

City Plans To Secure Property For Alleys In Business Section

The second in a series of articles on Plymouth's alley and parking problem has been prepared by Sidney Strong, chairman of the City Planning Commission.

It reveals additional problems which must be corrected before the business district undergoes further development. This article reads as follows:

Before taking up the matter of parking automobiles in the business district of Plymouth, there is one point about the acquisition of property for alleys that should be brought out. Most alleys, except at the ends where they emerge upon a street, pass across the rear ends of lots. Thus, they occupy the least valuable part of the lots they traverse. The assessor's appraisal tables recognize this by assigning one value per foot to the front 100 feet of a lot and rapidly diminishing values for increasing depths. So it comes about that while an affected property owner will receive a fair price for his land taken for alley purposes, yet the City will pay less per square foot than the average value of the lot.

Plymouth car drivers remember that in the era B.M. (before meters), it was almost impossible to find a parking place in the business district. Their attempts to find empty places in which to park resulted in excessive "cruising," complicating the traffic problems of the city. It was also suspected that some of the business men and their employees parked their cars conveniently in front of their stores for the day where their customers should have been able to park. Since the parking meters were installed the traffic situation is much improved and parking space is somewhat easier to find. Yet the available parking space is still not nearly adequate for present conditions, and when we consider the ultimate needs of our city when it has grown—we haven't started!

There are 12 blocks between Church street and Brush street and between Harvey street and the Union-Kellogg street line which are now entirely or in part zoned for business. In front of the business area of these twelve blocks are approximately 17,000 linear feet of curb. Somewhat less than two-thirds of this curb length is available for parking on account of alleys, driveways, fire hydrants, bus and cab stops, etc. What can be used will accommo-

Honored for Work on School Board

Following the first annual meeting of the Wayne County Association of School Board Members held January 23, it was revealed that Mrs. Sidney Strong was re-elected as secretary-treasurer of the organization. The meeting was held in the Lowery school cafeteria.

Her colleagues renamed her to this post in view of the fact that she is one of the best informed of school board members in the county, as she has devoted much time to a study of school problems. She has served on Plymouth's board for three full terms, or a total of nine years.

Plymouth was further represented at this meeting by school board members Kenneth Hulsing and Donald Sutherland.

Other officers elected at the same meeting were: Grant Burns of the Dearborn board of education as president, and Luther Tippery of the Taylor Township board as vice president.

The Wayne County association of School Board Members was formed in 1947, and much benefit has already been derived from the association. This particular meeting was held in conjunction with the biennial meeting of all school officers of Wayne county, held by the county board of education and the State Department of Public Instruction.

The first speaker of the evening, Roscoe Bonisteel of Ann Arbor, a regent of the university, stressed the importance of the task school boards undertake: their responsibilities to the children and to the public. He said it is definitely not a job taken for the glory to be had, but rather one demanding all a man or woman can give to it.

Dr. Lee Thurston, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, spoke on the problems of school boards in housing the children of the state. He also mentioned the growing interest of parents in the education of their children; their demands for better schools and better teachers.

Hammond Heads New Casting Club

Further organization of Plymouth's Bait and Fly Casting club was completed at the group's Wednesday, January 28, meeting. Permanent officers were then elected to replace those previously chosen as temporary office holders.

Walter Hammond was elected president, and Henry Bock was chosen as vice president. Secretarial duties will be performed by William Morgan and Richard Amberg will act as treasurer. William Rambo was elected captain of supplies.

Meetings of this newly formed organization will be held every Wednesday evening in the Central Grade auditorium. Anyone interested in learning the art of bait and fly casting is invited to attend.

The January 28 meeting was highlighted by the casting performance of members, Sandy Watson, and James Schomberger.

DeHoCo Inmates in Need of Games, Radios, Cards

Inmates of the Detroit House of Correction are badly in need of playing cards, radios, and any type of recreational table games, according to Ralph Johnson, city recreation director.

The radios, Mr. Johnson added, need not be in working condition. He asks that anyone with any of these items to donate, turn them in to room 204 of the city hall.

$2,000 "Dimes" Goal in Sight

Current funds contributed to the March of Dimes drive total $1,583, according to Miss Neva Lovewell, chairman. When the final tabulation is taken, however, the $2,000 goal is expected to be revealed, she has stated.

The present figure is a total of funds contributed in the canisters, through the schools, and theaters. Donations from numerous factories, the Livonia school, and from the rural sections have yet to be sent in. The drive in which Plymouth participated included the entire township, and Livonia.

Collections taken in the Plymouth theaters from Sunday, January 25, through Wednesday, January 28, netted $775 for the Dimes drive.

Volunteer workers who helped with the drive were: Mrs. Seth Virgo, Mrs. Lincoln Lantz, Carvel Bentley, Mrs. John Henderson, Paul Johnson, and a large number of school students and Girl Scouts.

The drive was concluded Friday, January 30. Last Year's campaign netted $1,700, Miss Lovewell stated.

The Plymouth VFW Post and Cooties held money-making projects within their organizations, and turned the proceeds over to the March of Dimes committee, Miss Lovewell also reported.

Fires Completely Raze Two Homes in This Vicinity

Two homes in the vicinity of Plymouth were hopelessly demolished by fire last Friday, January 30.

Plymouth's fire department assisted the Salem and Detroit House of Correction fire crews in a losing fight to save the home of Joe Viehoff, 6845 Napier road Friday morning. The lack of a nearby water supply hindered operations in the attempt to extinguish the blaze. The fire was caused by an overheated coal stove and caused approximately $7,000 worth of damage.

Friday's second devastating fire broke in the home of P. Glover, 50475 Powell road, that afternoon. By the time the fire was detected, the roof of one complete section had burned out, and had broken through the second floor ceiling. Damages are estimated at $8500. The house is owned by John Bunyeva.

The Plymouth department members had barely returned to the station when they were recalled to the latter location to fight a fire caused by sparks from the debris. A tool shed 400 feet away had caught fire, causing $25 worth of damage.

Debate Team Takes Top District Contest Honors

Plymouth's debate team defeated teams from Dundee and Waterford Wednesday, February 4, to take highest district honors.

The team is composed of Ronald Witt and Roger Kidston, who are coached by James Latture.

The team is now qualified to enter the state quarter final contest, along with seven other schools.

In the Wednesday contests, Plymouth's team debated on both the affirmative and negative sides.

Patty Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson visited relatives in Milan, last weekend.

C. H. Bennett Will Direct Plymouth Easter Seal Sale

An announcement has been made revealing that C. H. Bennett will direct Plymouth's Easter Seal campaign for crippled children. The sale will begin February 28 and extend through March 28.

Notice of his appointment as chairman was made by the Wayne Out-County chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Disabled Adults. Each year a member of Rotary club is named to head the drive, since that organization has a national project of a similar nature.

Accompanying the notice of Mr. Bennett's appointment was the 1947 fiscal year report for the society. It revealed that 74 new crippled children were referred to the chapter for services during that year. Close supervision was received by 173. Representatives of the society made 1204 calls to clinics, homes, and schools, and 267 conferences were held with nurses concerning crippled children. All in all, 18,070 miles were covered in making these calls.

Home tutoring was provided for 16 children during 1947. When children are unable to attend school because of a physical disability which cripples them, the society sends representatives into the home to tutor them. Also, provisions were made so that 11 unable to attend public school, could attend special schools.

In the city of Plymouth there are 21 known cases of crippled children recorded in the society's files. Six are listed for Northville, 28 for Livonia, 55 for Dearborn, and 149 for Nankin.

Auxiliary to Visit Out-Town Group

The Woman's auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth, which will be the guest of the Rosedale Gardens auxiliary on Wednesday, February 11, will meet at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Rosedale Gardens church instead of 8 p.m. as previously announced. Husbands of the members of both auxiliaries are invited, and a regular formal church service will be held, the date being Ash Wednesday.

This exchange of meetings has become a yearly event between the two women's groups, according to Mrs. Fred Weinert, program chairman of the host church. The visiting group provides the program. This year's speaker will be Dr. Henry Welch of Plymouth, who will speak on the significance of Lent, with particular emphasis on Ash Wednesday.

Since the meeting will be a regular service of the church, the Reverend Woodrow Wooley of Rosedale Gardens will preside. Mrs. Harold Kellogg of Plymouth will be soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Blankenhagen of the Gardens.

This will be the regular February meeting of the Plymouth auxiliary. Following the church service, the hostesses at the Gardens will serve tea to those attending.

Assessor-Clerk Sworn in by City

Carl Evey was sworn in Monday, February 2, as city assessor and deputy clerk.

A resolution approving his appointment was passed at the City Commission meeting of January 19. According to the official proceeding of the commission, the resolution was opposed by Commissioners Dunbar Davis and Ruth Whipple.

Previously Mr. Evey was employed by Lyon Inc., of Detroit in the engineering department. He has received training in business administration and business law.

Mr. Evey has lived in Plymouth for four years. His home is located at 1652 Roosevelt.

Panel to Talk About Water Plan

Questions on Plymouth's water situation will be answered at an open meeting to be held next Friday, February 13, in the high school auditorium. This public meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

A well qualified four man panel will handle the questions. They will answer only those written out on cards, which are to be provided at the meeting. No questions will be accepted from the floor.

Clarence Bradford, of Kalamazoo, will act as moderator. The panel will be composed of Louis Schimmel, of Ann Arbor, director of the Michigan municipal advisory council on finance; City Manager Harold Cheek; Mayor Jack Taylor, who will represent the city commissioners, and Samuel Porter, engineer of Shocraft, Drury, and McNamee, the firm which made a recent survey of this water problem.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the Plymouth Public Forum.

Haien Discusses Youth of Today

The possibilities existing for the youth of today, were discussed by Ann Arbor Rotary club member John Haien, at the Friday, January 30, meeting of the Plymouth club.

Mr. Haien related some of his own experiences and numerous opportunities which he has faced since coming to this country from Holland at the age of 17.

It is his belief that the possibilities existing at that time for youth still prevail. This is true, he continued, insofar as getting an education and making good in the business world. Mr. Haien firmly believes that it is more advantageous for young people to start their careers in small business.

At the present time Mr. Haien is an executive on the staff of the Chrysler Motor Car company.

Mrs. William Blunk was the guest of her grandson, Douglas Bank, in Detroit on Monday.

Kiwanis Speaker Discusses City Water Problem

When considering the three possible ways of changing Plymouth's water supply, only the development of the Beck road wells is economically feasible.

This is the belief of Samuel Porter, as he reported it to Kiwanis members at their Tuesday evening dinner meeting. He is a representative of the Shocraft, Drury, McNamee engineering firm which recently made a survey of this water problem. The meeting was arranged by the public affairs committee.

Mr. Porter scanned the history of the local water supply, stating that from 1891, when Plymouth's population rested at 1100, until 1942, water was routed from the Beck road well field. During the war, he continued, with the scarcity of materials, labor, and the like, this field could not be further developed to meet the needs of the population.

This situation, Mr. Porter reported, warranted the drilling of a well at the end of Mill street, from where the city's supply now comes. His comments on this water consisted of "It's pure and wet, but that's about all that can be said for it." The disagreeable smell and taste, he explained, is due to a high salt and nitrogen sulphide content.

"But for $525,000 Plymouth can have as good water as any other city in the state," he assured Kiwanians. In the forthcoming election of city voters will decide whether the city should issue bonds for this amount, which is expected to cover the cost for two new wells, 16 inch supply mains, feeder main, and one new elevated tank.

In his concluding statements he cited the cost per ton of commodities which are generally thought of as being essential to ones way of life, such as coal and sugar. "Does it seem," he asked, "that eight and three quarter cents per ton is too much to pay for water, which is what it will cost under the new rate, provided the voters say yes?"

MEA President Appears Before Teachers' Club

To promote a better understanding of the aims and problems of modern education, the Plymouth Teachers' club presented Miss Mary Ellen Lewis, president of the Michigan Education association, at the regular monthly meeting held Monday, February 2, in the high school gym. The public was invited.

Miss Lewis discussed the various methods by which UNESCO is trying to promote peace and inter-cultural relations through education.

Our greatest problem in the United States is lack of equal educational opportunity in the various states, Miss Lewis believes. She advocates sufficient federal aid without federal control to bring the minimum spent per child for education to $50. Miss Lewis stated that on the basis of wealth and resources Michigan should rank fifth nationally in educational opportunity, but ranks only 19th. We must face the need for 10,000 teachers and the replacement of hopelessly antiquated and inadequate buildings, she reported.

To prevent more teachers from leaving the ranks and to attract new recruits, Miss Lewis advocates a sound salary schedule adapted to the cost of living, teacher tenure providing security, and elimination of overcrowded classrooms.

On the financial side Miss Lewis recommended that legislation for education be wholeheartedly supported as an "investment in education is an investment in people."

Auxiliary Plans Party for Scouts

The Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Hotel Mayflower, Thursday evening, February 12.

At that time the Girl Scout Valentine party will be held in honor of the troop which the auxiliary sponsors. The Scout troop is under the leadership of Mrs. Arthur Donnelly.

Mrs. Francis Walsh is chairman in charge of the meeting. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Palmer and Mrs. Marvin Kleinschmidt.

Mary Jane Helmer Weds Donald O. Struble at Evening Ceremony

At an evening ceremony, Mary Jane Helmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Helmer, of Cadillac road, exchanged vows with Donald O. Struble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Struble of Northville road, on Saturday, January 24, in the Presbyterian church. The bride wore a candlelight satin gown fashioned with princess lines, trimmed with Spanish lace and seed pearl orange blossoms, ending in a circular train. Spanish lace also trimmed her fingertip veil of illusion, which was held in place by a seed pearl tiara. An arm bouquet of white carnations completed her costume.

As maid of honor, Betty Helmer, sister of the bride, wore white satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her head-dress was of yellow lace and she carried yellow chrysanthemums. Bridesmaids, Betty Calhoun, Clara Paris, Mrs. Philip Williams and Mrs. William Nolan were also gowned in white. They wore pink ribbons in their hair and carried bouquets of matching pink carnations.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Helmer, chose a dress of aqua crepe for her daughter's wedding. Her yellow hat was trimmed with matching plumes, and her flowers were yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Struble was attired in green crepe with brown accessories. She wore red carnations.

The couple plan to make their permanent home in California.

Lare-Pellerito Nuptials Solemnized Saturday

The marriage of Roberta Jean Lare, daughter of Roy Lare of North Mill street and Vincent G. Pellerito, was solemnized on Saturday, January 31, at the Our Lady of Good Counsel church, with the Rev. Fr. William P. Mooney officiating.

The bride chose a brown suit with pink blouse and matching hat trimmed in pink. She wore a corsage of pink rosebuds. Her only attendant, Lorene Kucar, was dressed in a dove gray suit and brown hat with brown accessories. Her flowers were also rosebuds. Anthony Pellerito, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

The ceremony took place before the immediate families and a few close friends, and a wedding breakfast was served afterward at the Farm Cupboard. The couple motored to Washington, D. C. and will tour in the East. After February 8, they will be at home at 549 West Ann Arbor trail.

HOW MUCH "FAMILY LEGAL LIABILITY" PROTECTION WILL $10 BUY? $

A good sample of today's insurance values is the protection $10 will buy for your family against lawsuits. If your boy hurts a playmate—if your dog bites somebody—if a visitor, tradesman or employee gets hurt on your premises—if you hit somebody with a golf ball—what's the verdict? $ One of these accidents might ruin you financially—yet $10 a year will give you (in most cases) up to $10,000 protection, and will allow up to $250 for medical payments (except to your family) even if there is no legal liability.

Crews Defrost Service Lines
With the frost down to the 26 inch line, approximately 15 service lines have been reported as frozen or partially frozen in Plymouth recently.

According to Stanford Besse, city engineer, this is the highest number to be effected by the cold weather in 12 years. Normally no more than a few lines are frozen, but Mr. Besse has pointed out that the frost line does not usually fall below the 18 or 20 inch line.

The pipes are thawed out by an electric machine which warms the lines. Work is still being done to thaw the lines, as the number of reports increases every day.

An Open Letter To Every Oil User In The Plymouth Area:

PLYMOUTH HARDWARE COMPANY
 376 So. Main St. Plymouth, Mich.
 Phone 677 — We Deliver

Dear Neighbor:

Everyone knows about the oil shortage and the high price of oil — especially those people who heat with an oil burning Home Heater. If you are among those who want to save oil because of reduced supply or if your oil cost has been increased, you will be interested in this letter. If, however, you do not have an oil burning Home Heater now and do not intend to, this letter is of no interest to you.

Many oil burning Home Heaters have been in service for years and are using more oil and more expensive oil to give out the same amount of heat or else do not adequately heat the home regardless of how much oil is used.

If any of these situations have given you an oil problem, we want you to know that a Norge Oil Burning Space Heater can save you up to 25% of your oil supply and we would like you to know why this is so. Complete details can, of course, be obtained at our store, but briefly, the construction of the Norge Space Heater is such that the proper amount of air is fed into the center of the flame at all times so that more of the oil is completely burned to give off heat. This is proven by the fact that in the Norge there is no smoky, yellow flame. That carbon deposit and sludge so often found in other heaters (and particularly old ones) is unburned oil.

Now is the time to invest in an oil saving heater—not only improving your actual heating conditions, but stretching the oil supply and in many cases, making it enough to last through the season.

If oil saving is important, then the Norge Oil Burning Heater can be recommended as a replacement now.

Yours very truly,
 THE PLYMOUTH HARDWARE

Over 92,000 Old Age Pensioners Are Aided by Michigan Taxpayers

(By Elton R. Eaton)

Ninety two thousand people, 92,000, residents of this great state of Michigan, are today receiving old age pensions.

To receive an old age pension, a person in Michigan must be 65 years of age or older, without means of self-support and without relatives who are able to give assistance to their elders.

From out of the pockets of the taxpayers of Michigan, the money you pay in sales tax to the grocer, the clothier, the furniture dealer, and the automobile agency for that new car, the state took $17,800,000 last year, and sent it back to the cities, villages, and townships in pension checks to the old age pensioners of this state.

From the federal government another $23,000,000 was added to this $17,800,000 taken directly out of our pockets, making a total of $40,800,000 that was paid to Michigan pensioners last year.

One should keep in mind when talking about "federal funds" that that, too, is your tax money. You have paid some of it in the form of income tax, some in liquor tax, some in the so-called luxury tax, some in dozens of other forms of hidden taxes.

The government in Washington simply collects the money in Michigan and the other states, takes a good share of it for the job holders in Washington, and then doles back to the states in the form of so-called "federal aid" what is left out of your tax dollars after Washington has taken what it thinks is its rightful share of your tax dollars.

Combine this $40,800,000 paid out during the year 1947 to old age pensioners in Michigan with the $18,500,000 paid out to care for dependent children and another $12,300,000 for direct relief, and another $700,000 for aid to the blind and another $200,000 for burial payments for old age pensioners and you have a grand total of $72,500,000 that Michigan taxpayers contributed last year towards the care of its unfortunate citizens.

Think of it!

Seventy two million, five hundred thousand dollars!

That is more than three times as much as it costs the state of Michigan to operate its state government and its many institutions less than a quarter of a century ago.

Previous to the days of the professional welfare worker when relatives thought it a disgrace if one of the family was given public aid from the county or city, a public charge was known as a "pauper." Then came the elimination of the word "pauper" and a person on the welfare was called a "welfare client."

Some relatives of one in the family who had squandered his money or drank it up or was too lazy to work to support himself, but who aided the unfortunate relative rather than to have it known that there was a "pauper" in the family, did not regard it as a family disgrace if a member of the family became a "welfare client." There was no sting to that expression—no disgrace like there was to having a member of the family known as a "pauper."

Counties were quick to shove off on the state for state support its welfare clients and its other unfortunate citizens, although counties do maintain the administrative responsibilities of direct welfare relief.

Then came the demand for old age pensions. Years ago when a person grew old and had not saved enough for his declining years and there were no relatives to give financial aid, the elderly person went "over the hills to the poor house." Each county maintained a "county farm" and provided for the inmates a well-heated shelter, with good food and proper medical care. Many counties find it still necessary to maintain county homes for the proper care of some of its unfortunate citizens.

But the old age pension law has saved thousands of elderly people from the stigma of being known as a poor house inmate. And many families, too, have been quick to shove off on the state the support of elderly relatives, claiming inability to support their own family and the aged dependent relative as well.

Michigan taxpayers have been more liberal than most states in the care of its aged and other unfortunate citizens.

We are at the present time paying an average of $38 per month to each old age pensioner in the state. The law permits a high of $45 per month, which many are receiving. In some cases where two elderly people are living together, both the man and wife are paid pensions.

The total monthly payments to old age pensioners in Michigan now average about $3,500,000.

The state legislature at its last

PLENTY SCARED . . . Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, White House physician accused of speculating in grain, told the senate food gambling committee that he got out of the wheat market because he was "plenty scared" by President Truman's scathing denunciation of grain speculators.

regular session not only authorized the payment of $45 per month, a raise of $5 per month, but it also granted the Social Welfare department a right to continue payments to persons who find it necessary to leave the state, pending their ability to meet resident requirements for aid from the state to which they have moved.

Such persons, however, must continue to meet all other eligibility requirements under the Michigan old age pension law as long as they receive assistance from this state.

At the present time there are only about 600 persons residing outside of the state who are receiving Michigan old age pensions.

Michigan is not expecting any reduction in the number of its old age pensioners. The total can be expected to grow larger each year, due to many reasons, but chiefly the increased population of the state.

While the total number now receiving old age pensions averages around 92,000, the peak was last September when the total was 94,000. During last fall there were some 2,400 withdrawals, due to the enactment by the last legislature of a law permitting the state to make claims against estates of deceased pensioners. This law became effective last July.

The Social Welfare department had information that quite a large number of old age pensioners owned property which upon their death would go to some member of the family who had failed to give financial aid to the support of the old age pensioner.

The Department rightly asked why should the hard-pressed taxpayers of the state support these people without being in some way compensated for it out of any property an old age pensioner might leave—so a law was passed giving the state a right to reclaim out of an estate at least a portion of the money that had been paid by the taxpayers to the support of the estate-owning pensioner.

When this act became a law there were exactly 2,475 voluntary withdrawals from the pension rolls.

Mr. and Mrs. Michigan Taxpayer you paid out of your pockets last year a total of more than $72,500,000 for the support of more than 210,000 Michigan residents!

Yes, that is correct—there are 210,000 men, women and children in Michigan being cared for by tax dollars who are NOT inmates of any of the numerous institutions operated by the state government.

When a young man vainly boasted, "I am wise, for I have conversed with many wise men" Epictetus made answer, "And I with many rich men, but I am not rich." The richest blessings are obtained by labor.

At night when heaven's first lights, dim and far,
Singing in the dusk and each one suddenly
Becomes the silver wonder of a star,
Becomes a shining splendor on the hills,
Unfading, steadfast, calm and high and white,
Stars are so beautiful, so steeped in peace,
They rest me more than anything at night.

There is an ancient comfort in the stars—
I treasure it: "Lift up your eyes and see,"
"He calleth them by name—not one hath failed."
Oh, often through His stars God comforts me.

Prayer Service Speaker

The Rev. Spurgeon Hendrix

Thirteen churches of Plymouth and the surrounding territory will unite their efforts and congregations for a World Day of Prayer. The service is to be held in the Church of the Nazarene, at Holbrook and Pearl streets, Friday, February 13, at 1:30 p.m.

An outstanding speaker, the Rev. Spurgeon Hendrix, has been secured for this service. She is a graduate of Bethany Peniel college of Bethany, Oklahoma, and a former school teacher.

For five years Mrs. Hendrix and her husband served the Church of the Nazarene as missionaries in Argentina, South America. Among their other duties, they supervised the Bible Training school in Buenos Aires. After a brief period of recuperation, the couple plan to return to the field in the fall of 1948.

The public is cordially invited and urged to attend this service.

Lutheran School Announcement

The school was opened September 8, 1947, and is a completely modern institution. Beginning September, 1948 it will offer a Kindergarten and Seven grades. A full elementary curriculum is maintained, in keeping with Michigan city school requirements. All children are expected to attend religious periods. A coordination of courses is maintained with the Plymouth city schools to qualify graduates for entry into the Plymouth High school. Under state regulation, free bus transportation is available to parish school children along the regular bus routes. The school is under supervision of the Wayne County Department of Health, with full, regular, nursing service.

The Lutheran School is open to all children of the community under the following conditions:

- Priority will be given to members of St. Peter's Lutheran church, which supports the school independently of outside help. Children of the congregation will NOT be required to pay any tuition fees.
- Children of Lutherans, who are not active members of St. Peter's will be considered next for enrollment. These will be asked to contribute only three-fourths of the actual, annual cost of educating a child in the school: $37.50 payable on September 1, and $37.50 payable on February 1.
- Children of non-Lutherans will be admitted, if the capacity of the school has not been reached through enrollment under the first two categories. These children will be asked to contribute the full cost of tuition of a child: $50 on September 1, and $50 on February 1.

*If the enrollment exceeds the capacity of 30-35 children per classroom, an additional room will be opened in September.

All applications for enrollment in September 1948 must be made in writing before February 15 and sent to Mr. A. Perry Wood, Secretary, Lutheran Board of Education, 1380 Sheridan Avenue, Plymouth, Michigan, or to the pastor. Applications must be accompanied by a copy of the scholastic standing, if any, of the child applied for. All decisions on applications will be made by the Board of Education in the order above and on the basis of scholastic standing in the cases of non-members. Notice of the action taken will be sent to the applicants by March 10.

Any additional information may be obtained by calling Pastor Edgar Hoenecke at Plymouth 422, or Mr. Gerhard Mueller, Principal, at the school, Plymouth 1739.

Why not give a household paper party for that Valentine's get-together you've been planning? Mrs. McGeorge (you may know her as Ann Carley) is in charge of this district, and if you will call her at 831-J1 before noon she will give you all the details. Doing your shopping in the comfort of your home sounds like a wonderful idea, especially with door prizes, hostess gifts, and souvenirs for each guest. Interesting items include pastry sets; window shades at 75 cents and $1.35, and Mix Master, table and bowl covers.

Looking lovely on February 14 is important, but looking your best at all times is an essential. By making a regular appointment at Phila's Beauty Salon, corner Wing and Deer, you will be assured of always looking your best. Phila tells us she is offering a free oil manicure (which includes a cream oil hand treatment) with every permanent of $10.00 or more. Other permanents range from $6.00 - $12.50, with Cold Waves priced at $15.00. Call now - 1530 - for your appointment.

Those months with R in them are here again, and that means wonderful seafood is back in time for Lent. Wednesday, February 11, Mr. Lofy at the Mayflower Hotel Dining Room will feature lobsters, lobster tails, escalloped oysters, fresh shrimp, jumbo frogslegs, and broiled fish, as well as other meatless dishes. These dishes will be served daily at lunch and dinner as well as regular meat courses, all through Lent. Doesn't it just make your mouth water? And, if that isn't enough, there is the newly re-decorated Coffee Shoppe. All done in cream, coral, and green with forest green drapes and handmade wallpaper murals depicting the Pilgrims landing on Plymouth Rock, it's really worth a trip just to see, not to speak of that wonderful food. Mr. Lofy tells us he's featuring Sunday dinners there and we can easily understand why. And, if you're going to a party, why not have it in the new COFFEE SHOPPE? Make your reservations now by calling 250.

Remember when you were young and how thrilled you were when you went to grandma's and slept in those wonderful feather beds? What fun it was to fluff them up and jump right in the middle. The Slumberon Mattress with Ortho-Flex Comfort Control is even more comfortable than a feather bed. There is a flubber coating between the springs and outer covering, built-in comfort control, both for added sleeping pleasure, and a 10 year guarantee. Priced at $49.50, they can be purchased at Kimbrough Appliance Co., 470 Forest.

Just in time for Valentine's Day comes a sale well worth looking into. The Robert Simmons Co. is having a store-wide clearance, with the exception of fair-trade articles, to make room for new items that will be the stock in trade of the store. With savings of from 10 to 50% on most articles, certain gift items will be reduced 50% and more, marked for quick disposal. Finest leather goods, lamps, framed prints. This eight day sale starts Friday, February 6, and $1.00 will hold any purchase.

Here's good news for you who are in the market for new home furnishings. Thatcher Furniture Store will move into their new building out in Rosedale Gardens, 32098 Plymouth Rd., to be exact, within the next 30 days. There will be a whole new stock of furniture for the opening in both medium and higher priced merchandise. Working with a lower overhead, as does Mr. Thatcher, you can save yourself precious dollars in floor coverings and home furnishings. Watch for opening date—coming soon.

Read all about it in the Woman's Home Companion. It's all about the benefits derived from using soft. The main points of interest include savings in dollars and cents on fuel, soap and the life of your clothes. Saving of work in washing clothes, dishes, and sinks and tubs, and the general over all cleanliness in keeping house. Call Mr. Clarke, Plymouth 707, or stop in at 1376 S. Main St., and let him explain how soft water—the Culligan Way—can benefit you.

Hearts and flowers are in order for February 14, and now is the time to make arrangements to have that photograph taken in Valentine's Day. There is no nicer gift for your loved ones than a beautifully mounted portrait of yourself or the children. These pictures can be ordered in either black and white prints or tinted in life-like color. Call Mrs. Ball at L. L. Ball Studio—72—and although an appointment is not necessary it will save you time if you make one.

It wasn't so long ago that the country was faced with a meat shortage, and it could happen again. In fact, one is expected this spring. But, if you purchase a home freezer now, you can ward off those meatless days ahead. Mr. Galin and associates at D. Galin & Son Appliances are experts in the technical aspects connected with packaging and operating your home freezer, and they will gladly give you the necessary information. You may ask, "Why buy a home freezer when locker space is available?" Have you ever had friends come unexpectedly for dinner? With the home freezer you can whip up a complete meal in 30 minutes. Doesn't that sound wonderful? And all out of your freezing unit. It's perfect for fruits and vegetables out of your garden, and for bowls of green or your husband brings home from his hunting trips. You can save valuable time by bringing home a week's supply of food from your locker. Stop in and talk to Mr. Galin about buying your—home freezer, now.

Old and New Cookie Favorites Rank High For Snack Purposes

Do you like to have people dropping in just to be neighborly? Do you have youngsters who bring their friends home often? Then you'll want to have the cookie jar well stocked at all times with old favorites and new.

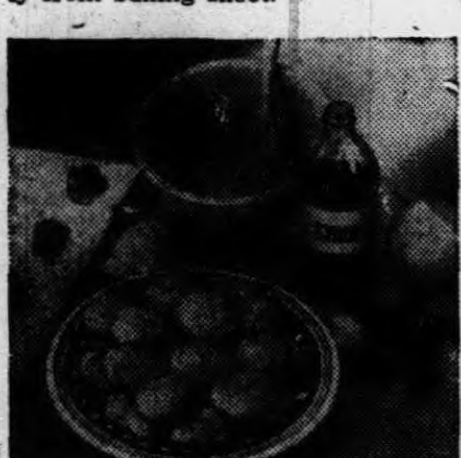

A cup of hot chocolate and a cookie mean something to every youngster, especially when the weather is bitingly cold; and it also means something very special to your own friends who may just happen to drop in. Spread your friendliness and cheer in this way with others and you'll be a happier person.

It's easy to have cookies on hand if you select those that are quick to fix and easy to keep. You'll feel a lot easier about inviting people in if there's always a snack or two ready.

In view of the prevailing high cost of butter and shortenings, the cookie baker must be careful to select recipes that spare these precious products.

Nut Macaroons. (Makes 3 1/2 dozen)
4 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup sugar
3 cups cornflakes, slightly crushed
1 cup pecans, coarsely chopped
1 cup coconut

Add salt to whites and beat to a coarse foam. Add flavorings. Add sugar by one tablespoon proportions, continuing beating until liquid is stiff and glossy. Fold in cornflakes, nuts and coconut. Drop from teaspoon onto well-greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven until delicately browned, about 15 minutes. Remove promptly from baking sheet.

Dates and syrup keep the sugar content low on these Date Drops. They stay fresh and moist for a long time, if they last, in a cookie jar or covered cookie tin. Use for snacks and lunch boxes.

If you like crunchy, fruity cookies, make these Date Drops. You'll find they keep nicely in a cookie jar.

Date Drop Cookies. (Makes 4 dozen)
1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup bottled corn syrup (dark)
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons milk
1 tablespoon orange juice
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 cup chopped dates

Sift flour, measure and sift again with baking powder, salt, cinnamon and ginger. Cream shortening, add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Add corn syrup and then egg, mixing well after each has been added. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk and orange juice to creamed mixture. Stir in orange rind and dates. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) about 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown.

Date Dainties. (Makes 25 1 1/2-inch squares)
2 cups chopped dates
1 cup nuts, chopped
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup sugar
3 eggs, beaten
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

*Recipe given.

Put dates, nuts, vanilla, sugar and beaten eggs in a bowl and mix thoroughly. Sift together dry ingredients; add to first mixture. Stir until well mixed. Bake in a shallow greased pan in a moderate (325 degree) oven for about 50 minutes. Cut in squares and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Oatmeal Crunchies. (Makes 30)
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup rolled oats
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Cream sugar, shortening and egg. Beat until well blended. Sift together dry ingredients and add to first mixture. Fold in oats and nuts. Roll dough into small balls and place on a slightly greased baking sheet. Flatten balls slightly and bake in an oven set at 400 degrees for about 10 minutes.

Fruit Nuggets. (Makes 5 dozen)
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup shortening
3 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup currants
1/2 cup chopped mixed fruit (candied cherries, citrus fruit peel, etc.)
1 cup chopped pecans
1 tablespoon milk

Sift together first four ingredients; add sugar; mix in shortening with a fork. Add unbeaten eggs and flavoring and mix thoroughly. Add fruit, nuts and milk. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate (375 degree) oven for 10 to 12 minutes.

You'll find an interesting combination of flavors in these Nut Macaroons. They're a nice, crunchy, low-calorie snack which will fill many roles in your home entertaining.

Shortbread is a rich but very delicious cookie, very delicate in texture. No flavoring is used so it must come from the butter and sugar primarily.

Scotch Shortbread. (Makes 3 dozen)
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup powdered sugar
2 egg yolks
2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Mix butter and sugar together well. Add egg yolks. Fold in sifted dry ingredients. Roll out 1/4 inch thick; cut in desired shapes. Prick with a fork. Place on baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 20 minutes or until a delicate golden brown.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS
Holding onions under water while peeling makes it a tearless process, and keeps the onion odor from penetrating. . . . To flour chicken evenly for frying, place the flour in a paper sack, then the pieces of chicken, and shake vigorously. . . . Adding a teaspoon of lemon juice to the water in which rice is boiled will help separate the grains of rice.

Successful Removal of Stains Takes Time, Patience and Skill

Modern fabrics with their new and varied finishes and dyes make the job of removing spots more difficult than it used to be.

Successful removal of stains takes time, patience, skill and a knowledge of common stain removers and their effects on fabrics, states Florence Rann, Michigan State college clothing specialist.

Her first advice is to remove spots and stains immediately, since fresh stains can often be removed at home. Simple methods are the best and usually the most effective in the long run. Simple removers are soap and water, carbon tetrachloride, and absorbent powders.

Before attempting to remove spots and stains, be sure you know whether the fabric is washable or not. The best way to tell is by reading tags or labels that tell you about the fabric. If you have no such tag or label, it is best to consider as washable only those garments that have been washed already. If it is washable, then using water is the simplest remedy.

Test any chemical you use on non-washable fabrics on a seam or some inconspicuous place. Even water will spot some materials. Use a soft pad under the stain you are trying to remove. Try to get the stain out the way it went in. If the stain is on the right side, work on the outside of the stain toward the center to avoid spreading it further.

Old stains in many cases mean that you will have to send the garment to a dry cleaner—and even then you can't be sure they will be successful.

The community banquet, given under the auspices of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, at the high school auditorium, last week, Thursday night, was largely attended, and proved to be a most enjoyable event for all who were present. Over three hundred sat down to the banquet tables, and after the invocation by Rev. D. D. Nagle, a most appetizing menu of roast pork, roast beef, mashed potatoes with brown gravy, biscuits, cabbage salad, baked beans, coffee and brick ice cream was served. Mark Wellman, the chef, prepared the eats, and the goodness of the menu was highly complimented upon by everybody. Members of the Chamber of Commerce acted as waiters. During the banquet, the high school orchestra rendered a number of selections in a most creditable manner, that bespeaks well for the efficiency of this splendid organization, under the direction of Miss Fern Hall.

Edward Jarskey and Miss Julia Wollast were married in Detroit last Saturday, January 27. The young couple were attended by Miss Fern Wollast and George Wollast, sister and brother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Jarskey will make their home with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wollast, for the present. They have the best wishes of a host of friends for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Having decided to go out of business, Henry J. Fisher will have an auction sale of new farm tools, blacksmithing and wagonmakers' tools, at the blacksmith shop on Starkweather ave. Monday, February 5, commencing at 10 o'clock. Harry C. Robinson will be the auctioneer.

The "Rocks" played their first real basketball game of the season last Friday night, at Dearborn. They played this game against many odds. First, the court they played on is twice as large as any they have been used to playing on. Everybody expected that they would be lost on such a court, but instead of losing themselves, they found themselves, and the result was that they played the best game they have played this year. Dearborn had all kinds of confidence, and consequently were slow in getting started. Captain Sutherland put the "Rocks" in the lead by making two points from the foul line. Give any Plymouth team a margin to work on, and nothing will stop them, thus with these two points to work on, they started playing basketball, and kept it right up through the third quarter. The "Rocks" kept the lead from the start of the game until the final two minutes. The final score was 16 to 18 in favor of Dearborn.

Northville has been chosen by the Red Cross for the location of an Infant Welfare Center, such centers having been established all over the state with great success. Dr. Cole of Detroit, a baby specialist, will give each child a physical examination, and instruct the mother in the care of the baby and health rules.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Loveland and daughter, Betty Jane, of Bay City, spent the weekend with the latter's brother, George Howell and family, on Starkweather avenue.

Superintendent George A. Smith acted as judge in Ann Arbor, Saturday night in the high school debate between Ann Arbor and Pontiac, the latter, the negative, winning by a 3 to 0 vote.

P. A. Nash has purchased the line of repairs for farm machinery carried by Henry J. Fisher, and anyone who may need anything in this line, can find the same at Mr. Nash's hardware store.

Mrs. George Bux, Miss Alvena Streng and Miss Edna Mather were in Ypsilanti, Saturday, attending the initiation of Delta Phi sorority of that place. Miss Margaret Streng was one of those initiated.

The executive board of the Parent-Teachers' association met and decided to hold the meetings of that society on the second Monday evening of each month. Parents and teachers bear this date in mind, February 12. It's a good date and it ought to be a good start for the organization. Watch for notice of program next week and everyone be present.

Mrs. Arthur Bartholmew of Pontiac, spent two days this week with Mrs. D. F. Murray.

Mrs. R. L. Fralick of Ann Arbor spent Thursday and Friday with her sister, Mrs. C. H. Buzzard, on Adams street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fisher and little son, Kenneth, were weekend guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Tiffin, at Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinmetz entertained the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mott Wilcox of Howell, and sister, Mrs. T. W. Driver, of Ann Arbor, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schaufele of South Main street, spent Sunday with the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nichols in Detroit. They found Mrs. Nichols and children recovering from their recent illness.

The thimble party of the Lutheran Ladies Aid society, which was to have been held Wednesday, February 7, at the home of Mrs. Paul Wiedman, has been postponed until February 14 on account of the conference here next week.

The dancing party given by the officers social club of the Detroit House of Correction Prison Farm, at the Penniman Allen auditorium last Friday evening, was well attended, and was one of the most enjoyable parties of the season. Amert's Orchestra of Ann Arbor furnished splendid music.

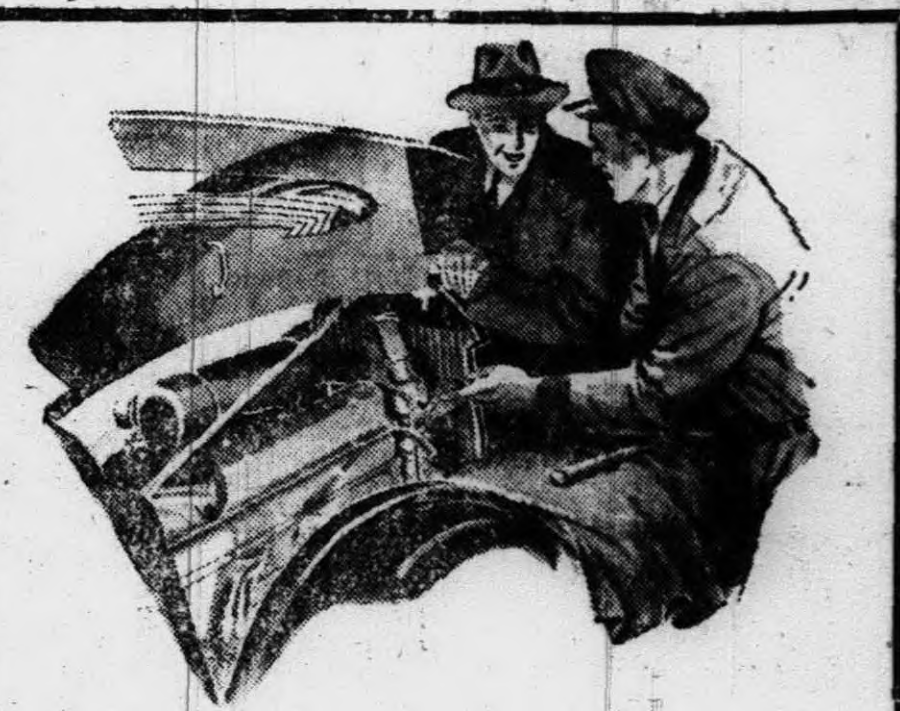

The building owned by Ed Shafer in Northville and used as a flour and feed store by George McLaren of this place, was destroyed by fire, Thursday morning. The fire started in the top of the building, but the origin is unknown. There was a small insurance on the building and contents. Mr. McLaren expects to resume business in a short time.

Drs. R. E. Cooper and Luther

Peck of this place, attended the interesting and instructive lectures given before the Wayne County Medical Association and neighboring societies, last Monday and Tuesday, at Detroit, on the use of insulin, the new and successful cure for diabetes. The lectures were given by Dr. J. R. McLeod, head of the Physiology department of the University of Toronto, and Dr. F. G. Banting, discoverer of the new cure. Dr. Banting told of several cases of almost dying persons restored to health by the use of insulin.

In Baltimore, the embarrassed manufacturers of Gallagher & Burton's bourbon promised outraged customers an investigation; somehow, 3,600 half-pints labeled as whiskey had turned out to be straight city water.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS work overtime when the nights are long and the days are dark. They don't do their best work, either, unless the lamp bulbs are kept free from dust and dirt . . . unless they're the proper size—neither too large nor too small . . . and unless they have shades that provide maximum glareless light.

Be sure you have plenty of spare light bulbs on hand, too. Your dealer has them or you'll find them at any Edison office—in all sizes—all modestly priced. My MICHIGAN

BY • ELTON R. EATON

Readers of The Plymouth Mail will be especially interested in a news release sent out from the Michigan Conservation department in Lansing as to the opinion of farmers relative to pheasant hunting and the increase in the pheasant flock in Michigan.

Especially do we desire to call your attention to a portion of one sentence which calls attention to the deplorable conduct of hunters from Detroit who tramp over the farms in Western Wayne county. Read the item in full—and we think you will not be surprised to know of the department's discovery of the hostility of the farmers in this area, at least to big city hunters. It follows.

With initial sampling of farmers' opinions on improvement of wildlife food and cover on farms complete, men of the conservation department's game division this week began drawing up plans for sample farms, to determine how many seedling trees and other materials may be needed.

About 1,500 farmers in all parts of the pheasant range were interviewed by game men and conservation officers. While their findings have yet to be tabulated, the interviewers reported they found some farmers ready to cooperate to improve conditions for wildlife on their farms, some not interested in increasing their pheasant crop, and some, near large cities, outspoken in their belief that hunters may well mend their manners before hunting on their land is increased.

Farmers' opinions collected in the sampling survey and cost figures on sample plans now being prepared will be presented to the conservation commission at its February 10 meeting, when a budget for improvement of wildlife conditions on private lands will be drawn up.

Meanwhile the department is welcoming letters from farmers not interviewed and from sportsmen's clubs expressing opinions on the department plan to furnish technical advice, planting stock and other materials to improve game food and cover conditions on private land.

Michigan people who have spent the winter in southern states trying to escape the severity of one of the coldest winters Michigan has had in many a year, are somewhat surprised by the small number of ducks they see on the southern rivers and lakes as compared to previous years.

There is no question but what the heavy hunting pressure in recent years has taken a severe toll in the duck population.

It is interesting to note, however, that even though the winter has been a hard one, there are apparently more ducks wintering in Michigan than is usual.

The Michigan conservation department has been making some interesting observations.

Fifty thousand wintering ducks were counted along the state's southeastern lake front by conservation department game men who collected some Michigan figures by airplane survey while the annual national duck count is in progress.

The observers were pleased to report that canvasbacks were the most abundant among the wintering ducks, with scaup second and blacks and mallards next most numerous in that order.

Much of Lake Erie was free of ice when the census was made. Chief waterfowl concentration point was the Grosse Ile area, where more than 35,000 ducks and more than 100 swans were seen.

In the course of the survey, several oil slicks were seen along the Detroit river.

While flying to the waterfowl wintering areas, the game men were treated to the unusual spectacle of two buck deer battling in Livingston county just north-east of Howell, while two other deer stood nearby. At the second low circle by the plane, the bucks abandoned the fight and ran.

Not only are the sportsmen of Michigan alarmed over the decline of fishing in the Great Lakes, but from Wisconsin's department of conservation also comes word that some steps must be taken to conserve the fish of the Great Lakes.

The Wisconsin department declared that it has the duty of protecting the rights of sport fishermen on the Great Lakes as well as commercial fishermen. It said that it was particularly interested in the contention of the majority of commercial fishermen on Lake Michigan that the fish supply is declining and that tighter, more uniform, regulations are necessary.

A poll of commercial fishermen around Lake Michigan by the International Board of Inquiry For The Great Lakes Fisheries brought statements from more than 80 men who catch Lake Michigan fish for a livelihood that fishing would be improved by preventing pollution, by a more rigid protection of fish during the spawning season, and by the elimination of the habitual violator who refuses to live under the regulations endorsed by most of the commercial fishermen.

The department declared that sport fishing for lake trout gives Wisconsin an ocean type of recreational fishing that is now the basis for an increasing tourist industry. It pointed out that the International Board of Inquiry found:

"Fishing with hook and line for sport is conducted on a large scale on Lake Michigan. Thousands of anglers line the piers and operate along the shore and in the bays to fish for yellow perch, yellow pike, smelt, northern pike, white bass, black bass, and other game fish."

In polling 232 licensed commercial fishermen on Lake Michigan, the International Board found that 59 per cent were dissatisfied with the laxity of present commercial fishing regulations where authority is divided between the various states and recommended unified control as would result from national or international regulation.

In Phoenix, Arizona, Francis Joseph Bressi, 23, walked into the sheriff's office, explained that he had married eight women, six of them bigamously, now wanted to be locked up "rather than jeopardize the happiness of more girls."

Magician Show is Scheduled for Winter Carnival

A half hour magician show will be presented by Roy Rew during the Central Grade PTA's Winter Carnival, according to Mrs. W. V. Clarke, chairman. The carnival will take place Saturday evening, February 7, in the Central Grade school from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

This is the organization's singular money making scheme of the year. The proceeds will go into a fund for a piano for the school, according to Mrs. Jack Taylor, PTA president.

Mr. Rew's show is scheduled to begin at 8:30. Sound cartoons will also be included on the program, as will a Cake Walk. Games planned include: bowling, shuffleboard, and ping pong. Pop corn, coke, balloon booths, and a fish pond are also being planned by the committees in charge. Refreshments, including ice cream, ice cream cones, home made cake, and coffee will be sold in the tea room.

The ten cent admission tickets will be available at the door. Tickets granting admission to the various concessions will be sold at a special booth.

The committee members planning the program are as follows: Directing committee: Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hondorp, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Groff, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Noll, Mrs. Nellie Bird, and Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Clarke.

Down Under The Palm Trees

By ELTON R. EATON

The other morning mercury readings in the weather tabulation published in most daily newspapers said the low in Detroit was 4 above zero, that the high during the day was 20 degrees above. That meant that it was probably zero or a little below in the country around Plymouth. Detroit weather bureau readers are always influenced somewhat by the fact that they are taken in the heart of the city, and that generally means a few degrees warmer than it is in the country surrounding Plymouth.

That same forenoon Edward C. Hough of the Daisy Manufacturing company who is spending a brief vacation at the home of his sister, Mrs. Kimball in Miami, walked out into the backyard of her home and picked some carnations that are growing in front of a lily pool where a number of Egyptian water lilies are in full bloom.

This little incident gives one but a brief glimpse into the vastness of these great United States of ours, and the opportunities it offers to enjoy at any time of the year any kind of weather somewhere within its boundaries.

Had an idea that Editor Murl DeFoe of The Charlotte Republican-Tribune was the only person in America who had never owned or driven an automobile. But recently he discovered another one. He's Robert Ripley of "Believe it or Not" cartoon fame. Ripley has never driven an automobile, although he does own several. He does not smoke. Neither does Editor DeFoe. He does not play cards, neither does Editor DeFoe. He does not drink, and neither does Editor DeFoe. He is a travel "hound" and so is DeFoe. Ripley, a number of years ago while in China, bought one of those typical Chinese junkies you so often see pictured on the Chinese waterfronts. He brought it across the ocean and recently sailed it down to Miami. The only change he has made in the boat was the installation of an engine for power. While the sails are not often used, they remain in perfect condition and can be used at any time. The odd painting of the craft with yellow, red and green colors, Ripley says, is the same that Chinese have used for over 2,000 years. He plans to go back to China during the forthcoming summer. Right now he says he is in Florida to reduce his weight being well over 200 pounds. He has never married, therefore has lots of cash to spend in ways he deems best.

Paul Weidman, president of the Plymouth Rotary club, and Mrs. Weidman, are thoroughly enjoying the hot sunshine that has prevailed in Miami since their recent arrival. He was one of 225 visitors from northern states at the Miami Rotary club meeting the other day. The Plymouth Rotarian liked the snap and business like way the club's affairs are run, as well as the exceptional hospitality of the Miami Rotarians. He has picked up several ideas that Plymouth Rotarians may soon find being used in the hometown club. Mrs. Weidman is feeling much better and is able to do some sightseeing with Mr. Weidman and the Blands.

made by Democrats, were the red-hot Republican addresses it has ever been my opportunity to hear. The last speaker took special delight in ridiculing and pointing out what a farce was the statement made by former President Roosevelt that the south was the nation's Number one economic problem. But they still vote Democratic, although there's a lot of bitter anti-Truman sentiment down here.

Cubans and people from South America seem to be flocking to this part of the country. One hears almost as much Spanish spoken on downtown business streets as English. A local paper recently stated that over 10,000 Cubans had arrived in Miami during the past year, more than had returned to that country. Most of these newcomers seem to be young people.

Was down to the Miami airport the other night to see the planes come in. Among the passengers who got off from a plane that had just arrived from Detroit was Secretary of State Fred Alger. He is spending a brief vacation at Palm Beach.

Some few days ago happened to meet Bert Richwine of Kalamazoo on the streets in Miami. Mr. Richwine, always active in public affairs, some years ago, organized the fire department for the community of Millwood, which adjoins Kalamazoo on the southeast side of the city. He is an old friend of the McAllister family that has for generations had some member of their family in the Kalamazoo fire department. The uncle of Chief McAllister of the Plymouth fire department, in making a heroic fight against a fire in Kalamazoo years ago, was so badly injured that he is a cripple for life and is no longer able to get around. He said that any McAllister, if given half a chance, would make a good fireman. It's in the blood of the family, said Mr. Richwine.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs have finally landed in the southern end of Florida. They left late in December, driving down to New Orleans where they spent considerable time in that historic city. They have been from early January until a couple of weeks ago in getting over to this part of the state. They are now nicely located in a trailer camp at Fort Lauderdale. Never a day passes for the Jacobs without a swim in the Atlantic. Both are as brown as a couple of Chippewa Indians, but looking fine and thoroughly enjoying the winter. It is not their plan to return to Plymouth before the middle of April. Their route northwards as at present contemplated lies through Washington, D.C.

Met Mr. and Mrs. Al Boyer of Detroit on the streets of Miami the other day and he specially requested that his best wishes be extended to Harry Robinson, as well as Russell Walker of Territorial road.

"When I was a boy in Detroit Harry Robinson used to come down there to run the horse auction sales. That's when I first became acquainted with him. Being a lover of horses, it has been my good fortune to be thrown in contact with him all of the years since" said Mr. Boyer.

Mr. Boyer is a prominent Detroit business man. He started and for a long time owned the Boyer Haunted stores of Detroit and vicinity, but some years ago sold them in order to secure a bit more liberty for himself.

Mrs. Boyer, like her husband, is also fond of horses. She was a frequent rider in the Northville horse show previous to the war, and won many prizes by her mastery way of handling her horse in these contests.

Georgia is not alone in its operation of speed traps. The A A A has come out with a statement highly critical of a lot of communities in Florida that also are operating speed traps. The Association charges that these rackets are being run not for the protection of traffic but as shake-downs of tourists. Possibly the decline in the amount of tourist business in some degree accounts for these legalized stick-ups.

In Providence, Bus Terminal Agent Harold Waterman told police that a determined patron dropped a nickel in a vending machine, got nothing, shook it, still got nothing, picked it up and carried it off.

TERRY'S BAKERY

Babson

Babson Discusses Marriages and Babies. Statisticians are always interested in marriages and births. These with crops are the basis of prosperity. I am pleased to report that although the crop of marriages declined somewhat during 1947, the crop of babies reach an all-time high. There also has been a strong upturn in "life expectancy" figures.

Babies Help Business. This increase in marriages and babies should help certain lines of business. These should continue to hold up while many other lines will decline. Among these I might mention home construction, household furnishings, suburban real estate, home appliances, insurance, children's supplies of all kinds including milk and other children's foods.

As these babies grow up, there will be a further demand for clothing, bicycles, children's publications, musical instruments and toys. Therefore, when a baby is born into the world, it not only causes a demand for baby supplies, but through the years it should develop a demand for things used by young people, adults and so on, throughout life.

Who Are Having Children? Children per se need not be an asset to a nation; it all depends upon whose children these are and into what they are to develop. China, India, and other nations do not need more children at the present time. Probably one of the best things that the United States could export to China today would be contraceptives accompanied by nurses showing how they could be used. This might also apply to social work amongst the poorest groups even in the United States.

The children of middle class families are a great asset to the nation. This will especially become true as the nation becomes more interested in decentralization. Certain states in the Central West with tremendous production possibilities are in special need of more marriages and more babies at the present time.

Life Expectancy Increasing. The value of education depends largely upon the length of life of the individual. When people lived on an average of only forty-five years, it was much more expensive to spend money on education than it is today when they live an average of sixty-five years. Hence, a baby is worth more today than it ever was, and it is much more profitable today for parents to invest money in the education and good health of children.

A longer life expectancy should cause a greater demand for goods of quality, that is, longer lasting goods. Services for older people should increase, and new industries develop in connection with homes for aged people, better housing, balanced food diets, increased recreational facilities, greater travel, adult education, and the warmer sections of the country which older people will seek. With continued newspaper advertising these new babies will demand the latest in houses, appliances, and entertainment. Children are nature's insurance policies. God's plan was that we should put our savings into children and land, depending upon these to take care of us in our old age. Those who are interested in a further study of this question should write Donald B. Woodward, Vice President of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of New York City.

Putting Children to Work. I wish these new babies could be trained under the apprentice system of years ago. Even compulsory and organized sports tend to decrease individual self employment. Parents truly interested in their children should work to have the State and Federal laws revised permitting children to go to work younger.

The children who have chores to do at home are the best in their studies at school. All children should have employment during the summer and to do work about the home or the farm or the office even while attending school. It also helps young people to select their life work if they have had actual experience with farming, manufacturing, selling, etc. So much for marriage and babies!

Nutrition Aids from the American Red Cross Nutrition Service

Dried fruits are among the few foods likely to carry a lower price than a year ago. A crop that was average or better combined with lower exports has made supplies plentiful. The United States Department of Agriculture reports sizeable decreases in the wholesale prices of raisins, prunes, peaches and figs.

This should be excellent news for Plymouth homemakers because dried fruits are so good for making some of the other low cost foods taste better. Their flavor is rich and they go a long way because they contain little water. One pound makes 10 servings when stewed and served as sauce and many more when combined with other foods.

The sweetness of all dried fruits shows their energy giving value. Along with this sweetness they carry minerals and vitamins to help keep the body in good running order. This makes them excellent to satisfy the sweet tooth of youngsters.

The labels on the boxes of dried fruits tell whether they need soaking or not. If they require it, soak only until the pulp is softened before cooking. Long soaking takes too much flavor from the fruit.

For best results cook the fruit gently, be sure to use the water in which it was soaked. Shortly before the fruit is tender add a dash of salt to bring out the sweetness and flavor. Peaches, apricots and apples need a little sweetening too—about a 1/4 cup sugar, honey or syrup to each cup of fruit. To turn the fruit into a spicy condiment to serve with meat or poultry add a little vinegar, a few whole cloves and a few slivers of cinnamon bark to the fruit about five minutes before it is tender.

There's nothing like piping hot cereal to get the day started right during cold weather. It's easy to turn this familiar dish into gala fare by adding dried fruit to it. Raisins and prunes are especially good. Soak the fruit, if necessary, and use the water in which it was soaked as part of the liquid for cooking the cereal. Using evaporated milk for the rest of it makes the cereal delicious in flavor and tucks in lots of extra food value.

Cereal DeLuxe. One cup evaporated milk, 1 1/2 cups water (from soaking fruit), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup uncooked cereal, 1/2 cup seedless raisins or chopped prunes.

Heat evaporated milk and water to boiling point over low heat. Add salt. Gradually stir in cereal and fruit. Continue the cooking as directed on the package of cereal. Serve with cream or top milk and sugar. If liked, 1/4 cup brown sugar and 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon may be stirred into cereal before serving. Serves 6.

Raisins or prunes add delightful flavor to the main dish of an oven dinner when they're combined with sweet potatoes, and pork sausage. Grated orange rind points up the flavor of the rest of the ingredients. Add buttered beans for the vegetable, crisp celery and carrots or a tossed salad, and top off the meal with gingerbread baked with the main dish casserole.

Oven Dinner. Six medium sized sweet potatoes, salt, pepper, 2 tablespoons grated orange rind, 1/4 cup sugar (brown preferred), 1/2 cup seedless raisins or chopped prunes, 1 pound sausage meat, 1/2 cup water.

Scrub sweet potatoes and cook in skins until almost tender. Drain. Peel and cut into slices about 1/2 inch thick. Place in greased casserole, sprinkling each layer with salt, pepper, grated orange rind, brown sugar and fruit. (If necessary soak prunes for a few minutes to soften.) Form meat into six patties and brown in skillet. Pour off most of fat. Add water to pan and simmer meat for about 5 minutes. Place meat patties on top of potatoes and pour water over all. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for about 45 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Makes 6 servings.

A city dude came over for some rabbit hunting last week—all dressed up in a fancy corduroy suit, fancy cap and leggings, and hired little Willie Brown as a guide and carry-all. While they were hunting, big rabbit jumped out of a thicket, looked at the city fellow, and dropped dead. "What happened to it," asked the city man. "Launched himself to death," said Willie.
