THE FUTURE WILL BE WHAT WE MAKE IT.

As we see it there is no small city in Michigan that has a greater future before it than our good little city of Plymouth. But we have our problems and it is going to take work to solve those problems—work, REAL WORK—for every one residing in Plymouth.

We asked for a NEW city commission after the recall. The voters have given it to Plymouth, even though the majority of our good citizens did not see fit to exercise their right and duty to vote in Monday's election. But we do have the NEW commission, and we can begin with an entirely new viewpoint in municipal administration.

There will be new ideas to work out, and old problems to solve, but we believe that with new enthusiasm, coupled with the desire of accomplishment, our NEW commission will put forth a determined effort to accomplish that which will be for the benefit of our city.

The commission asked for and was given by the voters the right of direct administration of all municipal activities. There will now be no opportunity to place responsibility upon some hired employe for whatever errors that might take place hereafter.

Success of the commission's efforts, however, does not lie entirely upon the commission members. It is just as much your responsibility to see to it that the right thing is done for Plymouth as it is the responsibility of a commission member.

Plymouth's civic spirit, like many other communities, as evidenced by the vote Monday, throughout Michigan, is at a pretty low ebb. That, too, needs rebuilding. Here's a job the newly vitalized Chamber of Commerce can begin today and make Plymouth the most civic minded city in Michigan!

THE CRUCIFIXION

And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.

And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head,

And began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews!

And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees worshipped him.

And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him . . .

And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull.

And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh; but he received it not.

And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take.

And it was the third hour, and they crucified him . . .

And with him they crucify two thieves, the one on his right hand, and the other on his left . . .

And they that passed by rallied on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days,

Save thyself, and come down from the cross . . .

And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.

And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elias.

And one ran and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let alone; let us see whether Elias will come to take him down.

And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.—MARK XV.

A MISERABLE FAILURE.

The Republicans need no longer look for a campaign issue. The Republican national committee says the issue is one of "Liberty" advocated by Republicans or "State Socialism" advocated by Fair Dealers.

We say the issue is one of AMERICAN FREEDOM against the most slipshod administration this or any other country ever had—a carelessness that has enabled spies and traitors to steal our defense plans and give them to our bitterest enemy.

For more than twelve long years we have opened our doors to spies and thieves. We have welcomed with blaring trumpets the burglars carrying daggers—and when Republicans have protested, the administration has accused the alarmists of dragging "red herrings" over the first pages of newspapers. They have belittled every effort to warn the people of this treachery.

Now we say that because of this defense of the spying thieves and because of the general carelessness displayed in the protection of our country and its people, the administration in power has earned a crushing defeat. And that is what we think it is going to get. Maybe the Republicans can lead us away from the brink of war into which we have been led by a lot of braying asses. If they cannot do it, may God have mercy on America.

MICHIGAN'S FINANCIAL TROUBLES.

It is not at all difficult to place your finger on the reason for Michigan's financial troubles. It all began when the voters were urged to write into the constitution certain financial restrictions and obligations. When the voters said that the weight and the gas tax should all be allocated for highway purposes and that more than two thirds of the sales tax revenues should be paid back to townships, cities and school districts, Michigan citizens voted away the great portion of the state's income. Not until these restrictions are removed from the constitution will Michigan be able to conduct its fiscal policies in a way satisfactory to the vast majority of the people of this state. And not until the state elects officials who know something about economy will there be any hope of a time when Michigan's government will be operated and for the benefit of ALL the people.

FERRIS INSTITUTE.

We hope there will be no hesitation upon the part of the legislature in granting a proper and immediate appropriation for the rebuilding of the structures destroyed by fire recently at the Ferris Institute in Big Rapids. The school, over a long period of years, has been a worthy Michigan educational institution. It has opened the way to success for a very large number of Michigan residents. Its worth has been long established—now in its hour of need—let's give it to the school. Michigan will profit by it in the years to come.

A JURY DOES ITS DUTY.

It is with much satisfaction that we recently read in the newspapers that another jury of freemen had performed its duty as it saw fit—and convicted two accused persons of spying for an unfriendly government. Judith Coplon and her Russian "lover" will have plenty of time behind bars to think over what it means to betray a country that has been so good to them. If good American juries keep up their splendid work, maybe we will get rid of some of the red-tainted trash that has infested Washington since the dawn of the New Deal.

Plan Homecoming - Fourth Celebration

Announcement was made at the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce banquet held last Thursday night at the Mayflower hotel of a decision of that organization to sponsor a big homecoming and Fourth of July celebration in Plymouth on July 3 and 4 this year.

President Ray Williams has named Ralph Lorenz, manager of the Mayflower hotel, as general chairman of the committee to plan the two day celebration—the first one that will have been held in Plymouth in years.

Mr. Williams stated that the committee will begin work immediately on the plans and that the entire community will be asked to cooperate in making the event a success.

Robert Marsden, chairman of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce hospital committee, reported at the meeting that the committee was busy securing facts, studying the needs and type of a hospital that this community needs, discussing proposed sites, sources of financial aid and costs, as well as proper maintenance after a hospital is built.

Because of the absence of Frank Arlen, chairman of the organization's housing committee, Ralph Lorenz made a brief report, which indicated that there were no immediate prospects for more than 100 new homes in Plymouth and vicinity during the forthcoming year. Lack of sewer and other public utilities in the south end of the city makes it impossible at present for any development in that area, although it is anticipated that there are at least 5,000 families who would move into the Plymouth trading area if there were homes available.

Complete Plans For Woman's Club Spring Benefit

Plymouth's first opportunity to see and hear Fred Kendall since his recent television success will be had April 19 when the Plymouth Woman's club presents its Spring Charity Benefit at 1:15 p.m. in the Penniman Allen theater.

Kendall won first place on the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scout show three weeks ago and appeared on Godfrey's morning broadcast. He will begin in a new weekly radio show Easter Sunday at 12:15 p.m. over station WJR, and will sing hymns every Sunday at this time. A featured singer on WJR's "Anything Goes" show, Kendall has sung with the civic opera in Detroit, the Plymouth Symphony and the Detroit Symphony, besides personal appearances in Detroit clubs.

Other entertainers on the Charity Benefit program include Karrell Fox, well known magician, who has given performances for several groups in Plymouth; Chris and Sherry, a prominent dance team from the Christopher Smith dancing studios in Detroit, and the Singing Sentinels, a quartet sponsored by the Kaiser-Frazer company.

Tickets for the event are on sale at the Wimsatt Appliance shop, Barney's Plymouth Grill, or those interested can call Mrs. Cecil Packard at 1888-W. The program will benefit the Cancer Detection society, the Girl Scout Cabin fund, the Plymouth Symphony society and the Crippled Children's committee. Mrs. Eugene Crosby is general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Groth, co-chairman.

Rain and Mud Bog Traffic in Both City And Country

Mud—not political—just plain everyday mud—continued to bog down Plymouth and vicinity the first of this week. The hopes that maybe things would be better and that people living on unpaved roads in the country would be able to use their automobiles faded Monday afternoon and night when it rained again.

The early Tuesday morning downpour added new troubles. Even the basement of the post-office building on Penniman avenue was flooded as well as many basements in homes. During most of the day two or three inches of water covered the floor.

Postmaster George Timpona was hopeful that mail could be delivered directly to the front door of everybody living in Plymouth and to the mail boxes along the rural routes. But his hopes, too, were shattered by the continued rain during the early part of the week.

Travel on unpaved streets and roads has never been quite as bad as during the past few days. Untold damage has been done to black-top pavings. Some sections of country roads will have to be entirely repaved and many graveled thoroughfares will need resurfacing.

While Rouge river and Tonquish creek went high over the banks, flood conditions were not (Continued on page 8)

Pass Resolution to Widen North Side of Main St.

Requests by citizens to abolish the city's plan to widen sections of Main street were heard by members of the city commission last Tuesday night. Those making the requests stated that the money spent on the widening should be used for improving other streets in the city badly in need of paving.

Following a discussion on the need for widening Main between Mill and Starkweather streets, Commissioner Fisher offered a resolution asking for a 7 foot widening on both sides of this section Main street. The resolution was not supported so no vote was taken. A resolution was then proposed for the widening of Main on just the north side of the street, and for the addition of necessary drainage. The cost of widening and of additional drainage will be assessed property owners according to frontage. Improvements of present drainage cannot be assessed.

This resolution was passed over the negative votes of Commissioners Hammond and Hough. A public hearing on the matter will be held May 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the commission chambers.

For the fourth consecutive year the officers and members of the Fellowship Degree team of Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47 F. & A. M. will journey to another state to exemplify the Master Mason degree according to the Michigan ritual.

The trip this year will be to Nashville, Tennessee, via special train, over the weekend of May 19. The host lodge will be Buena Vista Lodge No. 639, F. & A. M. These trips are both instructive and entertaining, making it possible for the members to see how the various states exemplify the Master Mason degree. The ritual in each state differs. They also promote fraternalism and enable the members to get better acquainted with each other.

City Benefits From C of C Says Banquet Speaker

First of a series of quarterly banquets planned by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce took place Thursday evening—and if it is an indication of what future meetings will be, there is in store for this progressive city some of the finest inspirational gatherings held in many a year.

Attended by nearly 100 local business men, those present heard William Otto, secretary of the Lansing Chamber of Commerce and one of the outstanding civic organizational leaders in the country, give his ideas of what makes a worthwhile city.

President Ray Williams called upon Secretary George A. Smith to introduce the speaker of the evening, who found occasion to point to the Mayflower hotel, where the banquet was held, as an example of what can happen when a group of business men join together to see to it that a good idea of some citizen is carried out.

It is but natural that you will find in nearly every community those that are selfish, those who are suspicious, those who are jealous and also distrustful. There is another group we might add to these four—those who are indifferent and are perfectly willing to let the other fellow do it, although he benefits by what the other fellow does," said Mr. Otto.

Census Takers Go to Work in Area

Twenty census takers have begun their question and answer sessions in Plymouth, Northville and Livonia, and hope to have all their vital statistics in about three or four weeks. They started working last Saturday but were hampered by heavy rains and muddy roads.

Residents of rural areas are asked to have the questionnaires sent to them by the federal government filled out and ready for the census taker. Enumerators working in the Plymouth area include Shirley Berry, Lula Pride, Mary Sackett, Nellie Irene Calkins, Margaret Walsh, Geneva Birchall, Ruth Secord, Gladys Tillotson and Mac J. Donnelly. Enumerators in Livonia are H. L. Blake, Wanda Sergison, Dorothy Anders, Ada Daggett, Gene Thompson, Ellen Vincent and Hazel Withey. Those taking the census in Northville are Mrs. Steve Veresh, Doris Herrick, Florence Smith and Laura Morse. Norman Marquis is census leader for the area.

Authorize City Manager to Raise Rubbish Fee

The city manager was authorized by the city commission on Tuesday night to raise the fee for special rubbish collection by 50 percent. This raise will help defray the city's increasing expenses for rubbish collecting.

"We Were Amazed With The Calls Your Ad Produced"

"Last week we had a herd of cows for sale so we put want ads in the Ann Arbor Daily News, The Ypsilanti Press, The Milford Times, The Northville Record and The Plymouth Mail. We had three calls from one of the papers, two from another and one each from two others... UNTIL NOON ON SATURDAY WE HAD EIGHT CALLS FROM THE PLYMOUTH MAIL... We had heard before your want ad columns really get results so here is an extra two dollars for the paper so that we can get it at our home every week. The herd was sold on Friday," said Mrs. William Beck, who resides at 9115 Six Mile road at Northville.

Couple Takes California Trip Following Wedding

At a candlelight service in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, Irene Mae Newman became the bride of Jack Arnold Wixson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wixson of Five Mile road. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, April 1. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Newman of Stark road are the parents of the bride.

A gown of white satin and net was the bride's choice for her evening wedding. White satin fashioned the fitted bodice and the bouffant skirt of net was edged in satin and finished in the back with a large satin bow. She wore a veil of illusion edged in lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Sister of the bride, Mrs. Robert Adams, served as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Beverly Newman, sister-in-law of the bride; Betty Wixson, sister of the bridegroom; and Mae Glass. Yellow taffeta styled the gown worn by the honor matron, while blue taffeta gowns were worn by the bridesmaids. The bridal attendants carried nosegays of yellow roses and blue carnations.

Duties of the best man were carried out by the bridegroom's brother, Homer Wixson. The guests were seated by Donald Eickholdt, Robert Adams and John Whitsell.

Warren Valley Country club was the setting of the reception which followed the wedding.

Mrs. Newman selected a gown of cinnamon lace for the occasion. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Wixson, was gowned in a yellow dress with green lace trim.

After returning from a wedding trip to California, Mr. and Mrs. Wixson will make their home on Rayburn avenue in Livonia.

Justly to discriminate, firmly to establish, wisely to prescribe, and honestly to award—these are the true aims and duties of criticism. —Simms

Predicts Record For Plymouth Automobile License Plate Sales

Total number of license plates issued from the Plymouth branch office of the secretary of state by Manager Frank Rambo for the current year totals over 8,700.

The total number of licenses issued during the year 1949 was a little over 10,000.

Manager Rambo predicts that if the present rate of applications continues and there is not much decrease in the number of new cars purchased, the total number of license plates that will have been issued by the Plymouth office during the present year will be a record breaker, far exceeding the total of last year.

He believes that the total will go way over 11,000 plates, and may even reach 12,000.

Up to the present time the number of licenses issued so far this year exceeds by more than 500 the number issued up to the same date last year.

There have been issued 7,350 passenger car licenses, 650 commercial car licenses, 300 farm commercial licenses, 500 trailer licenses and about 25 motorcycle and scooter licenses.

Shopper's Choice

As the temperature rises, so does interest in new spring clothes. Plymouth shops are well stocked with suits, dresses, coats and accessories that offer a spring tonic to wardrobes.

All styles of new spring coats in fleece, gabardine and covert can be found at Dunning's department store. Two well known lines, Kay McDowell in junior sizes, and Prinz-Biederman in misses sizes, are featured in a variety of new shades. Popular again this season are the short topplers, though Dunning's carry the full-length types, too.

Occasionally the ladies steal a fashion idea from the well dressed gentlemen, and such was the case with the new tailored pink shirts for women. Brooks Brothers originally brought out a man's pink shirt, and college girls started buying them. Now Bobbie Brooks has made a girl's junior size shirt in the same shade of pink as the original Brooks shirt. They can be bought at the Norma Cassidy store and are an exact style duplicate of Dad's shirt.

Teen-agers will be especially pleased to know that by purchasing a pair of the new Margaret O'Brien shoes at Willoughby Brothers shoe store, they will receive a coupon for a 15 minute private dance lesson at the Arthur Murray Dance studios. The new Margaret O'Brien shoes are flattering, low heeled shoes in suedes and leathers. They come in many styles and colors—even a sophisticated grey.

City Commission Passes 3rd Reading of Subdivision Ordinance

Members of the city commission passed the third reading of the Subdivision Ordinance at the meeting Tuesday night.

The ordinance established regulations governing the subdivision of land. It provides for the procedure for the preparation and filing of plats, and the hearing and final approval of the plat by the Planning commission and the city commission.

It also provides for the platting regulations and requirements in regards to the conformity to the city pain streets, alleys, basements, monuments, lots, block, open space, use of land utilities and improvements, and provides for the enforcement and imposing of penalties for the violation of this ordinance.

Labor Condition Good in Plymouth

Employment conditions in and around Plymouth are better than they have been in many months, according to Clarence Jetter, manager of the Plymouth unemployment office.

He stated this week that the list of those seeking employment was the lowest it had been at any time since last fall and that applications for unemployment insurance had also decreased considerably during recent weeks.

There are exceedingly few layoffs at any of the Plymouth factories. In fact, he stated, some have been hiring additional help.

Moms

Plymouth Unit No. 18 of the Moms of America, Inc. will hold their next business meeting on Monday, April 10 at 8 p.m. at the Veterans' Memorial center on Main street.

The unit will entertain the state and national board members at this meeting.

In Mobile, Mrs. Mildred Rice read the fine print on her divorce decree, learned she had been given custody of her ex-husband rather than her child.

The Reverend Charles P. MacGregor, who is 77, has been commuting 148 miles daily from Concord, New Hampshire, to study at Boston university.

Rotarians Aid Many Afflicted

Members of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday noon heard much about the good work that the club in cooperation with the other Rotary organizations in Michigan is doing for crippled and afflicted children.

Rotarians Aid Many Afflicted

The speaker was T. F. Kuckelman of Belleville, president during the current year of the Wayne Out-County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults. He was introduced by Russell Daane of the Plymouth club who over a long period of years has been active in crippled children work as well as having served as an officer of the county organization. Mr. Daane is at present serving as chairman of the Rotary club's crippled children committee.

The extensiveness of the work carried on by Rotarians in behalf of afflicted children as well as adults was emphasized strongly by Mr. Kuckelman.

He told of the many benefits that have come as a result of this work and of the expansion of the club's health program during the years.

He stated that the club is now providing aid not only for crippled children but those who are handicapped by rheumatic fever and cardiac afflictions, as well as for those needing aid because of poor vision, hearing and afflicted speech conditions. While the club finds it necessary, he said, to provide some funds, he pointed out that the volunteer aid given by Rotarians as well as the wives of Rotarians makes it possible for the club to do much more for the afflicted than it would be possible if it had to depend entirely upon such finances as are available.

Plan Program For Men's Club Dinner

"Love in a Cupboard," a play presented by the Plymouth Theater Guild, will be the featured entertainment for Ladies Night at the next meeting Thursday, April 13, of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Presbyterian church.

The play was arranged for the night by Stewart Dodge. The cast includes Mrs. Hugh Law, Marvin Terry, Max Trucks and Mrs. John Gaffield, and is directed by Adele Miller. The assisting committee is Emily Mosher, Andrienne Gates and Charlotte Winterhalter.

Frank Newell will serve as the master of ceremonies, Bob Wilson is kitchen chairman and Earl Reh will lead the community singing. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., and tickets are now on sale. All men are invited to come and bring their ladies with them.

Slate Wayne Teacher, Merritt as Hi-12 Speakers

James McMonagle, professor of speech at Wayne university, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Hi-Twelve April 12. Joe Merritt is the scheduled speaker for the April 19 meeting. Merritt, as a member of the U. S. armed forces, participated in the infamous "Death March" on Bataan. He will tell of his experiences as a prisoner of the Japs. The movie, "America the Beautiful," was shown to members at last night's meeting.

MAYOR MCGUP

By John Jarvis

Laud Sponsors And Symphony at Annual Meeting

"I don't need to tell you that you have a fine orchestra," Dr. David Mattern, of the University of Michigan, told Plymouth Symphony society members who attended the annual dinner and election March 28. He praised the orchestra's ambitious and energetic director, Paul Wagner, for the great strides the orchestra has made, and the people of Plymouth for their backing of the musical group.

the society for the past year, encouraged the members to bring others into membership in the Plymouth Symphony society "not only for the money but for the widening circle of interest so necessary to the continuance of the orchestra."

Goes North-Gets Stuck in Snow

Maybe you think spring has arrived in Michigan because the robins are singing early every morning and because the calendar says its springtime in Michigan—but Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fisher are not so sure spring is here.

Last weekend they did have an idea that spring had really arrived hereabouts so they loaded up their car and started for their cottage up near Petoskey.

Near Cadillac they ran into a blizzard that was sweeping over northern Michigan. A few miles south of Cadillac along with some 40 or 45 other cars they became stuck in the snowbanks and were not released from the snowdrifts until a highway snowplow had cleared some of the drifting snow from the highway some hours later.

Mr. Fisher says that part of the state is still covered with snow. In some places it appears to be over a foot deep, he stated.

"Going to wait awhile before moving the family up there for the summer months," he said Tuesday after his arrival home.

Social items can be phoned to 1755.

Sally Sheer Shop Loses Lease; to Close April 15

Back to Ireland For a Vacation

When July first arrives, Miss Mary Murray, long time employe of the Daisy Manufacturing company, will be flying over the Atlantic back to her native Ireland where she plans to spend a two months' vacation among relatives and old friends.

It will be her first visit to Ireland in 26 years—"and you can tell all of the readers of The Plymouth Mail that I expect to enjoy every minute of it."

She will land in Dublin—but Miss Murray was born in Belfast, North Ireland and she doesn't plan to waste many minutes in Dublin. Her plans call for immediate departure for good old Belfast, where a number of brothers and a sister still reside.

City Benefits From C of C Says Banquet Speaker

"But you can whip all of these things by doing just what you have done here tonight—by getting together and talking things over and then following the leadership of those who are anxious and willing to see your city become a better city," he declared.

"What makes a city? Is it a city that is going back? Is it a city going forward? Remember one thing—no city ever stands still. It either goes forward or it goes backward."

"A city is not what is made within the city. It is made up of people who live within a city. They make a city whatever it might be."

"It was not the location that made Flint a city. It was not its resources or its transportation. Flint, like Detroit and Lansing, was made by men like you—men who did something."

"A Chamber of Commerce is nothing more than a group of men like you who join together to make worthwhile dreams come true."

"It was not Mr. Durant, Mr. Dort or Mr. Buick who made Flint the great city that it is. It was not Mr. Post or Mr. Kellogg who made Battle Creek the food city known around the world. It was the men of the community who helped these men to make their dreams come true."

"Some one dreamed about a new hotel in Plymouth—and that dream came true because the men of this city made that dream come true."

"It is harder to run a Chamber of Commerce in a place like Plymouth or Grand Ledge than it is in Lansing, because just one man must carry the burden in smaller cities—a secretary who is all things to all men. But he can be helped by an active membership within the Chamber of Commerce. It is pride in the home town that the Chamber of Commerce must find and utilize in its work—and a full utilization of that pride and interest in your community is the thing that wins success."

as bad as in past years. The Rouge river drive under Plymouth road was closed, however, to traffic because nearly a foot of water covered the paving under the Plymouth road bridge.

Highways suffered the greatest damage and it will be weeks before they can be restored to former conditions. Unpaved city streets suffered the same damage as country roads. It will be several days before many of the farmers will be able to use their automobiles, driveways from the roads to their homes making use of motor cars impossible.

Daisy Asks City to Vacate Street

The Daisy Manufacturing company petitioned the city to vacate, discontinue and abolish the section of Union street in front of the Daisy power plant and parking lot. The company stated in their petition that this section of the street is used only by company employees and by those making deliveries to the plant, and the company wishes to purchase the property.

The petition was made at the meeting of the city commission Tuesday night and action on the matter was postponed until the next commission meeting. Commissioner Hammond requested that the vacating by the city of the street be discussed with the Planning commission. Commissioner Hough declined to vote on the action.

Red Cross Funds Still Coming In

Though not all returns are in as yet, the Red Cross fund raising drive has reached a total of over $1,500. Because of bad weather, impassable roads and other factors, the canvass was delayed in many sections, especially in rural areas.

According to Red Cross headquarters in Detroit, Plymouth has done better or as well as other suburban sections. A final report of drive results should be available in a week.

A luncheon for those who took part in the campaign was held last Friday in the Book Cadillac hotel. Those from Plymouth who attended were Mrs. Van T. Dudley, Mrs. A. L. Lantz, Mrs. O. M. Valliquette, Mrs. Don Patterson, Mrs. Ragner Blomberg, Mrs. Milton Vanlaberg, Mrs. Howard Sharpley, Mrs. Emily Mosher, Berry Ellis, Don Lightfoot and Lee King.

Ernie Henry, chairman of the local campaign, wishes to express his thanks and appreciation to all who gave their time and cooperation in the drive and to all those who contributed to this worthy cause.

A Harvard professor says that retiring too fast gives you the "bends" . . . just as a diver gets into trouble when he comes to the surface too fast. Folks who are used to working find it harder to sit down and relax than a nudist in a cactus patch. If they haven't other interests to keep them busy they're as lost as an Eskimo at the equator. Keeping active and interested is one of the answers to the problem of old age, and the fastest trip downhill can be accomplished in a rocking chair. Remember the old vaudeville advice . . . ### Shorts in Sports

by Al Larson

Where are all the Plymouth High school athletes? Plymouth, one of the largest schools in the Suburban B league, probably has the least total of boys out for sports than any other school in the league.

Are the Plymouth boys afraid to go out for sports? Well, it looks that way, but there is nothing to be afraid of if that happens to be the reason.

The local football team had only 45 boys out for practice, this being the largest total at one time and after a while some of these boys dropped out. Ypsilanti, a school smaller than Plymouth, had approximately 85 boys out for football.

When the Ypsilanti reserve grid team came to town they had a total of 44 boys on the team, one less than the boys who reported at Plymouth for both varsity and reserve.

The local cross-country squad had only 12 boys out which is again very poor for the boys in school. Although with only 12 boys the cross-country team finished a good season.

In basketball things are a little different but still not enough boys report to the cage coach for a chance to make the team. The local cagers, however, still had a favorable campaign.

Plymouth High school boasts four inter-scholastic sports in the spring—baseball, track, golf and tennis—but still not enough boys are enthused by the idea of representing the blue and white squads.

Track, the first team to meet this spring, under the able coaching of Konrad Moiso, is lacking broad jumpers, high jumpers, pole vaulters and quarter milers. Coach Moiso states that he believes Plymouth will have a fine track team this year but that the squad lacks depth, which is very essential.

Golf, which is composed of four men in the meets, is the only team which has any depth at all in its ranks. The squad is coached by Hilton Ponto and is expected to have a very favorable season, one of these reasons is because it does have quite a few boys out for it. Twelve boys reported to Coach Ponto this spring.

Although it is a new sport to the present high school students, tennis is also lacking boys. Under the coaching of Carvel Bentley, 17 boys reported out for tennis this year, of which 10 will be used in matches.

Baseball is another sport that usually has enough boys out to compose the team but still there is a great demand for more top notch ball players. John Sandmann will again coach the baseball team, composed of four returning lettermen.

Just because there is enough boys out to make up a team does not prove that it will be a good one. Competition is what makes everyone get out and really fight for a position on a team. You do not know that you cannot make the team until you get out there and give everything you have got toward making the squad. If more boys came out for sports at Plymouth High school they undoubtedly would be just as much a powerhouse of the league as Ypsilanti.

First National Places 4 Among Top 7 Scorers

Although Plymouth First National finished as runners-up in the state Class B MRA basketball tournament, they placed four players in the first seven of the top scorers in the playoffs at Marshall, which were held on March 23, 24 and 25.

Trosin of Hazel Park, who played in only two games, was the tourney's high point man and also the best average. He dropped in 29 points in their first encounter and then 23 counters against First National when the locals downed Hazel Park.

With 48 points in three games Reinard Heinegar of Plymouth placed second in the scoring and also boasted a 16 point average. Allbregetse, playing with the state champs, Marshall, placed third behind Heinegar with 43 points in three tilts for a 14 average.

Other Plymouth scorers and their averages were Charlie Fortner with 35 counters for a 11.6 average; Don Huebler and Bill Perkins each totaled 29 points for a 9.6 average.

In three games Marshall looped in 175 points for a 58 point earning per encounter and First National averaged 57 per game with 170 points.

District results are as follows: Albion 47, Ypsilanti 30, Trenton 40, Willow Run 37, Monroe 37, Adrian 35, Hazel Park 61, Marysville 43, Plymouth 61, River Rouge 45, Coldwater 48, Hastings 36.

Volleyball Team Wins 2 at YMCA

The Plymouth Men's volleyball team, which has been playing volleyball at the Starkweather Grade school gym every Tuesday and Thursday evenings, journeyed to Detroit March 25 and played a team from the Fisher YMCA on the latter's court. Each team won two matches.

About 10 men have been attending the regular meetings that start at 7:30 p.m. at the Starkweather gym. "Volleyball will continue until we can get outdoors and play tennis," stated Dunbar Davis, volleyball supervisor.

Inter-County Baseball League Meeting Held; First Game May 7

With May 7 as the opening date of the Inter-County baseball league season, a meeting was held in the Plymouth city hall April 2, at 3 p.m. to get teams organized and to elect officers of the league.

For the 14th straight year the same men were re-elected to their respective offices: Earl Gray of Plymouth, president; Charles Bradley of Dearborn, vice president; and Ray Levanowski of Dearborn, secretary-treasurer. These men have held these offices since 1936 when the league was organized.

Steps have been taken this year providing that all players in the league of amateur status asking for funds from the manager or sponsor, will be suspended from all amateur play for three weeks.

A 14 game schedule will hold down the Class A Inter-County league with a few of the teams already entered, including Sellgren Buick, Stinson Enterprise, Eddie's Lounge, Plymouth Utilities, Highland Park Fianceese club and Wyandotte. A few other teams will most likely enter into the league.

With each team scheduled to play 16 games in the Red and White division, eight have already shown their desire to enter. Those entered are as follows: Grandale Merchants, Clarenceville, Unger Implement, Romulus JC's, Rockwood, Highland Park, Polish National Alliance and Wallaceville.

The closing date for team entries is April 20. It is expected that the Red and White division will be at its largest this year.

Plymouth High Golfers Begin Practice With Four Lettermen

With four lettermen back from last year's golf team, the Plymouth High turf boys have begun practice and are now looking forward to their first meet of the season soon.

Coached by Hilton Ponto, who mentored the football squad and the reserve basketball team, the local golfers will attempt to equal or better last year's team, which took the league championship, regions and finished a high seventh in the state.

The Rocks won all of their league meets and lost only to Ann Arbor, a Class A powerhouse, last season as they compiled a 10-2 record.

Minus the services of Larry Bentley, who led the team to many victories last year, the team has three of the first four regulars back. From the top four are Bill Farwell, Jerry Walsh and Henry Levering. Doug Jetter, the other lettermen back, will probably fill in the spot vacated by Bentley.

Other boys out for golf include Phil Jacobus, Howard "Bud" Carson, Howard Keeth, Ralph Walch, Bob Keeney, Don Moore and Edward Klinske. Jacobus brought about a lot of attention when he began swinging from portside as there were no south-paw golfers in the area last season. Jacobus is a regular left hander, who also played basketball and football for Plymouth this past year.

In Miami, Fred H. Kautzmann charged that the James Drug shop had mixed two prescription labels, causing him for the past year to rub stomach medicine on his scalp and drink his hair tonic.

Finish Classes in Ceramic Work

The Plymouth ceramic classes, which have been under the direction of Mrs. Meir, ended their meetings on Thursday, March 30 in fine style as everyone finished their ceramic work.

Enjoying themselves throughout the course, the class worked on glazing, figurines, tiles, hand objects and various other articles. Seven people out of 38 in the two classes this winter enjoyed themselves so much that they intend to go on with advanced work in the field of ceramics. Those who missed out on the class this year should be thinking about it for next year.

Baseball Coaches-Managers Meet

The Plymouth Daisy team, coached by Walter Dzurus, took the league championship in Class D and went on to the finals where they were beaten by Dearborn...

Another Plymouth team, West Brothers, coached by Mike Spitz, took the Inter-City E league title and was defeated by River Rouge 6-5...

Other meetings to be held soon are the boy's softball leagues, Classes D and E on Monday, April 24 in the recreation office and the Midget and F league baseball meeting on April 28...

The Men's softball managers and coaches held their first meeting of the season in the recreation office last Monday. There will likely be two men's softball leagues, the Industrial and Men's Open league.

Managers, Coaches of Old Timers' Baseball League Meet Tonight

Tonight, Thursday, at 7:30 in the Plymouth Recreation office there will be a meeting of all managers and coaches of teams wishing to enter the Old Timers' softball league...

Last year Dunn Steel took the championship and in the Industrial league Plymouth was also represented in the state Class B tournament by another Dunn Steel team.

It is generally conceded that the Old Timers' league is one of the smoothest running loops in Plymouth. Last year's teams included Dunn Steel, Contractor's, Allen Industries, Bud Wilson's Service, V.F.W. and Beglingers.

Bout Scheduled by Boxing Club

The last indoor boxing show of the year will be held in the gym of Plymouth High school Saturday night, April 15, at 8 p.m. by the Plymouth Boys' Boxing club, instructed by Michael Spitz.

This will be the third boxing show of the year held in Plymouth and this being the last indoors it is hoped that it will be the biggest show of the year. If enough interest is shown by the people for boxing, it is hoped that there will be an outdoor boxing show in the summer.

Plymouth has had a pretty good boxing season this year, emerging victorious in many of the bouts scheduled. The Plymouth Boys' Boxing club was only on the short end once this season.

Two Feet of Ice Covers Houghton

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Rotnour drove up to Houghton lake last Saturday to open their cottage for the forthcoming summer season. While there was some snow in the woods, they were surprised to find that Houghton lake is still covered with a coating of ice more than two feet thick.

"Tried to find a place somewhere along the shore where there was a hole in the ice so we could get some water to prime the pump, but there was not an opening anywhere, and I just didn't feel ambitious enough to cut a hole through two feet of ice," said Mr. Rotnour.

The Rotnours have been summer residents of the Houghton lake area for a long period of years. The veteran Plymouth postal carrier says he plans when retirement days come to spend all of the fishing and hunting seasons at their attractive Houghton lake summer home.

In Melbourne, Rodeo Rider Reginald Cakebreak tried his niece's rocking horse, fell, broke his collarbone.

Merritt Shows Pipe Smoker's Dream.

Pipe smokers certainly have a choice of pipes when they visit the insurance office of Joe Merritt on Main street. Some of his collection will be on display this week in the lobby of Plymouth United Savings bank. He is pictured here holding a 98 year old Meerschaum which is the oldest and most valuable in the collection.

Pipe cleaner salesmen do a rushing business at the insurance office of Joe Merritt on Main street. For Merritt must buy enough to keep over 100 pipes in his office clean.

This extensive pipe collection, which is on exhibit this week at the Plymouth United Savings bank lobby, was started by Merritt when he returned from service in 1946. He began his hobby with a corn cob pipe that has been in his family for over 60 years.

One of the most valuable and oldest pipes in the collection is a 98 year old Meerschaum. Merritt received the pipe from the Nash family, who were early residents of Plymouth. The pipe dates back to 1852. It measures about 18 inches in length and the bowl is decorated with hand carving. The stem is made of cherrywood with an amber bit.

Another pipe is made from an African gourd and has a wide open shaped bowl. One pipe was purchased by a friend of Merritt's for two pesos in Mexico. A hand carved maple alligator forms the pipe stem and because of the intricate hand work the pipe would probably sell for much more in this country.

The smallest pipe in the collection is a vest pocket variety. The stem folds over the bowl when not in use, and is then about the size of a small egg. The pipe full length measures about three inches.

A number of the pipes have covered bowls, among them a fancy Czechoslovakian pipe. This pipe has a 6 inch vertical stem made of cherrywood and a briar cup which is hand carved. Another large pipe in the collection is a hand made one with a bowl that is about 3 inches in diameter.

Merritt keeps most of the pipes in king-size pipe racks. One rack will hold up to 20 pipes. Because he ran out of wall space on which to mount pipes, Merritt sent the overflow home. Incidentally, Merritt not only collects pipes, he also smokes them. So if one is suddenly missing from the bank lobby, just follow the tobacco smoke to Joe's office to see it.

Students Learn Latin Dances

The last chance for Plymouth High school students to join the Plymouth recreation dance classes taught by Audrey Neale and Charlotte Kumlner was Wednesday, April 5.

Learning the characteristics of the different ballroom dances is one of the many points brought out by the teachers. As told by one of the teachers to the students last Wednesday, "Learning the characteristics of the dance is one step to becoming a good dancer. For example, in order to dance the rumba in its true form, it is necessary to know that the rumba is the native dance in the mud streets of Cuba."

"In order to dance in the mud and clay, they had to pick their feet up on every step. This gives them the movement which everyone associates with the rumba today." The students are also learning the fox trot, waltz, jitterbug and samba.

Symphony Notes

by Grace Von Bergen

There is a certain "gemlichkeit"—a term for which German speaking folk say cannot be translated in the truest sense—unless a person might say "warmth" or "friendliness" that pervades the social tea hour following the concert.

In Redford township this was discernable. On an afternoon when the weather is exceeding very bad, the tea hour is becoming the fashionable function of the day, and perhaps we are bringing a little of the Scandinavian and British tradition into the scene when we admit that coffee forms a popular drink as well as tea.

Absent from the concert stage was Doris Yoder of Farmington. She has been enjoying a vacation with her parents in Florida.

Earlier during the season we spied a little dog who attended the rehearsals regularly it was said. Perhaps he was waiting for his master's voice?

The general impression of music lovers in Redford township was that the concert was too short! There are some members of the newly formed Redford Township Symphony society who would like to hear more than one concert next year.

Dr. Hoels made a grand impression with his Grand Festival Overture in Redford as well as in Plymouth. You may be interested in learning that Dr. Hoels has composed a great many very beautiful songs, trios and quartettes.

Shoshana Brooke Freedman, wife of Ralph Freedman of the orchestra, is a dramatic soprano. She recently made an appearance on the concert stage in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Josef Lazaroff has one faithful follower—Dawn Rice, wife of Romaine Chapin Rice, attorney of Redford township. Dawn knew Joe "way back when" in Alpena! Daisy Barnes of Rosedale Gardens discovered she had a cousin in Redford township in the person of C. Kenneth Avery. In fact, she confided that she suspected he must be her cousin last year, but only got around to making sure of the relationship this year. Ken is the president of the board of education of Redford Union School District No. 1 in Redford township.

One of the Plymouth Symphony fans thinks the drummer in the orchestra looks just like Van Johnson of the movies.

Major George D. Haller of Rosedale Gardens, husband of Christie Haller, is looking very elegant in his uniform these days.

Christie is to appear as soloist with the University of Michigan Extension orchestra on April 21 at the Rackham building.

Sallie Jane Sorg, another violinist, will soon be fiddling in the Women's Symphony of Detroit. There are many of our musicians who perform in more than one orchestra.

So the symphony season closes—and Paul can direct the growth of his roses—you should see Paul Wagner's roses—you might write a song about them!

Foods Prepared With Milk Add To Daily Nutrition Quota

It's comparatively easy for Plymouth mothers to get all the milk their budget allows into the moppets in the family. Older members whose palates are tuned to stronger flavors are the ones more likely to fall shy of their desirable quota.

Studies of mature people have shown that a generous amount of milk promotes better health and a feeling and appearance of youth. This is due largely to the abundance of calcium it contains. Nutrition experts recommend the use of five quarts of fresh whole milk each week. This amounts to about three glasses a day, far more than many adults relish.

It's an easy matter to solve the problem, however, because milk does its job in any form in which it is taken—fresh, dried, evaporated, as Cheddar cheese, ice cream, or dishes prepared with milk.

The dried milk now being distributed through many grocery stores offers one of the easiest ways of tucking a great deal of this valuable food into the day's meals without anyone being aware of it, according to the American Red Cross Nutrition service. It can be mixed with water as directed on the package and can be used in place of fluid milk, but better still, add it as an extra ingredient.

Two tablespoons of dry milk powder is equal in food value to about a pint of fluid milk, either the whole or skimmed, depending on the kind of powder you buy. This amount can be added to cereal when you cook it, to a meat loaf mixture, bread or biscuit mix, or almost any combination of foods.

In addition to boosting the nutritive value of the dish being prepared, there will be a more delicious flavor and in the case of baked goods, a richer brown coloring. All this is possible for comparatively little cost if the dried skim milk sold as dry milk solids is used.

One of the easiest ways to use dried milk powder is to make up mixes. Keep them handy on the shelves and you can add variety to mealtime with little effort. Although the liquid used to finish the job may be water, they'll be better for using fresh whole milk.

BISCUIT MIX

3 teaspoons salt
1 cup shortening (one which needs no refrigeration)

Sift dry ingredients together three times. Cut or rub in shortening until thoroughly blended. Lift lightly into glass or metal container. Close tightly and store until ready for use.

BISCUITS: For 8 medium sized biscuits measure one cup of mix. To it add about 1/3 cup milk (or water), enough to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead a few times. Roll about 1/2 inch thick and cut with floured cutter. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees F., for 12 to 15 minutes.

SHORTCAKE: To one cup mix add 1 tablespoon sugar and cut in 1 tablespoon fat. Add about 1/3 cup fluid milk and proceed as for biscuits, rolling dough 1/4 inch thick. Brush over with melted butter and put together in pairs before baking.

If preferred, add sugar to dry mix and use cream as liquid.

QUICK BREAD MIX
6 cups sifted enriched flour
1 cup sifted dry milk solids
1/2 cup baking powder
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup sugar
3/4 cup fat (kind that needs no refrigeration)

Sift dry ingredients together three times and blend in shortening until thoroughly mixed. Store in tightly closed glass or metal containers.

MUFFINS: To 1 cup mix add 1 well beaten egg mixed with 1/3 cup fluid milk (or water). Stir only until dry ingredients are dampened. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees F., for about 20 minutes. Makes 5 small muffins.

WAFFLES: To 1 cup mix add 1 beaten egg yolk mixed with 3/4 cup fluid milk and 1 tablespoon melted shortening. Fold in 1 beaten egg white. Bake in hot waffle iron. Makes 2 waffles.

GRIDDLE CAKES: To 1 cup milk add 1 beaten egg mixed with from 2/3 to 1 cup milk, depending on thickness of cakes liked. Stir only until dry ingredients are dampened. Bake on hot griddle until brown on both sides. Makes 7 medium sized cakes.

TO POACH EGGS

Pour water to a depth of 1 1/2 inches into your frying pan; bring it to a brisk boil, then add 2 teaspoons salt and 1 tablespoon butter or margarine (this adds flavor and helps to keep natural shape of eggs); turn down heat until water barely bubbles. Now slip the eggs into water.

Break egg into saucer (easier and safer), then slide the egg into the bubbling water very gently. Poach as many eggs at a time as will fit into the pan without running together.

Cover frying pan tightly, then turn off heat entirely. Let egg (or eggs) stand in water for 3 to 4 minutes depending on how well done you like poached eggs.

Drain eggs well over paper towels. Lift up egg gently with a perforated pancake turner, then rest both egg and turner on several thicknesses of paper towels to absorb water.

Serve immediately on hot buttered toast, rusks or English muffins. Sprinkle with freshly ground pepper, top with a chunk of butter.

SAVORY HAM SLICE

Setting for a spring day—a juicy broiled ham slice surrounded by plump fried apple wedges. Corn meal biscuits are included in the menu.

Smoked ham, a favorite choice for spring meals, lends itself to unlimited combinations with fruit. This gives the homemaker an excellent opportunity to include fruit in her main dish.

When buying a ham slice the homemaker may choose a center cut slice or an equally tasty slice cut from either side of the center (frequently an economical choice). A third type is a butterfly slice. To prepare this attractive slice the meat dealer cuts a thick slice from the cushion side of ham. A second cut is made almost but not completely through and the slice opened out flat.

For best results in juiciness and flavor any type ham slice for broiling should be 3/4 to an inch thick. And while broiling here's one attractive way to combine the meat with fruit—an apricot glaze. The ham is placed on the broiler rack so that the top surface of a one-inch slice is three inches from the heat. This distance insures a moderate cooking temperature.

As a flavorful touch, the ham slice is sprinkled with cloves, allspice and cinnamon, then cooked until the top side is browned—10 to 15 minutes. When browned the slice is turned and spices sprinkled on the other side. With the second side cooked, apricot halves are arranged over the ham, then slipped in the broiler just long enough to heat and to slightly brown.

The ham and pineapple flavor combination has long been recognized.

For serving these together, one cup of shredded pineapple is combined with 1/2 cup of brown sugar. After one side of the ham is broiled, the slice is turned and the pineapple mixture spread over the top. The slice is returned to the oven to finish broiling.

Here, There, Everywhere With The Plymouth Mail's Roving Wolverine

Not many Florida visitors take the time to visit the former winter home of Thomas Edison, world-famed inventor who gave artificial light to civilization. His home, which has been turned into an Edison museum, located near Fort Meyers on the Gulf coast, is maintained by that community just as it was when Edison lived there. But some Plymouth residents did take the time to spend a few hours in this historic place while on their recent Florida vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Matt Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Bert McKinney, who returned a few days ago from the south-lands, state that the hours they spent at the Edison winter home were really the high-light of their trip to the south, outside of the warm weather they enjoyed while away. Mr. Powell says it is well worth the time and trouble one may go to, to see this interesting place that was created by the famed inventor during his winter stays in Florida.

The Plymouth Mail's Roving Wolverine has over a long period of years had a desire to visit Charleston, South Carolina. The desire was inspired chiefly because of the highly important place that Charleston occupies in American history, coupled too, with a wish to see the beautiful azalia and camellia gardens that flourish around that city. Recently the writer visited Charleston.

The beauty of its azalia gardens goes beyond our vocabulary for proper interpretation into words. Another visit of two weeks or more and then another visit of two weeks plus two more weeks will be necessary to visit all of the interesting historical places in and around Charleston. That longer visit to Charleston we propose to make some day.

But time and space does permit mention of one interesting fact. During a two day stay in a city of several hundreds of thousand population, a city not overly blessed with wide streets and suffering from excessive automobile traffic, not once did we hear the tooting of an automobile horn. Not once did we witness a traffic cop on the streets. Not once did we see a police car on the streets of Charleston.

We didn't see a single taxicab driver cutting in and out of traffic or trying to beat some other cars across an intersecting street as traffic lights turned. Apparently taxicab drivers of Charleston have been taught to believe that the driver of a private automobile has just as much right on the street as a taxicab—and that a taxicab driver has no "Divine" right to beat red lights, crowd careful automobile drivers to the side of the street and toot the horn on his car like some escaped lunatic from an asylum.

We did observe a number of patrolmen stationed on some of the busy corners of the city, patrolmen who seemed to be exceptionally courteous in the performance of their routine duties and in answering inquiries. From observations on a brief, hurried visit, it would be our guess that a very large percent of the police officers of Charleston are young men around the age of 35 years.

What a pleasure it is to visit a city like Charleston that has police officers with enough common sense to know how to regulate and control traffic without an army of motorcycle cops, siren-blowing scout cars and police cars hiding behind billboards and outhouses to trap motorists as they do in many places throughout the country. There was no speeding evident at any time or place in or around Charleston.

We propose some day to secure some traffic accident records of cities similar in size to Charleston to see what the comparison might bring forth. It is our prediction that the city of Charleston, free of horn-tooting auto drivers and ugly traffic cops, will be found to possess one of the best traffic records of any municipality of similar size in the country.

If you ever visit the house of parliament in Toronto over in neighboring Canada, you will see many interesting sights and if you visit the legislative chambers you doubtless will be presented with a printed copy of a prayer, which is read by the Speaker at the opening of the province legislature each day. It follows:

O, Lord our Heavenly Father, high and mighty, King of kings, Lord of lords, the only Ruler of princes, who dost from thy throne behold all the dwellers upon earth: Most heartily we beseech thee with thy favour to behold His Most Gracious Majesty King George, and so replenish him with the grace of thy Holy Spirit, that he may always incline to thy will, and walk in thy way: Endue him plentifully with heavenly gifts; grant him in health and wealth long to live; strengthen him that he may vanquish and overcome all his enemies, and finally after this life he may attain everlasting joy and felicity; through Jesus Christ our Lord—Amen.

Most Gracious God, we humbly beseech thee, as for Great Britain, Ireland and His Majesty's other Dominions, so especially for this Province, and herein more particularly for The Lieutenant-Governor, and the House of Assembly, in their legislative capacity at this time assembled, that thou wouldst be pleased to direct and prosper all their consultations, to the advancement of thy glory, thy safety, honour, and welfare of our Sovereign and His Province of Ontario, that all things may be so ordered and settled by their endeavors, upon the best and surest foundations, that peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety, may be established among us for all generations. These, and all other necessities for them, and for us, we humbly beg in the name and through the mediation of Jesus Christ, our most blessed Lord and Saviour—Amen.

Our Father who art in Heaven, Hallowed be thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, in earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; And forgive us our trespasses, As we forgive them that trespass against us: And lead us not into temptation. But deliver us from evil—Amen.

More detailed information is available to potential radio hobbyists in the form of books, including "Radio Amateur Handbook," "Introduction to Radio," "Theory and Servicing," H. J. Hicks; "Radio Operation," J. L. Harning; "The Bright Design," K. S. Shipper.

Gift Money Order Now Telegraphed

Inauguration of the Gift Money Order service, a special money order that solves the gift problem, was announced today by Charles Krawczewski, local manager of Western Union.

"There is an interesting psychological feature of this service," Krawczewski pointed out. "Fundamentally it provides money, and the recipient can get the exact gift he needs or wants. The order is delivered in a special envelope and on a handsomely decorated check. This adds to the gift a warmth not possessed by the handing over of cash. A telegram of good wishes or congratulations on a special blank may be sent with the order."

Transmitted with the speed of telegrams, they are delivered immediately, or at any time or date specified. They are good until used, and are accepted at shops and department stores in payment for merchandise or cashed at banks or Western Union paying offices.

Criticism, as it was first instituted by Aristotle, was meant as a standard of judging well. —Johnson

Studies for Ministry at Adrian College

Keith Bovee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bovee of Ann Arbor trail, is one of 56 students participating in Adrian college's church vocational program. This program consists of training students for full-time Christian service as ministers, organists, choir directors, church secretaries, religious educators, youth workers and missionary workers.

In addition to their regular academic studies, 30 of these students are now engaged in actual field service. Not all students have the opportunity to serve churches regularly, but all may serve occasionally with deputations. Through this program Adrian college does the double job of helping the needy churches, and preparing students for future work.

Farmers Working Overtime Trying to Answer 330 Census Questions

So you've got three acres of land, have you? If that's the case, then you are a dirt farmer—a regular he-man farmer. Maybe you are only growing grass and flowers on that three acres, but you are a farmer just the same.

That's what the "government" says in this census taking business that has started in and around Plymouth this week.

If you are a farmer, there is a lot you have got to know—and you'd better know it, too.

How many carrots did you eat last year out of your garden? How many did you sell?

You had a few more quarts of strawberries than you could use yourself? Did you sell your neighbors or some of your friends a few quarts? Better scratch your head and remember—because Uncle Sam wants to know—and you don't tell the truth, it's going to be just too bad.

Did your kids run out to the henhouse and take some eggs out of the nest and sell them to someone to fry for breakfast?

Answer! Did they? How many dollars did you take in from selling eggs? How many chickens have you got that are four months old? Don't you keep track of the birthdays of your chickens? If not, you had better.

Better tell exactly how many hours you worked last week doing farm work or chores about your place. And Uncle Sam wants to know how many other members of your family worked 15 or more hours at farm work or doing chores WITHOUT RECEIVING CASH WAGES. How many HIREN persons worked around your farm last week and how many hired persons do you expect to hire to work more than 150 days during the coming year?

Did you pay them by the month, week, day, hour or by "piece" work? Tell exactly, Mr. Farmer, what you paid them and how many hours they worked. Did you figure room and board as a part of their cash wages?

These are just a few of the many hundreds of questions that every farmer is being asked.

Leslie Gould, a Washington newspaper writer, says there are two hidden purposes for the many new questions that have never been asked before when the census has been taken. He writes that one is to provide ammunition for unions to organize all of the working people, particularly farm help.

The other is to pave the way for more government control of everyday living, with emphasis on farm operations.

The farm questionnaire is the tougher report. It is a 19 by 22-inch sheet with questions on both sides. There are 330 separate questions to be filled in by the farmer, an increase of 84 over the 1940 census.

A lot of this information is necessary and highly desirable, but there is plenty which comes under the heading of just plain snooping or has a hidden, secret purpose.

Dr. Roy Victor Peel, the new deal college professor in charge of the census, gives the tip off on the purpose of many of the questions when he says the data will be useful "to labor organizations interested in employment and workers' income."

So, on the complicated farm questionnaire there is a large, new section devoted to farm labor, containing 19 questions against two in 1940.

Now, the social schemers want a breakdown on whether the farm hands will have more than 150 days work in the year ahead or less than that. Also whether the pay is on a monthly, weekly, daily, hourly or piece work basis and what is the cash rate of pay and how many hours had to be worked each month, week or day to get this money. Additionally, the census wants to know whether the worker is supplied a house or board and room, or some other privilege or none.

This dope is for John L. Lewis or Philip Murray or William Green, writes Mr. Gould.

There is another "joker" on the labor part of the questionnaire. This is for the "person in charge" to check off whether he put any time or not "last week" in work on the farm. This is to catch and probably to eliminate from consideration as farmers by the income tax people individuals who own and operate but do not personally labor on their acreage. Income tax reports do not require this information.

The questions as to crops—acreage planted, acreage and amount harvested, and amount sold and money so received—are greatly expended. More details are sought also on timber use.

These questions all add up to paving the way for federal control of farming and farm land. The social state.

The nutty part of the agriculture return is the census brain trusters' definition of a farm—a property of more than three acres, which would include most estates, or a place having three or more hives of bees.

Permits Needed for Building Grass Fires

Permits to build fires, other than those for domestic burning, must be granted by the fire department. Charles Voss, conservation officer, warns that grass fires may get out of control unless adequate precautions are taken and the fire is not allowed to get beyond its intended bounds.

According to Voss, about this time of year people get the spring burning urge. He states that experiments have shown that burning of grass lands depletes the soil of its fertility as well as destroying the homes of pheasants, rabbits and other wild life.

Weed seeds are not destroyed by spring burning, Voss states, as they are already in the ground and burning creates an ideal seedbed best suited for the establishment of a healthy weed crop.

Named to League C of C Committee

Perry W. Richwine, secretary of the Plymouth Federal Savings and Loan association, received word today of his appointment to the Chamber of Commerce committee of the United States Savings and Loan league. The appointment came from Henry A. Bubb of Topeka, Kansas, president of the league, which is the 58-year old, nationwide trade organization of the savings association business.

The Chamber of Commerce committee is a contact group between the savings associations throughout the country and the general business organizations chiefly represented by chambers of commerce, national, state and local. Proper representation of the thrift and home ownership points of view in the general business organizations is a special concern of the committee. The majority of savings associations are members of their local chambers of commerce, a circumstance which points up the value of a special group in the business to study how two groups can cooperate more fully.

Meet People Halfway

ARTHUR MacDONALD, Victoria, British Columbia, Canada, says he has found what counts most in life. But let him tell it.

"I have had 40 jobs and the one I disliked most was in a department store here in Victoria. It is a good store, but I hated to be under the supervision of a man who was paid five times as much as I was getting and all he did was to criticize me and the other workers.

"This man was never satisfied, no matter how much you accomplished. He constantly complained, found fault, scowled and generally drove the men for all they were worth. When I heard he had stomach ulcers and was going to quit, I was really glad—about his quitting, I mean, though I can't say I was sorry about his physical condition, either.

"But instead of quitting, he fired me. So that settled that.

"I now have another job that I like, but occasionally I go into the department store where I used to work. Every time I used to go near my old location on the third floor, I was nauseated, and I got out as soon as possible. I finally decided that it was fear and distrust of my own ability to meet situations that caused this nausea. So I decided to do something about it.

"I deliberately went back to that store, up to the third floor, and approached what I consider that poor excuse for a manager. I'll admit I had to give myself a pep talk in order to make it. But when I approached the manager I said, 'Hello, Cliff, how are you getting along. I am glad you didn't have to close up shop because I left.'

"Would you believe it, he turned to me with a pleasant expression, and it seemed to me that he looked relieved, too. He shook hands with me, asked me questions about myself and talked with me more in five minutes than he had the whole time I was in that store. He enjoyed it, I am sure. As for me, I experienced no nausea whatever, and when I left I felt at peace with the world. That wasn't all, I felt so happy, and so kindly toward people, that I went out and did some business with people I had just about given up as hopeless.

"I believe my success came because I made myself say 'Hello' to a man I hated. And then I didn't hate him anymore.

"It makes a man ask himself, 'Was it all my fault?'"

Record Snowfall Says Horvath

Last weekend when Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Horvath and their children left Ruyard in the Upper Peninsula to come to Plymouth to spend a few days visiting with relatives and friends, there was over two feet of snow on the ground, although that part of the state had experienced considerable thawing weather during recent weeks.

"Believe it or not, but the weather bureau says that we have had a snowfall of over 168 inches this winter in our part of the state. That means that we have had a snowfall of more than 14 feet," said Mr. Horvath Monday before starting back home.

"In Iron Mountain and some other sections of the Upper Peninsula the weather bureau records show a snowfall of more than 261 inches, which means a snowfall of more than 21 feet. But at no time have the main roads been tied up for more than two or three days. Highway snow removal equipment has been kept busier than in years," he said.

Mr. Horvath will during the forthcoming season be associated with William Rambo in the sale of sporting goods equipment throughout the Upper Peninsula.

Large Crowd Hears Final Concert of Plymouth Symphony Season

by Grace Von Bergen
 Veterans' Memorial home was beautiful in all its appointments. Assisting at the table were Mrs. Paul Wiedman and Mrs. Heloise Campbell. Mrs. Richard I. Daniels and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, tea chairmen, were aided by junior symphony members, Mary Ann Ahimerin, Mary Ann Witwer, Joyce Carson and Gladys Witt; also Donna Hunt who substituted for Mrs. Jane Raaflaub on this occasion.

Ushers under the direction of Miss Louise Spence were Ann Vincent, Mary Ann Witwer, Gladys Witt, Ronald Witt, Jon Brake and Joanne Pursell.

Vacation Cut Short by Illness

Improvement is reported in the condition of John Jacobs, whose recent Florida vacation was cut short by illness.
 Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs, who had driven to Fort Lauderdale for a late spring vacation, enjoyed but two days in the sunny south.
 "I went fishing the first day and we went in swimming the next day. The third day they took me to the doctor's office and he said it was the hospital for me. I said, if it was a case of going to the hospital, then it would be a hospital in Michigan," Mr. Jacobs asserted.
 The Jacobs' automobile was repacked, a bed was made in the back seat for the former commander of the American Legion post of Plymouth and Mrs. Jacobs served as an "ambulance" driver for the three day trip home.
 Attending physicians are hopeful that an operation will be unnecessary, although Mr. Jacobs is still confined to his home.

Television Fans Like The Rews

So popular was the recent appearance of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rew of Plymouth in some of their magic acts on television over station WJBK in Detroit, that they were asked for a repeat performance on the Bob Murphy show last week.
 Mr. Rew, as well as the little five year old son of the Rews, is fast becoming the most popular among comedians in Michigan. The youngster, too, has made television appearances in recent weeks.
 The Rews not only have all the old tricks down to perfection, but they have created many new ones. He has more bookings scheduled for the present spring season than he has had in a number of years.

THE LATEST SLAM at Hollywood immorality was taken recently by Sen. Johnson of Colorado who deplored the publicity given the frivolities of such glamorous gals as Rita Hayworth, Lila Leeds and Ingrid Bergman . . .

Hollywood's answer was typical: "there is no more immorality there than in any other town in the world" . . . This may be true . . . Certainly every town has its unsavory citizens, but what Hollywood must remember is that the lower grade citizens of most towns are not idolized by children and young teen-agers as are the citizens of Hollywood.

Ingrid Bergman was built up as a perfect wife, a perfect lady in every respect . . . Publicity stories oozed from her studio about how she didn't smoke, didn't drink, didn't attend night clubs . . . She was different . . . And because her roles were either of saints or at least typical of fine womanhood, her fans came to believe that publicity . . . Therefore her private life stunned a nation rather than just a town or city where she would have been just another fallen woman known only to her neighbors . . . Think it over, Hollywood, and get on the beam.

PLATTER CHATTER

That cutie that's sweeping the country right now, "If I Knew You Were Comin' I'd Have Baked a Cake," is given a rousing rendition by Eileen Barton . . . The best we've heard of that particular ditty . . . "Poco Loco in the Coco" is the flip side.
 Continuing on Mercury, Lawrence Welk has a possible hit in "There's an X in the Middle of Texas" . . . It's coupling is "Choo-ga-Choo" . . . Vio Damone's strong arrangement of "God's Country" is must stuff . . . He also does well by the reverse, "Where I Belong."

Your Police Department Speaks

Written by members of Plymouth's Police department

This is a special warning to pedestrians who have never driven an automobile. Statistics show that nine out of ten adult pedestrians who are killed in traffic are non-drivers. The reasons for this extremely high ratio of casualties among non-driving pedestrians is that they do not recognize the problems of the man behind the wheel.

Non-drivers fail to realize that it takes time to stop, even at moderate car speed and that the driver has many things to watch. He may miss seeing a pedestrian. Pedestrians who cannot drive also are inclined to misjudge the speed at which automobiles travel. For example, a vehicle going 30 miles an hour is traveling 10 times as fast as the average person walks.

Pedestrians have false confidence in their visibility to drivers. Weather conditions may make it hard for drivers to see them or the driver may be distracted by other cars or something else for the second that makes it too late to stop. The pedestrian walking at night should wear something white. He will be seen much sooner.

A policy of extra precaution in crossing streets is prescribed to non-driving pedestrians: Always cross at corners. Obey traffic signals. Never dart into the street as a car approaches, but wait until the way is clear.

Drivers are urged to be aware that the vehicle they drive has the power to kill and to give pedestrians the consideration that can save their lives. The Detroit police department has announced a safety education campaign to combat the Big Five among traffic violations. The Big Five are:

1. Pedestrian crossing in mid-block.
2. Pedestrian failing to yield right of way at crosswalk.
3. Motorist failing to yield right of way to pedestrian.
4. Reckless driving.
5. Speeding.

Roger Babson Says...

Babson Discusses the Over-Age Worker

With a downward trend in the business cycle in not too distant future, I am concerned about what will happen in the employment market to workers over 40—to say nothing of those 65 years and older. Assuming our present attitude and policy toward men over 40 continues, we will have a real social problem.

Population Trends
One hundred years ago, we were a nation of youngsters in short pants. Our population is, however, gradually growing older. Mortality tables show that the average life expectancy has increased from about 48 years in 1900 to about 65 years in 1946. For example, the U. S. Bureau of Census reports indicate that at the turn of the century, only one in 25 persons was 65 or older, or about 4% of the population. By 1940, the 65 and over group composed almost 7% of our population. The 1960 census will probably reveal a good 9% of our population in this older age bracket.

Assuming normal fertility and mortality and with immigration laws remaining constant, this has serious possibilities. Add to this, those between the 45 and 65 bracket, project to the year 2000, and you will find 40% of the population over 45! This maturing of our population is the result of advances in medical science, a declining birth rate, a markedly reduced number of young immigrants coming into our country, higher living standards resulting in a less hazardous physical life, etc.

Economic Problems of Over-Age Workers

There are already today a number of men over 40 who are jobless and tramping the streets. The Forty Plus club can give you some soul-shaking stories. In 1900, 65% of the men 65 or over were employed. In 1949, there were but 45.6% with jobs. This is largely the result of the so-called "welfare legislation" due to which employers don't want to get loaded with older men who demand more unemployment insurance and who are more liable to accidents and sickness.

Back on the farm, the older worker could assume the role of manager and let younger hands do the more arduous tasks. The basic employment problem of old-age workers is something more than a problem of business cycles. It is the problem of the slowing down of physical and mental powers after 40: loss of dexterity, poor coordination, weakening eyesight, greater fatigue. But the conveyor belt continues to move just as fast whether you are young or old.

Prejudice Against Old Workers

Too many employers seem to identify oldness with a certain fixed age regardless of individual differences. There is no question but what the various compensation plans set up to protect the worker often militate against him because, in the words of one official, "Older employees add substantially to the cost of workmen's compensation, group insurance, and other welfare plans." Employment managers also tend to look upon older workers as unable to learn new methods,—hence they are poor employment risks.

Psychologists tell us that while there is some slight decline in motor reactions and manual dexterity, the capacity to learn at 80 is as great as at 12. This suggests that the older worker may not be such a poor investment after all. As a matter of fact, the Bureau of Labor Statistics claims that the older worker has a lower absentee rate, is less prone to accidents, and is more stable, and more loyal to his firm. Further, the older worker possesses a background of experience and maturity that often cannot possibly be matched by the younger worker.

Seniority Rules
What would help men over 40 years of age most, is to have the Unions revise their seniority rules. Certainly this whole problem could well become an effective political football,—and in fact already is. If private enterprise does not solve this problem, then the Government surely will step in. Here then is another challenge for management! Let's hope management takes some constructive measures before it is too late!

Display Madonna College Art Work at Detroit Show

An extensive college art exhibit, "Trends in Michigan Art Schools," is now in progress at the Detroit Institute of Art, displaying work of faculty and students at Madonna college.

Ceramic sculptor, water color, lettering and weaving have been entered in the exhibit by Sister Mary David, Hilma Aubert, Joan Kaminski, Sally Kocel and Elsie Daniels of the college.

With today's controversies about modern art becoming so evident, the College Service Committee of the Institute's Founders' society determined to show what really goes on in college art work. The committee has selected representative items from over 40 colleges and art schools in Michigan in an attempt to relay to the public well-principled and properly executed projects, and so help acquaint more people with the good points of today's art and craft work.

Steering the project are Dr. Jane B. Welling of Wayne university, faculty chairman, and Victor Miesel, student chairman. Final arrangements with committees included an open house program which officially began the show on the evening of April 1. The college exhibit including, in all, painting, drawing, three-dimensional designs, sculpture, ceramics, metal and general craft work will continue until April 17.

Photographers take "aerial pictures" of Traverse City, Michigan, from a height of three feet. Traverse City's Clinch park contains a miniature of the city, accurately constructed to scale.

March Came in Like a Lion, Went Out With a Snarl—But Nobody Cares

Maybe March did come in roaring like an ugly lion—but the way March descended upon Plymouth and the rest of Michigan was nothing compared to the nasty disposition the hungry old she-bear displayed when kicked out of her hibernating nest on April first.

Last Saturday, the first day of April, was about as nasty a day as the old bear and the sore-headed weather man could dish out.

There were black clouds sailing through the skies like flying saucers. They brought heavy rainfall. Then the skies cleared and the sun shone—for two minutes. The wind blew again—and it snowed, with the snow flakes rolling like white sheets along the paved streets. It may have been April's fools day, but there was no fooling about the weather. At times the wind blew so hard it rattled doors and windows about as bad as a California earthquake would shake things up.

With the "big blow" that arrived on April first came a lot of April fool talk around town. Glen Smith who has been hibernating in Plymouth during the winter months, greased up his old Lizzie, filled out his "grub" list and prepared to move northward towards Pettibone lake.

Doc Ace Williams stored away his felt boots and sought a consultation with "Apple King" Willoughby as to what conditions might be up in the pine forests of Crawford county.

Bob Jolliffe Monday night unfolded a map of the United States and tried to find a place in the 48 states that he hadn't visited. "Thought maybe Mrs. Jolliffe and myself might go somewhere if we could find a new place to go," commented Mr. Jolliffe. Lauren Goodale has a few pounds of grass seed loaded in the back end of his car to take up to Potosky to plant around his cottage just as soon as he is sure the frost is all out of the ground.

A certain country editor scoots to cover every time he sees a police car speeding down the streets. The report is that he "lifted" a couple of conglomerates off a rock pile in Doc Williams' back yard, giving as an excuse that he plans to use them sometime when he builds an outdoor fireplace. He's afraid Doc will find out about it.

There was another sure sign of spring Monday. Charley Rathburn, who has become a sort of "gentleman" farmer put some rubber boots on, walked out to the back end of his farm—and said he was sure that farmers would be able to plant corn by May tenth. Neighbors say he has always been a stickler for getting his corn planted on or before the tenth.

Wendell Lent and James Hauk, however, are not doing much worrying about the weather. They take their sunbaths up on the shores of Whitefish bay, where the ice is reported as being something like three feet thick at "this writing." But nobody seems to care about the weather as long as they can plan for the summer.
