

HE'S DEAD RIGHT.

Lloyd F. Eagan, editor of the Detroit Sportsman, sent the writer a copy of his very worthy publication the other day. In looking over its many interesting pages we came across a brief criticism of people who place their dogs in the trunks of their automobiles when leaving on an automobile trip. Editor Eagan says every year thousands of dogs are put to death by the thoughtless owners who follow this inhumane practice. It's O. K. providing some sort of opening is made for the circulation of fresh air within the automobile trunk—but this is seldom given any attention. We agree with Editor Eagan that here is a practice that should be stopped.

OUR FREEDOM NOT IN DANGER.

W. K. Kelsey, brilliant commentator of The Detroit News, sometime ago said that our freedom is not in danger—that its overthrow can only come through conquest, which is in no way imminent.

Sorry, but we cannot agree with Mr. Kelsey in his decided opinion that our freedom is in no danger. It is our belief that the freedom of every American citizen is very much in danger unless we take positive steps to curtail the unlimited power of the Harry Bridges and others of his kind to paralyze the business of this country upon the slightest pretext.

By what right can any labor dictator say to you or me that we cannot work unless we have his permission? By what right can vast transportation systems be tied up by a mere snap of the fingers of one of these bosses? Well, he has that right now—and unless it is curtailed and the freedom of every American citizen restored, the freedom of American citizens as we have known and enjoyed it, is a thing of the past.

COMMON SENSE IN THIS.

Press reports advise that the American Automobile Association has issued a plea to auto manufacturers to cut out a lot of frills and fancy designing in order to lower the cost of repairs to automobiles that are damaged in accidents.

There's a lot of common sense in this plea. Automobile designers have made it impossible for repairs to be made to a damaged car without the expenditure of a considerable amount of money. A dented fender, a damaged door or a bump on either end of the car costs plenty these days to have repaired.

Not so long ago a car owner could have the bumps taken out of his damaged automobile by the payment of a nominal repair cost. But no longer. Seldom can a car owner have damages to the body of his car repaired without the expenditure of a hundred dollars or more.

This excessive cost is all due to the designing of the cars. Engineers apparently give no thought to the economy question when recommending style changes. Like a lot of other people, they seem to think that there is no bottom to the barrel, that the public can and will pay any old price to have a car repaired.

The time has arrived for an entirely different line of thought in car building and we commend the American Automobile Association for taking a decided pro-public stand on this subject.

THE IMPORTANT FACTOR.

Many reasons are being given as to why Governor Thomas Dewey of New York should be elected President of these United States.

They are all good reasons but the important one has not been stressed as strongly as it should be.

Governor Dewey has made it evident that he knows HOW to get along with the legislature of New York state. Since his first year in office he has worked closely and in harmony with the law makers of that great state.

He declares, that if he is elected, he will work in the same friendly and cooperative way with the Congress as he has with the New York legislature.

The Governor has demonstrated that he can do it and his backers know that he will bring unity into the legislative and administrative work of these United States.

President Truman has demonstrated his inability to get along with either a Democratic or a Republican congress. He was in a row with the Democratic members and then with the Republican members of congress, with the result that the country has suffered greatly.

What assurance can the President give to the country that he will get along with a new Democratic congress if one should be elected, any better than he did with the Democratic congress that was in existence when he became president?

None at all. It is for this reason that the people of the United States should see to it that Governor Dewey and a Republican congress is overwhelmingly elected. It will be for the good of America.

Latture Sparks Jaycee Meeting

Plymouth Jaycees meeting at the Veterans Memorial Center last Wednesday night heard City Commissioner James Latture in an address concerning Leadership as associated with city governmental affairs. It was the young businessmen's first meeting of the fall and winter season. Dinner was served by the Navy Mothers club preceding the business meeting.

The Commissioner said that leadership can only be assumed by those who have had experience, and experience can be gained only by those who have learned by doing. For that reason, he stated, it is highly important that Jaycees in placing importance in leadership, give jobs to individual members.

"Groups such as the Junior Chamber of Commerce can do much in promoting improvements for the city," Latture declared. "Most of the advancements here have been instituted by organizations such as yours."

In relation to the Jaycees' "Get Out the Vote" campaign which has been carried on here as well as state and nationwide, the commissioner reminded that "City government actually affects individuals more than other units of government, and for that reason, it is more important that city residents take a more active interest in city elections."

The municipal parking situation was discussed by Latture. He said that lately commission meetings have been spurred by the appearance of businessmen and residents trying to force various means of alleviating the over-crowded conditions which exist. "Some want to install meters in the municipal parking lot," he declared, "as an added means of revenue with which to enlarge the downtown parking areas, make street improvements and better traffic control. "This would be fine, provided funds from the meters could be earmarked for these certain things. All this takes money... right now, and in order to raise funds, my contention is that the city should float a bond issue for the improvements after a study has been made of the projected needs and then in succeeding years, retire the bonds with revenue from the meters," he continued.

Commissioner Latture concluded his talk with, "Improvements and business developments must be done now before it is too late. I'd like to see Plymouth's Junior Chamber of Commerce do its share in making our home town a better place in which to live."

Patrolmen Recover Car Stolen from Schifle

Road patrolmen recovered the car which Walter Schifle of 11655 Francis street had reported missing on Tuesday, September 14. It was found at the edge of Newburg lake.

Mr. Schifle had left it parked at a tavern east of Plymouth, prior to the theft. Stolen with it were a skill saw and a tool box with a full set of carpenter's tools. Total value of the tools and saw was placed at $285.

Confusion Finds Way Into Water Main Location

Home owners on Penniman avenue have petitioned city officials to reconsider their decision to relocate the new water main on Penniman avenue.

City commissioners had previously sanctioned the change of the proposed laying of the main in the street, to under the sidewalk, on the recommendation of the consulting engineering firm. Penniman avenue residents made their request, the petition read, in the belief that their proposed course of action would be cheaper in the long run, and much better for the street and residents.

City officials voted to table the subject until sufficient information could be gained from the engineering concern.

They also voted that the signing of the contract be held in abeyance until the next regular meeting of the commissioners, or until sufficient information is gained.

"The increased price of routing the main down the street isn't as much as the value of one of the trees, which would be destroyed by putting it under the sidewalk," one of those present declared.

Representatives of the home owners from Penniman were present at both Monday night's meeting and the one held September 7. The engineering firm has not as yet furnished all the information requested by the city commission following the first meeting.

Water Law Suit Of Interest Here

Local interest was stimulated in the recent law suit between the holders of Farmington water revenue bonds and the township, as it tested the validity of the act under which Plymouth recently issued $525,000 worth of similar bonds.

The judge ruled the validity of the act, which is No. 94 under Public Acts of Michigan for 1933. This action secured the stability of the bonds, and means that municipalities who wish to borrow under the act in the future, can do it without the possibility of having the act declared invalid.

The Farmington bond holders, who hold $110,000 worth of water bonds, asked the township to raise the water rates so that interest and principal could be paid on the bonds as they fell due. The suit was started in November of 1947.

The township's answer was that the act was invalid.

When the judge returned a decision giving the act validity, he ordered that unless the township raised the water rates within 60 days so that it would be able to meet past and future interest and principal, a receiver would be appointed to operate the water supply system.

Apart from the issue of the case, the decision is important to the holders of more than $3,000,000 other bonds which are outstanding under the same act, and which include Plymouth holders.

Lions Club to Provide Free Book Service

Mrs. Ada Murray, Plymouth librarian, receives the first ceiling projector to be used by bedfast Plymouthites from Norman Marquis, Lions club president. Looking on are Sterling Eaton of the Plymouth Mail; Myron Smith, Lions treasurer; and Max Todd, chairman for the drive to furnish four of the machines for use by the people of Plymouth.

So that physically handicapped persons who are not able to sit up and read in the normal manner will not be denied the enjoyment of reading, the Plymouth Lions club today launched an intensive drive for $2,500 needed to cover the cost of ceiling projectors and micro-films for the inauguration of a projected books service which will make this possible.

The Plymouth Mail will cooperate with the Lions club as co-sponsor in the fund-raising campaign.

Lions President, Norman Marquis, has directed Max Todd to head the organization's drive for funds. Todd has already secured the endorsement of the other service clubs of Plymouth on the project.

Known officially as Projected Books, the free service which the Lions hope to inaugurate as a result of the drive will make it possible for a relative or friend of any bedfast resident of Plymouth to arrange for an electric picture projector, and a micro-film of any one of the 500 books, to be brought to the bedside of the invalid where the contents of the book will be projected in large clear type on the ceiling of the room.

Using the equipment which the Lions will provide, a bedfast person may lie on his back in bed and enjoy his favorite author, thereby breaking the monotony of an extended illness or confinement as a result of a physical handicap. The service will be entirely free of charge.

Todd today stressed the fact that the Lions club already has purchased one of the projectors and a small number of microfilm books for demonstration purposes. Representatives or churches, business concerns, fraternal organizations, or civic groups interested in contributing to the fund may arrange for a working display of the equipment by calling Todd at 1164.

The projectors, which were one of the constructive developments of World War II, only recently became available for non-government use and are supplied on a non-profit basis by Projected Books, Inc., sole distributor of the equipment.

Arrangements have been made to store the projectors and the micro-film books at the Plymouth public library where they will be available to any resident of the city who cannot read in a normal manner. There will be no library charges.

Principal to Talk at PTA Meeting

Principal of Starkweather Grade school, Mrs. Jewell Bell, will address the teachers and parents at the first regular meeting of the PTA this season, on Thursday, September 30, at the school.

The evening's program will begin with a pot luck supper at 6:30 p. m. A club spokesman has stated that a committee is preparing a main dish, and asked those attending to bring a dish to pass, and their own table service.

Officers of the Starkweather PTA are: president, O. C. Woods; first vice-president and membership chairman, Harold Paulgar; second vice-president and publicity chairman, Lucille Finkbeiner, who will be assisted by Mrs. Holland Baskins, Mrs. Clayton Van Wagoner, and Mrs. Velma Jewell; secretary, Mrs. Wilbur Ebersole; program chairman, G. E. Caldwell; hospitality, Mrs. Thelma Dayton, and Mrs. Wilbur Ebersole; refreshments, Mrs. Leo Kowalcik; health, Mrs. Mary Strassen; historian, Mrs. Steve Veresh; advisor, Mrs. Jewell Bell.

A representative of the organization urges all adults interested in the welfare of children to participate in the PTA organization. "Children's needs won't wait," she continued. ## Reception to Honor New Methodist Pastor, Wife

A reception tea in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. Frederick Poole will be held by members of the Methodist church of Plymouth, Sunday afternoon, September 26, from 4 to 6 p. m. at the church.

All members and friends of the church are invited to attend and meet the new pastor and his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vealey were dinner guests of Mrs. Vealey's sister, Mrs. Ethel Crawford, in Oxford.

Mail. Checks should be made out to the Lions Projected Book Fund. The Lions club wishes to point out that any contribution, no matter how small will be gratefully appreciated.

Other salient features of the Projected Books plan as it will work in actual operation include:

1. Books will be provided to a bedfast person only on the approval of his or her physician.

2. No projectors or micro-films will be placed in homes or hospital rooms where the person is suffering from a contagious disease.

3. At the beginning of the program, the machines will be provided each patient for a limited length of time. The length of time will be determined by the number of projectors provided through the drive.

4. Lions club members will personally take the projector and the micro-films to the user's home and demonstrate how the equipment operates.

5. The service will be entirely free of charge.

Of the 500 books now available for projection in micro-film form, every field of literature is well represented. Micro-books are listed under the following general headings: fiction, mystery, education, humor, western and children's tales and stories.

Cost of the ceiling projector used to display the books is $162.50 each. In micro-film form a book costs from $1.20 to $5.75 a copy, depending on its size and content.

In addition to the initial cost of the projectors and micro-film, it is estimated that a reserve fund will be necessary to maintain the upkeep of the equipment.

Member Served by Service Club

Robert Smith was in a jam. He seemed suddenly to be swamped with bad news upon more bad news.

During the summer he had been devoting all his spare time to building a house on South Main street for his family. He was striving toward September 10 as a completion date, for it was then that their eviction notice stated they must be out of their former residence on Ross street.

Work was progressing accordingly to plan, when his 11 year old daughter, Marlee, was suddenly stricken with a case of polio at the end of August. Mr. Smith then of course gave up working on the house, to spend all the time possible with her.

Two Seriously Burned In Saturday Accidents

Disputed Meter Problem is Still Under Discussion

No course of action was decided on by city commissioners following their Tuesday night meeting with the six man panel of Plymouth businessmen concerning the installation of parking meters in the municipal parking lot.

A second meeting with the group has been scheduled for Tuesday, October 5.

Both sides reportedly presented their side of the argument, and discussed the subject in general. The businessmen again voiced the belief that such action would serve to only drive business away from town, while most of the commissioners continued with their contention that it would bring more trade to the city by making more parking space available.

Representatives of the businessmen attending the meeting were John Blickenstaff, Roderick Cassidy, William Kaiser, Nandino Perlongo and Austin Whipple.

The Tuesday meeting resulted from the businessmen petitioning the commissioners to delete the installation of parking meters in the lot from the improvement plans. Commissioners had previously sanctioned the move, following the request of the city planning commission. Further improvement to the lot, which officials included in the plans, was the paving of the entire parking section, west of Main street, between Penniman avenue and Ann Arbor trail.

Body of Corporal Martin Returned

The body of one of the first men from Plymouth to give his life in defense of this country, was returned this week for reburial near his family and friends.

He died on Attu on May 23, 1943.

The late Corporal Martin was born in Detroit, November 30, 1919.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Emma Martin, and five sisters, formerly of Plymouth and now of Detroit.

Funeral services will be held at the Wilkie Funeral home on West Outer Drive and Lasher in Detroit, Monday morning, Mass will be said at St. Luke's, located at Ohio and Tireman. ## One-Act Series Planned By Guild

Plans for the presentation of a one act play a month by the Plymouth Theater Guild, were made at the organization's first meeting on Tuesday evening, September 21, at the Veterans Community Center.

These plays will be presented to members of the guild only, a report from the president, James Scott, reveals.

The cast for the first one act, to be staged during October, has been chosen, and rehearsals will begin soon.

Membership of the Theater Guild is still open to those interested in any phase of the theater. Anyone wishing to procure additional information on the organization may obtain it by contacting Mrs. Earl Lewis at phone 1637-M.

Lunch was served to the approximately 30 members attending the Tuesday meeting.

Mrs. Leila Heller of Brush street has returned home from a two week vacation spent at Arlington, Virginia, Washington, D. C., and Dagsbrough, Delaware. While in Delaware she visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Heller.

Two accidents occurred last Saturday afternoon in which a Plymouth child and in another case, a youth, were severely burned.

Patricia Ann Cover, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cover, has spent the past week in the hospital where she was treated for second and third degree burns received when she fell into a bathtub of hot water.

A report reveals that the family had the faucet on in the bath tub to let out steam which resulted from an over-heated water heater. As young Patricia attempted to turn the faucet off, she slipped and fell into the tub. She was taken to St. Joseph's hospital. The fact that she was fully clothed is believed to have saved her from more serious burns.

Sylvester Kranz, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Kranz of Territorial road, was also taken to St. Joseph's hospital when he was badly burned that same afternoon during a gasoline explosion. He was transferring the fluid from a barrel into a can when it ignited, burning him in the face and arms. He tried unsuccessfully to put out the blaze and had just gotten out of the shed when the explosion occurred, completely destroying the building.

Rat Clean-Up is Urged by Official

Health Officer, Dr. Harold J. Brisbois, made a plea this week to the residents of Plymouth to begin a rat clean-up campaign before winter.

"Rats, like any other animal, seek warmth and covering when the sub-zero weather of wint'comes," states Dr. Brisbois. "It is therefore the responsibility of every resident to destroy any likely breeding places of these rodents, so that next spring the menace will be eradicated."

In promoting the campaign Dr. Brisbois offers a few suggestions: "clean places where rats might hole up for the winter; rake up fallen leaves from the yard; see that garbage is properly taken care of, and that the cans are tightly covered at all times; and give your basement a good cleaning."

The city has made it possible for the citizens of Plymouth to obtain free rat poison at the city hall. It is described as harmless to pets, and Dr. Brisbois states that no reports otherwise have been received.

house? What happened to the family when the tenth rolled around?

The end of the story has a finale which gives one a renewed belief in the brotherhood of man.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith's vigil over their daughter was rewarded with the doctors' reports that her condition was improving. And while they were in Ann Arbor with her, many hands were busy carrying on his work on their new home. Mr. Smith is a member of the Plymouth's Lions club, and it was his fellow members who pitched in and worked evenings so that the house could be ready for the family to move in on the tenth. A majority of the members turned out for the project, and worked at laying the floors, putting in concrete footings for the porch, laying the floor for the utility room, leveling the property and generally adding the finishing touches.

By G. Cardinal LeGros

This column is designed to help you in your everyday affairs. Find your birthday in one of the following paragraphs and read about your week ahead. You'll be surprised how it works out. Remember that we are not ruled by the stars, but that they do exercise an influence over us that we should know about. To see the pattern of things ahead is to be able to co-operate with the future; and that means more real happiness and success.

If you are single, the week ahead may bring you an offer of marriage. If already wedded, the bond will be strengthened and made more beautiful. A journey is possible that will turn out well.

The car was reportedly attempting to turn into a drive-in theater. The Lindberg family moved from Plymouth in 1945. Survivors of the accident were

Mr. Lindberg, who has been released from the hospital, and Mrs. Engleson's eight year old son, Bernard. The boy has been hospitalized because of several broken bones, and is not expected to be released until Christmas time. Mr. Lindberg will be remembered by many as a former Plymouth carpenter. He also owned a shop on Liberty street.

Marilyn Kalmbach Is Bride Of Robert Reh

Marilyn Jane Kalmbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kalmbach of Cranston avenue, became the bride of Robert R. Reh, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Earl Reh, of West Ann Arbor trail, at a 10:30 a. m. ceremony on September 18 at St. Michael's church in Rosedale Gardens.

The Rev. Zinger presided at the ceremony before an altar decorated with gladioli and tapers. Mary Ann-Cylik was the soloist. The numbers included "On This Day," "O Beautiful Mother" and "Ave Maria."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white marquisette over satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and net yoke. Her hoop skirt, which extended into a train, was gathered slightly in front with orange blossoms, revealing a lace panel. The three quarter length veil fell from a tiara of lace, and she carried a white prayer book covered with a spray of white gladioli.

Mrs. Donald Melow, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown of fuchsia velvet was fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neckline, which was scalloped as were the cap sleeves. The full skirt was trimmed with a band of velvet, and she wore matching gauntlets. Her head piece was a cap of fuchsia velvet, trimmed with gold net. She carried a bouquet of cream gladioli.

White gladioli served as decorations for the St. John's Baptist Catholic church of Ypsilanti when the nuptial High Mass was repeated by the Rev. John Larkin in which united Patricia Ann Kessler and Donald J. Daly in marriage on September 18.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ertman W. Kessler of Cherry Hill and the bridegroom is the son of Leo Daly of Inkster.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a broad-cloth white satin gown for the double ring service. It was fashioned with a full skirt which ended in a train, and long sleeves which were finished with points over the wrists. She wore a string of pearls, and in her hair, a tiara of orange blossoms to which her finger-tip length veil was attached. Gladioli centered with an orchid made up the bridal bouquet.

Proceeding the bride down the aisle were the maid of honor and two bridesmaids. The honor attendant was Dorothy Leslie of Ypsilanti who wore a peach brocaded satin gown fashioned as the bride's, with the exception of short sleeves, and a matching satin cap with a shoulder-length veil. She carried yellow gladioli.

Elaine Hunt of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Virginia Fehlberg of Redford, the bridesmaids, wore green brocaded satin gowns, also with matching caps and veiling, and carried yellow gladioli.

The bride's sister, Claudia Kessler, was the flower girl, and for the occasion was attired in a long blue brocaded satin gown, with a tulle cap. Patricia and Patrick Daly, niece and nephew of the bridegroom, acted as ring bearers. She appeared in a white brocaded satin dress, completed with a white polk bonnet, and Patrick wore a blue velveteen suit.

Alfred Daly, was his brother's attendant. Guests were seated by Norman Burton, Richard Miley, William and Fred Kessler. The latter are also brother's of the bridegroom.

A breakfast was held following the 9 a. m. ceremony in the Michigan League at Ann Arbor for 30 guests. Approximately 100 attended the reception held in the League later that afternoon.

Mrs. Kessler was attired in a steel blue satin gown for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of tea roses, and she chose black accessories.

Mrs. Daly chose a forest green wool gabardine suit for their honeymoon trip to Mackinaw Island.

Mrs. Daly wore a forest green red Heart of Mary school in Dearborn and served three and a half years in the Army Air Corps. His bride was graduated from Ypsilanti High school and studied for two years at the University of Michigan.

The couple will make their home in Wayne.

Music is Theme of DAR Meeting

Fifty members and guests of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of the DAR gathered at the home of Mrs. S. K. Stephens at Orchard drive in Northville, on September 20, for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Maxwell Moon, who presided at the meeting, introduced the guest speaker, Harry A. Leiter, musical director of the J. L. Hudson company.

"Music Appreciation" was the topic of Mr. Leiter's talk. Briefly he gave the development of singing, the first form of musical expression. According to Mr. Leiter, singing originated when victories were won in war. The first songs, however, had their birth in the church.

Mr. Leiter concluded his talk with recordings of several of the earliest operas.

Specialists Say Plant Lawn Now

Plymouthites with aspirations for a more beautiful lawn will be interested in the report of Michigan State college specialists who say that early fall is a good time to seed lawns.
 After fall rains put the ground in proper condition for working is the time to begin, and then the work must be done in a hurry, they state.
 A fine, smooth seedbed with lime and fertilizer worked into the top six inches of soil is important. It should be firmed by rolling. A good quality seed mixture, should then be raked in lightly. Some find that a thin straw mulch, which is kept moist until they are well rooted.
 Fall seeded lawns have a much longer time to become established before they have competition from weeds than do spring seeded lawns.
 While reason is puzzling herself about the mystery, faith is turning it into her daily bread and feeding on it thankfully in her heart of hearts.—Frederick D. Huntington.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

THESE were dog days in Washington with all members of congress away in their respective halliwicks except possibly a few members of the house un-American activities committee, with a lull in the spy and loyalty probes.

But the air was thick with charges and counter-charges from organizations and individuals concerning a host of issues, some not necessarily campaign issues but all relative to governmental action.

The United States Chamber of Commerce which some members of congress have charged with deliberately driving a wedge between farmers and labor has joined the chorus of those declaring farm prices a major factor in the present inflationary spiral.

The National Council of Farmer Cooperatives continues its tiff with the Chicago Tribune which declared cooperatives are a "menace" and "a parasite in the country's economy." Says the National Co-op Council: "The Chicago Tribune is a member of a cooperative—the Associated Press."

The Equitable Life Insurance Society blames the federal reserve support of government bond prices for inflating the money supply. Apparently the Equitable, like Senator Taft, would rather see bond prices drop than use controls to halt price increases.

Says the Associated Cooperatives, Inc.: "The 80th congress has demonstrated that it is putty in the hands of the giant corporations and far from doing anything to hamper them, it falls over itself to do their bidding . . . the federal trade commission might as well have saved its breath when it told congress that unless the steadily increasing power of giant corporations is curbed, the country will go down the road to collectivism."

And the National Economic Council of Wall street charges that President Truman's anti-inflation proposals are "unrealistic, unsound and contradictory." All three farm groups, the National Grange, the Farm Bureau Federation and the National Farmers Union have reached unity in condemning lack of action in adhering to the international wheat agreement. All three organizations supported ratification of the agreement. Says the National Grange: "The international wheat agreement was killed and observers generally agree it is quite unlikely that other nations will invest years of time and some millions of dollars in further negotiations without some assurance that agreements arrived at will be acted on by congress."

All three national farm organizations also have joined hands in the fight against the charge that the farm price support program is cause for high food prices or the inflationary spiral. Says Allan Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation: "Expanding purchasing power in relation to supply of consumable goods is causing inflation, not price supports."

Says the National Farmers Union: "About the only constructive piece of legislation to come out of the 80th congress was the price support program for agriculture . . . (which) is all that came out of the long and carefully conducted hearings on the Aiken and Hope bills . . . It isn't the answer, but it is a step in the right direction."

THE VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS and Amvets in national conventions scored congress for failure to pass low cost rental housing legislation and the Spanish American War Veterans in 50th annual encampment here urged a strong national guard—a stockpile of munitions and weapons—peacetime draft—freezing of all commerce, finance, wages and prices in an emergency—curb of communist organizations, elimination of communists in government jobs and prevention of subversive agents entering the United States.

THE SUPREME COURT DECISION outlawing the "basing-point" method of sales in the cement and other industries has brought about a storm of protest from big business—from steel and other large industries—so a senate committee headed by Senator Homer Capehart of Indiana has already started hearings to consider effects of the court decision. Some small business leaders charge the Capehart advisory committee is "packed" with representatives of big business. Says the Interstate Merchant-house organ for the distributing industry: "Fifteen members of the committee represent the largest concerns in the country . . . from this list there does not appear to be any small business representatives . . . in other words, monopoly is demanding a continuation of its advantage."

State 4-H Show Tops All Others
"Biggest and best ever" was the label assigned to the 33rd annual 4-H Club show held early this month on the Michigan State college campus at East Lansing. Representatives from the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club work, Chicago, and those from other states, interested in seeing how Michigan handles its state 4-H Club show, commended officials for the event.

The more than 1,400 boys and girls representing 79 of the 83 counties, including several from Plymouth, brought in more than 1,500 head of livestock and an even greater number of entries in other classes. The boys and girls were housed and fed in the college quonset village. They were provided with the finest of entertainment in two night shows.

The event marked the seventh year the show has been held on the Michigan State college campus. Although space was provided for more exhibits than in 1947, the entries exceeded all expectations. Dairy animals increased from 460 in 1947 to 605 exhibited this year. Sheep, swine and beef cattle made similar gains. Garden exhibits were far greater than ever before. More than 100 boys and girls brought entries in the saddle horse division.

A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H Club leader, expressed satisfaction with the attendance of adults, which is increasing each year. He says the show is a mirror that reflects the work of 60,000 4-H Club members throughout Michigan and believes it's wonderful to have adults come out to see what the younger generation can achieve through help from local leadership.

More than 152,000 acres of irrigated Western lands on Federal Reclamation projects produced 2,283,000 tons of sugar beets in 1947, the Bureau of Reclamation reported today. This is the equivalent of 342,000 tons of refined sugar.

Rural Tele-news

THE RINGS YOU CAN'T HEAR—Many improvements in telephone service come about so gradually that it's sometimes easy to overlook the results. Take the matter of ringing on rural lines, for example. Ten years ago, nearly every rural-line telephone customer served by Michigan Bell heard the rings of all other parties on the line. Today 87 out of every 100 hear the rings of no more than half the parties on their line.

METAL MUNCHER—Squirrels occasionally gnaw holes in the lead sheathing around telephone cables. To prevent damage from moisture reaching the wires through these and other types of punctures, many cables are kept filled with gas. When the gas escapes, lowered pressure sets off an alarm in the telephone central office. Sensitive devices help tell where the break has occurred and a repairman can go out and clear the trouble, in most cases before service is interrupted.

DIAL DECADE—Ten years ago only one-tenth of the telephones on Michigan Bell's rural lines were dial. Today, even though the war years temporarily halted the extension of dial service, nearly two-thirds of the rural-line telephones are dial. Michigan Bell's $13,500,000 5-year postwar rural expansion and improvement program will mean still more rural dial telephones as time goes on.

New Orleans

Delicate "iron lace" is a highlight in old New Orleans, and here you have a glimpse of narrow and intriguing Royal street. Originally called Rue Royale-Bourbon, Bienville, founder of the city, changed the name to Rue Royale. Architecture is typically French and Spanish.

by the Old AAA Traveler

I once heard a great man describe New Orleans as a city which never grew up and I'm inclined to like his description. For New Orleans has a light-heartedness that you find nowhere else.

It's a merry, fun loving, music-loving town—music from the bravuric majesty of grand opera to the ragged but intriguing tunes of ebon youngsters from pots and pans and bottles and homemade banjos.

Mardi Gras in New Orleans goes back more than 200 years to a Shrove Tuesday when young French gentlemen, lonesome for the gaiety of Paris, staged an impromptu parade in costume and sang the songs they had sung before their coming to the New World.

That was the birth of Mardi Gras which means Fat Tuesday, the final day before the faithful don the sackcloth and ashes of Lent and from that day the carnival has grown bigger and bigger from year to year... until now the celebration starts on the Thursday before Shrove Tuesday and continues almost day and night until midnight on Tuesday when the bells on ancient St. Louis Cathedral strike the hour. Then the city steps from merrymaking into the solemnity of the next 40 days.

New Orleans was founded in 1718 by Bienville, although there had been a thriving settlement there before that time. Forty-four years later all of Louisiana was ceded to Spain and still another 40 years saw it receded to France, receded just a few short days before the entire territory was transferred to the United States in the Louisiana Purchase.

Jackson Square in the very heart of the old French Quarter was the scene of that historic transfer, just as Jackson Square has been the scene of other historic events, including the great reception for Andrew Jackson after his victory over the British at Chalmette in 1815.

Jackson Square is one of the beauty spots of New Orleans.

"Old Hickory," it is one of the highlights in a visit to New Orleans.

Yes, New Orleans is an entrancing old town, from its old cemeteries, with the tombs built high above the ground—"ovens", they call 'em in New Orleans—to its narrow streets of the Quarter, with their jalousied balconies and their lacy iron-work, from the Duelling Oaks in old City park to the "Haunted House of Madame LaLaurie."

That old mansion, once the home of notorious Madame LaLaurie, is one of the things the visitor must see, for in that house was unfolded one of the wildest dramas of this country. Madame LaLaurie, reputedly the most beautiful woman in New Orleans, lived in that old mansion. She ranked high in society and entertained visiting royalty lavishly.

She was, in fact, just about the leader in the society of that day. Early one morning wisps of smoke were seen rising from the roof of the mansion, the house was afire. Neighbors rushed in to the mansion, arousing the still sleeping Madame LaLaurie, and climbed the stairs into the upper floor and on into the attic.

And there was a scene worthy of the best in horror-writing for chained to the walls were a half-dozen slaves, near death from starvation, mere skin and bones and the skeletons of two who had died long months before. Well, some of the chained slaves were freed but several perished before the flames were quenched.

And those freed told an almost unbelievable story, for they revealed that Madame LaLaurie was a fiend and that daily she came to the attic with a long whip and beat one or more of the chained slaves into unconsciousness.

Madame LaLaurie? Well, in the excitement of the fire she had her horses hitched to her elaborate carriage and disappeared in the direction of Lake Pontchartrain, never to be seen again. And through all the years it has been claimed that late at night, in the stillness of the narrow streets, may be heard the swish of whiplash and the screams of the suffering slaves.

Too, here is the great mansion which was built to house Napoleon when he had been released from his island prison. The young French, you know, planned to free Napoleon by force and bring him back to rule as emperor of the new France. Well, the old house still stands, with its cupola entirely glassed in that the emperor might look out over his new domain.

Down in the Barataria country, the land of the pirates, they'll tell you that a double of Napoleon was smuggled ashore on St. Helena, by Jean and Pierre Lafitte, that the real Napoleon was sneaked aboard a pirate sloop and started back for Louisiana, but that he died during the voyage and that he was buried deep in the fishing village of Lafitte.

New Orleans is filled to the very gunwales with strange tales and intriguing places. Take the famed Suicide Oak, for example. That ancient tree stands in City park, one of the South's great beauty spots. Long years ago the park was the Allard plantation, owned by the influential and wealthy Allard family. Well, the last of the Allards was a poet with little of business acumen, and he saw the plantation being dissipated. Finally he offered the plantation to the city with the understanding that when he died he would be buried beneath a certain oak around which he had played as a child.

He did die in time and he was buried beneath the spreading oak, a simple tomb the resting place for his bones. And through the years the oak has come to be known as Suicide Oak because of the great number of persons who have taken their lives within the shade of its widespread limbs.

Just a few rods away stand the so-called Duelling Oaks beneath which literally hundreds of affairs of honor were carried out with pistols or rapiers. One Sunday morning 18 duels were fought beneath the two great trees.

In old St. Louis No. 2 cemetery sleeps Dominique You, who commanded the Lafitte pirates in the Battle of New Orleans. After the battle he settled in New Orleans and became a prominent citizen. When death called him he was buried with a great civic funeral... his epitaph calls him "a second Bayard without fear on land or sea" and into the gray granite of his tomb is cut the Masonic square-and-compass. Dominique You was a magnificent fighting man and he'll never be forgotten in Louisiana.

So—see New Orleans!

Dale Carnegie

Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

THE help we get at times from unexpected sources is almost miraculous. Here's how Floyd Breyer, Allen Lane, S. W., and First Drive, New Philadelphia, Ohio, got unexpected help.

He was responsible for the successful operation of an army of trucks. He says that one of the biggest, and most constant, of worries which he has to carry is to have these trucks operate continuously under conditions over which he has no control, such as rain, ice, sleet, snow. These huge "buggies" cost anywhere from six to ten thousand dollars each, and he sends them all over the state of Ohio and in all seasons of the year. So he can't take life calmly when he has a dozen or more trailer-tractor outfits on the road.

On New Year's Eve, 1946, he attended a large party at his local country club. It was a gala occasion and everyone was in a happy holiday mood, awaiting the ending of the old year and the ushering in of the new. That is, everyone was happy except Floyd Breyer. And the reason for his distress was that the snow had been falling for hours and was piling up deeper and deeper, not only in drifts but on the main roads. And the next morning a group of his big expensive trucks were scheduled to venture out into that snow. How could he enjoy the party, engage in lively banter with his friends? He knew he was in for a sleepless night, and when he didn't sleep, business went hay-wire the next day.

Just as his unhappiness reached what must be a climax, with his imagination running riot on what would happen to those trucks, he heard his wife mention a trip they had taken to a small Georgia town the winter before. He recalled his host, a big, broad-shouldered, genial and very handsome man named Jewell, who was president of the Crystal Springs Bleachery at Chickamauga, Ga.

They had had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Jewell, and during the course of the meal the conversation drifted to the weather, for it was cold and rainy. Mr. Jewell looked across the table at Mr. Breyer, then almost as if speaking to him only, he said, "I never worry about something that I can't do anything about."

Then, all of a sudden, there at the country club, Mr. Breyer dismissed from his mind all thought of the weather and the trucks. He relaxed, laughed and joked. After he got home, he kept his mind on pleasant things. As a result, he slept soundly all night and awoke refreshed the next morning. Not one of those trucks that went out had anything go wrong!

Since then, Mr. Breyer says he has been able to eliminate, if not entirely, at least to a great extent, the worry occasioned by something he could do nothing about. When he can do something about it, he gets at it, and forgets to worry.

Babson

Babson Discusses Farm Prices
During the past week I have been calling up friends here to get a line as to how they feel about things in general. Here is a brief report.

What Dewey Will Do
They are fairly unanimous that Mr. Dewey will be elected President. They are sure he will "clean the rascals out" and replace them by men who will give legitimate business a fair break. This especially applies to appointments to such important bodies as the Tax Appeal board, the Securities and Exchange commission, the Federal Trade commission and the various labor boards. They also believe Mr. Dewey will appoint much better judges than Mr. Truman has appointed.

Wall street, however, has its fingers crossed as to the outlook for general business and the stock market in 1949 and 1950. They say that Dewey believes there must be a "bust" before 1952 when he would come up for re-election. Hence, he would much rather have the depression come in the early part of his term and "get it over with" than have it come in the latter part. Therefore, Wall street thinks it possible that the Republicans may try to deflate prices, wages and money-in-circulation in 1949. This would be what Roosevelt did in 1936; but it got away from him and we had a bad break.

Farmers Are Prosperous
Of course, all my New York City friends are yelling about farm prices. Without doubt they would be much lower today if it were not for the support which the government is giving farm prices. It does seem unreasonable for the government to pay potato growers in Maine $3.50 per bushel and then dump these potatoes in the ocean; while you and I must pay the rate of over $5 per barrel or much more if we buy by the pound. There are 137½ pounds in a barrel. It now looks as if the government would also be obliged to buy considerable corn, wheat and other products and either burn them or sell them at a big loss.

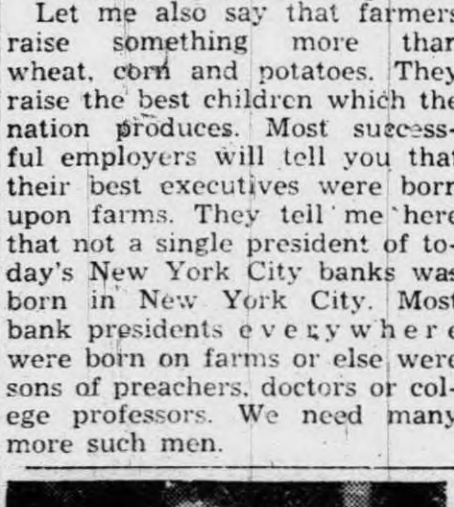

But I tell my Wall street friends there is another side to this story. It is true that farm net income is now four times as high as the 1935-1939 average but this average meant foreclosures and intolerable conditions. The total gross farm income for the 1948 crop is estimated at $17 billion compared with $11 billion for the 1935-1939 average. There is no doubt but the farmers are more prosperous than they have been for years.

Farmers Deserve Help
But, according to the 1945 census, 60 per cent of all farms grossed less than $2,000 in products, while the gross of 75 per cent was less than $3,000 giving net incomes of only half or two thirds these figures. Comparable gross income for 1948 may be 25 per cent more than the 1945 figures; but this will be offset by a like increase in the cost of debt, building maintenance, etc. In other words, even with high prices 75 per cent of the farmers are not netting as much when working 14 hours a day as city bricklayers, painters, carpenters and even common laborers get for working only eight hours. This is not fair.

So that when you divide the government bonuses among millions of farmers, there is not much for each one. Furthermore, when you consider how dependent farmers are upon weather, they are entitled to a few good years to take care of them when later crop failures and other disasters come. Therefore, so far as these small farmers go, I believe the government guarantees are justified. As to the few big farmers, the government gets back at least half of its guarantee through income taxes.

Something Not to Forget
Let me also say that farmers raise something more than wheat, corn and potatoes. They raise the best children which the nation produces. Most successful employers will tell you that their best executives were born upon farms. They tell me here that not a single president of today's New York City banks was born in New York City. Most bank presidents everywhere were born on farms or else were sons of preachers, doctors or college professors. We need many more such men.

Square Dancers to Meet Thursday

Scott Colburn of Ann Arbor will be present to call and instruct the square dances when the Plymouth Square Dance group holds its first meeting on September 30, at 8:30 p. m. in the Central Grade school gym.

The group is sponsored by the recreation department, and anyone interested in the activity is invited to come. A fee to cover the cost will be charged. Coffee and tea will be served, and each couple is asked to bring cups and sandwiches for themselves.

The committee is planning an early fall party, with an orchestra to play for the dances. Further information can be obtained from any of the following members of the committee: Mr. and Mrs. Osgood, 745-W; Mr. and Mrs. Warren, 602-J; Mr. and Mrs. Balsley, Livonia 2598; Mr. and Mrs. Benson, 605.

Rocks Play First League Game of Season Tomorrow at Trenton at 2

With revenge in their minds, the Plymouth Rocks will travel to Trenton tomorrow for a Suburban B contest at 2 p. m. The Saturday grid battle will be the first in several seasons for the Rocks.

Last season Trenton emerged victor under the lights at Plymouth by the score of 19-6.

The Benders lost their initial contest of the fall last Friday night, losing to Farmington by the count of 44-0. The Eagles were led to victory through the efforts of captain Freddy McLean, who scored three touchdowns himself and threw three touchdown passes. The 2,277 fans attending the opener readily admit that McLean had quite a night for himself.

In the first few minutes of play the Rocks advanced to Farmington's 30 yard line, but that was as near to pay dirt as they got throughout the evening. They went to that point in this manner. After Farmington had brought the ball to their 28 following the kickoff, McLean tried the first of his passes. However, this one was misdirected and Plymouth's captain, Jerry Harder, grabbed the pigskin and raced to Farmington's 42 yard line. Ronnie Bouldin and Bill Newstead carried the ball for the first first down of the game to the 30. From then on the Rocks were continually retreating. The Eagles took over on their 32 and McLean shook loose to the Farmington 48 before being stopped. The diminutive left half back then raced 52 yards for a touchdown at the five minute mark of the initial quarter. The extra point was made and Farmington led 7-0. Just before the quarter ended, McLean crossed over again, this time on a two yard jaunt, to make the score read, Farmington 13-Plymouth 0.

The teams changed ends, but McLean kept rolling. After a Farmington touchdown had been called back on account of a penalty, the fleet footed captain scampered to his third score, a run of 20 yards.

A blocked kick led to the Eagles fourth big pointer. The Rocks attempted to kick out deep in their own territory, but the fast charging Farmington line came through to block the kick. Now with the ball resting on the 11 yard line, McLean fad-ed back and threw to Aschen Brenner to increase Farmington's lead to 25 points.

More of the same followed in the second half, McLean passed to Aschen Brenner and Bryant for two TD's, while Bryant crossed the last chalk line without the benefit of a pass. This brought the scoring to a halt with Farmington winning as they pleased 44-0.

Six Man Football at High School Starts Next Week

The fast growing sport of six man football will begin next week with games scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday on the Plymouth High athletic field.

This sport is for boys of the eighth grade and under. Constituting Class A will be the fellows 100 pounds and over, and the boys under 100 will constitute the Class B division.

The number of teams and the exact schedule is not complete as yet, but games will be played at 4 p. m. and at 5 p. m. on Tuesday and Thursday. Eligibility and physical exam cards must be in to the team managers before the first contest.

Following are the rules and necessary material in connection with the league:

1. This six-man football league will be known as the Little Rocks—Classes A and B. Class A is 100 pounds and over and Class B is under 100 pounds. All boys must be below the ninth grade in school to compete.

2. The entry fee shall be 5 cents per boy, and must be paid before the first game of the league schedule.

3. The last date for team entry shall be Monday of the week the league schedule opens.

4. The maximum number of players who can be under contract at one time shall be ten.

5. Players may be contracted to 12 p. m. the first Monday in October. Players may be released anytime during the season but no player may be contracted after the above date, except for a player who cannot finish the season due to injury. No player may play with another team in this league within seven days after he has properly signed a release from his former team.

6. All players must have a physical examination blank obtained from the high school and properly signed before the first game. Forfeit time shall be 15 minutes after scheduled game time. A team must have six men on the field to start a game and both teams could be charged with a loss.

8. Any team that forfeits must pay a fine of ten cents per man before they will ever be permitted to play in any organized ball in this organization again.

9. All games will be played under the regulation high school rules except that all players are eligible to receive a pass, and six minute quarters and eight minute rest between halves.

10. Each team must supply at least one official for each game and the home team is also responsible for keeping score, supplying the linemen, and return all equipment used to its proper place after the game.

11. No protest will be accepted concerning an official's judgment however, protest may be made concerning the rules but must be done by the captain or manager only and must be settled before game is resumed. The final decision on all protests will be handled by your director or his representative on the field.

12. Any team using an ineligible player must forfeit the game and the team manager and captain will be fined 10 cents each. This fine must be paid before their next scheduled game.

13. The recreation department will furnish the ball and as much of the uniforms as available. It is recommended that the boys get as much of their own equipment as possible.

14. Game ends when one team is ahead 36 points.

15. Unsportsman-like abuse to officials from players will immediately subject them to suspension from the team.

Rock Opponents Win Two Friday

Five future opponents of the Rocks played last Friday evening and the result revealed two wins and three losses. Tomorrow's opposition, Trenton, lost to Monroe, a Class A team, 13-7 after they had led through the first three quarters.

Ypsilanti, the team that rates as favorite in the Suburban B league, smothered Hazel Park, another A squad, 44-0. Wayne lost to Lincoln Park 44-6 and still another league team, Redford Union, defeated Inkster 26-0. Northville lost to Brighton 13-6 to complete the round-up of games played Friday.

Rocks Starting Varsity Squad

The Plymouth Rock varsity squad is pictured here. This picture was taken before last Friday's debacle and as a result some changes may have been made. Most of these fellows were on the Rock squad last season, but few of the boys have had much varsity experience. A good indication of this is revealed in the returning lettermen department as only six fellows are on the squad, who earned their varsity football letter in '47.

Two Mentors Head Team

John Sandmann, Coach Eddie Bender

What lies ahead for the Plymouth High school Rocks in the future pigskin tilts is the big thing in the minds of the coaching staff.

This year Coach Eddie Bender starts his second year at the helm of the squad, and John Sandmann was just newly added to the staff.

Sandmann will be assistant basketball coach to John Klingeburger, and he will be the head coach in baseball. The new mentor, who comes from New York, has played professional basketball and baseball. He played day, October 27, in the city hall, a meeting will be held for umpires and anyone else, who is interested in rules of baseball and softball. Many little, but important rules will be brought up in the discussion. While we are on the subject of the Inter-County league, we would like to thank Mr. Gray for his helpful information during the baseball season. He aided your reporter greatly in the account of the Inter-County league stories.

In last week's paper we said Plymouth Utilities Class B team played a bad game in the championship contest of the Red and White division. We found out over the weekend that Utilities was actually outlucked instead of being outplayed by a great margin.

One Letterman Returns For Cross Country
Inexperience is the main weak point in this year's cross country team at Plymouth High. Only one letterman, Louis Vargha, is coming back for the sport.

Other candidates are: Dave Reitzel, Howard Pernie, Dick Underwood, Dan Green, Calvin Becker, Otto Rhuer, Bruce Gable, Douglas Phillips, Dave Jolliffe and Dean Joachim.

Because of this inexperience the outlook for the team finishing on the right side of the ledger is doubtful. Coach Konrad Moisio states that the schedule consists of five league meets and a meet with Cranbrook. The schedule is as follows:

September 25, Trenton, there.
October 1, Redford Union, here.
October 8, Wayne, there.
October 15, Belleville, there.
October 22, Ypsilanti, here.
October 30, league championship at Redford Union.
November 6, State championship at Ypsilanti.
November 12, Cranbrook, here.

Earl Gray, head of the Inter-County baseball league, reports that an attempt at promoting interest in baseball and softball throughout the off-season is being made next month. On Mon-

Allen Wins By Forfeit To Take Lead in Tourney

Allen Industries took the lead in the C. J. Martin baseball tournament now being held on the Riverside and Cass Benton diamonds.

When the Yankees showed up with only seven players, the forfeit was called and this gave the Plymouth team the lead.

Rain caused the cancellation of the Romulus Air Base-Cordecas game at Cass Benton. The other game saw Walway defeat Dearborn Heating 12-1.

Sunday the schedule is as follows: Allen vs. Fluckey's at 12 p. m. on the Riverside diamond. Dearborn Heating vs. Yankees at 2:15 p. m. on Riverside, and at 4:30 p. m. Fluckey's will meet the winner of the Dearborn Heating and Yankees game. At Cass Benton, Romulus Air Base will play Cordecas at 1 p. m. On the same diamond at 2:30, Walway is scheduled to play the winner of the Romulus-Cordecas contest.

Suburban B View Given by Times

Maybe it was a bad luck omen, for in last Friday's Detroit Times appeared an article regarding the Suburban B football race.

George Maskin, author of the piece, stated that the champion would be Ypsi, Trenton or Plymouth.

By 10 p. m. of that evening all hopes of a title for the Rocks vanished as they lost by a 44-0 score. Following is the article word for word.

"It's take your pick between Ypsilanti Central, 1947 champ; Trenton and Plymouth for Suburban 'B' league football honors this fall.

"If there's an edge it must go to Ypsi, which has seven of its 11 starters returning from the 1947 combination, one of the top powers among Class B ranks. To spearhead coach Ed Shadford's crew are Lowell Perry at quarter and Dave Hill at half in the backfield and Wayne Strohl, center and Earl Snococ, left guard. Perry is not the same Ypsi Perry who hauled down all-state recognition a year ago. That was his brother.

"At Plymouth, Coach Eddie Bender has himself a half dozen returning regulars, tops of whom are a trio of linemen—Jerry Harder, Jim McDowell and Bill Newstead.

"Trenton will have speed and experience, but may lack for some weight, according to Coach Harold Jaroch. In Freddie Ryals, the downriver school boasts a capable quarterback, while Charley Paige is a hard charging runner.

"Perhaps the toughest break came to Wayne High this week when triple threat star Stuart Kaufman suffered a spine injury which will bench him for the season.

"There goes 25 per cent of our team," says Nick Susunjer, former aid to Wally Webber at Michigan and new Wayne coach.

"Only four of 28 '47 lettermen are back at Redford Union where Coach Dick Turk is rebuilding around backs Al Sigman and George McQuillen, guard Jim Lee and center Don Taylor.

"Belleville seems too inexperienced to threaten."

"Pilgrim Virgin" Visits Plymouth

On October 5 from 4 to 5 p. m. the "Pilgrim Virgin" will be in Plymouth in the Felician Sisters' chapel on Schoolcraft and Newburg roads.

All who wish to attend are invited to do so.

The "Pilgrim Virgin" statue is a gift from the Portuguese clergy to the western hemisphere and is a replica of the famous Our Lady of Fatima. It represents the Blessed Virgin as She appeared on October 13, 1917, to three Portuguese shepherd children and then to a concourse of 70,000 gathered expectantly in the now famous Cova da Iria, a valley which forms a natural amphitheatre at Fatima. It is believed one of the mysteries of modern press that news of the event, which was accompanied by a unique behavior of the sun which began to spin rapidly throwing off shafts of many colored lights and then to spin downward so that the spectators all felt that their end had come, never reached the United States until a few years ago.

Right Reverend Msgr. William C. McGrath of Toronto, Canada, has been traveling with the "Pilgrim Virgin" from the beginning of October, 1947, through Canada, Eastern United States and is now in Detroit, from where the statue goes to Pontiac, Plymouth, and then Ann Arbor before it goes farther to the West and Alaska.

Those visiting the chapel on October 5, will receive a small medal of Our Lady of Fatima and a leaflet giving a thumbnail history of the Fatima message.

The programs are aimed at the 70,000,000 Americans, who do not attend church regularly, and are not designed to steal members from other churches he continued.

The series, known as "Great Scenes from Great Plays," will open with a 22 minute presentation of scenes from "Cyrano de Bergerac" with Walter Hampden starring.

Last Contingent of College Students Leaves With First Days of Fall

Dick Arlen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arlen of 735 Burroughs street, receives assistance from his mother for the task of packing up those books he thinks he may need during his first year at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton. He left for the school on Sunday, and stated he plans to make a study of forestry.

The Perry W. Richwine family scene depicted above has been broken up with the beginning of the college session at Western State Normal college at Kalamazoo. Left to right are: Betty, who begins her freshman year; Dorothy, who enters as a sophomore, and Mary Louise, another member of the freshman class.

Mr. and Mrs. Knut Gustafson of 472 Adams street helped their daughter, Sally, finish up her last minute packing before she left for Michigan State college on Sunday. Sally is now living in the college's new East Landon dormitory, and plans to enter the home economic school, with a major in dietetics.

During the past two weeks a great exodus from the city has been seen unfolding, as large numbers of students left for colleges at both near and distant points. Chief signs of the time were families pitching in at the last minute to help that son or daughter get everything packed, and final adieus to all friends who remain behind. Some are starting their first year in college, while others begin their sophomore, junior, or senior years.

Stephens college in Missouri was the destination of Aleta Shekell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Shekell of 574 Pacific avenue, when she left the city two weeks ago. The photographer called on her and Mrs. Shekell just before they closed the last trunk and shipped it to the school.

Bob Todd, left, and Dick Moore, right, got in a little pre-school practice at studying, as the date of their departure for school drew nearer. Bob, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Todd of 890 So. Main street, left this week for the Michigan School of Mining and Technology at Houghton, where he will begin his second year of studying forestry. Dick, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, who reside at 738 Burroughs street, made the journey back to Michigan State Normal college for his sophomore year, last week.

The Mail photographer caught Beverly Brown taking a brief time out from packing, mentally enumerating at the last minute those tasks which had to be completed before she left for Western Michigan college at Kalamazoo on Sunday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown of 1437 Sheridan avenue. A two year secretarial course of study has been chosen by Beverly.

Fall Hat Styles Are Forecasted

Whether you're going to buy a new hat this fall or give the old one a "lift", you're interested in hat fashion. This might be a good year to do something about that good hat you labeled "old style" and tucked away in the attic.

Fashion designers seem to have combined many of the features of past styles so that there are many varied styles this year, reports Lola Belle Green, extension clothing specialist at Michigan State college.

In general hats are small and head fitting with soft flattering lines. Even tailored hats have a feminine look. Most hats have brims or brimmed effects. The irregular brim line is good news, for most women find it becoming. Crowns seem to have gone back to normal size.

Emphasis is on the hat silhouette rather than on the trimming. This means that interest is centered in the lines, color and materials of the hat. What was the hat, it will be worn forward or with a side tilt.

Some of the fall hat types include pillboxes, cloches, berets, casuals, sailors and lampshade or basin styles.

Luxury fabrics in velvets, velveteen, satin and jersey are used again either alone or combined with fabrics or felt. Since fabrics are dyed a wide range of lovely colors—it will be a colorful fall season. Green leads the way with all shades used and combined with pinks, flame or beige. Grays are prominent. Royal and night flight blues are good. Wine, reds and tawny tones, ranging from yellow-beige to butter yellow to cinnamon and rust are good.

Feathers are used; some jewels are seen on dressier hats; and veils are seen but little.

The Scripps brothers' originalment describing a book, appeared chain newspapers in 1878.

Deer hunting in Wayne county! Think of it—a county with a population of over two millions of people.

But it goes to show what can happen in a state that will adopt a worthwhile conservation program.

When the first World War ended on November 11 in 1918, the writer left the next night for a deer hunting trip to the Upper Peninsula, up where there were supposed to be lots of deer.

A hunting party of six tramped the woods for two long weeks—and only one of the hunters saw one deer and he didn't even get a shot at it.

That was 30 years ago. Deer in most parts of Michigan were as scarce as they were in the Upper Peninsula where we hunted. The deer herds had been almost totally wiped out.

It was some few years later when the state established its conservation department. Among the things it did immediately was to inaugurate a program aimed at the restoration of the deer herd throughout the state.

What has been the result? Michigan now ranks first among all the states in the number of deer within its boundaries. Its "crop" of deer harvested by hunters in the fall outranks that of any other state. Now the deer have become so plentiful that the Conservation department has opened nearly the entire state to deer hunters this fall.

But there are restrictions, and certain boards of supervisors would impose greater restrictions other than the use of buckshot for deer hunters in the southern part of the state.

The conservation commission has, however, turned down requests of Oakland and Cass county boards of supervisors to close their counties to such hunting. St. Joseph county sportsmen also have protested the gun season.

Oakland county supervisors were concerned about the danger factor represented by anticipated swarms of metropolitan hunters; Cass and St. Joseph county spokesmen argued that the deer in their counties were an esthetic and tourist attraction.

The commission pointed out that it is required by statute to open downstate counties to deer hunting, that deer represent an increasing danger to crops in many counties, that hunters can enter farm lands only with the written consent of owners or lessees, and that no great concentrations of deer hunters are anticipated.

The commission also acted to allow bear hunting with dogs from October 15 to November 5 in any county whose supervisors ask for it. Bear may be taken at any time in the south half of the lower peninsula and in eight counties, above the straits; elsewhere during the deer season, which was a crazy thing to do.

Unless something is done about pollution, fishing and duck hunting will be ruined in Lake St. Clair within the next five years, Jim Kelson, famous Lake St. Clair muskie fishing and duck hunting guide told members of the Wayne County Sportsman's Club at their first fall meeting, Wednesday evening, September 3, at the North West Detroit Post American Legion Hall.

Kelson said ducks were on the increase but pollution, particularly from the Clinton River, has ruined food beds to the point that native ducks are becoming fewer and fewer and there is no attraction for northern ducks to stop there on their flight south. Muskie and bass fishing was better than usual this summer, he said, but the greatly increased pollution is taking an ever increasing toll of all species of fish.

A white spruce worthy of Paul Bunyan's forests has been discovered in the Little Harbor area of the Garden peninsula in Schoolcraft county, says a news item from the Conservation department.

The tree measures 7 feet, 4 inches around at a point 4½ feet above the ground, just three inches short of the girth of the largest of this species on record, and is 90 feet high.

The largest living white spruce in this country, according to an American Forestry association list, is in St. Louis county, Minnesota. This tree is 7 feet 7 inches in circumference and 80 feet high.

The timberland giant was reported to the conservation department's forestry division by Robert Schmeling, forester for the Manistique Pulp and Paper company.

Schmeling said that a company cruiser, Eino Salmio, observed the tree while crossing a woodland owned by John Wood, of Manistique. The big spruce was reported sound, thrifty and well-formed.

Through a boring at breast height with an increment board, by which foresters determine tree age, this tree was estimated to be 140 years old.

The style of an author should be the image of his mind, but the choice and command of language is the fruit of exercise.—Edward Gibbon.

And, after all, it is style alone by which posterity will judge of a great work, for an author can have nothing truly his own but his style.—Isaac D'Israeli
