WHY DON'T THEY SAY SO?

Frequently we have expressed our chagrin and disappointment because of the attitude of the Republican party on some of the vital issues of the day. We do not blame the Republican party as a whole, we blame its official leadership and those who have some part in framing the general policies of the party.

Rarely a day goes by but what some revelation is made of some traitorous New Dealer or Fair Dealer or what have you, being caught in a deal to sell our country down river—to give every aid possible to our most dangerous enemy.

Have you stopped to realize that all of the Hiss mob, all of the war grafters, all of the Communists now being exposed, have been high up in the ranks of the New Deal or Fair Deal—and that NOT ONE of their kind has ever been uncovered in the Republican ranks?

But why doesn't the Republican "high command" go out and tell the country the facts? Why doesn't it say that its ranks are made up of LOYAL AMERICANS, the kind of citizens who have not and will not betray their country in times of danger?

Oh yes, the Roosevelts and the Trumans made much of the Tea Pot Dome scandal, back some quarter of a century ago, but that was a mere drop in the bucket as compared to what has taken place under the New Deal.

And to the credit of the Republicans, they punished the guilty. But that was not a case of treasonable conduct. It was simply a case of personal dishonesty—and the lives of all of the men, women and children of our nation were not jeopardized by what happened.

But what Hiss did, what all of the treacherous New Dealer Left Wingers who fill government jobs have been doing DOES involve the safety and welfare of EVERY person in this country.

Think of such a situation—think of our known enemy being able to get military secrets that even many of our own high officials know nothing about!

Yes, it is about time we forget about voting for these candidates who promise to give you something for nothing—and vote for candidates we know are LOYAL Americans, candidates who place the protection of their country above everything else.

But WHY doesn't the Republican party tell the voters the facts—that all of the wretches who have been betraying our country crawled into their government jobs because of their associations and friendships with the New Dealers and the Fair Dealers—whatever that might mean. It is time for both Republicans—and the old-time Democrats, too, to wake up and do something. Why should we permit a lot of fuzzy-brained "thinkers" to lead our country into disaster—and surely we are heading for it if we do not purge the entire government of every official and employe who has indicated the slightest taint of disloyalty. This should be a campaign of loyal Republicans and Democrats AGAINST Opportunists who are now in high places and have permitted a most dangerous condition to develop.

OFF ON THE RIGHT FOOT.

We have nothing but the highest commendation for Mayor Perry Richwine and members of the city commission for their decision to conduct the city's business right out on top of the table instead of under the table.

Anything the city commission does about public business is PUBLIC business—and the PUBLIC has a perfect right to know just what every city commissioner does pertaining to public business.

We have been advised that Mayor Richwine declared when he was selected as mayor after the recall that he said it was his purpose to see to it that all of the business of the city commission would be conducted in the open—right out "in front" where any voter of the city, if he desired to do so, could see and hear all that was transpiring.

As long as this excellent rule continues, no one has the slightest reason to fear what the commission might do. We hope for the good of the public that this "open door" policy will continue and that we will never again hear of snap meetings being called without any one knowing anything about the meetings except those who were tipped off and asked to be present.

The present commission is getting off to a mighty good start and we predict that by the end of another year the vast majority of the citizens of Plymouth will be highly satisfied with its accomplishments.

SPIRITUALLY BEAUTIFUL.

Have you ever known an old lady who was spiritually beautiful? Could you remember what her features were like? Or did you think of her as sort of a beautiful flower of God's handiwork, sending forth love and kindness and compassion for all; and everyone loving her in turn.

This same old lady probably had no money to speak of, though she had thousands of friends and was continually happy.

You probably knew another old lady who had all kinds of money and everything that money could buy to make a person happy, yet she was not happy in the least. No one was glad to see her, because no one became happy because of her. You may not exactly remember her features, but you will never forget her sharp tongue and how glad you were to get away from her.

When Jesus gave His Sermon on the Mount He answered the question of how to be happy.

Many of them would not believe, when He explained to that multitude of people who had come great distances to learn the secret of true happiness, that they were all wrong in the common assumption that the acquisition of material things alone brings happiness.

The thought He gave to them was, according to Matthew, who tells the story, that you are made happy by what you are, not by what you get. The key to a blessed life lies in your heart. It is being merciful and pure in heart. You must not be angry, you must not be revengeful. You must love everyone, even your enemies.

The golden rule was a strange plan of life to most of that multitude who were there from both sides of the Sea of Galilee, from Jerusalem far off to the south, and from Tyre and Sidon to the north. It is strange to many people today, as far as actually living is concerned, but it is a good plan for happiness, nevertheless.

The next time you feel discouraged, or blue, or unhappy, why not go out and do something to make someone else a little bit happier, for that is what you would have them do to you, is it not? Then you will be surprised how much it will help you to happiness.

"You don't have to wait until you are old to grow spiritually beautiful."—Slayton (Minn.) Murray County Herald.

THAT'S SOCIALISM.

Perhaps you have wished for a practical definition of Communism, Socialism or Capitalism? Julius Andringa tells this one.

He was planning a fishing trip with a partner who said he would get the bait and intended to use frogs. When he showed up he had only six frogs and remarked, "I only caught six, which is just enough for me."

Julius had Socialist ideas as to the frogs until then and figures that his partner must be of the Capitalistic group, writes Rollo Mosher in The Wayland Globe.

Give 1949 Traffic Report; List 147 Auto Accidents

The 1949 traffic report for the city of Plymouth was presented to the city commission at the last meeting by Lee Sackett, chief of police.

During the year there was a total of 147 accidents. The greatest number of these accidents occurred on Main street, Penniman avenue and Ann Arbor trail. The cause of the largest number of accidents was failure to give right of way and the car not under control. Twenty-seven accidents were caused by improper turning and 25 by reckless driving.

One accident was caused by drunken driving. In one case of a reckless driving charge, the driver, who according to the police report had been drinking, struck a child running across the street. He was found not guilty at his trial. In less than three hours after the accident he was involved in another accident at Plymouth and Telegraph roads.

There were two traffic fatalities during the year, both occurring at the C and O railway crossing at Main street. The time of the largest number of accidents was from 12 noon to 6 p.m. The worst time of the year for driving seems to be January with 23 accidents. August and its vacationers chalked up 19 accidents, and December comes in third with a total of 16. September and November scored low with eight accidents each.

Licenses issued include 3,009 operators licenses, 590 chauffeurs licenses and 260 beginners permits. Thirteen drivers under 21 years of age were involved in accidents. The average age for drivers involved in the greatest number of accidents is 25 years, four months. There were 11 accidents involving pedestrians or bicyclists.

Complete Chest X-Ray Survey in Community

During the first week of the Plymouth Chest X-Ray survey, 2,233 adults took advantage of this service to check their chests against tuberculosis. The survey ended yesterday.

The survey, sponsored by the Wayne County Medical Society, Wayne County Health department, and TB and Health society, opened Monday, February 6 at the high school where 724 students and teachers had chest X-rays taken; Tuesday the state health department's mobile X-ray unit moved to Dunn Steel and X-rayed 161 employes; Wednesday, 432 Daisy Manufacturing company employes took advantage of the service; Thursday, the unit moved to Allen Industries and there X-rayed 408 employes and residents living in that area; Friday, the mobile unit was stationed at Ann Arbor trail and South Main street where 508 X-rays were taken for the general public.

Management of the above mentioned industries cooperated with the Steering committee of the survey by allowing employes to use the service on company time. Wall Wire, Evans Products and Whitman-Barnes made arrangements for the same service for employes.

George A. Smith, the general chairman of the Steering committee, commended Mrs. J. R. Witwer's Neighborhood committees for the effort put forth in making home calls in each area. "We feel that all of our committee chairmen and committee members have done an outstanding job in this survey," Smith stated. "They did everything possible to acquaint Plymouth residents of the survey and the hours. We just hope that by the

Announce Serum Available to Prevent Measles

Dr. Harold J. Brisbois, Plymouth health officer, has announced that about the only contagious disease prevalent at this time is measles.

He stated that an immune serum is available for children that have not yet had the disease. A small dose of the serum will modify the infection from the disease and a large dose will prevent it. He suggests that all children under one year should have the large dose and that healthy children over that age should have the small dose. If a child is frail or sickly, he should have the large dose in order to prevent the disease.

Parents should consult their family physician if they would like their children to have the serum.

Fire Destroys Barn, Farm Tools

A fire destroyed a barn and chicken coop Tuesday morning on Plymouth road, causing an undetermined amount of damage. The barn was on the farm of George Oldenburg, 36534 Plymouth road, and the property belongs to F. C. Donovan.

The Livonia fire department called the Plymouth department for aid in fighting the fire. Oldenburg estimated that the cost of damage to the chicken coop and tools amounted to about $1,100. The cause of the fire was not determined, but may have resulted from storm damage to wiring.

Historical Group Hears Biography

Two new members were welcomed to the monthly meeting of the Plymouth Historical society held February 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Fletcher Campbell on Ann Arbor trail. The new members are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harrison.

A biographical sketch of John H. Hoge one of the founders of Plymouth, was read by Mrs. B. F. Giles. A paper prepared by Howard Brown on "Hotels, Inns and Taverns of the Pioneers" was read by Mrs. Grace Brown.

The evening's program closed with musical entertainment provided by Mrs. Edna O'Connor and Austin Whipple, and all the members joined in group singing. The next meeting of the society will be held March 9 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mills of North Harvey street.

Snow, Ice Down Phone, Electric Lines in Area

Forecast for the week—slush, and more slush, so keep your boots on. The snow and rain storm last Monday downed electric and telephone wires and tree branches throughout the area. Pedestrians, struggling through the ice-coated snow, ran an added risk of being pelted with icy branches from trees. The ice and snow stalled traffic and blocked many roads near the city.

Trouble shooters for the Michigan Bell Telephone company and the Detroit Edison company were kept busy Monday night and Tuesday repairing lines torn down by the storm. Sixty telephone lines were down temporarily stopping service for many rural customers. The phone company's full crew of 60 men were working to repair lines. This curtailed the installation of new telephone service for about two days.

Many sections east and south of the city were without electricity late Monday night and Tuesday morning. Service was impaired along parts of Brookville, Territorial and Joy roads. Repairmen worked all Monday night to keep wiring intact.

The city's street department was on the job early Tuesday morning to clear the blocked streets of the heavy snow. Traffic accidents were kept at a minimum due to cautious driving by car owners, but towing trucks were kept busy pulling stalled cars out of snow drifts. Leaky roofs were reported all over the city. The heavy snow, followed by two inches of rain and freezing weather did some damage to trees and shrubbery in the city.

So it looks like Old Man Winter is just getting started—and over the sound of noisy car tire chains can be heard the tinkle of coins in the pockets of the snow-shoveling youngsters who really made money after the storm.

Evelyn Woods Concert Soloist With Symphony

The Plymouth Symphony orchestra will present a concert Sunday, February 26, at 4 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Paul Wagner is director of the symphony and Evelyn Woods will be guest piano soloist.

The program for the afternoon concert will open with Brahms' Symphony in D major. Miss Woods' solo will be Grieg's Piano Concerto in A minor. The last number on the program will be the Rosamunde Overture by Schubert.

Miss Woods is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music in New York City and gave her first concert at the age of five at the Toledo Art museum. When she was 13 she was awarded a scholarship by Frank Damosch and spent five years at the institute of musical art at the Juilliard school. In 1935 Miss Woods received a teacher's diploma with honors from the school and was then awarded a fellowship to the graduate school to study under Madame Olga Samaroff Stokowski.

As a soloist for several Michigan symphonies, she has been prominent in the area since 1940. She has played at the annual winter concerts held at the Detroit Art Institute. Miss Woods has been guest soloist with the Plymouth Symphony at two previous concerts. She is now Mrs. Carl Groschke and teaches music in Plymouth.

Demonstrate Use of New Milker

A public demonstration of a mechanical milker will be given tonight at West Brothers, farm implement dealers, 534 Forest avenue, at 8 p.m.

The demonstration, suggested by leading dairy authorities and recommended by the health department, includes milking and milk cooling, followed by the washing and sanitizing of both the milker unit and vacuum lines. The purpose of the demonstration is to aid farmers in getting better results from their present milker or to learn the operation of the new ones.

In order to make the demonstration both interesting and educational, a transparent mechanical McCormick milker will be used with two cows on a specially built stage. With the transparent milker, spectators will be able to see just how the machine works.

Dollar Days Set

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 2, 3 and 4 will be dollar days in Plymouth stores this year, according to James Houk, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce retail merchants committee. The combined selling event will be the first local stores have had since before the war and every effort is being made to make the event outstanding.

According to the merchants who are already making plans for the sale there will be regular clearance specials on merchandise as well as items that have been purchased just especially for the three sale days.

It is hoped that, practically every store in the city will join in the sale so that local residents and those of nearby communities may find bargains galore during the selling. The Plymouth Mail will issue a special dollar day edition and The Plymouth Mail Buyers Guide will carry dollar day messages to some 13,000 people living in nearby areas.

New Appliance Business Holds Grand Opening

About $1,500 worth of gifts will be given away during the two-day celebration of the grand opening of the Better Home Appliances store on Forest avenue Friday and Saturday of this week. George Milosch and Martin S. Kopen are co-owners of the store.

All are invited to inspect the new store and to fill out tickets for one of the gifts that will be given away. The drawing will be Saturday night and the winners do not have to be present to receive the gifts. Every lady also will receive a special gift. The winners will be notified and their names announced in the Plymouth Mail.

Gifts that will be given away include a GE portable dishwasher, a GE table model television set, a Spartan table model television set, a Domestic portable sewing machine, an Easy portable washer, and three fully automatic Lustro blankets. The Edison company will have an economist at the store to give a demonstration of electric cooking. There will also be a demonstration of automatic ironers, washers and dryers.

The store's showroom and office have been enlarged and the store has been redecorated in sherwood green and duobonnet. New lighting has been installed.

Milosch also owns the Garden City Furniture company and because of this he will be able to buy in larger quantities, have a larger selection, give faster service, and thus serve the public better. Both he and Kopen have had 15 years experience in the business. The store will carry a complete line of 1950 television sets, refrigerators, washers, ironers and ranges, and all major and small appliances of nationally advertised brands.

Business as Usual in Spite of Leaky Roof

Rain and snow early this week was too much for the roof over Graham's Apparel shop, Kade's Department store and the A & P grocery. Water seeped into all three stores, keeping proprietors busy with mops. Kade's has announced that the unexpected leak has not interfered with their anniversary sale.

Next Dance Saturday

The Optimist club's next teen-age dance will be held this Saturday, February 18, at Our Lady of Good Counsel church hall. On that date and thereafter the dances will be held regularly in the Catholic church building at the corner of Dodge and Union street.

At last week's dance, held in the Presbyterian church hall, over 218 young people attended. This was the largest attendance present for the dances. Door prizes, consisting of 12 tickets to the Horace Heidt show in Detroit February 26, were donated by the Graham's wearing apparel store.

The Letter Box

To the Editor:

Given this privilege, I should like to remind the people of Plymouth that the Wayne university college of medicine has made an appeal to our Governor for an appropriation of three million dollars for a new medical science building. This proposal shall be presented to our legislature on March 15 and in the meantime it shall be in committee. Whether or not this request is granted is, of course, ultimately up to you, citizens. Believing that this bill is worthy of your full support, I should like to offer for your consideration several reasons why you should be interested in seeing the request granted.

In the first place, the present physical facilities of this time-honored institution are pitifully inadequate and unworthy of its excellent staff and abundant clinical resources.

Secondly, the new building would mean that more physicians would be available to serve Michigan. The present class of 68 per year could be increased to one hundred. Michigan does need these doctors. Although more doctors are now needed for our increasing population, for military and veteran use, for new research programs, for expanding fields of industrial and public health, and to compensate for the present dearth of practicing physicians, the number of doctors now being produced just slightly more than replaces the number dying or retiring. The state of Michigan is now a medical pauper, depending on out of state institutions for many of its physicians. Nor do Wayne's graduates practice only in Detroit. One-third of the present student body is from out-of-Detroit areas, and its medical graduates are now practicing in 68 Michigan counties.

Also, the proposed building would promote important advances in medical science. The fine research now being done at Wayne university would be yet advanced with the sorely needed new building.

Winners of the "Count the Diamonds" contest sponsored by the Robert Simmons company jewelry store on Penniman avenue have been officially announced.

The first prize, a $300 diamond ring goes to Mrs. Barbara Elliott, 30298 Schoolcraft. Second prize winner is Mrs. R. B. Larkins, 404 Eaton drive, Northville, who will receive a $200 diamond ring. A $100 diamond ring goes to the third place winner, Mrs. Harriett Fox, 9074 Northern avenue. Fourth prize, a man's $75 diamond dial watch, goes to Roland Dyer, 8661 Inkster road, Garden City.

WHAT I THINK AND HAVE A RIGHT TO SAY

NOT WANTED IN AMERICA.

It is good to read that our immigration authorities are already considering ways to prevent Ingrid Bergman and her illegitimate son from returning to these United States, the country that made possible a fortune for this motion picture actress.

By her conduct during the past year or so she has brought shame to a business that is badly in need of all the uplifting influences it can get. She has flaunted all of the rules of decency by what she has done. And all of this chatter about bringing her son "in the church" is just so much eye-wash to cover up her own disgraceful conduct.

We hope that the immigration authorities will be able to carry out their proposal by which they believe they can keep her out of this country.

America is desirous of bringing good foreigners to our shores—the kind of people so many of us know who were born in foreign lands and have come here to be good and loyal citizens—but we do not need any of the Bergman type.

PROSECUTION THE ONLY REMEDY.

The "kill" of human beings during Michigan's 1949 deer hunting season has been the most frightful in the state's history. While hunters have been warned by Conservation officials, by newspapers and radio speakers to be careful, it seems that all of these warnings have been fruitless. More people were shot and more people were killed than ever before.

Apparently there is just one way to remedy such a situation—and that is by the enactment of a state law which makes a prison sentence mandatory for any hunter who shoots another hunter, no matter what his excuse might be. Such a law would do some good, there is no question about that.

RAILROADS SAFEST WAY TO TRAVEL.

Statistics just now being revealed show that American railroads are by far the safest method of travel—that the percentage of death and injury is far under that of plane or motor travel.

That statement is interesting, especially to Plymouth, because this city has a large number of residents who are employed in railway service.

We know personally something of the tireless efforts of our local railway employees to protect fool automobile drivers and careless travellers from getting hurt.

We have seen smart Alec drivers run their cars across the C & O tracks in front of some of the high speed trains after the flashers have started and with flagmen also standing on the crossing. While traffic accidents do not play too important a part in increasing deaths by causing railway accidents, there is no question but what a fairly good percentage of train wrecks in which rail passengers are killed is due to fool automobile drivers.

Railway officials say that even though it is expected that the railroads' 1949 safety record will be the best in all transportation history, the country's railroads, including those in Michigan, will strive to reduce such accidents in 1950 by at least 15 percent.

In announcing the campaign the Michigan Railroads Association declared the lines will "apply with even greater vigor the methods which have brought about such outstanding gains in railroad safety over the past 30 years. The railroads, individually and collectively, will undertake to reach the goal by concerted and intensified effort along the lines of safety education, engineering and enforcement."

According to the association, deaths in 1948 in auto and taxi-cab accidents number 15,200; in buses 1,206; railroads, 22, and scheduled airlines, 3. These figures averaged, respectively, per 100 million miles traveled 2.1 for automobiles; 0.18 for buses; 0.05 for railroads, and 1.3 for airlines. Average death rate in the 1946-1948 period was 2.3 for autos; 0.20 for buses; 0.08 for railroads, and 1.9 for scheduled airlines.

The relative 1946-1948 average death rates, the association points out, show that the railroads in the period were two and one-half times safer than buses; about 24 times safer than scheduled air transport planes and more than 28 times safer than passenger automobile and taxis.

Postmaster Timpona Issues Warning

During the past few weeks many complaints have been filed with the Plymouth post office in regard to the handbills, letters and various publications, that have been put in mail boxes. This literature was not mailed.

Dr. George Timpona, the Plymouth postmaster, has warned several parties about this practice and stated, "More drastic action will be taken if this practice does not cease. It is against postal regulations to use the mail box when distributing any type of literature other than that which passes through the post office."

(Selection from the best-seller, "What Hath the Apricot?")

WHEN FRUIT RIPENING TIME came to Sassafras Valley, Gunther would go there to gather apricots for jelly making—carrying baskets and a bottle of wine. In the wild abundance of apricots, he would revel until the baskets were full and the bottle was empty. Ah, the lush season! Ah, the lush apricots! Ah, the lush!

Flaxen-haired Gunther-wife would await him home, peering out the gingham curtains, out across the valley, dashing out to search the sewer. The witching hour for jelly making would have gone, and disenchantment set in—"Oh, thou killer of the wild ox, thou art late for smorgasbord again, thou mouse!" But still Gunther would tarry, pursuing stray tumbleweeds to the rainbow's end and feeding old razor blades to goats along life's highway.

TIRED OF SOUL and forsaking hope for fresh jelly, Gunther-wife would go to the A&P to buy apricot jelly against his homecoming, for there was nothing Gunther loved more dearly, unless it was his old hound dog. Fitting it is that warrior have happy repeat: succumbing to the ire of his wife.

Here many more shalons loom! Gunther would stride into Gunther house on his knees. Long muscle-straining would have the safari from the apricot fields. Sobs would shake Gunther-wife, the apricots, crushed and bleeding, and she would clasp the young born Gunther-child, exclaiming, "Oh, Gunther-born, be glad you weren't basket borne by a drunken sire." Whereupon, tears of penitence would stream from Gunther-eyes—100 proof.

"NO MORE FROLIC in the apricot fields," he would vow. "Wine I eschew. But I must hie me to the cold well where a stronger potable is stashed." Gunther-wife would take down from the wall the giant ax and cleave his head in two, but not until she had placed Gunther-baby gently in cradle. Soft-spoken and gentle was Gunther-wife, and very adept with the delicate ax. When she had scrubbed the neat kitchen, she whilom mendly needle and thread and mend Gunther's head until it was good as new. (She hated loose ends lying around.)

With the increase in the cost of both fresh and canned citrus fruits, Plymouth homemakers will be especially interested in a new pamphlet prepared by the Michigan Department of Health—"Vitamin C Calendar for Michigan."

Vitamin C can be obtained from the citrus fruits such as oranges, grapefruit, lemons and tangerines but it is also supplied in large amounts in Michigan to-

If Snow Continues Auto Club Sees Increase in Winter Sports

Michigan's winter sports areas may yet entertain the largest number of visitors in snowtime history—if the weatherman continues to cooperate. That's the prediction of Automobile Club of Michigan's assistant travel manager Jerry Fisher, who has noted far more interest in winter sports on the part of the traveling public in any other year.

"Requests come to us from all over the United States daily for information on where to go skiing or skating. Five years ago such a query was a rarity," Mr. Fisher said.

Michigan's northland is better-equipped than ever before to serve the wintertime traveler, he believes. Both accommodations and winter sport areas have been increased in number and improved in quality. Each year the north country adds new areas which offer skiing, skating, hunting, fishing and other assorted forms of violent exercise.

"Although Boyne Mountain near Boyne Falls operated last year, its facilities were only completed in time for snow this year. It is probably the best new area to open in Michigan since Caberfae near Cadillac. It has excellent terrain, the only chair lift in the midwest, and accommodations in a fine rustic lodge for 44 persons right at the scene of activities, along with a clubhouse," Fisher said.

Boyne Mountain will conduct daily ski schools, with slopes of 400 feet to a mile and a half in length. All are served by the lift and rope tows; with a vertical drop of 500 feet in some places.

Porecupine Mountains State Park near Ontonagon is the scene of another new area just opened by the conservation department. There's a 2,800-foot expert ski trail with a drop of 550 feet, and a 2,800-foot run with a 350-foot drop. The area will be serviced by three rope tows.

Other new areas are at Indian River and Clare. Three Clare men are building up an area 10 miles north of Marion on M-115 to be known as "Madcap." Covering 122 acres, it will have four runs better than 1,000 feet long, with a two-section ski tow. Name of the area stems from trees growing nearby—maple, ash, basswood, cherry, alder and poplar.

Improvements listed at Caberfae, on M-55, 17 miles west of Cadillac, which keep it at top of Michigan winter sports play-places, include the following: More facilities for beginners, a new ski shop, enlarged lodge, widening of two largest ski runs, grading all runs for increased safety, and another access road and parking lot.

At Grayling Winter Sports Park, a new lighted ski slope and tow will add several hours to the skiing day. It will also feature square dancing. Snowsnake Mountain at Clare has improved its ski slope, tows and shelters. Ogemaw Hills park at West Branch will be open every day but Tuesday this year.

Increased airlines service from Detroit and other Michigan cities to the north part of the state's Lower and Upper Peninsula via Capital and Nationwide Airlines will doubtless sway more to take an outing in the snow, Fisher feels. Buses also service most areas, and main Michigan roads are passable by private auto more than 85 percent of the time even in January, February and March, he concludes.

Organize Farm Discussion Group

In order to acquaint the Farm Bureau with the problems and opinions of farmers in the area, the Livonia Discussion group of the Wayne County Farm Bureau was organized February 7. Assisting in the formation of the group was George Metevia of the bureau.

Officers of the group were elected at the meeting. They include Mrs. Harvey Wagenschutz, discussion leader; John Schroder, chairman; Louis Mijal, vice chairman; Mrs. John Schroder, secretary, and Mrs. Clyde Smith, member of county women's committee.

Leslie Moon, the Farm Bureau's Blue Cross representative for Michigan, explained benefits of his organization at the meeting, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith on Newburg road. The group will meet again March 14 at the home of John Schroder on Six Mile road.

Michigan Farmers Planted Over Twelve Million Trees Last Year

Nearly 12,000,000 trees, made available from state nurseries, were planted on state and private land in 1949, representing the conservation department's greatest reforestation effort since the prewar period.

State forestry chief, G. S. McIntire, reports distribution of close to 7,200,000 seedlings and transplants from the Higgins lake nursery, bulk of which went to farmers, industries, schools and communities. Another 4,385,000 seedlings were planted by state forestry crews in 10 northern Michigan state forests and 3,000,000 more are slated for spring planting in 1950. The department's Hardwood nursery supplied 350,000 seedlings for state parks, game areas and for private farm-game projects.

To supplement the output of growing stock from these state nurseries, the conservation commission has approved leasing the U. S. Forest Service nursery at Manistique. This station will be capable of producing 14,000,000 seedlings and transplants annually starting in 1953, up to 4,000,000 of which the commission agreed to supply at cost to the U. S. Forest Service.

Part of the plan for perpetuating Michigan's present supply of timber, the state's "tree farm" system pushed ahead with 169 projects embracing 628,000 acres. Department foresters made their first inspection of a Michigan "tree farm" less than 14 months ago. All participating woodlot and commercial forest owners now have received certificates, and most of them, the signs which identify individual timber management areas. Sponsoring organizations, Michigan Forest Industries and the state conservation department, supply the certificates and signs free to owners of woodlots or forest of more than six acres which meet the standards set up in the program.

Also on the bright side of the Michigan forest picture in 1949 was the forest fire report on the conservation department's field administration division. Only about 21,500 acres of the 20,571,000 acres protected by the division's forest fire control section were damaged by fire, and an even smaller percentage of the damage was in standing timber and other forest products.

However, the estimated 21,500 acres burned over did represent about a 7,000 acre increase over 1948, but fortunately the 1949 damage was not as devastating as originally forecast before the spring fire season started. The 1949 summary of the fire season now is being compiled. Ground water levels were below average most of the year and hit a 16-year record low of .93 of a foot in November.

Upper peninsula forests took a heavy windstorm loss in late October. The forestry division, in an attempt to salvage 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 board feet of timber on state lands alone, issued a number of removal permits to timber operators. Some of the salvage timber will be utilized on state conservation projects.

THE DUMONT CANTERBURY

Honeymoon in New Orleans Follows Saturday Nuptials

Our Lady of Good Counsel church was the setting for the Saturday wedding in which Beverly M. Rousseau became the bride of Robert A. Baskins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Baskins of East Ann Arbor trail.

The couple repeated their vows after the Rev. Father William P. Mooney. Altar decorations for the ceremony were vases of white sweetpeas and white gladioli and lighted tapers. "Ave Marie" and "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother" were sung by the soloist, Mrs. Phyllis Mitchell. The organ accompanist was Mrs. Edna O'Connor.

Chantilly lace was applied in a sweetheart design on the illusion yoke of the bride's white slipper satin gown. Her gown, fashioned along colonial lines, was designed with a full hooped skirt ending in a train, fitted bodice, and long sleeves forming points at the wrists. A satin cloche secured in place the bride's fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered by a corsage of pink camellias.

Presenting the bride in marriage was her uncle, William Hobson.

Sister of the bride, Mrs. Grace Stubbings of East Detroit, carried out the duties of the matron of honor. Mrs. Stubbings and the bride are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Krupinski of Frazer.

The matron of honor was gowned in yellow taffeta fashioned with portrait neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. A shoulder length veil was attached to a yellow taffeta cloche for the matron of honor's headpiece.

Bridesmaids Norma Bloomhuff and Mrs. Virginia Smithson chose gowns of aqua taffeta styled identical to the matron of honor's. Yellow daffodils made up the cascade bouquets they carried.

The bridegroom was attended by Joseph Mlynek of Owosso as best man. Vincent G. Pellerito of Plymouth and Walter F. Krupinski, Jr. of Frazer, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

A blue silk crepe dress was chosen by the bride's mother, for the ceremony. Her flowers were pink roses.

Seventy-five guests from Van Dyke, Owosso, Detroit, East Detroit, Roseville and Northville were present at the reception which took place in the church hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Baskins left the reception for their wedding trip to New Orleans where they will spend two weeks. While there they plan to attend the Mardi Gras. The bride traveled in a light blue silk crepe dress. Navy accessories and the corsage of pink camellias from her bridal bouquet completed Mrs. Baskins' going away outfit.

A graduate of Plymouth High school, the bride is employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone company. Mr. Baskins was graduated from Perry High school in Perry, Arkansas, and he is now associated with Evans Products company of Plymouth. He is a member of the local Masonic lodge, F. and A. M. chapter.

An indignant lady in Phoenix, Arizona, complained that thieves not only had stolen her "Dog for Sale" sign one night; they'd returned to steal the dog next.

Just fed up by it all, a thief in Des Moines, who broke into a filling station only to find nothing worth taking, used his last nickel to call police to come and take him.

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD
By Mrs. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents Magazine

DO YOU REVEAL too much about your children to friends and neighbors? Nowadays when practically everyone has read a book or two on psychology the temptation to explain our children is stronger than ever. But boys and girls need to be protected from public discussion of their personality adjustments as much as they need privacy for their emotions.

For example, take a boy who has a violent temper. His father, having experienced something of the same struggle, knows the importance of gaining control of anger. He works to help his son overcome this character defect by explaining what it will mean in his adult years to have a temper that hurts even those you love. And he stands by during violent storms with stern appeals to the boy's better nature. But his mother, who can't believe that this furious human being is her son, explains to all and sundry that Tim inherited his temper from his paternal grandfather. Thinking to excuse her son, she is really violating his right to work out his problems in secret.

Then there are those forgetful parents who sigh to their friends over the fact that John or Margaret is difficult because he or she is "going through" adolescence. It ever a young person needs to feel that the turmoil inside him is his private affair it is during the changes of late puberty. These same parents are probably hurt because their troubled youngsters don't confide in them as they did when they were children. But would you talk to a friend who later dissected you in public? Even parents who through family pride confine discussion of their children's personality shortcomings to the family group often refer apologetically to Jane's overweight or Bob's blotchy skin. Knowing that Bob is self-conscious about his pimples, his mother is prompted by kindness in remarking to a dinner guest, "That last family bout of polo and cake treated Bob's skin as bad as it did my figure." But it would be kinder to Bob, and save the guest embarrassment, if the boy's skin troubles were ignored. And nothing will saddle a young person with the conviction that he is unattractive so much as being apologized for.

"I can't put sweaters and skirts on Jane—she is just too fat," may be merely a lament on mother's part because she likes to knit and regrets having a daughter who can't wear her handiwork. But Jane, long after she loses her excess weight, will carry a mental picture of herself as an ungainly child.

Perhaps if children knew that character is something we have to work on all our lives, they wouldn't feel so much on the spot. Why not confide in them that you are having trouble with a few rough spots in your own habits of thought or action, and that you may be able to help each other? But keep it a family affair! Jimmy won't tell his friends about your weaknesses, so why should you publicize his?

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holloway and son, Billy, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reamer of Plymouth were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rorabacher of North Territorial road.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac J. Donnelly had as their dinner guests Wednesday of last week, their niece, Miss Ann Cleary of Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing will be hostess to her book club at their regular meeting on Wednesday of next week.

Mrs. Josephine Fish and Mrs. Edwin Campbell will be co-hostesses on Thursday evening at a party at the home of Mrs. Francis Beals on North Mill street. The party will honor the birthdays of Ann and Mary Donnelly. Others invited are Mrs. Gayle Donnelly, Mrs. Milton Laible, Mrs. L. B. Rice, Mrs. Jesse Rice, Mrs. Charles Beagle and Miss Lorraine Corbett.

Circle No. Four of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed a religious book review given by Dr. Walsh at their regular meeting held Monday evening. Mrs. James Ross was chairman for the evening.

Saturday Rites Unite Couple

After a wedding trip to Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. Harris will be at home to friends at their residence on Holbrook street.

The couple exchanged nuptial vows before the Rev. Benjamin L. Eicher in a ceremony Saturday, February 11, at 7 p.m. in the First Baptist church.

Mixed bouquets of white snapdragons and pink gladioli were used as the church decorations at the evening wedding. Organ music was presented by Miss Melissa Roe.

For her wedding the bride chose a steel grey crepe dress accented by a sheer yoke embroidered in seed pearls and grey steel beads. Her accessories were grey and blue. Carnations in variegated shades of pink were in the bride's corsage.

As their attendants the couple chose Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schryer of Detroit, a brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Schryer wore a teal blue crepe with winter pink accessories, and a corsage of mixed pink carnations.

Wedding guests were seated by Wendell and Robert Johnson, sons of the bride; Art Harris of Detroit, son of the bridegroom; and Don Maccon, the bridegroom's nephew.

A wedding dinner for the immediate family and friends followed the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harris on Holbrook street.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Your Pressure Cooker Makes Delicious, Nourishing Soups

Good cooks become better cooks when they use a pressure cooker, for with this modern, scientific saucepan, the pleasure of good eating is matched by the pleasure of fast, simple cooking. In ordinary cooking methods much of the vitamin content of the foods, particularly vitamin C, is lost through oxidation and long cooking. Pressure cooking is done free from air, eliminating oxidation. Foods are cooked in the shortest possible time.

Delicious soups can be prepared in a pressure cooker. The high heat in the cooker extracts the gelatin from the bone, making the soup richer in flavor and clearer in color. There is no cloudiness due to long, constant boiling used in old methods. Smaller amounts of meat may be used in soups prepared in your cooker for it develops a fuller, richer flavor.

The following are a few recipes for soups that can be prepared in a four-quart pressure cooker. After cooking time is completed in preparing soups, do not remove indicator weight until stem is in down position and the over-pressure plug is relaxed. Allow the stem to return to the down position of its own accord. Then take the indicator weight from the vent pipe before attempting to remove the cover.

CHICKEN SOUP
3 pounds chicken
1 teaspoon salt
1 stalk celery, chopped
1 medium carrot, diced
1 small onion, diced
6 cups water

Method: Cut chicken into serving pieces. (Wings, neck and back make excellent soup.) Place chicken in cooker. Add salt, celery, carrots, onion and water. Place cover on cooker. Allow the steam to flow from vent pipe to release all air from cooker. Cook 15 minutes with stem at down position. Let stem return to cook position.

NAVY BEAN SOUP
1 cup navy beans
4 cups water
1 pound ham bone or shank
1 onion, chopped
2 carrots, sliced
2 stalks celery, chopped
1/2 cup green pepper, minced
1/2 cup tomato puree
1 clove
Salt and pepper

Method: Wash beans, cover with water and soak overnight. Drain. Place all ingredients in cooker. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Place cover on cooker. Allow steam to flow from vent pipe to release all air from cooker. Place indicator weight on vent pipe and cook 30 minutes with stem at cook position. Let stem return to down position.

POTATO SOUP
2 tablespoons flour
1 medium onion, cut fine
3 stalks celery, cut fine
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
4 medium potatoes, diced
4 cups water
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter

Method: Place onion, celery, salt, pepper, diced potatoes and water in cooker. Allow steam to flow from vent pipe to release all air from cooker. Put indicator weight on vent pipe and cook 5 minutes with stem at cook position. Let stem return to down position. Moisten flour with part of milk. Beat until smooth, and add remaining milk. Add butter and this mixture to soup and boil a few minutes.

SOUP STOCK
1 1/2 pounds small soup bone
6 cups water
1 teaspoon salt

Method: Wipe soup bone. Place in cooker with water and salt. Place cover on cooker. Allow steam to flow from vent pipe to release all air from cooker. Put indicator weight on vent pipe and cook 20 minutes with stem at cook position. Let stem return to down position.

The above recipes were tested in a Presto cooker.

Loebster Season

February and March probably the best months for eating Maine lobster. Although not dangerous to eat as long as they're cooked alive, the North Atlantic lobster is known to have an inferior flavor during the summer months. This is because the summer lobster is likely to have gone through the annual process of shedding its hard winter shell and acquiring a new one. The flavor of these half-hard shell lobsters is considerably below par. By February, the shells are well-hardened.

Wayne County Group Holds Restyling Clinic

Keeping clothes wearable and up-to-date is an ever-present problem for most women. The Home Economics Extension groups of Wayne county believe that restyling is one answer to this problem. Their new program includes a lesson on remodeling clothes for economy and good style, taught by Emma DuBord, Wayne County Home Demonstration agent.

"Remodeling never grows old," says Emma DuBord, "because fashion changes make it ever new." The first problem is to decide how much and what kind of restyling a garment needs—and is worth. Changes in length and a little refitting are not so difficult, but a complete remodeling job is a major operation. The leaders meeting will include a clinic for discussion of ways and means of restyling clothes brought in by the leaders.

Here it is in crisp, white Lonsdale pique, teamed with navy skirt of the same fabric, as one of the California styles featured in the February Good Housekeeping. The "weskit" can be worn under suits in winter, making it a versatile value at $8. And $12 buys the skirt which, like its team-mate, is made by Marjorie Montgomery.

Serve Cherry Pie With George Washington Dinner

February is the month of holidays, climaxed by George Washington's birthday on the 22nd. Many plan festive dinners for the occasion in honor of the Father of Our Country. The cherry tree legend about the patriot makes cherry pie a must for a Washington party dinner, to be served, of course, with a real old fashioned meal. Try this menu for the birthday celebration.

Tomato Bouillon Batter Chicken
Paprika Crackers Gravy
Spoon Bread Green Beans
Molded Vegetable Salad
Latticed Cherry Pie
Coffee

To tell the truth, batter chicken is easy to fix. Just dip boned pieces of cooked chicken into fritter batter; fry in deep hot fat; keep hot in oven 'til serving time; thicken broth for gravy. Use canned sour cherries for pie.

Eggs Featured During Surplus

Retail and chain store grocers in Michigan have joined poultrymen in pushing eggs and poultry products during the current surplus, according to J. M. Moore, poultry extension specialist at Michigan State college.

"Many grocers are giving special attention to eggs, pointing out with advertising and sales promotion that they offer a fine opportunity to balance both the budget and the diet," Moore said. One large chain grocery firm reports they are featuring eggs "and will continue to do so as long as they are causing a surplus problem."

Moore said the current surplus is causing the industry great concern as orders are being placed or delivery is being taken now for chicks that will produce next winter's eggs. "If too many producers become discouraged, flock numbers will go down and consumers will find the price situation on eggs next winter just the reverse," the poultry specialist predicted.

Shelling Pecans
To shell pecans put them in a kettle with water to cover and heat until the water boils. Let the nuts remain in hot water for about five minutes. Drain and crack as soon as they can be handled. With a little practice it is possible to get the nut meats out whole, reports Faye Kinder, Michigan State college home economist.

No More Apron Strings
Apron strings are now out-moded by a new plastic hoop which adjusts to any waist size and never needs ironing. It slips through the top hem of gay plastic aprons, or you can put it on the ones you make yourself.

Study Shows Food Most Important Factor in Child's Development

Results of a social study of hundreds of children in Cape Town, South Africa, proved that food is the most important single factor in the development of the child.

Milk and whole-grain cereals are chiefly recommended. Other conclusions included, the mental side of a child's life is greatly governed by affectionate handling and close contact with its parents. They need to guard against too rigorous discipline and excessive pampering. Especially harmful to children are broken marriages and desertions.

Church Council Begins National Conference Today

Some 350 church-appointed delegates from many walks of life will meet in Detroit from February 16 through February 19 to seek a Christian approach to many perplexing economic problems. Mrs. F. G. Poole will be a delegate from the Methodist church of the Detroit area.

Delegates have been named by 23 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations and will come from more than 30 states to the second National Conference on the Church and Economic Life called by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America "to help the churches contribute insight and direction in respect to economic issues and tensions that have vast social and moral implications."

Drawn from industry, business, labor and agriculture, they will come together as Christians. Under the call to the conference they will consider such questions as:

What economic policies and practices should the United States follow in keeping with its responsibility to its own and the world economy?

What motives and incentives will best assure the fullest use for the public welfare of our expanding capacity to produce goods and services.

How may voluntary groups be so related to one another and government that our economic system will best promote freedom and justice, initiative and social responsibility?

What should be the program of the churches in training their members to deal as Christians with these areas of economic life?

"Over a period of the past two years," said Dr. Arthur S. Fleming, president of Ohio Wesleyan university, "the department of the Church and Economic Life of the Federal Council, has discovered that when churchmen from the ranks of labor, management and agriculture sit down with theologians and economists and consider the great economic problems of our day in the light of the teachings of Christ, it is possible to arrive at very significant understandings."

Results of the study will be submitted to the churches for study and action but the conference does not commit the Federal Council as the convening body or the church bodies that are represented.

Laymen will dominate the conference, outnumbering clergy by two to one. The number of delegates is limited under a plan of proportional representation. Only official delegates of national denominations, councils of churches and certain allied religious bodies will participate. Allied Religious Bodies include American Friends Service committee, Home Missions Council of North America, Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.

Sessions on Thursday will be open to the public until 5:30 p.m. These will include the Worship Service, Central Church, the Conference luncheon at the Statler, and the Plenary session at the Statler. From that time on delegates will work in committees until Saturday afternoon and

Square Dance Tonight in Central Grade Gym

Tonight, Thursday, the Plymouth adult square dance club will hold another of its fine square dances in the gym of the Central Grade school which will start at 8:30 and end at 11:30.

Scott Colburn of Ann Arbor will be the caller for the old barn dance squares. The price of tickets will include coffee later in the evening, enjoyed with a snack of your own.

The square dances have turned out very well. Approximately 100 from Plymouth and surrounding areas attended the dance of February 2 in the high school gym.

After a two-day trial, a restaurant in Philadelphia removed its suggestion box for customers, explaining wearily that 34 of the 35 notes deposited on the first day and 38 of 40 on the second day suggested prettier waitresses; not one suggestion mentioned food.

Atchinson-First National Again Tied in Men's Basketball League

With Atchinson-Chrysler bowing to the Tait's quintet and First National rolling over Daisy in the men's basketball league, there again is a tie between the two teams for league leadership.

Tait's Cleaners upset Atchinson-Chrysler 63-59 last Thursday night at DeHoCo, to knock Atchinson from sole possession of first place as First National won.

The initial quarter proved the winning point of the game as Tait's rolled up 21 points to Atchinson's 12. At half-time the boys from the Cleaners remained ahead but only by three points 27-24.

In the last half the teams played on very even terms with Tait's collecting 36 counters and Atchinson 33. Jack Dobbs took scoring honors with 19 points while Bob Norman netted 17 for Atchinson.

Of Atchinson's three defeats, they have been beaten by Tait's twice and First National once. Tait's has also downed First National once, while Atchinson has beaten the bank boys twice.

Carson Racks Up 20 For Panthers

Playing in overtime, the Wayne County Training school Red Birds edged past the Panthers 34-32 last Thursday evening for their eighth straight victory of the season and to remain in undisputed possession of first place in the Class D league.

Winning by only two points in overtime, this was the closest anyone has come to beating the Red Birds in the league all season. Two men, Ed Klinkske and Syrett, left the game on fouls. Each were from different teams evening the game.

Bud Carson racked up 20 points for the Panthers which played a great part in their near upset of the Red Birds. Syrett dropped in 10 for the Training school and Turner, Cook and Wade each netted eight.

Carson's 20 points put him in second place in the scoring, with 64 points. Cook's eight counters gave him 81 points in eight games for a ten point average, while Carson's average is nine.

The Bulldogs played one of their usual close games as they emerged victorious again by one point, 19-18, over the Eneics in the second game of the evening.

Scoring two points right off the bat on a tip in by Charles Snider, the Bulldogs took a two point lead. That lead was erased quickly and the Eneics led all the way until the last 25 seconds of the game when Bob Erwin dropped in a two pointer to give the Bulldogs a 19-18 victory.

At halftime the Eneics led 8-6 but they were outscored 13-10 in the last half. The Bulldogs have won four games this season, one by a forfeit and three by one point. Lou Varrha pushed nine points through the hoop for the Eneics and Bob Erwin had five for the victors.

Gould's Cleaners rolled past the Rock Crushers for their 4th victory of the season 28-14 the same evening. Gould's took a 11-5 lead at half-time but then opened up in the last half scoring 19 points to the Rock Crushers' nine.

Jim Bloomhuff collected 10 counters for Gould's and Carl Deace nine while Gary Rodman accounted for six. To make the playoffs Gould's have yet to beat either the Red Birds or Eneics.

Rocks to Meet Wayne Friday

After taking two lickings last week from Northville and Redford Union, the local cagers journey to Wayne in quest of their sixth league victory tomorrow night, Friday.

Plymouth turned on their scoring power the last time these two teams met on the local's home court, emerging victorious 57-54. This was Plymouth's second league victory.

Al Finney collected 23 points when these two teams previously met while Dwight Eckler gathered in 13 and Keith Ebersole dropped in 11, but the locals are without that scoring punch of Eckler and Ebersole for this tilt.

The Rocks will have to win the rest of their ball games, which includes two, if they want to at least have a share in the league championship, and to share it with Redford Union, the Panthers must drop their next two contests.

Caplin-Corey Lead in Scoring

With the basketball season practically completed in Class E and F, except for the playoffs, Tyler Caplin and Jerry Corey lead their respective leagues in scoring.

Tyler Caplin has dropped in 67 points in seven games for the Great Americans in the Class F league while Jerry Corey has netted 62 for the Optimists in Class E.

In second place in Class F in scoring is Kisabeth with 61 points followed by Secord and Cichowlas with 57 counters. Bob Webb and Steve Tallian are holding down second and third respectively in Class E with 42 and 37 points in order.

The top ten scorers in Class F are: Caplin 67, Kisabeth 61, Secord 57, Cichowlas 57, Kelly 48, Cowan 46, Elton 37, Signorelli 30, Tillotson 28, Woods 28.

Shorts in Sports

by Al Larson

In the Girls' Inter-City league we find that the Ypsilanti Sophisticats, an all colored team, has on its team one of the famous Hill athletes.

Naomi Hill, brother of Dave and John Hill, who have gained supremacy as football greats at Ypsilanti High school, plays basketball with the Sophisticats, who are currently tied for second place in the league.

The other night Naomi established a league record for points scored in one game by one individual when she rolled up 27 of her team's 37 points against Wayne.

The Hill's have always been tops in athletics with Dave leading the clan. In high school Dave played three years of football and also basketball and did various events in track.

His last year in high school Dave was elected to the Michigan all-state first 11 football team and also of the Suburban 6-B league. Hill is a freshman at the University of Michigan this year and he easily made the team along with another Ypsi alumni, Lowell Perry.

Dave played quite a bit on the junior varsity team and was regarded by many of the coaches to really go places next year and to also figure greatly in Michigan's track team.

John, younger brother of Dave, is still in high school but is becoming as popular as big brother with his football feats. John has played two years on the Ypsilanti varsity eleven and last year made the All-Suburban 6-B team and honorable mention on the all-state squad.

Many a victory was led by John and Dave. For the past four years Ypsilanti has taken the league championship and for four years either Dave or John or both were playing on the team.

For the first time since the departure of Keith Ebersole and Dwight Eckler, the Plymouth Rock cagers played a good ball game against the Redford Union Panthers last Friday evening before a capacity crowd at the Rock gymnasium. This contest for the league championship created tension throughout, with the result that at times the participants almost came to blows.

Against Trenton and Northville the Rocks didn't have the fitness and polish that they possessed prior to the Ebersole-Eckler departure. However, John Sandmann's lads played to their heights against the Panthers Friday, but just couldn't muster enough points to tie for first place. All the Rocks showed themselves to good advantage as they fought for the Suburban B leadership. Dave Reitzel undoubtedly played the best game of his high school career. At the conclusion of the tussle the Redford fans pranced around the gym singing their school songs and yelling their school cheers.

Who could blame them, for it meant that Redford almost had the title clinched. This will be Redford's first Suburban B basketball crown as Trenton and Ypsilanti have dominated the league before this year.

Distinct rumblings are coming out of the city across the lake, Cleveland that is, as Hank Greenburg, the Indians new general manager, continues to predict a American League pennant for his club. Hammering Hank continues his opinions with the statement that the Detroit Tigers will be lucky to head the second division. For the past month Hank has been saying unkind things about the booming Bengals of Detroit, as well he should. Hank received unkind treatment from Walter O. Briggs, Tiger owner, a few years ago when Hank's Pankus was sold to the Pittsburgh Pirates. Time hasn't healed the wounds as evidenced by Hank's deliberations concerning the Tigers. One press release quoted him as saying, "If the Tigers are favored for the pennant then we're a cinch." So, don't be surprised if more rumblings come out of the Forest City directed toward the Tigers.

Concerning the Tigers chances for the coming American league campaign, we believe that with the acquisition of Jerry Priddy and Dick Kryhoski, the Detroiters are going to make the race mighty tough for all comers. Tigers have the best third sacker in baseball in George Kell, the best pitching staff, and the best outfield. Red Rolfe's outfield should really shine this season with the old reliable Hoot Evers heading the outer gardeners in left field. A .300 hitter last season in addition to being the second best fielding outfielder proves that Red Rolfe need not worry about left field. Hoot will steady the Tigers other two star outfielders, Johnny Groth and Vic Wertz. Both of these lads have a great future ahead of them being 21 and 24 respective-these youngsters ought to go to town this season. Take it from us, fans, the Tigers are going to be a vastly improved ball club this coming summer.

We see by the Detroit papers that Dean Higgins, a 17 year old right hander from Taylor township, has been signed by the Chicago White Sox. Higgins played for Papp's Market last season in the Western Wayne Class D league. In his only start against the Plymouth Cardinals, Higgins was treated quite rudely as Phil Bosman and Howie McClellan slammed home runs leading the Cards to an 8-0 victory. Plymouth has a couple of youngsters who might be signed at any time. We are referring to lefty Dave Reitzel, who was undefeated in hurling for Plymouth High and Daisy last year. Dave topped off his season's work with a no-hitter in the state Class D finals held in Dearborn in August. The other fellow is Jack Scheel, a right hander, who chalked up an impressive record pitching for Plymouth High and the Wiedman Cardinals. He concluded his season with a beautiful game against Pontiac in the state Class D finals. Jack was one of the three battersmen that Daisy took to the playoffs.

Jack Dobbs proved that he is still quite a basketball player as he sparked Tait's Cleaners to a win over the Training school last week at DeHoCo. Jack is a sophomore at Western Michigan college. In his freshman year Jack played football and baseball, but this year he is concentrating on baseball.

Slough Retains League Scoring

Sammy Slough continues to lead the scoring in the men's basketball league with 219 points in 13 ball games to keep his average of 17 points per game. Bob Norman is second with 174 points in 14 encounters for a 12 point average.

Clare Ebersole with 146 points in 13 games, playing with Atchinson-Chrysler, is third in scoring, netting an average of 11 per game. Don Huebler of First National has 143 points in 12 games for a 12 point average, holding down fourth in the scoring.

Following is the others who have scored over 100 points: DeWayne Becker 134, Bill Perkins 128, Phil Bosman 108, Dave McIntosh 100.

Rock Reserves Down Redford

Winning their second cage encounter within a week, the Plymouth Rock reserves downed the Redford Union reserves 43-35 last Friday evening on the local's home court.

From beginning to end the blue and white quintet led, although at some times the margin of victory was reduced to but one point and at other times they were eight points ahead.

Plymouth was able to get a 13-10 decision at the end of the first quarter and a scant 22-21 lead at half-time. Everybody got in on the scoring for the Rocks as seven boys scored three or more points.

Leading the locals in scoring once more was Dave Travis with 12, followed by Jim Stevens, who netted nine, Gary Sockow with seven and Jerry Finnegan six.

Tuesday, February 7, the reserves smothered Northville 57-24 as they rolled to an easy victory led by Dave Travis, who set an unofficial scoring record for Plymouth High with 30 points.

Badminton Offered at WCTS Every Monday

With the cold and wintry weather well in hand it is somewhat hard to get exercise and keep in athletic condition outdoors. To provide for this handicap, the Plymouth Recreation department sponsors badminton at the Wayne County Training school every Monday evening from 8 to 10 p.m. under the direction of Mike Huber.

This sport is open to anyone interested as it proves good exercise and a fine sport for all. On Sunday, February 5, the present group visited the state badminton finals at Detroit. Approximately 15 are now present at each meeting.

Trophy in Men's Loop on Display

On display at Ken and Ork's restaurant on Pennington is the men's basketball league championship trophy, which is donated by the local eating place to the men's league champ. The trophy is a traveling one and will be given to the top team at the end of the cage season.

Quality For League Playoffs

Four teams have qualified to date in the Girls' Inter-City league playoffs, which include Daisy Air Rifle with a percentage of 1.000, Twin Pines with .857, Ypsilanti Sophisticats .857, and Romulus .714. To qualify for the playoffs, a team must finish the season with a percentage of .500 or over.

With Dolly Bourtesse racking up 17 points, Daisy downed the Ypsilanti Merchants 34-14 February 6. Twin Pines compiled 45 points to Michigan Bell's 11 with Eleanor Wilkins tossing in 18 for the victors.

On February 9, Zayti of Northville hooped in 18 points for her team, but it wasn't enough as the Ypsilanti Sophisticats emerged triumphant 38-29. Romulus smothered Edison 28-9 on the same date.

The playoffs for the Class D league will begin Tuesday, February 28. Playoffs in the Class F league have already started and will continue through March 11 if necessary.

Schedule Team Playoffs For Three Basketball Leagues

With the basketball season almost over in the three boys' leagues in the Plymouth Recreation program, we find a total of 12 teams tentatively in the playoffs, who will most likely finish the season with a winning record of .500 or over.

In the E league the Falcons, currently leading the league, the Optimists, managed by Steven Tallian, in second place and the Ramblers, under Howard Pernie have made the playoffs.

Class D league finds only two teams assured of a playoff berth while two others have a fine chance, having to win only one encounter. The Red Birds from the Training school, the league champions, and the Panthers in second place with five wins and three losses are the two teams already eligible for the playoffs. The Red Birds are coached by Clare Ebersole and the Panthers by Howard Pernie.

The Bulldogs, coached by Al Larson, and Gould's Cleaners, have only to win one of their next two games to reach the playoffs. The Bulldogs have yet to play the last place Rock Crushers and Panthers, while Gould's play the first place Red Birds and the Eneics. If the Eneics, coached by Keith Ebersole, win their next two games they will qualify for the playoffs also.

In the F league five teams have already made the playoffs, which started last Saturday. These teams are the Firemen, managed by "Tiger" Wells; the Training School Wolverines, coached by Clare Ebersole; Tyler Caplin's Great Americans; Jerry Engle's Optimists and the Junior Firemen, coached by Bob McAllister.

Fair in the Light of Memory Shines

When Michigan first petitioned congress for admission into the Union as a state back in 1834 the petition was strongly opposed by the southern states.

Editor William Berkey of The Cassopolis Vigilant who has been seriously ill for several years, once said before he was stricken that he knew personally very many of the former slaves who had found freedom by coming to Cass county.

Under present production systems in the Ford Motor company's plant at Dearborn it takes but a little over 24 hours to convert raw iron ore from northern Michigan into a finished automobile.

Bits of interesting information frequently come from Michigan's great University at Ann Arbor. The latest pertains to the occupations of the parents of students.

A wide range of occupations for the parents of students at the University has been disclosed by a survey but the one, needed to finish out the famed Mother Goose rhyme didn't appear.

The students report the occupations of their parents on a registration card and the Statistical Service of Registrar Ira M. Smith's office has just completed a check.

The candymaker is listed along with such occupations as glove maker, molder, pipefitter, dry cleaner, factory worker, motorman, miner, railroad brakeman and a host of other jobs.

"The analysis shows clearly that students attend the University from homes at all financial levels," Registrar Smith reported.

Skilled workers make up 15 per cent of the parents. Owners and managers of businesses and what might be classified as officials make up 23 per cent of the parents.

Michigan's mild and almost snowless winter, while bringing good news to home owners who didn't have to purchase as much fuel as usual, also brings good news to Michigan's great army of deer hunters.

Michigan's conservation department says that the state's deer herd, confronted with mostly mild weather so far this winter, has yet to take to the yards in many areas.

District game managers report yarding evident in the western upper peninsula. Deer are facing the most severe conditions in the Keweenaw peninsula.

Low temperatures as well as deep snow appear to be responsible for driving the herd off the summer range in these locations.

Michigan which again ranks in first place among all of the states in the Union in the issuance of the greatest number of fishing licenses, can probably claim, as well, the possession of the greatest number of fishermen who fish without licenses.

Conservation department officials say that a recent research made by officials indicates that Michigan has from 500,000 to 750,000 fishermen annually who fish for "free," boosting the total ranks of the angling army to the 1,500,000-1,750,000 range.

The Department's institute for fisheries research counted anglers at three checking stations on upstate trout streams last year. A tabulation of state records suggests that a minimum of 20 per cent of all trout fishermen in the state are wives of licensed resident anglers and children under 17 years—entitled to fish free under present state regulations.

Again referring to complete 1948 figures, showing 1,089,000 licensed anglers of all types, department authorities are confident Michigan had at least 1,500,000 fishermen and possibly as high as 1,750,000 that year.

The three checking centers were operated last year in the northern lower peninsula at the Pigeon river trout research station, Hunt creek fishing experiment station, and at the Rifle river area.

On the Pigeon river, it was found that out of 2,233 days of angling, fishermen under 17 years accounted for 7.9 per cent of the total (176 days) and resident wives fishing on free stubs another 11.9 per cent (265 days).

On the Hunt creek drainage, out of 993 days of angling listed last year, anglers under 17 years accounted for 11.7 per cent of the total angling days and wives another 9.3 per cent.

There were 1,936 angling days on the books for the Rifle river area. It was noted that of the users of lakes and streams in this area, those under 17 years were responsible for 10.4 per cent of all angling days, wives another 10.8 per cent.

The prevailing temperature of the deeper waters of Lake Michigan remain throughout the year at about 39 degrees. It is for this reason that the eastern shore line of Michigan from the southern end of the state to the northern tip of Grand Traverse bay is able to produce the finest fruit that grows in the country.

Replacing grassy fencerows with hedgerows of multiflora rose and bicolor lespedeza and the encouragement of benign predators can materially reduce mouse damage on a farm and simultaneously increase game and fur-bearing populations.

Mice may destroy as much as 50 per cent of corn shocked in fields and as much as 75 per cent of an alfalfa crop.

Although populations show an increase, Dr. Hosley, biologist in charge of the Service's Section of Wildlife Investigation on Public Lands, warns that only limited hunting should be permitted by the states.

Moose populations in the U. S. are showing a gradual increase the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service states in a new wildlife pamphlet.

In Alaska, estimates of the present moose population show an approximate 30,000. Moose in Canada, according to population densities in the U. S. and Alaska, may number about 146,000.

Although populations show an increase, Dr. Hosley, biologist in charge of the Service's Section of Wildlife Investigation on Public Lands, warns that only limited hunting should be permitted by the states.

regulating moose numbers. State-wide open seasons with no control of the kill are likely to cause such great population reductions that decades would be required to reach the point where hunting again could be justified.

Dr. Hosley points out that in some instances it is important that moose be harvested, otherwise they will eat themselves out of "house and home," or die off from diseases and parasites.

Such die offs as observed on Isle Royale are not necessarily caused by starvation. The so-called "moose disease" is known to have killed many animals in the lake states and northern New England.

The report also shows that good deer foods are not necessarily good moose browse. White cedar is a very good winter deer food, but moose eat it only as a last resort.

Following the Bach concert in Detroit February 4, members of the Plymouth Symphony society were guests at a reception in honor of Leonard Bernstein, pianist and conductor of the concert.

Cubs' Banquet Well Attended

Over 125 Cubs and relatives attended the Cub Scouts of Pack 4 Blue and Gold banquet, celebrating 40 years of Scouting, held in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church Wednesday, February 8.

Charles Wyse, church representative, opened the pot luck dinner with a prayer, and Clifton Tillotson presided as master of ceremonies, ending his activities with Cubbing.

The program included group singing followed by a short movie, "The Cub in the Home." Arthur Henry, Scout executive from Detroit headquarters, spoke on "The Growth and Organization of Cubbing."

The Pack committee regretted to announce the retirement of R. B. Wallace as Cub Master, but are looking forward to the leadership of Frederick Berry, who is taking over immediately.

A citizen in Columbus, Georgia, who civic-mindedly cropped a 2-year growth of grass which hid a fireplug was promptly fined $6 for parking near it.

Members of the Plymouth group who met at the reception were Hanna Strasen, president of the Symphony society, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Friedman, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas-Marsh and Paul Wagner, director of the Plymouth Symphony, Friedman and Marsh are musicians in the local symphony orchestra.

The Fight for Christian Freedom Lesson for February 19: Acts 15: 1-6, 22-29; Galatians 2: 16

Memory Selection: Galatians 5: 1

AFTER PAUL and Barnabas had returned from the first missionary journey, certain men from Judea stirred up a controversy in the Antioch church, claiming Gentile converts should be circumcised.

Quite an important church council was gathered. Some, who had been Pharisees, contended that Gentiles should be circumcised. The council decided that circumcision should not be required, but took action to require Gentile converts to abstain from the use of the meat of animals offered to idols and from blood.

In its wise decision the church council did two things—it allayed contention in the church and freed Christianity from the burdens of Judaism and freed the church for world conquest.

Paul was the first to see Christianity as a world religion. We find his great deliverance concerning Christian liberty in the close of our lesson text. We are to be justified by faith in Christ alone.

Dust or Destiny Film to be Shown

A bird that travels more than 20,000 miles a year—from the South Pole in winter, to the North Pole in summer—is one of the marvels of nature shown in Dust or Destiny, scientific-religious film to be presented at the Calvary Baptist church, Ann Arbor and Elizabeth streets, tomorrow night at 7:30, according to the Rev. P. J. Clifford, pastor.

Twice a year making an uncharted flight that few human pilots would dare to attempt, the Arctic tern is probably the greatest of all migrant birds. As shown in the film, through some mysterious knowledge, the tern navigates from one pole to the other without any of the complicated instruments required by man.

Dust or Destiny is fourth in a series of Sermons from Science produced by Moody Bible Institute, Chicago. An important part of the armed forces Character Guidance program, these films are being shown all over the world.

Plymouth Varsity Club Reviews First Semester Program

by Hank Levering

The Varsity club of Plymouth High school, under the supervision of Coach Hilton Ponto, has planned and carried out many activities during the first semester. Since the club was much more active last semester than ever before, a review of its activities should be given.

The first activity of the semester was the choosing of new club officers. The following were chosen for offices: Ronald Bouldin, president; Bill Farwell, vice president; Dick Underwood, secretary; Dwight Eckler, treasurer; and Bob Gow, sergeant at arms. Bill Farwell took over the presidency when Ronnie Bouldin moved to Arizona.

The club sold popcorn at all home football games, sponsored noon hour dances, donated $50 to begin a drive to erect a broadcasting booth on the high school gridiron, had numbers made for the football players' fathers at the homecoming game with Northville, and revised its constitution to cover some new problems.

Later, the Varsity club sponsored an honor assembly to award letters to the cross-country and football teams so that the players would not have to wait until spring to gain their hard earned recognition. Round-out the semester was Mr. Varsity club initiation which took place just before examinations.

The new semester has already produced the Varsity club dinner which took place on Wednesday evening, February 1. Among the people invited were: Carvel Bentley, tennis coach; John Sandmann, varsity basketball and baseball coach; Hilton Ponto, club adviser and varsity football coach; Kon Moiso, track coach; Cyrus Pierce, principal; Helmer Nelson, superintendent; Miss Irene Waldorf, student council adviser; Don Sutherland, mayor; Robert Ingram, freshman football coach; John Klingeburger, freshman basketball coach, and Arthur Alford, junior high school principal. Other new activities are now being planned for this semester.

Summarize Hi-Y Activity During Past Semester

by Russ Merritt

The Plymouth Hi-Y club under the direction of Walter Goodwin and Harry Reeves, has been very active the past semester and because the club offers so much to young men of Plymouth it is interesting to review their activities during the preceding semester.

At the beginning of the year the club, which is divided into two chapters, elected respective officers for the two groups and one of their first large-scale activities was an outing at Camp Ohivesa on October 7, 8 and 9. The formal initiation was held for the new members Monday evening, October 10, in the high school gymnasium. October 26, the two chapters presented an assembly, which was sponsored by the student council, to discourage the students of Plymouth High school from destroying the Halloween paintings put on store windows by the art classes and to control their seasonal pranks.

The assembly portrayed the story of Pandora's box. When Pandora opened the box all the evils in the world came out and caused unhappiness, but Hope, who was always present, chased them back again. Early in November, the club held basketball games during the noon hour between the two chapters and much enthusiasm was aroused among the student body.

The White chapter held a meeting November 16, at the home of Melvin Guthrie during which they chose Don Sutherland, Melvin Schultz and Paul Harding to represent the White chapter at the Hi-Y legislative meeting in Lansing, December 9 and 10. James Latture spoke at the Blue chapter's meeting on parliamentary procedure November 14. After he had finished speaking, the boys asked him questions about topics which interested them. The Blue chapter was honored November 28 by the presence of Miss Neva Lovewell at their meeting. Miss Lovewell spoke to the boys about mental hygiene. The Blue chapter sponsored a hay ride for both chapters December 19, at which Christmas carols were sung as the wagon passed through the streets of Plymouth. The White chapter then sponsored a New Year's party for both chapters.

Because the club offers so much in the way of recreation for the youth of Plymouth High it should be regarded as a great asset to the community.

Band Adopts New Marking System

A new system of marking has been introduced to the Plymouth High school band by director Paul T. Wagner. Mr. Wagner is now marking on the basis of points given for attendance, practice, sectional rehearsals and solo or ensemble practice and performance.

This will be a great asset to members of the band for they will have a chance to work for their grade and know why they are getting it. Previously Mr. Wagner had to mark on attendance in band practices and concerts.

Grade marking is not the only use for this point system, for it will also be used in choosing the pupils to receive music scholarships in June and the pupil to receive the Arion Foundation award for outstanding musical achievement. One person from junior high will also receive this reward.

The persons who receive the Arion award will receive a bronze medal for achievement with a lapel pin to match.

Class Tours Local Clothing Stores

Mrs. Chrystena Soule's second hour homemaking class visited Dunning's and Taylor and Blyton's clothing stores February 6 where they saw the spring fashions that are to be worn this year.

The fourth hour class chose sewing as their project, which will continue for eight weeks, then start a new project. They started making cotton garments such as dresses, shorts, skirts and blouses. Each will make three garments.

The class has been organized as a group with Norma Hart calling the class to order, Margie Krause taking roll and reading the minutes, Jo Williams taking care of the bulletin board, Betsy Redman taking charge of field trips and Helen Schomberger keeping the room in order.

French Students Plan Club Entertainment at Schools, Colleges

The French club, under the supervision of Mrs. Virginia Calligari, held a meeting on Friday, February 10, to decide on entertainment in the future.

The secretary was instructed to write to various schools and colleges to find out whether they are offering any plays or other projects which would be of interest to members of the club.

The club meeting date has been changed again. It will be the second and fourth Fridays of the month because some of the members attend other meetings on the first and third. Club dues are payable now.

A man in Rock Island, Illinois was picked up for being drunk while riding on the town water wagon.

Y-Teens Hold Bake Sale at Goodale's

Beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, February 11 the White chapter of the Y-Teens held a bake sale at Goodale's grocery. Baked goods of all sorts were sold by the dozens as the morning progressed and the business increased. Publicity for the affair was chairman by Joyce Carson, and Arlene Dowling was the general chairman.

Juniors Give Mystery Play

"The Yellow Shadow," a three act mystery-comedy, will be presented by the junior class under the direction of Miss Louise Spence, dramatic coach, on February 16 and 17 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Those taking part in the play are Donna Hunt as Mildred Marvin; Judy Parmenter, Nell Travis; Charles Todd, Gilbert Wright; Pat Larson, Alice Perkins; Ann Waldecker, Hazel Wayne; Lawrence Henderlong, Jed Jarvis; Jack Kropf, Herbert Marvin; Dick Cramb, Sherbert Macklin; Erna Kiembaum, J. Steel, and Ross Diaz, Wong Song.

In the play, Mildred Marvin and her two friends come to the state of Washington to inspect a house inherited by Mildred. Shots are heard by the trio, then they meet a strange housekeeper and her husband, and finally a body is found under the table. The phantom that spirits people away and the Chinese who hides in a box both help frighten the suspense and mystery of the play.

Heading play committees that have been selected thus far are Roberta Merritt, tickets; Mary Anne Witwer, program printing; Mary Schlindler and Dorothy Curtis, publicity, and Naomi Mishler, properties.

NEW 1950 HUDSONS AT SENSATIONAL LOWER PRICES*

*ON EVERY SUPER AND CUSTOM COMMODORE MODEL

With "The New Step-Down Ride"

Here are 1950's most beautiful automobiles • The only cars with "step-down" design, which provides America's lowest center of gravity and the steadiest road-hugging ride ever known • Along with more room than in any other car • Here's the added safety of Hudson's exclusive Monobilt body-and-frame • The high-compression performance of America's most powerful Six • Or an even more powerful Eight • And all-range, Super-matic Drive† • Here, in short, are unique features that make Hudson alone to bring you "The New Step-Down Ride!"

TODAY'S THE DAY!
The day to see the gorgeous Hudsons for 1950 that bring you a fresh motoring experience—"The New Step-Down Ride"—at sensational lower prices on every Super and Custom Commodore model.

This is the ride that cradles you in the lowest-built car of them all!

You instantly see that these New Hudsons have the lowest center of gravity in any American automobile—and as a result, you know instinctively, as you view them, that they hug the road more tenaciously and are therefore America's best-riding, safest cars!

You quickly see, too, that these low-built Hudsons for 1950 have full road clearance and more head room than in any mass-produced car built today—thanks to "step-down" design with its recessed floor!

And amazing head room is only one kind of spaciousness you'll find in these great cars! Through "step-down" design and ingenious use of space that is wasted in other makes, these new, streamlined Hudsons of normal exterior width bring you seat cushions that are up to 12 inches wider than those in cars of greater outside dimensions.

In fact, when you try "The New Step-Down Ride", you'll find the New Hudson has more inside room than any other car, at any price!

You'll thrill to the get-up-and-go performance of your choice of two of the greatest engines in a long line of great Hudson engines—the high-compression Super-Six, America's most powerful Six, or the even more powerful high-compression Super-Eight!

But these are only a few of the great features of "The New Step-Down Ride" that mean more value at less cost. There are more, so many more that the only way to really appreciate all that the New Hudsons for 1950 have for you is to come in, try them yourself. May we expect you soon?

Hudson's exclusive SUPER-MATIC DRIVE†

Hudson brings you no-shift driving with Super-matic Drive, which includes the fuel economy of over-drive—the only transmission that shifts gears for you just as you want, doesn't creep on starts or after stops, doesn't slip as you roll along—and that can be converted to conventional drive at the touch of a button.

TROUSERS Dress - Work - Sport SHINGLETONS 37 Years in Plymouth Liberty Street

Plenty of Time For Cold Weather

When the last of February and early March comes, everyone begins to feel as though winter is over, or nearly so. But old timers recall the fact that late February and early March have provided Plymouth and vicinity with some of the severest of winter weather.

What these old timers say is borne out by a statement of a member of the faculty of the University of Michigan who ought to know.

As the day grows longer, the cold grows stronger is an old but true saying, according to Dr. Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the university.

Coldest weather of the winter should come during February since that is the period when the amount of heat from the sun, which has been increasing since December 21, manages to overtake the rate at which the earth has been cooling off since winter's arrival, she reports.

"Before we get enough heat from the sun to start the warmth that will bring spring, we have to go through a period in which the heating and cooling of the earth's surface are pretty much in balance," Dr. Losh points out. "And that is when the thermometer is apt to start plunging to its lowest point of the winter season."

Should late February produce the expected number of cold and clear nights the amateur astronomers will have an excellent opportunity to observe another of the winter sky's, the constellation Leo.

"This star group is so striking as to be unmistakable," Dr. Losh asserts. "It is the fierce lion that prowls in the sky jungle below the Great Bear which is the Big Dipper."

Look southward along a line through the two stars on the outer edge of the Big Dipper's bowl and in the opposite direction of the North Star. The principle stars of the constellation are arranged in the form of a sickle or, if you prefer, a reversed question mark. The sickle outlines the lion's head with the bright Regulus in the handle. To the east of the sickle is a right angle triangle with the star in the extreme eastern angle being Denebola, or the Lion's Tail.

Editor Speaks on Great Books at Madonna College

"A book which has changed the thinking of the world—whether for good or bad—is a Great Book," said the Rev. Harold C. Gardiner, S. J., literary editor of the Catholic Weekly of America, and well-known lecturer, who addressed an assembly of faculty members, students and guests at Madonna college on February 5. "Today's Great Books Movement" was his topic.

Though today this movement is generally understood to be a tool for adult education and a means for preparing an informed electorate, the idea of delving into the Latin, Greek and English classics is something which all education has done to varying degrees, said Father Gardiner. Since about 20 years ago, the idea was given added force at St. John's college, Annapolis, where Great Books were used as classroom texts. For example, Euclid's actual theorems and propositions were used in studying geometry. The same principle was used regarding other subjects. About six years ago, the University of Chicago took up the idea of promoting a study of One Hundred Great Books. Extending such a study over a period of four years, about 25 books were selected for group study for each of those years. Today, the Great Book Movement goes on as a separate foundation, independent of the University of Chicago. Discussions of the One Hundred Great Books are held now in many public literary centers.

Father Gardiner stressed the fact that though some of the books listed among the great are not good for all individuals to read, it is also true that good can be found among the worst. A participant in such discussions would be most wise, then, to be sure that the books he talked about were books he was free to read. He also said that if participation in such a fine cultural movement did little more than lead more people out of reading merely best sellers, it would be a fine step to take.

Firmly, the Men's Division of the Fashion Foundation of America announced that from now on the well-groomed man will have to carry a vanity case, even as do women, and include in it comb, mirror, deodorant, toothbrush, and powder to conceal late-afternoon whiskers.

General Motors displayed 38 new cars, among them a yellow Cadillac, upholstered in silver satin and Somaliland leopard skin with gold plated hardware, that cost $35,000. Among the prominent guests attending the show were the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

Rural Tele-news

DID YOU KNOW?—About 50% of the farms of America now have telephones—a higher proportion than in any other country in the world. In Michigan Bell territory about 7 out of 10 rural establishments have telephones. That's pretty close to Michigan Bell's city telephone development.

SO MUCH FOR SO LITTLE—Someone described telephone service as a big package filled with the good things of life. Convenience—the telephone saves time and steps. Security—the telephone stands guard 24 hours a day. Comfort—the telephone keeps you in touch with friends and relatives. When you consider all that the telephone does, its small cost makes it one of the best buys on today's market.

BLOWING BUBBLES—To help keep telephone service reliable, thousands of miles of Long Distance cables are filled with harmless nitrogen gas. If a cable is damaged, the gas pressure drops and sets off an alarm indicating the approximate location of the damage. To find the actual break in the cable sheath, if it's so small it can't be seen, the repairman may paint the cable with soapuds—the exact point of damage being indicated by bubbles blown by the escaping gas.

Down Under The Florida Palm Trees With The Mail's Roving Wolverine

Michigan and the rest of the country isn't the only section that has been experiencing "unusual" winter weather.

Down here in Florida, it has been hot, unusually so. The U. S. weather bureau reported the other day that the weather during the month of January was five degrees above normal—and that is something for this time of the year even in Florida.

Not only has the weather been warm, especially during some of the days, but the rainfall has been less than the average. It was over two inches less during January than the average of past years.

February is starting out unusually warm but what it will be by the end of the month, not even the weather man now dares predict.

At one of the biggest meetings of the Rotary club Miami has ever had, one of those silly things happened the other day—so silly that it disgusted nearly 250 visiting Rotarians from 39 states of the Union and about the same number of Miami Rotarians.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, had been booked as the speaker of the day. But when it came time to introduce the speaker, there was no William Green present although he had given newspapers copies of the speech he was going to make to the club.

Then came the explanation. It seemed that the Columbus hotel sometime last year had hired a painter to do some work. He was not a member of the local union. So the Painter's union picketed the hotel the day that "Bill" Green was to make his speech. He was advised that the hotel was being picketed—and like Eleanor Roosevelt who wouldn't cross a picket line to see a show in New York, Bill Green wouldn't attend a Rotary club meeting in Miami.

It developed later that the chairman of the program committee was a personal friend of the AFL president—and wasn't his apartment used? Have been down by the hotel several times since, and haven't seen any pickets around it.

Charter members of the Plymouth Rotary club will well remember Dr. Edward Lee, a former resident of Wayne who is now a permanent resident of Miami. It was through the efforts of Dr. Lee that the Plymouth Rotary club was organized more than a quarter of a century ago. He missed him at some of the Rotary meetings—and was pleased to meet him the other day. Dr. Lee has been confined to a hospital for sometime, but now is sufficiently recovered to be able again to take an active part in club affairs. He was a visitor at a Plymouth Rotary club meeting last summer, when he was in Michigan for a brief visit. He asked to be remembered to all of his old Plymouth friends.

There are probably more traffic accidents in Miami per minute just now than in any other place in the country. Have figured out the reason. Miami traffic officers lean so far back in their efforts to be courteous to visiting motorists, a lot of upstarts from New York, New Jersey and elsewhere take advantage of it, with the accidents as a result.

It has been quite surprising to note as one drives the streets down here to see traffic officers giving drivers of cars bearing Florida license traffic tickets. But in the weeks the writer has been here, haven't witnessed a single out-state driver ticketed for any traffic offense. But that isn't saying a lot of them shouldn't be slapped in jail for some of the traffic violations they commit.

Miami, apparently, is going out of its way to be more than decent to visiting motorists—but it must shamefully be admitted that a lot of these visitors are unworthy of the courtesy being extended them by Miami traffic officers.

Plymouth residents who like to tour the Upper Peninsula doubtless know of Phil DeGraff's Trout Lake resort. During the past 20 or 25 years he has developed a most interesting place for summer visitors, located on a peninsula between two lakes. His cabins are rated among the best in that part of the country and his main lodge is a most unusual place, with both indoor and outdoor fireplaces.

But Phil has reached the age where he doesn't like to spend the winters wading through four, five and six feet of snow that usually covers the ground in the woods that surround his camp.

So along about Christmas time he digs out for the warm south. But being a "resort keeper" he just can't keep his hands out of it when in Florida, where about the only business is resort keeping.

Last year Phil ran most successfully the dining room of a big hotel in Miami—but it proved too much work for him. He decided to take things a little easier this year. So he leased a small but nice little hotel over at Bonita Springs on the Gulf side of the state. He proposes to keep it open until about April first, when he will go back to the Upper Peninsula and get his Trout Lake resort ready for its summer business.

Already through his energetic work and pleasing way of handling customers, the Bonita Springs hotel has shown an increase in business over last year, although on the average, the tourist business is not as good down here as a year ago.

There is a little rush right now, but people are not making the long stays they have in past years, except those that find it advisable because of health reasons.

If any one ever tells you that Florida people are not alarmed when one of their summer hurricanes strikes, just put it down as so much chatter. When over at Lake Okeechobee the other day, a resident of the city of Okeechobee told me that he remained at home during the entire storm last summer, although thousands of residents in that part of the state were taken up to the higher and more central part of the state.

He declared that a hurricane isn't so bad if it comes during the day time, but when it strikes at night and continues for seven or eight hours, with the winds and rain growing in intensity every minute, there isn't a man living who wouldn't be frightened by this terror of nature.

"You can't see what is happening. All you can do is just guess. You do not know whether the water that covers the ground is just rain water or water that is flooding inland from the lake or the ocean. The roar of the winds is terrifying. They can tell you it doesn't scare them, but that just isn't so. Every person is frightened, and they have every reason to be afraid of a hurricane that strikes after dark," he declared.

Up in Palm Beach county, the officials have just let a contract to have nearly 20,000 Australian pines that line many of the roadways in that county removed. The contractor has promised to have the work done within a year. These big trees are being cut down in order to prevent road blockades during hurricanes. In past years it has been impossible for people on the lowlands west of Palm Beach to get to higher places of safety as the hurricanes approach because of fallen pines across roadways. After the hurricanes are over, it has been necessary to use bulldozers to clear roadways in order to get relief to hurricane victims. So the county as a safety measure has ordered every Australian pine standing alongside a roadway to be cut down. Apparently the county has made a count of the number of these trees along the roadsides, as the contract calls for the removal of 18,970 pines.

Saw Publisher John S. Knight of the Detroit Free Press and Mrs. Knight at the "Music Circus" the other night. Mr. Knight is also owner and publisher of the Miami Herald, which is a good newspaper, but not in the class of his Detroit publication. Commented to the "Madam" at the time that I bet the Herald would have a good write-up of this unusual musical event—and sure enough two or three mornings later, there was a five column, top-of-page feature. There had been barely a mention of this highly entertaining feature in The Herald until after Mr. Knight's visit to "the tent."

Roger Babson Says...

Babson Discusses Things To Come

Once each year I like to write about things to come as I see them. These suggestions are not original with me, however. They are based on talks which I have had with leading scientists and inventors.

Flying Like Birds

1. It is believed that experiments will soon start in connection with individuals flying as do eagles, gulls and carrier pigeons. An alloy of magnesium and titanium should enable an individual to carry a very light engine and wings. Furthermore, new powerful gases being developed would enable a very small light turbine engine to lift and propel an individual. This person may be obliged to wear a special suit containing a light gas. It is true that nothing of the kind has as yet been developed, but it is on the drawing boards. Far greater speeds for commercial planes are definitely assured. Within five years I expect to fly from New York to Los Angeles in two hours.

Partly Overcoming Gravity

2. Considering the millions of possible alloys which have not yet been gavity tested, it is possible that someone will stumble on to an alloy which serves as a partial insulator for gravity. By the use of such for stair-treads, it would require no more effort to walk upstairs than to walk on the level. In addition to such a discovery being a great boon to those with heart trouble, it will be welcomed by all merchants who have great difficulty in getting customers to go up even a few steps, to a mezzanine floor.

Better and Cheaper Foods

3. Chemists are making headway in preparing sugar, proteins and yeasts from small trees, and other food direct from grasses, water and sunshine. These experiments are to "by-pass" the cow and the steer, both of which are now very inefficient manufacturers of milk and beef! The whole study of diet is in a most elementary stage. We will have much more tasty and nourishing food direct from the use of minerals, sunshine, water and air, at much lower prices. We will buy peaches ground up, skin, flesh and seed; meats and fish ground up, bones, body and skin; while lobsters will be sold claws, meat and tamale all ground into a delicious paste suitable for lobster bisque or thermidor. These preparations will be more tasty and nourishing and sell for less money because of the reduced labor involved.

Unlimited Power of The Mind

4. The power of the mind over matter has been emphasized by certain religious organizations; but only recently has such power been tested in laboratories. I am especially interested in the work of Professor J. B. Rhine of Duke University, Durham, North Carolina. His experiments definitely prove that the mind acting upon a plant or planted seeds can have a direct effect in hastening or retarding growth. The Fonda Horse, three miles south of Richmond, Virginia is worthy of study.

Watch the Plastic Industry

5. The use of plastics has, as yet, hardly been scratched. Women are carrying plastic bags and are wearing plastic raincoats; but other plastic materials, including rugs and dress goods, are about ready for the market. The purpose of these is to entirely eliminate weaving by rolling out the goods from a liquid the same as paper is now made. Leather shoes, which now require about 100 separate operations, will someday largely be discarded for quickly moulded shoes. Such plastic shoes should stand up longer, be more beautiful, requiring only 10 workers instead of 100, and will sell for half present prices.

A Universal Religion

6. I visualize a great movement toward Church consolidations. Many readers may not class such a movement as "miraculous" as some of the above developments, but it will be. No wealth, inventions, or new products will make the world a better place in which to live unless accompanied by a spiritual awakening. All these can be used either to construct or to destroy according to the peoples' religious faith. The first step to such a spiritual awakening will be Church consolidations and a universal religion.

NEW SLANT Washington Feared Colonists Lacked Virtue To Triumph

GEORGE WASHINGTON was beset by terrible fears that the colonists could not win the Revolution and that they probably didn't deserve freedom anyway. This conclusion comes from a letter he wrote his third cousin, Lund Washington:

"Dear Lund . . . I cannot deny myself the comfort of unburthening my mind to you. I know the goodness of your heart.

"Heaven knows how truly I love my country; and that I embarked in this arduous enterprise on the purest motives. But we have over-shot our mark: we have grasped at things beyond our reach: it is impossible that we should succeed; and I cannot with truth say, that I am sorry for it because I am far from being sure that we deserve to succeed. . . . I would rather be even as I am than tamely crouch, whilst chains were fastening round my neck; for there is not, in my estimation, so vile a thing upon earth as a human being who, having once enjoyed liberty, to patiently bear to see it taken from him. On these principles, and these only, I first took up arms.

"I knew not that I would be appointed to this high station only to be disgraced and ruined, till about the middle and latter end of last February; when, contrary to my wishes, I found it necessary that we should come to open hostilities against our fellow subjects. . . . There are not a hundred men in America that know our true situation; three-fourths of the Congress itself are ignorant of it; yourself excepted, there lives not a man at all acquainted with my peculiar circumstances. The world looks upon us as in possession of an army all animated with the pure flame of liberty, and determined to die rather than not be free. But, you know how remote in my judgment all this is from the truth."

THE STARS

By LYNN O'NEILLY

THE "GIVE AND TAKE" show, heard every Saturday over CBS, revolves around the sparkling personality of heavy set, dynamic John Reed King. . . . As emcee of the popular daytime audience participation show, King exhibits an amazing mike technique developed during his 12 years in radio. . . . His smooth but booming voice, combined with humor, make every performance of "Give and Take" a warm, interesting and enjoyable episode for the theatre audience, as well as for the millions who listen to the show at home.

Perhaps the key to John's amazing success as a radio "master of ceremonies" is the fact that he really likes and understands people. . . . A Princeton-trained psychologist, he gets a great kick out of interviewing and questioning the hundreds of men and women who participate in the "Give and Take" show. He was 16 when he got his first job in radio—announcing for an orchestra. . . . Since then he has covered all types of broadcasts and special events. . . . He has interviewed thousands of women on "Give and Take" and his other radio and TV shows and has decided that there is only one thing they are really sensitive about—their weight!

I've given away so many refrigerators on "Give and Take" I get fan letters from ice cubes," he claims. And he's just the kind of a guy who probably answers them, too. . . . Friendly and intelligent, this husky six-foot quizzmaster is as informal as a village postmaster and more unpredictable. . . . Studio engineers sprout gray hair like winter wheat when King grabs a mike and dashes about in the audience, one lone bow tie in a swirl of sequins and shopping bags.

King has unbowed optimism in the future of audience shows in radio and television. "Unrehearsed programs have the verve and zip of a frisky puppy on a postman's picnic."

After winning first prize at a state fair for his chocolate cake, a navy cook in Columbia, S. C. pointed out disappointedly: "My light fruitcake was the prettiest and best."
