Congress Shall Make No Laws Abridging the Freedom of The Press

What I Think and Have A Right to Say

By ELTON R. EATON

RETURN VICIOUSNESS FOR GOODNESS.

It is doubtful if one can find a city of this size anywhere in America that has a group of merchants who are more community minded and who are always willing and anxious to help the boys and girls of a city, than are the merchants of Plymouth.

They contribute freely to every student activity. They donate display window space for cards. They buy tickets for student affairs they know they cannot attend, just in order to help the boys and girls of this school district.

But what do they get in return? To make it short—they get nothing besides "dirt." One morning last week a number of merchants discovered that their awnings had, sometime during the night or early morning, been slashed with a knife. This is a frequent occurrence.

These thoughtless but vicious acts, following the willfulness displayed at Halloween time have raised a serious doubt in the minds of many citizens as to what course to pursue in the future.

Some of the boys and girls of Plymouth KNOW who did this damage—and these boys and girls should tell their parents, the school authorities or the merchants so that the guilty ones can be found out and made to pay for the damage they have done.

The boys and girls who provide this information are doing themselves a kindly deed, as well as the schools, the parents, and even those who did the damage. If these depredations can be stopped now and the seriousness of what has been done pointed out to these youngsters, it might save them from more serious trouble in the years to come.

IT'S BIG DOUGH — NOT PIE DOUGH.

Soapy Williams and his wife made quite some noise recently by announcing that Mrs. Williams had made a full sized apple pie, with everything in it that a good apple pie needs, all for 19 cents, including the pro-rated cost of heating the oven in which it was baked.

Now, if Mrs. Williams can make a great big apple pie that costs only 19 cents, how come that you pay 20 cents, and sometimes more, for just a little sliver of a piece of apple pie in the eating places of Michigan.

Maybe here's something that Soapy can devote his time to with real profit to the "poor" people of Michigan who are forced to eat restaurant pic at 20 cents a sliver — when Mrs. Williams can make eight great big pieces of apple pie for only 19 cents. On the outside looking in, it appears that there is something screwy somewhere, maybe in the publicity stunt pulled for Soapy.

THEY NOW ADMIT COMPLETE FAILURE.

The Democratic National Committee has just issued a statement in its "Capitol Comment" circular, in which it frankly admits after almost 20 years of complete Democratic rule in Washington that there is truth to the statement that "one third of the nation's families and single individuals received less than $2,000 in cash income during 1948."

It said further that "some of these families live below even the most conservative estimate of the minimum necessary for health and decency."

Never did such a condition exist previous to the advent of the New Deal. While it is true that the entire country suffered for a time as a result of the world-wide depression after the first world war, the situation has steadily grown worse under the New Deal.

Now the Fair Deal, which is trying to out-do the New Deal, says the country must endure more years of squandering, spending, juggling and loafing in order to get even a decent living for one third of the population of this nation. What nonsense!

Ice Coats Both Highways and City Sidewalks

Old Man Winter might have been nice and pleasant to Plymouth folks as well as the rest of Michigan last winter, but he certainly is playing tough and rough so far this winter.

Not content with giving Plymouth the coldest weather it ever experienced in November with the mercury down around zero in this locality and five and six below out-state, with plenty of snow and sleet to boot, he came back Tuesday night with a wet snowfall which again coated streets and highways with a coating of ice that forced traffic to a snail's pace.

Fifteen and 20 miles per hour was good auto speed for Tuesday night and Wednesday. But it was the carefulness of drivers that prevented serious accidents.

The mercury stood around the freezing point most of Wednesday with highway conditions slightly improved due to sanding by highway workers.

Pedestrians Wednesday found all of the sidewalks of the city covered with ice, the early morning freeze having turned the slush that covered the walks into a solid coating of ice. No one was reported injured in the many falls that took place.

Charles Brake Seriously Ill

Charles Brake, deputy school commissioner of Wayne county and former president of the Plymouth Rotary club, is a patient in Henry Ford hospital in Detroit, critically ill as the result of a heart attack.

He was stricken in his office in Detroit last week and rushed to the hospital where attending physicians said it would be a number of weeks before he will be able to be removed to his home.

Mr. Brake had not been ill, but a day or so before he collapsed he had complained of a pain in his chest.

His close associates have at various times suggested to him that he should slow down and not work the long hours that he has been giving to his position and to educational work in the past years, but he did not heed their advice and kept up his tireless pace until he collapsed in his office last week.

He had but recently completed his term as president of the Michigan Educational association, an organization composed of the thousands of public school teachers of this state.

Jesse Hake Gets Pythias Award

A life membership in the Knights of Pythias has been given to Jesse Hake for his 40 years of continuous work and membership in Plymouth Lodge No. 238. A life-long resident of this area, Mr. Hake also received a past chancellor's pin and veteran's pin in addition to his life membership card.

Lodge members joined in the presentation last Thursday evening, which followed dinner and a program of entertainment.

Well Baby Clinic to be Held on December 31

Plymouth mothers with small children and babies are invited to attend the December Well Baby Clinic on December 31. The clinic will be held in the health room of the high school from 10 a. m. to 12 noon.

Dr. Milo Brady, Detroit pediatrician, will be on hand to give his advice on feeding problems and other matters facing parents in the bringing up of their children.

Early Demand For Auto Licenses Indicates Record Sale Says Rambo

In less than one hour after the new 1950 automobile licenses went on sale December 1, Frank Rambo, manager of the branch office of the Secretary of State in Plymouth, had issued 16 plates, although car owners have until March 1 in which to get their new licenses.

Some wanted their plates before leaving on trips to Florida, Texas, Arizona and California. Others wanted them so as to get as low a license number as possible, but the majority of purchasers wanted them for new cars they have just purchased.

While more than 10,000 licenses were issued by Manager Rambo for the present year, he expects with the increased number of automobiles on the highways that the total for 1950 will far exceed that of the present year.

Even though there has been no heavy rush except on the first day, for new plates, Mr. Rambo has been busy issuing licenses every day since they went on sale and it is this early demand which adds to his belief that the 1950 issue will be a record breaker.

Injured Boy on Road to Recovery

Dale Woods, 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Woods of Hix road who was badly injured when run down by a police car driven by Captain Carl Greenlee, has been returned to his home from the University hospital in Ann Arbor. His condition is reported as improved, but it will be weeks before he will be able to return to school.

In the report given to The Mail last week it was stated that the school bus that was parked near where the boy was run down, had been left unattended.

The facts reveal that Don Dimaline, the driver of the bus, was in the driver's seat at the time of the accident and that when he saw that the boy had been seriously injured, he ran to a house nearby and summoned a Schrader ambulance.

Inquiry is still being made into the speed of the police car at the time of the accident.

Martin is Free on $5,000 Bond

For the second time in less than three years, Thomas A. Martin, Jr., owner of the Cavalcade Inn, has been involved in a fatal automobile accident in which two persons were killed. He was released on $5,000 bond after being held in the county jail pending an investigation of manslaughter charges resulting from an accident when his car struck a stalled automobile on Telegraph road early Sunday morning.

Two Detroit residents were burned to death in the back seat of the stalled car. A passenger in the front seat, also of Detroit, received serious injuries when she broke out of the blazing car by kicking out the windshield. The driver of the car was trying to flag down a passing automobile with a flashlight for help when the Martin car sped headlong into the stalled auto, turning the car into a flaming inferno.

Martin, according to Wayne county sheriff's officers, was involved in a fatal accident on Nov. 10 on June 11, 1947, in which two sisters, Jacqueline Hartzell and Joyce Clark lost their lives. The officers said Martin was not prosecuted at that time.

Miss Pearl Larrabee of 42584 Hamill, a passenger in the Martin car, received a bruised knee in the accident, an officer of the road patrol reported.

15th Anniversary For Hillside Inn

Hillside Inn will celebrate a 15th anniversary on Friday and Saturday, December 16 and 17. A gala celebration is planned to mark the event and a completely renovated and remodeled interior will greet the friends and patrons of the popular eating spot.

Choosing a colonial motif for pattern, the beautiful interior now has colonial light fixtures throughout, new drapes, a smart new bar, with large mirrors on the back bar. The grill room has been papered and dining room walls and wood work have all been painted. Both of the rest-rooms of Hillside have been tiled and the kitchens and service departments have been remodeled to provide even better service for the patrons.

A further announcement of the anniversary event next week will give more details of some of the surprises Hillside has in store for its many friends.

George Dondero, Michigan Congressman from this district, spoke at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. His topic was national affairs.

Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rorabach were Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Crumble.

Sale of Christmas Greens Planned by Garden Club

With the holidays just a little more than two weeks off, the Christmas spirit is fast becoming the predominating factor in the lives of most Plymouthites. Members of the Plymouth branch of the National Farm and Garden association are busy with plans for their annual sale of Christmas greens being held on December 17.

Future plans of the Chamber of Commerce will share the limelight with progress reports at the Chamber's annual dinner on Monday, December 12. A thorough discussion of the projects under the consideration for 1950, including "dollar day" in Plymouth, a commercial and industrial exhibit during Easter vacation, improved buying and selling relations between rural and urban residents, spring "clean up" and "paint up" campaign and a fall festival, will form a major part of the evening's program.

Chamber of Commerce Secretary George A. Smith will lead the discussion on the activities planned for next year. Robert Lidgard, Robert McAllister, Herb Woolweaver, Walter Rensel, Ralph Lorenz, and Ray Williams will deliver reports on this year's C of C projects.

The meeting will be held at 6:45 p. m. at the Hotel Mayflower.

Legion Initiates New Members

At a public initiation ceremony held last night in the high school auditorium, nine new members were received into the ranks of the Passage-Gayde American Legion post number 391. Now included on the post's membership list are: Ivan Campbell, Harold Wilson, Charles Coburn, Donald Dobbins, Russell Williams, Ray Gardner, Bert Hurston, Jarold Jarsky and Robert Schauffele.

Other guests at the program were George Simmons, commander of the third zone, and Fire Chief Robert McAllister. Invitations were also extended to Mayor Perry Richwine and Police Chief Lee Sackett.

Two bound volumes of General George Marshall's "Victory Report" were presented by the post to the Plymouth board of education. The Legion also expressed its deep and sincere appreciation to the business men, the board of education and city employees for their help and cooperation with activities of the American Legion.

Ivan Campbell is commander of the Passage-Gayde post.

Examination Adjourned

Examination of the two young men accused of stealing tires and automobile accessories from the Forest Motor Sales was adjourned last Monday until December 19. The examination is being held in front of Judge Nandino Perlongo.

Street Lighting Gets Attention

Better street lighting for the city of Plymouth was discussed at Monday's meeting of the city commissioners when the group met with a representative of the Detroit Edison company. The commission asked the Detroit firm for a survey on the city's residential and business street lighting and for recommendations on how it could be improved.

Lighting on Forest avenue received special consideration. The electric company advised the installation of 8,000 to 10,000 lumen lamps on that street. No action was taken on the matter by the commission, which requested the city manager to investigate whether funds were available to change Plymouth's street lighting.

Herrick Jewelry Gets Early Christmas Present

A Christmas present to Herick Jewelry from Herick Jewelry was delivered this week when work was begun on a new front for the building occupied by the store. Made of the same attractive material as that which was put on the First National bank building last month, the new front is expected to be completed by the end of this week.

Some eleven hundred Rotarians and citizens of England will at Christmas time be wearing neckties for the first time in years, all as a result of the tireless efforts of John Blyton of the Plymouth, Michigan Rotary club.

It was some weeks ago when Mr. Blyton, a member of the international committee of the local luncheon club, advised its members that neckties had become such a scarce article in Plymouth, England that men had been forced to give up wearing all neckwear or use old, worn-out ties.

"I know that many of the members of this club have old or soiled ties that are hanging around in their closets and are never used and are in your way. I am sure that you would much rather give them to our name-sake club in England for distribution in that city rather than throw them in the rag-bag. I have been advised of the serious shortage of ties in England and I thought it would be a good place to send our old ties where they will do some good rather than throw them away," said Mr. Blyton to Plymouth Rotarians some weeks ago.

"Our good Rotarian, Clifford Tait, says he will clean and press these ties for nothing, so when they are shipped they will be in first class shape," he added.

Little did Mr. Blyton or any one else expect that as a result of his plea there would be over a thousand ties offered for shipment overseas—but that is just what happened. Mr. Tait had his cleaning plant clean and press every one of the 1100 ties and when Mr. Blyton made the shipment a few days ago, the box looked like a collection of almost new ties—ties that will bring delight to hundreds and hundreds of unfortunate residents of Plymouth, England.

Treasure Hunt on Dec. 19

Plymouth merchants are now distributing tickets for this year's Jaycee sponsored Treasure Hunt. The annual event is scheduled for December 19, from 1 to 9 p. m.

Arrangements were made at last Monday's meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to contact "Santa Claus at the North Pole for a visit to Plymouth late in the afternoon of December 22." Santa's exact time of arrival and means of travel will be announced in next week's Plymouth Mail.

Local merchants are advised by the Junior Chamber that if they run out of tickets, more may be obtained from William Otwell at the Eckles Coal and Supply company, Marvin Terry at Terry's Bakery, Wayne Marzoff at Berry and Atchinson and John Gaffield at The Plymouth Mail.

Wide Choice of Christmas Gifts in Local Stores

Greater variety and wider choice in gift selections for Christmas is now available for shoppers in Plymouth, thanks to the foresight and advance planning of local merchants.

Shelves are stacked high with top quality merchandise, ideal for Christmas giving.

Bright decorations in the holiday spirit predominate Plymouth stores and shops. Windows are gay with tinsel, holly, traditional greens and miniature Christmas trees.

For the convenience of shoppers who are unable to fill the requirements of their Christmas gift lists during the day, nearly every store in Plymouth has extended its closing hour to nine at night.

"Shop in Plymouth" might well be the slogan for every resident of the city, considering what is available for them right here in the way of selection and prices that are right.

Added to the convenience of shopping in their own home town is the annual Treasure Hunt, on December 19, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with local merchants, which makes Christmas shopping in Plymouth even more profitable.

Decoration Plans Made by C of C

Ten enlarged Christmas cards six feet high will give holiday atmosphere to Kellogg park next week, through the efforts of the Christmas decoration committee of the Chamber of Commerce headed by Mrs. Dora Hontorp. The giant cards are being painted by ten Plymouth churches and each one will bear a Christmas scene on one side and a greeting from the church on the other. Arrangements are being made so that lights will be played on the cards after darkness falls.

Churches participating in the community decoration program are the First Presbyterian church, Calvary Baptist church, Our Lady of Good Counsel church, First Methodist church, First Baptist church, Church of the Nazarene, St. Peter's Lutheran church, St. John's Episcopal church, the Salvation Army and the Plymouth Assembly of God. Santa Claus and his reindeer will also be in Kellogg park next week along with a gaily lighted Christmas tree. Plans of the Chamber of Commerce include securing a public address system so that Santa will be able to talk.

Another Christmas tree will be lighted and a second Santa Claus will be set up in Liberty park, according to Mrs. Hontorp. City employees, under the direction of Stanford L. Besse, city engineer, are erecting the decorative pieces in the park. A manger scene with the three wise men has already been set up.

Bartlett Mothers Club Members of the Mothers club at the Bartlett school will hold their Christmas party on December 14 at 8 p. m. The party will follow the regular monthly business meeting. Gifts will be exchanged.

Larkins Introduced Henry Ford to His First Business Partner

All the older residents of the city remember Mr. and Mrs. John M. Larkins well. During his long residence here he was active in nearly all community affairs.

Sometime years ago the family moved to Sarasota, Florida, but a year or so ago they returned to Michigan and are now residing at 15332 Stahelin avenue, Detroit.

In a note to The Plymouth Mail Mr. Larkins encloses a newspaper clipping that appeared years ago in the "I Remember" column of a Detroit newspaper.

The clipping is of more than ordinary interest because it reveals a bit of the early life of Henry Ford.

The newspaper article says that Mr. Larkins remembers that it was on December 6, 1901 when he invited Henry Ford to attend a general reunion of the Palestine Lodge, F. & A. M. in Detroit of which Mr. Larkins is a member.

Mr. Ford at that time was living at 328 Clifford street, a small family hotel where board and room was to be had for $4.50 and $5 per week. There I introduced him to Tom Cooper," says Mr. Larkins in the old newspaper article.

Tom Cooper was then the bicycle champion of the United States. Henry Ford told Tom that he had drawn the plans for the fastest automobile in the world and if he had the money he would put it together. Tom Cooper said he had the money. They made an engagement to meet at the hotel and at this meeting they formed a partnership and bought from George Beck his machine shop on Park place and at once started putting together the 999 and the Arrow.

They were made just alike so that in case of an accident to the 999 the other could be used by changing the name plates. "Henry Ford, Tom Cooper and an assistant did all the labor. Barney Oldfield was a frequent visitor... (Oldfield at that time was a bicycle rider and was spending the winters at his home in Toledo.) After completion of these two cars I had the pleasure of seeing them tested out on the ice on Lake St. Clair by Henry Ford and Tom Cooper as drivers. What records the 999 made, I believe every one can remember, for these cars, driven by Barney Oldfield, were in many races and exhibitions throughout the country and in those days no automobile show was complete without the 999."

Mr. Larkins for providing a Detroit newspaper with that interesting incident of "I Remember" won a cash prize.

"Black Gold" was the topic presented in pictures and story by Mrs. Helen Thams at the meeting of Chapter AI of P.E.O. held last Friday evening. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Halvar Blomberg at 678 Ann street. Refreshments and a social hour followed the program.

"Independence and Indonesia" will be the topic of discussion at Friday's Rotary meeting. Speaker at the noon luncheon will be Willard C. Wichers, midwest director of the Netherlands Information bureau. A member of the Holland (Michigan) Rotary club, Mr. Wichers is a brother-in-law of Russell Daane.

Symphony Notes

"What good can come out of Plymouth?" This thought, at Christmastime, and with the rendition of Handel's "Messiah" already over, and less than 20 days to the holy day, one knows a spiritual influence and a cultural significance is eminent in the combined teamwork of Fred C. Nelson who conducted the great work, assisted by the musical director, Paul T. Wagner, and the Plymouth Symphony orchestra.

If you missed Mr. Wagner on the podium, you probably felt better to see that he was still with us—way back in the top row amongst the great bass singers.

It was the Plymouth Symphony Society, Incorporated, and no less—who presented the combined Plymouth Civic chorus and the Plymouth Symphony orchestra in this third annual presentation of The Messiah.

At the head of this incorporated group, is the charming Hanna Strasen, who hardly needs an introduction to Plymouth's musical circles, but to those outside of that category, it may be interesting to note that she has been a resident of Plymouth most of her life. She is a graduate of the Plymouth High school and Michigan State Normal college.

In keeping with this musical background, she is busily engaged in a similar profession, that of educating 48 potentials into deeper appreciation of the arts at her piano studio located at 853 Penniman avenue.

Her musical education also included the study of pipe organ and piano at the Detroit Institute of Musical Arts. She is the organist at the Presbyterian church and has served this capacity for the past eight years. As it is usual with church organists, she is often called upon to play for weddings and special occasions.

But is music all of her life? SHH! WE'VE HEARD SHE LIKES TO BOWL!

What is music doing to Plymouth? Just recently two members of the orchestra established the Plymouth Music center at 1175 Starkweather avenue and their business card calls attention to the fact that they will carry sheet music, supplies and material.

Missing at the November concert tea hour were the four musicians who performed such beautiful quartet compositions. It is said that they wanted a little relaxation, too, and have an opportunity to mingle with the musical crowds before they scattered to their homes.

An idea has been advanced that perhaps this group might give a special concert sometime, where people would really have an opportunity to appreciate the skill of these musicians and not be drowned out by the clatter of teacups!

Those who participated in the quartet were the following instrumentalists: Josef Lazaroff, first violin; Christie Haller, second violin; Ralph Freedman, viola; and Pauline Sterling, cello.

Attend Lansing Meeting
Ivan Campbell, commander of the Passage-Gayde post and Mrs. Ivan Campbell, president of the Auxiliary, attended the Mid-winter conference of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary held in Lansing on December 2, 3 and 4. Many plans for the coming year were set into motion at this meeting. Elton Knapp and Vernon Miller, welfare chairmen of the post, also attended the conference.

Special Showing of New Trucks at West's

A special factory showing of the new 1950 International trucks will be featured at West Brothers of Forest avenue the afternoon and evening of Friday, December 9. Accompanying the showing will be the presentation of movies showing the trucks in actual operation, under all types of conditions. Containing bumper-to-bumper changes, the 1950 International trucks are the first to come out since the war and are now on display at West's.

Capacity Crowds Hear "Messiah"

A Christmas tradition is being cultivated in the city of Plymouth. Last Sunday for the third time, the presentation of George Frederick Handel's "Messiah" was offered at the Plymouth High school auditorium through the combined efforts of the Plymouth Civic chorus under the direction of Fred C. Nelson and the Plymouth Symphony orchestra.

So compelling are the performances of this great music, that many people now deem it a "must" to hear "The Messiah" each Christmas and to recreate its powerful spiritual message within their souls and minds.

Many people were turned away from the afternoon performance, and many latecomers who could not obtain seats stood along the aisles and in the back of the auditorium. The evening performance was also packed.

Close to 100 vocalists took part in the chorus which again was under the direction of Fred C. Nelson, who is establishing a well-earned, praiseworthy reputation for his work in the Plymouth High school.

Listening to this great work, one senses that a source of heavenly beneficence appears upon the soloists, chorus and musicians who give of their talents so that every performance of this musical composition, glows with that indefinable inspiration, moving the listener to stand in awe and admiration when the "Hallelujah" brings it to its overwhelming finale.

The four soloists possessed pleasing voices with an appeal very appropriate to the type of solo work for which they were cast. Miss Ruth B. Campbell, soprano; Frances Kellogg, soprano; Alice Truscon, contralto; and F. Earl Reh, tenor were all well suited to singing the stellar roles so that this year's performances were unusually blessed with a fine representation of vocal talents.

New Plan For Loading Children on School Buses

Public school buses no longer load and unload their passengers in the midst of the heavy traffic on South Main street. For the utmost in safety for the children who travel to and from Plymouth public schools aboard the buses, a new procedure for loading the buses at Central Grade school and at the high school has been put into effect through the efforts of Superintendent of Schools Helmer Nelson.

School buses numbered from one to five and bus number seven are now loading passengers from the "U drive" in front of Central school. They drive in from the Adams street entrance.

The Patchen bus, Plymouth school bus number six and the Plymouth coach now park inside of the island in front of the high school. Now loading it passengers behind the city hall is the Cooper bus.

In line with these safety measures, Supt. Nelson asks all parents who take children to school or call for them in private cars to keep out of the above mentioned loading areas when the buses are parked there.

Auxiliary Makes Plans For Dance

Saddle Ridge will be the scene on December 17 for a Christmas dance being sponsored by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary. Open to the public, the dance will be preceded by a buffet dinner.

Music by Johnny Harberd's orchestra from Ypsilanti will be featured at the annual party which will be held from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Mrs. Sanford Knapp, chairman, announces that formal attire for the dance is optional. Information about the party may be obtained by calling Mrs. Philip Theobald or Mrs. Lee Terry.

Hygienist Speaks to Kiwanis Club

Kiwanis members heard a discussion of the dental program in the Plymouth schools by Miss June Singler, dental hygienist, at their Tuesday evening meeting held in the Hotel Mayflower. She told of the sodium fluoride procedure now in effect in the city school which is credited with cutting down much tooth decay among children.

For a small charge, the chemical is applied to the teeth of children at ages three, seven and 13. Miss Singler said a majority of the children in Plymouth are participating in the program.

Congressman George Dondero was a guest at the meeting and spoke a few words. Program chairman was Dr. A. E. VanOrnum.

Makes Toys For Goodfellows

Because Goodfellows helped her and her family in the time of need, Mrs. James Gwynn of 49590 North Territorial road has been making dolls and stuffed animals for the annual Christmas toy and gift program of Plymouth Goodfellows. She is pictured above at her sewing machine with several of the 50 toys she has completed so far this year.

Mr. Gwynn was laid off from work in November of 1948. He and the two children became ill with scarlet fever a week before Christmas. The family was living in Fremont then and Fremont Goodfellows brought toys for the children, everything for a Christmas dinner as well as Christmas gifts so the Gwynn family could spend a fairly enjoyable 25th of December.

To show her appreciation of all the Fremont Goodfellows did for her family, Mrs. Gwynn undertook her sewing project to help local Goodfellows carry out their slogan "no kiddie without a Christmas." The Plymouth group is financing their Christmas program by selling Goodfellow editions of The Plymouth Mail on Saturday, December 17.

Herald Cleaners Marks Anniversary Saturday

In observance of being in business here for 10 years, Harold Yakley, owner of Herald Cleaners, in this week's edition of the Plymouth Mail announces a special event scheduled for Saturday. The anniversary also marks the opening of a new sales room and additional working space in the building adjacent to his former location.

Mr. Yakley declared that expansion of his facilities was necessary at this time to adequately handle the increased demand for his dry cleaning services.

An invitation is extended all readers of The Mail to visit his newly opened addition and take advantage of the specials offered in his advertisement on another page of this week's paper.

Ask Gifts For Yanks Who Gave

The good people of Plymouth and vicinity are invited to join with the Myron H. Beals Post No. 32 of the American Legion and its auxiliary in remembering every sick or disabled war veteran in Michigan on Christmas this year, according to Commander Harold J. Jacobs.

There are 70 hospitals in the state now caring for these veterans—7,000 of them in all—for whom the war has not ended. It is proposed to give each of them a Christmas gift box. This project, called "Gifts for the Yanks Who Gave", is now being sponsored by the Legion and auxiliary for the sixth consecutive year. It is nationwide in scope, and constitutes the biggest Christmas party on record.

It's a real task to purchase the gifts and pack, wrap and deliver the boxes to Michigan's 7,000 hospitalized veterans, and the sponsors need the cooperation of all generous citizens. The value of each box will range from four to five dollars and donors may contribute either cash or gifts.

A collection center has been set up at Dave Galin's Purity Market where donations will be received on the following dates, December 8 to 21. Time is short as each Legion and auxiliary committee in the state must have the gift boxes prepared for delivery to the hospitals by December 20. Bring your donations in as soon as possible and help make it a "Merry Christmas" for the "Yanks Who Gave."

Team is Guest of Rotary on Friday

Head line coach "Duffy" Daugherty of Michigan State college highlighted the annual Rotary-Plymouth High school football bust last Friday noon at the Hotel Mayflower.

After several minutes of story telling in which many of the highlights of Michigan State's football games this year were the subject, the coach showed movies of the Notre Dame-State football game on color film.

Some 30 members of the football squad were guests of the club at the annual football luncheon. Dr. B. E. Champe, chairman of Rotary's sports committee was in charge of the program.

City Advertising For Assessor

A part-time city assessor is being sought by the city of Plymouth to help in preparation of the tax roll for 1950, according to Albert Glassford, city clerk. Since the commission passed the tax day ordinance establishing January 1 as the new tax day, employment of a qualified man who wishes to work on a part-time basis should be almost immediate.

Help for the city with its assessing work has been offered by the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation. This aid plus that of certain employees at the city hall, makes hiring of a full time assessor at this time unnecessary, according to the city commission. The assessing work is slated to continue until April 1.

An advertisement for an assessor is being run elsewhere in this edition of the Plymouth Mail.

Oh, No—You Take The Bed. We Don't Mind At All. No, Really We Don't...

has elapsed since Miss Nordman's accident; therefore, in his opinion, the claim should be denied. It was moved by Commissioner Hough and supported by Commissioner Hammond that, in view of the limitations in the City Charter, the claim of Miss Nordman be denied. Carried. The clerk read a list of applications for SDM licenses and the disposition of said applications. The matter of issuing additional SDM licenses was discussed. It was moved by Commissioner Hough and supported by Commissioner Tibbitts that it be the policy of the Commission, that, inasmuch as certain business firms in the City of Plymouth are now holders of a State License for the package sale of beer and wine, that there be no future discrimination in the matter of furnishing City approval to the State of Michigan for their issuance of SDM licenses. Yes: Mayor Richwine, Commissioners Fisher, Hammond, Hough and Tibbitts. No: None. The communication from Plymouth Lodge No. 1780 of the B.P.O.E. requesting a tavern license for their club was discussed. Mr. Stuart Dodge spoke on the feelings of the people in that area concerning the issuance of such a license and presented a petition signed by the citizens in that area reading as follows: "We the undersigned citizens and taxpayers, hereby respectfully petition your honorable body to refuse approval of any kind of an alcoholic beverage permit to the owners or renters of the property at 1287 South Main street, Plymouth, Michigan." It was moved by Commissioner Hammond and supported by Commissioner Tibbitts that the Commission deny any application for a club to have a tavern license of any other license to sell any intoxicating liquors. Carried. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Biers left Wednesday morning for Santa Ana, California to spend the winter with their son, George, and his wife who make their home there. Mr. and Mrs. Biers had a granddaughter there that they have never seen.

The first dancing lesson for the Salem Township schools and Thayer children, last Thursday night was a huge success. Some 46 children gathered at the town hall for their first lesson, under the very capable direction of Chester Finney of Northville. Mr. Finney is well equipped to handle large groups and maintained perfect order, response and co-operation from the entire group throughout the evening. The children are eagerly looking forward to the next lesson, which will not be until after the holidays. Mr. Finney will contact each school to arrange the date for the second lesson and also to enroll any pupils who have not registered to date.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McKarns and children, Sharon and Lauren, spent Monday in Detroit seeing Santa Claus at Hudsons and at Kerna.

Elaine Green from Ann Arbor was a weekend visitor of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Green.

Believe This New Type of Bowling Will Help Solve Teen-age Problem

The Newly Invented Bowl-O-Matic Machine.

Many are talking, but some are really doing things in an effort to solve the juvenile problems of today—and among those who are really doing things is a group of citizens in Oscoda.

They believe that by providing the proper kind of recreational facilities that the boys and girls who are now forced to gad the streets and loiter about in cliques will be removed from the temptations they now face.

These thoughtful and energetic citizens have started the production of a recently invented Bowl-O-Matic device that has an especially strong appeal for teenagers.

The beauty of it is that it doesn't take up much room, just as many can play it as play the regular bowling game and that pin boys are not needed and while the boys are automatically getting their exercise, they are also getting a good education.

The inventor, James J. Sullivan, says he will know in a matter of a few days if Detroit and now a resident of Oscoda, has organized a company of business men and has already started production.

Ministers, school officials and others who have seen one of the miniature Bowl-O-Matic machines in operation, are most enthusiastic about it. It is only some 24 or 25 feet long and can easily be installed in any medium sized recreation room in a church or school or other place devoted to recreational purposes.

"I do not know of anything that will help more than this popular indoor game to keep the teenagers off the streets. Our experience has shown that both boys and girls are most enthusiastic over this form of amusement. The game is played just like any bowling game. Teams can be organized and from our observations the Bowl-O-Matic is just the type of amusement the boys and girls of today are looking for," said Mr. Sullivan recently.

Scoring is exactly as in any bowling game and strikes are just as difficult to get. The Bowl-O-Matic develops and requires exactly the same kind of skill as required on the regular bowling alleys.

The Bowl-O-Matic company has leased the factory of the Quick-Built Cabin company owned and operated by Frank Bissonette & Sons and it is already in operation.

Because of the strong appeal of this new type of bowling to teenagers it is predicted that church and other recreational centers for young people will install many of these Bowl-O-Matic machines in the immediate future.

I REMEMBER...

By THE OLD-TIMERS

From Paul H. Peterson of Chicago:
"I remember when mailmen wore London-style, bobby helmets, carried a whistle attached to a long chain and a club in their mail pouch to ward off vicious dogs."

From A. O'Daniel of Clinton, S.C.:
"I remember when railroad locomotives burned wood exclusively and cars were coupled with link and pins... Also, when there was no free mail delivery, either RFD or city... no artificial ice, no bicycles, no autos, no phonographs, no radios, no typewriters."

From John Foxton of Schuller, Okla.:
"I remember when my father drove a yoke of oxen and we cut and pulled logs to town to make wagon hubs. We cut locust for carriage hubs. Wheat was cut with a cradle, we made clapboards and poles from white oak timber by using a chisle-like instrument and a mallet."

From Mrs. J. B. Davis of Cordova, Ala.:
"I remember when my father used to help make the coffin when anyone died within several miles of where we lived. They made the coffin wide at the shoulder and narrower at each end. Boiling water was poured on the side planks when they started to bend them to fit the bottom of the coffin. Mother usually went along and carded coffin bats to pad the inside of the coffin."

The less intelligent people are, the more they are scornful, and the less they know about life, the more biased they are.

Mrs. Clara Todd Active Member of W. C. T. U. For More Than 50 Years

Famed Anti-Liquor Organization Now Celebrating Its 75th Anniversary

This is an important year in the historic career of the Women's Christian Temperance Union—and Mrs. Clara Todd of Plymouth is well.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union is celebrating its 75th anniversary, the Union having been organized in 1874.

It was 50 years ago when Mrs. Phoebe Patterson, had her twins, a son and daughter, join the W.C.T.U., and even though the children were just youngsters, the twins became voting members because their mother paid the full dues for one year.

Mrs. Todd was one of the twins and her brother, Clarence, now of Detroit, was the other juvenile member of the W.C.T.U.

From that day to this, Mrs. Todd has been one of the most tireless workers in the entire country in W.C.T.U. affairs. She has just been re-elected state treasurer of the Michigan organization for the 16th time. It was more than a quarter of a century ago when she was first elected as district officer of the W.C.T.U.

Her mother, Mrs. Patterson, who will be remembered by older residents of the city, was the judge who had no mercy upon a drunk brought before her for sentencing because of his offense, did much to curtail the evils of liquor back in the days when Plymouth had numerous saloons up and down Main street.

Mrs. Todd's mother served as a state W.C.T.U. director for many years and continued her activities in the organization right up until her last illness.

Mrs. Todd, as well as other members of the W.C.T.U., can be proud of what their organization has accomplished, for out of its activities came the successful woman's suffrage movement as well as other benefits.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union was 75 years old on November 19. In the three-quarters of a century since it was founded in Cleveland, Ohio, the W.C.T.U. has seen both of its major goals attained—woman suffrage and national prohibition. The unhappy end of the "noble experiment" of the 1920's has not daunted W.C.T.U. members. At a recent New York meeting their pledge was:

"We will not quit. We will go forward as did our crusading mothers to destroy the liquor traffic. With God's help we will not quit until victory comes."

The W.C.T.U.'s zealous opposition to liquor is known throughout the world. Less well known is its equally vigorous fight for the right of women to vote. Yet the woman suffrage and temperance movements in this country were intertwined. Before the Civil War a third reform movement was in the pattern—abolition of slavery.

The woman suffrage movement in the United States grew out of obstacles encountered by women in their attempts to give effective service in the anti-liquor and anti-slavery causes. All the pioneer suffragists worked for these reforms before they took up the struggle for women's rights.

If the women's movement had not been so complicated first by the struggle for the rights of the Negro, and later by the fight for prohibition, the enfranchisement of women might have come years before it was achieved in 1920.

In 1840, American women delegates to a world anti-slavery meeting in London were barred from the convention because of their sex. That same year in the United States, when Susan B. Anthony rose to speak at a Sons of Temperance meeting she was told by the chairman that "the sisters were not invited to speak, but to listen and learn."

These and similar rebuff led to the organization of a number of women's temperance societies in the states. They also led to the organization, in 1849, of a woman's rights convention, opening the fight for equal rights.

The prohibition and woman suffrage movements made progress in the next decade, but both were abandoned when women turned to war service in the Civil War. Equal suffrage had been promised a reward for women's devotion to the abolition cause, but at the end of the war the suffrage question became enmeshed in the politics of the Negro problem. Woman's claim to the vote was held in abeyance until after the Negro's rights had been established.

After the Civil War, opposition came from another quarter. By 1874, when the W.C.T.U. was founded, liquor interests had organized nationally to oppose prohibition candidates for office. It was an easy step to extend their opposition to equal suffrage, which might insure the adoption of prohibition.

In 1912, the president of the National Retail Liquor Dealer's association said: "Gentlemen, we need to fear the W.C.T.U. and the ballot in the hands of women. Therefore, gentlemen, fight woman suffrage."

Both fears were realized eight years later, in 1920.

Although Mrs. Todd has been in the front-rank of the anti-liquor fight for years, she has been able to win the admiration of those who believe as she does, but she has also won the respect of those who have bitterly opposed. They respect her honesty of opinion and because she never resorts to "dirty politics."

Throughout the state she has won thousands of friends and admirers because of her kindly and energetic way of doing things.

In Plymouth she has always been able to find time to give support and efforts to worthy local projects. During the war period she set up the first Woman's war finance committee and took an active part in numerous other patriotic efforts.

Mrs. Todd declares that she never intends to give up work in the W.C.T.U., no matter what the handicaps of the future might be.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" POWER OF A CHALLENGE

THE POWER of a challenge! I have sung a song about that before; I sing it again. A challenge will move some people to action quicker than anything else.

John E. Arnett of Prestonsburg, Ky., is the local representative of the Kansas City Life Insurance company which is located in Kansas City.

He wanted to sell Mr. Ratcliff, in his home town, a policy, for Mr. Ratcliff was an influential citizen and the sale would make an impression on other people. So Mr. Arnett went to him but the other said that he already had a policy in one company and that he had been rejected by another company. There was no use in filling out an application blank. That seemed to be the end of it.

One day Mr. Arnett went to the store and wrote up a policy for the man's partner. Just then Mr. Ratcliff came in and the partner said, "Tom, why don't you get in on this and have a policy with this man?" "No need. They won't write me," he answered. "I won't even consider the idea. Besides, he has already talked to me about it."

Then it was that Mr. Arnett did some quick thinking. He decided to approach him on the ground of a challenge, so he said, "You know Mark Twain said that a difference of opinion is what makes horse racing. Well, you and I have a difference of opinion."

"What is that opinion?" asked the other, mystified. "It exists as to whether the company will pass you or not," answered Mr. Arnett. "I'll bet you $5 that I can get you a policy at the standard rate."

"Do you really want to bet?" asked the other, his interest immediately challenged.

"Fill out the form." Mr. Arnett did not know whether or not his company would accept the application, but he reasoned, "You never can tell till you try."

The medical examination was made, the papers forwarded. A month went by, then Mr. Arnett glided down the street, a letter in his pocket. Entering the store, he said, "Tom, you remember what you said about horse racing?" "Yes," said the other, wondering.

"Well, there are two sides, but only one winner. Five dollars, please."

The other man was delighted. Mr. Arnett had appealed to him by throwing down a challenge.

Fair in the Light of Memory Shines
My MICHIGAN
BY ELTON R. EATON

Michigan has more automobile plants than any other state in the Union. Out of the 1,902 plants in the United States, 362 are located in Michigan. California is in second place with 242 plants. But Ohio, Indiana, New York, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Illinois have more automobile workers than do California, even though that state ranks second in the number of automobile plants.

Much emphasis is laid these days on proper training of troops before they go into military action. But that wasn't so back in the Civil War days. When the 22nd Volunteer Infantry regiment was recruited in Oakland county, it was shipped to Kentucky from Detroit and within 48 hours after leaving Michigan, the farm boys and others who made up the regiment were in combat action south of the Ohio.

While the bite of a Michigan rattlesnake will make one seriously ill for a time, it has never been known to have proven fatal. The bite of a southern rattlesnake, however, frequently results in death.

Did you ever run out of gas while driving a Michigan highway late at night and discover that there wasn't a gas station within a half dozen miles of where you were stranded?

That's happened to the writer just once in more than 40 years of automobile driving—and it happened on a heavily travelled Michigan thoroughfare where automobile drivers seem intent on just one thing—getting to the place they are headed for as fast as they can get there.

When this unusual thing happened some weeks ago, we had visions of sleeping in the car until morning.

But then the thought entered our mind that maybe all of the drivers wizzing by wouldn't think that the car standing beside the road wasn't a hold to a stall and that maybe some one really was in motoring trouble.

Here's the amazing thing that happened! As the writer stood beside the edge of the paving two cars froze by. The third car stopped, backed up and ask if any help could be given. Told of our plight, the courteous Bradley D. Osgood of Highland Park, not only took the driver of the stalled car to a gas station located miles down the road that kept open late in the evening, but he insisted on driving the writer back to the car while Charles Smith of the Hilltop Sunoco Service station on U. S. 12 some miles west of Chelsea brought along enough gas in his car to get the writer back to his station.

These facts are simply mentioned to prove that many, many mighty doers, people travel the highways at night-time, that all of the cars you see on the highways after dark are not filled with joy-riders, would-be thugs or people suspicious of all that they see along the roadside.

Mr. Osgood simply stated in explanation of his willingness to stop on a heavily traveled highway at night time to give aid to a stranded traveler, that the circumstances quickly convinced him that everything was according to Hoyle and he figured that some day he might be in a similar position and would need the same kind of help.

Mr. Smith, the gas station operator, demonstrated, too, the fact that the Sunoco company, like most all other gas companies, use pretty good judgment in selecting dealers throughout the country. He was as courteous and as cooperative as a gas dealer could be, even though it was late at night, he had had a busy day and was tired and anxious to get home and to bed.

This one experience of a night-time mishap on Michigan's heavily travelled thoroughfares has convinced the writer that Michigan, as we have always contended is one of the finest commonwealths in the country to travel in day or night, winter, spring, summer or fall.

Chief Ketchum, of the Michigan Conservation department, who incidentally is secretary of the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association, thinks it is advisable to advise Michigan housewives of ways to preserve the venison their huddies brought home from the north—providing they get their deer—no, we mean deer.

Wives can get recipe help from the Conservation Department, State Office Building, Lansing, Michigan, or the Michigan State College.

Tested methods of preserving, cooking and serving venison are described in the booklet "Venison from Forest to Table" which is available without charge from the department's education division at Lansing or the college bulletin office at East Lansing.

Also available is the booklet "Good Eating from Woods and Fields" which encourages more complete utilization of meat from game and fur animals.

Do you like to trap muskrat? If so, the season is now open in the southern part of the Lower Peninsula. The season in the upper part of the state opened some weeks ago.

Is It Costing You Money to Save Money on Egg Mash?

These Figures May Surprise You!

A Leghorn hen eats about 40 lbs. of Larro Egg Mash a year. Therefore, 1 ton of Egg Mash will normally feed 50 laying hens for 1 year. 50 hens x 1 more egg per month = 50 extra eggs per month, 50 extra eggs per month x 12 months = 600 extra eggs per year from 1 ton of mash. 600 eggs = 50 dozen x 45¢ per dozen = $22.50 more income per ton of mash.

—actually $1.12 per bag.

See how just one extra egg per hen per month wipes out a price difference of $1.12 per bag of feed? See how much profit you can lose by being penny wise and pound foolish in buying egg mash? Get Larro Egg Mash—watch results.

Thrifty Homemakers Use Juices From Canned Fruits and Vegetables

From now until the next local harvesting season Plymouth homemakers will make increased use of canned produce, either the commercial or home prepared variety. Modern methods of canning have been developed to preserve the maximum of flavor, color and food value. Whether the family gets the full amount of all these things depends on how the foods are handled in the kitchen.

For example, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Smith may serve their families canned beans for dinner and the Smiths may get from one-third to one-fourth more of some of the vitamins and minerals than the Browns. It will all depend on whether the liquid on the beans is used or is thrown away.

The Food and Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross says that if you pour liquid from canned foods away, it's just as extravagant as it is to discard any edible food.

Commercial canners have made careful studies to find just what is in the liquid in the cans. Beside excellent flavor there is about one-third of the vitamin B-1 or thiamine. Approximately one-fourth of the riboflavin in the food is also dissolved in the canning liquid. There's iron and calcium as well.

To get all the good you pay for, use every drop of juice. One suggestion is to drain the liquid from the vegetable into a pan and cook it down until it reaches about half the volume. Add the vegetable and as soon as it's heated through season it with table fat and salt and pepper if liked, and serve. This method results in retention of all of the flavor and minerals and most of the vitamins.

Another way of getting full value from the canned vegetables is to drain the liquid into a clean jar and use it in cooking. It's better than water, from both the standpoint of food value and flavor, for making soups, gravies and sauces and to add to rice which is to be served with the meat course. Use it as part of the liquid for preparing molded vegetable salads or instead of water

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

PARENTS SOON GET USED TO having an angry child call them names and have learned to take it calmly and accept graciously the apology which is sure to follow. But when a child goes so far as to say, "I wish you were dead," what do you do?

You can't just ignore a mood of hatefulness that goes this deep—it isn't fair to the child. You must help him relieve the disappointment and help him understand that there is always the possibility that something might happen to the parent and the child left with an awful sense of guilt.

A child so terribly angry should first be helped to take back his words. Sending him off by himself in such a state would only increase his depression. But if you say calmly, "I could never wish that about you, no matter how naughty you were. If I have hurt you, I'm sorry. Wouldn't you like to tell me you are sorry for what you just said?"

Most children will respond to a loving appeal to their better nature, and the storm clears, with a light kiss and a hug. But don't be emotional—the idea is to help the child forget his tantrum without any residue of guilt to bother him. For, of course, a child has no evil intent in his strong statements—he is merely knocking his head against the stone wall of your authority.

Above all, don't remind the child of his outbreak. I was appalled to hear one young mother, who had been through just such a scene as we have described, say to her daughter, when the child blurted out "I wish you were dead," "Nobody around here wishes anybody were dead!" It was a woman mistake on the mother's part—she had been hurt by her child's unkind remark and she couldn't help reliving it in a little. But here was the sort of sarcasm that should never be used with a child; they read too much meaning into it.

For example, I recall a time when I was visiting an aunt and helped myself to some grapes she had arranged with other fruit in a bowl. When she came into the dining room I happened to be standing looking out at the window, and I suppose she thought I was trying to conceal guilt. She remarked loftily, "Somebody around here must be mighty hungry to eat up the decorations." Then she swept back into the kitchen, leaving me feeling that I had committed a terrible crime.

If she had said, "Please don't eat the grapes, I'm going to use them for a centerpiece," I'd have understood and said I was sorry. But her sarcasm wounded me so that I never afterwards liked that aunt.

Children like to know where they stand. If they are not of favor because they have been naughty, tell them so. Don't leave them dangling, trying to probe adult resentment.

Today's Recipes

RICH CANDY KISSES
2 cups sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
2/3 cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup chopped walnuts, almonds, Brazil nuts, pecans or hazelnuts

Combine sugar, corn syrup and water in a saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly with a wooden spoon until dissolved (undissolved sugar keeps candy from being smooth).

Wipe down any sugar crystals from sides of pan with wet cheesecloth wrapped around handle of wooden spoon. By doing this you will have smooth, creamy kisses.

Test syrup by dropping a little in cold water. When it forms a firm ball or candy thermometer reaches 268° F. it is done. Stir in vanilla and nuts, pour into greased shallow pan.

Pull the candy with well-buttered hands, first forming it into a ball. Then work the candy with a pulling, twisting motion until candy is cold and has a shiny, satiny sheen.

Divide candy into 3 parts, then twist each part into a long, slender rope. Place on buttered board and cut into 1 inch pieces. For Christmas gaiety, wrap in bright paper.

CHRISTMAS LOLLIPOPS
2 cups sugar
2/3 cup light corn syrup
1 cup water
Few drops any flavoring
Few drops any food coloring

If you want to make your lollipops in several different colors, you must divide the cooked syrup into different pans, placing each pan over hot water. Then work fast, lady, so syrup doesn't harden on you.

Combine sugar, syrup and water. Place over medium heat and stir constantly until sugar has dissolved. (Undissolved sugar will crystallize on cooking.) Then cook without stirring.

Cook syrup until thermometer reaches 300 to 310° F. or a little syrup dropped in cold water is brittle and hard. Take off stove and add flavoring and coloring.

Line up the toothpicks (about 48) on greased baking sheets at least 3 inches apart so lollipops won't run together. Any toothpicks will do, but colored ones are the prettiest.

Drop syrup from side of teaspoon over tips of toothpicks to make 1 1/4-inch disks. When the candy is firm, not hard, loosen from baking sheet so lollipops won't crack.

When wrapping steaks or chops for frozen storage, always put at least enough for a meal in a package. They are more easily separated when frozen if a double thickness of the wrapping material is placed between them.

If you want your linoleum to have lasting good looks and give long wear, give it gentle care. Too much water, strong soaps and harsh abrasives are the worst enemies of a linoleum floor covering.

The length of Chile, compressed between the Andes and the Pacific coast, is out of all proportion to its width. While it averages about 100 miles in width, the country stretches north and south for some 2,600 miles.

Serve Sausage on Snappy Days

Sausage—link or bulk—is a conventional choice for snappy day meals. It's easy to prepare, and its spicy rich flavor has a winning way by appealing to keener winter appetites. Serve it for breakfast some days, lunch or dinner on other days.

In the morning hours the aroma of cooking sausage links brings a hearty response to breakfast. They're especially pleasing to a menu with French toast, maple syrup and hot baked apples.

For other meals in the day, form bulk sausage into patties. Brown them slightly to bring out their flavor; then arrange the patties over creamed noodles or scalloped corn, apples, potatoes or onions and bake in a moderate oven (350°) for about 45 minutes, or until sausage is done, and vegetables are tender.

Sausage pie in deep dish form is another main dish designed to please every member of the family. Brown bulk sausage patties, make a smooth cream gravy with the drippings and add vegetables such as potatoes, carrots and peas to the gravy. Arrange the browned patties in the casserole, cover with the vegetable gravy and bake in a moderate oven (350°) for 30 minutes. Increase oven temperature to 400° F., cover with biscuit dough and bake 12 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned and cooked through.

Holly and ivy have been identified with Christmas from a very early date. Holly is supposed to represent the master of the house and ivy, the mistress.

Check Sewing Machine to Get Perfect Stitching

Do you know how to check your sewing machine so that it will sew perfectly when you start out on a new piece of material? Always practice first on a scrap of the fabric to set the tension and length of stitch just right. Fold the test material and sew on the straight of the grain. Then examine the stitch carefully on both sides of the material.

If the stitch is not the same on both sides, the tension must be adjusted. Remember that it is easier to adjust the upper tension than the lower one. If the stitching is flat on the top—loops of bobbin thread showing—and the top thread straight—the upper tension is too tight. Loosen it by turning the screw so that it is further out from the head of the machine. Repeat the test until the stitch is correct.

If the stitching is flat on the bottom—loops of the upper thread showing and the lower or bobbin thread straight—the upper tension is too loose and should be tightened. Tighten the tension by turning the screw so that it is closer to the machine head. Good stitching means serviceable and good looking garments. If tensions are unbalanced, seams tend to pucker or draw causing stitches to break.

Check Oven Temperature
If you doubt that your oven temperature control is accurate, obtain a portable thermometer and place it in the central part of your oven to check it. Controls can be adjusted accurately, advises Michigan State college home economists, and may save you some baking failures.

Ways to Remove Ink Spots, Stains

"How can I remove ink stains from children's clothing?" is a question which often faces Plymouth homemakers. Since writing inks contain different ingredients, it is impossible to find removers that are equally effective for all types of ink spots.

Begin with the simplest and least harmful method in case you need to try several methods before you are successful. If the stain is on non-washable fabric and is still wet, it should be covered with cornmeal, cornstarch or talcum powder to remove excess ink and to keep the spot from spreading. Place a blotter or paper towel under the stain and work the powder into the spot until soiled and then repeat.

When dry powder will no longer absorb ink, it should be made into a paste with water or with a mixture of one part water and one part alcohol and applied again. After it dries, it should be brushed off.

To remove an ink stain on a washable material, the home-maker might apply glycerine or one of the soapless shampoos on the fresh stain. Rub the stain lightly between your hands, rinse the fabric in clear water, and apply glycerine again as long as any ink comes from the stain. Always finish by rinsing.

Some inks can be removed with soap and water. Bleaches should be used sparingly on colored materials and not at all on rayons—and this method should be used as a last resort.

Fire Chief Discusses Safety Rules For Setting up Christmas Trees

"Will yours be one of the hundreds of homes which will be destroyed by fire during the coming holiday season? Will your holiday decorations and Christmas gifts be turned to ashes? Will your loved ones be among those burned to death?" These were the serious questions of Fire Chief Robert McAllister, directed to all Plymouthites, when he discussed fire safety for the approaching holidays.

Every year, from a few days before Christmas to a few weeks after New Year's day, a plague of fires rages up and down the country. Many of these fires are the result of hazards which exist only during the holiday season, of carelessness which would not be tolerated at any other time.

In homes, too numerous to mention, the gayest hours of the year have served as scenes of tragedy. A thousand Christmas trees burn in as many homes each year. Hundreds of fires start from Christmas lighting. Flammable decorations threaten dwellings, clubs and stores. Discarded wrappings increase the number of rubbish fires.

Chief McAllister gave the following pointers on Christmas trees for a safer and happier Christmas.

"Your Christmas tree and the decorations on it are fire hazards which you will want to watch most carefully this Christmas. Remember when you bring a tree into your home it is going to dry up. A fresh cut tree will not take fire any more easily during the first day or two than would the evergreen shrubs growing outside but it becomes a more serious fire hazard every hour. At the end of a week, it will be highly flammable.

"It is best to bring in a fresh tree as short a time before Christmas as possible, and to remove it as soon afterwards as you can. If you do this, ordinary precautions should prevent it from taking fire. Families, clubs, churches, and business men who want to keep their trees from a week or more before Christmas until after New Year's day need observe special safeguards to keep it reasonably safe.

"The tree can be kept fresh if you set it up in a pan of water. Cut off the base of the tree at an angle at least one inch above the original cut and keep it standing in water during the entire period that the tree is in the house, adding water to the jar or tub in which the tree stands at intervals to keep the water level always above the cut. This method when used with fresh trees reduces the flammability as effectively as any fireproofing chemicals. Chemicals may cause the tree to turn brown or yellow or to lose its needles.

"The place you select for your tree should be well away from stoves, radiators, and other sources of heat. When you smoke, keep away from the tree.

"The tree should be well secured against falling by inconspicuous wires holding it against the wall. The tree should be so placed that standing or fallen, it cannot block a doorway which might be needed to escape from the room."

If Plymouthites will observe the following rules on Christmas lighting from Chief McAllister, they will help themselves to a more joyous holiday season.

"The candle for Christmas is still taking its yearly toll of lives and property. It is found on Christmas trees more rarely every year, but none the less, it is used unwisely in many places during the Christmas season. Open flame lighting is entirely out of place unless you set up your candles and lamps well away from Christmas trees, window curtains and burnable decorations, have a fire extinguisher handy and then keep constant watch over them. Such precautions are not needed for the equally attractive electric lights made especially for decoration.

"But it is important that your Christmas lights be in good condition. A short circuit in worn wiring might be sufficient to start the tree burning. Sets bearing the label of Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., have been tested for fire hazard and pronounced safe by experts.

"If your fuses are of proper rating, too many lights from one set of outlets will blow them. If this happens, eliminate some of the lights, and replace the blown fuse with another of the same size and rating. An over-loaded circuit is extremely dangerous for fire may start in the walls.

By CARL PETERSON

Dr. Viva Boothe, of Ohio State U., made a speech and said an "educated" woman is one who can find exhilaration in almost any circumstance in life. We suppose this also covers the ladies who are trying to do the washing and answer doorbells and telephones with two or three children under foot on a gloomy day.

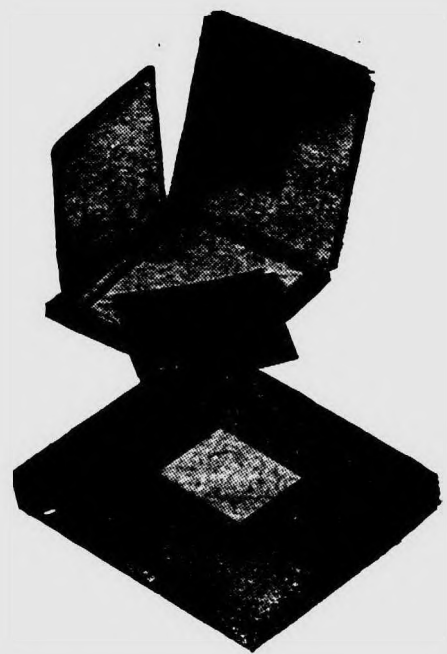

All kinds of people are learning that they can depend on Peterson Drug to supply their drug needs, plus all the other things one would expect to find in a modern store of this kind.

In Gallipolis, Ohio, Santa Claus was supposed to parachute from a plane to the Public Square; but he miscalculated and landed in the Ohio River. The affair turned out all wet. You'll really believe in Santa Claus when you see our fine line of gifts at PETERSON DRUG, 340 W. Ann Arbor Trail.

The Plymouth High school band, under the direction of Paul T. Wagner, was host at two assemblies Tuesday, November 29, for junior and senior high students. The band opened the assembly by playing several marches and a medley "The Red Mill" by Victor Herbert. The assembly was then transferred into a community sing with everyone participating.

The songs sung were: The Band Played On, Bicycle Built For Two, Home on the Range, Battle Hymn of the Republic, America The Beautiful, In The Gloaming, Jeanie With The Light Brown Hair, The First Noel, Hark The Herald Angels Sing, and Deck The Halls. The assemblies, which lasted approximately 20 minutes each, were concluded with the playing of another march by the band.

Miss Lovewell Speaks to Hi-Y

The Blue chapter of the Plymouth Hi-Y, under the supervision of Walter Goodwin, math teacher, was entertained Monday noon, November 28, by Miss Neva Lovewell's talk on mental hygiene.

Miss Lovewell discussed the different phases of mental hygiene with the boys and explained the necessity of caring for your mind. She explained how many people are now in mental institutions and why they are there. There was a question period after the speech.

Plans were discussed at the meeting concerning the Hi-Y Christmas party. The boys of the Blue Chapter will sing Christmas carols on Monday evening, December 19, and then return to the school for their Christmas party. Also brought up at the meeting was the organization of a basketball team to represent the Blue Chapter in the noon basketball games.

Movies on Banking Shown Economics Class

An extra attraction has been added to Harry Reeves' economics class by the way of an outside speaker. The sixth hour class was honored by hearing Ray Williams deliver a lecture to them.

Mr. Williams presented a movie which cleared the minds of the students as to the various ways of endorsing a check. The main part of his speech covered the subject of banking. Credit and negotiable instruments used in banking, was the theme of the discussion. Students were allowed to ask questions which Mr. Williams answered.

Miss Freda Olsen's bookkeeping class was also present.

Foreign Students Will Visit PHS

Two foreign students from the University of Michigan will visit Plymouth High school December 14, to find out how United States schools are operated.

Sewart C. Hulslander, counselor trainer at the University, arranged for the students, Mrs. Indira Kanani, principal in Bombay, India, and Miss Lydia Carra from Sydney, Australia, to visit different schools.

Miss Ruth Butts and George Canfield, counselors, have planned for them a conference with Miss Butts and Mr. Canfield as counselors; visiting the ninth grade boy's orientation class, a conference with Carvel Bentley, coordinator of the occupational training program, a visit with Miss Neva Lovewell's sociology class, sitting in on student council meeting and attending a group meeting with senior girls where a discussion of "Plans For The Future", will be held.

Bi-Weekly Tryouts Held by High School Band

Wednesday night of last week and the week before have been very important to Plymouth High school's band members, for Paul T. Wagner, the band director, gave them non-compulsory tryouts for positions held these evenings from 7 to 9 p.m.

On November 23 the number of band pupils was very small, but the turnout on November 30 was much better. Almost no changes were made at the first tryout, but the second tryout proved to be very interesting and educational. Those who moved up were: clarinets-Eric Eklund one chair; Arlene French, one chair and Bonnie Wellbaum advanced to second chair third clarinet. Lynn Osen advanced to second chair, solo cornet. The tryouts covered music scales in major keys.

Last night at 7, Mr. Wagner helped members of the band pick music for the annual solo and ensemble festival to be held in the early part of next year. From next Tuesday on, tryouts will be held bi-weekly and Mr. Wagner will help soloists and ensemble workers on the Wednesday evenings in between.

Band Playing For Concert in Ohio

Plymouth High school's band will make its first concert trip January 20, 1950 to Holland, Ohio, according to Paul T. Wagner, director. The band is planning to leave Plymouth on Friday afternoon and will arrive at Holland in time to play a concert in the evening. After the concert is over the band will return to Plymouth around midnight.

Mr. Wagner first taught music at Holland school. He also taught in other Ohio cities in which the band plans to play at a later date this year.

Babson Discusses Investments For Church Members

If peace is to be achieved in this most unpredictable world, it surely must come upon a surging tide of spiritual faith. There must be a mighty wave of religious awakening. It has been proven again and again to the misery of all peoples, that materialism is a dangerous foundation. Only upon such concepts as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments, and the Sacredness of the Individual soul, can any real solution for the ills of the earth be found.

Stimulate Religious Activity
This means that we must go down swiftly to the very grass-roots of religion and stir the common people to an awareness of the potency of a spiritual rebirth in combating today's multitudinous threats. We must build well our churches, even the smallest of them; we must find ingenious methods of swelling attendance, and of creating greater financial support of our religious institutions.

Our churches must be made the cornerstone of our national culture, not merely houses of worship for a handful of the truly devout. Religion must be forged into an instrument of vitalization and progress for ourselves and our neighbors. Love for individuals and for the intrinsic human soul must be made so much a part of our lives that lust for power, economic greed, and brutal means to an end will be repulsive to mankind.

No Church Too Small
It will do us no harm to observe and learn from the tactics of a Pennsylvania minister what can be achieved by a little battle in the war for religious revival. Asking for the toughest assignment available, the Reverend Hudson Clements was assigned by his Lutheran Board of Missions to the Trinity Lutheran church at Butler, Pennsylvania. There were only 25 persons in the congregation when he took over. There were 24,477 souls in and around Butler, consisting of farmers, steel workers and merchants. Surely, modern business methods would be understood by such men.

Reverend Clements gave his sermon a practical twist. He applied basic religious teachings to the topics of the day, livened up the presentation of ideas, and caused his flock to bring others to hear him. Before long he had increased the number of his congregation fourfold. This only whetted the Reverend Clements' appetite for further ways to build a financial backlog for further expansion. Being interested in all forms of "investments", I must tell of his unique plan.

Modern Parable of The Talents.
He made a visit to a local bank. The minister came away with a loan of $900, having given his note as security. The loan was passed out by the minister to the church members in crisp new bills:—$10 for those over 15 years old, $5 for those between 10 and 15 years of age; $2 for children between the ages of 6 and 10. This was no gift, but a strictly business loan basis.

Mr. Clements then asked that each person invest the money in such fashion that it would be doubled by a specific date. They all went to work immediately; the women sold cakes, pies, rolls and cookies. Men thought up other ways of increasing their money. A group of families bought a concession at a country fair and sold all manner of things. When the final settlement day came, the $900 was paid back to the bank, and an additional $1,124 went into the church treasury.

United Front For Religion
This modern application of the parable of the talents should give heart to many of us who have long been urging greater support to the churches as the only answer to materialism and totalitarianism. People of all races, nationalities and creeds are eager to contribute their physical energies to a spiritual rebirth if they are shown the way. The enormous power of religion to sublimate the good in men's souls, to defeat the forces of evil, can be generated only if the men of good will throughout the world work together. With the atomic bomb hanging, like the sword of Damocles, over our heads, no time can be lost in devising plans to aid the churches which alone can save us and our children from complete destruction.

Mayor Asks For Local Support of TB Seal Sale

Mayor Perry W. Richwine today issued a formal proclamation urging all residents of Plymouth to "demonstrate their interest in stamping out tuberculosis in Plymouth through their 'unqualified support' of the 1949 double-barred cross Christmas Seal Sale of the TB and Health Society of Wayne county, which opened November 21 and will continue until Christmas.

In issuing his proclamation, the Mayor praised the tuberculosis control program of the association, particularly its projects directed at helping to find the "unknown" cases of the disease in the county. These unknown cases, he explained, are those not reported to the health authorities. Many of them are early cases and the people themselves may not know they are ill since the disease has no obvious symptoms in an early age, he said.

"The more we cooperate with and lend our support to all the association's projects, the closer we shall be to victory over tuberculosis in Plymouth," the Mayor added. "Since the annual double-barred cross Christmas Seal Sale constitutes the sole support of the society, we take an active part in the campaign to eradicate the disease every time we buy and use Christmas Seals with the symbolic double-barred cross in red.

Officials of the TB and Health Society of Wayne County commented on the United Foundation's recent drive for funds, "while developing the theme 'Give Once For All,' United Foundation did not invite all charity and health organizations into its Torch fund. United Foundation's statement on this point is 'we did not invite the seal organization, Poppy Day, the Goodfellows and the building fund drives to join the Torch Fund for we find them not in conflict with United Foundation's program.'"

The text of the Mayor's proclamation follows:
"WHEREAS, tuberculosis is a major health problem in this and other communities throughout the country, and,
"WHEREAS, tuberculosis kills close to 50,000 Americans annually, nearly 1,000 each week, one every 11 minutes, and
"WHEREAS, the TB and Health Society of Wayne County is conducting an effective tuberculosis control program in Plymouth, and,
"WHEREAS, the tuberculosis association and all its projects are supported solely by the sale of double-barred cross Christmas Seals,
"THEREFORE, I, Mayor of Plymouth, do recommend that every resident of Plymouth demonstrate his interest in stamping out tuberculosis in Plymouth through his unqualified support of the 1949 double-barred cross Christmas Seal Sale."

WONDER WHY HOLLYWOOD insists on teaming beautiful little Ann Blyth with men more than twice her age? First it was William Powell and then Bing Crosby . . . While both men are popular and stretching the imagination to believe they would sweep a gorgeous young dish like Annie off her feet . . . Why not team her with Peter Lawford, Robert Stack, Farley Granger, John Derek and others like 'em? MGM has okayed a radio series for its child star, Margaret O'Brien.

COLUMBIA: A new album by the late Buddy Clark is a fine memorial to the singer . . . Called "Buddy Clark Encore," it contains his recent most popular hit discs such as "I'll Dance at Your Wedding," "Love Somebody," "Linda," "Peg O' My Heart," "All By Myself," "How Are Things in Glocca Morra," and "It's a Big, Wide, Wonderful World."

In singles, the cream of the Columbia crop are Doris Day's delightful chirping of "It Happened at the Festival of Roses," with "Three Rivers" on the flip . . . And don't miss Dinah Shore's "Dear Hearts and Gentle People," her best since "Buttons and Bows," with "Speak a Word of Love" on the reverse . . . Also recommended is Buddy Clark's stirring rendition of "Merry Christmas Waltz" . . . It's coupled with "Winter Wonderland."

VICTOR: The Three Suns have recorded some Christmas carols in an outstanding package for Victor . . . Included are "Adeste Fidelis," "Silent Night," "Jingle Bells" and the more modern "Winter Wonderland" and "The Christmas Song" . . . In singles, the Pied Pipers do a nice job with "S'Wonderful" and "Just a Kiss Apart" . . . And there's Fran Warren with a warm arrangement of "My Love Loves Me" with "This Is Where Love Walks Out" on the flip . . . Bill Lawrence messes up "Why Was I Born" but comes back strongly on the reverse with "It Happened at the Festival of Roses."

There's never been anything like Packard Ultramatic Drive

- ★ New simplicity: Naturally, there's no clutch pedal. And that's only the first hint of the convenience of Packard Ultramatic Drive! There's nothing new to learn. Just step on the gas, and steer!
- ★ New economy: Ultramatic Drive saves gas—because there's no slippage at cruising speeds. And thanks to its advanced design, Packard Ultramatic Drive requires no complicated maintenance.
- ★ New smoothness, new quietness. No jerking or "clunking," because there's no gear-shifting anywhere. No "racing engine" sensation, because there's no slippage at cruising speeds.
- ★ More responsive: No lag, at traffic speeds or highway speeds, waiting for gears to shift. For instant bursts of safety-sprint acceleration—just "tramp down."
- ★ New safety: No chance of involuntary unexpected "down-shifts," which might cause a prolonged skid on slippery pavement. Packard Ultramatic Drive gives you smooth, gradual engine braking power for safe deceleration.
- ★ More positive, more flexible: Your choice of high-range, or low-range operation—with rapid acceleration, and slippage-free cruising, in each range. Easy shift from forward to reverse. Yes, you can rock the car in snow!

Dr. Neigh started the mission church at Allen Park which has grown into the strong Allen Park Presbyterian church.

The preacher at the evening service will be Rev. William Townsend, minister of Grace Presbyterian church, Detroit, who served the Rosedale Gardens church when he was a student during the summer of 1929-30, after the retirement of the first pastor of the church. Also participating in the evening service will be former pastors, Rev. John B. Forsyth and Rev. R. A. Wilson and Dr. W. Glenn Harris, acting moderator of Detroit Presbytery and minister of the First Presbyterian church, Birmingham. The Women's auxiliary will serve tea after the evening service. All residents of the township are invited.

Sunday school and preaching services were started in the Rosedale Gardens school building March 4, 1928, under the auspices of the Board of Church Extension of Detroit Presbytery. The late Rev. John H. Shook was the minister under whose guidance work began. On March 4, the following committee was appointed to organize a Sunday school: D. F. Wood, chairman; Fred C. Weinert, C. L. Metzger, Mrs. R. S. Loftus, Mrs. J. W. Hamill, J. R. Dunfee and Mrs. Carl Zander. The first officers of the new Sunday school were J. R. Dunfee, superintendent; C. L. Metzger, assistant superintendent; H. W. Senkel, secretary; D. F. Wood, treasurer; Miss Doris Haines, organist; E. G. Reindel, secretary of supplies; Mrs. R. S. Loftus, chorister.

The Women's auxiliary was organized in April, 1948. Mrs. R. S. Loftus was president; Mrs. C. L. Metzger, vice president; Mrs. C. Zander, secretary; Mrs. Ramon Dixon, treasurer. The auxiliary worked tirelessly to purchase the original furnishings for the building and has helped in many ways throughout the life of the church. Glen Smiths Return From Summer Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Smith, who have been spending the summer and fall at their cottage on the shores of Pettibone lake, near Big Rapids, have returned to Plymouth for the winter, both feeling in excellent health.

"Until one has experienced it, I do not know of a more delightful way than to move right out into the woods on the shores of a nice-body of water where there is good fishing in order to get a good rest and forget all of the tribulations of a troubled old world," said Mr. Smith yesterday.

"I've had some awfully good fishing this summer, but my deer hunting wasn't so good. But I've got my buck for next year spotted and when the deer season ends in 1950 I'm going to come home with as nice a buck as ever came out of the north woods," said optimistic Mr. Smith.

We invite you to participate in this great event with us on the occasion of our fifteenth birthday. Decorators have left no stone unturned to make Hillside's interior a much finer place in which to dine. Your comfort was our first consideration when we started our thorough renovation.

Our chefs will have special anniversary menus ready to make dining even more of an event than it is with every regular meal served at Hillside.

Favors will be given to all who attend our birthday celebration and we have a surprise that can't be told until the night our party starts. Better plan now to be on hand.

We are not unmindful of the fact that the success Hillside has enjoyed during its 15 years is due largely to the continued patronage that our many friends have given us. To these friends and all of the rest of the people who have helped us become one of the finest institutions of this kind in Michigan we extend our most sincere thanks and hope that we may warrant your continued patronage in the years ahead.

Rocks Bow to Farmington, 35-28 in Initial Cage Encounter of Season

Playing a strong Farmington squad, the Plymouth Rocks fell to the Falcons in their first basketball game of the season by a score of 35-28 on Friday, December 2.

A close game all the way. Plymouth was nosed out in the last few minutes of play after putting up a good battle.

Keith Ebersole, playing center, tipped the ball to Wally Dzurus on the opening jump from where he scored two points in less than five seconds.

After five minutes of play the score was tied at 12-12 and a short while later George Barrons, Falcon guard, was replaced for having four fouls called against him.

At the end of the first period Farmington led 14-12. The second quarter proved to be mostly all defensive play as the two squads played very tightly with the first half ending, the Falcons leading 19-13.

In the last half, Plymouth and Farmington were both fouling quite a bit. The Rocks sank only four out of 16 free throws. The Falcons made, but seven of their 24 free throws.

George Barrons made his fifth foul in the last quarter and had to leave the game. Jerry Walsh, seeing limited service, had four fouls called on him in the final period.

The two captains led their teams in scoring as Dick Tupper sank five field goals and two free throws, netting 12 points for the Falcons and Plymouth's captain, Dick Fenton, scored 10.

Following is the individual scoring for the squads:

Girls Gym Night at Starkweather a Success

Under the supervision of Miss Mary T. Watters, girls gym night at Starkweather school turned out successfully last Thursday evening.

Twenty girls and ladies were present at the first meeting of the girls gym night. Volleyball, basketball and other girls' sports are being played on gym night.

Held every Thursday at 7:30 at Starkweather Grade school, the evening of sports is part of the city recreation program.

Plymouth men have their sports night on Tuesdays.

Reserve Game Lost in Second Half by Plymouth

After taking a substantial lead in the first half, the Plymouth Rock reserves wilted at the hands of the Farmington reserves in the second half to lose 43-33 last Friday night.

In the initial quarter the Rock reserves jumped to a quick lead as they pumped the ball through the basket. In two minutes of play Plymouth led 7-2 as the game got hot.

Plymouth was leading at the end of the first quarter, 13-6. Some beautiful shots were being made by the Rock reserves as they built up their lead and held a 21-13 margin over the Falcons at half time.

Farmington came back in the third quarter to take a 27-26 lead at the end of the period.

In the final quarter, the Farmington fans were cheering and yelling as the Plymouth reserves fell apart.

The Blue and White reserves were fouling rapidly in the last quarter as the teams were matching baskets and then Farmington was scoring freely to take a 10 point lead and win 43-33.

Dave Travis was high scorer for the Rock reserves with eight points. All but one of the 11 boys who played scored at least one point. Eleven of the 16 players on the Plymouth reserve team played recreation basketball last year in Plymouth.

First National Edges Out Tails

Aided by the high scoring of Heingar and Newbower, First National downed a fast moving Tails outfit Tuesday, November 29, but they had to play overtime to gain their first victory of the year, 43-35.

The first quarter the spectators saw Tails snap off an early lead on baskets by John Sandmann, the Plymouth Rocks' coach, and Mac Pierce, Constant rebounding by Newbower and Heingar put First National in the lead in the first quarter that Tails never caught up to until the last few seconds of the game. At the end of the regulation time the score was knotted at 35 points apiece.

Baskets by Huebler, Heingar and Wilkie gave First National a lead that the Cleaners could not catch in the three minute time limit.

Heingar and Newbower were high point men for First National with 13 points apiece. Sandmann and Pierce were high men for Tails with nine points apiece.

Choffin, Baker Get High Bowling Scores

Bowling a 678, Bill Choffin helped his Cloverdale Ice Cream team take a 30-52 series at Plymouth Recreation bowling alleys.

Jack Baker bowled a 685 series for the Myflower Tap room, as his team split with Marquis restaurant, each taking two points. In the women's bowling league Monday, November 28 at Plymouth Recreation, Rosemary Lyke bowled a 220 game on her birthday.

2 Rock Players Get Recognition

Even though the Plymouth Rock football squad did only win one grid game all season, two players received recognition for their outstanding play on the team.

Keith Ebersole, who captained the squad during the 1949 season, was given honorable mention on the Detroit News all-state selection.

Melvin Schultz, also a senior, was selected to the Suburban 6B league all conference team at guard.

Playing fullback on the team, Ebersole scored two of the four touchdowns Plymouth scored all year and set up another. He was an exceptionally good line backer on defense and could really carry that football on offense.

While playing football at Michigan Normal, Ebersole's brother, Clare, made honorable mention of college football players in the state.

Schultz, who would remind you of another Schultz, "Germany", on defense, was the only Rock player to start every game of the season.

Daisy, DeHoCo Win Encounters

With Miller scoring 21 points for Daisy Air Rifle, his team defeated the Plymouth Mail 43-35 in overtime, December 1 at DeHoCo.

At the end of the regular four quarters the game was knotted at 35 all. Daisy then got hot in the extra three minutes, scoring eight points to win the contest.

Dave Pottenger pushed 20 points through the hoop for the Plymouth Mail in a losing cause, while Larry Finney scored seven for the Mail and Mitchell 11 for Daisy.

In the second game of the evening, the Detroit House of Correction edged out Tait's Cleaners 28-25 in a closely played game.

Gregory scored 12 points for DeHoCo and Dave McIntosh netted 13 for Tait's Cleaners. Last year's leading scorer, Sammy Slough of DeHoCo, slipped 10 points in the basket.

Easton Packers Romp Past Arcadia Wildcats to Retain First Place

By defeating the Arcadia Wildcats 6-2, the Easton Packers retained first place in the Michigan-Ontario roller hockey league at Riverside Arena Monday, December 5.

The first period was full of fast and rough hockey, with Easton Packers taking a quick lead at 9:14 on a goal by Campeau, assisted by Henge and Tome.

A Packer player was given a penalty for having a broken wheel on his skate. While he was in the penalty box for two minutes, goalie Ferschnieder made nine saves for the Packers. With goals by Tome, Lindberg and Stevenson, the Easton Packers led at the end of the second period, 4-0.

Early in the third period the Wildcats netted their first goal on a pass from Erouchman to Jamieson, making the score 4-1. At 8:41 of the third period, the Easton Packers again increased their lead on a goal by Sutherland. A fast goal by Stevenson made the score board read 6-1 in favor of the Easton Packers over the Arcadia Wildcats.

With only 45 seconds to play, Wilson scored on a "fluke" goal. He intended a pass for a teammate on the other side of the rink but the puck was deflected from an opposing player's stick and slowly started rolling toward the goal, the goalie went to kick it away but in the process he fell and the puck rolled into the net for a goal making the final score 6-2.

The Arcadia Wildcat's goalie made 33 saves while the Easton Packers, Ferschnieder, made 36 saves.

Plymouth Meets Ypsilanti Friday

Opening their 1949-50 league basketball campaign, the Plymouth Rocks journey to Ypsilanti tomorrow night, Friday, to oppose a rough Braves quintet.

Last season the Ypsilanti Braves took the league championship but it is doubtful if they will take it again this year.

With the scrap and fight that the Plymouth boys have, the Rocks will be hard to beat. Although a team of not too much height, the local lads have the spirit and fight that it takes to win ball games.

Coach John Sandmann states that if the boys play as well as they did against Farmington and if they get a few more shots at the basket, they can't be beat.

Plymouth probably will not run into a tougher or taller team the rest of the season as Farmington.

Sandmann would also like to relate that his team played a very good game against the Falcons, even though they did lose.

This is a woman's world. When a man is born people ask, "How is the mother?" When he marries they exclaim, "What a lovely bride!" And when he dies they inquire, "How much did he leave her?"

Twin Pines Dairy romped Ypsilanti two, 47-11 with Ypsi scoring only two points in the second and third periods.

Eleanor Wilkin's was the game's most productive point maker, netting 20, while Skelt scored four for Ypsi.

DeHoCo, First National Lead in Men's Loop

Although Bob Norman scored 15 points for Atchinson-Chrysler, his team was beaten by the First National Bank, 32-29, Monday evening.

By winning this game, First National has moved into a tie with DeHoCo for the league lead in the men's loop.

Newbower of First National accounted for nine points while a team mate of his, John Wilkie, also tallied nine.

In this game, as in many men's league games this year, the fouling was held down considerably.

Following is the league standings of December 6:

DeHoCo	2	0	1,000
First National	2	0	1,000
Atchinson-Chrysler	1	1	500
Daisy	1	1	500
Plymouth Mail	0	2	000
Tait's Cleaners	0	2	000

Ypsilanti Friday

Opening their 1949-50 league basketball campaign, the Plymouth Rocks journey to Ypsilanti tomorrow night, Friday, to oppose a rough Braves quintet.

Madonna College Students Design Christmas Scene

A scene depicting the coming of the Prince of Peace within the stable-cave at Bethlehem will reach out with its message to all who, during Christmastide pass Villa St. Felix while going to Plymouth down Schoolcraft road or up the main drive to Madonna college.

The life-sized figures of the Virgin Mother enfolding within Her arms the Christ, and of St. Joseph humbly adoring the Babe, were hand carved and painted under the supervision of Sr. M. Angeline, head of the art department at Madonna, by art students, Mrs. Hilma Aubert, Joan Kaminski, Sally Kocol and Joan Siermiska. The Radzilowski brothers built the ten-foot high, glass inclosed stable that gives an open East and South view, with the traditional Guiding Star above and the "Venite Adoremus" below. A hand painted background within the stable will reveal the town of Bethlehem with three caroling angels hovering over it—also the work of the art students.

Neighbors and those interested are invited to attend the opening ceremonies Thursday evening, December 14 at 6:45 p.m. "Holy Night", sung by the Madonna Carolers will be the opening number. The lights will be put on for the first time by Mother Mary Januaria, Provincial Superior. All present will then join the carolers in singing familiar Christmas hymns and carols.

Your Police Department Speaks

Written by members of Plymouth's Police department, this column will appear in this space each week.

The city of Plymouth has joined forces with the Michigan Safety commission in conducting a state-wide traffic accident prevention program during the month of December. It is called "Holiday Hazards" and will concentrate on the greatest single holiday hazard, that of driving after drinking. The official slogan of the program will be "Drunk Drivers Lose Their Licenses." This is appropriate because over 50,000 have lost their licenses under the mandatory provisions of the state law, this now at the rate of over 5,000 per year.

The month of December is the most fatal month in the year—195 people were killed last December in Michigan. The fact that drunk drivers are involved in far too many accidents is emphasized. A study made by the Michigan State Police showed that during the critical hours between midnight and 3 a.m., one out of seven drivers involved in fatal accidents were reported as "under the influence"; four out of ten were reported as "had been drinking"; and one out of two of these accidents involved one or more "had been drinking" drivers. It showed that last year in Michigan, 20 percent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents were reported as "had been drinking." Another study showed that the drivers, who are definitely "under the influence" of alcohol, those with as little as 15 percent or more blood-alcohol concentration, are 55 times more likely to become involved in injury accidents than non-drinking drivers. Don't let a traffic hazard spoil your holiday.

Officer Ben Williams has recently organized the Junior Police which is a group of boys between the ages of 9 and 14. He has about 25 boys in his group now and hopes to enlarge it to 50 or 75. Any boy interested is eligible. Officer Williams states that the purpose of his group is to acquaint the boys with traffic safety, safety in the home and ways to prevent, through cooperation, juvenile delinquency. The boys will be issued badges and identification cards. Officer Williams also hopes to include in his program outside speakers, movies on traffic safety, etc. and entertainment for the boys. Last week after the meeting the boys went to a free movie.

We have been warning the drivers as to the hazards of winter driving and now it's time to warn the pedestrian. Children, and grown-ups, too, please cross the street at an intersection and look both ways before you start across. It takes a driver a lot longer to stop on icy streets than on dry pavement—stopping suddenly is almost an impossibility so BE CAREFUL.

THE FACE ON THE SPEEDOMETER: A former traffic court judge of Salt Lake City (now a Congressman) made such an impression on one persistent speeding violator while she was on the bench that he was moved to paste a miniature picture of her on the face of his speedometer as a constant reminder. The idea got some publicity and as a consequence the judge's likeness was pressed on one persistent speedometers.
