

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

We always like it when an official body representing some governmental division asks the voters for their "yes" or "no" opinion about important public questions. After all, the voters are the ones chiefly concerned and what happens to any city, county or state is their direct responsibility.

Monday of next week, the voters of Plymouth will advise the city commission as to their wishes pertaining to a somewhat extensive street improvement program to be extended over a period of a year or more.

No one can deny the fact that there are many streets in Plymouth that are badly in need of improvement. We have important thoroughfares that are nothing more than bog holes during an open winter and early in the spring of each year. Some of our main streets are in need of re-surfacing. Main street should be given a thick coating of black-top.

Some feel that the price suggested for the purchase of the Bronson property for an extension to the parking lot is much higher than it should be. Real estate men know more about that than the writer does. Fortunately this question is on a separate ballot and voters can exercise their opinion of that question without involving it in the street improvement program.

A favorable "yes" vote does not mean that property holders along the streets that are listed for improvement have nothing more to say about it. They have everything to say, as the city commission MUST call a hearing of the property owners along every street to be improved before contracts can be let. At these hearings the property owners can tell the city commission just what they wish done with the streets—and if there is too much objection, the improvement can be deleted. But the important thing for every citizen to do is VOTE Monday—vote on the street improvement program and at the school election. No matter what your opinion might be—VOTE.

OUTLAWING THE OUT-COUNTY.

A year or so ago comment was made in this column pertaining to a report that the Detroit city civil service commission had placed a ban on the hiring of people by the Maybury Sanatorium and the Detroit House of Correction who live in Wayne county, but outside the city limits of Detroit.

At that time emphatic denial was made of the charge. But now again the ugly rumor has appeared more in the form of fact than rumor. While officials of these two institutions will make no statements pertaining to the question, the workers in both of these institutions say that a definite ban has been set up by the city civil service commission against hiring any additional out county residents for jobs in these institutions.

Of course such a ruling is for no other purpose than providing jobs for the hungry politicians of Detroit. These city job-holders come and go like the migration of blackbirds in the fall and spring seasons—and when it comes to ability and willingness to work as well as strict attention to business, while administrative officials of these institutions for policy sake will not admit it, the average civil service worker from the city of Detroit is so far out rated by the out-county worker that there is no comparison.

Detroit newspapers report that Mayor Van Antwerp is about to give the civil service commission a good shaking-up. We hope the Mayor will not over-look this unfair boycott of competent workers in Wayne county who help support the city of Detroit, but are being blacklisted because they vote outside the city limits.

YES, IT SHOULD BE STUDIED.

The Michigan Survey recently issued a bulletin in which it said that Michigan citizens should give serious consideration to the proposed expansion of federal welfare, social security and health insurance programs before giving their full support to these schemes.

The Survey points out that adoption of the whole bundle of projects would ultimately boost payroll taxes to at least 10 per cent. The Survey release says that "the cost is going to mount to almost unbelievable figures unless they stop the music before somebody breaks the bank."

Within 30 years, the Survey bulletin says, it is estimated that the "entire social program might cost $30 billion a year, which is double the amount now going into national defense."

One of the new plans—the proposed Public Welfare Act—would provide federal assistance on a matching basis to any state plan aiding needy individuals, regardless of age, health or worthiness.

Strangely, according to the Survey, under this proposal, "federal participation in any Michigan public welfare plan would be substantially less (percentage-wise) than it now is in assistance for the aged, blind and dependent children."

For example, old age payments in Michigan for December, 1948, averaged $42 per payment, and of this amount the government contributed $26—or 62 per cent. Under the new law, it would contribute a flat 52 per cent—or $21.84," the Survey statement says.

The report points out that existing social security benefits will require increased payroll levies if there is any hope of keeping the program actuarially sound. Total cost of a compulsory health insurance program, if adopted, cannot be accurately estimated, but it will be measured in billions of dollars.

The Survey suggests that "both the desirability and cost of the proposals" be put under "sharp scrutiny." How much of all this do we need? How much can we afford? What is the price tag? How are we going to raise the money?

"Michigan taxpayers surely cannot be blamed if they share this attitude of honest inquiry," the report states. "After all, Michigan has paid an average of $2.1 billion per year in federal taxes during the past six years—and that is not small change."

LOW COST PUBLIC HOUSING.

In these days when everybody seems to want everybody else to provide everybody with all the necessities of life as well as the pleasures which idleness does not ordinarily produce, it is interesting to read something about the so-called "public housing question."

Public housing, as you know, is a plan whereby the fellow who has worked to buy and build his own home is expected to pay taxes to help buy and build a home for the other fellow who doesn't believe in work, doesn't believe in saving and doesn't believe in doing anything for himself that requires effort.

Somewhere we read an interesting article the other day sent out of Washington on this question of public housing. It points out that low-cost housing isn't low at all. It's expensive business for everybody except the lazy-bone fellow who has enough political drag to get himself and family planted in one of these houses that his more thrifty neighbor has been forced to build and maintain.

So-called low cost housing pending before congress isn't low cost housing at all, says this writer. It is high cost housing.

The houses would be larger than the average house built by private capital, they would cost more, and taxpayers who live in inferior houses would be taxed to pay rent subsidies to those with political pull who lived in grander houses built under the housing program.

High cost housing, both public and private, is here to stay

Ground Broken For New Township Hall On Ann Arbor Road

Legion Carnival Here June 20th

The Myron H. Beals post of the American Legion will hold its annual summer carnival on the site of the Veteran's Memorial home at Karmada and Farmer streets, later this month.

Dates for the big show have been set from June 20 through June 25 and the Cody Carnival company will again bring its many amusements to the city for the Legion post.

All proceeds made by the post will go into the rehabilitation fund for veterans. Former profits have been used to buy flags for the high school band, contributions to the athletic field, funds for the war chest, and other local activities.

Baccalaureate to Be Held Sunday

The Rev. Henry J. Walsh, D.D. will deliver the sermon for the baccalaureate service of the class of 1949 Sunday, June 16, at 8 p.m. He will be assisted by the Rev. Frederick Poole, D.D.

Opening the service in the high school auditorium will be the playing of the prelude by Ronald Witt. During the following professional hymn, members of the graduating class will take their places. Dr. Poole will deliver the invocation, and is slated to read a passage from the scriptures.

Further music on the program will be provided by the high school chorus.

The Rev. Walsh will deliver both the sermon and benediction.

According to Supervisor Charles H. Rathburn, Jr., Plymouth township officials are this week starting the realization of a 20 year old dream. When ground was broken last Saturday morning on the site of the new township hall on Ann Arbor road, the first step in making a reality out of planning over a period of many years came true.

Since 1932 when Plymouth became a city, township officials have made their homes their offices and by rental of the Grange hall on Union street and the Mastick garage on Ann Arbor road they have managed to hold their elections and township meetings.

Township residents gave the board authority to spend the $25,000 which had been accumulated by unusual management for that purpose in a special election held early this spring. The building will be 50 by 70 feet of cinder block construction with a brick face. It will house the fire department, township offices and a meeting hall for the use of township residents.

The hall is the second move on the part of township officials to offer all of the benefits of local government to the people that live within their district. Not long ago a fire department was established and soon the township expects to take over the care of dirt roads during the summer months.

Long range planning by township officers also includes the possibility of installing a sewer and water system throughout the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Michaels and son, Dickie, spent last weekend at their cottage on Round lake.

Over 200 Seniors See High School Days Quickly Drawing to a Close

The students will be graduated during commencement exercises June 17, providing they satisfactorily complete courses they are now taking.

Guiding the seniors through their final two weeks are sponsors of the class: Mrs. Helen McPherson, Miss Freda Olsen, Mrs. Francis Overton, Garrett Kramer, Konrad Moiso, Harry Reeves and Melvin Blunk, chairman.

Members of the class of 1949 are: Jean Agosta, Neal Akerlind.

City Commission Hires Legal Counsel For Police Chief

Members of the city commission authorized City Manager Harold Cheek this week to employ legal counsel for Chief of Police Lee Sackett, Captain Carl Greenlee and Officer Ben Williams. A suit has been filed in circuit court against the three for $2,000 damages.

The complainant, Troy C. Hargrove of Northville, alleges he was held over night and part of the next day on a complaint of disturbing the peace.

Fourth of July Program to Include Parade, Fireworks, Entertainment

Things will be popping in Plymouth on the Fourth of July, both literally and figuratively.

Fire works, a parade and a list of varied entertainment are being planned this week by the Plymouth Firemen's association, with the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce.

There will be no parade of floats by merchants, Fire Chief Robert McAllister says, but there will be one of children in costumes of a patriotic nature. The chief also invites them to decorate their bicycles and ride in the parade. Prizes will be awarded to those classed as the

Two Hundred at Citizens Meeting

About 200 people attended a Plymouth Citizens meeting Friday, June 3, at Central Grade school auditorium. The meeting was called to order at 8 p.m. by Kenneth Gust and the minutes of the May 27 meeting were read and approved. A report on the Lee Sackett case was made by Chairman Gust.

Tom Brock reported that 1,200 registered Plymouth voters had

City Charter Amendments, Bond Issue Vital to Street Program; On Ballot Monday

Pheasant Causes Plane Accident

Chase Willett had barely gotten his plane off the ground last Sunday morning when a pheasant flew into the propeller, crippling the ship.

During the resulting earthward plunge, his sister who was traveling with him, Mrs. William Downing, sustained two cracked ribs, and a gash on the head. She has been confined to Osteopathic hospital in Highland Park, and her condition is described as good. Mr. Willett received no serious injuries.

The crash occurred on a private field on Six Mile road, one mile east of the Plymouth-Northville road. Both wings were badly damaged in the 50 to 70 foot plunge. The propeller was found broken in two.

Cartoonist to Host Daisy Employees

Three Daisy Manufacturing company employees who made good guesses in a recent contest, will spend their vacations this year as guests of Fred Harman, Red Ryder cartoonist, on his ranch in Pagosa Springs, Colorado.

The employees who won the company sponsored contest and will be making the journey westward the early part of July are Charles Johnson, Mrs. Edith Alexander and Mrs. Betty Daniel. Accompanying them on the expense-paid trip will be their husbands and Mr. Johnson's wife.

All employees of the company, with the exception of department heads and officers, had competed in the fish bowl guessing contest for which the western trip was the reward to the winners. One bowl had been filled with BB shot and targeteer shot; the second with No. 111 trigger springs; and bowl No. 3 held a mixture of No. 111 lever screws and No. 111 hex nuts. The bowls were displayed to the employees, who in turn guessed the quantities of the five items in each bowl.

The three couples will spend their annual vacation from Daisy, July 3 to July 14, on the Red Ryder ranch.

Authorities Seek Mail Box Painter

Frequent complaints from residents in the rural area adjacent to Plymouth have put postal authorities on the look-out for a man who is cleaning up a neat profit by painting mail boxes.

Claiming he has authorization from the post office, he has been painting rural boxes, charging for the work, and moving on.

Tom Brock, postmaster, announces that no such authority has been granted by the local office.

Previous complaints have been received too late, and the painter has not as yet been found. Mr. Brock asks rural residents to inform him as soon as they receive similar calls.

Livonia Voters Approve Bonding

Livonia township school electors sanctioned a $1,175,000 bond issue for a building program, and gave a nod of approval to the raising of the millage ceiling at the election held there Monday.

Following the action of the voters, the millage ceiling was raised from 12 to 17 mills. Both issues were approved by a wide margin of votes.

Water Mains Flushed on Thursdays and Fridays

The city is beginning to flush all water mains on Thursdays and Fridays in preparation for the new water. City Manager Harold Cheek discloses.

It will be done to clean out sediment, and as much rust as possible.

The end of the week was chosen for the flushing, to avoid conflict with Plymouth housewives weekly washing.

Unless Plymouth electors approve the charter amendments, as well as the $475,000 bond issue, in the Monday, June 13 election, there can be no street improvement program. Not only will it halt work on this program, but also future major projects, city officials pointed out this week.

At the present time the charter limits the city to the extent that lot owners can only be assessed between $50 and $100 for various public improvements. This includes streets, sanitary sewers, storm sewers, and water mains. Even though improvements are made on a lot, assessments are limited to the amount that can be assessed against vacant property. This was explained when it was shown that if there is a vacant lot on a street, as there is in most instances, all property is assessed at 25 per cent of the assessed value of just the land.

It was disclosed that sanitary sewer assessments would run approximately $185 per lot, and $150 for storm sewers. The assessment for water improvements would run about $175 per lot, and street assessments would reach $325 and up. These named improvements could not be made under the present charter provisions that limit the city from assessing between $50 and $100 per lot, officials emphasized.

Provisions of the proposed charter amendments for street assessments also provide for a more equitable basis for distributing the cost of new streets, it was reported. Corner lots can be severely assessed under present charter provisions. If voters okay the amendments dealing with this portion of the charter, however, the benefit derived by the side traffic arteries, can be assessed partly against the corner, and partly against the property within one half of a block of the improvements.

If the voters fail to approve these amendments, there can be no major improvement project in Plymouth for at least two

Bond Hearing Is Open To Public

Members of the city commission and City Manager Harold Cheek will be in attendance Thursday night at the public hearing in the high school to discuss and answer questions about the proposed charter changes and the bond issue.

All local voters are asked to attend the meeting and participate in the discussion on the questions which will be submitted to local voters next Monday at the city election. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the gymnasium.

New Homes Will Have City Water

Through efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, the Lembach-Roach Construction company is building a series of low cost homes in the Plymouth area.

Erection of the homes is being made in the section south of Ann Arbor road, and east of Sheldon road.

Needing access to a water supply before work could get underway, representatives of the company appealed to city officials. Verbal approval of their plan was granted by the city, and water from the municipal system will flow through the mains to the new homes.

Plymouth Poppy Sales Are High

Plymouth again went over the top, when its assistance was asked, leaders of the Poppy Day sales here disclosed this week.

Receipts of all posts have been tabulated and the collections are as follows: Veterans of Foreign Wars and auxiliary, $497.05; Myron H. Beals post and auxiliary, $285; Passage-Gayde post and auxiliary, $270.82.

These contributions add up to the sum of $1052.87. A portion of this total will be used for the service and rehabilitation of veterans in the Plymouth area.

The sales were reportedly above the expectations of the 53 workers.

Four Excellent Candidates Vie for School Board Position

The school board candidates are, from left: Ralph Lorenz, David Gates, James Gallimore, and Howard Carson. Electors will go to the polls in the high school Monday to select one of these men to fill the vacancy created on the board which was left by board president, Donald Sutherland, when he declined to seek reelection. A story telling qualifications of candidates can be found on Page 6 of this section.

WHAT I THINK AND HAVE A RIGHT TO SAY

if the administration's $16-to-$19 billion housing scheme goes through.

Under the bill 810,000 families would occupy new houses costing $10,000, $12,500 or $15,000 each. These homes would be constructed of high priced materials at the highest prevailing wages for building crafts in each locality.

The government would subsidize the houses for 40 years. Subsidies would be $85 million this year, $140 million next year; $195 million the year after that; $250 million the year following, and 308 million a year after that until the 40 years have passed.

The 308 million in contributions breaks down to $31.68 a month a family in subsidy rent.

Rooms per unit for all tenant-occupied urban dwellings average 3.9 rooms per unit, according to latest census bureau reports.

But federal-financed public housing projects average 4.4 rooms per unit, and there is no limit at all on the number of rooms per unit in the new bill.

The bill sets no limit on total cost of any unit but does set limits on cost per room. One is a phony limit and one an actual limit, builders emphasize.

The first limit is $1,700 per room. That is a phony limit, builders point out, because the bill permits the housing administrator to increase it $750 per room on his own discretion. This makes the actual limit $2,500 per room, double the limit under the old public housing law.

ANOTHER STEP BACKWARD AND DOWNWARD.

Some few days ago Attorney General Stephen J. Roth made a ruling that deputies to state elective officials have the power to sit at the state administrative board meetings and vote as they please on various questions before the board. Mr. Roth is supposed to be a lawyer. The writer is just an ordinary, everyday so-called "layman" when it comes to matters of law.

But we do not hesitate to declare that the head of Michigan's legal department is dead wrong in his ruling—and that what he has done is a long step backwards. His opinion is a bad thing for the state of Michigan.

The original administrative board act was passed for the purpose of placing the administrative policies of this state directly under the control of the ELECTED state officials. These are the officials DIRECTLY responsible to the people of the state. What they do and how they vote is THEIR responsibility, not the responsibility of some minor official who is appointed to office instead of being elected to office. What the Attorney General has done is in trend with the policy of New Dealers to take away responsibility of elective officials and give it to non-elective officials.

How easy it will be now for any member of the board to say to some protesting Michigan citizen, "Why, I didn't know anything about that. One of my deputies was on the board that day and HE voted—not ME. OH! NO! NOT ME."

It's an easy way to pass the buck to some one who cannot be reached by the direct vote of the people. The ruling again weakens the administrative board, long regarded as one of the most businesslike and beneficial agencies ever created by any state government within these United States.

We often wonder when the people of Michigan will wake up and really take a good look at their state government. If they do not do so, the day of settlement is not too far away, and what a day that will be!

Student Group Outlines Plans

Four Candidates to Seek School Board Post in Moday Election

Four leading Plymouth men are pitted against each other in the contest for the one seat vacated on the board of education. The election will be held in the high school next Monday, June 13, from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

In the running for the expiring term of office currently held by Board President Donald Sutherland are Howard Carson, James Gallimore, David Gates and Ralph Lorenz.

Mr. Carson and his family, consisting of Mrs. Carson and their four children, came to Plymouth three years ago. Previous to that time they resided in Arlington, Virginia, where he was a commander in the Navy. During the war Mr. Carson spent eight months in the Aleutians. A graduate of the University of Toledo, Mr. Carson is employed as manager of the market analysis and research department at Kaiser-Frazer. He holds membership on the board of commerce, and was recently elected president of the newly organized Plymouth Optimist club. Three of the Carson's children attend Plymouth schools; one is a junior in high school, one is a sixth grader, and the third is completing the kindergarten year.

The second candidate, Mr. Gallimore, is a native of Shrewsbury, England, coming to Plymouth in 1923. He has already served on the board of education, as well as holding the presidency in the early 1930's. Mr. Gallimore's schooling was obtained in England and he attended the Birmingham Technical School in Birmingham, England. Civic posts he has held include the presidency of Kiwanis club, he is a past master of the Masonic Lodge, past president of the Goodfellows and Community Fund committee. Thirty-one years of his career were spent with the Ford Motor company, and in 1946 he taught machine shop at Wayne High school.

David Gates, also in the running for the school board office, is a graduate of Plymouth High school. He has also attended the University of Michigan, and won his B. S. degree in health education from Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti. Mr. Gates received his Master's degree in education, school administration, from Wayne university. For six years he has been affiliated with the Detroit school system, and coached for three years at Cooley High school. At the present time he is in elementary work. During the war Mr. Gates was in the cadet training program of the Army Air Corps. Mr. and Mrs. Gates are the parents of one child. The couple has lived in Plymouth for two years, coming from Livonia township.

Ralph Lorenz, manager of the Hotel Mayflower since 1939, is the final candidate for the post. He holds a diploma from Plymouth High school, as well as Ypsilanti Normal college. Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz are the parents of four children, two of whom attend local schools. One is enrolled in kindergarten, and the other in the third grade. Mr. Lorenz spent 37 months of his career in the Navy, spending 24 months of that time overseas. He entered the service as a lieutenant junior grade, emerging with a senior rank. Active membership in the Chamber of Commerce is held by Mr. Lorenz, a member of the board of directors.

Fourth of July Program to Include Parade, Fireworks, Entertainment

(Continued from page 1) best in various divisions. Already scheduled for the afternoon on the high school grounds are a water battle, and a softball game. The fire works display will be held on the athletic field that evening at 9 p. m.

Several Plymouth residents have made contributions to defray the costs involved in presenting a local Fourth of July program. Donations may still be made at the Plymouth Mail, Plymouth United Savings bank or the First National bank, the fire chief told. The remainder of the costs will be assumed by the Chamber of Commerce.

Next week the entire day's program will be announced.

Claude Mitchell Death Reported

Monday, June 6, funeral services for Claude Mitchell were held from the Sonderegger Funeral Home.

Mr. Mitchell, who had resided at the corner of Ford and Lilley roads, was 70 years old at the time of his death. Surviving is his wife, Maude Mitchell.

Interment was in Oakview cemetery, Royal Oak.

Parents Asked to Identify Pictures of Their Children

Pictures of several Plymouth children talking to Santa Claus, that were taken during the Chamber of Commerce sponsored program in Kellogg park last December, are available to the parents.

At that time one Junior Chamber of Commerce member took colored pictures of some of the young children, and he has offered to make prints available to the parents of those photographed. The pictures may be seen in the Plymouth Mail office.

Signed petitions expressing full confidence in the administration of Chief Sackett, and their desire that he be retained in his present position.

The names of Petition precinct captains were announced as follows: Precinct 1, Ferdinan Freund, Harold Jacobs and William Schiller; Precinct 2, Mrs. George Holstein; Precinct 3, Mrs. Clifton Tillotson; Precinct 4, James Hoefner and Mrs. Robert Dukman.

Clifton Tillotson reported for the Injunction committee that a "show cause" order had been served on the city manager, city treasurer and city commissioners, holding each of them personally responsible for reimbursement of city funds used to hire extra counsel in the Lee Sackett case. Mr. Tillotson reported that hearing has been set for June 17 at 10 a. m. Citizens were urged to attend the hearing in the Wayne County Circuit court.

The chair entertained a motion that the group register its approval of the action taken by the Injunction committee.

Accidents for Last Year Fall Below 1947; No Fatalities

Traffic accidents during 1948 took a dive from the number reported the preceding year, statistics listed in Police Chief Lee Sackett's annual report reveal. Equally as important is the fact that for the first time in four years, no fatalities were listed.

The 157 total number of accidents for 1947 was dropped to 143 during the 12 months of last year. The South Main street area continued to be hazardous for motorists. It leads the list of Plymouth's main through streets in the number of accidents, with 35. The preceding year 32 had been counted in that area. In both 1947-1948 the Penniman intersection was the scene of a large portion of the number, a breakdown in the actual location of the accidents showed. The street following South Main for the number of accidents was West Ann Arbor trail for 1948, and North Main street in 1947.

The largest single cause of accidents last year, according to the report, was reckless driving. This chalked up a total of 28, while drivers not giving the right of way caused 27. The right of way problem caused 56 accidents in 1947, while 33 resulted when the motorists did not have their vehicles under control.

The high month during 1948, as far as accidents were concerned, was January when 15 occurred. Following was August and December with 14, and October with 13. The low month was March, with eight reported. The high month for 1947 was February with 18 accidents, with the low being reached in August with seven.

Running contrary to customary beliefs about women drivers, Plymouth females proved to be far more cautious than the men. Twenty-two of the accidents involved women drivers, as compared to the 120 when men were driving. The same general proportion holds true for the preceding year when the total number of men drivers involved in accidents was 122, and the women, 35.

Less than half of the accidents occurring within Plymouth involved local drivers both last year and 1947. During both years the number of residents ticketed for accidents was 59, while those living outside the city numbered 83 last year, and 98 the preceding year.

Charter Amendments Bond Issue Vital to Street Program; on Ballot Monday

years," one official pointed out. State law stipulates that two years must elapse before an amendment can be voted on a second time.

Voters will also be asked to sanction an agreement to lease and purchase property that hinges on the municipal parking lot, and to vote on a bond issue for the purchase. Thirty thousand square feet of land are involved in the request, as well as a 4,000 square foot building. The price is $40,000. The city is asking for the bond issue approval to comply with regulations of the charter which states that a contract cannot be entered into for more than a year without sufficient funds to purchase the property according to provisions of the contract.

Polls will be open next Monday from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. Voting in Precinct No. 1 will take place at the city hall, for Precinct No. 2 in Starkweather school, Precinct No. 3 in the high school, and Precinct No. 4 in Forest Motor Sales.

Board to Discuss Millage Increase

The annual business meeting of the Hough school, Canton District No. 1, will be held on Monday, June 13, at 8 p. m.

According to William Langmaid, director of the Hough School board, the board has received a petition asking that the proposition of additional millage for general operating expenses be considered by the people of the district and voted upon.

The amount of millage to be considered as an increase is a quarter of one percent, or $2.50 per thousand of assessed valuation of the property of the district.

City-Sackett Case Resumed Today

The case in circuit court of Lee Sackett, police chief, versus the city of Plymouth will be continued today, Thursday. Local officials were summoned to appear in court last Friday. Counsel for both sides presented their cases, and further action was postponed until today.

City officials have another court appointment for June 17. Last week they received an injunction bill, an order to show cause and restraining order, requiring them to appear in circuit court and show by what authority the commission can employ special counsel. The action was started by Andrew Sambrone, William J. Eger and Clifton E. Tillotson, who list themselves as representatives of a taxpayers committee.

Local Men Aid Scout Program

Lee Rafferty and Sidney Strong of Plymouth were listed among the Scouting staff leaders who were instrumental in making the recent Sunset District Bac Pac Bivouac held at the Charles Howell Scout reservation possible.

This program, held last weekend, was listed as a kick-off for a year of district activities. Approximately 300 Boy Scouts and 59 of their unit and district leaders participated in the events, which ranged from well-ordered demonstrations of the major scouting skills, to an afternoon field hike over the countryside.

Knights of Pythias Plan Saturday Hanger Dance

If You Wish to Heat Your Home or Other Premises With GAS...

Consumers Power Company has asked the Michigan Public Service Commission for permission to connect 12,000 additional gas house-heating or other approximately equivalent space-heating customers, allocated in a fair manner to the many cities and villages in which it supplies gas service.

There may be more householders and others who would like to heat with gas than the Company will be able to supply. In that case, first consideration will naturally be given to customers who can be served from the Company's existing facilities. We have mailed to each of our customers a form on which he may make application for gas space-heating service. If you have not received an application form, drop in at the nearest Consumers office or, if this is not practical, call us on the telephone. We want every present gas customer not now using gas for space heating to have an equal chance to apply for this service. But your application therefor must be made on the form provided by the Company on or before June 14. Later applications cannot be considered.

We regret that we cannot promise that everyone who sends in an application will receive gas space-heating service. If more persons than can be supplied should apply, those who shall have the right to receive service will have to be determined by lot.

To avoid tying up your money in equipment you may not be able to use, please restrain from buying any gas space-heating equipment until and unless you receive from the Company a certificate that your application has been approved. Thereupon you may arrange for the installation of the equipment required to heat with gas.

Service will be supplied only to heating equipment approved by the American Gas Association, and every applicant for service must certify his willingness to heat with gas during the season of 1949-50.

Episcopal Church Observes Prayer Book Anniversary

The 400th anniversary of the Book of Common Prayer was celebrated at a special Communion service at St. John's Episcopal Church Sunday, June 5. The Prayer Book made its first appearance in 1549 during the reign of Edward VI of England. When the English colonists came to this country, one of the things they brought with them was this work of English letters and devotion.

Next to the Authorized Version of the Bible, the Book of Common Prayer is the greatest contribution ever made to English literature. At the special service Sunday, the contribution was celebrated as it was in the days when the book made its first appearance. Throughout the country, similar services are being held in Episcopal churches to commemorate the institution of this volume. If you have a social item or any other local news, phone 1755.

"Having trouble cooling milk these hot days?"

When I dropped in at Ed's place one hot morning, Mrs. Jones was out at the milk cooling tank, stirring.

"Having trouble cooling the milk these hot days?"

"Had our first rejection yesterday," she said.

"Ever stop to think that stirring just opens up the can to dust and more bacteria?"

"But it won't cool right otherwise," she said.

"An International cooler brings milk temperature down to 50° in less than an hour," I explained.

"Not much chance for bacteria to multiply there! So, why not get a cooler and let it pay for itself this summer? Saves the bother of stirring, too. With stored-up cold in the icebank and exclusive pneumatic agitation, the International milk cooler chills its rated capacity in less than an hour twice each day!"

"Guess that's what we need," Mrs. Jones agreed. "I'll bring Ed in some evening and you tell him about it. Sounds like just as good an investment as our McCormick milker and cream separator."

Trained New Hampshire Cook's Deviled Lamb, Rice Cake Recipes

Young Mrs. Granger Benson, of Franconia, New Hampshire, who first learned to cook in Paris under the eagle eye of an old French cook, considers cookery every bit as creative as the painting she does. The two dishes for which she is most famous—Deviled Lamb and Caramel Rice Cake—are wonderful examples of her thrift and imagination, says Helen Bishop, who gives Plymouth women the recipes in McCall's for June.

MRS. BENSON'S DEVILED BREAST OF LAMB

- 1 1/2-2 lb. breast of lamb
- 1 carrot
- 1 large onion
- 1 cup white wine
- Large pinch each of thyme, celery seed, marjoram, savory, parsley
- Salt and pepper
- Cayenne pepper
- Prepared mustard
- Bread crumbs
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon salad oil
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

If pieces of lamb are large, cut in two. Place in kettle with sliced carrots, sliced onion, white wine (Mrs. Benson uses very cheap domestic wine), thyme, celery seed, marjoram, savory, parsley, salt, pepper and enough water to barely cover. Bring to a boil, then turn down heat and cook slowly for 2 hours or until bones can be loosened easily from meat. Drain lamb and pull out all bones. Cut into serving portions. Place meat between several thicknesses of dish towel—to absorb any juice. Then flatten with a heavy weight until meat is cool. This will take a couple of hours.

Set your oven at broil. Now sprinkle each piece sparingly with a touch of cayenne pepper, spread prepared mustard on both sides of the meat, dip in bread crumbs. Beat up the egg with salad oil, dip meat in this and then dip again in bread crumbs. Melt butter or margarine, then pour a few drops over each piece of meat and broil slowly until lamb is brown and crisp on both sides.

Serve with this good sauce: Simmer 1/2 cup white wine, 1/2 cup vinegar and 3 or 4 chopped scallions until liquid is about half the amount you started with. In another saucepan melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, mix in 2 tablespoons flour and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is light brown. Add 1 tablespoon tomato paste, then pour in 1 can consommé or 1 bouillon cube dissolved in 1 cup boiling water. Now add the wine liquid you prepared first to this thickened sauce. Keep it simmering slowly until your meat is done to accent flavors. Then pour over the lamb.

CARAMEL RICE CAKE
1 1/2 cups rice
4 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
4 egg yolks
4 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2/3 cup sugar

Start your oven at 375F or moderate. Wash rice, cook 2 or 3 minutes in boiling water and drain. Mix rice with milk and vanilla extract, place in medium-sized covered baking dish and bake 45 minutes to 1 hour without stirring or until rice is almost dry. Beat egg yolks in bowl until frothy, then stir in butter or margarine and sugar. Mix thoroughly with rice, breaking up rice grains as much as possible. Now make this good caramel syrup: Melt 1/2 cup sugar in a 9 1/2 x 5 1/2 x 2 1/2 inch loaf cake pan over low heat until sugar is dissolved and turns to a golden caramel color. Tilt the pan frequently to coat bottom and sides thoroughly with syrup. Then spoon rice into the pan. Set pan in a larger pan half filled with hot water and bake in moderate oven for 30 minutes. Cool rice cake in pan, then unmold on serving dish. Serve with light cream or make up some more caramel sauce. Serves 6.

Frozen Meals Save Time Spent in Kitchen

Wishing you had more free time to spend in your yard and garden these nice warm days? One way to find it is to cut down on the amount of time spent in your kitchen.

Saving time on food preparation is one of the easiest ways to get out of your kitchen. Mary Katherine Knight, frozen foods researcher at Michigan State college, suggests the use of your home freezer to simplify meals.

Preparing cooked or baked foods for freezer storage is not difficult and your freezer can be a treasure house of ready-to-eat meals. You'll find it helpful to freeze foods that require long preparation, and need little more work to prepare in quantity than in small amounts.

Combination dishes are ideal for storage and can be served quickly from your freezer. Stews, chicken à la king, baked beans, and meat balls in tomato sauce are good for freezing. Cook the meat and vegetables until barely tender. This avoids overcooking when reheating. Do not use potatoes or rice for they do not freeze well.

Cool the foods quickly and put just enough for one meal into moisture-vapor-proof packages. Freeze immediately. Keep a record of what you have frozen and when you freeze it. Don't keep it frozen too long.

For freezing baked goods, select a reliable recipe and use the best ingredients. Double action baking powder may give you a product with greater volume.

Successful Parenthood

MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

THOSE terrific spurts of energy which some children get toward the end of the day are more apt to be signs of excessive fatigue than of boundless verve. During the day there has been too much of something—of activity or excitement or, in an older child, of anxiety.

So wound up does he become that the idea of rest is repugnant—he couldn't relax if he tried. So the tense muscles, the taut brain explode into nervous energy which can only be used up in furious play, or in a temper tantrum if play is curtailed.

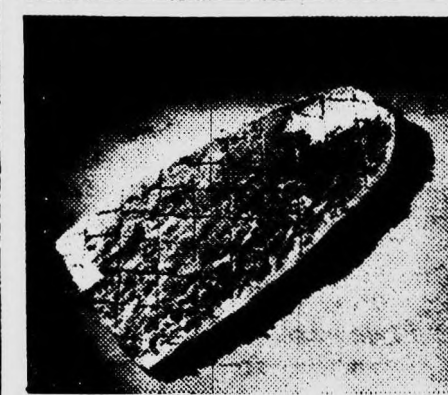

Recently, I watched a little girl put on the wildest of dervish dances at bedtime. She was a bundle of gaiety and charm, and so unconsciously funny that the adults who were visiting were enchanted. But the child was so keyed up that it was several hours after she was put to bed before her little body really relaxed.

Now it wasn't the bedtime dance in itself that caused this tension. Earlier in the day she had been allowed to stay in a swimming pool too long—she came out with white lips, and lustreless eyes.

That should have been the cue for staging the rest of the day in a quiet, restful atmosphere in which the child could have drifted off to a long night's sleep. Instead, after a short nap, she was dressed up for company, and the show was on.

It isn't possible, nor do we think it desirable, to keep a

MEAT CUT Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. It is a flank steak.

Q. Where does the cut come from, and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the flank section of beef. There is one flank steak in each hind quarter. It is an oval shaped boneless, flat steak weighing from 3 1/2 to 1 1/2 pounds. The muscles run lengthwise so the meat is "scored" to make it more tender.

Q. How should this cut be prepared?

A. The flank steak is braised. It is often cooked with a stuffing. To braise, dredge the steak with seasoned flour and brown it on both sides in a little hot lard. Add 1/2 cup of water or other liquid and cook the meat, covered, at 290° F. for 1 1/2 hours or until the meat is tender. For flank steak fillets, cut the steak into 1 1/2 inch strips, roll, fasten with skewers and braise. For stuffed flank steak, spread the meat with a stuffing, roll it, and fasten with toothpicks, metal skewers, or tie with a string. Brown the stuffed meat on all sides in a little hot lard. Add liquid, cover and cook the meat for 1 1/2 hours in a moderate oven (300° F.).

LACQUERED brass may be cleaned with sweet oil. Dust the article first, then rub with sweet oil. Rub off with a soft cloth, and polish with a clean dry cloth.

Blankets may be stored in this way if you do not have a cedar chest: clean them and wrap in heavy paper and seal with gummed paper. Your net curtains will dry much better as well as retaining their shape if you slip them on curtain poles while they're still wet.

Fragile cuff and collar sets may be washed in a glass jar to which you have added lukewarm water and mild soap suds. Shake the jar, then rinse the set carefully before drying.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Banana Cupcakes (Makes 1 1/2 dozen)

- 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
  - 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
  - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 1/2 cup shortening
  - 2 eggs
  - 1 teaspoon vanilla
  - 1 cup mashed bananas
  - 1/2 cup sour milk or buttermilk
- Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Beat shortening until creamy. Add sugar gradually and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition until fluffy. Stir in vanilla. Add flour mixture alternately with bananas and milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Turn into well-greased cup cake pans. Bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven about 25 minutes or until cakes are done.

Screw a cup hook inside the cutlery drawer on which you can place keys for opening sardine and canned meat products. In this way the key doesn't get lost.

Wear a pair of canvas gloves instead of using pot holders when removing hot pans from the oven. You'll be much more protected from burns.

For picnics which you decide upon suddenly, have on hand a large cardboard carton already packed with paper plates and napkins, cups, old silverware, can opener, kettles, pot holders and an old coffee tache for making the beverage. Salt, pepper sugar and mustard may be included.

Dime-Store Beauty Aids Pack Into Small Space

You can travel light, and look bright, if you get your vacation beauty-aids from the 5 & 10, according to Dolly Reed. Writing in McCall's for June, she makes a quick inventory of the small-sized gadgets on Plymouth dime-store counters that will give you a complete array of grooming preparations in the smallest possible space while you are traveling.

"For your bath. Look on notion counters for a folding plastic envelope—it's a godsend to the busy traveler. In it you can put your pet bath soap and washcloth with no fear of messing up your suitcase.

"Other bathing accessories you'll find in the 5 & 10 are a rubber shower cap to protect your curls in the tub or shower; a generous can of talcum with shaker top—you'll use it constantly, both after a bath and between times to keep your clothes from sticking; your deodorant in a neat and handy space-saving tube; and—also important—a light plastic holder for your toothbrush.

"For the skin you love to tan. When you pack your suitcase take two shades of powder—a small box of your usual color tone and one in a tropic tan shade for blending. The 5 & 10 also has neat lightweight plastic compacts with snap tops that are fine to do your mixing. Use the broad end of an orange stick for blending powder to match your changing summertime complexion.

"Other things to remember, all from the dime store counters: small, flat cream cake foundation—take it in two shades; all of your pet face creams in small sizes; handy 5-cent packets of cleansing tissue; a 10-cent box of

Official Proceedings of the City Commission

A special meeting of the City Commission was held in the Commission Chamber of the City Hall on Monday, May 9, 1949 at 8 p.m.

Present: Mayor Hartmann, Commissioners Goddard, Latture, Henderson and Whipple.

Absent: None.

The purpose of the meeting was to consider the issuance of bonds for street improvements and the request of the DeLuxe Motor Stages, Plymouth Coach Division, to establish local bus service.

Mr. McNamee of Durry, McNamee and Porter, Consulting Engineers, presented estimates of the cost of the various street improvements as requested by the City of Plymouth. The total estimated cost amounted to $589,670.62, including overhead items of administration, legal and engineering charges. The City Commission review the improvements and estimates and decided to submit to the people at a special election to be held on June 13, 1949, the matter of bonding the City in the amount of $475,000.00 to cover the cost of street improvements considered most essential at this time.

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Henderson and supported by Commissioner Latture:

WHEREAS, the City Commission of the City of Plymouth, Wayne County, Michigan hereby declares it to be expedient and for the benefit of the safety and welfare of said city to pave and improve various streets in said City in need thereof;

AND WHEREAS, the cost of said paving and improvements to said streets has been estimated to be ($475,000.00) DOLLARS:

IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED that the estimated period of usefulness of said proposed improvements is not less than thirty (30) years.

RESOLVED FURTHER that the City Commission deems it expedient to borrow the sum of $475,000.00, being the amount estimated to be necessary for the City to raise by loan to pave and improve the various streets in need thereof, and issue the bonds of the City therefor.

RESOLVED FURTHER that the question of borrowing the sum of $475,000.00 to pay the cost of such paving and improving of the various streets of said City be submitted to vote of the qualified electors of the City at the special municipal election to be held on Monday, June 13, 1949, between the hours of 7 a.m. and 9 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

RESOLVED FURTHER that the form in which said proposition shall appear on the ballot shall be substantially as follows:

PROPOSITION TO BOND THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH FOR NOT EXCEEDING $475,000.00 TO PAVE AND IMPROVE VARIOUS STREETS OF THE CITY.

SHALL THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH BORROW THE SUM OF NOT EXCEEDING $475,000.00 AND ISSUE THE BONDS OF THE CITY THEREFOR FOR THE PURPOSE OF PAYING THE COST OF PAVING AND IMPROVING VARIOUS STREETS OF THE CITY IN NEED THEREOF?

( ) YES
( ) NO

RESOLVED FURTHER that the City Clerk give notice of the submission of said proposition to the qualified electors of said City by including notice thereof in the special municipal election notices published and posted as required by law, in substantially the following form:

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH:

By order of the City Commission there will be submitted to vote of the qualified electors of the City of Plymouth at a special municipal election to be held on June 13, 1949, the following proposition:

SHALL THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH BORROW THE SUM OF NOT EXCEEDING $475,000.00 AND ISSUE THE BONDS OF THE CITY THEREFOR FOR THE PURPOSE OF PAYING THE COST OF PAVING AND IMPROVING VARIOUS STREETS OF THE CITY IN NEED THEREOF?

Only those electors owning property in the City assessed for taxation and the husbands or wives of such electors are entitled to vote on this proposition.

Dated _____

Ayes: Mayor Hartmann, Commissioners Goddard, Henderson, Latture and Whipple.

Nays: None.

The improvement of many streets in the City of Plymouth had to be delayed due to the fact that underground facilities, such as sewers, are not yet installed. For those streets that are considered for pavement this year, a careful study of underground facilities was considered necessary. It was moved by Commissioner Latture and supported by Commissioner Goddard that the Consulting Engineers, Drury, McNamee and Porter be authorized to make a sufficient necessary survey to determine underground requirements for water, storm and sanitary sewers, prerequisite to the current pavement program.

Ayes: Mayor Hartmann, Commissioners Goddard, Henderson, Latture and Whipple.

Nays: None.

Consideration was given to the request of the DeLuxe Motor Stages, Plymouth Coach Division, to operate local bus service as stated in their letter of April 15, 1949.

It was moved by Commissioner Goddard and supported by Commissioner Whipple that the DeLuxe Motor Stages, Plymouth Coach Division, be authorized to operate coaches approximately as outlined in this letter of April 15, 1949 along routes to be approved by the City Commission and subject to a millage charge to be incorporated into a franchise agreement and upon a trial basis of 90 days.

Ayes: Mayor Hartmann, Commissioners Goddard, Henderson, Latture and Whipple.

Nays: None.

It was moved by Commissioner Latture and supported by Commissioner Goddard that the meeting be adjourned. Time of adjournment was 11 p.m.

PROPOSED CHARTER CHANGES

1 PROPOSAL NO. 1

"Shall Section 30 of Chapter 8 of the Charter of the City of Plymouth be amended as follows:

The expense of constructing and maintaining bridges and the whole, or such parts as the Commission shall determine, of the expense of improving and working, including grading and graveling upon the streets and highways, may be paid from general City funds. However, the expense of grading, paving, widening, and reticulating or otherwise improving any street, and of purchasing or improving public parking facilities may, subject to the limitations prescribed in Section 1 of Chapter 9 of this charter be defrayed by a special assessment upon the lots and premises benefiting from such improvement, in proportion to the benefits derived or to be derived, or a part of such expense may be so paid and the remainder may be paid from the general City funds, as the Commission may decide. The lots and premises to be assessed as provided herein shall constitute a special assessment district. The term paving shall include curbing and the installation of all necessary service lines and drainage structures, the cost of which shall be assessed, according to benefits with the paving.

2 PROPOSAL NO. 2

"Shall Section 31 of Chapter 8 of the Charter of the City of Plymouth be amended to read as follows:

When expenses for any such improvement shall be assessed in a special assessment district, and there shall be lands belonging to the City, or other public property against which no assessment is to be levied in such district, such part of the expense of such improvement as in the opinion of the Commission or Board of Assessment and Review making the special assessment would be justly apportionable to such public grounds, buildings, and City property, and to any interior squares or spaces formed by the intersection of streets, were they to be assessed, shall be paid from general City funds, and the balance of such expense shall be assessed upon the taxable lots and premises included in the special assessment district in proportion to their number of feet frontage upon such improvement. When such assessment is to be made upon lots in proportion to their frontage upon the improvement, if from the shape or size of any lot an assessment thereon in proportion to the frontage would be unjust and disproportionate to the assessment upon other lots, the Commission or Board of Assessment and Review making the assessment may assess such lots for the number of feet frontage as in their opinion will be just.

3 PROPOSAL NO. 3

"Shall Section 32 of Chapter 8 of the Charter of the City of Plymouth be amended to read as follows:

No special assessment shall be made to defray the cost or any portion of the cost of ordinary maintenance or repairing of any street, lane or alley.

4 PROPOSAL NO. 4

"Shall Section 1 of Chapter 9 of the Charter of the City of Plymouth be amended to read as follows:

The cost and expense of the following improvements, including the necessary lands therefor, viz: for public buildings and offices for the use of the City officers, engine house and structures for the fire department, for lighting purposes, parks, and City prisons, shall be paid from the proper general funds of the City. When by the provisions of this charter, the cost and expenses of any local or public improvements may be defrayed in whole or in part by special assessment upon the lands abutting upon and adjacent or otherwise benefited by the improvement, such assessment shall be made as in this Chapter provided. If, at or prior to the time that the Commission meets to consider any objections to the special assessments in a particular district for a particular improvement as provided in Section 2 of this Chapter, more than fifty per cent of the number of owners of privately owned real property to be assessed for any improvement, or in the case of assessment in proportion to frontage more than fifty per cent of the number of owners of frontage to be assessed, shall object in writing or by petition to the proposed improvement, the improvement shall not be made without a four-fifths vote of the members-elect of the Commission. The restrictions provided in this Section shall not apply to assessments for sidewalk construction.

5 PROPOSAL NO. 5

"Shall Section 10 of Chapter 9 of the Charter of the City of Plymouth be amended to read as follows:

Art Classes to Continue During Summer Months

Mrs. Marion P. Rigby, the director and teacher of the Artist Guild, wishes it to be known that the Guild will maintain its classes throughout the summer vacation season.

The classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 in Room 15 of Plymouth High School.

New students may enroll at any time. If new students should miss a lesson or two, they may be able to make up for it later, since the Artist Guild is perpetual. Every student gets personal attention, whether he or she is a beginner or ready for the certificate.

At present the students are busily at work in preparation for the exhibition which will be held on the grounds of Plymouth High around the first week in July.

"Mrs. Rigby is proud of her students and of the results that they have accomplished. Never before was Plymouth so art conscious," says Herb Woolweaver of the recreation department, which is sponsoring the guild.

For further information call Mrs. Rigby at 1627-W or Herb Woolweaver at 93.

Undulant Fever Dangers Cited

People on vacations must guard against contracting undulant fever, a University of Michigan doctor warned this week in a report to Plymouth residents.

Dr. Herbert R. Morgan, associate professor of epidemiology in the University's School of Public Health, said this disease is particularly prevalent in the dairy states of the Middle West.

The illness may be acquired by using non-pasteurized milk, or eating butter and cheese made from unpasteurized milk or cream, according to the doctor, who is also assistant professor of internal medicine in the Medical school.

"People on vacations will buy milk, butter or cheese from a farmer because it is nice and fresh, instead of getting these foods from a firm that pasteurizes them," he said.

Not only may raw milk or foods be dangerous when they are fresh, the doctor pointed out, but the organism causing undulant fever can remain in an infectious stage in milk for days and several months in cheese and butter.

Undulant fever may also be acquired by direct contact with infected animals, Dr. Morgan continued. Farm workers must take precautions if they help in delivering the young of these animals, for that is when contact with the bacteria is likely to occur. Shoulder-length rubber gloves should be worn to protect against contact with the disease organism.

Three different kinds of bacteria cause undulant fever, Dr. Morgan says. One is found most frequently in cattle, another in goats and a third in hogs. Recent investigations, however, show that these different kinds of bacteria are not "class conscious" and may appear in any of the three types of animals.

The first symptoms of the disease in humans may pass for a minor illness, the doctor declared. You may return from the country feeling fine and become seriously ill months after you have forgotten about eating unpasteurized foods.

Diagnosis may be elusive, for the disease can resemble typhoid fever, influenza, rabbit fever or tuberculosis. Sometimes the disease is confused with mental illness, because the only symptoms are weakness and depression.

"Blood and skin tests will show if the disease is undulant fever," Dr. Morgan explained. "The new drugs, aureomycin and chloromycetin, have been helpful in treating the illness."

The physician reported the disease is of great economic importance because it causes abortions in cows, sheep and hogs, with loss of the young animals. Also, cows infected with the organism produce less milk.

To control the disease in man as well as in animals, it must be eradicated at its source, Dr. Morgan asserted. The infected cow, goat or pig must be killed. Some experimental work has indicated that a vaccine may be useful in immunizing young animals against this disease, the doctor concluded.

Keep Dogs Tied, Police Chief Says

Plymouth's dog quarantine ordinance officially went into effect June 1, Police Chief Lee Sackett reminded this week.

According to provisions of the ordinance, no dogs will be permitted to run at large. All must be secured by a leash, the police chief emphasized.

The city commission previously passed a resolution enforcing the quarantine at an earlier date this year, because of an outbreak of rabies. The ordinance now in effect, however, is that under which the quarantine is enforced each year.

The aircraft carrier USS Independence, which withstood both Bikini atom bomb blasts, is now in San Francisco.

Brother Calls After Three Year Silence

The three years of silence from his brother accentuated the surprise registered by Kenneth Felt last week when he received a telephone call from this same close relative.

Even more surprising was the fact that this brother, Clyde, was in Detroit. Mr. Felt explained that his brother is imbued with a traveling spirit, and has just returned from a two or three years jaunt out of state.

DO YOU COPY someone else in your work? If you do, you will meet with only the success of a copyist, although you may be copying subconsciously. Nothing pays off like originality. Don't take this to mean wild-cat schemes, crazy ideas with an attempt to be different, but worthwhile, helpful sound measures or ideas that have not been used before.

Hy Landerer, of the Brandt Theatres, New York City, tells a story of being surprised by his supervisor one day with, "Mr. Landerer, starting next week you will be permanent master of ceremonies at this theater." He says if he had been hit over the head with a bat he couldn't have been more stunned. Wild thoughts raced through his head as he visualized himself standing on a stage introducing celebrities to two thousand people in an audience.

In a panicky frame of mind, he asked himself what to do. Should he imitate his predecessor in telling jokes and passing wisecracks to his audience? Yes, that was it. That was the answer. So he went out and purchased a joke book. He studied it and then asked himself how he was going to deliver the jokes.

Honesty forced him to admit that telling jokes was not a natural talent with him; that truly good performers knew how to fit their jokes to the occasion; that a joke had to be spontaneous or it would appear mechanical, and would not be in the least funny.

So his problem was still to be solved!

Every morning he practiced on himself, and every evening after the theater had closed. He recited poetry to himself, read the Gettysburg Address, tried to master the art of speaking before a microphone. But there was still the problem of what to say before an audience.

Then one day he ran into an old friend, a master hand, that well known comedian, Milton Berle, who said, "Hy, there are not two people who can tell a joke the same way and get the same result. Just remember that in your position, your patrons are coming to see the artists you introduce. So go on the stage, tell some interesting fact about the performer, announce his name clearly, and get off. Never attempt to imitate anybody; be yourself."

"That evening," says Hy, "I did just that, and I have met with success far greater than I had anticipated. Throughout the years I have carried that advice with me, and it has stood me in good stead always."

Yes, be natural; be yourself; don't copy.

Society Undertakes House Plan for Handicapped Homemaker

Plymouth's Easter Seal agency field worker, Mrs. Herma Taylor, R.N., attended the nationwide staff meeting of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults in Chicago the week of May 22.

Ninety-four executive directors and staff workers were registered, representing 37 states, including seven from Michigan.

Subjects under discussion were common problems and policies, community organization, legislation, research, and means of educating professional and other groups.

The national society and its more than 2,000 state and local units have embarked upon a program designed to find out what houses for handicapped homemakers should be like, and how to obtain them. In other words, Mrs. Taylor explained, design floor plans for a house that would fulfill the requirements of a wheel chair individual. No one knows just how many severely handicapped homemakers there are in this country, she added, but even conservative estimates place the figure in the hundreds of thousands. Their problem is more complex than the average handicapped person's, Mrs. Taylor stated, because they must work, as well as live, in their homes. This program will be known as "Wheel Chair House."

Mrs. Taylor said that all people can help by sending their suggestions to the Wayne Out-County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, c/o Wayne County Health Department, Eloise, Michigan.

The first professor of agriculture in the U. S. was Samuel L. Mitchell of Columbia college, in 1792.

The new schedule of meetings in the Veterans Community Center will begin during July.

Can Plant Glads Until July First

Gladioli may be planted any time until after July first, reports C. E. Wildon of the Michigan State college department of horticulture.

For full enjoyment of the blooms, Wildon believes that succession planting should be made at intervals of one to two weeks.

Many Plymouth gardeners have had poor results from gladioli due to the infestation by thrips. However, with the new insecticides available, the home gardener need not hesitate to plant gladioli.

Before planting, Wildon advises dusting the bulbs well with five percent DDT. After the plants reach a height of one foot, dust once a week with the five percent DDT dust until color shows in the buds. Dusting is best done in the evening.

Operetta Heads School Program

Approximately 300 parents of St. Michael's parish, Rosedale Gardens, attended a grand entertainment featured by their own children on May 22. The special guests of honor were Reverend John E. Contway and his mother, Mrs. Simon Contway, and Reverend Albert S. Zinger.

An operetta, "White Gypsy" was presented by the sixth, seventh and eighth grade students under the direction of Sister Mary Nepomucene.

The following made up the cast: Kom, a prince of royal blood, Thomas Gavagan; Jola, Kom's slippery fingered mother, Patricia Lavelly; Romany Rose, Kom's grandmother, Patricia Kallenback; Gypsy Chief, David Elliott; Gunn, Patricia Cowles; Zingun, Terrance Lavigne; Mikko, Robert O'Neill, the King, James Whalen; Kmk, the base usurper of the Throne, Donald Portwood. The other member of the upper grades played the roles as gypsies, gypsos, spies and spook cats.

The program included other members: the Valediction by William Sullivan; "The Trials of a Boy," Grade three; "Future Parishioners, Grade two; a ballet dance, Grade six; "Calling Up Heaven," Grade one; a minstrel show, Grade five; and "Greetings to Spring" by the graduates, closed the festal evening.

Garden Tools Require Care

With Plymouth's gardening in full swing, Michigan State college extension specialists advise care in the use of garden tools.

Accidents frequently happen from the improper use of these common implements.

Replace split or broken handles, they point out. Carry cutting tools with the blade or points facing down. Pruning is much easier when you use the notch provided in the blade for cutting woody stems.

A word of caution is given concerning other tools. When you set aside the rake, hoe, spade or fork, leave them with tines and blades downward.

BABSON Sounds Danger Signal

During the twenty-eight years that I have been writing this weekly column, I have seldom predicted that my five million readers that they write their Congressman, I am doing so now, because of the indifference which I found as to Government finances on my recent trip about the country.

Deficit Financing
The first time in many years the Government has had the "parting of the ways" in connection with balancing the budget. Of course, during the war it was impossible to balance the budget and no one asked that it be done; but today the situation is very different. The country is now at peace; business is fairly good; and employment continues to be high. On the other hand, due to the demands from abroad and the possibility of smaller income tax receipts, one of two things is necessary. Either taxes must be increased, or Government expenses must be correspondingly reduced. The Hoover Commission recommends an annual reduction of three billion.

I believe that President Truman is an honest man, but I fear some of his advisors are either misleading him or else are ignorant of economic truths. He wants a balanced budget, but he seems unwilling to balance the budget in the obvious and sensible way—namely by reducing Government expenses. This would be the natural way for any business to balance its budget; in fact this policy of economy would have saved Mr. Truman from undeserved financial trouble, which, through no fault of his, came upon his former haterdashery store which I visited a few weeks ago when in Kansas City.

The Present Danger
The present danger is that Congress, to satisfy those who are opposed to increased taxes and also those who want to hold jobs for their friends, may cause the country to fall into the terrible and dangerous habit of deficit financing—that is, to run the Government at a loss and borrow money to make up the difference. Such a borrowing policy is like a Prohibitionist starting in to drink, or like a bank clerk starting to gamble, or like any family living beyond its means. Once the habit starts, it is very difficult to stop, and always ends in disaster. I was recently talking with Mr. Eugene W. Stetson, one of the best informed bankers in New York, regarding the general business outlook. He stated that commodity prices could stabilize and employment hold up "if the business interests of the country could have faith in the Democratic Congress now in session in Washington." In other words, the recent decline in commodities and the accompanying increase in unemployment, is largely due to a fear amongst thoughtful people that proper efforts will not be made to reduce government spending and prevent further debt.

Write Your Congressmen
Therefore, if you readers of this column are interested in getting a fair price for your product and holding jobs for yourself and family, I earnestly urge that you write your Congressmen as follows: "Please vote to reduce Government expenses so that it will be unnecessary for Uncle Sam either to increase taxes or to go into further debt." If your Congressmen will take your advice on this matter, the decline in business at this time might be checked. But otherwise, a constant decline in prices, wages, and employment may be expected. It would be the old story of trying to burn a candle at both ends.

Let's be frank. You know your Congressman. Would you employ him to run your own business? Yet, you have elected him to run the greatest business in the world; and I say this very seriously. On the other hand, your Congressman is anxious to please a majority of his people who vote for him. The labor interests are organized to push for a deficit program. They seem to have no interest in balancing the budget, but merely to make trouble. Hence, the hope of the situation lies with independent voters such as the farmers, small businessmen and unorganized workers. Perhaps, you will suggest to your Congressman that much of this desired economy could be brought about without firing anyone,—but by merely not replacing those government employees who resign or die.

This Week's Public Issue

(Editor's Note: Here are some of the pertinent facts on a public issue as prepared by the University of Michigan Department of Political Science. This material is designed to present both sides of the question to help you in your thinking on current issues. Your club or discussion group may also find this information helpful.)

SHOULD MICHIGAN CITIES HAVE THE CITY MANAGER FORM OF GOVERNMENT?

Background
In the city manager system councils are usually elected by a non-partisan ballot. The council then chooses a city manager who is a professional executive. He hires all other municipal employees. The heads of departments are subject to removal by the manager at any time, but the rank-and-file employees are usually on a "civil service" basis, with job security during good behavior. The city manager himself may be dismissed by the council at any time. The council usually chooses a mayor to represent the city on public occasions, but the real power is in the hands of the council—which determines the general lines of policy—and the city manager—who carries out the policy laid down by the council.

The city manager type of government, first introduced in the country in 1912, is growing in popularity, especially among the larger cities. Twenty-one per cent of American cities over 5,000 population have city managers, and more than 200 have adopted the system since 1945. Seventy-two of Michigan's 180 cities have city managers. On the other hand, 36 cities in the nation have tried and abandoned this form of city government. Cleveland, Ohio, and Albion, Michigan, are among the 36.

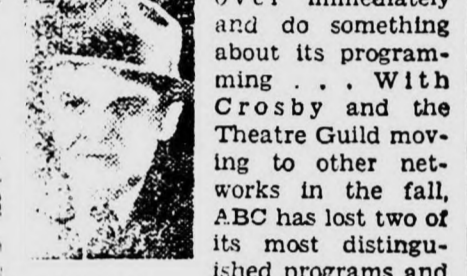

Some of the main arguments on this issue are:
Yes
1. A city is primarily an organization concerned with administrative operations such as police and fire protection and the construction and maintenance of public works. The management of its affairs should be the duty of a trained administrator, not a politician. In most cities people elected to serve as mayors or councilmen cannot afford to give full time to their official duties. There should be one full-time administrator to deal with the problems of the city as a whole and to coordinate the work of the various departments of its government.

No
1. The city manager system is undemocratic. It concentrates professional standards and a national organization which keeps them informed of the latest and most efficient ways of handling municipal problems. If a good idea is developed by a city manager in California, the city manager in Michigan will soon learn of it and his city may benefit accordingly.

2. The fact that the council may dismiss the city manager at any time forces him to keep reasonably well in line with public opinion and not defy it. A city manager who tries to become a dictator or a politician can be discharged at once.

TUMORS are recurrent that a movie studio is interested in purchasing ABC... Why they would want a dead issue on their hands is a moot question, but someone should take the network over immediately and do something about its programming... With Crosby and the Theatre Guild moving to other networks in the fall, ABC has lost two of its most distinguished programs and the only two left that manage to draw fair Hooperatings are Walter Winchell and "Stop the Music"...

FLATTER CHATTER
MERCURY: An attractive combination that is pleasing to the ear is "Mercury" by Lawrence Welk in his latest release... It's "Merry-Go-Round Waltz" coupled with the "Bar Room Polka"... Frankie Laine comes back after several not-too-enthusiastic wavings with a natural for him, "Alabama On My Mind"... He does a creditable job with the flip, too, "You're Just the Kind"... Jan Wagner's latest is the popular "Nota" with a honey, "Cumbanchero"... And Ted Weems, who has been making out good stuff lately, has two good numbers on one platter in his "Canadian Capers" and "Stampanini"... Patti Page's latest is a winner... The popular and sexy "Cabaret" is given a smooth touch by Patti... That oldie, "Whispering" is on the reverse.

COLUMBIA: Two records make a grade for Columbia this week...
The Harry James "Hatsville, U.S.A." coupled with "Summer Moon" and the other is Tommy Tucker's rendition of the cute "Scalawag" with "That Old Sweetheart of Mine" on the flip.

CAPITOL: No reason why a gal can't do justice to "Riders in the Sky" and Peggy Lee sets about showing how well the feminine gender can manage this unusual song... Her reverse is a tender ballad and a nice change of pace—"Please Love Me Tonight."

City Assists State Governing Study

An invitation to join the Michigan committee on organization of federal government has been accepted by Chamber of Commerce President Charles Lindstrom, on behalf of the city as a whole.

This organization has been described as part of a nation-wide movement to encourage the interest of the citizenry in better government, and is tied in with the work of the Hoover Commission on the organization of the executive branch of the government.

Commenting on the need of such organization, Professor James K. Pollock of the University of Michigan, and a member of the Hoover Commission, recently told the Economic club

Now that the work of the Hoover Commission is concluded, the commission is disbanded. "It is now necessary that other effectuating agencies carry on the work. No matter how praiseworthy may be the recommendations of the commission, they will have no meaning until they are worked into our government structure, regardless of all selfish opposition," one official stated.

If plans which have the unlimited backing of the Michigan Outdoor Writer's Association are carried out, every public school pupil in Michigan will be given a one year's course in conservation subjects during the sixth grade year.

This matter, which has been thoroughly discussed by Director Peter J. Hoffmaster of the conservation department and Superintendent of Public Instruction Lee Thurston, was one of the main questions discussed at the recent meeting of the Michigan writers held at Higgins lake.

Newly elected President Don Gillies of the Detroit Times, expressed himself most emphatically on the subject. He declared that the proper enlightenment of Michigan school children on the highly important question of conservation of our natural resources was just as important, if not more so, than any other subject taught in the class rooms of our schools.

The sixth grade period was pointed out as about the right one when children become most interested in subjects of this nature. Supt. Russell Martin of the Higgins Lake Training school, also a strong supporter of the plan, urged that the course be such a broad one that every boy and girl attending school in this great state could enjoy a period of conservation "field work" as well as devoting much of their time to class room work.

A committee was appointed to prepare a comprehensive report for the fall meeting of the association, outlining ways in which the association could best promote such a worthy program.

If Bert McKinney and Matt Powell have any idea that they are going to hunt moose up in Ontario this fall, they had better change their plans. Michigan Conservation writers were advised at their meeting at Higgins lake by Deputy Minister McDougal of the Ontario Division of Lands and Forests that he is sure the moose hunting season will be closed this fall. While the order has not yet been issued, it has generally been agreed upon that the depletion of the moose herd of the province has been so great that some steps are to be taken immediately to save what moose are left.

Clifford Ketcham of the publications division of the Michigan Conservation department and the writer of this column spent one day following the Higgins lake conference trying to catch some of the "coasters" which invade the north shore of Lake Superior every year early in the spring. Unfortunately these fighting brook trout of the great inland lake had made their brief visit to the shore line and departed for the unknown, not to return again until next spring sometime during the month of May. The visit of these fish to the shoreline of the northern side of Lake Superior is generally a brief one, lasting from a week to ten days. Incidentally Mr. Ketcham was elected the new secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Outdoor Writer's Association. He is an old Battle Creek Enquirer back in the days when it was fighting its way up to a commanding position in the newspaper field in that city.

Wisconsin is boasting this year that it has stepped ahead of Michigan and all other states in the Union in tree planting during the year of 1948. Michigan was second in the production of trees for planting purposes.

The writer of this column has long advocated the planting of walnut, hickory, beech nut, butternut, oaks and hard maples along the thoroughfares of this state, as well as on all public grounds.

The hundreds of thousands of green covered lands of northern Michigan attest to the success of the pine tree planting program instituted in this state on a gigantic scale when the present conservation department was first organized.

But Michigan has never given much attention to the planting of native nut and shade trees along highways, in public parks or elsewhere.

The fact that we have dropped to second place in pine tree planting is no criticism of the Michigan Conservation department. This state was "first" for years and years—and its results are now visible to any one who travels the highways of the northern part of the state.

It's time we gave a little attention to the planting of the other native trees mentioned above, which are fast disappearing from all parts of Michigan.

The report which shows Wisconsin in the lead in tree planting, was recently released by the U. S. Forest Service. Wisconsin state nurseries distributed 12,905,000 trees for planting. Michigan 7,782,000, North Dakota 565,000, Missouri 1,729,000, Minnesota 2,647,000, Illinois 4,106,000, and Indiana 3,146,000.

The same report points out that Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota continue to have much greater demands for forest planting than the nurseries of these states can produce.

Successful Parenthood

MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

WITH SUMMER COMING, try to plan a family project that the children will remember all their lives. Haven't you happy memories of special summers when the family did something exciting together? It doesn't have to be play—a new form of work or a new skill acquired can be just as memorable. One vacation stands out in my mind as the summer in which I learned to cook. I was 14 at the time and, to make the project my own, Mother turned over to me all the meal planning and buying of food. I spent hours budgeting the food money, which was such a fascinating occupation to a young person who had never handled more than a dollar at a time, that learning to cook the food I bought didn't seem drudgery, though it was a far less congenial task.

Of course, nowadays many children go to camp, but there are still a few weeks in which the family can get together on a summer project—building an outdoor oven or a tree house, going on a short camping trip in the car, entertaining grandparents or distant cousins.

Another summer I remember was one in which my mother invited the daughters of three of her old school friends to what we grandly called a "house party" to make it seem grownup. These girls lived in scattered cities and we might never have met, but these few weeks together made us lifelong friends, just as our mothers had been. Summertime is the best of all seasons for starting outdoor hobbies.

Many of us remember our victory gardens not so much for the toilsomely-acquired vegetables, but for the neighborhood visiting and the friendly competition over whose tomatoes were biggest and whose corn the tallest.

Don't judge a child's interest in gardening by his willingness to hoe your beans. You'll never know what youngsters can do with growing things until you give each child a little ground of his own and let him plant what he wants to, within reason (no banana trees!). But if the children don't take to gardening, they may work like beavers at making a fish pond or a bird bath.

The long vacation is the time, too, for developing a child's talents—at least giving him a chance to try them out. If he is musical, lessons stepped up to two a week will enable him to get a sense of real progress.

Or, to return to personal examples (since we are able to judge the worth of childhood experiments in adult life), there was one summer when Mother arranged for me to have a story-telling hour in the park. This was a branch of the library service and volunteers were welcome. Though story-telling didn't become my profession, this experience had much to do with shaping my education and later choice of work.

Yes, summer presents parents with unusual opportunities, not only for having fun with their children, but for coming closer to them and guiding their development.

Spray Produces Early Tomatoes

Tomatoes will not set fruit as long as night temperatures remain low, says Dr. S. H. Wittwer, Michigan State college horticulturist. Last year, however, some Plymouth growers were able to produce ripe fruit two to three weeks earlier through the use of a hormone spray.

Dr. Wittwer, who has done much work with plant growth regulators, relates that fruit set depends on the presence of a hormone or growth controlling chemical. The chemical is not present in the flower in sufficient amount, at temperatures below 59 degrees Fahrenheit.

Manufacturers have given the hormone, artificially produced, such trade names as Sure-Set, Tomato-Tone, and other names. When it is applied, fruit setting results even though night temperatures are below 59 degrees Fahrenheit.

The hormone spray should be applied to the flowers while they are open. On commercial plantings special two-quart pressure sprayers are used in applying the hormone. Ordinary household sprayers can be used on smaller plantings. The practice is to go through the field once every five days and spray all blossoms showing color. Care should be used to spray as little as possible on the foliage.

Fruit set will be increased only as long as night temperatures remain below 59 degrees Fahrenheit. Fruit size will be increased somewhat any time during the season. Size increases of as much as 30 percent have been measured.

Economists Say Farm Land Prices Are Over Price Peak

After almost ten years of almost steady climbing, farm land prices in the country as a whole appear to have reached the post-war peak, says Dr. Karl T. Wright, Michigan State college agricultural economist.

Land prices in this section of Michigan are down two percent from November. Values in this state still are 129 percent above the prewar average of 1935-39.

Referring to recently released government reports, Dr. Wright points out that United States land prices turned downward one percent during the last four months ending March 1. This, he said, is the first decline since the late thirties, though, for the country as a whole, they are still more than double the average in 1935-39.

During the past 12 months, the prices of land purchased in Michigan have continued to rise a little. However, the two percent rise in each of the past two years is a slowing down from the 17-percent rise for the previous 12-month period and the average of about 12-percent a year in the war years.

Wright explains that it generally takes most farmers 10 to 20 years, on the average, to pay for a farm. It is a long-time proposition and unless the farmer has considerable cash, he must evaluate what is ahead in farm earnings in order to calculate whether or not he can pay for the farm.

Strong to Present Eagle Awards

A court of honor will be held for Boy Scout troop RG No. 1 on June 14 at 8 p.m. in the Rose-dale Gardens club house.

Several awards will be made to the boys. Included will be two eagle awards, the highest rank a boy can win or earn in Scouting. Eagle awards will be made to Jack Kinner and Clyde Rue. Sidney D. Strong, district commissioner, will make the presentations.

An invitation to attend has been extended to all interested persons.

Cigarette Spark Causes Gasoline Explosion Here

A spark from a lighted cigarette caused a gasoline explosion here last Thursday, June 2. The explosion occurred at the Russell Dettling garage while gas was being unloaded from the truck to the tank. Injuries sustained by the one victim consisted of face and neck burns. Only slight damages were listed.

I REMEMBER...

By THE OLD-TIMERS

From Mrs. Ella Claud of Goldonna, La.: "I remember when friends and neighbors used to have log rolling and quilting parties and they'd all get together for a big dance in the evening. Everybody had a good time. Many a kerosene lamp I have filled for such occasions."

From Mrs. Mary Stewart of Chicago: "I remember when men's shirts were always made to order, three for $7, with extra, detachable sets of collars and cuffs. The salesman would call with his samples and mother would select something with a red dot, purple sprig or green stripe. Dad was carefully measured and the specifications drawn up like a blueprint. In a few weeks the shirts were delivered. When they were too worn for further use as a shirt, mother made aprons or petticoats out of the tails for the children of the family."

From "D. B." to Mrs. Mary Stewart: "I, too, remember when women saved their hair combs in a china jar called a 'hair receiver' to make switches, or extra braids, or watch chains for the men folks. I remember when our minister's daughter had her knee-length hair cut on a dare; the barber, Mr. Conover, gave her $2 for her hair and hung it in his window. After that, first one and then another girl lost her hair under his shears and short hair soon became 'respectable.'"

From Mrs. Anna George of Bradford, Pa.: "I remember the good old kerosene lamp days when my four brothers and I used to sit around the table with my father and mother in the winter evenings and rib goose feathers for feather ticks." ### Odds and Ends

Merit is never so conspicuous as when coupled with an obscure origin, just as the moon never appears so lustrous as when it emerges from a cloud. —Bovee

Life is continually weighing us in very sensitive scales, and telling every one of us precisely what his real weight is to the last grain of dust. —James Russell Lowell

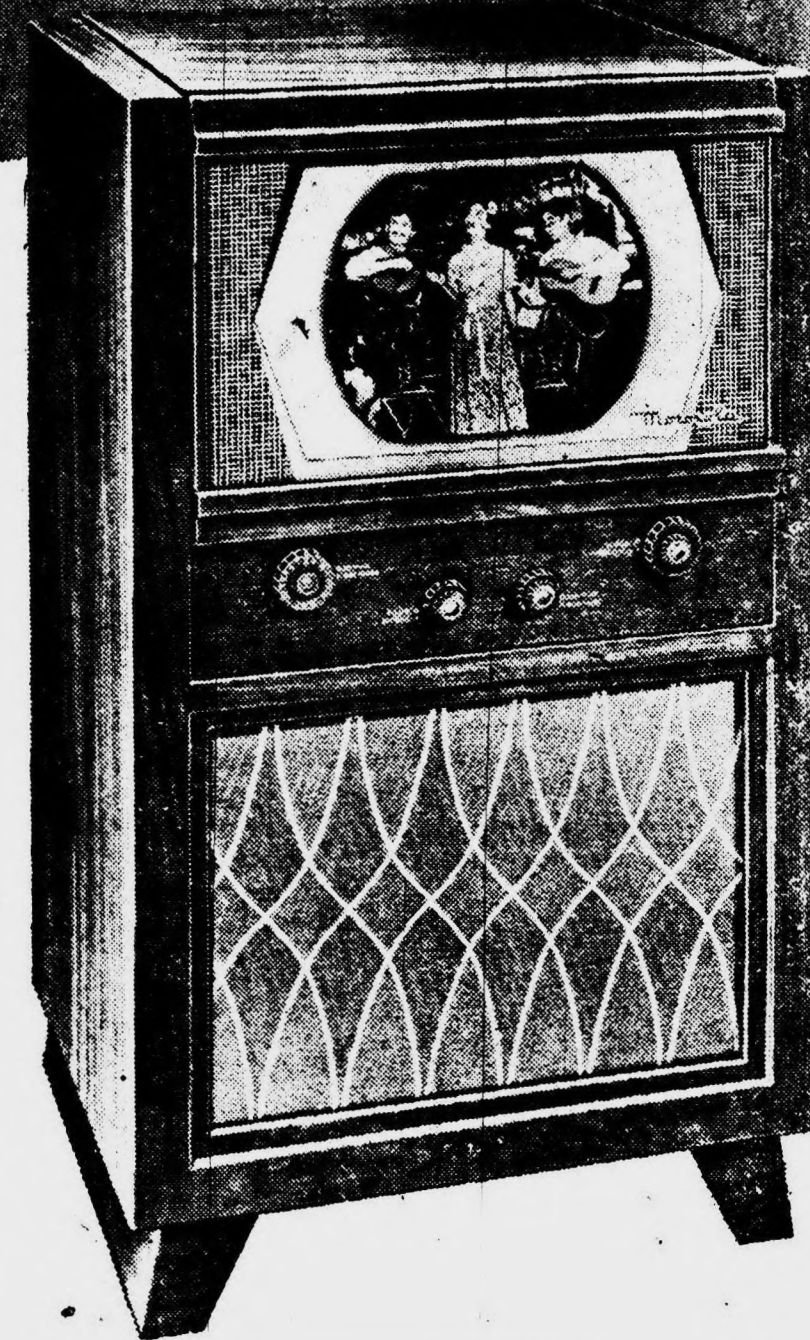

Human merit or demerit will find its proper level. Divinity alone solves the problem of humanity, and that in God's own time. "By their fruits ye shall know them." —Mary Baker Eddy
