Fire Chief Urges Clean-up of City

cautioned, nor quicken a sluggish fire by pouring on kerosene for it may easily flame out of control. Destroy paint rags and oily cleaning cloths or put them in a metal container with a cover, he urged, and hang up oily mops so that air can circulate through them. "Inspect all electric service cords and connections on lamps and appliances, Chief McAllister said. "Use only 15 ampere fuses for household circuits, and never permit bridging of burned out fuses with wire or coins. Such practices remove all protection against 'shorts' or overloading of circuits," he warned.

Self-inspection guides prepared by the National Board of Fire Underwriters are ready now at the Fire Department headquarters.

Mrs. Murray is PTA Speaker

The most important job in the world is believed by Mrs. Belle Farley Murray to be the bringing up of children.
She voiced this belief at the meeting of Starkweather PTA held Thursday, April 22, in the school.
Mrs. Murray urged that parents strive for understanding of their children. The important thing to remember in doing this she stated, is to treat them as their age warrants. It is here that many parents fall down on the job, she believes.
The speaker, who is affiliated with the extension department of the school of education at the University of Michigan, is a resident of Plymouth.
During the evening's program newly elected officers of the organization were installed.
Mrs. Steve Veresh was chairman of the tea committee, assisted by Mrs. Leo Kowalcik.
The next meeting is slated for Thursday, May 20.

Empty Bus Fare Box Stolen Last Thursday

A Plymouth bus fare box, valued at $200 but containing no money, was stolen Thursday, April 22, from a bus driven by J. C. Lee.

The theft occurred at about 11 p.m. while he was eating lunch in a restaurant on Plymouth road in Livonia township. The bus was parked in front of the eating establishment, the driver told Sheriff Edward Behrendt's Road Patrol.

"Modern man has come to a sudden realization that this world is 'one world'," said Dr. G. Baez-Camargo, executive of the Council of Churches of Mexico. "The peoples of the world are becoming more interdependent. We can no longer shrug off concern for what may be happening in New Guinea or Rhodesia. We know that sooner or later we ourselves will be affected."

While gasoline is one of the most common fuels, it is extremely dangerous if not handled and used correctly. MSC farm safety specialist Fred Roth points out that the safest storage is underground. If this is not possible, it should be used from an approved tank in the open or in a special building at least 50 feet from other buildings.

Navy Recruiting Held at City Hall

Joan Cavell, Nadine Dudley

Joan Cavell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Cavell, Jr., of Ann Arbor road, and Nadine Dudley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dudley of North Territorial road, pose in navy guise before Plymouth's city hall, scene of local navy recruiting.

Recruiting officer, Gunners Mate Chief Gerald G. Carlson, has been stationed in Plymouth since April 13, two days a week. He announces he is available each Tuesday and Thursday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. for interviews or enlistments. The Navy flag will fly beneath the United States flag in front of the city hall on these local recruiting days.

Men between the ages of 17 and 30 are eligible to enlist Chief Carlson states. He also reveals that physical requirements are lower now than they have ever been before.

The spectacular shot was made at Hilltop Golf club on the Par 3, 145-yard fourth with a four iron. The ball landed on the apron, bounced, took a right hop, and landed in the cup still marked with the pin.

"The Presbyterian Navy" is the nickname of the three vessels which play Alaskan waters as a missionary fleet of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. "Vermay" is the motor ship owned by the Rev. Girls Organize Baseball Teams

After basketball playoffs the four teams, running close together all season, who captured honors are the teams of Wilma Latture and Mary Richwine, first place; and Sally Holcomb and Marilyn Vanhoy, tied for second. Basketball season is over and baseball steps into the picture for all athletically inclined Plymouth High girls. Eleven teams have been organized and the captains are: Barbara Finnegan, Lois Osgood, Joy Bennett, Pat Wilkens, Pat Zink, Joann Sark, Bettis Bellow, Mary Watters, Beverly Hobbins, Lois Hunter and Ann Preston. Games are played every Monday and Wednesday on the diamonds in back of the school. The schedule will be posted each week on the girls' sports bulletin board.

Plymouth Meets Ypsi in Opener

With their final chance to win a championship at hand, the Rocks baseball squad open their season today with the Ypsi Braves on the local high school diamond. Coach John Klingeberger states that all-around the team will look good. The Rocks pitching staff is set with two southpaws, Dave Reitzel and Max Stephens, plus the two veterans back from last year, Mickey Brown and Jack Scheel. In the catching department, Daggett, Harder, Gow and Henry hold forth. The infield is the smoothest outfit with Gil Waslaski on third, DeWayne Becker at short, Bill Newsted on second, and Jerry Allen at the initial sack. The promising candidates in the outer pastures are Finney, Bosman, Kreger, and Shely. The next league encounter is Friday, May 7, at Trenton. The down-river boys copped the league crown last season.

"Understand Rivalry and you understand America"

by
Ed Thorgersen

For a bit of Americana . . . for racing thrills in a folksy, county fair setting, you just can't beat sulky racing. Something of the America of yesteryear seems to return as you watch sun-tanned drivers in bicycle-wheeled sulkies urging the graceful trotters around the track in a final heat. No mere youngsters, these harness drivers, many of them have been racing since you and I first climbed into three-cornered pants. And as you watch them, wise in the ways of racing and horses, you admire the spirit that helps them keep racing, year after year. And you remember that love of competition has no age limits. A man of 70 gets the same thrill in beating his rivals as a lad of 7 gets from surpassing his gang at marbles. Competition is a slice of the soul of America—in business as well as in sports. Look at the oil business, for example, where over 34,000 individual companies compete with rivals. Their thrill—beating out rival firms. How? By giving you better products . . . better service . . . more for your money. That's how you gain from the rivalry of more than 1,250,000 people who earn their living in the oil industry . . . producing, refining, transportation, distributing and retail sales. Their rivalry, their love of competition, brings you finer fuels and lubricants . . . courteous, more efficient service . . . newer, better products. Yes, every day, in more ways than most people can imagine, you benefit from the rivalry in the oil business. That's why you can be sure "there's a plus for you in Petroleum's Progress."

Cloverdale Bowling Team Captures Plymouth Classic League Title

First presentation of the Ward Butler Memorial trophy has been made to the Cloverdale Dairy team, winner of the Plymouth Classic league. The team has rolled a record of 60 wins and 27 losses, giving the team its first win in five years of bowling. Four of the original members are still on the team: Mark Strasen, Ray Danol, Bob Johnston and Bill Choffin. Nelson Altenbernt was this year's fifth bowler, and the sixth was Mark Bowman. Mr. Choffin, captain, announces that next year Harvey Shaw will replace Mr. Danol on the team. The high single game average is owned by Mr. Danol who has a 196. The team was awarded second place in the league for the team high three game average with 2968. They were topped by the Daisy team which had a 2994.

Changes by Softball Rules Committee to Affect Play in Recreation League

By Ralph Johnson
The joint rules committee on softball approved two rule changes for the year of 1948. Rules, as approved by this committee, govern all play of the Plymouth Recreation League. The bases have been moved back to 60 feet, instead of 55 feet as played last year. The 55 foot bases were tried as an experiment in an attempt to open up the game by having more base hits, due to the shorter distance of the infielders from home plate. Final conclusions, however, were that there was no advantage shown. For a number of years, pitchers had to be dressed in a dark blue or black uniform, regardless of the uniform color of the other members of the team. This rule

Country Club Golf Activities Planned

Men's golf leagues will play Monday and Thursday evenings at the Plymouth Country Club, M. C. Partridge, pro-manager, reveals in a report covering the club's golfing activities. He stated that Women's Day starts Thursday, May 6. Lunch will be served at 1 p.m., with nine holes of golf in the afternoon or evening. Four different flights will be set up, with each player having a handicap. Friday evenings will be devoted to Mixed league play, consisting of two ball foresomes. A man and woman play one ball and alternate shots for this league. Members are urged to phone or leave their name in the clubhouse for the leagues they wish to play in.

The Accepted Standard

It Takes Mills to Make the Steel You Use and PROFITS to keep mills going

It takes "real profits" to keep an industry alive. It is the purchasing power of the profit dollar that sets today's pace for progress.

The high costs of improvements and expansion in steel can today be met only with profit dollars. For the money that the industry has been allowed to set aside for replacement and improvement is not enough to meet today's requirements.

Steel's 1948 profit dollar buys only 50 cents worth of rolling mill, however, compared with 1938. It takes two of today's dollars to buy as much mill as one dollar bought ten years ago.

Steel profits averaged 6.3 cents on the sales dollar last year. In the same period, the profit per dollar of investment in the steel industry was 9.4 cents.

Steel profits are low when measured against today's high cost of maintaining efficient plants. The steel industry is meeting those costs because an efficient industry best serves the public interest.

There are 95 member companies of the Institute with plants in 166 American communities. They produce 94.6 percent of the country's steel.

PERFECT FLOOR For BASEMENTS
 Colorful, Dry, low cost

Kentile is America's first choice for basement flooring because it is perfect in every single respect—even though it is one of the lowest cost floorings you can buy! It is the only type of flooring you should put on concrete in direct contact with earth because it isn't harmed by dampness or alkali. It's fireproof, too, and isn't marred by cigarette burns. It's virtually stainproof and is cleaned by simple mopping. It will wear indefinitely (is perfect after ten years service in Rockefeller Center corridors). All in all, Kentile has fourteen different advantages. Very important is the fact that it is laid tile by tile (not in sheets) and you can have any pattern or color combination you desire. We are experts on basement playrooms and will gladly give you (without any charge or obligation) advice on the designing and construction of your room, suggest possible floor patterns, submit estimates, etc. Call

Use of Pasture Will Save Poultry Feed Bill

An estimate that 15 percent of the feed bill for poultry can be saved by the use of juicy green grass is made by J. M. Moore, extension poultryman at Michigan State college.

Dried grass has little value for poultry. Chickens, like other animals, will not go far afield for their pasture. Moore advises that this means bringing the pasture to the birds by moving the brooder house or summer shelter two or three times during the range season.

The type of grass used should be such that it is green and succulent during July, August, and September. Often mowing the poultry range once or twice during these months will result in new growth starting. Growing stock must be raised on a grass range that has not been contaminated with parasites and disease germs. A range where no chickens have been pastured for two years is described as "clean" and can be used to produce well-grown, full-developed pullets that will produce a profit.

Alfalfa and brome pasture has proven to be one of the good poultry pastures. Since brome grass comes early in the season it forms a matted sod that provides juicy forage and keeps the young chickens off the soil. Alfalfa is unsurpassed in the dry summer months when many grasses are not available.

Some poultrymen, Moore states, allow their pullets to go without mash and grain from 1 to 4 p.m. daily in order to induce the flock to make better use of their pasture.

Michigan farmers will have an opportunity to learn more about the management of grass and legume pastures at the Grass Day programs planned for all sections of the state during June. County agricultural agents and MSC extension workers will be on hand to tell farmers how pasture can help to make the poultry enterprise more profitable.

Paulette Goddard has sued Miracle Production Inc. for $50,000 she contends is due her for her services in the picture, "A Miracle Can Happen." She said she was to receive $100,000 for her work in the film, but has received only half.

Storm Causes Flood on South Main

Pictured above is a section of South Main street which was temporarily flooded following the brief but heavy rain and hail storm of Tuesday, April 20. Fire Chief Robert McAllister is seen in the act of clearing the gutters in the sector, in an attempt to alleviate the flooded condition. The storm, which raged but an approximate ten minutes, caused damage throughout this entire vicinity, taking its toll of greenhouses, windows, roofs, plants, and causing damage to planes on a nearby airport.

Final Euchre Game Planned for Tuesday

The final in a five session series of Euchre games between the Fox club and 12 Pt. club will be played off on Tuesday, May 4, at the V.F.W. club house.

Four sessions have been played to date, with the Fox club leading by 57 points. High scorers for the 12 Pt. club are: Herb Burley, Red Herter, Jerry Simmons, and for the Fox club: Bill Morgan, Lew Ford and Clyde Smith.

Losers of the series will put on a supper for the other team. Twenty-four players are involved.

Cause of deflation. Too much sugar, baking in an over too hot, or insufficient baking will cause meringue to fall. Bake meringue slowly in an oven that has been very hot but turned down very low as soon as you put the meringue covered food into it.

New Plymouth resident, James Jones, announces the purchase of Norton's Standard Service station, located at 789 West Ann Arbor trail, from Ralph Norton. The station will be open seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Mr. Jones states. An advertisement on another page of this issue of The Mail announces specials which the new owner will feature from time to time while operating the station. Mr. Jones was previously manager of a station in Pleasant Ridge. He and his wife reside here at 796 York street.

Scout Troop Honored by Starkweather PTA.

Girl Scout troop No. 8 was entertained by their sponsors, the Starkweather PTA, Monday evening, April 26.

The troop is under the supervision of Mrs. Albert Hubbs, assisted by Mrs. Barnes. They were served ice cream and cake by the PTA group.

Next month the Brownie troop, also sponsored by the PTA, will be honored. This group is directed by Carolyn Goodale.

Cubs Undertake Cloth Collection

Thirteen thousand scout boys, and leaders of the metropolitan Detroit area are undertaking a council-wide collection of worn, white materials for the American Cancer Society, during the period of May 1-8, according to a report from Harold Schryer, district committeeman at large.

These will be turned over to the local branch of the society, he revealed.

Plymouth housewives may expect the cubs at their door any day now, he reveals, as the actual collections are under way. All of the Council's 200 cub packs will cover their own area. Neighborhood Dens (groups of Cubs, averaging 4 to 8 in number) will solicit their own families and the neighbors in "their block." The individual cubs will take their weekly Den meeting places. Later on Den collections will be taken to the monthly meeting place of the Pack. During the period of May 1-8 adult leaders will deliver their Pack's collection to the nearest Edison Branch Office for final pick up by the Society. Materials may also be delivered direct to the Society's new Headquarters, John R. and Hancock. People not at home when the cubs call are urged to take their donations direct to an Edison Branch Office or the Society's building.

The materials so critically needed, according to Mrs. Albert M. Mackey, Cancer Society vice-president, include worn, or torn, pillow cases, table cloths, napkins, or any other clean, white, absorbent, soft goods. Silk or rayon are of no value in making cancer pads. Men's shirts, any color, are acceptable. These need not be torn as they are made into padding containers, known as "Johnny Jackets." "Cancer pads are made and distributed at the rate of 15,000 a month and are available to any patient regardless of financial circumstances," said Mrs. Mackey. This is the first major civic service assignment ever given exclusively to the Cubs. Said Mr. McCulley, "These younger members of the Scout family are very ambitious and enthusiastic, we know they'll come through one-hundred percent to help the Cancer Society in this very worthy project."

A vegetable platter of green lima beans, scalloped tomatoes, buttered onions, and a stuffed baked potato makes a hearty main dish.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Welcome the Crowd with Mocha Punch (See recipes below)

Dessert Tonic

If you're casting about for new desserts, you'll like the ones we've selected today. All of them are really luscious and fun to make. But there's even more fun to serving them and listening to the family rave over them.

Just about this time of year we want to do something different to our menus and it's a good idea to start in the dessert department.

You may like a delicious honey almond cream cake with a delectable filling to put just the right ending to the dinner; or, perhaps a honey applesauce cake would be just the thing.

Maybe you'd even prefer an unusual variation of apple pie, or one of the other pastries which haven't been in the picture. You'll find these in today's column whether it's for luncheon, dinner or just entertaining.

Honey Almond Cream Cake (Makes two 8-inch layers)
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon soda
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/3 cup milk
3/4 cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
2 eggs
1/2 cup honey
1 1/2 cups oven-popped rice cereal
1 tablespoon melted butter.

Stir flour, baking powder, soda and salt into mixing bowl. Add shortening, milk, corn syrup, vanilla and almond extract. Beat until smooth, about 150 strokes. Scrape bowl and spoon often during baking. Add eggs and beat 250 strokes; scrape bowl. Add honey and beat 150 strokes. Pour batter into two 8-inch greased pans. Sprinkle one layer with rice cereal which has been crushed and mixed with melted butter. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven about 30 minutes. When cool, spread honey almond cream between layers, placing the layer with topping on top.

Honey Almond Cream Filling
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
2 tablespoons honey
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
Mix together corn syrup, honey, flour and salt. Combine egg and milk. Add to first mixture and blend well. Cook over hot water stirring constantly until thick and smooth, about four minutes. Cool; add flavoring. Spread between layers of cake.

Applesauce Spice Cake (Makes 9 servings)
1/3 cup bran
1 cup sweetened applesauce
1/2 cup shortening
2/3 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 1/4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Personal Gift Checks Receive Recognition

An article in a recent issue of "The New Yorker" described the personal gift checks which were recently made available in many banks throughout the country, including Plymouth's United Savings Bank.

The checks, decorated for countless occasions such as weddings, anniversaries, graduations, etc., were originated by the Manufacturers Trust company in 1945. The idea has seemed to click with the public and has aroused increasing interest because it blends of sentimental with the practical, a report from E. K. Teipel, vice president of the Trust company reveals.

About five percent of all eggs produced (about two billion eggs annually) become inedible or are broken on their way from producer to consumer.

Library Features Foster's Music

The Foster Hall reproductions of first editions of the music of Stephen Collins Foster will be on exhibit at the Plymouth library during Music Week, May 2-3.

There are 200 pieces of sheet music in the cases, comprising the discovered songs, compositions, and arrangements by this important American composer.

Commenting on the collection, Mrs. Ada Murray, branch librarian, said: "This is an opportunity for music lovers to see how the originals of such favorites as 'Old Folks at Home', 'Beautiful Dreamer', and 'Jeannie with the Light Brown Hair', first appeared."

Though Stephen Foster never set foot below the Mason and Dixon Line, among his more popular songs are "My Old Kentucky Home", "Old Black Joe", "Oh! Susanna", and others written for minstrel shows which were very popular in his day. He was born in Pittsburgh in 1826 and died in New York City in 1864.

My MICHIGAN

BY ELTON R. EATON

(Contributed)

Spearing of so-called noxious fish—dogfish, carp, garfish, etc.—with artificial light is to be permitted in coming weeks in 16 downstate lakes on a come one, come all basis.

Periods when such spearing will be permitted, the conservation department announces, are May 15 to June 15 and July 15 to August 15, inclusive, from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise.

If unrestricted spearing on these 16 lakes presents no difficult supervisory problems and proves to be a satisfactory method of removing unwanted fish, the department may seek legislation extending such privileges to the public on those Michigan lakes where noxious fish removal is believed necessary in the opinion of department technicians.

Heretofore, conservation officers have been empowered to issue special spearing permits, an unwanted responsibility that has got them into trouble with some individuals who have claimed they were discriminated against.

Lakes on which such spearing will be permitted in coming weeks are: Craig lake, Branch county; Duck lake, Calhoun county; Stone lake, Cass county; Lobbell lake, Genesee county; Bear lake, Hillsdale county; Lake Lansing, Ingham county; Big Portage lake, Jackson county; Austin lake, Kalamazoo county; Reeds lake, Kent county; Lake Nepessing, LaPeere county; Devil's lake, Lenawee county; Whitmore lake, Livingston and Washtenaw counties; Pontiac lake, Oakland county; Minnewaukon lake, St. Joseph county; Murphy lake, Tuscola county; Saddle lake, Van Buren county.

Federal-exercise taxes that Michigan hunters pay on firearms and ammunition will largely finance the purchase of 3,615 acres of upland game cover and 800-odd acres of waterfowl marsh in southern Michigan.

Two new Pittman-Robertson projects approved by the conservation commission are an upland area in western Ionia county to be known as the Saranac-Lowell project, and bottom land along Spring creek lying along the Kalamazoo - St. Joseph county line just east of highway US-131.

The commission also approved purchases of 40 acres in the Barry county project, 188 acres in the Flat River project in Ionia and Montcalm counties, 140 acres in the Gratiot-Saginaw project, 45 acres in the Port Huron project and 45 acres in the Rose Lake project.

The department will construct dams to create waterfowl marsh in the Spring Creek project.

After years of control effort, pollution continues to be a major Wisconsin conservation problem and the conservation commission is urging more emphatic action toward the goal of clean waters.

As one step in the program all department field men are being directed to report at once to the Madison Office all cases of pollution that come to their attention.

Pollution control in Wisconsin is in the hands of a special pollution board. The conservation commission has the power to bring action for the recovery of the value of fish that may be killed by pollution.

The conservation department points out that some Wisconsin communities are still dumping domestic sewage although effective treatment systems are available. No practical system has yet been devised to adequately take care of paper mill waste but progress is being made and investigations are continuing. Alcohol, fodder yeast and vanilla are now being recovered from paper mill waste and recently it was announced that lactic acid can be recovered from sulphite waste of the mills.

Most waters are being polluted with wastes that could be eliminated by known methods of treatment. Conservation commissioners have expressed the belief that prompt prosecutions should follow all preventable cases of pollution.

Hunting and fishing demands upon the 152 national forests of the United States have increased more rapidly since the war than the supply of fish and game, the Wildlife Management Institute learned today from Lloyd W. Swift, of the U. S. Forest Service. Records show that 4,650,000 sportsmen hunted or fished on national forests last year compared to the pre-war high of 3,540,000 in 1941.

This situation, Swift reports, is causing growing concern to state and federal wildlife administrators who cooperate in attempting to supply as much game as the lands will support. The state game departments are responsible for the restoration and management of resident wildlife and the Forest Service for management of the habitat. "If the present trend toward more hunting and fishing on these lands continues, and there is every indication that this will be the case for some time," Swift stated, "it may not be long before, in some areas, the supply of game on the national forests will be insufficient to meet sportsmen demands."

In certain local forest areas, however, both in the east as well as the western states, there are too many big game animals and the large herds actually are impairing the range and their own future.

Waterfowl populations apparently are leveling off at the bottom of their decline, the Wildlife Management Institute learned today from Albert M. Day, director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Increases in the Mississippi, Atlantic, and Pacific coast flyways appear to be offset by decreases in the Central flyway, Mexico and Canada, but the over-all numbers seem to be about the same as last year.

Director Day credited the halting of the decline to the rigid hunting regulations and poor hunting weather experienced last year. The Service's chain of refuges which provided resting and feeding places for migrating birds, also played an important part.

As a result of reduced bag limits and a curtailed season, duck-stamp sales fell off heavily. Between July 1 and December 31, 1947, a total of 1,510,594 stamps were sold compared to 1,836,390 during the corresponding 1946 period—a decrease of 325,796. Although final reports may boost the total considerably, Day stated that he did not believe sales of 1947-48 stamps would equal the all-time high of 2,016,819 sold in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947.

"Although the situation this year is encouraging compared to what it has been for the past three years," said Mr. Day, "it holds little hope in the way of relaxation of 1948 hunting regulations. Sportsmen will agree that we would be too optimistic if we let the bars down before we are certain that the duck population trend definitely points upward."

College Plans Service For Food Consumers

A new service to Michigan consumers and handlers of feeds and food products is being developed by the Michigan State college extension service. It is being organized by the agricultural economics department under the supervision of A. B. Love, MSC marketing specialist.

Called "Consumer Education in Utilization and Consumption of Agricultural Products", this new service expects to work with all classes of consumers, grocery stores, wholesale grocers, and packers and growers of Michigan farm produce on their food marketing problems.

Consumers in homes, restaurants, and industrial feeding establishments use much Michigan produced fruits, vegetables, milk, poultry, eggs, and meat. Questions arise in their minds regarding quality, price, amounts, availability and methods of use of these commodities. The new service may help supply some of the answers.

Love points out that few consumers realize the many different services necessary to get their food on the grocery shelves every day. Many marketing problems of the farmer, the first assembler, the wholesale and retail grocer, can be solved by industry cooperation with a resultant better service to consumers.

The MSC agricultural economics extension service expects to assist these food distributing agencies by working with them in their problems.

Public Invited to Attend Presentation of Flags

The Thursday, May 6, program, during which the presentation of flags will be made to the American Legion auxiliary, Passage-Gayde unit, is open to the public, states Adah E. Langmaid, program chairman, who extends an invitation to all to attend.

It will take place in the Veterans Community Center, beginning at 8 p.m. Mrs. Helen Benjamin of Detroit, a past state president, will be the speaker.

A social hour is planned to follow this ceremony.

Turkey Raisers Asked to Check on Housing

For a good start in raising healthy turkeys, Charles Reed, extension poultryman at Michigan State college, advises farmers to check the condition of the brooder house.

Any repairs needed should be made immediately. The floor, roof and walls must be free from cracks and holes and broken window glass should be replaced. A good job of disinfection is important.

Poults require fresh air, the specialist reports. Windows should be arranged so that they can be tilted slightly to allow fresh air to enter and circulate in the house. Lack of proper ventilation will result in damp litter and unhealthy poults.

Brooders should be set up and operated for a day or two to insure that they are operating properly.

Legion Members Take Part in Tuesday Show

Commander of Plymouth's American Legion Passage-Gayde Post No. 391, Bill Langmaid, and Robert Hester were among the 400 members taking part in the state legion organization's first annual Aerial Cavalcade, Tuesday, April 27.

They were picked up at Mettetal airport and flown to and from a central airport. Two hundred of the legion's 550 posts in Michigan qualified to join this cavalcade. Each of the 200 posts, located in 150 separate cities and towns, put two members aboard.

All planes were scheduled to reach the central airports at noon, and pilots and passengers had lunch and took part in a civic program before returning.

Wayne county airport, located in Wayne, was one of the five fields selected as a concentration point.

Summer Pasturing of Swine is Now Urged

When grain prices are high and the margin of profit in swine feeding is small, it is especially important to use pasture to the fullest extent, believes W. N. McMillen, animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State college.

All spring pigs should be put on pasture at once, the specialist points out. If a pasture program has not been planned, it is a good idea to fence off a corner of a field of alfalfa, clover, or alfalfa and brome grass mixture and turn in the pigs.

Blue grass and other permanent pastures can be used the next few weeks, but other pastures will be needed when permanent pastures dry up during the summer. Rape and oats can be sown so that they will be available for pasture within a few weeks. Sudan grass may also be sown a little later this spring.

NO WAITING FOR THE WEATHER...

When you cure hay in the mow!

it's the Electric HAY DRYER that does it!

An Electric Hay Dryer is a WISE INVESTMENT —

Here Are a Few of Its Dividends:

1. Cut hay at its prime . . . regardless of the weather.
2. No shattering—no bleaching with mow-cured hay.
3. High moisture content while putting up hay. Eliminates dust. Leaves retained.
4. Mow-cured hay doubles protein and carotene content.
5. Mow-cured hay saves supplemental feeding.
6. Mow-cured hay produces higher butterfat, more milk, more profits.
7. Controlled temperature reduces spontaneous combustion.
8. Mow-cured hay brings top dollar.

There's no waiting for the weather when you cure hay in the mow. And you're sure of topgrade hay—with an increased market value.

An electric hay dryer can be designed to fit any type of barn—any size of farm—for either chopped, loose or baled hay. Talk to your Edison Farm Service Advisor about one; ask him to show you a hay dryer actually at work on a nearby farm—where you can talk man-to-man with its owner. The Edison man will be glad to design a layout to fit your exact needs—he'll furnish you complete specifications. Talk to him . . . soon!

BORSON

Eureka, Kans., Apr. 30. The "American Way of Life" has been mentioned by hundreds of writers and speakers in the past few years. During the war, we heard a great deal about defending the American Way. Our army and navy were dedicated to its defense by force of arms and their own lives. The rest of us served as a second line of defense by way of work in defense plants, volunteer services, purchase of government bonds and contributions of money.

Liberty With Justice

A war-time advertisement illustrated the American Way with a colored picture of an immigrant family—father, mother, and their young children—eating their picnic lunch under a big oak tree—all of them healthy, prosperous and happy. The rise of millions of such men from penniless immigrants to happy home owners is the best illustration of the "American Way."

All these examples tell something, but they don't tell enough. The best definition of the American Way is that it gives us "liberty with justice and mercy". Liberty has been dear to this country since its beginnings. The Europeans who came here as colonists came seeking freedom not available at home. When they think of what they would now be suffering if they or their parents had not come to America, they thank God for the American Way.

What Experience Teaches

But liberty without restriction and mercy would lead us back toward pre-civilization and the chaos from which we have slowly climbed. Liberty under law, however, is a practical system that works. The law of this country is the product of men's experience over the centuries. These two—our hard won liberty and our long-developed justice—are the basis of the American Way of Life.

I, therefore, believe in the American Way of Life because IT WORKS. We don't always achieve the ideal. Sometimes we don't even come close to it; but always we do pretty well. The closer to that ideal our efforts bring us, the better our way of life works. Communism, Socialism and many other "isms" have been tried at various times but they did not work.

Proof of the Pudding

I want to mention a few things which prove that the American Way really pays off—and pays better than other ways that we see around us. Figures recently published show, for example, that to buy a dozen eggs the average European has to work just about four hours, while an American factory worker can earn a dozen eggs in a little over half an hour. A pound of butter—even this year—costs not much more than 3¢ of an hour working time here. It would cost the average European eight hours—and then he probably could not find butter to buy!

Living conditions in Russian-dominated countries do not bear out the Russian contention as to the wonders of Marxism and Communism. Bulgaria, where the Russian shadow is dark, recently invited Western reporters to see their brave new world; but the reports only confirmed our belief that our poorest people are better fed, better housed, better dressed than any working people in any other country. Our wage-workers, moreover, are safer, happier and freer. Britain thus far has been unable to make Socialism work. The South American countries under dictatorships find that one-man rule is misrule.

Let Us Not Be Content

There may well be a middle ground between Capitalism and Socialism which will make our American Way even better than it now is. Hence, we all should be open-minded and always insist upon justice to every group. The greatest crime of Communism is that its leaders are not content to let it prove itself but they murder all minorities who do not agree with them. The world cannot progress on such a principal.
