The seminary was opened just this Fall and thousands of persons attended open houses which were held on two Sundays to accommodate the visitors who numbered in the 43 thousands. Bishops from Michigan's five dioceses in Detroit, Lansing, Signaw, Grand Rapids and Marquette send young men from their Catholic churches to St. John's for the last four years of preparation for the priesthood. When classes reach top enrollment, there will be approximately 170 students at the seminary. Members of the Society of Priests of Saint Sulpice, Father Fenn and his colleagues are in charge of the teaching and the managing of finances at the seminary which is supported by the five dioceses.

By The Very Reverend Lyman A. Fenn, S.S.
Rector of St. John's Provincial Seminary

Every year at this time, God must be pleased to hear our President proclaim a day of thanksgiving, calling us to be properly grateful to our Creator for all the blessings we have received from His hand. The good Lord must be pleased, too, to see the people of a nation bowed in humble recognition of the great debt they owe to Him, especially pleased to know that we, who boast so much of our self-made men, officially acknowledge on this day that there are only God-made men.

To be thankful is to do what the Holy Scriptures repeatedly urge upon us. St. Paul in particular exhorts us, "In all things give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you." Elsewhere we are told to make "melody in our hearts to the Lord, giving thanks always for all things." And again the Apostle says, "Whatever you do . . . do in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, giving thanks to God and the Father by Him."

Yes, it is good to be grateful to God. But it is not easy. In fact, there are many pitfalls. First, there is the danger of thanking Him only for what is obvious and less important—for earth and sky, for mountain-grandeur and sunset splendor, for forest and mine, for fertile field and fruitful vine, for well-stocked stream and plentiful pasture, for work to do and the strength to do it, for home and friends, for freedom. How much more fitting it is to thank Him for the breath of life and a soul undying, for His Word made Flesh and redeeming grace, for the shelter of His Church and the armor of the Sacraments, for strength in temptation and comfort in sorrow, for mercy shown and sin forgiven, for His unfulfilling promises and the blessed hope of reward for the very grace of thankfulness!

Another danger consists in being thankful for the gift rather than to the giver. If a man thanks me for the gun I have just given him and then shoots me with it, I have reason to doubt his gratitude toward me. How then will He, Who has said, "Blessed are the poor," and "Blessed are the meek," regard those who thank Him for their riches which they use to selfish and sinful purposes; who thank Him for their power which they wield as a tyranny; for their fame which is a source of scandal? To be grateful for things misused is to be ungrateful to Him who bestows them.

Finally, we must be careful of the manner of our rendering thanks. We must not be like the Pharisee, saying, "O God, I give Thee thanks that I am not as the rest of men." Christ assures us that this man was not justified. Neither will our thanksgiving be acceptable if we are not humble.

So, let us pray with King David, "Thine, Lord, is the magnificence, thine the power; splendor and glory and majesty are thine; to thee all that is in heaven, all that is on earth belongs. Riches and honor come from Thee; all things obey Thy will; from Thee power comes and dominion; only Thy hand exalts, only Thy hand makes strong. To Thee, then, our God, we pay homage this day; to Thy glorious name bring renown."

Another Boston Tea Party is Staged by Plymouth Rotarians

It wasn't in the dim moonlight or with muffled oar that Plymouth Rotarians rowed out to sea to stage another Boston tea party for the result was all the same.

While local Rotarians didn't throw English tea into the sea, they did throw an English idea overboard with such a heavy weight around its neck that it will never again arise from the bottom of the sea—that is not in waters around this one hundred percent American city.

It all came about when, at the request of Rotary International, a vote was taken upon the question of striking the word "profit" out of an expression that has long been regarded as a Rotary motto. "He profits most who serves best" goes this old time Rotary expression.

It was something like a year ago when the Rotary club of Plymouth, England thought such a horrid word as "profit" should be eliminated from the Rotary vocabulary. Big wigs in the club, which is spread over the world, thought maybe because of translation difficulties, the word should be stricken—but the matter was finally left up to individual clubs.

Stirring stump speeches were made last Friday by such old time Rotarians as William Wood and George Smith and when former President Charles Brake finally moved that President Frank Henderson put the question to a vote, the 70 Rotarians present voted to a man to throw the silly British idea right into the middle of the sea alongside the cases of tea that went into the Boston harbor when Yankees decided that a colonial tax idea was no better than would be a profitless world.

Pupils Learn to Practice Democracy in Classrooms

During American Education Week, many parents and other people from the community visited our local schools to observe and have conferences with the teachers in both high school and the elementary schools. Your Plymouth Mail reporter and cameraman also took advantage of this chance to visit. Their aim was to discover the kind of teaching that might be contributing to a realization of the week's slogan, "Making Democracy Work." Some of their findings are expressed in pictures on page five.

Shown busily engaged in making apple jelly is a group of first grade children and their teacher, Frances Chilson, of Starkweather school. The project was an outgrowth of an earlier learning unit in which these children planned and carried on their own county fair with the assistance of their parents who brought fancy work, jelly, pickles, canned fruit and vegetables to the room display.

Asked when they taught reading, Mrs. Chilson said, "We still teach reading and all the other skills that have been taught in schools in the past. In fact a survey of parent opinion last year indicated that most parents feel that the school is teaching reading better than ever before. But we believe that we must guide children in learning more than the three R's if we are going to help them prepare to live together as good citizens of a democracy today. One important thing they must learn is to take responsibility. This includes responsibility for what they do and how they do it as well as for doing it. The only way they will learn this is through having a part in selecting the problems on which they are going to work and through working together in solving these problems.

"This jelly making project represents a real problem to these children. They have spent a number of days in planning what materials they would need, the number of cups of sugar, the number of cups of juice, what they would have to bring from home, as well as what part each would play in carrying on the project. A very important factor is that they have a real purpose in doing this. The purpose I don't dare to mention until after Christmas."

"You know," added Mrs. Nancy Tanger, Starkweather principal, "we have recognized for sometime the need for people to learn to live and work better together in our adult society. It's as true in Plymouth as in most other communities.

"We have told children that people should be kind and thoughtful toward each other. We have told them to respect others and their rights as individuals. We have told them that they should cooperate and work together. But in actual practice. (Continued on page 8)

Old Newsboys Slate Meeting

Organizational plans and further preparations for the annual Old Newsboys' paper sale to be held on December 17 will be discussed at an important meeting on Wednesday, November 30 at 8 p. m. in the city hall. All Old Newsboys are urged to attend.

Earl Gray, president of the Goodfellows, the sponsors of the paper sale, told in an interview yesterday how the group helps needy families to a more joyous Christmas. Many hours of work by many different committees precedes the giving of Christmas presents by Goodfellows.

First in line is careful study of all cases reported to the group by the investigation committee. Mr. Gray emphasized the fact that names of families which the Goodfellows could help should be reported to A. L. Glassford, a member of the investigation committee, at the city hall.

A member of this committee interviews children and adults in families so that the Goodfellows can give personalized Christmas gifts of clothing, food and toys. Four cards are made out, a master card and one each for the use of the food, toys and clothing committees. "These cards are used by the committees to purchase the gifts listed in Plymouth stores," related Mr. Gray.

The presents are gathered together and stored in the Plymouth township hall. Just before Christmas, the various committees meet to wrap each gift and combine with food purchases under a numbering system so that gifts for members of the same family are together.

The routing committee determines the transportation to be used and the distribution committee puts on the finishing touches by delivering personally all Christmas presents on December 24.

Legion Schedules Holiday Project

Residents of Plymouth and vicinity are invited to join with the Myron H. Beals Post No. 32 and the Passage-Gayde Post No. 391 of the American Legion and its auxiliaries in remembering every sick or disabled veteran in Michigan on Christmas this year.

There are 70 hospitals in the state now caring for these veterans—7,000 of them in all—for whom the war has not ended. It is proposed to give each of them a Christmas gift box. This project is called "Gifts for the Yanks Who Gave." It is now being sponsored by the Legion and auxiliaries for the sixth consecutive year. It is nationwide in scope, and constitutes the biggest Christmas party on record. Maybury and the Eastlawn Sanatorium Veterans will be taken care of by the American Legion and their auxiliaries in this area.

It's a real task to purchase the gifts and pack, wrap and deliver the boxes to Michigan's 7,000 hospitalized veterans, and the sponsors need the cooperation of all generous citizens. The value of each box will range from four to five dollars and donors may contribute money to this project. (Continued on page 8)

Verne Emmett, general manager of the Plymouth Coach division of Deluxe Motor stages is shown telling driver William Glass of the many changes involved in the company's new "Plymouth to downtown Detroit" service which goes into operation next Monday. The establishment of this service sets a new mark in convenience for Plymouth commuters who work in Detroit and is the result of the perseverance of Mr. Emmett and Frank Arquillo, owner of the firm.

Passengers Now Ride to Heart of City

Adding still another item to the list of things for which Plymouth residents can give thanks on Thursday is the approaching inauguration of through bus service to downtown Detroit from Plymouth by the Plymouth Coach division of DeLuxe Motor Stages on Monday, November 28.

Although other bus companies have attempted to bring about such a service from Plymouth to downtown Detroit, it is through the untiring efforts of Frank Arquillo, owner of DeLuxe Motor Stages, and Verne Emmett, general manager, that Plymouth commuters will finally have a way of going all the way to the heart of the Motor City without transferring buses. Both Mr. Arquillo and Mr. Emmett are to be given credit for the many months they have spent in preparation for launching this new service.

For the convenience of commuters and local residents who work in Detroit, buses will operate hourly from Plymouth to Detroit from 5 a. m. to 5 p. m. The return of the 5 a. m. bus to Plymouth will be the first Detroit to Plymouth run of the day.

The last coach leaving from the terminal of the Plymouth Coach division at 1505 Cass avenue in downtown Detroit will depart at 6:30 p. m. The buses will operate from Grand River avenue and Plymouth road from 7:05 p. m. until 12:50 a. m.

Drivers of Plymouth coaches will discharge passengers at any regular coach stop along Grand River on their way to Detroit and will pick up passengers at the regular stops coming out to Plymouth on Grand River.

Fare for the "straight through to Detroit" service has been set at 50 cents for one way. New schedules for the new service may be secured from the bus drivers after November 23.

Churches Unite On Thanksgiving

Union Thanksgiving services the evening of November 23 will be held in the Methodist church at 8 o'clock and will be sponsored by the Protestant churches of Plymouth.

Poole, pastor of the home church, will give the invocation. Ministers of other participating churches will take part in the special Thanksgiving eye service. Music in the spirit of the Thanksgiving theme will be sung by the church choir and by the congregation.

Local Ministers Form Association

Captain William Roberts, of the Salvation Army, was chosen chairman of the newly formed Plymouth Ministerial Association at the group's organization meeting last Wednesday, November 16. Secretary of the association is the Reverend Alexander Miller, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church.

Purpose of the newest Plymouth organization is to coordinate activities of protestant churches and to serve as a clearing house for unified action. The ministers have scheduled luncheon meetings for the second Wednesday of each month.

Dr. Frederick Poole was host for the initial meeting held at the First Methodist church. Those present at the gathering, in addition to the ministers already named, were Dr. Henry Walch, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; the Rev. Benjamin Eicker, pastor of the First Baptist church and the Rev. Patrick J. Clifford, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church.

ATTEND CANADIAN MEETING
Miss Neva Lovewell, Mrs. Lila Humphries and Mrs. Kenneth Wilks attended the International night of the Business and Professional Women's club held in Chatham, Ontario, at the William Pitt hotel Saturday night. They also attended the Sunday brunch at which Canadian representatives of the club discussed plans for the coming year.

Block Effort to Change Records of Commission

Fortunately for the city of Plymouth, the suggestion made early in the present administration by City Commissioner Cass Hough, is going to enable the city to keep its official records straight, although an attempt has been made to eliminate a portion of the official proceedings of the last meeting held by the recalled commissioners.

Because of the fact that there is now safely locked in the safety vault of the Plymouth United Savings bank a microfilm copy of all of the official proceedings of the city commission, City Manager Al Glassford will be able to re-copy and restore in the official record proceeding book at the city hall the portion that was "deleted."

On election day when the present city commission was being elected to take place of the temporary commission appointed by the Governor former acting Mayor George Chute, states City Manager Glassford, came to the clerk's office and removed from the record a page which contained a portion of the official commission proceedings held on September 6. He advised Mr. Glassford that it would be returned shortly.

Former Mayor Chute had previously ordered the then acting City Clerk Glassford, to re-copy the page and eliminate all those portions which had been marked "deleted." This Mr. Glassford refused to do. The former mayor also gave a similar order to Mrs. Robinson, stenographer to Mr. Glassford, to re-copy the proceedings and eliminate the sections marked "deleted." She also refused to comply with the request, declaring that before she would do any such a thing, she would resign.

It was late Friday afternoon, November 18, just before the closing hour at the city clerk's office when the former appointed mayor brought back to the clerk's office the page of the official proceedings that he had "borrowed."

The page had been re-copied with that portion of the proceedings which had been marked "deleted" at the direction of a former city commissioner who was defeated for re-election, entirely omitted.

When it first became known that an effort had been made to eliminate from the official city proceedings all reference to that part of the city commission meeting which opened for a hearing of any charges against the commissioners, with proof of the accusations, The Plymouth Mail made some inquiry into the report.

The inquiry revealed the fact that a portion of one page of the official proceedings had been marked "deleted." The former city commissioner nor the temporary commission appointed by the Governor had never directed that any portion of the proceedings be stricken, according to a careful check of all the city commission proceedings.

The fact became known that some portions of the record had been marked "deleted" at a meeting of the temporary commission serving between the recall and the final election, when the clerk was reading the proceedings for correction. A former commissioner stopped the clerk as the minutes were being read to state that that portion of the record should not be read as it was "deleted."

Because of the unusual circumstances The Mail decided to take a photo of the page with the "deleted" markings.

Former Mayor Chute ordered the clerk not to let the picture be taken. While no public official has a right to deny a newspaper the right of making a photo of any official record, except in circuit court cases which have been temporarily suppressed on orders of a circuit judge. The Mail did not press the issue and made no reference to it, because of a desire not to become embroiled in any unnecessary arguments, and knowing that the new city administration would rectify any errors that might be made.

It will be recalled that former city manager, Clarence Elliott, at one time refused to change the official record of a vote that had been made.

The alertness of City Commissioner Hough in recommending that a microfilm be made of all official city proceedings, which was done before the one page had been removed by the temporary former mayor, and a portion of it deleted before it was returned to the city clerk's office, assures to the people of Plymouth an accurate record of city commission proceedings.

Commission Acts on Liquor Policy

So that not just one or two grocery stores shall be privileged to sell packaged beer and wine, unanimous approval was given by the city commission Monday night to a motion declaring that "the policy of this commission, in as much as certain businesses now hold state licenses for the package sale of beer and wine, shall be that there be no future discrimination in furnishing city approval for the issuance of SDM licenses."

A letter will be sent to the State Liquor Control commission stating the reversal of policy by the Plymouth governing body. To date, the Liquor commission has on file the information that the local city commission will not issue any more SDM licenses. The liquor commission will then forward their approval or disapproval of local applications for such licenses to the Plymouth city commission for their action.

Other action concerning the sale of liquor at the commission meeting included the blanket denial to any club to dispense beer, wine or liquor. Unanimously passed, the action followed the presentation of an application from the Elks Lodge for such a license. A statement of this policy will also be inserted in the letter to the State Liquor commission.

Instructions For Holiday Mailing

"Mail Early" is the current watchword at Plymouth's post office as employees make preparations for handling the Christmas rush of greeting cards, packages and letters for the 1949 holiday season. In an effort to assure prompt delivery of all cards and packages, certain "do's and don't's" have been issued by Mrs. Beatrice Schultz, assistant postmistress.

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

Friendliness Is a Boomerang

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE of the sort of thing that goes on day after day, every week of the month, every month of the year.

Mrs. Leona Harmon, Moline, Ill., was left a widow just two months before her young son was born. She had another child, a little girl of two.

She and her husband had married during the depression—married with hope and high faith. They had carried insurance despite the difficulty in making payments.

When Mr. Harmon met his death, however, this had to be dropped and Mrs. Harmon was left with assets of some $200. Two hundred dollars and two children to support!

During those days she had a good chance to learn how nourishing oatmeal and other simple dishes could be. But there was just one thing to do, face it. Each day she dreaded the next one that was coming. She gritted her teeth, however, clung to her faith and kept on going.

There are a lot of courageous mothers in this land of ours, particularly since the late war took its toll, who will recognize every step of the road Mrs. Harmon walked.

What was the staff on which she leaned? What enabled her to hold up her head and march on? Prayer! Yes, and counting the blessings she had. Every night she deliberately went over the things for which she could be grateful. She went over the pleasant memories of the past; she thought about her adorable children, recalling sympathetic remarks of friends who thought it too bad that she had to carry such burdens, and she picked herself up with the knowledge of how rich and full they made her life.

And they did get enough to eat! When she needed something special she prayed for it, and nearly always got what she prayed for. When she did, she didn't neglect to thank God for it. She wanted a home to live in, a house. She prayed over it. Suddenly one was offered her that she could afford simply by working three nights a week extra. When it came to making the last payment, there stood her Uncle Sam with outstretched hand. But she got some extra work and took care of taxes.

She got tired out, run down, needed a change. She prayed over this, and along came the offer of a job that required travel for awhile. Her sister took care of her children, and she got the change she needed. When she came home, she felt she had a vacation.

She says she has kept two things in mind, friendliness and helpfulness, and that these two things have acted like a boomerang.

She went over the pleasant memories of the past; she thought about her adorable children, recalling sympathetic remarks of friends who thought it too bad that she had to carry such burdens, and she picked herself up with the knowledge of how rich and full they made her life.

And they did get enough to eat! When she needed something special she prayed for it, and nearly always got what she prayed for. When she did, she didn't neglect to thank God for it. She wanted a home to live in, a house. She prayed over it. Suddenly one was offered her that she could afford simply by working three nights a week extra. When it came to making the last payment, there stood her Uncle Sam with outstretched hand. But she got some extra work and took care of taxes.

She got tired out, run down, needed a change. She prayed over this, and along came the offer of a job that required travel for awhile. Her sister took care of her children, and she got the change she needed. When she came home, she felt she had a vacation.

She says she has kept two things in mind, friendliness and helpfulness, and that these two things have acted like a boomerang.

What was the staff on which she leaned? What enabled her to hold up her head and march on? Prayer! Yes, and counting the blessings she had. Every night she deliberately went over the things for which she could be grateful. ### Sunday Concert Pleases Audience

Ardis Curtiss Long, violinist with the Plymouth Symphony orchestra and also a vocalist with amazing capabilities appeared as the soloist with the orchestra at their second concert of the 1949-50 season last Sunday.

This young lady last year surprised the musicians and Symphony society members when she rehearsed with the orchestra the numbers that Rose Suzanne Derian was scheduled to sing when she was unable to be present at one of the rehearsals due to the Metropolitan Opera auditions in New York.

Ardis Long's appearance with the symphony was a token of recognition for her efforts. She chose to sing "Romanza" from Cavalleria Rusticana by Mascagni, and "Il Bacio" by Arditia. Her encore was a selection from Roman Airs by Victor Herbert. Miss Long was accompanied by the orchestra for the first two numbers and at the piano by Evelyn Woods for the encore. Her voice is surprisingly strong and full, a complete contrast to her physical proportions. She is a striking brunette and was most pleasing to the eye in her red evening dress.

A symphony not too familiar to concert patrons was presented as the first number of the program. Paul T. Wagner, the musical director of the orchestra is not to be restrained when it comes to choice of selections, in this case, the Schumann Symphony No. 1 in B flat major.

The performance of this symphony seemed to get off to a weak start, but the splendid melodic influence and grandeur of the composition took hold and gradually the musicians seemed to "warm up". By the time the second movement with its wealth of harmony stole in, the number was off to an easier uniformity and its beauty overwhelmed one so that the listener readily understood why Mr. Wagner had chosen this particular symphony.

It is very evident that the introduction of a symphony to an orchestra for performance for the first time by that orchestra, is in a sense, a challenge to the musicians and the audience. Any tendency therefore, to be over-critical must be overshadowed by the fact that this orchestra is strictly a voluntary and an amateur group only starting its fourth year but slowly and steadily advancing to professional capacity.

A Suite for String orchestra by Rameau was also included on this program and the final number was the Rhapsody Romaine by Enesco. This last number, the "acid test", as it were, was beautifully played and it was noticeable throughout the entire concert that the principals of the various sections of the orchestra were proficient in performance. It was a fitting number for a climax and left no doubt in the listener's mind that this orchestra is a determined group with an inspiring director who has a great future before him.

Brake Speaks
Charles E. Brake, well known in the community and the state of Michigan as an outstanding educator, was the happy choice for the intermission speaker. He patterned his talk by comparing music to a form of communication and said that he had recently seen the minutes of the Hough school for the year of 1827 when two kinds of books, readers and spellers, were the only requirements of the school system.

Mr. Brake continued his short talk on the theme that music has been introduced as a course of study at Michigan State college as one of the means of aiding the mentally ill. He reported that a visit to Mr. Altshuler of the Wayne County General hospital had disclosed that 15 mentally ill patients had been reached through the realm of music when all other means of communication disregarded by the patients who had even refused to converse.

In conclusion, Mr. Brake stated, "And still, there are some people who consider music a frill."

The usual symphony tea followed the concert.

THANKSGIVING — A DAY OF OPPORTUNITY.

What is Thanksgiving day for, did some one ask? It is a day of many things—a day to express our thanks for the good things of life, a day to enjoy the bounties of this troubled world.

But it is a day of opportunity as well—because it provides us a day to express our gratefulness for all the blessings we enjoy.

It is a day when we can make known our gratitude—for Thanksgiving means gratitude. And there is probably no man alive who does not hold ingratitude to be one of the blackest sins. Of course, there can be no gratitude except as it is shown not only for something but to some one. Therefore, observes another writer, it is that the thought of Thanksgiving necessarily implies the existence of a Divine Giver and benefactor. So we are bidden to return thanks to Almighty God as "the Giver of every good and perfect gift." When there seems to be a scarcity of gifts one is tempted to ask the question, why be thankful? And that is a question which every one must answer for himself, and it will be answered as it always has been, in different ways. It is futile to catalogue what we know to be blessings and what we believe to be anything but blessings, and set off one list against the other, and be thankful in proportion as the good exceeds the evil.

Carlyle long ago showed us the folly of the bookkeeping method as applied to things spiritual. Probably most people get out of life about what they deserve and in proportion to what they put into it. It seems to be true that the most thankful people are those who have the least. On the other hand, those who are surfeited with good things take them as matters of course, as their due, and so calling for no gratitude. The question seems to be whether one has a thankful spirit, which surely is something to be greatly desired.

Without it, man is less than man. Even beasts are grateful. Practically, the question suggested by the day touches character. There is nothing mechanical or formal about it. One can not pump up thankfulness, and the setting apart of a day does not suggest that there should be such an attempt. The day is rather a recognition, less of a duty than of an opportunity which it would be or might be fatal to neglect. "Be ye thankful" is an apostolic command. It ought to be easy to obey. Those men are nearest the truth who feel that in this life nothing is due them, and that whatever they get is in a very true sense a gift, and one which may be far beyond their deserts. So we are called to keep another Thanksgiving day, which should bring an outpouring of not only thankful but kindly hearts. Appropriate to the day is Pope's well-known verse:

Teach me to feel another's woe,
To hide the fault I see;
That mercy I to others show,
That mercy show to me.

WE'LL FORGIVE HIM — IF!

During the years we have said some unkind things about Drew Pearson because of his biased politics, especially as it pertained to Michigan.

But if Mr. Pearson can FORCE Michigan law enforcing officers to clear up the Senator Warren Hooper assassinator and GET the fellow who paid the cash to have the murder committed, we will not only forgive him for all past sins, but we will forever and forever laud him to the skies.

Don't fool yourself, kind reader. The writer has been and still remains a pretty independent Republican—a Republican who has been willing to give credit to any honest Democrat who honestly tries to do something for the good of the public. But try and find ANY Democrat up in Lansing or anywhere else, who has tried to clear up this rotten political mess in Michigan, which involves some Republicans along with an array of New Dealers.

Now comes forth the present Democratic attorney general, Stephen Roth, with the insipid statement that he was "in no position to ask for a grand jury."

Why should he be—when the Governor Williams administration joined with a bunch of Republicans who did the bidding of some of the attorneys who have been defending the grafting and thieving state officials—to knock out Michigan's greatest safeguard against corrupt and dishonest officials—its famed Grand Jury Law!

The silly Governor didn't have to sign the grand jury repealer—and if he had refused to sign it—HE KNEW there wasn't enough votes in the legislature to override his veto.

So don't let any one kid you that the present good-for-nothing Democratic administration up in Lansing didn't have a hand in putting every stumbling block within its power against a clean up of all the rottenness in the Michigan state government.

"Soapy" Williams is as guilty as all of the rest of the back politicians who had a hand in engineering the killing of the Grand Jury Law.

Some are damning The Detroit Free Press for revealing the facts that have recently come to light. Only some one with a dirty axe to grind will protest anything that has been done or is being done to get at the bottom of this killing and JAIL the ones who killed Hooper and the ONES who PAID the killers to kill him. The spot-light on crime is always a help and never a hindrance.

We hope Police Commission Harry Toy of Detroit will grab the reigns of this investigation, throw into jail any official who comes within his jurisdiction who does the slightest thing to stymie his efforts to jail the killers as well as those who PAID for the killing! It is about time that the sordid mess in Michigan politics is cleaned up and ALL of the guilty jailed and punished.

MICHIGAN HELPS VETERANS.

Michigan is one of the only 18 states out of the 48 that has voted cash bonuses to veterans of the last World war. Since 1947 bonus proposals have been defeated by legislatures in 21 states and in five states the question has not been even considered by the legislatures or the voters of the states.

It has been defeated by the voters in five of the 18 states where the voters were asked for their approval or rejection as was done in Michigan. Last Tuesday the voters of Pennsylvania voted for a bonus by an overwhelming vote, thereby becoming the 18th state voting for a bonus.

Louisiana is the only southern state to approve a bonus for veterans and Washington is the only far western or southwestern state to vote bonuses.

Down through all of its history, Michigan has been one of the first states to give a helping hand to its young men it has sent forth to fight the battles for this Union. And we are proud of the fact that it was by an overwhelming vote OF THE PEOPLE that brought about a bonus for veterans in Michigan.

GOOD ADVICE — FROM SOMEWHERE.

If you work for a man, in heaven's name work for him; speak well of him and stand by the institution he represents.

Remember—An ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness.

If you must growl, condemn, and eternally find fault, why—resign your position, and when you are on the outside, damn to your heart's content—but so long as you are a part of the institution do not condemn it. If you do, the first high wind that comes along will blow you away, and probably you will never know why.

Bank Buys Film For Local Usage

Raymond Williams, vice president of the Plymouth United Savings bank, has just announced the purchase of a motion picture film, "Glass Houses" for free showings in this community. The bank is making this film available for showings to service clubs, churches, PTA groups, high schools, or any other groups who desire its use.

The picture stars Jay Jostyn, radio's "Mr. District Attorney," and points out the causes for delinquency and what we all can do to correct this problem. The picture was made with the collaboration of leading federal and national authorities on juvenile delinquency, and is endorsed by large groups interested in the youth of our country.

The film shows how cooperation between parents, children, and the church prevents crime.

Any group wishing to use this film may contact Mr. Williams at the bank.

ON CAPITOL HILL NEWS and COMMENT FROM CONGRESSMAN GEORGE A. DONDERO

Nobody nowadays opposes legitimate unionism, least of all myself. But strike policies pursued by many labor unions seem ill-advised and shortsighted when judged by results affecting both union members and the general public. This may be said of the coal and steel strikes, and of others less important now in progress.

Because no labor management relations law in recent years has failed to provide for bona fide bargaining over wages, hours, working conditions and benefits, all of these strikes are pointless at this time.

Possibly across-the-table bargaining, without resort to ultimatum, refusals to compromise, and resultant walk-outs, might bring slightly lesser immediate labor gains, but long range benefits to labor and the public would more than offset the difference. Here are some figures to support this belief.

During the eight "no day work weeks" recently ordered by John L. Lewis, for no apparent reason since he had refused to reveal his demands, on the average each soft coal miner lost $565 in take-home pay. In that period about 96,000,000 tons of coal were left unmined. No coal, no royalties so the fund lost approximately $19,400,000.

It has been estimated that a ten per cent wage raise for miners, which now appears unlikely, would repay them for wages lost in the eight weeks of idleness in no less than 20 weeks plus whatever number of additional weeks accident, illness, or shutdowns for repairs might cause.

If the history of coal mine labor relations is to continue as in the past, new walk-outs can be expected long before the 20 weeks have elapsed. Miners thus may remain behind the eight-ball indefinitely.

In evaluating the net effect on miners' economic gains of the ultimatum, no compromise, walk out technique, it should be borne in mind that the recently lost $565 in take-home pay, which may never be recouped, represents the down payment on a new automobile. Also it represents the approximate cost of a new refrigerator and a combination radio and television set, the cost of a new bathroom for the home, or the cost of clothing four children for a year.

On this basis it would seem that blind support of John L. Lewis in his efforts to outshine coal labor leaders and in his quarrels with government officials manifestly is not providing his mine union vassals with a more abundant life. Quite the contrary, in fact.

It is true, of course, that labor gains made at outrageous cost to labor in this generation may be of benefit to future generations of labor. But in the present uncertain state of world and domestic affairs nobody can foretell what conditions future generations may face.

Therefore common sense would dictate perseverance in bargaining, without easy recourse to strike. It might be a good idea to provide by law for continuous bargaining sessions in each instance until some agreement is reached. Any disputes which might incidentally occur could well serve to clear the air and lead to a better understanding all around. Meanwhile wage-earners could go on earning and receiving their wages. Nobody would lose in the process.

Michigan people will rejoice with Ypsilanti residents over the fact that gas users in that city now are getting natural gas from Michigan Consolidated Gas company's lines at approximately half the price they had been paying for manufactured gas provided by the municipally-owned plant. Ypsilanti Mayor Dan T. Quirk recently wired Chairman William G. Woodfolk and President Henry Fink of Michigan Consolidated, thanking them for "a great job well done."

In Calgary, Alta., Roofer Arnold Larson's jail sentence for drunken driving was postponed until he finished fixing the roof of the police station. In Jefferson City, Mo., Willard Drayton, a tower guard at the state penitentiary, was found to be a parole violator from California. In Salt Lake City, Escaped Convict Allen J. Carbis, returning to the Utah State Prison after voluntarily calling up the warden to say "I'm coming home," explained: "I had no right as a man or a convict to let him down that way."

Squelcher For Pike Fishermen

Hold your horses, Great Northern pike fishermen. It may think you have become the biggest pike that roams the lakes and streams of Michigan, you'd better guess again.

Fishermen Pike Floyd Reddeman, Wendell Lutz, Kenneth Stevens, James Hawk, Paul Russell and Manny Blank have for years been generally regarded as the all "know-how" when it comes to snagging the big ones.

Now comes forth Dick Merritt, without a touch light rays, or a press agent or any blarney of trumpets to let the world know that during the past fishing season he caught the third biggest Great Northern pike ever taken out of Michigan waters.

He has all the proof one needs to back up his claim. The whopper weighed over 25 pounds and it was just a little over 48 inches in length—nearly four feet long. He caught it late last summer while fishing in a lake up near Marquette.

If you are one of those doubting Thomases, just go down to the insurance office of Dick's son, Joe Merritt on South Main street—for right up over Joe's desk is that whaling big Northerner all stuffed and shiny.

It has been "old stuff" to Floyd Reddeman, who fishes the Thunder Bay river, and Manny Blank, who has a private fishing hole somewhere over near Brighton, when they land pike now and then weighing 12 or 14 pounds—but here's a mark for these two pike fishermen as well as all the others in and around town to try and equal.

P. S.—It should be explained that Paul Hommel is strictly a blue gill fisherman and shows utter disgust when a hungry Northerner takes his bait—but he will, in a matter of fact, tell his friends about catching a 17 or 18 inch pike now and then on a blue gill hook.

Rock Runners Finish Season

The Plymouth Rock cross country squad finished a relatively good season this year under the able coaching of Kon Moiso.

Taking four dual meets, second in the league meet and ninth at the state meet, the local sprinters were paced by the brilliant running of Calvin Becker, a senior at Plymouth High.

The Rock harriers took meets from Trenton, Wayne, Belleville and Cranbrook while losing to Ypsilanti, league champs, and Redford Union.

Losing to Ypsilanti was nothing new but the squad did hate bowing to Redford Union, who finished low in the league and state meet.

Plymouth seemed too over-confident in their meet with the Panthers and did not realize the possibility of being beaten.

Seven boys received their letters this year in cross country of which only two were seniors, but these two lads, Cal Becker and Lou Vargha had been a leading factor in the thirlands victories.

Vargha captained the squad last year and this year the team was headed by Becker. Getting started slowly, Vargha finally hit his stride late in the season.

The other five boys who earned their letters included Dick Joachim, Buzz Todd, Dick Underwood, Dan Green and Marvin Green. Another lad who did not earn his letter or even place in a meet was Eugene Vowles, who should receive a special letter for his sticking with the team although he finished last almost every time.

Cross country coach, Kon Moiso stated, "This was the second best cross country team I have had the pleasure of coaching at Plymouth in the past six years." Only 12 boys reported out to cross country at the first of the year in a school where at least 25 should have turned out.

Captain of the Plymouth cross country squad this year was Calvin Becker who came in first in three of the five dual meets he finished, third at the league meet and fourth in the state Class B meet.

Calvin's hobby is running, either track or cross country. He likes to swim and once in awhile he'll pass the time away by fishing. Becker is also an outstanding runner on the track squad in the half mile.

Party Held at Riverside Arena

A Thanksgiving party was held at Riverside arena Sunday evening, November 20 with a very good crowd present. The Riverside club has planned to have a party each month.

On Thursday, November 17 the biggest crowd in the history of Riverside arena packed the beautiful rink. This was just a few more than there were the opening night of Riverside roller arena a few years ago.

A new dance club has been organized at the arena with an attendance of over 100 members, meeting on Wednesday nights at 6:45 p.m. The older club constitutes a total membership of 150 and an age limit has been set at 16 years of age. The result is that the club is packed.

A Christmas and New Year's party will also be held at Riverside.

Becker Tells How He Broke Ankle

Calvin Becker, Rock sprinter, finished his high school cross country competition in a very heroic way against Cranbrook Thursday, November 10.

Becker started the two mile run with intentions of setting a new school record by breaking George Buddy's former mark and to shatter the record time of the Cranbrook course which was 10:58.

Starting from his position Becker was going well; with but only a half mile to the finish line, Becker was on the heels of Warner, Cranbrook runner. Picking up speed by the second it would have been definite that he would have finished first.

Running up one of the hills, Becker stumbled over a hidden pipe and broke his ankle. Plymouth was sure to lose this meet but behind, Lou Vargha, the other Plymouth thirlands steamed into the finish line with the Rock's winning. The local runners would not let Becker down.

Becker related, "I was running up one of the hills, and between some pine trees was a pipe hidden from view. I tripped and turned my left ankle on the pipe. I figured at first that I had just sprained it and I continued for about a 100 yards before I fell down again. This time I did not get up and run."

Coach Kon Moiso said that Becker would surely have broken Buddy's record and that he had a good chance of breaking the Cranbrook mark.

Calvin's brother, Dwayne, who was a star in three sports for Plymouth for three years broke his ankle in football as a junior.

Pictured with his five-point buck, the first deer bagged by a Plymouth hunter in 1949 according to Morgan-Burley service which is running a deer hunting contest, is Ernest Kalmbaugh of 875 Willard road, Cherry Hill, who got his kill in the afternoon of November 15, the opening day of the current hunting season. Hunting with Mr. Kalmbaugh were John and William Davids and Peter Furmanek of Plymouth. The group concentrated their hunting efforts in Hope township in Midland county where the buck was shot.

Why don't more Plymouth boys participate in bowling?

In both bowling alleys this year organization of a boy's bowling league has been attempted but only a few boys have turned out to any of the meetings.

Several Detroit schools have bowling in school competition, with boys earning letters or other credit, just as any other school sport.

The price of bowling in the boys' league has been reduced for the convenience of the young bowlers and at the Plymouth Recreation bowling alley, the league would be sanctioned with the American Junior Bowling Congress.

Once more the league will be attempted and it is hoped that more boys will be interested in this indoor sport.

The Detroit Red Wings this season seem to be the hottest team on ice at the present and it appears that the trade of defenseman Bill Quackenbush will not backfire as it was previously thought.

The Red Wings, at the present time, are leading the National Hockey league and Roy Lindsay, Sid Abel and Gordie Howe are the three top leading scorers in the league.

Last year the Red Wings finished the regular season in sole possession of first place, but in the play-offs the Toronto Maple Leafs took the championship.

The Red Wings seem to be the only winning professional team in Detroit as the Tigers finished in fourth place in the American league, the Detroit Lions are holding down sole possession of last place in the National Football league and Detroit does not at the present time, sponsor a basketball squad.

The Plymouth High school fall sports teams ended the season with a record of eight wins and 13 losses, of which half of these wins go to the cross country squad.

The local sprinters rounded out their year with four wins while losing two meets. Plymouth football squads came out on the losing side of the ledger with four wins while dropping 11 encounters.

Leading the way in the win column of the grid squads, was John Sandmann's reserve team with three wins and one loss. The varsity football squad won only one tilt while losing seven. Bob Ingram's freshmen boys did not win a victory against three losses.

Maybe the Plymouth teams can come through in the spring as they did last year, with all the teams finishing with at least a 500 percent or better.

In Manhattan, two ex-convicts who had joined forces to rob pretty Eleanor Joly were nabbed by police when the came around again to make separate social calls on her.

Local Hunters Return With Kill

Deer hunters who have returned home to Plymouth have brought with them many stories of how they bagged their deer. Some have found good luck awaiting them in the Northern woods and others would just as soon not discuss their hunting adventures. Among the more fortunate hunters are those listed below.

George Wilson, 15600 Beck road, bagged a buck with only one horn when he hunted early in the season near Roscommon. The lone horn boasted four points, however, Mr. Wilson was hunting with a party from Ypsilanti.

A four-point buck was the kill of John Johnston, 1024 Lilley road, who hunted near Mio with Marvin Smith of 8354 Canton Center road. Mr. Smith bagged a two point buck.

Rapid River in the Upper Peninsula was the hunting ground for a Plymouth party for three days. Avery Ferguson got a three point buck, Charles Ferguson a four pointer, Homer Reeder a seven point buck, Elbert McBride a one point and Robert Beather bagged a 10 point deer.

John S. Radosky brought home a spike horn buck which weighed 107 pounds when dressed. He hunted in Northern Michigan.

Elvis Maddox, 1460 Brookline, got a nine point buck near Mio early Sunday. He hunted with a party which included Russell Williams and Merville Luker, both from Plymouth.

Rocks Begin Cage Season in Week

In a little more than a week now the Plymouth Rocks will open their 1949-50 basketball season opposing the Farmington Falcons on Friday, December 2.

The Falcons downed the local lads twice last year but Farmington will have a hard time beating this all new team. It is the Falcons.

Plymouth is without the services of such stars as Schromberger, Dobbs, Becker, Alan or Larry Finney this year but with the good crop of cage athletes coming up another star should arise.

Farmington no longer has the fast moving guards, Jimmy McLain and Bud Bryant, but they do have the tall lanky Aschenbrenner, cousin of the Northwestern university star.

The Falcons have had a championship contender in the cage world for the past few years, but this is a non-league tilt for each of the squads and it will make no difference how the game comes out as to the league standings of the teams.

Football Boys See U of M Play

Forty members of the Plymouth Rock football team took in the city championship football game between University of Detroit and the parochial school, St. Anthony, in the annual Goodfellows game, Friday, November 18 at Briggs stadium.

The tickets for this game were given to the team by Melvin Gutherie, Sr., whose son played on the Plymouth squad. Hilton Ponto, head football coach, was the sponsor.

On Saturday, November 12, 27 of the football boys journeyed to Ann Arbor to see the Indiana-Michigan grid encounter.

The tickets were purchased from the athletic fund and the University gave a special deduction in the price of the tickets. A school bus provided the transportation to and from the game.

In Vienna, police ruled that actresses and female artists signing official papers might lie about their age, up to ten years, without risking punishment for false registration.

In Detroit, Walter J. Burnett got a divorce after testifying that while he was at work his wife drank all his beer and whisky, replaced the bottles after filling them with colored water.

End Season Without Winning or Scoring

The Plymouth Rock Freshmen grid team finished their football season without a victory, losing three games.

Out of the five games that have been scheduled for the future varsity squad, only three of those were played because of a mix-up in the schedule.

The Fresh lost to Redford Union 7-0, and twice to Wayne by scores of 21-0 and 40-0. With these losses the freshmen did not score a touchdown.

Bob Ingram coached the squad and 34 boys reported to him at the beginning of the season and 22 still remained with the team at the end.

Coach Ingram stated that the boys had made a definite improvement over the period of time that they had practiced and played games and also that from this group, six or eight of the boys would be ready for the varsity team next fall.

Urban Hits 723 For High Series

At the Plymouth Recreation bowling alleys, Johnny Urban of 723 series in the 350 Classic league Thursday night, November 17.

Johnny bowled games of 254, 236 and 237 giving Pilegrim Products three points over McAllister Brothers victory.

In the Western League, Mildred Swartz bowled a 561 series for a new high three series.

Ray Williams bowled a 256 game at Parkview Recreation but did not have a high series because his other two games were below 200.

In Detroit, Mrs. Eleanor Croze won a divorce after testifying that her husband refused to be kissed because he was afraid of germs.

Pupils Learn to Practice Democracy in Classrooms

We have isolated each child from the others, permitted him to speak on rare occasions and then often only to the teacher. Opportunities to work or play cooperatively together have often been reserved for the playground or the stage in the auditorium. We believe that children learn a way of living together such as the democratic way only as they live it themselves. Problems attacked by the children in the schools should become more and more complex as they grow older. The children should continually accept more and more responsibility for what they do. Many kinds of books as well as many other resources are used in the search for answers. These resources include trips into the community, pamphlets, pictures, people, and all other resources that contribute to solving the problem.

"Our teachers are trying hard to learn better the methods and techniques of teaching through such democratic procedures. We admit we have much to learn. It is far more difficult to teach through such methods than through the traditional authoritarian method. Most adults know that it is more difficult to work democratically together than it is to have a boss tell you what to do.

"We in the Plymouth elementary schools believe that the democratic way is the best and the only way we can help assure the preservation and improvement of our democratic way of life."

When asked for his views concerning the newer methods of teaching, Paul Johnson, elementary coordinator, said, "I agree wholeheartedly with the views expressed by Mrs. Chilson and Mrs. Tanager. I think we have all been guilty of what has been called a talk-democracy without practicing a do-democracy. We're guilty of it in our homes, in our relations with those we work with, in our churches, schools and social organizations. We hope for world peace based on cooperation when we have not in fact learned yet to cooperate with the people we live and work with every day. I personally believe this is due to our lack of confidence in people. This respect for and confidence in mankind appears to me as a first essential for a democratic society.

"The belief that we must practice democracy if we are going to learn it, is growing in the public schools. In the modern school all possible means the chief administrator or the children in the classroom, are asked to participate in planning as well as carrying out the plans and evaluating the results. Sometimes people who are unused to sharing in such responsibilities refuse. They would rather 'be told'. It really is far easier that way.

"Such participation doesn't stop at the walls of the school but rather extends out into the community. In our schools during the past year parents and other members of the community have participated in many school activities. Among these are school-building planning, curriculum evaluation, classroom learning activities such as the County Fair carried on by Mrs. Chilson's group, excursions into the community, special school programs, the School Thrift program and many others. We hope this type of participation may increase in the future.

"We feel sure that we can only hope for children to learn the democratic way of life through living it in a democratic atmosphere. We only hope that communities in general will not be too late in starting to practice a do-democracy instead of just a talk-democracy.

"George B. DeHuszar, in his book 'Practical Applications of Democracy', says, 'There is no other way to educate our children for democracy than by giving them those experiences and attitudes which develop from democratic living in the classroom. It is a fatal mistake to believe that democratic education consists in merely teaching children some facts about our government and making them recite the Declaration of Independence.'"

Legion Schedules Holiday Project

Donations should be sent to one of the following service and welfare officers: Mrs. Charles Hewer, 8120 Canton Center road; Mrs. Peter Lomonaco, 378 Farrar street; Vernon Miller, 1115 S. Main street; and John Jacobs, 743 Virginia street.

Time is short as each Legion and auxiliary committee in the state must have the gift boxes prepared for delivery to the hospitals by December 10. Send your donations in as soon as possible and help make it a "Merry Christmas" for the "Yanks Who Gave."

County Employees to Hold Goodfellow Frolic

Sheriff Andrew C. Baird is chairman of this year's Goodfellow Frolic on November 29, sponsored by the officials and employees of Wayne county and being held in Convention hall on Cass avenue in Detroit. A five hour floor show is slated for one auditorium and Eddie Marshall and his 14-piece orchestra will furnish music for dancing in the other hall.

There will be refreshments and fun galore. Doors open at 7 p.m. and the show will start at 8 sharp. The entire proceeds go to the Old Newsboys Goodfellow fund. Last year a check in excess of $28,000 was presented to the treasurer of the Goodfellows.

"You see, mother, I won't be able to do much work for you today; I have to rest up so I can baby-sit tonight."

Argentina to Detroit by Truck

Steep and precipitous mountain passes, violent equatorial storms and near impassable jungle trails were among the obstacles overcome by Aldo Carlini and Antonio Bonaster, young Argentinians on a 15,000 mile trip driving an eight-year-old Chevrolet truck from Cordova, Argentina to Detroit, according to E. J. Allison, Plymouth Chevrolet dealer. Here Carlini (right) is reviewing the 14-week journey with J. W. Burke, manager of the Chevrolet Truck department in the Motor Capital. With the exception of three short stretches where there are no roads at all and the vehicle was transported, the entire trip through 13 countries was accomplished in the truck which contained provisions for sleeping and cooking meals and carried extra gas and oil.

Instructions for Holiday Mailing

houses who send out calendars to their customers includes the warning, "send them out before the first of December."

New this year in the holiday mailing picture is the two cent stamp for mailing unsealed greetings, instead of the old one and a half cent charge. For one penny more, greeting cards can be sealed, include a written message, forwarded, returned to the sender and best of all, such cards will be delivered first.

Plymouth residents are advised to see to it that all postage is fully prepaid. Cards and packages requiring additional postage are stacked in post offices until delivery is made on correctly stamped matter. Often, this may mean delaying delivery until after Christmas. This same result is caused by incomplete addressing. Addresses should be written in full, with zone number and in ink. A return address should be included.

Gifts should be packed carefully in strong, durable cartons, wrapped securely and registered or insured. Perishable merchandise should be labeled. Packages should not be sealed unless they bear a printed label saying "Content—Merchandise. This parcel may be opened, if necessary, for postal inspection."

Size limitations on packages are 70 pounds for weight and 100 inches in length and girth combined. Cards must be at least three by four inches this year in order to go through the mails.

Post office patrons are urged to buy their stamps in advance and do their mailing early in the morning if they wish to avoid waiting in line. Those with a number of cards to mail should bundle them neatly, with addresses facing the same way, and hand them through the post office window to a clerk.

Elks Planning Dinner Dance

Plymouth's newly organized Elks lodge has completed plans for its first social event of the year, a pot luck dinner and dance having been arranged for Friday evening, December 9.

The event will take place in the Veterans of Foreign War hall on Plymouth street in Northville. This building was erected and used for a furniture store for a number of years and is located about a block north of the Seven Mile road on the west side of Plymouth street.

Exalted Ruler Phil Barney states that all Elks, their families and prospective members and wives are invited. The local lodge of Elks has been growing rapidly since it was organized in Plymouth a number of months ago.

Peerless Industries' Exhibit Now at Bank

An exhibit from Peerless Industries is now on display at the Plymouth United Savings bank. A variety of the firm's plumbing supplies and automobile hot water heater parts and fittings are shown together with the automobile utility chair for children which is also manufactured by Peerless.

A revolving cylinder gives effective display to the company's many products, which are manufactured under the trade name of "Qwik-On."

Peerless Industries moved to their present location on Territorial road from Detroit about three years ago. Russell Hoffman is president of the company and Jack Rosenthal is secretary-vice-president. The firm also does automotive job work.

If all the automobiles manufactured by Henry Ford during his lifetime could be placed end to end they would form a ring twice around the world at the equator.

Many of the early settlers of southern Michigan apparently liked the beauties of the giant oak trees that thrived in the Lower Peninsula. A city, one county and two villages are designated on the map as Burr Oak, Royal Oak, Three Oaks and Oakland county.

In Bronson park in Kalamazoo is an Indian mound that has never been excavated. Years ago some of the early settlers dug into one side of the mound and uncovered some ashes. The mound was one of the first discoveries of Titus Bronson, the first settler of Kalamazoo.

Michigan issued its first deer license just 54 years ago. The price of each license was only 50 cents.

When former President William Taft visited Michigan in 1913, Kalamazoo planned a non-partisan banquet in his honor. John H. Burke, president of the Kalamazoo Chamber of Commerce, just naturally took over the responsibilities for all arrangements. Mr. Burke was then Kalamazoo's outstanding Democrat. His activities and his contributions kept the party alive for years. But the Taft banquet proved one of the biggest events of its kind ever held in Michigan. Julius Caesar Burrows, for years United States senator from Michigan and a resident of Kalamazoo, was toastmaster. Mr. Burke is still alive, and one of the present Democratic party's most hostile enemies in that part of Michigan. He was the builder, and former owner of the New Burdick hotel.

There are five traffic lanes and one eight-foot sidewalk across Ambassador bridge.

The apple blossom was made the official flower of Michigan by the legislature in 1897. One of the most fragrant and highly colored flowered species of apple, the Pyrus coronaria, is a native tree of Michigan.

Excavations made by the University of Michigan in northern Egypt some years ago revealed the fact that high taxes imposed by the Roman Empire on the Egyptian city of Karanis, brought about the destruction of that once thriving metropolis. If a citizen took a bath he was taxed. If he was buried, his family was taxed. These facts were recorded on wax tablets and papyrus rolls dug up by U. of M. archaeology workers in 1935.

While the state of Michigan continues to close down its fish hatcheries, the federal government is making new appropriations for hatcheries throughout the country, including one for the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. For this Michigan project congress has appropriated $92,500.

The Department of Interior asserts through the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service that fishermen can expect to benefit in a few years from the construction of several new fish hatcheries and the repair and improvement of existing hatcheries.

A recent Congressional appropriation of $566,000, in addition to the regular allotment for operations and continuation of construction of the new trout rearing facilities at McNenny, South Dakota will make it possible to start the construction of two new fish hatcheries, and repair, enlarge and modernize ten old hatcheries. A supplemental appropriation of $705,000 will be used to start the construction of two new fish-cultural stations and to initiate a program to complete the construction of eleven hatcheries.

Funds that were made available for the completion of projects are to be used for work on units that were in various stages of construction at the start of the war. Shortage of man-power, supplies and funds prevented completion of the projects prior to this time.

Many other hatchery and fish-cultural stations were constructed prior to the turn of the century when the methods of fish-culture and stocking procedures were far different from those of today. The great increase in the demand for game-fish for restocking purposes has made it necessary to enlarge and improve fish rearing facilities to meet present-day techniques that are required for producing large numbers of warm-water fish and legal-sized trout.

It was the intent of Congress that the major portion of the additional funds were to be used to increase the rearing facilities at existing hatcheries, so that these hatcheries can be more adequately utilized. In addition, a lake trout hatchery is to be constructed at a site to be selected in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The sum of $3,000 was included in the supplemental appropriation to survey the Great Lakes area for determining localities most suitable for establishment of fish hatcheries and rearing ponds.

Methodist Men Hear Talk on TV

The First Methodist Men's club was sponsor of a meeting the evening of November 17 that featured William Banks of the Michigan Bell Telephone company in his presentation and demonstration of television. About 50 men of the club enjoyed the wonderful Swiss steak feed prepared by Mrs. Loren Goodale. Richard Underwood, 11th grader, entertained with piano selections during the dinner and Prof. Paul Wagner led the men in group singing before the main event.

Taking the men into his confidence Mr. Banks said he didn't pretend to be a television expert but then proceeded to teach what is necessary to know in order to have some understanding of what is happening when watching and listening to television programs. And why distance, on this earthly ball, makes it impossible to get the picture delivered to receiving sets beyond certain miles. Or why, sometimes, these picture waves get bounced between clouds and water so many times it is possible to pick them up at greater than normal distances.

Without showing a single television picture, he held the audience interest for an hour and a half. The numerous questions would have kept the speaker indefinitely had not Robert Jolliffe, program chairman, called a halt.

The next monthly meeting of the club will be held on Thursday, December 15. For that meeting Dr. O. R. Yoder, medical director of the Ypsilanti State hospital will speak, using as his subject "Mental Health in Every Day Living." Ladies are invited to attend this meeting.

Letter Box

"To the Editor:
"Visiting over the weekend in Plymouth, I was fortunate enough to attend the Minstrel Show given by the children of the Robinson Subdivision at the Starkweather school. These are the youngsters who built the Creche on East Ann Arbor trail, last Yuletide.

"That more people of Plymouth may have the opportunity of seeing the combined efforts of these children and participating in their endeavor to build a larger and permanent Creche, a second performance will be given at the Central Grade school auditorium on Wednesday evening, November 30. I was amazed at the talent displayed by the entire group, and think that the little girl, who played the Hawaiian guitar and sang, will have a beautiful lyric soprano voice when she is older. The very fact that these youngsters have worked diligently and with such mutual enthusiasm to raise funds for their project, should put the adults of Plymouth behind them.

"Young people have vision and can bring their ideas to fruition but they must have the backing of the adults of the community; let's get behind this worthwhile project and show faith and give our support—far better than was evidenced at the performance at the Starkweather school.

"Yours for better recognition of children's ideas everywhere,"
Shannon Bailey
St. Clair, Michigan

In Brisbane, Australia, Minister for Transport J. E. Duggan announced the results of a survey: only two percent of Australian longshoremen swear, while 29.8 per cent of Members of Parliament use cuss words.

Scouting The Sunset Trail

Scouts and Scouters, attention! Once again the call of Adventure is to be heard along the Sunset Trail. Old Man Winter is the challenger; the Dawson City Sweepstakes the arena of action.

The date for this annual event has been set for Sunday, January 8, 1950. We are advised by our Chief Camber (No Snow) Rafferty that if there just happens to be none of that fluffy stuff that goes under the sledge runners on that day the program will be advanced one week to give the weather a chance to do its stuff.

As this activity falls on a Sunday afternoon we hope to see quite a few of our parents and friends at the Warren Valley golf course to witness the work of their Scouting sons and neighbors. Regardless of the weather's seeming severity we would advise all and sundry that we have never lost a spectator yet, primarily because Scouts are always prepared for eventualities of such nature. Come on out, folks, and get acquainted with us!

The competitive events will be open to all Scouts of the 11-12-13 year group only. Special events will be planned for the Explorers not engaged in Troop leadership.

Sledges are a necessity. They will be used to transport personnel and equipment over the trail. If, however, you wish to have your sledge judged in the "Best Sledge" event we remind you that they must be 1950 models, six feet long and two feet wide with a five per cent tolerance permitted.

Of course, any sledge will be permitted in use in the Sweepstakes, but be sure that it is big enough to carry one person plus field equipment. Further information will be in your hands by Thanksgiving, but let's get going on the sledges now! It takes a lot of time to plan and execute a project like this.

We know that every three out of four boys want to be Scouts, too! Like you, however, they hesitate to join a group unless they are asked.

How about using the Dawson City Sweepstakes program as sales-appeal and inviting one, or more, of your everyday buddies to join up with your troop now, so that you will have plenty of time to teach him the necessary Scout-Skills which will make him a valuable Scout-mate on that occasion. Why not try the idea? It will bring you a neat Scout button to wear, too. If you get him signed up before December 31.

It was the pleasure of your reporter to visit one of the district's working troops on a recent evening and to note the great activity brought into being through the interests of an outsider who had given of his knowledge and time to their program.

This gentleman has established a class in photography in-line with the Merit Badge advancement plans and at the time of my visit a good number of their experience with members of the community Girl Scout unit.

At the same time, instruction was being given several new Tenderfeet and my personal observation gave me the impression that these novices were looking forward with high interest to their future personal experiences in Scouting.

For this we pause in salute to Robert Remy and the members and officers of Troop JG-1 of the Cooper school. Nice going, gang! by Harold Schryer

A psychology professor claims he can spot a neurotic by the things he eats, or won't eat. We can hardly stomach such a statement, but that's what the Professor said. He also suggests that a man who doesn't like cabbage or fried eggs is likely to be neurotic or illiterate ... or both. This puts all us corned beef and cabbage eaters up at the head of the class. We can understand why an illiterate might balk at alphabet soup ... but cabbage is about as neutral as you can get. Seems like these psychologists and psychiatrists are always looking for "nuts". Maybe they're not eating enough cabbage.

Cranberries Add Sparkle to Festive Holiday Menus

All Plymouth homemakers are familiar with cranberries in sauces and relishes to accompany meats, fish and poultry and have used them in pies. But they can add their delightful flavor to a great many other types of dishes.

Most cranberries come to market these days in packages, rather than barrels. Chances are the wrapping is transparent so you can see what you buy. Look for plump, fresh looking fruit with a definite luster. Color and size have little to do with quality.

Cranberries will keep in the kitchen for about the same length of time as apples, providing they're stored in a dry place at a fairly low temperature. If the family is small so a whole package can't be used, at once take out what is needed and put the rest in the refrigerator.

According to the Food and Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross cranberries can't be packed among the more important foods on the basis of food value although they add small amounts of minerals and vitamins to the diet. Nevertheless, the fact that they make meals more enjoyable puts them on the recommended list. Tests have shown that food eaten with relishes is used more efficiently.

The first recipe suggested here can be used either for a dessert or for a Sunday morning breakfast if served with crisp brown pork sausages. It takes only a short time to prepare if the spiced cranberries are made up ahead of time.

Cranberry Pancake Rolls
Three-fourths cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 well beaten eggs, 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter or fortified margarine, 1 cup hot spiced cranberries.

Sift dry ingredients together. Combine eggs, milk and melted butter and add to dry ingredients. Stir until smooth. Drop batter onto hot lightly greased griddle or heavy skillet, making cakes about three inches across. Bake until golden brown on both sides. Remove from pan and place a teaspoonful of hot, drained spiced cranberries in center of each cake. Roll up and place on hot plate. Dust with powdered sugar. Makes about 12 cakes.

Spiced Cranberries
Two and one-half cups sugar, 1/2 cup water, two 2-inch sticks cinnamon, 1 teaspoon whole cloves, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, grated rind of 1 lemon, 4 cups cranberries.

Combine all ingredients except cranberries and boil together for 5 minutes. Add cranberries and cook gently without stirring until all the skins pop open. Seal in sterilized jars or chill for immediate service. Makes 1 quart relish.

Make cranberry nut bread into sandwiches with butter or cream cheese for either a lunch box or tea-time treat.

Cranberry Nut Bread
One cup cranberries, 1/2 cup sugar, 3 cups sifted enriched flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts, grated rind of 1 orange, 1 egg, beaten, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons melted shortening.

Put cranberries through food grinder and mix with half of sugar. Sift remaining sugar with the rest of the dry ingredients. Add nuts and orange rind. Combine beaten egg, milk and melted fat. Add to flour mixture, stirring only until dampened. DO NOT BEAT. Stir in cranberries. Bake in greased loaf pan in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for about 1 hour. The bread slices better after it is a day old.

Frozen Cranberry Whip
Two cups cranberries, 1 cup water, 1/4 pound marshmallows, 1 cup pineapple juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 egg whites, beaten until stiff.

Cook cranberries in water until skin pops open, then put through a fine sieve. Heat the marshmallows in pineapple juice until about half melted. Remove from heat, beat until mixture is smooth and combine with cranberries, lemon juice, sugar and salt. Cool. Place in tray of refrigerator and freeze to a mush at coldest temperature. Remove from refrigerator, turn into chilled bowl and fold in beaten egg whites. Return to refrigerator tray and continue freezing until firm—about 4 hours. Makes 6 servings.

Like baked apples? Try stuffing the cavities of the apples with mince meat before baking. It's delicious. Oranges as well as apples may be stuffed and baked and served hot or cold.

Nuts Add Variety to Baked Goods

Markets now have plentiful supplies of pecans and almonds, plus a record crop of walnuts. That's a cue to feature nuts in your home baking. Put chopped nuts into muffin or quick coffee cake batter; use nut halves to decorate the tops.

Add nuts to quick sandwich breads to make lunchbox meals more inviting. Garnish yeast coffee cakes and rolls with nut halves or chopped nuts, and use nuts to glamorize your cake frostings and pies.

Pork and Corn Provide Tasty Combination

Some food combinations are "naturals", and high on the list are pork and corn. It is a pair that can be the satisfying center of meal interest in numerous ways.

For example, a whole kernel corn dressing for pork cuts is suggested by Reba Staggs, home economist. Corn is combined with cracker or dry bread crumbs and minced green pepper, then moistened with the liquid from the corn. It's an especially tempting stuffing for a boned shoulder roast or for rib pork chops. Or the dressing can be shaped into balls and cooked alongside a roast loin of pork for about 30 minutes.

Sausage-corn fritters are another tempting combination. Bulk pork sausage is browned until crumbly and then combined with whole kernel corn in a fritter batter. The batter is then dropped by spoonfuls into hot lard and cooked until crisp. Ground cooked ham, corn and minced onion combined in a fritter batter and fried in this same manner are also grand eating.

Corn bread has its special place with pork, too. Corn meal fried in deep lard produces wonderful puffs. There are corn sticks or for a new touch, diced cooked bacon is sprinkled over corn bread batter just before it goes in the oven.

EASY DOES IT
TO REMOVE OBSTINATE, sticky films of dirt from wood furniture, make a solution of three tablespoons linseed oil, one tablespoon turpentine and one quart hot water. Mix thoroughly and let cool thoroughly. Wash a small area and dry immediately with a soft cloth. Repeat until entire surface is clean, then polish by rubbing with grain of the wood.

Old wax on furniture can be removed easily by applying a liquid wax to the surface and then wiping it off while still wet.

Vinegar, denatured alcohol or ammonia are good cleaners for mirrors and picture glass. Use one of them with water and wash the glass, but do not spot the frame as the finish may come off.

Silk and rayon lampshades may be washed if they are sewed rather than glued to their frames. Make certain that any trimming is colorfast by testing in washing solution, before attempting to wash all the trim.

Washable window shades are easily cleaned by sponging with thick, lathery soap suds, then rinsed with a sponge. Hang on the window to dry, and do not roll until drying is complete.

Crushed spots on pile rugs and carpets can be brought up by applying a steam iron to them. While still damp, brush with stiff brush. Slipcovers look better and stay clean longer if they are lightly starched. To starch easily and evenly, place starch solution in the washing machine. Rinse starch off ball trim or fringe, then dry in shade or indoors, away from artificial heat.

THOUGH QUARRELING may be the most unpleasant thing your children do, it has its origin in the child's need to assert himself and so shouldn't be squelched altogether. If left alone, little children usually settle their differences—minute by minute they are screaming at each other, the next they are contentedly piling blocks into the same red wagon!

Through their quarrel they have got rid of a strong, unpleasant feeling, prompted perhaps by rivalry, but they have also learned that it is more fun to play nicely together, as shown by the added zest brought to their block loading project. This lesson of getting along with others is one all human beings must learn, and finding out from experience that quarrels are less pleasant than agreeable companionship is more apt to stick than constant admonitions that "to be good is to be happy."

If minor quarrels are to be left to the children to settle, what is a minor quarrel? It isn't easy for a mother to see anything normal about two snarling youngsters! According to the Yale child guidance clinic, minor quarrels include "name calling, screaming, pushing, and most cases of hitting where no weapon is used." Children can't do much harm to each other with their bare hands, but if one picks up a toy train with which to hit his companion over the head, it's time for an adult to interfere.

Another thing about too much adult supervision, youngsters soon learn that staging a fight brings mother or teacher to the scene, all attention and interest, even if disapproving. How much better to learn that mother will come faster and stay longer to admire a well built sand castle than to separate children who are throwing sand in each other's hair.

Letting children express aggression while they are still young enough to do it in harmless direct ways is one thing—constant bickering is something else, and not a very healthful climate for character growth. It may take a good deal of unobtrusive managing on mother's part to keep the atmosphere generally pleasant. Separating the children on especially quarrelsome days, without punishing or blaming either one, is a good ruse. If a new toy starts a conflict, you may have to umpire—for taking turns is essential. The timid child must learn his rights, just as the aggressive child must learn restraint.

This view of quarreling as a necessary step in the child's social development is only one of many conclusions about the various aspects of growth arrived at through the study of thousands of children at guidance clinics. They are not theories, but come from observation, and should be of great help to parents in understanding their child's needs. Where an obstreperous child used to be considered perverse and a docile child "a little angel," we now know that the former is following a more normal pattern of development.

Plan Your Fruit Cake Baking Now

Because Thanksgiving is almost upon us, one naturally pushes any Christmas plans in the background. There is one Plymouth homemaker's job, however, which deserves some thought now. You've guessed it—it's time to think about baking your holiday fruit cakes.

Here are a few pointers which may help you make the job more simple. Make fruit cake baking time easy on yourself. Prepare and measure all raisins, dried fruits, nuts, candied fruits and peels and line cake pans on one day. The next day prepare the batter, combine with remaining ingredients and bake.

Grease pans for fruit cakes and line them with two thicknesses of greased brown paper and one thickness of greased waxed paper. This keeps the outside of the cake from becoming too crusty and makes the baked cake easier to handle. A pair of scissors is the perfect utensil with which to slice raisins, dried fruits and candied fruits and peels.

A pan of water in the bottom of the oven while fruit cakes are baking will give the cakes a shiny crust. For gifts and small families, bake fruit cakes in small pans. Little six inch loaf pans or No. 2 tin cans are ideal for this. A one pound cake will take in two and one-half hours in a very slow oven.

Do not overbake your fruit cakes. All sizes should be baked in a slow oven. Allow three hours for a regular fruit cake loaf and four and one-half hours for a large fruit cake baked in a loaf pan. Remove baked fruit cake from the pan while the cake cools. Leave the papers on the cake until ready to store.

Light corn syrup, boiled or half minute, makes an excellent fruit cake glaze. Spread the hot syrup over the cooled cakes. Arrange whole roasted blanched almonds, candied cherries and other fruit in the syrup as desired. The syrup hardens on standing, keeping the decorations in place.

To store fruit cakes for ripening or aging, remove papers from cooled fruit cakes. Wrap cakes in cheese cloth which has been soaked in brandy, sweet wine or fruit juice. Then wrap in waxed paper or foil and store in a closely covered container.

Customers' Corner

Will A&P be put out of business if the anti-trust lawyers win their suit against this company? Absolutely! And here's why: A&P's retail stores will be broken up into seven groups and sold to new owners. A&P's factories, which produce many of our fine foods, will be sold to still other new owners. None of the stores and factories can be connected in any way, which will wipe out the savings you now enjoy on the foods A&P makes. None of the present owners or management who have made A&P what it is today can have anything to do with either the stores or the factories. So, while there may be a food store where your A&P is now located, it won't be your A&P store. It will be operated by different owners and under new management. Make no mistake about it, if the anti-trust lawyers win their suit it will mean the end of A&P as you know it.

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Great Invitation
Lesson for November 27: Isaiah 55:1-11

Memory Selection: Isaiah 55:6

Under the figure of a great feast, Isaiah brings men a gracious and all-inclusive invitation to the blessings of God's love in the restoration to his favor and all the things of his providence. This invitation has no condition of money and price. The only thing required is that men incline their ears unto God and come unto him that their souls may live.

"Seek ye, the Lord while he may be found; call ye upon him while he is near" is the pressing invitation. To answer it, men must forsake their ways, and their unrighteous thoughts. And as they return unto God, he "will abundantly pardon." Their return unto God is absolutely necessary, that their thoughts may be right with God's.

And there is assurance that the invitation will be accepted—by many individuals and by so many that there will be a bounteous harvest. For God declares that his word should not return unto him void, and shall prosper in the thing wherunto he sends it. We do not well to become discouraged at times in Christian work. We can never know wherunto the effort we put forth will reach. Even when we can see no visible results, we may hear of good being done in some future date.

This much is certain—it is ours to do the work, to proclaim the word, to sow the seed. It belongs to God to bring the harvest by and by. Let us become more concerned about the thing we are given to do than to speculations as to what it will accomplish.

Among the Bible citations in this message (Micah 6:8): "In the day of wrath, he will search the mountains, and the hills, and the top of the mountains, and it shall be explored above the hills, and people shall flow into it." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 155): "God selects for the better service one who has been fitted to such a fitness for it, and he does not bestow His highest trusts upon the unworthy. When He commissions a messenger, it is one who is spiritually near Himself."

Christian Scientists Plan Special Service

As is customary in all Christian Science churches, a special Thanksgiving service will be held on Thanksgiving day in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Plymouth, corner of Main and Dodge streets.

Following the usual order of service there will be a brief period in which members of the congregation may express their gratitude for healings and other help which they have received during the past year.

The Golden Text from I Thessalonians (5:18) is appropriate for the occasion and reads: "In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."

The Bible citations include Psalms (100:1,2): "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing."

Among the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, (page 3) will be the following: "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech."

Thanksgiving

THIS MONTH WE CELEBRATE a day inaugurated by our forefathers to give thanks for the harvest, wrested from a hostile land at the sweat of their brows and often the risk of their lives.

We in the insurance business know of thanksgiving days which come to some every day in the year. They are the people who, with worldly possessions damaged or destroyed, have been saved from financial loss or even ruin by the blessing of insurance.

They are the frugal people who have had the foresight to guard themselves against the hostile elements and the other hazards which threaten our daily existence, against which our forefathers fought and had no such protection.

Yes, we have many things to be thankful for in this great country of ours — and one of them is the institution of insurance.

Babson Discusses Building

I am traveling about the country on my annual trip to look over the real estate situation. Briefly, these are my conclusions:

New Building Prospects
There will be less private building in 1950 than in 1949. The building of homes, business blocks and factories, through private funds and bank mortgages, will fall off about 10 per cent. The pressure for new homes has reached and passed its peak due to three reasons: (1) High building costs; (2) Fear of unemployment; and (3) Large number of divorces, with fewer marriages and births.

Government and other public building — however — should increase in 1950. This applies to school houses, hospitals, apartment houses and multiple government financed homes. I estimate this increase to be about 15 per cent. Therefore, there should be a net decline in all building of about 5 per cent because of the greater importance of private work, thus bringing the total for 1950 down to about $17,700,000,000.

ing taxes discourage conservative people from doing this. Besides, today a person can get a yield of from 6 to 8 percent on good stocks which I consider safer than any rental property. It also should be remembered that, disregarding state taxes, houses built for rental purposes are subject to two taxes—local rent estate and Federal income—while these good stocks are subject to only one tax, after being purchased by an individual.

Outlook for Land Prices
I learn that farm prices continue to be firm. Most farmers have good bank accounts and are selling no land. The general feeling is that far mvalues will hold until the next drought. This may come anytime, but the experts do not expect it until after 1952. The greatest demand for land appears to be for property in the Pacific Coast states and in the "Magic Circle", made up of Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and North Texas.

Small fertile sustenance farms within a few miles of a small city are most in demand. These are being bought as insurance by people who have business positions in the nearby city. They want the best hedge against inflation, war and communism—namely, a small, fertile, well-drained farm with some wood and a good spring. Such small places continue to rise in price.

Suburban Property
I find property values in large cities are declining, especially when it comes to forced sales. High taxes, bad politics and labor unions are causing people to move to the suburbs. Hence, suburban property is holding firm; also property in small cities from 5,000 to 20,000 population. These smaller cities are showing both the largest percentage of growth and the best profits, per dollar invested, for small manufacturers and commercial enterprises. I would sell no property in such places, but rather buy more.

In closing, let me say that almost everyone I meet on this trip now appears optimistic on good land, well located, for these eight reasons: (1) Large consumer incomes; (2) High level of personal savings; (3) Fear of inflation and desire to hold real property instead of cash; (4) Continued subsidies both to farmers and to labor; (5) Coming distribution of $2,800,000,000 insurance money to veterans; (6) Current low mortgage rates on very favorable terms; (7) Enlarged public road and housing projects; and (8) Billions being spent in advertising to encourage both cash and installment purchases which increases the circulation of money and helps real estate values.

By LYN CONNELLY

MORE AND MORE STARS are beginning to turn to the new television medium along with radio work. . . The latest converts are the ageless Al Jolson, who left the airlines last summer with the admonition that he would never enter video (CBS) changed his mind with a three-year contract, and lovely Lilli Palmer, English actress whose abilities never were fully appreciated by Hollywood. . . Industry circles believe the current giveaway craze is on the downward trend because of the severe drop in latest ratings of these programs as compared to last year. . . Eddie Bracken is negotiating for a radio station out on the coast.

PLATTER CHATTER
CAPITOL: Christmas is just around the corner and Capitol is losing no time in getting out some top albums for the occasion. . . There is Buddy Cole at the organ playing favorite carols with a smooth touch. . . For the children, Jan Garber has recorded all the carols most pleasing to the ears of the small fry, including such gay traditional tunes as "Jingle Bells," "Deck the Halls," the more modern "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town," "Here Comes Santa Claus" and "Winter Wonderland" . . . Jan's sparkling arrangements will delight the kiddies.

And last but far from least is a unique Christmas album made by Capitol's top western star, Jimmy Wakely, called "Christmas on the Range" . . . Hearing such favorites as "Silent Night," "Joy to the World," "Little Town of Bethlehem," "Come All Ye Faithful" and others done up in western style with guitar and all, seems strange but it is very effective. . . COLUMBIA: Columbia also has an excellent album of Christmas carols played by Richard Keys Biggs on the organ. . . Numbers include "Adesste Fidelis," "Silent Night," "O Holy Night," "First Noel" and "Joy to the World" . . . The music is soft and low-pitched. . . In singles, Dinah Shore has a snappy arrangement of the new and very pert "Merry Christmas Polka."

What About Costs?

The cost of building will be less in 1950 by about 5 per cent. Some building materials have gone down 15 per cent in some sections. Certainly, workmen are doing better work and are accomplishing more in a day. All of this means that readers can get a better house and get it for a little less money in 1950.

I find no evidence of investors or other private parties building houses for rent in 1950. The rent control legislation and increas-

Your Police Department Speaks

Written by members of Plymouth's Police department, this column will appear in this space each week.

The Police Department, in cooperation with the Plymouth Mail is presenting this column weekly for the benefit of the public. It will feature state laws and city ordinances with which the public is least familiar, but which are important in their daily lives. Occasionally we will remind you of laws which are common knowledge but which are quite easily and conveniently forgotten. We will add a touch of gaiety in an attempt to keep from being dull. It is our hope that this column will lead to better cooperation between the Police Department and John Q. Public.

That's that—now here we go: Section 52 of your Traffic Ordinance states that "No operator shall park, even for the purpose of loading or unloading, in front of or within fifteen (15) feet of a fire hydrant. . ." Section 53 of same—"no vehicle shall be permitted to park in front of the entrance of any theater, church, office building, public dance hall, fire station, DRIVEWAY, public or private, or building in which a large number of people are accustomed to gather."

Section 55 states: "No person shall park a vehicle or permit such vehicle to stand, whether attended or unattended, within twenty-five feet (25') from the intersection of curb lines or if none then fifteen feet (15') of the intersection of property lines at an intersection of highways."

These sections of the Traffic Ordinance are brought to your attention because of the hazard caused by violation of them. Traffic in Plymouth has increased greatly in the last few years; consequently greater effort must be made to keep the streets and intersections clear. Now that you've been informed and warned may we add that violators will be ticketed.

Attention all deer hunters! Drive carefully—we want you to get where you're going, have a good time (whether you get your buck or not), and get back to Plymouth without mishap. While you're there, make sure the animal you shoot at is a four-legged one and that it has the required three-inch antlers.

The following poem was written by the Chief of Police, Denver, Colorado and we think it's fitting for our first week in this column business.

HE'S ONLY A COPPER
If he's neat, he's conceited.
If he's careless, he's a bum.
If he's pleasant, he's a flirt.
If he's brief, he's a grouch.
If he hurries, he overlooks things.
If he takes his time, he's lazy.
If you get pinched, he's had it in for you.

If he passes you up, he's easy.
If he's energetic, he's trying to make a record.
If he deliberates, he's to slow to catch cold.

If you strike him, he's a coward.
If he strikes you, he's a bully.
If he outwits you, he's a sneak.
If you see him first, he's a bonehead.
If he makes a good catch, he's lucky.

If he missed you, he's a simp.
If he gets promoted, he's got a pull.

If he doesn't—oh, what's the use!

RUPTURED?

WEAR A DOBBS TRUSS
BULBLESS — BELTLESS — STRAPLESS

If your rupture is larger this year than last, then you must be wearing the wrong kind of truss. Perhaps one with a knob that causes the opening to enlarge. Don't delay until your rupture becomes irreducible. Try the famous DOBBS TRUSS that has given relief to thousands after scores of other trusses have failed. The DOBBS pad is soft and fits over the rupture like the palm of your hand, thereby giving the muscles a chance to come back to normal. It has no belts or straps to hinder circulation.

The placing of Boy Scouts near the church to direct traffic and having a traffic officer near the village hall is a most commendable precaution in avoiding a repetition of the regrettable accidents which have occurred recently while school children were upon the streets.

Local Residents to See Livestock Exposition on TV

For the first time in history, main events of the International Livestock Exposition will be televised to this area direct from Chicago, Tuesday, November 29, at 2:30 p.m. EST (1:30 p.m. CST). A television receiver will be furnished by D. Galin and Son and set up at Earl S. Mastick company, 795 Ann Arbor road for the convenience of those who want to watch the show. The telecast is a special feature of the National Farm and Home Hour.

Judging of the Grand Champion Steer will be the outstanding feature of the show. Viewers here will have a ringside seat as the judge checks the entries point by point and makes his selection. Other events that will be seen are judging the Angus, Hereford and Shorthorn classes, sheep, the time and meat cutting demonstrations, and interviews with the farm champion in many departments of the great show.

Last year the show was telecast only to the Chicago and Milwaukee areas. This year it will be carried on the NBC Television Network, and covers an area reaching from New York and Boston to Milwaukee and Grand Rapids, from Washington, D. C. and Richmond, Virginia to St. Louis, Missouri. Arrangements for the telecast were made by Allis-Chalmers Mfg. company, sponsors of the National Farm and Home Hour.

Large increases in prize money this year and an expected high in sale prices will sharpen competition among exhibitors. Last year's Grand Champion Steer winner received almost $14,000 in sale price and prizes. This year, in classes for purebred Angus, Hereford and Shorthorn cattle, prize money will total $9,000 for each breed, an increase of $3,000 on each breed over last year. Cash prizes in steer classes total $20,000 for each breed.

Thousands of people outside the Chicago area who have never visited the International Livestock Exposition will get their first glimpse of what this world-famous show is like. The television cameras will bring them as close a view of many events as they could get if they actually had seats in the Exposition amphitheater.

In New Albany, Indiana, Head Librarian Elsa Strassweg resigned herself to the current rash of book thefts: the Bible and the Boy Scout handbook.

Local Soldier to Return Home

Corporal Ronald A. Huettner, the 19 year old son of Mr. A. W. Huettner of 44703 Cherry Hill road, a trooper who was assigned to the Clearing Company, 15th Medical Battalion of the 1st Cavalry Division (inf.), which is on occupational duty in the Tokyo-Yokohama Area of Central Honshu, has just been transferred to the 4th Replacement Depot at Camp Coe, Yokohama, Japan to await transportation to the Zone Interior for reparation from the service.

Enlisting in the Army in March of 1947, Cpl. Huettner was sent to the Fort Lewis, Washington, where he received his first course of instruction as a soldier in the Army. Upon completion of this course of instruction he was sent to the Field Medical service school at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, where he was trained as a Medical Technician. Upon completion of this course he was sent to the Replacement Center to await transportation to the occupational forces in Japan. Since his arrival in Japan, he has been assigned to the 15th Medical Battalion.

Before entering the service, Cpl. Huettner attended Plymouth High school. He plans to return to school and finish the courses which he has chosen for his career.

In Milwaukee, Mrs. Geraldine Lewinski filed for divorce with the charge that her husband insisted that she put pin curls in his hair. Beginning a request to a husband with "dear" or "darling" is like using a thimble on the end of a curtain rod to keep from tearing the material.

DISSOLUTION OF

FAMOUS-WATCHES-DIAMONDS-SILVER

Statement From Robt Simmons

The Robert Simmons Jewelry Co., is an incorporated firm. The two major officers and stockholders were Robert Simmons and O. M. Valliquette. It was mutually agreed that Robert Simmons would buy all the stock belonging to O. M. Valliquette. This necessitates a complete liquidation of the entire inventory in order to ascertain the cash value and assets. There was no course open other than to turn the entire stock over to a merchandise adjuster to sell all merchandise at what it will bring for cash. Therefore this sale was planned exactly for that purpose. There is no time limit. He is under contract to do this job in the shortest possible time regardless of price. We sincerely trust that you, our old friends and future customers will greatly benefit from this necessary course of action especially now coming at this Xmas season. We sincerely thank you.

Another project of a different nature has been taken on by the Junior Red Cross organization. The club is planning a Christmas program to be given at the Detroit House of Correction. The club is also making scrapbooks which will be given to children in various hospitals.

Scavenger Hunt Held by Y-Teens

"To help Plymouths poor at Thanksgiving" was the main thought in mind as Y-Teen members of Plymouth High collected canned foods door-to-door style for their Scavenger Hunt held last Monday evening, November 14.

The participants were divided into six groups and were captained by Beth Douglas, Wilma Latture, Roberta Merritt, Shirley Pine, Margie Saxton, and Sally Zink. These groups were given one hour in which to collect the fifteen items on the list that each group received, and were equipped with all sorts of baskets, in which to carry their loot.

Shirley Pine's team was announced the winner of the hunt after they returned with the largest quantity of all the listed items, and received as first prize a box of candy mints. Refreshments were served afterward in the high school lunchroom.

Classes to See "Julius Caesar"

Members of Miss Edna Allen's and Miss Elizabeth MacDonald's English classes, 87 in number, will leave Plymouth for Ypsilanti at 2:15 on December 7, to see the ever popular play, "Julius Caesar." Two buses will furnish the transportation to and from the play which is being presented by the Margaret Webster company. The play, sponsored by Michigan State Normal college and Ypsilanti High school will be held in the Ypsilanti Central High school auditorium at 3 in the afternoon.

The actors who head the list of 21 players are Louisa Horton, Kendall Clark and David Lewis. Miss Horton won honors as the star of the Broadway hit "The Voice of the Turtle" and in her recent performance in "All My Sons." Kendall Clark, a veteran of numerous roadway productions, has appeared opposite such stars as Ina Claire, Ethel Barrymore, Jane Cowl, Tallulah Bankhead and Eva LeGalliene. Mr. Lewis, another familiar performer along Broadway, was an outstanding success in last season's touring production of "Hamlet" and Macbeth.

Debaters Win Two Contests

The Plymouth High school debating teams outpointed Highland Park in their first debate in the Detroit Metropolitan league and became victors for the second time in two tries. The debates were held in the Presbyterian church on November 15. Judging the contests were Mr. Paul Richards and Mrs. George Bohman.

The question for the debate was, Resolved: That the President of the United States Should be elected by direct vote of the people.

Debaters on the Plymouth teams were Ronald Witt and Larry Mack upholding the negative with Roger Kidston and John Brake, the affirmative.

Last week Plymouth took both ends of a debate with Roseville for Plymouth's first victory in the State League.
