

THE YOUTH CENTER.

Once again thought is being given by a group of local residents to a building for Plymouth young people. Not too long ago the Music Box was closed and since that time there has been no place where the youth of the city could congregate or find a place to indulge in young people's recreational activities.

The group now making a study of the possibility of providing facilities for amusement of our young folks are facing the same problems that faced the previous group that operated the Music Box, which, while it lasted, served a definite purpose for the group that used it.

There was much criticism of the fact that only a small group availed themselves of the Music Box. That may, or may not have been true when it is realized that the quarters were small, and that most of the supervision was furnished by adults who accepted the responsibility as a part-time contribution for the good of the young people of the city.

The writer has been of the opinion that the operation of any such project should be the direct responsibility of the city recreation department. This was one of the weaknesses of the Music Box.

Secondly, the Music Box building was taken because there was no other choice. Certainly its facilities were far from desirable and supervision was difficult because of the cut up nature of the house. Cost of maintenance was high.

There has been, and there still is, a question in the minds of some of our local ministers as to whether or not local youth would actually use a recreation center if it was provided. They point out that it might be unwise to make a large investment in a building and then find that after a few months of operation there was not enough interest in it to pay to keep it open. This they base on conclusions drawn from usage of their own church facilities.

However, there may be a possible solution whereby this present group could send up a trial balloon and determine the actual need and future usage of such a building.

Members of the local Kiwanis club have built one of the most beautiful buildings of this nature that there is in Michigan. True, it was built for the Girl Scouts of Plymouth and vicinity but certainly for a year or two these marvelous facilities could be jointly used by the young people's group and the Girl Scouts.

The building which is located just east of the city sets high on a hill overlooking beautiful Riverside Park. It has one large main floor room which would provide space for ping pong tables, card tables and an exceptionally large area which could be used for dancing. Its beautiful fireplace could provide all the heat necessary for the hours of its operation and usage by either group would in no way interfere with the other.

Some $20,000.00 in material has gone into the building and certainly another $20,000.00 in labor has been contributed by the members of Kiwanis to make the building as complete as it is. If members of the Kiwanis club could be interested in discussing the operation of their project with the youth group under the direction of the City Recreation Commission, who should be held entirely responsible for everything while being used for their purposes, it might be possible to secure an excellent youth center almost immediately, and with no investment.

To go further, the three or four nights a week that the center would be operated by the Recreation Commission, it should also be possible to make arrangements with the Board of Education to provide a couple of busses for transportation back and forth to the building for local children. It might also be pointed out that the facilities are such that they would appeal to adult groups, as well as youth, when one thinks about organized recreation.

WHAT TO DO WITH THE AGED.

Seemingly every passing day brings forth new problems to discuss and solve.

Now comes forth an Ann Arbor citizen who appears to have excellent judgment, declaring that Michigan's treatment of its aged confined in the poorhouses of the state leads only to mental and social deterioration.

Henry C. Curtis has made a study of these institutions which is to be published by the University of Michigan in a forthcoming book on the problems of aging. He declares that under conditions now prevailing in most county infirmaries and poorhouses, "the inmates degenerate every day of their residence hygienically, physically, mentally and in every other characteristic that makes a human personality."

Curtis charges that the Michigan system of caring for its aged poor is much the same as the English 18th century system of poorhouses. Farms were purchased as the sites of the county homes with the idea that the inmates could help with the work and thus contribute to their support. In most cases, this has not worked out in practice and the superintendent of the county home or infirmary is expected to run the farm as a business proposition. He therefore has little or no time to devote to the social problems of the persons living in the institution.

The greatest difficulty in creating a reasonable life for the inmates of the county homes is that they have no incentive to effort—either to work or play, Curtis writes. With proper guidance from the home director, they might engage in light work in a garden or in housekeeping tasks. The problem of recreation is "an almost virgin field."

Curtis commends the University of Michigan Institute for Human Adjustment and its work in the Washtenaw County Infirmary, where a recreational program has been established with considerable success. Most infirmaries have no reading matter for the residents, no provision for religious services, little or nothing in the way of recreational equipment, he charges.

As a solution to existing problems, Curtis suggests a statewide organization of homes for the aged poor.

"If we aim at social results, our first step should be the appointing of a state director of infirmaries," he explains. "He should have a hand in the selection and rating of the superintendents in charge of the infirmaries. The State Welfare Department or an independent commission should be directed to make a job analysis of these positions, determine qualifications, and devise a merit system for use in making appointments."

Curtis suggests also that the present county buildings be organized by the state so that a certain number may be used as hospitals, some as institutions for the feeble minded, and others as genuine homes for old people. Under the present system, each county home has bed patients, cripples, the mentally ill or feeble-minded, and normal old people all living together in one building.

STATE BECOMES BIG TAX COLLECTOR.

Auditor General Murl K. Aten recently reported that the state collected and returned to local governments three dollars for every dollar retained by the state for state services during the past fiscal year. Total of state aid payments was $309,863,726, as compared to state cost of institutions, departments and maintenance of highways and building amounting to $102,925,073.

Aten points out that expenditures for the past year were over 18 million dollars higher than revenues. He makes this prediction: "Under the present financial structure, if and when sales tax revenues take a nose-dive, the inevitable result will be financial chaos in the general fund," according to Gene Alleman of the Michigan Press Association.

Pick Pockets Victimize Old Age Recipient

In return for a good turn Roy Pierson, who resides at 15131 Northville road, found he had lost his month's allowance from the Old Age Assistance bureau. Walking from his residence near Phoenix lake Monday morning Mr. Pierson was stopped by a passing motorist who inquired the way to the First Baptist church.

Since he was headed for Lidgard's store, where he intended to buy his groceries for the week, he accepted an invitation to ride to the place where he could show the motorist how to get to the church easily. In the front seat of the car other than the man driving, were two women.

When he arrived at Lidgard's he pointed to the direction of the church and was about to leave when the woman on his side of the car asked him to step closer to the car so she could brush off his coat. The brushing was so complete that as the car sped away he thought of his wallet in his hip pocket and when he reached for the same it was gone.

In the wallet was his social security number and miscellaneous other cards and the remaining $31.00 of his old age assistance check which at this writing had to sustain him for the next 19 days. Late Monday night he received a phone call from a friend saying a neighborhood child had found his empty wallet on Plymouth road just east of Starkweather street. The cards were there but the money was gone.

In the meantime, Mr. Pierson, who lives in a rented room and prepares his meals in the same is at the mercy of his friends in the city. "A spare nickel or dime from anyone would be greatly appreciated until my next check comes three weeks from now," said Mr. Pierson when he related his story to this reporter.

Goodfellow Report Shows Need For Aid Increasing

There's one service organization in Plymouth that wishes there were no need for its services. That wish was expressed by the Plymouth Goodfellows who have recently completed their annual Christmas service to the less fortunate citizens of the community.

During the past holiday season the Goodfellows totaled $1,236.92 from the newspaper sale and other donations. This money was spent for food, clothing and toys for the needy families of Plymouth and was distributed Christmas eve. All articles were purchased from Plymouth merchants who aided in the packing and labeling of the merchandise.

He was in the service from 1941 to 1945 and was overseas six months in the Pacific theater, part of the time with Army occupation forces in Japan. He emerged from the war as a first lieutenant. Charles H. Bennett, president of the Daisy Manufacturing company, was again re-elected president of the Plymouth United Savings bank. All other officers and directors were returned to office there also.

Since it was the 30th anniversary year also it was more than gratifying to the association officers to learn that more than $200,000 had been loaned on home mortgages during the last 12 months. The association also paid out more in dividends to its investors this year than ever before.

Dental Program In Local Schools Proves Beneficial

Healthier teeth for Plymouth children is the aim of a new dental health program launched in September in the Central and Starkweather grade schools. June Singley, dental hygienist, is in charge of the program under which all children have an opportunity to receive a new treatment for preventing dental decay. The treatment consists of the application of a sodium fluoride solution to the teeth after they have been thoroughly cleaned.

So far, according to school authorities and other interested parties, the program is proving most beneficial in teaching proper care of teeth to not only the children but some parents as well.

Miss Singley received her bachelor of science degree in dental hygiene at the University of Michigan. Before beginning the local program she spent several days observing a team operating in the Detroit area under the auspices of the U. S. Public Health service.

"The program which we have set up to serve Plymouth children is patterned on recommendations of our Michigan Department of Health," said Miss Singley.

Petitions Are Filed For Charter Changes

New Hospital Project Begun by Local C of C

Plymouth's Chamber of Commerce board meeting on January 6 resulted in the formation of a Hospital committee composed of members of the organization. The purpose of the committee is to initiate a project for the building of a community hospital located in Plymouth. Aware of the need of adequate hospital facilities in this area, the committee hopes to develop and complete the plan. The hospital would especially serve those engaged in industry in and around Plymouth.

Members of the committee, appointed by President Ray Williams and approved by the board of directors, are Robert Marsden, Cass Hough, Robert Lidgard, Harry Mohrmann, Dr. Walter Hammond, Dr. Charles Westover and Charles Garlett. Two representatives from labor are to be selected by the above committee.

Another business matter discussed at the meeting was the cooperative endeavor of the Chamber of Commerce, the city government and the Plymouth postmaster for permission for a passageway from Fralich to Penniman avenue for pedestrians through the post office property. Permission must be granted by the United States Treasury department, owners of the property. This passageway would cut off a two to four block walk for those who find it necessary to park on Fralich avenue when driving to the business district. The present inconvenience discourages the use of a good parking area.

Other committees of the Chamber of Commerce are now organizing for plans for future activity.

January Sales Start Here Today

Many stores in the Plymouth business district are featuring January "clearance" sales. The sales start today and will continue next week. Local residents should check the advertisements contained in this issue for reduction values on merchandise. Merchants have marked down articles useful to Plymouth housewives and home owners, and are urged to take advantage of these special sales.

The purpose of the sale is to make room for the new spring merchandise now being stocked. Articles on sale and the special sale prices are listed.

Roof Damaged by High Winds

Heavy winds in Plymouth reached the proportions of a gale Tuesday night. The only damage reported was done to the roof of the city garage at the foot of Arthur street. The wind storm tore off parts of the terra cotta coping of the garage roof. No damage was done to the trucks and equipment stored in the garage, according to Stanford Besse, city engineer. Cost of repairs has not yet been estimated.

The Edison company reports that no wires were torn down in the area because of the winds.

March of Dimes Drive Opens in Plymouth Today

Today marks the opening of the 1950 March of Dimes drive for funds to support the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. The campaign in the Plymouth area is again directed by Miss Neva Lovewell, successful chairman for the last four years, and it will last through January 31.

Once more the citizens of Plymouth are called upon to give generously to the March of Dimes drive, for through contributions they benefit both themselves and their community. No one can be sure where or when polio will strike, and care for each victim is usually required for many months. The Foundation stands ready to give financial aid and equipment. An ex-

Petitions asking six changes in the city charter were filed with the city clerk this week. The petitions bore the names of 350 registered voters.

Members of the city commission referred the petitions to city attorney, Harry Deyo, for study who will make recommendations on what action to take at the next regular meeting of the commission Monday night.

The proposals in brief are: 1. To take away from the city manager the right he now has to discharge administrative officials of the city such as the chief of police, the fire chief, city treasurer, etc. 2. The creation of a trial board consisting of three electors of the city, the board members to be appointed to staggered terms by the city commissioners. 3. The removal of the right of the mayor, with the consent of the city commission, to appoint the city of Plymouth member of the board of supervisors and to make the position an elective one instead. 4. The city manager shall no longer act as city clerk, under one of the proposals.

5. Another proposal defines the duties of the city manager, removing from him considerable of the authority he now has and defining what his rightful duties shall be. 6. It is also proposed in another petition that the charter be amended so that the city manager can make purchases up to a value of $500 without asking for bids as now required under the charter. At present no purchase can be made by the city purchasing agent (who is the city manager) in excess of $300 without asking for competitive bids.

Plymouth Has Massive Look

The front of the new Plymouth has a massive appearance. The grille has been simplified, and the bumper is larger. There's a new name plate in larger block letters, and a bigger, more colorful medallion. The cars look new "both coming and going."

Rotarians Hear Member Talk

The program last Friday at the Rotary club was provided by the classification committee. Three of the newer members of the club gave brief sketches of their early life and told of the reasons and events that brought them to Plymouth. Speakers were rifle manufacturer John Hoban, Soft Water service man William Clarke and high school administrator Cyrus Pierce.

Feb. 28 is Deadline For 1950 License Plates

The deadline nears for the procurement of 1950 state license plates. All licenses must be applied for by February 28. School Librarian Named Chairman

Mrs. Esther Ham, librarian at Plymouth High school, has been appointed chairman of the publications committee of the School Library Section of the Michigan Library association. The appointment was made by the executive board of the Section.

Mrs. Ham had previously been active as a member of the committee. The duties of the chairman includes coordinating all publicity regarding Michigan school librarians for library publications.

Last Saturday Mrs. Ham, accompanied by Roger Kidston, student assistant in the high school library, attended a meeting in Lansing of the planning committee of the Michigan Student Library Assistant association. Plans were laid for the annual spring session of the organization.

Baby Clinic to Be Held at High School Jan. 18

A baby clinic, sponsored by the Plymouth Community Fund, will be held January 18 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon in the health room of the Plymouth High school. Any mother is welcome to bring her child for a check-up. The clinic will be conducted by Mary Strassen, health nurse, and Dr. Milo Brady, pediatrician. The clinic is held the third Wednesday of every month.

Kiwanis Notes 35th Anniversary

Members of the Kiwanis club of Plymouth will celebrate the 35th anniversary of Kiwanis International next week.

Byron Becker, president of the club, said today that plans for the anniversary meeting, which will be held at 6:10 p.m. Tuesday, January 17, at the Hotel Mayflower, had been virtually completed. The program will be based on the community service organization's 1950 administrative theme, "Aggressive Citizenship—Safeguard of Freedom."

The Plymouth club will join with more than 3,000 others in observing the week throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii and the Yukon territory. Some 300 clubs in cities having radio stations have arranged special broadcasts, while approximately 35 other clubs will participate in television programs.

A feature of the Plymouth club's observance will be the reading of a message from J. Hugh Jackson, dean of the graduate school of business at Stanford university and president of Kiwanis International.

Plans for next week's meeting are under the direction of the committee of Education and Fellowship of which Robert Merriman is chairman.

Kiwanis was established in Detroit January 21, 1915. It now embraces more than 200,000 business and professional leaders. Plymouth Kiwanians will celebrate the local club's 25th anniversary next fall.

Local Merchant Attends Market

The semi-annual home furnishings markets held this week in Chicago and Grand Rapids will be attended by A. L. Lantz of Blunk's, Inc. New furniture lines as well as new designs in home appliances, radios and television sets will be shown at the markets. While in Chicago, Lantz will attend sessions of the National Retail Furniture association, at which prominent members of the industry will discuss economic factors and merchandising problems of vital importance to retailers today. Vice-President Barkley was the featured speaker at the industry dinner on January 10.

Proclamation

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will conduct its annual March of Dimes campaign this year from January 15-31. The Wayne County Chapter of the Foundation has been faced with the most serious epidemic in its history. In Plymouth, we have suffered the misfortune of seeing the disease strike at seven homes and in one instance it has caused death. Our own community, like the entire country, has felt the sting of a serious menace, and our people are eager to strike back.

Over 800 persons in Wayne County were stricken with polio in last summer's epidemic. Between 25 and 30 per cent were over the age of 15. We have learned that polio is no respecter of age, nor does it single out its victims from special neighborhoods or racial groups. But there is one thing peculiar to polio—and that is The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which has for 12 years been carrying on its merciful work of providing financial aid to polio victims who have been unable to bear the cost of care and treatment themselves.

Last summer when polio was at its peak, no one was denied help from the Foundation. In addition, the Wayne County Chapter was hard at work throughout the trying days of a difficult epidemic securing emergency equipment for local hospitals when polio wards were bulging.

Since the beginning of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, March of Dimes funds have also been working toward the solution of the polio mystery and to date $11,000,000 have been spent by The Foundation on research.

I am sure that every citizen of Plymouth is grateful for the help The National Foundation and its Wayne County Chapter provides for us all should the need for assistance with polio bills arise. I am glad to endorse the March of Dimes again this year and to proclaim the dates from January 16 to the 31st a time for every citizen of Plymouth to contribute generously to the March of Dimes and to thereby enlist in the fight against infantile paralysis.

Lionel Coffin Says Smog Is Bad For Los Angeles

If any one has any idea that the smog situation out in Los Angeles is not a serious problem, they had better change that idea.

But a determined effort is being made to remedy it, and usually when Californians set out to accomplish a purpose, they do as they plan.

Those are the views of Lionel J. Coffin, a former Plymouth resident now living in Los Angeles, who is here for a brief visit with friends and relatives. Mr. Coffin was one of the many thousands of soldiers of the last world-war who trained in California and liked it so well that they decided to locate there after the war. In spite of the smog problem, which has developed in the past few years, he is a confirmed booster of the state of his adoption and declares that while the smog may prove a temporary setback, that's all it will amount to.

Brought on largely by the huge increase in the number of oil refineries and industrial plants, the smog situation in Los Angeles has become exceedingly critical within the last six to eight months, according to Mr. Coffin. Within the last ten years the number of industrial plants in the city has more than tripled.

Mr. Coffin related that it is not at all unusual, to see tears streaming down the faces of the people on the streets because of the intensity of the smoke and fog.

The whole city of Los Angeles, which spreads out over miles and miles, is up in arms about the smog difficulties. A 54 person "Smog Control" unit has been set up to try to combat the problem. Chemists and industrial executives are working hand in hand with city officials to help overcome the smoke obstacle which is proving to be a serious problem to the Chamber of Commerce as well as affecting the well being of every person in Los Angeles. Even real estate sales have been affected.

Smog control equipment is in the process of being perfected. However, it is most expensive and still in the trial stage, he said.

Mr. Coffin, an agent for the New York Life Insurance company, has been making his home in California for the past four years.

In Australia, rabbit fences have been erected at a cost of several million dollars in an attempt to control the rapidly increasing rabbit population.

Car Dealer Wins Contest..

Norman Atchinson, of the firm Berry and Atchinson, Pontiac dealers, is pictured receiving a check for $100 this week from Walter Andrews, district manager of the Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors. The award was given Atchinson for winning first place in the district in the Big Chief Service contest. Thirty-eight dealers in the outlying metropolitan area competed in the contest. Judging was based on the dealers per cent to quota over a six month period which ended in September. Center in the picture is Ross Berry, senior member of the firm of Berry & Atchinson.

Police Thwart Gas Robbery

An attempted larceny of gas was thwarted by local police on January 3 as they made a routine check at Powell's Garage. The officers, Rodger Vanderveen and Ben Williams, noticed an open door on a truck belonging to the Willoughby Apple factory and two 5 gallon cans nearby. As they approached a man ran from behind the truck and, though chased, escaped.

The police then looked for the thief's auto and called the Wayne County road patrol to aid in the search. He was caught as he approached his car, parked on Lilley road and identified himself as Edward M. Bobbio, 19, 24608 Ann Arbor trail, Dearborn. Officers Vanderveen and Williams turned him over to Deputies Turner and Grendall.

Bobbio had a previous larceny conviction in Detroit and was on a two year probation.

The only way to realize that we are God's children is to let Christ lead us to our Father.

Who's Who Lists Local Engineer

George Chute of this city has received recognition in two volumes brought out recently by the A. N. Marquis company, publishers of "Who's Who in America." He is one of the eight persons from this area listed last November in "Who's Who in the Midwest."

New this year is the volume "Who Knows—and What?" listing 16,000 authorities in this country, classified as "Knowers" in 35,000 subjects. Chute is one of the several listed in the specialization of industrial electronics and has written books in this field. His brother, Dr. A. H. Chute, of the University of Texas, is listed in fields of retailing and marketing.

The Plymouth Mail wishes to be informed of nearby residents who are included in these and similar listings.

The only sound and durable foundation for true fellowship and brotherhood is love for God, and the teachings of Christ (Jesus) that direct us in love for others.

on Display Today

The 1950 Plymouth car, with important styling changes and improvements for safety and riding comfort, will go on display here and throughout the country today, January 12, according to an announcement made by Ann Arbor Road Motors, Inc., local Plymouth dealers.

There are new lines in the silhouette which give the new Plymouth a longer, lower, more streamlined appearance. The changes are readily apparent whether viewed from front, rear or side.

The new Plymouth may be seen here at Ann Arbor Road Motors, 684 West Ann Arbor road.

Rear fenders, which are bolted on for economical removal in case repairs are necessary, have been restyled and lengthened. A larger rear window on club coupes and four-door sedans, slightly greater over-all width, and alterations on the rear deck provide a longer, heavier, road-hugging appearance for all models. The grille has been simplified and made more massive. It consists of two large horizontal bars with a curved-down top member and a single vertical bar at the center. Above the grille the Plymouth nameplate appears in larger block letters, and a bigger, more colorful medallion has been placed over the nameplate.

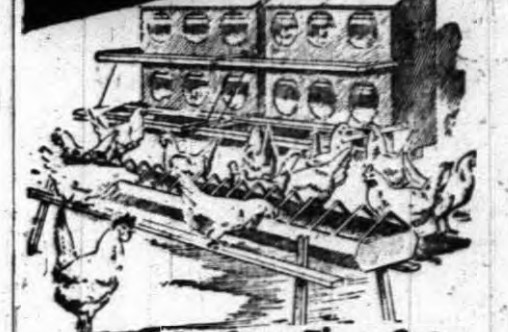

Described as "Packed with value and ready to prove it", the new Plymouth was characterized by D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, as "The greatest car value we have ever offered the public."

"When we speak of value", Eddins said, "we mean that we have combined beauty with sensible styling, that we have achieved big-car performance with small-car economy, and that the mechanical excellence of which we have always been proud has maintained its high level."

The new Plymouth line includes nine automobiles in the Special DeLuxe and DeLuxe groups. Special DeLuxe models are the four-door sedan, the club coupe, the station wagon, and the convertible club coupe. The DeLuxe group consists of the four-door sedan, club coupe, two-door sedan, three passenger coupe, and the all-metal Suburban. The cars are available in nine colors. In addition, there are special colors available for the Suburban, the station wagon and the convertible coupe.

There are 5,900,000 farms in the United States.

Be Sure They Get FULL NUTRIENT BALANCE

Feed designed to produce eggs alone is not enough! You get more eggs when your layers maintain good body condition. So they must get a full balance of nutrients in their feed—nutrients for egg production—different nutrients for good body condition—still different nutrients for good market quality eggs.

Recent feeding tests at Larro Research Farm show these amazing results:

Over and above the feed needed for maintenance, laying hens produced 760 eggs per 100 pounds of Larro Egg Mash.

Complete Plans for Annual Symphony Ball

(Continued from page 1) auditorium, only 300 tickets are available. Mrs. Helmer Nelson is in charge of the Refreshment Bar and will be assisted by Mr. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner and Axel Jansson. It is traditional for those attending the ball to sign the Guest Book, which this year will be in the care of Mrs. Edwin Rice. Last year there were many out-of-town guests registered, and several from out of the state. Mrs. John Blossom heads the decoration committee which includes Mrs. Wallace Laury, Mrs. A. R. Chilson, Mrs. Frances Overton and Robert E. Ingram. The latter will be in charge of lighting. Mrs. Charlotte Comer will have charge of the cloak room. Others helping with the arrangements of the ball are Mrs. Frances Overton, whose art classes are making posters publicizing the dance; and Mrs. H. E. Raaf-laub, publicity. All proceeds from ticket donations will be used by the Plymouth Symphony Society in carrying out their plan for more and better music in Plymouth.

Dental Program in Local Schools Proves Beneficial

(Continued from page 1) ley. "With the approval of parents, children will receive the sodium fluoride treatment at ages corresponding to their kindergarten, second grade, fifth grade and seventh or eighth grade years in school. Experience with the program up to this time indicates that a reduction in cavities up to about 40 per cent may be expected. The treatment does not stop decay which has already started. In addition to the preventive treatment, inspection of the child's teeth gives us information which we are attempting to relay to parents. This, we hope, will serve to guide parents in obtaining from their family dentist any necessary corrective measures." In commenting on the program, H. A. Nelson, superintendent of schools said, "In every important statement of educational objectives published in the past 30 years health has occupied a position of first rank. We consider health in the broad sense of physical and mental health as one of the most important objectives of education. This is based on the present day recognition of the close interdependence of the physical, mental, emotional and social aspects of the growth and development of children. The school nurse is, of course, a key person in this very important area. However, in trying to reach more of our objectives we are attempting to bring in other specially trained people to assist and supplement the regular program as members of this very important health team. This program in dental health which we have initiated this year provides not only for the conservation of the child's health but of equal importance serves as an excellent medium through which children may be educated to the importance of the regular care of the teeth both at home and through the services of their family dentists." Co-operative planning for the new dental program has included parent representatives of the local Parent-Teachers associations of Central and Starkweather Grade schools, members of the local dental profession, a representative of the Michigan Department of Health and representatives of the Board of Education and school administrative and teaching staffs. Also, assistance in purchasing necessary equipment was given by the local parents organization. Local dentists are continuing to serve in an advisory capacity. Dr. A. E. VanOrnum serves as local supervisor of the program representing the Department of Health. When asked to comment on the program Dr. VanOrnum stated, "We of the local dental profession are naturally interested in this program and are in agreement with its objectives. The problem of health conservation and educating children to the importance of dental health appears to me to rightly belong in the program of the public school."

Schrader Adds New Ambulance...

Announcement was made by the Schrader Funeral Home this week that they had added a new Superior-Cadillac ambulance to their line of motorized equipment. The new ambulance is one of the most modern on the road and brings to residents of this area a car completely equipped in every detail. In addition to its regular features the new ambulance has built-in oxygen tanks from which oxygen can be administered to patients who are in need of the same while in the ambulance.

Michigan was the greatest iron ore producing state in the nation until 1910. That year the state of Minnesota produced more iron ore than did Michigan and has continued to do so since. But ore ships that carry Minnesota's product to the great steel manufacturing centers must use Michigan's waterways.

The Rock of Ages is located at the southwestern tip of Isle Royale. There is a government lighthouse at this point, to warn ships that sail Lake Superior of a danger point.

Michigan is the only state in the Union which has a monument dedicated to lumbermen. It is located on the Au Sable river some 15 miles west of Oscoda.

Hunting license sales for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949, rang up new record-breaking totals for Michigan both in the number sold and in revenue received, Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman announced recently.

During the various 1948-49 shooting seasons, Albert M. Day, director of the Fish and Wildlife Service reported to Secretary Chapman hunters paid $24,968,687 for an all-time record total of 12,758,698 licenses. Compared with the preceding year, license sales increased 1,366,888 from the previous total of 11,391,810 while fees skyrocketed $5,152,360 from the previous high record of $29,814,327.

The higher revenue recorded for 1948-49 can be attributed principally to increased hunting fees which many states put into effect, according to Mr. Day.

Non-resident license fees totaled 224,242, an increase of 43,290 over the total of 130,952 for the previous year.

For comparative purposes, the "big ten" in the license sales line-up are shown for the 1948-49 and 1947-48 hunting seasons. Michigan, which lost first place in 1947-48, regained it in 1948-49 to head the list again with 977,879 licenses, or nearly 100,000 ahead of Pennsylvania in second place with 878,669. Minnesota, which dropped to eleventh place in 1947-48 with 346,151 licenses, reclaimed its fifth place position in 1948-49 with 505,970 license sales, an increase of 159,819.

In "revenue received", the first ten states are listed below: Michigan, $2,847,013; Pennsylvania, $2,122,378; Colorado, $2,101,923; Washington, $1,959,882; California, $1,900,968; New York, $1,689,253; Oregon, $1,127,900; Missouri, $1,096,256; Wisconsin, $1,038,618; Ohio, $1,035,733.

In Alaska 21,186 combination hunting licenses were sold in 1948-49, to bring in a revenue of $76,816. They were divided on a basis of 19,537 resident licenses at $44.156, and 1,649 non-resident and alien licenses at $32.660.

In Hawaii 5,453 county and territorial licenses were purchased by sportsmen at a cost of $27,287.

The sale of Federal migratory-bird hunting stamps, commonly called "duck stamps," also broke all records in 1948-49 when 2,127,598 of these stamps—the last of the $1.00 issue—were purchased. The Federal stamp, in addition to a state license is required of every waterfowl hunter over 16 years of age.

The appended alphabetical tabulation summarizes by states the hunting licenses and duck stamps sold and the fees paid by hunters which include the cost of licenses, special permits and tags required for hunting, but not the shipping tags.

The University of Michigan was created in 1817—before Michigan was a state—by the Territorial Legislature. Moved from Detroit to Ann Arbor in 1837, after statehood, the new University was started with a campus of 40 acres. Now the University has an expanded campus in excess of 700 acres in Ann Arbor and large tracts in other sections of Michigan and outposts in Wyoming, South Africa, and elsewhere. Semester enrollment has grown from a handful to more than 20,000. The year-around enrollment in 1946-47, for credit courses, was 30,278. Another 10,379 were enrolled in extension programs for non-credit courses. Student veterans enrolled last year totalled 14,374.

Since the largest semester enrollment in the pre-war period was approximately 12,000, it can be appreciated that with 20,000 students today the University is overcrowded. Although several buildings are now under construction, the plant will still be inadequate when these are finished.

Educational buildings now being erected by the State are for Business Administration, Chemistry, Engineering, and General Service. Two dormitories now under construction, and University Terrace, a series of completed apartment buildings for veterans, are built by the University on a self-liquidating basis.

The Law Quadrangle, the Rackham Building, Hill Auditorium, the Michigan Union and Michigan League, Burton Memorial Tower, the W. K. Kellogg Foundation Institute; some of the dormitories and other buildings were all made possible through gifts by generous friends of the University. Residence Halls and the athletic and physical education plant were built without expense to the State of Michigan.

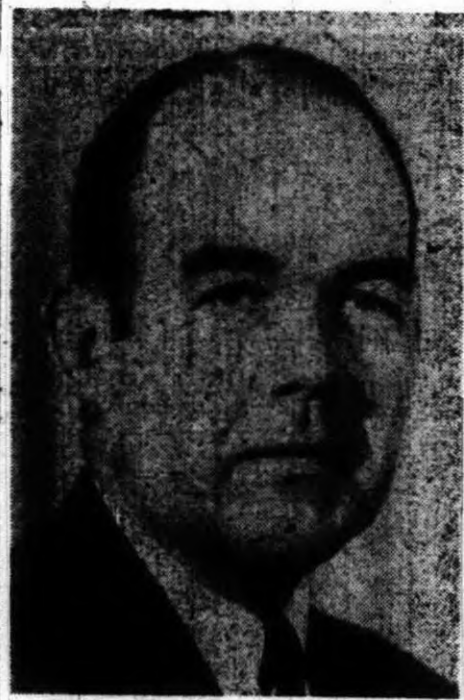

"March of Dimes" Drive Opens in Plymouth Today

(Continued from page 1) where Coca-Cola is sold and where the beverage machines are operated. An outstanding example of the beneficial work of the Foundation in Plymouth can be found in the case of little eight year old Marie Bolen, struck by polio last September. Marie was among the seven polio victims in Plymouth in 1949. Returning home December 23, Marie was in University hospital in Ann Arbor for three and a half months. Her lungs were affected and throat muscles paralyzed. She now uses a throat tube for swallowing purposes. All hospital and medical expenses after the first 14 days of hospitalization were incurred by the Foundation. The cost for this one case in Plymouth alone amounted to several thousand dollars. Marie's two brothers, Eugene and Richard, were also polio victims. Richard has recovered but the disease was fatal to Eugene. Marie soon hopes to be able to swallow without the aid of the throat tube, and will then be able to return to school. The children reside with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bolen, at 958 Starkweather avenue. Cases of this kind emphasize the need for liberal contributions to the fund drive. Without adequate funds the Foundation could not possibly provide the necessary help at the time of an epidemic. Last year, a total of $1,936.68 was collected, but Miss Lovewell and her assistants hope to exceed this amount in 1950 in order to meet the anticipated costs of the Foundation's clinical and surgical services.

If You Get Thirsty, Don't Go to New York

Junior's Boy Scout canteen will come in handy for anyone planning a trip to New York these days, advises Ralph Rostow, of Graham's Apparel shop, who recently returned from a buying trip to that city. "A bit of imported water might be necessary if the water shortage gets worse," Rostow declared. He said that no water is served in restaurants unless specifically requested by the patron. Hotels are urgently requesting conservation of water in hotel rooms, and radio programs offer constant reminders of ways to alleviate the city's plight. A few cases of "5 o'clock" shadow were also reported by Rostow, who said that many citizens forego shaving in an attempt to conserve. The shortage has even penetrated the city's cocktail lounges where bartenders urge the use of soda instead of the precious water as a chaser.

Poet, Cellist Featured on Club Program

Anne Campbell, well known poet, and Douglas Marsh, cellist, were guests of the Plymouth Woman's club at a meeting, January 6, in the Methodist church. Mrs. Harry Balfour served as program chairman. Miss Campbell's talk, entitled "Memories", compared present day events with those 50 years ago. She read poems illustrating her comparisons of farming, entertainment, transportation, advertisements, beauty care and other phases of daily living. Her first poem, "Companionship", was also read. Miss Campbell has been writing for 28 years and has contributed to the Detroit News and other papers. Mr. Marsh, a member of the Detroit Little Symphony, and former member of the Detroit Symphony orchestra, was assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Woods at the piano. The selections performed were the A Major Sonata for cello and piano by Beethoven, and an Adagio by Corelli. First cellist with the Plymouth Symphony orchestra, Mr. Marsh has taught at the Baldwin-Wallace Conservatory, Berea, Ohio, and at Evansville college in Indiana.

Five stitches had to be taken in the spanning hand of a mother in Berkeley, California, after her three-year-old son jammed a pair of scissors in his back pocket for protection. What we really need now is one more Freedom—Freedom from so much political foppery.

Will Raise the World's Standard Again!

In 1950, the reasons for moving up to Cadillac will become so great, and so manifold, that if you are contemplating the purchase of any car outside the lowest-price field—you should see the new Cadillacs first!

Cadillac's new cars will have their initial presentation at the General Motors Mid-Century Motorama—at the Waldorf, in New York—from January 19th to 27th.

As soon after that as cars are available, the new Cadillacs will be placed on display for your inspection in this community.

In the meantime, here are some of the things you may look forward to seeing when America's most renowned motor car builder unveils its new offerings for 1950.

You will see four wholly new series of cars—all with entirely new bodies—and all so gorgeously styled that they are destined to change every existing idea as to how beautiful a motor car can be.

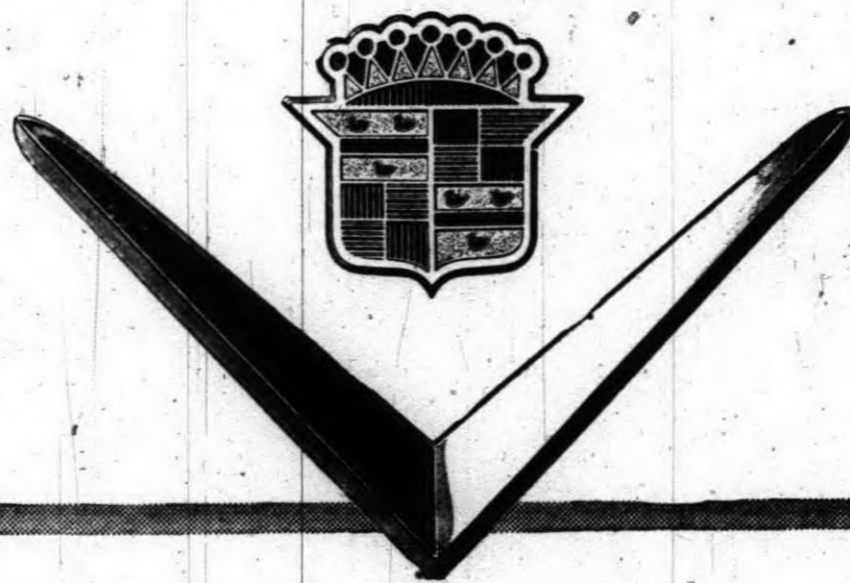

You will see cars whose performance is so outstanding that to drive one of them for a single hour is to want it forever. The advancement embraces every phase of performance—power, quietness, smoothness, safety, and handling ease. To drive one is to get the motor car thrill of a lifetime.

You will see scores of advancements and improvements which add to quality, endurance, economy and dependability.

And, finally, you will see all this in a car whose lowest-priced model will actually cost less than certain models of numerous other makes of cars!

Yes—you should see the new Cadillacs before you act in 1950. They will not only give you the new yardstick for motor car quality—but they will give you the new yardstick for motor car value, as well.

It won't be long! So please stand by for the presentation date for this community.

Rocks Defeat Panthers For First League Win of Season

After losing two league games to Ypsilanti and Trenton the fighting Plymouth Rocks defeated the league leading Redford Union Panthers by the score of 46-41 last Friday night. Up to the time of the game the Redford Union boys were tied with Trenton and Ypsilanti for first place in the Suburban B league.

The Rocks victory over the Panthers was their first league victory in two years, although they were credited with a victory last year when Redford Union used an ineligible player in their tilt with the Rocks.

In the first quarter the Panthers took an early lead with McComis, and Stites sinking long shots from all angles. When the quarter ended the Panthers had a comfortable lead over the Rocks, with a score of 15 to eight.

In the second period the underdog Rocks caught fire with Captain Dick Fenton netting one-handed push shots and Dwight Eckler and Keith Ebersole doing the rebounding off the backboards. Dwight Eckler and Alan Finney had a hard time with the referee in the first half, each having four fouls called on them. As the buzzer rang Walt Dzurus made a long shot making the score read 24 to 20 in favor of the Panthers.

In the second half the Rocks looked like a team that was leading the league. Perfect ball handling, shooting, rebounding and most of all aggressiveness and a fighting spirit were all combined together to make Plymouth a team that the Redford Union boys could not stop.

Early in the third quarter Walt Dzurus tossed in a "charity shot" to tie the game, and after that basket the Rocks were never behind.

They left the Redford quintet behind 32-27 as the third quarter ended. In this quarter the Rocks outshot and outscored the Panthers. The Rocks scored 12 points and the Panthers three points in the third period.

At one time in the last quarter the Rocks enlarged their lead to 12 points over the Panthers. At the automatic time out the Rocks held a nine point advantage. Jim Stites, who was selected on the all-league team last year, started to make points from all angles and the score read Plymouth 45, Redford Union 41 with only two and one-half minutes to play.

The Rocks then froze the ball until only five seconds of playing time remained. A Redford Union player fouled Dave Reitzel. Dave received two foul shots and he made one making the final score read 46 to 41 in favor of the Rocks.

Dick Fenton took scoring honors for the evening with 13 points and Dwight Eckler, who was sent out of the game for having five fouls in the fourth quarter, had 12 points.

The referees called a total of 23 fouls on the Rocks while only 13 on the Panthers. Keith Ebersole, Alan Finney and Dwight Eckler all sat on the bench in the last quarter, each having five fouls.

After the game John Sandmann, Rocks coach, gave credit to the team as a whole, not only for their victory but for their aggressiveness which they lacked up to the Redford Union tilt.

Packers Play London Jan. 16

In a fight for first place in the Michigan-Ontario Amateur Roller Hockey league, the Eastern Packers play the London Tecumseh at Riverside Arena on Monday, January 16 at 8:30 p.m.

At the present time the Arcadia Wildcats are at the top of the league, but they have played one game more than both London and the Packers. These two teams are currently resting in second place, two points or one victory behind Arcadia.

A victory for the Eastern Packers would send them into a first place tie with Arcadia or sole possession of second. A hard fighting team, the Packers have won eight contests while dropping only two.

In goalie Bill Fershneider, Eastern has the best net-minder in the league. After knocking off the Arena Flyers on January 2, by the score of 65 to 4, the Packers came back to emerge victorious again last Monday night, by one goal, 6-5.

A thrilling tilt that was deadlocked most all the way, the Arena Flyers, holding down last place, put up a miraculous fight. Bob Carron, Flyer's captain, scored three goals, two unassisted, and also contributed an assist, taking part in four of the Flyers' five counters.

Sam Tome netted two unassisted goals for the Packers and an assist while Joe LaFraniar also picked up two netted pucks. Of the 11 goals scored, five of them were unassisted.

Wild cats of Northern Michigan found no peace last weekend when the members of the Plymouth Fox club held their first wild cat hunt of the season near Atlanta.

The group, hunting with three dogs, stayed at Grover Prough's cabins at Atlanta. Last year's hunt bagged one wild cat, and chased two others for hours through 16 inches of snow. Members of this year's hunt include Estel Rowland, Howard Hearne, Casey Partridge, Don Lightfoot, Bob Burley, Bill Morgan, Fred Reed, Emmet Kincaid, Joe Elliott, Dr. B. E. Champe, Clyde Smith and Grover Prough.

Plymouth Team in Exhibition

Through the courtesy of Warden A. B. Gillies and the Detroit House of Correction Athletic Department, the Plymouth Recreation Men's Basketball league will play an exhibition game in the DeHoCo gym on Sunday, January 15 at 2 p.m.

The First National Bank team, present leader in the league, was selected to represent Plymouth and the Allen Pattern Works, leaders in a similar Pontiac league, will represent Pontiac.

A donation will be taken at the door and the entire proceeds will go to the March of Dimes to aid in the fight against infantile paralysis.

Eagles Win by Firemen Forfeit

In the first game at the Wayne County Training school, the Junior Firemen forfeited to the Eagles to give them their first victory of the year on Saturday, January 7.

In another encounter the W.C.T.S.' Falcons downed the Ramblers of Plymouth. Taylor captured the lead for the Falcons, scoring six points. Gary Hees took scoring honors for the losers with five points.

In the last game the W.C.T.S. Bulldogs romped over the young Buzzards 32-2. The Bulldogs marred their chance for a shut-out when one of their own players made a basket for the Buzzards. Young scored eight points for the Bulldogs while the two points that the Bulldog players made, were credited to the Buzzards captain, Wayne Smith. In their last game the Buzzards were swamped by the Optimists 56-1.

First National Triumphs Over Plymouth Mail

In an attempt to take sole possession of first place in the Men's Basketball league, First National Bank triumphed over the Plymouth Mail 48-39 last Monday evening at the DeHoCo gym.

With Fortner, Huebler and Perkins clicking for 16, 13 and 12 points respectively, First National was able to stay in first place with a record of six wins and two losses. An even game all the way First National outscored the Mail, 18-12 in the final quarter taking a needed victory.

The Plymouth Mail has been riding along in the cellar all season and last week they won their first game of the season after dropping six straight encounters. First National feared they might run their streak to two in a row.

Snow-Cold Can't Stop Golf Player

Here, where it's supposed to get cold with snow, for three or four months of the year, seldom is it that anyone has ever boasted of playing golf the year round. But someone is making that boast right now, and he did it... at least once every month during 1949, out at the Plymouth Country club.

He is none other than that avid pummeler of the little white pill, Harry Benjamin, well known Detroit broker who lives here in Plymouth.

Harry thought he was making some sort of a record a year ago, in January, when he was the first in 1949 to brave the freezing weather on the County club fairways. Again in February he played a round.

Then in March the weather turned for the warmer and he started making regular trips to the links. The next month he lost count of the number of holes played... but kept right at it until the fall.

His last visit to the fairways was during the final hours of 1949 when on Saturday afternoon, December 31, he and Vaughan R. Smith played nine holes. Smith says he didn't get started so early, or as well as Harry... but they both finished the season in fine form.

Dogs get affection because they give it, so let that be a lesson to you.

Redford U. Team Breaks Reserves Streak of Wins

The Redford Union reserve team stopped the winning streak of the Rock reserve team at three straight as they defeated the Rocks 41 to 29 Friday, January 6. The Panthers took an early lead and held a 10 to five advantage at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter the Rock reserve quintet battled on even terms with the Panthers, each scoring nine points. At the half, the score was Redford Union 19, Plymouth 14.

The third period the Rocks faltered and scored only five points, while the Panthers scored 11. At the end of the third period, Jerry Finnegan, diminutive Rock guard, was put out of the game with five fouls.

At the start of the final period the reserves were behind 19 to 30. Carl Pursell combined his accurate shooting with his ability to fake out his opponent and scored eight points in the last five minutes of play. The Rocks last minute rally fell considerably short as the final score read Redford Union 41, Plymouth 29.

Dave Travis and Carl Pursell were tied for high point honors with nine points apiece. Carl is leading the team with 43 points in six games and Dave is right behind with 40 points in six games.

The numbers 16, 20 and 25 have been called assassination numbers because they are the numbers of three American presidents: Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley.

Boxers Make Good Showing in Golden Gloves Bouts at Jackson

Two Plymouth gladiators of the Boys' Boxing club, had their first boxing match in a ring at the Jackson County building in Jackson, Michigan on January 5. Coming out on the short end of the decision, these boys made a fine showing of their ability in the art of self-defense.

The boys went to Jackson after a strict physical examination. They had their height, weight, heart, blood pressure, eyes, nose, and teeth checked. Each boy is now insured under compulsory policies set by AAU ruling.

Michigan has taken its first step to protect by insurance, the physical conditions of its amateur fighters. If organizations sponsor amateur shows without insurance, their show will not have AAU sanctioning. This insurance costs promoters $1.00 per boxer, appearing on an amateur card.

Protection will be for loss of life, limb, or sight, up to $1,000 and for all medical or surgical treatment, hospital care, nursing service, ambulance service, X-rays and other medical expenses up to $500.

The Golden Gloves' card had 12 bouts for the evening. Bill Runge, 16 years old, 135 pounds, of Plymouth met Dale Micheles, 17, 137 pounds, of Albion in the eighth bout of the evening.

This was a fast and furious bout. Bill landed hard rights and lefts to Dale's head to floor him for an eight count in the first round. Dale scored knock-downs in the second and third rounds over Billy for counts of seven and eight, respectively.

Billy was ahead on points until the last knock-down. This was by far the best bout of the evening, with the Albion boy receiving the decision.

In the ninth bout of the evening, 16 year old Don Beaver, 140 pounds, from Plymouth, met

Leo Zambrini, 18 year old, 147 pounder, from Jackson.

This was a good boxing match, with both boys displaying a wonderful defense and offense. Both boxers went to the canvas in the second round when Don rushed Leo with a furious attack and they clinched, losing balance and both going down. Leo had an edge with a left jab to the body, which earned him the decision.

Jim Herzel, 170 pounds, lightweight, will fight tonight, January 12, at Jackson, having drawn a bye the first night.

Michael M. Spitz, trainer of the Plymouth boys, was completely satisfied with the boys' showing. He stated: "My boys were in good condition in the bout and after starting they didn't feel the least tired or sore. This being their first bout, Plymouth can expect some good results from the effort of these two young gladiators in their future bouts in Plymouth."

The Boys' Boxing club lost the service of Dick Cramb, when he pulled a muscle below the kneecap and broke his nose while training for the Golden Gloves. This is another good fighter to keep an eye on.

The other boy that the boxing club lost through injury is rough and tough Tommy Rutherford, 13, 79½ pounds. This boy is of championship caliber. He is a beautiful boxer form. "It was a pleasure to train such a boy," says Spitz, "he learned fast and was a willing fighter. He soon ran out of competition even when fighting boys 10 or 15 pounds heavier than he."

A patrolman in Philadelphia who dropped a piece of paper while handing out a ticket for illegal parking to a constable, promptly got a summons from the constable for littering the streets.

Two Upsets in Men's League

Two upsets in the Men's Basketball league were the feature events of the games played at the DeHoCo gym during the past week.

The Plymouth Mail squad, who had not won a game all season, broke their six game losing streak by edging out Daisy Air Rifle 48-45 in a hotly contested tilt Tuesday, January 3.

Leading most all the way, the boys from the press had to outscore their opponents by six points in the final quarter to emerge victorious. Superb ball handling throughout the game along with Dick Farwell's and Terry Hitt's fine passing played a large factor in upsetting Daisy.

Scoring for both sides was evenly distributed as eight of the starting ten players netted eight or more points... The Mail jumped to a quick lead in the first few minutes and led 16-14 at the end of the initial period but were trailing at half-time, 23-22.

Another upset in the Men's loop found Atchinson-Chrysler taking an easy victory from the First National Bank 50-39 on Thursday, January 5, putting both teams in a deadlock for first place.

Atchinson-Chrysler racked up eight points before their opponents could sink a basket, although they had chances to even up the game.

Playing a very deceptive ball game Atchinson-Chrysler took a 12-2 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 25-17 lead at half-time. Clare Ebersole had almost complete charge of both backboards while rolling up 18 points for the evening. First National had quite a few shots at the basket but failed to score. This was their second straight defeat of the season, having lost previously to Tai's Cleaners.

The Detroit House of Correction swamped Tai's Cleaners, 40-28 on January 3 at the DeHoCo gym to move into second place in the Men's league.

DeHoCo led all the way in taking their fourth victory of the season, playing a fine game with a couple of new players added to their roster.

"The Scorer", Sammy Slough, played his natural brilliant game as he set up play after play and added 15 points to his total points for the season, giving him 113 counters in seven tilts.

Following are the league standings not including games of January 9 and after:

Bulldogs Lose to Ecneics by Slight Margin

Playing overtimes, the Ecneics defeated the Bulldogs at the Wayne County Training school gym Thursday, January 5 in an exceedingly close game, 25-23.

The Bulldogs led all the way to the last quarter when the game was tied up. A foul shot in each of the overtimes proved the winning margin. Don Helm, netted the final point with 15 seconds left in the overtime.

Goulds Cleaners, finally getting on the ball, after two forfeits, trounced the Rock Crushers 29-9 in an easy victory.

The winners literally sent their opponents to the cleaners as they easily won their first victory of the season. Bill Batterton played a fine game for Goulds as he set up the plays and Cal Becker, with 12 points was steadily up on the backboards.

The Red Birds took over undisputed possession of first place as they narrowly emerged victorious over the Panthers, 17-15.

The scoring on both sides was distributed among the players as no one from the Panthers scored more than four points while Cook, netted seven for the Red Birds.

Following is the league standings

W.C.T.S. Red Birds	3	0
Panthers	2	1
Ecneics	2	1
Bulldogs	1	2

Chess Club Needs More Players

In an effort to reorganize the Plymouth Chess club, a meeting has been arranged for this week at the home of Henry Baker on Sheridan avenue.

Because several of the top players of the Chess club have moved away, the club has not been meeting but it is hoped that they will be able to get together again to play some matches this winter.

With only seven members in the club, it has been too difficult to plan matches with other teams as almost 10 players are needed. Six must be fairly expert players.

The Plymouth Chess club had a good season last year, winning every match, and it is presumed that with this year's players and a few more added to the club that they could equal the mark once again. If you are a fairly good chess player, you should contact either Joe Haefner, president of the club; or Herb Woolweaver, recreation director.

Shorts in Sports

by Al Larson

The fabulous Eddie LeBaron of College of Pacific showed the boys from the big colleges and universities that you do not have to be large of stature or go to a well publicized school to play a good game of football, when he was named the star player of the East-West game.

In the East-West Shrine charity grid contest, LeBaron was the main sparkplug of the West team even though they did lose out to a stronger East squad.

A superb play by LeBaron gave the West a one-touchdown lead in the second period, when on the six he slipped a clever handoff to Don Paul, who raced around left end untouched.

The brilliant passing of little Eddie was a big threat to the East All-Stars but not enough to win a ball game against the roughians.

LeBaron started playing varsity football for the College of Pacific when he was only 16 years of age and still not a whicker on his face. He had been turned down by the larger institutes because he was too small.

Eddie has been regarded by many as one of the best T-quarterbacks in the business, which includes quite an array. Only 5 feet 7 inches tall, and tipping the scales at a little over 155, LeBaron got his first chance in a game against Northwestern university three years ago when he pulled the play of the week which netted a touchdown for his team and a great word of appraisal from the Wildcat coach. He also rifled a beautiful pass for another touchdown but his squad lost.

In a game against Montana State two seasons ago, it has been told that little Eddie booted the pigskin 89 yards, longer than any of Glenn Dobbs', the pro paragon, kicks. LeBaron is so deceptive that the referees have to be tipped off to the play in advance so as not to call the play on the man without the ball.

Edward Wayne LeBaron, Jr., is the only gridiron lad to make Little All-American three years in a row, and he has also been termed as the All-Coast quarterback by the united Press.

Eddie was also the youngest college football player, hitting the headlines at 16.

This season, LeBaron's last, he probably has had many pro offers as any college star in the country, including Doak Walker and Leon Hart.

The moral or climax of the story is to prove that you do not have to be big and husky to play the game of football but to just have the guts and will power to play the game and play it as rough as your know/how regardless of your size and strength.

The thing to make a gridiron star like Eddie LeBaron is to concentrate on playing the game with all your might and never to get discouraged. Turned down by larger colleges because he was too small, Eddie went out to prove that he was not too little to play the game, and that he could become a star when given a chance.

Hats off to the one and only Eddie LeBaron, who will remain in my mind as one of the greats of football, but not because he could take out two or three men on each play, but because he wanted to play the game and he did with excellent performance.

No Toothaches For Plymouth Grade School Kiddies

Pretty Dental Hygienist June Singley is one of the newer additions to Plymouth's efficient public school system. Under the new dental program all grade school children will visit her office regularly for check-ups and application of sodium fluoride if parents desire. Pictured here in her new office at Starkweather school are Judy Nester and David Hawk watching Catherine Hoban have a routine inspection. The program is keyed not only to promoting proper care of the teeth but is also excellent for educational purposes in teaching small children to feel at home in the offices of their own busy dentists.

New Northville Hospital May be Enlarged at Once

Exceptionally good progress is being made on the construction of the new Northville State hospital located just west of Hagerty highway between Six and Seven Mile roads.

The power plant is entirely completed, the water system has been installed and work on the main building is underway.

As members of the legislature predicted at the time the effort was first being made to secure the original appropriation for this new hospital for the metropolitan area of Michigan, there soon would be need for a considerable expansion in the size of the institution.

That need has come even before the first units of the new institution have been completed.

Already reports from Lansing indicate that this expansion program is under consideration in order to take care of the mentally ill of Detroit who should have been committed months and years ago. It is pointed out that this expansion would be by far the most economical method to follow.

A. N. Langius, building division director, said he would confer with architects on the feasibility of erecting large, one-story, custodial-type ward buildings on the hospital grounds.

"We need beds in a hurry, particularly if the Sault Ste. Marie hospital is to be turned back to the Army in October," he said.

"The clinical hospital being built at Northville, at a cost of $6,500,000 to $7,500,000, will provide 640 beds. We could get 400 more beds for $1,500,000 by building the low-cost, single-story structures, and it wouldn't take long. The clinical hospital building would provide the various services."

First units of the hospital are scheduled to be completed April 1, 1951, and the additional buildings could be ready by that time if the Legislature made the money available at the special session early next year.

"That seems to me to be the best place to get 400 beds in the cheapest and quickest way," Langius said. "In addition, we would get the facilities in the metropolitan area, where they are most needed."

The Southeastern Michigan

area, including Detroit, has only 172 mental beds for every 100,000 population. By contrast, Southwestern Michigan has 290, the northern part of the Lower Peninsula 314 and the Upper Peninsula 497.

"Expanding Northville would certainly help relieve the burden," Langius declared. "We have the power plant, water and the ground. I think it would be cheaper for the State to do that than to buy some place else and remodel buildings for mental patients."

Scientists at a U. N. Conference on Conservation and Utilization of Resources at Lake Success got the disconcerting news: Women's plunging necklines and backless gowns are producing a drop in the world's supply of gas, coal and oil reserves, since more fuel is being used to keep milady fashionable but unfrozen.

Price on Eggs Invites More Usage by Local Homemakers

Price tags on eggs in Plymouth markets during these last weeks make women feel like singing "It might as well be spring". Instead of having to figure carefully in order to buy the minimum of three a week for each member of the family as is usual at this time of the year we can boost the number to five a week or even one a day. Here's a grand opportunity to treat the family to angel food cake, baked custard or custard pie made with the egg yolks left from the cake, Hollandaise sauce on broccoli or cauliflower and airy meringues in one guise or another. Of course eggs as main dishes shouldn't be overlooked either. You'll want to include them in breakfast often. They're one of the best means of getting in a generous amount of protein food which nutrition experts have found essential to every good breakfast that keeps people working efficiently and feeling vigorous.

Stick to the simpler methods of preparation for this meal, but dress them up for luncheon or dinner. It won't be long until Lent when you'll be looking for ideas for meatless meals. Eggs are tops for these occasions.

When eggs are prepared carefully—that is with low heat and only until they are set, not toughened—they are delicious and appeal to most people. But they are on the dainty side for hearty eaters. For this reason, smart meal planners are sure to supplement them with "filling" foods. It's always wise to include something starchy and something rather bulky and chewy such as a big salad, as well as piquantly flavored food. All of these things help to make a meal planned around eggs more satisfying to the appetite.

The Food and Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross says that these same foods which make eggs taste better also supply materials in which they are lacking. Eggs are tops for tissue and blood building protein and supply iron, calcium and some other important body building minerals. They also contain most of the necessary vitamins except C and some of the B family.

When eggs are served in plain or fancy dress, they're superlative protective foods. Here are a few recipes to add to your collection.

EGGS AND MUSHROOMS HOLLANDAISE

6 English muffins or 12 round of bread
butter or fortified margarine
6 slices boiled ham
1 pound mushroom caps
12 eggs

1½ cups Hollandaise sauce
Split muffins in halves cross-wise or cut 3-inch rounds of bread. Toast and butter lightly. Cook ham and mushroom in small amount of butter or margarine until tender. Poach eggs. Have all ingredients hot.

Arrange hot muffins or toast rounds on hot plates. Top each with slice of ham, then egg and surround with mushroom caps. Pour hot Hollandaise on top. Serve at once. Serves 6.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

¾ cup butter or fortified margarine or half of each
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
3 egg yolks
dash of salt and cayenne pepper

Divide table fat into three portions. Put one piece in top of small double boiler, add well-beaten egg yolks and lemon juice and place over hot (not boiling) water. Beat constantly with wire whisk or egg beater. When fat has melted add second piece and as mixture thickens add the third piece, beating all the time and keeping the water just below the boiling point. Remove from water at once and add seasonings. Serve at once. Makes about 1 cup sauce.

BAKED EGGS ON TOMATO RICE

1 cup rice
2½ cups cooked or canned tomatoes (No. 2 can)
1 small onion, sliced
¾ teaspoon salt
½ bay leaf
2 whole cloves
2 tablespoons melted table fat
2 tablespoons flour
6 eggs
4 tablespoons grated cheese
½ cup buttered bread crumbs

Cook rice until tender. Drain. Simmer tomatoes with onion, bay leaf and cloves for 10 minutes. Strain. Melt fat, add flour and when blended stir in hot tomatoes. Cook until boiling, stirring constantly. Season with salt. Place rice in layer in greased baking dish and make six depressions in it. Put egg in each. Pour tomato sauce over eggs. Sprinkle with cheese then top with bread crumbs. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees for about 15 minutes or until eggs are set. Makes 6 servings.

MERINGUE TART

3 egg whites
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 cup sifted granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vinegar
1 teaspoon water
1 teaspoon vanilla
blanched almonds (optional)
Combine liquids. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff foam then beat in sugar a tablespoonful at a time alternately with a few drops of the liquid mixture. Continue beating until mixture is very stiff and fine in texture.

Butter large plate on which tart is to be served, lightly. Spread meringue on plate forming a thick edge like a pie shell. Stud edges of tart with blanched almonds which have been split in halves. Bake in very slow oven 275 degrees F. for about 1½ hours or until baked through and a very light golden brown. Remove from oven and cool.

Serve the meringue tart filled with ice cream and crushed sweetened fruit, with orange ice topped with skinned segments of orange, or with any sweetened fruit. Makes 6 servings.

Buying Buttons?

Here's a tip for you Plymouth women who have a talent for making your own clothes, but find it difficult to choose suitable buttons for trimming. When buying buttons, be sure to get the right shape for your style, and the right composition for your fabric.

Wood and leather buttons are best with tweeds and heavy knitwear, plastic and ocean pearl usually look best with cottons, and the jeweled, jet, crystal and other more elegant buttons are correct for silks, satins and other dressy fabrics. It is also wise to buy buttons labeled "washable" when they're for a washable dress.

Meat Storage Tip

Be sure to unwrap fresh raw meat and poultry before you store them in the refrigerator. Spoilage is delayed by allowing the surface of the meat to come in contact with air. The slight drying out appears to curb the growth of bacteria.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

NOVEL PORK PINWHEELS

Ground cooked pork temptingly fills these flaky biscuit pinwheels. The pork, moistened with gravy, is spread over thin biscuit dough, then rolled up jelly roll fashion and baked. Each slice is delightfully served with thick cream gravy, or perhaps creamed peas or other vegetable.

City Is Healthy Says Dr. Brisbois

A few scattered cases of scarlet fever and measles were reported last week by Dr. Harold J. Brisbois, Plymouth health officer. There is no danger at the present time of an epidemic. Parents are warned to check their children's condition if any likely symptoms of the contagious diseases occur. In order to prevent the spreading of infection all are urged to observe quarantine regulations.

Children Need Sunshine Vitamin

In the few months of summer sunshine, Plymouth children become brown and sturdy but then come these dark winter months and the "sunshine vitamin" disappears.

Because the sunshine vitamin, or vitamin D, is necessary for bone growth, it is important that children be given another source of the vitamin. Since the minerals, in milk important to bone growth are used more effectively with vitamin D present, it has been added to milk to the extent of 400 international units per quart. This is enough for the majority of children and is the most convenient way for parents to make certain their children secure enough.

Rural children, drinking milk which has not been fortified with vitamin D, may need to have some drug store source until they can again play long hours in the sunshine.

There are various forms of vitamin D available in drug stores. It is not necessary to purchase an expensive form but to choose one which the child will accept. It should provide about 400 international units per day. This is the one known vitamin not supplied in adequate amounts by natural foods commonly eaten. Thus during the winter months the use of vitamin D milk or a drug store source is necessary.

Roll Mix Gives Right Touch

Plymouth homemakers needn't go to fuss and expense to add a gourmet's touch to everyday meals. With a package of hot-roll mix on the kitchen shelf, any variety of home-made rolls can be made through the week. Try these recipes for orange-glazed rolls and walnut buns.

ORANGE-GLAZED ROLLS

1 package hot-roll mix
1 cup granulated sugar
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
¼ cup orange juice
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Prepare dough and let rise as label directs. Meanwhile, mix together sugar, orange rind, juice and nutmeg. Shape dough into balls about three-quarters of an inch in diameter (about 45); dip into orange mixture with fork so entire surface is coated. Place three balls in each 2½ inch greased muffin pan. Cover; let rise until double. Bake in 400 degrees F. oven (moderately hot) 15 to 20 minutes. Remove rolls from pans immediately; cool, orange side up. Makes about 15 rolls.

WALNUT BUNS

1 package hot-roll mix
1/3 cup chopped walnuts
3 tablespoons brown sugar
½ cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
4 teaspoons lemon juice

Prepare dough, and let rise as label directs. Turn out dough on lightly floured board. Knead in nuts and brown sugar. Shape into 16 balls; grease each with melted fat; place, side by side, in greased 9-inch square pan. Let rise until double. Bake in 400 degree F. oven (moderately hot) 15 to 20 minutes. Meanwhile, combine confectioners' sugar, lemon rind and juice. Remove buns from pans onto wire rack; brush with lemon icing. Makes 16 buns.

What is good management in a forest in one part of the United States may be impractical elsewhere. Aim of the forest service is for sustained yield and a continuing supply from each forest area.

One wouldn't mind having a million dollars except that it might make him conspicuous.

Farmers Wives' Program Ready

Special home economics programs have been planned for three days of the annual Farmers' Week event at Michigan State college. They are scheduled for January 31, February 1 and 2. Dean Marie Bye announces. Several Plymouth farmers and their wives are planning on attending the college event.

Popular annual event for the visitors is the style show which will be staged in the college auditorium. Over-flow crowds in the past have made it necessary to hold the event in the larger location. Costumes will be modeled by the home economics students who made them.

Program features will include something for homemakers of all age groups and interests. Mrs. Leona MacLeod of the MSC staff will give a demonstration lecture on selecting clothes for the well-dressed look after forty. Another topic is, "A New Interest in Older People."

For mothers of young children and teen agers there will be two talks of particular interest. One is concerned with juvenile delinquency and the attitudes of youth toward school, authority and religion and other subjects. Children's dental health will be the subject of Dr. Guttorum Torverud of Oslo, Norway, who made a study of the effects of diet on children's teeth during the war. He will show pictures to illustrate his talk.

Many of Michigan's homemakers are interested in foods and nutrition research that is being done for them on the campus. This will be discussed at one of the sessions.

Mrs. Rajammal Devadas of India will come to the campus to discuss family life in her native country to which she will return after finishing advanced foods study in the U. S. She has been here several years and is able to contrast life in the two countries.

Ladies Night is Well Attended For Optimists

Nearly 50 Optimists and their wives were entertained by Karrell Fox, the King of Corn, at their Ladies Night program Monday, January 9, at Our Lady of Good Counsel church hall.

Fox, who has a television show on WWJ, presented one of the most entertaining programs the Optimist club has ever witnessed. Fox's program is more for laughs than straight music, for he feels that he would rather see people laugh than to mystify them. He does a take-off on other magicians as well as employing straight magic.

The magician is considered one of the finest in Detroit as well as the rest of the country. He carries his talents all over the country entertaining clubs and meetings. He also writes gags and material for other magicians.

Preceding the entertainment of the evening the couples were served dinner and a business meeting was held. The club discussed the dance, which they are sponsoring that is to be held this Saturday night at the Presbyter-ian church.

Earl Fluelling Spends Much Time Studying Farmer Land Problems

Earl Fluelling, who not so long ago moved to the country and started farming as a sideline to his gas and oil business, declares that he is being flooded with mail from the government about crop controls, subsidies and all the other things that go to make votes at election time.

But he has been asking a lot of questions, especially since some of the bureaucrats wanted to tell him how much wheat he should plant.

Like a lot of other farmers and city folks, he is asking what is to be done with upward of 21,000,000 acres of idle farm land in 1950.

This question is also worrying government farm officials and the owners of the land. This acreage represents the amount of land which the Agriculture Department has asked, or will ask, farmers to take out of the production of cash crops.

The answer affects not only farmers but city workers, consumers, and taxpayers generally.

The department says crop production on this land—about seven per cent of the total acreage harvested in recent years—is no longer needed. During and since the war this land produced to meet shortage needs abroad, but overseas markets falling off as production recovers in war-affected areas.

Crops for which smaller 1950 acreages are planned include wheat, corn, rice, cotton and potatoes.

Under its crop control and price support program the government has the means to get smaller acreage of these crops. In the case of cotton, there probably will be rigid marketing quotas, with stiff penalties on farmers who overplant and oversell. In the case of the other crops, price supports can be denied those who do not make their proportionate cut in plantings.

But what is to keep the corn farmers, for example, from planting oats, rye, barley, soybeans or other crops on the land taken out of corn?

Or, what's to keep the cotton farmer from planting similar crops, including corn, on land diverted from cotton? Little, if anything, officials say.

In other words, it would be possible to take land out of corn to prevent surplus in that crop, only to see it used to produce a surplus of other crops. Thus little would be gained in the government's battle against farm surpluses.

Whatever is done with these extra acres will influence city folks. If 20,000,000 or more acres are taken out of production fewer people would be needed to operate farms. That could mean increased migration of farm folks to the city to compete for jobs there.

Also, it could mean further reduction in farm income—with accompanying reduction in rural demand for city goods and services. Or, if the land is diverted to production of surpluses in other crops, the taxpayer must carry the burden of government price supports.

The government would like to have this extra land put into grass and pasture for greater livestock production. But it takes time to get income from land changed from cash crops to livestock, and many farmers are unable to wait. Too, the investment in livestock farming is greater than in crop farming.

Furthermore, the long-range outlook for livestock prices is uncertain, despite the fact that government nutritionists say consumers need more livestock products.

Public Library Uses New Method

A new method of charging library books to borrowers has been installed at the Plymouth branch of the Wayne County library, Ada S. Murray, Plymouth librarian, announced today. Under the new system, the patron will assist in the checking out of the borrowed books. The plan goes into effect tomorrow.

"We are pioneering in the application of new business methods to the library clerical process so that the people may have more efficient and better library service without increased cost," stated Miss Murray. Twelve other libraries in the Wayne County system already have initiated the new methods and they have proved very successful.

It costs only $7.25 per ton to harvest sugar beets by machine as opposed to $8.35 by hand, on the basis of an 8.5 ton-yield.

Plymouth High School News

Hi-Y Boys Attend State Legislature

On December 9 and 10, five Hi-Y boys from Plymouth High joined some 300 or more other Hi-Y boys in attending a two day session of the state legislature. During this time the entire legislature, which includes the house of representatives and the senate, was taken over by the students. The five boys who represented Plymouth High and took part in these activities were Melvin Schultz, Don Sutherland, Ed Batten, Don Helm and Paul Harding.

The first day was spent in organizing the house and the senate during which time bills were considered. The boys had several adult members of the regular legislature acting as advisers to them in their committee work, their drafting of bills, and other parliamentary procedures. Melvin Schultz and Don Helm acted as senators while Paul Harding and Ed Batten assisted Don Sutherland who was appointed sergeant-at-arms in the house. After everyone had received a position, the boys drew up a few bills and considered them in committees.

One of the bills that was passed dealt with the stricter examination of hunters applying for their hunting licenses. Friday evening the boys attended a banquet with Governor Williams as the main speaker. Saturday afternoon the Governor addressed a joint session of the house and the senate. After these two day sessions, observers commented that the boys displayed a much better understanding of the social and political means of the state than many of us give them credit for. Another comment was: "Hi-Y boys showed skill in debate. They did not act on a bill until it had been discussed both pro and con."

Government Classes Visit The City Hall

Two government classes, taught by Miss Gertrude Fiegel and James Latture, went to the city hall on Wednesday, January 5.

This trip came in connection with the study of city government. Albert Glassford city manager, showed the classes through the city hall and explained the city government to them. They visited the clerk's office, city manager's office, water department, police department, fire department, jail, recreation office, and the committee room. He explained how water bills were made out and how all city records were kept neat and safe. The trip lasted during the first class period in the morning.

Schedule Cards Issued Students

Once again it is time to re-enroll for the second semester of the school year. Students have been issued schedule cards and have been instructed as to the organization of them. They are requested to take their new schedules home and have their parents look them over and sign them. If a student's schedule does not meet with his parents' approval, a consultation with the guidance directors can be arranged.

International Relations is being offered to the students this semester and is being taught by Miss Gertrude Fiegel.

Freshmen Begin Y-Teen Club

Because most clubs which girls can join at Plymouth High are open to only senior high students, a group of freshmen girls have organized a new Y-Teen group for freshmen girls only, with Miss Ruth Butts as adviser.

The first meeting was held on December 14 during which time a publicity committee and a program committee were chosen. At their last meeting January 4, Miss Marie Post, art consultant of the grade schools, talked to the girls about art. Her topics included interior decorating, stage craft, and a short resume of a child's development in art from the kindergarten stage on up. A pot luck supper was then planned for January 18 to take place at Miss Butts' apartment.

This new group has been recognized by the student council and any freshmen girl wishing to join is very welcome to do so.

School Board Paid $24500 For Smith Property on Main Street

Apparently due to the fact that the information was not made public at the time of the purchase, there have been many reports about the city pertaining to the price paid by the school board for the Al J. Smith property at 143 North Main street.

Some reports had it that the purchase price was $35,000. Other reports were that it was as high as $40,000. The school board paid $24,500 for the property, according to Dr. Ace Williams, treasurer of the school board. The school officials hope to reclaim from $1,500 to $2,000 out of the sale of the house and two barns located on the property, which adjoins the present school site. It is believed that this amount will be nearer the $2,000 mark than the $1,500 figure.

The lot has a frontage on Main street of 110 feet and extends back nearly 250 feet. Its location directly north of the Lynch property which was purchased a number of years ago, gives the school district sufficient expansion room for the badly needed school structure the officials hope to build as quickly as possible. The old Lynch residence is being used for school purposes, but the board does not contemplate using the Smith residence for school work. It has only been through absolute necessity that the Lynch residence has been used for school purposes. While the board has not set a date for construction work to begin on the new school building along Main street, it hopes to have the building under way as soon as possible.

Rock Basketball Team Plays Wayne Five Here Friday Night

Looking for their third straight victory of the season, the Plymouth Rocks play host to the Wayne Zebras tomorrow night, Friday, in the Plymouth High school gym.

To date the Rocks have a record of two wins and four losses, having won their last two games, beating Northville and Redford Union. At least Plymouth will equal last year's cage mark, having already won as many as last season's quintet.

Using a team including Dwight Eckler, Keith Ebersole, Dick Fenton, "Bud" Young and Jerry

Walsh, the Rocks upset an undefeated Northville five, 45-43, and last week the blue and white conquered Redford Union in an exciting game, 46-41.

Plymouth to date has totaled 201 points in six games for an average of 34 per game, while opponents have 233 counters for an average of 39 per tilt. Dwight Eckler is leading the Rock scorers with 55 points in five games and Keith Ebersole is close behind with 51 counters in six contests. Capt. Dick Fenton rounds out the trio of high point men with 47 in half a dozen games.

Debaters Meet Pershing Team

Plymouth debaters will meet Pershing High school tomorrow, Friday, to decide the champions in the Detroit Metropolitan League. The local debaters must take at least one of the two contests to take the championship. The Rock orators now hold an eight win and no loss record in the State Debating league and a six and zero record in the Detroit league.

In the last two months the Plymouth debating teams have held contests with Roseville High school, Hazel Park High school, Highland Park High school, Birmingham High school, Ann Arbor High school, Jackson High school, Lansing Sexton High school, and a practice debate with Lansing Eastern High school.

Debating for the Plymouth team this year is Ronald Witt, Roger Kidston, Larry Mack and Gladys Witt, returning from last year; and Jon Brake and Louis Vargha, first year debaters.

Veterans' Tax Exemption Is Elaborated On

The general property tax exemption for Plymouth veterans and servicemen is subject to recent changes in statutory provisions.

The exemption applies only to homesteads and only to the first $2,000 of assessed valuation of the property. If the homestead is valued at over $2,000 on the tax roll, the property owner must pay taxes on that part of the assessment in excess of $2,000.

Owners of taxable property of greater value than $7,500 cannot receive the exemption.

Those entitled to the exemption are honorably discharged veterans of early wars, disabled veterans of World Wars I and II who receive compensation, and and servicemen during the period of such service and for one year thereafter. Servicemen who are now entering the armed forces and widows of veterans who have not remarried are also entitled to the exemption.

No one will be allowed more than one homestead exemption in the state under the provisions of the veterans' exemption law. Anyone wishing to obtain any exemption must file each year with the assessor an affidavit showing that he or she possesses the statutory qualifications for such exemption.

Roger Babson Says...

Babson Discusses Employment Outlook

The employment outlook for the next six months is good. There will be near peak employment (jobs for 58,000,000) at high level wages, except for seasonal fluctuations.

Facts and Figures

Economic activity in the next few months will be some 80 per cent above prewar levels. This means jobs. Depleted coal and steel stocks will be built up. Good employment effects will be felt all along the line by industries using steel. Rehousing will be especially active in machinery and fabricated materials industries, with the automobile industry leading. Construction along home and industrial lines will hold up through the early part of 1950. Both the petroleum and rubber industries will recover somewhat from their respective slumps.

Other factors suggesting good employment are continued government spending, the expansion of credit and business loans, the continued stockpiling of people's savings ($127 billions in government bonds and bank accounts), a price support program for agriculture, etc., and a continued demand for food products. All this is not symptomatic of another boom. Rather, it is the rebound from the '49 recession caused by the too drastic liquidation of inventories on the part of panicky businessmen.

The Downward Trend

We must, however, face the fact that we are in a downward cyclical trend. 1948 was the top year in terms of production, wages, profits, and employment. Employment rose phenomenally from 52,800,000 in 1945 to 55,250,000 in 1946; and from 58,000,000 in 1947 to 59,378,000 in 1948. On the other hand, unemployment increased from 1,040,000 in 1945 to an average of 3,189,000 for the first half of 1949. Most economists believe three to four million is normal for a labor force of better than 60,000,000.

The net effect of recent strike settlements is to add substantially to companies' long-term overhead costs, thus reducing the financial margin to lower prices appreciably and thereby stimulate employment. This is one of the reasons why you will see competition stiffen sharply within many industries in the next few months. This is also why industrial production is likely to taper off in the second half of 1950 with resulting unemployment unless greater attention is given to sales.

Best Employment Opportunities

Best job opportunities for 1950 will be in the distribution field. Even with business off in 1949, the annual rate of savings in the first six months of '49 was $16.6 billion as compared with $8.8 billion in the corresponding period of 1948. The problem is how to coax these dollars forth. I predict that during 1950 companies will add greatly to advertising and sales budgets. They will build up their market research staffs; they will develop stronger sales promotional techniques. They will hire more efficient salesmen.

Another excellent area, especially for the college trained man, will be in the human relations areas of production. A potent factor in bringing business into a more favorable competitive position is the more effective utilization of human resources for the common good of both labor and management. A third area young men should consider is work within the federal government. In the past 20 years government agencies have increased from 250 to nearly 2,000 today, with corresponding increase in available jobs.

Spiritual Rebirth Needed

We can never have continued good times in this country until both labor and management are spiritually reborn. Each group must stop talking about its prerogatives but put into practice constructive ways of working together for their common security. This is the only way we shall escape national socialism. This is the only way we shall be able to maintain our free economy and thereby insure freedom for all.

One of the chief causes of traffic accidents is following the car ahead too closely. The rule of one car length for every 10 miles of speed is good except when streets are wet or icy.

Local Motorcycle Club Seeks Plymouth Members...

Plymouth motorcycle enthusiasts are invited to participate in the Midwinter Trials sponsored by the Thunderbirds Motorcycle Club of Detroit. The contest is to be held Sunday, January 15, and the test consists of a 60 mile reliability trial. Trophies will be awarded the winners. The run starts at Farmington and Schoolcraft Roads, the first man leaving at 10:31 a.m. It will end at the Thunderbirds' club house at 12335 Stark Road. Jack Syme, president of the club, says the trials have the sanction of the national motorcycle organization. There will be a one dollar entry fee. An ice race is planned by the club late in February on Newburg Lake. Pictured lower left are president and Mrs. Syme who are the only club members in this area.

Off-Street Parking Proves Big Aid to Progressive Mid-West City

While Plymouth is still thinking about its automobile parking problem, other cities are doing something about it, a check of newspaper reports indicate. But out of the thinking, some action should come sooner or later.

No one blames the city commission. In fact no one blames anybody. It's just one of those things. A former planning commission approved of a plan which would make available some 300 parking spaces just a few steps from the heart of the city. Something may sometime be done about this project.

But out in Kansas City, Kansas, the city has really done something about its parking problem. From a recent issue of The Christian Science Monitor was taken the following article, which explains how that city solved its parking situation:

While most cities over the nation struggle with jammed traffic and overcrowded parking areas, Kansas City, Kansas, a municipality of some 150,000 persons, is handling the crowds with comparative ease. This city lies almost directly across the river from its bigger sister by the same name, Kansas City, Missouri.

That condition is the result of another step forward in a continuing program to provide free off-the-street parking in the downtown area. This fall three new paved, city-owned lots were opened. With six previously provided, they will accommodate more than 1,000 cars, parked at the very doors of business houses on the main street, Minnesota Avenue.

That they are parked at the back doors is a fact responsible for some changes in merchandising. The back entrances of the stores have been brightened up, and flanked with show windows. One new office structure, the 10-story Brotherhood Building, was designed with as attractive a facade toward the parking lot at the rear, as toward the street in front.

Even businesses that have not provided new entrances at the rear have cleaned up the refuse that normally accumulates in alleyways. City officials are delighted at this added dividend to the parking-lot project, with its contribution to fire and health protection.

The lots, it should be explained, are placed in the interiors of blocks facing on Minnesota Avenue. They are entered, usually, from the streets which parallel Minnesota on either side. In most cases they are surrounded by businesses on three sides, with the fourth side open toward the residential district.

Businessmen have been delighted with the response to the parking-lot program. While 80 per cent of the cost is assessed directly to them, and only 20 per cent to the city as a whole, they agree it is well worth while. They face a special competitive situation, with the much larger downtown district of Kansas City, Mo. only about two miles away, most of that distance over an elevated expressway. The parking lots, they believe, help to keep shoppers on the Kansas side of the Kaw River.

The program has improved the traffic flow on Minnesota Avenue by enabling the city to prohibit angle parking. With the new space for cars at the rear, parallel parking provides enough room at the curb. And the curb spaces, which have parking meters, are left for persons who want to transact their business or make quick purchases and go on.

Firemen Beat Optimists, 34-12

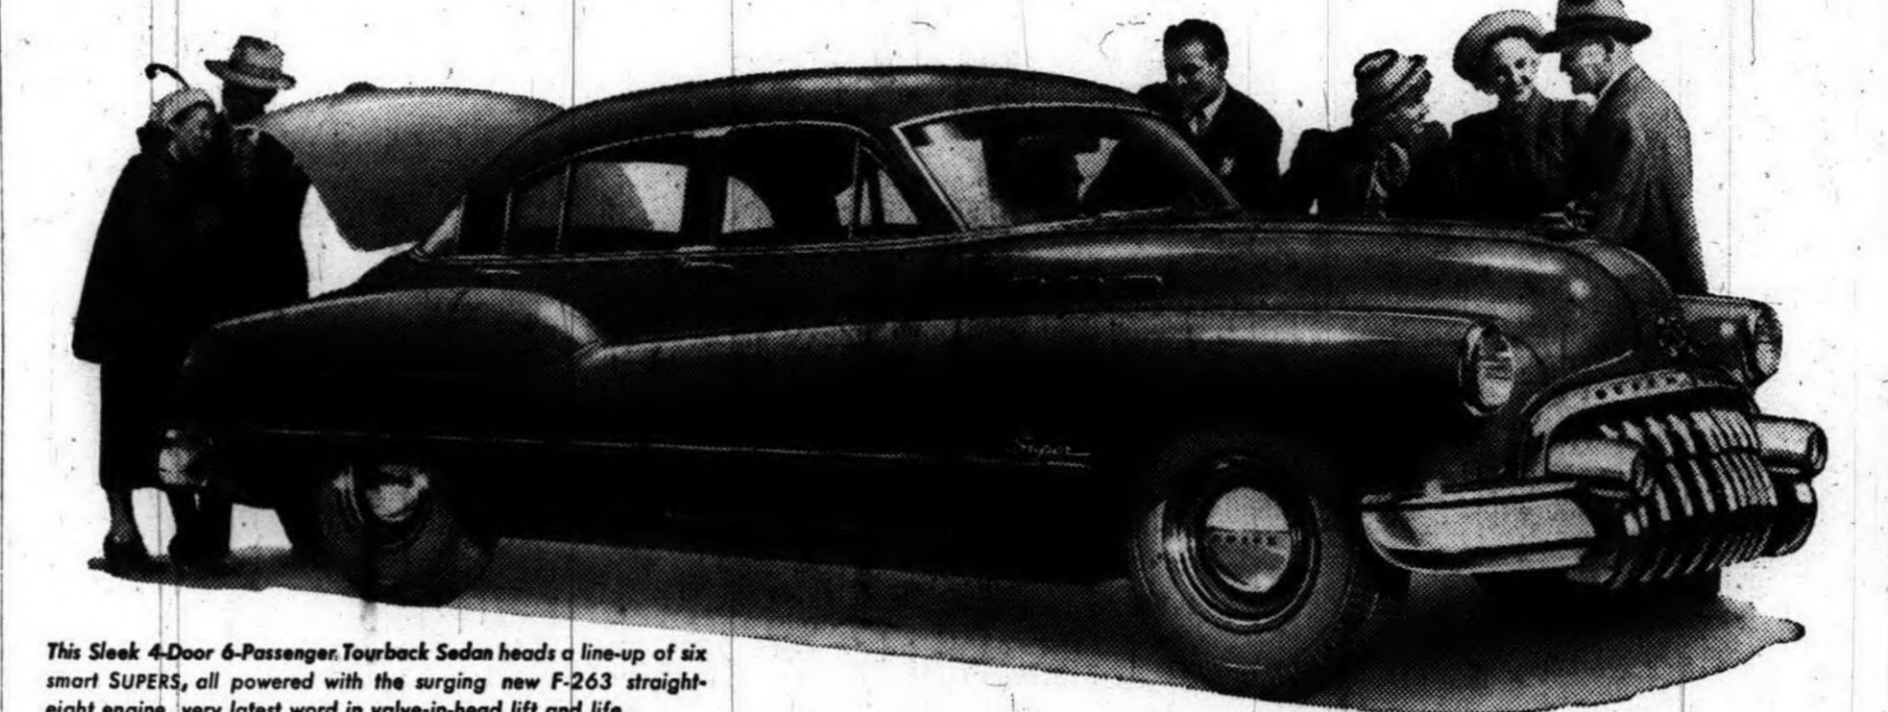

The Firemen put on a scoring spree to stay on top, downing the Optimists in Class F, 34-12 on Saturday, January 7 in the high school gym.

High scorer for the Firemen was big, husky Joe Signarelli, who tallied 15 points. The Firemen are alone in first in the Class F league.

The Wolverines upset the Great Americans with sensational ball handling and passing, to win with a score of 28-19. Cowan scored 10 points for the victors while Caplin netted eight for the defeated.

In the only Class E cage tilt at the high school, the Optimists trounced the Professors with an astounding score of 39-7. Jerry Courey led the winners with 17 points.

"FASHIONED for every taste— Priced for every BUDGET"

Look over the 1950 Buick line, which these two high-fashioned honeys represent, and decide for yourself if that's truth or just talk.

Nineteen—Yes, 19—smart new and varied models to choose from, and all with the eye-catching styling of bold-lined bumper-guard grilles, sleek tapering fenders, the over-all look of a jet plane in flight.

Three full series—SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER—with SPECIAL models available in both standard or de luxe finish.

Three separate power plants—all more powerful, higher in compression, all Fireball valve-in-heads—and one of them, the sensational new F-263, giving SUPER models extra brilliance on the road.

Four wheelbases—all planned for riding comfort—with overhang reduced to make parking and garaging easier. Roominess galore, with rear seats as much as 13 inches wider.

Plenty of outlook as well. And the abiding comfort of coil springs on all four wheels. And the steady going of torque-tube drive—plus Safety-Ride rims for comfort plus control.

Then look at prices—do they really fit any budget?

They range from the fine-car level of the ROADMASTER down to just above the lowest figures on the SPECIAL. But even these are so little above anything else—buy you so many more years of happy use—and give you a car of such consistently-better trade-in value—that you'll find Buick reachable by buyers in any price range.

So why not get the whole story, price and all, from your Buick dealer now? Deliveries are good, the "deal" is right, and a signed-up order steps you up to that Buick you've always dreamed about!
