

City Commissioners Make Signed Statement Regarding The Removal of Police Chief

In view of the lack of knowledge, the misunderstandings and even misstatements concerning action undertaken to remove the chief of police, we feel it is time for a statement to clarify the issue.

During the past two or more years the commissioners have been faced with many complaints by citizens concerning the inadequacy of the police department to cope with problems. These complaints have been considered very seriously. More than a year ago the manager drew the attention of the commission to this condition and to the lack of cooperation by, and qualifications of, Chief Sackett. At that time, however, he declined to take action, advised the commission so and received their acquiescence. Since that time differences of opinion have grown and the manager finally advised the whole commission of his intention to remove Chief Sackett, and then asked for comments. The result was acquiescence or agreement by four and objection by only one commissioner. This was not done by formal vote or action as it was not deemed advisable or required by the charter. The manager then advised all five commissioners that he would request the chief's resignation privately so that a graceful retirement could be made without embarrassment to the chief.

Since it is stated in the city charter that city officials (other than those elected, or appointed by the mayor) are responsible to the city manager, and through him to the city commission, the manager has only properly assumed his authority and even duty in undertaking to remove the chief. On May 17 this resignation was requested by May 20, to take effect within 60 to 90 days. The answer to this was a refusal; followed by a restraining order from the Wayne County Circuit Court forbidding action until the court could rule on the chief's claim that he was not responsible to the manager.

The city immediately entered a motion to dismiss the restraining order and on June 9 the court granted the city a clear and unqualified dismissal. This decision said in effect that the manager's action was correct according to the charter; that the chief of police was responsible to the manager. It is also very clear in our charter that the manager is responsible to the commission. In turn the commission may override the manager and force him to take, or refrain from taking action when it so desires.

On June 10, the day after the court's decision, the chief was notified in writing of his immediate dismissal and gave up his badge.

The following day, June 11, the chief was apparently advised by others to return to duty and did so without authority from the city. This action, without due authority, placed your city in a very serious position. Had it been necessary for Mr. Sackett to make an arrest the city would have become liable for false arrest. (The city is now defending the police department against a previous false arrest charge.) When Mr. Sackett could not be found early that afternoon this state of affairs was pointed out to his friends and he apparently withdrew.

Late in the evening of the same day the manager was served with court papers advising that Mr. Sackett was appealing to the State Supreme Court and that no action should be taken by the city or its manager. Action already had been taken the previous day as pointed out above. A few minutes later Mr. Sackett appeared and demanded to be reinstated and have his badge returned immediately by the manager. This was refused until the city's counsel could be consulted. Counsel advised the manager on Monday morning, June 13, to reinstate the Chief without comment and await the court's decision. This was done that day.

Now what is behind it all? It is purely and simply an attempt by the city manager to secure a better qualified and more competent chief of police for the City of Plymouth. There are no grudges. There is and never has been a claim of misconduct in office. There was and is no necessity for a public hearing by anyone. There was and is no need for an airing of charges and counter charges to stir feeling up still further. There was and is no need to risk the honorable retirement pay due the chief, by discharge through a public hearing which might jeopardize that pay. The chief of police has been eligible for full retirement benefits for over two years.

The main point is that our charter says department heads are responsible to the manager. The manager is responsible to the commission. The commission is responsible to the electors. The commission's job is to establish policy which is to be administered by the manager. This, as we see it, is exactly what has been done. This is a good, democratic American system which has proven to be sound and which goes a long way toward removing POLITICS from the business functions of government. ANY OTHER ACTION THAN THAT TAKEN BY THE MANAGER WOULD HAVE BEEN PASSING THE BUCK TO THE COMMISSION.

The chief has advised the manager on several occasions over the past year or two that he was not responsible to the manager. This view of his has been proved by his actions to prevent removal. It is believed he has been encouraged in this belief by some who should know better. May we ask how good our city government would be with a manager who can be held responsible for the actions of a department head, with that department head believing he is not responsible to the manager?

Aside from the foregoing there is enough evidence of non-cooperation, laxity and incompetency by Chief Sackett to warrant his removal by means of a public hearing if proven necessary. But, until proven otherwise, we do not think it necessary to the best interests of the City of Plymouth or to Lee Sackett.

As yet no successor has been chosen, considered or suggested by the manager or the undersigned. We believe the pending issue should be settled first.

Voters Disapprove Election Issues -- Removal of Manager Demanded

Electors Give Overwhelming "No" to All Proposals On Ballot in Special Election

Plymouth electors voted down everything in sight when they went to the polls Monday in the special city election.

One of the most important issues on the ballot was the proposed city paving program. Involved was a $475,000 bond issue and five charter amendments, all of which were voted down. The program was geared by city officials to provide for the paving of one half the unpaved streets of the city.

A proposed $40,000 bond issue and agreement to lease and purchase property for the enlarging of the municipal parking lot also met heavy opposition.

The charter amendments which were necessary for the financing of the street program were overwhelmingly voted down, as were all other points on the ballot. Five amendments were listed. The first lost by a vote of 912 to 278; the second totaled 917 negative votes, against 250 affirmative; 959 "no" votes and 227 "yes" votes were cast for Proposal No. 3; No. 4 lost by 954 to 219, and most heavily defeated was Proposal No. 5 which electors voted down by 1,004 votes to 160.

The agreement proposed by the city for the leasing and purchasing of the Bronson property for the expansion of the parking lot in the downtown area was voted down by 909 electors, while only 282 approved it. The proposal for the bond issue, which was also needed for the purchase by the city, met even heavier defeat. It netted 936 "no" votes, and only 192 chose to approve it.

The final proposal on the ballot dealt with a bond issue for the street paving program. This issue drew a smaller number of favorable votes than any other proposal on the ballot. Only 153 property owners said "yes", while 975 voted it down.

One third of the registered voters in the city, 1,190 electors, turned out for the special balloting.

From 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. the regular camping program will be followed, and from 1 to 2:30 p. m. will be devoted to arts and crafts. The latter will include ceramics, photography, sketching nature study and rock finding.

Location of the Girl Scout cabin is one half mile beyond Haggerty highway, just off Plymouth road. Kiwanians recently finished work on the floor and the windows.

Mrs. Donnelly, who will direct the camp, is beginning her third year in that capacity.

Drive for Cancer Society Locally Nets Over $3,300

Plymouth and the adjacent area made a commendable showing in their reception to the American Cancer Society's plea for funds, Mrs. Austin Stecker, chairman of the fund raising campaign in this district, disclosed.

Over $3,300 was tabulated by the workers this week, an amount that falls only a few dollars short of the total received during last year's campaign.

Credit for the final showing locally, Mrs. Stecker added, goes to all those volunteers in Plymouth, the township, and Livonia township who worked on the drive, as well as those who contributed to make the drive a success.

The house to house canvass in Plymouth netted the society $993.33, $254.69 in the township.

Petitions Support Chief Lee Sackett

Petitions carrying the names of 1,296 residents were submitted to city commissioners Tuesday evening to express their "complete confidence in the administration of Police Chief Lee R. Sackett."

Kenneth Gust, chairman of the Plymouth Citizens committee, filed the petitions at a special meeting of the commission that was called to declare results of the election.

A quick survey of the names listed on the petitions was made by city officials Wednesday morning, and it was discovered that some of the signers were not registered voters. The correct number, however, was not available.

Educator Talks On Management And Labor Issues

The third in a series of labor-management discussions was led by Charles Jamison, assistant dean of the school of business administration at the University of Michigan, before members of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday noon.

Mr. Jamison limited his discussion to "Labor and Management from the Public Viewpoint."

He stated that: "All industry is conducted for the benefit of the consumer. The consumer is not satisfied unless he can get the goods and services that he needs when he needs them, at a reasonable price. Any failure of industry to meet these specifications, regardless of the reasons for the failure, is a disservice to the consumer. It does not set well with the consumer to have the supply of fuel cut off at the will of a labor union, or to have the supply diminished by the creation of artificial shortages so that the price he has to pay becomes inordinately high. It does not set well with the consumer to have his electricity cut off because of a disagreement between the public utility company and the union. It does not set well with the consumer to be told he cannot have delivery of an automobile or some other article that he needs because production has been discontinued by a strike. There may be merit in the contentions of the two persons to any labor dispute, but that does not relieve the consumer of the inconveniences or hardships resulting therefrom."

Scouts Compete At Camp-Out

The Indian Patrol of Wayne Boy Scout troop No. 4 just barely edged out the Beaver Patrol of Plymouth's P-1 during competition held during the first of the month when 500 Scouts and 75 leaders camped in the Brighton Recreation area southwest of Brighton. Sidney Strong stated in a further report on the session this week.

Most of the boys had arrived at camp Friday night. Saturday morning was spent with a short hike and demonstration of Scouting skills by men from the commissioner staff and the camping committee. After a field cooked lunch the patrols hiked back to camp, filling out report booklets with a full story of their afternoon work and observation. They were judged on these stories, and the first place award went to the Indian Patrol. Bob Bowen is the leader of the Plymouth patrol that strongly contended for the first place spot.

Held the first weekend of the month, the project turned out to be the largest the Sunset district has ever held. Fifty patrols from 25 troops and two senior units attended from every corner of the area. Plymouth had numerous representatives. Congress Shall Make No Laws Abridging the Freedom of The Press

What I Think and Have A Right to Say
By ELTON R. EATON

A GROWING DOUBT.
Way back in the years when people were first talking about civil service for state and national positions, we were enthusiastically in favor of it. We thought civil service would bring about an improvement in public service. We thought it would bring into public positions young men and women of the highest type.

In the days when both Frank Murphy and Frank Fitzgerald, former governors, were trying to load the state civil service positions with political followers, when hundreds, yes thousands of positions were created so that these people could be "blanketed in" on the jobs to which they had been appointed, we even believed then that eventually good would come out of civil service.

But in recent years there has been a growing doubt in our mind. In fact the doubt has almost become a firm conviction that civil service is anything but what we believed it would eventually prove to be.

It has brought into public service, a group of people, highly educated but anti-public—trained to answer the right questions, but possessed of absolutely no diplomacy and without the slightest knowledge of what courtesy means in dealing with the public.

As proof of these assertions, walk into most any public office which is strictly under civil service control and see what kind of treatment you get.

But way beyond these minor things, look to Washington and ask yourself how under the sun is it possible for so many un-American men and women, people who hate our form of government, office holders who seemingly would be willing to do most anything to destroy America, to get into highly responsible government offices and there remain secure under the protective wings of so-called civil service.

How do they get into these positions? Most of them through civil service of course. Some by appointment—and these rascals seek the protection of civil service as quickly as they can get it.

As we are beginning to see it—maybe it might be necessary in order to restore America to the custody and protection of loyal Americans to throw the whole mess out on their ears and begin all over again.

But what a howl there would be if serious steps were taken to clean out and clean up positions within the government under the protection of civil service.

There is probably some better way which would not be so drastic—and we believe the time has arrived to begin searching for that less drastic method of restoring all governmental positions to citizens possessed of the highest degree of American patriotism and loyalty.

IT'S OLD, OLD STUFF.

From all accounts one reads in the newspapers, it would appear that Governor Williams has just discovered that the allocation of state funds by direct vote of the people, is a bad thing financially for the state of Michigan.

The Governor doesn't want these "frozen" funds changed at all—he is demanding new taxes at a time when Michigan people are having trouble paying their present taxes.

The Governor knows, too, that millions of these "frozen fund" dollars are being passed out to hundreds of units of government throughout the state that do not need one penny of state aid. But there is nothing the state government can do about it because of the fact that the people voted it that way, after being terribly misled as to the actual facts in the case.

The "voice" of this column yelled to high heaven against the plan to "freeze state" funds. Three years ago it was pointed out with all the emphasis at our command that if the people voted for the fund diversion amendment that within two or three years Michigan would face a financial calamity.

Governor Williams pleaded with the people to vote for this diversion of state funds—and now he's out telling the good people of Michigan that if the legislature does not meet in the next few months and take more tax dollars out of the pockets of the people of this state, there is going to be a state deficit in the immediate future of more than $50,000,000. That's more than twice what it cost to operate the entire state government back some 25 years ago.

The Governor's only remedy is NEW and MORE TAXES. He blames the legislature for not passing more tax bills.

We are in accord with the legislative decision. We don't blame it for not passing new tax bills.

There's a way to solve this question without bleeding the people of this state white. The Governor could find the way if he'd stay in his office a few hours and give the subject some real thought. Our remarks in this respect apply to the former Governor as well. But it seems that there's some sort of a bug in the air up in Lansing that makes a Governor become a 24 hour gad-about almost as soon as he takes the oath of office. They regard the job as something like a plaything and not a job which requires long and tedious hours of REAL WORK.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE FREE PRESS.

We've always liked The Detroit Free Press. Maybe it is because in the days long gone by a monthly check mailed to Kalamazoo in payment for hard labor on the part of a correspondent has something to do with it. But those days are so far back in the past that they could have no bearing upon our present day adoration for the highly patriotic editorial leadership The Free Press is taking among the great newspapers of this country.

No one can read the editorial page of The Free Press these days without sensing its aroused determination to drive home to millions of thoughtless people the seriousness of the problems facing this nation—and the disgusting, flippant way these problems are being faced in Washington.

There has been many times when we have not agreed with some of the editorial positions of The Free Press, but EVERY Michigan citizen can right now in these trying times be most thankful that Detroit's oldest newspaper is out in the front trench fighting for all that is decent, all that is patriotic and all that has any part in building and protecting the ONLY country since the dawn of civilization that endures for a free people.

Her recovery was completed after removal to nearby Framingham (Mass.) Community hospital.

AND WE HAND THEM SPAIN!
ON SUNDAY, May 1, readers of the New York Times saw two pictures on the front page — one entitled "Van of Leftist May Day Parade on 8th Avenue." The other showed a parade of loyal Americans in another part of the city.

A huge standard is borne by three people in the van of the leftist parade. It reads, "No Deals with Franco-Spain." Can you imagine whence came the instructions to display this slogan? Can you understand the stupidity of these Western Nations which still refuse to grasp the significance of this determined Red attack on the present anti-Communist government of Spain? Here we are at war with the Asiatics — call it "cold war" if you like — but it is a war to the death just the same. AND WE HAND THEM SPAIN!

If the western governments can't understand, let's explain it to them. It is such a simple explanation. In December, 1946, the Red Asiatic strategists in the United Nations "slipped a fax, one" over the Democracies and incited them to boycott European Spain and thus kill most of her essential foreign trade. Their object, of course, was to destroy the present dictator government of Franco and replace it with a dictator government controlled from Moscow.

They know that, if they can accomplish this, all Western Europe must soon fall into their laps and any hope which we may have of checking the conquest of Europe will have been lost. They know that the "Spanish Government in Exile" — even if it were able to get control of Spain upon the fall of the Franco regime — could last but a short time.

Anyone who knows Spain must realize that a convulsion there could end in only one way, and that is, the way of those nations which now lie in servitude behind the Iron Curtain; and it is not stretching the imagination to prophesy that this result may mean slavery for our children as well as Spain's.

Let us face the fact that communism is fast winning the war against democracy. We've lost China. How long will southeast Asia hold out? Then we must supply 20 million Japanese or they must join the Communist coalition.

The state of Florida has seven developed parks, totalling 27,919 acres, already opened to the public.

According to a survey of the U.S. Department of Agriculture the average American smoked 115 packs of cigarettes in 1946.

Coal underlies about 8,000 square miles of Alabama and its iron ore deposits are said to be sufficient to supply its blast furnaces for 160 years. Its agricultural production is large.

In Boston, Manager Benjamin Foster of the Colonial Brush Manufacturing Co. told police that an employee whom he had discharged returned later and held up the office for $400.

YE OLD MERRY-GO-ROUND

HOW OFTEN do we hear the old saw, "Times will never again be like they were a few years back." Well, a few years back there were emperors and kings and very rich men who built great houses and owned yachts. Do we think that will never be again? That's what they thought when Rome fell; that's the way they figured in Cromwell's time in England, and in Robespierre's time in France, and in every other time which has gone through the vicissitudes of socialism and its constant companion, poverty, or through the awful economic degradation which follows paralyzing wars.

But they were wrong every time for, somehow or other, that old ant. homo sapiens, just won't stay down. His structure is destroyed but he builds it back bigger than ever. A dictator steals his crown and isn't satisfied for long being just "Mr." If he doesn't covet a crown, his wife does; and sooner or later we have an Emperor Augustus or an Emperor Napoleon, a King Somebody or a reigning duke.

It may be an unworthy ambition—but it's there just the same, and it will keep sticking its head up as long as human nature remains as it is. In fact, if it weren't for these weird ambitions we would soon return to savagery, for ambition—worthy or unworthy—is the dynamo which drives man on to larger and more grandiose achievements.

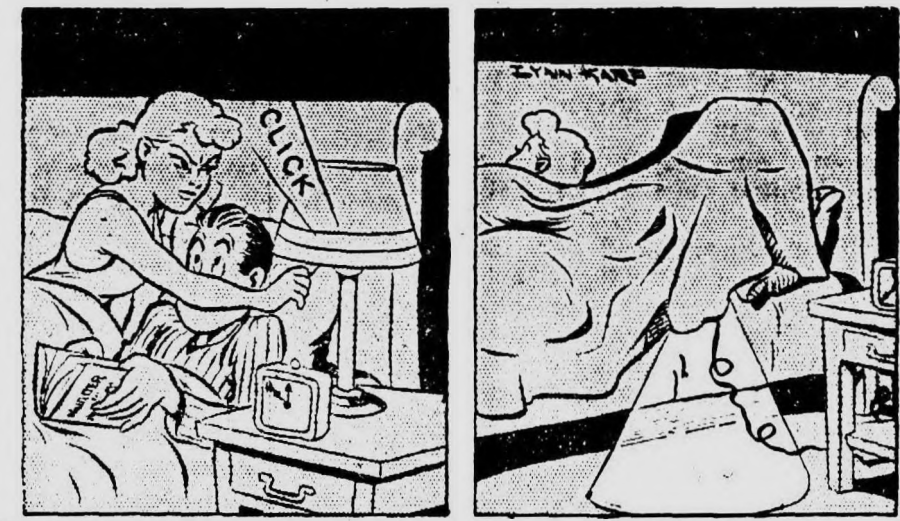

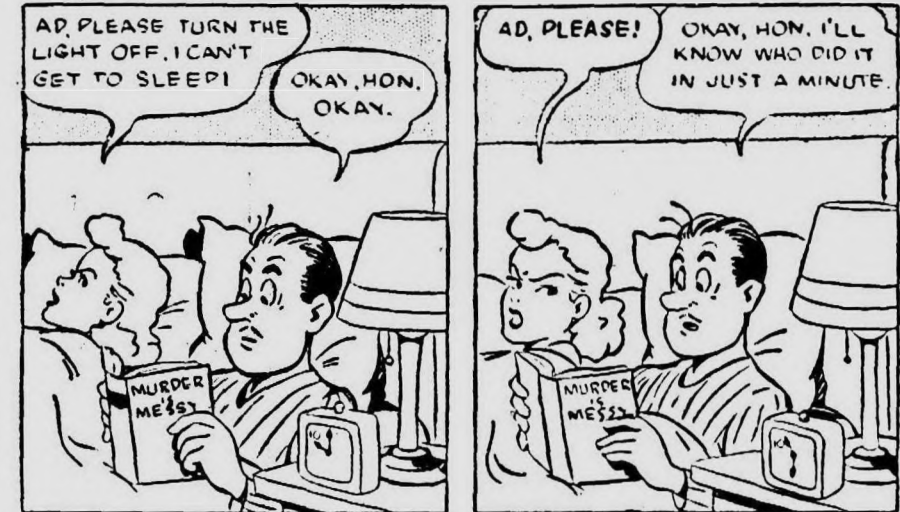

It is difficult to picture Joe Stalin or Molotov or Vishinsky with diamond-studded crowns on their unlovely heads—and we don't have to! But if the reign of these tyrants were to last until their natural deaths (and it won't) their successors would be dreaming dreams of "pomp and glory" just as certainly as that the sun will rise. And those of their associates who were "in favor" would be building palaces and yachts.

No, the regimes behind the Iron Curtain won't last very many years longer; but others will take their places and, like as not, our grandchildren will witness the televised coronation of many a sovereign where now reigns a dictator.

And so the world goes 'round and 'round. Times change, national boundaries are altered, even nations and races disappear. But human nature—the power plant of it all—moves as slowly as the mountains.

TWIN TROUBLE ON THE TURF . . . Donald (shown at the left—or is it the right?) and Ronald Brigley, twins, give turf fans double trouble as they try to tell them apart while watching a race. Riding in the same race, the two jockeys finished heads apart astride "Royal View" and "Fire Ladder" at Tampa's Sunshine park. Both were unplaced.

I REMEMBER . . .

By THE OLD-TIMERS.

From Mrs. W. F. Van Pelt of Freedom, Okla.: "I remember when we made our own straw ticks out of the clean wheat straw after the grain had been thrashed. We'd make shuck ticks after the corn had been shelled from the corn husks. These ticks were used before mattresses came out. We had our first cotton mattress when I was about 17 or 18 years old and living on a farm in western Kansas. I am now 63 years of age. My father homesteaded in Western Kansas back in 1879."

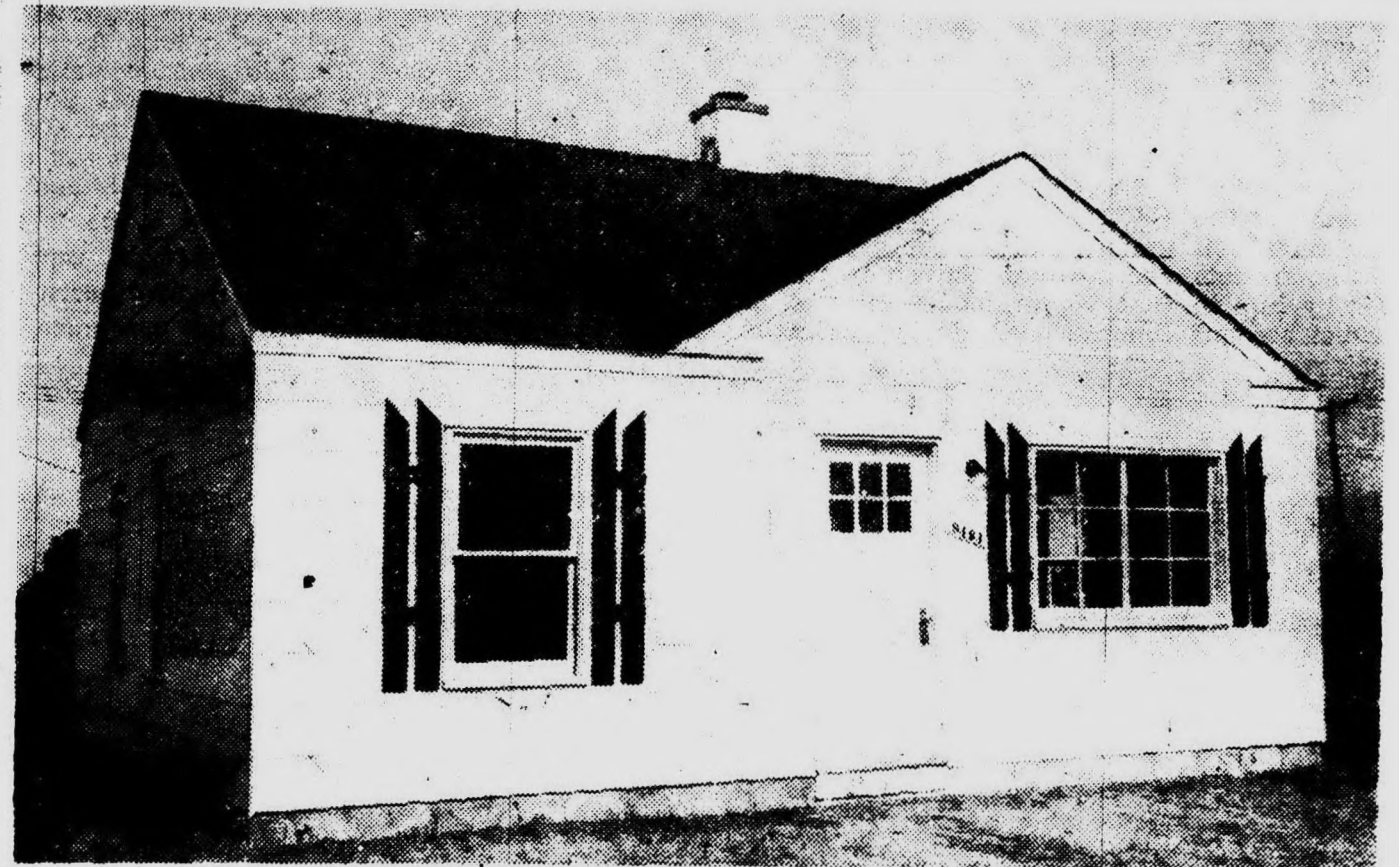

From Mrs. Floyd C. Hinkley of Skowhegan, Me.: "I remember when I worked 10 hours a day for $1 and boarded myself, walking five miles each morning and night. I carried a cold lunch, for there were no thermo outfits in those days. Women weren't afraid of work in those days. How 'times have changed!"

From Mrs. Mary Stewart of Chicago: "I remember when most homes had a yard and a strong gate to keep the children and dogs from getting away. One of the smartest achievements of the pre-school child was to learn to climb over the gate.

Sticks and stones would be gathered and piled to make a step, then the little fingers would hold on to the top of the gate. With much patience and practice in leg swinging, a foothold was established and over the gate the toddler would go. Swinging on an open gate was lots of fun for the older children. The old garden gate was a popular theme for song writers."

Posse to Search for Snake Sunday for the hunt. The posse will be led by John Bond and Bill Williams.

One of the first reports of sighting the snake came from George Bowen of Six Mile road who discovered the reptile chasing a pony on his land about two weeks ago. The snake had turned on him, and Mr. Bowen fled to the house and returned with a gun. Upon his return, however, the snake had disappeared. He described it as pale blue, 12 to 14 feet long, with an eight inch head.
Tracks of the snake have been seen in neighboring cornfields since that time. Monday morning new traces of the snake were found in the garden in front of the Robert Lewis home at 7500 Six Mile road. The tracks measured at least six inches wide.

Drive for Cancer Society Locally Nets Over $3,300

and residents of Livonia township gave $947.24. Students of Livonia schools donated $64.22, and in Plymouth the total reached $122.50. Plymouth business concerns gave the Society $493.50, clubs and organizations donated $186.80, and the total for industry reached $147.
Several contributions were mailed to headquarters in Detroit, and credit for the amount received was given to the Plymouth drive. The amount involved was $35.
Seventy nine cents of every dollar donated goes to the division headquarters in Detroit. Mrs. Stecker said, and will be used for cancer education, diagnosis, service and research. Benefits derived locally from this amount are in the form of filler for all cancer pads made for Plymouth victims of the disease, and use of the Cancer Detection Centers. The Centers are provided to check against the disease, and all persons are eligible to take advantage of the service.
Fifteen cents of each dollar goes to national headquarters for cost of administration, and six cents goes to national headquarters for nation-wide research program.

Beautiful Plymouth Garden Impresses Weekend Visitors

The garden surrounding the home of E. C. Hough on Ann Arbor trail was among those chosen for the Detroit Garden Center Pilgrimage into Plymouth last weekend.

One hundred and five persons came from cities in this area last weekend to view six Plymouth gardens. The local tour was part of the Detroit Garden Center Pilgrimage.
In a comparative report of response to the tours in other cities throughout the county, this showing was high.
Gardens visited last Saturday and Sunday were at the following residences: Charles W. Bennett, 135 North Main street; Mr. and Mrs. George M. Chute, 546 Garfield avenue; Mrs. George Cramer, 443 North Harvey street; Edward C. Hough, 1411 West Ann Arbor trail; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Vollbrecht, 1299 West Ann Arbor trail; Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple, 939 Penniman avenue.

The pressure of selfish groups as a consumer, he may be impressed by the fact that what he gains through his pressure group will offset what he loses by high prices resulting from high costs, or by the inconvenience of not being able to get the kind of goods and services he wants when he wants them. The citizens should be indoctrinated with the idea that service to all the people should be an objective of government and economic relations rather than the selfish desire to gain advantages at the expense of other people."

Many Items Needed for Epileptic Children's Camp, Leader Reports

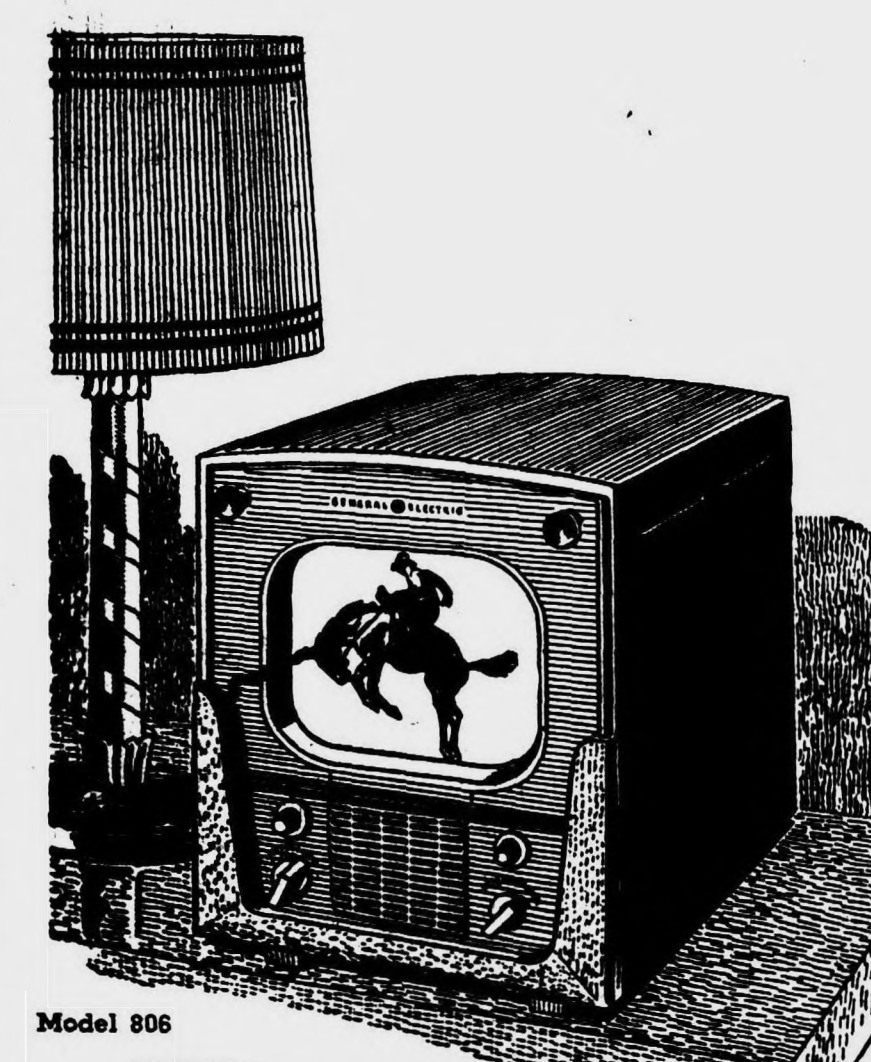

Before epileptic children can have a well rounded camping program this summer, a long list of items must be obtained by the leaders.
Limited funds, however, have forced them to ask for donations of these various needed articles. Mrs. Joseph Witwer, vice president of the Michigan Society for Epileptic Children, sponsor of the camp, stated this week.
Many things are needed for this camp, which she added is the only one of its kind in the world as far as she knows. Anything to keep the children occupied and happy will be gratefully accepted, Mrs. Witwer added. Things needed include games, puzzles, partly used crayons, card games, decks of cards, and old hats, purses, and clothing that can be used for costumes. Other items she listed as urgently needed for recreation include equipment for games, such as badminton, horseshoes, Chinese checkers, croquet, football, basketball, including ring and backboard, and checkers.
In addition to these they need card tables, chest of drawers, chairs and lawn furniture, mirrors, records and a piano.
Mrs. Witwer asks anyone with any of these items to donate to call her at phone 597-J. She will see to it that all items are picked up and delivered to the camp.
The camp is located in the midst of a 1000 acre area of conservation property in the Pinckney area on Joslyn Lake road, near Chelsea. The big white house on the property has 14 rooms. The site was purchased for the camp in 1947, and this will mark the second year epileptic children have attended camp at this location.
Last year 31 children camped there, and only three of this number had ever been in any camp before. Mrs. Witwer said that some took care of their own expenses, depending on the family's ability to pay.
Donations of money are badly needed by the organization, and anyone wishing to make one is asked to make out their checks payable to the Michigan Society for Epileptic Children, Mrs. Witwer said.
The history of this society began in 1939 when one room of the Schultz school on Six Mile road was devoted to the education of epileptic children of Detroit. After a few months time the project had outgrown one room, and it was decided to use an extra room at the White Elementary school. It was then decided to use part of this building

Canadian Scouts Slate Jamboree

For five straight days, the latter part of July, Canadian Boy Scouts will stage a jamboree at Camp Connaught near Ottawa. Several thousand will be present at this camp.

Three troops from the Boy Scouts of America have been invited to participate, with 96 boys and 12 men making up the contingent. One patrol of eight boys will be selected from each of the 12 regions, into which this country's Scouting membership is divided. The patrol from Region No. 7, including Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, will be from the Detroit Area Council. It will include one boy from the Sunset district, to which Plymouth belongs. He is Tom Zimmerman of Wayne, son of Beryl Zimmerman, a district commissioner.

According to Sidney Strong, district council leader, Plymouth should be interested in the fact that the scoutmaster of one of these three provisional jamboree troops will be J. J. Huddleston of Hollbrook avenue, a member of Sunset's camping and activities committee. His three assistant scoutmasters will come from three other states, and his troop will train in the Charles Howell Scout Reservation at Brighton for two days before going to Canada.

Mr. Strong stated that this assignment will be a combination of hard work, fine experience and deserved honor for Huddleston who has been active in local and district Scouting since he came back from Coast Guard service.

Wiedman Cards-Daisy Will Open Wayne Class D Season Tuesday

Plymouth's two Class D representatives in the Western Wayne baseball league, the Wiedman Cardinals and Daisy, start their season on Tuesday on widely separated fields.

The Cards play Inkster Harrison on the Riverside park diamond at 5:30 p.m. At the same time Daisy opposes Inkster Westwood on the Inkster park diamond. The third game Tuesday finds Romulus facing last year's champions, Harold Dietrich of Wayne on the Gordiner School diamond.

The Daisy squad doesn't play Thursday, but the Cards travel to Gordiner to meet Romulus.

All games this year are at 5:30 and all games are slated to be nine innings.

Coaching the Cardinals is Herman School, assisted by Mel Clement, Walter Dzurus and Harold Williams head Daisy. This is the fifth year for both clubs in the Western Wayne loop.

Comprising the league this summer are: Wiedman Cardinals, Daisy, Romulus, Inkster Westwood, Inkster Harrison, Papp's Market and Harold Dietrich.

Daisy Teams Play on Field Here Sunday

Although Floyd Fleming, manager of the Daisy girls squad, wasn't quite sure if his girls would play Sunday, at least one Daisy team will perform.

At 2:30 p.m. on the Daisy field the Daisy boys, coached by Walter Dzurus, will play the Plymouth Merchants. The girls might play Lansing at 5 p.m.

Fleming's girls team won their second Michigan Softball association game Sunday, whitewashing Adrian 2-0. Marge Sowa pitched four hit balls for the victory. Daisy now has won two and lost one game in league play.

Daisy is tied for first place with other Lansing or Ann Arbor. Before Sunday's play, all four teams had identical records of one and one. Because of that occurrence, the winner of the Lansing-Ann Arbor tilt is tied with Daisy.

In the third inning of the Adrian contest Marge Sowa pitched only three balls as the Adrian batters hit at the first pitch.

Over the weekend Walter Dzurus' Class D Western Wayne league team won two games by top-sided scores. Wally Dzurus' three hit chucking and Lloyd Campbell's home run featured Daisy's 20-0 victory over the Wayne All Stars Saturday on the Daisy field.

Opposing a member of its league Sunday, Inkster Harrison, Daisy's run production went down, but the Plymouth leads won easily 13-2 behind the eight hit hurling of Lefty Dave Reitzel who starred for the Plymouth High school team, winning four games.

Aiding the Daisy cause Sunday was the heavy hitting of catcher Bob Gow, first baseman Ronnie Boudin, and second baseman Bill Newstead. The first two mentioned were members of the Daisy squad last summer, while Newstead performed for the Livonia Firemen, a club that disbanded this season.

Daisy's first league game is Tuesday at the Inkster Park diamond against Inkster Westwood. Game time is 5:30 p.m.

Contractors Pace Old Timers' Loop

With two victories in two games the Contractors are leading the Old Timers' league, just as they did last summer.

The next encounter for Contractors is against Dunn Steel Tuesday at 8:20 p.m. The front runners won their second game of the season on Tuesday, June 7, as Stout hurled a three hit 4-2 game over VFW. Beglinger Olds stopped Wilson Service on Friday, June 10, to tie for third with Wilson. Although outhit six to three, Beglinger came through in the appropriate times to whip Wilson 3-1 behind Scarfoss.

Industrial Loop Halted by Rain Monday Evening

For the first time this season rain stopped a recreation men's softball game. Evans Products and South Side Merchants were in the midst of their game Monday evening when "the rains came." The spectators left the scene of action for shelter, but the two clubs continued until the rain became too much for them. Umpire McAllister called the contest with one out in the top of the fifth with Evans at the plate.

Evans was leading 2-1 at the time but the weather washed out all the records. Barney had given South Side only one hit, which was made by pitcher Nagy. Nagy had allowed two hits.

In the one game that was played Monday, Universal Power tied Dunn Steel for second place with a stunning 16-3 win over Champion Corrugated. The winners made 14 hits off the offerings of starter Caldwell and Smart. Karkick led the attack with four hits in five times at the plate. Slaght hurled the route for Universal.

Dehoco is in front in the Industrial loop with three wins against no losses. Dunn Steel and Universal are tied for second with two wins against one loss. Wall Wire is in the Middle with one win and one loss. Evans Products and Champion Corrugated are tied for fifth with records of one victory and two losses. Taking the last position is the South Side Merchants, who have yet to win a game in three starts.

Merritt Uses 40 Year Old Bait to Get Prize Pike

The biggest fish ever caught by C. V. Merritt was landed last week during an excursion in the Huron mountains. Iron river, near Lake Superior, the prize catch was snagged with a 40-year-old bait.

Accompanying Mr. Merritt on the trip, and witnesses of his story, are his son, Joe Merritt, and Vinc Forshoe.

The fish, a Great Northern pike, measured 48 inches long. Scales available registered only as high as 25 pounds, so beyond that the pounds could only be estimated. Mr. Merritt says that it took him 25 minutes to land the pike.

Mr. Merritt has used the lucky bait since he was a boy. Recently while repainting a boat with red lead, he also gave his bait a new coating.

Midgets, Little Rocks Slate Meeting Today

All managers or representatives of the Midget and Little Rock teams are asked to meet with Herb Woolweaver today, Thursday, at 5 p.m. in the recreation office, Room 204, city hall.

Woolweaver hopes that at least four teams will be represented at the meeting so that a league can be formed. The minimum number of teams is four. "If at all possible, we want to have these two leagues made up of Plymouth and Plymouth township boys only," says the recreation director.

The Little Rock league games will be played every Monday and Wednesday at 3 p.m. The Midget loop games will be played every Tuesday and Thursday at 3 p.m. Both leagues have their opening games June 27 and 28.

Bank Team Wins Three Games Over Weekend

The First National Bank baseball team marked up three victories over the weekend, including a defeat of the Class A champs of last year in the Inter-county league Sunday.

Saturday they defeated Romulus Air Base by the score of 9-2. George Molnar did a fine job pitching, allowing only four hits. Duncan Bone worked behind the plate. The highlight of the game was the home run hit by Bone.

Eddie's Lounge was defeated by the Bankers on Sunday, by a score of 10-6. Bob Hitt did the pitching, and Martin Smith filled the catcher's post.

Street, Bridge, Hartner and DeWulf were the leading hitters, collecting nine for the day. The high point of the game was reached when Jack Dobbs stepped in as a pinch hitter with a man on base, and gave out with a home run.

Last Thursday the Bankers defeated Plymouth Merchants in the Ypsilanti Twilight league by 12-1. Don Wells did the pitching and M. Smith was behind the plate.

The Bank team will play Public Utilities at Ypsilanti Wednesday, June 22, at Recreation park at 6 p.m.

On Sunday the boys will travel to Elizabeth park to meet Febo at 3 p.m.

Allen Nine Faces Clarenceville

Leading their division of the Inter-County Class B Baseball league, Allen Industries travels to the Clarenceville High school Sunday to meet the Clarenceville Indians. The game is slated for 3 p.m.

Over the weekend Allen split a Saturday-Sunday double header. Grandale walked all over Allen Saturday at Cass Benton, whitewashing the previously unbeaten Plymouth nine 13-0. Allen was able to get only one hit.

Coming back with six runs in the first of the ninth Sunday, Allen edged the North American Indians 12-11. Johnny Slesor relieved Terry Hitt and won his fifth game of the year when Allen came through with their rally in the ninth.

Rogers smashed a home run and Kelly had two triples and a double in four attempts to lead the local nine to victory.

Allen now has won seven games while dropping only one encounter.

Bats at Dehoco Continue Barrage

The tie for first place in the Men's Industrial Softball league with the Dunn Steel softballers made little concern to the power-hitters of the Dehoco softball champs.

Proving the title to last year's championship was no fluke, the bats of Dehoco continued their barrage of hits as they trounced the Steelers 14-0 at the local park on Thursday, June 9.

With Walter Harrison, star hurler, on the mound for three innings, pitching no-hit ball and gathering six strikeouts, Alber Mueller, captain, relieved Wally after the power hitters had gathered seven runs for Dehoco.

Opening the fourth inning "Cowboy" Misialowski put extra power into his inside the park homer. Not to be outdone Walter Harrison drove one to the same spot. Continuing their batting spree, the squad hammered the opposing hurlers unmercifully as singles by Namit, Anderson and Williams, coupled by hard-smashing doubles by Slough, Mueller and Johnson drove in seven more runs, before the game ended.

Playing brilliantly afield as Slough, Namit and "Bullet-Arm" Bailey starred, relief hurler, Albert Mueller, continued blanking the Steelers. One hit was allowed for Dunn Steel as the boys from Dehoco bounced 14. Final Dehoco 14 runs, 14 hits, one error. Dunn Steel-0 runs, one hit, three errors.

Joe's Jottings

by Joe Miller

With the Plymouth High school athletic program halted for another summer, we can now look over the events which will happen in the following months in the Plymouth area.

At the present time three leagues, Industrial, Girls, and Old Timers are in operation. The Industrial league is fairly matched with the exception of the Detroit House of Correction squad, which is almost as strong as last year's state champion aggregation.

Tuesday evening will see the opening of the Western Wayne Class D Hardball league. This league will be closely watched by your reporter this summer, for future major league players may be seen on the area diamonds. Last season, for instance, Bill Bidwell, blond pitching star for the Harold Dietrich club of Wayne, was picked up by the St. Louis Cardinals. He was sent to Johnson City, Tennessee, which is a member of the Appalachian league. Stan Masial, now the greatest Cardinal started his pro career in the same area. Major league ivory hunters will undoubtedly be covering the Western Wayne circuit this summer looking for some additional talent.

Starting July 1 is the boys' softball league. In his plans at the start of the spring, Herb Woolweaver, city recreation head, wasn't planning for a boys' softball league. However, the PHS boys suggested a league and Woolweaver met their demands.

The recreation program serves not only to give athletes an opportunity to display their talents, but it also gives young fellows as Bill Farwell a chance to display their umpiring ability. Bill, who will be a senior at Plymouth High in the fall, has become an excellent referee on the basketball floor. Also he does a creditable job umpiring softball games.

In addition to the leagues already mentioned there will likely be a Little Rock and Midget league.

An added member of the recreation department is now on the job. We are referring to Doug Slesor of Northville, who will work as the softball and baseball supervisor this summer. Slesor, a student at Michigan Normal, will help Woolweaver a great deal. The summer program is full of activities with the result that Woolweaver needs all the help he can get.

The Mississippi river has a channel suitable for ocean-going vessels upstream to Baton Rouge, Louisiana, a distance of 23 miles.

Daisy Features Friday Evening's Softball Slate

Featuring tomorrow night's softball menu for Plymouth sporting enthusiasts is a girls contest between Daisy, a member of the Michigan Softball Association, and the Highland Park Parkettes. The contest is scheduled to get underway at 8:20 p.m.

Preceding the main attraction is an encounter between two members of the boys' softball league, the Hoos and the Wayne County Training school. This game will commence at 7 p.m. at the Plymouth High School softball diamond.

Another prize tussle is corded for the evening of Friday, June 24, when Beglinger Olds collides with Nick's Boy on the local field at 8:20 p.m. The encounter is a playoff of a tie game the two clubs had in the Wayne softball league earlier in the season. Through the work of Herb Woolweaver, city recreation head, this game has been shifted to Plymouth in order that the local fans can see these two teams, that were formerly members of the Plymouth men's loop.

Dunn Steel will make up a postponed game with Allen Industries preceding the Nick's Olds clash. The Old Timers' encounter will begin at 7 p.m.

The first Normal School in the world was established in Vermont. The word "barbecue" is said to have been used in Virginia prior to 1700.

Graduation Stops Industrial Loop Play Until Monday June 20

Twin Pines Leads Girls Circuit

With the season only a few games old, Twin Pines is leading the girls league with two wins with no losses.

Twin Pines took first place halting the Freydl Store of Northville 8-4 on Tuesday, June 7. Street pitched the entire contest for the winners. Street also helped in the hitting department with two triples in four times at the plate. Wilkins also was hitting with consistency collecting two doubles and a single in four times.

The girls continue competition on Tuesday at Plymouth's diamond and at Dehoco. Beglinger Olds and the Old Mill are tied for last place with one loss.

Because of the graduation exercises which will be held on the football field tonight, the Industrial league will not play, but will continue competition on Monday, June 20.

Monday games will be Dehoco and Champion Corrugated at Dehoco at 6:30 p.m.; Dunn Steel and Universal Power at 7 p.m. and South Side Merchants and Wall Wire at 8:20 on the high school field.

Dehoco's 14-0 victory over Dunn Steel highlighted Thursday's games in the Industrial loop. Evans Products dropped Universal Power 9-3 behind the steady three hit pitching of Maas. The winners gathered 12 hits while downing Universal. South Side Merchants forfeited their game to Champion Corrugated as it was found that four South Side players did not have eligibility cards. Originally South Side won 3-0.

During a candlelight ceremony in the Detroit Mt. Hope Congregational church Friday evening, June 10, Janet Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Ford of West Ann Arbor trail, became the bride of Robert Tercala. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tercala of Ralph, Pennsylvania.

The newly-wed couple received 75 guests at her parent's home immediately following the ceremony.

The couple later left for a week's trip to New York City. For traveling the bride chose an orchid dress with white accessories.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white faille gown-styled along princess lines, with a bustle back. The long sleeves ended in points over her wrists. White roses centered with a white orchid made up the bridal bouquet.

The bride's brother, Robert Ford, was best man. James Goode and William Torry of Detroit fulfilled the usher's duties.

cessories, and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother appeared in a gown of royal blue, also with accessories in black and a pink rose corsage.

Herbs Become Popular, Useful Garden Crop

If you're looking for something to fill in that empty space in your garden, or if you're strictly a window box gardener, how about growing herbs?

Here's something to tickle your palate, please the eye and add fragrance to your garden, believes Winston Osborn of the Michigan State college foods and nutrition department.

The so-called fine herbs will make a good beginning. They are sweet, basil, chervil, sweet marjoram, thyme, rosemary and tarragon. Also easy to grow are chives, parsley and summer savory. Details of cultivation are obtainable from your county extension office or the United States Department of Agriculture in Washington, D.C.

Herbs for cooking are of three different kinds—pungent, herbs for accent, and herbs for blends. Here are some suggestions for using herbs with meat. With beef use sweet marjoram, dill, thyme, chervil or parsley.

For pork you may try marjoram, caraway or sage. Lamb calls for the same herbs as beef, plus garlic, and veal the same, plus basil. Poultry seasoning may be a combination of basil, lovage, marjoram, parsley, rosemary, summer savory, sage and thyme.

Dill, basil, tarragon and thyme are tasty with fish while with eggs you may try basil, marjoram, rosemary, thyme, tarragon, chervil, chives, parsley or savory.

Don't hesitate to use more than one herb for seasoning. Just be sure you have one leading flavor with several others which will complement it. If you experiment be cautious. Too little is better than too much.

Successful Parenthood
by MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
(Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine)

THE BEST ADVICE I've read lately on this much-talked-about matter of giving a child a feeling of security is to stop trying to achieve complete emotional security for your children. Actually, a 100-per-cent well-adjusted person might be rather insufferable to have around! But seriously, the best goal, according to one experienced family counselor, is enough security about one's acceptability as a person, and one's capability for doing what is expected, to enable the individual to put up with a certain amount of insecurity. If that sounds like double talk, let me illustrate.

Take that unpredictable first experience of being attracted to the opposite sex. Your 15-year-old boy (or he may be somewhat older) for whom girls have scarcely existed up to now, begins to notice one especially pretty classmate. Being the same age, she is, also, more advanced than he is socially, as girls usually are. Also, she has grown faster, again quite according to nature's rule, and is a bit taller than he is.

A boy is apt to respond to this situation in one of two ways—he either gives in to his sense of inadequacy, becomes groveling and restless and neglects his school work—or he does something to bolster his lack of assurance.

Maybe he'll ask if he may take dancing lessons, or he might even go so far as to suggest having a party at his house so he can invite several boys and girls and not give away his special interest in one of the guests. Or he may be less direct and work furiously to excel at a sport, or run for office at school in order to attract her attention.

Now, note that both boys had a sense of insecurity about making friends with a girl to whom he was attracted. You can't spare a child all guinea—and it would be fatal to his advancement if you did make him feel equal to every situation. He would lack incentive for improvement.

But the second boy had, through the years of childhood, been taught to feel that he was "superior" to his "peers" and that if he applied himself he could easily outperform a pretty good percentage of his fellow contemporaries. His natural response to a strange and beautiful situation was to meet it head on, to give something of himself in an effort to have the problem work out in his favor.

The first child, lacking faith in himself, waits around fearfully, usually day-dreaming that the prize becomes his with little effort on his part.

Since we never reach an age when we are totally secure, this armor of self-reliance can at least provide the will to keep over-coming the business of meeting problems and learning from them. If you help your child acquire that, you've done all that a good parent can be expected to do.

Red Cross Nutrition Aids

The Plymouth homemakers who follow the invariable practice of using enriched white flour and bread are smart shoppers. During the war years Federal law made enrichment of refined bread and flour compulsory, but since then the matter has been optional with the manufacturer, except in those states which have passed their own enrichment laws. Michigan is one of the states which has not passed such a law.

In the April issue of the Canadian Medical Journal appeared a detailed report of nutrition research which gives dramatic proof that the health of a population can be improved decidedly by the enrichment of commonly used food. This article, "Medical Resurvey of Nutrition in Newfoundland, 1948," cited changes found in the health of the people during a period of four years during which the government made a strong effort to make it possible for the residents to have better food, and to educate them to the importance of eating it.

Hot milk drinks were made available for the school children. There were cod liver oil and concentrated orange juice for certain people. And everyone used margarine fortified with vitamin A and flour enriched with some of the B vitamins thiamine, niacin and riboflavin, iron and calcium.

The increased alertness of the Newfoundlanders was one of the most obvious results of the improved diets. The scientists working on the study reported that in 1948 "the children" no longer waited patiently for their examinations. They clustered around the tables of the examiners unless they were shooed away. They were interested and curious as children ought to be. Also they engaged in games and play, whereas the absence of play had been remarked upon before.

The report concluded with the summary that signs and symptoms of malnutrition that could be expected to be decreased by fortification of margarine and enrichment of flour were less frequently seen in 1948 than in 1944, while some symptoms not affected by these nutrients remained unchanged or were increased.

The results of this study make it clearly evident that the use of enriched bread and flour offers an easy means of improving the diet of our families. Watch for the label showing that these products are enriched when doing your marketing.

During the warm weather when there's a tendency to serve sketchy meals, the Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross suggests the use of quick breads occasionally to boost the food value and tempt hot weather appetites. Prepare them with enriched flour to make a good food better.

By making up a "mix" which needs the addition of only liquid at baking time you can prepare these treats in a jiffy.

BISCUIT MIX

Eight cups sifted, enriched flour, 1 cup shortening, 4 teaspoons salt, 4 tablespoons double-acting baking powder, or 5 tablespoons plus 1 teaspoon other type, 1 cup shortening.

Sift flour, salt and baking powder together. Add shortening and work into flour with pastry blender, two knives or fingertips until mixture looks like coarse cornmeal. Store in tightly covered jar until ready to use.

FOR PRETTY salad decorations, dip green grapes in beaten egg white, then dip in fine granulated sugar. Let dry and they will give a lovely frosty touch to salads or fruit cups.

Dip calves' liver in French dressing, then in fine dry bread crumbs and saute in bacon drippings or broil. This is a delicious flavor treat!

Popovers make good containers for serving creamed chicken or chipped beef which has been creamed. Scoop out the insides of the popovers before using, of course!

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Blue Cheese Hamburgers (Serves 6)

1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salad dressing
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 pound blue cheese
Salt together meat, egg, salt and pepper. Form into 12 patties. Combine the cheese and mix with mustard, salad dressing and Worcestershire sauce. Place this mixture on six of the patties and cover with remaining patties. Press edges of meat together, enclosing the cheese mixture. Broil on each side 6-8 minutes or until done.

Sifted, toasted almonds add elegance to a cream of chicken soup.

Top baked apples with whipped cream or ice cream if you want to glamorize this simple and homey dessert.

Cranberry sauce is an old standby with roast pork or pork chops, but you can make the sauce more interesting if you add some washed, seedless raisins to the sauce during cooking.

Fry apple rings in butter, brown sugar and cinnamon and pair them with crusty-baked spareribs for a duet that's really flavorful.

If you want to add a bit of extra nice flavor to that steak about to be broiled mix together salt, pepper and a bit of marjoram. Rub this into the steak on both sides.

A thin slice of ham, spread with softened cream cheese, mixed with finely chopped chives, served on a paper thin slice of rye bread makes a delicious appetizer.

Summer Party Refreshments That Refresh; Three Recipes for Punch

Summer parties are punch parties, whatever the occasion. If the bowl is full of a sparkling, tangy beverage, your refreshment problem will vanish, says Bernice Burns. Writing in Redbook Magazine for June, she tells Plymouth women how to blend cool drinks for a dance, a garden fete, and a children's circus party.

PINEAPPLE CHAMPAGNE PUNCH

Do this the day before party: Remove dividers from two large refrigerator trays. Fill with 8 cups (2 large cans) pineapple juice. Freeze until hard, adding garnish of lime slices just before it is firm.

Two hours before party, combine 2 packages frozen pineapple chunks (partially thawed), 3 cups sugar, and 2 cups lemon juice (12 large lemons). Let stand, stirring to dissolve sugar. Sprinkle with sugar 3 cups fresh strawberries.

To serve: Place frozen blocks of pineapple in large glass punchbowl. Add pineapple-lem-on syrup and strawberries. Pour in 2 large (4/5 qt.) bottles Sauterne, chilled. At very last minute pour in 2 large (4/5 qt.) bottles Champagne, chilled. Yield: Approximately 5 qts. or 45 4-oz. servings.

GARDEN PARTY PUNCH

Combine 3 cups boiling water and 2 tablespoons tea. Let steep 5 minutes. Remove tea. Add 1 cup sugar. Stir until dissolved. Cool.

Combine and chill 1 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup lemon juice, and 1 cup pineapple juice. Place block of ice in punchbowl. Pour in tea and fruit juices. Decorate with orange slices and mint leaves. At last minute add 1 pint ginger ale and 1 pint soda water. Yield: Approximately 2 1/2 quarts. For a circus jamboree the lemonade is glamorized as Pink Lemon Fizz.

PINK LEMON FIZZ

Freeze in advance: Fill ice trays with water to which a few drops of green coloring has been added. Place a maraschino cherry in each square.

Place two or three cubes in tall glass. Add 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice and 3 tablespoons sugar syrup. Fill glass with soda water. Add long espartum-stick as "straw." At last minute pour 1/2 teaspoon maraschino-cherry juice on top. Do not stir, as this lends a two-toned effect. Serve with straw.

For a Quick Quencher on a hot day: Place in tall glass scoop of vanilla ice cream. Top with ginger ale, root beer or favorite carbonated beverage. Or combine equal parts of grape juice and pineapple juice, grape juice and ginger ale, pineapple juice and ginger ale. Serve over crushed ice.

Herbs Become Popular, Useful Garden Crop

If you're looking for something to fill in that empty space in your garden, or if you're strictly a window box gardener, how about growing herbs?

Here's something to tickle your palate, please the eye and add fragrance to your garden, believes Winston Osborn of the Michigan State college foods and nutrition department.

The so-called fine herbs will make a good beginning. They are sweet, basil, chervil, sweet marjoram, thyme, rosemary and tarragon. Also easy to grow are chives, parsley and summer savory. Details of cultivation are obtainable from your county extension office or the United States Department of Agriculture in Washington, D.C.

Herbs for cooking are of three different kinds—pungent, herbs for accent, and herbs for blends. Here are some suggestions for using herbs with meat. With beef use sweet marjoram, dill, thyme, chervil or parsley.

For pork you may try marjoram, caraway or sage. Lamb calls for the same herbs as beef, plus garlic, and veal the same, plus basil. Poultry seasoning may be a combination of basil, lovage, marjoram, parsley, rosemary, summer savory, sage and thyme.

Dill, basil, tarragon and thyme are tasty with fish while with eggs you may try basil, marjoram, rosemary, thyme, tarragon, chervil, chives, parsley or savory.

Don't hesitate to use more than one herb for seasoning. Just be sure you have one leading flavor with several others which will complement it. If you experiment be cautious. Too little is better than too much.

Successful Parenthood
MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

THE BEST ADVICE I've read lately on this much-talked-about matter of giving a child a feeling of security is to stop trying to achieve complete emotional security for your children. Actually, a 100-per-cent well-adjusted person might be rather insufferable to have around! But seriously, the best goal, according to one experienced family counselor, is enough security about one's acceptability as a person, and one's capability for doing what is expected, to enable the individual to put up with a certain amount of insecurity. If that sounds like double talk, let me illustrate.

Take that unpredictable first experience of being attracted to the opposite sex. Your 12-year-old boy (or he may be somewhat older) for whom girls have eagerly started up to now, begins to notice one especially pretty classmate. Being the same age, she is, also, more advanced than he is socially, as girls usually are. Also, she has grown faster, again quite according to nature's rule, and is a bit taller than he is.

A boy is apt to respond to this situation in one of two ways—he either gives in to his sense of inadequacy, becomes greenly and restless and neglects his school work—or he does something to bolster his lack of assurance.

Maybe he'll ask if he may take dancing lessons, or he might even go so far as to suggest having a party at his house so he can invite several boys and girls and not give away his special interest in one of the guests. Or he may be less direct and work furiously to excel at a sport, or run for office at school in order to attract her attention.

Now, note that both boys had a sense of insecurity about making friends with a girl to whom he was attracted. You can't spare a child all quakes—and it would be fatal to his advancement if you did make him feel equal to every situation. He would lack incentive for improvement.

But the second boy had, through the years of childhood, been taught to feel that he was important to a person and that if he applied himself he could usually accomplish a pretty good performance of his tasks. Consequently, his natural response to a strange and pleasing situation was to meet it head on, to give something of himself in an effort to have the problem work out in his favor.

The first child, lacking faith in himself, waits around fearfully, usually day-dreaming that the prize becomes his with little effort on his part.

Since we never reach an age when we feel totally secure, this armor of self-reliance can at least provide the will to keep overmastering at the business of meeting problems and learning from them. If you help your child acquire that, you've done all that a good parent can be expected to do.

ROLLED BISCUITS

Measure out 2 cups biscuit mix and stir into it about 2/3 cup milk or enough to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 6 to 8 times. Roll or pat to 1/2-inch thickness. Cut with floured cutter, or with floured knife. Bake in hot oven 450 degrees, F., for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 12 to 16 biscuits.

To make drop biscuits, increase milk to 1 cupful and drop batter by tablespoons on greased baking sheet. Bake as above.

SHORTCAKE

To 2 cups biscuit mix add 1/4 cup sugar and about 2/3 cup milk (or thin cream for a richer cake). Pat out and cut with floured cutter. Bake at 450 degrees F., for 10 to 12 minutes.

If preferred, increase liquid to 1 cupful and spread dough in thin layer in two 8-inch greased layer cake pans or one 9-inch square pan. Bake in moderately hot oven, 400 degrees F., for 25 to 40 minutes, depending on size of cakes. Serve hot with crushed sweetened berries, or sliced fresh or canned peaches.

PARSLEY OR CHIVE BISCUITS

Roll out biscuit dough prepared as suggested above to 1/4-inch thickness. Brush over with melted butter or fortified margarine and sprinkle generously with chopped parsley or chives. Roll up like jelly roll. Cut in half-inch slices. Bake in hot oven 400 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. These are delicious baked on top of meat pie.

To make Chive biscuits substitute grated cheese for the chopped parsley or chives, using from 1/2 to 1 cupful depending on taste and flavor of cheese.

To make Butterscotch Biscuits substitute brown sugar and cinnamon for parsley or chives, and add chopped nuts and raisins, if liked.

The report concluded with the summary that signs and symptoms of malnutrition that could be expected to be decreased by fortification of margarine and enrichment of flour were less frequently seen in 1948 than in 1944, while some symptoms not affected by these nutrients remained unchanged or were increased.

The results of this study make it clearly evident that the use of enriched bread and flour offers an easy means of improving the diet of our families. Watch for the label showing that these products are enriched when doing your marketing.

During the warm weather when there's a tendency to serve sketchy meals, the Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross suggests the use of quick breads occasionally to boost the food value and tempt hot weather appetites. Prepare them with enriched flour to make a good food better.

By making up a "mix" which needs the addition of only liquid at baking time you can prepare these treats in a jiffy.

BISCUIT MIX

Eight cups sifted, enriched flour, 1 cup shortening, 4 teaspoons salt, 4 tablespoons double-acting baking powder, or 5 tablespoons plus 1 teaspoon other type, 1 cup shortening.

Sift flour, salt and baking powder together. Add shortening and work into flour with pastry blender, two knives or fingertips until mixture looks like coarse cornmeal. Store in tightly covered jar until ready to use.

"EASY DOES IT"
By HELEN HALL

FOR PRETTY salad decorations, dip green grapes in beaten egg white, then dip in fine granulated sugar. Let dry and they will give a lovely frothy touch to salads or fruit cups.

Dip calves' liver in French dressing, then in fine dry bread crumbs and saute in bacon drippings or broil. This is a delicious flavor treat!

Poppers make good containers for serving creamed chicken or chipped beef—which has been creamed. Scoop out the insides of the poppers before using, of course!

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Blue Cheese Hamburgers (Serves 6)
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salad dressing
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 pound blue cheese
Mix together meat, egg, salt and pepper. Form into 12 patties. Crumble the cheese and mix with mustard, salad dressing and Worcestershire sauce. Place this mixture on six of the patties and cover with remaining patties. Press edges of meat together, enclosing the cheese mixture. Broil on each side 6-8 minutes or until done.

Silvered, toasted almonds add elegance to a cream of chicken soup.

Top baked apples with whipped cream or ice cream if you want to glamorize this simple and homey dessert.

Cranberry sauce is an old standby with roast pork or pork chops, but you can make the sauce more interesting if you add some washed, seedless raisins to the sauce during cooking.

Fry apple rings in butter, brown sugar and cinnamon and pair them with crusty-baked spareribs for a diet that's really flavorful.

If you want to add a bit of extra nice flavor to that steak about to be broiled mix together salt, pepper and a bit of marjoram. Rub this into the steak on both sides.

A thin slice of ham, spread with softened cream cheese, mixed with finely chopped chives, served on a paper thin slice of rye bread makes a delicious appetizer.

Dale Carnegie
Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

DR. SAMUEL SCHECTER, New York City, gave me an interesting slant the other day, from the doctor's point of view. He says that in the practice of medicine it is important that the doctor be a good listener, letting the patient talk about himself. Aside from informing the doctor why he has been sent for, and going into the details of his ailment, it is wise to let the patient revert back to his early days, even to his childhood, for often the crux of his trouble can be traced far back.

"Many doctors," says Dr. Schecter, "and I am one of them, believe that in some instances the actual treatment of a patient starts when the patient begins to tell his troubles to his doctor. It is not always an ache or a pain that brings him to the patient's side. It may be an economic factor, a social problem, or some emotional upset, and doctors cannot draw a definite line of demarcation between any one of these, as one usually leads to another."

"But one thing we do know, the patient very often begins to feel better immediately. Why? Because he went to someone in whom he had confidence, someone whom he liked, someone whom he trusted, and who listened to him, gave him the opportunity to get an irksome problem off his mind."

In line with what Dr. Schecter has said, another doctor told me of a recent visit to a woman who had been alarmed by symptoms described in the publicity given to cancer. She had been worrying for some time, had lost her appetite, and lost weight, but got no satisfaction when trying to get at examination appointment. The date was set far ahead.

When this doctor heard her tell her symptoms, all he had to do was to assure her that she had no cause for worry. She had been troubled for a long period of time, several years, more or less. If what she feared were true, he said, the trouble would have come to a head long ago.

Since then, she says, she has regained her appetite, picked up weight, forgotten about headaches, and has gone after the usual ailment and conquered it.

Just how high is "HIGH COMPRESSION"?

WHEN the talk turns to cars and car engines these days, that's a topic you hear much about.

So it's fairly interesting to note that, even back before the war, Buick engines like this one were touring the testing grounds with compressions as high as 10 to 1.

Even later than that this same big Buick power plant has been filling our engineers' notebooks with data on 8 to 1 compression ratios.

What has come out of this? Two or three interesting points.

First of all, that this big Buick Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight already has a compression ratio that gets as much out of present fuels as any engine on the market.

Next, that these ratios can readily be stepped up to fit higher octane gasolines as they become available.

And probably most important of all, that high compression is only one measurement of a good engine.

There's the fundamental matter of engine efficiency—power output per cubic inch of displacement, engineers call it. On that score, Buick stands where it always has—just about tops in its field!

Which means, in very simple words—better go see for yourself.

The fun you get from your car—the pleasure and satisfaction it gives you—are best measured in just one place—behind the wheel.

So we invite you to see your Buick dealer for a firsthand test of Buick. Take it in your own two hands and find out how good it feels, how full of get-up-and-go.

It won't take long to make it pretty clear that the place to get your order in is the place where you get Buick power.

Do Athletes Go To College?

"Of course," says Joe Miller, noted sports authority for the Pilgrim Prints and Plymouth Mail.

Take members of our track team for instance, Irving Stewart, star dash man, and Ted Thrasher, dependable hurdler, are entering the University of Michigan and Ohio State, respectively. Dave Heinzman, state champion high jumper, is planning to attend a small college in Wisconsin; Jim Wagenschutz, champion pole vaulter, is also planning to enter the college along the Red Cedar river, Michigan State.

Now to baseball—Jack Scheel, Phil Bosman and Larry Finney will enter Michigan Normal college this fall.

From the tennis courts, Ed Whipple, Carvel Bentley's top player, will also enroll in the University of Michigan.

Now to the green—Larry Bentley, star golfer, will also join the many that are enrolling in the University of Florida.

All of this goes to prove that Plymouth High school athletes realize that a college education is a necessity.

Seniors Present Final Assembly

As the final chance to appear before the underclassmen, the graduating seniors of 1949 presented the Senior Farewell assembly Friday, June 10, between 12:30 and 2 p.m.

A colorful procession including 200 seniors opened the assembly. Jack Scheel, retiring mayor, gave the introduction, after which the program was as follows: class will, Ted Thrasher; the class movie "Flicker Flash-backs"; Jack Gage; class history; Joanne Erb; presentation of scholarships by Cyrus E. Pierce; principal; presentation of honor awards by Melvin Blunk, senior adviser to the following seniors who had earned the coveted keys: Ted Thrasher, Beverly Balsley, Ronald Hees, Lois Packard, Sally Holcomb, Marjorie Tait, Larry Finney, James Butt, Jack Scheel, Joanne Erb, Joy Evanoff, Malinda Eads, Otto Ruehr, Marjean Penhale, Alice Reddeman, Arlene Walker, Marvin Mettetal and Richard Wylie.

Richard Wylie then gave the president's address, after which Fletcher Campbell led the seniors in the class song. The assembly ended with the recessional.

Pupils Study UN To End Course

A study of the United Nations and its functions, made by the students of Gertrude Fiegel's classes, brought the course of American History to a close. Graphs, charts and outlines were made of the four main branches of the UN, which include: the General Assembly, the Security Council, the Economic-Social Council, and the International Court of Justice.

The various functions of each of these were also listed, some of which were these: the Trusteeship Council under the direction of the General Assembly; the Secretariat under the direction of the General Assembly and the Security Council; the Atomic Energy Commission, the Military Staff Committee, and the International Armed Forces, all of which are headed by the Security Council. The five organizations of the Economic-Social Council, which are the International Bank, the International Monetary Fund, the Food and Agricultural Organization, and the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, were also listed.

To help the students understand the UN better, various and more detailed graphs and charts have been posted on the bulletin board. Photos of many headliners who speak well of the UN have also been posted, some of whom are: Morgan Beatty, Eddie Cantor, Ezra Stone, Myrna Loy, Mrs. Wendell Wilkie, Charles E. Wilson, Walter White, William Green, K. Francis Scott, and Clarence Frances.

The aim of this study was to help the students to know how the UN is run and to know what part they can play to make it successful.

Annual Dedicated To Melvin Blunk

"The Nugget," '49 all-school annual, was dedicated to Melvin Blunk, the senior class adviser. The theme of the annual is the '49ers' with such cartoons as jumping frogs for sports and projectors panning for gold for the underclassmen.

Beverly Balsley, a senior was head of the editorial staff; Miss Priscilla Eacock was the adviser. The annual printed by Edward's Brothers of Ann Arbor, contains 96 pages of pictures of the faculty, board of education, seniors, underclassmen, sports, clubs, and other school activities.

Some weeks ago Ralph Swan, public relations director of Michigan's excellent highway department, suggested to the writer that if we wanted to see a real example of the high type roads now being constructed in Michigan, a good example could be found on M 27 west of Houghton lake.

"If you are ever up in that part of the state, it would be well worth your time to make it a point to drive over that highway and then compare it with the highways built years before the war" said Mr. Swan.

When returning from a meeting up in the central part of the state a while back we made a detour for the purpose of visiting this "magic" piece of highway that Mr. Swan was so enthusiastic about. Of course Michigan people know that a very large amount of the funds available to Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler must go to repair and rebuild old roads. But now and then he does have some money left to build new highways—and if the new Houghton lake road is an example of all the new highways Commissioner Ziegler is building throughout the state, Michigan is without question getting the best type of concrete highway construction in the entire country.

The new Houghton lake road, built to eliminate the narrow, dangerous and highly congested thoroughfare that ran around the east side of the lake, is a part of M 27. It has been completed to a point just south of Houghton lake to a place some miles north of Houghton lake. It's a new road, cut through a swamp much of the way and it saves a northbound traveler over 12 miles in just that short distance along Houghton lake. As a highway it is all that Mr. Swan claims for it. We thank him for calling it to our attention and this comment will be as much of a surprise to him as was our pleasure in traveling over one of Michigan's best built highways. We congratulate Commissioner Ziegler for his splendid work.

Two bills now in Congress would make available increased funds for the purchase, maintenance, and protection of migratory-bird refuges, which are needed desperately by America's waterfowl, the Wildlife Management Institute reports.

These bills (S. 1076 and H. R. 3711) would amend the present duck stamp Act in three ways:

- 1) Increase the price of the stamp from $1 to $2.
2) Increase the amount which may be applied for enforcement from 10 per cent to 25 per cent. This means that fifty cents from the amount derived from the sale of each stamp would be applied to law enforcement instead of 10 cents as at present.
3) The remainder of the revenues raised from the sale of stamps would be spent for maintenance, and development of refuges thus far acquired and put into operation, and for the acquisition of additional "wildlife management and inviolate migratory-bird refuges."

There is no disagreement among conservationists on the first two provisions, but there is some misunderstanding of the full meaning and import of the words "and wildlife management." Some feel that these words imply an invasion of the inviolate sanctuary program of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and that it gives the Service a "blank check" to throw open existing refuges to hunting. Neither of these fears is based upon fact. Both Bills provide that only those new refuges acquired in the future may be designated as either inviolate sanctuaries or wildlife management areas. No existing refuge at the time the Act takes effect could be changed from an inviolate to a management refuge upon which limited hunting, under Service regulation, would be permitted.

Both bills have been pending in committee for some time. The Senate Bill (S. 1076) awaits action by the Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce under the chairmanship of Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado. The House companion Bill (H. R. 3711) is pending in the House Subcommittee on Fisheries and Fish-life Conservation of the Committee of Merchant Marine and Fisheries under the chairmanship of Mr. Clark W. Thompson of Texas.

Unless sportsmen, who are directly concerned with the outcome of this Bill and who supply the revenue with which the Migratory Waterfowl Hunting Stamp Act is administered, make known their views to their elected representatives in Washington and to the chairmen of the Committees, this bill may meet the fate of a similar bill introduced in the 80th Congress. Emerging from Committee in the closing hours of the last session, the Bill was passed by the Senate but was snowed under in a rush of last-minute business in the House.

The need for immediate action is urgent. A pan of water may have changed the entire concept of pheasant management in California, the Wildlife Management Institute learns. Unable to trap wild birds for tagging experiments, Harold Harper, project assistant of the state P-R pheasant study project, tried water as a substitute bait when standard lures of food failed.

The results were startling and unexpected. Pheasants flocked to the temporary water trough for several days. As a result of this trial, water has become the standard bait for the ringneck over its range in California in training both for research purposes and for transplanting. Assistant Chief Ben Glading of the Bureau of Game Conservation says that the bureau has rearranged its opinions on the relative importance of water as a factor in maintaining pheasant populations. Food and cover previously had been considered the primary keys to good pheasant management.

BABSON Discusses 1949 Graduates and Jobs

The largest crop ever of college students will graduate this June from our colleges. In addition, tens of thousands will graduate from public and private high schools. There just won't be enough jobs for all. Not Enough Jobs to Go Around

The first quarter in 1949 has seen increasing cut-backs in labor. Total unemployed now number nearly three million—a million and a half more than a year ago. Some of this unemployment is due to seasonal fluctuations. However, an increasing amount is due to a general slump in sales. Sales slumps have backlogged inventories and resulted in cut-backs in production—which means fewer jobs. Many industries show declines in profits, from 6.5 percent in appliances, when the first quarter of 1949 is compared with the same period in 1948. Faced by this situation, companies are firing, not hiring.

Who Will Get the Jobs? Job competition this season will be rough and tough. One out of every four college graduates of the class of 1949 will still be job-hunting when September comes. A young man's character, will, in a real measure, determine whether he gets a job. Companies search out men with strong character traits of integrity, dependability, industriousness, ingenuity, perseverance, temperance and a sense of responsibility.

OLSEN AND JOHNSON, those many characters who have built a reputation for being the greatest noise-makers and rib-tickers in show business (long before Spike Jones even dreamed of a band), are bringing their madcap television this summer when they replace Milton Berle on NBC . . . The madcap team, together now for 36 years, should be the making of the breaking of video, but at any rate they are bound to be more popular visual-wise than they ever were on radio, where imagination on the part of the public had to suffice.

PLATTER CHATTER
CAPITOL: "Gloomy Sunday," the suicide song that was banned for so many years, is back via a Charlie Barnet arrangement and it's sufficiently weird to continue chills where they left off some years back . . . The reverse has "Be Bop Spoken Here" . . . A new song that's heading for the top is "Nature Boy" yet, and Gordon MacRae has a smooth rendition of it backed by a cutie, "Ting-a-Ling" . . . Catch Jan Garber's excellent waxing of "Heart of Loch Lomond" with "That's When I Long for You" on the flip . . . And another good disc is the Starlighters' "Room Full of Roses" with "Weddin' Day."

MERCURY: Benny Veneta gives a snap to two happy ditties, namely, "He's a Devil" and "Be My Little Baby Bumblebee" . . . Ted Weems has come up with a new issue of "Canadian Capers" with the perennial Elmo Tanner doing the whistling . . . The flip is a rather clever ballad called "Stammerin'" . . . Flip Phillips does justice to a neat, instrumental arrangement of the fascinating "Caravan" with "Flying Home" on the reverse.

COLUMBIA: Another cute new song is "Scalawag" and one of the best waxings of it is Tommy Tucker's . . . He couples it neatly with "That Old Sweetheart of Mine" . . . Ray Eyer has a mellow rendition of that oldie, "I Love You" with Harry Babbitt doing a nice job on the vocal . . . The flip has another oldie, "Sweet and Lovin'."

This Week's Public Issue

(Editor's Note: Here are some pertinent facts on a public issue as prepared by the University of Michigan Department of Political Science. This material is designed to present both sides of the question to help you in your thinking on current issues. Your club or discussion group may also find this information helpful.)

SHOULD CONGRESS APPROVE THE ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY PROJECT?

Background

The rapids on the St. Lawrence River in the 183-mile stretch from Montreal to Lake Ontario prevent ocean-going ships from coming into the Great Lakes. Rapids in the St. Mary's River at Sault Ste. Marie once prevented lake boats from entering Lake Superior, but in the last century locks were built and a channel cleared to overcome this obstacle. Since 1895 there have been various proposals to solve the large-scale St. Lawrence problem in much the same way that the small-scale obstacle at the Soo has already been eliminated.

The project now before Congress is an agreement with Canada providing for the construction of a 27-foot waterway through the St. Lawrence and all the Great Lakes. Power stations to be constructed to take advantage of the drop in elevation between Lake Ontario and Montreal would develop 2,200,000 horsepower of electricity. Twenty-five years ago the cost was estimated at 700 million dollars. Presumably this would be more than doubled now, but in any case, the revenue from passenger and freight loads and from sales of power would in the long run probably pay the entire cost of the project.

Some of the leading arguments which have been advanced on this issue are:

Yes

1. Water transportation is much cheaper than transportation by railroad or road. The St. Lawrence Waterway would reduce transportation costs in an area containing over 40 million people. It would give to Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and Duluth practically all the advantages of ocean ports.

2. The power produced would be available in a very populous area which has lately suffered from repeated power shortages. The project would do for future atomic industries in the East what the TVA and Columbia River projects have already done in the South and West.

No

1. The construction of the Waterway entails a great initial expense which, at best, will benefit less than a third of the country's population. The same amount spent on housing or education would benefit the entire country.

2. Existing port and rail facilities in the South and East are already more than adequate to handle all the country's exports. To construct the St. Lawrence Waterway would mean a reduction of revenue and service on established routes, which might lead to increased costs and considerable inconvenience to their users.

3. In the atomic age it is foolish to rely on using any route which would have so many bottlenecks. One well-placed bomb, dropped almost anywhere along a 183-mile route, might render the whole Waterway unusable for months.

The state of Louisiana leads all other states in the production of sugar cane, strawberries, sweet potatoes, sugar cane syrup and rice. The state also ranks third in the U. S. in the production of petroleum.
