

Important Notice CHANGE OF PUBLICATION DATE

To comply with the requests of many of its advertisers, both local and national, The Plymouth Mail will publish on Wednesday starting with the first issue in March. The change of publication date is in line with a national trend brought about by the fact that Friday has become as big a shopping day as Saturday, and in some cases even a larger one.

Many papers throughout the country have already made the change and others are now doing so. The Plymouth Mail will be printed on Wednesday after March 1 and will carry a Thursday date line instead of a Friday date as it has in the past.

Local postal employees will also be pleased with the change in view of the fact that many magazines and other national publications arrive in the city late Thursday afternoon for Friday morning delivery. The changing of the heavy mailing of The Plymouth Mail from Thursday to Wednesday will considerably lighten the load in the local post office on that day.

Farmers and others who consistently use The Mail classified columns will find that Friday and Saturday will become the days that they will get the response to their advertisements rather than Saturday and Sunday which has been the result of readers getting their papers on Friday.

Many local civic undertakings are planned on Friday and Friday evening. It has been difficult for a paper arriving in the homes on Friday to give the last minute reminder some times necessary to make the events successful. With local readers securing their papers on Thursday mornings, previously planned weekend events can be given an added last minute impetus and it is the desire of this newspaper to do everything in its power to cooperate to the fullest with every local organization, church, or fraternal group in any civic undertaking.

The Plymouth Mail being one of Michigan's largest weekly newspapers will undoubtedly encounter some disheartening experiences the first few weeks of the change. It will mean producing the same paper with one less day's work on our part. It will mean many of our regular contributors to our news columns, our classified section and our regular advertising columns will temporarily forget that they are one day late when they telephone us on Wednesday.

We ask that you bear with us a few weeks while we all become accustomed to changing our ways after 62 years. But at 62 years we still feel we have the spirit, youth and the ability to cope with the changes of our times and if this move will serve our city, readers and our customers in any better sense it is our most sincere desire to do so.

Tuesday, March 1 will be the last day that any copy or advertisement can be received for the issue that will appear Thursday morning, March 3. Instead of Wednesday, Tuesday will now become the deadline day for any material that will appear in The Plymouth Mail.

CONGRESS SHALL MAKE NO LAWS ABRIDGING THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

What I Think and have a Right to Say

ELTON R. EATON

MR. CLEARY IS QUITE RIGHT.

Owen J. Cleary, one of the best and fairest members who ever served on the Michigan liquor control commission, recently declared that longer terms for members of the commission should be provided. He points out that within the few brief years of the commissions' existence, 12 different persons have served as chairman of the board.

That does not make for the efficiency necessary to make the board the worthwhile public body it should be. A group of men who handle a state business that has at times yielded close to $50,000,000 in state revenues, should be retained for longer periods, providing, of course, they are the right type of commissioners. On the whole Michigan has had some excellent men serving on the commission.

Here is a question that Governor Williams should be giving some serious thought to. Not only should he do some thinking about it, but he should do something about it.

WE RECOMMEND.

If the Carnegie Foundation does not kick Alger Hiss out of his job when his "leave of absence" expires, we recommend that every city and village in Michigan get out the chisels and knock off the name of "Carnegie" wherever it appears over a library doorway. It is too bad that Hiss, if found guilty, will go to prison instead of facing a firing squad—and in these treacherous days, America wants nothing to do with any organization or any outfit which in the slightest degree tolerates disloyalty.

As for the Carnegie Foundation, created for the purpose of keeping alive the Carnegie name, it probably did the proper thing in giving this fellow "Hiss" a leave of absence—but whether a jury finds him guilty, makes no difference. He should be kicked off the job he now holds, kicked out of the country and forever barred from again enjoying the glories of a free America. Enough has been revealed to show what he is and where his "first love" lies without further evidence.

THE LONG TRIP OF A NEWSPAPER CLIPPING.

Mailed from Puerto Rico to a friend in Plymouth, a newspaper clipping discussing the recent presidential campaign, has been continued on its journey from Plymouth back to the tropical land of southern Florida, where it now reposes in the writer's clipping folder.

Even though written sometime ago by a famed New York political columnist, what he said about last fall's campaign is well worth reprinting. It follows in part:

"Truman gave out during the campaign, becoming boisterous and vulgar. Some say that he made votes for himself that way. If true, that is a reflection on the intelligence of the American people. "During the last days of the campaign, intellectually exhausted—and probably physically worn out—he descended to drag in Herbert Hoover, who in his old age had risked his life at Mr. Truman's request to fly around the earth in search of food for starving people, and who had withdrawn from politics to serve on a bi-partisan commission for the reorganization of the executive branch of the Government, to the chairmanship of which Mr. Truman had appointed him. A man must be mentally sloppy indeed who attacks so venerable a gentleman whose last years are devoted to public service—and at the attacker's request. Perhaps had Mr. Truman delivered a hundred speeches less, his essential boorishness would not have asserted itself.

"His quarrel with Bernard Baruch was unmistakably the act of an unkindly man. Because Baruch would not collect campaign funds for Truman, the President wrote him such a letter as no man would care to have any one see after it is written. Neither Woodrow Wilson nor Franklin D. Roosevelt, close personal friends, had ever requested Baruch to become a campaign fund collector. Truman did.

"His speeches were in bad taste and if they won him votes, it can only mean that good manners are not of our times. Maybe we ought to ask Emily Post to lay down the rules of campaigning.

Revitalized Chamber Offers Members Service of Full Time Manager

Plymouth businessmen chose the ballot as their way of showing Chamber of Commerce President Charles Lindstrom their appreciation of the progressive program he has instituted locally, and cast an overwhelmingly vote in his favor during the election Monday noon.

In addition to the re-election of Mr. Lindstrom to the top Chamber post, big news this week was the announcement that a permanent manager of the Chamber of Commerce had been appointed. Mr. Lindstrom discloses he is Charles Hansell, who recently completed 12 years as head of the Down-River Chamber of Commerce.

Also top on the agenda of the Monday meeting of the Chamber Advisory committee and board of directors was planning for an extensive membership drive, and announcement of newly chosen director.

Re-elected to the post of vice-president was Joe Merritt, and Ray Williams was newly named as secretary-treasurer. Other new directors are: Robert Lidgard, Russell Daane, Wendell Lent, Ralph Lorenz and Mr. Williams. Those who will carry on in the same capacity are: Mr. Merritt, Frank Arlen, Horace Johnson and Mr. Lindstrom.

Giving a brief review of the experience the Chamber's new manager has had in the field, Mr. Lindstrom states he has acted as auditor of a motor truck company in Ohio, manager of the Springfield, Ohio Chamber of Commerce, and manager of the Detroit Union League club for a five year period. Continuing, Mr. Lindstrom pointed out that Mr. Hansell has done refinancing and field work for the Detroit coming before the Chamber, a man who could follow up the various committees which will be appointed from time to time, to see that their jobs are being handled to conclusion. He further stated the necessity of having one who can visualize the need of a Chamber of Commerce in Plymouth, and who is capable of initiating a program to be spearheaded or handled conclusively by the C of C.

Discussion at Monday's meeting concerning the future membership drive centered around splitting the city into two sections, with teams of two carrying on the work of soliciting. Businessmen will be charged a fee of 25 dollars for membership, and individuals throughout the city who wish to join will be charged ten dollars.

Basic committees were set up, and Paul Wiedman was named as chairman of the Professional Men's committee; Frank Henderson heads the Manufacturers' committee, and Carl Shear is chairman of the Merchants committee.

Lindstrom of the Evans Products company for his fine work last year by re-electing him to the office of president last Monday noon. Roberts Aids Parolee

Parolee James Sherwood is presented with a gift of a suit case by Captain William Roberts of the Salvation Army. Watching the presentation is A. Blake Gillies, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction.

Another chance to live on the "outside" and work for the benefit of society was given James Sherwood, a lifer who has spent 27 years on the "inside."

Last Friday the 57 year old man left as a parolee for Huston, Texas and the Salvation Army Industrial Home. Three men who figured prominently in making this possible were former Governor Kim Sigler, Blake Gillies, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction where Sherwood spent the last six months, and Captain William Roberts of the Plymouth Salvation Army. Before leaving for the rehabilitation center the latter presented Sherwood with a gift of a suit case.

Tracing Sherwood's past, Captain Roberts said he was sentenced on a murder charge back in 1922. Twenty-two years of this term were spent in the Marquette State prison, before being transferred to Jackson where he spent four and a half years. He arrived at the Detroit House of Correction six months ago, winning a commutation of his sentence from Sigler at Christmas time.

Questioned how the Salvation Army entered into the picture, Captain Roberts disclosed that Sherwood got interested in the work of the organization while serving at Marquette. Upon discovery of this interest, Mr. Gillies put him under Captain Roberts' wing on his arrival at the nearby institution.

Sherwood consistently attended the Tuesday religious services the Army holds weekly at DeHoCo, also undertaking work in the library and assisting at the service.

"A fine Christian man", was one phrase Captain Roberts used in stating his opinion of Sherwood, while others were, "good character, honorable, and well fit to come back into society."

Sherwood is on a four year parole to the Salvation Army, and is welcome to stay at the rehabilitation center as long as he wants, Captain Roberts concluded.

Petition Deadline is This Saturday

Plymouth residents who wish to file petitions for a seat on the city commission, office of municipal judge or constable must turn them in by tomorrow, Saturday, not later than noon, City Manager Harold Check announced.

All petitions circulated must be obtained from his office.

The general primary election will be held Monday, February 21 if a sufficient number of persons file for the offices, the city manager stressed.

March of Dimes Drive is Nearing Concluding Phase

Next Tuesday will see the conclusion of the March of Dimes drive in Plymouth, Chairman Neva Lovewell announced.

The concluding phase of the campaign program will include the solicitation for funds in Plymouth's two theaters by the Senior Girl Scouts of the city. On Sunday members of Girl Scout Troop No. 7 will do the canvassing, while Troop No. 6 will handle it during the showing of films on Monday and Tuesday.

Members of Boy Scout troops have assisted appreciably during the campaign, Miss Lovewell stated. They handled the distribution and collection of canisters throughout the business sections of the city. The Hi-Y clubs of the high school handed the canister program in the school.

Further funds for the March of Dimes drive will be earned by the Military Order of the Cooties, Pup Tent No. 44 when they stage a party for that purpose tomorrow, Saturday evening.

Women Change Date of Meeting

Mrs. Milton Laible, president of Woman's club, announces the next regular meeting of the Plymouth organization will be held February 10 at 8 p. m. in the First Presbyterian church.

She asks that members notice the date, as this meeting will replace the one originally scheduled for February 3.

Details of the program will be announced next week.

Building in City is Found Far Below That in Township

Permits issued for the building of homes in Plymouth township during 1948 far outnumbered those issued for the construction of residences within the city, a survey of records this week pointed out.

Ernest Rossow reports that 53 new homes were begun in the township during the past year. This number far surpasses the 15 for which permits were issued in the city.

In comparing the figures of 1948 with 1947, a decline is shown in the number of homes under construction in both the township and the city, although the most decided drop was experienced within Plymouth proper. For 1947 the city reported 39 permits for home construction, and the township books showed 62 had been issued there.

Although the figure for the construction of new homes within the city was low for '48, the number of permits for remodeling of present structures was about four times greater.

Planning Begins for PTA Carnival

A magician, cake walk, fish pond, movies, side show—all are among the events already scheduled for the Central PTA carnival on Saturday, February 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Groth are chairman of this year's program. They announce it will take place in the Central Grade school, beginning at 7 p. m.

Assisting the chairman in planning the carnival are: Mrs. Nellie Bird, Dr. and Mrs. Elmore Carney, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson.

City Library Resumes Story Hour on Tuesday

Story Hour will be resumed at the library through February and March, with the first of the new series presented next Tuesday, February 1.

Mrs. Agnes Pauline, children's librarian, will conduct the programs which begin at 3:30 p. m.

City, Township Tax Collections Total $335,000

A final tally of receipts for school and county taxes collected up to the January 10 deadline, showed that over $335,000 had been collected in both the city and township.

In the city, where collections totaled $170,697.02 up to the deadline day, this constituted 92.6 percent of the total amount billed. Last year at this time collections hit the 93.3 percent figure. The township's $176,000 was figured at approximately 95 percent of the total to be collected.

According to City Treasurer Charles Garlett, the city billed for a slightly higher figure than last year, due to the building of new homes within the past 12 months. In the township, where a mushroom growth has been experienced in both the building of new housing and industry, the rise was appreciable, states Supervisor Charles Rathburn.

The township's evaluation is now set at over $10,000,000, while the city's is $9,568,290.

City treasurer Garlett pointed out that delinquent taxes will be held until March 1, at which time they will be returned to the county treasurer. Up until that time they can be paid at the city hall with a four percent penalty.

A tax levied in Plymouth for city purposes last July totaled $143,524.35. At the present time 97.6 percent of this tax has been collected.

State Elimination Debate Tourney Here Wednesday

Plymouth will play the role of host for the first phase of the State Elimination Debate tournament on Wednesday, February 2, at the high school.

Local Fire Chief Limits Capacity In School Gym

Plymouth's fire department moved into the high school last week and came up with some new regulations that will cause no little concern among local basketball fans.

For a number of years high school games have packed the present high school gymnasium, the halls and the second floor corridors of the school. At almost every game the school records in the neighborhood of 475 paid admissions and in every case there are at least 200 people turned away in addition.

The new recommendation of the fire department is that no more than 370 people be accommodated at any basketball game or other athletic or recreational activity in the gymnasium. At

Jaycee Auxiliary News

Members of the auxiliary heard Mrs. Austin Whipple, commissioner of Plymouth, speak at the January 20 meeting.

She gave an informative talk on the commission-manager government in Plymouth, pointing out reasons women should be interested in their local government.

Commissioner Whipple outlined some of the plans of the government for the future, and announced some of the accomplishments of the year. Included were the two way radio for the police department which will soon be in operation, and the food ordinance which was recently passed.

Mrs. Whipple also discussed the fact that new water for the city has been promised for May. Cake and coffee were served following the discussion.

The board met at the home of Mrs. William Otwell Monday evening.

Hough PTA Changes Date of Next Meeting

The next meeting of the Hough school PTA will be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday, February 2, instead of Friday, February 4, as previously announced.

According to a PTA official, the change is being made because the February 4 date conflicted with the scheduled 4-12 meeting which will take place at Eloise.

PTA valentine plans will be discussed at the next meeting, she disclosed.

Hospital Question Arises at Meeting of Rotarians

Talks dealing with their Rotary classifications were given to the club last Friday by Paul Johnson and Dr. Charles Westover.

Both Mr. Johnson, who is elementary coordinator of Plymouth schools, and Dr. Westover gave sketches of their educational backgrounds and present work. Before concluding Dr. Westover threw out a statement to the Rotary members, contending "Plymouth should support a hospital." The consensus of Rotary opinion, as expressed by one of the officials, was, "Isn't that the truth! And shouldn't we as interested citizens be giving the matter a lot of thought?"

Were it not for the misfortunes of our neighbors, life would be positively unbearable.

Old Documents Added to Record

A small piece of paper, slightly discolored with age, serves proof of the fact that Hiram Passage was introduced as a scholar in the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school on May 20 of 1857, close to a hundred years ago. It was found recently by his uncle, Frank Passage, in the family Bible of Andrew and Saphrona Passage. The couple had been Mr. Passage's grandparents. The slip of paper stated that Hiram was "entitled to all the privileges of said Sunday school during punctual attendance and good behavior." A similar slip was found for 1858, issued on July 5 when he was eight years old. At the time it was presented to Hiram, J. B. Brunfield was superintendent of the Sunday school. According to Mr. Passage, the Rev. Frederick Poole, pastor of the Methodist church, is going to have the membership slips placed in the church cornerstone.

Fire Damage at Allen Rises to $2500 Worth

Damage incurred during the January 13 fire at Allen Industries was found to rise when officials completed an investigation. Last week reported at $150, a company spokesman states the fire actually inflicted $2500 worth of damages. At that time 97 packages of jute broke out in smoldering fire when a spark got into the carload during the packaging process.

A help-wanted ad in the New York Times recently read, "Secretary with intelligence, personality, and at least three years legal experience for interesting post close to boss full of ideas..."

In Madison, Wisconsin, the state A.A.A. announced the appointment of a new safety director: Earl G. Messecar. In Bloomington, Illinois, George Quarrels was pinched after picking a fight with a bartender.

Auxiliary Slates Amateur Show

Interest expressed by local students has acted as an incentive for members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary to again sponsor an amateur night for children in the city. Arrangements have been made to hold it in the high school auditorium on March 5.

According to Mrs. Marvin Kleinschmidt, chairman of the program, there will be three age groups for children to enter. The groups will be: five to nine years, ten to 14, and 15 to 17 years of age. Three prizes will be awarded to each group. The first will be five dollars, the second, three dollars, and the third, two dollars.

This year the auxiliary has secured the assistance of many music teachers in selecting the talent for the program. School children who are interested should contact Paul Wagner at the high school.

Mrs. Kleinschmidt states that the program will be a public performance, and she adds that the auxiliary hopes there will be a large attendance to encourage the students. Details concerning the sale of tickets will be announced later.

Change Requested In Building Code

The city will soon receive a request from local builder Daniel S. Mills asking for permission to build shell houses in Plymouth. In making the request for a change of the present building code, Mr. Mills will point out that there are two very definite bottle necks in the home building business in the city.

The first bottle neck, according to Mr. Mills, is the demand of the national veterans groups for 4% mortgage money, a request that the last congress granted. "Since the veterans are standing pat for a four percent interest rate on mortgages, banks throughout the country will not handle them, giving as their reason the fact that there is no 4% money available for this purpose," says Mr. Mills.

Local banks agree that this is probably true but they also further point out that this factor, coupled with the much higher building costs, makes it highly speculative for them to participate in this type of financing.

From a local angle, according to the builder, many local residents are prohibited from having homes in that builders may not build shell houses under the present code. Mr. Mills pointed out that in his case he would be able to provide several homes that would be livable and could be sold for $4,800, including the lot.

Shell homes are those that are finished on the exterior and the inside finishing is left to the purchaser, either in its entirety or in part.

Mr. Mills will also quote from a recent issue of "The Builder", an official publication of the building trades when he makes his request and attempt to show that in terms of dollars it does cost more to build a house today than it did in 1939 but that in terms of labor exchange it actually costs no more.

An excerpt from an article dealing with this question says, "In terms of the local FHA cost index, current housing costs are approximately double those of 1939. So the $6,000 house of 1939 becomes the $12,000 house of 1949. But less labor effort is required to buy the $12,000 house, because the number of dollars received by many workers for a similar period of work has more than doubled and even tripled since 1939."

Scouting Officials Hold Election at Annual Meeting (Continued from page 1) are: Mrs. Thelma Cushman, former treasurer; Mrs. Arno Thompson, former registrar; Frank Walsh, out-going finance chairman; and Mrs. William Arscott, former training chairman. It was explained that all terms are for a three year period, and officials are permitted to be re-elected to only one successive term.

A nominating committee was also elected, and serving on it now are: Mrs. Walter Hammond, Mrs. Carl Finney, Mrs. H. Carson, Mrs. Sam Dibble and Mrs. Paul Simmons. It will be the duty of this board to fill any vacancies that may occur, and to make out the list of candidates for office for the next election.

Mrs. D'Haene Entertains for Daughter's Birthday

Ice cream and cake was served by the hostess to Robin and David Kisabeth, Phyllis and Wayne Kisabeth, Gordon, Mickey and Jerry Kisabeth and Sandy and Judy Kisabeth.

Oil by Plymouth Artist Entered in Boston Exhibition

Further recognition for artistic achievements is awarded to Donald J. Thrall of Plymouth with the entering of one of his oil paintings in the 16th annual exhibition of the Boston Society of Independent Artists.

The showing is open to the public until tomorrow, Saturday. A graduate of Plymouth High school with the class of 1936, Mr. Thrall has already won high laurels in this area, including a first prize in the Scarab club contest for his abstract oil painting titled "Reflections". He was also granted the position of director of the Detroit Art association.

Employed as a teacher at Cass Technical High school in Detroit, Mr. Thrall studied for his profession at Michigan State college, Columbia university, Skowhegan Art school, Black Mountain college, and Arts and Crafts in Detroit. The Plymouth artist has exhibited extensively in Detroit and New York, and his work is represented in many private collections.

"Tenement" is the title of his entry in the Boston showing.

More than 500 artists from 23 states, Italy and Belgium have entered works in oils, pastels, water colors, charcoal, print and sculpture. This non-jury exhibition is sponsored by New England's leading museums and schools.

In Plymouth Mr. Thrall resides at 288 Irving avenue.

In Cambridge, Massachusetts, jail officials asked a group of boisterous little boys to move on away from the street corner; they were keeping the prisoners awake nights.

Board Sponsoring Curriculum Study Workshop Here

A school curriculum-study workshop sponsored by the local board of education will open in Plymouth on February 9 under the auspices of Wayne university.

It is expected that workshop study groups will be composed of teachers, school administrators, parents, students, Plymouth citizens representing local business, industry, as well as other groups of the community. Invitations have been issued to a number of the city's organizations to send members to participate in the study. However, the board of education invites any organization to send representatives, whether or not it received a letter to this effect. Likewise, the board asks any interested private citizens to join the workshop. Full particulars regarding hours, fees, meeting time and other details may be obtained from the superintendent's office.

"The purpose of the workshop is to begin the study and evaluation of the present school program in grades from kindergarten through high school. The tremendous changes of the past 29 years make it inevitable that there should be new demands on the public schools," said Superintendent Helmer Nelson. "Whether or not Plymouth schools are meeting these demands is one of the questions which the study groups of this workshop will attempt to answer. Present arrangements indicate that there will be three resource people provided by Wayne university to assist the various groups on the problems with which they are dealing. Others may be called on as needed."

The workshop procedure will differ from the traditional classroom procedure. It will be marked by free discussion in which the knowledge, opinions and experience of all members of the group will be drawn on in attempting to solve the problems before the group. Reading and contributions of resource people will be drawn on to supplement the resources of the group.

Meeting of School Survey Committees is Planned

A general meeting of all committee members who were appointed by the school board to serve in the survey program will be held next Thursday, February 3, at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Discussion is planned to center around the raising of the millage, and the work of each committee.

Wild Lifers Plan February Dinner

Plymouth Wild Lifers will gather for a spaghetti dinner on Wednesday evening, February 16, President B. E. Champe disclosed this week.

Further planning done by the group calls for holding the dinner in the Western Wayne Conservation clubhouse on Joy road.

Committee chairmen appointed for the affair are: dinner, Roy Crites; refreshments, Russ Powell; tickets, William Morgan; contest, Walter Beglinger.

Carnival Theme Tops Scout Rally

Freak shows, side shows, and a parade were only a few of the things highlighting the Wednesday night Girl Scout rally in the Presbyterian church.

All troops in the city took part in the event, each putting on entertainment adapted to the carnival theme from 7 to 9 p.m. Two of the Brownie troops formed a tin pan band which led the parade of all Scouts. Two other troops of Brownies sponsored concessions, including lemonade and pop corn stands. During the evening spot prizes, and prizes for high scorers were awarded.

College Official is Hi-12 Speaker

Television, including a demonstration and story of its development, will be presented to Hi-12 members by Walter Rensel next Wednesday evening, President Lawrence Lyons discloses.

At this week's meeting T. W. Roberts, supervisor of Wayne university, spoke to the organization. His topic was "Wayne University's Place in the Community."

During the course of his discussion he told the group that the number of students at the university has risen to 21,000, placing the school in the position of ninth in the country.

Plymouth to See New Pontiac Tomorrow Sackett Warns of Snow Hazards

The long-awaited, much speculated upon 1949 Pontiacs will be revealed publicly tomorrow, Saturday, as two completely new and strikingly beautiful lines of motorcars at Berry and Atchinson's, 847 West Ann Arbor trail.

Harry J. Klingler, general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division and vice president of General Motors, described the new Pontiacs as "The finest motorcars we have ever produced."

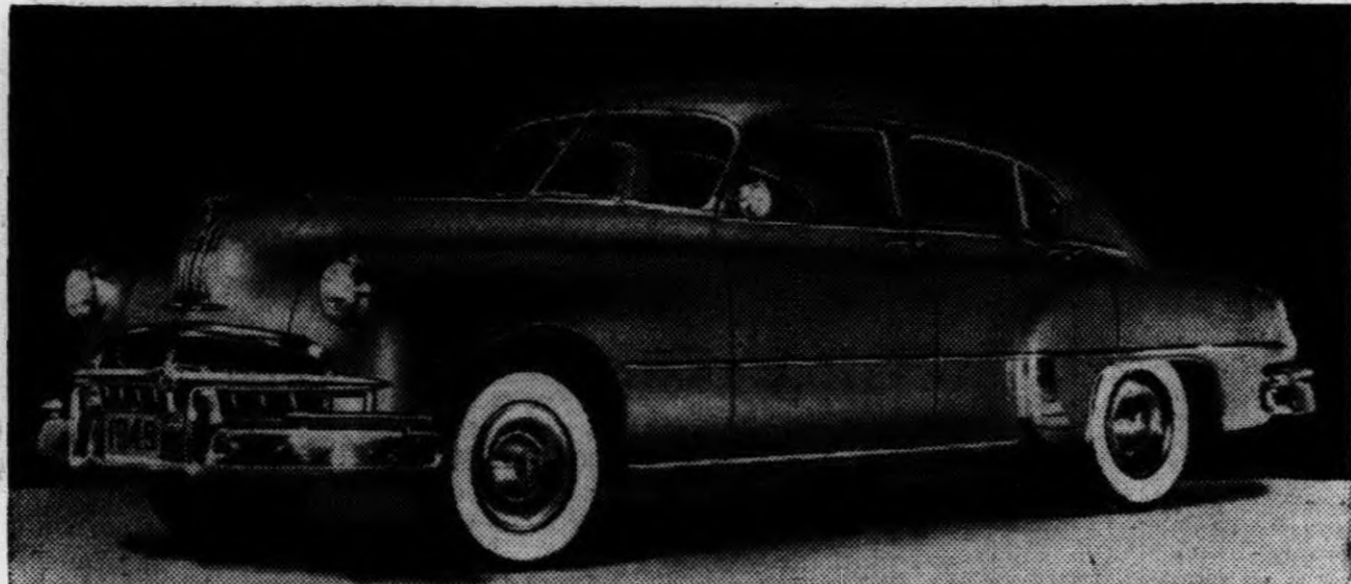

Pontiac offers the public two "New Looks" for 1949. The Chieftain series is an entirely new concept of functional beauty distinguished by its ultra-styled rear pattern. The Streamliner series is an advanced rendering of the flowing design factors popularized by Pontiac.

Both Chieftain and Streamliner series use a 120 inch wheelbase. The Torpedo line has been discontinued, Mr. Klingler said.

Sleek surge has been gained by lowering the hood with an added safety factor compounded by reduced pillars and curved windshield whose gleaming sweep has been increased nearly six inches.

Body contour is in the modern manner and yet unmistakably Pontiac. Front fenders sweep openly through the doors to the rear fenders which are integrated with the rear quarter panels.

Roof lines have been lowered 2.5 inches resulting in a breath-

This is the four door deluxe Pontiac sedan in the Streamline series. Forward thrust has been gained by lowering the hood. Body contour is in the modern manner and yet unmistakably Pontiac. Added safety is compounded by reduced pillars and a curved windshield whose gleaming sweep has been increased nearly six inches. Both Pontiac Streamliner and Pontiac Chieftain lines use a 120 inch wheelbase and Hydra-Matic transmissions optional at extra cost.

taking silhouette. In the rear end design Chieftain and Streamliner take different routes to the common goal of modern beauty.

The Chieftain embraces modernistic styling adapted to Pontiac individuality. This consists of two arched steps from roof crown to trunk deck, to lower edge.

The Streamliner rear will be pleasantly reminiscent to the many fanciers of this design type and has added appeal through its 1949 treatment. The Silver Streak accentuates both series.

Rear fenders are classical in their uninterrupted symmetry. They are high-lighted by circular triple purpose stop lights and tail lights, which may also be converted to directional signals.

Just as the exterior of the 1949 Pontiac is distinguished by a complete lack of automotive "ginger-bread", interiors carry out the motif of elegant simplicity, comfort and safety predominant in Pontiac's selection of interior features: —Both lines have up to 38 per cent more glass area front and rear. —Seats are wider front and rear and the doors. Floors are level with door sills. The Pontiac ride has been improved by moving the rear seat well forward of the rear axle, cushioned between the front and rear springs. An added dividend is added hip room by avoiding the space-taking wheel housing.

The front seat has been moved four inches forward and because of the increased width it has been possible to move the steering column two inches further to the left, giving additional elbow room to driver and front compartment passengers.

Pontiac will make ten body types for 1949 and with two exceptions each may be had as standard or with certain refinements which Pontiac designates as its Deluxe models. Exceptions are the convertible which is available with deluxe equipment only and the sedan-delivery, a swank commercial vehicle new to the Pontiac line, standard equipped only. Two station-wagons are available: in all steel construction and in wood-and-steel.

Pontiac owners may choose, as in the past, between the 90 horsepower six cylinder engine, and the 104 horsepower eight. Compression ratio with standard is 6.5, well in the upper range of American motor cars and not requiring premium fuels.

Seventy five percent of 1948 Pontiacs were ordered with Hydra-Matic drive—an indication of the public's enthusiasm for this automatic transmission. Pontiac in 1949 will continue to supply Hydra-Matic as optional equipment at extra cost.

Old man winter dropped a blanket of light snow on the city this week, causing motorists to reduce speed and pedestrians to step more carefully.

Several accidents have been reported to the police department recently, declared Chief Lee Sackett. Accidents which did occur involved reckless driving, pulling into moving traffic, stop street backing, driving without lights, red light, improper turn. He added that 17 accidents occurred after 3:30 p.m.

Chief Sackett reports driving conditions as normal, and cited most of them due to carelessness.

Chief Sackett took this occasion to warn motorists that this is not a deep snow. "A street just ahead may appear to be clear, but to the driver's surprise, a frozen puddle or slippery stretch might send his car skidding into another vehicle, a pedestrian, or into a ditch," said the chief.

He pointed out that streets may be dry in the morning, covered with snow at noon, and turn icy by nightfall. Streets may be clear for blocks, yet a patch of ice or small drift of snow can spell trouble unless the motorist is alert to sense danger and alive mentally to avoid it.

"Pedestrians, particularly elderly persons and younger boys and girls, need to be given special attention by drivers," the chief noted. "Children quite naturally are thrilled by the early snow, and they'll be out with their sleds to coast on neighborhood hills. I urge all parents to admonish their boys and girls to be careful when coasting."

Declaring that the major winter driving hazards are skidding and reduced visibility, Chief Sackett offered the following rules for preventing traffic accidents at this season of the year:

- A. Test brakes for simultaneous gripping. Have tire chains in car, and use when needed. Check windshield wiper and defroster. Be sure lights are working, and in proper alignment.
- B. Reduce speed. Contrary to the belief of many, adherence to the legal speed limit is no guarantee of safety on winter roads. Often, speed must be kept to 20 miles per hour, even less, to avoid collision with other vehicles or pedestrians.

C. Allow plenty of room between you and the car ahead. Avoid need for sudden stops. Be especially cautious in passing. When not protected by tire chains, light application of brakes on-off-and-on to point of impending skid will give better control than a single strong pressure on the brake pedal.

D. Take it easy on curves, even when aided by sand or chains.

Decrease speed well in advance of intersections or curves. Go slow on bridges.

E. Tire chains are indispensable under extreme conditions of ice and snow. They cut stopping distance about in half, and they provide needed traction—often essential for getting underway or climbing a grade.

Citing the National Safety Council, Chief Sackett said that more Americans have been killed and injured since Pearl Harbor by traffic accidents than were killed or wounded in the war, and that winter is a salient of the traffic safety problem.

Ada Watson to Attend United Nations Conference at New York School

Ada Watson of 602 Coolidge, has registered for the Conference of the United Nations to be held February 16, 17 and 18 at Lake Success and New York university, under the auspices of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development and the New York university school of education, Dean Ernest O. Melby has announced.

The three day conference, held in co-operation with the department of public information of the United Nations and UNESCO will include observation of U. N. sessions at Lake Success, addresses by international officials and professional meetings at New York university.

A feature of the Conference will be a panel session conducted by 34 foreign high school students who will discuss the role of schools in building One World. The students, two from each European country participating in the Marshall Plan, will be in New York as guests of the New York Herald-Tribune and several trans-Atlantic airlines, to appear at a High School Forum in March under the sponsorship of the New York City Board of Education and the Metropolitan School Study Council.

Under the chairmanship of Dr. Goodwin Watson, the foreign high school students will conduct a free discussion of what the schools in their own countries have taught them about the people of the world and what more the schools can do to strengthen the concept of world government.

Other sessions of the conference will hear addresses by Pearl Buck, author and president of the East and West association; Cord Meyer, Jr., president of the United World Federalists; Byron Price, wartime director of censorship and now assistant secretary general, department of administration and financial services of the United Nations; Clark M. Eichelberger, director of the American Association for the United Nations; and several prominent educators.

Noting that the conference will be held immediately following the national meeting in New York of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development on February 14 to 16, Dean Melby said:

"The purpose of the Conference is to acquaint a group of educational leaders with the work of the United Nations and related agencies; to give them the opportunity to observe international activities at the United Nations headquarters; to meet and talk with international leaders; and to exchange professional experiences in developing an understanding of the need for international co-operation by means of courses, institutes, workshops and community-wide celebrations of United Nations Week."

the same time the fire department asks that when the gym is used for other purposes a limit of 475 be placed on the attendance. At the present time some 600 students are packed in the gym for special programs or assemblies.

Fire officials also request that there shall be no people standing in the way of egress and that all exits must be unlocked at all times. For social functions, at any time, the seating arrangements and decorative plans must also be submitted to the fire department for approval.

According to Superintendent Helmer Nelson, the school expects to comply with the request of the fire chief and at future basketball games the school doors will be locked after 370 approved visitors are in the building and admission to all others above that number will be forbidden. Mr. Nelson further pointed out that the policy of locking schools after so many people are in the gym had been practiced for several years by Northville and Wayne.

round, Flint and Lansing schools pitted against each other, and debaters from River Rouge and De LaSalle were put together. A bye was drawn for the Melvindale team.

The winner will be entered in the quarter finals which are slated for the last of February. It was in this phase of the competition that Plymouth lost out last year.

Who will debate for Plymouth will depend on whether the affirmative or negative of the question is drawn, stated Coach James Latture. Debaters for the affirmative team are Ronald Witt and Roger Kidston, while the latter and Ronald Hees make up the negative team.

According to Mr. Latture, the Plymouth contest may figure prominently in the outcome of the state tournament, since Flint Northern, and especially Lansing Sexton are strong contenders for the championship title.

Plymouth also has a good record for the current season, with both the championship of the Suburban B and Detroit Metropolitan Debating leagues under its belt.

Recognition was paid the local team this week by the Detroit Free Press, in which an editorial appeared which read: "Congratulations to the forensic team of Plymouth High school for taking the Detroit Metropolitan Debate league championship... It is our feeling that the ultimate aim of all education and culture is to enable one man to convey his ideas to another. The whole fabric of society depends on this ability to communicate, whether it is done with words, a painting or a mathematical formula. Young people who train themselves to be proficient with words and facts, as debaters must be to win, are laying down both a basis for their own success in life and a contribution to the world in which they live."

In Lannon, Wisconsin, Jim Wright returned home exhausted and empty-handed from a two-day, 60-mile pheasant hunt, learned that Neighbor LaVerne Schultz had bagged two birds in Wright's own backyard.

Finney Scores 22 As Rocks Lose To Ypsi Braves

Despite Larry Finney's best performance this season, 22 points, the Rocks dropped their fifth consecutive Suburban B cage game Friday to Ypsilanti 47-44.

The tilt played in Plymouth's outdated gymnasium was a heartbreaker for the local lads to lose. They had rallied to pass the Braves at the start of the fourth quarter 33-32. Those last eight minutes were the most thrill packed of the entire season as far as the Rocks' fans were concerned.

When Lowell Perry, the Braves mainstay, went out on fouls in the first minute of play of the final stanza things appeared bright for the Rocks. However, the Braves didn't falter. At the five minute mark Bob Raham sunk a two pointer to give the visitors a 39-37 lead. A moment later Wayne Strohl made the score, 41-37. Baskets by Finney and Phil Bosman in addition to another free shot by Raham put the score at Ypsi 42-Plymouth 41 at the automatic time out. At this point Dave Reitzel went out on fouls for the Rocks. Finney tossed in his tenth free shot of the evening and Bosman scored a field goal, while Strohl-Raham combination accounted for three points making the score read Ypsi-45—Plymouth-44 with a minute to go.

In the next 40 seconds Bob Houghton and Bosman missed three charity tosses and with 20 seconds left Bosman fouled Raham in a scramble under the Ypsi basket, Raham missed for once, but Strohl tossed in the rebound to give Ypsi a hard-earned 47-44 victory. The result was quite a bit different than George Maskin of the Detroit Times sports section pictured it. Maskin thought Ypsi would win in a breeze over Plymouth. How wrong can one be?

One bad quarter ruined the Rocks. Coach Klingeberger started Bosman, Bob Gow, Wally Dzurus, Jack Elliott and Keith Ebersole. However, that quintet couldn't stop the Braves, with the result that Ypsi hung up a 14-4 lead at the conclusion of the initial quarter. Mid-way in the quarter Klingeberger sent in Larry Finney, who was destined to have his best night of his career. He scored two free shots and Keith Ebersole tallied the Rocks only field goal to account for the four points. Finney scored three more free shots and a field goal in the second quarter to bring the margin to 23-15.

Early in the third quarter Dave Hill, Ypsi's star center, committed his fifth foul. At that point the Rocks began their rally. Klingeberger finally had his five best men on the floor in Finney, Bosman, Jack Scheel, Dave Reitzel and Bob Houghton. Finney tallied ten and Bosman seven to give the Rocks the lead 33-32 at the beginning of the fourth quarter. When Bosman put the Rocks ahead the old gym almost cracked from the noise of the crowd. However, the Rocks couldn't keep their strong pace and they took it on the chin for the sixth time this season.

Larry Finney scored 22 points on ten free shots and six field goals and Phil Bosman tallied 13 on six field goals and one charity toss to keep the Rocks in the game. Bob Raham, who held the Braves together after Perry and Hill went out on fouls, netted 16 for the winners.

Three Way Tie Exists in High School League

A three way tie exists in the Suburban B, not counting the game last night. The Plymouth-Trenton tilt was changed from Friday to Thursday, because Trenton has its J-Hop tonight. Without regard to the Thursday contest Trenton, Wayne and Ypsilanti are tied for first place.

The unbeaten ways of Trenton were jolted by Wayne Friday when the Zebras won in overtime 28-26. Jim Blakely scored the winning basket. Redford Union took fourth place in the league downing Belleville 51-42.

Tonight Redford Union is at Wayne and Belleville at Ypsilanti.

Two non-league quintets that the Rocks meet later in the season hooked up quite a cage battle Friday. Farmington swamped Northville 60-16.

Three Members Represent Club At Battle Creek

At a meeting of the Riverside Figure and Dance club two people were selected to replace former representatives of the club on the state association of the Amateur Roller Skating association.

The new members, Mike Zeleni and Mrs. Lee Sowles, along with the old member, Douglas Milne, attended a state meeting last Saturday at Battle Creek. The purpose of the conclave was to select the site and time of the state championships. The championships were tentatively scheduled for the Riverside roller rink on May 14 and 15.

The national roller skating meet will be held at the Earl Van Horn skating club in Mineola, New York, from June 27 through July 2. In 1950 the meet is slated for California.

At the present time the club is working on its seventh annual roller revue to be held at the rink on February 27-28.

Class D Fives Play at DeHoCo

For the first time this season the Class D quintets will play on the Detroit House of Correction floor Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. The first place Ramblers will collide with the once-beaten Rockets and at 9 p. m. the Hoots meet the Shamrocks.

First place was taken by the Bulldogs on Thursday, January 20, on the high school floor. The Ramblers paced by Ron Hees' 20 points stopped the Hoots 37-13. The losers were unable to score a point in the last half. Neal Lamphere tossed seven points through the hoop for the Hoots.

The Rockets crushed the Shamrocks on Wednesday, January 19, by the score of 37-4. Arley (Bob) Blackford poured 15 through the basket to aid the Rockets to the win. This was Blackford's last game before entering the navy. Pat Dowling was runner-up with seven.

First National Bank Leads Men's Cage League By Three Full Games

Heading into the home-stretch of the Men's Basketball league season First National Bank is flying high in first place three full games ahead of Tait's and Sport Shop.

Thursday, February 3, at 8:30 p. m. at the high school the Bankers will collide with Sport Shop. Sport Shop has inflicted the only defeat on the Bankers this season. Another top-notch game is on deck Monday at 8:30 p. m. on the school court when Tait's Cleaners faces Northville. The latter has suffered a reversal of form in the past few weeks and has dropped to fourth place. Tonight the winless Plymouth

Mail quintet plays at DeHoCo at 8 p. m.

Stopping Tait's and DeHoCo on consecutive nights the Bankers earned the right to first place. Monday the largest crowd of the season witnessed a close contest between the Bankers and Tait's. The winner of the game wasn't decided until the last few minutes when the Bankers took a four point lead. They kept that lead and won 36-34. Instrumental in the win was Don Huebler's nine points, and Art Gillis' and John Wilkie's eight counters. Dave McIntosh of Tait's sent in ten.

On the DeHoCo floor Tuesday the Bankers edged the institution's squad 46-43. Diminutive Hank Schultz gathered 17 points on seven field goals and three free shots. Slough remained in the leadership in the scoring race with 14. Ross had 13 and Cowboy Misialowski 12.

The second game of the evening saw Tait's coming through with a last period surge to down Sports Shop 45-37. Going into the final stanza Tait's led 28-22, but Sport Shop scored two baskets to reduce the margin to two points. Then the Cleaners rolled with John Sandmann hitting for eight and Bill Stout and Dave McIntosh collecting four each. Bill Stout had his best game of the season netting 21 points. Bill was unbeatable. John Sandmann, coach at Plymouth High, tallied 12. In losing, Sampier and Norman scored 18 and 14, respectively.

On Wednesday, January 19, Sport Shop gave Northville its third consecutive loss 47-40. The high man was Mac Pierce of Northville with 19 tallies. Norman and Schmidt of Sport Shop sank 14 and 10.

The march of dimes will be the recipient of all the proceeds of a game between DeHoCo and Northville Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. The game will be played at the Detroit House of Correction.

Rocks Reserves Take Suburban B League Lead

In this year of athletic instability at Plymouth High, one team stands out above the rest. That squad is the Rocks reserves under the able coaching of John Sandmann.

Sandmann, a product of the University of Michigan, has developed the pride of the Suburban B reserve league. By virtue of their victory over Ypsilanti Friday evening the young Rocks took undisputed possession of first place. In winning 44-14 nine fellows of the 12 man squad scored. This last item shows that winning is not a one man job, but a team performance.

The reserves opened their season dropping a game to Farmington 32-18. Since then Sandmann's crew has been winning games impressively compiling 225 points to the opposition's 146. The average of the seven games gives Plymouth 32 points per game and the opposition 21. Four times the opposition has been limited to below 20 points.

Friday's high scorers were Dick Fenton and Phil Jacobus with ten each. Jerry Huddleston netted seven. Alan Finney has tallied 38 points in seven games. Jack Elliott, who played in only four reserve games, has 38 also.

The leaders of the Suburban reserve league look forward to Tuesday, February 15, when they meet Farmington on the Falcons court. The Falcons inflicted the only defeat to the Plymouth reserves this season.

Joe's Jottings

by Joe Miller

Another athlete of the 1948 class of Plymouth High has entered the service. This time it is Arlen (Bob) Blackford, who joined the navy this week. He participated in football, basketball, baseball and track during his four year stay at PHS. Some of the other 1948 graduates now in service are Jerry Allen, George Buddy, Jay Daggett, Marty Kreger, Ed Veresh, Dick Runge and Ken Frizell.

Blackford will be remembered especially for his performance against Trenton two years ago in basketball. Coach Wayne Falan put the fiery red head on Jim Doyle, now the star of the once-beaten Central Michigan quintet. In a matter of a few minutes Blackford made Doyle foul out. Because of Blackford's work Plymouth almost beat Trenton for the championship that year. The Rocks lost in overtime 42-40.

Our neighbor to the north, Northville, has received its dates for the harness racing season of 1949 from Fred Harris, racing commissioner. Northville Downs will run from August 1 to October 1. The Downs is one of the most successful harness racing plants in the country.

What a prophet that man is. That man we refer to is Ed Brown, typing teacher at the high school. He predicted Plymouth by three points over Ypsi in the most thrilling game of the season. As you all know it was just the other way around, but it certainly was the best contest for thrills this season. We won a soda from Mr. Brown for we picked Ypsi. Brown says he wasn't figuring on the line-up that started for the Rocks. Even Larry Finney didn't start. By the time the right team got in the game the Rocks were trailing the Braves by ten points. We're not trying to run down the fellows who started for they are all good players, but they are a bit green.

With such a fine performance Friday the Rocks may take the role of spoilers in the Suburban B race. Last night for instance they played the Trenton Trojans on the home floor. On the small home court the Rocks are tough to beat as Ypsi can well attest to. In two years of playing on the Plymouth floor Trenton has been lucky to come out with a win. In 1947 Trenton just edged the Rocks 42-40 as we mentioned earlier in the column. That year the down river boys won the league championship. Last season the Rocks swamped Trenton by 18 points and Trenton tied for the title. Maybe history repeated itself last night.

One of the cheapest basketball attractions of the season is on tap at Detroit's Olympia tomorrow evening. The feature attraction pits twice-beaten Lawrence Tech against Niagara university. In two high school games Hamtramck meets Highland Park and St. Gregory opposes St. Theresa. All this costs is adults $1.25 and 60 cents for high school students. The program begins at 7 p. m. The promoters of these games should be congratulated, for the young fans of today will be the regular fans of tomorrow. One rarely finds any promoter lowering the prices for high school students.

We ran across an interesting article in the Detroit Free Press the other day. It said—Referee Jim Loring is tired of being pushed around. The youthful Highland Park official has written the Michigan High School Athletic association to have some action taken against his latest aggressor.

It seems Loring was knocked down by an irate bench warmer Sunday during the Mt. Clemens St. Mary's-Warren basketball game. The ref had called a personal foul on a St. Mary's player. A teammate leaped from the bench and dropped Loring with a right hand punch. This act almost incited a riot among the fans, but the police finally broke up the melee. Loring promptly forfeited the game to Warren. Later he said he had written Charley Forsythe, director of the MHSAA. He termed the incident "uncalled for" and said "he expected action".

Loring, a sandlot baseball umpire during the summer was involved in a brawl last season with an American Legion team manager.

Loring has refereed two Plymouth basketball games. This season, one with Belleville and one with Redford Union. After seeing him officiate we can readily tell why he was the center of two fights. His work is different from the average referee, so different in fact that some people can become provoked in a short time.

In Bettendorf, Iowa, Used-Car Dealer C. W. Boughton stuck a sign on one of his autos: "Grab It Now!" Cops were soon hunting the thief who did exactly that.

Trophies Displayed Here

World championship trophies are among those displayed in the window of the Plymouth Sport Shop, all of which have been won by the Stroh's bowling team of Detroit. The display was made possible through the efforts of M. Powell and Son distributors. The team formerly held the world's A.B.C. championship, the world's match game championship, and the title of international champions. Mr. Powell also announces the team is the only one in the country to win and hold for one season the three highest honors possible to attain.

Olds Meets Daisy In Girls Game Thur. Night

Still possessing an unblemished record in the Girls' league, Oldsmobile faces its toughest test in recent weeks on Thursday, February 3, against second place Daisy. The game will be at the high school at 7:30 p. m.

The second placers downed Plymouth Hardware 17-5 on Monday, January 24, as Schields tallied eight points. On Thursday, January 20, Plymouth Mail bowled to Daisy 17-15. Evans and Davis each accounted for six of the winners points. Tate scored five for the Mail.

ASTROLOGY
Your Weekly Guide by G. Cardinal LeGros

ONENESS
Everywhere—twixt sun and sod Listen to the song of God.

With the rain upon your face, Be at one with time and space.

Gaze into a rose and see Fathomless Eternity.

According to an Associated Press release on December 27th, 1948, the rarest ruby in the world is now on display at the American Museum of Natural History. This remarkable gem, which came from Ceylon, is priceless because it is the only ruby in the world that contains a twelve-pointed star. It may be the fabulous Ruby of the Zodiac, lost for ages, but now reappearing in the Plutonic Age. The planet Pluto is said to rule vast wealth. The beautiful stone is of a deep, violet red and about the size of a small marble. Perhaps we shall hear more about it astrologically.

Question: My birthday is— and the fellow I am going with was born— Could you tell me what my horoscope reads in the future in regard to marrying him? My mother objects so I would like to know if you advise this marriage or not.

Answer: If this young man is living up to the best that his horoscope promises, I would heartily approve of him as a husband for you. He should develop into a good business man who is both a philosopher and a go-getter. His ambition will be to accomplish good in the world rather than achieve personal glory. And his ideals are high. He has Sun trine, Saturn and Uranus, indicating good heredity, long life, and a serious mind with fine concentrative powers. Older people should benefit him as he goes along. Sun square Jupiter gives a tendency to over-eat and sometimes drink too much for one's own good. But otherwise you could do a lot worse in selecting a mate. His Mars is in good aspect to your Venus—a testimony of harmonious physical and emotional adjustment between you. It would depend a lot on you to help him bring out the excellent promises that his birth-chart holds. A woman can make or break a man, and your responsibility would be great.

Your own horoscope shows a quick, sharp, almost brilliant mind and considerable nervous tension with the Mutable Air sign Gemini rising. You should be clever with your hands and talented along musical lines. Your personality is of the magnetic type and quite attractive to the opposite sex. Don't make your husband-to-be jealous by innocent flirtations. He isn't the kind that would put up with it. Underneath your charming and no doubt fascinating exterior you are emotionally reliable and trustworthy. Don't spoil the fine impression that you can make by acting contrary to what you really are. Legacies and inheritances are quite possible during your life, and the parents will likely prove to be of assistance to you materially in getting started.

Don't run and get married next week. Wait until summer and get better acquainted with the young man and perhaps bring your mother around to knowing him better. Try hard to make them friendly. After all, she has cared for you a long time, and her approval would mean much as far as your real happiness is concerned. You are inclined to be a bit reckless and headstrong at the present time because the planet Uranus is in conjunction with your first house Mars. Wait a few months until you quiet down. And in the meantime do everything you can to help your mother see what a fine person this young man really is.

The writer will be glad to help you solve your problems through the science of astrology. Be sure to include your complete birth-data when writing. G. Cardinal Le Gros, 1111 Burlingame avenue, Apartment 405, Detroit 2, Michigan. TOWNSend 5-5096.

Smith Describes Life in Hawaii

A sight he'll never forget, was what Forbes Smith saw when he was piloted over the erupting volcano in the Hawaiian Island recently.

He described the incident in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith. Smith is employed under federal civil service as inspector for the flying lines.

The country there was described by him as "beautiful", and the climate as hot. The letter to his parents gave the temperature as 110 degrees in the shade. Swimming is an everyday past time Smith stated, as he told he is brown as an Indian.

With the closing of Hickham Field, Smith expected he would have to return to the states. His transfer, however, sent him to the navy airport at Pearl Harbor.

His parents said this week that he sent best regards to all his friends here.

The Temptation of Jesus.
Lesson for January 30: Luke 4:1-13.

Memory Selections: Hebrews 4:15
Immediately after his baptism Jesus was tempted by the devil. He was tempted as a man. Otherwise, it would have been no temptation to him and no example to us. Jesus as a man overcame because he was in perfect union with God. And so may we overcome temptation by union with God.

Jesus was tempted to use his divine power to escape the ills he was to suffer as a man, and to hasten his work. In each of the temptations Jesus vanquished the devil with the word of God. It is a great thing to be fortified with the holy Scriptures.

Weakened by fasting and being hungry, our Lord was tempted to turn stones into bread. But Jesus said: "Man shall not live by bread alone." Then the tempter invited Jesus into an alliance—to gain all the kingdoms of the world and their glory. How silly seems his promise in view of the fact that the "earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof." Lastly, the devil set Jesus on a pinnacle of the temple and urged him to cast himself down, work a miracle to save himself and thus meet the popular notion of the Messiah.

Falling in his efforts, the devil departed from Jesus for a season. He may depart from us for a time, too, but be sure he will return. If we vanquish him now, he will try again. Continue to be fortified by living closer to God.

Episcopal Church Play is Tonight

This Friday evening, January 28, the distinguished actor Walter Abel will star in "The Goose Hangs High," adapted for radio from the play by Lewis Beach, to be broadcast over station CKLW at 8 p. m., under the sponsorship of Episcopal churches.
In this story of over-indulgent parents and selfish children, Bernard Ingals (Walter Abel) and Eunice Ingals sacrifice their own ambitions and pleasures to give their college-age children the best of everything, states the Rev. Alexander Miller, rector of St. John's Episcopal church.
It took a real crisis in the Ingals family to teach both generations that family happiness depends on understanding and cooperation rather than on the giving and taking of material things.

Sponsored by families of the Protestant Episcopal church and the Episcopal Actors' guild, "The Goose Hangs High" is the 18th presentation in the radio series, "Great Scenes from Great Plays".
The church's message everywhere play for people everywhere without church affiliation is that—through the sound Christian training found in Sunday schools and in church membership—millions of families have grown together in the inner strength and harmony that is the basis of real living happiness.

Television Aided by Car Innovation

Television fans can thank Pontiac Motor Division engineers for an innovation which will improve video when subject to automotive interference, states Ross Berry and Norman Atchinson, local representatives.

Because many Pontiac engineers are video enthusiasts they were aware that electrical impulses from spark plugs, coil distributor and their connecting wires may interfere with television waves and cause distortion on the screen.

Since electrical impulses are directly proportional to the length of wire through which they pass, Pontiac solved the problem by locating the ignition coil on top of the engine, thereby decreasing wire length by 75 percent and greatly eliminating any chance of video distortion.

If your television screen remains clear when a car drives by, you'll know it's a Pontiac.

Just because some British scientists have been eating wild birds' eggs for two years to learn which are palatable, don't any of our good Michigan folks try the same experiment when spring rolls around.

It's decidedly 'agin the law' to disturb any bird's nest in Michigan.

The consensus of opinion of those British scientists, you might be interested in knowing, is that most of the eggs of wild birds are pretty good.

Using hen's eggs as a standard for the tests of 81 varieties of wild birds' eggs, the scientists kept a flavor chart which showed that the tastiest eggs are those of the chaffinch, hedge sparrow, moorhen and gull. Even magpies', house sparrows' and carrion crows' eggs taste better than those of the wild duck, much to the surprise of the investigators.

If you like different tastes in your eggs, you might like to try those of the oyster-catcher bird which sometimes taste like onions and sometimes taste like nuts.

Eggs which are edible but fail to make the mouth water belong to the skylark, rook and robin.

Enigmatically, some fish-eating birds have eggs that are free from a fishy flavor while some woodland birds' eggs have a decided fishy taste. It seems to indicate that the flavor of a bird's egg does not depend on what the bird eats.

The scientists made wry faces when they ate the eggs of wrens, linnets and cormorants, which were described variously as rancid, soapy, sour, salty and bitter, but they considered delectable the taste of an omelet made from the eggs of chaffinches, albatrosses, Jack daws and white necked cranes.

So far, however, the hens' eggs are not in any danger of competition. Fried, poached, scrambled or hardboiled, they are the tastiest eggmeat to cross man's palate.

Don't think for one second that Michigan's mineral wealth is fast disappearing. Frequently in recent years you have heard it said that Michigan's iron and copper and other mineral industries are about washed up.

You will be interested in knowing that Michigan's conservation department in a recent report estimated that the total value of Michigan mineral products is placed at $185,452,500.

The first interim report of the state's mineral industries in eight years estimates that iron ore, petroleum, cement, natural gas and salt mined or produced in 1947 again will account for approximately two-thirds of the total valuation. The other third, includes stone, sand, and gravel, raw clay and other minerals.

The 1946 valuation represented 1.9 per cent of the nation's total and places Michigan in twelfth rank. The state is first in the production of salt, magnesium compound and gypsum and second in iron ore.

A more complete picture of Michigan's mineral industries is now being compiled by the department's geology division for release at a future date. This interim report was prompted by numerous inquiries from Michigan industries, teachers, students and others. Copies can be secured by writing to the geology division of the conservation department at Lansing.

Conservation officers are calling the attention of ice fishermen to the law requiring that all shanties must be marked with owners' names and addresses.

The law states: "All structures and shelters placed or used on the ice shall be identified on outside with name and address of owner in letters of insensible material not less than two inches high to be readily seen. All such structures shall be removed before ice conditions become unsafe."

Under the law the department may remove and store or destroy such structures and assess the costs of same to owner in addition to penalties which may be assessed for violation.

Glad to see where Lloyd Eagan of the Detroit Sportsman is recommending the appointment of "Frenchy" Paquin as a member of the state conservation commission.

In the last issue of the Sportsman, Editor Eagan says: "In April the term of Harold Titus expires as Conservation Commissioner. We understand that he flatly refuses to accept reappointment. Titus comes from the Traverse City area. This leaves a vacancy in the north country."

"Frenchy" Paquin, who was formerly head of the Educational Division of the Conservation Commission, now resides near Gaylord, Michigan. Sportsmen from that part of the country are strongly in favor of his appointment to fill the vacancy when Titus' term expires. Perhaps no person knows what the Conservation set up is better than "Frenchy". He saw the whole picture for almost twenty years from the inside looking out and had more contact with the public than anyone in the department. He knew what the sportsmen were thinking. He knows what the customers want. He knows the strong points as well as the weak in the Conservation set up.

It is your writer's opinion that his appointment on the Commission would meet with the hearty approval from sportsmen all over the state. All Governors have made it a point to pick commissioners from different parts of Michigan. It makes for a better understanding. While there are a few self-starters from other sections, they haven't much chance.

To maintain the herds of big-game animals at levels consistent with the available range on the four fenced big-game refuges administered by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 239 buffaloes, 123 elk, 125 mule deer, and 11 white-tailed deer were removed from the areas during fiscal year 1948, as were 68 Texas long horns. Whenever possible these animals are donated to city and State parks and zoos for exhibition purposes while the remainder are sold or given away to various Federal, State, and private agencies for propagation of food.

If you want to know anything about any old thing, just come to Michigan and find out.

That age old question—did Pocahontas really save the life of John Smith, or did Captain Smith embellish the story of his capture by the Indians when he published it some 20 years after the incident was supposed to have happened—has now been answered at the University of Michigan.

The legend lives on, but many competent historians agree that Smith probably took the story from an adventure attributed to an earlier Spanish explorer, Dr. Randolph G. Adams, director of the Clements Library of American History at the University of Michigan, points out.

"In the year 1607 Captain John Smith was captured by Indians in Virginia," Dr. Adams relates. "He told the story in a long letter published in booklet form in London a year later. About all that happened was that he was taken before an Indian chief, treated kindly, and sent back to Jamestown."

Later, when Captain Smith returned to England, he found that Richard Hakluyt had published a book on Spanish adventures in America, "Virginia Richly Valued," in which he told a yarn of how one Juan Ortiz was captured by Indians. The Indians were about to burn Ortiz at the stake, when the chief's daughter intervened and his life was spared.

In 1642, Captain Smith published "The General Historie of Virginia"—copies of early editions of this book and of Smith's letter are contained in the Clements Library—in which he tells a different story of his capture. This time, Dr. Adams points out, the story was the familiar one in which Pocahontas rushed to Smith's defense at the critical moment.

"Whether or not Captain Smith purloined the Ortiz story is a question, although many competent historians who know something about human nature agree that he probably did," Dr. Adams points out.

However, there's some "poetic justice" in the tale. When Smith published his "General Historie," he illustrated it with some engravings, one of which shows a "very husky Pocahontas interceding for the life of a diminutive John Smith," the Michigan historian says. In 1839, the story of Juan Ortiz was retold in a book called "Indian Captivities or Life in the Wigwam." This time, the story of Ortiz is illustrated with a woodcut redrawing of Smith's adventure!

Juvenile Court Official Speaks to Business and Professional Women

Advancement which places the Wayne County Juvenile Detention home in a group made up of the best in the nation has transpired in the last seven years, Ernest L. Bridge, registrar for the juvenile branch of the Probate court told Plymouth's Business and Professional Women's club Monday evening.

Since 1942 the Wayne County Board of Supervisors pushed a program which culminated in an up to date playground, school, two houses, and additional help, he enumerated.

"The daily population in the home averages 300, with the ra-to set at approximately one girl to two and a half boys. Quoting further figures, Mr. Bridge announced that 95 percent of those in the home are there for doing wrong. The remaining five percent are there because they are not wanted or neglected.

From 1945 to 1948 the number handled by the court annually has dropped from 4,800 to 4,400, but, he warned, "Don't let this drop give you false optimistic hope." He pointed out that today the court and city police departments are handling more than before under a crime prevention program. This alone accounts for the drop, Mr. Bridge emphasized.

Prior to Mr. Bridge's introduction by Mrs. Austin Whipple, chairman of the club's legislative committee in charge of the program, Mayor Frank Henderson spoke to the organization. Plymouth's chief official pointed out current programs of the city commission, and action which will take place in the near future.

During the evening, Margaret Jean Willoughby sang three selections for the group.

Other members of the legislative committee who assisted in planning the program were: Mrs. Arthur Mills, Mrs. Ada Murray and Miss Beth Sutherland.

Ray and Virgo Nuptials Officiated Tuesday

At a candlelight ceremony in St. John's Episcopal church on Tuesday night, January 25, Rosemary Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ray, became the bride of Richard Virgo.

Mr. Virgo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Virgo of South Harvey street.

White lilies and lighted tapers decorated the altar of the church for the 8 p. m. ceremony at which the Rev. Alexander Miller officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white gabled suit with black accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of violets.

Mrs. Ann Altman of Northville attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a beige gabardine suit with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Attending the bridegroom's asbest man was his brother, Sam Virgo.

For the wedding Mrs. Ray wore a grey crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Virgo was attired in a navy blue dress and her flowers were also yellow roses.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Virgo left for their wedding trip to Chicago. For traveling Mrs. Virgo chose a yellow suit.

Mrs. Virgo was graduated from Plymouth High school and Michigan State college in the class of 1947. Mr. Virgo was graduated from Plymouth High school and is a veteran with three years service in the Navy. At the present time he is attending the University of Michigan.

The young couple will make their home in Ann Arbor until Mr. Virgo completes his studies at the university.

While many Plymouthites prefer Florida sunshine to the Michigan snow, it seems several Southerners chose the north as their winter vacation land.

Arriving from Norfolk, Virginia to spend several days in Plymouth were Mrs. Alton Richwine and son, Johnny. On Friday they were guests of honor at a luncheon given by Mrs. Wilfred Wilson. Other guests were Mrs. Alton Richwine Sr. of Munroe, Mrs. William Spencer and Mrs. Glenn Wilson of Wayne, Mrs. Walton Richwine and Mrs. George Richwine of Plymouth.

From the very near South were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader who were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Prescott of Dixon, Illinois.

Honoring the Prescotts Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Smyth entertained at dinner on Saturday night. Their guest list was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Laible and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader.

Other entertaining during the week included a dinner given on Monday evening honoring the birthday of Mrs. Richard Daniel by her uncle, Charles H. Bennett. Invited to join in the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Lyons, Richard Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dunn, Pauline Peck, and Edgar Peck.

And on Saturday evening the employees of the First National Bank and their guests gathered at the Ridgewood drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor for a co-operative dinner.

Mrs. Bauman, the bride's mother, was attired in a blue velvet dress with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Vlasic chose a black crepe dress

Plymouth Cooks Told Pots and Pans Important in Saving of Vitamins

Plymouth homemakers are spending hundreds of dollars for cooking equipment these days with the purpose of cooking to save vitamins.

A few suggestions from Pauline Paul, foods researcher at Michigan State college may help you decide what equipment you need to cook efficiently.

Nutritive value is not the only important factor in cooking. If your fresh or frozen peas turn out olive green and mushy and no one eats them, your family will not get those vitamins you tried so hard to save.

There are two ways to lose vitamins from food. One is to leave food exposed too long to air or heat. The other way is to allow them to dissolve in too much cooking water and then to throw the water down the drain.

So there are three points to consider to save vitamins in cooking. Cook foods in the shortest possible time, at the lowest possible temperature and with the least water. Again you have to consider the food to be cooked.

If you cook strong flavored vegetable like onions, broccoli and rutabagas in too small an amount of water they will be too strongly flavored. More water

Red Cross Nutrition Aids

The recent storms and cold weather in many sections which supply the country with fresh vegetable during our winter season are sure to be reflected in Plymouth markets. Naturally the decreased supplies of fresh produce will mean increased prices.

But that's no reason why our families should suffer from a lack of tempting vegetable dishes and the important minerals and vitamins they supply. Grocers' shelves are well stocked with canned products which were preserved at the peak of the season by methods which assure the retention of a maximum of flavor and food value.

Proper handling is necessary to make sure that canned vegetables will retain these qualities when they are served. A careless cook can waste a fantastic amount of food value and flavor.

The Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross reports that about 40 per cent of the vitamin C in a can of green asparagus and about 25 per cent of the calcium in a can of green beans are contained in the liquid. These figures were found in a six-year research program recently completed by the canning industry.

It's reasonable to believe that comparable figures apply to other food products and elements. This shows that it's important to use all of the liquid in the can. To avoid having a plate swimming with juice you can drain the liquid from the vegetable and simmer it gently until it has evaporated to about half its volume before putting the vegetable in to heat. Season and serve the vegetable as soon as heated to avoid further loss of vitamin C.

When preparing creamed vegetables or cream soups, cook down the juice as suggested above and use it as part of the liquid for making the white sauce. For extra flavor and richness, combine it half and half with evaporated milk.

Utilize these delicious juices in soups, gravies and vegetable drinks. Many homemakers store juices drained from canned vegetables as well as those they prepare from scratch in a tightly closed jar in a refrigerator.

Use the juice from canned beets for a tart sauce when making Harvard beets. It can also be used, as can other vegetable juices, for preparing molded gelatin salads. The flavor is far richer than when water is used to dissolve the gelatin.

Among the canned vegetables most plentiful at the present time are corn and peas. Look for special values among the lower grades of peas. They're excellent for preparing any of the mixed dishes for which a few recipes are suggested.

PEA SOUFFLE
One No. 2 can peas, 3 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt (optional), 1/3 cup milk, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 medium sized onion, grated, 4 eggs, separated.

Drain peas and measure 2/3 cup of liquid for the sauce. Chop peas slightly. Melt fat in saucepan, add flour and when well blended, stir in milk and vegetable liquid. Cook until thick and boiling, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add seasonings, peas, onions and egg yolks which have been beaten until thick and lemon colored. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry, and fold into mixture. Place in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F. for 50 minutes. Serve at once with well seasoned mushroom, cheese or tomato sauce. If liked, canned peas or diced carrots can be used instead of peas.

HAM VEGETABLE CASSEROLE
One cup thin white sauce, 1/4 pound grated American cheese (1 cup firmly packed), 1 No. 2 can peas (beans or diced carrots), 1 cup diced cooked ham, 3/4 hard cooked eggs, cut in eighths, 1/4 cup dry bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine.

Drain juice from peas and cook down until half its volume. Add milk to make 1 cup liquid. Use liquid with 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tablespoon flour to make the white sauce. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Remove from heat, add cheese and stir until smooth. Add eggs, ham and drained vegetables. Divide among four individual baking dishes and top with bread crumbs mixed with 2 tablespoons melted fat. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F. for about 20 minutes or until heated through and brown. Serves 4.

VEGETABLE JUICE COCKTAIL
One cup juice drained from peas, beans or asparagus, 2 cups tomato juice, 3 or 4 sprigs celery leaves, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 1/8 teaspoon minced onion, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, dash Worcestershire sauce.

Mix ingredients together in tightly closed jar, and chill in refrigerator for an hour. Strain and serve. Amounts of seasonings and combinations of juice can be varied to suit individual taste. If asparagus juice is used, the amount of tomato juice can be increased to 2 1/2 cups.

Successful Parenthood

MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS

Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

ONE of the best secrets of happiness is to learn that you don't have to have a great deal of the things you like in order to keep them a part of your peaceful enjoyment of life. A walk to the grocery store can be sippy if you haven't time to take a country bike. One piece of candy adds to the pleasures of taste and is far better for the figure than four pieces.

Similarly, in the realm of physical well being, frequent rest periods of five or 10 minutes—if you can't find an hour for a nap—will prevent painful end-of-day weariness and afford a lot of fun throughout the day. Moreover, this stop-and-go method of working will enable you to accomplish more in a given time than if you stick doggedly at a task until you are overcome by fatigue.

One young mother who discovered the value of little rests throughout the day found that she regained her girlhood sense of happiness and joy through doing her work in this carefree way. I think you would be interested in some of the things she squeezed into these moments of rest. The first was for that "second cup of coffee" which mothers find so peaceful after they have got the children off to school and father off to work.

When the breakfast dishes were cleared and the baby fed, a second rest period was used for Bible-reading. The third 10 minutes off were spent doing posture exercises, the fourth in leisurely hair brushing. After lunch there was a short interval for complete rest, with eyes closed and feet up to let the blood circulate freely in the face and neck. (That is a marvelous beauty treatment, too.) In mid-afternoon just before the daily outing with the children, they listened to records together.

One of the pleasantest of this mother's rest periods is one which would entail hard work for most of us—she loves to sew and looks forward to evening hours when she can work on clothes for herself and the children. But lest she ever become grim about this favorite task, she takes turns reading aloud with her husband and 10-year-old son. They pick a good adventure story and each reads for 10 minutes at a time.

Many hobby which doesn't require getting out a lot of equipment can be enjoyed in snatches. Several men and women of my acquaintance are now enjoying the music lessons they passed up as children. And the only way to get books read is to grasp at short periods of time for finishing a chapter.

One thing is certain, television will probably teach us all stop-and-go methods of working!

Navy is Top Color in Spring Suits; Coats, Short or Fitted, All Flared

Navy is a leading color this spring, with about half the suits being shown in it. Many of those in other colors are made up in a new soft, thin tweed. Coats for spring are either short and flared—or long, fitted and flared. Marian Corey writes about these and other spring and summer fashions in McCall's for February:

"Last year when you walked into a suit department to look over the new suits, almost every one was grey or greyish. This year, they all seem to be navy; dark navy, light navy, bright navy. If navy is not your color, take a second glance and discover that about fifty per cent of the suits are in other colors—greys, beiges and browns. Simply quantities of these, mostly in men's wear fabrics. Also tweed suits, looking different, not thick and lumpy at all, but fine and soft and thin.

Suit skirts are slim and straight. They come below mid-calf, about 12 or 13 inches from the sidewalk. The classic man-tailored suit is back in the fold. Jackets are mainly average length, and many suits have some sort of hip interest. One classic suit in Glen plaid has everything very trim and tailored, but there is hip interest in big pocket flaps.

"A good-looking navy suit is semi-tailored and semi-soft, which means wearable. Hip interest shows up in the pockets. The material is gabardine, still the big favorite. Another suit is in fine monotone tweed, and its hip interest isn't too noticeable, but it is there in the cut and the buttons. It is a young soft suit shown in, and perfect for, grey flannel. Above all it has cuffed three-quarter length sleeves. Both suits and coats of the dressy type are going in for such sleeves.

"One new short coat is made as Paris makes them, with a voluminous flare all the way around—wonderful with spring suits, and wonderful for sports. Tweed is its new fabric. A one-button shortie is also a spring-suit coat, and a summer sports coat. But all the ripple is at the back. Huge patch pockets are just for fun.

"A princess coat in navy is the long coat of the spring and summer. One such design puts an accent on figure, curving in very much at the waistline, flaring out very much at the hem. Another princess coat has more conservative lines. Its flare is more moderate. With three-quarter sleeves, it is dressy, just right with prints.

"One striking sun-dress has a halter top. It is also the proud possessor of a bolero which shades it and makes it respectable for the street. Nice spot of black fullness in the skirt, and there's a back zipper. A good sea-sun-and-fun suit is a three-piece, with a scoop neckline and a bare midriff. And so that no one may take the covering up of the skirt seriously, it buttons down part way only. It is a very full skirt.

"Black boleros are something new for white or pastel sundresses. How smart that up-flicked collar. There are lots of breezy collars in the mode now. The dress itself has back fullness and huge patch pockets. A fly-away collar gives a summer casual dress a good send-off. Many casuals go in for such breezy effects. It's a marvelous between-season design for jersey, a good gingham one for summer."

Down Under Florida Palm Trees

The Plymouth Mail's "Rambling Reporter" finds news, here, there and everywhere.

Wouldn't believe it would you—that Mrs. Maude Schrader, a lifelong resident of Plymouth and vicinity who recently purchased a winter home at 344 Potter road, West Palm Beach, Florida, is not only a most skilled landscape artist, but she is a gardener who takes care of the flowers and shrubs as well.

Out on the "prowl" the other day in search of Plymouth news for Plymouth Mail readers way down here in this section of Florida where the weather during winter is balmy all the time—(almost)—all the time, the Rambling Reporter walked in suddenly on Mrs. Schrader at her new home and—would you believe it—she was as busy as a bee in the rear of her residence making flowers grow where Atlantic ocean sand was blowing just a few months ago.

Daughter Evelyn is busy, too. Like her mother—in fact, like the entire Schrader family—she finds it necessary to keep busy doing something most of the time. She is now doing very well in a managerial position in one of the nicest dress shops in Del Ray. Maybe you know it, but Del Ray has one of the finest ocean beaches there is along the entire Atlantic or Gulf coast lines.

When not visiting with old Plymouth friends and new West Palm Beach friends, Mrs. Schrader spends nearly all of her time in the flower garden she designed and set out in the rear of the new winter home. She has been anxious to have it grow fast and furious because it will not be long before son Edwin and family of Plymouth will be coming down for a few days stay—and it would never do not to have a big flower garden in full bloom when they arrive.

The attractive residence is on the south side of West Palm Beach, lying between the old Federal highway and Route No. 1, a little over half a block off Route 1. It is not too far from the downtown section and the entire neighborhood has the appearance of being a most desirable one.

Mrs. Schrader and her daughter were alone in their home during both hurricanes last fall.

"It was some experience, with the wind blowing like we had never heard it blow before. And the rain came down just as though it had been dumped out of buckets. But we experienced no damage and played cards a good share of the time because we were warned on the radio not to go out doors. It was not as bad as it all sounded, though," said Mrs. Schrader.

"We thoroughly enjoy the beautiful winter weather we have down here, but we do miss our Plymouth friends so much. You'd be surprised to know how anxious we are to see them all next summer. I guess that's the way it is when one is away from home as many months as we have been," she added.

Winter home of Mrs. Maude Schrader and daughter Evelyn on Potter road in West Palm Beach.

Next week Mrs. Margaret Norton of Rochester, a sister of Mrs. Schrader, will arrive to spend a few days with her. Mrs. Norton who has served most efficiently as secretary of the Michigan Cosmopolitan board, recently resigned the position not caring to continue in office after the end of the Sigler administration. Mrs. Norton has for years been one of Michigan's most active Republican executives. She does expect to continue her political work, however.

Queer sometimes how you find out news about Plymouth folks, especially when the home folks are away from home. The Rambling Reporter thought he knew everything about what Plymouth people do, think and say. But he had to come way down here to Miami to find out that good old law-abiding John Jacobs ran afoul of the law last fall when in Miami attending the national convention of the American Legion.

Yes Sir—John paid a $1 fine to Miami police and as a result got a two column heading in The Miami Herald. But the humiliating part of it all is the fact that the smarty old Rambling Reporter didn't know a thing about it until he ran out of news the other day and really had to go to work to find something to write about.

It all happened, according to the reliable Herald, just after the big Legion parade took place last fall. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs parked their car in one of those nickel-slot machine sections of the street, then went into a cafeteria to get a lunch. It was nearly an hour before they could wait on themselves and by the time they got out of the cafeteria, some two hours had elapsed.

Although his car was nearly a block away, John saw as plain as day a policeman's ticket on it, which charged him with over-time parking.

Mad as a wet hen, he went up to the traffic bureau of the Miami police department slapped a dollar bill on the desk and then told the police just what he thought of the whole business in the usual Jacobs' emphatic way of telling 'em off.

"Why didn't you do as the rest of them do, keep the ticket as a souvenir to take home with you?" said the polite officer in charge.

"We don't do things that way up in Michigan. We pay our fines if we get pinched" declared John as he headed for another convention pow-wow.

So unusual was the fact that anybody attending a Legion convention should pay a traffic fine, The Miami Herald featured the whole business under a two column heading in the next morning issue of the paper.

Met John the other day up at Trailer Haven at Fort Lauderdale. He was pretty cool to the old Rambler. The folks back home who are running The Mail while the editor is out working like nobody's business, or the postoffice man, didn't get John's paper to him week before last. He wasn't going to talk unless the Rambler could produce a copy of The Mail that he didn't get.

It's no fun being in Florida unless we can get The Mail" said John. Mrs. Jacobs agreed.

Chapter No. 2 about the Jacobs' will appear in a later edition.

When hurrying down to the postoffice the other day to get some "red hot" copy off to The Mail, noticed an automobile going down the street ahead with a "Hines & Owens" license holder on the rear of the car. Crowded the car to the sidewalk, blocked traffic for nearly a block to find out who the driver was. He was right from good old Plymouth, having arrived down here just three or four days ago. The driver of the car proved to be Frank Sonderegger, brother of Carl who operates the Sonderegger Funeral home on North Main street. Frank came down here to spend a few weeks with his parents who are at Coral Gables for the winter. The parents live in Midland and know well Phil Rich, an old friend of the Rambler.

Hadn't heard of the William Jennings Bryan Bible class for years until the other day when a singer who had conducted a musical program for the class at a recent Sunday meeting, was invited to sing at a Rotary club meeting. The Rambling Reporter then recalled that after Bryan had petered out in politics, he came down to Florida and started the William Jennings Bryan Non-denominational church out in Coconut Grove. The church is still flourishing and its men's Bible class which the mighty orator from the banks of the Platte started, is still in existence and is said to be one of the largest men's Bible classes in the country.

If any one has any idea that the south is going to accept Truman's civil rights program, they'd better make another guess. The other day five West Palm Beach police officers were acquitted in a

Mrs. Schrader working in flower garden. On day this picture was taken, mercury in Plymouth stood just a little above zero, and cold winds kept Plymouth residents indoors.

FEDERAL court trial of beating a colored boy who had been accused of larceny. The jury was out barely five minutes.

According to the Miami News, the Exchange club of Miami recently called upon all police departments of this area to enforce bans against inter-racial social gatherings, which is described as "detrimental to our community welfare and morals."

"In a resolution forwarded to police chiefs in all Greater Miami municipalities, Exchange club members urged that where no such bans exist, ordinances be enacted to halt the 'growing tendency'.

"The resolution declared, 'It is our belief that inter-racial social gatherings or dances could lead to race prejudice and create a serious as well as dangerous situation.'

"The Exchange club move came only a few days after the American Legion post 98 of Coral Gables had called for a complete investigation as to whether recent Negro and White social gatherings might have been Communist-inspired. The Legion post also urged the University of Miami to probe student participation in such affairs and dismiss as 'undesirable' any who attend.

"Both actions, and an earlier one by the Harvey Seeds post of the Legion, were taken in connection with a Negro-White dance held recently at 1998 NW 3rd ave., next door to a Negro night club, which was broken up with a warning from both Negro and White police officers."

School Gives Out New Handbook

Last Wednesday, January 19, Plymouth High school handbooks were given out to the students by their class advisers. The handbooks were compiled by the Quill and Scroll society and the administration.

In the front of the book is a list of the faculty members, class officers, and the members of the student council. Next are the rules and regulations, activities, and clubs, then the course of study offered. The students are asked to have their handbooks at their homeroom meetings.

Polio Drive Ends in Local Schools

The drive for the Infantile Paralysis campaign was ended January 24 at Plymouth.

The canisters were placed in the class rooms where students contributed. The Hi-Y members who distributed the canisters also collected and counted the money. The total amount was about $100.

Biology Students Visit Museum

Ross Hedricks and his morning classes of biology visited the Natural History museum of the University of Michigan on Tuesday morning, January 18.

The classes had completed two units of work in the gradual development of plants and animals, which represented the geological periods of time. These records are deposits of the fossil remains in the earth's strata of sedimentary rock.

In the University Museum the geological periods are illustrated with the actual fossilized material on educational exhibits. The complete animal and plant phyla are represented from the simple to the complex.

The students saw birds and a few animals of Michigan which are represented in their natural environments. Among several other things which the classes saw were the structure of the prehistoric mammal, the saber tooth tiger, and the development of the horse's hoof from the cenozoic age to the present time.

Mr. Hedricks remarked, "My biology classes and I wish to extend our thanks to the personnel of the museum for their help."

In Holyoke, Massachusetts, Basil Keighly, charged with extortion, admitted to police that he had been taking $50 a month from Lillian Smith as a "fine" for "kissing and hugging" a friend eight years ago.

Athletic Teams May Acquire New Name

Rocks—will Plymouth teams always be called by this name?

A suggestion was made at a student council meeting two weeks ago that the name of the athletic teams, Rocks, be changed. The main reason is that there is not enough pep in the name, but also the name is often the object of unfavorable jokes from other schools such as "You have "Rocks" in your heads" or "chickens" (white rocks).

The student council plans to sponsor a contest for the choosing of a new name. The suggestions are to be placed in the new student council suggestion box along with a 75 word or less essay explaining why that particular name was chosen. The person submitting the winning entry will receive two basketball tickets for a home game; the second best, one ticket. The following committee was chosen at the January 19 meeting to be in charge of the suggestion box: Margie Tait, Ted Thrasher, Bob Bowen, Bud Young and Dorothy Curtis. The council acted upon Cyrus Pierce's (principal) suggestion to have about 20 flags made with a white "P" on a blue background to be placed on poles around town when any school event is to take place. The committee chosen is: Allene Burns, Barbara Finnegan, Casey Cavell and John Britcher.

The Varsity club initiation was also approved. A committee composed of David Green, Saxie Holstein, Wilma Lature and Jackie O'Neill was chosen to make plans to orientate new pupils to our school.

Cheerleaders Sponsor Dime Dance After Game

Cheerleaders sponsored a dime dance after the basketball game Friday, January 21, which proved to be successful.

Records were used to supply the music for the dance which started about 10:15 p. m. and lasted to 11:30 p. m.

The climax of the dance was when the Varsity clubs' new members formed a circle and sang, "Ring Around the Rosey", as part of their initiation.

The profit which was made from the dance amounted to a little over $30. This money will go to the Cheerleading club, which will help provide money for the cheerleaders' new cheering pants and the girl cheerleaders' new sweaters.

Girls' Basketball Tourney Begins

Girls basketball teams have been chosen this week, and the tournament will begin February 8.

Each class met and chose its own captains. Freshmen captains are: Shirley Pine, Carolyn Smith, Thelma Trombley and Eleanor Rutherford; sophomore, Betty Bilow, Mary Lou Austin, Dorothy Curtis, Norma Helm; juniors, Verma Rice, Mary Vincent, Connie Pascoe; seniors, Lois Packard, Jean Agosta and Sally Holcomb.

"Genies", the name of Jean Agosta's team, is the only one nicknamed thus far, but all teams will choose names.

No games will be played next week because of exams, but the sophomores will practice February 1, and the freshmen February 4. Leaders club girls will officiate all games in the tournament. They have also been officiating the practice games.

Science Club Has Hay Ride Party

Eight couples attended the Science club hayride with Ronnie Witt, Gladys Witt and Roger Kidston chairmen and Pat Zink, in charge of collecting the money.

The wagon was rented in Salem. Walter Goodwin, high school math teacher, acted as chaperone.

Following the hayride, the group enjoyed refreshments and dancing at the home of Robert Smith, chemistry teacher and Science club adviser.

Seniors Choose Prom Chairmen

Jim Butt and Barbara Goodbold, general co-chairmen for the Senior Prom, working in conjunction with the senior executive board, have chosen chairmen for nine committees to work on the prom.

Betty Mino has been placed in charge of the all-important decorations committee, while Jerry Shannon heads the committee for lighting and construction. Joy Evenoff and Larry Bentley together will take care of publicity. Joe Miller is chairman of the ticket committee, and Lois Packard serves in the same capacity on the chaperone committee.

The orchestra committee will be headed by David Mossman, the invitations committee by Madelyn Fedell, and the entertainment committee by David Heinzman. Last, but not least, comes Irving Stewart, in charge of clean-up. Other members for these committees have not been selected as yet.

A Rumanian proverb covers the situation in that country today: "When the Russians help us, they always take something away."

First Inauguration Over TV Viewed by Students

Students of Plymouth High were among those in the country to see the first television inaugural ceremony, Thursday, January 20.

This was made possible by three local stores who donated six television sets. The merchants who were responsible for the students seeing President Truman being inaugurated were: William Rose of the Plymouth Hardware, Dave Galin and Blunks, Incorporated.

Two sets were placed in the gymnasium, one in the senior high study hall, one in the library, one in Room 13, and one in Room 22. In this way, the students were able to see most or all of the ceremony. Some of the students also were able to see part of the elaborate parade which followed the inaugural ceremony.

Even though most of the students will never actually be present at an inaugural ceremony at Washington, they will not forget the local merchants who made it possible for them to see the first inaugural ceremony shown by television.

If you have a social item or any other local news, phone 1755.

Rafferty, Zander Given Play Leads

Leads in the junior play, "George Washington Slept Here", were given to Dorothy Zander and Fred Rafferty as Annabelle and Newton Fuller, owners of a broken-down, legendary farmhouse in Buck County, Pennsylvania.

The play will be given February 16 and 17 and the cast, picked by Miss Louise Spence, dramatics teacher, includes Garth McAllister, Pat Pine, Clifford McClumpha, Barbara Cushman, Marcella D'Haene, Dick Zielasko, Pat Rucinski, Paul Harding, Earl Rafferty, Don Helm, Henry Levering, Nancy Stevens, Diane Arscott and Don Houghton.

In Birmingham, John Gourley, treated and released by the hospital after being hit by a car, returned in a few minutes after being hit by a taxi.

Helmer Nelson is Among School Administrators Attending Session

More than 300 superintendents of Michigan public schools met in Grand Rapids last weekend for the midyear meeting of the Michigan Association of School Administrators.

Among the administrators attending was superintendent of Plymouth's schools, Helmer Nelson. He stated the earlier part of this week that issues vital to present day schools topped the discussion topics for the two day sessions.

The school men had their headquarters in the Hotel Pantlind. The opening session was held in the Black and Silver room of the Civic auditorium, beginning at 2 p. m. Friday.

On the program were Dr. Lee M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, who reported on the work of the Citizens' committee on educational legislation; Charles E. Brake, president of the Michigan Education association, presented a report on the state education authority and area studies; Harold H. Wilcox, superintendent of Osceola county schools, on "Extension of the County Superintendent" and the community school district bill, and Wilfred F. Clapp, assistant superintendent, state department of public instruction, on "The School Building Program."

George Walkotten, superintendent, Albion, president of the M.A.S.A., presided. Also scheduled was a discussion of the proposed State Aid bill, led by Russell H. Wilson, superintendent, Alpena, immediate past president of the Michigan Association of School Administrators, with the following schoolmen as "resource persons": Mr. Brake, Mr. Clapp, Earl E. Mosier, chief, teacher education and certification, state department of public instruction; C. L. Taylor, chief, finance, state department of public instruction, and Mr. Wilcox.

For purposes of clarification a general discussion followed.

Brief reports were made by committee chairmen as follows: Federal aid to schools, Howard D. Crull, superintendent, Port Huron; membership, George T. Cantrick, superintendent, Monroe; meetings, C. W. Bemer, superintendent, Muskegon; the professionalism of the superintendency, W. L. Berkhof, Mt. Clemens; retirement, Harley W. Holmes, superintendent, Marshall.

The subject of recruitment of teachers also was dealt with in detail.

Albert J. Phillips, executive secretary of the Michigan Education association, was secretary to the sessions.

Saturday morning's session was devoted to general discussion and summation, and resultant recommendations of the Michigan Association of School Administrators on the proposed state aid bill.

Noon adjournment was planned.

Fruit Growers Told of Prevalent Virus Diseases

Dr. H. B. Tukey, head of Michigan State college's horticultural department, issued an announcement of great importance to Plymouth fruit growers when he stated, "Virus diseases which are increasing in number, reducing yields, and killing fruit trees are causing growing concern among American fruit growers."

Troubles such as codling moth, fire blight of pears, brown rot, and apple scab, are at least pests that can be seen, the scientist relates. Viruses, however, are different. They are cleverly devised to resist attack.

The world of science disagrees as to just what they are. Some say they are living organisms—others that they are just peculiar organic chemicals—and still others say they bridge the gap between the living and the non-living.

Their method of attack is different, too, Dr. Tukey reports. They do not band together in groups and attack from the outside but rather they filter inside the "host" animal—or plant—and into the individual cells themselves. There they live and thrive in competition with the vital processes of the living plant.

Because there is so much interest in virus diseases, the annual fruit growers' conference, which is held each year at Michigan State college, invited Dr. L. O. Kunkle of the Rockefeller Institute at Princeton, New Jersey, to address them. He described the viruses and told what they are and how they differ from fungus diseases.

To aid fruit growers to learn more about the virus diseases, Dr. Kunkle's address was printed by MSC and made available to the public. It can be obtained from the county agricultural agents or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan. Ask for circular bulletin 208, "Virus Diseases of Plants."

Marie Hartung holds the position as warden; Ethel Bulson, conductor; Minnie Ray, chaplain; and Thelma Zanders, musician.

Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"
I HAVE a letter from a young man who says he is convinced that he will never get ahead in the world because he could not finish high school. Well! Well!

So here's a story of a boy in Schenectady, N. Y., who didn't finish high school, either. He had to leave at the end of his sophomore year to help earn money to support his family. His name: Vincent Schaefer. You probably haven't heard that name before, but you have heard of something he did.

He got a job in tool-making with the General Electric company in that city. After a time he quit and became a "tree surgeon." But after another period of time, he found that he didn't love a tree as much as he thought he did, so he went back to his tools again. During the depression he needed a house—a home of his own. But he was so hard up that he couldn't buy one. However, he took care of that. He bought an old barn and rebuilt it with his own hands into a livable house.

During the last war he was assigned to work in military aviation and for this he had to study clouds. One day he told a fellow worker that he believed he could make it rain. The man looked at him pityingly and said, "Well, you will be the first man to do that since the beginning of time."

Of course, in the early days, there had been fake rainmakers in Kansas and the later Dust Bowl. They had sent up clouds of gas; the rain would gather around the particles in the gas, they said. If it rained within three days they would get $500. If it didn't rain, they would move on to a new place and try their luck again.

But Vincent Schaefer had a new and different idea. He had blown his breath into a cold jar and watched clouds form. Then he had scattered ice particles in the glass jar—and it rained within the jar, or, rather water resulted.

Why couldn't this be done on a larger scale? He went up in an airplane, scattered some dry ice above the clouds. It rained! You read of that in the papers last summer.

And the effect of Vincent Schaefer's experiment may prove to be miraculous. Wait and see.

We invite you to compare them, dollar for dollar—with particular eye to what the price includes.

ROADMASTER prices include Dynaflo Drive, that super-smooth transmission available only on Buicks.

Every price includes super-soft tires—plus the extra comfort of the widest rims in the industry. Every price includes Fireball valve-in-head power—plus new self-setting valve lifters.

So your dollars buy a matchless combination of ride and room and performance, of style—and size—and stepped-up visibility. And you get the four-square deal described in the panel.

So go ahead and shop the cars. Check the prices. Check what's in them. Check the deal you get. You'll end up at a Buick dealer, getting your order in!

PEEK AT THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY
NWNS Radio-Screen Editor

AM in receipt of a letter from Spike Jones, orchestra leader supreme and one of CBS' brightest stars, which you might like to share because it reads so much like him . . . Here 'tis in part: "We're grateful for the success of our current recording, 'All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth.' Incidentally, this has started an entirely new career for George Rock, who is the vocalist on this record. His new vocation is biting off bottle caps. We sincerely hope you're enjoying our new two-record album, 'How the Circus Learned to Smile.'"

"You may notice on the first record I use 14 men. On the second record there are only 10. I caught four of them reading music. True music lovers will have only one complaint about this album . . . the records are unbreakable. The story was written by Frank Tashlin who is writing a new picture for us called 'Kiss the Blood Off My Hand.'"

"With our all new 1949 Musical Depreciation Revue, we have added an artist with probably one of the most mediocre voices ever heard . . . He's not exactly a virtuoso. He's more of a virtuoso. His name is Plummer Friend and he has a great set of pipes . . . no voice, just pipes. You've heard of the Velvet Fog . . . he's known as the Seersucker Smog. His specialty is singing two songs at the same time. From the right side of his mouth he sings 'Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree,' from the left side he sings 'Life Is Just a Bowl of Cherries.' From the middle he blows out the seeds."

BABSON SAYS Babson Discusses "Free Food"

While we all are worrying about Russia and World War III, we must not forget that at any time some great revolutionary invention may develop which will take everyone's attention for awhile, off of Capitalism, Communism and every other "ism". I have in mind electronic experiments to greatly reduce the cost of canned fruit, vegetable and other juices whereby the new mineralized electrically enriched product will be more tasty and healthier than the present commercial products.

Photosynthesis Explained

Your value is measured by your energy, although this may be spiritual energy, mental energy or physical energy. This last shows itself in farm work, road and building construction, factory and office jobs and even home cooking or bed making!

To develop energy is the reason for eating, drinking and breathing. Upon this need of food for energy, the agriculture of every nation is based and, in fact, exists.

But from where does your energy come? It comes from the Sun in a wonderful way. The Sun's electrical energy, supplemented by air, water and minerals, is stored by photosynthesis in the vegetable products which we eat. After eating, by a reverse process, this Sun's energy is turned back again into human energy by electrical forces within our bodies. This is the entire story if you are a vegetarian. In case you eat meat, fish, eggs, etc., then there is also another intermediate process; but even then your energy really comes from the Sun!

Sun, water and air are already free. Hence, it will be necessary only to spend a very little for minerals and certain electric rays—to create human energy. This might make it unnecessary for us to eat the products of the soil except for bulk and as luxuries. Our appetites would be satisfied electronically and we would need never be hungry. I believe that one of the laboratories of the Atomic Commission is now working on such a dream. The carbon atoms may show the way. With such a discovery there would be no fundamental change in our present physical set-up. We would continue to get our energy from the Sun; but a large percentage of the present cost of raising foods would be eliminated. The first step would be to apply these experiments to canned juices of various kinds and later perhaps to dairy products. These will exceed in taste and nutrition certain present products and will give us the Sun's energy in a far cheaper and more efficient manner.

What Would Happen to Business?

What such a discovery would do to us economically I leave to your imagination! A limited amount of farm lands would be wanted for industrial products.

Rayon, pulp, plastic and many other manufactured materials will always be dependent upon products of the soil. We, moreover, will continue to demand certain "whole" vegetables and fruits. Our stomachs require bulk which cannot be satisfied by juices or pills. When one considers the labor now engaged in the raising and processing of products now sold as juices, many million people might be thrown out of work and forced into other occupations.

Lands now used for fruit and some other agricultural purposes could decline in value. Railroads which depend largely upon the transportation of certain agricultural products, fertilizers, farm machinery, etc. could suffer. On the other hand, other lines such as building, clothing, fuels, automobiles, recreation and real estate in sunny states could have a great boom. This confirms the need of broad diversification in our investments which I have constantly preached in this column. Of course, this change is not coming all at once. Electronic juice and milk may be healthier than present non-enriched liquids, yet no juices can equal properly grown whole fruit and leafy vegetable of which we should eat more.

What About World War III?

Such a discovery today could completely upset Russia's plans. With birth control and electronic foods, the arguments for Communism would disappear. Then we could have real world peace and a powerful United Nations. In fact, it is reasonable to believe that scientists at Argonne, Illinois, Brookhaven, Long Island, and Oak Ridge, Tennessee have this thought as their incentive which keeps them at work.

Ford Says United Fund is Sensible

"I'm for this thing because it makes sense," Henry Ford II told more than 250 Michigan community leaders representing 53 counties at the state-wide campaign mobilization meeting of the United Fund, January 13, in Lansing.

Started under the leadership of Ford, the United Fund is a new organization which combines in one campaign the fund-raising appeals of 18 state and national health and welfare agencies which formerly conducted separate campaigns.

Explaining the values of the United Fund plan, Ford said, "It makes sense. I'm sure we can raise more money in one united appeal than by continuing the separate appeals of the past drives which were a tremendous time consumer among volunteer workers who solicited the money and the public is getting 'fed up' with the many appeals which follow month after month."

Judge Charles C. Cabot, well-known Boston jurist and principal speaker at the mobilization meeting, pointed out that the United Fund movement, a pioneering effort begun by the citizens of Michigan to advance their health and welfare, "is being watched with anxious and hopeful eyes by all who are mindful of such things throughout the country."

"You have a difficult task ahead of you," he said. "You are planning and working for the total welfare of yourself and your fellow citizens. You are interested, not only in heart disease, or cancer, or infantile paralysis, or suffering caused by disaster; you are interested in the whole human being. Furthermore you are vitally interested in promoting this interest in the most efficient and economical way that you can."

Other speakers at the meeting who endorsed the plan were August A. Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO Council and J. M. O'Laughlin, president of the Michigan Federation of Labor. Resolutions from the Michigan Farm Bureau, and the Michigan State Grange endorsing the United Fund plan were read by J. M. Shackleton, president of the Fund.

Plans are being made in local communities for United Fund campaigns in February.

Letters that should never have been written and ought immediately to be destroyed are the only ones worth keeping.

Winter Means Extra Attention for Hens

To keep those hens laying well takes a little effort during cold weather, reports J. M. Moore, extension poultryman at Michigan State college.

During the cold weather, he advises Plymouth farmers not to let ice form on the drinking water. It takes a large amount of water to make eggs. Water should be kept warm and drinkable at all times.

Be sure the laying house is properly ventilated. Don't keep it closed up too tightly. Feed, too, is an important factor. Some green feed or well-cured alfalfa hay will help to keep hens active and sharpen their appetites.

Use of artificial light is a management practice that some farmers are adopting to keep up production, Moore concludes.

If living conditions don't stop improving in this country, we're going to run out of humble beginnings for our great men.
