

Pins Awarded to Ten New Jaycees

Pins were awarded to ten new Junior Chamber of Commerce members at the meeting held Wednesday, January 21, in commemoration of "Founders' Week." Those receiving membership pins were: James C. Bosscher, J. Craig Bowly, Donald Johnson, Robert Schoen, Duane Sheldon, Carl Sonderegger, Phillip Theobald, Paul Wagner, Edwin Winegard, and Phillip Warren. It was at this meeting that Mr. Wagner was named as Plymouth's outstanding young man of the year, and presented with an award by George Fraser, state Jaycee president.

Special guests attending the meeting included charter members and bosses, Hickman Price, Jr., executive vice president of the Kaiser-Frazer export corporation, was the evening's speaker.

Students Help in Drive for Dimes

An announcement revealing Plymouth's total contributions in the March of Dimes drive will be made next week, according to Neva Lovewell, chairman. The drive began January 15 and is concluded today, Friday. The chairman enthusiastically described the cooperation and willingness of high school students to work during the campaign. They acted as messengers, she stated, and were instrumental in the distribution of the canisters.

Girl Scouts of the city aided in the collection of funds in the theaters Sunday through Wednesday. Other donations were received in the canisters which were placed in a majority of the stores and business offices. Special drives were conducted in the schools and all the factories were contacted.

Members of the two grade schools enacted an actual march during the giving of their contributions, Miss Lovewell reported. The young people marched to the music of their grade school bands and each in turn dropped his money in the canister. Nate S. Shaper, Wayne County chairman for the March of Dimes, has pointed out the need of redoubled public support in this fight against polio, stating that the rising tide of polio incidence in the past five years is part of an alarming upward trend that has become a real threat to national health.

According to a report from Mr. Shaper, approximately $215,118 was spent by the Wayne County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in 1947 for medical services to individual patient and medical supplies and equipment. Three out of the last four years have seen a high incidence of polio in Wayne County. Reserve funds from previous years have been completely wiped out and with the start of this year's campaign the chapter was left with less than $1,000.

The average cost of caring for a polio patient in Wayne County is approximately $14 a day. Since March 1944, the Wayne County chapter has helped 45 patients with medical care costing $1,000 or more. As much as $7,500 has been spent on a single case in a period of 15 months.

A total of 112,000 cases of polio has been recorded nationally since 1938. An estimated 88,000 of these have been aided in some way by facilities provided by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, according to Shaper. "Polio has a cumulative quality about it. Every year brings new cases. Each year leaves many patients in need of post-hospital care. The national average cost for one case runs close to $2,000. And, just as important, we must continue to finance research projects to find a cure or preventive for this terrible disease, Mr. Shaper said.

ber 1946, projects infra red rays directly upon the vegetation, heating it from 2 to 8 degrees higher than surrounding air temperature within the protected area and without heating the air.

Its pagoda-like projector, surrounds a heater in which fuel oil is burned under high pressure. This gives off heat and throws off the invisible infra red rays from the metal surface of the heater.

Field tests during the fall at Michigan State college demonstrated that the unit would protect tender plants and tomatoes against moderate frosts at distances of more than 100 feet from the machines when used in groups.

The efficiency of the device was greatly improved this fall. A new metal used in its manufacture will allow greater coverage with a smaller and less costly unit.

V. R. Gardner, director of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station, gave much credit to the Detroit Board of Commerce for its help in this development. He pointed out that it is further evidence of the accomplishments which are possible when industry and agriculture join their forces toward the solution of a problem.

The development of this machine offers possibilities for a more practical, effective and lower cost method of frost prevention which is adaptable to fruit, flowers, truck crops and other high value crops.

Shrine Circus Highly Lauded

"The Shrine Circus is the best in years."

This is the contention of Dr. H. C. Balfour, local Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat specialist, who is a member of the medical committee of the Moslem Shrine circus now being staged at the State Fair coliseum. He has served at the circus for the past several years, and has witnessed numerous performances during that time.

"The circus this year is positively the best that I have seen it," Dr. Balfour reported. "No one, young or old, should miss this spectacle. It has all the thrills, surprises and humor of the old time circuses, plus the high quality performances of the greatest artists of the trapeze and ring. This year these artists are far outshining their performances of the past."

Tickets are available from members of the Moslem Shrine or at the fairgrounds. The circus closes February 8.

Rainbow Installs New Officers

Plymouth Assembly No. 33, order of the Rainbow for girls, held its eighth installation Monday night, January 26, in the Masonic Temple.

Following the address of welcome by Mrs. Mary Kershaw, worthy matron of the Plymouth chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and the invocation by the Rev. Clifford Doty of the First Methodist church, the installing staff was introduced. They were: Mrs. Margaret Weyermiller, Allyn Williams, Marian Taylor, installing officers; Marilyn Karnatz, installing chaplain; Ann Cabot, installing marshal; Mrs. Kathleen Micol, installing recorder; Marjorie Tait, installing musician; and Mrs. Virginia Fisher, installing soloist.

Officers installed were: Elsie Mae Keeping, worthy advisor; Doris Ryder, worthy associate advisor; Pat Wickens, charity; Jean Agosta, hope; Sandra Walch, faith; Avis Zander, recorder; Jeanne Stillwagon, treasurer; Marilyn Vanhoy, chaplain; Nancy Gerst, drill leader; Shirlee Hopkins, love; Elaine Teitz, religion; Betty Jane Judd, nature; Beverly Patrick, immortality; Donna Hunt, fidelity; Sally Zink, patriotism; Pat Simons, service; Jean Kellems, confidential observer; Ann Preston, outer observer; Marilyn Brooker, musician; Shirley Adams, choir director; Sally McIntosh, flag bearer; Joan Butler, prompter; and Mrs. Gladys Ryder, mother advisor.

Following the installation, Allyn Williams was presented with a past worthy advisor's jewel by Marilyn Karnatz, and Mrs. Alice Rathbun with a past mother advisor's jewel by Marian Taylor. The new advisory board is composed of: Mrs. Gladys Ryder, Mrs. Mary Kershaw, John Tietz, Mrs. Erma Hughes, Arnold Williams, Mrs. Doris Tietz, Alice Rathbun, Mrs. Kathryn Wickens, Mrs. Beatrice Besse, Mrs. Beulah Smith, and Loren Goodale.

schemes is to bottle and sell as perfume the water from nearby Skunk Crik. All goes well until Elviry, Henry's domineering wife who is played by Mrs. Helen Poczik, gets wind of the scheme and intervenes. Bob Sandrock's primary interest in the Judkins household centers around Sue Judkins, Mrs. Phyllis Hewer.

The success of his courtship is repeatedly threatened by Elviry who believes that Squire Hicks, enacted by Vern Miller, the town sheriff and lawyer, is the perfect match for Sue. However, Miss Twitty, played by Mrs. Adah Langmaid, an old maid who is after a man—just any man—has decided that the squire is the only one for her.

As the play progresses she is determined to get him by "fair means or foul". Another romance develops between Mazie Moc, the Judkins cook, portrayed by Mrs. Phyllis Miller, and Elmer Judkins, the country tube, played by Gil Hamilton. While Elmer is interested in marbles, Mazie Mae is interested in Elmer and assumes an eel-like attitude towards him throughout the show.

Whether Henry and Bob meet with any degree of success depends largely upon Aunt Bessie, Mrs. Marjory Hoeft, who is the typical old lady of the hills and apparently owns the land where Skunk Crik is located. She consents to the use of her land only if her little black bear, Buster, played by ?????????? is returned to her.

The balancing figure in this topsy-turvy family is cousin Linney Pearl, Mrs. Louella Keller, who ignores the confusion and is completely contented with her rocks and mountain music. The cast is ably supported by a dancing and singing chorus of high school girls.

Whether the Skunk Crik perfume bottling works becomes more than an idle dream; whether Bob gets Sue, or Squire gets Sue, or Twitty gets the Squire; and what happens when Aunt Bessie's cub is found; are only a few of the incidents that make "Cornzapoppin'" a highly entertaining show.

Winners of the baby contest, which is being held in connection with the show, will be presented on the stage Thursday night, February 5, at 8:18 p.m.

A photographer who planned to take a picture of Lincoln while he was making the Gettysburg address had in sufficient time to get the camera adjusted before the address was over.

A "lame duck" is a politician whose goose has been cooked.

Baby Contest Now Underway Here

A baby contest is being staged in conjunction with the show, "Cornzapoppin'", which the Passage-Gayde auxiliary is sponsoring.

Any baby through six years of age can be entered, and two will be selected to serve as king and queen of Babyland. Silver prizes have been donated by Robert Simmons which will be presented the winners on the high school stage Thursday evening.

To enter a child in the contest, a picture must be turned in at Dunning and Youngs before Thursday, February 5, at 4 p.m. The winners will be selected by vote.

HOWDY FOLKS: The old-fashioned woman saved her wedding dress for her daughter. But the modern woman saves it for her next wedding.

"If everybody else would only do as I do, and stay in their seats, till everyone else has gone," said the elderly lady as she left the church, "there wouldn't be such a jam at the door."

The city visitor inquired at the village general store, "Have you anything in the shape of automobile tires?" "Yes," the storekeeper answered, "life-preservers, funeral wreaths, and doughnuts."

We carry neither funeral wreaths nor doughnuts, but we do offer you the best lubricating service to be had. That means safer, smoother driving for you, and longer life for your car. Drive in and try it.

Plymouth Rocks Trounce Trenton Trojans in Thrilling League Tilt

By Al Larson

The Plymouth Rocks trounced the Trenton Trojans, Friday, January 23, with a score of 45-27 for the down-river boys first cage defeat of the season.

Leading Trenton at the end of each quarter, the Blue and White were able to win the first game for their new coach, John Klingebarger, who made his initial appearance Friday night. The Rocks now have a record of 5 wins and 2 losses for a percentage of .714.

Following is the individual scoring of the game:

Table with columns for FG, FT, TP for both Plymouth and Trenton players.

Half-time score was Plymouth 21, Trenton 13.

Red Sox Down Firemen, Remain Undefeated

The Red Sox remained undefeated as they downed the Firemen 30-4 at the high school Saturday.

Al Williams scored ten points for the Red Sox as they led 11-3 at the half. Jim Wells scored the only field goal for the Firemen.

Kiwanis Teams to Meet Again

South Lyon's Kiwanis bowling team, although defeated by the Plymouth Kiwanis team in a recent match, is coming back for more.

In the first match Phillip Barney's team totaled 2429, while their opposing team rolled a 2100.

Reserves Defeated in Tight Contest 37-35

Playing probably their most thrilling encounter of this cage season, the Rock Reserves ended up on the short end of the final score 37-35 to the Trenton Trojans Friday, January 23.

Trailing by the two points at the end of the first half, Coach Eddie Bender's "five" fought to the end of the regulation time, but failed to score as they fell one point short 42-41.

Atchinson Nips Blunk's Rally

For three periods Atchinson Motor Sales of Northville seemed to be coasting to another victory, but Blunk's by a surge of last period power almost overhauled to Plymouth-Chryslers.

At the end of the third quarter Atchinson led 40-25. In the last period Blunk's scored 16 points as Atchinson could only hit for two points.

Firemen Score First Victory Tuesday

The Firemen won their first game as they defeated the Wildcats Tuesday evening 13-12 in an exciting game.

With Gramm and the Woolly brothers scoring in the first half, the Wildcats held a 8-4 lead at that point. The Firemen rallied in the last half, led by Kisabeth who scored six points to emerge victorious.

DeHoCo Again Falls to Parkside

Parkside Bar defeated DeHoCo in a one sided game Thursday, January 22. At the half Parkside led 48-18 and finished leading 73-48.

Orlan Egloff scored 26 points for Parkside as Clare Ebersole also got 20 points. Conn led DeHoCo with 14 points.

All-Stars Knock Ball Hawks from First Place

In the second game Saturday the All-Stars and Ball-Hawks, both undefeated, met for the first time.

The Ball-Hawks led at the half 9-6 and 11-10 at the third quarter, but the All-Stars rallied to finally win 16-15.

Sky Scrapers Win on Swishers Forfeit

In the final game Tuesday evening the Swishers could not place five men on the court and forfeited their game to the Sky Scrapers. Members of the Swishers were busy at home studying for their final examinations.

GIRLS HAVE ACTIVE SEMESTER IN SPORTS

The official girls' basketball tournament will get under way at the beginning of the second semester, February 2. The teams have been chosen and practice began after Christmas vacation. During this semester the girls have had gymnasium on Tuesday and Thursday nights, Monday and Wednesday will be the intramural nights in second semester.

Besides the basketball tournament, a ping-pong tournament, is will under way. The third round of the game is being played off this week. Each girl who entered the conflict has two chances to play.

The Leaders club is now preparing to take in new members who are interested in sports. During the first week of the second semester a test on basketball and volleyball rules will be given to determine who the new members will be. The other qualifications for membership are 125 points earned toward the girls' letters previous to the semester in which they wish to enter the club, and good sportsmanship.

Two initiations, one informal and one formal, will be held.

TWO FACULTY MEMBERS ARE ADDED TO STAFF

Plymouth High school will welcome a new faculty member next Monday when Mrs. Helen McPherson will take over the English classes formerly taught by Mrs. Beulah Krieg.

Mrs. Krieg will take Mrs. Donna Reincke's place in the Guidance department. Mrs. McPherson is a graduate of the University of Michigan and her home is in Ann Arbor.

Another new faculty member who has already begun work in the basketball coach, John Klingeburger, who replaces Coach "Bill" Scott. Coach Klingeburger will take over all of Mr. Scott's classes and athletic duties.

Mr. Klingeburger has attended Elmhurst college, Butler university, Colgate U. and the University of Michigan. He hails from Shelbyville, Indiana, and has served 33 months in the Navy, including 15 months overseas. He has handled some coaching in high school and has coached the University of Michigan freshmen.

Nutrition Aids

from the American Red Cross Nutrition Service

There's more good under the jacket of potatoes than most people realize. Women in Plymouth who are trying to keep their families well fed, both from the standpoint of nutritive value and good flavor, will be smart to boost their purchases of potatoes.

At the same time they are helping their own food budgets they will be contributing toward saving more wheat to help people abroad. Like cereal products, potatoes are starchy so naturally an extra serving of potatoes each day means one less serving of cereal food.

It's this starch content that has helped to give potatoes an undeserved bad name as a fattening food. Some people avoid them for fear of adding an extra bulge to the figure.

As a matter of fact it's not the potato that is guilty because a medium size one is no more fattening than an orange or an apple. The real offender in the case is the big dab of butter or the generous serving of rich gravy put on top of the potato.

Penny for penny potatoes offer more energy value than any of the other vegetables. In addition to this well known contribution they add considerable amounts of some of the protective foods—the minerals and vitamins. Eaten daily they may provide as much as one-fourth of the vitamin C quota and a goodly share of the iron needed by the body.

Of course how much of these elements are eaten depends on how the potatoes are handled in cooking. To get the most from them follow these tips:

COOK IN THE JACKETS whenever possible. This not only protects the minerals which are concentrated under the skin but helps prevent loss of vitamin C and cuts down on waste of pulp.

As far as food value is concerned steaming the potatoes in the skins is the best method of cooking, second is boiling in the jackets, and third is baking.

KEEP PEELINGS THIN, if potatoes must be pared before cooking, and do the paring just before putting the vegetable into boiling water. Starting in boiling water saves time, saves flavor and saves food value.

DRAIN AND SERVE as soon as tender. Leaving them in the water means soggy potatoes as well as loss of food value. If there are some left over potatoes store them in a tightly covered container in the refrigerator. If cooked in their jackets peel them just before using.

BREAKFAST TREAT

Using potatoes more often calls for increasing the numbers of ways in which they are served. Sunday morning breakfast is a good time to try potato pancakes. They take more time than ordinary pancakes but they're worth every extra minute.

When meat and wheat are more plentiful serve smoked pork sausages and apple sauce with the pancakes. These days, skip the sausage.

Potato Pancakes

Two cups grated raw potato, 1/4 cup milk, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons fine, dry bread crumbs or flour, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion (optional), salt and pepper to taste.

Put grated potato immediately into milk to prevent darkening. Drain milk from potatoes, but save it. To potatoes add well beaten egg, bread crumbs or flour, the onion, and enough of the milk to make a stiff batter. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Drop by large spoonsful into a well greased frying pan. Cook until well browned and crisp on both sides. Serve at once. Serves 6.

SOUP'S ON

A thick, hearty soup is the basis for a tempting lunch for the whole family on a cold winter day. Serve the potato and carrot chowder for which the recipe is given below with crackers and crisp celery. Stewed dried apricots and big molasses cookies have just the right amount of tart sweetness to make a good dessert after the bland main course.

Potato-Carrot Chowder

One medium size onion, 1/4 cup butter, margarine or bacon drippings, 2 cups diced raw potatoes, 2 carrots, diced, 2 cups boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 cups scalded milk.

Chop onion fine and cook in 2 tablespoons of the fat in a large saucepan, stirring constantly until lightly browned. Add diced vegetables, boiling water, salt and paprika and boil gently, covered, for about 15 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Melt remaining fat and blend flour into it. Mix to a thin paste with a small amount of hot milk. Add to vegetable mixture with remaining milk and cook, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Taste and add more salt if needed. Serve at once. Serves 6.

In Manhattan, when Sylvia Davenport's groom disappeared, she hired a sleuth who presently found the missing groom around the corner, getting married again.

A course in after dinner speaking has been given at the U. S. Naval Academy for several years.

THE GOLDEN HILLS
Grace Noll Crowell

ONCE in a dark and troubled time
When I saw no road ahead,
A wise and kindly counselor
Saw by my side and said:
"Each morning I drive down a valley road
To get to my work, and I
Can often see nothing at all for the fog
That blots out the earth and sky,
But I say to myself, 'I shall drive ahead,
Carefully, without sight.
For I know I shall come onto higher ground
Where the hills are gold with light,
And I just keep on...'
Oh, wise kind words
That fell on my heart that day,
Nothing can blot them from my mind,
Nothing can take them away,
And now when a thick fog shuts me in
To choke me and blind my eyes,
I am so glad for the hills ahead,
For the friend who is kind and wise!

L. B. Rice Attends AAA Conference

L. B. Rice, Automobile club of Michigan's Plymouth division manager, has been called to Detroit for participation in an annual conference Saturday, January 31, on 1948 plans for making travel easier and pleasanter for its statewide motorist membership.

Club officials will call on Rice to supply requirements of Plymouth members and discuss problems peculiar to the Plymouth area. Now in its thirty-second year of operation, Auto club became the largest organization of motorists in the world with 250,000 members by concentrating its efforts on travel and road service.

On severe days its statewide road facilities answer more than 15,000 calls per day. Its safety and traffic program carries into 7,000 Michigan schools. Through its leadership in cooperating with school agencies and auto manufacturers, more than 100 Michigan schools now offer complete driver-training courses with dual-control cars. The club now routes travelers anywhere in the world by train, air, water or road.

Odds and Ends

In Denver, the city council refused to abolish the Park Hill bus route, despite the Denver Tramway Corp.'s complaint: the drivers were always getting lost.

In New Orleans, Duck-Calling Champion Clement Estain took his gun and his quack out hunting on the second day of the season, quacked, and got shot.

In Harlingen, Texas, Gunman H. C. Patterson hurriedly robbed the First National Bank of 32¢, rushed out the door right into the open door of a police car.

GETTING THE JOB DONE IN PLYMOUTH

A lot of folks here still are waiting for telephones. That is because we have had to wait for enough new wire and cable to link their homes with the central office.

Bell System telephone factories, swamped with orders for equipment needed to meet the huge nation-wide demand, have been breaking all production records. We're happy to say a substantial amount of wire and cable has arrived and our construction crews are now at work in this area.

But adding new wire and cable takes time. It must be carefully fitted into the existing telephone system. Poles must be set, cable placed and spliced—all without interrupting present telephone service.

Meanwhile, our present facilities are serving more telephones and handling more calls than ever before. And as additional wire and cable are installed, still more families will be getting telephones.

In one short week 10,000,000 people jammed showrooms to see the amazing, beautiful new Hudson—a new kind of motor car—only five feet from ground to top, but with more inside head room and roomier seats than in any other mass-produced car built today!

Hudson is the only American-built car you step down into when entering, not up on—yet it maintains road clearance.

Hudson's new, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame is the only motor-car construction that completely encircles you, even outside the rear wheels, with a rugged, box-steel foundation frame.

You ride within this frame—cradled between axles—not on top of the frame as in other cars. And as you ride, Hudson's combination of unique construction and comfort features gives you a sensation of snug safety and serene, smooth going unlike anything you've known before!

Meet the new Hudson—get all the facts about Hudson's all-new Super-Six engine, the power-packed Super-Eight engine, and Hudson's "Drive-Master" transmission that provides automatic gear shifting in forward speeds. Drop in at the nearest Hudson showroom. Find out why millions of Americans are exclaiming, "This time it's Hudson!"

Michigan Spent Over $12,000,000 Last Year to Support Indigents

(By Elton R. Eaton)

Everybody says that these are prosperous times, that anybody who wants a job and is competent to hold it, can get work. In fact, it seems, that a lot of good positions are going unfilled because some people do not want to take the time to gain the proper experience to hold these good and well paying jobs.

But what has this got to do with the question of how your tax dollars are spent by this grand old state of Michigan?

We all kick about taxes and we can't understand how or where the state is spending so much of it. Self-seeking lobbyists in recent years have created the belief among people that the state treasury is bulging with tax money and that the state can provide dollars for any and everything.

Recently we started to tell you about some of the big expenditures the state is forced to meet that you never hear much about. Probably you have realized that the taxpayers of Michigan serve as foster-father to more than 50,000 boys and girls of this state—boys and girls who have no father to provide them with the mere necessities that boys and girls require.

Maybe you were surprised to know that more than $18,000,000 was spent by the state last year in the care of these dependent boys and girls.

In these days when there seems to be work everywhere for every one, it seems difficult to believe, doesn't it, that Michigan last year spent more than $12,300,000 for direct relief of more than 57,000 people in these times when it seemingly is impossible to fill the jobs that are open to all types and kinds of workers.

Think of it! Over $12,300,000 for direct relief to more than 57,000 people in these times when it seemingly is impossible to fill the jobs that are open to all types and kinds of workers.

This vast amount of money comes directly out of the pockets of Michigan taxpayers. Over $6,200,000 came out of Michigan's general fund up in Lansing.

The other $6,000,000 was paid out of the various county treasurers' offices in Michigan. The state's share was paid by you in the sales tax you remit to the state every time you buy anything.

The amount paid by the counties came out of the real estate tax you pay to the counties.

Real estate owners can readily see from this that they are taxed twice to support those who are on direct relief in Michigan.

The state of Michigan does not administer direct relief. That is entirely a county responsibility. The state's only part in this program is to provide cash through its well administered Department of Social Welfare. No federal funds are used in the support of Michigan's welfare program.

But one should not condemn this expenditure of public money to support those who are in distress and have no way of providing for themselves the necessities of life.

Many are on the welfare because of sickness or disabilities through accidents.

The State Department of Social Welfare says that only about 3,200 of the 37,000 receiving welfare aid can be considered as employable. And of this number over two-thirds are women. Surprising as it may seem nearly one-third of all direct relief dependents are children under 18 years of age who cannot qualify for aid as dependent children, under the law which was discussed in a previous article.

In these two articles we have pointed out over $30,000,000 of your tax dollars are spent in the care of dependent children and of the sick and disabled people who cannot support themselves or qualify for old age pensions.

In the next article will be discussed the reason why $40,000,000 more of your tax dollars are spent each year by the state in the relief and support of other dependents of the state.

The latest in home cooking units is a portable novelty, equipped with two electric burners, that can be wheeled anywhere desired. It's fitted out with carrying board, utensil holder, condiment shelf, drawer and a vegetable bin.

In Springfield, Mass., police said that hospital attendants treated Joseph Jaciow for a new stomach ache after he had innocently tried to cut out the old one with his dirk.

The County Agent's Farm Tip Column

By E. I. Besemer
Wayne County Agent

The County-wide Dairy Banquet and Program sponsored by the Wayne County Extension Office, and the Michigan Milk Producers Association drew a crowd of 87 dairymen and their wives. Fred Kendall, WJR Tenor, who lives at Plymouth sang several Irish songs that pleased the audience very much. Gordon Gill, Chairman of the Cherry-Hill milk local was Chairman of the Program. Lyle Littlefield, assistant Chief, Bureau of Dairying, State Dept. of Agriculture, gave a talk on the dairy industry of Michigan.

There were about 70 vegetable growers who met for an all-day meeting in the auditorium of the Wayne County General Hospital at Eloise. Specialists from Michigan State College brought them information on the latest developments in insect disease and weed control. Recently developed sprays have proved effective in controlling many annual weeds in vegetable crops. Hormones, properly applied have increased the set and size of tomatoes. The vegetable growers were told to go easy in using the new insecticides—they are all powerful poisons and must be handled accordingly.

The Livestock Men of Wayne County are reminded to attend the District Meeting of the Michigan Livestock Exchange, Wednesday, February 4 at 2:00 P.M. in the Township Hall, Romulus.

The fruit growers of Wayne County will meet in the City Hall, Plymouth, at 1:30 P.M. Thursday, February 5. Kelly Langer, Horticultural Specialist, will discuss fruit growers problems.

With fire destroying more than $100,000,000 worth of farm property in America during 1947, the New Year calls for farmers of Wayne County, to put fire prevention and protection practices to work vigorously this year. Urging farmers to be prepared in 1948, Mr. Besemer said, "The only way that we are going to successfully combat fires in 1948 is to take all possible steps to prevent fires and to provide all possible protection against fires. A glance at last year's fire loss record should convince all farmers that fire doesn't always happen to the other fellow." County Agent E. I. Besemer offers a five-point program which farmers could use as a guide to better fire protection and prevention. "The best way to guard against fire is to plan a safety program. The following suggestions have worked in the past. Farmers can use them during 1948 as a basis for effective protection."

1. Keep your farm clean. Good housekeeping in and around all buildings will automatically get rid of fire hazards.
2. Make regular checks on all electrical equipment and circuits.

3. Keep all heating units in good condition. Make sure chimneys and flues are free of cracks.
4. Cure hay and grain and manure properly. Stored hay should be inspected regularly for odors, smoke, gas and heat—all warning signals.
5. Make sure there is equipment on farms with which to combat fires. Approved fire extinguishers should be in every home and outbuilding. Make sure they are inspected regularly and that every member of the family knows how to use them. Fires are preventable, and as for fire protection, let's not have too little late in '48. Let's all get busy and make American farms the safest place to live," Mr. Besemer concludes.

When washing lingerie, put a few lumps of sugar into rinse water. Your garments will look much better than if starched in the usual way.

Petticoat Patter
By Charlotte Winterhalter and Kay Knowlton

Have you seen it yet? We're talking about the newly redecorated Coffee Shoppe in the Mayflower Hotel. All done in cream, coral, and green with handmade wallpaper murals depicting the pilgrims landing on Plymouth Rock, it's worth a trip just to see, not to speak of the wonderful wood awaiting you when you arrive. Mr. Lofy tells us he's featuring Sunday dinners there, and we can easily understand why. And, if you're planning a party, why not have it in the new Coffee Shoppe.

It wasn't long ago that the country was faced with a meat shortage, and it could happen again. In fact, one is expected this spring. But, if you purchase a home freezer now, you can ward off those meatless days ahead. Mr. Galen and associates at D. Galen & Son, Appliances, are experts in the technical aspects connected with packaging and operating your home freezer, and they will gladly give you the necessary information. You may ask, "Why buy a home freezer when locker space is available?" Have you ever had friends come unexpectedly for dinner? With the home freezer you can whip up a complete meal in 30 minutes. Doesn't that sound wonderful? And all out of your freezing unit. It's perfect for fruits and vegetables out of your garden, and for fowl you raise or your husband brings home from his hunting trips. You can save valuable time by bringing home a week's supply of food from your locker, about buying your home freezer. Stop in and talk to Mr. Galen now.

Hearts and flowers are in order for February 14, and now is the time to make arrangements to order to have it in time for Valentine's day. There is no nicer gift for your loved ones than a beautifully mounted portrait of yourself or the children. These pictures can be ordered in freezer black or white prints or tinted in life-like color. Call Mrs. Ball at L. L. Ball Studio—at the point of the park—phone 72, and make your appointment now.

The new Maytag Home Freezer— as Practical as it is Beautiful

Many unusual features distinguish this freezer from all others. Designed for the kitchen, it serves as kitchen table, with a handy fold-down leaf attachment for extra work space and breakfast table. Capacity, 6 cubic feet—holds 300 pounds of meat or 240 pounds (average) of meat, fruit and vegetables. Quick food defroster for foods requiring it. Counter-balanced lid opens easily—stays up without holding. Lid and throat finished in stainless steel. Be sure to see it soon.

The other day while I was talking to Bill Wood at 276 S. Main St. the fire whistle blew and with a woman's curiosity, I wondered if some poor family was burned out of their home on that below zero day, and if they had complete fire insurance to cover their losses. If you are in any doubt about your policies, call 22 and ask about the many types available, so that if anything happens you will be completely covered by that wonderful thing—INSURANCE.

We know from experience, what an awful chore it is to carry a big armload of clothes to the cleaners, so here is good news from Herald Tri Cleaners, 628 S. Main street. They will pick up any garment, clean it, and deliver it back to you in 48 hours. Just call 110. But, if you're an ambitious soul and take the clothes to yourself, you can get 24 hour service on any woollen garment. Sounds almost too good to be true, doesn't it?

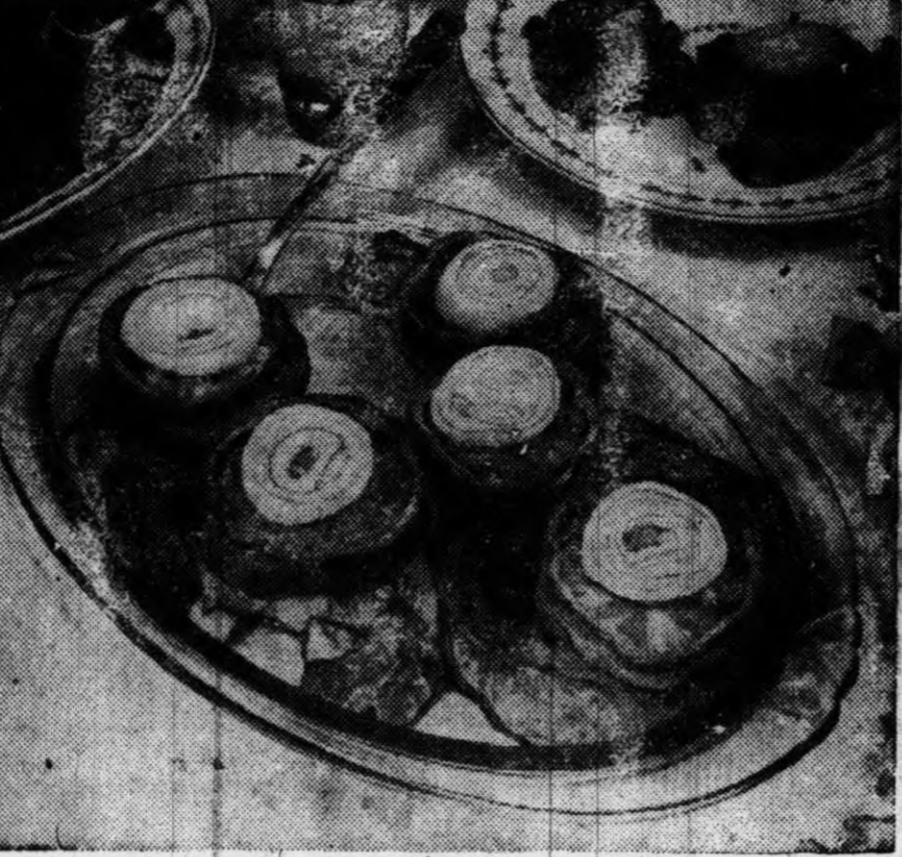

This zero weather certainly plays havoc with the performance of our auto, especially this business of getting them started in the mornings, if your car is acting up these days, take it over to Jarsky Bros. Mobilgas Station, 406 N. Main street. They do all kinds of minor repair work. As a precaution against further trouble, have the crank case drained and filled with the new Mobiloil which gives excellent lubrication at low temperatures. While you're there, fill up with Mobilgas — The Flying Horsepower.

The scarcity of food overseas, especially wheat for flour, is no news to any of us, but here where we have plenty, the big news today is the sale on name brand flour. Lidgard Bros., 196 Liberty, is offering this Friday and Saturday, January 30-31. These brands, namely Pillsbury, Robin Hood, and Gold Medal, can be had at greatly reduced prices in ten and twenty five pound bags. Don't forget to stop in and order your winter's supply this weekend.

Have you given any thought to the new short hair styles? If not, we think now is the time to do so with spring not so very far away. Pat Cockeran at Pat's Beauty Salon, 357 N. Main street, phone 1420, is closing her shop February 4-5 to go to the Hair-dresses Convention in Detroit, and will bring back all the newest hair styles to YOU. Pat tells us she plans to enter a model in the hair styling contest. Good luck, Pat. We hope you win a blue ribbon.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Company for Dinner
"I just don't feel like I can entertain now that food prices are so high," said a friend of mine to me recently. Actually you can do so, I explained to her, if you serve less expensive food but dress it up, company style.

There's pot roast, for instance, which, done to succulence and tenderness, and garnished with stuffed prunes or spiced crab apples, leaves nothing to be desired. Or what about a meat loaf? Now there's a good old-fashioned meat dish that can be dressed up beautifully with a fluting of mashed potatoes and served with parsnip carrots and glazed onions.

Short ribs of beef? Yes, indeed, there are few meat dishes that can come up to it in tastiness. Desserts can be made that are very inexpensive, but, put in a mold, they have "company manners." Here are menus to fit the smallest of purses, but they all have style and class.

Menu I.
Yorkshire Steak
Seven-Minute Cabbage
Glazed Carrots
Tossed Salad
French Dressing

Menu II.
Pork Roast with Spicy Sauce
Sweet Potatoes
Cabbage-Pineapple Slaw
Brussels Sprouts
Whole Wheat Biscuits
Frozen Orange Cream
Pork Roast with Spicy Sauce. (Serves 6)

Menu III.
Tomato Juice
Savory Meat Loaf
Green Peppers Stuffed with Corn
Browned Potatoes
Orange Rolls
Grapefruit Salad
Apple Betty with Hard Sauce
Chocolate Souffle

Menu IV.
Savory Meat Loaf (Serves 8)
2 pounds ground beef
1 egg, slightly beaten
¼ cup minced onion
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1½ cups condensed vegetable soup
2 cups bread crumbs
½ cup fat

Mix ingredients thoroughly in the order given, with the exception of the fat. Shape into loaf and place in a pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 1½ hours. Baste meat every 15 minutes with a mixture of the fat and 1 cup boiling water.

If mashed potato topping for meat loaf is desired, swirl on top of loaf when it has finished baking, then run under broiler flame to brown the potatoes.

Released by WNU Features.

A recent survey showed that seven out of 10 drivers involved in fatal accidents were breaking a traffic law at the time of the accident—one in five had been drinking and one in 20 was drunk.

"Pack a Punch in Every Lunch" Foods Specialist Advises

Packing a lunch that "packs a punch" and avoiding that day to day sameness is a problem for many homemakers. Aim always to include something crisp, something juicy, and one hot, one sweet, one tart or salty, and one colorful food. Advises Roberta Hershey, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State college.

Remember that each lunch box should contain one-third of the food supply for the person who eats it. Check the next lunches you pack to see whether you score 100. Give yourself 20 points if the lunch includes meat, poultry, egg, cheese, fish or beans. Add 20 more points if the bread is whole grain or enriched, and varied in kind in the lunch and from day to day. Give yourself 20 more points if you have put in some form of fruit.

Using a vegetable either in a sandwich filling, relish, salad, or hot dish will add 20 points to your total score. Using milk or cheese either plain or combined in other foods will give you the final 20 points and you will score 100. That wasn't hard—now check your lunches for attractiveness.

Lettuces put in sandwiches is likely to wilt and is better when wrapped separately. Pack foods in the order in which they are to be eaten, except that heavy foods must always be on the bottom. Be generous with waxed paper and paper napkins.

Thermos bottles add a chance for variety in the lunch box with either hot or cold beverages in them. Tomato juice, broth, soups, cocoa, fruit juices, or milk are a few suggestions.

Presenting the new 1948
PONTIAC
A FINE CAR MADE EVEN FINER!

GM Hydra-Matic Drive optional on all models!

Today, Pontiac announces a series of notable advancements in the car that has already won the wholehearted endorsement of more than a million owners and friends. Foremost among these advancements is the great General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive—now offered as optional equipment on all Pontiac cars. Pontiac is the lowest-priced car in the world to provide this great mechanical masterpiece—which shifts gears automatically, and completely eliminates the clutch pedal.
Coupled with this great engineering triumph is a striking improvement in beauty and luxury. New exterior smartness extends from the new radiator grille to the streamlined rear bumper.
Interiors, too, are remarkably improved. Upholsteries are more beautiful and are expertly blended to achieve new attractiveness and charm. Instrument panels are finished in a smart design adapted from quarter-sawn mahogany—and an adroit use of chrome moulding adds a deft touch of modernity.
Engine and chassis have been refined wherever possible—but they remain, basically, the same engineering masterpieces which have become synonymous in the automotive industry with goodness and dependability.
There are many more things we could tell you about the new Pontiac, for there are countless improvements which add to its traditional quality and value. But we feel that, for those who know Pontiac, we need only say——here is, by far, the most beautiful Pontiac ever built —here is the most luxurious Pontiac ever built —here is the most dependable Pontiac ever built —and it is now available with General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive—*optional at additional cost.
We wish only to add that it is here—on display in our showroom—and that you are most cordially invited to see and inspect it.

My MICHIGAN
 BY • ELTON R. EATON

In recent years it has not been difficult to believe anything that has been printed or said about the so-called Hollywood movie colony. The recent Communist hearings in Washington have added to the unfavorable public attitude towards these over-paid and glorified "artists," if they can be called that.

We have applauded, too, the efforts being made by a number of prominent leaders within the business to clean up the trash that is fast dragging down a great American institution.

Now comes along a news report that some top-ranking motion picture actors, Clark Gable, Frank Morgan and Johnny Mack Brown, have pleaded guilty out in California to a charge of being game hogs, that is, they plead guilty to killing more than their limit of ducks in one day.

While Michigan sportsmen last fall rigidly followed the limits set by the federal and state governments as to the number of ducks that could be killed in one day, these "movie" game hogs didn't have the slightest regard for the law or what it is intended to do.

Gable was charged originally with having 25 ducks in his possession, 21 more than the limit for one day's possession, 21 more than the limit for one day's hunting. He first declared that he hadn't shot a single duck, according to Time magazine. But he later pleaded guilty (after one of the M-G-M lawyers had seen the game warden) to possessing six ducks. He paid a fine of $200. Frank Morgan had 13 ducks in his possession from one day's hunt and he likewise pleaded guilty and was fined $200. The other fellow had 16 ducks and he paid a fine of $200, after pleading guilty.

What a fine kettle-of-fish that is for a bunch of fellows who ought to be outstanding in their efforts for conservation, to be caught like this.

It only goes to add to the unfortunate public sentiment growing up against certain motion picture actors. The writer has long been an enthusiastic movie fan. Like a lot of others who enjoy this type of entertainment, we have been somewhat alarmed by the unfavorable public sentiment whipped up to almost a hatred as a result of the recent congressional defiance by a group of so-called prominent people in the motion picture industry. Certainly Gable, Morgan and Brown did nothing to help win back good will by getting messed up in such direct violation of the conservation laws of their state. It is high time that the motion picture leaders of the country took quick and effective steps to win public good will and public support of a great and beneficial industry, even to the elimination of its game hogs and silly, sexy divorce seeking females irrespective of their talents.

While discussing game law violations on the part of some big-shot motion picture actors out in California, it might be proper to take a peek at our own state's observation of conservation laws.

Law defiance has become so bad that Director P. J. Hoffmaster, of the Michigan Conservation department recently requested a ruling from the attorney general on the statute that confers on conservation officers the power to search automobiles and other vehicles used by violators.

"If the provisions of this statute are faulty, we shall, of necessity, seek a remedy in the Legislature," Hoffmaster said.

Shooting of deer during both closed and open season, "road hunting" of other game and transportation of loaded firearms in cars are the sources of the greatest number of arrests. The law specifically makes illegal the possession of firearms in automobile in game areas between sunset and sunrise, except in hunting seasons. Loaded guns in cars are illegal at all times.

Because these offenses are at present classed as misdemeanors and because of conflict between court holdings and wording of the statute as to the right of conservation officers to make searches under certain circumstance involving misdemeanors, the clarification was sought.

Farmers in and around Plymouth will be interested in a conservation department plan to restore good pheasant hunting in this state. The department recently issued a new statement in which it said that if enough southern Michigan farmers want more pheasants on their farms, and enough farms are available where food and cover improvements may profitably be made, the conservation department is prepared to spend several times a normal season's pheasant management budget to help make more attractive living places on the farms for the ringnecks.

Squads of men from the department's game division this week began interviewing a sample cross-section of farmers throughout the pheasant range. They are finding out not only how many farmers want more birds, but the proportion of farmers who will go along with the department in making improvements for wildlife on their land.

"Any action program for improving the pheasant situation depends largely on the interests and attitudes of the farmer," H. D. Ruhl, chief of the department's game division, declared. Farmers' opinions of the pheasant aid plan will be reported to the conservation commission at its next meeting February 10. A budget for the work and operating procedure are to be considered then.

Money for the program is available in the Pittman-Robertson fund. Three-quarters of this fund is supplied by the federal government from taxes collected on sporting arms and ammunition.

Details of the plan for increasing favorable pheasant living space will not be settled until farmers' attitudes are known, but it will provide two sorts of assistance: technical advice and material aid.

The technical advice will be supplied by a "game management service" yet to be set up. The service's agents, men skilled in wildlife, soils and farming procedures, will draw up detailed wildlife plans for the farm of each cooperating farm owner. Their suggestions will cover such matters as maintaining fences, prevention of grazing in woodlots, planting of food and cover crops. Farmers would use this service without cost or obligation.

Material aid furnished cooperating farmers would consist of such planting stock as pine seedlings, berry bearing shrubs, and seed for nut trees; grain for food patches; lespedeza and sweet clover for cover and soil improvement; fertilizer; and fencing to prevent grazing of roosting swales and woodlots. Where supplies are furnished for such improvements, the farmer would agree to make no charge for hunting on his farm during the life of the improve-

Down Under The Palm Trees
 By ELTON R. EATON

Read in one of Florida's newspapers the other day an article which said that fruit growers down here were getting just one half as much for their oranges and grapefruit as they did a year ago.

Unless the "middleman" is holding up the prices, people in Plymouth and other northern cities ought to be buying oranges and grapefruit for just half the price they paid for them a year ago.

One can buy good oranges down here for less than one cent a piece. Bought a bag the other day that contained 34 good oranges and paid 25 cents for it. They were of medium size and excellent quality.

In spite of the storm damage last fall, Florida is reaping one of the largest orange crops in its history. It is worth a trip from Michigan to visit the orange growing sections of Florida just to see the orchards at this time of the year.

One of the theatres in Miami recently took a poll, of people attending its shows, on the Presidential race. Of the total cast, Truman received, only 37 percent. The Republican votes, while divided among the Republican candidates, comprised 63 percent of the total vote. Dewey was the leader among the Republican candidates, with Eisenhower in second place.

Recent surveys made by Sportsmen's organizations revealed the fact that over a third of the quails in this state were killed by the two hurricanes that swept Florida last fall. In fact all bird life suffered terribly from the storms. While in the Everglades there are vast numbers of birds to be seen, in other parts of the state the bird population is nothing compared to what it was a few years ago. Have seen but few of the beautiful singing mockingbirds this winter.

While one sees many Michigan cars on the roads in this part of the country, the vast majority

LET'S TALK BUSINESS

For a long time we've thought the whole world would be better off in a lot of ways if we went back to the "old-time" way of doing business.

Your business is raising livestock... primarily... but then it is also up to you to take your stock to market, which involves loading, trucking, unloading... watching the market... and a lot of other things that aren't exactly in your line—farming. Our business is merchandising home appliances... those home essentials to better living.

NOW... HERE'S OUR PROPOSITION
Let's Do Some Old-Fashioned Trading

Instead of selling your livestock (beef, pork, veal, chickens and lambs) through ordinary channels, let us give you a price for them, on the hoof. That quotation will then be used toward the purchase of any home appliance our store sells, including refrigerators, ranges, radios, Kitchen-aiders (steel sinks and cabinets), washing machines, home freezers, vacuum cleaners; in fact, anything we have in our store.

After we've made our deal, we'll come out deliver your appliance and at the same time pick up the livestock.

HERE IS AN OPPORTUNITY FOR BOTH OF US
 WE NEED YOUR COOPERATION AS MUCH AS YOU NEED OURS!

Shear Tells About New Buick Line

Buick this week announces its 1948 line of cars—10 distinctively-styled models featuring "Dynaflow Drive," a unique new transmission embodying Buick's answer to "no-shift, clutchless" driving, and 30 other important engineering advances and improvements.

AND NO DEPENDENTS... Two-and-a-half-year-old Wendy Rey, Stocking, one of Chicago's youngest models, tells off the figures as she counts her earnings in preparation for paying the last installment of her 1947 income tax.

Carl Shear, local Buick dealer, said the changes engineered into the 1948 Buick cars are designed to produce "greater riding comfort, easier handling and an even more outstanding performance."

Shear described Buick's Dynaflow Drive as "an infinitely variable transmission" which gives car owners a completely new conception of effortless driving "without the use of gears or the conventional clutch under normal driving conditions."

Dynaflow, on which Buick has spent several million dollars on machinery and tools, represents a major achievement in automotive design and construction. It will be offered initially as optional equipment on Buick's 1948 Series 70 Roadmaster cars.

"With Dynaflow Drive," Shear said, "Buick becomes the first American passenger car to offer the torque converter transmission. This ingenious mechanism is capable of transmitting power at any desired speed to the rear axle through a soft cushion of oil. There are no sliding gears, no gears ever shift. Virtually all of your driving is done in a single driving range. There is no clutch pedal."

Buick's style-leading 1948 models, scheduled for public display soon, also will feature new colors, trim and styling, the new "controlled frequency" engine mountings to control vibration frequency, a new oil control ring to provide greater oil economy, a new oil filter to keep engine oil clean, new springs on series 40 and 50 cars, and a new, three-spoke flexible steering wheel with semi-circular horn ring.

Driving a Dynaflow-equipped Buick is "simple."

The driver controls Dynaflow through a selector lever mounted under the steering wheel—just like the gear shift for the conventional drives. With Dynaflow, however, the lever works in conjunction with a dial having five positions. Actually the driver uses the "D" or "Drive" position of the lever most of the time.

Here are the positions, from left to right.

"P" for parking and starting the engine.

"N" for neutral and starting the engine.

"D" is the "Driving Range" position. After the engine is started the lever is moved to "D" and is left there for all normal forward driving.

"L" is for "Emergency Low" and the shift can be made any time under 40 mph simply by moving the lever.

By providing an "emergency low" Buick enables the driver to cope with the occasional bad spots in traffic such as driving behind a line of slow-moving trucks on heavy grades. It also offers a ready means for getting out of sand or mud or soft snow without outside help. One can also "rock" the car out of a mud hole or snow rut. This is done by moving the selector lever first into emergency low, then into reverse and repeating the process until the car is out of trouble.

"R" is the "Reverse" position. For the sake of safety the lever must be lifted before moving into "R" or "P" to prevent accidental shifts into these positions while the car is in fast-forward positions.

Actually all the driver has to do is move the lever into "D" position, step on the accelerator pedal and watch the road. Dynaflow then provides the smooth effortless power—much like a steam engine—from a standing start, through acceleration and up to any speed. The device provides for the greatest simplicity and ease in driving.

With Dynaflow the left foot may now do the braking. The brake pedal has been enlarged and moved to a more convenient location to facilitate braking with the left foot. The right foot remains on the accelerator pedal ready to pick up speed at any time.

Buick retains the wide rims first introduced in 1941, but offers new tires on the Series 50 and 70 cars which will permit operation at a pressure as low as 24 pounds on the former, 22 on the latter. Series 50 cars will be equipped with 7.60-15 and the 70 with 8.20-15. Both sizes are mounted on 6 1/2 inch rims, which enable Buick to maintain consistently lower pressures than are recommended for the narrower so-called standard rims ordinarily used with these tires.

There are four engine power ratings in the 1948 Buick cars. The 40 Special has a rating of 110 HP; 50 Super, 115 HP; the 70 Roadmaster with standard transmission 144 HP; and the 70 Roadmaster with Dynaflow transmission, 150 HP.

Compression ratio on the Series 50 Buick has been stepped up to 6.6 to 1 for current premium fuels. The series 70 engine with conventional transmission will continue a compression ratio of 6.6 to 1; but this is increased to 6.9 to one on engines used with the Dynaflow transmission. In addition, for Dynaflow installation the engine is fitted with a new crankshaft and new flywheel.

The 1948 Series 50 and 70 Buicks carry model designation on front fenders above the side moldings. The new Buick steering wheel, leaving the upper half of the wheel entirely unobstructed, carries a newly-designed monogram bearing the series designation as well as a new semi-circular horn ring. All models have a dash mat of celotex construction; series 50 and 70 cars also have a new roof insulation. The dash instruments are completely new in appearance, having a scratch brushed aluminum finish and aluminum targets. The interior beauty is further enhanced by the addition of handsome new fabrics in all three Buick series cars.

Buick's exterior beauty again is highlighted by the neat, flowing lines of sweeping airfoil fenders, a massive front end with handsome grille, and the low, roomy body by Fisher. Enhancing its lively performance, easy handling and smooth ride are scores of proved Buick engineering developments, including the powerful "fireball" valve-in-head straight eight engine, full-length torque-tube drive, all-coil springing, and broad-rim wheels.

Here are the 1948 Buick models:

Series 70 Roadmaster, 129-inch wheelbase: six passenger, four-door sedan, available in regular trim and custom; six passenger two-door sedan; six passenger convertible with hydraulically operated top, front seat and window controls; and six-passenger Estate Wagon.

Series 50 Super, 124-inch wheelbase: six passenger, four-door sedan; six passenger, two-door sedan; six passenger convertible coupe with hydraulically operated front seat, top, and window controls; and six-passenger Estate Wagon.

Series 40 Special, 121-inch wheelbase: Six passenger, four-door sedan; six passenger, two-door sedan.

Why do people say: "He's MY Doctor"?

People are quite possessive about their doctors, and for a very deep-rooted American reason. People are brought up to be individualists in this country—they know that it means something vital to be an individual "with certain inalienable rights." Their health is a very personal thing to them, and they want the mental satisfaction and peace of mind that comes from the individual choice of their medical doctors. There is both dignity and importance vested in the inalienable right to select one's doctor with a free will—and to refer to him as "my doctor." It is too much of a priceless right to be tampered with by any impersonal socializing, don't you think?

3 Unions Block Labor Peace—Refuse Wage Boost Already Accepted by 19 Other Railroad Unions!

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, representing 125,000 railroad employees, have refused to accept the offer of the Railroads of a wage increase of 15% cents an hour. This is the same increase awarded 1,000,000 non-operating employees by an arbitration board in September, 1947. This is the same increase accepted by 175,000 conductors, trainmen and switchmen by agreement on November 14, 1947. Agreements have been made with 1,175,000 employees, represented by nineteen unions. But these three unions, representing only 125,000 men, are trying to get more. They are demanding also many new working rules not embraced in the settlement with the conductors and trainmen.

Incidentally, the Switchmen's Union of North America represents only about 7% of all railroad switchmen, the other 93% being represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and covered by the settlement with that union.

Strike Threat

The leaders of these three unions spread a strikes ballot while negotiations were still in progress. This is not a secret vote but is taken by union leaders and votes are signed by the employees in the presence of union representatives. When direct negotiations failed, the leaders of these three unions refused to join the railroads in asking the National Mediation Board to attempt to settle the dispute, but the Board took jurisdiction at the request of the carriers and has been earnestly attempting since November 24, 1947, to bring about a settlement. The Board on January 5, 1948, announced its inability to reach a mediation settlement. The leaders of the unions rejected the request of the mediation Board to arbitrate. The railroads accepted.

What Now?

The railroads have refused to arbitrate, the Railway Labor Act provides for the appointment of a fact-finding board by the President.

The railroads feel it is due shippers, passengers, employees, stockholders, and the general public to know that throughout these negotiations and in mediation, they have not only exerted every effort to reach a fair and reasonable settlement, but they have also met every requirement of the Railway Labor Act respecting the negotiation, mediation, and arbitration of labor disputes.

It seems unthinkable that these three unions, representing less than 10 per cent of railroad employees, and those among the highest paid, can successfully maintain the threat of a paralyzing strike against the interest of the entire country—and against 90 per cent of their fellow employees.

The threat of a strike cannot justify granting more favorable conditions to 125,000 employees than have already been put in effect for 1,175,000, nor will it alter the opposition of the railroads to unwarranted wage increases or to changes in working rules which are not justified.

A glance at the box shows what employees represented by the Engineers and Firemen make. They are among the highest paid in the ranks of labor in the United States, if not the highest.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15% cents per hour increase offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947. Babson

Babson Discusses Weather Babson Park, Fla., Jan. 30. Letters are coming to me stating that the Old Farmers' Almanac is forecasting a summer for 1948 similar to that famous summer of 1816 when there was freezing, or at least a frost every month of the year.

What About Sunspots? There are many people who believe that a very close relationship exists between weather conditions and sunspots. Those who are interested in the details of such a study should write to Professor H. C. Willett, Meteorology Department, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Massachusetts, or Professor H. T. Stetson, author of "Sunspots in Action."

On the other hand, since the cold summer of 1816, when the sunspots were very brilliant, there have been many other years when the sunspots were equally brilliant and when none of the corresponding years were badly upset by weather conditions.

frost, or too much or too little rainfall, may be expected almost any year. On the other hand, as years go on, each crop failure should be less disastrous than preceding ones owing to the lessons which may be learned.

When Purchasing a Farm Now a word of advice to those who are looking for farms. Let us have not yet purchased one: Get a farm in the central part of the country which is not too subject either to dry spells or wet spells.
