Weather Change Causes Serious Road Damage

as transportation is concerned, has occurred on the gravel roads, however. In Plymouth, Farmer street between Arthur and Pacific was blocked off this week, as was the portion of Blanche street between Adams and Theodore, which was also under water. Junction avenue was barricaded from Auburn street to Sheldon road, and was termed by City Engineer Stanford Besse as in bad condition. Wing street was also blocked to traffic.

Northern avenue was barricaded the early part of this week, as was a portion of Warren. Water completely covered many of the side drives in the park, it was also reported.

All cross roads off the pavement or main roads were in bad condition the early part of the week. Hix and Stark roads were almost impassable, as were parts of Joy road. Portions of Nurburg road were under water, and practically all the roads in the subdivisions were impassable.

First Frog Sheds Its Polliwog Coat

What is expected to be the first frog of the season was brought in The Mail office by its owner, Nancy Heike, Tuesday afternoon, March 16.

The frog is in a transitory stage, still bearing a few of its polliwog features. Its legs had developed only Monday, and the young owner expects that it will lose the tail in a few days.

Her young pet, which she received as a polliwog the last week in December, is housed in a water filled bowl with two gold fish as company.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heike, 9275 Corinne street.

Lions Members Hear of Racing

Reminiscing of races he has seen in the past, and relating numerous interesting incidents, Chester S. Ricker spoke to members of the Lions club Thursday evening, March 18, in the Hotel Mayflower.

The speaker, who is the father of Lions club member Charles Ricker, is director of timing and scoring for the Indianapolis annual 500 mile race, and has held this post since the race's inception.

He is also associated with the Detroit Golden Cup committee. Mr. Ricker summarized the methods used in scoring races and recording of the time and speed, as well as briefly discussing boat racing.

Clarence Jetter was chairman in charge of this meeting.

Edison Asks for Lower Discount

The Detroit Edison company yesterday filed with the Michigan Public Service commission a request for authorization for increased revenue. Prentiss M. Brown, chairman, has announced. Such increase is necessary, he said, if on a reasonable basis, the company is to finance and operate its expansion program which will require about $100,000,000. This will increase the system capacity by about 23 per cent.

Present basic electric rates will not be changed. Instead the company will ask an order permitting a reduction in the present prompt payment discount which has for many years been 10 per cent, on residential and commercial customer bills. For industrial customers this discount is 5 per cent. The company's request to the commission asks that all be changed to 3 per cent. Such action would cost our customers about $6,000,000 and would net the company about $3,500,000 after taxes.

Since the average residential electric customer pays about $7.50 every two months, the increased cost to this customer, who takes advantage of the discount, would be less than 1 cent per day.

"It has been 28 years since Detroit Edison increased its rates to residential and commercial customers, and this record is broken only because we cannot help it," Mr. Brown said.

"The need for financing the construction program necessary to keep up with the rapid demand in this area with no fall-off in service is the basic reason for this request," Mr. Brown said. "We don't like to increase our charges for electric service but we believe that our service even with this increase gives the greatest value per dollar of anything bought."

"When World War II was approaching it was clear that industry hereabouts was going to increase rapidly. We got ready and went through the war with some capacity to spare in reserve against breakdown from any cause."

"During the war we were not able to add much of the new equipment that we needed. Without necessary additions, we cannot continue to meet the demand for electric service."

Kiwanians Hear Easter Message

An Easter message entitled "Power of the Easter Faith" was delivered to Kiwanis members at the Wednesday, March 24, meeting by the Rev. John Forsythe.

Dr. A. E. VanOrnum of the club's church committee introduced the speaker, who is field director for the Presbyterian board of education for the state of Michigan. He is a former pastor of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church.

It was announced that the interclub meeting at Wayne will take place Monday, April 5.

American communities. I believe in initiative and enterprise and have always endeavored to be progressive, but these qualities, especially in municipal operations, must be wholly consistent with sound business administration.

I pledge myself to be free from any vested interests and will make decisions based solely on the desires and expressed wills of the whole people, and not by any special group or groups. I have had over 25 years of experience in governmental subdivisions and particularly in large water and sewer systems. Recently I was appointed to the Water Advisory Board for the City of Plymouth by the mayor and elected by the board as its chairman. My record in this connection should stand by itself. I respectfully solicit your vote on April 5th for the office of City Commissioner.

Reporting on communicable diseases in Plymouth, Health Officer Dr. Harold Brisbois states that mumps is still prevalent in the city.

Writing of the prospect of winter in Paris, Harold Callender of the New York Times Magazine tells of Parisians who have "not lived in a heated room since the war ended; and it often is as cold in Paris as in New York. In addition," he says, "the suspension of electric current on one or two days a week adds to the gloom of the winter days."

That warm spring rain which fell over this part of Michigan last week-end has given some folks the itch—some mighty bad. There's one doctor in town so afflicted with it that friends are beginning to become somewhat fearful of his condition. No, it's not that kind of itch you are thinking about—it's that itch to get on the end of a fish line and see what might happen to the other end of it.

Maybe you didn't know it, but the champion of all champion cat fishermen lives right here in Plymouth—and he's got the itch so bad to go down where the cat fish grow that he can hardly sit still. Who is that champion cat fisherman? Ask Doctor Ace Williams the next time you see him how the cat fishing is down on the banks of the Mississippi at Vicksburg, Mississippi.

It will not be many minutes before you will discover that he's the champion—and that there is no fish in the world any better eating than a cat fish and that the best fishing hole on the North American continent is some two or three miles north of Vicksburg where there's a little jetty of land running out into the Mississippi some three or four hundred feet from shore, where the cat fish like to gather to get out of the swift water further out in the stream.

Dr. Williams was born and brought up in the famed Civil war city of the state of Mississippi. He lived there until the migration from the south started northward some 25 years ago.

Unlike Gene Orndorf who came up from Kentucky and who says he never wore shoes until he got to Plymouth, Doc Williams did wear shoes during his youth.

It was soon after Doc Williams was able to walk when he started his cat-fishing career.

"We do not fish for 'em just like you think" says Doctor Williams. "We never use a pole. We get a long, heavy line and then we fasten a dozen or more hooks to some other lines two or three feet long. Then we tie these to the big line. We generally have ten or 12 hooks on a line. On the end of the big line we fasten a sinker, usually a heavy nut picked up along the railroad tracks," said Doctor Williams.

"Then we bait each hook and wind up our line in such a way that it will not tangle or hook you when we heave it out into the Mississippi. After we get the line out, we fasten the land end to a stake and tie a bell to it in such a way that when a cat fish bites one of your hooks the bell will ring and wake you up if you happen to go to sleep while waiting for a bite."

Ace insists that he never failed to catch all the cat fish he wanted—and that there's no fish in the oceans, lakes or rivers that are better eating than a nice five or six pound cat-fish.

"You just skin them and fry them. There's only one bone in a cat fish—and that's the backbone that runs from its head to the tail. No one down south ever died from getting a fish bone in their throat. I am scared to death every time I take a bite of one of those grass pickers. I sometimes catch up north around my cottage near Gaylord. You have to fight to catch one of them and then you have to fight to keep the bones from sticking in your throat. Give me a cat fish every time" declared Plymouth's recently discovered champion fisherman of the Ole Mississippi. "I wish I was down there fishing right now."

The Michigan conservation department reports that smelt are on the increase in the Green Bay portion of the Great Lakes but there still is some question as to whether there are enough of them for an old-fashioned run up the streams this spring.

Conservation department records show Lake Michigan smelt production rising from 43,483 pounds in 1945 to 59,788 pounds in 1946, and again to 336,412 pounds in 1947. In 1948, the first two months' production exceeded 185,000 pounds.

Confirming this charted trend in smelt abundance are fishermen's reports of increasing scarcity of herring in the bay. The herring decreased in abundance once before when the smelt moved in, then made a comeback when the smelt disappeared.

Before the great and still unexplained smelt die-off that began in 1942, Michigan commercial fishermen were taking two and a half million pounds of smelt, besides an estimated five million pounds dipped from streams at the time of the spring spawning runs.

"If it thunders in March you will have plenty of corn for the threshers" is an old, old saying of Michigan pioneer days. Well, we've had thunder in March and plenty of it, so let's hope that the pioneers who really worked for a living, knew what they were talking about. We'll know more about it next fall.

Plymouth was well represented at the meeting held in Lansing last week when stream pollution was thoroughly discussed. The various Conservation clubs of Wayne county invited members of the Wayne legislative delegation to be present at the meeting. President Brick Champe not only representing the members of the Western Wayne County Conservation club, but the legislative representatives from this district as well.

Various speakers at the meeting pointed out that quick action on stream pollution was not only necessary to save fish and ducks, but that the health of the people of the state is being endangered by the continued encroachment of concerns that persist in dumping their refuse into the lakes and streams of the state.

It was apparent from the discussion that the state of Michigan itself is one of the big violators, many of its institutions dumping their poisonous refuse into creeks and rivers. It became evident at this important meeting that the many hundreds of thousands of citizens throughout the state who are interested in conservation matters are not going to let up the least in their campaign until worthwhile results are accomplished. It would not be amiss to give Vic Bersford, editor of the Wayne County Sportsman, a big pat on the back for the excellent work he is doing to keep this subject in number one place on the docket.

Readers of this column will remember a prediction made about a year ago this time by Dewey Loomis, who runs one of the top-ranking fishing and hunting lodges in Michigan up on the Manistee river some 12 or 15 miles east of Manistee. The place is known as Loomis Landing.

Dewey predicted that fishing in the Manistee had ought to be good last summer because of the fact that the previous winter had been a long and severe one, with the river frozen over most of the winter and early spring.

His prediction came true, he declares, because fishing was exceptionally good all the season. And he has proof of it. The magazine Field & Stream recently made its announcement of prize winners for the biggest fish caught last year throughout the country. From the Manistee up around the Loomis Landing came four prize winners and several honorable mentions. In the brown-trout fly casting, brown trout open contest and the rainbow trout contest, the Manistee river showed up in top positions.

It is needless to tell any one that the winter which has just ended was another one of those "blingers." Fisherman Loomis told the writer the other day that he is making the same predictions for this year that he did last year. It's another case of waiting to see what's what.

Church Accepted for New Project

Last week members of the Plymouth Methodist church were notified that their application for admission into the Union Westminister Character Research Project had been accepted.

The notification came from Dr. Ernest M. Ligon, head of the department of psychology of Union college, Schenectady, New York.

Plymouth's church is one of 25 out of several hundred applicants fortunate enough to be accepted for the 1948-1950 program of christian character development, carried out by the laboratory of psychology of Union college.

This plan, better known as the Ligon Plan, has been administered with such success in the churches already using it that the church school memberships have more than doubled in the first two years.

Among the churches now participating in the program are: First Methodist church, Ann Arbor; Broad Street Presbyterian church, Columbus, Ohio; First Baptist church, Troy, New York; University Congregational church in Seattle, Washington; and First Reformed church, Schenectady, New York. The Plymouth Methodist church school board has voted to install the plan throughout the church school beginning in September.

It was the earnest hope of the late Rev. Clifford E. Doty that this plan be adopted by the church, since it was his belief that it was the greatest single step forward in christian education. The project attempts to teach christian attitudes in a closely graded child centered program, in which both parents and children must participate, as well as the teacher. The complete program covers a period of two years for each department, and the school is divided into eight departments, beginning with the two to four year old group and ending with the high school group.

Dr. Ligon, who is the director of the project, holds the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, majoring in psychology, from Yale graduate school. He was taught psychology at Yale university, Connecticut college, and Union college. He has also published a number of research articles in psychological journals.

In addition to his work as a member of the faculty of Union college, Dr. Ligon is conducting a research project on the development of Christian personality.

Make Rugs From Material Scraps

Making rugs is a practical way of using old clothing and scraps of materials. It is one way of getting your floor coverings the right sizes and colors without spending much money.

Emma Ruff, home demonstration agent, believes that a handmade rug should be worth the time and effort you put into it. For a satisfactory rug you will need to spend time to collect, sort and prepare the materials. In fact it will take you longer to prepare the materials than it will to make the rug.

You will want to make a definite plan for the entire rug before you start to make it. A handmade rug must be heavy enough to lie flat on the floor. You will need to make the stitches and rows close and tight so that the rug will be firm and have no open places. Your rug will appear flatter if you use colors that blend rather than colors that are in strong contrast to each other. It is better to use medium - to - dark tones rather than bright ones. For best results limit the amount of colors and use ones that will repeat the colors in the room.

For detailed instructions and illustrations for making rugs, contact your county extension office and ask for the new bulletin, "Handmade Rugs" extension bulletin 289, Ruth Peck and Jessie Marion, extension specialists in home furnishings at Michigan State college, prepared this bulletin on the making of rugs with toothbrush handles or with safety pins.

If you feel that you need a demonstration in addition to the bulletin, your county extension office may be able to refer you to a local extension leader who has been trained to make handmade rugs.

Couple United at Candlelight Service

At a candlelight ceremony, Saturday evening at 8 p.m. in the Newburg Methodist church, Nancy Jean Larrabee became the bride of Herman Karl Trick. The Reverend G. MacDonald officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Larrabee of Orangelawn avenue and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Trick, also of Orangelawn avenue.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and shoulder yoke of seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of white illusion was edged with a matching seed pearl tiara. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and hyacinths centered with a white orchid.

Maid of honor was Marilyn Champeaux of Detroit. She wore a powder blue taffeta gown with a net yoke and draped neckline. Bridesmaids were Edna Newton and Marlene Trick, sister of the bridegroom. They were gowned in pink taffeta dresses fashioned after that of the maid of honor. All the attendants wore flowers in their hair and carried colonial nosegays of carnations and hyacinths.

Fred Byrd of Orangelawn served as best man and the ushers were Jack Henry and Philip Larrabee.

Jean Robertson, school mate of the bride, sang "Because" and "Through the Years."

The bride's mother chose a floor length grey crepe dress trimmed with net embroidery, for her daughter's wedding. She wore a corsage of gardenias and flowers in her hair. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in coral crepe and she also wore flowers in her hair and a gardenia corsage.

A reception at the Rosedale Gardens Community House for 200 guests followed the ceremony. Friends and relatives were present from Elgin, Illinois, Lansing, St. John's, Ann Arbor and Detroit.

For her going away costume, Mrs. Trick chose a gray gabardine suit with matching accessories. The couple will take a short wedding trip to Florida and after May 1 will be in their home on Garfield avenue.

Electronics Now Helps You Keep "On Time"

ELECTRONICS ENTERS A NEW FIELD and reveals, in just a few seconds, exactly how a watch will run over a 24-hour period. By means of the WatchMaster, shown above, the jeweler can tell not only the rate of gain or loss down to a fraction of a second, but also what is wrong if the watch is "sick". The instrument records on a chart, which is attached to a revolving drum, each "tick-tock" of the watch; the slope of the resulting row of dots tells how the watch is keeping time, while unusual or varying slopes tell the jeweler its condition. Top photo shows jeweler pointing to smooth row of dots made by a new watch in perfect condition; inset picture shows how watch is placed in special "microphone" of the WatchMaster, with a smooth row of dots on the chart (near center of machine), revealing excellent condition of watch.

Tait's Return Following Three Weeks' Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Tait returned to Plymouth Sunday, March 21, following a three weeks' trip to California.

They traveled a total of 7,000 miles, driving the northern route on the way out, and returning on the southern route.

While there they attended a convention held by the National Association of Cleaners and Dyers.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jewell, former owners of Tait's cleaning establishment, and who supervised the business while the couple was gone, have returned to Meosta.

Richard-Jewell Wed at Evening Ceremony

Dorothy Ann Richard, daughter of Mrs. Nancy Richard of South Main street, became the bride of Donald R. Jewell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jewell, of Buchanan at a candlelight service, Saturday evening, March 20, at the First Methodist church. The Reverend Henry Walch officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Bruce Richard. She chose a white lace and satin gown with full skirt and train. Her fingertip veil of candlelight tulle was held in place with clusters of orange blossoms. A bouquet of white roses, and stephanotis centered around white camellias completed her costume.

Mrs. Bruce Richard, matron of honor and sister-in-law of the bride, wore a gown of yellow crepe and pink roses in her hair. She carried a bouquet of matching roses.

The bridesmaid, Mrs. Charles Root, Jr., sister of the bridegroom, was gowned in a matching dress of turquoise blue and identical flowers.

Charles Root, Jr., attended as best man and the ushers were Bob Reich of Buchanan and Bruce Richard.

The mother of the bride was dressed in beige crepe with black accessories and her corsage was of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Jewell, the bridegroom's mother, chose navy blue with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception for 90 was held after the ceremony at the church. Decorations of pink and blue were carried out in candles and flowers.

Mrs. Jewell wore a gray two piece dress with matching hat and black accessories for her going away trip. After a short honeymoon, the couple will make their home in Jonesville, where Mr. Jewell is a teacher in the Litchfield public schools.

State President Speaks to MOMS

The MOMS will hold their next meeting at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Gladstone, 175 North Mill street, Thursday, April 1, at 12:30 p.m.

A pot luck luncheon is planned, and those planning on attending are asked to bring their own table service.

During the afternoon the members will work on cancer pads and roll bandages.

At a recent meeting of the organization Mrs. J. S. Coultiere, state president of the MOMS, and Mrs. F. Lund, president of the Wayne unit were guests.

Mrs. Coultiere spoke and told of one of the most pressing problems of the hospitalized veterans, which is worrying about their families and friends. The MOMS, she stated, have developed a social service state project, aimed at remedying this problem in part. They will furnish information, direct the veterans to the proper sources, and help them in any way possible.

The project which the Wayne group is sponsoring was described by their president, Mrs. Lund. She told of the purchasing of talking books for the blind patients who have not as yet learned to read Braille, as well as the purchase of books in Braille.

Do You Want a Swimming Pool for Plymouth?

By Ralph Johnson
That is the question that a small group of businessmen in Plymouth would like you to answer. It is up to everyone of you to contact these men either by phone or by letter and give your opinion.

The tentative committee is composed of Ken Cory, Walt Beglinger, Phillip Barney, Dean Herrick, James Houk, "Rip" Collins, Herb Swanson, Bill Clark, Jack Selle, Wendell Lent, Ted Box and "Dutch" Atchinson.

This allows swimming for children and adults or non-swimmers and swimmers. The plan has 12 underwater lights and four flood lights so that night swimming is not only a actuality but a pleasure. This pool has been accepted by South Haven, and the plans have been approved by the state.

To build this pool in Plymouth, using all contract work, it will cost $23,000. But, a few thousand dollars can be saved through use of volunteer labor. The method of using volunteer labor will be discussed in the next article.

This committee believes that this pool is possible if the entire community is behind the project. Roughly speaking there are 2,800 taxpayers in the city of Plymouth. If each one donated $10, the project would have $28,000. Is it worth $10 to you to have swimming in the city of Plymouth?

Here are some questions we would like you to ask yourself. Where do you go swimming now and what does it cost you to go there and return? Is it properly supervised and do the children and adults receive swimming instruction? If a swimming pool in Plymouth saved one person's life, maybe one of your family, would it be worth the $23,000?

Nutrition Aids

from the American Red Cross Nutrition Service

Limited meat supplies on Plymouth butchers' counters are a challenge to the skill of any homemaker. To keep her family happy and well-fed, she will not only plan meatless meals with imagination, but learn how to make a small amount of meat go a long way.

The Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross suggests that one pound of meat can be stretched to make six generous servings. Naturally no one would expect these extended meat dishes to taste like roasts or steaks, but they can be delicious if they are cooked carefully and are seasoned well.

Starchy foods are the best meat stretchers — bread of all kinds in the form of stuffings or as filler for meat loaves or patties; spaghetti, macaroni or noodles; rice, oatmeal or prepared breakfast cereals; potato or other vegetables; cornbread, biscuit or pastry as topping for meat pie.

Savory sauces make meat-saving dishes more appealing. Tomato and mushroom are probably the most popular. Less flavorful ones can be given added zest by the addition of Worcestershire and soy sauce.

Small amounts of fresh or dried herbs are excellent for helping boost the flavor of all kinds of meat dishes. Marjoram, thyme, parsley, sage, sweet basil and poultry seasoning should have an important place in every kitchen. Experiment with them cautiously until the combination and amount that pleases the family most is found.

Try the recipes below to stretch limited meat supplies.

CORN BURGERS

One pound ground beef or 1/2 pound beef and 1/2 pound veal, 2 cups cornflakes, 1/2 cup milk or water, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Mix all ingredients lightly but thoroughly and shape into 6 patties. Brown slowly on both sides in small amount of fat.

Add parsley potatoes, Harvard beets and an assortment of crisp raw vegetables to complete a colorful main course. Custard rice pudding topped with a favorite jam or jelly as garnish will help to make up the day's quota of tissue building food.

PORK AND RICE PATTIES

One pound ground pork, 1/2 clove garlic, 2 tablespoons water, 1/2 cup parsley, chopped, 1 cup cooked rice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon thyme, 1 egg, fat for browning.

Cut garlic fine and soak in water for 1 hour. Strain and add liquid to remaining ingredients except fat. Heat fat. Drop meat mixture into fat by tablespoonfuls. Brown on both sides. Cover and cook over low heat for 20 minutes. Uncover pan for last few minutes so meat will crisp. Garnish with current jelly and sprigs of parsley. Serve 6.

An gratin potatoes, buttered rutabagas and celery and apple salad go well with the pork patties. Mold canned or stewed dried apricots in lime gelatin and serve topped with cream cheese beaten to a fluff with a little milk for dessert.

SPAGHETTI WITH LIVER

One pound liver, 1 small onion, sliced, fat, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 1 cup grated cheese, 6 to 8 ounces spaghetti.

Cut liver in 1-inch cubes. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour. Brown liver and onion in small amount of fat. Add tomatoes and simmer for 20 minutes. Cook spaghetti in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain and coil on hot plate. Pour liver mixture over top. Sprinkle with cheese. Serves 6.

Serve with buttered green beans and a tart cabbage salad. For dessert, serve oranges and dates with cookies.

The premier of the Japanese diet, Mr. Katayama, placed in office by the free election of April, 1947, is a Christian.

Plymouthite's Cat Wins Top Honors

Notoriety has been achieved by a cat which knows Plymouth as its home.

Champion Ebony Mike, a black male domestic short hair cat owned by Mrs. LaVerne Chapman, 9904 Cranston avenue, has been named All - Midwestern champion in his color, sex and breed classification, according to the rankings published in the April issue of Cats Magazine.

The award was the first to be presented a black domestic feline in the state of Michigan. The cat was one of 53 show cats in the rankings representing the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Minnesota and Ohio.

The Chapman cat has qualified for the title of All-American cat to be announced later this year after he has been pitted against the finest blue bloods representing the east, south, far west, northwest and Canada. The rankings are made by a mathematical system applied to the results of cat shows throughout the United States and Canada.

Seven Michigan cats have been awarded the Midwest title this year, the majority of them belonging to owners residing in Detroit.

Truth is the summit of being; justice is the application of it to affairs. —Emerson

I HEARD God's voice upon the wind today;
I heard Him speaking through the song of birds;
And clearly, plainly, through the silver rain I heard His words.

I saw God's face upon a flower today;
I saw Him moving on the hills, and oh,
He walked upon the water of the stream,
I know! I know!

I heard God's voice, I saw His shining face;
He spoke to me; He moved along the land;
I reached through all the beauty of the day
And touched His hand.

MUCC Simplifies Filing of Claims

The new program for administration of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act depends in part, on the new, simplified application blank which all persons filing new claims have been filling out since January 1, according to Clarence Jetter, Branch Manager of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Fifteen questions, about half of them requiring only "yes" or "no" answers, comprise the list, in the application blank which in most cases can be made out in two or three minutes. They include, name, age, address, social security number, reason for leaving job, extra income at time of leaving, (such as vacation or severance pay) and dependents.

Among questions which will busy the Commission for many weeks are the following, Jetter said:

"When will I get my benefits, how much and for how long?"

It is planned to have checks available for the claimant, in normal times, within 10 minutes after his second visit to the MUCC local office. The employer is allowed seven days to return an information form, and if it is returned in time and the employer's statement agrees with the worker's, the determination is made immediately and sent to the claimant. Should the employer's statement not be forthcoming within the specified time, the determination will be made on the basis of the claimant's certified statement.

As to the "How Much" phase of the question, it averages about two-thirds of the weekly pay (up to $30.01 a week) and the number of weeks is two-thirds of the number of credit weeks, also up to 30 weeks, Jetter said.

No worker may receive more than twenty benefit checks on any benefit year (52 weeks following the week in which he files his claim).

"What Must I do to Get a Check?"

The mechanical procedure is simple. He must: Report on his "hit" day, according to the last digit of his Social Security Number, and he must serve his waiting week. This is regarded as the week in which he files his claim, if he earns less than his primary weekly benefit rate.

The claimant must report all earnings during the calendar week for which benefits are claimed. He must also be registered with the Employment Service for a job, be able and willing to work, available for work, and must be seeking work and refuse no suitable work.

"What About Part Time Work?"

If the claimant earns less than half of his primary benefit rate (before dependency allowances are added) he will receive his full benefit check, Jetter pointed out. If he earns more than half, but less than the entire amount, he will receive half the full amount.

"What is an Additional Claim?"

Should a worker have a benefit year with unexhausted benefit rights, but has interrupted his claim for any reason, he can file an "Additional Claim" and reopen the claim.

"What is a Name Plate?"

Attached to the claimant's identification card is a metal plate, bearing his name, address, social security number and claim number. This must be presented at all appearances in the Claims Office.

"How Can I Protest a Monetary Determination?"

Should the determination be unsatisfactory, a claimant may request a redetermination from the local office. After taking a detailed statement of wages, by calendar weeks, supported by wage slips, pay check stubs or envelopes, the local office will re-examine the entire claim and make a redetermination.

If the claimant is still dissatisfied he may appeal through channels explained later.

Tarnish Proof Cloths Will Protect Silver

Did you know that your silver tarnishes because of the reaction of the metal to the sulfur compounds in the air? Your candlesticks, knives and forks and all silver articles turn dark because of this sulfur.

On the market today are tarnish proof cloths for protecting your silver, announces Emma DuBord, home demonstration agent.

Many dyes and finishing materials used on fabrics contain sulfur. Tarnish proof cloths are made by a special process to be free from sulfur. For a cloth to prevent tarnish it must be treated with a compound that stops the effect of the sulfur. Strange as it may seem, silver itself makes the best preventive. Cloth that has been filled with a silver compound will prevent silverware protected in it from tarnishing as rapidly as it otherwise would.

Life certainly must be worth living. The cost is doubled and all of us want to hang on.

The speaker reminded me of a waterbug. He just skated on the surface.

March winds and April showers give way to moths that eat your woolen clothes if they have not been thoroughly cleaned before putting them away for the summer months.

It's just as important to have your house up to the minute in every detail as it is to dress in the "new look." And, when could be a better time to treat your home to new furnishings than spring, when entertainment reaches its peak.

The couple will be married April 3 at St. Mary's Catholic church in Evanston, Illinois.

To The Editor

It was with delight that the Library staff read the article in last week's Plymouth Mail on reading to children. We heartily approve of Miss Algier's thoughts regarding the true value of the daily story time as an influence in child behavior and as a source of enrichment of life.

May we call to the attention of the parents of the young children of Plymouth that, at the Plymouth Library, we have many excellent books which they may borrow for just this kind of reading aloud.

The luncheon and card party held annually by the Plymouth Chapter No. 115 of the Eastern Star will take place this year next Tuesday, March 30, in the dining room of the local Masonic Temple.

Mary Kershaw, worthy matron, announces that Erma Hughes has been named as general chairman for the event. The fancy works booth will be under the supervision of Kathleen Micol, junior past matron, and Sally Dent. Alice Rathburn will direct the candy booth, she further stated.

The chairman reports that although most of the tickets for this year's affair are sold, an attempt will be made to make them available for everyone who wants to attend.

Couple Celebrate 40th Wedding Anniversary

The 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Guy O. Fisher of Forest avenue was celebrated at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Minehart of Brush street on Sunday, March 21, from 2 to 6 p.m.

Among the guests were Mrs. Fisher's mother, Mrs. G. W. Burger, of Brown City, who was 80 years old in February. Also four of Mr. Fisher's five brothers and their wives were present, as well as the sister and brother of Mrs. Fisher and their families and 10 of their 12 grandchildren.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Gay Easter Menu Heralds Approach Of Spring Season

A table setting perfectly expressive of Easter and all the tradition that goes with it can easily be done the day before. The bowl or basket in which you place the eggs may be decorated with shredded crepe paper in pastel colors.

Easter really heralds spring and we like to make the day as gay and lovely as possible. That means bringing out your delicate china, pastel china, and sweeping the menu with a touch of spring, both in choice of foods and colors.

Many people like ham for Easter and it's a real economy to have it because you can make so many interesting left-overs, have sliced ham for snacks and sandwiches, and still have a lovely meat for the table the first time you serve it.

Start off with chilled orange juice but add excitement to it by placing a small scoop of raspberry (or mint or lime) sherbet on top. The dessert I've chosen is light but pretty and is balanced for the menu.

Your centerpiece can be made of traditional Easter eggs nesting in a basket or bowl. You'll find a package of inexpensive dyes with a handy egg dipper, a special pencil and decals of popular comic characters to help you decorate more successfully.

If you use the decorated eggs for place cards, set it on stiff paper.

Of course many people like to spend Easter evening eating the eggs with salt and bread and butter sandwiches, but if you have any left, use them for egg salad, creamed eggs or eggs a la king.

The ham is easy to prepare and always popular. For small groups, buy half a ham, but decorate it, too. You may buy the ready-to-eat type or the cook-before-eating. Whichever one you select, however, keep it refrigerated. The ready-to-eat variety is baked, but only enough to heat it through. Give it 10 minutes to the point.

Place ham fat side up in an open roasting pan. Do not cover and do not add water. Bake in a moderately slow (325 degree) oven allowing 22 to 25 minutes per pound for cooking a before-eating ham.

Half an hour before the ham is done, cover with glaze and finish baking at the same low temperature. If ham is to be scored, do it at this time. Brush ham with 1/2 cup of honey, molasses or apricot jam. Baste frequently during rest of cooking time.

If you do not want to garnish the ham, simply fill peach halves with bright colored jelly and place around ham before serving.

Escalloped Broccoli (Serves 6) 2 pounds broccoli 1 1/2 cups thin cream sauce 1/2 cup grated American cheese

Cook broccoli in boiling, salted water for 15 minutes.

Place layers of broccoli and cream sauce with a little cheese in casserole until all is used. Sprinkle cheese on top and heat through in moderate oven (about 15 minutes).

If you are particularly fond of asparagus, serve that in place of the broccoli. It's excellent just buttered; or, if you wish a sauce, here's a good way to do it.

Get Most for Your Money When Buying Traditional Easter Ham

How to buy the traditional ham for Easter and get the most for your money with prices so high is a problem for homemakers now.

Some tips for wise buying are suggested by Jeanette A. Lee, assistant to the dean of home economics at Michigan State college. If you have a family of six it is economical to buy a whole ham of 10 or 12 pounds and bake it. It is much less expensive than ham bought already baked or boiled, and can be kept for some time in the refrigerator.

Half a ham can usually be bought for the same price per pound as a whole ham. Ham slices bought singly are more expensive. Either the shank end or the butt end of a ham left after the butcher has taken out the center slices may be bought for much less per pound than the whole ham. These pieces can be boiled with vegetables and the left-over meat used in many ways. The picnic shoulder costs less per pound than ham but has more bone in proportion to the lean and fat. It is sold both fresh and smoked and looks like a small ham.

You will buy more wisely if you know what your butcher means by his terms for various kinds of ham. Regular smoked ham is the standard unskinned and uncooked ham weighing from 6 to 12 lbs. While the best grades do not require parboiling or soaking, all must be cooked before serving. A skinned ham is a regular smoked ham weighing over 16 pounds which is skinned to within four inches of the hock and has the surplus fat removed.

"Tender" on a ham wrapper means that the ham has been cooked so that it requires less time to cook. The regular smoked ham is not cooked. "Sugar cured" is the common term for sweet pickle cured. Before the hams are smoked they are kept in a solution of salt, sugar and sodium nitrate until they are thoroughly cured. "Tender cooked" hams are also known as ready to eat or pre-cooked hams. A smoked shoulder butt is made by boning the blade section of the pork shoulder and weighs from 3 to 5 pounds.

Despite the fact that incomes in the United States have increased about four times over 1932-33, the Golden Rule Foundation says that gifts to charities have decreased proportionately 38 per cent.

Spinach was first brought into Spain by the Arabs.

Let your ham reflect the holiday spirit by garnishing it with flowers, the petals of which are made with candied or fresh orange peel, the stems of candied citron and the centers of maraschino cherries.

Here's a good use for leftover ham the following day:

Baked Ham Casserole (Serves 6)

2 cups ground, baked ham
1 cup cooked peas
3 eggs
2 tablespoons green pepper, minced
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons horseradish
1/2 cup grated American cheese
Paprika

Place ham in greased eight-inch square pan. Top with peas. Beat together eggs, green pepper, milk and horseradish. Pour over peas. Top with cheese. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 40 minutes. Let set in warm place for 10 to 15 minutes. Cut into six inch squares. Serve with tomato sauce, if desired.

These numbers are also a portion of the Band Festival to be held on April 1 in the high school auditorium. Three other bands, the junior high, the grade school, and a tonette band, will also take part in this concert.

String, Bassoon Players Needed

Plymouth's Symphony orchestra is in need of a bassoon player, according to Paul Wagner, director, as well as additional string players.

He asks that anyone interested, or knowing of a qualified player, contact him. Mr. Wagner announces that rehearsals are held in the band room of the high school every Monday evening at 8 p.m.

Arrangements for transportation might be made for those coming from a distance, he added, as the orchestra now has players coming to rehearsals from Detroit, Northville, Ypsilanti, Dearborn, Wayne, Ann Arbor, and Jackson. New comers will be met in the lobby of the high school, the conductor stated, to eliminate confusion in finding the band room.

"Don't worry" is a good idea but it's a better one if you add "others".

TIPS FOR HOME OWNERS
To find a leak on the roof requires careful sleuthing. Water stains on a ceiling beneath may mislead, since rain water often follows a rafter or board a long way. Your attic shingles afford the best information.

HEAT PROOF YOUR ROOF

Your roof may shed water, but it too often soaks up heat. High temperatures that cause roof-deterioration can be modified with our quality roof coatings. Call us and we'll be glad to show you economical roofing material—and give you valuable advice on your roofing problems.

The County Agent's Farm Tip Column

By E. I. Besemer
Wayne County Agent

There will be two soil testing days this spring so farmers and others may bring soil samples for lime and fertilizer recommendations. April 1, soil testing at Hugo Unger's implement store, Romulus, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. April 2, soil testing at Earl Mastor's implement store, West Ann Arbor road, Plymouth, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The soil sample should be representative of the area to be tested—take slices 6 to 8 inches deep and mix them together, bring about 1 pint of the mixture. Do this for each area or field to be tested. We should also know the crop to be raised in 1948 and the crop that was on in 1947.

Peach growers to control brown rot should destroy all mummified fruit. Pruning will remove many of the brown rot cankers. Spray with liquid lime sulfur, two gallons to 100 gallons water. This mixture should be applied just before full bloom when 90 percent of the blossoms are in the advanced pink stage. If rainy weather prevails during the pre-bloom period, and brown rot was bad, the previous season, it may be desirable to apply a liquid lime sulfur earlier in the pink period. Sprays or dusts in full bloom may be helpful if the weather during bloom is damp and humid. As all blossoms do not open at the same time, one application may be put when 25 per cent of the blossoms are open and a second application when 75 per cent of the blossoms have opened.

A group of vegetable growers from around Plymouth and Wayne along with growers from Macomb county, toured the Detroit Produce Terminal, Krogers and A & P commission warehouses on March 18. The growers studied the grades and packages on the terminal market, visited Beckers tomato packaging operation and attended the fresh fruit and vegetable auction. They then divided into two groups and each group visited Kroger's warehouse and the Atlantic & Pacific Tea commission warehouse. After touring the warehouses the growers sat around the conference table and discussed mutual grading, packaging and marketing problems.

There were about 16 growers from Wayne county and an equal number from Macomb county. The growers felt that the tour was very worthwhile as it gave them a better understanding of marketing problems involved in getting fresh fruits and vegetables out to the many thousands of consumers in Detroit and in the state.

4-H Tractor members, implement dealers and Standard Oil men enjoyed a grand banquet at Sheldon church Tuesday, March 16, at 7:30 p.m.

John Vloch, crop area specialist, Michigan Employment Service was toastmaster. J. Payne, Standard Oil district manager from Ypsilanti and F. McBlough, Standard Oil assistant manager of the Detroit sales division were speakers. Ted Johnson, John Deere implement dealer from Plymouth and Dutch West from International Harvester company in Plymouth were the speakers for the implement dealers.

Williard McCuaig 4-H tractor member presented E. I. Besemer, county agent, a pen and pencil set for his ten years of service of Wayne County.

Mr. McGregor, 4-H club agent from Jackson, gave the history of the tractor clubs in Jackson county.

Marie Wolfe, 4-H club agent from Wayne, presented awards for the contestants in the plowing contest that was held at the 4-H Fair grounds last August. William Krueger, Jr., from Romulus received a large plaque for winning first place in the contest.

Bob Krueger from Romulus and Leonard Ziika from New Boston received smaller plaques for second and third place. The following received consolation prizes.

No. 10 pail of grease from Standard Oil company through the courtesy of Darrell Raymond of Belleville; Orville Britz, Williard McCuaig, George Angel, Jr., Fred Nowitzke and Ronald Angel all from New Boston.

Mr. Besemer and Mr. Tower, principal of Denton school, showed the following movies: Safety our No. 1 Crop, Tractor Contest last year, Ride 'Em Cow Boy.

Implement Dealers that contributed to offset the banquet were: Unger Implement, Romulus; Sell & Son, Taylor Center; Strimpel, New Boston; Monks, Belleville; Gardner, Romulus Case Dealer; Summerfield, Romulus; Mastick, Allis Chalmers dealer of Plymouth; Ted Johnson, Plymouth; West Brothers, Plymouth; Bunte Implement company, Flat Rock; and Merrit and Son, Oliver Implement company, Willis.

The Wayne County Extension Service thanks the dealers that contributed for the banquet. There was an attendance of 53 at the banquet.

4-H tractor clubs are held this year at New Boston school. First and second year clubs are held every second Thursday night and the third year on Wednesday nights. Williard McCuaig is leader for first year members and Mr. E. I. Besemer is leader for second and third year boys. Everyone is welcome to come to these meetings. The next meeting of the tractor classes will be Wednesday, March 31, and they will meet at Strimpel's Implement Store, New Boston.

Cattle Owners Awarded Use of Herd Names

Reports from the Holstein-Friesian association reveal that three Plymouth men have been awarded exclusive use of specific herd names in registering their purebred Holstein-Friesian cattle.

Walter Postiff was given permission to use the name "Evening Star", while Charles and Gerald Salow were granted use of "Lo-EI".

Nearly 1000 prefixes were reserved for breeders in 1947.

There's only so much S-T-R-E-T-C-H

in our GAS DOLLAR

The dollars you pay us for gas service have been stretched to the limit, but there isn't enough stretch in them to cover present-day high costs.

You know how your cost of living has risen. Well, ours has gone up too. In order to supply you with dependable natural gas service we must buy certain things—natural gas, equipment, materials, the services of our employees—and the cost of each of these items has taken a big jump.

Michigan natural gas is no longer available in large quantities, and so we must buy gas from Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas that has been piped 1,200 miles to Michigan. Much of it must be held in storage for weeks or months before it is used

Wages are up, construction costs are up, everything is up—except the price of gas to our customers, which remains at the old low level

That's why we have had to stretch and stretch our gas dollars until no more stretch is left.

No need to tell you that this situation means problems for us. Everyone knows that unless costs and selling prices are kept in proper balance, trouble will follow. But that's how things are today: Costs are up, rates unchanged, and a big building program needed to care for the gas needs of Michigan homes, stores and industries.

Do you wonder that we're doing a lot of thinking these days?

Lightfoot Faces Dunking Recall

It's fun to be president of this or that or something or other—if everything goes smoothly and one can have his own way.

That's what Don Lightfoot has been thinking about his job as president of the Plymouth Dunker's Society.

But it isn't so funny right now—President Lightfoot is headed for troubled waters that look almost as rough as did the waves that sunk him on Saginaw bay last fall.

It seems that Frank Terry, who makes most of the doughnuts that Plymouth folks dunk, has hit the war path against the Plymouth Dunking Society.

During the recent national doughnut week President Lightfoot let the big event go by without any recognition of any kind.

He didn't have the Mayor issue a proclamation. He didn't set aside any day for special dunking ceremonies. He didn't organize a parade—in fact he didn't do anything, and that's what is burning up the Terry party.

"Maybe the Dunker's need a new president. Maybe they don't need any president at all" said one of Mr. Terry's enthusiastic supporters. "It's just too bad that a city of this size that has so many dunkers should slip up on the one big week of the year", he added.

Russ Powell, who "dunks" side by side with President Lightfoot, doesn't think the President should be kicked out of office just for one slip-up. He thinks Don should have another term and maybe he'll do better next time. The Powell faction, while conceding that the Terry party has a justified kick, doesn't think it justified a complete kick-over of the Lightfoot administration.

There's some talk of reviving the Plymouth Pioneer Friedcake Association, the contention being that the Lightfoot element has also injected too much high-brow ceremony into just plain fried-cake dunking, as well as forgetting the big doughnut day of the year.

"What's the use of calling just a plain everyday friedcake a doughnut anyway? Maybe its time we got back to the common man's viewpoint of things," declared George Strassen, who is for both Terry and Lightfoot. He thinks Terry is right and that Lightfoot is right. So there's where the matter stands at present, even though the band didn't play and there was no parade on National doughnut day.

Special Communique

We've travelled some 3,000 miles through southern states surveying customs of Dunking clubs and to award to Captain Harry Lush a sacred Oscar in the Plymouth club and to check on the conduct of charter member Edwin Schrader. We find that the Plymouth Dunkers rank high in the profession, that Matt Powell should be given another test to see if he can make good, feeling that the additional practice he has had will put him over the top. We have decided that it is the time element which put him out, but by observation of others, we have come to the conclusion that his technique is good. Hold off any recall election until our return.

Speaker Tells of Youth Problem

Sex education of children was discussed by Mrs. Belle Farley Murray at the Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary meeting Thursday evening, March 11, in the Hotel Mayflower.

The speaker urged members and their husband guests to deal intelligently with this issue. Children should be given a definite answer to their questions insofar as possible, she stated.

Mrs. Murray is a lecturer and advisor for the family relationship series of the University of Michigan extension service.

It is impossible to take the question up in the schools, she continued, as the children's varying degrees of comprehension and psychological temperament will not permit it.

Sex education should take place in the home, Mrs. Murray stressed.

BARSON

Babson Discusses the Marshall Plan

Washington, D. C. March 26. People ask me, "As a businessman, what do you think the Marshall Plan would mean to American business?" The answer I should like to make is, "As a man, what do you think the Plan would mean to humanity?"

Operation Rat Hole

I have read letters to various newspapers written by supposedly intelligent people. They refer to the Marshall Plan as "Operation Rat Hole" and say, "we will be pouring our millions down the drain." The suggestion is that the project is hopeless from the start. The writers imply that they would rather keep tight hold of their cash than to give it away.

The same people have the impression that the Plan is merely an over-sized charity. They fear that we would ship overseas the food which we ourselves might need and would send to Europe money which we could spend at home. Even if this were true, could we, as the world's richest country and as a Christian community wholly refuse to share?

What is the Marshall Plan

Most of the arguments against the Marshall Plan have been advanced by people who seem to have little idea what it means. The Marshall Plan is a program for the investment of money and goods, not for Europe's relief, but for her recovery. At present, Europe is nearly helpless because she lacks such essentials as food, fertilizer, coal, steel, and transportation. These were destroyed or used up by the war. They can now be replaced,—but not without our help. You, yourself, could not plant a garden if you had neither spade, fertilizer, nor seed. You couldn't start a trucking business without a truck, gasoline, or money. Nor can Europe.

What the Marshall Plan proposes is the capital for refinancing an old business. That some of the capital will be in the form of tractors and some of it in the form of wheat does not alter the case. European laborers cannot now produce to capacity because they are hungry. When they have full stomachs and are able to work, and when they have tools to work with, there will be coal to run the factories to produce the steel from which to build the tractors to plow the gardens to feed the workers.

Can We Afford It?

But can we afford the Marshall Plan? Can we part with the twenty and a half billion dollars, which has been estimated as its cost? Can we ship overseas seven or eight percent of the food we raise? Can we aggravate present shortages by sending steel, fertilizer, railway cars, coal? Can we spare any?

The answer is that we can afford the Marshall Plan because we cannot afford to reject it. What the program will cost us has only been estimated, but what its rejection would cost can scarcely be imagined. There is, of course, no guarantee that this plan will save Europe; but without it Western Europe will go down into chaos and Communism. We cannot live alone in the world. We must not give Europe over to the other camp. For the sake of our way of life, for the sake of the institutions which mean most to us, for the sake of our business and our future, we cannot refuse to make the attempt.

Conclusion

As a businessman, then, I think that the Marshall Plan is a good gamble and, what is more, I think that the alternative is a poor gamble. But one thing I insist on. Let's see that after the countries of Europe receive our aid, they get busy and produce. Production is the only lasting solution to their problems or to our problems either.
