

NATION MAKES QUICK RECOVERY.

Said President Truman during the campaign last fall—the state of the Union is rotten—just couldn't be much worse.

Said President Truman in his message to congress the other day, some 60 days after election—"I am happy to report that the state of the Union is good."

Funny how quickly an election can cure such a mighty sick patient as these United States were reported to be last fall.

That being the case, old Doc Congress might as well pack up his medical kit and go back home. There's no need of any doctoring in Washington if the condition of the patient is good as reported by the President.

OFF ON THE RIGHT FOOT.
Members of the school board are using good sense in their decision to make a complete study of the building needs of this district. There is no question but what Plymouth is in dire need of a much larger school plant. That need will become more evident in the immediate future when employes of the new industries that will move into the district begin sending their children to the Plymouth schools.

Some might think it foolish, but to our way of thinking the school gymnasium should be removed from the main high school building as quickly as possible, so that this additional space can be utilized for school purposes other than for gymnasium work.

We need a much larger space for the gymnasium activities of the local schools.

In fact the poor showing that our various athletic teams make in contests with other schools is due almost entirely to the training insufficiencies that our boys and girls must put up with. We sometimes wonder how they do as well as they do under present poor training opportunities.

Then, too, a school gymnasium in a community of this size generally serves as a community hall—and how frequently we in Plymouth have found it impossible to care for audiences that desired to attend certain events that have been scheduled for the city.

But this is just one of the problems that the school board must give proper study. Plymouth is emerging into a community that will be double its present size within a few brief years. We should lead, not follow, in our civic development—and our public schools are our most important civic responsibility.

UNCLE SAM CRITICIZES HIGH SCHOOLS.
The following news report from Washington, should and probably will be interesting to Plymouth parents who send their children to high schools, not only interesting to Plymouth but to every other community in the nation that maintains a high school:

An appeal for more "living material" in high school courses, as check on the alarming number of teen-agers who quit before graduation, is now going out from the U. S. Office of Education.

Out of every 100 youngsters who start high school, according to federal educators, 55 drop out before getting their diplomas. The nation's high schools, they claim, "don't make sense" for 60 per cent of our children and they attribute the high drop-out rate chiefly to "boredom and frustration." The teen-agers just don't see that education is getting them anywhere.

The appeal is made through a new report, "High School—What's in It for Me?" produced by the Federal Office for the Commission on Life Adjustment Education for Youth, and now being distributed to the nation's school administrators in an attempt to sell more modern curriculum to local education authorities.

Blame for the low appeal of high schools is attributed largely to the "choking hold of the myth of white collar superiority" on the curriculum, which has persisted since the days of the goose quill.

High schools are criticized for continuing to direct all their pupils toward the professions where the large majority have neither ability nor ambition in that direction.

The schools overlook, say the educators, the fact that the American "blue collar" worker has as much access to cultural advantages as the white collar man, and schools should give not only real work experience in the curriculum but "creative participation in our expanded cultural life."

Examples of the kind of courses recommended which are already successful in holding teen-agers in school are cited: Stenography pupils of the Sedan High School of Sedan, Kan., for instance, get credit for typing envelopes and getting out mail for welfare organizations. The home-making classes cook community dinners for farm groups for credit. Boys in vocational agriculture actually work for farmers as part of their credit earnings.

In Highland Park, High School, a course in marriage and family life is compulsory for boys and girls in the 12th grade. The Springfield, Mo., Senior High gives every 10th grade student a two-period course on problems of world population, world political institutions and all major religions of the world. In the 11th grade, every student takes a similar course built around American history events, and in the 12th they study American problems of today.

School leaders are urged to "look for the person in the student" and educate him for family life, for wise consumer habits, for citizenship, good working habits and for creative use of leisure time.

BE NOT TOO CRITICAL.
Judging from what the newspapers are saying, there is a lot of criticism of Governor Williams because of his discovery that new taxes must be imposed upon the people of Michigan if the state is going to properly maintain its hospitals, pay old age pensions, provide aid for dependent mothers and children and carry on other functions of the state government.

The Governor has discovered that something like $60,000,000 more in tax money is needed to maintain the financial structure of the state.

The Governor should not be blamed for pointing out this condition—but where he is to be blamed is for making the assertions he did during his campaign last fall when he led the people of Michigan to believe that by electing him governor, he could take care of the state's needs by strict economy in the conduct of the state's business and more rigid tax collections.

The Governor should have known that the Michigan state government has to a very great degree been a somewhat miserly one in many respects. He should have known when he was advocating the diversion of the greater portion of the state's income to local units of government that such a policy could lead only to one of two things, either higher taxes or state bankruptcy.

He has chosen AFTER election to select what appears to him to be the lesser of the two evils, higher taxes—in other words, a greater burden for the people of Michigan to bear.

There is but one source open for the higher taxes that the Governor is asking—and that is an income tax. But Michigan residents should not worry too much about this at present, as the Republican members of the legislature have declared they will vote no major tax increase, other than a gasoline tax for highway purposes.

This, however, is but a short term remedy. Michigan must sooner or later face the issue, and face it squarely. The people cannot expect to vote millions and millions of tax dollars for local units of government that have no use for that money, and in many cases cannot spend it, and expect to pay no more taxes for their liberality. But the voters should not be blamed entirely for this situation. They have been terribly misled, just as were the people of California who tied up nearly the entire income of that state for the payment of old age pensions.

No matter what emergency might arise either in Michigan or California, the Governor and legislature of both states are helpless as the result of constitutional diversions of a good portion of all income the states have.

Newspaper dispatches say that California will pay $75 a month

Rev. E. Hoenecke Chosen to Make Survey in Africa

The Rev. Edgar Hoenecke of St. Peter's Lutheran church is one of two men chosen to investigate prospective foreign mission sites in south and west Africa.

He and the Rev. Arthur Wacker of Ann Arbor will leave the latter part of April and spend approximately three and a half months on the survey. The two will represent the general mission board of the Lutheran church of the Wisconsin Synod, a board on which the Rev. Hoenecke has served for eight years, and the Rev. Wacker for six years.

While gone, the couple will take 15,000 feet of colored motion pictures for the church.

At the present time the only mission in Africa is located in Nigeria. They will investigate possible sites for an additional one in either the Big Bend country of the Niger river, or in northern Rhodesia.

A special truck is now being outfitted for the men, and fittings will include living accommodations.

Departure will be made from New York, and the two pastors will dock at Capetown, Africa. From there they will journey north through the Union of South Africa, and then the Rev. Hoenecke states it is likely they will go through to Transvaal, to south Rhodesia, then to North Rhodesia to the border of Tanganyika. The couple expect they may then take a train at Elisabethville through the Belgium Congo, to the Southern part and through Angola to Benguela. From here they will go up the coast to Nigeria and 700 to 800 miles overland to the Big Bend country. From the latter they hope to journey to Dakar, and from there home.

The Rev. Hoenecke expects to return to Plymouth in August. He announces that during his absence, a full time, resident man will look after the church.

Issue of License Plates is Lagging

Issuance of 1949 automobile license plates is lagging in Plymouth, as well as throughout the state, Frank Rambo, local manager of the Secretary of State's license bureau, asserted this week.

Mr. Rambo estimates that he has sold 500 fewer plates than at this same time last year. Emphasizing that such slowness on the part of car owners to obtain

"King For a Day" Program Theme

Plymouth Woman's club members will entertain their husbands with a program and buffet supper at the First Presbyterian church at 8 p. m. on Thursday, February 10, an announcement from the president, Mrs. Milton Laible, discloses.

"King for a Day" is the theme chosen for the evening's program. Mrs. Alexander Miller, program chairman, reports entertainment will include a play by the Woman's club players, music by the Glee club, under the direction of Mrs. Gerald Hon-

One week ago today the youthful Thomas D. Brock was appointed by Postmaster General Jesse Thomas as new acting postmaster of the Plymouth office.

Mr. Brock replaces Harry Irwin, his step father, who retired several months ago.

Plymouth has been the home of the new postmaster for many years, and it was from the local high school that he was graduated in 1937. Skipping temporarily over the intervening years, Mr. Brock states he was most recently campaign supervisor for Governor Mennen Williams. For several years he has been affiliated with the Democratic state headquarters in Lansing, acting as director of the headquarters and he has held the office of state chairman of The Young Democrats.

Commenting on his new affiliation with the Plymouth post office, Mr. Brock announces there will be no change in the present staff.

Plymouth's newest official is a graduate of Albion college, and was awarded his Bachelor's degree in 1941. While a student there he became a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic fraternity; Omicron Delta Kappa, a group of men's leaders; Delta Sigma Rho, national speech fraternity, and held the

Symphony Group Plans Second Ball

Committees to obtain an orchestra, plan the program, refreshments, and ticket sales have been appointed within the Plymouth Symphony Society to make arrangements for the Symphony Ball which will be an event of March 5.

The office of general chairman was given to Mrs. Edwin Rice.

The Ball will be the organization's second such event. The first was presented last November.

Debaters Win Elimination Contest; Qualify For State Quarter Finals

History repeated itself Wednesday afternoon, and Plymouth's debate team surged past all competition in the state elimination tournament held in the high school auditorium, becoming eligible to compete in the quarter final contest the latter part of this month.

Members of the team will now begin keying themselves for the next phase of the competition, the quarter finals, the spot where they lost out last year.

The local team is coached by James Latture.

Plymouth first met the debaters from St. Clair Shores Wednesday, with Ronald Witt and Roger Kidston debating the affirmative side of the question "Resolved: That the United Nations should be revised into a federal world government." They were awarded the win by a three to zero count of the judges' decisions. The same couple next met the De LaSalle Detroit team, swamping them also by the same decisive count.

Lansing Sexton debaters then met the Plymouth squad for the final and determining battle of the day. The Sexton team had previous to that time downed the squads from Flint Northern and Melvindale High school.

The negative side of the question was drawn by Plymouth, with the final verbal bout, and Ronald Hees and Roger Kidston handled the debate for Plymouth. Five judges heard the local and Lansing debaters, and cast three votes in favor of Plymouth and the remaining two went to their opposition.

Passage-Gayde Invites Veterans

Bert Hurston, chairman of the membership committee for the Passage-Gayde post of the American Legion, announces that more than 2,000,000 veterans of World War II throughout the United States have joined and are taking an active part in the organization.

He extends an invitation to anyone in Plymouth who is interested but has not already joined any post to contact him or any member of the local group.

He announces that the Passage-Gayde post meets the second and fourth Wednesday of the month in the Veteran's Community Center.

Nash Sells Rolling Radio Service to Detroit Man

E. A. Nash announces the sale of the Rolling Radio service to E. J. Anderson of Detroit.

The same service will be available for local residents as in the past, however, he assured this week.

Mr. Nash's current plans include changing his residence to the state of Texas.

Issue of Door to Door Solicitors Arises Tuesday

Plymouth residents were subjected again this week to an influx of door to door solicitors who unraveled a series of misleading and false statements during their high pressure sales program.

This time—the name of The Plymouth Mail was used as a leverage to get into the homes.

Police Chief Lee Sackett warns that residents should be leary of all high pressured solicitors. Since all solicitors within the city must first obtain a permit from the department, he stated, a check on the person can easily be made by simply calling the city hall. Also, he continued, all suspicious statements made by such persons should be reported.

The group of three women and a manager working the city Tuesday were discovered by officials when an alert housewife called The Mail office to check their story about a recent picture of themselves in the paper.

They also told of a locally recognized contest in which they were competing.

The Mail had taken part in no such scheme, and the polite department was immediately contacted.

Within a short time the group was apprehended by Police Chief Sackett who ordered them out of town.

Captain William Roberts also announced this week that members of a religious group soliciting in the city recently were mistaken by many contributors as members of the local Salvation Army. In a statement issued as a general reminder to the public, he told that the Salvation Army in Plymouth has discontinued its previous practice of an annual solicitation. It is now one of the Red Feather services of the Community Chest and receives funds from the amount donated each year to the Chest drive.

A further warning issued this week by Chief Sackett stated local residents should be wary of misleading direct mail solicitations also. In many cases, he stated, it is merely a form of the old "come on."

First Service in New Church Will be Held Sunday

The Sunday religious service planned by the Rev. P. M. McPherson, pastor of the Plymouth Church of God, will be the first to be held in the congregation's new edifice on the corner of Plymouth and Newburg roads.

The recently completed structure stands as the first unit in long ranged building plans, and has been designated as the fellowship unit. The main structure will be added at a later date and will be probably twice the size of this portion which measures 44.6 by 24 feet. The seating capacity of the new unit has been estimated by the Rev. McPherson as 125, while, together with the addition to be constructed in the future, it will reach 400.

Prior to this time the congregation has been meeting in the Patchen school.

Ground for the church was broken on May 30. The building has been constructed of brick, and as soon as delivery can be made, all furnishings will be new. Until that time, the pastor announces, former equipment will be used.

On Sunday the pastor will speak on "Memorial Occasion."

Along with announcement of the completion of the first unit of the church, the Rev. McPherson told that the church is participating in the Christian Brotherhood Hour which is broadcast each Sunday at 4:30 p. m. over station WEXL in Royal Oak.

Churches Present Dad-Son Banquets

Fathers and sons from all corners of Plymouth met in the central part of the city last night, Thursday, and one group entered the Presbyterian church dining room for a banquet in their honor, while the others attended a similar dinner in the Methodist church.

Special guests at the Presbyterian Father-Son banquet were members of the church's Boy Scout troop, in recognition of the nationally acclaimed week in their honor which begins Sunday. The evening's program included the initiation of two boys into the troop.

A ham dinner was served by the women of the church at 6:30 (Continued on page 8)

Albert Borsos is Buried Monday

Tuesday afternoon funeral services were held for Albert V. Borsos, a man well known to hundreds throughout the city.

He had died the preceding Saturday at the age of 53.

Mr. Borsos had been exceedingly prominent in the activities of the Presbyterian church, and held the post of superintendent of the Sunday school.

Monday's funeral was held at the Schrader Funeral Home at 2 p. m. and interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Completion of their first year of existence in Plymouth will be celebrated by members of the Lions club at a dinner dance in the Hotel Mayflower Saturday evening.

Heading the list of special guests who will assist in the commemoration of the organization's first anniversary will be S. A. Dodge, international director of Lions club, and member of the Northwest club of Detroit. During the evening's program he will speak on "Lionism Defined."

The semi-formal dinner dance program will begin at 6:30, with dancing from 9 until midnight.

The invocation will be delivered by Dr. Kenner Bell of the Northwest Lions club, who is also past district governor and present international counselor.

Harvey Cooper of the Plymouth club is general chairman of the entire evening's program.

The Lions club was awarded its charter last year on February 5, and Ward Jones was elected to steer the group through its first year in Plymouth. Members joined in the Lions international project of assistance to the blind, and staged a local white cane drive.

As their own individual program, members have undertaken a drive for funds with which to purchase ceiling projectors for the benefit of bed-ridden persons who are unable to read in a normal sitting position. To date one projector has been purchased for use by persons in the area, and it is kept at the public library.

Another project undertaken by the local group was the sponsoring of a Dawn Patrol during October. A spokesman of the organization announces a similar program will also be planned for this year, and he promises it will be "bigger and better."

Present officers of the club include: president, Norman Marquis; vice president, Max Todd; second vice president, Harvey Cooper; third vice president, William Fehlig; secretary-treasurer, Myrn Smith; Lion Tamer, Jack Beckman; Tail Twister, Randall Schuette; directors, George Witkowski, Albert McCloy, Herbert Swanson, and Nandino Perlongo.

All-College Affair Slates UM Official

Two important announcements were made this week by Evered Jolliffe, general chairman of the University of Michigan club's annual All-College banquet.

The first disclosed the date of the affair as February 23, and the second revealed the choice of Dr. John A. Perkins as the guest speaker.

Dr. Perkins is assistant provost at the University of Michigan, an office which places him as assistant to the president. At the banquet he will discuss "Public Finance and Education."

Tracing the background of Dr. Perkins, Mr. Jolliffe reported he is a graduate of the university, and was awarded not only his Bachelor's degree, but also his Master's and Doctor's from the Ann Arbor school. He formerly acted as state budget director for Michigan, holding the post under the Sigler administration.

Another announcement made in connection with the banquet stated John P. Morrow will replace John Perkins of Rosedale Gardens as chairman of the program committee.

Change of Publication Date

This is to remind you that after February The Plymouth Mail will be published on Wednesday instead of Thursday. The first issue of March will appear on Thursday morning the third instead of Friday.

This will make the deadline for all news, classified ads and display advertising Tuesday night of each week. Nothing will be accepted after Tuesday for publication.

Plymouth's ballot will be void of local names for the February 21 general primary election. Petitions placing persons in the running for the candidacy of five civic offices were received, but the number was insufficient to warrant a primary vote.

City Manager Harold Cheek announced at the same time that the registration for voters was exceptionally light.

With the exception of the three city commissioners whose terms are currently expiring, no one entered the race for seats on the city's official board. Petitions for Commissioners William Hartmann and Mrs. Austin Whipple and Mayor Frank Henderson were submitted, naming them as the sole contenders for the trio of offices.

A petition placing J. Rusing Cutler in the running for reelection as municipal judge was submitted, and he will be opposed in the general election by Nandino Perlongo, one of the only two men who filed to oppose the current office holder.

The further opposition is offered by Arthur Johnson who will vie with Lee Roy Reiman for the office of constable. Mr. Reiman now holds the office.

Commissioners serve for a two year term, while both municipal judge and constable are elected for four years.

One point the primary ballot will include will be the nomination of candidates for the county office of auditor. This office, also, is held for a four year term.

Voting in Plymouth will take place at the usual places: including Precinct No. 1 in the city hall; Precinct No. 2 in Starkweather school; Precinct No. 3 in the high school; and Precinct No. 4 in Forest Motor Sales at the corner of Wing and Forest.

Lindstrom Makes Appointments for C of C Committees

Appointment of Chamber of Commerce standing committee chairmen was made by President Charles W. Lindstrom this week, to help direct the organization's program through 1949.

He named Robert Waldecker as head of the Agriculture committee, a body which will supervise the rendering of service to farmers living in the area contiguous to the city. The Forum and Entertainment committee, which Russell Daane heads, will direct the Chamber's annual membership luncheon, select speakers for social functions, and the long range planning includes planning city-wide picnics for everyone in Plymouth.

Four men lead the membership committee, and they are C. E. Hansell, new manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Frank Henderson, Carl Shear and Paul Wiedman. Since the Chamber also has hopes of attracting conventions to the city in the future, a Tourist and Convention committee was set up and Ralph Lorenz was named to the office of chairman.

The Chamber's Housing committee is directed by Sterling Eaton and Ray Williams, and the Publicity and Advertising committee is also headed by Mr. Eaton.

Radio Story Tells Local Boy's Story

Several in the city were surprised Thursday morning when they heard radio star Jack Birch pay respects to Miss Dolly Norris of Ferndale for presenting a horse to young Eugene Hornback of Plymouth when his was shot in December.

Listeners send in newspaper articles to Mr. Birch which tell stories of "good neighborliness." The best are selected for the broadcast. The local boy's story was submitted by Mary Stacey.

Eugene's horse, which he had purchased with money earned from his newspaper route, was killed by an unknown assailant several months ago. A metropolitan paper carried the story and shortly afterwards the Ferndale woman made the offer. Her request to help was the first of many, and he was deluged with gifts, additional offers to replace his horse, and riding and stable equipment.

Perfect Cribbage Hand is Reported

"One hundred percent perfect" describes the cribbage hand held by Mrs. Coello Hamilton Monday night.

A real lesson in the game of cribbage was given to Mr. and Mrs. Burton Johnson by Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton when chance placed a perfect series of cards in the latter's hand.

Mrs. Hamilton held the jack of spades, five of clubs, hearts and diamonds, when Mr. Hamilton turned up the five of spades.

This made the first perfect hand she has ever held, Mrs. Hamilton reports. Her husband, however, had one of the same combination of cards a year ago.

Marion Amrhein Wins Pie Award

Four Plymouth girls baked cherry pies for the Wayne County Cherry Pie Baking contest, with one of the group taking honors.

The entrants were Marion Amrhein, Betty Baker, Joyce Carson and Ann Waldecker. Miss Amrhein placed third in the competition. Last year she took a first in the contest and was in the state contest at Grand Rapids.

The contest this year was held in the Home Economics room of Romulus High school, Saturday, January 29, from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m.

First place was won by Joretta Carter, 17 year old entrant from New Boston, and Florence Lasko, 16, from New Boston, took second.

William Scott, farm engineer from the Detroit Edison company, and Miss Dorothy Wolfe, science teacher from Parcels school in Grosse Pointe, judged the baking contest. 4-H leaders and the girls that baked pies also judged the pies and placed the same pie first as did the judges.

Miss Carter will compete in the state cherry pie contest at the Gas company in Grand Rapids.

Scoring for the contest was based on the following: appearance-20 percent, color-even golden brown and smooth, not wrinkled nor cracked; crust-30 percent, texture must be flaky, crisp, thin, tender, not soggy nor doughy, tasty, not flat nor rancid; filling-50 percent, pleasing cherry, not over-spiced nor under-spiced, nor under-sweetened, creamy, smooth, not lumpy nor watery; personality and poise of contestant-20 percent.

Thank You for your patronage

This is to announce the purchase of Rolling Radio Service by E. J. Anderson. The new owner comes to Plymouth from Detroit, and being well-recommended, it is our pleasure to in turn, recommend his services to you.

During the last two years we have made many friends through our business affiliation here, and the novel idea of a radio shop moving to your home has "caught on"; in fact, so much so that we know you have come to depend on it.

Mr. Anderson will continue with the mobile radio, television and public address system repair unit, in addition to maintaining the repair shop at 579 West Ann Arbor trail. We wish him continued success in the business... and thank you, again for your patronage.

Hedden Plans For College Program

Owen Hedden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Hedden of 9805 Berwick avenue, is organizing a four-way faculty discussion on "The Problem of Choice" at Antioch college this week.

The religious conference is one of an 18-year old series at Antioch which draws students from colleges throughout the state.

Owen, a freshman engineering student, is a member of the student-faculty Antioch Religion committee which is in charge of the conference.

How do I know what is right and wrong? Is right-and-wrong for me right-and-wrong for every one? What is the role of the church in relation to moral judgements? These are the questions the four Antioch faculty will consider.

Irwin Abrams, historian, Alfred Baldwin, research psychologist, Arild Miller, atomic chemist, and Basil Pillard, professor of English, will lead the discussion that opens the conference.

How Prisoners Out at DeHoCo Are Kept Warm

Scattered over a small sized farm are the buildings of the Detroit House of Correction and its women's division out on the Six Mile road west of the city of Plymouth.

When it is cold and blizzardly winds are blowing, how does Superintendent A. Blake Gillies manage to keep all of the inmates and workers employed in such a scattered group of buildings, warm? How does he keep pipes and water tanks from freezing up?

In a recent issue of the excellent little paper published out at DeHoCo, an article written by Harry Hughes, foreman of the steam department, revealed a mass of interesting facts about the prison's giant steam heating and power system. It follows: "Like a giant labyrinth spreading out in the form of tentacles of a huge octopus is the impression that one receives as he visits the many tunnels containing the steam lines that furnish the heat and energy necessary to maintain the operation of this institution.

"Under the direction of Harry H. Hughes, foreman of the steam department and his able crew of inmate steam-fitters, this huge task of maintaining the constant flow of steam to all departments at DeHoCo is a tremendous problem. On the job at all hours is a common occurrence, for Ray Sunday, Floyd Whiting and Raymond Nowicki, inmate steamfitters. Any hour of the day or night they are called upon in the event somewhere along the line of pipes and pumps there should occur a break which has to be repaired at once.

"Commencing at the power house the tunnel weaves its way to the pumping station just below the Yardmasters office. From this point the old tunnel runs in a straight line for approximately 2500 feet under the sidewalk. The tunnel is of poured concrete about five feet high and five feet wide. At the pumping station the steam reaches a heat of approximately 125 degrees which is carried by a series of pumps to the creamery across the road where it is used for the purpose of heating the water for pasteurization of milk and the live steam for the scalding and cleaning of milk bottles and cans.

"Also at the pump house the high pressure steam lines are converted into low pressure lines by a series of reducing valves that reduce the steam from 125 degrees to 60 degrees which is used for heating purposes. These low pressure lines run off from the tunnel and are fed to the various dormitories, garage, chair factory, chair warehouse, clothing department, paint factory, gymnasium, hospital and administration building.

"Every 100 feet in the old tunnel there are expansion joints in the high pressure steam lines to prevent bowing and rupturing of the pipes. As the steam reaches its destination and utilizes its heat energy it condensates and returns by return lines boosted by pumps that carry the water back to a receiving tank atop the power house and to its point of origin. Along the route of this maze of pipes there are hatch openings every 150 to 200 feet to allow free ingress and egress in the event of emergency.

"About one year ago the institution had installed by the Peckham Heating company a new tunnel with high pressure steam lines to carry the load necessary for the requirements at the women's division. This new tunnel originating at the power house weaves its way across the grounds for approximately one mile emerging at the women's ADM building. There are two high pressure steam lines that have one eight-inch and two six-inch mains, the only difference being in the volume they carry. Along this line at each stanching there are shoes attached to lines which rest on rollers to allow for traveling of pipes due to expansion. And at each expansion joint traps allow for the removal of condensation so dry steam can continue. Each expansion joint is made with Hemp Graphite to allow-free movement of pipes without binding.

"This new tunnel services the garbage cookers which sterilize and cook all garbage for the feeding of hogs and the lumber kiln where the steam is used for the drying of lumber used at the chair factory. At the women's division one six-inch line is fed into two tanks where water is heated by steam to a regulated temperature and then diverted to various buildings by circulating pumps that deliver 200 gallons of heated water per minute. "Steam plays a very important part in the new laundry as well as the old one. It does its part at the cannery besides handling every need at the institution. This giant task of keeping this system in working order is a tribute to the ability of this crew."

"Chicken Every Sunday", the name of a forthcoming movie, is the cue for a big national contest opening February 1, 1949 and ending February 28, 1949.

The sponsors are asking people to write an essay, limerick or slogan in less than 100 words on "Why I like chicken every Sunday." Add to this entry a statement of your most desired wish and mail with a chicken wishbone and your address to the Poultry and Egg National Board, 308 W. Washington street, Chicago 6, Illinois.

Both regional and national prizes will be awarded to winners.

Bonemeal Good for Dairy Cattle

The use of minerals for dairy cattle is of interest to many Plymouth farmers, believes A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State college.

He says that the recommendation of scientists at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment station has long been for odorless steamed bonemeal in addition to common salt.

The market today offers a mineralized salt which carries a trace of manganese, cobalt, iron, and copper. Mixing one pound of such salt with two pounds of steamed bone meal to each 100 pounds of grain is an economical dairy practice that many farmers follow.

Winter is Time to Cut Building Logs

The interest in building rustic summer homes or hunting lodges in Michigan has prompted R. C. Deckert, Michigan State college forester, to pass along to Plymouthites a few tips on the care of logs to be used for these buildings.

He recommends Northern white cedar as the most durable wood growing in Michigan suitable for rustic structures. Late fall or winter is the best time for cutting and peeling logs because they will not check or crack so much while seasoning. Insect and fungi activity is less likely.

Careful piling and seasoning are advised to prevent the troubles that come from using green wood.

Michigan State Offers Two Summer Sessions

Two six-week sessions will be offered this summer by Michigan State college, according to Robert S. Linton, registrar and secretary of the faculty planning group.

Although it had been previously announced that a single six-weeks term would be given this summer, the college added another because of increased demand from students, particularly veterans.

The first session will run from June 18 to July 26, and the second from July 27 to September 3. Linton estimated that about 4,000 students would attend the first session, and 2,000 the second term.

WHAT I THINK AND HAVE A RIGHT TO SAY

The boost from the present rate of $65 was ordered in an initiative amendment to the state constitution adopted by the voters at the November election. It also gives the state's blind a $10 raise to $85 a month.

The measure also makes it much easier to qualify for the aged aid, shifts the entire pension burden to the state and puts a "first lien" on all state moneys to pay for the pensions. Those provisions have the state's high officials worried.

Under the program, long-term residents of the state become eligible for pensions at the age of 63 instead of 65. Pensioners may own $1,500 worth of personal property, a house assessed at not more than $3,500, a car and $1,000 worth of life insurance. They also may keep any "personal" jewelry they might own.

Relatives of the aged also get a break under the plan. They are relieved of any responsibility for their support.

THE MAIN DRAWBACK, HOWEVER, SEEMS TO BE THE DETERMINATION OF HOW THE STATE IS GOING TO RAISE THE MONEY TO FOOT THE BILL. IT JUST DOESN'T HAVE THE READY MONEY, BUDGET-MINDED OFFICIALS SAY, AND WON'T HAVE WITHOUT RAISING TAXES, DIPPING INTO EARMARKED RESERVES, OR GOING INTO THE RED.

It has been estimated that the measure will add in the neighborhood of $26,000,000 to present pension costs for the balance of the present fiscal year. And that is enough to put the state into a deficit. It previously was expected to end the year with about a $10,000,000 surplus.

Next year, officials estimate, the program will add $100,000,000 to the costs of government and bring the state's budget well over $1,000,000,000.

Gov. Earl Warren and other administrators have indicated they probably will try to meet the added expense by an increase in taxes. Warren went on record as opposed to tampering with the state's special reserve funds and his entire administration has stood for a balanced budget.

But whatever the solution, the pension program probably won't be slighted. The "first lien" clause in the amendment has been interpreted to mean that pensions have an absolute first call on all money in the treasury. That means they would take precedence over schools, highways or any other function of government.

In Michigan local units of government take precedence over state government needs, which creates a much more serious financial problem for all the taxpayers than one can realize just at this moment. But WAIT a year or so. Then you will know all about it.

OUR NUMBER ONE SECTION.

Notice in some Michigan newspapers where some Republicans are talking about "revitalizing" the Republican party. They (the newspapers) say that Gene Black of Port Huron would like to spearhead that "revitalizing" business.

Gene did a pretty good job last year in dehydrating the Grand Old Party, but what he could do towards "revitalizing" it, we do not know.

Our Number 1 selection for a Moses to lead Michigan Republicanism out of the woods is none other than Congressman Albert Engel.

He has made one of the best records of any Republican or Democrat in Washington—and back in the days when he was a Michigan state senator up in Lansing, he knew every minute just what the score was and who was at bat.

Congressman Engel, as we see it, should be given the Republican nomination for governor next year without a contest. He knows Michigan's problems from A to Z and he has the brains to know what and how to do that which is necessary to accomplish real results.

Yes, Congressman Engel is our Number 1 selection for Governor two years hence.

YEAH—WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO USE FOR MONEY?

It was a typical January day. The snow was blowing across the fields. All the livestock on the farm had been herded into the barns and sheds.

Old Bill Michigan sat with his feet toasting near the living room Round Oak heater. His wife was cleaning up in the kitchen after finishing the morning dishes.

"I need another barn out here. Suit of clothes, too. Would be a lot easier for me this spring if I had a tractor. Ought to finish up that tool shed. All it needs is some siding and a roof. Yeah, there's a lot of things I gotta buy when spring rolls around" said old man Michigan to his wife.

"Well, if that's all you need, I need a few things, too. How about some new living room furniture, some plumbing in the house, some new wall paper and a new kitchen stove?" asked Bill's wife.

Slamming the rolling pin onto the table, Mrs. Michigan turned suddenly, walked into the living room and roared at her husband; "All you do is sit here and dream about what you need and what you are going to get. It's the same every winter. You always want this and that—but you never get what you want, WHY? That's it—WHY?"

Then she answered her own question directed to old man Michigan.

"You are just plum lazy. You've wasted your money by hiring a lot of useless help. You had plenty at one time to do all of these things with, but folks took you for an easy mark—and now you are as flat as a pancake. Stop talking—and DO SOMETHING."

Then the kitchen door slammed and old man Michigan just continued to sit there doing nothing, potting at all.

The Northville hospital stands out in the vacant fields without sidings or a roof.

The state payroll grows fatter and fatter. Wayne University is beginning to look like Orphan Annie. Nothing is done about adding more ferries to the highway system up at the Straits of Mackinaw. But why disturb old man Michigan? He's enjoying himself, toasting his shins sittin' there next to that faithful old Round Oak heater, just getting up now and then to throw another chunk of wood onto the fire.

WHO REMEMBERS . . . when the medicine shows came to town? You could have a tooth or two extracted free if you'd go up on the stage to be a guinea pig for a demonstration of painless dentistry. You could have corns or bunions removed painlessly, too. Between acts they sold snake oil, tooth powder and other patented medicines and drugs.

...when the right and left shoes were made identical and could be worn on either foot? This made it possible to wear down the heels evenly.

...when the American Boy magazine featured photograph of Cromwell Dixon experimenting with a bicycle-operated bi-plane? In those times aeroplanes were still pipe dreams and we were sufficiently elated over such wonders as the telephone, electric lights that replaced gas mantles and door bells that we could make by using salammoniac wet batteries in glass jars. When mother was talking on the old wall-type telephone (perhaps standing on tip-toe) we would hold the green receiver wire—and pinch it and wonder why it didn't stop the conversation.

...when women wore Merry Widow hats with big, broad brims and long hat pins sticking out? No masher ever dared to molest a girl in those days. In a crowded street car the hat pin stuck out farther than the lady's bustle.

...when some boy's marbles got on the loose and clattered all over the floor of the classroom, causing a terrible racket? Severe disciplinary measures always followed. Or, how the girls in the class would snicker, swallow their chewing gum and then ask to be excused from the room?

...when the ferris wheel on the midway of the 1893 World Columbian exposition in Chicago was dismantled and later removed to the St. Louis fair where it was reassembled? The wheel was 250 feet in diameter and had 36 cars with a capacity of six persons each. It revolved on an axle 33 inches in diameter and 45 feet long and weighed 56 tons. After the St. Louis fair it was wrecked and sold as scrap metal.

City Talent Show Reminder Issued

A general reminder for children and teen agers between five and 17 years old to begin practicing their special talent, was issued this week by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary.

For the show, entrants are divided into three age groups. The first includes children from five to nine; the second, ten to 14; and the third will consist of those from 15 to 17 years of age. Three prizes will be awarded to each group.

Mrs. Marvin Kleinschmidt is chairman in charge of planning the entire program. She states that school children who are interested in entering the show should contact Paul Wagner at the high school.

Rocks Go Into Heavy Basketball Schedule

Rocks to Meet Five Teams in Next 11 Days; Travel to Redford Tonight

Without a league victory this season the Plymouth Rocks will travel to Redford Union this evening. Redford Union is in fourth place in the Suburban B with two wins against four losses.

In the preliminary reserve encounter the Rocks reserves will be trying for their seventh consecutive league win. This game will start at 7 p. m. in the spacious Redford gym.

Earlier in the season the Rocks dropped a 44-36 tilt to the Panthers. Tonight's game begins a long grind for the Rocks. In the next 11 school days the Rocks play five games, three of them on the road.

Tuesday, February 8, the blue and white meets Northville on their floor. The local lads only win of the season was over Northville. The reserves will play at 7:15 p. m.

When the Rocks face Northville two trophies will be riding on the outcome. The orange and white ball, given to the winner of the basketball games between the schools, now rests in the Plymouth trophy case. The Rocks hope it will be in the same place Wednesday morning. In the race for the Elton R. Eaton trophy, each school has one win. Northville in football and Plymouth in basketball. The trophy is awarded to the winner of three out of five athletic contests. Tuesday's winner will take a one game advantage with two baseball contests remaining.

The three way tie for first place in the Suburban B continues. In addition to Trenton's win over Plymouth, Wayne dropped Redford Union 48-24 and Ypsilanti halted Belleville 35-30.

After tonight's games only two teams, if that many, will be tied for the lead. Two of the leaders meet when Ypsi plays at Trenton. Trenton won the previous tilt 27-26 on the Braves floor.

The other league encounter places Wayne at Belleville.

Joe's Jottings

by Joe Miller

This week let's turn our attention to the pro scene where salaries are the most important item to the ball players. It seems that Billy Evans, Tier general manager, is giving Hoot Evers, the Bengals star outfielder, a raw deal. For the past three seasons Dick Wakefield has received more money than Hoot. However, he hasn't deserved it. This season Evans is once again giving Dick 20,000 while he is offering Hoot 16,000. Much to Evans' regret, Hoot isn't accepting this and why should he. For three seasons Hoot has outshone Wakefield in every aspect of the game, but temperamental Dick still receives more money for doing a great job striking out and making errors.

In the last edition of the Mail we mentioned the 1948 Plymouth athletes, who had entered the service. We have received word that Bob Shely has joined the navy. Bob was an outfielder on the 1948 Rocks baseball squad, which won six and lost three. If you fans know of any more of the boys who are in service just inform yours truly.

At Plymouth High this week a contest is being sponsored by the student council in regard to changing the nickname of the school athletic teams to some other monicker. Approximately two months ago we advocated this change in the column. From that point Bud Young, sophomore member of the student council, took it up. He brought the question before the council and that governing body immediately took action. A suggestion box was placed in the school where students and the faculty could place their selections of a new name with a composition of 75 words or less. The contest will be judged and the winners will receive tickets to Plymouth basketball games. When the winning name is selected the council will decide further action.

This past week growing resentment was pronounced in the school over the proposed changing of the name. Some students and teachers believe it won't be good for the school because it will break tradition. Of course a modern nickname will break tradition somewhat, but isn't it better to have the majority of students favor the nickname. To reveal how much interest has been shown, two alumni, who are now soldiers at Fort Knox, Kentucky, sent a letter to the school telling their views on the question. The fellows, Marty Kreger and Dick Rung, want the name to remain as is. Everyone has the right to voice his opinion and we favor a different name than the Rocks.

Western Wayne County Fox Club Participates in Varied Activities

The annual meeting of the Western Wayne County Fox club was held at the home of Estel Rowland on Friday evening, January 28.

Preceding the meeting was a Coon dinner, for which the main dish was furnished by Mr. Rowland. Guests were Robert Burley, Grover Prough and Walter Beglinger.

Officers elected for the coming year at that time were: Joe Elliott, president; Howard Hearn, vice president; Clyde Smith, secretary-treasurer; Fred Rhead, road captain; William Morgan was appointed as publicity agent.

The balance of the evening was spent in viewing motion pictures and playing euchre. Movies shown were taken by members and friends. Among the group were those taken by Mr. Smith, Mr. Beglinger, and Mr. Burley, during the club's wild cat hunt at Atlanta on January 8 and 9. Mr. Beglinger also showed films taken in Canada and

Levering Heads Class E Scorers

Pacing all players in the scoring category in the Class E recreation cage league is Hank Levering, who has sent 64 points through the hoop in six games.

Levering, a member of the Gems, has an average of approximately 11 points per game. Three times Hank has gone over the ten marks with games of 11, 16 and 19 points. Hank was on the school reserve squad last season when he was a sophomore, but this year he didn't come up to the qualifications set by the coach.

In second place in the scoring race is Howard Pernie of the Wolverines, who are tied for first place with the Gems. Pernie has an average of 9.5 and he has also went over the ten mark three times this season hitting for 12, 13 and 16.

The three remaining members of the big five are Jerry Finney of the Rams, 51; Bud Carson of the Wolverines, 45; and Bob Norgren of the Rams, 42.

Far out in front in Class F is Bud Lamphear of the league leading Red Sox with 69 points. He has a remarkable average of 17 per game. His highest total this season was 23 points. On two other occasions Bud netted 18 points. Bud's teammate, Al Williams, is second with 38 points. He has an average of 9.5.

Slumping Northville Five Will Play First National at DeHoCo Tonight

Already assured a top spot in the playoffs, which begin in the first week of March, First National Bank attempts to increase its lead tonight at DeHoCo at the expense of slumping-ridden Northville outfit.

The league leading Bank squad, with one loss in nine games, plays the feature attraction at 9 p. m. In the first game at 8 p. m. Tait's Cleaners will be gunning for a position in the playoffs as they oppose the winless Plymouth Mail five. To enter the playoffs a team must have seven victories over the 15 game grind.

Tait's won their sixth game Monday at the high school stopping Northville 47-30. Only in the initial stanza was the contest close as the Cleaners had a 9-6 margin at the end of the period. Then with Jack Dobbs netting eight counters the Cleaners stepped up the pace to lead 27-10 at the intermission. In the second half Tait's toyed with the Northville five to coast to a 47-30 win. Each squad tallied 20 points in the last portion of the game.

Jack Dobbs, home from Western Michigan, and John Sandmann, coach at Plymouth High, tossed in 12 and nine points respectively for the winners.

On Friday on the DeHoCo court the institution's powerful quintet downed Plymouth Mail 83-30. Slough sent in 25 points while Krajewski and Ross drew runner-up positions with 22 and 17 points.

Also the Mail lost a game Wednesday, January 26, to Northville by the score of 43-14. Mac Pierce paced the winners netting ten counters. In an exhibition tilt for the benefit of the March of Dimes on Sunday at DeHoCo Northville lost to the prison five 57-51. The league's top scorer, Slough of DeHoCo, counted 30 tallies.

Boxing Matches Held Next Week

The recreation department sponsored Boxing club will stage an exhibition at the Detroit House of Correction next Wednesday, February 9.

The public is invited to attend, states Herbert Woolweaver, city recreation director. Ten bouts will take place in the DeHoCo gym at that time.

Herb Woolweaver Gives Details of Pacific Sledding

The following is an article by recreation director, Herb Woolweaver, concerning sleigh riding on Pacific street.

"Occasionally we do have snow and when we do kids from three to 93 love to get out their sleds and go spinning down the hills. Regardless of safety, or what 'Mom' says, they'll ride those sleds. Let's all take the safe and sane attitude towards this age old winter pastime and safe-guard our children. If you drive an automobile where there is likely to be sleds, be unusually careful—go slow, use your horn, and if at all possible drive around the streets being used by sleigh-riders.

The west side of Plymouth has but one nice hill for sleigh-riders and that is Pacific street. The city recreation department has secured permission from the police department to put up barricades. These barricades are not put up with the intention of inconveniencing anyone, but for the purpose of protecting our children. The 'Street Closed' sign doesn't mean that you cannot drive onto this street if you live on the street, but it does mean that you must stop and proceed definitely with caution to your garage or home."

Clement's Heads Bowling League

The Plymouth Boy's Recreation Bowling league met Tuesday evening, January 27, with Singleton's beating Olds and Cadillac, Clement's losing to Davidson, and Pernie's being dubbed by Phillippi's.

The high game for the evening was rolled by Ed Klinske who chalked up a 191. High average for the season is owned by Bill Clement and stands at 150.

One of the star bowling attractions of the winter in the area will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. on the Plymouth Recreation alleys when the "Gears-by-Enterprise" bowlerettes match their skills with the Hi-12 all stars men squad of Plymouth.

This women's quintet has won many honors in recent years in Detroit bowling circles. The women were winners of the Detroit Times bowlerettes league for 1946-47 and 1947-48. Also they won the team event in the CYO tournament.

The team roster includes Agnes Ekstrom, captain, Marie Shamrock, Doris Knechtges, Dorothy Brichta and Lois McAllister. The last named, Lois McAllister, is a Plymouth resident.

Last Monday night Doris Knechtges rolled the spectacular high of 224, 245 and 259. These high failed to make the board, however, as she had previously rolled a 265 and 739. The latter still stands second high in the country.

The Hi-12 team will be made up of A. K. Brocklehurst, William Choffin, Al Hubbs, Clifford Tait and Floyd Tibbits.

Men's Volleyball League Planned

"All men between the ages of 21 and 90, who are interested in playing volleyball, should report to the Starkweather school gymnasium next Tuesday evening, February 8, from 7:30 to 9 p. m." announces Herb Woolweaver.

The first night will be devoted to the organizing of teams and practice, he states.

If sufficient interest in this "easy on the wind" sport is shown, a league will be formed and games will be played each Tuesday evening, Mr. Woolweaver added.

William Foley will be in charge of this phase of the recreation department's program.

Girls Leaders Play Monday at High School

A double header features the Women's league slate this coming week. Monday the league-leading Oldsmobile clashes with the Plymouth Hardware at 7:30 p. m. on the high school floor.

At 8:30 p. m. second place Daisy meets Plymouth Mail. After these contests the girls will be inactive in league play until Monday, February 21.

Olds won their sixth successive encounter on Wednesday, January 26, as they outscored Plymouth Mail 39-3. Dippoye and Street each racked up 13 tallies.

Monday evening the Mail came back to stop Plymouth Hardware 24-6. Elaine Tait and Connie Pascoe hooped seven and six points, respectively, for the winners.

A rare treat will be offered to the city cage fans on Wednesday, February 9, at 8:30 p. m. when a Romulus girls squad will play an exhibition contest with the Beglinger Oldsmobile girls quintet. This will be the only tilt this year in the city league program where girls rules will be used.

Romulus is leading the Wayne league and it is considered the best girls team in this section and possibly the state.

Hoots Attempt to Tie Ramblers in Class D Contest

Another battle for first place will be played Wednesday on the high school court at 7:30 p. m. in the Class D league between the Hoots and the Ramblers.

In a previous encounter the Ramblers trampled the Hoots 37-13. However, since that time the Hoots have displayed marked improvement.

Scoring 20 points on eight field goals and four charity tosses Bill Perkins starred for the Hoots in their 52-13 victory over the Shamrocks Tuesday at the Detroit House of Correction gymnasium. Irving Stewart notched 12 and Larry Bentley and Neal Lamphear collected eight to aid the Hoots cause. Pat Kearney, the Shamrocks captain, netted five points.

The other D tilt Tuesday saw the Ramblers crushing the Rockets 56-14 as Ed Whiple garnered 20 points on ten field goals. Russ Hasselbach topped the losers with six tallies. By virtue of their win the Ramblers remained undefeated in league competition.

Dehoco's Slough Paces Scorers

Tallying 147 points in ten Men's league games, Detroit House of Correction's star player, Slough, has an average of 14.7 to lead all the scorers.

Twice this season Slough has gone over the 20 mark. His best effort was 25 points. In second place is Dave McIntosh, Tait's forward, the former scoring leader of the men's loop. Dave has netted 115 in ten contests for an average of 11.5.

Tied for third place are Northville's Mac Pierce and Dehoco's Ross with an 11.1 average. In nine encounters Mac has tossed exactly 100 points through the hoop while Ross has 111 in ten games.

After this duo comes Krajewski of Dehoco and Norman of Sport Shop with a 9.5 average. The former has netted 95 points in ten games and Norman has 76 in eight tilts.

Redding, California, plans to have a 98-foot Christmas tree this year.

Returning Player Aids Trenton to Win over Rocks

For the third week in a row the Plymouth Rocks lost a close league game, this time to Trenton 39-35. The contest marked Chuck Paige's return to the basketball after a siege of scarlet fever. Paige is Trenton's star player.

Larry Finney opened the game on a cheerful note for the Rocks as he swished one from 20 feet out. A moment later Worrick matched that for the visitors. Through the rest of the period the lead changed hands several times before Trenton went on top 13-10 at the quarter. After an offensive first quarter, defensive measures became the predominant instrument of play in the second stanza. Dick Henderson netted four, Paige two, and Worrick one, to give the Trojans 20 points to the Rocks 13 as only Finney with two and Wally Dzurus with one scored. The visitors margin was clearly seen in the percentage of shots department. Trenton had 30 per cent while the Rocks clicked on only 19 per cent of their shots.

Several times in the second half the Rocks closed the margin to four points, but they could get no further. On the other hand Trenton chalked up at most an eight point lead. The score at the conclusion of the third quarter was 29-24. Paige, who appeared a bit unsteady, helped the Rocks along in the third stanza tossing one in the Trenton net. This basket was credited to Larry Finney, the Rocks captain.

Keith Ebersole sparked the local lads in the fourth quarter by tallying seven points, but the Rocks were unable to catch up. This loss was the third in three weeks that the Rocks have lost by four points or less. Belleville and Ypsilanti each downed the Rocks by three points. A lack of backboard work hampered Plymouth. This partially came about as Jack Scheel, one of the Rocks tallest and talented players, sat on the bench during three quarters of the tilt.

Scoring 12 points each Chuck Paige and Larry Finney took the scoring honors.

In the preliminary attraction the Plymouth reserves won easily over the Trenton reserves 40-29. Once again all 12 players saw action. Eight fellows scored with Alan Finney netting 13 and Phil Jacobus 11. The remaining points were distributed in this manner: Bud Young, four; Dick Fenton, four; Dwight Eckler, four; Keith Alford, three; George Hunter, two; and Charley Stark, one.

As "Sandmann boys" won, it marked their seventh consecutive win and sixth without a loss in league competition. The Rocks only had trouble in the initial quarter when the score was deadlocked 6-6. However, any team can hold its own in the first quarter. The second quarter really counts. In that stanza the Rocks tallied seven while holding the Trojans scoreless.

By REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
Jesus' Early Teaching and Healing.
Lesson for February 6; Mark 1: 14-15, 32-39; Luke 4:16-21.
Memory Selection: Matthew 4:23.

Galilee was the scene of our Lord's first preaching and healing. The first two verses of the lesson text give us a picture of his ministry throughout Galilee.

Jesus at once became the Great Physician—healing the bodies of men that he might reach their souls. His miracles were usually those of healing. They also demonstrated his divine power and won adherents.

In his native Nazareth he declared himself fully. In the synagogue, given the book of Isaiah, he read a prophecy and claimed it had been fulfilled in himself. The spirit of the Lord was upon Him first to preach the gospel, for in the order of time and importance, preaching the good news comes first.

Capernaum was the place of many healings. On a notable day "when the sun did set" all the diseased and those possessed with devils were brought unto Jesus.

"Spirit" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 6. The Golden Text (I Cor. 2:11) is: "What man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God." Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Romans 8:1,14): "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

Tonight's Play is "World We Make"

This evening, Friday, Jessica Tandy recreates the role of Virginia McKay in a radio adaptation of Sidney Kingsley's great drama, "The World We Make", to be broadcast over station CKLW at 8 p. m., reports the Rev. Alexander Miller, rector of St. John's Episcopal church.

Currently starring in the Broadway success, "A Streetcar Named Desire", Jessica Tandy finds a perfect vehicle for great dramatic talent in the part of Virginia McKay, a young woman beset by fears, distrust and unhealthy self-interest resulting from the tragic loss of her beloved brother. Virginia found her way back to real living happiness when she met a young man who showed her, by example, how love and faith in others conquers the self-interest and the soul-corroding despair that can come from great personal loss or misfortune, the Rev. Miller states.

"The World We Make" is the 19th radio presentation of the series, "Great Scenes from Great Plays," sponsored weekly by families of the Protestant Episcopal church and the Episcopal Actors' guild.

The message carried by "The World We Make" to unchurched people everywhere is that—in the church—there is always the basis for a set of living values, the source of inner strength and security that can guide people past all grief to true happiness.

Fair in the Light of Memory Shines

Michigan led all states in the Union last year in attracting the greatest number of out-of-state fishermen. There were 281,825 visitors to our state who paid excess fishing license fees for the purpose of enjoying fishing in Michigan lakes and rivers.

Wisconsin was a close second to Michigan, issuing out-state licenses to 245,995 and Minnesota third with a total of 198,470.

But Michigan which has led all states for a number of years in the total number of fishing licenses issued, dropped to second place during 1948. California took the lead, with a total of 1,374,029 over Michigan's total of 1,108,510. Ohio, where few think there is any fishing at all except along Lake Erie, was third, Wisconsin fourth and Minnesota in fifth place.

Michigan dropped to fourth place in the total amount of revenue received from fishing licenses. California, as in 1947, again led in 1948, receiving $3,280,805 from fishing licenses. Minnesota was second with a total of $1,515,272, followed by Wisconsin with $1,449,745. Michigan trailed these three states with a total of $1,409,904.

Michigan, which has led all states in the total number of hunting licenses issued, during 1948 dropped to second place, Pennsylvania taking the lead among all states.

There was a decrease over a quarter of a million in the number of hunters who secured Michigan licenses during 1948. In 1947 there was issued in this state 1,046,839 hunting licenses. Last year the total dropped to 819,406, according to data issued by the Fish and Wildlife division of the Department of Interior.

While there was a decrease in the total number of licenses issued in most other states where good hunting prevails, except in California, the drop in the number of licenses issued in Michigan was greater than that of any other state.

But Michigan did take first place in the total amount of revenue collected from hunters last year. This state took from the hunters a total of $2,688,573. Pennsylvania, which stood first in the number of licenses issued, was second in the total amount of revenue collected, the amount being $2,039,274. Colorado was in third place, with a total of $1,658,056.

Michigan in 1947 stood in third place in the total amount of revenue collected from hunters.

Plymouth contributed its share to help make Michigan's high total for 1948. According to William Rambo of the Plymouth Sport Shop, who issued an exceptionally large number of licenses last year, this city was above the average community of its size in the number of both licensed hunters and fishermen.

The Michigan Conservation department has advised the citizens of this state that there will be unlimited stocks of red and jack pine seedlings available to farmers and others for spring planting.

But there isn't one word said about whether there will be any walnut, hickory, butternut or oak seedlings for planting. Some day, some day "MY MICHIGAN" is going to let out a terrific roar about the failure of the state to begin an extensive replanting program of nut-growing trees. Maybe it will do some good—at least the howl will be heard, here, there and everywhere.

Orders for pine seedlings are now being accepted only at the department's forestry division office, Lansing.

Seedlings are distributed at cost for reforestation and may not be resold or otherwise used commercially. Stock must be ordered on special blanks provided by the division, on which the legal description of the acreage to be planted appears.

Prices continue at last year's rate of $3 a thousand for two-year-old pack pine seedlings, $4 a thousand for two-year-old red pine seedlings and $4.50 a thousand for three-year-old red pine seedlings. White pine seedlings are not available at the present time.

"Town Line 16" is the boundary which southern Michigan hunters must cross to get into one of two which divides southern and northern hunting districts of the lower Peninsula.

This line is the north boundary of Oceana, Newaygo, Mecosta, Isabella and Midland counties, projecting across Bay county to Saginaw Bay. Zone two does not include any part of the Thumb.

A symbol of French might amid thousands of volatile Indians, Fort de Buade was constructed in 1690 at the present site of St. Ignace.

The outline of the fort's earthworks are still visible in "Old Fort Field" on a hill on Fort Street just back of Marquette Park, according to information in the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.

Its strong ramparts were intended to swing the Redmen from British influence and impress upon them the benefits of once more paying allegiance to the French.

The fort was an effort by the new French governor of Canada, Louis de Buade, Count Frontenac, to indicate that the French still were vitally interested in the region.

Frontenac previously had been governor and had held the Indians to French allegiance with a firm hand. But after his recall in 1682, a succession of weak governors had let the British gain some influence in the area. King Louis XIV had renamed Frontenac governor to once again assert French dominance.

When the fort was put up, the spot already was fairly well populated. Two Indian villages, a settlement of traders and a Catholic mission were there.

At that time the entire Straits region was known as Michilimackinac, and the new fort was called Michilimackinac much of the time, Michigan Historical Collections material shows.

In 1694, the very able Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac became commandant at Fort de Buade. Michilimackinac then was the focus of vast Indian intrigue that existed throughout the west. It had also become the meeting place of several thousand Indians of various tribes, including the Chippewas, Ottawas and Hurons, who continually were threatening war upon one another and the French.

It was Cadillac's job to band together this potpourri of savage hatred so as to stave off English advances in the territory. This he did to considerable extent by continually displaying French strength and by sending frequent parties of warriors eastward to fight the Iroquois. The Iroquois formed a common foe since they were enemies of the Indians in the Straits area and were considered as hostile to the French because they were friends of the British.

During the four years he was at the fort, Cadillac also found time to pen an exhaustive "Memoir" of the Upper Country which is one of the most revealing of its time.

In 1696, Louis XIV ordered all western posts closed as a means of reducing the production of furs which were a glut on the market and of protecting the Indians from what many claimed were degrading influences of the traders.

When the order finally reached him, Cadillac, who believed the French should hold the west, reluctantly abandoned his post and went to Quebec. Fort de Buade never again was garrisoned.

Wayne county has been selected by the State Extension office as reporting the most outstanding 4-H Farm Safety program of 1948 in Michigan.

An announcement made at the same time disclosed that Marian Amrhein of Plymouth was one of four Wayne county medal winners in the 1948 National 4-H Farm Safety programs.

As a reward for the county's outstanding safety program, the County Extension offices will receive a General Motors plaque, appropriately engraved to designate the honor. Purpose of this awards program, it was announced, is to encourage 4-H boys and girls to practice and promote safety at all times.

According to Miss Marie Wolfe, county club agent, 400 of the 450 4-H club members enrolled in the project made safety surveys of their farm homes and communities.

Some of the common hazards were loose boards on porches and steps; defective stove pipes; stairways cluttered with miscellaneous articles, oily rags improperly stored, and rubbish left in yards. Parent-Teachers' associations and mothers' groups cooperated in the county-wide program.

All-new color motion pictures of "Our Glorious Pacific Northwest" will be shown by Ray Eggersted, young Chicago explorer, in a World Adventure Series public lecture at 3:30 next Sunday afternoon, February 6, at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Eggersted's color film covers scenic and vacation highlights of the Dakotas, British Columbia, Alberta, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

Among pictorial highlights: the Black Hills, Yellowstone and Glacier National parks, the snow-capped Tetons, Idaho's Salmon and Snake Rivers, mighty forests, Sun Valley, Garibaldi Park, dude ranches, the world-famed Calgary Stampede, Banff and Lake Louise, Takkakkaw Falls, Athabaska Glacier, down the lordly Columbia River, Grand Coulee and Bonneville dams, climbing Mt. St. Helens, the scenic Oregon coast.

Nursery School Aide Recommend Self-Test for Parents and Children

It is not a day too early to start thinking about next fall when little Bobby or Sally will go to one of Plymouth's Grade schools for the first time.

Dread, tears, and disappointment can all be avoided in early September if you plan now. Ruth Highberger and Eileen Litka of the Michigan State college Nursery School staff recommend that you give your child an "are you ready for school" test.

Can he run, climb, jump and ride a tricycle with considerable skill? Can he button and unbutton his own clothes and do most of his own dressing? Does he accept most foods and eat them with reasonably good manners? Does he take some responsibility for washing and grooming himself?

Patience in helping a child to do things for himself now will pay you satisfying dividends in the end. If you start now on the weak points you can help him to achieve the above skills before September.

Your child should be having experiences with many other adults—relatives, friends and baby sitters. He should learn to be happy with others when his parents are not around.

He should be mingling with children of his own age. School for him is a world made up of his own age group. The happier he is with other children, the more he is likely to enjoy the first day of school.

Remember that when disciplining your child he should know that he is still loved no matter how many mistakes he makes. Avoid such comments as, "Mother doesn't love you when you do that." He should feel security in your love for him when being disciplined and corrected.

Quality of Belts to be Improved

Complaining does help at times. Many complaints made by women about dress belts ruined at the cleaners or in the laundry are bringing results.

Belt manufacturers have been sent recommendations for belts that will withstand washing and cleaning. All kinds of belt backings were tested and the results given to the manufacturers. Emma DuBord, Wayne County Home Demonstration Agent, reports to Plymouth women that this will mean fewer belts backed with paper, coated with plastic that won't stand cleaning and put together with glue that dissolves in water or cleaning fluid.

The tests for belts were made by the National Dyeing and Cleaning Institute which now plans to tackle the problem of belt buckles. Buckles are often covered with cloth attached with glue that is soluble in cleaning fluids. It is hoped that a substitute may be found for the glue now being used.

Some plastic buttons give trouble, too. One type, polystyrene, cannot be dry cleaned. The industry has agreed to use this plastic only in one type of crystal clear buttons that must be removed in dry cleaning.

Successful Parenthood

MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS

Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

WHY DO children tell lies? There are almost as many answers to this question as there are children. Since we've already discussed many phases of this problem, today we shall devote our space to a true story which we think sheds light on one frequent prompting to untruthfulness on the part of children.

The story begins when I was a child of about 10. I remember the clucks of excitement when a neighbor's child, Janie Martin, who was seven years old, was branded at school as a liar and a thief. This came about when the teacher told the class that she had lost a ring and asked if any of them had seen it, whereupon Janie's hand went up to assure the teacher that she had found the missing ring. But when asked to produce it, Janie hedged, "I took it home," she said, but promised to bring it the next day.

When she failed again to produce the ring, Janie continued to temporize, "I gave it to my mother," she said.

Now the teacher happened to know Janie's mother, so she accompanied the child home that evening to reclaim her ring. But Mrs. Martin knew nothing about the ring or about her child's claim of having found it. After long questioning Janie's mother finally joined the teacher and other censorious adults in deciding that her daughter was hiding the ring in the hope of being able to keep it, and was trying to lie her way out of the tangle.

A few days later, however, a boy found the ring in the gravel of the play yard and the teacher somewhat reluctantly cleared Janie's name before the class. Yet the doubt remained—had Janie dropped the ring in the school yard when she saw her game was up?

Now we jump a lot of years to one of those chance encounters on a train. In the meantime I hadn't seen Janie since we had all grown up and scattered. But the old friend I bumped into on the train had moved to the town where Janie now lives and they had become friends. Knowing that I was interested in child psychology she remarked during our chat, "Janie told the most amusing story one day at a luncheon about something that happened to her when she was a child." It was then that I finally got Janie's own version of the old story about the teacher's ring.

Janie, who has grown into a spirited and attractive woman, said that as a child she had found life very dull. She was shy and nondescript-looking and no one paid any attention to her. Each day when the teacher asked the children to relate any interesting adventures they had had, Janie had nothing to contribute. She thought there must be something wrong with her and her family that nothing exciting ever happened to them. The day when the teacher announced the loss of her ring Janie had been feeling particularly left out of things. All of a sudden she saw her opportunity to figure in a thrilling event—and that's when Janie's hand went up to say she had found the ring. She confessed that though she had become a bit frightened over being expected to come across with the ring, on the whole this was the only memorable experience of her early childhood and she had enjoyed being the center of even reproving attention. The story points its own moral, don't you agree?

Red Cross Nutrition Aids

The Plymouth homemaker who hasn't learned to use peanuts and peanut butter in meal preparation is passing up an unusually versatile food. The richness and flavor of this nut, which is really not a nut but a member of the pea and bean family, make it a tempting ingredient of dishes that fit into any course of the meal.

In addition to delicious flavor peanuts have a great deal to offer in the way of nutritive value, according to the Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross. They are one of the best vegetable sources of tissue and blood building protein. This makes them excellent to use as alternates for meat, fish, eggs and cheese or as supplements to them.

Peanuts and peanut products are rich in the B-vitamins, especially niacin. They're high energy foods too, because of their richness in oil.

With peanuts on the plentiful list at the present time and prices at an attractive level, use them in your regular meal preparation often. Peanut butter is undoubtedly the most convenient form in which to include them and is used in the recipes suggested below. Use either the smooth or crunch variety.

This is a standby for sandwich fillings, especially when there are moppets in the home. They'll gobble them in quantities and ask for more especially if the peanut butter is dressed up occasionally by the addition of crisp bacon bits, chopped dried fruits, jam, minced celery or carrots, or pickle relish.

To keep the peanut butter fresh and sweet store it in the refrigerator but remember to take it out long enough before using so it can warm up to room temperature or it will be too hard to spread evenly or to blend smoothly with other ingredients. If the oil tends to separate from the peanut butter just turn the jar upside down for a few days to give it a chance to work through the whole mass.

Peanut butter thickens when liquids are added to it. For this reason they are usually stirred in after the other ingredients are blended with the peanut butter. Sauce made with it needs little other thickening.

HOT PEANUT BUTTER SANDWICH

One-fourth cup peanut butter, ¼ cup marmalade, 6 slices day-old bread, 1 egg, ¼ cup milk, dash of salt, 2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine.

Spread three slices of bread with peanut butter and marmalade and top with remaining slice. Press together lightly. Beat egg slightly and blend with milk and salt. Dip each sandwich into egg mixture, remove at once and allow liquid to drain off. Brown on both sides in fat in heavy frying pan. Serve hot.

PEANUT BUTTER CANDY COOKIES

One-half cup peanut butter, ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup evaporated milk, 2½ cups cornflakes.

Mix peanut butter, sugar and milk to a smooth paste. Stir in cornflakes until thoroughly blended. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F., for 15 minutes or until evenly browned. Makes about 32 cookies.

PEANUT BUTTER SAUCE (for ice cream)

One-fourth cup peanut butter, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup water, 2/3 cup light corn syrup, ½ teaspoon salt.

Combine all ingredients and boil over low heat until a small amount forms a very soft ball (220 degrees F.) when dropped into cold water. Remove from heat and let stand without stirring until syrup reaches room temperature. Add peanut butter and stir until blended. This may be stored in tightly covered jar in the refrigerator.

Smoked Pork for Winter Day

A generous platter of juicy smoked pork slices makes attractive service for a winter dinner—in this case the slices are from the smoked shoulder butt of pork. Roast the shoulder butt as you do any cut of smoked pork in an uncovered pan in a 300 degree F. oven, then slice and serve with scalloped corn. Thick orange slices topped with lemon gelatin molds are a colorful and appetizing garnish.

Since ham and all other smoked pork is so popular, it is important to know the many different cuts available in this one family of meats. One of the least known but most versatile is the smoked shoulder roll of pork, also called cottage roll and by other names.

As its name implies, this cut is completely boneless, and, therefore, a good buy, as are other solid cuts of meats, points out Reba Staggs, home economist. It comes from the Boston butt, in the shoulder section of pork, and may be cooked by roasting (fat side up on a rack in a shallow uncovered pan in a 300 degrees F. oven, allowing 35 minutes per pound) or by cooking in liquid (simmering in liquid to cover, allowing 35 minutes per pound).

This is an excellent cut for the small family, to serve when entertaining or when planning for several meals, since it usually weighs 2 to 4 pounds. For the larger family, it will probably be a one-meal cut—for breakfast (slice and pan fry), for lunch (slice and broil) or for dinner (roast).

A variety of glazes gives interesting character to this cut. These are put on immediately following cooking, whether the roll is roasted or cooked in liquid. For glazing, turn the oven to hot (425 degrees F.). Remove the skin from the fat surface of the ham and cover with the desired glaze. Place meat in oven and heat until browned, approximately 15 to 20 minutes.

Glazes range from sour to sweet, according to your choice. An old favorite glaze is one in paste form, made by combining vinegar, dry mustard and brown sugar. Still other paste glazes are the combinations of grated pineapple and brown sugar, or of ginger ale, mustard and brown sugar.

Another glaze is cranberry sauce. Or you might use honey, white sirup or orange marmalade. Maple sirup, brown sugar, or brown sugar and dry mustard are other suggestions. Or this time of year you might serve your smoked shoulder roll with a cornstarch-thickened cherry sauce, made just tart enough with lemon juice.

Women's styles may change, but their designs remain the same.

MEAT CUT Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. This is the smoked shoulder butt of pork.

Q. Where does this cut come from and how is it identified?
A. This cut comes from the Boston butt. Actually, it is the boneless eye muscle from this cut. It is a solid, smooth, oval roll, reddish-brown in color, and usually weighs about three to five pounds.

Q. How should this cut be prepared?
A. The smoked shoulder butt is prepared like any other cut of smoked pork. It is usually roasted, but for variation may also be cooked in liquid. To roast, place the roll on a rack in an open shallow roasting pan and roast in a slow oven (300 degrees F.), allowing 35 minutes per pound. To cook in liquid, cover with liquid and cook at simmering temperature, allowing 45 minutes per pound.

Insulation of old houses, done correctly and at reasonable costs, will pay off over a number of years, say agricultural engineers at Michigan State college.

A good resolution for the new year is to farm in such a way that if your farm could choose its operator it would still choose you.

Down Under Florida Palm Trees

The Plymouth Mail's "Rambling Reporter" finds news, here, there and everywhere.

One of the things which helps to make any trip away from home most interesting is the comment and views of people from other cities and states you happen to meet.

Interesting, too, is the fact that so many people one contacts by chance, seem to know about Plymouth and some of its people.

When one goes down to Key West, separated from Havana, Cuba by only 90 miles of water, where a very large portion of the population is made up of former Cubans and U. S. Naval personnel, you are about as far away in a southerly direction from Plymouth as you can go.

But it was in Key West the other day where we heard one in a position to know, give Plymouth's Mayflower hotel, and its manager, Ralph Lorenz, one of the best "boosters" we have ever heard for any hotel.

While spending a few hours in Key West, The Mail's "Rambling Reporter" happened to meet Charles Long, publisher of Long's Hotel and Vacation Guide. His home address is in northern Wisconsin, but most of his time is spent traveling about these good old United States of ours, checking on hotel and tourist accommodations.

It was but a few months ago when he visited Plymouth and spent some time giving the Mayflower "the once over."

"Any city the size of Plymouth that can support a hotel like the Mayflower is entitled to all kinds of credit. The Mayflower is one of the best of the smaller hotels in the country and its management is tops. If you call Plymouth your home, you have a perfect right to be a booster for its hotel," declared Mr. Long. He ought to know, because it is his business to know about how good or bad hotels are.

And believe it or not, we have a few people in Plymouth who lay awake nights trying to figure out ways to do something to hurt the hotel and its business.

Key West can give credit to a former Michigan woman for establishing one of the most beautifully located and most modern tourist motels in the country. It would probably be more correct to say "the most beautiful."

Keenly interested in the growth and development of Key West, Mrs. Vera Marks, years ago a Detroit resident, but who is now one of the most loyal boosters of Key West that can be found among its residents, decided to do something to help improve and expand accommodations for the rapidly growing tourist travel that Key West has experienced in recent years.

Partial view of portion of the formal gardens along which tourist cabins are located in Mrs. Marks' Casa Roma.

Before his death, the late Julian Marks built a beautiful home on the Atlantic ocean coast of Key West. He developed the five or six acres of grounds lying along the ocean front and surrounding the home, into one of the most attractive formal gardens anywhere in the south. Previous to his retirement and removal to Key West, he was for years comptroller of the Packard Motor Car company of Detroit.

Before selecting Key West as their permanent home, Mr. and Mrs. Marks toured the entire United States, finally selecting the southernmost city of these United States as the place they desired to spend the rest of their lives.

Following his death, Mrs. Marks decided to remain in Key West and assumed the community interest that her husband had always displayed after their removal from Detroit to this interesting and historic city. It was but natural for Mrs. Marks to do this, as her entire life until she was married had been spent in a home where public affairs were the first subject of interest. Old timers will recall that her father served long and well as a Michigan state senator from Wayne county and for years was regarded as one of the outstanding political leaders in the metropolitan area of Michigan. Mrs. Marks has many friends in Northville and this part of Wayne county.

After deciding that she could help Key West by assisting in the expansion of its tourist accommodations, she enlisted the aid of her nephew Sam Lawrence of Northville. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lawrence of Northville. This was shortly after he had been given his discharge from the army. Sam, who has as many friends and acquaintances in Plymouth as Northville, and his young bride, two or three years ago moved to Key West. Mrs. Lawrence was the former Agnes Brown of Plymouth and Northville.

Construction of the tourist motels and efficiency apartments alongside one of the beautiful drives facing the formal gardens, was begun and have recently been opened to the public. Probably Casa Roma Courts, as Mrs. Marks has named her place, is the only tourist court in the entire United States that has a beautiful swimming pool open both winter and summer for the use of guests of the Casa Roma Courts.

"Sam" as he is best known to his Northville-Plymouth friends, has become a one hundred percent Key West booster and as manager of these courts, he will do well, there is no question about that. He is friendly, accommodating and anxious to do all within his power to help Mrs. Marks make the Casa Roma Courts one of the outstanding attractions of the southlands.

Tourist business down here has taken a little spurt over what it has been—but one does not have to look far for accommodations in Miami. Like the retail business—the tourist business has become a "shopper's market." If you don't like the price asked of one place,

POWER PLANT

that uses its Head!

THIS is the husky thrill-producer you find filling the bonnet of any 1949 Buick.

Look it over and you'll observe, among other things, that it is a valve-in-head straight-eight.

In simple language, this means that years ago Buick engineers lifted the valves from the side of the cylinder and put them on top—with some immediate advantages.

Such an engine "breathes" better. Gets a full, even charge on every intake—exhausts spent gases more easily—enjoys extra power, life and ginger.

And in such engines, compression ratios are relatively easy to establish. To step them up, the head is merely brought closer to the piston—no extra problems are presented getting fuel in and exhaust out.

Thus Buick power can—and has—kept pace with progress in fuels. Compression ratios suit gasolines actually available—and there's no waiting for tomorrow's gasolines to get full performance.

There are other things to notice about this engine.

It's a Fireball power plant—uses a special and exclusive type of piston that gets more good out of each fuel charge.

And it speaks with soft, new quiet. Self-setting valve lifters automatically keep valves properly seated, ending tappet noises for good.

With gasolines getting better, the swing to valve-in-head design will undoubtedly grow stronger. But that is what Buick has had all along—a power plant that uses its head to give extra lift and thrill.

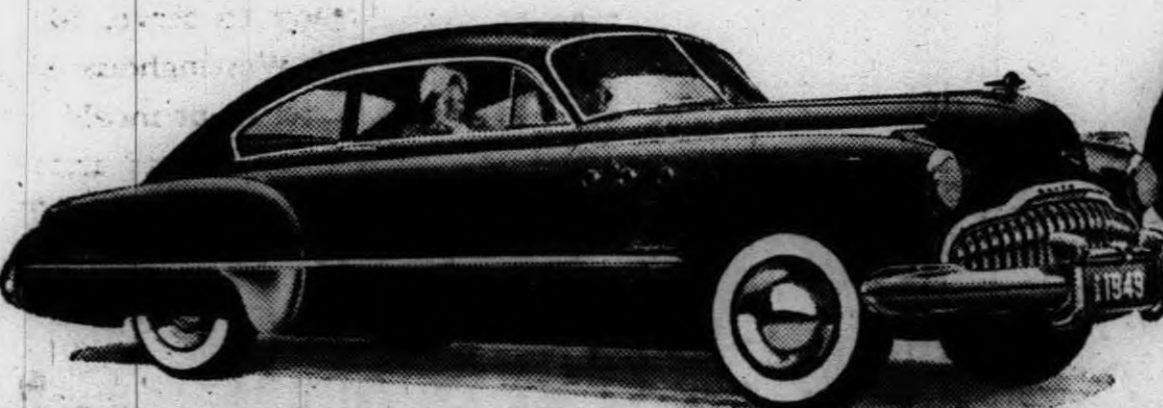

That's enough reason to see your Buick dealer now, with or without a car to trade, to get your order in.

Farmers Invited to Tractor Party

The Farmall Cub tractor, manufactured by International Harvester Company, is shown here with its one-row cultivator working in beans. The Farmall Cub offers small-acreage and part-time farmers all the advantages of complete, low-cost mechanization. It is designed to handle all field and garden crop operations.

Fun, entertainment and refreshments are on the program at the Farmall Cub Tractor party for small-acreage, part-time, large-acreage, or vegetable farm operators sponsored by West Brothers, Inc., Plymouth International Harvester dealer. The place is at their large service garage, 534 Forest, all day Saturday, February 12.

"All are invited to come and bring a friend interested in farming," said the West brothers. "You'll enjoy the fun, entertainment, souvenirs, refreshments and demonstrations."

The meeting is keyed to the four main markets for the Farmall Cub—small-acreage, part-time, large-acreage and vegetable farm operators, they pointed out.

"This meeting in February," they said, "will tie in with a nation-wide Farmall Cub Month promotion through newspapers, magazines, movies and radio. It calls farmers' attention to this small tractor and its full line of implements. More than seven million listeners will be invited, through the Harvester's CBS network show, 'Harvest of Stars,' starring James Melton, to visit their local IH dealer in February. A colorful store display of banners and pennants has been built around a giant-size Farmall Cub bear. Four smaller bears serve as literature racks for the four new vocational catalogs. More color is added by a giant 4-color poster of the national farm paper ad, and a two-sided, tear-drop shaped display of tractors.

"The Farmall Cub Month program is keyed to the four main Cub markets," Mr. West said. "It shows how the Farmall Cub and its full line of direct-connected and pull-behind implements fits their power needs. It demonstrates how they can enjoy all the advantages of complete mechanization with Cub-size power. The whole program will acquaint America with the Farmall Cub Tractor, Farmall Touch-Control and Farmall Cub implements."

Still Urge Early Fertilizer Order

A few facts and figures about the 1949 fertilizer prospects for Plymouth farmers were given this week by Dr. C. E. Millar, head of the soils science department at Michigan State college.

He reports that somewhat more fertilizer will be manufactured this year than last. This doesn't necessarily mean, however, that farmers will have appreciably larger quantities of fertilizer this year than in 1948.

Michigan farmers are now using about two and three-quarters times as much fertilizer as they did in the years before the war. Annual use of fertilizer in Michigan has increased from almost 132,000 tons to around 393,000 tons. Dr. Millar believes that this figure might even go higher if farmers could get all the fertilizer they wanted.

At the present time, indications are that there will be about seven percent more nitrogen, five percent more phosphoric acid, and ten percent more potash for use in fertilizer this year than last. Fertilizer companies all over the nation are working as hard as possible to supply their farmer-customers. The increases in production do not mean that all sections of the country will have greater supplies since it is more economical for factories to sell their product at home than to ship it a considerable distance.

Figuring fertilizer needs, placing an order in advance with the dealer and taking delivery when it comes is still the best plan, Dr. Millar believes.

Plymouth Residents Buy Large Numbers of Special Stamp Issues

For a city of its size, Plymouth probably has more than its share of people who make collections of special stamps that are issued by the postoffice department.

Mrs. Beatrice Schultz, assistant postmistress, who for years has had charge of these special stamp sales for Plymouth, says that many hundreds of dollars are spent in Plymouth for these special-issue stamps whenever they are issued.

Interesting, too, is the recapitulation covering the first-day sales of the 30 special stamps issued during 1948 made by the postoffice department which discloses that collectors and dealers bought 28,592,751 stamps at the first-day ceremonies and paid $916,931.49 for them. The average initial-date sales were 953,125 stamps.

The Army Chaplains 3-cent gray-black released at Washington on May 28 was the year's favorite first-day stamp, with 1,913,597 copies purchased. Second in this respect was the Swedish Pioneers 5-cent deep blue, with 1,744,416 bought at Chicago on June 4. Ranking third was the American Turners Society 3-cent red at Cincinnati on November 20.

Among the 29 commemorative or memorial stamps, the "Salute to Youth" 3-cent blue proved the least popular, with 548,293 purchased at Washington on August 11. The small-sized 5-cent red air stamp in coil form sold only 210,251 copies when released on January 15 at Washington, but that was a utilitarian item and did not receive the advance publicity which the philatelic press gave the specials.

More first-day covers were canceled than in any previous year. Initial-date postmarks were applied to 12,349,731 covers—an average of 411,657. For cover collectors the California Gold Centennial 3-cent ranked first in use with 526,154 envelopes serviced.

This was followed by the Francis Scott Key memorial issue with 505,930. All the others were under the half-million mark.

How interest in first-day covers collecting has advanced in popularity in recent years is suggested by comparing last year's total of approximately 12,350,000 with figures recorded in 1940 and in 1938. In 1940, at thirty-five first-day ceremonies in connection with the "Famous Americans" series, covers canceled amounted to 5,089,851—fewer than half as many covers serviced in 1948.

In 1938, at thirty-two first-day ceremonies for the "Presidential" stamps, the covers canceled totaled 2,146,082—fewer than half as many as in 1940 and about one-sixth as many as in 1948.

No official announcement regarding the place of the first-day sale of the Minnesota Territory Centennial 3-cent stamp on March 3 has been made by the Postoffice Department, but word comes from the Twin Cities Philatelic Society that St. Paul has been selected.

The Twin Cities group representing collectors in St. Paul and Minneapolis, has been appointed by the Minnesota Historical Society and the Minnesota Centennial Committee as sponsor and distributor of first-day covers to which the official cachet will be applied during the Twin Cities four-day stamp show and exhibition in the St. Paul hotel beginning March 3.

REMEMBERING NAMES

DO YOU have difficulty in remembering names? The average person does, yet you can without too much effort eliminate this handicap from your makeup.

Hugh H. George of Columbus, O., tells how he made a big sale of materials because he had conquered this failing. A man with the difficult German name of Heinrich Schwantzganz was about to build a house. Naturally, every dealer around wanted to sell him the materials for his house. Mr. Schwantzganz was a good business man and he meant to get more than one bid for his business. When Mr. George asked to see the plans of his house, with a view to bidding, he obligingly brought them to Mr. George's office, accompanied by his wife.

When the couple walked in the office, Mr. George arose and with outstretched hand said, "I am glad to see you, Mr. Schwantzganz." At that, Mr. Schwantzganz looked surprised and turned to his wife: "Mamma, listen, Mamma, three weeks ago this young man met me but once and he knows my name already still. Thank you very much, young man. How you remember so hard a name? My name's hard to remember."

"Not for me, Mr. Schwantzganz, for my father taught me years ago that fool's names and faces pass like dry leaves in a breeze, but the name and face of a person of character and distinction remain in one's memory."

"Dat's right, young man, dat's right. Your father must have been a very schmart man."

Suddenly a warm feeling for this man suffused Mr. George. He liked him. Genuine, honest—and he had referred to him twice as a "young man." Flattering, for Mr. George was past 40!

He opened the plans to study them, but Mr. Schwantzganz pushed them aside, "I like you, young man," he said. "You are a schmart man. I want that you should supply the best of everything for the house. I pay you one thousand dollars now and when the materials come, I pay you immediately C. O. D. That is all right?"

Mr. George entered into the building of that house with enthusiasm, he wanted everything to be right for Mr. Schwantzganz, and the sale totaled something like seven thousand dollars.

Yes, learn to remember names. It will forever stand you in good stead.

Leaders of Firemen's Union
Leaders of Engineers' Union
NEEDLESS EXTRA ENGINE CREW
This is a diesel ... a modern locomotive that means better service to you.
Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed ... a 'make work' grab that means less service to you.
● Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste—a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for YOU!
Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.
Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.
No Benefit To You
Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.
The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol. Diesel crews are among the highest paid tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.
Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You
But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive.
These demands are against YOUR interests—as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.
That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.
We'd Like To Spend This Money On You
You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better services for you.
Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of

"We Can't Bake Like Mother, But Mother Likes Our Baking"

Babson Says Babson Discusses National Productivity

Mr. Ghandi, rest his soul, advocated a return to the spinning wheel because "machines kill jobs". Without machines, our unrivalled living standards in this country would be totally impossible.

Machines Make Jobs
 In the last 75 years our workers have become more and more productive. Today they produce four times as much goods as they did then. When Abe Lincoln was a boy, about 79 per cent of our productive energy was supplied by animals, 15 per cent by humans, and six per cent by mechanical means. Today only three per cent is supplied by animals and two per cent by humans. Whereas, the machine does 95 per cent of our work for us!

The thought that mechanization is the root of all evil is as old fashioned as grandpa's six-shooter in an atomic age. The key to our high standard-of-living is increased character, intelligence and productivity through mechanization. The results: shorter working hours, more take-home pay, vacations with pay, social security, and a standard-of-living that has Joe Stalin scared to death.

Conditions Favoring Growth
 In order for any of God's creatures—plants, animals, or humans—to prosper and develop fully, they need the right environment; and the right food. Industrial America burst into bud and blossomed forth in the last one hundred years because it had the right food and the right environment. Surely, we have abundant resources; but so has Russia. What we have had that Russia has lacked has been a religious, political and economic environment which encouraged risk taking. This combined system has encouraged and made possible the venture capital to harness the mechanical energy which put money and men to work.

 Don't blame the next depression on machines. Blame it on men. The machines are working all right. All they need is a constant tuning up in keeping with the times. But both the men owning and those operating these machines constantly work for the good of the world as a whole and not for any one selfish group.

Increased Productivity Needed
 There is as great a need for capital investment today as there was when I was a boy. We could readily invest fifty million dollars over the next decade in industrial modernization. We need to put another fifty million into housing in order to bring our housing program up to decent standards. We could easily use many billions for streets and highways. There is certainly a need, therefore, for increased savings. These are possibly only with lower taxes.

Projected studies indicate that future income will be quite adequate to absorb increased production schedules. In order, therefore, to increase our production capacity, we need considerably more venture capital. By 1950-55, our consumer market will be better than double 1929's—or, after taxes and savings, about one hundred and fifteen to one hundred and twenty billion left to spend. The money is, therefore, there for goods and services. The resources are there. Why, therefore, do we hesitate?

Good Business Up to Truman
 Venture capital is being scared away. The outlook for profits is uncertain. Investors are timid. They fear an unfair deal by Congress. Spotty capital investment contributes to retard production and cause unemployment. Only with fair taxes, fair wages and fair profits, is it possible to plow back into the business sufficient funds to keep new construction and current production rising and to cause costs to go down. If our great America is to forge ahead, we need to create the proper environment for its growth. This means encouraging venture capital—not taxing it to death. Let us hope that President Truman realizes this basic economic fact.

Question: Astrologically speaking, what does the future hold for the United States and the rest of the world?

Answer: The planet Pluto is on the cusp of the 4th house in the United States' horoscope and opposing the Moon which rules the national finances. This means increased taxation to meet the extravagance and waste of the present administration. Uranus is in conjunction with Venus which rules Labor, warning of serious strikes and economic unrest created by the left-wing forces.

The honest, constructive elements in the United States, as well as in other parts of the world, will realize before very long that the war between Democracy and Totalitarianism is really a grim battle between light and darkness, good and evil, spiritual living and beast-like degradation. The outcome depends on how soon the right-thinking people wake up and undertake to work as hard for their convictions as the forces of evil do for theirs. 1949 is a crucial and deciding year.

Our statesmen in Washington, from the president on down, are sound asleep. It is up to the common people—the farmer, the shop-worker, the small business man—to make their voices heard by the heads of our government, and thus force courageous action. The nation is being lulled by a hypnotic dream of false security, and unless it awakens soon the dream will turn into a destructive nightmare.
