George A. Smith Presides Over Final Meeting

Included on the Monday afternoon session for the men was a demonstration by the Grosse Pointe club on "Instructing New Members." A community Service Town Hall program was also conducted by Past District Governor Joseph Brady of Howell. Participating in it were Robert Jones, president of the Clarkston club, who described the complete community service possible in the small Rotary club, and by John Maynard, past president of the Detroit club, who presented a picture of the splendid work which the Detroit Rotary club has done and is doing in the Youth Center, and the service which it has provided for teen-age boys and girls through the establishment of Youth Hostels.

Between 600-700 attended the banquet which climaxed the conference. The principal address was delivered by John G. Diefenbaker, U. S. Senator, who described the establishment of the United Nations at San Francisco. He pointed out the danger arising from the use of the veto, which is Russia's device in which she hopes to destroy the organization which she helped to form, he stated. Mr. Diefenbaker traced the events of the past few weeks in Europe and urged upon Rotarians the need of all democratic and liberty loving persons and organizations to be aware of the great dangers now appearing upon our horizon.

Parkside Bar Team Captures City's Basketball League Championship

Parkside Bar bounced back from their defeat by Plymouth Sport Shop on Monday, March 8, to defeat the same team Wednesday, March 10, to become the champions of the City Recreation Basketball league.

Over 350 people saw Parkside take a 13-7 lead at the quarter as Doug Egloff and Robert Norman led the attack. However, in the second period Sport Shop held Parkside to three points, three free throws, as they scored nine points to make the score 16-16 at the half.

Parkside's hopes dimmed during the second period as Doug Egloff had the fourth foul called on him, and spent most of that quarter on the bench.

Egloff started the third quarter and through his nine points, Parkside held a 29-26 lead at the end of that period. With three minutes to go, Sport Shop still trailed by three points. The last three minutes were as exciting and hectic as those of the previous Monday evening, but Sport Shop could not pull the game out of the fire as they had done that evening and lost 39-37.

Doug Egloff led the Parkside attack with 22 points, scoring 15 of them in the last half, as Jack Roberts netted 15 points for the Plymouth Sport Shop team.

Should Parkside defeat the Moose, the Wayne Recreation champs, they will journey to Coldwater March 25 for the state championship tournament.

PHS Plans Career Meeting, April 14

Plans for the annual Career Conference sponsored by the Plymouth Senior High school for the seniors, juniors, parents and teachers, which will be held on April 14 at the High School, are well under way.

The purpose of this conference is to acquaint the students and their parents with the professions and occupations, and the qualifications, the training, chances for advancement, compensation and personal satisfaction which are involved.

Consultants representing practically all of the Michigan colleges, the industries in this area, and the professions will be present to give information and to answer questions.

Here's a brief message to working girls. If you have married since getting your social security card, be sure to have your name changed on the social security records. This should be done at once. If your employer reports your wages under a former name, it may result in loss of benefits for you or your family.

City's Basketball Season Reviewed

A breakdown of the total is as follows: Men's major division, eight teams; Girls' division, four teams; Boys' Class C, four teams; Boys' Class D, six teams; Boys' Class E, four teams.

The total participation of players was 1,440 men, 416 girls, and 990 boys for a total of 2,846. Spectators for the contests totaled 6,857.

In the men's division each team played 14 games during the regular season, and the teams with a two loss and out playoff, which gave a total of 63 games played.

Each girls' team played nine games with the top two teams playing a playoff similar to the men's, which gave a total of 20 games played.

In the boys' divisions each team played six games, with no playoff due to the late start of this league. The total number of boys games was 42.

The above figures give a grand total of 125 basketball games played under the Plymouth Recreation Commission from December 3 to March 10.

THROUGHOUT the ages men have ever clung To the everlasting promises of God. When loss and grief and suffering have wrung Their hearts, the pilgrims journeying on earth's sod Have turned their faces skyward, and will turn Forever toward the arching starlit skies, Where steadfastly his silver fires burn Like words of flame before their seeking eyes.

O men, behold! Lift up your eyes and see Who hath created them. He brings them out, He names each one—he knows their destiny. Not one will fail! Oh, we so prone to doubt, Can we not trust the One through life's brief hour, Who has such infinite, unfailing power?

KEEP IT GOOD

Thank You, Mrs. Customer, we know you like GOOD GAS SERVICE and WE MEAN TO KEEP IT GOOD even though our costs are higher than ever.

But it isn't easy these days to keep it that way, and, at the same time, build ahead for your future needs. As you know in your own case, our "living costs" are up and up.

The payrolls for our family—the thousands of men, women and children in the families of our workers whose living comes from what you buy from us—are up. The average cost to us of natural gas delivered to customers in 244 Michigan communities is up. (One reason is that Michigan natural gas is no longer available in large quantities. Another is that natural gas from Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas must be imported and put in storage fields during warm weather to help meet winter demands—which involves considerable expense.) Building costs, material costs, equipment costs... are all up. But not—as yet—the price to you.

What you want is good, reliable, plentiful service. And you want your future supply protected. So we must build ahead to bring gas from far states and make arrangements to store vast quantities underground, so it will be ready when you need it most.

For you, we must be able to keep on doing these things. But the problems grow heavier. What would you do in our place?

Petticoat Pattern

By Charlotte Winterhalter and Kay Knowlton

With Easter only a week away, it's time to check over your clothes to see what needs cleaning, altering, and look for possible holes due to burns. At Herald Tri Cleaners, you can have all of these things taken care of with a minimum amount of time and effort involved. Call 110 for pick-up and delivery service. Gals, don't forget — for that "New Look" — take your last year's clothes to Herald's, where a graduate seamstress will pull in your waistline and lengthen your hemline.

Spring seems to begin with Easter no matter what the date of weather, so let's start thinking about budding flowers and green, green grass. But, to make sure your grass is green, here are a few simple rules: First—prepare the soil thoroughly. If there is no natural drainage, it must be done manually. Next—remove all old grass and weeds. Third—fertilize from three to six inches. Now—you're ready for sowing the seed and that is were Saxton Farm Supply can help you. Stop by and ask about the various seeds available.

Have you started thinking about where to go for dinner Easter? You know how it is—we get all dressed up for church and it's no fun to have to come home and get a big dinner, so let's make it a big occasion and go to the beautifully redecorated Mayflower Dining Room and have Mr. Lofy treat us to one of his specialties—WINE BAKED HAM. Or, if you prefer—special cuts of Prime Ribs of Beef. Dinner starts at 12:30 p.m. and continues to 8 p.m.

Spring means a change not only of weather and clothes, but also a changeover for your auto. Take your car over to Ash's Shell Service, 584 S. Main street, and let them take complete charge of changing your gear oil, chassis lubricants, and motor oil from winter to summer grade. Their work is thorough — we know from experience — which is a mighty good thing to keep in mind if you are as inexperienced as we in the mechanics of that complex thing—the automobile.

When we think of spring, we can almost see the grass growing and leaves budding and smell the flowers — but, while we're waiting for the weather to change, we must think about flowers for Easter. The day just wouldn't be complete without them. At Heide's Greenhouses, 696 Mill street, you will find flowers and plants to meet your every need. Corsages for the new outfit, and cut flowers and plants for the house. Among those available are Tulips, Lilies, Hyacinths, Cinerarias, and Hydrangeas.

The younger generation have the most fun at Eastertime hunting for eggs, bunnies, and Easter Baskets. This marks a big occasion in their young lives. At Loren Goodale's—as is their usual custom—there will be beautifully wrapped baskets filled with all kinds of candies. And, for you who wish to have a quick, delicious dessert for dinner, try Frigid Dough cakes and frostings. Just pour into a pan and bake. The frosting is also completely prepared.

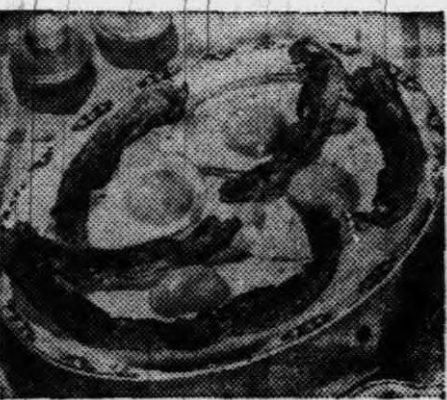

A lovely gift for a sweetheart, wife, mother, or daughter is also in order for Easter morning, and what a lovely surprise it will be for your loved one. Herrick Jewelry has a lovely assortment of chains and crosses for that new suit or a string of pearls for the new dress. The pearls may be had in a single strand or as many as seven or eight strands. And, for that extra special gift how about a Bulova or Hamilton wrist watch in either plain or jeweled style?

Planning a party or get-together? If you are wondering about what to serve, we have the answer here with no worry or work involved: Marquis Fine Foods have started a new carry-out service which delivers orders, large or small, to your door for just the price of a one way taxi. Try their deliciously prepared chicken, piping hot chili, sandwiches, home made pies and cakes, and, of course, delicious coffee. Just call 9117—and they'll take care of the rest.

Hey, youngsters! Here's a chance for you to get a big Bunny Rabbit, or one of the Easter Baskets filled with candy in Fisher's Shoe Store window. All you have to do is get Mom to take you down there to buy your new spring shoes. A clerk will be happy to tell you all about how you can perhaps have one of these bunnies or baskets. . . and Mom, have you been reading about the Air Step Fashion Fair in the national magazines to run through March 27? At Fisher's they have all the new high fashion colors: red, blue, navy, green, grey and multi-colored.

Healthful Breakfast Will Appeal to Family If Menus Are Varied

All those in favor of bacon and eggs have the right idea for there's no denying the importance of a substantial breakfast. In addition to bacon and eggs, the pattern should include fruit or fruit juice, toast, butter and a beverage.

You can't expect a first-class health rating if you skip breakfast frequently. And you can't do your best work, be you business man, farmer, housewife, career girl or school child, if mid-morning hunger pains bother you.

The remedy? A well-rounded breakfast that gives you foods essential for health.

You say you can't eat breakfast? Nonsense. Of course, if you're one of those skip-breakfast people, it may take you a little time to get used to eating it, but little by little you can do it and really like it. It's worth it, if you feel better and can work better, isn't it?

Afraid of gaining weight, you say? No, not if breakfast includes a citrus fruit, soft boiled or poached egg, dry toast and coffee or tea without cream or sugar. You won't have nearly as hard a time resisting the snacks which put on weight if you're fortified with a nicely balanced breakfast.

We have variety in lunches and dinners, why not plan to have it in breakfasts? It will make them ever so much more interesting.

Prepare eggs in several different styles, scrambled, poached, soft boiled, coddled, fried, baked or creamed. Have interesting breads and spreads.

Don't forget that meats add variety, too. Try sliced or fried ham as well as bacon, sausage, Canadian bacon or dried beef.

Then, too, you can find interesting variations for pancakes and waffles. Why not this:

- #### Bran Griddle Cakes.
- (Makes 15 cakes, 5 1/2 inches in diameter)
- 2 eggs
  - 1/4 cup sugar
  - 2 1/4 cups milk
  - 3 cups sifted flour
  - 2 tablespoons baking powder
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
  - 1/2 cup melted shortening
  - 1/2 cup bran

Beat eggs and sugar until light and fluffy. Add milk and mix well. Sift flour with baking powder and salt; add to first mixture, stirring until flour disappears. Add shortening. Fold in bran. Bake on a hot griddle, turning only once.

You'll find that Dutch pancakes will do a nice filling job during breakfast, as well as contributing the valuable protein of eggs for this meal.

- #### Dutch Pancakes.
- (Serves 4)
- 4 eggs
  - 1/4 cup sifted flour
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 1/4 cup milk
  - 2 tablespoons soft butter
  - Confectioners' sugar
  - Jam

Beat eggs thoroughly. Sift flour and salt together and add to eggs alternately with milk to make a smooth batter. Spread butter over bottom and sides of cold frying pan. Pour in batter and place in a hot (400 degree) oven. Bake 20 to 25 minutes, reducing heat gradually to moderate (350 degrees) during the baking. Pancakes should puff up at the sides.

Have you lost your key? No, not your door key—your social security key. Your social security card is the key to your financial future. Guard it well. If you have lost it, get a duplicate of your original number at your nearest social security office. Never get a second new number.

- #### LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
- Baked Salmon Loaf
  - Goldenrod Egg Sauce
  - Lemon Wedges
  - Browned Potatoes
  - Green Peas
  - Apple, Pineapple Salad
  - Broiled Grapefruit
  - Cookies
  - Beverage

and be crisp and brown. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar and spread with jam. Roll like an omelet and serve immediately from a hot platter.

- #### Eggs and Pork Sausage.
- (Serves 6)
- 3/4 pound bulk pork sausage
  - 3 cups dry cubed bread
  - 6 eggs, beaten
  - 6 tablespoons milk
  - 1/2 cup grated cheese

Saute sausage in skillet until well browned. Pour off most of the fat, then add bread cubes and brown. Combine eggs, milk and cheese and add to sausage mixture. Cook like scrambled eggs. Serve at once.

- #### Shirred Eggs and Sausages.
- (Serves 6)
- 6 link sausages
  - 1 cup catsup
  - 6 eggs

Cut sausages into one-inch pieces and brown lightly. Place in a shallow baking dish and cover with catsup. Break eggs over catsup and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 15 minutes.

- #### Sour Cream Coffee Rolls.
- 2 cups milk
  - 1 cup sour cream
  - 1/2 cup shortening
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 4 beaten eggs
  - 2 cakes yeast
  - 1/2 cup warm water
  - 13 cups flour

Scald milk and cream. Add shortening, salt and sugar, then cool. Add the eggs and the yeast which has been softened in lukewarm water. Blend well. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down. Cover the bottom of large muffin tins with 1/2-inch thick pieces of dough. Cover with filling and place another piece of dough on top. This may be baked as a coffee loaf in the same manner, covering the bottom of a loaf tin with dough, putting on the filling and covering with another piece of dough. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake rolls in a hot oven 25 minutes. For bread, use a hot oven for 10 minutes, then reduce to moderate for 40 minutes.

Hardly anyone can resist piping hot pancakes with butter and syrup for breakfast. For those with substantial appetites and large caloric needs, serve pancakes often. Or, use them to add variety to the breakfast pattern.

- #### Filling.
- 1 cup cooked, chopped prunes
  - 1/2 cup sugar
  - 1/2 cup chopped nuts
  - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
  - 1/2 cup raisins

Mix together thoroughly. The sour cream coffee dough will make three loaves of bread and several dozen rolls.

- #### Banana Sour Cream Bread.
- (Makes 1 large loaf)
- 1/2 cup thick sour cream
  - 1/2 cup brown sugar
  - 1 1/2 cups mashed banana
  - 1 cup bran
  - 1 1/2 cups flour
  - 2 teaspoons baking powder
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 teaspoon soda

Blend the first four ingredients. Add, sifted together, the dry ingredients. Place in a greased loaf pan and let stand 20 minutes. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for about one hour. Make this the day before, and toast for breakfast. It's delicious.

DAR Meeting Features Films

Two motion pictures were viewed by members of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of the DAR and their husbands at a meeting held Monday evening, March 15, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Moon.

Special guests attending the meeting were Sally Gustafson of Plymouth, and Dorothy Grieger of Northville, who received the group's awards of Good Citizen Pilgrims. The awards are made annually to senior girls named by their classmates and faculty as the best all-around citizens.

The films the group witnessed were entitled "Eighteenth Century Life in Williamsburg, Virginia," and "Frying Pan and the Fire." The first dealt with restoration work done in the Virginia city, while the second was concerned with nature conservation.

Members of the CAR gathered for a luncheon at the hotel today with Cynthia Baker, Betty Lou Baker, Margaret Jean Willoughby and Nancy Mastick representing Plymouth.

The program of the day also honored the Good Citizenship Pilgrims, with Plymouth and Northville's choices attending.

Good Cooks Claim The Little Things Count in Preparing Snappy Menus

To serve meals that your family and friends will brag about, remember "it's the little things that count."

Those little tricks that mean so much are simple to do and remember says Annabel Jubb of the foods department at Michigan State college who suggests a few for us.

With one item such as maraschino cherries you can do so much. For an interesting boiled or seven-minute frosting use the cherry juice in place of the water. Then add a few chopped cherries to it or use them as a garnish. Or for a salad, blend the cherry juice with Philadelphia cream cheese and fill the centers of canned pears, peaches, apricots or pineapple rings. Chop a few cherries and add to the salad dressing. Have you tried leaving grapefruit sections in maraschino cherry juice overnight for a new look and taste in salads?

Here's an idea with coconut. Tint some finely grated coconut with a bit of red or green vegetable coloring. Stir and work in with a fork until all the color is blended. It's very nice for topping puddings or sundaes. Or you can roll fruits for salads in it. Tasty and pretty as well!

A sweet thought for leftover bits in your cookie jar, graham cracker box or cake plate is this: add a little brown sugar and butter or peanut butter for a crumbled topping on apple Betty or coffee cake. Or add a few chopped nuts to the crumbs and use on the freshly frosted tops of your cup cakes.

Michigan State college poultry specialists say that eggs should be held at high relative humidity to prevent evaporation of water from the egg. Good apple holding conditions will store eggs well. Eggs pick up flavors rapidly.

Rabies Cases Are Reported to Vets

Six cases of dogs with rabies have been reported to two local veterinarians, Drs. E. B. Cavell, Jr., and Cass Kershaw, in the past weeks.

They stress that rabies in dogs can be prevented by one-shot vaccination, once a year, and emphasize that this is the time of year when rabies is spread among animals.

A report from Dr. F. E. Leeder, director of the Bureau of Disease Control for the Michigan Department of Health, states that last year there were 332 cases of rabies among animals in Michigan. The 2,211 people who had been bitten by them, or in close contact with them, spent approximately $456,575 for anti-rabies treatment. The letter, he states, which consists of 14 to 21 injections of vaccine, is dangerous and unpleasant as well as expensive, but it is of the utmost importance to the person exposed. Hydrophobia, once developed, he warns, is fatal in every case.

To prevent rabies and hydrophobia, all dogs should be vaccinated, quarantines should be established in infected areas, stray dogs should be avoided and reported to officers, and persons bitten by animals should consult their physicians at once.

If a dog appears ill, or if he bites a person, he should be confined under the observation of a veterinarian for ten days to see if he develops rabies, the doctor continued. He should not be killed, he stated, except to protect human beings or valuable animals, but every care should be used to keep him from biting or getting his saliva on human beings. He should not be shot through the head, as analysis of brain tissue of the sick animal is the only sure means of diagnosing rabies.

While rabies is commonest among dogs, cats, goats, horses, rabbits, squirrels, foxes, wolves, skunks or any other warm-blooded animal may get and give the disease to other animals or humans, according to Dr. Leeder.

It is difficult to tell whether an animal has rabies, he continued, because the symptoms are like those of other animal diseases, and because rabies develops according to different patterns—either the "furious" type or the "dumb" type.

Dumb rabies, which occurs almost as frequently as the furious type and is just as dangerous, has as symptoms: lethargy, early paralysis of the lower jaw and hind legs, and possibly the appearance of choking. Dr. Leeder stated. The animal rarely bites and does not run wildly. The hazard of this type of rabies is that the owner for a child may think the dog is choking on a bone, try to remove it, and contract the disease by getting the saliva into a scratch on his skin.

Symptoms of furious rabies, he stated, are commonly associated with the cry "Mad Dog!" They include complete change in disposition; uneasiness; a troubled distracted look; unwillingness to be friendly to man or animal; a tendency to wander, avoiding familiar places and seeking a cool place; a change in eating habits even to the point of eating sticks, stones and cloth; and later, a tendency to run wildly biting anything in its path. This stage is followed by paralysis of the lower jaw and rear quarters, and finally death.

Either type of rabies is deadly to any animal that contracts it, and both types of rabies are equally dangerous to human beings.

Plymouth Feeds Hungry England

Aid from Plymouth, Michigan to Plymouth, England is still flowing over the stormy Atlantic—the fortunate people of this progressive American city sending food to the unfortunate people of the English city after which it was named.

Bombed more terribly than any other English city during the world war, Plymouth, England has required far more aid than most other English cities and that is why the Rotary club of Plymouth, Michigan has decided to carry on its humane work for the unfortunate people of that unfortunate country.

At the last meeting of the local Rotary club, Dave Galin announced that $1,050.00 in cash had been contributed by members of the Plymouth club to purchase baskets for families of members of the Plymouth, England Rotary club.

These shipments have been made during the entire winter and now letters are being received from various English families telling of their gratitude for the thoughtfulness of Plymouth, Michigan Rotarians.

It will be recalled that a year or so ago a clothing drive conducted by the local Rotary club resulted in nearly 4,000 separate garments being sent from this city to suffering people of war blighted England.

Plymouth Prepares for Earliest Easter on Sunday March 28

Easter Sunday—March 28—It's just one week from Sunday—and it is the earliest Easter date in many a year.

But Plymouth churches—as well as Plymouth merchants—have planned well for the early date.

Plymouth stores have been busy fitting the fair ladies of this city and vicinity out-with their new Easter togs—and if it doesn't snow, there will be a nice display of Easter bonnets and dresses when church time arrives next week, Sunday.

Mothers have been busy, too, getting ready to color eggs and fix up Easter baskets. Many of our present-day Easter traditions, such as the exchange of colored eggs and greeting cards at Easter time, have their origin in ancient customs that reach back to the dawn of civilization.

The word "Easter" itself comes from Eostra, the Anglo-Saxon goddess of Spring and pagan symbol of fertility. The snows melted and flowers bloomed when she touched the earth, the Teutonic tribes believed.

According to legend, Eostra transformed her pet bird into a rabbit who later developed into our familiar Easter Bunny. That's why the elusive, generous hare still builds nests like a bird and fills them with colored eggs for children.

Our custom of donning new clothes for Easter springs from the age-old desire to "spruce up" at a time when all nature is blooming with new life. The Chinese and North American Indians always cast off their old apparel in the Spring, and the Roman Emperor Constantine introduced the custom to his royal court in the Fourth Century.

Easter, which is celebrated this year on March 28, can fall anywhere between March 22 and April 25. The Church's Council of Nice decided in 325 A.D. that Easter should henceforth fall on the Sunday following the first full moon after the vernal equinox, March 21. This was believed to be the time when the Easter lilies, symbolic of Christ's resurrection bloomed in Egypt.

Today's Easter morning sunrise services are curiously similar to solemn pagan religious rites held long before the time of Christ. Every year, on March 21, tribes gathered on Mountain tops at dawn to celebrate the "Festival of the Sun," hailing the lengthening days and the beginning of Spring.

Persian sun-worshippers began their New Year on this day, and gave each other colored eggs, dyed with herbs. Early Christians consecrated eggs and continued to exchange them at Easter, staining them a deep red to symbolize the blood of Christ.

An Easter gift of colored eggs came to denote affection during the Middle Ages, and elaborately gilded eggs—often adorned with jewels—were exchanged among royal families.

In Baltimore, George L. Jones ran to help at a fire, was treated for back injuries after he was landed on by: 1) Mrs. Calvin Muller, who fell off a rope; 2) Mary Paddy, who fell from a third-story window; 3) Calvin Muller, who fell from a second-story window.

Used Fats Still Urgently Needed

Have you asked your meat dealer recently how much he's paying for used fats? Most dealers are paying more than in the past because fats are still urgently needed.

Every pound of fat or waste slaughter fat you turn in releases a pound of edible fat reminds Emma DuBord, home demonstration agent. The situation is still critical since shipments all over the world are little more than half the pre-war amount.

Used fats take the place of other fats and oils, many of which require feed grains for production. Because of our grain saving program it is twice as important to turn in used fats.

Keep a clean tin can in a cool place to collect fats you can no longer use in cooking. All meats have some fat and bones and table scraps will yield a surprising amount. When you throw out fat you're throwing away money. Turn it in to your local meat dealer. Wayne County Home Economics Extension women are sponsoring a campaign to collect all surplus fats in their homes to turn in to their butchers.

Request Granted for Training Car

Approval of Plymouth Public school's application for a dual control driver-training car to be used in a new driver-training course has been granted by the Automobile club of Michigan and the American Automobile association, according to Helmar Nelson, superintendent.

Delivery of the new Chevrolet car, to be donated by Allison Motor Sales of Plymouth, will be made in the near future.

Plymouth will be the 85th school in Michigan to offer the full classroom and behind-the-wheel driver training, according to Ernest P. Davis, Auto club safety and traffic director. Classroom training alone is being offered in about 110 other state schools. This brings the total schools participating in the program to 195, putting Michigan in the lead of states with high school driver-training.

Road Master for a new reason

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

— Dynaflo Drive

PUT your mind's eye to measuring the makings of a truly masterful car—and you certainly can't overlook this one, especially this year.

Here you find the distinction of taper-thru styling—the regal comfort of an all-coil-spring ride, now newly shielded against vibration—the Fireball action of a great straight-eight engine that boasts the quietest purr and pulse in all motordom.

Already you have reason to grant that it sets a new measure of motorcar excellence, regardless of price. Now look at something where comparison ends—at Roadmaster's Dynaflo Drive.*

For no automobile drive ever developed makes driving so effortless, yet gives you such near-miracle performance.

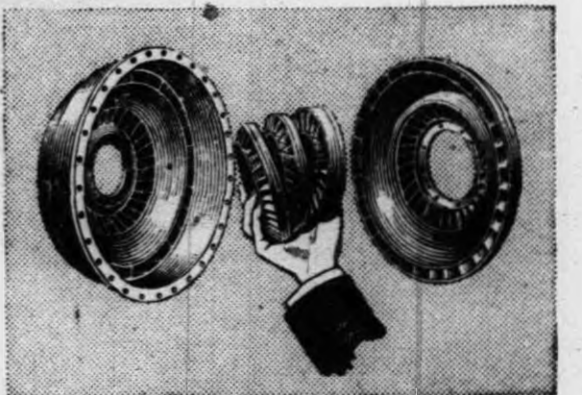

Here you not only drive without a clutch pedal and without manual gearshifting—but also without any break in your Roadmaster's gait, as it accelerates between all speeds. That is because no gears ever shift anywhere in the car—not even automatically!

Here the power plant itself does what gears used to do—responding to the touch of your toe on the treading through all speed ranges—without trace of lag or halt or hesitation.

So though you've already decided there was no surpassing the Roadmaster's super excellence in terms of its 4400 pounds and 18 feet of top styling, luxury and power—just boost your expectations still higher.

See the Roadmaster—try Dynaflo—and you'll find more reason than ever to get your order in—with or without a car to trade.

WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLO DRIVE??

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new super-charging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

Jetter Explains Application for Unemployment Compensation

Nearly 2,000,000 Michigan workers who have jobs in or are laid off from "covered" employing establishments in Michigan are affected by the provisions of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act, and its administration, according to Clarence Jetter, Branch Manager, MUCC.

Widespread changes in the act have been designed to speed proper payment of benefit checks to people who are entitled to them. The original intent of the law, when it was passed in 1936, was to aid the unemployed worker sustain his purchasing power during periods of unemployment which occurred through no fault of his own.

Meetings with employers and workers' representatives have been held throughout the state for several weeks. State office and other MUCC officials have been training the agency's employees, tirelessly, to ready them for the changeover. Literature has been prepared for the workers, for union stewards and business agents, and for workers themselves, by the agency.

As a result, Jetter points out, the agency finds itself faced with questions which have resolved themselves into a pattern, something as follows:

Am I eligible for benefits under the new law?

What do I have to do to get the benefits? How much do I get? Where do I get them? How long will I get them? How soon? How can I be disqualified? How can I appeal from a disqualification or unfair determination?

Here are the answers to some of these questions. The commission has incorporated them into a booklet for stewards and business agents.

1. "Who can get benefits?" The first requirement in all cases is that the worker must have been employed for a period, in "covered" or insured employment. This includes employers who hire 8 or more workers for a period of 20 calendar weeks in any one year. There are a few exceptions to this rule, but not many.

He must also fulfill the five following requirements:

a. He must file a claim, in person at the nearest office of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission.

b. He must have earned at least $8.01 in each of 14 weeks (With an insured employer) during his "base period" a term for the 52 weeks immediately preceding the week in which he filed his new claim.

c. He must be able to work and available for work.

d. He must be seeking work. This means he must be making a reasonably diligent effort to find work on his own initiative. This includes making calls at employers' establishments, reading want ads in the papers, etc.

e. He must register for work with the Michigan State Employment Service, a division of the Unemployment Compensation Commission. In any case of doubt, he may get instructions at any local commission office, as to what he should do.

2. "When to report?"

This is another question which has plagued workers and commission employees alike. Traditionally, for the past 10 years, following layoffs, the claimants were required to report to the commission offices within 48 hours after the layoff. Traditionally, also, it was their plan to report before the offices opened the first day after the layoff, and the offices were invariably jammed on Mondays, following Friday layoffs.

Later in the week, there was sometimes no load at all. A new reporting system has been devised to equalize this load throughout the week, without imperiling the claimants' rights. This system is based upon the last digit of the claimant's Social Security number. If that digit is zero or 1, he reports on Monday; if it is 2 or 3, on Tuesday; 4 or 5, on Wednesday; 6 or 7, on Thursday; 8 or 9, on Friday.

The claim is dated as of the date of the layoff, and the claimant's rights are not jeopardized in any way, nor is his check held up because he registers later in the week. Sometimes, in small offices, this system may be modified in some degree, particularly if the claimant can show that he would suffer undue hardship because of it. It has worked well in the larger cities in mass layoffs, and is now being adapted to statewide use.

On itinerant points, of course, where the office is open only one day a week, the claimant is required to report on the first day the office is open, after his last day of work.

In all circumstances the claimant must report at the commission's employment office nearest his home.

3. "What to bring?" This is simple—for the applicant, only three items being required.

a. First in all cases is his Social Security card.

b. His identification card—with its metal plate attached. It helps in locating his records and to file a new claim, if he has this card. It also speeds payment of the check, when it is forthcoming.

c. Unemployment Compensation Notice to Workers. This is known as UC Form 711. It is to be given to the employee sometime during the employment period. This card contains the employer's name and address, and MUCC number, which are essential for the speedy processing of claims. He may get it when he is hired, or when he is laid off, or at some period in between. The purpose of this requirement is to make available at once, information where the employer keeps his wage information. This will be needed when the commission requests wage information on the claimant.

Other questions will be answered in a later article.

Nutrition Aids

from the American Red Cross Nutrition Service

Green leafy vegetables are usually the first foods to be listed among those which are necessary to keep people in a state of health which insures energy for work with enough left over at the end of the day for enjoying leisure time.

Thrifty shoppers in Plymouth find cabbage not only the most plentiful but the least expensive of all the greens. It gives an unusually good return in food value for the money spent at any time of the year and is a particularly good buy at the present time.

Whether the family will get the maximum amount of goodness from the cabbage depends largely on the way it's prepared. The Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross offers these suggestions for serving cabbage at its best.

Choose a solid head with a vivid green color and fresh, crisp leaves.

Store the cabbage until time to use it in a covered container in the refrigerator to prevent wilting.

Avoid long soaking. Quarter the head of cabbage and let stand in slightly salted water for only a few minutes to make sure there will be no insects left in it.

Shred cabbage just before cooking or making it into salad or slaw. Long standing after shredding means a loss of food value.

Cook cabbage the shortest possible time—only until it is barely tender. Some people recommend covering with a generous amount of water and cooking in an uncovered pan. Others find steaming cabbage or cooking in a covered pan with only enough water to prevent scorching most satisfactory.

The secret of cabbage with good flavor, texture and color is short cooking.

Cabbage cooked until barely tender is a good starting point for many savory dishes. Here are a few suggestions.

Cabbage and Tomato Casserole
One small onion, minced, 1/4 cup butter, margarine or bacon fat, canned condensed tomato soup or tomato puree seasoned to taste with salt and pepper, 3 cups cooked shredded cabbage, 1 cup grated American cheese, 1 cup fine bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper.

Cook onion in 2 tablespoons fat for about 5 minutes. Add to tomato sauce. Arrange alternate layers of cabbage and sauce in greased baking dish, sprinkling cabbage with cheese, crumbs and green pepper. Top with crumbs and dot with remaining fat. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees F., for about 25 minutes or until heated through and brown. Makes 6 servings.

Dutch Cabbage
Shred and cook until barely tender one medium sized head of cabbage. Drain. Combine with mixture of 2 well-beaten eggs, 1 tablespoon melted fat, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper and 1/2 cup milk. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F., for about 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

There's endless variety in cabbage salads. Mix any of the combinations below with cooked salad dressing, mayonnaise, or a combination of half mayonnaise and half sour cream.

Cabbage Salads
Cabbage and Apple: 2 cups shredded cabbage, 1 cup diced tart apple.

Cabbage and Carrot: 2 cups shredded cabbage, 3 carrots shredded, 1 teaspoon onion juice. If liked add also 2 stalks celery, shredded, and 1/2 green pepper, finely chopped.

Cabbage and Pineapple: 2 cups shredded cabbage, 1 cup diced fresh or canned pineapple. Add a little seed for added flavor.

Cabbage and Peanut: 2 cups shredded cabbage, 1/2 cup coarsely chopped roasted peanuts. If liked toss in a few raisins.

Sportsmen and conservationists across the nation are protesting action of the first session of Congress in wiping out the Forest Service's Division of Wildlife Management and are urging the reinstatement of appropriations for re-establishment of this urgently needed agency, the Wildlife Management Institute reported recently. Coming at a time when more Americans than ever before were taking advantage of the recreational opportunities of the national forests, the elimination of appropriations, which abolished the wildlife division, was deplorably short-sighted.

On an appropriation of less than 40 cents for each of the 4 million people who annually hunt and fish on the forests, the Division of Wildlife Management formerly supervised the wildlife resources of 170 million acres, including one-third of the nation's big game. With their meager annual budget of $163,000 they quadrupled the number of big-game animals in the short span of 25 years. By practical administration of the wildlife on the national forests, they repaid to the taxpayers, in production of recreational and aesthetic values, many times the amount they spent. Now, after years of splendid service, the division and its program have been destroyed.

The national forests contain more than 2,300,000 big game animals. Under management by the division, all species of game increased. Deer rose from a low of 450,000 in 1921 to 2,600,000 in 1947. Hunters last year harvested 235,000 deer and 30,000 elk from lands supervised by it. Streams and lakes, which furnished sport for 3,129,000 fishermen in 1947, were stocked and improved by its personnel.

With many of the deer and elk ranges completely stocked, sound management of the animals by qualified wildlife men must be maintained. The danger of overpopulation is imminent in such areas and careful supervision is essential if overbrowsing of the range and starvation of the game is to be avoided. Failure to appropriate funds for wildlife management is of grave concern to all interested in the outdoors. A huge slice of our natural wealth is being jeopardized for the saving of a pittance.

Economy is one thing; false economy quite another. Funds for this service were not an expense—they were an investment.

Increases in game birds, songbirds and in game and fur animals up to 900 per cent were brought about by improving agricultural crop yields through modern soil conservation practices in Illinois, Willett N. Wandell, biologist with the Illinois Natural Historical Survey, Urbana, told a large group of scientists, sportsmen, and conservationists attending a technical session of the 13th North American Wildlife Conference here in the Hotel Jefferson this afternoon.

Substantial increases in pheasants, rabbits, songbirds, and fur-bearers were noted. Wandell said, on a 4-mile study area near Urbana during an 8-year period.

Wandell was one of seven prominent biologists, game technicians and administrators to present papers before this international assembly, which is sponsored annually by the Wildlife Management Institute. The 3-day Conference, which opened today, brought together the largest group of wildlife scientists, conservationists, and sportsmen ever to assemble in the Middle West.

Farm ponds provide havens for more than fish, ducks, and muskrats, the Wildlife Management Institute reported today. Studies completed by Guy A. Greenwell, game technician of the Missouri Conservation Department, show that properly managed farm ponds are used regularly by at least 11 species of game and fur-bearing mammals and game birds other than waterfowl. Ninety-one ponds were studied over a 1-year period. Half of these were being used by quail and nearly all by rabbits. The value of the cover furnished by the growth on the banks of the ponds is emphasized by the finding of heavy use by wildlife of ponds as small as one-quarter of an acre in area.

Without proper management, however, the ponds have little value to wildlife, the studies proved. Only where fire and grazing were excluded from the pond areas was use by wildlife much greater than before the creation of the ponds. Greenwell believes that the ideal farm-pond area, from a wildlife standpoint, is one and one-half acres or more in extent, fenced against grazing, with protected travelways leading to adjacent cover.

The ancient and time-worn system of bounty payments as a means of controlling predatory animals was attacked heavily this afternoon by Rudolf Bennett, professor of zoology at the University of Missouri, before a technical session on "Agricultural Wildlife" at the 13th North American Wildlife Conference in the Hotel Jefferson.

Dr. Bennett said that the bounty system in Missouri has not reduced populations of predators or complaints of damage and has not affected the raising of sheep, hogs, and poultry differently from the factors operating in the nonbounty areas of the state. Professor Bennett told the assembled wildlife scientists, fish and game administrators, and sportsmen that the system should be replaced by a program of extension-trained farmer-trappers as soon as possible. This system was begun in 1945 and gradually is developing and spreading.

Seven prominent scientists and game administrators spoke in this important session. The 3-day international assembly, which opened this morning, has brought to St. Louis the largest number of wildlife scientists, conservationists, and sports men ever to gather in the Middle West. The Wildlife Management Institute, sponsor of this annual Conference, advised that all meetings are open to the public, including the banquet on Tuesday night.

Persistence of heavy ice past the end of bluegill, pike and inland spearing seasons is allowing plenty of time for removal of all fishing shanties this year, conservation department officials say.

The next big thaw may make the ice unsafe, they warn. Shanties allowed to sink or drift ashore may become hazards to trolling tackle, outboard motors or even bathers. Owners are responsible for taking them off the ice, and any not removed within 30 days after the ice melts may be removed by the department, with the cost of removal added to the penalty prescribed for violation of the law.

With most hunting and fishing license agents' 1947 accounts already closed, the conservation department expects little further change in license sale totals between now and June 30, when the final tabulation for the year is made.

The number of fishing licenses issued set a new high of 1,057,049 for residents and nonresidents combined, seven per cent more than were accounted for at the same time a year earlier. Resident deer hunting licenses, at 350,866 are six per cent ahead of collections at the same time a year earlier for 1946's record season. The 520,150 small game hunting licenses are 22 per cent fewer than a year earlier.

An 82 per cent increase in residents' bow and arrow deer hunting licenses brought the archers' total to 7,194. The number of trapping licenses dropped a conspicuous 40 per cent, from 24,793 in the 1946 season to 14,956 in 1947.

Five of the 11 Michigan trout that placed in the 1947 national big fish contest of the magazine Field and Stream came from the Manistee river system.

The Manistee winners include a 21-pound 7-ounce rainbow, largest taken on other than fly tackle, two more rainbows, 15 pounds 8 ounces and 13 pounds, taken in the same class; an 11-pound 1-ounce brown taken on a home-tied caddis fly and a 15-pound brown taken on a night crawler.

Other Michigan prize winners were a brown trout from Maple river, two rainbows from the Pere Marquette, and one rainbow each from St. Marys river, the Au Sable and the Platte.

Conservation department game men visiting farms to make plans for plantings that will aid wildlife, are pleased to report that many progressive farmers already have adequate to maximum cover for wildlife on their farms.

This is particularly true, they report, of farms in soil conservation districts.

On 300 farms in southern Michigan, where wild land for wildlife is limited and such game as the pheasant is well adapted to living on farmland, plantings to increase food and cover for game are scheduled for this spring. After the spring plantings, many more farms will get consideration in the long range program to increase the number of places—in odd farm corners and gullies—where wildlife may find escape cover and food, as from berry-bearing shrubs, that will be available the year around.

Yellow pike—perch, popularly known as walleyes, are going to make their spring spawning run here under close scrutiny of conservation department fisheries men, from Lake Michigan up to Newaygo dam.

As soon as the ice is out of Muskegon lake, trap nets will be set by fisheries research workers, and all pikeperch taken will be tagged and released. The proportion of tagged fish showing up in the dipnetting and transfer operations at Newaygo will furnish an index to the total pikeperch population of Muskegon lake and Muskegon river. In the last six years the run at Newaygo has started as early as April 1, as late as April 13.

The spawning pikeperch will get an additional measure of protection this season in the half mile of river from Newaygo dam downstream to the first bridge. The conservation department is preparing to close this stretch of the river to fishing at the peak of the run under a law authorizing the director to make such special provision for protection of spawning fish.

BABSON

Babson Discusses Tax Reduction

Babson Park, Fla., March 19. Apparently everybody is interested in tax reduction with the exception of President Truman and his immediate friends. The difficulty seems to be that all hands have forgotten what is best for the country and are just playing politics.

Reducing Government Expenses

Everybody with whom I talk agrees that it is possible to reduce greatly the Government expenses. This would not only save the taxpayers' money, but it would go a long way towards increasing production and lowering prices. If people now on the Government payroll could be employed to produce more goods or aid in the marketing of the same, it would be a real help in reducing the so-called inflation.

Every Senator and Representative

Every Senator and Representative, however, has certain relatives and friends in the Government service. Hence, although Congressmen will agree in principle that the expenses of Government should be reduced, yet when it comes to their own friends and relatives, it is a horse of another color. Perhaps, the only practical way for putting a million Government employees back to earning an honest living would be by a change of Administration. Democrats hate to fire Democrats; but a new Republican Administration might do so very gleefully!

Need for Lower Taxes

I have just been doing some work on trying to help my community get houses for veterans. A house for which veterans are being charged $12,000 today could have been built ten years ago for half this sum. Moreover, he would then have had a better house for $6,000 than he is now paying $12,000 for.

When analyzing the increase, I find that wages have gone up about fifty per cent and that many bricklayers, carpenters and painters are not giving an honest day's work today even at the higher wages. The increase in the cost of materials varies greatly. Cement, for instance, has gone up in most sections only 10 percent, while lumber has ### gone up 175 percent.

The greatest increase is in connection with taxes. Before the war builders' taxes amounted to very little, while today Federal, State and other taxes amounted to over half of the building costs. The same increase applies to everybody involved in the preparation and handling of building materials. As a result, of the $6,000 increase in costs, at least $3,000 goes to Uncle Sam. This shows the great importance of getting taxes reduced.

Army, Navy and Aircraft Appropriations

We all should heartily get behind President Truman in his demand for more money for defense. Hence, we need a plan whereby the Government can reduce taxes, thereby reducing prices, and at the same time collect the money which President Truman says is required for defense. Of the many suggested solutions I have received, I should like to relay one from John M. Glass, accountant and tax authority of Frostproof, Fla.

It is fair to assume that 90 percent of the people in this country are honest.

Yet, the Government is probably losing five billion dollars a year from ignorance in the making out of tax returns by small businessmen and other individuals. Some money is undoubtedly lost through dishonest returns, but most corporations have their returns made out correctly by accountants.

Increasing Government Income

My very practical suggestion is that if the Government should spend a hundred million dollars annually on publicity, it could get back five billion in stray money. For instance, the owner of every filling station should receive a letter once in three months explaining simply, but very forcefully, what he should deduct and what he should pay. The Government should buy advertising space in the newspapers, as well as use the mails, to impress upon all taxpayers what they should do and warn them of penalties. This would bring in several billions more money without hurting anyone.

There should be nothing politically repugnant to any Congressman in such a campaign. It would treat everyone alike and hurt no one. This plan would enable taxpayers to get the reduction in taxes which we desire and, at the same time, enable the President to have the money which he needs. I hope every reader of this column will cut this out and mail it to his Congressman.

Library Features Gardening Books

In the spring a gardener's fancy lightly turns to digging many weeks before planting time. The Plymouth branch library has books which appease the spring gardening fever and make for happier digging and harvesting at the season advances.

The following books have been selected as of particular interest by Mrs. Ada Murray, branch librarian. Requests for specialized garden information may be made either by visiting the library, 223 Main street, or by telephoning Plymouth 699.

"Orloff and Raymore, "Garden Planning and Building"; Coffin, "Trees and Shrubs for Landscape Effects"; Lamson, "Gardening With Shrubs and Flowering Trees"; Bailey, "Gardener's Handbook"; Taylor and Norman, "The Garden Dictionary"; Pryor, "The Lazy Gardener"; Mueller, "Bulbs for Beauty"; O'Donnell, "A Garden For You"; Wilson, "Perennial Flowers"; Biles, "The Modern Family Garden Book."

In Hunnebostrand, Sweden, after a little reflection on the total lack of local crime, the town fathers auctioned off the jail's equipment—lock, stock and blankets.

Fifty miles of new concrete roads will be added to the Wayne county roads system during 1923. The Five Mile road will be built of concrete, 20 feet wide, 30 feet over all, from the city limits of Detroit to the Plymouth-Northville road, where it makes a connection by Henry Ford's dam on the River Rouge with the house of correction farm three miles to the west. Coon avenue, between the city limits and the Town Line road, which is part of the new federal project for Plymouth road, will be started in May. Plymouth road will be paved with concrete from the Town Line road to the Washtenaw county line.
