What I Think and Have A Right to Say

By ELTON R. EATON

IT IS LATER THAN YOU THINK.

There is an old Chinese proverb which reads something like the following if memory serves correctly: "If you desire to enjoy some of the fruits of a good life, you had better begin now, because it is later than you think."

Those may not be the exact words, but they at least express the sentiment of a race of people who through the centuries have been great students of people. It means that if you desire to have more time to do the things you have longed to do for years and to enjoy a bit more leisure than you have been accustomed to, it is well to do it NOW, "it is later than you think."

Some three or four years ago a close friend of the writer who had served one of the judicial circuits of southwestern Michigan as a circuit judge for a period nearing the half century mark expressed that sentiment in a letter he had addressed to me, advising that he thought the time had come for him to ease off a bit in his work so that he might have more time to seek out the pleasures, read the books and travel to places he had longed to visit but had never been able to do so because of his rigid adherence to his public duties.

It was but a few months later when fate made the decision for him and he went to his reward without experiencing the pleasures he had hoped to enjoy.

When such an active and useful citizen as John Blickenstaff decides that the time has come to ease off a bit we commend his good judgment. And we know that his decision to do the things he has long planned to do before he is too old and has lost the desire to have the good times to which he is entitled is a wise one. We wish for him and Mrs. Blickenstaff all of the pleasures this old world can offer. It is fortunate, too, that friendly, energetic "Pat" Wiltzie is going to continue the business that Mr. Blickenstaff built so well.

BARKING UP THE WRONG TREE.

Governor "Soapy" Williams is running around the state telling folks that the legislature didn't do a very good job because it failed to pass all of the phony bills he wanted enacted into law and insisted upon cutting many millions of dollars out of his top-heavy budget.

As we see it the Governor is simply barking up the wrong tree. From comments we have heard most of the thinking people of the state and those who know anything about the state's problems have only commendation for what the legislature did.

In fact they think it should have cut deeper into his spending bills. One of the state senators said in a talk the other night that not a single state department, institution or school would suffer as a result of the actions of the legislature. And we have every reason to believe that what this senator said will prove correct.

It is about time that public officials put a stop to the bleeding of the over-burdened taxpayers of Michigan.

CAUSES OF JUVENILE DELINQUENCIES.

There has been much said about reasons why young boys and girls get into trouble with the law. Some officers say that it is partly due to broken homes—homes where mothers and fathers of children are separated by divorce. From general observation it would be the writer's opinion that blame could be placed almost at one hundred percent on the divorces granted by the courts. It was recently revealed by an insurance company that over 42 percent of families broken up by divorces have children—children who to a very large extent will be forced to shift for themselves a good share of the time. Maybe it is about time for the various legislatures of the country to begin enacting some rigid legislation providing for the proper care and supervision of children who are the real victims of a family broken up through the divorce courts. At any rate we must admit that our present system of easy divorces is a disgrace to the nation.

By CARL PETERSON

Bernard Baruch, who is noted for his park bench philosophy and good sound sense, warns us that "Too much government will wreck this country". This is a delayed echo of Emerson's statement: "The less government we have the better." Nowadays, says Baruch, too many of us want "security" . . . and we want something from the government. But the more you get for "free", the more independence you give up. An individual's security is within himself. America was built by folks who took their chances, and made them pay off. Animals caged in a zoo have plenty of security . . . but not much freedom.

Congratulations to our Plymouth Ex-Servicemen's Club on the celebration of its 25th anniversary, June 8. We wish them well in their program, and hope that the future will see many more happy anniversaries.

Your Police Department Speaks

Written by members of Plymouth's Police department

Vacation time is near. That means more time to play. Often boys and girls use railroad property as a playground. Every year in the United States an average of 150 children under 15 years of age are killed and 200 to 300 others are maimed for life while trespassing on railroad property. Many of these accidents happen in Michigan and could happen in Plymouth. We remind you of these things:

Railroad property is the world's most dangerous playground. When you trespass on railroad property it is exactly like going into another person's house or yard without permission. We ask you to remember these DONT'S:

Don't play on or near railroad property.

Don't crawl under or pass around the end of lowered crossing gates.

Don't take short cuts across the tracks other than at public crossings.

Don't walk on railroad tracks. Don't walk on - play on - run over - fish from - or dive from railroad trestles and bridges. Don't "hop" rides on cars. Don't crawl under, between, in or around cars of a standing train. Don't play on coal piles, piles or ties or other material on railroad property. Don't place any object on the rails. Don't tamper with railroad property, such as signals or switches, brake wheels or car couplings. Don't in any way damage insulators or signal lights along the right of way. Don't throw stones or shoot slingshots or air guns at moving trains or the train crews or passengers. Boys and girls have not obeyed these rules and have been killed or crippled for life. Remember, It's never safe to trespass on or play on or near railroad property. It's dangerous fun and not worth the price you may have to pay. BE SMART: STAY AWAY FROM RAILROAD PROPERTY - AND STAY ALIVE!

Micah's Hope of God's Salvation
Lesson: Micah 4: 1-5; 5: 2-4; 7: 18-20
Memory Selection: Micah 7: 18

MICAH first gives us a view of the conquering church, to which all peoples shall come by and by. We note that men shall beat their swords and spears into ploughshares and pruning hooks, and nations shall learn of war no more. This prophecy is similar to one by Isaiah. Did Micah copy from Isaiah, or Isaiah from Micah? Or did both copy from an older prophecy? We do not know.

War having been done away, men shall be free to develop the arts of peace and the cultivation of brotherhood, under the name and blessing of Jehovah. This is a beautiful picture of a warless world—a picture often seen in the imagination of men, but not yet realized.

The coming of Jesus of Nazareth, it was prophesied, would have much to contribute to the realization of peace. The reader may remember that Micah 5:2 was quoted by the Jewish authorities when they were asked by Herod where Christ should be born, according to prophecy.

The closing portion of the lesson deals with the beauty of God's forgiving love. Upon his repentant children God will have compassion, and he will cast their sins into the depths of the sea. So Micah hopes for salvation from God, even unto the uttermost. May we find pardon at his right hand and grace to help in time of need.

Dzurus Stars in 14-6 Win Over Ypsilanti Braves

Beating Ypsilanti on Tuesday, May 23, by a score of 14-6, the Rock baseball squad evened things up with the Braves after losing their first encounter to them. Wally Dzurus went all the way for Plymouth, pitching a fine four hit game, all of the hits being singles.

Plymouth started out fast, scoring three runs in the initial frame. Not to be satisfied with this margin, they scored seven more runs in the third and four in the fifth. Fenton collected two of Plymouth's six hits.

Dzurus held Ypsi hitless for the first two innings and allowed their only hits to come in separate innings. Wally has turned in to the Rocks' leading pitcher this season, both in relief and starting assignments.

Softball Season Opens Tonight

Its opening night tonight in the Plymouth Men's Open and Industrial Softball leagues with the first game starting behind the high school at 6:15 p.m. as Daisy takes on Dunn Steel, an Industrial league encounter.

The other contest finds Wall Wire tackling Champion Corrugated with Whitman-Barnes sitting it out tonight. Five teams are in this league and each night one team must take a bye.

In the Men's Open League Cavalcade Inn will oppose Beglinger Oldsmobile starting at 8:20 p.m. and the South Side Merchants will take on DeHoCo at the Detroit House of Correction.

Beglinger and the Detroit House of Correction are expected to be the top contenders in this league as each squad has a mighty powerful bunch of boys. Dunn Steel, who represented Plymouth at the Class B softball tournament at Ludington last season, is favored again this season and will be pushed steadily all season by Daisy.

Awarded Tennis Letter at Adrian College

William Bateman of 1347 Ann Arbor trail received his first letter at Adrian college for his participation on the tennis team this spring.

He was the only consistent point maker on the squad while playing both singles and doubles. As a freshman he proved he will become one of Adrian's better tennis players before he graduates.

New Ladies' Golf Class Starting

With Max Todd as the new instructor of the ladies' golf class, the group will continue classes starting Thursday morning, June 1, at Hilltop Golf course. Mr. Todd will be taking over Mrs. Alex Miller's former class.

Any lady who wishes to enroll can do so on that day or the following Thursday, June 8. However, that will be the last day to make an entry and there must be at least 10 enrolled in the class.

Twenty-eight ladies have received instructions from Mrs. Miller during the class just completed. All who took part enjoyed the course very much.

Thursday was selected the best day for the lesson as this is established as "Ladies' Day" at Hilltop and all class members having membership cards may play until 5 p.m. on that day at reduced rates.

The City Recreation department hopes these classes will continue and that more women will take advantage of this opportunity to learn to play golf at these reduced rates with expert instruction.

Anyone interested in this class has only to report to Mr. Todd at Hilltop Golf course Thursday morning, June 8 at 9 a.m.

Plans are underway to have a ladies golf tournament in September and to qualify for this tourney each lady must have five cards of 18 holes from either Plymouth Country club or Hilltop golf course turned in by August 1 to Mrs. Marvin Partridge at the Country club or Mrs. Arthur Donnelly at Hilltop. The tournament will be sponsored by the Michigan Recreation association.

Wins Radio at Grand Opening...

Five Teams Enter D Softball Loop

The boys' softball leagues are just about filled right now with five teams entered in the D league and four thus far entered in the E league. The season will begin shortly after school is out.

One more squad could be entered in each league but it is not necessary as four squads are enough to compose a loop. The Hoots were the last team to enter the D league and they will be managed by Carl Pursell and Howard Pernie.

The Panthers hit the loop just ahead of the Hoots and will be captained by Jerry Fallot. Northville will have a team in this league and their home games will be played in the fair city to our north.

Wayne County Training school and the South Side Barber Hellcats have shown their desire to play in this league long ago and have been playing some hot games at the Training school. The next game will be Sunday afternoon, June 4, on the WCTS diamond.

South Side is managed by Al Larson while Clare Ebersole is coach of the Red Birds.

In the E loop where four teams have entered, two more teams could be used but the league could possibly survive with four squads.

Teams in this loop include the Black Hawks, Falcons, Indians and a squad from Northville. The Falcons and Indians are Training school teams.

In Globe, Arizona, a disgruntled silver prospector came out of the hills to file a location notice on his mining claim: "Foiled No. 4."

Rock Baseball Squad Drops Second Contest With Trenton

The Rock baseball squad suffered their fifth defeat of the season Friday, May 26, bowing to Trenton 5-4. This was the Rocks second defeat this season at the hands of the Trojans.

Dave Reitzel started on the mound for the Rocks, but after walking the first four men he was replaced by Bob Norgren, who promptly struck out the first man up against him. However, the next batsman drove home a run with a single. This was the end of the scoring in that inning as Bob struck out the next batter and the other lined to third.

Plymouth bounced back to a lead in their half of the first on hits by Fenton and Campbell and three walks. Plymouth was then held scoreless until the fourth inning when Finnegan walked and then scored on Travis' single.

Trenton came back in the lead again, scoring two runs in the second and another in the fifth. This ended the scoring in the game.

Plymouth came close to tying the game in the last inning when Campbell tried to score from second on Secord's single but was thrown out at the plate, ending the game.

Norgren pitched a very good game for the Rocks, although losing. He allowed only four hits while striking out four batsmen.

Following is the individual records for the game:

Roger Babson Says...

Babson Discusses Jobs for June Graduates
 One and three-quarters million boys and girls will graduate from our schools and colleges this June. Their job outlook is bleak. Nearly half their number will graduate into unemployment!

Reasons For Scarcity
 There is already a pool of unemployed estimated roughly at 5,000,000. In addition, 500,000 college graduates will come onto the job market late this spring. Another 1,200,000 high school graduates will receive their diplomas by late June. Of these high school graduates, 240,000 will go on to college. About 200,000 of the girls will marry. The balance—760,000—will seek employment. School officials say that another 600,000 drop out of school and college each year for one reason or another. They, too, become job hunters.

There are six reasons for the gloomy outlook: (1) The wartime and post-war shortages have now been mostly filled. (2) Industries have been making careful efficiency studies to cut mounting labor costs. (3) Since most industries are no longer expanding, hiring is on only a replacement basis. (4) Individuals are graduating from schools and colleges faster than jobs are becoming available. (5) Present workers are living longer and retaining their efficiency longer. (6) The low wages of skilled foreign labor are becoming a factor through increasing imports. Even in the best post-war years, fewer than a million new jobs a year have developed. Hence, many 1950 graduates—probably about 50 percent of them—will graduate into unemployment.

Analysis of Job Market
 There is already an oversupply of accountants, clerks, chemists, engineers, journalists, lawyers, business administration majors, and personnel workers.

 On the other hand, there are still good opportunities in merchandising, marketing, business research, architecture, insurance, banking, medicine, nursing, pharmacy, social work and school teaching. This latter field and salesmanship offer the best opportunities.

Implications for Job Hunters
 Big businesses, in their mad scramble to get college graduates when the supply was small, bid against one another for college talent. Jobs at fancy salaries were then easy to get. But the college graduate was not always prepared to move as fast as some companies moved men. Others were forgotten and not moved as rapidly as promised. Impatience set in and the graduates became job-hoppers. Many businessmen begin to feel that "young graduates are in too much of a hurry to become vice-presidents!" Consequently, many employers now prefer to hire unemployed experienced workers because they have at last had some economic sense knocked into their heads the hard way.

The implications for the 1950 job hunters are obvious: (1) He must first of all know himself—his abilities, his vocational interests, his character, and his personality traits. (2) He must have some general idea of how he can utilize his interests and abilities to the maximum and thereby develop into an efficient, highly productive worker for his employer. This means approaching his prospective employer with an attitude of "What can I do for you?" instead of "What can you do for me?" (3) He should expend energy necessary before a job interview to learn something about a company, its products, and where he might best fit into the scheme of things.

Forget Salaries
 Job seekers of 1950 who are too lazy to do these three things may find themselves graduating into unemployment. As one who employs many hundreds myself, I can tell you that on the other hand, there will always be good opportunities for trained men of character, energy and fighting qualities. I always employ all the "red-heads" I can find when they do not think too much of salary.

CAPITOL — Dean Martin takes "I'm Gonna Paper All My Walls With Your Love Letters" and does a fine job with it... "Muskrat Rambles" is on the flip side... "Put On An Old Pair of Shoes" has been revived effectively by Robert Clary with another oldie, "Louise," backing it... Clark Dennis' latest waxing is the pretty "Kathy" from "Mrs. Mike"... The reverse, "Summer Night," is also pleasant on the ears... Eddie Kirk comes up with a western pair, "Saturday Nighttime Blues," and "Four Hearts."

COLUMBIA — Cream of the Columbia crop: "Rubber Knuckle Sam" and "Down the Lane" as done by the Modernaires... "Dream a Little Dream of Me" and "Tell Me" by Frankie Carle... "When Our Country Was Born" and "Pepito and Carmencita" by Vincent Lopez... A cute little novelty, "Snora" by Willie Solar with the "Aba Daba Honey-moon" on the reverse.

MERCURY — Lawrence Welk digs deep for a real oldie, "Do Wacka Doo" and turns in a creditable job on it... "Pizzicati" backs it... Eddy Howard's rendition of "My Mom" appeared in time for Mother's Day.

Show Health and Safety Exhibit

Plymouth residents are already proudly pointing to the first of the new elementary school buildings which they are providing to improve educational opportunities for children of the community.

Teachers in the Plymouth elementary schools are also anticipating the improved physical facilities. The cooperative study program which began formally a year ago last September is continuing through the efforts of building committees.

Teachers and principals meet regularly on Tuesday afternoons to work on problems of improving the school's educational services for children. In several of the groups parents are participating. Children have in some instances given advice concerning proposed changes. Among special resource people from outside the school have been Dr. Kathleen Hester, reading consultant from Michigan State Normal college; Mrs. Nora Stage of the Visiting Nurses association, and Dr. Clark Trow of the University of Michigan.

In Central Elementary school, Mrs. Nellie Bird, principal, reports one committee working in the area on Basic Skills. This tween actual practice and the statements of belief concerning democratic living, the committee has concerned itself with ways and means for making democracy the way of life in the school community.

One area studied with the assistance of Safety Patrol members is that of student participation in the actual management and government of the school. The second committee has been developing plans for an improved school auditorium program whose general function would be slanted in the direction of character education. This same committee has been concerned with improving the use of audio visual aids in the school program. Helen Farrand, sixth grade teacher, is chairman.

During the past two years many parents have participated in this cooperative endeavor to search out ways for improving the educational program for Plymouth children and youth. Many of the suggestions made in these study groups are being tried out in the classrooms. The project arose out of the belief that schools can be improved, and that the best way of improving them is through the close cooperation of parents and other community residents, teachers, and children in working on the problems concerned with bringing about this improvement.

"There will always be much to be done," says Paul Johnson, elementary coordinator. "But most of us believe that the big obstacle to progress has been hurdled when people have the mutual confidence in each other to sit down together, talk about the things they should be doing better, and plan in terms of better ways of helping all children to maximum growth and development in a democratic atmosphere."

The third group is considering ways and means for improving auditorium and classroom programs as educational experiences for children. Ruth Eriksson, who teaches sixth grade, is serving as chairman. Members of this committee are preparing suggestions and plans for more effective student participation in classroom and school government. Members of the school Safety Patrol have participated in the work of this committee.

In the Starkweather Elementary school all teachers and a number of parents are participating regularly under the leadership of Mrs. Nancy Tanger, principal, in group study focused on two areas. One group is working with Evelyn Gladstone, fourth grade teacher, serving as chairman. Observing the large gap be-

Show Health and Safety Exhibit

Plymouth residents are already proudly pointing to the first of the new elementary school buildings which they are providing to improve educational opportunities for children of the community.

Teachers in the Plymouth elementary schools are also anticipating the improved physical facilities. The cooperative study program which began formally a year ago last September is continuing through the efforts of building committees.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Heighten Mealtime Interest with Stuffed Rib Pork Chops

Experienced cooks know that pork chops may be depended upon for satisfying serving any time. But for a tempting variation, fill plump pork chops with a savory bread stuffing.

For the bread stuffing, two cups of toasted bread crumbs are combined with  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup finely chopped onion and 1 tablespoon of chopped green pepper. The mixture is seasoned with celery salt and combined with  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup milk and one slightly-beaten egg.

Chopped celery may be added to this stuffing if desired. Or for a complete change, pork chops may be filled with a whole kernel corn, cracker crumb and green pepper combination.

Fruits present even more stuffing possibilities. Sliced tart apple may be used alone or combined with prunes. Dried apricots and raisins are equally as appealing with the flavor of pork.

When chops are to be stuffed it is best to choose double thick rib chops. A pocket is made in each chop by cutting from the side along the bone. Cut from this side, the edges hold together, partially closing as the chops cook. With the chops filled, they are browned on both sides, covered and either cooked in a moderate oven (350° F.) or on top of the range for about 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Old Fashioned Meat-Corn Dish Still Popular

Back to early Indians may be traced meat and corn dishes. However, many of today's meat-corn combinations are a far cry from those of that day. Today fresh or cooked beef, veal, pork or lamb is combined with cream-style, whole kernel corn or cornmeal for a great variety of dishes.

One combination teams ground meat with cream-style corn. In preparing, the meat is slowly browned in a small amount of fat in a frying-pan. The cream-style corn is then added to the browned meat and the mixture placed in a slightly greased casserole. Tomato or condensed tomato soup is poured over the meat-corn mixture. The casserole is covered and placed in a slow oven (300° F.) until the meat is cooked—about 30 minutes. If the homemaker prefers to use the top of her range this mixture may be cooked completely in the frying pan in which the meat is browned.

A whole kernel corn and cubed ham casserole provides an unusual dish for the homemaker to serve. Pale green lima beans are added to the mixture which is moistened with orange juice. For seasoning, ground clove is sprinkled over it, then a bit of brown sugar. The casserole is placed in a slow oven until the mixture is heated through. Near the end of cooking time crushed corn flakes are placed over the casserole, then it is returned to the oven just long enough to give them a light browning.

DEVILED EGG VARIETY

Here's a way to vary deviled eggs. Grind ready-to-serve meat and combine with cooked egg yolks and mayonnaise mixture.

New Advice on Frozen Foods Now Available

Frozen foods retain a greater amount of their original flavor and color than foods preserved by any other method. They help to keep "summer" on your table all winter, and in the case of meat, "winter on your table all summer."

Because of the interest in frozen foods and their contribution to Michigan meals, Michigan State college researchers have studied their preparation and care in all phases.

Results of their findings are of interest to anyone who eats or prepares frozen foods and wants high quality products. Michigan homemakers can benefit from recommendations based on this research by obtaining a copy of the bulletin "Freezing Foods for Michigan Homes."

Published by the MSC Agricultural Experiment Station, the 46-page illustrated bulletin covers all phases of freezing—equipment, freezing schedules, packaging, and preparation of fruits, vegetables, meats and poultry. Obtain your free copy from the Bulletin Office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State College, East Lansing, or from your county extension office.

Do you want to know what kind of cartons and wrappings are best to use, how to keep peaches from browning, what variety of strawberries to use? Any question you might have is answered in this complete new bulletin with its up-to-the-minute advice.

You are reminded to freeze only the best, because freezing does not improve foods. Emphasis is put on using recommended varieties of fruits and vegetables, using field ripened foods, and handling them quickly from garden to freezer or locker.

LIVER ROLL-UPS

Strips of liver and sausage are joined for clever serving. Cook the bulk sausage over low heat until brown and crumbly. Combine with bread crumbs, chopped onion and seasoning. Pile a spoonful on each slice of liver, roll and wrap each liver roll with a slice of bacon. Brown the rolls in a frying-pan, then remove to a baking dish, add  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup water and cover. Bake in 350° F. oven for 45 minutes. During the last 15 minutes of cooking remove the casserole cover to brown the bacon.

When food spills over on the surface units of your electric range let it char. When the unit is cool, brush off particles with a brush. If needed, enclosed units may then be washed off.

EASY DOES IT
BY.....HELEN MALE

AN EASY WAY to chop a fairly good quantity of nuts is to place them in a small cloth bag or to wrap in a clean towel and then apply a rolling pin to them until they are broken to the size you want.

To grate lemon or orange peel, wash the fruit and dry thoroughly. Use the grater only on the skin and avoid going to the white part. Wash grater immediately with a small brush to prevent discoloration.

When cutting sticky foods such as dried fruits or marshmallows, keep dipping the scissors or knife in cold water.

SMALL FRY NEED SIMPLE CLOTHES

If the approach of summer means buying or making some new clothing for your young children, some tips that will make dressing easier for them will be helpful to you now.

Clothing that makes dressing himself simpler will promote self-help for your child and relieve you of having to help him so much.

Look for underpants with firm all-around elastic and under-shirts with no marked difference between front and back. Socks without elastic at the cuffs are more easily managed by small hands.

Many little dresses now button down the back. They're pretty—but not too encouraging for the child who wants to help herself. Large buttons which button down the front and firmly made buttonholes can be found.

Shirts with an easily stretched neck or large buttons down the front are plentiful and practical. Overalls are made with zippers which are both easy and interesting for the younger ones. Corduroy pants with elastic waistbands are attractive and easily pulled up or pushed down.

Shoes with buckles can be managed before shoe strings can be tied. Rubbers a bit larger than the shoes present fewer struggles.

Simple but well-constructed

1 1/2 cups milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup shortening
3 cups sifted flour
2 eggs

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening and cool to lukewarm. Add flour and mix well. Add yeast and eggs and beat until smooth. Cover and let rise in a warm place until light and bubbly. Stir down, cover and set in refrigerator overnight or until ready to use. To bake, remove from refrigerator, and stir down. Pour onto hot waffle iron and bake until brown and crisp, about three to four minutes.

scalding milk as they prevent its burning or boiling over. When there is a row of bubbles around the edge of the pan, the milk is scalded.

When caramelizing sugar, use a heavy skillet and a low fire. Stir the sugar constantly to prevent burning it.

To make buttered crumbs for topping casseroles, use one cup of bread or cracker crumbs mixed with  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup butter.

To make bread crumbs, dry bread out in a slow oven, but do not let it brown. When cool, put through the food chopper or roll it in a paper bag. Sift, if fine crumbs are desired.

THEY'RE STUFFED!

Here's an easy way to heighten your family's mealtime interest—plump rib pork chops filled with a savory stuffing. Miniature spiced crabapples placed between chunks of pineapple are the attractive accompaniment.

Small Fry Need Simple Clothes

If the approach of summer means buying or making some new clothing for your young children, some tips that will make dressing easier for them will be helpful to you now.

Clothing that makes dressing himself simpler will promote self-help for your child and relieve you of having to help him so much.

Look for underpants with firm all-around elastic and under-shirts with no marked difference between front and back. Socks without elastic at the cuffs are more easily managed by small hands.

Many little dresses now button down the back. They're pretty—but not too encouraging for the child who wants to help herself. Large buttons which button down the front and firmly made buttonholes can be found.

Shirts with an easily stretched neck or large buttons down the front are plentiful and practical. Overalls are made with zippers which are both easy and interesting for the younger ones. Corduroy pants with elastic waistbands are attractive and easily pulled up or pushed down.

Shoes with buckles can be managed before shoe strings can be tied. Rubbers a bit larger than the shoes present fewer struggles.

Simple but well-constructed

clothing of good washable materials always looks nice whether intended for dress or play. Children's clothing should be pretty in color, colorfast and pre-shrunk. These qualities can be checked by the various labels.

MEATY TURNOVERS

Meaty turnovers become a pleasant mealtime surprise—and a wise way of using leftover meat. Make up biscuit dough and roll or pat to  $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch thickness. These qualities can be checked by the various labels.

Place cut into rectangular pieces. Then creamed meat in the center of each rectangle, fold dough over and bake on a greased baking sheet for 15 minutes.

HAM, APRICOTS

Ham and apricots are a colorful duet for these bright days. Here's apricot sauce to serve over ham slices. Cook dried apricots in water until tender. Drain the cooking liquid and combine it with cornstarch paste. Cook until thick and clear. Fold in apricots along with a tablespoon of butter or margarine and serve hot over ham.

BEEF "WHEELS"

Beef leftovers are temptingly used in this manner. Prepare biscuit dough and roll to  $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch thickness. Top the dough with chopped, cooked beef, chopped onion and green pepper. Roll biscuit dough, slice into 1-inch strips and bake in a moderate oven. Serve with grown gravy.

Rolled Lamb Shoulder Makes Tender Roast

Menu planning is a simple matter whenever the homemaker serves a lamb roast. One choice she may make is the rolled lamb shoulder. Since this tender roast is boned, it is especially easy to carve.

For perfection in roasting the rolled shoulder is seasoned with salt and pepper, then placed on a rack in an open roasting pan. No water is added and the pan is left uncovered throughout the entire cooking time. A lamb roast should be cooked in a 300° F. oven. The rolled roast requires from 40 to 45 minutes per pound cooking time.

A roast meat thermometer is of great aid in determining the exact degree of doneness that the homemaker desires. The thermometer is inserted so the bulb is in the center of the roast. It will register 175° F. when cooked medium done and 180° F. when lamb is well done.

Minted pear halves may be used to decorate the serving platter (canned pear halves heated in melted mint jelly). Other menu suggestions include green peas and creamed new potatoes. A jellied salad of pineapple cubes and chopped carrots in lime gelatin will complete the main course. For dessert, perhaps a strawberry-rhubarb pie may be served.

If your electric range has open units be especially careful to keep salt, soda, soap and sugar off the wires. There's danger of burning out the wires.

"PEEK SISTERS"

AMITY HALL

Yes sir! It was the affair of the year those sixty years ago. The "Peek Sisters" was a play and it brought to Plymouth some of the best efforts ever put forth by home talent. Unfortunately the living members of the cast can't still remember just why they held the play but there were two reasons that prompted their actions they were sure.

First it seems the men folk of the village had recently held a minstrel show and the "girls" decided they could do a much better job. Since none of the men who took part in the minstrel show are still around it makes it necessary for us to take the word of the girls that the "Peek Sisters" was by far the better show.

Now as to the second reason. Well that's different. They knew they held the show for charity purposes but how much they made or what the charity was... "well we just can't remember." Neither can they remember just what they did in the show except there was singing and dancing and they do remember they sang a couple of brand new songs by the name of "After the Ball Was Over" and "Evelina".

An article appeared in the Plymouth Mail right after the show stating how good the local talent in the "Peek Sisters" was and recorded the fact for your interest, that another "original Uncle Tom's Cabin Company" was roaming about the country and several defenseless villages, of which Plymouth was one, were threatened with its appearance.

Not that it has any direct connection with the above but the appearance of home talent shows about that time did much to weld smaller communities together and gave local residents something new in the line of amusement. So maybe it shouldn't be surprising when we learn that Michigan's prison population decreased nearly 400 in 1890 even though the state was completing construction on Marquette prison which had been started the year before.

Unusual Pot Holders Displayed

Mrs. Charles Kennedy holds two of her favorite pot holders among the many in her collection. Beginning her hobby in 1946, Mrs. Kennedy now has completed a wide variety of hand-crocheted or hand-sewn pot holders. She has exhibited them at state fairs, and this week her work will be displayed in the lobby of the Plymouth United Savings bank.

Pot holders, patterned after fruits, vegetables, kitchen utensils—in fact, almost everything used in the kitchen—are included in the collection of Mrs. Charles Kennedy, 415 Arthur avenue. Mrs. Kennedy crochets or sews the pot holders as a pastime, and since 1946 has made several dozen.

Her collection will be displayed this week in the lobby of the Plymouth United Savings bank, and some of her work has been exhibited at Michigan state fairs. Some of the gaily colored holders are designed like pumpkins, pineapples, strawberries, cucumbers, corn and carrots. One unusual pair of mitt-type holders are shaped like cherry-faced chefs wearing tall white hats. Others in the collection are pairs of measuring cups, clocks, hearts, bells, sugar and creamers, flower pots, tiny crocheted dresses, and flowers.

Dondero Told Plymouth Citizens Four Years Ago of Red Dangers

Some 100 Plymouth citizens will recall a statement made to them some four or five years ago by Congressman George A. Dondero at a meeting in the Hotel Mayflower that this country had plenty of reason to worry about the infiltration into Washington of left-wingers who were more interested in helping Russia than they were of our country.

What Congressman Dondero said at that time caused some comment, but not much worry. Washington newspaper dispatches are now, however, giving much space to statements the congressman from this district is making about the serious plight this nation faces because of what is happening throughout the world.

Newspapers throughout the country a few days ago gave much space to revelations made by Congressman Dondero that the FBI was forced to suppress evidence that Russia and the Chinese Reds received "hundreds" of secret state department documents through the magazine Amerasia.

Included among the documents, Dondero said, was a complete report on the size and disposition of every unit in the army of Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Dondero's statement supported the claim of Senator Joseph McCarthy (R) of Wisconsin that top-secret information was stolen from the state department by its employees and transmitted to the Soviet Union in the Amerasia case.

McCarthy said the stolen information included data concerning the atomic bomb. Dondero said he had no knowledge of the theft of atom data.

Dondero was the author of a House resolution that forced a 1946 congressional investigation of the Amerasia scandal. The probe ended in what Dondero termed a "whitewash." He has demanded a new inquiry.

A Senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating McCarthy's charges of a Communist-infested state department has turned its attention to the Amerasia case because of its connection with John S. Service, career diplomat accused of Red sympathies.

The Amerasia charges also involve American policy in the Far East and Owen Lattimore, state department adviser who was named by McCarthy as Russia's number one spy in the United States.

Service was one of six persons arrested on June 6, 1945, after the FBI raided the New York offices of Amerasia and seized 425 classified government documents that had been taken from the files of the state department, the Office of Strategic Services, Office of Naval Intelligence and the Office of War Information.

Others arrested as a result of the raid were Philip Jacob Jaffe and Kate L. Mitchell, editors of the magazine; Andrew Roth, a lieutenant in the navy who has been identified as a Communist; Mark J. Gayn, a magazine writer, and Emmanuel S. Larsen, a research specialist in the Far East division of the state department.

All were seized for conspiracy to violate the espionage act during wartime. Service, Larsen and Roth were accused of taking documents from government files and passing them on to Gayne, Miss Mitchell and Jaffe.

Dondero said he has received reliable information that Secretary of State Acheson wrote a letter to the justice department demanding that Service be "kept in the clear."

When the letter was written, Acheson was a member of the state department foreign service personnel board. Service was a foreign service officer.

Said Dondero: "I was given this information by a man who saw the letter. It is not hearsay."

The cases against Service, Gayn and Miss Mitchell were presented to a federal grand jury, but they were not indicted. Jaffe, Larsen and Roth were accused by the jury of the comparatively minor charge of theft of government records.

The case against Roth was later dropped. Jaffe pleaded guilty and was fined $2,500 and Larsen entered a plea of no contest and was fined $500.

East and Owen Lattimore, state department made no effort to indict the six for espionage. He declared:

"The case was fixed. There is no doubt about it in my mind and it was fixed by persons at the highest level in the administration."

"The FBI was never allowed to present the evidence it had obtained in weeks of investigation. I understand at one time there were 125 FBI agents working on various phases of the case."

Dondero said that Frank Bielaski, former agent for the OSS, could give Senate investigators the details of a meeting in April, 1945, of Jaffe, Earl Browder, then head of the Communist party in the United States, and Tung Pi-Wu, Chinese Communist delegate to United Nation's organizational conference in San Francisco. Said Dondero:

"Agents of the FBI and the OSS witnessed the meeting. Tung Pi-Wu flew to New York from San Francisco for the conference and then hurried back again. The meeting lasted for five hours and at that time Jaffe had in his possession documents on the strength and every detail of the Chaing Kai-shek forces."

Bielaski was questioned Thursday by Senate investigators in a secret session and warned not to reveal his testimony.

Dondero also charged that FBI files record the visits made by Jaffe to the office of the Soviet consul in New York and tell of indirect contacts between him and the Soviet embassy in Washington. He declared:

"The FBI could tell a story that would shock this country. The whole disaster in China can be traced right back to the Amerasia case and the pressure within the administration to hush it up."

"The truth is that certain persons in the state department who wanted to help the Communists in China used the magazine Amerasia as a front. The magazine itself had a circulation of 17,000 and huge photographic facilities for copying documents."

Sound Mind Makes a Sound Body

TODAY'S PIECE is inspired by a woman who lives in Flushing, New York, and who requests that we use only her initials, L. B. Mrs. L. B.'s husband has been ill a long time, not down and out, but always feeling bad. Eventually he developed nervous indigestion (which usually comes from worry.) Month after month he frequented the doctors' offices, trying first one and then the other. He got no better; if anything, he was consistently getting worse. Finally, he consulted a chiropractor who gave him treatments for a couple of months. But still there was no improvement in his condition. Yes, he could see that he was not only not improving, he was steadily becoming a chronic invalid.

Then one day Mrs. L. B. read a list of books in a newspaper that doctors recommended for nervous patients, patients suffering from nervous disorders of any kind. She went right out and bought some of those books. Why, they didn't seem in the least like medical books. Instead they were just "common-sense books." But she read them, and she persuaded her husband to read them. This wasn't difficult to do for he was like the proverbial drowning man grasping for a straw. He was sick of being sick!

What particular thought do you think carried through for Mr. L. B.? Just this: To live one day at a time, and not to worry about the past nor to take heed for the future.

"Why, when he started that course," says Mrs. L. B., "he at once began to improve. He became less nervous, he discarded the idea newly developed that he must have heart trouble, and he even enjoyed playing with our six-year-old son whose noise and activities so recently had unnerved him."

"In an amazingly short time my husband was completely cured. I hope our experience may help some of your readers whose trouble, though maybe unknown to them, is purely mental. We have found to our great benefit that when the mental attitude is right little will go wrong with the physical self."
