I REMEMBER...

By THE OLD-TIMERS

From H. H. V.: "I remember when 'split-the-top' was a popular game. Each kid had a top with a sharp spear point with which he would try to split the other kid's top. Once a kid's top was split, he'd lose interest in spinning tops for a while and turn to hunting carbon rods beneath arc lights, catching crabs in the ditches, picking up an old rusty tea kettle and arriving home with almost everything imaginable in the kettle and stuffed into his already bulging pockets."

From Henry H. Voecke: "I remember when blacksmiths used to make rings for us kids out of horseshoe nails. Also when we would buy a ball of twine for five cents and make our own baseballs, using tire tape for the cover."

R. H. S.: "I remember how Mother used to cook all meals over a hot kitchen range and think nothing of the inconvenience compared to now. And how the evening meal was eaten in the dining room with that round art-globe oil lamp on a high stand as the only light. These were the days when Dad would retire to the sitting room and didn't want to be disturbed."

From R. H. S.: "I remember how boys used to snatch a drink from the center dome-head of the horse-watering troughs along the streets. And how some teasing girl would come along to peck the boy's head and sometimes knock out a front tooth or two. These dome-heads were of cast iron."

L. F. E.: "I remember when street cars in the big cities were drawn by two horses. The driver stood without shelter of any kind and during the winter he used hay and straw underfoot to keep his feet warm. The fare was five cents. Now, in Chicago, it's 25 cents."

J. O. M.: "I remember when you would go to Horlin's restaurant and get a 21-meal ticket for $3.50 and on Saturday night you'd get a nice fat cigar as a treat."

In San Francisco, Dr. Robert C. Miller, director of the Steinhart Aquarium, excitedly opened a shipment of Hawaiian fish, was considerably let down to find a bunch of humuhumuhukunukuiaipuu.

History of Lodge Related on 100th Anniversary

Jerry McSafety Comes Monday

Historical stories of Tonquish lodge, No. 32, I.O.O.F. were repeated to the 100 members and friends attending the Saturday, February 26, celebration of the organization's 100th anniversary. A dinner was served by members of the Rebekah lodge at 6:45 p.m., with the ensuing program opening with an introduction of the past grands by present noble grand, Earl Gray, toastmaster for the evening. Officers currently holding lodge posts were, also introduced at that time. The history of the lodge was unfolded by P. G. Hunter. He explained that facts relating to the years previous to 1893 were indefinite, since all records, except for Grand Lodge reports, were destroyed in the fire of April 17, 1893 which destroyed the main block of the city. In August 1847, however, G. A. Starkweather and M. A. Mosher, past grands of Washtenaw lodge No. 9 of Ann Arbor, requested a charter for Oddfellows in Plymouth, Mr. Hunter told. A report was received from a committee of two past grands from each lodge, Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, that they had investigated the men requesting a charter at Plymouth and recommended it be issued.

On Monday, December 21, 1847 Tonquish lodge No. 32 was instituted by Grand Master Treadway of Detroit, with five charter members: George A. Starkweather, M. A. Mosher, Past Grands from Ann Arbor lodge, I. Scattergood, Alfred Barker and William Biers, past grand of Wyandotte lodge No. 10.

Previous to the 1893 fire, the lodge had a joint lease with the Masonic lodge, for the third floor of a building that stood on the site now occupied by the Woodworth Bazaar.

In 1890 the meeting night had been changed from Monday to Tuesday, owing to the fact that a number of the members wanted to attend the village commission meeting on Monday evenings. Mr. Hunter continued in his relating of the history.

The day following the fire, the Oddfellows rented the K of P hall, the third floor of what is now the Huston building, and that evening conferred the initiatory degree upon E. C. Hough.

They continued to meet in this site until a new building could be erected on the old site by O. A. Frazer, which was dedicated December 21, 1893 by Grand Master Davis.

On January 5, 1897 they held a public installation with 180 members and friends present.

Named as the oldest living member was Albert Trinkaus, past grand, who was 95 years of age last January. He joined the Oddfellow organization during November of 1898.

Concluding the history Mr. Hunter told that "the lodge had a membership of 62 on January 1, 1900; 404 members on January 1, 1926, and 87 members on January 1, 1949. It is one of the lodges that is out of debt, with a building fund growing to provide a home of our own."

The remaining portion of the anniversary celebration program included a grief address by Francis Dodge, grand master of the State of Michigan. Dorothy Zander presented three songs, accompanied on the piano by Eva Gray.

William Townsend of Detroit also entertained with humorous stories and poetry.

Once again popular Jerry McSafety will be back in town with his master, Wayne Fernelius, to entertain and instruct the children of Plymouth and Livonia schools. The little policeman-ventriloquist is presented by Paul Wiedman, Ford dealer, and will appear at the dealer's showroom to entertain the public after his school talk.

Jerry McSafety's illustrated lectures are practically a command performance with youngsters. He demonstrates with songs, stories and fascinating charts the practical, common-sense safety rules for children of every age and leaves a lasting impression in the minds of his youthful audiences.

Fernelius and his wooden but quick-witted brain child, complete with regulation police uniform, will arrive in Plymouth March 7 and stay until the 11th.

In Tallman, New York, Joseph Castellucci returned to his summer home shortly after the deer season opened, found: 1) a bullet-scarred chimney, 2) a well-riddled wall, 3) a bullet hole in the front window, 4) another in a bedroom mirror.

Sunday's Concert Labeled as "Best"

"Best concert they have ever presented" was the consensus of remarks made following the concert which members of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra performed Sunday afternoon in the high school auditorium.

The program was conducted by Paul Wagner, and presented under the auspices of the Plymouth Symphony Society.

Filling the role of guest soloist was Miss Rose Suzanne der Derian, lyric soprano, who sang the solo role of "Dove Song" from the "Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart. During the first portion of the afternoon concert the orchestra played Cesar Franck's Symphony in D Minor in its entirety.

Dr. A. C. Williams spoke at the intermission period. He told the audience of his conviction that there is not only better music available in the city now, but that interest in better music is growing. This is proved, he added, by the increased numbers which now attend the concerts.

At the conclusion of the concert, Plymouth Symphony Society members sponsored a tea for orchestra members. Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing supervised the planning, and she was aided by Mrs. Charles Brake, and Mrs. Helmer Nelson.

String music by a quartet was played during the tea. The musicians were the following orchestra members: Josef Lazaroff, a violinist; Carl Carlson, second violinist; Ann Dalida, violist; and Pauling Sterling, cellist.

The first of the musicians, Mr. Lazaroff, will be the featured soloist at the fourth concert on April 10.

Following the final rehearsal Saturday evening, orchestra members were honored at a social hour. Mrs. Leo Kowalcik was chairman, and assisting her were Mrs. Fred Beitner, Mrs. Helmer Nelson, Mrs. Ethel Helmer, Mrs. Frederick Cassidy, Mrs. Paul Wagner, Mrs. Roy Fisher, Mrs. Rockwell Smith, Mrs. Roy Purcell, Mrs. Jack Taylor, Mrs. H. E. Woolweaver, Mrs. Sterling Eaton, Mrs. Harry Fischer, Mrs. George Heard and Mrs. David father.

Debaters Lose to Lansing Eastern in Quarter Finals

The quarter final round of the Michigan debating tournament again proved to be a stumbling block to Plymouth's team.

Last Thursday evening the local team lost to the squad from Lansing Eastern, by the judges count of 3 to 0. Plymouth was defeated in the quarter finals last year also.

Debating for the city were Ronald Hees and Roger Kidston. They had the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved: The United Nations should be re-vised into a federal world government."

Judges for the contest were: Dr. Bowman of the Wayne university speech department; Professor Haden Carruth of the University of Michigan speech department; and Dr. Wilbur Moore of Central State at Mt. Pleasant.

Victories the Plymouth team chalked up during the season included the championship title of the Class B Suburban league, the Detroit Metropolitan Debating league, and they won first phase of the state tournament, the elimination contest.

James Latture is Plymouth's debate coach.

Mrs. Reid is Hostess to Hough Extension

Mrs. William Reid was hostess at the meeting of the Hough extension on Friday, February 25.

After a brief business discussion the meeting was turned over to the leaders, Mrs. George Kemnitz and Mrs. Milton Rowe. They presented the list of materials needed and instructions for making hooked rugs, and cushion tops, the extension project for February.

At the end of the meeting the members enjoyed a social hour and refreshments served by the hostess.

Local Composer, Singer of Cowboy Songs Begins Broadcast Series

Lawton "Slim" Williams

Within the confines of Plymouth is a man who is a composer of songs, singer, radio star; a man who has already made 16 records.

All this is bundled up in the person of tall, sandy haired Lawton "Slim" Williams.

Two weeks ago Slim began a series of Saturday radio broadcasts over the Dearborn station at 7:30 a.m. During the 15 minutes he's on the air, he sings a series of cowboy songs, each time including one of his own, all to the accompaniment of his guitar.

Slim started his singing career at the age of 12. His first rise in the public eye came while he was in Texas, when he began a series of public appearances.

While in the lone star state he made a circuit of the state through an inter-state theater chain. Slim also tells of working a radio show with Laura Lee, who was formerly a star with Gene Autry. She made a recording of one of Slim's songs, "Heart of Stone."

At one time Plymouth's singing star was with the police department in Corpus Christi, but even then he continued with his singing. He remembers one writer booking him as the "Singing Cop."

That all happened in 1944, and he left that post to make a series of personal appearances with Roy Acuff.

Over 20 of Slim's songs have been recorded, some by artists other than himself. His own best selling record, contains two of his original songs, "Have Mercy on Me" and "Fire Water."

Slim, who has been in and out of Plymouth ever since 1941, now resides at 529 South Main street.

Concerning his present radio program, which is sponsored by two Plymouth merchants, Slim states that he has already had a number of cards and letters from local persons.

Red Cross Goal is $3,125

Further change in the list of personnel who are taking part in the Red Cross drive program was announced by Mr. Henry when he told that Joe Merritt replaces Mrs. Clifton Raum as chairman of the Industrial Canvassing committee.

The Plymouth chairman stated that the 1949 fund goal for the American National Red Cross is $60,000,000. He pointed out that of this amount $26,000,000 is for the national organization, and the remaining $34,000,000 has been designated for the 3,746 chapters.

During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1948, the Red Cross spent over $12,100,000 for relief and rehabilitation aid to 312,400 persons in 303 domestic disaster operations, Mr. Henry stated.

"In time of peace the Red Cross faithfully serves thousands of communities, including local areas, in disaster and rehabilitation relief, in first aid and life saving education, in providing blood in emergencies, and in varied health programs," the chairman continued. "The Red Cross continues help to veterans and their families and members of the Armed Forces, because it realizes there can be no contraction in these efforts as long as we inherit the legacies of war and must maintain substantial military preparedness."

Husband to wife: "I'll say one thing for your relatives—I like your mother-in-law better than mine."

Meeting to Fete Past Presidents

Cass Kershaw are chairmen of the tea committee. Serving on the committee also are: Mrs. Edward Dobbs, Mrs. Charles Wolfe, Mrs. Elmore Carney, Mrs. Clifton Raum, Mrs. John McAllister, Mrs. Austin Whipple and Mrs. William Hartmann.

Among the hostesses for the meeting will be: Mrs. Morrison Moon, Mrs. Roy Fisher, Mrs. Grayson Jones, Mrs. James Galimore, Mrs. Henry Baker, Mrs. John Blickenstaff, Mrs. Otto Beyer, Mrs. Luther Peck, Mrs. William Pettingill, Mrs. Harry Christensen, Mrs. Isaac Innis, Mrs. Ernest Thrall and Mrs. Edson Huston.

Station to Station Calls Speeded Up

The Plymouth branch of the Michigan Bell Telephone company this week inaugurated a new procedure for the handling of station-to-station long distance calls to near-by points, in order to provide faster service.

J. R. Saxton, manager here for the company, said the local, answering switchboard operator now will handle paid station-to-station calls to 18 near-by communities.

Long-distance operators will continue to handle all person-to-person calls, all collect calls, and station-to-station calls to distant cities.

The communities to which station-to-station calls now may be completed by the local operator are: Belleville, Birmingham, Centerline, Detroit, Farmington, Longacre, Northville, Pontiac, Lockwood, Roseville, Royal Oak, Southfield, South Lyon, Trenton, Warren, Wayne, Wyandotte and Ypsilanti.

Salvation Army Plans Boys Club

A new Boy's club is under organization in Plymouth, and supervising all planning is Captain William Roberts of the Salvation Army.

Designed to be of interest to boys between the ages of ten and 20, the club will feature a craft and work shop. The boys will meet in the Salvation Army church at 4:30 p.m. each Thursday.

Captain Roberts announces that they are in need of tools and other things to work with, at the present time. He asks that anyone with any to donate, to contact him at the church.

... but could Aladdin call a DOCTOR?

The privilege of calling a Doctor—or calling upon one—is a distinct American blessing. In no other land today are the developments of medical science so fully and so quickly available to all of the people. Do not evade or postpone the important matter of a thorough periodical check-up. This is an obligation to yourself and to those dependent upon you. Guard your health carefully. See a physician at the first suggestion of illness. And—yes, of course, we hope you'll bring his prescriptions here for conscientious compounding.

Plymouth Has New Golf Team

The Plymouth High golf team, coached by E. J. Bender, expects some new recruits for this spring's team. Two lettermen returning are Larry Bentley and Bill Farwell. The others are Doug Jetter, Henry Levering, Jerry Walsh, Bud Carson, Dick Nelson, Edward Klinske and Don Houghton.

Blue Challenges White to Game

The rough and tumble members of the Blue chapter have invited the White chapter of the Hi-Y club to a mass basketball game today at noon hour.

Each team will be made up of 15 players representing their club. Four referees will try to keep order during the game.

Next week there will be a blind basketball game with each team having five players.

The most important thing in this store is something you'll never see

IN YOUR pharmacy you see many things that are important to you and your community.

You see a wide variety of attractive merchandise . . . shelves lined with important drugs, chemicals and other medicinal products.

You see the pharmacist himself, a friendly person, a reliable merchant, a good citizen.

But there's one thing you'll never see—and, in a sense, it's the most important of all.

What is it? It's your pharmacist's professional knowledge and technical skill.

To get his college degree and to pass the state examinations required of all pharmacists, he must have a knowledge of many sciences.

He knows thousands of different drugs—their dosage, usage and properties. And he has the practiced skill to compound them into the medicines your doctor prescribes, the medicines needed to help you guard your health.

Get better acquainted with your pharmacist. Trade with him—he's a man you can rely on. — Reprinted from a copyrighted advertisement published by Parke, Davis & Company, Detroit 32, Michigan.

Students Starting Savings Accounts

Students enrolled in the Occupational Training course under the direction of Carvel Bentley, coordinator, have adopted a plan to save money and to learn the value of saving money as well as earning it.

Each Monday the students may deposit as much money as they want to, fill out their own deposit slips, and put them in their savings account book. The books are collected at the end of the day and taken to the proper bank and picked up the next day. Students may deposit money in either of the local banks and all accounts are insured by the Federal Deposits Insurance Corporation. The main idea of this plan is to deposit a small amount of money each week and leave it there until it is really needed.

A sum of $38 was deposited by 12 students the first week the plan was in effect, the second week 19 students deposited $85, and a total of $116 was deposited by 20 students the third week.

Juniors Lead in Girls Intermurals

The Junior teams captained by Mary Vincent, Connie Pascoe and Verna Rice have won two rounds of the girls' basketball round robin with the teams of Curtis, Austin, Rutherford and Smith following with one win each.

A new ruling has been made for after school sports. When the girls are using the gym, boys are asked to stay out of the gymnasium and halls after 4 p.m. and the same applies to girls during boys' sports. While playing the girls are asked to stay in the gymnasium or locker room.

City Teacher New MEA Officer

Irene Waldorf, Plymouth High school teacher, was elected to the representative assembly, at the annual meeting of the M.E.A. held in Hamtramck on February 25.

Highlights of the day were speeches by Dr. Kenneth McFarland, superintendent of Topeka, Kansas schools; Charles E. Brake, Plymouth, president of M.E.A.; Nima Hyska, a Hamtramck student; Michael Guest, assisting prosecuting attorney of Wayne County; and Dr. Benedict Glazer of Temple Beth El. Also on the program were the Hamtramck band and chorus.

Blue Chapter Is Given Charter

The Blue Hi-Y chapter was presented its charter at a night meeting on Thursday, February 24. This meeting was originally scheduled to be a Father and Son banquet at the Presbyterian church.

Don Sutherland, president of the White chapter, opened the program as master of ceremonies. Followed by the invocation of 12 new members. Principal Cyrus Pierce, substituting for Helmer Nelson, led a toast to the new chapter. Walter Van Heine, metropolitan Hi-Y director, then spoke on Hi-Y ways and ideals. Refreshments were served consisting of sandwiches, cocoa and coffee.

Programs Instill Good Feelings in District Schools

Assemblies accomplish a wide variety of aims, but the purpose of the Y-Teen inter-school talent assembly was to promote good feeling among schools, while entertaining the audience.

Various types of programs were presented. Inkster, for example, presented for their part of the program a girl and boy who each played the piano. A humorous reading, "Arsenic and Old Lace," and a vocalist singing "Summertime" was Trenton's part of this assembly. In addition Wayne provided a vocalist, tap dancer and saxophone soloist. A piano solo and a group of girls singing was Belleville's part of the program. Redford Union concluded the program with a soloist, and acrobatic dancer, and another soloist.

Two years ago the student council sponsored a similar assembly. These assemblies give the persons participating a chance to exhibit their talents while providing an excellent program.

Plymouth Mail Sponsors Conference All-Star Poll

Larry Finney Placed on All-League Cage Team by Conference Coaches

By the vote of the Suburban B cage coaches, Larry Finney, Rock forward, has been placed on the all-league basketball squad.

The poll sponsored by the Plymouth Mail was based on the supposition that the Suburban B league produces as good basketball players as the big metropolitan leagues. It was felt that the top notch players deserved adequate recognition. All coaches in the league were questioned as to their choice for the league's best forwards, guards and centers.

The Mail is happy to present for the first time in this part of Michigan, a poll designed especially for the teams in the Suburban B league.

Finney was an unanimous choice for the team, as were Cedric Dempsey of Wayne at center, Lowell Perry of Ypsilanti and Chuck Paige of Trenton at guards. In the battle for the other forward position Stites of Redford, Union edged Kuchta of Belleville.

The second team is comprised of Dave Hill of Ypsi and Dick Henderson of Trenton at the guards, Hollar of Belleville at center, and Bob Raham of Ypsi and Tony Kuchta of Belleville at the forward positions.

All five members of the first team deserve the selection on the dream team. All are consistent scorers and in addition to this fact each is the most valuable member of his respective quintet.

Ypsi, the league champs, placed three men on the two teams, Perry, Hill and Raham. Trenton had two in Paige and Henderson, and Belleville put two on the second squad, Hollar and Kuchta.

The first three mentioned paced the Ypsilanti Braves to the Suburban title, while Paige and Henderson were Trenton's big guns in their second place finish. Dempsey starred for Wayne in their third place finish. In both Plymouth tilts Dempsey chalked up the highest number of points. Although both Redford Union and Plymouth finished the season in the depths of the league they still had star performers in Jim Stites and Larry Finney.

Sport Shop Ends Season Stopping Tai's, Bankers

Second place was the Sport Shop's goal Monday night and they reached that position defeating Tai's Cleaners 48-38.

The winners were paced by Bob Norman's 15 points and Robert Bentley's 12. John Klingeberger and Dave McIntosh each had eight for Tai's. Sport Shop finished the season with ten wins and five losses.

On the Detroit House of Correction floor Friday, Sport Shop continued its mastery over First National, downing the Bankers 50-45. Sport Shop previously had beaten the Bankers and had lost by a forfeit to the league leaders, Sampier's 18 tallies was the night's best effort.

Tai's dropped another contest to First National on Wednesday, February 23, by the score of 37-33. Art Gillis and Hank Schultz each had ten for the winners while John Sandmann tossed in 11 for Tai's.

The playoffs begin tomorrow evening at the Detroit House of Correction at 8 p.m. between First National and the fourth place squad, Tai's and Sport Shop play at 9 p.m. If Northville beat Tai's Tuesday the Merchants will also be in the playoffs with First National, Tai's, Sport Shop, and Dehoco. Playoff information is listed in another article in the sports section.

Ypsilanti Wins Championship

As a result of defeating Plymouth Friday, the Ypsilanti Braves won the Suburban B cage championship and, their third title this school year. Previously the Braves had won the league cross country and grid titles.

The Braves didn't look like champs in the early part of the season when they lost to Trenton and just beat Belleville and Plymouth. However, as the season grew older the Braves became better. The Braves' final record was nine wins and one loss. Finishing in second place are the Trenton Trojans, who topped Wayne 32-25 Friday as Chuck Paige ran up 17 points.

In third place with six wins and four losses are the Wayne Zebras. The Zebras faltered in the last weeks of the campaign to drop out of the title race. Fourth place inhabitants are the Belleville Tigers with four wins and six losses. Belleville skinned by Redford Union Friday 34-33. Union is in fifth place with two wins against eight losses. As in football the Plymouth Rocks are last placers with one forfeit win.

Joe's Jottings

Break up the Yankees. What old died-in-the-wool sports fan doesn't remember that cry of the late '20's and '30's. Remember that was the time the fans around the American League yelled about the strong New York Yankee teams, who were winning pennants in rapid succession. Who wouldn't be surprised to hear "break up the Braves" around the Suburban B league. Last Friday Ypsi won its third title this season. This school year the Braves have won the football, cross country and cage titles. Someday the schools which Ypsi has used as a doormat will rise up to haunt the Braves.

We don't believe Ypsi will do much in the tournaments even if the ebony colored duo of Lowell Perry and Dave Hill are on. To beat Plymouth Friday Coach Ron Isbell had to keep Hill and Perry in throughout the game. Earliest in the season the Rocks almost beat Ypsi losing 47-44. The Braves were lucky to come out on top in that one.

Tomorrow evening the Rocks attempt to salvage some glory out of the cage season when they meet St. Mary's of Orchard Lake. The Lakers had a tall and talented team last season, but this season Coaches John Klingeberger and John Sandmann don't know too much about them. St. Mary's has played such Class A powers as Catholic Central. Central took the First Division championship a couple weeks ago from St. Theresa. Whether Plymouth or St. Mary's win Friday the favorite Saturday will be the Farmington Falcons.

When St. Mary's pupils, all of whom are boys, start cheering tomorrow evening the cage fans at Farmington will see the best school spirit in the area. If the rosters for schools in the Suburban B conference would display as much spirit as the Lakers no one would have to worry about school spirit.

We witnessed our first roller skating revue Sunday at the Riverside roller rink. The revue put on by the Riverside Figure and Dance club was quite impressive. These amateurs can really skate and the crowd at the rink realized this fact by their tremendous applause. Particularly impressive was Mickey Brown, senior at Plymouth High. Mickey, who is a star pitcher for the Rocks nine, should now be looking forward to the state championships in May. Then the nationals come in July in Mineola, New York. The winners from this meet will enter the world championships to be held in Barcelona, Spain in September. Some Riverside skaters might get this far.

That same evening at 7:30 a group of the club's skaters appeared on a television program. They were: Mr. Lairy, Irma Barnard, Mickey Brown, Judy Lairy, Doug Milne, Sally Sowle, Joann McLellan, Larry Barnes and Donald LaMay.

The entire show will be repeated on March 14 at Skateland in River Rouge. The group has also been asked to repeat it in Michigan City.

Dip coating with plastic is now being studied as a possible packaging method.

Annual Rollervue Tremendous Hit at Riverside Rink

The success of the seventh annual rollervue "Rhythm on Wheels," presented by the Riverside Figure and Dance club, was overwhelming as evidenced by the capacity crowds that witnessed the show last weekend.

For all three performances, a Sunday matinee, and a Sunday and a Monday evening show, capacity crowds applauded the amateur performers as they went through their routines. All the money taken in will go toward the expense of sending the club members to the state roller skating championships in Grand Rapids in May and to the nationals in Mineola, New York in July.

The locale for the three scenes of the revue was a coming out ball, Robin Hood's Sherwood Forest, and colorful Spain during fight time. Lavish costumes were worn by the skaters throughout the scenes. In the last scene the entire ensemble came on the floor in their Spanish costumes and received a great ovation.

The list of skaters taking part in the show included the following: Barbara Shoemaker Dayney, Marcia Woodworth, Sally Sowle, Barbara LaMay, Judy Lairy, Doug Milne, Irma Barnard, Mickey Brown, Loretta Ruehle, Anthony Cousino, David Baker, Dean Busch, Joan Tate Busch, George Eads, Patsy French, Gayle French, Robert Kennedy, Rosemary Martin, Junior Perzyk, Jack Meadows, Sue Ann Passmore and Lorraine Funke.

Assisting in training the skaters for the show were: John Dayney, William Best, Clayton LaMay, Buster Barron and Harvey Taylor.

Don Wattrick interviewed four of the club members during his Thursday 6:30 sports program. Taking part were President Wallace Lairy, Irma Barnard, Mickey Brown and Doug Milne.

You can judge the referees all you want, but two of the finest in the metropolitan area are Dave and Kenny Gates. These two donated their valuable time last Thursday to officiate the senior-faculty basketball game. The senior class appreciates their generosity. The refs had as much fun if not more than the crowd who enjoyed the spectacle to the utmost. To see the teachers prancing around on the court was quite a sight to behold.

That sage of the umpiring profession, Earl Gray, reports that the first suburban umpires meeting of the season will be held Wednesday, March 9, at 8 p.m. in the city hall recreation office. Anyone interested in the interpretation of baseball rules is invited to attend the meeting. Gray is secretary-treasurer of the Suburban Umpires association. The president of the organization is Harry Hunter.

For the first time this season admission will be charged at the city recreation basketball games. All the playoff games will be 25 cents for adults and ten cents for students.

The Girls league will not have playoffs as originally planned because the Daisy outfit has disbanded. This act gives Oldsmobile the championship. Olds did not lose a game all season long.

Although Kenny Kisabeth and Jerry Corey each racked up 18 points the Class F Firemen lost to Northville Saturday 45-40. Northville led at the half 17-16.

In Addison, Michigan, a man entered the Addison State Savings Bank, patiently waited more than half an hour for his turn, finally got to the teller, pulled a gun, got away with $5,000.

Rotary Bowlers Win Series From Club in Livonia

Better than average bowling by the two Plymouth Rotary bowling teams won the ten men and their wives a dinner in the future at the expense of the Livonia Rotary club.

The match was a home and home affair, bowled two weeks at Livonia Recreation and this past Sunday at Butler's. Two weeks ago Plymouth moved in to the lead by 276 pins when the first squad, consisting of Howard Sharpley, Larry Lyons, Robert Waldecker, Cass Hough and J. D. McLaren, shot 2520 to Livonia's 2403, and the second squad, consisting of Pat McGuire, Al Hubbs, Paul Cromley, William Taylor and Lee Butler, hit 2629 to outbow Livonia Rotary with 2470.

Sunday a return match was held at Butler's and when the smoke had cleared away, Plymouth was still ahead, having picked up three more pins to increase their total to 279. The first group, made up of the same men, hit 2641, against their opponents 2594. The second group was not as fortunate and dropped their encounter 2701 to 2657.

The Livonia Rotarians claimed that Cass Hough with a 159 average was bowling with his eyes closed as was Lee Butler. Cass shot 512 and 575 while Lee had 618 and 573.

In Los Angeles, Harold Bellis told a divorce court that when he accused wife Sonya of promiscuity, she retorted: "The birds and bees do it, and I'm going to do it, too."

Falcons Meet Bentley Tonight, Rocks Face St. Mary's Tomorrow

The 1949 edition of the Farmington district basketball tournaments begins this evening with Farmington and Bentley High paired in the Class B feature at 8:30 p.m. At 7 p.m. on the Farmington floor St. Alphonsus will meet Sacred Heart. These schools are Class C.

Tomorrow evening at 9 p.m. the Plymouth Rocks play the colorful Orchard Lake St. Mary's squad. The winner will likely oppose the Farmington Falcons, who are a lead pipe cinch to top Bentley. The Class B final is at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Preceding the Plymouth-St. Mary's tilt on Friday are two Class C encounters. At 6 p.m. Dearborn Roosevelt collides with the Clarenceville Indians. Clarenceville's superintendent is Louis Schmidt, former principal at Plymouth. At 7:30 p.m. South Lyons faces the winner of the Sacred Heart-St. Alphonsus contest. The Class C final is at 7 p.m. on Saturday.

After the winner in each class is determined tournament officials will award the members of the winning squad medals. The Class B winner will enter the regionals at Pontiac on Wednesday, March 9.

The favorite to take the Class B honors is Farmington, who tied for the Inter-Lakes championship with Keego Harbor. Farmington is rated the fifth best Class B team in the state. Last Friday the Falcons stopped Northville 38-30 on the Mustangs floor. This win was quite a bit different than the 60-16 defeat the Falcons hung on Northville earlier in the season.

Opposing the Rocks is St. Mary's of Orchard Lake, who halted the local lads in last season's tourney finale. Orchard Lake is a member of the First Division Catholic league in Detroit. The Lakers lost to such schools as Catholic Central, De LaSalle, St. Mary's beat St. Joseph, St. Ladislaus and St. Stanislaus. The game tomorrow is slated as a toss-up.

Referees for the tourney are Larry St. Aubin, Charles Lapeus and John Beringer.

Doors at the Farmington gym will be open at 5:45 p.m. on Thursday and Saturday and at 5 p.m. Friday. The admission is 65 cents for adults and 40 cents for students.

The 1949 edition of the Farmington district basketball tournaments begins this evening with Farmington and Bentley High paired in the Class B feature at 8:30 p.m. At 7 p.m. on the Farmington floor St. Alphonsus will meet Sacred Heart. These schools are Class C.

Tomorrow evening at 9 p.m. the Plymouth Rocks play the colorful Orchard Lake St. Mary's squad. The winner will likely oppose the Farmington Falcons, who are a lead pipe cinch to top Bentley. The Class B final is at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Preceding the Plymouth-St. Mary's tilt on Friday are two Class C encounters. At 6 p.m. Dearborn Roosevelt collides with the Clarenceville Indians. Clarenceville's superintendent is Louis Schmidt, former principal at Plymouth. At 7:30 p.m. South Lyons faces the winner of the Sacred Heart-St. Alphonsus contest. The Class C final is at 7 p.m. on Saturday.

After the winner in each class is determined tournament officials will award the members of the winning squad medals. The Class B winner will enter the regionals at Pontiac on Wednesday, March 9.

The favorite to take the Class B honors is Farmington, who tied for the Inter-Lakes championship with Keego Harbor. Farmington is rated the fifth best Class B team in the state. Last Friday the Falcons stopped Northville 38-30 on the Mustangs floor. This win was quite a bit different than the 60-16 defeat the Falcons hung on Northville earlier in the season.

Opposing the Rocks is St. Mary's of Orchard Lake, who halted the local lads in last season's tourney finale. Orchard Lake is a member of the First Division Catholic league in Detroit. The Lakers lost to such schools as Catholic Central, De LaSalle, St. Mary's beat St. Joseph, St. Ladislaus and St. Stanislaus. The game tomorrow is slated as a toss-up.

Referees for the tourney are Larry St. Aubin, Charles Lapeus and John Beringer.

Seniors Score 54-49 Victory Over Faculty

Sore muscles and aching backs were the main results of the Plymouth High faculty-senior basketball game on Thursday, February 24 in the packed gym. The old-timers were edged out by the seniors 54-49.

The game was the highlight of a four day tournament, which was a financial success. For the four games $120 was collected; half of that amount goes toward the Inter-communication fund and the remaining half enters the treasury of the senior class, sponsors of the tourney.

Pacing the oldsters was John Sandmann, cage coach, who netted 18 points. Next in the scoring category came Eddie Bender, football mentor, with 13 points. Bender received quite a hand when he came on the floor dressed as a wrestler, also he brought a stretcher into the gym. Tops for the seniors was Bruce MacGregor and Pat Dowling with 12 and 11 points respectively.

To meet the faculty the seniors had to stop a determined freshmen squad by the score of 19-17 on Wednesday. With two minutes remaining in the contest Ron Hees sunk a two-point shot to put the seniors in front 16-15. However, Harold Secord connected on a long shot a moment later to give the frosh the lead 17-16 with a minute remaining.

That last moment produced some weak hearts among the crowd as the freshmen kept the ball away from the seniors. Several times the frosh were fouled, but they elected to take the ball out of bounds. With 35 seconds left Fletch Campbell entered the senior line up for Larry Bentley. Fletch took a shot with 20 seconds to go, but he was fouled giving him two shots. Fletch missed the first one and then made the second to tie the contest at 17 all. Taking the ball out the freshmen couldn't get down the floor with the result that the seniors intercepted the ball. Campbell made a field goal with seven seconds remaining to give the seniors a hard earned win 19-17.

Campbell was high for the seniors netting seven points. Harold Secord netted ten for the frosh.

To be in the Wednesday battle the frosh stopped the sophomores 22-14 Tuesday noon and the seniors downed the juniors Monday 29-13.

Heading the seniors in three games was Larry Bentley with 17 points. MacGregor was second with 15.

Class E Playoffs Begin Tomorrow at Dehoco Gym

The Class E playoffs start tomorrow evening at the Detroit House of Correction gymnasium when the Gems meet the Spartans. The game is at 6:30 p.m. and at 6:50 p.m. the Bulldogs and the Wolverines collide.

Both games will have sand-wiched halves. When the first half of the Gems-Spartans contest is terminated the Bulldogs and the Wolverines will play their first half. Then the first two teams will conclude their tilt.

The second round of the playoffs, which are under a two game knockout basis, will be held at the high school Saturday morning at 9 a.m. The sites and times of other E playoff games are listed elsewhere in the paper.

Downing the Eagles 44-22 the Gems concluded the regular season in first place two full games ahead of the Spartans, Bulldogs and the Wolverines. These three teams finished in a second place tie with six wins and three losses: Hank Levering and Russ Merritt rattled home 13 and 11 points respectively for the Gems. The Eagles' Jim Brewton tallied nine points.

The Wolverines came into a second place tie swamping the Rams 20-7 as Bud Carson sank 11 points. Hooping eight points Ronnie Bouldin led the Spartans to an 11-8 win over the Bulldogs.

If necessary the finals will be held at Dehoco, Friday, March 11. The winning quintet will enter the state recreation finals at Hamtramck the week of March 14.

QUALIFIED TEAMS: Teams winning seven or more games in our 15 game schedule can compete in the playoffs.

TEAM PAIRING: If there is an odd number of teams qualifying, the first place team in league standings will have a bye in the first round. Teams 2 and 5 and teams 3 and 4 will meet in the first round and will play their games in that order. If there is an even number of teams the first round pairings will be 1-4, 2-3 and will play in that order.

This will be a double elimination tournament; the winner will have the opportunity to represent Plymouth in the District Class "B" tournament, during the week of March 17. The place is to be announced later. If the winner does not care to go, the runner up can. However one of the two must notify me the night of finals as to whether they wish to go or not. The third place team or lower is to represent Plymouth in the Inter-City Class "BB" tournament to be held at High Park during the week of March 14.

GENERAL RULES: The Plymouth Recreation Department will pay all entry fees and officials' fees, but should your team forfeit any game during the tournament your team and manager would be barred from State Tournament play in 1950 and would have to reimburse this Department with the forfeit fee of $10. Game time is forfeit time.

If a player is "kicked out" of any game for unsportsmanlike conduct, during the play-offs to State or Inter-City tournaments, his season of PLAYING BALL TERMINATES AT THAT POINT.

No player who has played for any pro or semi-pro team during the past season is eligible to participate.

Coaches must not go onto the floor at any time during the game or during time-out unless they get permission from the officials, and in this case, only in the event that someone is injured. His team can confer with him at the bench during a time out.

In case of a necessity for an overtime period to be played the regulation high school rule shall govern, such as: A three minute period and then the "sudden death" rule applies.

This Department will not be responsible for expense of teams to, from, or at the tournament.

Once a team has designated their desires to go to the M.R.A. tournament, their fees will be paid immediately by this Department and the responsibility of upholding their respective tournament schedule is entirely in your hands.

Rocks Lose Final Game to Braves

Closing the regular basketball season on a cheerful note by losing to the highly-touted Ypsi Braves 46-35, the Rocks look toward the district basketball tournaments which begin at Farmington tonight.

The Rocks didn't appear to be a last place squad which had only won a forfeit game this season as they fought Ypsi all the way. As late as the seven minute mark of the fourth quarter the Rocks were only behind by four points.

To win Coach Ron Isbell had to keep his two stars, Lowell Perry and Dave Hill, in the lineup throughout most of the contest.

The Braves pulled away to a 10-2 lead in the first minutes of the game, but Keith Ebersole sunk four points and Larry Finney hooped two to make the score read Ypsi 12, Plymouth 8 at the end of the quarter. During the remaining three quarters the Braves, paced by the speedy Lowell Perry, played a constant game having the upper per hand all the way. At one time in the third quarter the Braves only had a 28-25 lead, but that was as close as the Rocks

Class F Opens Playoffs Saturday

Opening the one game knockout Class F basketball tournament Saturday morning will be the first place Red Sox and the third place squad, in the final standings. The second and third place teams were determined last night in a game between the Wildcats and the Firemen at the high school.

Pouring 17 points through the hoop Bud Lamphear paced the Red Sox to a 36-16 win over the Wildcats Saturday. Al Williams rammed in 12 for the winners. Robinson netted six in a losing cause.

The winner of Saturday's contest will meet the second place squad Tuesday at Dehoco at 7 p.m. The winner of that contest will participate in the state recreation F championships at Hamtramck the week of March 14.

Episcopal Church Presents Lenten Discussion Series

By REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
Parables of Jesus (Temperance)
Lesson for March 6: Mark 4:1-9; Luke 15:11-14.

Memory Selection: Galatians 6:7.
It was some time after entering upon his ministry that Jesus began the use of parables. A parable is a narrative of supposed events, all of which come within the range of probability—used to set forth spiritual truth.

The parable of the sower illustrates several kinds of hearers of the gospel. They are like hard ground by the way, stony ground, ground choked with thorns, and good ground. Answering to the four kinds of ground are hearers of first, second, third, and fourth quality.

The second parable considered in the lesson is that of the Prodigal Son—parable that illustrates the folly of men and the readiness of the Father to forgive. There is also a lesson from the elder son who did not join in the welcome to the prodigal. How many persons show their lack of love toward the wayward and are not concerned to help him!

The story of the Prodigal Son provides abundant material for a lesson on temperance. The foolish son soon wasted his substance in riotous living and came to want. So do prodigals of the present time often lose their all in vicious living. Unrepentant, they lose their souls. The only safe way leads in the opposite direction from the pathway of the wicked. Let any who have become enmeshed in the snares of evil resolve through faith to return to the Father's house.

It Adds a Hundred Miles to the Day!

Owners of the 1949 Cadillac are going to get a pleasant surprise when they take it out for that first cross-country run. Without any extra effort whatsoever, they are going to wind up that first day's touring about a hundred miles farther from home than they expected to be! For here, beyond any doubt, is the greatest "mile-eater" that ever rolled over a highway. We are not talking about excessive speed—because, regardless of the power they have at their command, sensible people observe the laws of the road and the rules of safety. But the 1949 Cadillac is so cat-quick and eager—so smooth and easy and effortless—that it covers an amazing amount of distance inside the safe and legal limits. You take the hills as fast as the level stretches—you make the first hundred yards away from a stop light as fast as you make the second hundred—and the car's matchless agility enables you to avoid many of the pockets in slow-moving traffic. The secret, of course, is found in the great new Cadillac V-type engine—plus the marvelous new engineering in the Cadillac chassis. Actually, you almost seem to move by automatic propulsion. There is no performance like it—anywhere in the world.

Jaycee Auxiliary Organizes School Election Campaign

Discussion of the local school problem and organization of a campaign to help in securing "the much needed new school facilities" was the business of the day when Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary members met for a special session at the home of Mrs. J. Rusling Cutler on Thursday, February 24.

Mrs. Sanford Knapp presented facts secured from school administrators concerning the overcrowded schools and limited facilities. "School statistics show that half day sessions will be necessary by 1950 if new schools are not provided," she stated at that time.

Mrs. Knapp also announced that registration is small for the school election, and she explained that being registered for city and township elections does not mean a person is registered for the school election. To take part in the March 28 election, a person must register at the school.

It is the plan of the auxiliary members to try and increase the registration by contacting the parents of pre-school children by phone, and urging them to register and vote on the school issue. Posters presenting the facts of the "deplorable school situation" will be placed in the store windows and the various women's clubs will be contacted," an auxiliary member reports.

Socially Speaking

Highlighting Plymouth's social calendar of events this weekend is the Symphony Society Ball to be held on Saturday evening. Some Plymouth couples are planning to don their semi-formal attire, while some of the women will wear afternoon dresses for the Saturday evening occasion when they will dance to the music of Datus Moore's orchestra. Providing entertainment during intermission will be Mrs. Neilson and her Danish dancing group.

Plans for the ball were completed this week by the general chairman, Mrs. Edwin Rice, and a group which included Paul Wagner as head of the orchestra; Axel Janson as chairman of the committee who planned the intermission program; Hanna Strassen as chairman of the check room committee; Mrs. Charles Brake, as supervisor of the plans for refreshments, and Mrs. Roderick Cassidy as chairman of the ticket committee.

The receiving line at the ball will be composed of Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Von Bergen, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Todd, and Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Rice.

Among Plymouth couples making plans to entertain their friends preceding the ball are Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple who will be hosts at dessert in their home on Penniman avenue.

Legion Auxiliary Events Include Meeting, Play

Two dates, March 2 and March 12, are important ones to members of the auxiliary of the Myron Beals Post 32 of the American Legion.

On March 2 they will gather for their next regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed Ayres, 39507 East Ann Arbor trail at 8 p.m.

Then for March 12 they, members of the post, have been invited as guests to the Gay Nineties party and pot luck supper to be held in the Legion hall at Newburg, in celebration of the birthday of the Beals post on that day. Entertainment will feature the presentation of "Mable's Fable," a melodrama, written and directed by Miss Molly Saxton. Leading the cast is Miss Violet Mault as Rosebud; Edna Lawson as Mrs. Higgins; Don Ryder as the late Mr. Higgins; Dean Saxton as J. Snodgrass; Graspingham; and George Haines as Mabel. In addition will be Sampson Barnfeather, and Reginald Smythe, the Fuller Brush Man, in the person of William Saxton, and Roy Lawson competing for the hand of the lovely Rosebud.

Members of the cast were entertained at a rehearsal supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Saxton last Sunday, February 27. Mrs. Margaret Ayres is general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Gladys Shore and Mrs. Melvin Guthrie. Miss Violet Mault and members of the Beals post will provide solo numbers and a barber shop quartet, accompanied by Mrs. Edna O'Conner at the piano.

Ceramics Class Begins at School

Under the direction of Mrs. Grace Jarvis, a ceramics class is being held every Tuesday night from 7:30 to 10 p.m. in Room 18 in Plymouth High school.

The class which started March 1 needs more people to make the course worthwhile.

Florence Mayer Weds Detroit on Saturday

White flowers and lighted tapers decorated the altar of Visitation church in Detroit for the Saturday ceremony which united Florence Mayer and Andrew Natushko in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayer of Hopkins, and Mr. Natushko is the son of Mrs. Mary Natushko of Gilbert street, Detroit.

During the 10 a. m. ceremony, Mabel Vickstrom of Plymouth sang "Ave Maria."

Wearing an ivory brocaded satin gown which she designed, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She carried a prayer book topped with garlands, and wore a fingertip veil of ivory illusion which fell from a crown of seed pearls.

Eleanor Mayer, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She chose a gown of pink brocaded satin and a matching tiara. Her colonial bouquet was made of yellow carnations and blue iris.

Preceding the bride down the aisle was Mrs. Sarah Bettarel, matron of honor. Her gown was fashioned of blue brocaded satin, and her tiara was made of matching material. Mrs. Bettarel carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and daffodils.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Martin Natushko, as best man. Seating the guests was Michael Guzydak.

The bride's mother wore a dark green dress and a pink and white carnation corsage. Mrs. Natushko, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in black and white and wore a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Following the wedding a reception for the immediate family and close friends was held in Detroit at the bride's home on Kentucky avenue.

For their wedding trip through Michigan, the bride wore a black suit.

Mrs. Natushko was graduated from Butterworth hospital in Grand Rapids and Wayne university. She is employed as an industrial nurse at the Daisy Manufacturing company.

Big Meals From Thin Meat Slices With Meat Roll Recipes and Menus

You can make a thin slice of meat into a man-size meat roll if you wrap it around a good, savory stuffing, according to three staff-members of McCall's Magazine. Writing in the February issue, they give Plymouth women three favorite meat roll recipes, and the tasty menus built around them:

ALICE PETERSEN'S MENU
Ham Rolls
Asparagus with Lemon Butter
Broiled Tomatoes
Currant Biscuits
Fluffy Potatoes Green Salad
Fresh Bananas with Almond Cream

HAM ROLLS
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 small onion
2 cups soft bread crumbs
2 cups corn bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Few sprigs parsley
2 slices ready-to-eat ham

Set your oven at 325F or slow. Melt butter or margarine, add chopped onion and cook slowly 5 minutes. Place crumbs in a large bowl, add salt, pepper, poultry seasoning, lemon juice and chopped parsley. Mix thoroughly with your hands. Cook with onions, stirring constantly, 3 minutes.

Spread one half stuffing on each slice of ham. Roll up just as you would a jelly roll and tie securely with a soft string. Place rolls in shallow roasting pan, add 1/2 cup hot water and roast 1 hour. To serve, remove string and cut in half, crosswise. Makes 4 rolls.

To make gravy for any of these rolls, mix about 2 tablespoons of flour into drippings in roasting pan. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until brown. Then, gradually, stir in 2 cups water and cook, stirring constantly, until gravy has thickened. Add enough salt and pepper to give gravy rich flavor.

FRANCES EDEN'S MENU
Pork Roll
Cottage Fried Potatoes
Buttered Kale Corn Muffins
Orange and Onion Salad
Mince-meat Tarts

PORK ROLL
1 small onion
1 large apple
1 cup cooked prunes
2 strips bacon
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt

1 large thin slice fresh pork
Set your oven at 325F or slow. Chop up onion, apple and prunes. Then cut bacon into very small pieces into frying pan and cook slowly until crisp. Add onion and cook 2 minutes or so.
Mix up bread crumbs with apple, prune and salt. Then add the bacon, onion and bacon fat.

Finish slicking the kitchen while food bakes so you will have plenty of neat surface to place it on when cooking time is finished.

Place pots and pans to soak as soon as you finish using them. Soaking will mean less elbow work for you as most pans clean easily when food is loosened from them.

Save measuring utensils by sifting flour and other dry ingredients on pliable paper plates. These may be used several times.
Flour sifters do not need to be washed after every use if they are brushed off with a stiff-bristled brush.
If using syrup or honey, measure fat in the cup first, so that the syrup will not stick to it.

Toss together with a fork. If the stuffing seems dry, mix in a little juice from the cooked prunes.

Spread stuffing evenly on pork slice and roll up carefully, tying with soft string.

Place in baking pan and roast 2 hours. You can bake it 'dry' or, if you like, baste it with prune juice. We don't recommend a gravy with this particular type of meat roll because it 'roasts up' so moist. Serves 4.

MARJORIE GRIFFITHS' MENU
Veal Roll
Scalloped Tomatoes
Buttered Cabbage Hot Biscuits
Celery and Carrot Strips
Fig Cakes with Lemon Sauce

VEAL ROLL
1 cup rice
1 small onion
1 stalk celery
Few sprigs parsley
1 cup mushrooms (1/4 lb.)
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 large thin veal steak

Set your oven at 325F or slow. Cook up the rice according to directions on the package. Then chop up the onion, celery, parsley and mushrooms.
Melt butter or margarine, add the chopped vegetables and cook slowly 3 minutes. Take off the stove. Combine with the rice, salt and pepper and mix very well. Spread the stuffing over the veal steak and roll up carefully.

Tie the roll securely with a soft string. Place in roasting pan and bake 1 hour. Make gravy according to directions under Ham Rolls. Serves 4 to 6.

Meat, Potatoes Appeal As A New Twosome

Meat with potatoes as an accompaniment is not the only way to serve this favorite twosome. Try serving the two in combination, suggests Reba Staggs, well known food authority. Some delicious new dishes for the family table are the result.

A scalloped potato casserole with liberal slices of chunks of ham or ready-to-serve meat is one suggestion Miss Staggs offers Plymouth women. Or you might bake scalloped potatoes with a topping of browned pork chops.

Still another idea is to wrap thin slices of baked or "boiled" ham around hot potato salad, then heat briefly in the oven. Or you might serve a casserole of ham, sweet potatoes and diced apples. A meat 'n' potato combination which you may or may not have tried is creamed meat, such as dried beef, on baked potatoes.

Menu Tips

By HELEN HALE
If you want to keep your kitchen neat while cooking, revise your working techniques and see how much simpler all your work becomes.

Measure out all ingredients before you start putting a recipe together, then check them with the recipe, and you will rule out forgetting ingredients and thus causing failures.

Having all ingredients as well as utensils assembled before you begin to work, saves time as well as confusion.
Keep the dish pan full of soapy suds and put each utensil in it as you finish using it.

While you wait for butter to melt, onions to saute, milk to scald, and other time-involving procedures, wash the dishes you have soiled and get them out of the way. In this way, cleaning doesn't pile up on you!

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Oatmeal Macaroons (Makes 60)
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs, separated
2 1/2 cups rolled oats
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cream butter and sugar. Add egg yolks and mix well. Mix rolled oats, salt and baking powder and add to first mixture. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Add vanilla. Drop from teaspoon onto greased cookie sheet. Allow plenty of space for spreading. Bake in a slow (300° F.) oven 20 to 25 minutes.

Finish slicking the kitchen while food bakes so you will have plenty of neat surface to place it on when cooking time is finished.

Place pots and pans to soak as soon as you finish using them. Soaking will mean less elbow work for you as most pans clean easily when food is loosened from them.

Save measuring utensils by sifting flour and other dry ingredients on pliable paper plates. These may be used several times.

Flour sifters do not need to be washed after every use if they are brushed off with a stiff-bristled brush.

If using syrup or honey, measure fat in the cup first, so that the syrup will not stick to it.

Successful Parenthood

BY MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

NO MATTER how outraged you may feel at the injustice of having your husband's temper turned on you, it doesn't help to lose your temper, too. One is quite likely to discover before marriage whether or not a man is given to rage. Having accepted this trait when you married him you have no right to feel sorry for yourself when something sets it off.

Instead, make it your job to discover the real source of his anger, which may be far removed from the immediate cause of a flare-up. Little by little as you learn about his home background and the hurts he may have suffered as a boy, or the self-indulgence he was allowed, you can find his vulnerable spots and steer clear of them.

A rather simplified example is that of a friend of mine whose husband would slyly refuse to keep any engagement she might make for the two of them. Naturally, she felt aggrieved at this lack of cooperation in making their social life pleasant and this led to many quarrels. Eventually, however, she discovered that her husband had been made to fetch and carry for his younger sister when he was a boy. He might prefer a Friday night basketball game, but if his sister wanted to go to the movies he had to take her.

When the wife finally realized that her husband's unwillingness to have his evenings planned for him was an instinctive defense against being dominated, and was not surplussage toward her, she made up her mind not to arrange for any of his time. This might mean refusing invitations when he wasn't available to consult, but this was better than having to invent excuses to a disappointed hostess.

Now you are probably saying, "But why should I have to accept another person's weakness?" For the sake of sparing your children, so far as possible, those unhappy hours when the air is full of tension and threats of violence which they don't understand. But even more for the sake of helping your husband learn to control his temper, just as he may be helping you outgrow childish fears or some other infantile trait.

Another responsibility of yours is to try to avoid having the pattern of uncontrollable temper repeated in a child. A child in a true rage (not one that is faked to get his own way about something) feels sick and helpless. Help him to see that anger is normal—not sinful—and that, if he tries, it can be controlled. Always hold up that goal and make him feel your faith in his being able to reach it. Don't paint anger as being any worse a fault, for example, than his sister's tendency to cry over disappointments. Then, insist that the child accept responsibility for his temper.

It helps, too, to give a child harmless ways of venting his anger—such as jumping up and down and yelling. He will outgrow the need for a noisy outlet, but even an adult often needs to walk off his anger. Check up on the child's physical condition, too, and be sure there are plenty of the B vitamins in his diet for maintaining sound nerves.

We need plenty of anger in the world to help us fight injustice. But control of it should be taught in childhood, just as you train the mind to master other strong impulses.

Red Cross Nutrition Aids

Plymouth homemakers will add interesting variety to their families' meals and get a big return in flavor and nutritive value for their food dollar if they make fish their dish several times a week.

Fish of both the fresh and salt water varieties are a happy choice as the main dish of a dinner. The flavor is delightful and combines well with so many different bland and piquant flavors that menus planned around fish can be as varied as those planned around meat or poultry.

Contrary to the old superstition fish won't make anyone more brainy, but it does contain very efficient protein which builds body tissue and blood cells. In scientific studies it has been found that fish is as efficient as meat in these respects.

There is a variation in the minerals found in fresh and salt water fish because of the difference in the composition of the water in which they live. Salt water fish is quite similar to beef round, in its mineral content, except for being richer in iodine.

For these reasons, the Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross recommends fish not as a meat substitute which implies an inferior food, but as a delicious alternate for it. By taking advantage of quick-frozen and canned fish, it is possible for us to give the family dozens of different sea foods even in this inland section.

Every family has its fish favorites depending on whether the members prefer a delicate or pronounced flavor. Aside from this, the important thing to remember when choosing fish is that some are better adapted to certain types of preparation than others.

Fat fish weighing three pounds or more each are best for baking whole, with or without a stuffing. However, it is possible to bake dry fish and have passably good results if the fish is larded with thin strips of pork.

For broiling, the best choice is a dry, firm fish. These will hold their shape better than the fat varieties. Creamy rich or piquant sauces are almost invariably served with boiled fish.

Almost any variety of fish is suitable for broiling or frying. To avoid dryness when fish is broiled use fairly thick steaks, or fillets or use whole or split fish. The drier varieties such as cod will have a better flavor and texture if they're broasted often with melted fat or oil during the cooking process.

Fish is frequently over cooked by the novice. Remember, that it contains no connective tissue so the cooking time is short—only long enough to make it flake from the bones easily.

Here are a few variations of standard fish cookery methods:
HADDOCK CREOLE
Two pounds haddock fillets, 2 tablespoons melted table fat, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup cooked or canned tomatoes, 1 medium sized onion,

Interchange Meaty Menus for Brunch, Supper

Interchangeable brunch and supper menus are a new idea to most folks, and also represent a quick way to menu planning success. Too, they are ideal for informal entertaining.

Waffles with bacon or pork sausage are one of the easiest combinations to adapt for either use, suggests Reba Staggs, home economist. Add a salad and beverage, and your meal is very nearly complete, though for brunch you may wish to include a fruit appetizer.

List all the variations you can think of, and you are armed with menus to last for several occasions: crumbled sausage or bacon added to the batter, sliced bacon baked on top of the waffle, creamed diced meat served over the waffle, or cream cheese and hot cinnamon applesauce spread over it.

Scrambled eggs are another food suitable for either occasion. Serve these with a tossed green salad and hot bacon muffins for an interesting combination.

Color Adds Life to Stew Recipe

Has it ever occurred to you, that a stew can be anything you like, so far as color is concerned?

Maybe you will want to carry out one color scheme; or perhaps a cheerful medley of color is more to your liking. In either case, the meat provides the good rich flavor, supplemented by the vegetables which also add color, points out Reba Staggs, home economist.

Green color, which adds life to any dish, can come from beans, peas, lima beans or chunks of green pepper. Perhaps you will want to cook these separately and add them at the last, so they don't lose their color.

Red may come from tomato or even strips of pimiento, while white, for contrast, can come from potatoes (whole, half or in balls), turnips or onions. Cheerful yellow is furnished by whole kernel corn, rutabagas and sweet potatoes, orange from carrots can lend further appeal to your next stew.

In Chicago, Lincoln Park Zoo monkeys were depressed by the newfangled glass in front of their cages—the crowds could look in, but the monkeys couldn't look out—until they found that dousing the lights again allowed them to observe the funny people outside.

In Los Angeles, Mrs. Mary Magley got her divorce after testifying that her husband Guy insisted on hanging photographs of his four ex-wives in their bedroom.

Good Records for Children Are Considered Best Investment

With children's records becoming available in wide variety, Plymouth parents need to take a great deal of time in choosing the right ones for their offspring.

A few wisely selected records are much more valuable to a child than a large collection of poorer ones. Children, besides being little actors and actresses, love repetition and the certain planned order that comes with it.

The second advantage of choosing good records, reminds Ann Goldfoots, Michigan State college home economist, is that they will remain favorites for many years.

Sameness does not bother the young fry whether it is food, clothes, stories or music, and he will not tire of a few favorite records. It is possible to make those few favorite records good ones and yet full of enjoyment and fun for the youngsters.

You can find simple folk songs, quick and lively marches, fairy tales, Mother Goose rhymes set to music or even nature study recordings. Many beautiful albums have been recorded in albums especially designed for children. The Nutcracker Suite and Peter and the Wolf are good examples.

Records came in such gaily designed albums or folders now and are illustrated to appeal to the children. Often the inside cover of the album is decorated with sketches of the important parts of the story with a few words explaining them beneath. A young child can follow the story of the record while it is playing by looking at these pictures.

Astrology

Your Weekly Guide by
G. Cardinal LeGros

The purpose of astrology is to help you understand yourself and your destiny. It is amazing how much better one can go through life when he finally realizes his true nature, his many qualities and capacities, and sees the particular thing that he can do with self-satisfaction and competence.

While it is necessary to have your birth horoscope erected for the exact minute of birth if you want accurate analysis and forecasting, it is still possible to tell something of an interesting and revealing nature from the Sun's position alone. In the following paragraphs you will find reliable points for people born in all twelve of the signs.

Aries women are naturally creative, original, enterprising, and enthusiastic. To be happy and at their best life must present fresh challenges and opportunities. So, if you have the Sun in Aries, see to it that you get into work where your great energies can be released. Don't bottle yourself up or fence yourself in.

Taurus women are usually quiet and easy-going but rather stubborn. Once set on a certain path they seldom turn back. So if you have the Sun in Taurus be sure that the work you select in life is permanent. Don't shift about. Home is always important to Taurus, so see to it that your ambitions include this, or you will not be happy.

Gemini women always love change and novelty and have a tendency to leave things half-done. The best way to happiness and success if you have the Sun here at birth is to develop fixity, determination, and resolve to see things completed once you start them. You will need a lot of rest, relaxation, sunshine and fresh air.

Cancer women are deeply sensitive, but make excellent wives and mothers. Home is the most important in the world to them. So, unless you are definitely the career type, start planning early to make your life-work the management of home, husband and children. Unless you have these things you will be like a fish out of water.

Leo women must have pleasure and amusement. Social life is important. There is a great deal of emotional impulse and a tendency to take chances. If you have the Sun in Leo see to it that you develop mental control over your feelings and learn to understand life and people for what they are. See things with the mind.

Virgo women are generally intensely practical, sometimes fussy and too-exacting. Their danger is in wanting to make other people fit into their own patterns of what they think is right. Develop a more flexible attitude toward life and thus bring out the lovable and sincere qualities that Virgo always has.

Libra women are often flattered a great deal and become spoiled and lazy. It isn't their fault because we all love beauty and pay it homage. But if you have Libra for your Sun sign by all means learn how to be practical and thus prevent yourself from drifting into profitless experience. Guard against eating too many sweets.

Scorpio women are the most vital and magnetic in the zodiac. So if you have the Sun here don't misuse your powers and above all overcome a natural tendency to get even with people. Learn to love and forgive and thus bring forth the great creative abilities that are sure to be locked up within you.

Sagittarius women are very restless and need travel, change, and novelty to be happy. So don't marry a man who wants to stay at home every evening. And, if you are a business person, select work that gives you a large element of freedom. You simply have to be on the go to keep happy.

Capricorn women must overcome an inborn tendency to worry, fret, and fear the worst. Introduce a strong dose of gaiety and light-heartedness into your life and don't take yourself too seriously. Remember that the world accepts us at our face value, and that for you the price of success and happiness is a great big smile.

Aquarius women belong to the world of friendship and organizational work. Join good, worthwhile clubs and groups and release your social energies constructively. Choose a mate who also likes these things. You'll never be happy in a corner with a book. You have to leave your signature upon the world about you to be at peace with yourself.

Pisces women are often very charming and artistic, but they are the most sensitive people in the zodiac. Guard your sympathies and avoid being taken in by clever rascals. Find some honest charity to release your

Walnut Seeds Available Now

Stratified walnut seeds to insure continuing crops of walnut throughout the state are available to Plymouthites from Michigan State college, according to Ira Bull, MSC forester.

Both World Wars required large amounts of walnut for gunstocks. Cabinet making also takes a large quantity of wood. A continuing planting program, plus the harvesting of mature trees, is needed to maintain our supply.

Timberland owners who wish natural sympathetic nature into, and don't marry a man with rough, hard-boiled qualities. You bruise easily.

to plant walnuts are advised by the forester to place their orders now. Blanks may be obtained from county agricultural agents or by writing to the Forestry Department, Michigan State college, East Lansing.

Planting can be started as the frost leaves the ground. Complete instructions will accompany each shipment. "Growing Walnuts for Profit," a publication prepared by the American Walnut Manufacturers association, is also available free by writing to the MSC forestry department, East Lansing.

THE KEY

- to your ownership of a better automobile
- to more jobs and greater prosperity for this area

Is To Be Found In MORE REASONABLE GOVERNMENT CONTROLS OVER CREDIT BUYING.

Why do thousands of auto owners find it impossible to buy a better automobile, even though they are vitally in need of one?

BECAUSE HIGH INSTALLMENT PAYMENTS, IMPOSED BY GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS, PLACE THAT BETTER CAR BEYOND THE REACH OF THE AVERAGE POCKETBOOK.

What is responsible for a recent wave of unemployment in this area, where practically everyone's livelihood is dependent upon continued prosperity in the automotive industry?

THESE SAME CRIPPLING GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS, WHICH ARE PRICING SO MANY PEOPLE RIGHT OUT OF THE MARKET FOR AUTOMOBILES.

Federal Credit Curbs, embodied in what is known as "Regulation W," may have far more serious consequences unless something is done to reshape them to conform with the realities of the present-day situation.

IF You need a Better Car but can't afford one-- Your Job or Business depends on a healthy, Thriving Auto Industry...

Down Under Florida Palm Trees

The Plymouth Mail's "Rambling Reporter" finds news, here, there and everywhere.

These are happier days for the people of Florida who thrive off the tourist business.

Up until the middle of February the southern half of this state looked as though something terrible had happened in every family.

There was but a handful of tourists here compared to previous years—and there was nothing to indicate that there was going to be any. While the "west side" of the state was enjoying an apparent rush, "vacancy" signs stood out like sore thumbs from Daytona Beach to Key West.

But there was something magic in the air along about the 12th or 15th of February! It seemed that everybody up north was heading towards Florida.

The local columns of The Plymouth Mail gave indications that Plymouth, too, had joined the southward rush.

Landing right in the middle of the rush were Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Valliquette of Plymouth who came to Miami to enjoy a brief vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Spitzley, of Detroit, who are spending the winter at the Golden Strand hotel, located directly on the Atlantic coast. Mrs. Spitzley is a sister of Mrs. Valliquette.

Like the thousands of others, the Valliquettes with Mr. and Mrs. Spitzley are taking in all of the interesting sights in this part of the state. While there is plenty of sunshine and activity for them, there hasn't been much vacation "rest" for the Plymouth visitors.

The Mail's Rambling Reporter, who doesn't like to move about any more than is necessary, has been laying in wait for other unsuspecting Plymouth travelers to show up down this way—but the Valliquettes were the only ones this week to fall in range of that new department store kodak we found it necessary to purchase the other day.

There's this about the Florida tourist season of 1949—it's going to be the shortest and probably the busiest one they have ever had down here. It will be of three or four week's duration—and then the resort owners, hotel chiefs and promoters will try and figure out just what happened and why.

It would do Ford Lyndon's heart good to travel up through the orange country of Florida at the present time. As Plymouth folks know, Mr. Lyndon was one of the pioneers in the development and promotion of the overhead sprinkler system for field crops and orchards. Some of the spectacular potato crops of northern Michigan are due directly to his successful efforts in introducing newer methods of providing moisture for crops. He organized the Perfection Sprinkler company of Plymouth and installed many large overhead irrigation systems not only around Plymouth, but throughout the state. The other day while on the way back to Miami from Sarasota, the old Rambler came down through the central part of the state where a large portion of Florida's oranges and grapefruit is produced.

We were surprised to note the vast number of irrigation systems being used in the orchards. Water pipes carried water up hill and down—and the trees in the orchards where the irrigation systems were in use, looked twice as healthy and productive as were the trees in orchards that did not have the benefit of sprinkler systems. If Mr. Lyndon hadn't made an inspection trip to Florida orchards, he should do so—it will do him good to see what he might see on such a trip.

"They" burn the fiery cross right here in Miami. It seems that the minister of some community church had invited a negro preacher to deliver the sermon on "Brotherhood Week" to the congregation of the church. After the announcement had been made that the colored minister had accepted the invitation to address a white audience, a cross was burned in front of the church and another in front of the colored pastor's home. The community church minister hastily withdrew the invitation and now the congregation is considering whether to keep its white pastor. Some say he's too liberal. Yes, Florida voted for President Truman and his civil rights program, but here's what they meant by it—from the looks of things.

The Plymouth Mail's old Rambler, along with some 18 or 20 other Michigan Rotarians, had the pleasure of hearing Angus Mitchell of Melbourne, Australia, president of Rotary International the other day when he addressed a meeting of nearly 1,000 Rotarians in Miami.

He is at present making a tour of America, having recently completed a trip around the world on a visit to Rotary clubs.

Mitchell said one of the God sends of America is its freedom from the fears and hates that he found everywhere in Europe.

He listed three important aims for Rotarians—to make friends, to serve youth and to work toward international understanding and world peace.

Rotarians, as individuals must work toward achieving an understanding between nations, he said, "for if the world fails to gain an understanding, there is no hope for permanent peace."

"Differences in race, creed and color don't count a bit when you get down to essentials," Mitchell said. "It is the human heart that matters."

He urged Rotarians to make an effort as individuals to know and understand people of other countries, to study their customs and their problems.

Mitchell said he has heard many criticisms of the United Nations, and charges that it is failing in its goal of peace among nations.

"Perhaps it is we, the people who are failing to fully use the facilities of the organization. Only through aroused public opinion and public support can it function. We must have faith that agreement between nations is possible and never give up hope of achieving it."

College Will Help
Plymouth Maple Syrup Producers

Michigan's 2,000 sugar bushes will soon be busy places when the sap starts running and maple syrup time is here.

Ira Bull, forestry specialist at Michigan State college, urges Plymouth farmers to have their equipment ready for the early runs of sap. He says waiting until the mild weather to wash out equipment may mean that the first run is over before you can get the pails out.

Michigan State college again plans to aid sugar bush operators by giving special weather reports for them, WKAR, the MSC radio station, will cooperate with the U. S. Weather Bureau to present these forecasts. They will be heard on the Farm Service Hour at 12 noon each day except Sunday.

Fair in the Light of Memory Shines

BY ELTON R. EATON

Summer visitors to northern Michigan are going to find that resort rates have not been raised, but have been lowered, if information coming out of the Upper Peninsula is an indication of what is in the air.

The Upper Peninsula Development bureau has released a letter received recently from Joe Bachunas, who now operates Blaney Park, that the resort owners should make an effort to cut rates, rather than try to raise them.

"This is a time to work along on a smaller profit, if necessary; a time to give better service in every way to hold the business you have and to try and get some new business," the Blaney Park and Sodus, Mich., resort operator believes.

The Development Bureau, echoing Bachunas' advice, blames high rates for the "principal dissatisfaction of proprietors of resort areas and individual resorts with the volume of resort patronage and the size of their tourist dollar income in 1948. It, too, believes that vacationists will be, more than ever, "shoppers for vacation bargains" in 1949.

In contrast to the slump in some areas last year, Bachunas points to his experience at Blaney Park, Upper Peninsula resort which he leased in 1948.

"After I took over in May of 1948," he said, "I reduced the rates approximately 15 per cent—and we did the biggest business in Blaney Park's history. This wasn't entirely due to the low rates, but the publicity on them brought us many inquiries and we turned many of them into guests."

Michigan's biggest resort operator suggests a "check on the trend of the times" to see that tires, radios, refrigerators and other commodities are being offered with premiums, that butter and eggs are down about 20 per cent and that merchandise is being obtained from manufacturers and wholesalers at special reduced prices.

"I've watched these trends for 30 years in the resort business," Bachunas said, "and my advice is don't raise prices. But increase your advertising and sales expenditures. Be courteous. If you don't, your business is going to suffer."

Glacier View dam would not have stopped '48 floods:

The proposed Glacier View dam on the North Fork of the Flathead river in Montana cannot prevent a recurrence of last year's disastrous floods in the Columbia River basin, would not have prevented the Vancouver disaster of 1948, and will contribute little toward the stopping of future floods. These are the conclusions reached by the National Park Service after a careful hydrological study of the project, according to the Wildlife Management Institute.

The dam would flood 15,000 acres of one of the most scenic wilderness areas in America. Park officials have estimated that the reservoir would, by destroying already deficient winter range, practically wipe out big game populations in the park.

Against these losses in public property the proponents of the project have little to offer in the way of flood control. Newton B. Drury, director of the National Park Service states, "The Glacier View Project admittedly would have some flood control value, but the minor importance of the flood control factor can be appreciated in view of the fact that in 1948 the relatively small flood crest from the North Fork reached the lower Columbia River some 10 to 12 days after the crest of the main flood had passed and subsided." If the proposed dam had been in operation last spring, it would have removed only 3.8 inches from the flood crest at Portland and Vancouver, if the crest from the North Fork and the main floods had arrived simultaneously.

The chief objective is admittedly hydroelectric power but flood control is being used as an argument to justify this costly project. No one would object to the construction of a dam if it would prevent a recurrence of last spring's disaster. But destroying one of our finest national parks for the benefit of a few at the expense of the taxpayers is not the answer. The use of the overworked "flood control" excuse to rationalize the construction of this dam is not justified by the facts.

Maybe it will not be long before Michigan deer hunters will be going to Ohio to hunt deer. Reports indicate that Ohio's deer herd is increasing rapidly, and that over 3,000 deer were killed during the season last fall. With its herd only recently developed to harvestable size, Ohio however, is taking full advantage of its opportunity to profit by the mistakes of other states in the management of its restocking deer. The Wildlife Management Institute reports. The buck law is being used in Ohio as a tool of management, as it should be used, rather than as a fetish. The "overselling" of this law in some states became a grave source of trouble when the phenomenal growth of the herds early in the century caught game administrators by surprise. The Conservation Commission, however, is carefully indoctrinating the sportsmen of the state with the idea that the regulated harvest of does frequently is essential for the welfare and preservation of this resource.

Three counties in southern Ohio recently were opened to the taking of bucks only in 1943, 1944, and 1945. In 1947 when the deer in northeastern counties became a menace to travel on the highways and to farm crops, a season for eight counties allowing both does and bucks to be killed was permitted. Five more counties were added to the hunting area in 1948 and the season was lengthened to six full days. Reports to date indicate a record kill of 3200 deer. An intensive management program financed by a $5.00 special deer hunting license is being started to study the problem in the Buckeye State to assure the best possible use of this resource.

Four buildings of the Detroit arsenal which once furnished war supplies for the United States to fight Indians in the Northwest still stand in Dearborn.

Finished in 1837, the arsenal was in use until 1872, according to information in the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.

The arsenal was located on the road to Chicago and close to the Rouge River for convenience of transportation. The 120-foot high, 30-inch thick walls of the arms depot enclosed 11 brick buildings about a central square. Each wall was 380 feet long.

Bricks for the walls and buildings were made by hand on what was known as the Dort farm. They were carried up the Rouge River on a scow and landed at an old dock located about one-half mile west of the present River Rouge bridge on Michigan avenue.

Construction of the arsenal touched off the first land boom in that immediate area as speculators reasoned that an important city soon would rise about it.

The commandant's headquarters is one of the buildings still standing. In excellent conditions, it is at the corner of Monroe and Michigan avenues and now is used as Dearborn Police Precinct station number two. The place where the old arsenal walls joined the headquarters can be seen on the southwest and southeast corners of the building.

The former sutler's shop or commissary, the arsenal magazine and a building where cannon and carriages were stored are the other buildings remaining. The sutler's shop is on the northeast corner of Garrison and Monroe streets. The magazine, where powder and shells were kept, is on Brady street near Garrison. Now a private residence, its walls are three to four feet thick. The last building is a florist's shop.

During the Civil War soldiers were recruited and trained at the arsenal. After the war a few soldiers were stationed there for guard duty and to work the 235 acre arsenal farm nearby.

As the frontier rapidly moved westward, need for the arsenal quickly diminished. Its commander, Major W. Todd, received orders in 1872 to end all activity there. In 1877 much of the property was sold at public auction and from time to time other parcels were sold or deeded to the local government.

The commandant's headquarters was the last arsenal property to be disposed of. In 1940 it was sold to Dearborn for $250. Believing that this 111-year-old building can best serve the community as a historical museum, the Dearborn Historical Commission now is endeavoring to acquire it for that purpose.

Survey Shows That For Rent Signs
Go Up in Many of Nation's Cities

Many in Plymouth will be interested in the fact that for the first time in five years, there is a significant number of vacancies in apartment houses in cities across the nation, according to the Housing Institute, New York firm which analyzes real estate, building and lending trends.

A Housing Institute survey indicates that there are vacancies in new apartment houses in half of the 92 cities of the United States with populations of 100,000 and more. And in many of these cities there are vacancies in prewar buildings.

The vacancies in prewar structures are mostly in apartments remodeled since the end of the war and not under rent control. A very few vacancies exist in controlled units at very high rentals, the survey disclosed.

This vacancy situation, the Housing Institute predicts, points to a decline in new apartment building and remodeling for 1949 as compared to 1948.

The survey found vacancies of more than 3 per cent in such vacation cities as Miami, Jacksonville, Orlando and West Palm Beach, Florida, and Long Beach, California. Such vacancies were no surprise, it was stated, because in these cities many apartments are held vacant during the summer to avoid rent control. Renting at the height of the 1948-49 vacation season was much more difficult and accomplished often only after rents were reduced from the 1947-48 level.

Vacancies of more than 3 per cent were said to exist in such all year-round cities as Atlanta, Chicago, Cleveland, Minneapolis, Newark, Oakland, California; Portland, Oregon; St. Louis, San Diego and the Bronx (a borough of New York City). Hardest hit are the sunshine cities of San Diego, Los Angeles and Oakland, California and Miami, all with vacancies of over 5 per cent.

The vacancies in new construction are in higher rental structures—in high-cost areas in buildings in which the rent is $35 to $40 per room per month and up. The survey predicted this situation would be aggravated this year as more new apartments are added to the supply. In some cities such as Albany, because of renting difficulties, remodeled apartments in the $100 to $150 bracket have reduced rents by as much as 50 per cent, the survey added.

Other cities with a 2 to 5 per cent ratio vacancy in prewar buildings were said to be Akron, Cleveland, Boston, Grand Rapids, Michigan; Long Beach and Los Angeles and Oklahoma City.

Affected to a lesser degree are Chicago, Dayton, Ohio; Gary and Indianapolis, Indiana; Oakland and San Diego, California; Pittsburgh, Providence, Rhode Island; Canton, Ohio; Salt Lake City; St. Paul, Minnesota; and Trenton, New Jersey, the survey continued.

One of the major developments expected to make the 1924 real estate selling season in Detroit one of the best in the history of the city, is that sponsored by the Plymouth Road Development corporation, involving 2,800 acres between Detroit's new River Rouge park and the town of Plymouth. It has been estimated that improvement of the tract, extending along Plymouth, Schoolcraft and Telegraph roads, as a new residential area, will involve an outlay of approximately $6,000,000.

The fire department was called to the home of Paul Nash early Monday morning, to extinguish a small blaze which had started in the roof, presumably from a spark from the chimney.

After being closed for several weeks while the work of re-decorating was in progress, the auditorium of the Baptist church was re-opened last Sunday with appropriate services. The auditorium presents a very fine appearance with its new decorations, a new carpet and other improvements. The work of the church is progressing and growing under the leadership of Rev. Sayles, the pastor.

Comic Books Are Topic of Students

Six Madonna sophomore students, "realizing the effects of so-called comic books," planned a project program to eliminate the books from children's reading, an announcement from the school discloses.

Those planning the project were: Gertrude Bank, Joan Kaminski, Lorraine Renkowski, Joanne Walsh and Evelyn Zavatsky.

The program was in the form of a radio quiz show and took place Wednesday morning, February 23, at St. Michael's school, Rosedale Gardens, with student participation.

The primary purpose of this project has been listed as, "to stress the fact that certain comic books, characters, or strips are harmful to the child, and others are regarded as unobjectionable."

Prizes were awarded to the following quiz winners: Ann Conway, third grade; Kenneth Bourgan, fifth grade; and Norma Leonard, eighth grade.

A special competition was held among six students of the seventh and eighth grades. They gave extemporaneous speeches on their opinion of the comic books. Gerald Harrington, Geraldine Lovely, Frank Schwein and Donald Portwood were described as the most expressive, bringing forth the underlying evils of bad comics which may affect youngsters.

It seems that valve-in-head engine design is becoming quite the thing, now that gasolines are stepping up in octane rating and higher compression ratios begin to be worth while.

Well, that's dandy as far as Buick is concerned.

For more than forty-five years, Buick engineers have been working with, developing and learning all about valve-in-head engine design.

So quite some time ago Buick applied a principle, possible only in valve-in-head design, which still remains a Buick exclusive.

It is Fireball design — and it's an interesting engineering story.

It comes from a specially shaped piston, designed to roll each fuel charge into a compact, whirling, ball-shaped mass. It goes a step beyond high-compression ratios, because it means better mixing of fuel — and so better burning.

Result: More good from each fuel charge. A touch more life, pep, ginger. More of that happy, satisfying feel of power and zip that give Buick its good name as a performer.

So remember, as more and more cars climb on the valve-in-head bandwagon, that Buick is still calling the tune. Still ahead in knowledge and experience and development of a principle that has always been recognized for its greater basic efficiency.

With self-setting valve lifters adding new quiet and washing out tappet noise, it's plain that "Buick's the buy!" on engine design as in other ways.

Come satisfy yourself on that score — and get a firm order in either with or without a car to trade.

Babson Says Babson Discusses Wages

The cost-of-living is definitely declining. This especially applies to food supplies, but is also shown by the mark-down sales of clothing, underwear, shoes and other things. Cars of various makes can now be secured with immediate delivery; and it is estimated that before the year is over one may buy any car "off the floor", with the possible exception of a Chevrolet or Ford. The price of new houses has begun to decline. If your family is not getting their things cheaper, it is because they are not shopping around as they should.

The difficulty in the wage situation is that many labor leaders feel that, in order to hold their jobs, they must get for their members a little more wage increase every year. Of course, they know that this cannot go on forever. They should know that they will hold their jobs better in the end by not asking for an increase in wages than by experiencing a bust.

Attitude of Big Companies
Certain industries are still in a seller's market,—that is to say, they can dictate the price. This especially applies to the building industry, the steel industry, and a certain portion of the automobile industry. This means that if they grant an increased wage to labor, they can pass this along to us consumers by merely raising the prices. Therefore, if any of the labor unions in these industries strike for more wages, and the Government backs labor up the companies will accept the recommendations. They, however, will plainly state that this will be added to the price of goods and passed along to us consumers. This is an entirely new attitude. It may cause labor to now take all they can while the going is good or it may bring them to their senses.

Of course, this policy is hard on industries which cannot pass along any increased wages to consumers. I have in mind the clothing industry, the shoe industry, and the manufacturers of refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, and radios who dare not add anything more to their prices. Hence, they must fight any further wage rises or depend upon new labor-saving machinery which is now being installed. Manufacturers ordered such machinery two or more years ago when they anticipated labor's demand, but it is just beginning to be delivered.

Employment Outlook
Statistics show that employment is gradually falling off. This, of course, is an important factor in connection with wages. When an idle man is standing behind an employed man waiting for his job, two things happen. First, the employed man works harder and does a better day's work; and secondly, he is not going to ask for any wage increase. People, are spending less money due to the fact that they have been using up their war savings. This causes less demand for goods, which in turn, cause employers to lay off more help. Then the purchasing is still less. Hence, the vicious circle which has been spiraling upward for the past few years will now begin to spiral down just as rapidly.

One thing I wish to emphasize here is that wage conflicts are not conflicts between labor and management. Management is merely a go-between, that is, it is a negotiator between labor and consumers. Labor is not fighting management, but rather is fighting the public. Even when labor leaders criticize the dividends which are being declared by management, it should be remembered that these dividends do not go to management; they merely make out checks to send to life insurance companies, savings banks, and small investors all over the country.

The Next Depression
The Panic of 1873 was due to overreaching by the railroad barons of that day; the Panic of 1893 to the overextension of western farm loans; the Panic of 1913 to the overexpansion of industrial trusts; and the Panic of 1933 to the collapse of our banking system following the stock market break of 1929. The next panic will be due to the overreaching of labor and a collapse of the present union leadership.

The financial condition of the State has been made worse, however, by the adoption in November, 1946, of a constitutional amendment. This diverted one third of the three per cent sales tax to the use of public schools and agencies of local government—cities, townships and villages. It also obligated the State to continue to appropriate nearly 45 per cent of the preceding year's revenue from the sales tax to school purposes. A total of approximately 78 per cent of the present sales tax income therefore goes to public schools and local government units.

Michigan is not alone in having to face a financial problem. Other states have been having similar difficulties. New York is considering an increase of 66 2/3 per cent in its state tax on individual incomes. In other states it has been proposed to float a bond issue to take care of the growing state debt. This Week's Public Issue

SHOULD STATE ADOPT THE CORPORATION INCOME TAX?

(Editors' Note: Here are the pertinent facts on a public issue as prepared by the University of Michigan Department of Political Science. This material is designed to present both sides of the question to help you in your thinking on current issues. Your club or discussion group may also find this column useful.)

Background
On February 2, Governor G. Mennen Williams proposed that the legislature establish a "franchise fee" which would in effect be a four per cent tax on the net income of the 30,000 Michigan corporations. This proposal was made because at the present rate of expenditure it is estimated that if no new taxes are levied the State will have a deficit of $21,000,000 on July 1 and $49,000,000 more in the following year. This situation has been brought about in part by the general rise in prices which has increased the cost of government along with nearly everything else.

The financial condition of the State has been made worse, however, by the adoption in November, 1946, of a constitutional amendment. This diverted one third of the three per cent sales tax to the use of public schools and agencies of local government—cities, townships and villages. It also obligated the State to continue to appropriate nearly 45 per cent of the preceding year's revenue from the sales tax to school purposes. A total of approximately 78 per cent of the present sales tax income therefore goes to public schools and local government units.

Michigan is not alone in having to face a financial problem. Other states have been having similar difficulties. New York is considering an increase of 66 2/3 per cent in its state tax on individual incomes. In other states it has been proposed to float a bond issue to take care of the growing state debt. This method cannot be used in this state, however, as our Constitution prohibits state officials from contracting a debt of more than $250,000 except for roads, veterans' bonuses and extreme emergencies such as war or invasion.

Some of the main points which have been made on this issue are:

1. The cost of government cannot be reduced in times like this without sacrificing essential activities. If the people demand good roads, schools, police protection and other governmental services, they must be prepared to pay for them.
2. No other available source of revenue will yield the amount necessary to meet the anticipated deficit. Real estate is already sufficiently burdened by taxes which are now used for local revenue only. In any case, the 15 mill limitation prescribed by the constitution would limit the total amount which could be realized from this source to $11,000,000, a quite inadequate sum. A state graduated income tax on individual incomes would in all probability require a constitutional amendment and therefore is not legally possible at present. The sales tax can scarcely be increased, since it now yields 75.4 per cent of the state's revenue and falls most heavily on the low income groups. Even if it could be increased, most of the income derived from it would necessarily go to schools and local government units under existing constitutional provisions.
3. Since new revenue must be obtained somewhere, the corporation income tax is the fair and logical place to find it. In other states corporations pay an average of 22 per cent of the state income, while here they do not pay more than eight per cent. Even with the new tax, now proposed, they would pay only 20 per cent, which would still be less than the national income.

Every effort should be made to reduce the cost of government before additional taxes of any sort are imposed. It is generally believed that under present arrangements some townships are receiving more money than they need. Some system should be devised which would require them to pay for certain governmental services, such as road maintenance. In any case, a real effort should be made to apply the methods used by efficiency experts in private business to the problems of state government and so secure from all state employees an honest day's work for an honest day's pay.

In the end, the public will have to pay the cost of any new taxes. This payment will be in the form of higher prices, since corporations have no source of income except from the public. Why not let the public pay directly, through some other tax, if additional taxation is necessary.

The proposed tax will prevent new business enterprises from locating in Michigan and possibly cause some business located here to move from the state. One reason our state has become a great manufacturing area is because taxation of corporations have been moderate. Why break up a winning combination?

Your reaction is important. After you have thought over this week's issue and formed an opinion on it, if you wish to write to the appropriate public officials, in this case they would be your state representative and your state senator.

"I GET MORE FOR MY MOW-CURED HAY!"

DUCT SYSTEMS ARE EASY TO INSTALL—ECONOMICAL TO OPERATE.

ELECTRIC HAY DRYING IMPROVES HAY QUALITY

By curing in the mow, you can count on greener, leafier, extra-quality hay of high protein content. There is no leaf shattering, or sun burning with mow-cured hay.

This proved electric hay drying method also permits a high moisture content while putting up the hay; reduces supplemental feeding, and produces more milk.

Mow-cured hay is recognized as the best substitute for fresh pasture. For further details see your Edison Farm Service Advisor today.

FOUR OTHER ELECTRIC HAY DRYING ADVANTAGES

- 1 Cuts down weather risk—permits curing at right stage of maturity; eliminates loss from rain, and excessive sun bleaching; saves hay losses in bad weather.
- 2 Reduces dangers of spontaneous combustion—controlled temperatures in mow prevent hazards of fire.
- 3 Saves money—makes money!—small investment, low operating costs; pays for itself in a surprisingly short time; more hay can be stored in barn.
- 4 Easy to set up—any size barn will do; no boilers or coils; ducts are easy and inexpensive to build. Mow-curing requires no change from your present system of making hay.
