. The meeting of the association will take place at the Hotel Fort Shelby January 26 and 17.

Florists in Plymouth include: Raphael Mettetal, William Sutherland, C. W. Godd, Ross Greenhouse, and Heide Greenhouse, Lester Shore, Alex. Wnuk, William Bartel, Harold Fisher, and G. H. Mahrley.

Mr. Besemer stated that January 26 has been titled as Growers Day by the association. At 10 a.m. that day, The Growers Problems will be discussed by Dr. Charles Gregory, consultant of the St. Louis Consolidated Florists association, Dr. A. W. Dimock, of Cornell University, will speak on Recent Developments in the Control of Plant Diseases at 11:30 a.m.

Other subjects on the program are: Chrysanthemums As We Grow Them, The Chicago Allied's Program to Build Better Business, Modern Developments in the Forcing of Lilies, and Our Experiences With Automatic Watering.

Introducing Thomas Alva Edison at a dinner, the toastmaster mentioned his many inventions, dwelling at length on the talking machine. The aged inventor then rose to his feet, smiled and said gently: "I thank the gentlemen for his kind remarks but I must insist upon a correction. God invented the talking machine. I only invented the first one that can be shut off."

Nutrition Aids from the American Red Cross Nutrition Service

Many women in Plymouth who complain most bitterly at the price tags on meats are the ones who never consider buying some of the products on display. This is the main reason, meat packers insist, that the more demanded cuts are sky-high in price while some of the others such as heart and tongue are relatively inexpensive.

There's no relief in sight as far as meat prices are concerned. In fact supplies are likely to be more limited and prices may go even higher if demand continues at the present level, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

This means one of two choices for homemakers. They will either institute more meatless days on their own or will learn to use more of the less demanded meats. The latter seems the more sensible choice because it will help to keep the family meals up to a better standard of nutritive value and give them a more satisfying flavor than most meat alternates provide.

SKILFUL COOKERY

Preparing heart and tongue and other meat sundries is not as simple as broiling a steak. Yet a little skill in cookery and imagination in seasoning will turn them into delightful dishes.

Heart and tongue are clear meats with almost no waste. They need gentle cooking with moisture to make the fibres tender. Naturally those from older creatures require a longer cooking period than those from young animals.

Their flavor is more bland than that of most of the other muscle meats so flavorful vegetables such as onion and celery and a few herbs and spices make them more tempting.

Braised Stuffed Heart

Wash heart thoroughly, slit the top and remove gristle and veins. Fill cavity with well seasoned stuffing. If this is done the day before the flavor will draw through the meat, improving its flavor. Sew up slit. Season lightly with salt and pepper and brown on all sides in hot fat. Place in baking dish or casserole. Add about 1 cup water, cover dish closely and bake in moderately slow oven, 300 F., until tender. A beef heart requires about 4 hours; a pork or veal heart requires about 1 1/2 hours. A beef heart or two or three small hearts make six servings.

STUFFING: Chop one large onion and 2 stalks celery and cook

Beef Tongue

Scrub tongue. Place in kettle and cover with water. For flavor add an onion, a celery top or two, a few sprigs of parsley, a small bay leaf, a few peppercorns, a few whole cloves and about 2 teaspoons salt. Bring to boiling point then turn down heat and keep at a simmering temperature (do not boil), for 2 1/2 to 3 hours or until tender. Remove from kettle, slit skin on underside and skin tongue. Trim root end. Serve hot or cold, cut in crosswise slices. If to be served cold, allow to cool in stock for the best flavor.

A smoked tongue is prepared in a similar manner except that it is soaked in water to cover overnight to remove excess salt. This water is discarded and the tongue is placed in fresh water for cooking.

Calf or Lamb Tongue with Vegetables

Select a calf tongue or several lamb tongues. Scrub, cover with water and bring to boiling point. Reduce heat to keep at simmering temperature for about 10 minutes. Drain, remove skin and gristle and lay skinned tongues in large baking dish.

In the meantime cook about 6 cups diced vegetables in 3 or 4 tablespoons bacon fat for a few minutes. Onions, celery, carrot, potatoes and a small amount of green pepper form a good combination. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Put vegetables over and around tongue in baking dish and bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F., for about 1 hour or until meat and vegetables are

School to Offer Driving Course

A course in driver education will be included on the Plymouth high school curriculum at the onset of the second semester, according to Helmar Nelson, superintendent of Plymouth schools. The second semester begins February 2.

A 1948 four-door Chevrolet will be loaned to the school by the Allison Chevrolet company. It will be equipped with dual controls which will facilitate instruction.

A similar course has been instituted in several schools throughout the state, as a solution to the high number of accidents which are due to the careless driving of youth, according to Mr. Nelson. He reported that the number of accidents are on the increase instead of on the decrease. For one year which ended November 30, a total of 120,948 accidents were reported, while the total reached the 96,095 mark for the same period of the preceding year.

"In communities where the driver education program has been instituted," the superintendent reported, "the youth accident rate has definitely lowered."

The course in Plymouth will be open to all students of age who are interested in learning to drive and obtaining a license. Mr. Nelson stressed that the instruction will be supervised by competent instructors. They must be, he further stated, qualified and certified by the state to instruct such a course.

Tentative planning provides for the handling of 75 students a semester for this course. It is also hoped that provisions can be made for others in the community who wish to be instructed.

The course will be divided into two parts, Mr. Nelson related. The first portion will deal with "book work," or class instruction. The second will be the actual instruction of the mechanical skills involved in driving.

In Louisville, Nurse Ellen Holtzkecht rushed out of the distillery where she worked and gave first aid to an auto-crash victim: Walter Hoshal, superintendent of the local Anti-Saloon League.

Solitude

I USED to seek a crowd to find delight,
And this they gave me — laughter and brief song,
Bright powdered wings that dusted off in flight,
And bubbled beauty, nothing lasting long.
But once I found a pathway down my heart:
A dim, untraversed way I had not known.
I walked it timidly, a thing apart,
Bewildered that I found myself alone.

But now I seek that beautiful retreat,
And find such cool, deep peace, such sheer delight:
Cold springs of water welling at my feet,
White flowers by day, white guiding stars by night.
The old crowd's laughter falls upon my ear,
I am exploring, and I do not hear.

Your telephone is such a reliable instrument that perhaps you never stop to think how it increases in value to you day after day.

It becomes more valuable, more useful, because we are constantly adding more telephones to the system. That makes it possible for you to call more persons, do more telephone errands.

It may be a friend you haven't talked to in years, a relative who lives a great distance away . . . a professional or business man you want to reach in a hurry. Whatever the reason, your telephone is always ready to serve you better—in a wider and wider field.

Can you think of many other things that grow in value every day?

Firm Makes Two Appointments

James W. Taylor

At a recent stockholders meeting, James W. Taylor and Walter B. Rensel were taken into the firm of Blunk's Inc. The meeting was headed by A. L. Lantz, vice president and manager of the organization.

Mr. Taylor was appointed as secretary and Mr. Rensel will continue in his present position of general superintendent. Both will act as new members of the board of directors.

In the way of background for his new position, Mr. Taylor has a record of 29 years of experience. He started as a salesman with the original Copeland Products company in 1926, in the early days of refrigeration. Following a series of promotions, he attained the position of Michigan district manager for the Kelvinator division of Nash Kelvinator. Mr. Taylor resigned from this position to head the appliance and radio departments of Blunk's Inc. His present plans are concerned with making these departments outstanding in this area, in both sales and service.

Red Cross Asks For Gray Ladies

The American Red Cross is making an appeal for more Gray Ladies to work at the veterans' hospital in Dearborn. Two new additions have recently been opened and the need for more recreational workers is urgent, according to Mrs. James Scott.

Duties of the Gray Lady include writing letters for patients, wheeling patients to the canteen or X-Ray rooms, reading to patients, or distributing reading material. There is no nursing care involved. The age limit is 21 to 55.

After a training course of seven lectures to be held evenings during February, a Gray Lady is asked to serve from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. one day a week. Each applicant must have a personal interview at the Detroit Red Cross headquarters during the recruiting week of January 26 to 31. Anyone desiring more information may call Mrs. Scott at 745-R.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Give Meals Company Manners (See recipes below.)

Mostly Vegetables
What's the best way to save on meat? Serve smaller amounts and round the meal out with several vegetables.
When you come to consult figures on meat consumption you will realize that a great many of us actually overdo the eating on meat and take it easy on the vegetables. Now that the former is high in price and will become more scarce, if reports are true, plan to include more vegetables in your meals.

Here are some very satisfying main dishes which you will be wise to use. There's enough meat to satisfy the hungry and those with a taste for it, but there are also dishes which are budget-wise.

Vegetable Pie.
3 tablespoons butter
5 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
3 cups milk
16 small white onions
1 cup cooked peas
1 cup cooked string beans or lima beans
3 cups cooked carrots
2 cups chopped leftover roast or meat loaf

Melt butter, add flour and stir until well blended. Add seasonings and then milk, stirring constantly until smooth and thick. Bring to a boil and cook for 2 minutes. Add vegetables and meat. Pour into a large baking dish; cover with the following:

Peanut Butter Crust.
1 1/2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons peanut butter
1/2 cup milk
4 strips raw bacon fat

Sift together dry ingredients; add peanut butter and mix in thoroughly with a fork. Add milk to make soft dough. Turn out on floured board; toss lightly until the outside looks smooth. Roll out to fit baking dish. Cut slits for steam to escape; place on top of baking dish. Cut bacon in very small pieces over top and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) about 20 minutes until bacon is crisp and brown.

Here is an interesting, well seasoned dish which is both filling and satisfying in addition to being an excellent way in which to stretch a pound of meat:

Talerni. (Serves 6)
1 green pepper
1 pound hamburger
2 tablespoons oil
1 small can tomatoes
1 small onion
1 clove garlic
1/4 pound dry noodles
1 can corn kernels
1 can ripe olives
1/2 cup olive liquid
1/2 cup Longhorn cheese

Fry cut-up pepper and hamburger in oil. When browned, add tomatoes and remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil, then turn down heat and cook from 45 to 60 minutes.

Vegetable Loaf. (Serves 6)
3/4 cup cooked peas
3/4 cup cooked string beans
3/4 cup chopped carrots
1 1/2 cups milk
1 egg
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon paprika

Press peas through a sieve, cut beans into small pieces, and combine all vegetables. Add milk, slightly beaten egg, crumbs and seasonings. Turn into a greased baking dish and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven until firm. Serve with 2 1/2 cups medium white sauce to which has been added 4 tablespoons of deviled ham. Blend thoroughly.

There are innumerable ways in which that good protein food, cheese, can stretch vegetables while substituting for meat. Here are several taste-tempting ideas.

Macaroni-Stuffed Peppers. (Serves 6)
6 green peppers
1 cup cooked elbow macaroni
1/2 pound grated American cheese
1 cup cooked tomatoes
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Cut a slice off the top of each pepper and cook in boiling salted water for 5 minutes. Drain and remove seeds. Mix remaining ingredients, saving 1/2 of cheese for top. Fill peppers with mixture, stand upright in pan and sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes.

Broccoli With Cheese. (Serves 6)
1 onion, minced
6 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg yolk
1 cup grated parmesan cheese
2 1/2 pounds cooked broccoli
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs

Cook onion in 4 tablespoons of butter until tender; stir in flour and add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add seasoning, egg yolk and cheese. Pour half of sauce into baking dish, arrange broccoli on top of sauce and cover with remaining sauce. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and dot with remaining butter. Bake in a hot (400 degree) oven about 20 minutes.

AID TO SPREADS
A little citrus juice mixed into many sandwich spreads not only improves the flavor but also thins the mixture for easier spreading. Try a dash of orange juice in cheese spreads, ham or peanut butter.

DRIVING COURSE TO BE ADDED TO PHS CURRICULUM

Along with many progressive high schools, Plymouth High school is beginning a Driver's Education Course—the second semester of the 1947-1948 school year.

Students meeting the qualifications for the course may enroll in the class. The dual control Chevrolet '48' which is to be used in the course is being secured through the Allison Chevrolet company.

The course is designed not only to teach students to drive safely and carefully but also to meet situations and make quick decisions. Driving courtesy will also be stressed in an effort to reduce the large number of accidents.

It is hoped and believed that through the Driver's Education course the number of accidents substantially reduced.

Conservation of Coal is Stressed

The Eckles Coal company, local Link-Belt stoker dealer, today has issued some pertinent facts on coal and fuel conservation achieved by the installation of domestic and commercial automatic coal stokers.

Today, it was stressed, the supply of all fuels is acute, but coal is the most available. Plus this fact, the most efficient method for burning coal is by automatic coal stokers, it was reported. For automatic coal feed, automatic air supply and automatic "banking" of the fuel bed have been predetermined by combustion engineers and built into each unit to eliminate overfeeding of coal, improper air supply and excessive burning during the "off" period so as to give the most heat with the lowest quantity of coal; thereby conserving the national and local fuel supply.

With the current and anticipated demand for fuels of all kinds equalling, and in some cases, exceeding, war-time requirements, automatic coal stokers can once more help to overcome existing or prospective fuel shortages. J. G. Clemmons, of Eckles company says that the post war conversion has been completed so that there is ample supply of Link-Belt automatic stokers to meet this new demand for automatic coal heat in its most conserving form.

In Detroit the FBI reported that William T. Fleming, who had been pinched in '43 and '44 for impersonating an Army captain, and in '45 for impersonating a second lieutenant, was now down to impersonating a first sergeant.

In Bell Gardens, Calif., Joseph Bray, 37, left his wife and 13 children and eloped with the 16 year old baby sitter.

Down Under The Palm Trees

By ELTON R. EATON

Let Michigan take warning! The tourists of this nation are becoming a bit more concerned about the dollars that they have been in past years.

Florida is right now reaping the whirlwind as a result of the "robber" prices charged tourists last year, say those down here who seem to know what they are talking about.

Money was free and easy a year ago and it seems that many in Florida as well as elsewhere were out to get every dollar they could get out of the tourists.

What has happened? Well, vast numbers of these tourists are not back in Florida this year.

As a result there are not hundreds, but thousands of vacancy signs in all parts of Miami and Miami Beach. Made a brief trip the other day up the west coast to Sarasota and St. Petersburg. The same condition prevails up in that part of the state.

Apartment owners who insisted on renting their apartments for the "season" only, are finding that they haven't any tenants at all. Tourists have decided that if they want to stay in this place or that place for a week or so, they are going to find a place where they can rent accommodations for a week and not pay rent for eight or nine months out of the year.

As a result of this change on the part of the tourists who last year freely paid for many months of rent for apartments that they did not occupy, are having no difficulty in getting places by the day, week or month. In fact, most signs now advertise places for rent by the day or week.

In the Sunday issue of one of the big metropolitan papers of Miami recently there appeared nearly four pages of "for rent" advertisements. In previous years two or three columns of these rentals would be many.

A variety of reasons are offered. A gas station attendant told the writer the other day that northern people had made up their minds that they were not going to be robbed by high rentals and business men out to get every tourist dollar they could get. And surprisingly he added, that he didn't blame them.

Others say that a Florida vacation is not so attractive to northerners as it used to be, even the delightful climate not having the appeal of former years.

Probably the most accurate answer lies in the fact that northerners are somewhat concerned about the future and have decided to conserve their dollars. Maybe if there was some one else in the white house besides Truman there wouldn't be this feeling of insecurity that exists. And maybe the troubles with the world-hating Russians would be ended in some way if things were different in Washington.

But there is one thing sure, tourists no matter where they go from now on, are not going to be taken for suckers with a lot of easy money to throw away.

The newspapers report that night clubs and the racing tracks are taking in a much smaller amount than they did last year. In fact, if the truth was known, the income of these places is probably half of what it was in previous years.

Attendance at the Gulfstream race track, according to Miami papers, is not as large as was the attendance at the Northville Downs little race meet in Northville last fall.

A big Miami Beach cafeteria the other day advertised a 25 per cent cut in the cost of foods to patrons.

A room in a nearby neighborhood that rented for $84 a week last year is now offered for $35 with no takers.

Friends over in St. Petersburg say that owners of rental property there who have also been reaping a harvest by high charges in past years are now crying their eyes out because of poor business.

And all of this serves as a warning to northern Michigan owners of tourists accommodations. A well known Lansing newspaper man who went to a certain section of Michigan's highly advertised tourist part of the state, declared that during his vacation last summer he was "robbed" at every place he got a meal or stopped over night.

"I'll never go back to that part of Michigan again to spend a cent—and I'm going to warn all of my friends against the section that I visited," he said. "To think of it, some of the money I pay the state in taxes is used to help advertise these tourist places that rob you when you go there to spend a few days."

It is easy to see that it will not be a difficult matter for those catering to the tourist business to kill "the goose that has been buying the golden egg."

People who spend their vacations by touring various parts of the country can very easily find other means of recreation and it appears that large numbers of them are doing so.

Maybe these high prices charged tourists in recent years may account somewhat for the tremendous increase in the number of automobile trailers. The other day on one short trip on a main highway, we passed eleven of these trailers in less than two hours of driving.

The Florida tourist season is about half over. It may pick up a bit at periods during the next five or six weeks, but up to the present time it has proven a great disappointment to those maintaining places that depend to a very large extent upon the tourist business.

When prices are once again normal and affairs in Washington are more settled than at the present, there is no question but what the Florida tourist business will also settle down as it should. Florida in the winter time has as much to offer in a climatic way as does Michigan in the summer time.

Its climate is about as ideal as one could hope for during December, January and February. True now and then there is a rainy, cool day. But on the whole, the weather is about as perfect as one would hope to find anywhere.

Ocean bathing may be O. K. for those who like the sticky, salty water,—it may be fine for one to take a plunge in the ocean and not freeze to death in the dead of winter.

But there is no comparison between ocean bathing and bathing in the Great Lakes that surround Michigan or even in its inland lakes, where the water is clear, sparkling and free of such pests as the Portuguese-men-of-war. Its long, fish-line-like tentacles that float through the ocean water, if a bather is not alert, will wrap itself around your arms and legs and give you a stinging that is far worse than that of any bumble bee and lasts for hours wherever the fish-line tenacle touches you.

It is our prediction that vacationists who seek the pleasures of Florida's delightful winter sunshine in future years and Michigan's cool breezes in the summer time will find that ransom prices are a thing of the past. If they are not relegated, there will be but little tourist business for any one to try to loot.

BERSON

Babson Discusses Inflation

Babson Park, Fla., Jan. 23. Most of the talk about "inflation" is bunk. When people have nothing else to lay their troubles to they lay it to inflation. Merchants blame high prices on inflation; politicians blame all losses on inflation; while even farmers are blaming the weather on inflation. Certainly the investigations which are being held to study prices are mostly eyewitness or whitewash.

What Is Inflation?

Inflation is not the fault of farmers, manufacturers, retailers or any other one group. In fact, there is no such thing as "inflation." Our troubles are just a question of Supply and Demand. When there is more demand for goods than there is supply, prices go up and they call it inflation; but when there are more goods than there is demand, prices go down, and they call it deflation.

This means that the only cure for high prices, or inflation so-called, is to either curtail buying or increase production. This means that the cure is up to all of us. When we spend less, we are helping to reduce prices; while if we increase our buying, we increase prices. The only other cure for high prices is to produce more. This is up to labor. The real trouble with labor is not their wages so much as it is their restricted working hours and faulty production.

What Should We Expect?

We should expect to continue to pay high prices for real estate until building increases, and the only way that building will increase, and the only way that building will increase is to allow rents to go up. Price fixing also retards production. So long as production is low then we are troubled with high prices. Take the ceiling off on rents and, of course, rents would go up for awhile, but that would mean building would increase, and finally rents would go down. Only then would we all have enough homes at a reasonable price.

We complain about the price of meat and various other things, but sooner or later the price of these products will be so high and the profits so attractive it will cause many more people to go into the business of raising cattle and other farm produce, and manufacturing other things that have gone up in price. These prices will again fall. It is true that the "mills of God" grind slowly, but they grind ultimately in the people's interests. Labor unions succeed in raising money wages but not real wages. Unless wage-workers increase production as their wages increase, they are no better off in the end.

What Has Happened to Citrus?

What has happened to the market for grapefruit and oranges is a proof of all I have said above. It costs much more to raise citrus fruit today than ever before. Wages are much higher, fertilizer is more expensive, and even the railroad freights are greater. Yet, the prices for citrus fruits today are less than they were when the cost of production was much lower. If all our troubles are due to "inflation", inflation should help the citrus growers with higher prices to overcome these higher costs.

The answer is that there is no such thing as "inflation". It is only a question of supply and demand. Citrus growers do not benefit unless there is more demand for their products. Right here in Florida we see the cattle people very prosperous while the fruit growers are very sad. The reason is that there is an excess demand for meat with a small supply, while there is a big supply of citrus and a small demand. Neither the price of beef nor the price of citrus is due to "inflation".

What Shall Housewives Do?

We all should buy the things which are in surplus supply rather than, through habit, continue to buy high-priced things. The next time you go shopping ask the clerk to give you a list of the things that haven't gone up, and then change your food. This also applies to shoes, clothing, and household furnishings. Customs to using those things. Now that the turn of the year is past and there are "sales" going on, this is the time to do your buying. Wise buyers will stock up with goods during the month of January while these mark-down sales are in progress.

There was a total of eight nominating petitions filed with the village clerk, Monday, for the last day for filing petitions for the nomination of three village commissioners to be elected at the annual village election, which will be held Monday, March 12. This number of nominees makes it necessary to hold a primary election, which takes place on Tuesday, February 13. Petitions have been filed for the following: George Robinson, E. R. Daggett, J. W. Henderson, R. R. Paerrett, W. T. Pettingill, Frank Rambo, Henry J. Fisher and D. F. Mueyay. See notice of primary election and registration in this paper.

Dr. R. E. Cooper, village health officer, reports that the last case of small-pox quarantine in the village was lifted, Thursday. The village is now free from the epidemic of small-pox, which has prevailed here, and it is not likely any more cases will develop, as vaccination has been almost general in the schools and among adults.
