

What I Think and Have A Right to Say
By ELTON R. EATON

DIPLOMACY — A PRICELESS POSSESSION.
Often we hear and read of complex problems in civic, industrial and business circles, problems that often lead to wide differences of opinion.

Disasterous competition, strikes and turmoil sometimes result from some little problem that has developed which could, in the beginning, have been solved by the use of a bit of diplomacy—a spirit of cooperation and mutual understanding of the situation.

Much of the conflict we have in all circles of life today is due to the lack of proper diplomacy used at the right time and in the right way. On the surface the word may not look too important, but in actual practice we regard honest diplomacy as one of the most priceless possessions one can have.

NOT A BIT SURPRISING.
Washington dispatches say that some of the departments of the government under the control of the so-called "fair deal" say that business is responsible for the let down in business.

One should not be surprised at such a charge coming out of an administration run by a group of Missouri hick politicians.

Back in the days of the Raw Deal, or as some call it, the "New Deal", government bureaucrats said the depression of that time was the "Hoover depression."

It would be just as dishonest now to say that the present business slump is a "Truman depression."

Destructive wars are the cause of depressions—and they have been all down during the ages.

IT'S GOOD, AWFULLY GOOD ADVICE.

Former President Herbert Hoover, speaking at the annual commencement of the Ohio Wesleyan University a few days ago, gave to the graduating class some advice that is so good that it is well worth passing on to those who may not have read what Mr. Hoover said.

The former President, the victim of probably one of the lowest and most vicious political campaigns ever waged in this country, declared that there are just as many, and far more, opportunities open for young people today than there were when he graduated from a western university more than half a century ago.

He told the Ohio graduates not to abandon self reliance in a quest for security.

While security eliminates the risks in life, he said, it also kills the joy that lies in competition, in individual adventure, new undertakings and new achievement. He declared:

"These contain moral and intellectual impulses more vital than even profits."

"At all times in history, there have been many who sought escape into security from self reliance."

"Some tell us that in their new era, life is still a race, but that everybody must come out even at the end. Another modernistic school adds that life still may be a race, but each step must be dictated by bureaucrats with stop-and-go signals."

He described his own commencement at Stanford six decades ago, the fears of the depression of that day created and the warm welcome he and his classmates found in the "cold, cold world." Then he added:

"I found the profit-takers a cheery and helpful lot, who took an enormous interest in helping youngsters get a start and get ahead in life."

"And you will find that is also true today."

Hoover described the wealth of possessions and jobs in the United States and said: "It is very sad, but did it ever occur to you that all the people who live in these houses and all those who run this complicated machine are going to die?"

"Just as sure as death, those jobs are yours. The plant and equipment come to you by inheritance ready to run. But the best of these jobs are never filled by security-seekers."

THE GREATEST OF ALL.

Recent public mention of the fact that President Alexander Ruthven of the University of Michigan will retire from active duties next year is not the kind of news one likes to read. While it has been known for sometime that the famed President of Michigan's University has been giving some thought to his possible retirement within the next few years, it is not believed that many outside of his close associates had any idea that retirement might come within a year.

Here is one Michigan resident who hopes that Dr. Ruthven will be able to continue his activities for years to come. In the period this great educational leader has been at the head of our University it has become known as the greatest educational institution in all the world. Its leadership is recognized in all educational circles. While it has become the leading educational institution, it is but natural that it should also become the largest—all of this notwithstanding the fact that the highest degree of scholarship is essential in order to remain as a student in the University.

During the years the writer served as a member of the legislature, it was but natural that we become well acquainted with the work of this great school. This intimate knowledge of its activities served to increase our admiration for the work of Dr. Ruthven and the great school he has led to world-wide fame.

It has always been a regret that we did not have the opportunity in the years gone by to become a student of this great school. But we feel that the contacts we have been able to have with the University in later years have been of tremendous value.

The University of Michigan hospital, like all the other activities of the school, has, too, continuously added enlightenment to the medical profession in the treatment of human ailments. It is not easy to grasp the far reaching benefits the University of Michigan, under the leadership of President Ruthven, has had on world-wide advancement.

Dr. Ruthven has won for himself and the University of Michigan a reputation that will endure for generations—yes, centuries.

HOW JUSTICE CAN BE DEFEATED.

With full credit to The Detroit Times and The King Features Syndicate, The Plymouth Mail is re-printing one of the recent columns written by George E. Sokolsky because of its exceptional value to a public that needs more information and facts, as well as views such as contained in the following article:

Confession, contrition, penance, personal responsibility for personal conduct are of the essence of our way of life. We teach our children that if they lie, they will be punished but if they confess to the truth, while they remain responsible, they may be forgiven. In a better American era, the story of George Washington and the cherry tree was told to every child and it made an excellent impression upon him. At any rate, the father of his country could not lie to his sire.

Whittaker Chambers was a spy, a courier for spies; he has been a liar, a perjurer, a cheat, a fraud. We know that only because he told us so. No one caught Whittaker Chambers at anything. He exposed himself. He begged, chattered, prayed those whom he told his story that they would believe him. So far as is known, he told his story first to Isaac Don Levine and to Adolf A. Berle Jr. in 1939.

True, he did not tell them the whole truth, of which fact Lloyd Stryker, Alger Hiss's lawyer, makes much in court. That fusing over his failure to produce the documents in 1939 may be excellent courtroom tactics and may even impress Judge Kaufman, before whom the Hiss case is being tried.

But no man of common sense can fail to grasp why Chambers (Continued on page 6)

Recall Petitions Charge Four Men Of Non-Feasance

Recall petitions were put in circulation by the Plymouth Citizens League last Friday after their meeting on Thursday night for the following four city commissioners, James Latture, Frank Henderson, Lewis Goddard and William Hartmann.

Separate petitions are in circulation for each of the commissioners and it marks the first time in the history of this city that such action has ever been taken.

Circulators of the petitions will have to secure 627 names on each in order to cause a special recall election which when called will be decided by a simple majority of the voters that cast their ballots.

The following charges are made on each of the petitions that are being circulated by the league. In each case the charges are the same: "City Commissioner—(name of commissioner)—has schemed and conspired with the other three commissioners to violate the City Charter by holding secret and sudden meetings of the City Commission on May 26, 1949 at 7:45 a.m., June 3, 1949 at 8:00 a.m., and June 6, 1949 at 9:27 p.m., intentionally depriving the citizens of Plymouth of their charter-given rights."

"He, in concert with the said City Commissioners, has misrepresented true facts in important city transactions, stating in a public and official letter dated June 4, 1949 and approved by Commission vote, that 'no street program... or other improvements requiring a bond issue can be made unless the five charter amendments are adopted,' knowing full well that no charter amendments were legally necessary for any bond issue, and thus attempting to confuse the voters into adopting a new assessment program of his own liking. Further, he, in conspiracy with the said City Commissioners, attempted to mislead and misinform the citizens of Plymouth in a signed press statement on June 16, 1949, willfully and falsely stating that the entire City Commission had been advised of the City Manager's intended dismissal."

Newburg Waters Claim Youth, 20

The first drowning in Plymouth area lakes should caution Plymouth parents to warn their children about using careful judgment when in the water.

A canoe party turned into a tragedy for five Detroit youths at Newburg lake Monday evening. Paul Dorsz, 20, was drowned when the canoe in which he was paddling overturned, according to the sheriff's office. His companions Peter George, 23, Delphine Mazier, 18, Milton George, 22, and Guy Sérassin, 19, all of Detroit, were brought to shore by picnickers in the park who heard their cries. Elmer Myers, of Newburg road, was one of the rescuers.

The young people showed the sheriff and his men where Dorsz went down and dragging for the body was begun immediately. The body was found early Wednesday morning.

Commissioners Say They have Been Forced Into Court Three Times To Defend Their Actions For The City

Last week in the Plymouth Mail we were amazed to read the names on the Executive Board of the Plymouth Citizens League. Since many of them were personal friends of ours and had expressed their confidence in our action as commissioners, we took the liberty of asking them why their names should appear with the League statement.

Much to our surprise, some of the most prominent of the group told us they did not know their names were even involved. (These names are not being published at their request but signed statements are in possession of the undersigned and can be seen on request.)

As to some of the statements issued by the league, we raise a question. How is it that officers and spokesmen of the Citizens League, can be so well informed on matters discussed in Commission meetings, both regular and informal and held in the City Hall, unless advised by one of the members of that Commission? We believe many of these

Record Turnout At Daisy Picnic

A record turnout of about 700 persons attended the annual Daisy picnic held Saturday afternoon in Riverside park, in spite of the intermittent rain.

The I.D.E.A. sponsored affair began with a picnic lunch at 12:30. Ham and beverages were furnished by the I.D.E.A.

At 2 o'clock the company distributed the profit sharing checks which the employees receive twice a year. Before distributing the checks, the following statement was made by Vice president Cass S. Hough: "Now that the rain's over (I hope) comes the business of distribution of service pins, perfect attendance awards, and, of course, our profit-sharing checks. In order to expedite our part of this program, I'll only personally present service pins representing ten or more years service... But that's a sizeable list, and includes 12 people who have been with the company more than 20 years."

"Fourteen people have completed one year of perfect attendance this month, and their checks for $35 each are here ready to distribute... Of course, each month during the year, checks are awarded as a year's perfect attendance is completed; as well as checks for those completing six months perfect attendance. Our absenteeism has been practically negligible... averaging less than one percent for the past six months..."

"And now for the profit sharing. For the period which ended last December 1, we distributed approximately $120,000 among all our employees, half in cash, and half to our retirement trust fund. For the period ending June 1 this year, the amount to be distributed is approximately $138,000, an increase of $18,000 over the last, and this in the face of generally declining business activity (not for us, but for the country as a whole). In terms of individual cash shares, the checks are approximately the same as the last distribution, because the increased earnings are offset by the increased number of people working at Daisy. And while we're on the subject of figures—during the past 12 months we have distributed $258,000 to the employees of this business. Over a quarter of a million in 12 months!"

The Daisy girls softball team squeezed out a 5-4 victory over the Wyandotte Chemical team at 3 p.m.

All sorts of contests for both the kiddies and adults started at 5 p.m. There were foot races for everyone, rolling pin throwing for the ladies, and a baseball throw for the girls. The I.D.E.A. and the management also held a tug-of-war.

At six o'clock the employees drew for prize prizes furnished by the I.D.E.A. The grand prize was a television set won by Mrs. Freda Highfield. Bernice Forrester won a G. E. electric blanket and Nora Wood received the electric roaster. Many other prizes were also won.

Rano Papini, who was in charge of the event, had Minnie Smith and Rose Sambrope to help him with the food. The races were under the direction of James Abbotoye and the prizes were given out by Leroy Westfall. Harold Spaulding took care of the beverages.

City Wins Again In Circuit Court

Circuit Judge George B. Murphy returned the second verdict within the last few weeks in favor of the city commission in a case before him last Friday afternoon.

The ruling was on an injunction bill filed by Andrew Sambrope, William Eger and Clifton Tillotson which was intended to prohibit the city commission from hiring additional legal aid in their present case brought about by Lee Sackett. Judge Murphy ruled that a definite provision in the city charter gave the commission authority to retain any legal counsel it deemed necessary.

A previous decision handed down by Circuit Judge Thoms stated that the city manager had the right to fire Sackett and this decision is now up for appeal before the state Supreme Court. In a decision rendered without prejudice last week the Supreme Court ruled Sackett could not hold his position as chief while the case is pending.

Perlongo Warns Local Speedsters

Nandino Perlongo, who will take over the job of municipal judge on July 1, has issued a warning to local speedsters.

Mr. Perlongo says that all serious traffic violators will be dealt with severely when they appear before him. He is especially concerned with the traffic approaching town from the west, on Ann Arbor trail and Penniman, avenue.

The new judge also plans to delve into the truancy problem in the city. He expects to find out why there is a problem and just who is to blame. If, as he suspects, the parents are at fault, they are the ones who will appear in court, also.

Plans For School Site Discussed

The City Planning commission met with the Plymouth school board and the City Commission to discuss thoroughfares which may affect the school building program on Wednesday, June 22.

The school board was shown thoroughfare pictures of the city property in the southwest section of the city. The city owns nine acres of property near the west end of Simpson street. This is a possible school site.

The purpose of the meeting was to discover just what the school board wanted for the new building program.

Mrs. Emily Dowdell, of Wayne, was driving east on Main street. As she crossed the tracks, the engine of the train, which was traveling north, collided with the car broadside. Traffic had stopped for the train and, according to the watchman, Mrs. Dowdell apparently did not see or hear the train, said Greenlee.

The car which Mrs. Dowdell was driving was badly damaged.

Local Attorney Suggests Way of Ending Fight

Editor: The Plymouth Mail

You are to be complimented on the fair manner in which you have presented all sides of our municipal troubles.

We expect nations to have representatives meet and solve international differences without resorting to war.

We expect labor and management in the industrial world to get together and adjust their differences and avoid strikes.

When we have differences between our local city employees, and they should all remember the fact that they are our employees when they accept our tax dollars for compensation, they immediately go to war.

In the meantime who is paying the cost of expensive court hearings as well as the greater cost of a disrupted city government? The Plymouth Taxpayer of course.

It is about time that someone used a little Plain Horse-sense and worked this whole problem out in a prompt and sensible (Continued on page 6)

League Says There Are Only Two Main Issues Involved in City Fight As Far as Their Work is Concerned

"Despite the flood of rumors, whispers, and stories in Plymouth during the past few weeks, the Plymouth Citizens' League has confined itself to the specific points at issue. Everyone should realize that there are only two questions that stand out from the maze of detail. These questions are:

1. Did Lee Sackett receive fair treatment by the City Manager and City Commission?

2. Is Harold Cheek temperamentally capable of discharging the duties of City Manager in the manner desired by the citizens of Plymouth?"

"All other questions are minor. There is a clear difference of opinion between the four Commissioners on one side and a large section of citizens on the other. If we believe that Lee Sackett did not receive decent treatment, it is our duty as voters to protect him. Any person who believes that he was mistreated and yet refuses to do all that he can for him is 'something less than a man' and merits only contempt. There always is too much of the attitude 'let George do it' in our community. That attitude permits the denigration of city life by those who have no regard for human rights or individual liberty. This is what is happening in Plymouth. If Lee is not protected, who will be next?"

"If the City Manager is incapable of performing his duties in the manner Plymouth desires, as the Citizens' League contends, then every interested person should have the right and duty to express his opinion. The order to stop dictatorship by an appointive officer must come sometime. If the Commissioners fail to stop it, the people must."

"Assuming that Lee Sackett was not fairly treated and that the City Manager should be removed, what is the next step? Many citizens have suggested that the problem can be compromised or mediated. Let us make it clear once more. The Citizens' League attempted repeatedly to discuss this situation with the Commissioners but

The Lions club welcomes anyone who is bedridden or shut-in to make use of the ceiling projector which is available at the Dunning library.

Kiwanians Work On Scout Cabin

Instead of their regular meeting at the Mayflower hotel last week, about 20 Kiwanians braved the wet weather and worked on the Girl Scout cabin, near Plymouth and Haggerty roads.

According to overseer, Bob Jolliffe, the fellows accomplished quite a bit. Some of the boys spread the dirt to help fill in the driveway and a couple others found some cinders to add to the fill. The Kiwanians even discovered they had had some masons in the crowd. Pat Wiltse, Al Glasford, Ted Box and Bob Merriam mixed the mortar, while masons Becker and Crites worked on the chimney.

The carpenters and pick and shovel men also did a fine job, says Jolliffe.

Ernie Henry served as chef for the day and served hot dogs and coffee ala scout style.

Judge James Sexton is in charge of the meeting next week and plans to have a speaker on hand.

Miss. Kasnasralla Becomes Bride of Marvin Baum in 6 p. m. Ceremony

Jaycee Auxiliary News

At a dinner meeting at Hillside Inn on June 16, the Plymouth Jaycee Auxiliary installed its new officers for the year. They are: president, Mrs. Donald Johnson; vice president, Mrs. Jerry Engle; secretary, Mrs. Philip Theobald, and treasurer, Mrs. Paul Wagner. The new press reporter is Mrs. John Palmer.

A general discussion of future plans for the Auxiliary followed the installation.

There will be no business meetings for the summer, states Mrs. Palmer. A social meeting of golf and picnicking will be announced later.

In a small church wedding, Miss Marguerite Kasnasralla, of Cairo, Egypt, was married to Mr. Marvin Baum on June 23 at 6 o'clock in the evening.

The rites were read by the Rev. Henry Walsh in the First Presbyterian church.

The bride is the sister of Mrs. Philip Williams, of Parkhurst street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Baum, of Brighton.

The bride wore a light blue dress with white accessories for her wedding. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

She was attended by her sisters, who were also dressed in blue with white accessories. Mrs. Williams wore a gardenia corsage.

Philip Williams was the bridegroom's attendant.

A reception for relatives and friends was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Williams immediately following the ceremony.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Baum will live in Ann Arbor after a week's honeymoon in Canada.

Both young people attend Michigan State Normal college where Mr. Baum is affiliated with Pi Kappa Delta and Phi Gamma Mu fraternities.

Vacation time will soon be here again. Try to make it a time of rest and relaxation, not a matter of miles and hours.

Maccabee News

Attention, members of Hive No. 156, Wednesday, July 6, being our last general business meeting until September, all officers and members please be present. Several important matters are to be discussed and voted. Meeting will be called promptly at 8 p.m.

Our annual picnic will be either the latter part of July or the first part of August. Watch the paper for the correct date.

Local Swimmers Number 283

Plymouth youngsters like to swim. This was proven Tuesday when 283 boys and girls showed up at the high school to go to Rouge Pools in buses provided by the Plymouth Recreation program.

The buses started at 9:15 in the morning and made five different trips to accommodate all the youngsters. Extra private cars were also needed.

This is the greatest number of youngsters who have participated in the swimming program since its beginning. Last year's high was 174 boys and girls.

I REMEMBER...

By THE OLD-TIMERS From George J. Baler of Chicago: "I remember when we boys carried 'sticking' tops with sharp points that would wedge into a board sidewalk and play the game of seeing whose top we could split first. If you split the other fellow's top by dropping yours on his, he had a chance to try to split yours."

From Nell Callaghan of Miami, Fla.: "I remember 'way back when...' 'We didn't have flappers, we didn't have blues, and the women wore dresses 'way down to their shoes, and the men all wore derbies and a high-standing collar. And you could rent a good room by the week for only a dollar."

From Gus Larson of Chicago: "I remember when we danced the 'Black Bottom, the Charleston, Ballin' the Jack, the Bunny Hug and Lindy Hop. That was in the days before the Big Apple and the Lambeth Walk."

From Mrs. Lydia Waginlander of Dayton, Ky.: "I remember when my father, W. Willison, sold coal at $3.50 a ton. Loads were delivered in wagons drawn by two horses. The teamster made $10 a week and had six in his family."

Heat Doesn't Stop Merchants From Offering Savings

While Mr. and Mrs. Plymouth are sweltering or talking local politics their local merchants haven't forgotten the fact that dollar savings are still important to local shoppers regardless of the weather or conditions. For local shoppers who must stock their cupboards, for the Fourth of July, local grocers and meat men have some most attractive food values to make the weekend complete from that standpoint. Other stores are offering comfortable summer sports attire at reduced prices and motorists can find super values for their motoring pleasure by scanning the ads within this issue.

In fact this is just a pleasant little reminder to the some 10,000 weekly readers of The Plymouth Mail that this week again like every week there are hundreds of dollars saving items listed on the inside pages.

Ice cream dealers have stocked their freezers with a big supply of ice cream as have the drug-stores and incidentally the drug-gists have everything you'll need for sun tan, sun burn, etc.

So, Mr. and Mrs. Plymouth a few more minutes with your friendly local merchant, through their ads in this and every other issue of The Mail will not only save you dollars but also give suggestions of things to make your living much more comfortable.

League Says There Are Only Two Main Issues Involved in City Fight As Far as Their Work is Concerned

The four men absolutely refused to give Lee Sackett a hearing and refused to consider the removal of the City Manager.

"If we were spineless or less interested in the basic problem as it affects Plymouth, we would say, 'What is the use? Let's quit.' The result of such action would be that every person in Plymouth would be subject to vengeance by the City Manager; every business would be at his mercy in taxation, parking meters, and city services; city employees, already afraid of him, would be forced to keep silent or lose their jobs.

"This is not exaggeration. It is the logical step to be taken next by any officials who have lost their desire to serve the people. It has happened time and again in this country and abroad.

"Therefore, we shall not mediate or compromise until satisfactory answers are given on the two questions: Lee Sackett must be given fair treatment and the City Manager must be removed. Any other course would be a terrible mistake for this community.

"We are well aware that people who have offered to testify or to sign petitions have been pressured heavily. We know that certain city employees have been warned. This is contemptible and far below the dignity of men holding public office.

"The Citizen's League does not enjoy the prospect of spending time and money on an election in the heat of summer, but, if that is the only recourse left the action must be taken. We shall not surrender our principles of good government and we are certain that the community does not desire to permit the contamination of the kind of treatment the public and employees have been receiving.

"The four Commissioners have left us no choice. They refuse to give Lee Sackett a hearing; they refuse to give the people a hearing in regard to the City Manager. The only solution is to let the people decide at the polls. We are willing to abide by the results. If the voters wish to keep the City Manager, we shall accept the verdict.

"The situation in Plymouth certainly is not desirable. The Commissioners will not change their minds and we will not change ours. The most democratic and the most sensible solution seems to be to have an election quickly and settle this problem one way or the other. Our two questions can be answered only by voting yes or no on the recall of the four Commissioners. This is not advanced in the light of bitterness, but rather in the desire to settle an issue which can not be settled in court or by whispers. We believe that our attitude is a fair one."

Livonia Man Dies Monday, June 27

Funeral services were held on Monday, June 27 at 3 p.m. for Robert Andrew Snodgrass who passed away suddenly early Saturday morning, June 25 at his home, 32190 Myrna, Livonia township.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lou M. Snodgrass, his daughter, Mary Lou, his son, Robert. Also surviving are his sister, Mrs. Mark W. Rhoads of Indianapolis, Indiana.

Mr. Snodgrass has been a resident of Livonia for the past nine years, and a member of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church. He was also president of the George M. Bentley Parent-Teachers Association. He was very active in all community activities. Mr. Snodgrass was a member of the Frankfort Council No. 46 F. & S. M. of Frankfort, Indiana. He was an instructor of science at the MacKenzie high school of Detroit, for the past 19 years. He was a graduate of Wabash college of Crawfordsville, Indiana and a charter member of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Rev. Woodrow Woolley officiated. The services were also under the auspices of the Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47 F. & A. M. Hymns were rendered on the organ by Henry Herrmann of Detroit. The active pallbearers were Messrs. Allen Meyer, James Dilbeck, Rex Carlett, Orville Heft, William E. Merritt and Gilbert Treweek, who are fellow teachers at MacKenzie High school. Interment was in Parkview Memorial.

In Williba, Ky., Democratic Candidate Glennie Hollon, campaigning for State Representative, promised voters he would 1) make it illegal for a cattle dealer to misrepresent the age of a cow by more than three years; 2) put a dollar limit on all poker bets; 3) give children the authority to send their parents to school.

Writer Suggests Trial Board For City Dismissals

As a Plymouth visitor and not a taxpayer, I have no wish to indulge in personalities over local troubles, merely a few general observations.

I do not know Mr. Cheek, nor Mr. Sackett so will say as to that, that any city manager should not have the power to fire city employees at pleasure, or displeasure. In Pontiac we have had for years, a trial board of three, not connected with city government, before whom all complaints against police or firemen must be brought, and the accused parties are allowed their day in court before any action may be taken against them. The plan has proved very satisfactory. An effort was made at the last election to do away with this plan and substitute civil service, but it was (rightfully) snowed under.

As to mere bond issues Plymouth is now realizing what most of the U. S. is now waking up to and that is our National "Spend, Spend, Spend and Elect, Elect, Elect" has siphoned so much of the taxpayers' hard-earned cash for Washington Bureaucrats to blow that when local improvements are needed the communities just cannot afford them—their cash has gone, via Washington, for the benefit of visionary governmental schemes, and for the relief of the natives of Timbuctoo.

It seemed to me that this city made a big mistake when it put down local wells for its water supply, which supplied a brand of drinking fluid which must have driven a major portion of the citizens to drink—but not water. As the Mail very rightfully said, during the bond issue drive a short time back: "Plymouth Water—It Stinks!"

Before many years, however, Detroit, along with the other cities and villages of this section of Michigan will have given up the present sources of wells, rivers, etc., our water level is lowering, along with that of the west and other sections. Several years ago our late city commissioner, Mayor, Mr. Geo. H. Kimball, Sr., a civil engineer himself and at that time counselling engineer of the city of Buffalo, went into this matter. His suggestion then was for Detroit to join with Mt. Clemens, Royal Oak district, Birmingham, Pontiac, Plymouth, Northville, et al. in one big supply station in Lake St. Clair. I felt Mr. Kimball was correct in his idea, but as of now I would place the source of supply in Lake Huron rather than Lake St. Clair.

Mr. Kimball also suggested a belt-line railroad for Detroit including the Rouge, Plymouth, Northville, Mt. Clemens, then back to Detroit. But that was as far as it got.

Jerry McCarthy Dies at 78 Years

Funeral services were held on Monday, June 27 at 1 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral Home for Joseph Wallace Lytle, locally known as Jerry McCarthy, who passed away Friday, June 24 at the age of 78 years. Mr. McCarthy had been a resident of Plymouth for the past 21 years.

He was born in Terre Haute, Indiana on November 22, 1870. Mr. McCarthy has been an employee of the Pere Marquette Railroad for a number of years. Rev. Frederick Poole, D.D. officiated. Hymns were rendered on the organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. The active pallbearers were Messrs. Floyd Rorobacher, Jack Miller, Frank Loomis, Verne Silva, Asenrion Gonzales and Adoloso Gonzalez. Entombment was made in Riverside mausoleum.

In Lynn, Mass., Richard DeLand, who had been sentenced to jail and then put on probation for breaking into Pennyworth's Clothing Store, was caught by police next day breaking into Pennyworth's Clothing Store.

withheld the documents. It was all that he possessed to prove the truth of his assertions. Without the documents in his possession, he could not establish the fact that he was not a madman making wild accusations. When first he told his story, he encountered such hostility that had he not retained his proofs, he would have found himself, in wartime, held for treason while his accomplices, whoever they were, would remain in high official position, basking in the sun of glamorous events.

Any man with a modicum of common sense, having raised the curtain upon the greatest known treachery of our times, would have retained his proofs in his own possession until he found a less hostile, an unprejudiced tribunal to which to give them. Even then, he risked much, as now appears in the courtroom where Mr. Stryker has sought to give the impression, seconded by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, that it is not Hiss but Chambers who is on trial. He also risked, as is always true in such instances, being accused of madness, in the hope that such a diversion would so change the issue as to vitiate the accusation.

But the facts are clear and no amount of legalisms and obiter dicta can alter the facts, which I here set down:

1—Whittaker Chambers, a spy-courier for Soviet Russia, came into possession of a vast quantity of important, secret documents from the files of the state department.

2—The greatest significance of these papers is that, in possession of a foreign power, they provide a key to our secret code and therefore imperil the means of communication between our government and its agents.

3—Chambers says that Alger Hiss and four others, whom he has named, gave him the documents.

4—This Hiss denied in such a manner before the grand jury that he is on trial for perjury.

5—Many, if not most of the documents came from Hiss' office; some bear his initials; some are in his handwriting.

6—If Hiss did not give the documents to Chambers, he may have given them to some one else who gave them to Chambers, or they may have been stolen from Hiss' desk.

7—If Hiss gave them to some one else, it would be just as serious an infraction as though he gave them to Chambers.

8—If they were stolen, how does it happen that Hiss never noted that such a vast quantity of important material, particularly his own notes in his own handwriting, was missing?

9—When Chambers told Berle about it in 1939, Berle discussed it with others in the state department of which Hiss was an official even then and became more important subsequently. What steps did Hiss take, in wartime, to protect his country from such leaks?

There are the issues, so far as the public is concerned, even though in a court of law, the problem appears to be different.

HISS HAS HOPES OF ACQUITTAL

By devoting their entire time to smearing the chief government witness against Alger Hiss, the notorious new dealer who is on trial for perjury, the defense hopes to win a not guilty verdict for Hiss. No one can tell what a jury will do—but there is one thing sure—no matter what the jury does, Hiss in public opinion will be branded as guilty UNTIL it is proven that some one else gave important government secrets to Spy Chambers to be sent on to Russia. As you know, Hiss came into the government and his high position through the new deal.

Recall Petitions Charge Four Men Of Non-Feasance

sal of Police Chief Lee Sackett; further stating falsely that the said Police Chief had been eligible for full retirement pay for over two years, and claiming falsely that a public hearing on the discharge of Chief Sackett would jeopardize the said Police Chief's retirement pay; further, he, in concert with the said Commissioners, made loose, general, and unsupported charges against the character and administration of Chief Sackett in the same press statement.

"He, in concert and accord with the said City Commissioners has demonstrated willful non-feasance of the office of City Commissioner by failing to exert properly his charter conferred powers and responsibilities, and allowing City Manager Harold Cheek to practice the continued opening of contract bids without the presence of the City Commission; he, with said Commissioners, in deliberate non-feasance of office, has permitted City Manager Harold Cheek illegally to transfer monies from one city fund to another, in direct and deliberate violation of the City Charter.

"He, with said Commissioners, has neglected his charter imposed duty by allowing the deterioration of Liberty Park in the City of Plymouth, failing to act to prevent the encroachment of a road upon said park, and this devaluing the public property of the citizens of Plymouth.

"He, with said Commissioners, has prejudiced himself by prior statement when called upon by legal petition to act as judge in the citizens' cause for removal of City Manager Harold Cheek. He, with said Commissioners, so clearly stated his prejudice as to render the citizens helpless in their cause against City Manager Harold Cheek, and to make a mockery of the provisions of the City Charter."

Miss E. A. Ingram Buried June 29

Miss Elizabeth A. Ingram of Elmonte, California, formerly of Detroit, passed away at Elmonte, California on Friday, June 24. She is the sister of R. B. Ingram, of 360 South Harvey street, Plymouth; A. T. Ingram of Wayne and Mrs. W. G. Davis of Rosemead, California.

Miss Ingram was brought to Plymouth via air express for funeral services which were held Wednesday, June 29 at 2:30 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral Home.

Rev. Frederick Poole, D. D. officiated. Hymns were rendered on the organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. Interment was in White Chapel cemetery, Birmingham.

In Lille, France, Roger Debrandere, charged with stealing his 29th automobile since November, explained to police that he "just wanted to learn how to drive."

First Displaced Person Locates on Palmer Farm

curing "good farm hands." Between them they agreed to try a displaced person. Working with them since that time in the securing of such help has been the Michigan State Employment Service. John R. Vloch, farm labor specialist for the southern tier of counties, explained that Lithuanian society in Detroit works in cooperation with the society, and also assisted in the move.

Explaining the displaced person program, Mr. Vloch reminded that by a Congressional act, 205,000 displaced persons are to be admitted to the United States. Before their arrival, however, there must be a place for them to work. Families are never broken up, and at the present time there are approximately 35 in the state of Michigan. Mr. Vloch estimated the number of single men in the state at 15. So far, five or six more displaced persons are expected to be placed in this county. Any other farmers desiring to secure information on the program can contact Mr. Vloch at Wayne 3725.

Agent Combines Vacation Hints and Geography

Leonard Millross, agent of the Plymouth Railway Express AGENCY office here said that he expects a big vacation shipping season this SUMMER, which is LIKELY to reach its PEAK during the LATTA part of June and late August and EARLY September.

"You just can't SURPRISE any REA MAN with STRANGE names of towns, SUCH'S 'UZ', Ky. or 'KISKIMINETAS JUNCTION', Pa. They just won't raise an EYEBROW at anything," Mr. Millross said.

"And speaking of town names," he went on "all of the words in capital letters are actual names of towns in the United States and Canada."

"They ALL handle so MANY shipments of vacation baggage that they even TREAT the odd-sounding town names as NORMAL. SO INSTEAD of listing those unusual names as in other SEASONS, I'll WORK under the ASSUMPTION that the public would prefer some helpful hints on HOW TO STOW and SHIPPE their vacation gear."

"The objective," he added is to have our DRIVERS deliver vacation shipments at destinations in ADVANCE or on the DAY of the owner's arrival. Most delays or lost baggage result from improperly or illegibly written tags or labels."

He offered these suggestions for vacation travelers using express SERVICE:

1. Address plainly and legibly. Don't DAUB it on so that the address looks like an ENIGMA. Printing is easiest to READ, and every piece of baggage should have at least two address tags or labels. ALL old MARKS should be removed or obliterated from your luggage.

2. Abbreviations are used for QUICK or HASTY writing, but as a RULE they are more difficult to READ and may cause confusion. For example there are 27 "ADAMS" in as MANY states.

3. Pack securely and solidly, omitting fragile and perishable articles, liquids, valuables, JEWELS and currency in luggage containers with clothing.

4. Insert an "inside" address label with each piece of luggage. Such labels may be obtained GRATIS at ALL AGENCY offices.

5. Phone the nearest express office in ADVANCE of the DAY you want baggage picked up. Have someone at HOME when the expressman comes to CALL.

6. As added PROTECTION for shippers, the express AGENCY has adopted the use of BROOKS baggage SEALS on personal baggage shipments. Each piece is sealed with this patented device upon receipt, to be delivered to the consignee with the seal unbroken.

"Feel FREE to CALL our office at any time for additional shipping information," Mr. Millross said, "and just to keep things in the proper order, here are a few names of towns suggesting the vacation season: ACRES, Kans.; BLISS, Ida.; COME-BY-CHANCE, N. F.; DAWN, Ohio; SOLITUDE, Ind.; TRAIL, Minn.; VISITATION, Que., etc. and for the end of this STORY, La., there's an EXIT, Texas."

In Santa Rosa, Calif., Mrs. Irene Wells explained to authorities why she had allowed her bigamous husband to bring his 15-year-old "bride" into her house: "I didn't think it would last." In Toledo, a housewife tried to explain her motive for clouting her husband over the head: "I was frying eggs and all of a sudden I wondered what would happen if I hit my husband with the skillet!" In Hollywood, Beverly Mitchell got a divorce after she charged that her husband left her alone with the company and went off to his room to play with his electric trains.

Commissioners Say They have Been Forced Into Court Three Time To Defend Their Actions For The City

983 names of registered voters. Of these signers many were people who had complained to us individually at the time of the window peeper and prowler trouble and demanded that we get trained police to solve their problem. As you remember, several well known families were much in arms at the inability of the Police Department to cope with the matter. Also we might point out that many complaints have been made in the last year about the laxity in enforcement of traffic regulation.

Since 983 qualified signatures is far from a majority of our more than 3,300 registered voters, we wonder actually if the petition represents a true picture as far as the Police Department is concerned. Having failed in their attempt to dictate in regard to Sackett, the League next decided to attempt to get rid of the City Manager presenting a petition containing charges that we believe came from questionable information furnished by only one Commissioner.

If any Commissioner knows or has known of facts supporting the charges in the petition for removal of the City Manager, we charge them with shirking their duty and responsibility as an elected official in not presenting these facts to the Commission for action. As your elected representatives it is our duty to uphold the best interests of the City of Plymouth through a knowledge of any act injurious to the citizens of Plymouth.

The financial condition of Plymouth today is excellent. The city has a large but safe obligation in the Water Revenue bonds. Aside from that, any and all other indebtedness of the city is very, very low. As for the daily financial transactions of the city, two Commissioners are appointed as an auditing committee and approve all bills for payment. Last year members of the auditing committee were Ruth Whipple and Lewis Goddard. This year they are Ruth Whipple and Frank Henderson. No bill is paid by the City Treasurer unless adjusted by this committee and approved by the City Commission. Certified Public Accountants will again audit the books of the city as is required by charter every year. This will be done as soon after June 30, the end of our fiscal year, as is possible. These audits are on file at the City Hall.

How long are the taxpayers of Plymouth going to sit by and watch their money spent to defend a charter they voted into being?

You have placed your trust in us and we do not take it lightly. Signed

Arbitration has worked out much more difficult problems in the past. Let each group appoint two representatives who are not city officials but who are representative citizens of this community. These representatives could agree on a fifth citizen. Let this group hear both sides of this controversy and make their recommendations as to a proper solution of the problems. This is "The American Way."

There are many of us who are ashamed of many of the acts of all of the parties to the present controversy.

Respectfully,
Perry W. Reburn

In Phoenix, Ariz., Howard Lampton advertised in the Phoenix Republic's "Last" column: "Teeth, upper, near Avalon on South Central, lowers near Riverside ballroom."

In Boston, Ventriologist James Johnson, on trial for deserting his wife, was told by the judge: "You must choose between your wife and the dummy," promptly chose the dummy.

The situation in Plymouth certainly is not desirable. The Commissioners will not change their minds and we will not change ours. The most democratic and the most sensible solution seems to be to have an elec-

Discovers Gold In California

There's gold in them thar hills, claims Frank Nelson, a former Rosedale Gardens resident now of Eagle Rock, California.

Mr. Nelson returned to Plymouth for a few days last week to arrange for the financing of a gold mine he says he has found near Los Angeles.

The samples which he had were government assayed, according to Mr. Nelson.

Stop Corn Borer By Spraying Now

It is time for sweet corn growers to arrange for spraying their sweet corn to control corn borer. Corn borer eggs have been found on sweet corn plants that are now 2 feet in height. Satisfactory control can be had on sweet corn by using a 5% DDT dust at the rate of 25 to 35 pounds per acre or by spraying with 2 1/2 lbs. of 50% wettable DDT in 100 gallons of water. For a small acreage 2 1/2 level tablespoons to 1 gallon of water.

On small gardens, a 1% rotenone dust can be used. The spraying or dusting of sweet corn should start when the eggs begin to hatch or about the time when extended leaf height is 25 inches. Treatments should be applied about every seven days for four treatments. Forage from DDT treated corn should not be fed to livestock. These recommendations are made by your County Agricultural Agent, P. R. Biebesheimer at Wayne.

First Displaced Person To Wayne County on Farm Here

One of Pranas Zelba's first jobs on reaching his new home here in Plymouth with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmer on Beck road was to cut up a huge cherry tree that was uprooted recently in a wind storm. Pictured holding one of the tree limbs, he and farmer Palmer take time out so Mail photographers can snap their picture.

Fish Pole Aid To Your Good Health

Rally round all you would-be Izak Waltons! Drop your lines, baits, weights and bobbers in your tackle box and listen.

You SHOULD go fishing. Pan fishing is good for a man. We have no less authority than the Michigan Department of Health.

The department, right on the eve of the bass and pan fish season, came out with a half dozen good solid reasons for going fishing.

A man needs a hobby, pleasure and escape from routine. He needs relaxation and out-of-door exercise. The fish he catches are good for him, too, the department said. Fishing, with its enthusiasm, anticipation, fresh air, sunshine, exercise, relaxation and good companionship, helps a man live happily and work well.

As usual, the Health Department tacked on a few precautions, but they may "bring US back alive."

Check your boat to be sure it doesn't leak and that its motor is in safe working order; then don't overload it, stand up in it, or lean way out of it. Don't smoke while filling your motor or near anybody's leaky motor. If you can't swim, take along that old inner tube. Get for shore if a storm comes up.

Wear a hat, long sleeves and long trousers. They protect you from sunburn, sunstroke and mosquitoes. Maybe you'd better take along a bottle of insect repellent, too, and have a first aid kit in your car just in case somebody snags you with a casting plug or your hands get blistered. Don't drink lake water—it's got "bugs" in it. Carry your own cool, safe supply. If you're bound to drink something stronger, drink it with your fish dinner and not while traveling to the lake or on the lake.

Rowing and hauling in those big ones takes a strong heart. Don't overdo and don't get over-excited. Take your time coming, going and fishing.

It is better to lose time, fish and tackle than to lose your life, the department reminded.

Scheel Strikes Out 17 As Cards Down Romulus In Initial Contest

This week Plymouth can herald a new strike out "king", namely Jack Scheel, ace pitcher of the Wiedman Cardinals in the Class D Western Wayne baseball league. Jack allowed only two hits while striking out 17 opposing batters as the Cards walloped the Romulus Boys club 10-0 on the Gornier School field on Thursday, June 23.

Romulus' hurler, Dick Mason, set down 15 of the Cardinals on strikes. However, Mason allowed eight hits in the first and eighth innings permitting the Cards to score five runs in each inning.

The big blow of the first inning was Dick Kromkow's single to center which drove in two runs. In this initial flurry Ron Hees, Norm Mahler, Jerry Harder and Jack Scheel bagged singletons. From the first inning until the eighth Mason didn't give a hit. Harder opened the eighth with a double to left and he ended the frame with a fly to left. During the interim five Cardinals crossed the plate to give Scheel a 10-0 lead to work on. Once again Dick Kromkow came through with a single driving home two runners.

Only once did Romulus threaten and that was in the fifth stanza as Scheel loaded the bases with two out. The rally was halted as Coburn attempted to score on a short pass ball by Harder; however, Jerry retrieved the ball and threw to Scheel, who tagged out the runner.

In other games Thursday Harold Dietrich of Wayne stopped Papp's Market 7-4 and Inkster Westwood tilt Inkster Harrison 6-6 in a tilt halted by darkness.

This evening at 5:30 the Cardinals play Harold Dietrich on the Wayne Junior High school field. Daisy hosts Romulus Boys club on the Daisy diamond, and Papp's Market meets Inkster Westwood on the Inkster park diamond.

Tuesday, July 5 the Cardinals are idle, but Daisy plays Papp's Market on the Daisy field.

While the six other league teams were playing on Thursday, June 23, Daisy had an exhibition encounter with Allen Industries, leaders of the White division in the Inter-County loop.

With Bob Gow leading the path to victory with two hits the Daisy boys edged Allen's 6-4 on the Daisy field Thursday. Mickey Brown, Wally Dzuris and Tom Fairbanks checked for the winners.

Wally also got two hits, a double and a single while Fairbanks added the cause with a triple.

Joe's Jottings

by Joe Miller

Poise and confidence make up three-fourths of a pitcher's success, the other one-fourth being skill. Jack Scheel, strikeout ace of the Wiedman Cardinals, has had skill for several years in that trusty right arm and now he has acquired poise and confidence, one of a successful hurler's most important attributes. Baseball observers knew Jack had skill, but he didn't have enough poise as only a pitcher such as Hal Newhouse or Harry Breecheen has.

Last Thursday Scheel was eager to start the season off right for the Cardinals in the Class D Western Wayne baseball league. One hit in the first inning and another bingle in the second constituted Romulus' attack as Scheel chucked his best game of his short career. Seventeen Romulus batters walked confidently to the plate and 17 strolled back to the bench after hearing that third strike. In addition to the 17 strikeouts Scheel pitched his first shutout of the season. In high school ball Jack held the Suburban B champs, Trenton, in check in all but two innings. Trenton tallied one in the first and another in the fourth to beat Jack 2-0 as his teammates displayed ragged baserunning in the later innings to bring defeat.

Jack attributes a great deal of his new found pitching success to John Sandmann, coach of the Plymouth High school squad. Sandmann, a former Dodge farmhand, gave Jack many pitching secrets which he has since put into use as Romulus can attest to.

The Wiedman Cards can well be headed toward a championship if Jack continues his mound mastery.

After many years in the doldrums, the Detroit Lions of the National Professional football league are trying desperately to get back into the upper reaches of the N.P.F.L. Last week we received a great deal of information concerning the Lions, who have added such name players to the squad as Panelli, Doll, Russas, Brodnax, Pifferini, Triplet and Merrill.

In the first issue of the Lion Fanfare, official publication of the Detroit Football company, the editors discuss new players, ticket prices, the fall schedule, and training site. This last bit of information might interest quite a few Plymouth sport fans as the Lions will train on Michigan Normal's Briggs field. The Lions, under Bo McMillin, will begin training at the nearby college in early August. While at the college, the prospective star gridsters will live in the Lydia I. Jones dormitory, which was opened last September.

The Lions have an attractive home schedule lined up for the grid fans of Michigan. The initial home encounter is with the champs of the league, the Philadelphia Eagles, on Monday, October 3 at 8:30 p.m. However, if the Tigers are in the World Series, the tilt might be shifted. Also on deck is the annual Thanksgiving morning battle with the Chicago Bears. Included in the Lion literature is a host of ticket prices for the games this fall. This spirit in putting the Lions over to the fans of Michigan reminds one of the old "college try." By all enthusiasm shown, if the Lions don't have a winning team we'll be sadly mistaken.

D. Lyle Fife, president of the Detroit Football company, says, "Our goal is to produce winning and entertaining football. This will help make Detroit a better place to work and live. We have the coaches, we're getting the players, we have the spirit and determination to achieve the goal."

Daisy Girls Play Miller's Chicks On PHS Diamond

Tied for first place in the Michigan Softball association, the Daisy girls will meet the Miller's Chicks of Detroit tomorrow evening on the Plymouth High school field at 8:20 p.m.

Daisy lost their second game of the season Sunday to Ann Arbor 7-4 thereby dropping to tie for first place in their girls loop. Daisy is tied for first place with the winner of the Lansing-Adrian contest, which was also played Sunday.

Marge Sowa hurled the first 3 1/3 innings and allowed all the runs and hits. Satterla relieved Sowa stopping the Ann Arbor squad cold without a hit. Betty Ross connected for a three run homer in this tilt.

At the Daisy picnic on Saturday the girls edged Wyandotte 5-4.

Daisy Boys Win Another Contest

Continuing their fine record in exhibition games the Daisy boys squad of the Western Wayne league dropped an Inkster Class B team Sunday 7-4 behind the four hit hurling of Wally Dzuris.

This Sunday Daisy will oppose an Inkster Class A outfit on the Daisy field at 2 p.m.

Seven Daisy players attended the New York Yankee tryouts at Pontiac's Wisner field this past week. Those players are: Wally Dzuris, Don Healy, Don Groves, Ariston Luzod, Don Fairbanks, Dick Fenton and Bob Gow.

Olds Tops Nicks In Friday Tilt

Tallying four runs in the first and four more in the fifth stanza the Beglinger Olds softball aggregation inflicted an 8-1 defeat on Nick's Bar, of Detroit, Friday evening on the Plymouth diamond.

The contest was a Wayne recreation softball encounter, which was changed to Plymouth for the benefit of the Plymouth fans. Those in attendance Friday saw a much improved Beglinger squad, one that went out and scored four runs in the first frame before Nick's knew what was occurring.

Schultz started the uprising with a double. Lula then walked. Wilkie, Epps and Leichweis forcing Schultz across the plate with the initial run of the contest. The three men who walked, all scored as shortstop Gadwa and second baseman Criagaie made untimely errors on balls hit by Wellman and Newton. Nick's pushed over their only run in the third inning on a combination of an error by Bishop and Criagaie's base hit. Gabby Street stopped Nick's by striking out Londeau and Gadwa.

With the score 4-1 in the last of the fifth, the home town boys scored another foursome in the following manner. Don Leichweis led off by drawing a walk. Mugs Hunt, who had replaced Wellman in right field, then proceeded to blast the ball over the right center field fence scoring Leichweis ahead of him. The ball bounced in the middle of Theodore street. After Street grounded out to second, George Newton walked. Bishop singled, and Art Gillis walked leading the bases with one out. Wien, who had taken over for Lula, pitched four balls to Schultz sending Newton home with Old's seventh run. Wilkie singled home Bishop to conclude the scoring for the game.

The winning pitcher was Gabby Street, who allowed four hits and struck out seven batters. Facing Olds to the win was John Wilkie with two singles and two walks in four times at the plate.

Skate Club Sends 42 To Nationals

The Riverside Figure and Dance club is sending 42 state winners to the national roller-skating meet at the Mineola Skating rink in Mineola, Long Island, New York. The national meet is held from June 27 to July 2.

The young skaters first had to compete with other skating clubs and win state titles. They then go into national competition, according to James Mazei, treasurer of the skating club.

The club is also sending to the national meet Clayton LaMay, dance pro, and John Dayney, figure free style professional.

This year's membership of 132 is the largest in the seven years that the club has been operating, according to Mr. Mazei. This is also the biggest representation that the Riverside club has ever sent to any national meet.

Mr. Mazei and the club members would like to thank all the persons in Plymouth for their support and contributions that enabled the club to send its representatives to New York to compete for national honors.

Dunn and Dehoco Win Softball Tilts

Dehoco and Dunn Steel are still one game apart as a result of Thursday evening's play in the Industrial softball league. Universal Power company fell victim to Dehoco's highest score of the season 26-2. Dehoco now has won five consecutive games.

The Industrial league's initial no-hitter of the season was hurled by Harleth Marshall Thursday as Dunn Steel whipped Champion Corrugated 5-0. Marshall pitched to 25 men, four over 21, which is par for the course. Groff walked twice and Visnayk and Hancock reached first base on errors by Marshall himself and McAllister.

Kleinsmith, Champion Corrugated's hurler, allowed only five hits, but Dunn Steel bunched the hits in the first and second innings. Dely and Eckler opened the game for the Dunn Steel with singles. They got around on ground outs by Farwell and Pierce and an error by third baseman Groff.

Singles by Litzemberger, Marshall and Dely were the main blows of the second frame. After the second inning Kleinsmith didn't allow a hit.

Also on Thursday Evans Products bowed to Wall Wire by the score of 7-1. Ronayne hurled the distance for the winners limiting Evans to four hits. Stout crashed a home run for the loser's only tally.

Street Paces Twin Pines To Third Victory

Willie May Street's three home runs and a triple paced Twin Pines to its third consecutive victory Thursday evening, June 23, on diamond two on Plymouth High's athletic field. The Old Mill, from Northville, was the victim of Street's onslaught by the score of 15-7.

When Street came up to the plate in the second, the game was scoreless. However, she blasted the ball into deep center field putting Twin Pines in front 1-0. In the third Wilkin scored from first on Street's triple. She connected for a homer in the fifth and again in the sixth to give Twin Pines another victory. In addition to her terrific hitting Willie May hurled six hit ball yielding a homer and a triple to first baseman Monger of the Old Mill.

This was the girl's only contest of the week as rain washed out Tuesday's program of two games.

Freydl Store and Dehoco are still tied for second with one victory and one loss. Tuesday, Dehoco will have a chance to close the ground between them and Twin Pines as the two hook up on the Dehoco field at 6:15 p.m. The same evening the Old Mill and Freydl store meet on Northville's Ford field at 7, Wednesday evening Beglinger Olds faces the Freydl store on Ford field at 7 p.m.

Contractors Still Unbeaten After Downing Dunn Steel Thursday

A seventh inning rally which netted seven runs for Contractors kept that squad unbeaten in the Old Timers loop. The pacesetters stopped Dunn Steel on Thursday, June 23, with that seven run rally.

Bud Curtis' three run homer in the first inning gave the Contractors a 3-0 lead, then five more men reached the plate in the second to make the score read Contractors 8, Dunn Steel 0. Hudson homered for Dunn Steel's initial run in the third. Steven led off the Contractor's fourth with a triple and he scored a moment later for the ninth run for the league leaders.

With the score 9-1 against them, Dunn Steel fought back to score four runs in both the fourth and fifth to tie the game 9-9 going into the sixth. Dickman and Potter featured the fourth inning spurge with two doubles, Hudson's double and Simmons' triple were big blows in the fifth inning uprising. Contractors almost broke the tie in the top of the sixth as they had two men on with two away, but Bud Curtis flied to right field Potter, who saved the day for Dunn Steel with a beautiful catch.

Contractors put the game on ice in the top of the seventh as seven men came across the plate to give the leaders a 16-9 lead. Simmons smacked a homer in this frame. After two were out in the last of the seventh, Harter singled and Simmons got on on an error by first baseman Dave Gates giving the Dunn Steel fans a faint hope. Bow-ever, Dieman ended the game with a grounder to third base man Norman.

win over Allen Industries 8-4 on Wednesday, June 22. Both teams scored two runs in the fourth and Wilson took the lead in the fifth with two runs. However, Allen came back with two runs on two hits in the sixth. Pitcher Art Jenkins' home run was the main blow of Wilson's four run rally in the seventh. The smash cleared the right center field fence, bounced on Theodore street, and bounded over a car and almost reached the railroad tracks. The blow was Jenkins' third homer of the season and his third hit of the game. Jenkins has now hit two over the fence. In addition to his slugging Jenkins was credited with the victory, an eight hitter.

Prior to the Wilson-Allen tilt Beglinger Olds gave VFW its third defeat of the season by the score of 6-4. Scarfoss went the route to gain the victory.

Dale Rorabacher's stellar seven hit pitching over Bud Wilson's Service enabled Contractors to take a game and a half lead over second place Dunn Steel in the Old Timers league Monday evening, June 27, on the high school diamond.

The lead changed hands several times before Contractors came through with a four run uprising in the seventh stanza to put the game on ice. The final score was Contractors 9, Wilsons 4. Bud Curtis connected for a home run to aid the winner's cause.

Softball League Begins Tomorrow

Another league begins operation tomorrow afternoon, Friday, July 1, when the boys softball teams commence their eight slate.

Ed Klinske's Braves will meet the Warriors tomorrow on diamond two behind the Plymouth High school and Al Larson's Bull Dogs will face the Wayne County Training school squad at that institution's diamond. All games are at 3 p.m.

Carl Pursell's Hoots have drawn a bye for tomorrow, but they will play the Braves on diamond three, Tuesday, July 5. Also the Warriors and the Bull Dogs will collide on Tuesday on diamond three.

Comprising the boys softball league this summer are five teams: Hoots, Carl Pursell: Bull Dogs, Al Larson: Warriors, Don Houghton: Braves, Ed Klinske: and the Wayne County Training school.

A clergyman says all scandal should be printed. Evidently he doesn't know the high price of newsprint.

Harleth Marshall pitched Dunn Steel to within a half game of Dehoco Monday evening by limiting the Wall Wire attack to two runs while his mates tallied ten counters for a 10-2 decision. Dunn Steel now has won five and lost one game to Dehoco, while the state champs haven't been beaten in five starts.

Dunn Steel made things easy for Marshall by tallying five runs in the first frame. By the time Wall Wire finally scored, Dunn Steel was well on its way to another victory. Glen Kisa-beth, Wall Wire's right fielder, was the only player to get two hits in the contest.

In other games Monday, South Side Merchants advanced to a tie for third by submerging Universal Power 9-3. Nagy limited the losers to three hits while chalking up the win. Incidentally two hits were home runs by Spencer and Bennett. Mathew started Universal's second inning rally by drawing a walk. Then Spencer blasted a drive over the left fielder's head for a four baser and Bennett duplicated the feat in almost the same place. After this long distance clouting Nagy stopped Universal.

Pacing South Side to its second win of the season was Walworth, who had a single, double and a triple in four attempts. Nagy helped his own cause along with a triple with Walworth on second in the first stanza.

Pushing across six runs in the last of the fifth Evans Products edged Champion Corrugated 8-7 in a wild tussle that was halted by the time limit. Champion Corrugated led 7-2 going into the last of the fifth when Evans began to hit. Featuring the wild inning was Bill Stout's triple to the right field fence and Bill Perkins' double. Perkins scored the winning run crossing the plate on a wild pitch by pitcher Smart. Maas, who was credited with the victory, struck out 12 batters and walked nine. Schelders smashed a three run homer for Champion in the initial frame.

West Brothers Halt Inkster

Another Plymouth recreation league began its season Monday, the Class E baseball loop. The Plymouth representative, West Brothers under Mike Spitz, crushed the Inkster Aces in their initial game 12-2.

Bob Norgren, slim southpaw, limited the Aces to three hits while striking out 14 batters in a seven inning battle. The West Brothers were able to collect only five hits, but they were aided by five Inkster errors.

The West Brothers are slated to meet Inkster Harrison at the Inkster park at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, July 6.

Davis and Lent Whip Firemen

Opening the Little Rock, sometimes known as the F league, season Monday afternoon on the high school diamond, the Davis and Lent nine swamped the Firemen 14-3 behind the effective three hit hurling of Dave Finney.

In winning this initial encounter Davis struck out ten of the opposition, setting Wells down four times and Jackson on three occurrences. Campbell collected two hits and Huebler one to constitute the Firemen attack. Wednesday afternoon at 3, Davis and Lent collided with Local III on the high school hardball diamond.

The Songbook of the Bible.
Lesson for July 3: Psalms 67-71.
Memory Selection: Psalms 100-12.

The Psalms claim our attention to the third quarter. The book of Psalms is one of the most familiar of the Bible, providing the language of devotion for Christians and Jews.

The "Songbook of the Bible," the Psalms were used as constantly as the hymnals of the churches. They are written in the Hebrew form of poetry, called Parallelism, which lacks rhyme and depends for poetic effect upon the balancing of the lines.

On the eve of the Fourth of July let us think on the fact that the supreme need of the present is a return of the peoples of the nations to the Lord.

Urge Plymouth Parents to Ward Off Polio Cases

Now that the Plymouth public schools have closed for the annual summer vacation and hundreds and hundreds of parents are planning vacation trips for here, there and everywhere, taking their children along with them, health officers warn parents to urge the greatest care in preventing children from becoming polio victims.

Plymouth unfortunately had two or three victims of this disease last summer. Doctors urge the greatest of care to prevent a recurrence of last summer's record.

These are the things which Plymouth parents can do, according to the Michigan Department of Health:

1. Keep your children clean, well-rested and well-fed. See that they wash their hands and faces thoroughly before eating.
2. Do not allow them to over-exert themselves or to become chilled.
3. Avoid crowds, new contacts and travel.
4. Destroy flies, rats and mice and the things they have touched.
5. Do not let your children eat food that has been left uncovered, or unwashed fruits or vegetables.
6. Give them only pasteurized milk.
7. Be sure that the water they drink, wash in, or swim in, is free from contamination.
8. Consult your physician about postponing nose and throat surgery, and your dentist about postponing tooth extraction until after the polio season.
9. Call your doctor at once if during the polio season your child develops any of the following symptoms: unexplained fever, headache, nausea, a cold, upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness. Put the child to bed and isolate him from others when any of these symptoms appear.

Early diagnosis, prompt hospitalization and proper treatment are the doctor's weapons against the disease.

It is difficult to tell when a child has become exposed to polio. Nine out of ten cases are light, unrecognized cases. This type of the disease is contagious. Adults as well as children may have the disease. Some people who appear to be well carry the virus which causes the disease. It is carried in bowel content and nose and throat discharges, or food on which insects or animals alight, may be suspected of carrying the disease.

The following encouraging things the Department of Health has to say about polio. Comparatively few people contract the disease in its paralytic form. Many children exposed to the disease have already had light cases and will not catch polio. Many will recover completely without any paralysis. Of those who have some degree of paralysis 75 to 85 per cent will recover completely or show marked improvement under adequate medical treatment.

Three Michigan agencies, the Department of Health, the University of Michigan, and Wayne University are doing poliomyelitis research which ranks high in that being done in the world. A total of 30 cases of poliomyelitis have occurred in Michigan this year. The greatest share of these cases has been in the Upper Peninsula.

While poliomyelitis cases appear the year around, they usually begin to increase in mid-June and peak in late summer, records of the Michigan Department of Health show.

Many a story gets its start at club meetings—probably the sense of "rumor" of some members.

By CARL PETERSON

For folks who have been eyeing the new $20 bills with a dubious squint, the bankers say there's nothing to worry about. The new bills have President Truman's new balcony added to the White House, the shrubbery is a little higher, four chimneys replace the two old ones and the flag now hangs at an angle. Apart from that they're as good as gold... or well, anyway they're all right. So you have nothing to worry about if you get a double sawbuck that brings the Washington scenery up to date. The only worry now is how to get a wallet full. And that's not new. When we started digging a well for water to be used for an air conditioning unit here, our two neighbors, the "Eager Beavers" of Ann Arbor Trail, that's Eger-Jackson, Inc., accused us of not paying our water bill to the city. There has been quite a bit of ribbing about that here on the Trail this week. In Port Chester, N. Y., Louis Shutt and Bertha Upp were married. That ought to be a nice quiet household. Before you leave on that Fourth of July motor trip, stop in at PETERSON DRUG, 840 W. Ann Arbor Trail, and pick up a first aid kit, you can never tell when it'll come in handy. And remember, "Accurate prescriptions our life work". Watch for this little column, we'll be around this way every week. Phone: 2080.

Local Farmers and Implement Dealers Observe National Farm Safety Week

Since this is National Farm Safety Week two local implement dealers took time out to visit local farms and point out to farmers some of the new safety features that their products are now equipped with. In conjunction with the national observance Earl Mastick discusses some of the safety items that are featured on the Allis-Chalmers tractor above left with farmer Fred Heidt, Jr., on his farm at 4101 Curtis road. Mr. Heidt who has equipped his farm largely with Mr. Mastick's implements tells the latter how handily he can change wheel spreads with the automatic changer on his tractor that eliminates all possibility of accidents while the change over is made. Seated on the tractor is 8-year-old Freddy Heidt who already this summer has dragged and disced some 80 acres for his dad with the tractor.

A. R. West of the West Brothers Implement store visited at the Korte farm at 46601 Warren road where he found three enthusiastic boosters for International Harvester equipment. Shown in the picture are left to right, Melvin and Fred Korte, Mr. West and Farmer Fred Korte. In this particular instance the discussion of safety centers around the shield which safeguards the power take-off drive which connects the tractor with the hay baler. With this arrangement there is no danger of getting clothing or anything else caught in this fast moving piece of machinery.

So important is the opening of the fishing season in Michigan that both the state health department and the Michigan Press Association issued news letters containing information about new fishing regulations and ways to protect yourself while out fishing.

The "Michigan Mirror" issued by the MPA declares that more than a million people—men, women and children—can't be wrong! Fishing in Michigan has become "big business". Nearly one-third of the million plus fishing licenses to be issued in 1949 will go to non-resident tourists. Fishing and Michigan are one-and-the-same to several hundred thousand summer travelers.

All of this is timely. The traditional bass and panfish season on lakes otherwise closed to year-round fishing is now open.

This point bears emphasis for the legislature permitted the state conservation department, beginning in 1947, to designate 20 lakes for year-round fishing. The latest lake on the experimental list is Hess lake in Newaygo county. Anglers may fish at any time, summer or winter, for bluegills, sunfish, perch, rock bass and calico bass.

The 1949 legislature weighed evidence submitted by fish management experts and voted to liberalize the rules still further. Effective Sept. 23, the six-inch size limits on panfish will be removed. The legal limit continues at 25 in any combination per day. The bluegill and sunfish season will be lengthened one month, ending March 31 instead of Feb. 28.

Why this change in thinking on conservation of fish? Year-round fishing and removal of size limits are complete reversals of the sportsman's traditional attitudes.

The answer is simple. "We have reached that stage in believing that continued stocking of young bass, perch and bluegills is not the answer to better fishing," says F. A. Westermah, chief of the fish and fisheries division, state conservation department.

"Our lakes appear to have a considerable reserve of catchable fish, not taken by present inefficient methods of angling. Our populations of warm-water fish are still not being taxed to their limit to produce. Fishermen can still take more of the crop of warm-water fish, at least of the pan fish."

The idea that fishing can be improved if more fish are removed from the lake is one of those things that confound the sportsman. At first, it doesn't seem to make sense. Then the fish management expert brings in factual proof. Tests show that most lakes have countless thousands of the young game and pan fishes. Often the fish population is so great that fish have trouble growing up to adult size. Stunting follows.

What counts is the availability of food and protective habitat. Brush shelters are placed along the shores of lakes. Trout streams have been improved by planting of 50,000 white and red pine, mountain ash, hawthorne, rosa multiflora and willow. These were planted primarily to provide shade and to prevent erosion. This work is financed by 40 cents out of fisherman's license fee.

To provide access to fishing lakes the state has acquired nearly 380 fishing sites, 261 on lakes and 118 on streams. Some land was obtained due to tax reversion; others were purchased from private owners.

Because fish ladders at dams have not proved to be entirely satisfactory, the department has transferred thousands of walleyed pike and rainbows to power dam ponds above.

Dams to provide trout ponds have been built in southern Michigan at Spring Creek near Pontiac, Sylvan Creek in the Waterloo area, and a tributary to the Dowagiac River near Sumnerville.

Noxious fish, such as carp, have been removed by netting them in 15 lakes. The waters there were stocked with trout.

While the bass and panfish prospects are steadily improving, the brook trout continues to present a problem. The pressure is greater than ever, as more fishermen turn to fly casting. Overfishing is depleting the trout population in Michigan streams.

Year-round fishing for panfish, now on a limited and experimental scale, offers the best hope for better fishing in the future.

Michigan lakes contain more panfish today than 50 years ago. If properly managed they may continue to attract thousands of summer visitors to Michigan and to provide healthful recreation for Michigan residents.

The Michigan Department of Health is also alert to the importance of the Michigan fishing season now in full bloom.

It warns the million or more of Michigan fishermen to drop your lines, baits, weights and bobbers in your tackle box and listen. You SHOULD go fishing. Pan fishing is good for a man. We have no less authority than the Michigan Department of Health.

A man needs a hobby, pleasure, and escape from routine. He needs relaxation and out-of-door exercise. The fish he catches are good for him, too, the Department said. Fishing, with its enthusiasm, anticipation, fresh air, sunshine, exercise, relaxation and good companionship, helps a man live happily and work well.

As usual, the Health department tacked on a few precautions, but they may "bring US back alive."

Check your boat to be sure it doesn't leak and that its motor is in safe working order; then don't overload it, stand up in it, or lean way out of it. Don't smoke while filling your motor or near anybody's leaky motor. If you can't swim, take along that old inner tube. Get for shore if a storm comes up.

Wear a hat, long sleeves and long trousers. They protect you from sunburn, sunstroke, and mosquitos. Maybe you'd better take along a bottle of insect repellent, too, and have a first aid kit in your car just in case somebody snags you with a casting plug or your hands get blistered.

Don't drink lake water—it's got "bugs" in it. Carry your own cool, safe supply. If you're bound to drink something stronger, drink it with your fish dinner and not while traveling to the lake or on the lake.

Rowing and hauling-in those big ones takes a strong heart. Don't overdo and don't get overexcited. Take your time coming, going and fishing.

It is better to lose time, fish and tackle than to lose your life, the Department reminded.

In Knoxville, Tennessee, Alice Emert Wells, married ten times before, returned marriage license No. 11 to the county clerk's office with an explanation: "I got cold feet."

In Nashville, Deputy Clerk Jimmy O'Connell reported that a man turned in his marriage license to the county clerk's office with an explanation: "I got cold feet."

U of D Graduates Two Local Men

Two Plymouth students were graduated from the Law school of the University of Detroit at the 66th annual commencement exercises held in the Masonic Temple in Detroit, on Wednesday, June 15.

The degrees were conferred to Clifford Manwaring of 499 Auburn street, and Duane Parkes of 300 Auburn. Mr. Parkes is a member of Gamma Eta Gamma, professional law fraternity.

The two men were members of the largest graduating class in the history of the University.

In Los Angeles, after Traffic Violator Elmer G. Noe told the court that "even though I was driving with one arm around my girl friend, everything was under control," Judge Roser A. Pfaff retorted sharply: "Young man, I was young once myself. Everything cannot be under control in those circumstances."

ELECTRIC WATER HEATERS USE ALL THE HEAT
Feel the wall of your electric water heater. Sure, it's as cool as a cucumber.
Unlike other types, all the heat generated in an electric water heater goes into heating the water—there is no wasted heat to be carried off up a flue or chimney. And the heavy insulation around the tank keeps all the heat inside where it cannot affect the temperature of kitchen or laundry. YES, many of today's engines have been stepped-up . . . they call for more powerful gasoline! Now Shell gives you the most powerful gasoline your car can use—Shell Premium—it's "activated." No other fuel can top its power in your car! This is made possible by Shell's own, specially produced power components and by Shell's own blending methods! Actually, Shell splits molecules to get more power for today's more powerful engines. So you get a gasoline that's "activated" 3 ways!
1. Activated for knockless power!
2. Activated for fast "getaway."
3. Activated for full mileage.

Solemnize Sark-Huebler Rites In Saturday Morning Service

A Saturday morning service united Miss Delores Sark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sark, and Donald L. Huebler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huebler, in marriage.

The Rev. Fr. William P. Mooney solemnized the double ring ceremony at 9 a.m. in Our Lady of Good Counsel church.

Baskets of white flowers and lighted tapers decorated the altar. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's white marquisette gown was fashioned with long fitted sleeves and a full skirt with a panel of ruffles down the front ending in a circular train. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion in place. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Mary Ann Cylk sang "Ave Maria" and "Mother At Thy Feet When Kneeling" accompanied by her mother at the organ.

Miss Jeanne Sark, as her sister's maid of honor, wore a colonial gown of pink marquisette and carried pink roses.

Miss Arlene Powers, Miss Delores Spanier and Miss Joanne

Huebler, sister of the bridegroom, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were fashioned similar to the maid of honor's. Miss Powers wore blue marquisette, Miss Spanier, green, and Miss Huebler, yellow.

Summer Wardrobe for all Occasions Is Built Around One Five-Way Suit

If you start your vacation wardrobe on a many-way suit, you won't need much else to be well dressed for any resort—and for the rest of the summer, according to fashion expert Hildegard Fillmore in a report to Plymouth women. Writing in McCall's for June, she describes a typical young-married's vacation clothes which were planned around a five-way suit designed by Stanley Wyllins:

"Our young married is a wise wife and a canny traveler. She knows how her husband hates struggling with extra bags, how he likes to see her in pretty, appropriate clothes and how grateful he is for purchases that take only a small bite out of the vacation budget.

"Instead of buying five or six elaborate sports costumes she plans her wardrobe around a five-piece iridescent cotton tweed suit designed by Stanley Wyllins, including skirt and jacket, blouse, shorts and shirt—and ready for travel, bicycling, hiking, golf or sightseeing. With this, a dancing dress and a couple of daytime dresses, she is ready for any resort. Best of all, she can wear everything she's bought for the rest of the summer.

The jacket and skirt designed by Stanley Wyllins are ideal for travel. Made of crease-resisting iridescent cotton tweed, they shed dust, are porous and cool. The sleeveless high-necked skirt and cuffed shorts are made of the same iridescent cotton as jacket and skirt above. They are Wyllins' suggestion for bicycling or hiking. An extra jersey blouse can be worn with suit skirt for the afternoon. Plunging neckline can be buttoned high.

"Quick change for the putting green: the sleeveless blouse worn for bicycling is combined with the suit skirt and accented with bright scarfs. For sightseeing our young married is cool all day in a sleeveless linen-like spun rayon dress with modest Peter Pan collar, free-moving unpressed pleats and two-tone look accented with a bright detachable cummerbund.

"For tennis she wears an insignia blazer by Stanley Wyllins with oxford cotton shorts and a sleeveless shirt. For any time, a unique sunback dress with a jacket makes it look like a suit.

"From morning to night, a bare-shouldered cotton pique, as right for cocktails as it is for picnics. It won't fade, washes wonderfully; the midriff is elasticized for fit and the stole has pockets large enough for all the contents of your purse. For evening elegance, a beautifully draped rayon jersey with stole attached to back of shirred bodice. For dinner, a crinkly nylon ankle-length dress that looks like taffeta but launders as easily as stockings. It packs like a dream, needs no pressing."

Farm Week To Be Held July 18 to 22

All the good things you have heard from your neighbors about Farm Women's Week in the past will be true again this year when it is held on the Michigan State college campus from July 18-22. Homemaker's Conference is the new name for this event this year. It was chosen because the conference is open to Plymouth farm women and those who do live in rural areas who do not farm but participate in extension groups. If any Plymouthites plan to enjoy the event this year, be sure to send your registration to Emma DuBord, home demonstration agent, before July 1.

During the conference guests will be housed in the beautiful Snyder-Phillips hall where they will have all the comforts of home, but not the responsibilities. Meals there are reported excellent. The week's program is filled with outstanding speakers and entertainers, the home agent advises. There is time for recreation and seeing all the new buildings on the Michigan State college campus.

"No matter what your interest is, you will find a class that you will enjoy taking. Everything from music to parliamentary procedure is being offered by Michigan State college staff members," Emma DuBord reports.

The actual business meeting of the Michigan Home Demonstration council will be held on Wednesday afternoon. This gives Plymouth women a chance to find out about their state organization and to meet its new and old officers.

In Syracuse, N.Y., police found a stolen watch in a pawnshop, then set out to find Samuel Stewart, who had reported it missing 22 years ago.

Successful Parenthood

MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

RECENTLY we saw a month-old baby christened and she seemed to be thoroughly enjoying the experience. She snuggled into her father's arms during the service, watching his face intently as if sure that he would tell her all about it some day. Later she allowed herself to be transferred to the minister's arms and preserved a sweet solemnity during the baptism. Then there were pictures to be taken and friends to admire her and the baby continued to be adorably good all through her first public appearance.

What lay back of this serenity in so young an infant? First, she was a most welcome child. All during the months before she was born her parents loved the baby. They thought of the child as a living part of their family from the first, and the father showed almost as much interest as the mother.

Then, despite the uncomfortable weeks of waiting, the baby was allowed to take her own time about being born. And most important, she was born a healthy child, with the added advantage that the mother is nursing her baby. Shortly before leaving for the church the baby had had an unharmed nursing period. And the parents didn't linger with their friends at the christening party as long as they might once have done—nor did they feel martyred that they must get the baby home for another calm nursing period before bedtime.

In other words, during these first few months baby comes first! Later, she will fit into family life and be more content with a smaller share of attention because her wants are being generously and lovingly supplied now without effort on her part—a short but necessary extension of prenatal dependence.

This baby's evident liking for her father also augurs well for making good adjustments to weaning, eating solid food and other first and sometimes fearful steps in altering the complete dependence on mother. For any baby needs a different but equally loving companionship waiting for him at a time when these first separations from mother might otherwise make the child feel deserted.

For a baby born into a family where there are older children, a devoted brother or sister can also be of help in teaching the baby to love someone besides his mother. And what bliss it is to a girl or boy to have the family baby turn to him at times with outstretched little hands in preference to the parents! Not only is the baby growing emotionally, but this forecast of the joy of parenthood is an important part of the older child's development.

A final word about a baby's feeding—nursing an infant when he seems hungry, even if the schedule isn't rigidly adhered to, works best. Though there is a plan to the feeding periods, the baby isn't wakened in order to be fed on the dot, and if he cries before the hour, he is offered food. If he falls asleep before he has taken sufficient milk, mother should remember this and offer him a second helping when he awakens an hour or so later.

Food Storage Prevents Spoilage

Those canned foods the Plymouth homemaker has worked so hard to prepare deserve good storage space to prevent spoilage.

Good storage space, according to Olevia C. Meyer, extension home management specialist at Michigan State college, is cool, dry and dark. Insulation and ventilation will help keep the storage cool in hot weather and protect against freezing in cold weather.

Ventilation helps to cool the storage and ventilators should be located at the bottom and top of the food storage. Shutters make it possible to open or close the ventilators as needed.

Food storage may be either a cabinet or storage room, depending on the amount and kind of food and the space available. It should be located near the canning center which may be the kitchen or basement. Cabinet type storage is often best suited for the kitchen.

Cabinets with inside depth of 12 inches are best and two rows of jars can be placed on each shelf. A cabinet with an inside depth of six inches will take care of one row of fruit jars.

Storage rooms usually are best for basement use. At least two square feet of floor space should be allowed to provide room for one person to enter and set cans on the shelves or remove them. You can plan the amount of shelf space needed if you will allow one foot of 12-inch shelf space for each five cans of any size. Allow 20 feet of shelf space for 100 cans.

Top shelves should not be more than 72 inches above the floor. If shelves are more than three or four feet long they should be supported at 32-inch intervals. Place canned meats on the lower shelves, vegetables next, and fruits near the top.

Good advice: Do today's work well and forget about what tomorrow may bring.

Former Plymouth Girl Honored

Jean Elizabeth Stever, a member of the graduating class of Grosse Pointe Country Day school, is the Review's "Young American of the Month" for May for her outstanding contributions to the school and to the community as a scholar and a leader in extra curricular activities.

Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Stever, formerly of Plymouth, and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stever of Sheldon road.

For achieving the highest scholastic record in science subjects during her high school course, Jean was awarded the "Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award Medal." She is also the recipient of the coveted Betty Ellis Cup for leadership and sportsmanship.

Winners of the Honorary Science Award are eligible to compete for scholarships at the University of Rochester, valued at $1,500 each. Though Jean is qualified to apply for the scholarship, she plans to enter Denison in September.

EASY DOES IT

WHEN COOLING a cake, place it on a rack and underneath the rack, place absorbent paper towels so they will absorb moisture from the cake and not make the side underneath soggy.

If you are making ice cream with fruit or berries, crush these thoroughly before folding into the cream or custard mixture. If they are left in pieces of any size, they will ice as the ice cream freezes and be rather unpalatable.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Frozen Chicken Salad (Serves 4-6)

- 1 1/2 cup crushed pineapple
- 1 1/2 cups cold, diced chicken
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1 cup salad dressing

Mix together lightly the pineapple, chicken and pecans. Whip the cream and fold in the salad dressing. Add this mixture to the chicken and freeze in refrigerator tray until firm. Serve in lettuce cups, with additional dressing, if desired.

Meat balls will be fluffier if you use hot, instead of cold milk in which to moisten the crumbs. The meat balls will also be lighter and more tender.

Crumbs will stick to chops and outlets much better if these are rolled in flour first, then eggs, then crumbs. Let stand a little while if possible, too, before frying so the fat does not spatter.

An easy way to glaze ham is made quickly by mixing 1/4 cup currant jelly with 2 tablespoons horseradish. Spread over the top of the ham and let the oven do the rest!

To preserve cheddar type cheese, cover the cut surface with paraffin. When slicing, use the paraffined end for a "lid."

Do not cut, grind or slice cooked meat until it's ready to use. It will keep better in one piece.

Poultry should be drawn and washed before refrigeration. This, too, keeps better in one piece. Even if you are going to fry chicken, cut in pieces just before preparing it.

Paper plates that are pliable are excellent for use when sifting dry ingredients several times. This saves washing bowls and are much easier to use than utensils, since they can be bent right down into the sifter.

In Glendale, Calif., Robert W. Dan pleaded guilty to ramming his 18-year-old car into 21 new 1949 automobiles parked on the street, then explained: "I wanted to see how easy those big long panels pushed in."

Red-Cross Nutrition Aids

A complete vacation from her job is almost impossible for a Plymouth homemaker to manage, but some careful planning and an adjustment of the usual routine allows her to get some extra free time. The whole family will be better for some change from the regular year-round schedule.

With warm weather making outdoor dinners more fun than those eaten in the dining room, Plymouth homemakers have a chance to practice a few cookery short-cuts. You know elaborate meals containing many different dishes aren't necessary to keep the family well-fed. The housewife can do the job with comparatively few, well-chosen and prepared foods.

A meal-in-a-dish, for example is a tempting and easy way to serve one or two vegetables, a starch food and the body-building protein (meat, cheese, fish or egg), which we like to get into each dinner. Suit the combination to the temperature of the day, and the serving method planned.

A thoroughly chilled salad will stay crisp and cold for a picnic, if the bowl is wrapped in many layers of newspaper—over waxed paper or a plastic covering, first. Treat a casserole filled with a savory baked mixture or a hearty chowder in the same way, and the family will eat the contents almost as hot as when taken from the stove.

Here are a few easy dinner menus suggested by the Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross. They're packed with all the good things needed for protecting the health of the family, and they're tempting to the appetite. All of them lend themselves to out-door dining, at home or in the park.

Big Weekend At Walled Lake Park

Patriotism and pleasure will be the all-star combination for Walled Lake Amusement park this coming weekend, July 3-4. The patriotic touch will be provided with spectacular fireworks displays Sunday and Monday nights. In addition to the fireworks displays, Walled Lake park will feature amusements, picnic facilities, and dancing to the music of Tommy Carlyn and his orchestra in the New Casino ballroom.

The entire park will be gayly decorated with flags, bunting and streamers for the holiday occasion. Bathing, speed boats and row boats will be available along with many other attractions, including roller skating. Tables and benches are available for family and picnic parties.

How to Swim and Live Afterwards

Planning to go swimming—or take a boat ride? Sure you are—as nearly every person living in and around Plymouth goes somewhere along lakes and rivers to enjoy at least a part of their vacation time.

The Michigan Department of Health tells you how you can go swimming, ride in a row boat and enjoy vacations around a lake and not get drowned.

It points out that a dozen or more people were drowned in Michigan the first week period of June vacations.

"The people who drowned were just ordinary folks—a child wading in a river, another who stumbled into a deep channel, a couple whose boat capsized, a lad who dove into a shallow creek, a woman who fell out of a boat," the Department said.

"Observing the ordinary swimming and boating precautions may save your life or the life of your child," it added.

Swim only at a safe, guarded beach, during daylight hours. Never swim alone or after dark. Do not swim in unfamiliar or swift waters, nor dive into water of unknown depth. Do not rush or dive headlong into cold water.

Wait two hours after meals before you swim and then do not swim until exhausted or chilled. If you must race, race toward shore.

Swimming, diving or boating, don't show off, and above all, "no horse play!"

Be sure the person who takes your boat out can handle it. Do not overload the boat, and do not rock it. Remain seated aboard small boats.

If you cannot swim, wear a lifejacket or take a life preserver or old inner tube along with you.

Carry oars in motor boats. Carry an extra shear pin for the propeller. Avoid the swell of larger boats. Stay out of swift currents.

Last year, 289 people drowned in Michigan waters. Sixty-five per cent of the drownings occurred during the summer months. Six out of seven of those who drowned were men and boys.

Two thirds of the men and boys who drowned were under 30 years of age with the greater number in the 15 to 30 age group.

Two thirds of the women and girls drowned were under 15 years of age.

Lakes took the lives of 77 persons; rivers, 75; boating accidents, 75 persons, and quarries and miscellaneous places, 62 persons.

Dale Carnegie

N. W. LIEBERMAN of Brooklyn, N. Y., thinks I am wrong when I assert that one should never say, "No, you're wrong." He thinks there are times when a man should be told definitely that he is wrong.

Well, note that I didn't say you must always agree with a man, though I did say for you not to say, "No, you're wrong." It is the phrasing that is important. If you are tactful, careful in your manner, you can say practically anything to a man without offending or even ruffling him.

Dr. Lieberman says—and I am sure that you will agree with him, as I do—that there is an art in saying no, and this art is based on the oldest law of human relationships—respect for the other fellow.

D. Carnegie

But let's let Dr. Lieberman tell his own version:

"When someone comes to me with an idea," says Dr. Lieberman, "I ask him to spill it, and as soon as possible I agree with some minor point of his proposition. Then I ask him to come back after a few days or a week, when we both will have had time to think over the matter. If, when he returns, my answer is still no, I say no, but I give reasons for my conclusion, and I attempt to raise his own self-esteem by suggesting a substitute idea not too far removed from his own."

"Before I end the interview, I praise him for the value of his idea and ask his opinion about some other matter about which I know him to be well informed."

You will note that Dr. Lieberman tactfully refrains from arguing; that he is honest in his treatment, and that he shows the man the respect that everyone craves. And you can be sure that Dr. Lieberman has many more patients than he would have if he put up an argument with them on matters in which they are not wholly in accord.

If he shouted, "No, you're wrong!" when they did not agree, he would be sure to offend the sensibilities of some of those patients, with the result that they would not care to have further association with him.

So, you see, after all, Dr. Lieberman and I do agree.

"We Can't Bake Like Mother,
But Mother Likes Our Baking"

BABSON Discusses Security Vs. Opportunity

Whether we maintain a healthy, competitive Free Economy or drift toward a Great White Fatherly State will not be decided in Washington. It is being decided at the crossroads of your town and mine—today! Hence, this is my July fourth message.

America and Opportunity
The business of freedom of enterprise is your business and mine. Every so often, I hear an industrial bigwig tell our youth that there are no longer the frontiers there in his day. The success—and fortunes—they say, are things of the past. This I do not believe, but too many of our youth do. For example, a college junior was given the opportunity to learn a whole lot about merchandising during his three-month summer vacation selling on commission for a nationally reputable concern. He was guaranteed one hundred dollars per month, plus transportation, room and board. His reaction: "I better join the 52-20

Club. I could get $80 a month from that and live at home with my folks, and I wouldn't have to do anything!"

Chaps like these, both industrialists and students, are to be found at the crossroads in your town and mine. I am concerned about them because, if their intentions are good, their preparation for economic life in our competitive free economy is faulty.

Our Kids and Our Economy
I was severely jolted the other day when an associate of mine spoke before a young people's assembly. He tried to find a point of departure so the youngsters would know what he was talking about. He asked how many remembered the last business depression. Not a hand was raised. He asked how many could tell him what happened in 1937—no one! For them life began with Pearl Harbor. They know not for what July fourth, is celebrated.

Here, then, are kids who grew up under a war economy. Everything has been assured them. The generation before grew up under the N.Y.A. and C.C.C., and then escaped into the arms of the armed forces. Has our youth lost touch with the things that made America great? Our Government should not over-emphasize "Security" for the individual. Instead, opportunity should be promised. From what I hear of the other side of the ocean, those who seek Security usually wake up within the "Security" of a heavy iron curtain! It takes immeasurably more sweat, toil, tears, courage, and character to remain free than to become a slave.

Educating for Freedom
Labor circles, left wing groups, and the like, are all telling their story. Whom do industrialists groom to speak for management at conventions, high schools, on the radio, at the Parent-Teachers Association? These are golden opportunities to educate at the grass roots. The busy businessman has too long muffed this chance to educate for opportunities. Hence, several huge corporations I know have recently set up new Public Relations Departments to try to recoup their positions in this eleventh hour.

When I graduated from college, there was but one automobile for every 9500 people in the United States. Today, every five people have an automobile. Then, no families had radios. Today, 95% of all American families have radios! This was made possible not by promising Security but by promising opportunity. America became great by an ever-present awareness of our spiritual and moral heritage. July fourth, celebrates the spiritual belief in the individual and a realization that each of us has not only rights but also has responsibilities.

Higher Taxes Not Needed
All President Truman needs to balance the Federal Budget is to assure more freedom and less security—to youth, wage workers and employers. Then initiative will return, employment will increase, stock markets will rise and once again the Federal Government will have a surplus without any tax increases.

Under the watchful eye of quiz master Tom Moore, the new audience participation show presents ten contestants each of a different vocation or profession, who have been previously selected from the studio audience, and each contestant attempts to prove who is smartest . . . a taxi driver, a lawyer or a banker

One of the contestants, designated by emcee Moore, is asked to select an opponent he feels he can best in the brain twister quiz. A round of questions, perhaps pitting a plumber against a business executive, is posed to the two competitors with the winner receiving a prize and then selecting a second opponent, etc. until all opposition is eliminated . . . The grand winner is naturally the smartest contestant of the evening.

An additional opportunity is offered the grand winner at the conclusion of the show when that person is given a chance to answer the "super brain twister," posed by a mysterious masked character known only as "the Brain."
