PROGRESSIVE DETROIT OFFICIALS.

During the past twenty years, elaborate beer gardens, extravagant hooch joints glittering with all the finery of royal palaces, Aztec towers, amusement places and the like have sprung up like mushrooms in Detroit.

The other day this "progressive" city announced that it was going to build a new high school, the first one to be erected in over 20 years.

Little wonder, is there, why Detroit should be pestered with a juvenile problem.

WHAT SENATOR VANDENBERG SAYS.

In commenting upon the record of the present congress, Michigan's senior senator, Arthur H. Vandenberg, the other day declared: "In dealing with problems which override all others in importance, this is the best congress in American history."

That sounds a little different than the clap-trap that has been shouted to the American people by the Pengergast machine politician who is serving as President of these United States through fate rather than through the ballots of the 60,000,000 voters of our country.

BRUTALITY OF THE LOWEST TYPE.

It was nearly 35 years ago when a young man went to work for a big Michigan corporation. By diligent application to his duties and a willingness to work faithfully at all times, he climbed to a high position with the corporation's organization. Then came along death with its resultant change in management. "Youth" took over the driving reins. The heads of old timers who had helped to create the success this big corporation enjoyed, began to fall. The other day this energetic young man of 35 years ago who had grown old in service to the corporation was dropped summarily and without reason from the payroll. In our way of seeing things, that's brutality of the lowest type. Sooner or later the "wise guys" who are enforcing that type of policy will reap the reward—and it will NOT be in net earnings.

"THE SOUL OF AMERICA IS FREEDOM."

Ex-President Herbert Hoover a few days ago celebrated his 74th birthday at a home-coming celebration organized by the little community of West Branch, Iowa, where the famed American statesman first saw the light of day in a little two-room cottage.

It was in this bit of a home and in this Iowa farm village where the celebration was held that the career of one of America's greatest presidents began.

Oh yes, the political opportunists snarled at him. They damned him, lied about him and blamed him for all of the ills of the world. His successor in office was probably one of the most vicious in his unjust criticism of the Iowa Quaker lad who became President of these United States.

It was just the other day when Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt belatedly made the admission that President Hoover was not the cold-hearted, thoughtless beast he had been painted by the New Dealers—he was just a victim of circumstances over which no one had any control.

The former President made a brief speech on his birthday in the little village where he was born. His assertions breathed the glories of America—only citizens inspired by the concepts of free spirit will rule this great land of ours, declared the greatest humanitarian leader of all time.

"The meaning of our word 'America' flows from one pure spring," he said. "The soul of our America is its freedom of mind and spirit in man. Here alone are the open windows through which pours the sunlight of the human spirit. Here alone is human dignity not a dream, but an accomplishment."

"I have had every honor to which any man could aspire. There is no place in the whole earth except here in America where all the sons of man could have this chance in life."

G.O.P. FINANCES.

Now that the smoke has rolled away and the newspapers are not printing so much about the "gabbing" of this or that office holder up in Lansing, it is safe, we believe, to discuss the Republican party's method of raising campaign funds.

Unlike the New Dealers, who mail out to the thousands of postmasters throughout the country tickets to be sold or purchased by the postmasters, from $100 up, to no one knows how much for the "big shots" on the federal payroll, the Republicans have followed the rule of seeking voluntary contributions to a public cause that the donors believed in and were willing to aid.

This voluntary contribution plan worked well up until the time that a former Republican boss, who since has had his wings clipped, turned the plan into a sort of political racket.

Years ago the writer discovered that a solicitor "for the Republican party" had come to town and during his brief stay in Plymouth collected many hundreds of dollars, declaring that the money was for the Republican State Central committee.

Knowing something about the financial plight of the State Central committee at the time, we became somewhat suspicious of the money raising racket, with the result that, as suspected, this money did NOT find its way into the treasury of the Republican State Central committee. It went to the "boss" who doled out bits of it, creating the belief that the money was a "personal" contribution to the party by him and not a portion of the money that had been raised for the committee.

Over a period of years there must have been hundreds of thousands of dollars collected in Michigan that never reached the treasurer of the G.O.P. State Central committee.

We recall the protests we made at the time pertaining to this method of money raising. We wrote editorials and letters—and said some rather unkind things to "higher-ups" within the Republican party about this method of raising funds for political use.

We believed then, and we still believe, that all transactions pertaining to political contributions for ALL parties, should be an open book, and that ALL money contributed to a political party should go to its lawful organization.

As we see it, that is just what the present Republican State Central committee chairman and the treasurer of the state central committee, have been doing.

We believe that the consistent protests we made a number of years ago had something to do with the inauguration of the new system of fund raising that was adopted by the Republican State Central committee when John Wagner of Battle Creek became chairman and Arthur Summerfield of Flint became the financial director of the party.

Since the adoption of the new system whereby all party contributions go directly to the proper and legal party officials, we have never had reason to suspect the improper use of a single cent of Republican funds. Up until the Wagner-Summerfield administration of party affairs, we had plenty of reason to suspect the abuse of the loyalty and generosity of faithful Republicans. And that, too, was over a period of many years.

We have had no part, and desire to have no part in the "fightin' and the feudin'" going on up in Lansing, but it is going to take some REAL evidence to convince the writer that there has been any abuse or anything unlawful in the methods of raising or spending the funds that have been donated to the Republican State Central committee of Michigan.

Residents Warned of Rabies Threat Posed by Three Mad Dogs in Area

Plymouth's isolation from cases of rabies has come to a sudden halt with the report that three rabid dogs have been on the loose either in the city or immediate vicinity.

City Health Officer, Dr. Harold Brisbois described the cases as the first in the city within the past two or three years. All three of the dogs have died, but officials believe that in the neighborhood of 20 pets were in contact with these animals. As many of these dog owners as possible have been informed of the incidents in the hope that as close a tab as possible can be kept on the disease.

The first rabid dog, which died on August 2, belonged to a family living on South Main street. The second one, which died August 11, was originally reported rabid in the vicinity of the Eckles coal yard. It supposedly bit dogs in this area before making its way out of the city on Schoolcraft. The last dog of the trio inflicted with this highly infectious disease, died last Saturday, August 14. He was reported on Schoolcraft and Haggerty.

While the surrounding cities and areas have been deluged with cases of rabies this past season, Plymouth, until now, was immune from any attacks. With this swift onset, however, residents are urged by Dr. Brisbois to use utmost caution where stray dogs are concerned. The dog quarantine is still in effect, he reminds, and it will remain so until cases of the disease subside.

"Do not let your dog run loose," he emphasized. "Pets should be kept tied up at all times. All stray dogs should be reported to (Continued on page 8)

Funeral is Today for Natale Berini

Funeral services will be held this morning, Friday, for Natale Berini, co-founder of the Plymouth Gauge and Tool company, who died Monday evening following a short illness.

The services will be held at 10 a.m. in Our Lady of Good Counsel church. The Rev. William P. Mooney will officiate.

Mr. Berini's life story bears out the great American belief in equal opportunity for all men, allowing them to rise through the ranks and better themselves. He came to this country from Italy at the age of 16, first settling in Iron Mountain, Michigan. He worked here in the copper mines until his transfer to Great Falls, Montana in 1890. He was with (Continued on page 6)

Millers Pass 57th Year of Marriage

Their seventh year past the golden wedding anniversary mark was observed by Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Miller of Russell street last Sunday at a garden party and open house.

The couple, whose marriage 57 years ago took place in Detroit, tell that they have lived in Plymouth for 31 years. They formerly resided on a farm located on Ann Arbor trail.

Forty nine attended the open house in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Miller, who are now aged 84 and 77, respectively. Included in the group were their six children and families who are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. George Treis, Mr. and Mrs. James Mottschall and daughter, Pam of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Watters and children, Mary Therese, Michael, Juliana, Danny, Ned and Gregory of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Peter R. Miller of Plymouth, Frank Miller and daughter, Joan of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cook and son, David of Perris, California, and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Miller and children, Bobby, Karl and Tommie of Saginaw.

Karl Miller, who was afflicted with polio about a year ago, spent the weekend in Plymouth. Golden wedding felicitations were offered to Mr. and Mrs. George Knapp by their family and friends last Thursday, August 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Knapp, who have both lived in this vicinity for their entire lives, were married in Detroit on that August date in 1898. Mr. Knapp is a retired railroad yard conductor.

Helping them celebrate the date were: Mr. and Mrs. Milton Knapp of Rosedale Gardens, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Knapp and son, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Knapp and two sons, their daughter, Mrs. A. W. Hanigan of Chicago, Illinois. (Continued on page 8)

Schools Will Open Doors to Students On September 8

Labor Day will officially end the vacation season for all Plymouth parents whose children are of school age, for classes will begin on the following Wednesday, September 8, Superintendent Helmer Nelson discloses.

Teacher conference organizational meetings will be held on the Tuesday preceding, to set up and prepare plans for the resumption of classes.

Superintendent Nelson announces that a full staff of teachers will be available for the beginning of the semester. They will be announced next week.

This year approximately 120 grade school students from both the Central, Starkweather, and suburban school areas will attend classes in the new addition to the First Baptist church now under construction. Four classrooms will be set up in this addition including first through third grades inclusive, with two sections of one grade.

Tomorrow's Play Will Determine City Golf Champ

A new name will be inscribed on the Plymouth Mail trophy as a result of the finals in the third annual City of Plymouth golf tournament which will be played tomorrow, Saturday, starting at 10 a.m.

Both the former winners in this yearly event have been eliminated in a series of thrilling upsets and hard fought matches. Tom Lock, city champion in 1946, was the first to bow in defeat during his match with Harold Schultz on Sunday, August 16. Defending champion George Todd was eliminated by Robert Johnston last Saturday after a long drawn-out struggle that ended on the 21st hole when Johnston dropped a 12 foot putt for a birdie, three to win over Todd 1 up.

Semi-final matches in the championship flight played last Sunday, found Robert Johnston and Robert Oakley emerging as the winners over their opponents, Elwood Russell and Herbert Burley, respectively. Tomorrow will decide which of the names will grace the trophy, signifying its owner as the amateur golf champion of the city for the ensuing year.

Other prizes and trophies which have been made available through the merchants and businessmen of the city will be awarded to the winners tomorrow night by Mayor Frank Henderson. A banquet dinner followed by dancing will be held at the Saddle Ridge club on Currier road at 7 p.m. in honor of the winners. The public is invited (Continued on page 8)

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Laible celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Laible.

Guests were Mrs. Robert Gardner, Mrs. Martha Hest, Beatrice Hartmann and the Milton Laible family.

During the afternoon many of the Laibles' friends called to give their congratulations to the couple.

Couple Observes 50th Anniversary

Golden wedding felicitations were offered to Mr. and Mrs. George Knapp by their family and friends last Thursday, August 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Knapp, who have both lived in this vicinity for their entire lives, were married in Detroit on that August date in 1898. Mr. Knapp is a retired railroad yard conductor.

Helping them celebrate the date were: Mr. and Mrs. Milton Knapp of Rosedale Gardens, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Knapp and son, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Knapp and two sons, their daughter, Mrs. A. W. Hanigan of Chicago, Illinois. (Continued on page 8)

Tomorrow Is Derby Day In Plymouth

If results of the Detroit Soap Box derby mean anything, Nelson E. Lyke will be one of the leading contenders for top honors in tomorrow's race in Plymouth. During the Detroit race, his car was chosen as the best designed in the entire race, and with it he crossed the finish line as winner of the Class B final. He is pictured above with a Detroit race official.

Another entrant who will make competition stiff in tomorrow's race is Donald Moore, shown above with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore. At Detroit's race he broke the track record during the qualifying rounds, and placed second in the Class A final.

Paving of Parking Lot to Begin Soon

Paving of the municipal parking lot, situated in the downtown business district between Penniman avenue and Ann Arbor trail, is expected to begin within the next week or two.

City commissioners instructed City Manager Harold Cheek to proceed with plans for the work at their Monday night meeting. The installation of parking meters will also be made at a later date, officials have revealed. The number needed for this area has been approximated at 65.

Last week enforcement of one way traffic on the alley leading into the lot was inaugurated for the 30 day trial period. It is being tried in an attempt to alleviate the congested conditions which resulted previously in the two-way traffic setup.

Doctor Reminds of Pre-School Exam

Plymouth's health officer, Dr. Harold Brisbois, asks that parents whose children are entering school for the first time in the fall see to it they have their pre-school examination as soon as possible. He urges them not to wait until the last minute.

In a statement issued as a general reminder of the checkup this week, he told that children have to present a health certificate before they can enter school. All that is needed to receive the certificate is to have the family physician give the child a general physical, and booster shots of diphtheria and whooping cough vaccine.

Joe Merritt Moves Into New Office Building

Joe Merritt, Plymouth insurance agent, expects to be settled in the new office building next to his home on South Main street, today, Friday.

The building, which is of modern design, has a brick front, with the remaining in cinder block. It consists of three rooms which have been furnished with new modern office furniture.

Mr. Merritt's office was previously located in his home, but due to increased business he had to enlarge. Employees of the firm are Lawrence Fornwald and Betty Ann Spanier.

Donkey Softball Game Planned

Lions-club and Junior Chamber of Commerce members will meet as opponents in a donkey softball game on September 9. The tilt is scheduled for the high school athletic field under the lights.

The Jaycees are the challenging organization. Eldon A. Martin, chairman, will announce the committees at a later date. He also states that a similar game was held at the Daisy field last year.

Kiwanians see film of 1948 National Convention. Kiwanians saw colored motion pictures of the 1948 Kiwanis convention which was held in Los Angeles, at their Tuesday evening meeting in the Hotel Mayflower. The film was shown by Dr. John McIntyre, chairman in charge of the meeting, who with Mrs. McIntyre and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jolliffe attended the convention.

Frank Henderson, Mayor City of Plymouth

City Contracts for Nearly All New Water Equipment

New city water is expected to be flowing into Plymouth homes, not later than next spring, a report from City Manager Harold Cheek reveals.

Today the city is taking bids for the laying of feeder mains for a distance of three and a half miles leading into the city. This, with the exception of installation of some piping expected to cost in the neighborhood of $5,000, means that the city has ordered all the materials needed for the project.

City Manager Cheek discloses that the city has been notified that shipment of the reinforced concrete pipe for the supply main will be delayed for 30 days. Receipt was originally scheduled for September.

Notice has also been received, he continued, that the first half of the feeder main pipe will be shipped in the last half of September, and the remainder during October.

Officials Approve Zoning Change

City commissioners put their stamp of approval on the city planning commission's recommendation that the zoning regulations for the first block west of Main street and north of Ann Arbor road be changed.

Monday night they gave the first two readings to the ordinance which calls for the changing of the zoning from residence A to local business. A hearing was previously held on the recommended change, and it is reported that no one presented any protests.

Nineteen boys from Plymouth and the surrounding area will vie for winning honors in Plymouth's Coaster Derby contest tomorrow, Saturday, Marvin Partridge, Junior Chamber of Commerce chairman, announces.

The race will be held on Wilcox hill, just east of Edward Hines drive, the scene of last year's race. The starting time is

Although prizes will be awarded each entrant in the race, the top awards for which the boys will compete include a bicycle as first prize, tool chest for second, and fielders glove for third. These were donated by the Plymouth Mail and E. J. Allison's Chevrolet Service, co-sponsors of the derby.

A service pit will be available for the racers at the starting point of the race. It is being made available by Hines and Owens, Plymouth representatives of the Shell Oil company. Here the boys can have such last minutes repairs made as oiling the wheels, or adjusting of the steering wheels.

Time trials begin at 4 p. m. and the cars will be seeded by time. The 19 who will compete at that time are: Ed Klinske, 15, of 45220 Joy road, sponsored by the Fisher Shoe store; Don Moore, 13, of 382 Pacific, sponsored by Todd's Market; Gerald Klinske, 14, 45220 Joy road, sponsored by the Woodcraft shop; Lawrence Van Orsdale, 13, 1149 South Main, sponsored by the Schrader Funeral home; Lynn Becker, 1055 Beech; Barrie Lightfoot, 12, 337 Joy street, sponsored by Don Lightfoot Heating; Harold Bond, 1143 Maple; Don Lightfoot, Jr., 14, 337 Joy street; Eric Eklund, 12, 443 Adams, sponsored by Thompson's Market; Ed (Continued on page 6)

Railroad Officials Anxious to Iron Out Difficulties

Railroad officials with the C and O line proved to be both cooperative and anxious in ironing out present difficulties with trains within the city. Mayor Frank Henderson and City Manager Harold Cheek told city commissioners Monday evening when reporting on their meeting.

One of the biggest protests which had been forwarded by residents was the lengthy tie-ups at railroad crossings within the city, which often run as high as 20 minutes. This was explained in part by the officials as due to the fact that trains must now be stopped outside of the city for crews to call and see if the yard is clear. Some of the crews may be instructed to do this in the future, in an attempt to cut down the number of trains waiting within the city.

The possibility of installing a signal system on the tower was also discussed, so that trainmen could tell from a distance whether or not the yard was cleared for them.

Another criticism which was discussed with the officials was excessive smoke within the city of which residents have complained. (Continued on page 8)

Wounded Boy is Reported "Fine"

Leonard Milross, Jr., 14, who was shot through the thighs of both legs with a 22 on Monday, is reported by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Milross, to be "doing fine."

The young boy and three of his friends had been holding target practice before the accident happened. It is believed the gun was carelessly thrown on the ground when they were through, and as one attempted to pick it up and put it in a safe position, it went off.

New Dentist Located in Professional Building

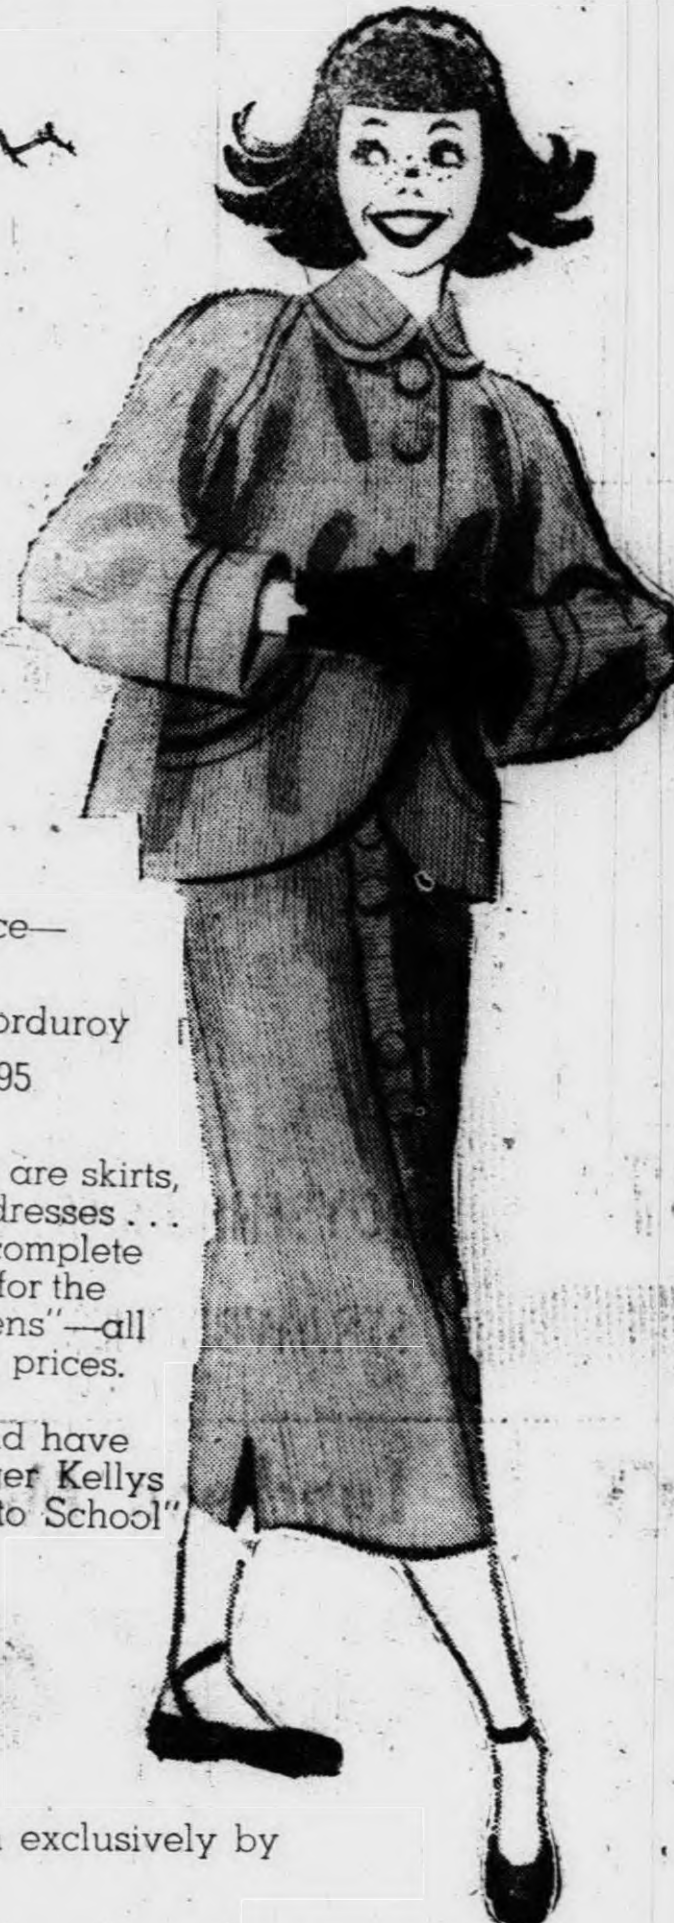

Announcement was made this week that Dr. Frederick B. Foust has opened a dental office in the Professional Building. Dr. Foust is a graduate of the University of Michigan dental school and served with the Navy for four and a half years, acquiring the rank of lieutenant junior grade. Dr. and Mrs. Foust, who are now living in Ann Arbor, plan to move to Plymouth as soon as housing is available. He is originally from Bryan, Ohio, and his wife's home was in Ann Arbor.

"DEAD" RAINCOATS brought to Life

GET ACQUAINTED WITH OUR NEW RAINCOAT RENEWAL SERVICE; WE NOW HAVE THE FAMOUS

water repellent process

Here is good news for your raincoats, jackets, weatherwear. Here is good news for every garment you have that is supposed to protect you from showers. We have just been privileged to obtain the exclusive agency for the famous "Cravenette" water repellent process, and now if you will send your topcoat to us we not only will clean it as we have always done, but we also will process it for you with "Cravenette" water repellents. This is exactly the same process you get in new coats and when your garment comes back it will shed showers—it will be just as water repellent as a new coat. You will like this service; it will bring those "dead" coats back to life and you will get a lot more wear out of them.

Try the "Cravenette" water repellent process

Cost of a Trip to Florida with a Mobile House Trailer

I have been asked several times what the total cost would be for a trip to Florida, for two adults, with a small house trailer. Having driven over 15,000 miles with house trailers I am glad to give this information. The total cost from Plymouth to Florida and return was $497.28 in 1947-1948. This included gas, oil, overnight parking, rent for four months in a modern Trailer Park including electricity and food for the entire trip. For further information see me at 6104 Canton Center Road, Plymouth.

this company for 30 years, and during that time rose from the ranks of a laborer to general foreman of the company's smelting unit.

Following the first World War the copper holiday arrived on the scene and cut down the mining capacity one-third. Mr. Berini, deciding there was not much future here for his children, went to Detroit where he became connected with the Ford Motor company in the shipping department. Here he started his study of tool making at the age of 53 by attending the Henry Ford trade school and Michigan State Auto school, while working afternoons in the tool room.

Mr. Berini left Ford in 1930, and with his sons organized the Service Die and Engineering company on Campbell in Detroit. Due to inability to expand there, he moved to Plymouth, as he not only liked smaller towns, but he liked Plymouth. In 1940 he helped organize the Plymouth Gauge and Tool company, and worked as a tool maker for four years until he retired in 1945.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Annie Berini, one daughter and three sons, Mrs. Mabel Wilson, Robert William Berini, and Emil Lewis Berini all of Plymouth, and Clarence J. Berini of Farmington. Also surviving are seven grandchildren, other relatives and many friends.

Mr. Berini was taken to the Schrader Funeral Home, and later to his own home at 304 West Liberty street.

Pallbearers at this morning's funeral will be V. Casari, H. Casari, J. Edlebrock, William Ruf, A. Costrini, and D. F. Murray. Interment will be made in Grand Lawn cemetery.

DeHoCo System Receives Praise

This week a Detroit newspaper told of 400 prisoners from the Detroit House of Correction giving their opinion on the sneak preview of a film entitled "Canon City", opinions which carried high praise of the DeHoCo system for which A. Blake Gilles, superintendent, has been instrumental in making possible.

The film is a semi-documentary story of the escape of 12 men from the state prison in Canon City, Colorado last winter. It paints the picture that "crime does not pay," and shows that within 48 hours of escape, the last man is recaptured or shot.

One 50 year old man now serving life for murder and who at one time spent 17 years at the state prison in Marquette said, "The tragedy of the whole thing is that they have prisons with bars and solitary punishment cells and where you can't take a step without a pass from the guard."

"Here at the House of Correction we have freedom, we are given a sense of responsibility, and we live up to it like men."

"No guards at the House of Correction carry either pistols or billies. When we have a complaint we know we can always talk it over with warden Gillies, and he never fails to give us a square shake."

In Vancouver, B. C., a stick-up man entered Glen Holm's cigarstore and 1) took $63 from the cash register, 2) ordered a package of gum, 3) paid for it with a $2 bill, 4) got his change and left.

Service to Honor World Council of Churches Meeting

By the Rev. Alexander Miller
 Sunday, August 22, marks the beginning of what is probably the momentous gathering in the two thousand years of Christian history.

Assembling at Amsterdam, Holland will be representatives of 140 and more recognized, historic, non-Roman Catholic churches from more than 40 countries. Thoughtful churchmen for many generations have developed divisions that exist in the church, and this assembly is the result of many previous meetings of a similar nature. At this meeting, the World Council of Churches will be formally and officially launched.

All who are interested in the success of this conference are invited to attend the special service of prayer and intercession to be held at St. John's Episcopal church, located at Harvey and Maple streets, at 7 p. m. on Sunday evening, August 22. This will be a half hour meeting at which prayers will be offered for the success of the world council, and old, familiar hymns will be sung. It is being sponsored by the Methodist, Presbyterian, First Baptist and Episcopal churches in Plymouth, and anyone of any church group, is invited to be present.

Up until the present, this organization, whose function is that of a continuing representative body of cooperative Christianity, has been functioning under a provisional constitution. Illustrative of the desire for such a body is the fact that even though a provisional body for these past ten years, more than 100 churches accepted membership in the council.

Although it included all of the recognized Protestant church groups, the council is not merely a Pan-Protestant gathering. Catholic churches in communion with the ancient sees of Canterbury and Utrecht, together with representatives of the autonomous churches of the Orthodox communion, will also be present and officially represented.

In session from August 22 to September 4, it is expected that some great results will be forthcoming from the meeting, pronouncements with a realistic outlook upon the problems confronting the world at large, expressions of the basic unity existing in the church despite its apparent divisions, some word of hope and encouragement to cheer the confused, uncertain inhabitants of the world in this frightened era.

 The railroad spokesmen assured that this can be cut down, and stated that they are anxious to do so. The engines are equipped with a device which can do just this, but, they continued, the crews are often negligent in using them. They reported that they will instruct the crews to use this device in the future, as it not only cuts down on the smoke, but cuts down on the amount of coal which is used.

 the police or sheriff's department," he continued, "whether the animal acts or looks suspicious or not." He emphasized that the animal will not be killed simply because it is picked up. The dog will be kept under observation until it is ascertained whether or not it is afflicted with rabies, and all pets found disease-free will be returned to their proper owners.

Dr. C. D. Barrett, assistant director of the Wayne county Health department, cautions dog owners that "the danger of rabies in these dogs that have been exposed will not be over for at least three or four months. Of course, he continued, "if the exposed dogs were vaccinated before the exposure, and not more than one year ago, then the risk of rabies is relatively small, but rabies vaccination should not be relied on 100 percent. It is good, but occasionally may not be effective," he stressed. "The only safe way is to kill an unvaccinated dog known to have been bitten by the rabid dog. Again I urge all dog owners not to delay any longer in having their dogs vaccinated. It's the best assurance against your dog getting rabies and your family being exposed."

Plymouth Families Build Vacation Paradise In Northern Michigan

LOCAL News

The Plymouth Mail photographer journeyed to Club Horicon at Lake Horicon and Lake Tecon, near Gaylord, Michigan last week to photograph some of the local residents that are part of that fast developing vacation area.

The first local family to acquire property within the lush 4,500 acre development were the Ralph Smiths who have been going to Lake Tecon for several years, where Mrs. Smith's father, Roy Anette was one of the pioneers. Soon after they made it a regular summer vacation spot, the Robert Willoughby family became interested in a cabin on Lake Tecon and from that time on each year some new Plymouth family has acquired a summer home on one of the lakes. The last Plymouth family to complete building in the club is that of Dr. Charles Westover, who now reside in a beautiful two story log cabin that includes three bed rooms, a large living room, kitchen and full basement. Just previous to the completion of the Westover cabin, the Lewis Goddards finished their cozy cabin which is situated high on a bluff overlooking both lakes. Two other Plymouth doctors and their families occupy cabins within the area, the Walter Hammonds and the A. C. Williams. Both of these families are looking forward to building and enlarging their present homesites in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oler of Centerline and Mr. Harry Gilbert of Newburg left Sunday morning for Connecticut. They will spend some time with Mr. Gilbert's daughter, Mrs. John Kordon in Newington.

Shirley and Mitzi Jacobson and Helen Gilbert left Monday for a trip to New York City and parts of the New England States. Helen plans to remain in the East and live with her sister, Mrs. John Kordon, in Newington, Connecticut.

A Sunday afternoon party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gates to celebrate the birthday of Mr. Gates' father, Mr. James Gates. Guests were Mrs. James Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Prom and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merksion of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Trinkhaus of Northville, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trinkhaus, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Rowe and Mrs. Anna Gates.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Westover enjoy the antics of their three boys who are enjoying their vacation to the fullest and are getting as fine a sun tan as "old sol" can provide. Pictured left to right with Dr. and Mrs. Westover are sons Charles, Robert and David.

Between horseback riding, building a cobble stone retaining wall and sun bathing the Lewis Goddards are having a busy summer at their new cabin which overlooks both Horicon and Tecon lakes. Shown left to right are Susan, Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Goddard and youngest daughter Jinx in the foreground.

Mrs. Walter Hammond and her daughter Ann are kept busy on their vacation visits to their cozy little cabin keeping young Hobart (left) from falling out of the inviting hammock which provides many leisure hours of relaxation at the Hammonds' woodland retreat.

Horses have always been a hobby with the Willoughby family and the photographer could only find Margaret Jean and Robert at the Willoughby cabin when he stopped for a visit to admire the beautiful corral that adds a real western atmosphere to this part of Club Horicon. The proudest addition to the Willoughby stable is the new palomino Taffy which is a special favorite of the Willoughby children and gets no small amount of attention from all horse loving visitors to Club Horicon.

The "fishings" vacationers at Club Horicon are the Dr. Williams. Only members of the family at home when the photographer called were Dr. Williams' mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark of Jackson, Mississippi who are spending the month with the Williams, and son John, right and his neighbor Sheldon Smith, pictured left, the son of Consumers Power manager Ralph Smith of Plymouth.

Elmer Huston Whipple is visiting Bill Cowgill at the Cowgill cottage on Round Lake.

Madelyn Schlanderer of Grand Rapids was the weekend guest of Jean Murray.

Sunday visitors at the home of the Earl Reh family were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Kinney of Royal Oak.

Leatha Kempton has returned from a month's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow Swope, Judy and Dow, Jr., returned this week from Crystal Lake, where they have been vacationing for the past three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson spent Saturday in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor and son, Jack, Jr., were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson Wednesday evening, August 11.

Mrs. J. S. Watson and Mrs. Lula Turney, accompanied by Mrs. Will Elsey and her daughter, Mrs. Forest Bunker, motorized to Sarnia, Ontario, Tuesday, to visit Mrs. Ben Brodie.

Miss Bertha Warner and Mrs. Alice Robinson were Thursday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gates.

Mr. and Mrs. George Keeping were visited Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Souder of Detroit.

Mrs. Leonard Lyons will entertain her bridge club this afternoon.

Pillow Washing Directions Given

Pillow feathers need laundering occasionally, but if you air and sun your pillows frequently you won't need to wash the feathers oftener than every one or two years. Brushing them with a whisk broom will keep the feathers fluffy adds Emma DuBord, Wayne County Home Demonstration agent.

Laundering is simple if you follow the rules, and there'll be no feathers flying during the process. Pick a rather warm and windy day. Remove the feathers to a closely-woven bag large enough to prevent them from packing. A good way to transfer the feathers is to open one end of the pillow tick and sew it to the opening of the bag. Shake the feathers into the bag and tie the top of it securely. Then wash bag and contents in a tub of warm soapy water, gently sousing up and down. Rinse in clear, warm water to remove soap and soil, and dry thoroughly either outdoors in the sun and wind or indoors with an electric fan. Shake the feathers while they are drying, and if done in the sun, do not expose them longer than is necessary for thorough drying, since sun will take the natural oil out of the feathers.

Control Suggested For Grasshoppers

Michigan farmers are being troubled by grasshoppers in some areas, Ray Janes, extension entomologist at Michigan State college, reports.

While the infestation is spotty, most counties of the state have a grasshopper problem to some extent. Favorite haunts of the hoppers are pastures, orchards and gardens.

Janes advises poison bait as grasshopper control. The bait can be mixed in small amounts by using bran or a mixture of bran and sawdust. Use six pounds of the mixture or the bran to six ounces of sodium fluosilicate (obtainable from the druggist) and moisten to a point so a little water comes out when squeezed. Six pounds, spread thinly, is sufficient to cover one-third of an acre. The bait should be put out in the morning.

Care should be taken to keep the poison bait from children and animals, Janes cautions.

Farmers with badly infested crops can get information on other control measures from their county agricultural agent.

The U. S. Navy has been authorized by recent Legislation to enroll not over 6,500 women in its regular service in the next two years.

by REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
Dorcas, a Woman of Good Works.
Lesson August 22: Acts 9: 36-42.
Memory Selection: Matthew 25: 40.

In ancient Joppa, which as Jaffa is often in present news, lived a good woman whose name is perpetuated in that of the modern "Dorcas Societies." Her record should shame anyone who says, "There is nothing I can do." For Dorcas was evidently poor. There may have been little that she could do. But her limited means and opportunities did not prevent her from rendering a fine service.

It is hard to understand why such a good woman, in the midst of her good deeds, "fell sick, and died." Her sorrowing friends tenderly laid her body in an upper room, and sent for Peter, who was nearby in Lydda.

Peter put them all forth from the room, that he might have seclusion and quiet; then he fell down and prayed unto Him who had broken the bonds of death. Evidently a great assurance came to him, for he arose and, using the dead woman's Hebrew name, said "Tabitha, arise." She opened her eyes; Peter took her hand and raised her up, called the "saints and the widows," and presented her alive.

Let us learn in the incident of the power of believing prayer; also of the necessity of realizing God's presence and of believing he is ever ready to hear his people, according to his will. He may not now commission us to raise the dead to life, but He does commission us to do with readiness and love what our hands find to do in the relief of distress.

News In The World of Religion

By W. W. Reid

With a curriculum based on the improvement of agriculture, the banishment of illiteracy, and the raising of the moral, social, economic and religious standards of living, Knox college was recently opened at Spaldings, Jamaica, British West Indies. Church leaders found need for such a college devoted to "sound and practical education for youth." The Rev. Lewis Davidson, M. A. is the principal.

The Rev. Carl P. Rasmussen, of Chicago, is secretary of the Lutheran commission on Evangelism which plans to train and use some 300,000 Lutheran laymen during the next two years in a cooperative program of evangelism across America in the name of eight church bodies of the Lutheran family. It is planned that in 1949 congregational and community training classes will prepare these laymen in the latest and most approved methods of house-to-house visitation and evangelism; and that in 1950 they will make their canvass in more than 11,000 different communities. "They can change the complexion of each community," says Dr. Rasmussen and his associates.

The two-point circuit Methodist churches of St. Charles and of Brant, in Michigan, have "adopted" the church of Jakobstad, and an interesting relationship of mutual helpfulness has grown out of it according to the Michigan pastor, the Rev. Joseph C. Dibley. "Bundles for Europe" including needed articles of food and of clothing and "school boxes" for the children have been sent in growing quantities to Finland; and the letters of reply and other contacts have aroused great interest in the local church and community. "One other result of this 'missionary emphasis' is that the Michigan churches have now a young man in college who plans to enter missionary service when he graduates.

A gloomy picture of the food situation in India and Pakistan is painted by Edmond D. Lucas, missionary-educator there, who now heads Protestant church re-

The diamonds for the Class B softball state tournament to be held in Plymouth next weekend, are still being readied for the occasion.

Additional bleachers have been moved on to the high school athletic field and will be erected soon. The tournament, which commences next Friday, has nine teams ready to begin play.

As yet the Plymouth representative has not been determined. Nick's, DeHoCo and Olds are still fighting for the tournament berth. Marshall will be the opponent of the Plymouth team.

With five diamonds available on the athletic field, the contests ought to be run on a fast schedule. Games will continue through Sunday, August 29.

All Stars Team Selected to Play Wayne on 24th

At a meeting of the Western Wayne league managers Monday evening, the league all-star team was selected to play the champions of the Class D league, Wayne.

The contest is scheduled for Tuesday, August 24, at 6:30 p. m. on the Riverside diamond. The Wayne club will be given the medals for being the champs.

Those players picked by the managers were: first base, Mickey Brown of the Livonia Firemen, Ralph Kelley of Livonia Recreation, and Dwight Eckler of the Plymouth Red Sox; second base, DeWayne Becker of the Wiedman Cardinals; shortstop, Bill Newstead of the Firemen and Jim Rutherford of the Red Sox; third base, Gil Wasalski, Cardinals and Fairbanks, Livonia Recreation; catcher, Sigmond, Livonia Recreation and Jerry Harder, Cardinals; pitchers, John Slessor, Livonia Recreation, Bob Sonnenberg, Red Sox, Max Stevens, Daisy, and Jack Scheel of the Cardinals. The outfielders are Larry Finney, Cardinals, Norm Marley and Jim Putt of the Firemen, Laverne Rutenbar, Red Sox, and George Washburn, Livonia Recreation.

Livonia Recreation and the Wiedman Cardinals had the most players picked, five. The Red Sox and the Livonia Firemen had four apiece and Daisy had one player.

Appointed by Herb Woolweaver, recreation director, to manage the squad are Bill Newstead, manager of the Livonia Firemen, and Cliff Wood, manager of the Red Sox. This game will be a benefit contest to cover the expenses of Wayne in the state tournament. A collection will be taken and donations will be appreciated from those attending.

DeHoCo Scores Victory in First Playoff Game

Runner-up in the Plymouth Industrial league the highly-rated DeHoCo squad from the Detroit House of Correction encountered the Beglinger Oldsmobile nine at DeHoCo park, diamond on Monday evening, August 16.

With a crowd of approximately 200 outside spectators plus over 400 inmates present, the fighting squads had all the moral support that was needed to win.

Starting for DeHoCo was Bill Ball pitching and Jesse Williams catching. For Beglinger Oldsmobile the batteries were Gilles and Bischoff.

Opening the first inning it looked like the DeHoCo tribe were out to put the game on ice when Moore singled over first and stole second base on a passed ball. Mueller walked and a passed ball enabled the runners to reach second and third. With Jim Rutherford of the Red Sox in scoring position, hard hitting John "Bushy" Trombley drove a hot grounder to second baseman DeWolfe, who threw Moore out at the plate. Williams beat out a slow roller out to third filling the bases. Henry "Cowboy" Misalowski then drove a long fly ball to centerfield which scored Mueller after the catch giving the DeHoCo team the first run of the game. Donald Anderson walked filling the bases again but the rally was put out when Gilles struck out Bischoff.

Not to be out-done the Beglinger team opened their guns in their half of the second inning when Gilles singled past third and then stole second base on a passed ball. Bischoff then singled in the same spot and Gilles scored tying the ball game up. Bill Ball then tightened up by striking out the next three batters.

The game then settled down to a pitchers battle between Ball and Gilles until the first half of the fifth, when the big bats of the DeHoCo squad started to explode. 2 base on balls given by Gilles to Muebler and Trombley put runners on the bases with no outs and with Jesse Williams, hard hitting catcher at bat it looked like a flurry of runs was imminent. Williams, however, tried to cross the opposition by bunting down the third base line, and in doing so Mueller was caught sliding into third. The rally was on as Henry "Cowboy" Misalowski singled through the box scoring Trombley.

Leichtweiss replaced Gilles and Anderson walked again filling the bases. Leichtweiss then blew-up with the pressure on, issued a base on balls to Bischoff forcing in Williams with another run. On a wild pitch Misalowski scored giving the DeHoCo squad three runs. Leichtweiss put the fire out when Ross struck out and Bill Ball grounded out to third ending the scoring spree.

The Beglinger squad never threatened again as Bill Ball put on the steam and set the opposing batters down. With 14 strike-outs to his credit Ball pitched a masterful game to put the DeHoCo team in the running as potential winners in the league playoffs.

The game ended with the score of 4-1 for DeHoCo with five hits and no errors. For Beglinger three hits and two errors.

Waved away from a studio lot and told that a movie was being shot there, the woman retorted: "Well, I hope it's the one I saw last night!"

Liberty Street Hardware Defeats League Leading Contractors 10-9

Both the leading clubs lost one game in the last week in the Old Timers league. Also, they each won one contest.

On Thursday, August 12, Liberty Street Hardware dropped the league leading Contractors 10-9. Contractors started out like a house afire with seven runs in the initial stanza, but Liberty Street came back with eight runs in the fifth inning. This rally gave the Hardware club a 10-9 victory. The winners had a bit of help from two extras, Bill Choffin and Clarence Levandowski.

Also on Thursday, Bud Wilson forfeited to Dunn Steel and Allen stopped Plymouth Grill 7-5. Sparkman was the winning pitcher for Allen, while Perry lost for the Grill.

Joe's Jottings

by Joe Miller

The Babe has made his last slide and has been called out by the umpire-in-chief. Although the greatest player in baseball has gone to his Valhalla, the memory of his titanic feats will remain in the minds of sport fans all over the world as long as baseball is played. The Babe exemplified all the best characteristics of America. His is a rags to riches story. Having nothing but undying spirit and a big heart in his youth, Babe strove toward great achievements. He achieved the distinction of being the best and highest paid player in the game.

Babe once had a chance to manage the Detroit Tigers after the 1933 season. However, he didn't have time to come to Detroit for he had an appointment on the west coast. By the time he came back Mickey Cochrane had been hired and Babe missed his chance to become a manager. Heart-warming stories about the Babe are never ending. You hear about Babe's deeds across the land. The big guy will never be forgotten.

In what other country will an athlete be more important than a president in the minds of people? Almost every paper in the United States put the Babe's death as prime importance on their front page. The radio networks carried special programs about the Babe. Thousands of people stood in reverence to the Babe in ball parks this week.

In conclusion, what finer memorial could be given to Babe than to have the Yankee Stadium, "the house that Ruth built," be renamed the Ruth Stadium. Babe would probably like this gesture more than any other.

Men's Division Playoff Rules

Following are the rules for the men's league playoff which are now being played.

- 1. In case of rained out games, the contest will automatically be scheduled for the next day at the same time and the best available diamond will be used.
- 2. Any team that fails to show up for its scheduled playoff date will forfeit; will be considered out of the playoffs, and must pay four dollars for umpire fees.
- 3. Protests shall be made by the manager or his agent only. The protest fee shall be ten dollars. If the protest is lost the fee shall become the property of the association. If protest is won the money will be refunded. Protests on umpire's judgment shall not be allowed. Misinterpretation of the rules shall be decided immediately. All protests shall be settled before the game is resumed and play shall be suspended until such action is completed. Decision shall be made by a conference with the umpires involved and this decision will be final.
- 4. Player to be eligible to play in the playoffs must be in at least seven games during the regular season.
- 5. Players eligible to compete in the state tournament shall receive no monetary remuneration, nor the promise of such for any service rendered.
- 6. Indefinite suspension from all Plymouth recreational activities will be administered for use of alcohol in any form before the game, unsportsman-like conduct pertaining to the game, and abuse of umpires and officials in any way.

Men To Continue Playoffs Tonight

Tonight Beglinger Oldsmobile will play the loser of the Wednesday Nick's-DeHoCo contest. If DeHoCo lost, the game will be played at DeHoCo at 7 p. m. If Nick's lost Wednesday's tilt, the game will be at the high school diamond at 7:30 p. m. The loser of the contest tonight will be out of the playoffs and the winner plays the winner of the Nick's-DeHoCo encounter at 7:30 p. m. Monday evening. The site of the game will be determined by the games tonight.

A three run outburst in the fifth inning by DeHoCo last Monday evening gave DeHoCo a 4-1 victory over the Beglinger Oldsmobile nine. Pitching fine ball, Bill Ball of DeHoCo stopped the Plymouth club almost cold. Art Gilles was the starting hurler for Olds, but he was taken out in the fruitful fifth and was replaced by Don Leichtweiss.

U. S. Navy Submarine Commander Distressed

U. S. Navy submarine commander was distressed when he surfaced after having been depth bombed by the Japanese and found an unexploded bomb lodged on the submarine deck. The resourceful skipper however, loaded the bomb on a rubber life raft and carefully sailed away.

Final Benefit Night Had Only One Encounter

With only part of one outside team present, the last benefit night was almost a complete bust.

The Stanley Romanowski VFW Post of Detroit picked up a few players from Plymouth and played; while the Willie Burns Atomic of Pontiac didn't even show up. They were scheduled to play the Rosedale Gardens Beauty Shop.

In the one game that was contested, the Stanley Romanowski VFW Post edged Nick's Bar, the Plymouth men's winner, 4-2. Nick's started fast, tallying two counters in the initial inning on two hits. Lillie opened the stanza with a walk and, after Leggett went out, Londeau walked. Then Lula singled and Craigie got on on an error thus scoring two runs.

The Motor City club overcame the two run lead in the third, scoring three times without the benefit of a hit. Three errors and one walk brought the runs home. The Detroiters tallied the final run in the sixth to come out on top 4-2.

Daisy Girls Defeat Beauty Shop, Win League Pennant

Scoring two runs in the fifth inning, the Daisy girls team won the game from the Rosedale Gardens Beauty Shop 4-3 on Monday, August 16, and thereby won the league championship.

Managed by Floyd Fleming the Daisy club finished the regular season in a tie for first place with Rosedale and then went through the playoffs without a defeat.

In the final playoff game, Rosedale got off to an early 1-0 lead in the first inning. Spitz walked and went around on a ground out and two errors. Rosedale added to this lead in the fourth stanza when they tallied twice. Dolly led off and got on when third baseman Sowa fumbled her grounder. Dolly scored when Lynch connected for a double. Lynch advanced to third on a ground out and then scored on a wild pitch.

Daisy came back with two in the fourth in this manner. Irene Sowa and Betty Ross both singled. They scored on a ground out and a single by Barber. In the sixth inning after Rutherford and Konazeski went out, Schields received a walk. Irene Sowa then stepped up and smashed a home run to win the game and the championship. Marge Sowa was the winning hurler yielding but three hits to Rosedale.

On Wednesday evening, August 18 the girls league all stars played the Daisy at the high school diamond. Mayor Frank Henderson awarded the Daisy girls their medals for winning the league crown at this game.

From a dispatch in the Newark, N. J., Star Ledger describing the marriage of Barbara Hutton and Prince Igor Troubetzkoy: "The couple are moonmooing in swank Hotel Dolder, high in the Alps."

The swimming program for the Plymouth children at the Rouge Pools in Detroit will conclude Tuesday, August 24. This program which started June 29 has been well attended. The Plymouth children have taken advantage of this opportunity to improve and learn swimming, a very essential art.

At the doll contest held at the Central playground on Wednesday, August 11, the first prize was taken by Linda Box with Jane Smyth coming in second.

In preparation for the all-star contest the all-stars will play a team from Grand City tonight on the Nankin Mills diamond at 6 p. m.

Class A County Playoffs May Conclude Sunday

The playoffs of the Inter-County league may terminate Sunday afternoon. Here is the reason, Eddie's, a team that has won three consecutive games in the playoffs, meets U.A.W. However, if anything else happens, the playoffs will continue the following Sunday.

Heading into the second round of playoffs play, the Class B division of the Inter-County lists the following tilts: Clarenceville at Utilities at 3 p. m. on the Cass Benton diamond, Wayne at Allen at 1 p. m. on the Riverside diamond, Rogers at Trenton, Elizabeth park at 3 p. m. and Grandale at Garden City at 3 p. m. at Ford and Merriman roads.

Mary Alice Schuster is Bride of Robert Beyer

Mary Alice Schuster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael E. Schuster, became the bride of Robert O. Beyer, son of Mrs. O. F. Beyer and the late Mr. Beyer, at an 8 p. m. ceremony in St. Peter's Lutheran church Saturday. The Rev. Edgar Hoerneck officiated before a candlelit altar flanked with white gladioli.

The bride's gown was of white marquisette fashioned with a fitted bodice, deep yoke, and an off-the-shoulder ruffle. The full skirt had a bustle and hemline ruffle ending in a full train. A tulle embroidered with white stones and seed pearls held her veil of illusion and she carried a satin covered prayer book mounted with a white orchid and stephanotis.

As her sister's matron of honor, Betty Moe wore an ice blue dotted swiss dress. Her flowers were yellow gladioli.

Marjorie Horie was the maid of honor, and Gretchen Schuster, sister of the bride, and the bridegroom's niece, Mary Lou Hartwick, were the junior bridesmaids. Their gowns matched that of the matron of honor and they carried yellow gladioli.

Carole Gale, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore pale yellow dotted swiss and carried a colonial bouquet of blue carnations.

The ring bearer, William Bakhaus, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a satin pillow trimmed with lace.

Floyd Burgett was the best man and the ushers were Carl Hartwick, Timothy Sullivan and Gordon Moe.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Schuster chose a cocoa crepe dress. Her hat was beige trimmed with cocoa feathers and her corsage was yellow carnations. Mrs. Beyer wore a dress of apple green with pink accessories and pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception dance for 200 guests was held at the Rosedale Gardens Community House.

For traveling Mrs. Beyer chose a cinnamon gabardine suit with kelly green accessories and her bridal orchid.

—Mr. and Mrs. Beyer left for a two week wedding trip through northern Michigan and Canada, after which they will make their home on Mill street.

Magazine Tells Jahn Family Story

Mrs. Clarence Jahn and Children

Of interest to many Plymouth residents was the article which appeared in the August issue of McCall's on the Clarence Jahn family which lives in near-by Livonia township.

The photograph pictured above is one with which the story of their home and day-to-day life was illustrated. It shows Mrs. Jahn and her children in their kitchen, which was described as "a combined kitchen laundry. The kitchen and laundry sides of the room are separated by handy breakfast and work counters. Here the family eats all of their meals except dinner."

Mrs. Jahn was quoted as saying "I don't have to take more than three steps at any time from the electric range to serve a meal, or three steps the other way to the electric refrigerator.

"Once the meal is over I have nothing to do with the hated chore of washing dishes. I simply scrape the scraps into the garbage disposal and put the dirtied dishes in the automatic dishwasher. In a few minutes my dishes are not only cleaned and dried but my garbage has been disposed of without my taking as much as six steps!"

They aren't so discouraged yet that they promise "our kingdoms" for an apartment, but two teachers are getting pretty frantic over not being able to find one in which they can hang their hats when school begins. They are really lovely women, and I'm sure there isn't a landlord or landlady in the city that could find nicer tenants. Should they find an apartment, they promise to carry it during the summer months, too. So if you have, or know of an apartment, why not contact Kathryn Bock by calling collect, Ann Arbor 23602.

Instead of throwing away those out-of-style lamp shades, you can turn frugal and at the same time get just exactly what you want in the way of the new look for the shades. What you should do is call on Mrs. Frances Chaney at 624 Pacific and watch what she can do with them. She not only beautifully remodels shades, but makes new ones to order. She says she doesn't use parchment, but traditional materials such as taffeta are her specialty. (And you can have hand painting on them too, if you want.) And incidentally, Mr. Chaney makes lamp bases.

Den Otter - Voss Wedding Held Saturday Noon

At a noon ceremony on Saturday, August 7, Miss Donna Den Otter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerritt Den Otter of Garden City, and Kenneth Voss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Voss of Farmington road, were united in marriage at St. Michael's church in Rosedale Gardens.

The bride's gown of white georgette crepe had a lace bodice and a long train. Her veil was of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses and freesia. Mary Buhagiar of Dearborn, the maid of honor, wore a blush pink dress and carried pink roses. The bridesmaid, Jean Watson of Garden City, was gowned in blue and her bouquet was pink roses.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Den Otter chose a green gabardine suit. Mrs. Voss wore beige crepe with white accessories. Both mothers had lavender orchid corsages.

The bridegroom was attended by Tom Lewis of Plymouth and Arley Basha of Ypsilanti. As ushers he chose Lloyd Drouillard of Garden City and George Schonneman of Wayne.

New Yorker Is Bride Of Paul Harsha, Jr.

Mrs. Paul Harsha, Jr.

St. Mary's Church in Canandaigua, New York was the scene of a wedding which united Miss Mary Ruth Levy and Paul Harsha, Jr. in marriage on Wednesday, August 18.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Mayer Levy of Canandaigua and Mr. Harsha is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harsha of 11317 Arden in Rosedale Gardens.

The afternoon ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Michael J. Wall, pastor of St. Mary's church, before an altar decorated with baskets of white and yellow gladioli. Sprays of the flowers were also used on the ends of the center aisle pews.

Miss Levy's gown was of white Swiss organdy, designed with a fitted bodice, which was trimmed with an embroidered organdy berta at the off-shoulder neckline, long sleeves, and a bouffant hoop skirt extending into a cathedral length train. Her chapel length veil of French illusion was held in place by an open crown bonnet of starched lace with French orange blossom trim, and she carried a white orchid and stephanotis on a prayer book. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Pauline Norma Levy acted as her sister's maid of honor. For the ceremony she wore a Nile green Swiss organdy gown, fashioned with a yoke and ruffled bertha and a bouffant hoop skirt which had a flounce of ruffles caught up with a bustle. Her Dache net garden hat was of matching color, and for her flowers she carried a colonial bouquet. Bridesmaids were Janet Scharff, a cousin of the bride from Kansas City, Missouri, and Maryjoe Miller from Canandaigua. Their gowns, identical to that worn by the honor attendant, were in pale yellow as were their hats. They also carried colonial bouquets. Wearing a gown similar to those of the bridesmaids was Toni Gilman, flower girl, whose pale yellow poke bonnet was of Swiss organdy.

As his best man, the bridegroom chose his brother, Hugh Harsha. Ushers were: Clayton L. Dickey of Cleveland, Ohio; Milton B. Freudenheim of Louisville, Kentucky; Armand Gebert of Detroit; and Robert B. Aronson of Seneca Falls, New York.

Mrs. Levy was attired in a gown of dusty rose crepe for her daughter's wedding. Her hat was also of dusty rose and further accessories were pea green. Mrs. Harsha's dress was of aqua crepe and she chose brown accessories. Both wore white gladioli corsages.

A reception for 200 guests followed the ceremony in the home of the bride. Tea tables were placed under a marquee, decorated with ropes of fern and bouquets of white and yellow gladioli. The marquee was decorated with ropes of honeysuckle vine and baskets of white and yellow gladioli.

Following their wedding trip to Canada, the newlyweds will reside in Port Huron.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Harsha are graduates of the University of Michigan.

Fair in the Light of Memory Shines
Ezra Rotnour pioneer mail carrier of Plymouth, one of the best sailors on the Great Lakes fleet of racing sail boats, and a confirmed fishing fiend, stands vindicated!

He has always contended that fish have the same food value as a good beef steak.

Now comes forth a bulletin from the Department of Interior in Washington, which upholds Fisherman-Sailor Rotnour's contention that there isn't the slightest difference between the food values of fish and red meat.

Tests conducted by Dr. Hugo W. Nilson, pharmacologist at the Fish and Wildlife Service laboratory in College Park, Md., and Miss Shirley J. Wilson, a graduate assistant in fisheries, to show the effect of a fish diet on the red cell count and hemoglobin value of human blood have proven that fishery foods are the equal of meat.

The experiment was made in cooperation with the University of Maryland's College of Home Economics. It was the first of its kind in this laboratory to use human subjects. The results were announced today by the Fish and Wildlife Service's Branch of Commercial Fisheries.

Six University of Maryland co-eds, 19 to 24 years of age, participated in the eleven-week experiment. They consumed a standard diet of their own choice for three weeks. Blood tests taken once a week during this period reported their red cell counts and hemoglobin values.

During the next seven weeks, four of the girls stopped eating meat and consumed fishery foods as the big moon-day diet of their diets. They ate fresh-water fish, salt-water fish, and shell fish—broiled, baked, steamed, and fried. The two other girls continued on their regular diets on which meat was a chief item for the duration of the test.

The four girls on the fish diet returned to their standard food fare in the last week of the experiment to provide a second check.

Dr. Nilson and Miss Wilson noted that the red cell count and hemoglobin value of the four girls on the fish diets remained the same as when they were eating meat. The counts and values were the same in relationship as to the two girls on the standard diets during the seven-week period. There was even an increase in the cell count and in the hemoglobin value for the four girls on the fish diets for several weeks.

As a result of his experiment, Dr. Nilson says that fishery foods maintain as good a red cell count and hemoglobin value in human blood as does meat. Hemoglobin is the chemical substance that forms the blood's red color and carries oxygen from the lungs to all parts of the body.

Dr. Nilson says that protein and mineral content of fishery foods is also the equal of meat. Protein and mineral values of all animal foods are probably the same, regardless of species, he says.

One of the fishery experiments showed that from 89 to 96 percent of fishery foods is digestible, while 87 to 89 percent of beef and chicken is digestible.

Now that Wayne county residents can hunt deer in their own back yards this fall, there's just one thing to remember—you've got to kill that buck with buck shot!

No rifles or shotgun slugs go south of the Muskegon-Saginaw bay line.

And it is known that Herm Bakhaus has been keepin' an eye on that big deer which has been tramping Farmer Floyd Kehrl's corn patch into the fertile soils of Kehrl hill, and for the benefit of other farmers who are somewhat fearful of what deer hunters will do in this part of the state, Michigan's conservation department has issued a bulletin advising the adoption of the Williamson plan for deer hunters as well as pheasant hunters.

The farmlands open this fall to hunting for antlered bucks, with buckshot, are in the counties south of highways M-46 and M-47 which cross the state from Muskegon to Saginaw bay. After 22 years' continuous protection south of this line (except for Allegan seasons, recent archery hunting and gun hunting in the northern tier of counties last season) deer now are found in numbers in Barry, Livingston, Tuscola, Van Buren, Clinton, Shiawassee, Jackson, Washtenaw, Oakland and St. Clair counties, and have been reported in all the remaining southern counties, including Wayne.

Farmers on two or more square miles, banding together in a Williamson cooperative, may decide for themselves the maximum number of hunters they wish to permit on their lands. This number is apportioned among the members, who in hunting season will then issue the two, three or four tickets per day allotted them. Since the hunter must ask for his ticket at the farmhouse and leave his car there, the farmer has an opportunity to look over the hunters that go onto his farm.

The Williamson plan is regarded by many farmers as the happy medium between unrestricted hunting, with its trespass troubles, and a complete ban on hunting, with its waste of the wildlife crop and, in the case of deer, the threat of crop damage by the expanding herd.

Game division representatives to explain the plan to groups of farmers are available, and the costs of printing tickets and boundary, gate, refuge and safety zone signs is borne by the conservation department, in consideration of the opening of the farmlands to some hunting.

There is going to be no split duck hunting season in Michigan. The Department of Interior advised Michigan conservation officials that they could make two separate hunting periods if desired.

But the Michigan department has ruled that the season will be one continuous period, extending from October 15 to November 13, with the same duck limit as last year.

That is four in one day or eight in possession, only one wood duck being permitted.

The bag limit on geese, again four a day and four in possession, is liberalized to the extent of permitting two of the four to be either Canada or white-fronted geese, or one of each, where a year ago only one of these was permitted in the day's bag. Ross' goose, a western species, again is protected.

The bag limit on coot has been cut from 25 to 15, and hunters who take rails (other than Sora) and gallinules will have to count them in the same bag limit of 15. Rail and gallinule shooting—more important in other states with fewer ducks in their marshes—in Michigan is limited to October 15-30. Sora rails have a separate bag limit of 20.

Woodcock hunters, who normally get the timber doodles when hunting ruffed grouse, will have to remember that their season in the lower peninsula ends November 3, two days before the last grouse shooting. In the upper peninsula the two seasons coincide, October 1-20.

Dale Carnegie

Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

A BIT OF PRAISE GOES A LONG WAY

A COMMON parental habit is that of criticism. Yes, of course, I know that parents mean well, and I know, too, that criticism and even severe discipline is necessary at times. But criticism and discipline alone won't make for the successful training of your children. A little deserved praise will work like magic.

I know from experience how helpful and heartening a little praise can be, particularly if you are trying to master some new and difficult technique. I know, for I have recently been trying to improve my wretched ability at fly-casting. I go trout fishing not more than five or ten hours a year. Sometimes I don't wet a line for a couple of years at a time. My success is just what you think. I wrap my lines around trees and brush and get my hook caught in my left ear.

D. Carnegie

Last summer I went trout fishing in the Canadian Rockies. My casting was terrible, but occasionally I would surprise even myself at how far I could cast. Sometimes when I did this, my guide would exclaim: "That's the way to do it; you are getting the knack of it now." Did that help? It certainly did.

But when he neglected to praise me for the slightest improvement, I felt a sense of discouragement, I was disappointed

You see, I was hungry for praise over something I knew I was not doing well. Poor as I was, I didn't want him always to recognize my faults. I wanted him to show me how to improve my performance. I wanted him to tell me that fly-casting was easy to learn, and that I would soon get the hang of it, become a great fisherman. How I thrived on that praise! His words of encouragement made my confidence soar, inspired me to do better, increased my efforts, made fishing a great pleasure for me.

But what if he had given me nothing but harsh criticism? I would have been discouraged; I would have been resentful, although I was paying him to teach me what to do. And I would not have shown anywhere near as much improvement. And so it is with your children!

In Ravenna, Ohio, Ballplayer Harold Hartung dreamed that he was chasing a fly ball, chased it right out his second-floor bedroom window.

State Peach Crop Ready to Market

With Michigan's fine peach crop moving to market, each Plymouth housewife is speculating about preserving some of the expected 3,700,000 bushel crop for her own family. It's one way she can battle the high cost of living.

Whether you can or freeze peaches, by following the right directions you will have a beautiful product, advises Roberta Hershey, extension specialist at Michigan State college.

Simplest way to skin peaches is to dip them in boiling water, then quickly in cold water and rub off the peelings. Then cut them in half and remove pits. To prevent darkening while you're preparing peaches for canning, drop them into water containing two tablespoons each of salt and vinegar per gallon. Drain just before heating, or packing cold.

For a hot pack, heat peaches through in hot sirup. If fruit is very juicy you may heat it with sugar, adding no liquid. Pack the hot fruit to one-half inch of the top. Cover with boiling liquid, leaving one-half inch space at top of jar. Adjust jar lids. Process in boiling water bath for 20 minutes for either pints or quarts.

For cold pack put the raw fruit to one-half inch of the top and cover with boiling sirup, leaving one-half inch space at the top. Adjust jar lids. Process in boiling water bath 25 minutes for pints and 35 minutes for quarts.

Peaches are excellent frozen but difficult to prepare. Work very quickly in the peeling process the same as for canning. Cut each half in four to six pieces. Pack quickly into containers and leave as little head space as possible. Packing procedure is to cover with a fifty percent sirup. Adding ascorbic acid tablets (vitamin C) to the sirup will prevent the peaches from browning. You will need three-fourths teaspoon ascorbic acid crystals or 1,000 milligrams in tablet form to each quart of sirup.

SIX OUT OF SEVEN FAMILIES—85% of the homes and business establishments within Michigan Bell's rural territory can have telephone service without paying any construction charges. ## What does your Grocer Owe You?

We think that there are certain principles a grocer must observe if he expects to have the confidence and patronage of the community in which he operates.

We think also that the millions of housewives, who have to spend such a large part of the family income on food, want to feel that the grocers they patronize live up to these principles. It can make a lot of difference in the quality and the cost of the food.

Here, in brief, are some of the things A&P tries to live up to at all times, and if you ever find us falling short of these principles in any way we'd feel you were doing us a favor if you'd tell us about it. We don't think that honest intentions are enough . . . we believe we owe you a system that makes them come true.

HONEST WEIGHT... According to our way of figuring, there are sixteen ounces to the pound with no "ifs," "ands," or "buts." Our scales are in plain sight where you can see the dials, and we have them periodically checked for accuracy. Certain foods are subject to "shrinkage" in weight even after short periods in or on their way to the store. This should be our worry and not yours. When we weigh food up in advance for the convenience of self-service, we know what this shrinkage will be and we add enough to take care of it. A pound of food must weigh sixteen ounces when you get it . . . not just when we weigh it up.

CORRECT PRICES... plainly marked. Again we say honest intentions on our part aren't enough. We must also be accurate and we owe it to you to have a system that guards against slips and errors. A&P prices are plainly marked on the goods or on the shelves and cases or both. A&P cashiers are thoroughly trained to check your purchases quickly and accurately and give you a slip or sales ticket with every purchase itemized.

SINCERE ADVERTISING... You should be able to read your grocer's advertising with full confidence that the merchandise and prices are correctly represented in keeping with the spirit as well as the law of honest merchandising. If you see broccoli or lettuce or cabbage or hamburger or porterhouse steak listed in an A&P ad at such-and-such a price—that means it's the price of A&P's best broccoli or lettuce or cabbage or hamburger or porterhouse steak. If, in the case of a product that we carry in more than one grade or size, (like eggs, for instance), we advertise the price, we advertise the grade also so you'll know what you're buying and what you should pay. We advertise to inform you—not to fool you into coming into our stores, and you won't go away disappointed.

FRESHNESS CONTROL... It's not enough for your grocer to buy good food for his store. If you're to get your money's worth he must keep it good until you come for it. That means he must have a sufficient investment in proper refrigeration equipment. His organization must be properly trained to buy properly for quick turnover. His source of supply must be right from the farm or factory to the store. A&P controls the freshness of the food we sell from the source to you, and you can trust A&P to guard its freshness and quality.

EFFICIENT METHODS... If your grocer's expenses are too high—if his shelves are stocked with food that doesn't sell—if he employs wasteful methods, you pay the bill. A&P has about ninety years of experience and organization behind its methods of eliminating unnecessary and burdensome costs. We'll go to any expense to improve our methods, but we think that waste is a sin. When we save, you save, and that's why your food will cost you less for the best if you do all your shopping in your A&P store.

These are some of the reasons why millions of women say, "I can trust A&P."

Flower-bordered trails in Shenandoah National Park, Virginia, beckon the visitor into the beauties high in the Blue Ridge Mountains. Horseback riding is one of the many summer pastimes.

By the Old AAA Traveler

Virginia is little less than terrific in these summer days, and teacher and student alike will find high interest in leisurely prowling that old state through their vacation days.

Trying to tell the story of Virginia and her glory in one yarn is an impossible task—it just can't be done! For that Virginia is a vast panorama of beauty and glory and romance and adventure; it is a tapestry of magnificence, mostly in threads of red and gold—the red of high courage and great adventure, superlative devotion and heroic death, and the gold of love and freedom, love of country and love of God.

Be it Richmond, patina-ed old Williamsburg, gentle and gracious Roanoke, or the natural beauty of Shenandoah National Park, Virginia will thrill the summertime visitor to his or her very fingertips. Virginia is all beautiful and all entralling.

There is Charlottesville, country seat of Albemarle county. In its history the town goes back to 1781, when the British Colonel Tarleton—aided in an attempt to capture Thomas Jefferson, then Governor of Virginia, and the legislature, which had taken refuge after being forced to leave Richmond. The picturesque Captain Jack Jouett was in a tavern in Cuckoo, 30 miles to the east, when Tarleton passed with a detachment of British cavalry. Suspecting the raid, Jouett rode into Charlottesville to give warning, arriving only a few minutes before Tarleton's detachment arrived. Jefferson and most of the legislators escaped to Staunton, but seven of the legislators who delayed were captured.

Today Charlottesville is probably more noted for "Monticello" and "Ash Lawn", both architecturally and historically important. "Monticello" was Jefferson's home from 1770 to 1826, when he died. Jefferson began the mansion in 1770 and two the world-famous boxwood garden. "Ash Lawn" was designed and built for Monroe by his friend and neighbor, Jefferson. The original house stands today mellowed by age and cherished by those who thrill to the atmosphere of old times. Yes, "Ash Lawn" ranks high among America's unforgettables.

Every phase of early American life is presented here. The boxwood garden, now famous as one of the loveliest in the country, has grown in beauty and charm with each decade since the tiny plants were first set in their places under Monroe's direction. Towering above this century-old box is an oak estimated at three hundred years. No doubt to its venerable protection is due the fine preservation of this historic garden. Beyond the vista of boxwood rises the Norway pine, now more than 125 years old, which Monroe brought from abroad and watched over with such care that it now stands as a giant guarding his home and memory.

Within this evergreen setting of his own design has been erected the impressive marble statue of Monroe, which was presented by the sculptor, Piccirilli. It is a handsome portrait with a romantic history.

When you go into Virginia, of course, you will see a great deal more of the grand old state. You will want to spend some time in Williamsburg, one of the most entralling spots you'll find in all the world, and you will want to stroll the hallowed ground of old Richmond. Lexington is, of course, a "must" in any Virginia visitor's book, for in Lexington you find famous Virginia Miltary Institute and gloriously beautiful Washington and Lee, the Washington and Lee beneath whose Chapel sleeps Robert E. Lee. VMI, of course, is one of the most famous schools in America, having sent forth to war many immortals, including "Stonewall" Jackson and Secretary of State George Catlett Marshall. A score of men who wore the VMI gray were general officers in World War II.

In the summertime Virginia is indescribably beautiful, especially through its Shenandoah National park and along its Skyline Drive. In some of those areas you find the country very little changed since the days of Washington and Jefferson and Madison and Monroe and the other great and near-great. You will see the picturesque little mountain cabins and you will hear mountain music which has never been put on paper—music brought from England and Scotland and Ireland and passed down "by ear" from generation to generation.

Virginia is one of Michigan's favorite summertime playplaces. Especially for educators who want to see, face to face, the myriad historical highlights they have been parading before their followers over the years. Go into Virginia this summer if you can, and I give you my word you will return to your homes better Americans in having explored the country where the very seeds of the America we know today were sown and where they were nurtured through the perilous years when the United States was in swaddling clothes.

Nutrition Aids

from the American Red Cross Nutrition Service

What we eat is so much a matter of habit that the idea of using peanuts and peanut butter as anything but food accessories may be hard to take. But smart homemakers who have found it necessary to cut down on meat will take advantage of these foods to tuck extra muscle building protein into the family's meals.

Peanuts are quite versatile. Their flavor combines well with so many other foods that they can be used often in everyday meals in salads, main dishes and desserts.

They belong to the pea and bean family, and aren't really nuts at all. Like their cousins they're rich in protein, as stated above, so they make good alternates for more expensive meats, cheese and eggs, providing small amounts of the proteins from animal sources are used with them.

Peanuts are very rich in fat, so they're good energy foods. When they're used in baked goods the fat replaces part of the usual amount of shortening used.

Moisture and peanuts have a strong affinity, so store them in tightly closed containers to keep them crisp and mix them with other ingredients just before serving when crunchiness is important to palatability. This rule of course can't apply to baked things.

If you add liquid to peanut butter the mixture becomes thicker and thicker until it crumbles. Unless this is the desired result mix the peanut butter with other ingredients before stirring in the liquid.

Low temperatures of the refrigerator will keep peanut butter from turning rancid, but will cause it to harden. For good spreading consistency have the butter at room temperature. If oil rises to the top, stir it into the butter with a knife or the last part in the jar will be dry and unpalatable. Turning the jar upside down for a day or two is another way of getting the oil mixed through the butter evenly.

The American Red Cross Nutrition Service has culled interesting peanut recipes from various sources. Here are a few of the choicer ones which your family will enjoy.

over rolled oats and let stand 3 minutes. Add well beaten egg. Sift dry ingredients and add to first mixture. Stir until all ingredients are moistened. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderately hot oven, 400 degrees F., 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 12 2-inch muffins.

Peanut Butter Sauce for Vegetables

One tablespoon butter or margarine, one-fourth cup peanut butter, 2 teaspoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 1 cup milk.

Melt fat over boiling water. Blend in peanut butter, flour and seasonings until smooth. Stir in milk gradually. Cook over boiling water until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Serve on cooked cabbage, onions, wax beans, carrots or cauliflower. If liked, sprinkle top with coarsely chopped salted peanuts just before serving. Makes about 1 cup of sauce, enough for 2 or 3 cups of vegetables.

Peanut-Orange Bread

Two cups sifted, enriched flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup sugar, 2 tablespoons fat, one and one-fourth cups milk, 1 egg, one-half cup orange marmalade, 1 cup chopped salted peanuts.

Sift dry ingredients together. Melt fat. When slightly cool combine with beaten egg, milk and orange marmalade. Turn mixture into dry ingredients and stir only until dampened. Stir in peanuts. Pour into lightly greased pan and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for about 1 hour.

Peanut Butter Sandwich Fillings

Dried Fruit—Combine equal parts of peanut butter and chopped dried fruit such as cooked prunes, raisins, dates, or cooked apricots. Season to taste with lemon juice and salt and moisten with fruit juice, cream or cooked salad dressing.

Pineapple or Cranberry Sauce—Mix equal parts of drained, crushed pineapple or cranberry sauce with peanut butter. Jam, jelly or marmalade can be used instead.

Bacon—Mix bits of crisp, well-drained bacon with peanut butter, using amount to suit taste and food budget. If necessary, moisten with mayonnaise.

Vegetable—Combine equal parts peanut butter, chopped celery (including some of the leaves) and grated carrot. Season to taste with salt and moisten with French dressing.

Carrot and Peanut Souffle

One and one-fourth cups of ground carrots (3 or 4 medium), 1 1/4 cups peanuts, 1 small onion, 1 1/2 cups tomatoes, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 eggs, separated.

Measure carrots after putting through food grinder, using medium knife. Grind peanuts and onion. Mix carrots, peanuts, onion, tomatoes, salt and pepper. Add beaten egg yolks. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold gently into peanut mixture. Bake in 2-quart baking dish set in pan of hot water in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 1 hour. Serve at once with cream sauce flavored with chopped parsley, mushroom sauce or a well seasoned tomato sauce. Serves 5.

Peanut Butter Muffins

One and one-fourth cups milk, 2 tablespoons shortening, one-third cup peanut butter, three-fourths cup rolled oats, 1 egg, 3 tablespoons sugar, three-fourths teaspoon salt, three-fourths cup sifted enriched flour, 2 and one-half teaspoons baking powder.

Heat milk. Add shortening and peanut butter and stir until blended. Remove from heat. Pour

THIS WEEK IN Washington

A RATHER bored Washington has taken in stride the two-ring spy probes, one conducted by the house un-American activities committee and the other simultaneously by the senate investigating committee.

There are several schools of thought here with reference to these sensational headlines. The conservative school of thought is that the probes are unconstitutional and will accomplish little except to give the people generally a feeling of insecurity in their government set-up... and that is what the communists want to accomplish after all.

Another school is that the whole thing is diversionary... a political move to take the minds of the people off the more important special session of the congress considering anti-inflation legislation.

And a third school of thought is that although a New York grand jury heard all the same evidence from the same witnesses over a twelve-month period and brought indictments against the twelve top communists in the country, a smear of those who either held government office during the war or still hold office is necessary to show the people the loyalty probes set-up by congress and by the administration are not working properly.

President Truman said, "They are using these hearings simply as a red herring to keep from doing what they ought to do."

As a matter of fact, the federal bureau of investigation knows all about all the evidence that has been brought out at the two hearings and apparently has held it insufficient to bring indictments. It must be remembered that when these alleged communists or communist sympathizers were connected with the government during the war, Russia was our pal and military ally. It has only been since the shooting war stopped that conditions have changed.

CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY, a non-partisan congressional reporting agency, says that lobbyists have reported they spent three and a half million dollars since the first of this year to influence congress. How much pressure money actually was spent to pass or defeat bills cannot be estimated, since only 218 organizations out of some

In Tyler, Texas, an understanding judge accepted Mrs. Harriet Wood's excuse for parking overtime outside a women's shop: "I was unavoidably detained in a girle."

800 registered filed their expenditures. The justice department, attempting to enforce the law on financial reports, already has brought two indictments. Biggest money expenditures, the report says, went into the battles over margarine tax repeal, the TVA steam plant appropriation, the Taft-Elender-Wagner housing bill, and the displaced persons act.

In connection with consideration in the house of the federal aid to education measure, asked for by President Truman and already passed by the senate, the National Education Association has issued a statement declaring that although the nation's school system is indeed hard pressed as it is, they face even more difficult problems in the years immediately ahead.

Insofar as it could be learned, the special session did not consider the Taft 300 million dollar aid to education bill even in committee. But Willard E. Givens, executive secretary of NEA, says that there will be seven million more children in school within the next seven years than there are at present.

This is a 30 percent increase over present enrollment of 24,300,000 school children this year.

"A public school program for these additional children," Givens said, "will require an added operating expenditure of more than a billion dollars if the 1947-48 unit costs are to be maintained. Further increases in prices, or any attempt to make teaching more attractive and to encourage more young people to prepare for teaching, would mean that the increase by 1955 must exceed this one billion dollars."

To care for this additional enrollment, NEA says, 300,000 more teachers will be needed in addition to the 870,000 teachers on the school staff this year. And the cost for new school buildings to house them, under present pricing, means a total expenditure of approximately ten billion dollars.

NEA officials pointed out that, "at a time when all states are sharing an unprecedented national income of over 200 billion dollars annually, it is paradoxical that there should be so many obstacles in the way of financing an adequate program of education."

In Indianapolis, an eight-year-old moviegoer lifted $1 from Phillip Hoyt, bought some candy, got nabbed as he tried to slip the change back into Hoyt's pocket.

PEEK at the STARS

By LYN CONNELLA
NWNS Radio-Screen Editor

THE "Auld Lang Syne" nostalgia has captured Irene Beasley, lovely singing mistress of ceremonies on "Grand Slam," heard daily over CBS... Looking back along the course of her 20-year radio career with Irene, do you remember when: Bing Crosby was a newcomer serenading CBS listeners around the midnight hour... Andre Kostelanetz was an arranger for sustaining programs... the late Graham McNamee was winning fame announcing the world's series... Betty Field was Mary in the Aldrich family... Burgess Meredith was "Red Davis" in the soap opera of that name... Joseph Cotton and Van Heflin were heard in radio's regular dramas... Gene Hamilton, now dignified commentator for the Boston symphony, was strumming a guitar and singing on Station WAU in Cleveland... Mark Warnow was a fiddler in a studio orchestra... Fibber McGee and Molly were playing anonymously in Kaltenmeyer's Kindergarten... Dorothy Lamour was singing on her own radio program in New York...?

Joseph Cotton and Van Heflin were heard in radio's regular dramas... Fibber McGee and Molly were playing anonymously in Kaltenmeyer's Kindergarten... Dorothy Lamour was singing on her own radio program in New York...?

The Right Audition
Ed. Gardner, who plays Archie in NBC's "Duffy's Tavern," started as a law stenographer... He was later a top radio producer and became an actor when, after a day spent trying to find someone to play the part of Archie, one of the unsuccessful auditions said, "Why don't you do it yourself?" Ed did, and the rest is radio history.

Olivia DeHavilland is noted for her animal impersonations... She's especially good at imitating a dog, cat and, of all things, a hippopotamus... Gene Kelly learned his classic leaps and much of his spectacular dancing by watching Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. in the days of silent movies... As a boy, Gene would watch his idol on the screen, then seek to emulate his athletic grace.

Standards Must Be Maintained
But should we cut back our standard of living to that of my youth? It would be fantastic to think of taking away from the white collar families their automobiles, their washing machines, or their children's chance to finish school. But a reduction of the living standard will follow unless salaries and prices are brought into line one way or the other.

We cannot afford to let down the standards of any group of people in this country. For our own good, for our country's good, and for the good of the world, we need to keep moving forward. The white collar group is comparatively small. When I say "white collar man," you probably think of a mild little man who looks like a cartoonist's idea of John Q. Public and who works in an office, turning over papers, dictating an occasional letter, or entering figures in a big ledger.

Babson Discusses the White Collar Worker

Gloucester, Massachusetts, August 20, 1948. I have been concerned recently, while vacationing here on Cape Ann, about the plight of the white collar worker. Of course, I sometimes wear a white collar myself, but the man for whom I am concerned is the man who is neither labor nor management. He works for somebody and he wears a white collar. That is expected of him, he has to maintain the dignity of his position and besides, working in an office, he can wear it.

Salaries Rise Slowly
Lately, it begins to look as if a white collar, like virtue, would have to be its own reward. While labor's wages have been mounting hand over fist and while costs of living have been going up as fast or faster, salaries have remained stationary or inched up by imperceptible degrees.

It is true that the poorest paid office worker at present gets a weekly stipend which would have looked like a mountain of wealth to his grandfather. This means nothing, however, except that there has been a slow, persistent inflation for the past 50 years. The 40 dollars per week which this year's college graduates hope to get will not go much further than the ten dollars per week which I got when graduating from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1898. Moreover, this generation wants a good deal more than I ever dreamed of.

Standards Must Be Maintained
But should we cut back our standard of living to that of my youth? It would be fantastic to think of taking away from the white collar families their automobiles, their washing machines, or their children's chance to finish school. But a reduction of the living standard will follow unless salaries and prices are brought into line one way or the other.

We cannot afford to let down the standards of any group of people in this country. For our own good, for our country's good, and for the good of the world, we need to keep moving forward. The white collar group is comparatively small. When I say "white collar man," you probably think of a mild little man who looks like a cartoonist's idea of John Q. Public and who works in an office, turning over papers, dictating an occasional letter, or entering figures in a big ledger.

White Collar Men Vital to Industry

You're right, he's the man I have in mind. But he is important. In the first place, business couldn't run without him any more than a steel mill could run without coal. An express company doesn't get very big before it needs a bookkeeper as well as some truck drivers. A railroad needs cost accountants as well as engineers.

In the second place, from this group come many of our leaders. These are the men who are qualified, by natural ability and by training in high school and college, to work with their heads instead of their hands. We need more and better executives, men with both wisdom and knowledge. These leaders ordinarily come up from the offices rather than from the pick and shovel jobs. It is imperative that the very best be encouraged to get the necessary training and to make their way through the white collar ranks to the top. Remember, from the white collar families come the ministers, teachers, scientists, artists, physicians, lawyers and newspaper men upon whom we depend for leadership everywhere.

Conclusion
It is vital that there should be greater incentive for well-trained and able men to become important executives. If our economic setup does not make it possible for the men behind the desks to compete, as to pay, with the men behind the machines, what will be the incentive for qualified men to spend years and money on their executive training? Labor, through the unions, has been doing pretty well for its own. It's time now for management to give thought to the men on its team.
