TIN-CAN MARRIAGES.
 Horn-tootin', tin-can rattling automobiles during the past two or three weeks parading for hours through the streets of Plymouth have made a mockery of several wedding ceremonies.

If the participants of these tin-can wedding affairs could only hear the disgusting remarks of people along the streets, there wouldn't be any more of these foolish, insipid, horn-tootin' parades up and down the streets of Plymouth.

In many cities similar affairs are made traffic violations and if the practice does not come to an end in Plymouth soon, it might be well to enact local legislation to prevent future displays of crack-pot mockery.

No one can or would object to "Just Married" signs on cars with old shoes attached, but when it comes to disrupting traffic and continual horn-tooting, that is something different and it should be stopped.

IS CONNECTICUT A HEATHEN STATE?

Down in Connecticut, according to newspaper dispatches, a patriotic, loyal American woman withheld a regular contribution she had been making to a community cultural club because she said she did not care to give financial aid to two alleged entertainers whose names have been associated with stink-bombers who are classed as "un-Americans," the entertainers having been booked for an appearance before this so-called cultural club.

The alleged entertainers, under an old Connecticut law, filed suit for damages. It appears that in that state if such a suit is filed, those starting the litigation can tie up all of the funds and property of the person being sued until the suit has been tried and settled. In this case it even involved the home of the patriotic American woman. Newspaper investigations revealed the fact that this patriotic woman has been forced to appeal to friends for aid because she did something that she thought was for the best interests of her country and OUR country.

Looking at the situation from a distance, one just naturally is forced to ask, has one of our Original Thirteen states become so thoroughly saturated with foreignism that it has become a heathen state?

CONGRATULATIONS — EDITOR HUCKLE.

Fifty years as a newspaper editor—half a century—a period longer than the average man lived until the last generation—is the accomplishment of Editor Thomas O. Huckle of The Cadillac Evening News. Twenty-three of these years have been spent as editor and publisher of The News.

In commemoration of this long record of PUBLIC service, a service far and above in importance to that rendered by the average public official, leading citizens of his home city were guests at a banquet recently in Cadillac.

One of the speakers declared that it was the duty of every editor to "go out and preach the gospel of your town" as a minister would preach the Holy Gospel. And that is just what Editor Huckle has done for more than half a century. May the years to come be most kind to a very worthy, fighting editor — and he's been a real one, there is no question about that.

TRUMAN CROWD HOARDING EGGS.

So the Truman crowd down in Washington thinks it for the better interests of the country to hoard eggs and let them spoil rather than letting the price fall a bit—thereby giving Tom, Dick and Harry who work for a living a chance to buy eggs they cannot now afford to purchase.

There's a congressman from New York state who thinks that the government's scheme of hoarding eggs "smells" and smells badly. He's Congressman Gwinn from Westchester county, down around New York city.

"The great United States government is collecting eggs," he stated recently. "So far this year, it has stored two billion eggs—to keep them from being eaten."

The Westchester Representative declared that the eggs are being stored in a huge limestone cave in Kansas.

"The government used to hoard and store raw eggs," he explained, "but they got to smelling badly. So, Mr. Truman ordered them powdered. He could store three powdered eggs in the space taken by one raw egg."

"Storage space is jammed, packed. Even Senator Thomas, ardent admirer of the Socialist welfare state, wondered why we couldn't bury them in a hole instead of paying for processing, drying and transporting them to warehouses."

"Does anyone really believe that farmers can benefit from this fantasy? Who does benefit by hunger and 90-cent eggs? If this is good news, why doesn't Mr. Truman boast of the eggs he is hoarding and spoiling?"

"Farmers grow food for human consumption. No farmer raises cattle or corn or wheat to build pyramids out of them. Nor does he produce eggs to drop in a hole."

"Of course the farmers still get their government checks regularly. But where do the checks come from? The welfare state doesn't make any money. It simply reaches out and takes it from the families who cannot buy eggs."

"What always happens when state socialism takes over the daily affairs of the people?"

"Our own government's hoard of two billion eggs tells us clearly. It's happening also to potatoes, peanuts, cotton, flax, milk, butter, soybeans, wheat, corn, rice, wool, tobacco, oats, rye, prunes and raisins."

"We learned about the eggs only by accident—because there is no more storage space. The smell of something rotten in the plan itself could not be concealed any longer."

PURGING A NATION—WHAT IT IS LIKE.

So that some of the "liberals" and others who think that maybe there is something to this Communist thing after all, The Plymouth Mail is reprinting in full an article from a recent issue of The United States News which shows how the Communists once they get control of a country, purge it of those who do not see eye to eye with the Communies.

Read this article carefully—and if you have some neighbor who does not take The Plymouth Mail, tear out this clipping and give it to him to read. You will be doing your country a good turn by doing so.

The article follows:

An American, sitting quietly at home, can get the "feel" of what it is like to live in a Communist country through a report on what is happening in Czechoslovakia.

The purge now in progress is designed to wipe out the middle class. Bigger businessmen, corporation executives, bankers, the wealthy people, top officials who opposed Communism were dealt with at the start, when Communists seized the central Government 20 months ago.

Now it is the turn of the shopkeeper on the corner, the little businessman, the secretary of the luncheon club, the farmer down the road with the new barn and the big silo. Communist revolution had seemed pretty remote to most Czechoslovaks. But now it is taking away men who are known and respected by their neighbors and sending them away to labor camps. The country is entering the final phase of the communization of a people who once were free.

There is a feeling of hopelessness. Communists, who had received only 38 per cent of the country's free votes, now hold all the power. A people proud of their individual and national rights to independence know that their constitution, based on the American Constitution, is gone. In its place there is a Communist constitution, Communist laws and the Communist police.

Arrests are not reported in the newspapers or over the radio. Words once written and spoken for the public are controlled completely by Communists. But the average citizen knows that the Communists are arresting people, seizing their property. The average citizen knows this because, at this stage of the Communist "revolution," the average citizens are the ones being arrested.

At the corner store, the grocer and his family are gone. They were taken away at night, silently, by police. The store now belongs to the Government and is run by a man nobody in the neighborhood knows. Nobody tarries to talk to the new grocer as they did to the old one. People are afraid of the new grocer, who is a Communist. They are afraid they might say something and be sent to a labor camp, like the old grocer.

Local Women Enthusiastic Over Goodwill Industries' Fashion Show

Fund Officials Confident That Goal Will be Met

Optimism is running high with officials of the Plymouth United Fund drive that the 1949 campaign will go over the top and the city's $11,000 goal will be reached when all final tabulations are made.

Last word on the present total amount already turned in indicates that $8,500 has been collected by volunteer solicitors in the city. Many organizations and individual donations which were made last year have yet to be turned in.

Counting these donations and money which has been collected through call-backs in the residential areas of the city, campaign officials are confident that Plymouth will shoulder its full financial responsibility in this combined drive.

Although the drive is officially over today, residents of the community who have not made their donations to the fund are urged to mail their checks to the Plymouth United Community fund at Post Office Box 356 so that all tabulations can be made by the first of next week.

Banks And Post Office Close For Armistice Day

Plymouth's banks and post office will be closed tomorrow, Friday, in observance of Armistice day. Also closing for the day will be the local offices of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission.

There will be no rural or city mail deliveries and all windows in the post office will be closed for the day. Because of reduced train service to and from Plymouth, mail must be in the post office by 2 p.m. tomorrow if it is to leave the city before Saturday.

Open Candy Business

From hobby to business—that's the story of Mr. and Mrs. George Kennitz of 3323 Ravine drive, whose ad in this week's Plymouth Mail heralds their homemade candies. Fudge, peanut brittle and cream wafers, the three kinds of sweets they now offer for sale, are made from special candymaker's formulas in their kitchen.

Due to Mr. Kennitz' "sweet tooth," they started making candy as a hobby two years ago. Soon friends and relatives began to praise their candy and encouraged them to launch just such a commercial venture as they have now started.

Speaker at the Forum in the First Methodist church this Sunday at 11:55 will be Rev. Sheldon L. Rahn, director of the Social Service department of the Detroit Council of Churches.

Circle No. 4 of the First Presbyterian church will meet Monday evening, November 14 at 8 p.m. in the church.

Young People of England See a Hopeless Future

"Our poorest of the poor are so much better off than the average person in England that there is no comparison. What they have in England is something that we do not want anything like it in America," Major Everett Davis, of the Salvation Army told members of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday.

Only a few months ago, after spending more than 18 months in that country, he returned to his native America alarmed at the plight the English people have brought upon themselves.

"Don't tell me anything about socialized medicine. I

All-State Award to Pilgrim Prints

The highest award a school paper can get was presented to Plymouth High school's Pilgrim Prints at the annual press conference for school publications at Michigan State college. The newspaper received the "All State Honor Award for Class B Schools" at the conference from Professor Albert A. Applegate, head of the school of journalism at MSC.

The award honors last year's staff and Miss Elizabeth McDonald, high school advisor to the paper, who share the credit in receiving such high recognition. Ted Thrasher was editor last year; Joe Miller, assistant editor; Ronald Hees, sports editor; Jack Gage, photography editor; Al Larson, feature editor; and Nancy Walton was business manager.

The award cites the Pilgrim Prints' "Faithful and pre-eminent attention to the ideals of high school journalism—through the reporting of school life, correct and vigorous presentation of news, editorial honesty and courage, editorial mechanical display, ingenuity, resourcefulness and service to the school and community."

It was the third award to be given last year's "Pilgrim Prints." The school paper is printed by the Plymouth Mail.

Methodist Men's Club

On November 17, the First Methodist Men's club will hold their regular monthly dinner at the church at 6:30 p.m.

The program for this meeting will be "Television Highlights", a lecture demonstration, presented by William Banks of the Michigan Bell Telephone company. This is a fast moving program built around special laboratory equipment, with which the speaker illustrates, in easy-to-understand terms, some of the characteristics and phenomena of television.

America Stands Only Few Votes From Socialism

"Only a handful of votes in the lower house of congress keeps our country from becoming the same sort of socialized government that has brought disaster and distress to the great country of England," declared Congressman George A. Dondero, while in Plymouth a few days ago on a hurried visit to this part of his district.

"Republicans, aided by a substantial number of southern Democrats are standing as a solid wall against the socialization of our form of government. Much damage has already been done, but the progress of this anti-American way of life has been stopped for the present at least," he added.

"When people get something for nothing—with the other fellow paying for it as they are in England—it is easy to understand the problem congressman, who believe in the American way of life, with its independence and its opportunities, have to deal with."

Congressman Dondero is putting forth an effort to find out the exact public sentiment in this part of Michigan on many of the questions before congress. He states that he is highly pleased to know that there are so many good citizens who still believe in America and the American way of life. He hopes to visit Plymouth again before congress resumes sessions in January.

Rotary to Entertain Team

More Resignations More Appointments

City Commission Names J. Rusling Cutler Asst. City Attorney

Resignations, appointments and a list of more than 30 routine problems came before the city commission for consideration at its regular meeting Monday night.

It was evident from the way the commission conducted its business that the Mayor and every member desires to have the new governing body of the city work in complete harmony, giving careful consideration to every question that comes before it.

Robert Jolliffe, appointed a member of the city planning commission, resigned his new appointment. He had meanwhile been elected chairman of the planning commission. Mr. Jolliffe's resignation was accepted with regrets. The commission expressed their appreciation for the excellent leadership which Mr. Jolliffe had provided.

Appointments of Sidney Strong, former chairman of the planning commission, Dr. Floyd Armstrong, Frank Toncray and Lee Gaeke to fill existing vacancies on the planning commission and the one caused by Mr. Jolliffe's resignation were confirmed by the city commission. Both Mr. Strong and Mr. Toncray will serve for three-year terms. A two-year term of office will be filled by Dr. Armstrong while Mr. Gaeke will be on the commission for one year.

The resignation of W. S. Bake, now a resident of Northville, from the Board of Appeals was tabled by the commission with the idea of giving Mr. Bake time for reconsideration of his move. A three to two vote confirmed the appointment of J. Rusling Cutler to the newly-created position of assistant city attorney. Mr. Cutler will be in charge of all violations of city ordinances pertaining to the police department. Commissioners Hammond and Fisher voted against his appointment.

E. C. Hough was named to the Cemetery Board of Trustees to succeed himself by Mayor Richmond. His appointment was confirmed by the commission. The city attorney advised the commission that the health officer and the Board of Review would hold over to April without further appointment.

Felician Sisters Will Celebrate Diamond Jubilee

Anniversary celebrations of the Felician Sisters at Madonna college, on November 22 will mark the Diamond Jubilee of their American founding. His Eminence Edward Cardinal Mooney, with bishops, monsignori, the clerg, friends and benefactors of the Sisters will take part in the observance of the 75th anniversary.

The opening of the jubilee celebrations is scheduled for November 13 and 14 with "The Dream of a Maiden", the dramatized life of Mother Mary Angela, foundress. An all-high school choral group of 150 will render the songs, music for which was composed by Sister Mary Ceelia, Fel. O.S.F. The cast has been chosen from students of St. Stanislaus High school in Detroit.

The Felician Sister's community, with 4183 present members, began its American foundation with five members who arrived from Cracow, Poland, to Polonia, Wisconsin, on November 20, 1874, and began community life on November 21, since kept as Founder's day. A school was immediately opened and after a few years a home for orphan girls. In 1880 a new convent was dedicated in Detroit, on St. Aubin and Canfield avenues and became the headquarters for the Detroit province.

Schools multiplied and membership grew rapidly so that a new province was organized in (Continued on page 6)

Christmas Seals to be Sent Out on November 21

Christmas seals with the double-barred cross in red will, for the 43rd year, be sent to Plymouth residents through the mail starting November 21, Mrs. J. R. Witwer, chairman of the city's seal sale, announced today. She stated that the letters with the seals will be post-marked in Detroit.

"Because of postal regulations it is necessary for the TB and Health society to handle the mailing in this way," Mrs. Witwer advised. "But your contributions help finance the X-ray surveys which have been sponsored here in Plymouth and also rehabilitation service at Maybury sanatorium and Herriman Keifer hospital, education work and research."

The TB and Health society of Wayne county will not benefit from the Torch Drive. The United Foundation in a statement to the society wrote: "The United Foundation approves the seal sale. We did not invite the TB and Health society to join our Torch Drive because it in no way conflicts with United Foundation's program."

"Special campaigns not in conflict with United Foundation include Goodfellows, Pappy Day, the seal drives and building fund drives."

To provide even more X-ray service, advised Mrs. Witwer, the society plans to use some of the double-barred cross Christmas seal funds to purchase X-ray equipment.

"One dollar for each sheet of seals you receive will help bring more free X-ray service into our community," explained Mrs. Witwer. Wayne county needs this equipment if we are to find all of our TB. Buy and use these double-barred cross Christmas seals."

Approval of an application to the Wayne County Drain commission for the laying out and designation of a drainage district in the south part of the city to serve the George A. Smith school area was given by the Plymouth city commission Monday night.

The application, signed by the interested property owners, calls for the planning of an intercept sewer to be laid from Riverside park and extending almost to the property of the Simpson street school property.

After action by the county drain commission, the plans for the sewer lay-out will be returned to Plymouth's governing body for further investigation, study and action.

New Front For First National

No, that is not a new building one sees on the south side of Penniman avenue—it's simply the First National bank building with an entirely new front.

Unless one had noticed the work as it has progressed during the past two or three weeks, the passerby would declare that the building was an entirely new one as the entire front, big window and doorway have been completely done over in an attractive imitation granite block composition of metal and porcelain.

The new front is not only a decided improvement for the bank but it also helps the general appearance of the street. It is understood that another business on Penniman avenue is soon to have a new front, but plans for this improvement will be announced later.

Girl Scouts Honor Fathers at Dinner

A full program of entertainment featuring a talk by the Rev. Henry Walch marked the Livonia Girl Scouts' first Father-and-Daughter banquet last Tuesday evening, November 1. A capacity crowd of 200 daughters, fathers and guests were there and apparently everybody had a wonderful time.

The Rev. G. MacDonald Jones of Newburg's First Methodist church, pronounced the invocation at the predicted hour of 6:30 p.m., and to the hot roast beef dinner followed immediately.

Led by Donald Dimond, of the Livonia Township school system, and with Rupert Otto, assistant superintendent of schools, as accompanist, the audience enjoyed community singing while things were being squared away for the evening's entertainment.

A warm welcome to all present by Mrs. Russell Wendt, president of the Livonia Girl Scout council, officially opened the after-dinner program. Lester Anderson, who is chairman of the banquet committee had organized the entire evening's plan, expressed his thanks to the various organizations who contributed their special services to help make the program possible.

Robert C. Carlson of Rosedale Gardens, took over as master of ceremonies as the program moved into its father-and-daughter activities. Susan Lettich raised a toast to the dads present, and George Page responded with a toast to the young ladies. Norma and Linda Page sang a group of songs. Judy Ann Lockhart had prepared a special reading, and Irvin Egnson and his daughters, Christine and Linnea, presented a skit.

Nyle Jessup, the magician, not only pulled innumerable handkerchiefs from a bright new can, but then proceeded to pull innumerable cans from the folds of the final handkerchief. Mr. Carlson then introduced the speaker of the evening, the Rev. Henry Walch, of Plymouth's First Presbyterian church. Presented with a light touch, his talk summarized the pleasant relationship so apparent on this occasion: "Be a daughter your father will be proud of; be a father your daughter will be proud of." The benediction then was pronounced by the pastor of Hope Chapel, Rev. Forkner.

The very evident success of the banquet and its program was such that the Girl Scout council is planning to have one again during Juliette Low week next year.

One of Plymouth's largest building projects in the history of the community, 144 new homes in Leinbach Roach's $800,000 Green Meadows subdivision are slated for next year, according to Arthur W. Stevens, sales manager for the firm.

Foundation work requiring use of concrete is being rushed so that it can be finished before cold weather sets in.

Permits have been taken out by the company for the construction of 144 new homes. Eighty are now completed and new Plymouth residents have already moved into 50 of the homes. All but three of them have been sold.

Word from Plymouth Township officials indicates that the possibility of having a playground for the children in the Green Meadows area is now being studied and considered.

Play Production Topic of Speech

Mrs. Winifred Bixler, former director of dramatics at Plymouth High school, spoke on the presentation and direction of plays at the November 2 meeting of the Plymouth Theater Guild held at the Veterans Memorial center. She gave members of the Guild much encouragement in their efforts to bring to this community, entertainment from the legitimate theater.

Several visitors present at the meeting made application for membership. There are still a few more openings left and the group gladly welcomes anyone who is interested in any phase of the theater. The Guild is now working on a three-act comedy to be presented in the near future.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Doris Lewis and Mrs. Charlotte Gaffield.

December 12 is the date of the next meeting which will be held at 8 p.m. in the Veterans Memorial center.

Ardis Long to Sing at Concert

Ardis Curtiss Long, soprano, will sing with the Plymouth Symphony orchestra at their next concert on Sunday, November 20 in the high school auditorium at 4 p.m. Once again the concert soloist is an artist from Plymouth.

Mrs. Long is a graduate from Plymouth High school and sings with the Plymouth Methodist church choir. She is a voice student of Mrs. Edna O'Conner, with whom she started lessons at the age of 10. She has sung opera with the Opera Founders Guild in Detroit under the direction of Stuart Piggins, and was a member of the Ann Arbor Choral union for four years. The forthcoming concert will mark the third time Ardis Curtiss Long has appeared with the Plymouth Symphony orchestra as a soloist. Last season she sang with them at the Redford Union concert and at Belleville.

Mrs. Long is a versatile musician. In addition to singing, she also plays the piano and the violin. She studied violin with Emil Racz, now plays in the violin section of the Plymouth orchestra, and was their concertmaster for the first season.

In Sunday's concert, Ardis will sing the Romanza from Cavalleria Rusticana by Mascagni and Il Bacio (The Kiss) by Arditi.

The program to be presented November 20 by the Plymouth Symphony Society, Inc. is open to the public and is as follows: Symphony No. 1 in B flat Major, Schumann.

Andante un poco maestoso; allegro molto vivace.

Larghetto.

Scherzo: Molto vivace; Trio I: Molto piu vivace; Trio II: Allegro animato e grazioso. Intermission.

Suite (string orchestra), Rameau.

Romanza (from Cavalleria Rusticana) Mascagni.

Il Bacio, Arditi. Ardis Curtiss Long, soloist.

Rhapsody Roumaine, Enesco.

All music lovers are cordially invited to attend. There will be a tea for members of the Plymouth Symphony Society and their guests immediately following the concert at the Veterans Memorial center.

Tea Will Honor Martha Griffiths

On the birthday of a remarkable woman recognized as a great leader in the movement for equality of rights for men and women, another great woman, the Honorable Martha Griffiths, will be honored at an afternoon tea, Wednesday, November 16, from 2 until 4 p.m. at Hope Chapel.

Like Elizabeth Cady Stanton, who wrote the famous "Declaration of Sentiments" and "Resolutions" presented to the first "Woman's Rights" convention in 1848, Mrs. Griffiths is also a pioneer in state legislation for equal rights. She is a member of the state house of representatives and a practicing lawyer.

Another guest of the day is Mrs. Margaret Price, newly appointed chairman of the Michigan Youth Commission and a member of the State Welfare Commission.

The Alice Paul party of the National Woman's party invites everyone interested to visit with the special guests at the Martha Griffiths Day tea on Wednesday afternoon, November 16.

Mayor Tackles Snow Problem

Sidewalks swept clean of snow are in sight of the approaching winter of 1949-50 for the residents of Plymouth! The ball started rolling last Monday night when Mayor Richwine appointed Commissioner Tibbitts as a committee of one to investigate the city's sidewalk cleaning situation.

Just before the appointment was made, the Mayor commented that through his own personal study, he learned that a small tractor now in the possession of the city can be used for snow clearance with a few minor changes.

Commissioner Tibbitts will report his findings at the next regular meeting of Plymouth's city commission for its action.

The piccolo is the highest pitched of all musical instruments.

ON CAPITOL HILL

NEWS and COMMENT FROM CONGRESSMAN GEORGE A. DONDERO

CIO President Phil Murray says the steel strike primarily is for pensions, as a measure of social security for steel workers. Some capital wags have been saying that to Murray's mind "a raise by any other name would smell as sweet." Whatever its basic reason, whether social security or a concealed wage raise, the strike means little sense when other factors are considered.

The President's fact finding board which, by the way, has no legal standing, wanted the steel industry to make pension payments which would combine with a worker's government social security benefits to give him a retirement income of $100 a month. The board estimated this could be done for about six cents per working hour.

But the Lower House of Congress, in the session just ended, voted to increase old-age and survivor benefits by about 80 per cent. Thus an elderly couple would get as much as $126 per month. I can see small likelihood that the Senate will fail to go along with the House in this.

At the same time, various steel companies have offered to meet Phil Murray's demand for pension payments of ten cents per working hour, but with the proviso that workers shall contribute a few cents an hour to the pension fund if the industry contribution proves insufficient to keep the fund solvent. Whether such worker contributions shall be made appears to be the sole strike issue.

In view of these considerations, what should be done? Should the steel industry pay six cents, or even ten cents, per working hour into the pension fund, and then drastically reduce such payments when and if Congress boosts old-age and survivor benefits, as Congress is almost sure to do? Or should the industry payments be made firm at some point between six and ten cents, regardless of Congressional action?

In the latter event, Walter Reuther might be expected to regret his haste in making a pension agreement with the Ford Motor company. Under this agreement, which runs for five and one-half years, Ford must pay into the pension fund only enough to give those who reach age 65 after 30 years with the company a retirement income of $100 a month, including their government social security benefits.

There are cogent reasons why public policy demands that the pattern set by the Ford pension contract shall be followed in any settlement of the steel strike, if Congressional action does not make any final settlement unnecessary, at least so far as pensions are concerned.

The President's fact finding board said that "so long as the government fails to provide an adequate amount (of social security benefits), industry should take up the slack". This was wrong because it would not be industry that takes up the slack; it would be done through higher prices by the consuming public, which would not get any of the big benefits enjoyed by the minority in the big unions.

By the time these words reach print the President probably will have used either his left-over war powers to seize the steel plants or the Taft-Hartley Act to obtain a strike delaying injunction. In either event, steel workers will be back at work and the strike issue delayed for another 90 days or more. Then the threat of a strike renewal would be a tremendously effective apparatus for persuading Congress next year to extend social security and increase its benefits so greatly as to render non-government pensions superfluous.

Conceivably this is the strategy of the Truman-Murray political coalition. Possibly the steel strike is a political strike aimed at the Congress which refused to do the coalition's bidding. But to say it is a strike consciously motivated by a regard for the welfare of all the people would be unrealistic. Unless the strike ends soon, the motor plants will close for lack of steel, and scores of thousands in Michigan will be thrown out of work.

This year as in the past the Michigan State Police and the State Department of Conservation will cooperate in making available a free registration service for all deer hunters who desire to be reached in camp in the event of an emergency at home. Hunters desiring to use this service should register at the State Police post of Conservation headquarters nearest their camp. They should also leave word at home of the station at which they will register.

If an emergency occurs those at home need only call their nearest State Police post or Conservation headquarters. The message will then be sent by radio to the proper registration station and will be delivered from there by an officer of either department.

The registration also makes it easier to inform persons at home if a hunter meets with an accident or is reported lost. Only urgent messages will be handled and the service will not be offered where regular communication facilities can be used without delay.

Registration cards have been distributed to all State Police posts and Conservation headquarters. They will also be available on State ferries and may be handed to State Police officers stationed on the docks.

In the past thousands of hunters have used the service and many messages have been delivered.

An accompanying map shows the location of the registration stations.

New Telephone Books Are Out

Delivery of close to 5,000 new telephone directories to Plymouth residences and business places will be completed by the end of this week, according to an announcement made yesterday by John Saxton, manager of Plymouth's telephone office.

The new directories include Livonia, Ann Arbor, Wayne and Ypsilanti listings as well as the new telephone numbers assigned locally in the past year. A separate directory of Northville alphabetical listings is also being distributed with the Plymouth books.

Directories to Livonia, South Lyon and Northville have been mailed this week from Plymouth and should be in the hands of residents in those communities by Saturday. Northville books are accompanied by the residential listings from Plymouth.

Mr. Saxton pointed out that since many telephone numbers have been changed in the Plymouth area, reference to the new directory before placing a call will save time for telephone users as well as Michigan Bell operators.

REPLACE YOUR OLD BURNER NOW
with the oil-saving Winkler LP* . . . a sensational new oil burner development.
FREE HEATING SURVEY

Do you know that you may be wasting as much as 50% of your fuel oil? The chances are, if you live in the average size home, that your oil burner is oversized to prevent nozzle-clogging. This means that heat is wasted up the chimney—oil burned needlessly.
The low pressure Winkler LP* Oil Burner prevents this extravagant waste of precious fuel because it can be sized exactly to the heat-absorbing capacity of your boiler or furnace. It will save up to 50% of your present fuel consumption.
The Winkler LP* saves amazingly on service, too—its design is utterly simple and dependable.

Contest Treasure

Any pirate, including model Madeline Bohanan, would appear happy on finding the $5000 grand prize in Kroger's Brand Name Treasure Hunt contest. Winners of the 5555 other prizes, including five Buick super sedans, during the five-week contest period will all have an additional chance for the cash grand prize. Now in its last week the contest requires entrants to identify one of 54 nationally advertised food products with its slogan and complete a jingle. 1111 prizes are offered each week.

Musicians Enjoy Coffee Hours

Two years ago when Plymouth Symphony Society board members were discussing informally some way of providing a little social treat for the hard-working orchestra players, it was suggested that perhaps coffee might be served following their Monday night rehearsals in the high school.

There were at that time seven remaining rehearsals of the concert season. Mrs. H. A. Nelson and Mrs. Thomas Bateman were appointed to take charge of the socials for the rest of the year. They were assisted by the other members of the board, their friends and from time to time volunteers from the community who welcomed the opportunity of doing something for the orchestra and its conductor.

The undertaking was a great success. The musicians appreciated the relaxation after a strenuous rehearsal which began promptly at 7:30 p.m. and ended at 10. Paul Wagner couldn't say enough to express his pleasure in the effect it had on the spirit of the orchestra as a group.

This year Mrs. Heloise Campbell is the social chairman in charge of serving refreshments to the orchestra after rehearsal. She has contacted those known to be interested in taking part in this program and scheduled them for various rehearsals throughout the year. There have been nine rehearsals this year with the following serving as chairman for the respective evenings: Miss Hanna Strasen, Mrs. A. Campbell, Carl Wall, Mrs. H. E. Raaf-laub, Mrs. Leo Kowalek, Mrs. Paul Wagner, Mrs. Ellen Laible, Mrs. Russell Roe and Mrs. Byron Champion.

Anyone who would like to serve on a committee for a rehearsal may reach Mrs. Campbell at 1719-J.

John Campbells Win Week's Stay at Cavalier Hotel, Virginia Beach

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Campbell, of John M. Campbell, Inc., left for Virginia Beach, Virginia, Friday where they are spending a week's vacation at Cavalier hotel, one of the leading resort hotels on the Atlantic seaboard.

The Campbells are the guests of the Timken Silent Automatic division of Jackson, Michigan, during their stay at Cavalier. Mr. Campbell represents the Timken Silent Automatic line of automatic home heating equipment in this area and are enjoying an all expense vacation at Virginia Beach as a reward for winning in a recently ended sales contest. The Campbells will visit Williamsburg, the Norfolk Naval base and many other points of interest in Tidewater, Virginia during their vacation stay.

WHAT I THINK AND HAVE A RIGHT TO SAY

At a restaurant last week, a policeman took the names and addresses of individuals who met every Wednesday for lunch. The man called it a luncheon club, but it is dissolved now. A garage man, who hadn't wanted to be secretary of the club because his handwriting wasn't very good, didn't get home to dinner that night. The policeman said he was an enemy of the state and he is in a labor camp now.

At a factory a new foreman appeared. The factory had been nationalized a year ago because Mr. Kruppa, the owner, had 75 persons on his pay roll. All businesses employing more than 50 persons belong to the state. But the old foreman had been permitted to stay on the job until recently. He belonged to no political party. Now he has been sent to work in the mines, the same mines where they sent Mr. Kruppa. They say he eats regularly and is paid. The new foreman is a Communist.

So it goes all over the country. Small businessmen, the pharmacist, the plumber who didn't tell the union that he had some pipe stored in his garage, people like that are arrested. The Communists have a law that says anybody can be arrested and confined in jail for two years without trial. The Communists say people whose property is nationalized get compensation. But the average person doesn't know whether his neighbor got compensation or whether he is going to face trial in two years. His neighbor just vanished.

Pressure on people living under Communism is almost worse than the arrests. When a person is arrested he knows how he stands. But people who own their own homes and used to be proud of it now want to sell the homes and pay rent. They are afraid. Houses are cheaper now.

Physicians and dentists are still working. They keep quiet and don't talk to people as they used to.

Teachers, a lot of them, lost their jobs. There are new schoolbooks that make heroes out of Communists and ignore the heroes all Czechoslovaks come to know as well as Americans know George Washington.

Farmers who owned more than 125 acres of land had to turn over their farms to the Communist Government more than a year ago. Now the small farmers are under pressure. They must share their homes with strangers; they must plant what the Communists order them to plant; they must produce as much as they are told to produce; they can keep only what they are allowed to keep.

Clergymen and priests hereafter are going to be paid by the Government. A new law says they can be hired and fired like everybody else. The Government, not the churches, owns the church buildings now.

Net result of all this is that the middle class, the people who used to be the backbone of the country when it was a democracy, are being wiped out. Men who were independent are working for wages. Wives of men in the labor camps and their children, too, are looking for employment. The little people of Czechoslovakia are finding out that Communism, when it takes over a free country, soon strikes down at the grass roots so that everyone becomes the dependent of a police state.

Fish Tales-Goose Stories—The Truth, Nothing But The Truth

Truth crushed to earth will surely rise again—and that's what Wendell Lent, James Houk and Milton Humphries have just found out.

Remember that big fish story that floated around Plymouth last summer about the catch of a Great Northern pike that weighed over 21 pounds?

The story was one of those indefinite ones—no one knew just how big "the" fish was, or what its exact weight was—but at any rate it was a whopper, weighing much over 21 pounds. And it was caught way up in Canada, too, where pike are supposed to grow big and sassy. And no one knew, either, just which one of these caught the "fish."

You will be interested in knowing the exact truth about this whole matter—the story about the "whopper."

Direct from Elmer's Place up near Brimley in the Upper Peninsula where these well known Plymouth young gentlemen and their wives went to spend their vacation last summer, comes authentic information about that fish story.

It's true—the whole truth and nothing but the truth—these three fishermen did catch more than 21 pounds of pike, but it took about 20 pike to make up the 21 pounds of pike there was so much bragging about.

Not content with the good fishing to be had in the Upper Peninsula, these fishermen had to go way up in the "pike country" north of Sault Ste. Marie, Canada to catch those hammer heads.

When confronted by the "fish" editor of The Mail, Mr. Lent and Mr. Houk said nothing. Mr. Humphries, now being a resident of Wayne where he manages the Davis and Lent store, was not available for a statement.

Hunting and fishing stories—how under the sun are you going to separate the wheat from the chaff—in other words how are you going to know what's what when a fellow comes in and says he has shot a great big goose that was flying nearly a thousand feet up in the air?

At any rate, here's one goose story that can be believed—for the hunter openly and brazenly shot the truthfully says he didn't shoot the big Canadian goose that went into his roasting pan the other night.

Russell Powell freely and frankly admitted that the Canadian goose he had sent down to him by a friend from up on Saginaw bay who had shot the goose. Russ states that it was as delicious a game fowl as he had ever eaten.

But there are goose stories floating around that sound just like old Mother Goose stories.

No use going into the subject further, as only arguments are sure to come from it all. So that's for the goose "hunters."

Only one report has been received of a Plymouth duck hunter having bagged a banded duck during the present season. William Rambo while hunting on Saginaw bay near the mouth of the Sebawaing river, shot a female red headed duck that bore the Fish and Wildlife Service of Washington D. C. leg band number 496-74566. Mr. Rambo plans to send the metal tag to the Fish and Wildlife Service headquarters in Washington, where a record is kept of where the band and Milton Humphries have just found out.

Some interesting stories of duck flights have been secured from these leg tags. The Wildlife Service is not only able to map pretty accurately the flight line of certain ducks from the north to the south, but establish other habits of wild fowl.

It may be several months before Mr. Rambo is advised as to where the leg tag was placed on one of the ducks he shot on last week's duck hunting trip up to Saginaw bay.

Earl Flueding, one of Plymouth's "gentlemen" farmers who two or three years ago purchased a farm in Salem township eight miles west of Plymouth, and Floyd Reddeman, champ pike fisherman of this locality, during the past few days report that they have seen the biggest flocks of Canadian geese flying south this fall than they have ever seen before.

"On one day I saw three big flocks fly over my farm, one of them of immense size. There must have been several thousands of geese in it" said Mr. Flueding.

The biggest flock reported by Mr. Reddeman was seen recently on one of those clear moonlight nights before the weather turned bad.

"The flock was flying low and it happened to be directly in line with the moon, making it easy to see. It was, I think, the biggest flock I have ever seen. I guess there is no question but what the conservation steps that have been taken in recent years are producing results," stated Mr. Reddeman.

Young People of England See a Hopeless Future

take a lesson from what is happening in England and elsewhere and re-double their efforts to become good and worthy Americans.

"The conditions in England are much worse than any of us realize. It is bad and it is growing worse and it will continue to grow worse.

"But when you tell them of our own conditions in America they think it is so fantastic that they do not believe it.

We do have our juvenile problems here in America, but our young people have a great deal to be thankful for.

"Success over there is not the same as success over here, where one has opportunity to keep climbing higher and higher to greater success. Over there, success means some sort of a steady job that will pay barely a living wage, with not the slightest opportunity to have more in the years to come.

"Everything that has been nationalized in England has deteriorated in its services to the people. The medical service, anything you might mention the government has taken over, is no where as efficient as it was before bureaucrats took control.

"In my work, I have spent many years in foreign countries. During the war I was a chaplain in the services of the American forces. I have spent much time in Australia, New Zealand and elsewhere and I tell you from first hand knowledge that our living standard is so much higher than it is any place else in the world that there is no comparison.

"Our responsibility is to see to it that the opportunities we have had and now possess will never cease for our boys and girls."

thy and well-run meeting included the increasing of limitations for deposits of the city of Plymouth in local banks from $15,000 to $50,000. The motion, presented by Commissioner Hough, empowered the city treasurer to deposit in local depositories not more than $50,000 each and that he buy Certificates of Indebtedness from the United States government with any surplus funds.

City Manager Glassford was authorized to secure a stencil for a standard name and monogram to be used on all city vehicles, other than police, thus making for more uniformity in designation of city of Plymouth automobiles and trucks.

A request from the Elks lodge for a tavern license to be used in a lodge building which the Elks are planning to purchase until further study and investigation could be made. Tabled until the next regular meeting of the commission was a request for a S.D.M. license by Stop and Shop. The license requested would enable the store to sell beer and wine on a carry-out basis. Signed by J. G. Rucker, Jr., the letter asking for the S.D.M. license pleaded against discrimination in allowing certain stores to sell beer and wine and denying the right to others.

It was announced that one-way traffic signs will be installed in Liberty park as soon as posts for the signs arrive.

The commission authorized the City Manager to have the five pump houses, the control valve house and the booster station painted. The group also authorized the manager to enter into an agreement with officials of the Ford Motor company and the city of Northville on supplying a six-inch water main to the property line of Ford's Waterford plant as well as a fire hydrant. The authorization was made with the stipulation that it will not cost the city of Plymouth any money.

A request from Orlan Eloff, new owner of Wilson's Dairy products store on Main street, to erect a sign extending two inches beyond his lot was denied by the commission after discussion of other such requests which have been refused in the past.

In the final minutes of the meeting just after midnight, the commission authorized the extension of the water line of Ross street to serve the new Simpson Street school by the city. The work will be paid for by the school and assessments on the abutting property owners.

When no dew follows a hot day rain may be expected.

Fire Department Gets Rescue Car

Answering Fire Chief Robert McAllister's request for a rescue car to aid his department in speedier and more efficient rescue work, the city commission assured additional fire protection for the citizens of Plymouth by authorizing the purchase of such a car at Monday night's meeting.

The new car will carry gas masks, a stretcher, chemical extinguishers, resuscitator, life net, hand search lanterns and other special equipment which has in the past been transported by the use of large fire trucks. Chief McAllister explained the need for a rescue car and stated that it will make it possible for the fire department to get medical aid without having to call an ambulance, thus preventing loss of time and possible loss of life.

Three suggested model ordinances were presented by the Fire Chief concerning Plymouth fire laws, according to Mayor Perry Richwine. One called for a limitation on the number of persons who can be present at any one time in a public gathering place. There are now no provisions for limiting the size of crowds in any building or meeting place in Plymouth.

Another model ordinance read by Chief McAllister asked for a city ordinance requiring the supervision of the fire department in all fumigating done in the city of Plymouth.

The third ordinance asked that Fire extinguishers be placed in all Plymouth business and industrial firms and that employees be instructed in the use of fire extinguishers to help keep fire losses in the city at a minimum.

Mayor Richwine thanked Chief McAllister for his "fine work in preparing the model ordinances" and stated they would receive the serious consideration of the city commission.

Speeding Survey to be Made Here

A complete survey of all roads leading into Plymouth with the idea of curbing the speeding of cars as they roll into the city is being made as a result of action taken by the Mayor and the commission at Monday's commission meeting.

Under consideration by the city governing body is the establishment of speed zones on roads coming into Plymouth to make cars reduce speed instead of traveling into the city at a cool 50 or 60 miles an hour. Speeding on U. S. 12 is particularly dangerous, according to Police Chief Sackett and Mayor Richwine.

Bless the Lord, O my soul and forget not all his benefits: Who forgive all thine iniquities; who heal all thine diseases; Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 76) "Suffering, sinning, dying beliefs are unreal. When divine Science is universally understood, they will have no power over man, for man is immortal and lives by divine authority."

A couple of inventive dentists are promising that in the future a session in the dental chair will be no more painful than an appointment with your favorite barber. No more will the whirring drill grind into your molars as though drilling for oil. The new system will blow a stream of abrasive into the cavity to clean it out faster and easier... with no pile driving effects echoing in the back regions of your skull. It'll be simpler than the directions for boiling water. Before you can plead for mercy the job will be over and done. Sounds like the dentists are using their own heads this time.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

All over the world today there are people teaching bitterness and hate.

Here in America we have learned to live together in friendship.

For us here at A&P, it has been a wonderful and thrilling experience to get from those with whom we compete day after day such astounding evidence of friendship and respect.

The things that have happened since the anti-trust lawyers from Washington brought suit to destroy A&P have amazed us.

While we sincerely believed that we had earned the friendship of millions of consumers for whom we have provided better food at lower prices, and the friendship of millions of farm families for whom we have provided a better market for their produce, we were not prepared for the avalanche of offers of support.

But most of all, we have to confess that we had underestimated the fine sportsmanship of many of our competitors all over the country.

Can anyone believe that these competitors would rush to our defense if, as the anti-trust lawyers allege, we had been trying to put them out of business?

We and they have fought hard for business.

There are nearly 350,000 individual grocers competing with us. They have a larger share of the nation's grocery business today than they had ten years ago or twenty years ago.

Many of them do as good a job as we do, and they make it plenty tough for us.

Now, day after day, these same competitors are letting us know that they are in our corner.

All we can say is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

Who hollered for Uncle? Who wants him to break up A&P? COULD IT BE INDEPENDENT GROCERS? Doesn't seem likely. In ten years America's independent storekeepers almost tripled their business. In 1938 they did just under $1/2 billion dollars worth of food business. Last year the independent storekeepers handled over 15 billion dollars worth of food. WHOLESALE GROCERS? Hardly. For many of them are directly or indirectly engaged in or supporting some form of voluntary or cooperative chain to match chain economies. THE EMPLOYEES? That would be funny - except that some folks probably believe it. Actually, less than 25 years ago many food chain stores could have paid all expenses - rent, heat, light, wages, etc. - out of the money a store manager alone gets paid now. And the store manager of 25 years ago would have been happy to get what a clerk gets today. PRODUCERS? Well, take farmers. Certainly part of their prosperity must be attributed to the markets that big chains create for them. The big chains buy the entire pack of many a canner. Those canners pack the farmers' crops. What would the farmer do with his highly perishable crop if the food chains were eliminated as big volume buyers? COMPETING CHAINS, MAYBE? No. Practically every chain in the grocery business had more sales last year than the year before. One chain that we know a lot about increased its food business 21% last year and is up 19% in the first eight months of this year. THEN IT CERTAINLY MUST BE THE PEOPLE! Like fun. If the people hated food chain stores, would they have spent 9 1/2 billion dollars in their last year? Folks like the low prices and high standards of chains - and the better the chains are run, the better folks like them. Does This Sound as Though We Need Help? Therefore Super Markets came into existence 10 years ago. The food chains Thorofare replaced were doing about three million dollars worth of business a year. Housewives liked our policies well enough to boost their purchases in our 90 stores to about 30 million dollars a year. We call that a vote of confidence. And we're going to keep right on proving that as long as we stick to good brands and better-than-average selections at rock-bottom prices, we can compete with anybody in the business. And keep right on growing, too! We don't believe any chain will be punished for being efficient, or for pleasing housewives so well that it is forced to grow. We, too, believe that it is a storekeeper's duty to bring the public the best food at the lowest possible prices, and hope to see the chain store way of doing business vindicated. And as long as the producers, the employees, the customers, the wholesale grocers, the independents and the competing chains thrive so well, we will continue to think it's a good way to do business. Thorofare PITTSBURGH, PA.

We Don't Want the A&P Put Out of Business The owner of the undersigned store is an independent merchant in this community. We run our own store, set our own prices, maintain our own policy. We consider the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. as a chain store. Because they are a chain they give us stiff competition. The competition offered by the A&P keeps us on our toes. The Department of Justice has brought a suit against the A&P claiming that the A&P is a monopoly. Whether it is or not we are in no position to judge. What we do know is that the A&P doesn't do all of the grocery business in this area. We are here and ready to serve local customers. WE DON'T WANT TO SEE THE A&P PUT OUT OF BUSINESS. The A&P is keeping food prices down. We in turn keep our prices down; and that helps us to sell more goods. KUGLER'S SUPER - FOOD MARKET PHILADELPHIA, PA.

We Agree With A&P Yes, we want our A&P competitors to stay in business on their present scale because we know what it would mean to the American people without them. We are only one store and are striving to serve our community with good food at low prices, but the A&P is a nationwide organization serving the American people everywhere with good food at low prices. Destroying the A&P would mean eliminating competition nationally in the food field which every poor man knows consumes the major portion of his salary. We congratulate the A&P for a job well done. Keep up the fight. We welcome any fair competition which helps us bring lower food prices to the consumer. SCHWEGMANN BROTHERS GIANT SUPER MARKET 2222 St. Claude Avenue New Orleans

A COMPETITOR'S OPINION of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. The self-styled "trust busters" of the government recently made head-destroy the A&P. Frankly, we don't like it. A&P is charged with having control of SOME of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they can offer foods at low prices. So What... And if monopoly of the food business is charged, that sure hands us a laff. We... at P.P.M. are growing like wildfire. Seems like we're able to sell better foods at better prices. Your increasing patronage of our stores is positive proof that A&P has no monopoly on the food business. Let's get down to good old American horse sense. A&P is doing a good job of serving the people of this country. They're no bogey men. We are for them 100% in this controversy. William F. Britton, Pres. PROVIDENCE PUBLIC MARKETS PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND

I Welcome A&P Competition BECAUSE... like myself, many hundreds of independent grocers got their start with the TEA COMPANY. The great A&P is not detrimental to the progress of the grocery business. On the contrary, A&P has always been beneficial to any open-minded businessman who believes in FREE ENTERPRISE. Founded on the principle of FAIR PLAY and FAIR PRICES, A&P developed from a humble start to its present commanding position in the field of retail merchandising. My experience as a former employee of the TEA COMPANY has served me well. I attribute my success to the ideas and methods tried, tested and proven by the A&P stores - at a great cost. A&P upholds the rights and privileges of a good worker. I know this from personal experience. A&P is ever on the lookout to promote sincere and ambitious employees to trustworthy and important positions and has never crossed the efforts of any employee to enter into business for himself. A&P helped me to start in business... IS THAT AN ACT OF A COMPANY MONOPOLIZING THE GROCERY BUSINESS? NO! A&P taught me to serve the public BETTER - MORE ECONOMICAL and MORE EFFICIENT, thanks to the start given me by B. F. VINSON. During the depression of the thirties, A&P paid higher wages than any other chain. A&P has striven to keep up the standard of living in this country. I shudder to think what would happen to its 110,000 employees if it was forced out of business. I am not afraid of A&P competition - I welcome it. It's democratic - it's the American Way. The Anti-Trust Suit Against The Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. This suit is another threat against our great American system of free enterprise. The A&P Co. has always been clean, above board competition and any successful independent merchant, if he is honest, will admit that they have taught him a great many things regarding merchandising, reducing overhead, better buying, etc., thus lowering food costs for the great American Public. Scouting Around the Sunset District

Chalk up another bullseye for the Scouters of the Sunset district! Yes, indeed! Once again our Scouting has outdone its past achievements. In the case of the annual meeting more persons were able to see a better program dedicated to the recognition of its district leadership and to recount the activities of the past and to scan to possibilities of the future.

Under the guiding influence of Scouter Beryl Zimmerman and his capable program committee the annual meeting held at the Eloise auditorium last Wednesday night turned out to be one of the highlights of the year in the Sunset district.

The spirit of the occasion may be summed up in the following quotes taken in excerpt from the remarks of the district leaders as credited:

"An annual meeting is an appropriate place from which to look back over the country we have traversed the past year, and also to look ahead to new landmarks and goals toward which we must press for another year."

"The outstanding trait of our work in 1949 has been cooperation. And I pay tribute to all of our leaders for that cooperation so willingly and effectively given—one of the main reasons for the successes of our district program. Sunset has a good team."

S. D. Strong, district commissioner.

"Let us not spend too much time in congratulating ourselves on the goals accomplished this year, good as the record may be. Instead, let us leave this meeting resolved that next year, our 40th anniversary will find the Scouting program in the Sunset district even nearer the pinnacle of success."

"My personal thanks to all who have made this year a good year and my sincere hope that one year from now we shall really be able to celebrate the culmination of our great crusade to 'strengthen the arm of liberty.'"

T. F. Kuckelman, district chairman.

With District Chairman Kuckelman officiating as Em-Cee, the program moved swiftly and with high interest throughout its entirety. First of the district officers to be introduced was J. Willis Owen of Belleville, chairman of the district nominating committee who made the report on the election of officers for the coming year. There are approximately 40 of these men, each of whom will make a valuable contribution to the program by virtue of his particular skills and abilities in conjunction with his willingness to serve the interests of the youth in our communities. Their names and titular positions will be announced in this column at a later date.

Training awards of the national council were awarded by the chairman of district training, Kenneth Hulsing, to the following men in recognition of their completion of the three year training program, inclusive of successful performance, good turns to their communities through Scouting and more than three years of outstanding service to boyhood:

W. Donald Wallace, chairman of district advancement, had the honor of recognizing Eagle Scouts Jack Kinner and Clyde Rue of Troop 1, Rosedale Gardens, under the sponsorship of the Rosedale Gardens Civic association, who reached that rank as of last June, and received their Eagle badge at a troop court of honor.

He also presented the same Eagle badge to Scout Carl Block of Troop 2, of Garden City, sponsored by the Garden City Rotary club. This was accomplished with the aid of Scoutmaster C. L. Hershey of the above troop, a long time leader who had the privilege of watching Carl's advancement through the ranks.

This is a high honor which all Scouts and Scouters cherish deeply and we are all of us extending the new Eagle, his parents and troopmates our best congratulations at this time. Good work, Carl! We know that you will spread the news that

A skit in silhouette "Along the Scouting Trail" presented by Troop P-3, under the leadership of our good friend Ferris Mathias was well staged and the theme of early American Pioneer-Indian background served to show the importance of learning by experience in the field. The adaptation of Indian tactical lore to the experience of the early pioneers made it possible for the pioneers to meet his problems with a better understanding. So it is with today's youth. As they too learn by doing the things which they find of interest to their welfare, so will they be better able to make the adjustment of their years.

Our thanks to this troop for this opportunity of re-establishing the cardinal virtues of our movement in our adult minds.

Recognition of the district to its leaders was offered by the Em-Cee, who spoke from his official role as district chairman for the occasion and his words were well chosen and much to the point. We, your district leaders, wish to take this place to thank you, Scouter Suckelman, for your own untiring efforts in helping us to do the things we have been able to accomplish.

Special awards were presented to Scouters C. E. Smith and J. J. Huddleston for efforts they contributed to the council and district programs this past year. We are all appreciative, Scouters, and are glad that you are on our side in this game.

The benediction by the Rev. H. F. Fredsell served as the closing activity and the district personnel feel that all present were of the consensus that once again our Scouters met all of their aims with the same verve of spirit that has marked our past full and busy year. Let us keep up the good work, gang, and make the year of 1950 a bigger and better milestone than ever in our district Scouting.

Hundreds Enjoy Halloween Party

Grinning jack o'lanterns have been thrown out. Witch costumes have been folded neatly and stored in attics. Great quantities of cider, doughnuts, apples, candy, cookies and pop corn have disappeared. And the windows in the business sections of Plymouth have been washed clean of black and orange paint. Halloween has come and gone.

Hundreds of children paraded in their crazy and wierd costumes and consumed all the refreshments they wanted. Still more Plymouth young people attended the street dance and party held Halloween evening. "Between the cold weather and all the planned activities, the kids were too tired to do any destructive damage in town," said recreation director, Herb Woolweaver.

True Halloween atmosphere was created when the high school students, kindly excused from classes by Principal Cy Pierce, painted the display windows of Plymouth merchants with traditional pictures of the approaching celebration. Their art work was supervised by Miss Frances Overton, art instructor at the high school.

First prize for the most gruesome window went to Group two headed by Wayne Richardson, who painted the window on the Sally Sheer shop. Carole Van Aken, Joanne Purcell, Barbara Ferraro, Lawrence Van Onsdale, and co-chairman Robert Glass were on the committee.

Most comic award went to Group seven for their painting on Goldstein's department store. Lloyd Campbell was chairman and Bill Van Bynen served as co-chairman. Also on the committee were Barbara Davison, Yvonne Harrison, Charlotte Rozwood and Norma Ferguson.

Group five, which did the Kroger window received the first place award for "best in Halloween atmosphere." Dorothy Wright was chairman of the group, aided by Gerald Klinske, co-chairman, Joan Pagenkoph, Daisy Hornbach, Jerry Finnegan and Edward Hogg served on the committee.

Best design honors went to Group one, directed by Bob Bowen with Bud Carson as co-chairman, Donna Renwick, Betty Wagner, Ralph Walsh and Carol Rakowski made up the group.

Stage Play to be Put on in Walled Lake Theater

"The Hasty Heart", a comedy on tour by the Actor's Guild of New York City, will open at the Village theater at Walled Lake on Saturday, November 12 for a two-day run. The production will mark the first time in that vicinity's history that a full time, four act, out-of-town legitimate stage play has been given. It will be the first of a series of Broadway comedies staged by the Guild.

The Village theater has been completely remodeled inside, resulting in increased stage space and a larger seating capacity. Four hundred persons can be accommodated in the audience each night. Located in the heart of Walled Lake, the theater is fire proof and has 2,574 square feet of space.

Series of Oil Painting Classes to Begin Soon

The Recreation department announces the beginning of a series of oil paintings classes which will be open to all persons, 10 years of age and older.

All persons interested in attending these classes are invited to an organized meeting to be held on the second floor of the city hall Monday, November 21 at 8 p.m.

Harold E. Stein will be in charge of the meeting and the art classes.

Fox Club Plans Hunts

A turkey dinner preceded the regular meeting of the Fox club held at the home of Estel Rowland Friday evening, November 4.

Robert Burley was voted to fill a vacancy in the organization. It was announced that regular fox hunts will start when deer season is completed. Everyone is invited to hunt with the club.

Crow shooting was discussed and final figures show that members have killed about 300 crows.

Even the most carefully budgeted income cannot withstand the drain of unanticipated losses. A fire, storm, burglary, personal accident or damage suit can rob you of your possessions and even mortgage your future income.

Prudent people budget their expenses, and guard against the unexpected by including carefully selected insurance protection in it. A budget that is not thus secured resolves itself into a matter of burdensome bookkeeping with the possibility that at any moment it might have to be written in red ink.

Rocks Down Northville 6-0

Plymouth's Victory Over Mustangs Ends 16 Game Losing Streak

An upset? No, just a victory for the Plymouth Rocks. The local lads won their first game since 1947 stopping Northville 6-0, last Friday in Plymouth's homecoming tilt. Plymouth played great ball against the Mustangs, and looked like a team that had won every game of the season.

The whole first half of the ball game was played in Northville territory. Plymouth made 13 first downs to the Mustangs' six. Northville could not make a first down until the second half.

The Rock backfield of Ebersole, Burger, Martin and Anthony were making nice gains throughout the game with the Plymouth line opening up holes big enough to drive a Mack truck through.

Bob Anthony kicked off to Northville to start the game and Dick Grey took it on his own 14 and ran it to the 27 yard line. On three plays, Northville made a net loss of five yards.

Northville kicked to Bill Burger on the 42. Plymouth's fumble was recovered by the Mustangs.

Plymouth took the ball and the Rocks started to drive. Bob Martin scampered 20 yards for a first down. Plymouth gambled on the fourth down and Captain Ebersole made another first down. A pass from Ebersole to Dwight Eckler netted another first down on the Mustang two. Ebersole drove to the one foot line, then a bad pass from center sent the ball back to the 12. A pass to Eckler in the end-zone was batted down by Northville.

Northville took over four Plymouth plays and the first quarter ended.

Later in the second period the Rocks took the ball on the Northville 23 after a poor kick by Northville's punter.

Ebersole drove to the 12 making a first down. Burger, on a line play was piled up on the six. Another first down was made by Ebersole on the two, but the sticks had to be brought out to measure it.

After driving to the one foot line, Ebersole took the ball across the goal line for a touchdown.

Bobby Gow's attempt for the extra point was blocked by Northville. Shortly after the first half ended with Plymouth leading 6-0.

In the second half the Rocks and the Mustangs were both driving hard.

Northville's backfield of Dickinson, Gray, Jennings and end, Holman, were rolling to first downs and Plymouth territory.

Bill Burger, Rock punter, was making some beautiful punts, which included a 50 yard boot, going out on the Northville two. The ball game ended on the Mustang 33 with Plymouth in possession of the ball.

Six Teams Enter Men's League

Teams entered in the Men's basketball league are: Daisy Air Rifle, Wayne County Training school, First National Bank, Detroit House of Correction and the Plymouth Mail.

In the women's league, seven cities are to be represented by basketball teams.

Cities that will be represented are the following: Inkster, Romulus, Wayne, Ypsilanti, Willow Village, Northville and Plymouth. Plymouth will have two representatives, Twin Pines Dairy and Daisy Air Rifles.

Flint Boys Meet Again on Opposite Squads

In Michigan's victory over Purdue last Saturday were two lads who played football together in high school at Flint, but they did not play for the same team Saturday.

The Wolverines' Harry Allis and Purdue's Leo Sugar played opposite end positions at Flint and were on the track team together.

Friendship did not exist on the field Saturday as both flankers were playing for their respective schools and not for each other.

Another interesting item concerning these two is the fact that they were both coached at Flint by Herb Woolweaver, Plymouth city recreation director.

Club Represented at Benefit Show

The Riverside Figure and Dance club will be represented at Eastwood park tonight, Thursday, in a benefit show for a crippled girl, which starts at 7:30.

The show is being held primarily by the Eastwood Figure and Dance club, but they needed more entertainers and invited a few from Riverside.

Those to skate in the show are as follows: Nan Massine and James Mazei in a mixed pairs number; Doug Milne, in a single number; Joan Busch, Dean Busch, Zel Massine and Richard Johnson, in a fours number; Joan and Dean Busch will do a mixed pairs number; Doug Millnie, age 18, and Judy Laury, age nine, will do an Adagio number; Howard Rhodes and Richard Johnson will do a pairs number.

Wildcats, Great Americans Win Championships

In the Little Rock football league Class A, the Great Americans took the championship by winning six games and losing none. The senior Firemen team finished second with a record of three wins and three losses.

On Tuesday, November 1, the Great Americans romped over the Lions 39-0 and on Thursday, November 3 the Lions forfeited to the Firemen, 6-0.

The Davis and Lent Wildcats took the Class B championship winning seven games while dropping only one, but they were closely followed by the Firemen, who won six, lost one and tied one.

Davis and Lent cinched the title smothering the Monarchs 40-0 on Monday, November 7.

The Monarchs were edged out by the Hot Rods on Wednesday, November 2. On the same night the Firemen upset the favorite Davis and Lent, 19-14, in a closely fought ball game. The Wolverines forfeited to the Firemen 6-0 on November 3.

Rock Sprinters Tie in State Meet

With Calvin Becker placing fourth, the Plymouth cross country squad tied for ninth place in the Class B state meet Saturday, November 5 at Washtenaw county golf course near Ypsilanti.

Becker's time for the course was 11:13, placing behind Jack Davis of Mt. Pleasant, Dale Davis of Belleville and the sprinter's name who came in third is not available.

Lou Vargha, placing 19, Dick Joachim 64, Buzz Todd 90 and Dan Green 107 were other local lads who represented Plymouth.

Approximately 25 schools participated in the meet, and a total of about 170 boys started and finished the course.

Of the five suburban B league schools, Ypsilanti and Trenton finished a head of Plymouth.

This year's Rock cross country squad is seemingly better than last year's team. Last season the Rocks finished 11th in the state meet.

Shorts in Sports

by Al Larson

For the first time this season the Plymouth Rock team won a football game.

Plymouth High was full of joy and happiness at the dance after the game. The winning of this game could not have been more perfect.

This encounter was won over Northville, Plymouth's traditional opponent. It was the homecoming game and the fathers of the players were guests at the tilt.

The winning of this game broke the Rocks' 16 game losing streak. It ended the football season and the starting lineup was made up completely of seniors.

Keith Ebersole, team captain, scored the lone TD.

Northville was at both ends of Plymouth's losing streak. The Mustangs bowed to the Rocks 50-0, in 1947 and 6-0 this year. Plymouth had not won a game between these two victories over the Black and Orange squad.

The first half of the ball game, which was played in Northville territory, belonged completely to Plymouth, while in the second half the two teams played equal good ball.

If Northville had had a punter of the calibre of Bill Burger, Rock boomer who made some beautiful punts Friday night, the score might have been different.

Plymouth scored their lone touchdown after Northville's punter had kicked from his own 20 with the ball going straight up and coming down on the Northville 23 yard line, a net total of three yards. On five plays, Ebersole scored the TD.

Michigan seems destined for their third straight Western Conference championship, now boasting three consecutive victories after a pair of losses.

Only Indiana and Ohio State stand between the Wolverines and a conference championship. If Michigan wins the championship, it will be the first time in the history of the conference it has been won three years in a row by one team.

This Saturday, opposing Indiana, the Maize and Blue should win by 27 points.

In the Little Rock football league has been spotted a possible potential All-American.

We refer to Jackie Carter of the Davis and Lent Wildcats, who has led his team to many victories.

Jack runs like a college ball player and has an extremely quick motion, shifting his feet, head, body and balance, confusing the opposing teams. Many times he has met a host of defensive players while carrying the ball but manages to pass them up.

Included in many of his touchdowns was a 95 yard run from scrimmage. It was not so much the blocking that enabled him to score but his speed and fast shifting.

A team mate of Carter's, Clifton Raum, has also looked good, along with "Tiger" Wells of the Firemen and other ball players in the midge league.

Spitz Will Direct Boys Boxing Club

Under the direction of Michael M. Spitz, boxing will start Monday, November 21 in the newly decorated Plymouth recreation hall as the Boys' Boxing club.

Boys 7-12 years of age will meet Monday, Wednesday and Thursday nights from 5 to 7 p.m.

On Monday, Wednesday and Thursday nights from 7:15 to 9:30 p.m., boys between the ages of 13 and 21 will meet. Men will meet Tuesday and Friday nights at 6 to 8 p.m.

Requirements for boxing are to get a membership card, parents' and doctor's consents at the city recreation office. Two identification pictures must be obtained, measuring one by one-and-a-half inches. The equipment list may be secured at the recreation office, entrance at the rear door only. All other fees will be "boxed".

The recreation room has just been completely redecorated and lavishly equipped. There is now three light boxes and three heavy bases. The boys' room and a new bulletin board has been installed on the wall for the boxing club. The floors have been recently sealed, sanded and waxed and the rest has just been cleaned. The walls have been newly painted and the ceiling has been re-finished with new wood.

Future plans for the club is to put on an exhibition bout for the Goodfellows next before Christmas.

These Events Were News 25 Years Ago This Christmas Cherry Hill, Mich. Dec. 26, 1924 The seven sons and two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William H. West of this village were thrilled Christmas morning to be awakened by beautiful chimes playing "Silent Night". They originated from the living room where Santa Claus in the night had installed a new Edison Phonograph. It is rumored that the machine which plays eight records with one winding, cost in the neighborhood of three hundred dollars. Editorial Comment (by five of the seven sons) Dad and Mother should have waited "until the thing is perfected," or "until they come down in price" — the point we're trying to make is — This Christmas is a good time to have a Television Set — and West's Farm & Home Store at 507 S. Main St., is "Television Headquarters" in Plymouth. The West Brothers

Lucille Zielasko and Robert Stremich Repeat Vows at Saturday Wedding Rites

Nuptial vows were read by the Rev. Father William P. Mooney at an 11 a.m. ceremony, Saturday, November 5, for Lucille Josephine Zielasko and Robert Stremich. Assisting Father Mooney as altar boys at the ceremony in Our Lady of Good Counsel church were the bride's nephews, Ronald Funk, and Jack Spanier, a cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Zielasko of Hix road and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stremich of Northville. The bridegroom's parents are the parents of the bridegroom.

Lighted tapers, palms and baskets of white mums formed the setting for the double ring service. Wedding music was presented by Fred Kendall, soloist, who sang "Ave Maria," "Mother at Your Feet is Kneeling" and "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother." Mrs. Edna O'Conner was the accompanying organist. The nuptial mass was sung by Mrs. Albert Foegy of Plymouth.

A gown of imported Alencon lace worn over silver slipper satin was chosen by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. Styled along princess lines, the bride's gown featured a square neckline formed by applied lace over satin, long fitted sleeves repeating the applied lace design, and a full floor length skirt of lace over satin. She wore pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

A tiara of the imported Alencon lace secured the bride's cathedral length veil of French illusion which was edged in matching lace. The bride carried a white prayer book covered in brocade satin and centered by an orchid encircled in stephanotis and trailing English ivy.

For her attendants, the bride chose Dorothy Stremich, the bridegroom's sister, as maid of honor, and she asked Loraine Nichol of Rosedale Gardens and Jane Stremich, a cousin of the bridegroom, to be bridesmaids.

For her duties as maid of honor, Miss Stremich chose an aqua taffeta gown with matching gauntlets, and a tiara of aqua feathers. Miss Nichol wore a gown of gold taffeta with gauntlets of the same material and a tiara of gold feathers while Miss Stremich selected an American beauty taffeta gown with matching gauntlets. Her headpiece was also a tiara of feathers in the same shade as her gown. The three bridal aides carried colonial bouquets of yellow mums tied in white satin.

The bride's nephew, Robert Zielasko, served as best man and Donald Kolner of Northville, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Richard Zielasko, a nephew of the bride, acted as ushers.

A corsage of pink rosebuds complemented the informal gown of brown crepe worn by the bride's mother, Mrs. Zielasko. Her accessories were dark brown. The bridegroom's mother selected a silk crepe dress in green with black accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds for her son's wedding.

A breakfast for 100 guests at the Hillside Inn followed the morning ceremony. In the evening the bride's parents held an open house at their home on Hix road for 250 guests. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Julia Gellner of Langdon, North Dakota, the bridegroom's grandmother, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mattern of Winnipeg, Manitoba, the bridegroom's uncle.

Tampa, Florida was the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Stremich who left on their wedding trip following the evening reception. For traveling the bride chose a brown tweed suit with dark brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Plymouth High school and Mr. Stremich is a graduate of the Northville High school. At the present time he is manager of the Hillside Inn.

A new home at 7675 Hix road awaits the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Stremich following their two week honeymoon in Florida.

To be her matron of honor, the bride asked Mrs. William Bartel, Jr. Bronze velvet fashioned Mrs. Bartel's gown, and her bouquet was an arrangement of yellow mums.

Robert L. Kenyon served as his brother's best man, and the guests were seated by Gordon Robinson, the bride's brother; Jack Kenyon, a brother of the bridegroom; and Robert Johnson.

Variety of Ways to Prepare Squash For Winter Meals

Winter squash always remind one of the neighborhood character who hides a tender heart under a tough exterior. They are delightful once you get past the outside.

But it requires only a little effort to get acquainted with the virtues of squash. Now is a good time to do it for there are plenty of them in markets selling at reasonable prices.

The deep golden flesh of hard-shelled squash has a delicious flavor which combines well with most meats, but is especially interesting with pork and poultry. It can be boiled or baked before mashing and seasoning with salt, pepper and table fat, or dressed up in a variety of ways.

No matter what the method of service, winter squash is a good energy food. In addition to that it adds a generous amount of vitamin A to help build up resistance to infections and keep the skin glands and eyes healthy.

One-half pound of squash as you buy it makes an average serving, so you'll want to allow extra to take care of seconds. Left-over squash will come in mighty handy too to make a ring in which to serve creamed meat or to combine with eggs, milk, sugar and spices for pie filling. It's every bit as good as pumpkin for that purpose.

Pepper squash are just right shape and size to make two individual servings in the shell. Bake them plain as you would other winter squash, or with a sausage meat stuffing to make the main dish of a family dinner.

BAKED WINTER SQUASH

Wash winter squash, cut in halves and remove seeds and stringy portions. Cut large squash into serving size pieces. Place in shallow pan. If squash is to be used for pie filling, leave plain, otherwise spread with soft butter or fortified margarine and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F., for 40 to 60 minutes, or until soft. If liked, scoop flesh from pulp, mash until smooth and beat well. If it is dry add hot milk or cream to suit taste. Vary the flavor of baked squash by spreading surface of the uncooked vegetable with a little honey and sprinkling it with cinnamon. Instead of honey, use a light sprinkling of brown sugar.

BAKED STUFFED PEPPER SQUASH I

Three acorn squash, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons table fat, 3 cooking apples, 2 tablespoons sugar, 12 link sausages.

Wash squash, cut in halves and remove seeds and stringy portions. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot with butter. Pare, halve and core apples and place a half in each piece of squash. Sprinkle with sugar. Place in a baking pan. Add a little water. Cover pan. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees F., for 45 minutes to 1 hour or until tender. In the meantime brown sausages. Place two pieces on each squash half. Return to oven and bake 15 minutes longer, uncovered. Makes 6 servings.

BAKED STUFFED PEPPER SQUASH II

Three baked pepper squash, 3 tablespoons minced onion, 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs, 1/4 cup water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs, 1 egg, 5 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine.

Remove squash from shells, leaving shells unbroken. Mash pulp. Brown onion in 2 tablespoons of fat. Soften bread crumbs in water and add to onion. Add squash and heat, stirring well. Add beaten egg, salt and pepper. Pile mixture in shells and cover with dry bread crumbs mixed, with remaining fat, melted. Bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees F., for about 20 minutes or until brown. Serves 6.

SQUASH RING

Three cups mashed baked squash, salt and pepper, 2 tablespoons grated onion, 3 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 3 well beaten eggs. Blend all ingredients together, seasoning to taste with salt and pepper. Pour into greased ring mold. Place mold in shallow pan containing about half inch of water. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 1 hour. Turn out on hot platter. Fill center with hot creamed chipped beef. Surround with buttered green beans. Serve at once. Serves 6.

SQUASH PIE

Unbaked 9-inch pie shell, 2 cups strained, cooked squash, 2 eggs, 1 cup granulated sugar or firmly packed brown sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/4 teaspoon cloves, 1 cup milk and 1/2 cup thin cream. Add eggs, sugar, salt and spices to strained squash and beat until thoroughly blended. Stir in milk and cream. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees F., for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate 350 degrees and continue baking for 20 to 25 minutes or until firm. Makes one 9-inch pie. NOTE: Evaporated milk may be substituted for the milk and cream. Spices can be varied to suit personal taste.

Takes "Scare" Out of Budgets

"Since most of us don't have all the money we'd like for our family spending, a lot of talk goes around about stretching the family dollar and making family budgets," states Lucile Ketchum, extension specialist at Michigan State college.

The home management authority suggests that if the word "budget" scares you—just forget the word. Think instead about planning to take that trip you have been wanting for three years, or the new refrigerator you are saving for, or the music lessons you hope that Sally can have next year.

There are so many claims against every dollar that it pays to take plenty of time to discuss family goals and to decide which ones head the list. If your family is like most of them, you will have to make some choices. You can't have everything. But every one in the family will feel better about it if you have talked the problem over and considered what is most important.

You can't ignore necessities, of course, whether you call it "planning a budget" or "finding a way to get money for a trip." You will have to consider rent and fuel and groceries, a new overcoat for father, and a snow suit for Jimmy. Before you start this part of your planning, however, think together about the goals you want to work for over the year—the things that will add zest to life.

Although there is much more to a good plan for family spending than setting goals, it is an important part and probably the most important part of all, adds Miss Ketchum.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Boston butt.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It is the upper half of the pork shoulder and contains the blade bone.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. It may be boned and rolled or it may be boned and stuffed for a cushion style roast. This cut is cooked by roasting. The meat is placed fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. The pan is left uncovered, no water is added and no basting is necessary. It is cooked in a moderate oven (350° F.) until well done allowing from 40 to 45 minutes per pound for roasting a rolled roast and 35 to 40 minutes per pound for a cushion style roast.

Pumpkin Pie — Traditional Favorite

Pumpkin pie—deep yellow, spicy filling within tender pastry crust. It's the harvest time indisputable dessert favorite in many homes throughout the country.

For variation, try a fluffy chifon pumpkin pie made with unflavored gelatin and egg whites. It's an ideal dessert triumph for entertaining. To insure pastry tenderness and flavor use lard as the shortening agent. The pastry can line either little individual tart pans or the traditional sized pans. Pastry pumpkins cleverly arranged over the pie filling add a seasonal touch.

Still another way to receive new pumpkin pie compliments is with nuts—chopped pecans, walnuts or peanuts. Add the nut meats to either the filling or to the whipped cream topping. For more flavor changes, add lemon juice, apple cider, grated orange rind or maple sugar to pumpkin custard filling.

1 green pepper, shredded
1 teaspoon salt, fine
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Cut small amount of fat off edges of pork chops and fry the chops in this until golden brown. Season chops with salt and pepper. Mix corn with green pepper. Into a buttered casserole, place two or three chops, cover with corn mixture, then a layer of chops and corn until all are used. Top with a layer of the crumbs. Bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 45 minutes to one hour, or until chops are tender and thoroughly cooked.

salad oil in a skillet and add to it two cups of the leftover rice. Stir constantly until the rice is browned.

Make a dozen waxed paper cake pan liners at the same time and place them in a large envelope, so you'll have some ready when baking. It saves time in getting the cake pans ready.

Mincemeat is easily extended if you want to be economical or if you don't like it so rich. Chopped apples, peaches, raisins or prunes may be used as extender.

Corduroy Takes Fashion Limelight

Corduroy is a fashion note in fabric this year and is popular with mothers as well as with children of all ages because it doesn't muss much, is warm, and can take a beating in wear.

Its popularity extends from babies, teen-agers and women to boys and men because there are several kinds adaptable for different uses.

Sport jackets and coats make use of the wide half-inch wale and the finest corduroy is so soft and fine it's lovely for the daintiest date dress or baby's overalls. It is seen in a wide range of lush colors as well as stripes and plaids.

Corduroy can be washed or dry cleaned. Vat dyes used in corduroy make it a washable fabric. To launder a corduroy garment, first brush it well with a stiff brush to remove all loose dirt and dust. Wash the garment in a warm, not hot, soap suds, lifting the garment up and down in the water, rubbing badly soiled portions with a soft brush or between the palms of the hands.

Wash in a second sudsy water if required to get the garment entirely clean and rinse in clear warm water until all the soap is removed. Take from the tub without wringing, or even squeezing, and carry to the line. Some types of garments can be buttoned on the hanger and in this way clothes pin marks can be avoided.

Shaking occasionally while the garment is drying will help to shake out excess water and remove some wrinkles. When thoroughly dry, brush the nap to restore its fluffiness. Ironing is not usually necessary, but the back side may be pressed lightly if desired.

Good Supply of Pork Available at Lower Prices

If you want to buy a lot of value and satisfaction for your food dollar, don't slight the meats this fall and winter. Here is some help on the subject from Mary Bodwell, agricultural economist department food specialist at Michigan State college.

Surveys have shown that Americans are hearty meat eaters. We ate about 155 pounds of meat per person in 1947. The national average was 70 pounds of pork (not counting lard). 69 pounds of beef, 11 pounds of veal and 5 1/2 pounds of lamb and mutton.

The meat supply picture looks good. There will be more pork available, at lower prices, than there was last year, with beef supplies remaining about the same. We can expect less veal, because farmers are holding back more calves for future use as dairy cows. Michigan is an important dairy state, and a big share of beef from within the state comes from dairy cows.

Usually there is a heavy marketing period for pork after August and September. This means a decline in prices up to January which is reflected in retail meat counters. This is especially true this year for several reasons: 1—Farmers are producing more hogs. 2—With a big corn crop last year, they could spring pigs ready for market without waiting for this year's corn crop. and 3—Farmers try to market early in the fall, before hog prices hit the usual seasonal low in December.

Farmers are trying to market hogs at lighter weights, which means leaner pork chops in the stores.

There is also a good supply of beef at this time of the year. Good beef cuts, however, are high in price compared to pork because the marketing process is more orderly. Some beef cattle are marketed from the ranges. Many others are bought by cattle feeders who feed them to larger size and better condition before marketing.

Lamb and mutton are usually in good supply throughout the fall and winter marketing season. But the small lamb crop this year is expected to keep the price of lamb cuts high.

In general we can look forward to a season of good variety in steaks, roasts and chops—and for fullest meat-eating pleasure, don't forget the applesauce.

Early Plymouth historic stories say that among the many Indian camps that existed in this part of the state, the one in Plymouth was that of an Indian band over which Chief Pontiac ruled with an iron hand.

This camp was located on the "hill" where now stands the Presbyterian and Methodist churches.

Early settlers recall of finding many Indian relics on this hill. This bit of local historic background fits well into a news item from Ann Arbor which asserts that the modern lie detector machine had its predecessor in a terrifying "ordeal by fire" used by the Indian tribes of the Northwest Territory.

The lie detecting method used by Chief Pontiac, whose depredations during the time of the French and Indian wars made him a terror in the region of which Michigan is a part, is described in a hand-written journal now in the Clements library of the University of Michigan.

This journal, kept by Captain Thomas Morris, of the British army in the year 1764, is also the basis of one of the University Broadcasting service radio programs entitled "Treasures Off the Shelf."

In the summer of 1764, the British army held uncertain control over the vast forests of America's Northwest Territory. Less than a year earlier, the French had surrendered the territory, provoking a vicious Indian uprising under Pontiac, chief of the Ottawa, as they withdrew their own army. Now a British force under Col. John Bradstreet was moving along the southern shore of Lake Erie to reinforce the garrison at Fort Detroit. The danger of a new Indian uprising was ever-present and Colonel Bradstreet knew that someone was working to keep the Indians constantly stirred up against the British.

One of Colonel Bradstreet's aides was Captain Morris. The British quite naturally suspected the French of provoking the trouble with Indians, so Colonel Bradstreet assigned Captain Morris to visit the French forts on the Illinois river. Between Lake Erie and the Illinois, the captain was also to visit hostile Indian villages and present the British invitation for a peaceful conference in Detroit.

Quite by accident, Captain Morris discovered that there was a traitor in Colonel Bradstreet's camp, an American trader and scout named Reynolds. Reynolds had a confederate in a white renegade named Pakanne, who was his agent in talking to the Indians and inciting them against the British.

In one of Pontiac's camps, Captain Morris came face to face with Pakanne. To decide which of the two was lying about Britain's motives in dealing with the Indians Pontiac forced them into a fight before a roaring camp fire. Each man was armed with a blazing pine torch with which he endeavored to force his opponent back upon the camp fire. Captain Morris' victory in this savage battle proved his integrity to Pontiac, and the tribe agreed to meet the British in Detroit and sign a formal peace treaty.

Captain Morris' original journal is now in the Clements library at the University of Michigan, and it will be on public display the week following the broadcast on November 10. It is only one of many hundreds of rare books, manuscripts and maps dealing with the early days of American history which are contained in this library.

Big Trumpeters Increasing:

Trumpeter swans, which numbered a scant 73 in 1935, have chalked up another gain this year and there now are 451 of these big birds in the United States, the Wildlife Management Institute reports.

While the threat of extermination has not yet been dissipated completely, it has been growing less intense each year, and the long battle of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service to preserve the trumpeters appears to be nearing victory. Most of the birds are on the Red Rock Lakes refuge of Montana, which was established in 1935. Since then, the birds have increased in numbers, and cygnets have been transplanted to Yellowstone National park and to the National Elk refuge, Oregon and Nevada refuges held about 27 birds when the breeding-ground survey was completed in August.

The trumpeter swan has several inherent characteristics that made its preservation difficult even after destructive market hunting had been obliterated from the American scene. It is extremely sensitive to changes of habitat caused by civilization, and its tremendous size makes it an easy target for the poacher and a prize of the pot hunter. Swans seldom breed until three years of age, and their breeding places now are few, a factor which tends to concentrate breeding birds in a few spots, making them vulnerable to climatic disasters. Transplanting programs of the Fish and Wildlife service are aimed at minimizing effects of local drought or abnormally cold weather coinciding with nesting periods.

Money For Politics—Not For Conservation.

Michigan leaders for the conservation and preservation of the natural resources of this country are considerably "het" up over the fact that Harry Truman, president, thinks it is more important that money paid into the government by sportsmen of America be spent for politics instead of the protection and development of the fisheries of these United States.

A long, heartbreaking battle by conservationists to give state sport fisheries the same benefits as those realized by game under the Pittman-Robertson Act received a severe setback with the veto of the Dingell Bill by President Truman, according to the Wildlife Management Institute.

The bill, which passed both Houses of Congress without major opposition, had the support of practically all organized sportsmen in the United States. Its passage was recommended by state conservation departments throughout the nation and by all national conservation agencies and organizations. Although, when a similar bill was first introduced in the 80th Congress, some opposition was expressed by members of the Fishing Tackle Manufacturers' association, that organization wholeheartedly supported the Dingell Bill during this session of Congress. The only opposition has come from the Treasury department, which is reluctant to have the excise tax on fishing tackle earmarked for the benefit of those on whom the tax is levied.

In his veto message, the President branded the Pittman-Robertson Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration Act as "an undesirable precedent." The veto itself will be a bitter pill for sportsmen to swallow; this backhanded slap at one of the most progressive and valuable pieces of wildlife legislation on the federal statute books is a double dose of the same medicine.

Plymouth gave Farmington a good beating in last Friday's game. The high school team again showed their powers in the Suburban league by defeating Farmington 31 to 0. Only one first down was made during the game by the visiting team, while Plymouth met little opposition in making hers.

One of the largest votes ever polled in Plymouth was that of Tuesday when 1,180 voters went to the polls to elect Coolidge and Dawes by a landslide. The weather was ideal for the occasion which no doubt accounted somewhat for the large vote. All three amendments were defeated in the city by large majorities.

Mayor L. E. Wilson isn't so enthusiastic about changing the Thanksgiving day from the regular day to an earlier date. He is going to accept and eat turkey on Thursday, November 23 just because, but also may eat turkey on November 30 in order to keep "the records straight."

"Mother" and "dad" went to school Tuesday evening to see just how hard "Junior" and "Sis" study during school hours. Yes, sir, the school boys and girls of Plymouth were "on the spot", there isn't much question about that, because over 500 fathers and mothers of Plymouth went to school Tuesday night to attend Parents' Night.

The zoning ordinance for the city of Plymouth passed a third and final reading by the city commission at their meeting on Monday. It will go into effect on November 28.

SCHOOL NOTES

Y-Teens Divide Into 2 Chapters

Because of the large number of new members which entered Y-Teens, the club has been forced to separate into two chapters. The white chapter will be advised by Miss June Singley and Miss Barbara Gross will be in charge of the blue chapter.

Officers were chosen at the meetings of the two chapters. In the white chapter the following girls were elected: president, Dorothy Wright; vice president, Lois Hoenecker; treasurer, Iva Lou Kahrl; recording secretary, Mary Vincent; and corresponding secretary, Nancy Stevens.

In the blue chapter the officers chosen are: president, Rita Datcher; vice president, Pat Pine; treasurer, Connie Pascoe; recording secretary, Janet Millross, and corresponding secretary, Norma Van Dyke.

Plymouth Debaters Open Season at Roseville

The Plymouth High school debating team will go to Roseville today for their first debate of the 49-50 season. The subject of the debate will be "Resolved: that the President of the United States shall be elected by the direct vote of the people."

The debaters for Plymouth will be Ronald Witt, Gladys Witt, Roger Kidston, Jon Brake, Larry Mack and Sandra Walsh. They will be divided into two groups or teams; one will argue the negative and one the affirmative.

Last year the Plymouth debating team took first place in the Detroit Metropolitan Debating League and were eliminated in the state quarter-finals by Lansing Eastern High school.

Best Boy Citizen to be Selected

The seniors of PHS held a class meeting Thursday morning, November 3, in the library. The meeting was called to order by Pat Zink, senior class president, for the purpose of choosing the best senior boy citizen.

The qualifications for this award are as follows: dependability, truthfulness, loyalty, service, punctuality, cooperation, courtesy, consideration of others, leadership, personality, self-control, ability to assume responsibility, patriotism, unselfish interest in family, school, community and nation.

Miss Aleta Hearn, senior home room teacher, brought out the necessity for seniors to sell Christmas cards and senior play tickets. Returning of report cards immediately was also discussed.

Juniors Choose J-Hop Theme

"Trip to the Moon" is the theme of the J-Hop, chosen by the junior class of PHS.

For the J-Hop, which is only a week away, Dave Green has chosen Eddie Marshall's orchestra to supply the music. The dance begins at 9 and will continue until one in the morning. Only grades 9 through 12 plus invited guests will be permitted. Seventh and eighth grades will also be admitted.

The decoration committee, has been working hard to finish the decorations. Decorating the gym this year will be more difficult than in the past because fire regulations forbid the use of crepe paper because it is a fire hazard. The usual paper ceiling will be replaced by colored lights or balloons.

PEEK at the STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

NBC'S FABULOUS GIVEAWAY, "Hollywood Calling," will lose its sponsor in December... No wonder with the dull chatter dribbling from the mouths of stars who show ordinary they are without a script in their hands...

Kay Kyser and his College of Musical Knowledge has been signed for an hour video show to debut over CBS some time next month... Those who should know insist that Shirley Temple's marital trouble stems from her dreaming nature, developed from the fuss made over her as a "cute, angelic star."

MERCURY: Vic Damone is still cutting slightly terrific records, his latest being "Why Was I Born?" It's backed by "Lonely Born," which in itself may well be a sleeper... Eddy Howard's latest is "Everything They Said Came True," coupled with "Crocodile Tears"...

PHILIP: Phil Harris' "Row, Row, Row" is Harris at his best... First time is well done by "that devastating curly-headed guy" - quote marks supplied by Phil... The flip is also typically Harris...

COLUMBIA: Buddy Clark's last two records are among his best... The first, "You're in Love With Someone," is backed by "Top O' the Morning" and then there's a topnotch rendition of "A Dreamer's Holiday" with an exotic number, "Envy," on the flip that may wind the disc into the big time.

Krishna Nehru to Address Town Hall

Krishna Nehru, sister of Indian prime minister Jawaharlal Nehru, and a member of his official family, will address Detroit Town Hall at 11 a. m. Wednesday, November 16.

With her husband, Raja Huthesing, who accompanies her to Fisher Theatre, she will conduct a joint discussion of the India of today.

Like her statesman brother, the prime minister, Madame Ruthesing was identified actively with the movement for independence. She was twice imprisoned for political reasons.

They are prepared to discuss political, social, and economic problems of India, some of which concern Michigan manufacturers and exporters. They will relate personal anecdotes of the life of India's first family.

VanAtta Retires as Postmaster

Fred VanAtta, 72 years of age, who for more than 15 years has served the community of Northville well as its postmaster, has been retired and the position assigned to Leland V. Smith, one of the popular and well known of the younger business men of Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Atta are both well known in Plymouth, where they are active members of the Christian Science church.

Mr. Van Atta is one of the original officials of the Northville Wayne County Fair association and served for years as one of the directors of the organization.

Since the Northville Downs has taken over the racing concession of the fair, Mr. Van Atta has acted as one of the judges. Like hundreds of other citizens in this part of the state he is an enthusiastic trotting horse fan.

Mr. Smith is active in Rotary club affairs and has taken a prominent part in nearly all of the community activities of Plymouth's nearby neighbor.

If a man has acted right, he has done well, though alone; if wrong, the sanction of all mankind will not justify him.
