What I Think and Have A Right to Say

By ELTON R. EATON

POLITICAL FAKING.

You've read a lot during the past few weeks about the "state engineers" of the Public Service Commission having advised against the raise recently allowed by the commission to the Michigan Bell Telephone company. We have no intention of getting into this argument and all we know about the mess is what we have read in the newspapers.

But we do know there has been a lot of petting on the part of the Governor in connection with this case.

The multi-millionaire-to-be Governor who fooled the voters some two years ago by claiming that he had to mortgage his home to help pay his campaign expenses and rode about the state in a second-hand Lizzy to make the political fake look more realistic, has placed much emphasis upon the fact that the commission should not have granted a rate raise because the "engineers" of the department had not recommended it.

Here's where the political faking comes in—does any one know of any case ever before the commission in which the so-called engineers have ever stepped forth to advocate a rate raise for the phone company, or for any other public service utility as for that matter?

Cases before the public service commission are heard just as any case in a court might be. When an application is made for a rate raise, then the "engineers" of the department are supposed to try and knock down the arguments for the advance. Then the commission, sitting in judgment, is supposed to weigh the facts and use its own judgment as to what is just and what is not just. The Governor, if he knows anything about the state government over which he presides, should know these facts, like every one else who knows anything about their state government.

The Governor would have the voters believe that this was the ONLY case ever before the commission in which the engineers had not advocated or favored a rate increase. That's downright political deception. We assume that the Phone company, like everybody else, has been caught in the inflation spiral set off by the Washington know-nothings and increased rates are the penalty we must pay for being foolish enough to vote for the most political-minded administration this nation has ever had. The company probably asked for a rate raise because it needed it to pay the higher wages and expenses the company, like every one else, has been forced to pay in recent years.

A STRAIGHT SLANT.

From an exchange a few days ago we "cribbed" a brief statement that is well worth the time of any one to read. There is so much truth and common sense in it that all should think about it—what was said more than a century ago is as true today as it was then.

The statement follows:

"The loudest applause for a statesman's speech seems invariably to come at those points where he promises great benefits for the majority of the people without any particular effort on their part.

"This is only natural. The golden dream of something for nothing still persists in the minds of all of us, no matter how many are our rude awakenings in the cold gray dawn.

"It takes courage, indeed, to make a speech in which the listeners are urged to do their part in an honest, wholehearted manner in order to achieve the desired result of better things for more people. And yet such speeches have been made. Here are the words of one:

"You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.

You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong. You cannot help the wage-earner by pulling down the wage-payer.

You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich. You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money. You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you can earn.

You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence.

You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

"These are not the words of a capitalist. They are not the words of a 'press agent for selfish interests'. They are the words of a President of the United States, a President who was perhaps the greatest friend the common man ever had.

"They are the words of Abraham Lincoln."

THERE IS PLENTY TO WORRY ABOUT.

Believe it or not, there are many people in this country who are plenty worried over the situation in Korea, even though President Truman says there is nothing to worry about.

Probably one of the best articles coming out from Washington pertaining to the Korean situation was written a few days ago by David Lawrence, editor of The United States News. It was published in a large number of newspapers throughout the country and we believe it of so much interest that we are reprinting it so readers of The Plymouth Mail will be able to know what one of America's most patriotic and outstanding Washington editors thinks of the situation. Mr. Lawrence's comment follows:

A "second Pearl Harbor" and a "second Bataan" are phrases one hears often in Washington nowadays to describe growing fears about the debacle in Korea.

Unquestionably the commitment made by the President when he ordered American troops into Korea two weeks ago was larger than could be immediately fulfilled, but nobody is blaming him for that commitment. He had no real choice.

What everybody is talking about, however, is the failure of the administration to appraise the entire Far Eastern situation several months ago in terms of potential trouble and to allocate American military forces in such a way that they could be made immediately available to any danger area there.

It is a sad commentary on the whole situation to find the chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Senator Millard Tydings, Democrat, telling reporters after his conference with Gen. Bradley that "naturally the logistical problems are extremely difficult due to distance, the limited port facilities, and relatively poor landing field facilities for aviation."

Those words might have been uttered about America's position in the Far East when the Japanese attacked both the Philippines and Hawaii in 1941, but one must rub one's eyes and pinch oneself to make sure this is 1950. With all the Navy's aircraft carriers—which do not need landing field for their planes—and the vast number of supply ships to operate the "fleet trains" that licked distances and "logistics" in the Pacific only five years ago, it seems as if someone has blundered badly despite the $15,000,000,000 a year spent for defense purposes.

What can the average citizen do about it? He can turn out of office at the polls the congressmen and senators who fell down on the job by failing to exercise vigilance—but these same congressmen and senators will point to the law which they passed in 1948 and claim an alibi. The "unification law" of that year created a "National Security Council." The council is composed of President Truman, Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, the secretaries of the Army, the Navy and the Air Force and Chairman Symington of the Resources board.

The National Security Council has the responsibility specifically written in the law:

"(1) To assess and appraise the objectives, commitments, and risks of the United States in relation to our actual and potential military power, in the interest of national security, for the purpose of making recommendations to the President in connection therewith; and

"(2) To consider policies on matters of common interest to the departments and agencies of the government concerned with the national security, and to make recommendations to the President in connection therewith.

The National Security Council is composed of men obviously

Offer Three Amendments To Charter

Three amendments to the city charter were introduced at the city commission meeting Monday night. The amendments were drawn up by members of the commission. No action will be taken on the amendments for 30 days.

The first amendment, which adds a new section to Chapter 4 of the charter, provides for the term of office of the representatives on the Board of Supervisors of Wayne county. The term in the amendment is for two years and will expire on the third Monday of April.

The second amendment adds a new section to Chapter 8 of the charter. It states that the commission may provide for the acquiring, establishment, operation, extension and maintenance of facilities for the storage and parking of vehicles within city limits, including the fixing and collection of charges for services. For such purpose the city may acquire by gift, purchase, condemnation or otherwise the necessary land.

The third amendment adds a new section to Chapter 4 of the charter and states that no elective officer of the city shall hold office for more than two successive terms. A partial term, whether by appointment or election, shall be considered a full term.

Red Cross Maps Defense Program

Detroit chapter of the American Red Cross and its 21 Wayne county branches have completed plans for participation in local defense programs, according to an announcement by John M. Sullivan, executive director of the chapter. The disaster chairman of the Plymouth branch is Dunbar Davis.

Under an agreement between the National Security Resources Board and the National Red Cross for utilizing the experience and resources of the Red Cross, acquired through its disaster work and varied community services, the ARC is pledged to assist in the development and operation of a program of civil defense at national, state and local levels.

The Red Cross agrees specifically to train civil defense workers and the general public in first aid; give training in home care of the sick and injured and in nurse's aide work; provide food, clothing and temporary shelter on a mass-care basis during an immediate emergency period; participate in a war-time nation-wide blood program, and make available existing organized chapter volunteers and resources and participation in civil defense activities.

The chapter has completed a revised manual of its Disaster Preparedness Plan, listing addresses and telephone numbers of all committee members, for use of interested agencies. It contains a detailed map of Wayne county, showing all roads, highways and strategic points.

Plans are underway for greatly expanding first aid and home nursing classes throughout the county.

Prepare For Main Street Widening

First steps have been taken by the city to eliminate at least a portion of the traffic bottleneck on North Main street.

Workmen during the past few days have started breaking up the old curbing on the west side of the street between Starkweather and Mill streets. As soon as it has been removed the street will be made ready for an additional seven foot paving strip.

This will give the heavy moving traffic over that portion of the thoroughfare a 37 foot roadway. The present paving is but 30 feet wide. It is not anticipated that any additional parking space will be made available but the widening will make possible a wider street for the heavy traffic to and from Plymouth and Schoolcraft roads.

City Manager Al Glassford also states that there will be a five foot sidewalk built along the west side of the street as soon as the new curbing and paving is completed. This improvement will for the first time give residents in that locality a sidewalk from Mill to Starkweather on both sides of the thoroughfare.

Youngest Entry in Horse Show....

Sue Ellen Herrick, seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Herrick of Ann Arbor trail, will be the youngest entry in the Northville Junior Horse Show this Sunday at Northville Downs. Sue Ellen will ride her horse, Tony, in several of the events.

At the Northville Junior Horse show this Sunday at Northville Downs, Plymouth will have the distinction of the youngest entry. Little 7 year old Sue Ellen Herrick, daughter of the Dean Herricks of 166 East Ann Arbor trail, will ride her horse, Tony, in several of the classes.

Judging will start at 12:15 and will run continuously through the 27 scheduled events and will finish about 9 p.m. under the lights.

Judging will be done by John Wallace of Grass Lake who will pass on the hunters and jumpers, saddle horses and English equitation will be handled by C. Arthur Searle of Detroit, and the western class ribbons will be handed out by Dick Garvit of Fowlerville.

The show will be a complete junior affair, even to the exhibition acts. The Northville Junior Quadrille team will do their square dances on horseback, and young riders will exhibit the tricks they have taught their mounts.

More than 100 horses will be on hand for the competition and the Northville Optimist club anticipates a record crowd.

Customers Swamp Local Merchants at Weekend Sales

Six local stores experienced a pre-holiday rush last weekend when response to their sale ads in The Plymouth Mail literally swamped them with customers. Ralph Rostow of Graham's said his Plymouth Mail clearance sale ad brought in more than twice as much business for the store as he had ever experienced in any previous July event and he felt sure this locality was developing into a leading shopping center.

J. G. Rucker, Jr., owner of Stop and Shop, got back from a few days' vacation to find that his 10 cent sale had produced the biggest weekend volume for the store in its entire history of business in Plymouth. Kroger's, also featuring a Swift's meat premium sale event in their Mail advertisement, reported one of their biggest dollar and cents weekends in recent months.

Both local shoe stores were swamped with customers and Earl Willoughby of Willoughby Brothers reported that their store experienced the biggest Saturday the store had seen since rationing started during the war and that total sales would double any previous July sale event. Fisher's shoe store reported that their sales were terrific and that traffic in and out of the store made it almost impossible to give satisfactory attention to the people seeking their merchandise. Saturday was the biggest day Fisher's ever experienced. It was also reported. Goldstein's Department store also featuring a sale event reported the best direct results from a Plymouth Mail ad since the store opened here almost a year ago and that they were mighty pleased with the business they had done over the weekend.

City Manager Al Glassford also states that there will be a five foot sidewalk built along the west side of the street as soon as the new curbing and paving is completed. This improvement will for the first time give residents in that locality a sidewalk from Mill to Starkweather on both sides of the thoroughfare.

Socialistic Planning Must Be Stopped Now Says Chamber of Commerce Speaker

It's Big News! Fourth Celebration Bills All Paid—There's Money Left

Here's something new in community affairs! Plymouth had a big celebration—and had money enough to pay for it!

Final accounting to the Chamber of Commerce made by Manager Ralph Lorenz of the Hotel Mayflower, who served as general chairman in charge of the two day Fourth of July celebration staged recently, shows that every bill has been paid and that there will be no necessity to raise additional funds.

President Ray Williams and the other officers are highly elated over this remarkable showing. They are especially pleased to know that it will be unnecessary to go out and try to raise money to pay off a deficit.

"We provided as good entertainment as we could for the two day celebration. We put forth a special effort to keep our expenditures within the budget we had set up and final results show that we were successful in doing so," said Mr. Lorenz.

So highly satisfactory was the Chamber of Commerce efforts to provide Plymouth residents with a real worthwhile Fourth celebration that there are already demands being made that it be repeated next year.

Mrs. George Todd Scores Hole-in-One at Hilltop

Proving that women golfers can take honors too, Mrs. George Todd scored a hole-in-one at Hilltop Golf course last week. She made it on the 6th hole, driving the ball 145 yards. Playing with Mrs. Mary Wiltse, Mrs. Todd's score for nine holes was 55. She was the first woman to score a hole-in-one at Hilltop this year.

Report Progress on Construction of Grade Schools

Rapid progress is being made in the construction of the George A. Smith Elementary school. The building is scheduled for completion in time for the opening of school in September.

The eight classrooms, boiler room and multipurpose room will soon be finished. The main roofs have been poured and roofers are ready to apply the roofing. Plasterers began working Monday, followed by the tile setters and the plumbers will then set the finished fixtures for washrooms.

Work on the Nellie Bird Elementary school, at Ann Arbor trail and Sheldon road, is also going ahead rapidly. Structural steel is due on the job in four weeks for erection on the north wing.

Board of Education President Robert O. Wesley stated that work on the Smith school is being pushed ahead of the Bird school, but work on the latter is more advanced than expected at this time.

Oppose Telephone Rate Increase

The city commission went on record last Monday night as opposing the allowance granted by the Michigan Public Service Commission to the Michigan Bell Telephone company for telephone rate increases.

The commissioners unanimously passed a resolution expressing their opposition, further stating that the rate increase would impose a severe financial burden upon the residents, businesses and industries of the city. A copy of the resolution was forwarded to the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Request Taxicab Stands on Trail

The Plymouth Taxi Service, which was recently purchased by Orson Atchinson of Northville, requested the city commission Monday to move two taxicab stands from Penniman avenue and Ann Arbor trail.

For a trial period the commission granted the company permission to have two stands either directly west of the Hotel Mayflower entrance on Ann Arbor trail or two stands next to the D and C store, or one stand at either of the two locations. Final decision as to where the stands will be located was left to the discretion of the city manager.

Stop & Shop Installs New Check-Out Counter

A new check-out counter has been installed at Stop and Shop Super Market in order to speed up check-out service at the store. Stop and Shop now has six check-out counters for the customers' convenience.

Tells Rotarians War Might Raise Price of Farms

If you have any idea that farm land prices are now high, you had better change it right away—providing the Korean war should run into a long war—and from the looks of things, that is just what it is going to do.

That in brief is what Raleigh Barlow, land economist of the extension of Michigan State college told an overflow meeting of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday noon.

With conditions as they are and with government controls such an easy way for office holders to get more votes, one is foolish to look for any substantial decline in prices, was in substance his size-up of present day conditions.

Farm land values have just about doubled since 1940 he said. In Michigan the average increase is more than two and one fifth over the prevailing prices of ten years ago.

On top of that, farm incomes are as much as three times what they were ten years ago he said.

"Farm land is always a good investment. If the Korean crisis should end in a hurry then there might be a slight drop in farm prices but if the Korean affair should develop into a long drawn out war, and there is every prospect that it will, one can look for much higher farm land values, with long time controls for many farm products. In fact what looks like a high price now may be a cheap price in the future," he added.

Robert Willoughby, president of club, expressed his appreciation to L. A. Goddard, chairman of the committee in charge of the meeting, for securing an interesting speaker on such a timely subject.

Symphony "Pop" Concert Tonight

A capacity crowd is expected tonight for the Plymouth Symphony orchestra's outdoor "pop" concert which will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the high school park. The concert is sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony society.

Fred Kendall will be the featured soloist with the orchestra and Paul Wagner will direct. The concert will be recorded and re-broadcast by radio station WPAG in Ann Arbor and will be broadcast at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Arrangements have been made for seating 1,000 people at the concert and a stage has been erected for the orchestra directly in front of the high school entrance. Special lighting will be provided and refreshment stands will be erected for the convenience of concert-goers. Those interested in subscribing for the coming Plymouth Symphony concert season may do so at special membership booths in the park.

Auburn Block to be Blacktopped

The city commission last Monday passed a resolution approving the blacktop paving of Auburn avenue from Penniman to Blanche street.

The resolution stated that the benefiting property owners whose property cannot be assessed in that amount to cover the improvement must sign a waiver specifically waiving provisions of the charter, relative to the limitation of the amount that may be assessed for the improvement, before the improvement shall begin.

Urges Business People to Assert Influence at Polls

Members of the Chamber of Commerce heard one of the finest talks given recently in Plymouth from Harry A. Lintz, national affairs advisor to the National Chamber of Commerce. Speaking last Tuesday noon before a somewhat disappointing audience in size, Mr. Lintz stated that America can no longer afford the present complacency among business men especially in regard to their lack of interest in voting at national elections.

A recent survey held in several American cities revealed the fact that less than 68% of the business men in those towns were registered, qualified voters and that of the 68% only 50% voted at the last presidential election.

He discussed seven important issues before the country and gave the stand of the National Chamber of Commerce. Number one was the Brannan Farm Plan which he said breaks faith with all of the good things we know of free enterprise.

Of the Federal Aid to Education plan he said the Chamber of Commerce took the position that it would lead to the ultimate control of schools by the Bureaucrats of Washington.

"For the first time a Labor-Management Law, (the Taft-Hartley law) was written on the books as a law which had this concept. It made of greater importance and takes a greater interest in the welfare the public needs, putting that as the first consideration above both labor and management," said the speaker.

His fourth topic was public housing and he said this was another attempt of the present administration to attempt to put the government in the building and financing business.

Fifth issue of importance for local voters to consider is the establishment of Valley Authorities. If the administration can establish these across the Nation, such as the Tennessee Valley Authority which already is in the Power and Fertilizer business, all political subdivisions in the nation will disappear. By this he explained there will be no further need for village, township, city and state authority if the Valley Authorities are eventually

2 Phony Checks Cashed in Town

Two pay checks cashed at Dunning's department store and the Liberty Street Hardware store bounced back last week. Both checks were for $57.54 and were drawn on the National Bank of Detroit.

The checks were supposedly made out by the A. V. Cauthorn company of Detroit to Robert F. Harlow. The Cauthorn company stated that there was no such person on their payroll. A similar check was cashed in Trenton and police in the area are warning merchants to be careful of any pay checks they are asked to cash.

Ad Gives Free Ticket to Races

In a small advertisement on page two of the second section of this week's issue of The Plymouth Mail the Michigan Race association has a tiny coupon at the bottom of their ad that will give anyone free admission to the races.

It only becomes necessary for anyone to clip the ad and pay the federal tax to get in the gate to any harness race without charge. Here's your chance, race fans.

Believe Picture of Korean Fighter is Allan Leslie

A picture in the Detroit Times of one of the youthful fighters with the U.S. forces in Korea was tentatively identified by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leslie of Ann Arbor trail as their son, Allan.

Allan, who is now 17, joined the army two years ago and was stationed in Japan. A short time ago he wrote his parents that he was being sent to Korea, being assigned to an ammunition dump there. Though the Times picture had no identification, the Leslies stated that it so closely resembled Allan that it must have been his picture.

By CARL PETERSON

Emily Post, who is usually considered as correct as a second guess, says that people are getting awfully rude because they don't dress formally for dinner every night. She says any man, tycoon or truck driver, can learn to act like a gentleman if he slips into a dinner jacket before easing up to the festive board in front of a bucket of caviar or a large order of corned beef and cabbage. Maybe it would be a good idea if we all tucked into the hash in formal attire, but we know a couple of truck drivers who don't have dinner jackets, even though they might hate to admit it.

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

WHEN POLIO IS AROUND, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis recommends these simple precautions: Keep children with their own friends and away from people they have not been with right along. Don't become exhausted through work or hard play. Don't stay too long in cold water or sit around in wet clothes. And always wash hands before eating. Watch for feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may or may not mean polio. Call your doctor and then, if help is needed contact the National Foundation Chapter in your area.

This Cabbage is Biggest of All

Clyde Smith of Newburg road who for years has been one of the hard-working gardeners in this vicinity who help to provide Detroit's vast population with fresh vegetables, brought to The Plymouth Mail office the other day what might be the biggest early cabbage ever raised in this vicinity.

In fact, until some one else comes along and claims the title, the Clyde Smith cabbage remains the "champ" of them all.

When removed from the garden some two weeks ago, it lacked but an inch or so from measuring three feet in circumference. From stump to top end it was nearly four feet around.

Maybe there has been a bigger early summer cabbage grown around here than the Clyde Smith cabbage—but this one is the champion of them all until some one can prove that it isn't.

Thanks Merchants for Pony

Little Jimmie Archer, winner of the pony awarded by the Chamber of Commerce at the Fourth of July celebration, asked that The Plymouth Mail publish his note of thanks to the Plymouth merchants.

"I wish to thank the Plymouth merchants for the beautiful pony and saddle I won on the Fourth of July. I am a lucky boy to live in a town where the merchants make such gifts possible for boys and girls. I shall be very kind to my pony."

Couldn't Find a Trace of Marshall Cash in Europe

"Genoa, Italy is a dirty, filthy hole. Why it is recommended that American tourists visit such a place is hard to understand."

"Where the millions of American dollars that are flowing into Europe through the Marshall plan are being spent no one seems to know. Certainly the people who need the money are not getting it and there is no visible evidence of it being spent anywhere. The vast majority of people look anything but properly cared for."

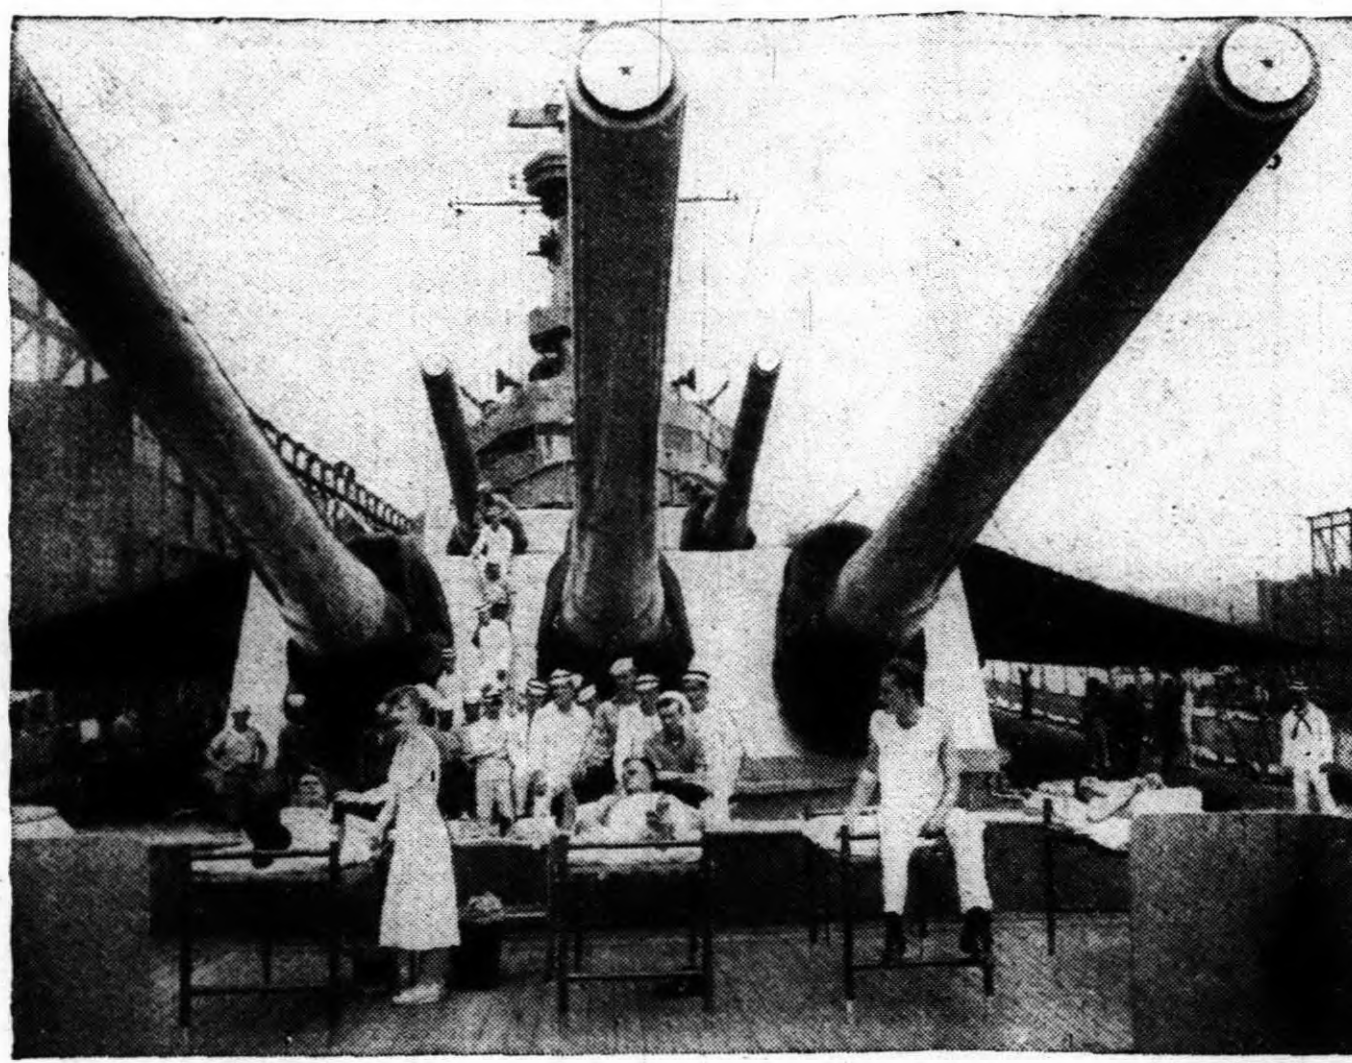

"In England, France and Italy there is absolutely no new building going on. Rotterdam is the only place where there is any evidence of a re-building program."

Those observations in brief are the views of Elmer Zuckerman, manager of Allen Industries in this city, who recently returned from a trip to England and the European mainland with Mrs. Zuckerman and Detroit friends.

Following a little different method than most tourists who go to Europe, Mr. Zuckerman wanted to see if he could find where the millions of American dollars were being spent in rebuilding that country. He found none, except in Holland.

In France the buildings are not even being properly maintained. Rent controls have been in existence in that country since the first world war—and as a result the vast majority of the renting is done in the black market.

European people declare that the only time they hear about American dollars is when some public official announces that he has found he cannot live within the income of his office and thereby has found it necessary to raise his salary.

"BIG MO" NOW BLOODMOBILE... Under the USS Missouri's guns, Nurse Helen Faier takes blood from a crew member. The battleship, which was the scene of the signing of the Japanese surrender, became a bloodmobile when a Red Cross unit was installed on board to accept blood donations from the ship's company of 1,800 men.

Wagenschutz Family Reunion

Fifty seven members of the Wagenschutz family, most of whom live in Plymouth and Livonia, gathered in Cass Benton park last Sunday for the family's 23rd annual reunion.

Following the family dinner, business meeting was opened by Acting President Mrs. Arthur Marsh and Mrs. Amelia Ford led a prayer of thanks. Mrs. Marsh conducted a memorial service in memory of the loved ones who are no longer in the family circle. There were no deaths in the family during the past year and four new additions to the family include Karen Dawn Myers, Lynda Kay Wagenschutz, Lance A. Clark and Thomas D. Ball.

Officers elected for the coming year are as follows: president, Lynn Partridge; vice president, Mrs. Luella Partridge; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Alvin Wagenschutz; entertainment committee, Marlyn Wagenschutz, Katherine Wagenschutz, Mary Ann McLellan; historian, Mrs. Arthur Marsh.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wagenschutz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagenschutz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wagenschutz, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wagenschutz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Myers and family, Mrs. Amelia Ford, Mrs. Gladys Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. William A. McLellan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lindow and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Krumm, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Partridge and family, Mrs. Luella Partridge, Mrs. Augusta Wagenschutz, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rutan and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark and family.

Next year's reunion is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wagenschutz on Haggerty highway in Plymouth.

MR. MIXUP... Johnny Pikupas, Mahony City, Pa., was a blue baby with deformed skull, sunken chest and respiratory infection. Three major operations have salvaged his life.

200 Magicians Guests of Reus

Over 200 magicians and their families will gather for a picnic July 23 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rew at 1 p.m. The magicians will represent the International Brotherhood of Magicians, the Detroit Society of Magicians and the Wandwavers.

Easter Lilies Bloom in Drew's Garden

Easter lilies are blooming in the garden of Mrs. Edward Drews of North Harvey street. The lily plants, which very seldom ever bloom again, were transplanted to Mrs. Drews' garden a year ago.

In the last few days one plant has sprouted six flowers and another shoot is on its way. The other plant has five blossoms.

In Chicago, a couple were duly married after the bride signed a formal affidavit acknowledging her husband to be a "competent fisherman and an ardent member of the Izaak Walton Club," and agreeing and promising that he "will continue his fishing activities at any and all times he shall desire, without interference from me."

Injuries Fatal to Vaughn Ford

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home for Vaughn Osborn Ford who died Monday, July 17, at the age of 40 following injuries received in an automobile accident last Thursday at the corner of Godfredson and Ann Arbor roads.

Mr. Ford resided at 599 Adams street and has been a resident of this community for the past 27 years, and was a member of the Order of the Eagles.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Eileen Ford; three sons and one daughter, Gary, Philip, Karen, and Gregory; his mother, Mrs. Stella Ford of Plymouth; and two sisters, Mrs. Glenn Helmer and Mrs. Harold Micol, both of Plymouth, and other relatives. His father, Jesse Ford, preceded him in death on March 20, 1932.

The Rev. Patrick J. Clifford will officiate. Hymns will be rendered by Miss Norma Broome and Miss Betty Salmon. The active pallbearers will be James McKenna, Leo Carley, James Osborn, Casey Partridge, Paul Goebel and John Shinn. Interment will be made in Cherry Hill cemetery.

St. John Acolytes Camp Up North

Seven members of the Acolyte Guild of St. John's Episcopal church are spending this week at Camp Chickagami, 16 miles north of Alpena.

As a reward for faithful service during the past year the following are spending the week at camp: Walter Angevine, James Angevine, David Dayton, Robert Whitehead, Thomas Zopf, Warren Simpson and Steve Dane. Five others were eligible for the trip but were unable to make it. They are John Sumner, Robert Willoughby, Robert Armistead, Anthony Worth and Andrew Morrow.

Camp Chickagami, located on beautiful Lake Esau near Presque Isle, is a camp for boys operated by the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan. Swimming, boating, hiking, crafts and games combine with religious interests to create a full and exciting program for the young men in attendance.

The Women's Auxiliary of St. John's church, under the direction of Mrs. Dean Saxton, is responsible for the trip to the camp. The boys will return Saturday, July 22.

Asked by police what the idea was of "riding around on a streetcar on a Tuesday morning without any pants on," a dishabille gentleman in Milwaukee, Wis., exclaimed in distress, "Tuesday! What happened to Monday?"

Another white robin was reported in the vicinity of Wall Wire Products company on General drive yesterday. Employees that had seen the albino stated that it seemed to have difficulty flying.

Mrs. E. K. Patrick of Eastside drive said she had seen a white robin in a nest near her home last week. The rest of the robins were of normal color but the one was pure white with pink eyes. Ornithologists claim that white robins are very rare.

A former Plymouth resident, Pierre S. Bennett, was killed instantly in Detroit last Sunday when he was struck by an auto at Five Mile road. He was 58 years old.

Children Swim at City Day Camp

The Day Camp at Kensington park is well attended by boys and girls from nine to 14 years of age. The bus leaves at nine in the morning on Wednesdays and Fridays and returns at 4:30.

Swimming periods at Kent lake are regulated by the weather. Good health rules are carefully observed by each counselor.

One of the boys in Miss Hoheisel's group has written the events of one day.

"In our group is counselor Beth Hoheisel and boys James Gibson, Bill Bake, Foster Brown, Fritz Wrimon, John and Richard Cell, Kenneth Frank, David Deace, Douglass Wise and Bob. We usually take along something to cook over a fire. It is usually hot dogs or hamburgers. Foster Brown and Douglas Wise eat in luxury. They made a table and chair out of a log and a stump. They don't want to be rugged. After lunch we collect bugs and pin them to a board. Last time David caught a mothor they go fishing. Fritz Wrimon caught a blue gill and ate it for lunch and it was good. The fishing around our camp is good. At 2:00 we go swimming at Kent lake." —Jim Gibson.

Plymouth Horse Woman Timer at Detroit Track

Bob Leavitt, general manager of the Detroit Race Track, gets some education in harness racing from Mrs. Pearl Hunt, well known Plymouth horse woman and judge at the recent Northville Downs races. The Detroit track converted to trotters and pacers last Monday night. Mrs. Hunt, the track timer and ex-driver and trainer, explains that trotter's front hooves are weighted to lengthen the stride and make the horse lift his legs high.

Letter States Viewpoint of U. S. Forces in Japan

The reaction to the Korean war of members of the armed forces and their families stationed in Japan is pictured in the following letter to Frank Reafsnnyder of Northville road by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Reafsnnyder, from Yokohama. She is the wife of Colonel Victor Reafsnnyder who has been stationed with the army in Japan for the last two years.

July 5, 1950

Dear Mother and Dad, My next door neighbor has this typewriter and I was making duplicate copies of all my things in my trunks and this makes it much easier—so while I have it I will type a letter, also.

I had a chance to fly home today any time after the 8th of July, but I turned it down—you know I'm not a very good bird. I called Victor to see what he would say but he didn't care... he is on the southern island again. He left last Saturday, but will be back in a few days. All of the men's orders are frozen. They told me today that orders came yesterday for all of us to fly back, but today his were rescinded, however I could still come if I wanted to. He also said that the orders were in for our boat, but that he couldn't tell me yet as there might be a change—at any rate I should know before long. Victor thinks I should go when booking is available so that Janet will be some place when school begins. I have a feeling that he will get to fly back in time for his assignment some time in August. There are a lot of new Lt. Cols. coming the 1st of August or soon after, but right now they are very short of men and officers. A lot have left to go to school but the ones which were in school last winter and graduated in the spring haven't gotten here yet.

Of course, everything may change for the better or the worse almost overnight. The general opinion here seems to be that if Russia invades any of the Balkan countries, Albania, etc. which means they want oil and they must have it to carry on for a long time—of course, anyone with a grain of sense knows that Russia is helping the North Koreans. Another school of thought is that they will needle in Korea, Germany, Indonesia, Balkans and get our troops so thinly scattered that they can't do much good as well as the fact that the American public will rebel at the expense.

Urges Business People to Assert Influence at Polls

(Continued from page 1) established across the country. According to the speaker the present administration has plans for the establishment of nine Valley Authorities across the country.

Socialized Medicine was another subject discussed by the speaker and he commented that no matter where Socialism enters this country it had to be stopped one place as well as another because Socialism will follow the pattern, as set by Hitler in dividing and conquering until all the divisions of our economy are enveloped by it.

He concluded his talk by discussing Deficit Financing and Reduced Spending saying that nationally known economists were now of the opinion that this country was entering the shadow of bankruptcy. He pointed out that in 192 years from 1789 to 1940 we had spent 167 billion dollars but in the last four years, from 1946 to 1949 we had spent 177 billion dollars.

Which of course no one but Stalin knows the answer. Well, I will write again as soon as I know anything definite. Love, Margaret

Foundation Announces Improved Rodent Killer Now on Market

A new rat and mouse killer—hailed as one of the safest from the human standpoint and one which holds promise of wiping out rodent colonies completely and permanently—is now available to the general public, it has been announced by the Wisconsin Alumni Research foundation.

Warfarin, the new death-dealing substance, developed at the University of Wisconsin in the laboratories of Prof. Karl Paul Link, is now available to rodenticide manufacturers, reported Ward Ross, WARF general manager.

Warfarin's effectiveness will make it of great value for use on farms and in restaurants, warehouses, and manufacturing establishments. Other poisons kill so rapidly that dead and dying rats serve as a warning to the rest of the colony. Tasteless and odorless Warfarin, however, is slow-acting and relies upon the cumulative effects of small quantities consumed over a period of days.

Poisoned rats show no immediate effects. They eventually become drowsy, and begin to walk with a slow and measured gait. Finally, without suffering, they die of internal hemorrhage. Other rats are not warned of the poison—there is no dash for water, there are no convulsions—and the bait then remains to keep stray rats from again populating the area.

One major advantage of Warfarin rodenticides is their relative safety. Since they rely upon cumulative doses for results, there is little chance that enough bait will be taken by humans, pets or domestic animals to cause adverse effects. Out of the several hundred nation-wide tests made on Warfarin, no case of accidental human poisoning was reported.

Warfarin promises to be one of the most effective means yet developed of ridding farms of rats and mice and then of keeping the areas free of the costly rodent population.

Several hundred field tests have been carried out in every state in the union, in Canada, Hawaii, and several foreign countries under federal government supervision. City and state health departments, farmers, householders and professional exterminators have demonstrated the outstanding effectiveness of the new poison.

The Warfarin testing program, which showed complete or satisfactory eradication in between 85 and 90 per cent of the experiments, was the first large-scale enterprise ever carried out on a rodenticide where users were asked to report results. It was tried in almost every conceivable type of surrounding—farms, homes, apartment buildings, restaurants, stores, warehouses and manufacturing plants.

"Warfarin rodenticides will, in most cases, completely wipe out a rat or mouse population and then will prevent the rebuilding of the population by killing newcomers as they arrive," the foundation said in announcing the new poison.

"Many reports showed complete elimination of rats and mice where all other poisons had failed," the foundation reported.

WHAT I THINK AND HAVE A RIGHT TO SAY

busy with direct responsibilities of their own. Only last December the Committee for Economic Development, comprising eminent businessmen of a progressive school of thought, issued a report recommending that there be added to the National Security Council three full-time civilians without any other responsibilities in the government. The report said:

"So far, the National Security Council has not fully lived up to its high potential though it has made important progress . . . But it does appear that it has yet formulated a comprehensive set of current and long-range security policies covering both foreign and domestic aspects of the problem. As a result, the President is seriously handicapped in carrying out his responsibility to recommend a balanced and comprehensive security program to the Congress and the people."

The President cannot do it all. He must have around him able men. He has had busy men around him and some of them far from able. Each is charged with many more tasks than the broad problems of American security. National security cannot be treated as a side issue—yet evidently it has been. That's why the naval aircraft task forces which supply tactical aviation along with the U. S. Marines, were nowhere near the Korean battlefield, but 8,000 miles away.

The ships were in "mothballs." The naval aviators who nine months ago cried out against this neglect were called "rebels" and "fancy Dans," and the chief of naval operations was removed by Secretary of the Navy Matthews, who is, of course, still a member of the National Security Council.

Now the American people must pay the penalty in bloodshed and loss of life and in damaged prestige throughout the world because of incompetence as well as lack of foresight by the National Security Council.

If the United States had a parliamentary system, the present administration would be out of power this very day because it alone must assume the responsibility delegated to it by a trustful but not too vigilant Congress.

THE PENALTY OF SPEED.

Everybody these days is in a hurry to get somewhere. There is no longer any such thing as a desire for a so called "leisurely" trip. It's hurry, hurry, here there and everywhere, whether haste is essential or not.

Doubtless it was "hurry" which caused that plane to crack up in Lake Michigan a few weeks ago. Hours before the accident happened, every one knew that electric storms were prevailing over most of the Great Lakes area.

But what of it? The passengers were in a hurry and the schedule of the plane must be kept. True, it is not frequent that planes crack up in thunder storms and pilots generally try to avoid them. But on the other hand chances are taken—and very often.

Doubtless no one will ever know what caused the terrible plane crash in Lake Michigan—but if everybody hadn't been in a hurry to get somewhere, maybe a little precaution might have prevented it. There are good landing fields at Battle Creek, Kalamazoo and elsewhere this side of Lake Michigan. But no one will ever know what caused the crack-up of the plane that sped forward into a storm area. At any rate it was a terrible and deplorable accident—the most disastrous in the history of American aviation.

DOES HE KNOW THE DIFFERENCE?

Owen J. Cleary, former member of the state liquor commission, and director of the Cleary Business College at Ypsilanti, didn't use gentle language in asserting recently that Governor Williams deliberately falsifies about the Kunzig mess that has Lansing in an uproar.

Mr. Cleary is exceedingly frank in his language—as he should be. Unfortunately for Michigan, it appears that the control of its vast liquor business has sunk into a pretty low state of affairs. Some say it never was so rotten as it is at present.

The liquor business is the type of business that should require the highest type of clean, honest administration. It is about time that Michigan people do something to restore the business to a reputable standard at least.

Rew Conducts Northville Amateur Show Aug. 4

From August W. Schneck of Cincinnati, O.: "I remember when soap manufacturers maintained weekly wagon routes over every densely-populated neighborhood of Cincinnati. The driver of the one-horse wagon had under the seat a box of solid, fresh yellow soap. The housewives would answer his cry of 'soap grease' by bringing to the wagon the week's accumulation of bones, fats and grease, in every kind of old covered containers and would receive in exchange there for (as quickly as possible in the summer season) a chunk of fresh soap, according to the quantity of offal she gave the driver, who would empty her container into one of the large cans carried in the bed of the wagon."

From Lillian Cornett of Reading, O.: "I remember when Mother used to wash comforts and quilts. She would put them in her washtub and my brother and I would get in the tub barefooted and stomp them. We usually fell down in the water. But what fun we had."

From Mrs. A. T. Olson of Stevens Point, Wis.: "Of a maid who made a bad bargain in her marriage, we'd say, 'She drove her pig to a poor market.'"

From Marion Granston Leonard of Watkins Glen, N. Y.: "I remember when I used to sing on the corners in a quartet. One of our favorite songs was 'Sweet Adeline.' We also used to like to sing as we sailed in a boat down Seneca Lake. The people used to stand on porches and listen as the music echoed in the hills."

1st Baseman Hurt In Daisy Game

Daisy defeated Lansing July 16 in an exciting game that required the services of a doctor for Betty Ross, Daisy first baseman, who was hurt sliding in home with the winning run. Betty will be out of the lineup for some time.

In the seventh inning with the score tied 1-1, Betty led off with a single, was sacrificed to second by Yogi Bouterse, stole third and when the catcher threw the ball to the pitcher, stole home.

Marge Sowa and Yogi Bouterse were the batteries for Daisy, and Tupper and O'Connor for Lansing.

The excitement was too much for Lansing's second basemen, Smeiska, who passed out and had to be revived also.

Brighton won their first league game of the season Sunday when they defeated Adrian 6-5 in an overtime game.

Off Brielle, N. J., Sigmund Schraf caught 14 sharks with one hook by hauling in a six-foot brown shark which later produced a litter of 13 in the boat's cockpit.

VFW Wins Close One From Allen

VFW won a close one in the Old Timers league on July 12 by defeating Allen Industry in nine innings by the score of 11-10. Burley came through the winning hurler and Atchison the loser.

VFW scored four runs in the first while holding Allen to one. In the third Allen pushed across two runs as Carr doubled, scoring Fann, and Carr scored on an error. In the fourth VFW collected another run while Zielasko doubled and scored on a single by Smith.

In the sixth three more men came around on another double by Zielasko. The score was now 8-5. In the last half of the seventh Allen pushed across three more on three hits to tie the game up at eight all. In the eighth both teams were held runless but in the top of the ninth VFW went ahead by scoring three runs on two hits.

Allen came back with two runs to make it a very interesting game as Walker, who had tripled with two men on, was left on third.

Diamond Jubilee Celebration

OUR SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Old Livery Stable Was Busy Place Here Years Ago

In the days before Plymouth had a dozen or more garages to serve its local residents the old Harry Robinson livery stable on Penniman avenue was the center of most local transportation activities. Located on the lot now occupied by the Penniman building it faced the former John Patterson residence which is now the post office. The property was purchased by Mrs. Kate Allen and under her direction the building and theatre was erected. The former home of the Plymouth Mail was to the east in the building now occupied by David Galin and the Purity Market. Many Plymouthites today can remember the bitter fight that took place in the community over the running of movies in the new theatre on Sunday.

Old Plymouth Hotel

The old Plymouth Hotel was a busy place on the Fourth of July. Located on the lot where the D and C store now stands this famous old land mark was a bee hive of activity especially on the Fourth when a mammoth carnival would move into Czar Penny's cow pasture, the present site of the Mayflower Hotel, for a gala celebration. For many years the home comings and other patriotic celebrations were held on this pasture. The last owner of the hotel was Ralph J. Lorenz who purchased the property in 1915 from Grant Harriman. Mr. Lorenz removed the old land mark and built the building which stands there today.

Famous Old Plymouth Restaurant

If you were to stand directly in front of the C & O depot today and look across the tracks, the parking area there, is where not too many years ago stood this famous old restaurant. Operated in its early days by Frank Pierce, then Jake Stremg and then Jake Dye who was the owner when the popular eating place burned to the ground some 30 years ago. Famous for its food, on weekends many train loads of Detroiters would take an excursion to Plymouth to swarm into the restaurant and enjoy its cuisine and its hospitality taking a later train back into the city. One of its better known owners, Jake Stremg, was the father of Margaret Stremich who now operates Plymouth's popular Hillside Inn on Plymouth road on property which was at one time the old Stremg home-stead.

Expects Record Turkey Crop

Turkeys for Thanksgiving—big, fat home-grown turkeys—that's the promise of A. B. Hersh, veteran turkey grower of Joy road—unless thieves get a lot of them as they did last year—and providing some sassy, impudent rationing clerk (if we have rationing by that time) does not see fit to crack down on two such good old American citizens as Mr. and Mrs. Hersh.

"We've got more than 700 of the nicest turkeys you ever saw. By the time Thanksgiving arrives, unless we have some misfortune meanwhile, our 1950 crop will be the best we have ever had," said Mr. Hersh yesterday.

The Hersh family is among the very first in this part of Wayne county to go into "mass" production in the raising of turkeys. They started back in the years when turkey raising was generally regarded more or less as a side-line activity for the wives of the farmers.

But in recent years to some farmers the turkey business has become a real industry.

Last year nearly a hundred of the Hersh turkeys were stolen just before Thanksgiving. But thieves had better watch out this year. A guard is already on duty every night with shotguns that are loaded with buck shot instead of bird shot. Maybe there is one or two deer rifles, also loaded, that are ready for use, too, but Mr. Hersh wouldn't say. This pioneer turkey grower is determined that thieves will not get any of his turkeys this year.

In Depew, N. Y., U. S. Secret Service agents who seized a printing press and rounded up two men reported several new wrinkles in the counterfeiting trade: besides finding a lithograph plate designed for printing phony tickets to South Pacific, they learned that the counterfeiting ring had been offering West Coast outlets their choice of either new or old twenty-dollar bills—i.e., with or without the White House balcony.

Hay Fever Season to Start Soon

No one seems to know just how many hay fever "fans" there are in Plymouth. But from "sneezes" one observed along the streets during the past hay fever seasons, there must be a goodly number of them. And right now is the time they are beginning to think about heading northward to find a haven in Michigan where there is no such thing as hay fever—and where victims find immediate relief.

The State health department declares that comparative relief can be found almost any place in the northern third of the lower peninsula and in most all of the upper peninsula.

Six Michigan communities were virtually free of ragweed pollen last summer and 17 others reported no more than six days when the pollen concentration reached 100 grains per cubic yard of air. The survey was conducted in 58 communities throughout the state.

Areas which reported no significant pollen counts during the 1949 season were Boyne City, Charlevoix, East Tawas, Petoskey, St. Ignace and Sault Ste. Marie. Munising reported only one day with a pollen count of over 100 grains per cubic yard of air: Crystal Falls, Marquette, Newberry and Ontonagon, only three days; Escanaba, Gladwin, and Houghton, only four days; Mackinac Island, only five days; and Eagle Harbor and Manistique, only six days.

Cities having the longest ragweed hay fever season were Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, Hillsdale and Saginaw each of which had 33 days with ragweed pollen counts of over 100 grains. Lansing and Jackson were close behind with 32 and 31 days, respectively.

Ragweed pollen began to appear in Michigan about mid-July; counts of more than 100 grains were not common until the second and third week in August, and the greatest concentration of pollen occurred the last week in August and the first week in September.

Copies of the 1949 ragweed pollen survey report which include a detailed chart of the 1949 season, and maps showing areas of least pollen in 1949 and previous seasons, may be obtained without charge from the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Michigan.

Because of budget cuts, the department will be unable to conduct a ragweed pollen survey this summer.

In Plymouth, England, when Pianist Theodoros Peonides sued his hairdresser for £200 damages, on the ground that he had contracted a hair-destroying skin disease, the judge awarded him only £60, ruling that the loss of long hair does not detract from the earning power of a musician.

Our sympathy to Lady Knapp in the loss of her husband.

After their marriage had been performed in the cramped quarters of a 5-passenger chartered plane, an obliging bridegroom in East Hartford, Conn., got the news from his bride: What she'd asked for when he'd proposed, had been a "plain," not "plane," wedding.

Betty Ree Norgrove Becomes Bride of Edward F. Thorne Saturday

Plymouth's First Methodist church was the setting for the 8 o'clock candlelight ceremony in which Betty Ree Norgrove became the bride of Edward Frank Thorne on Saturday evening, July 15. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Norgrove of Pearl street. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorne of Ann street.

Mrs. Edward Thorne

Baskets of pastel gladioli, palms and cathedral candelabra provided the altar setting for the evening wedding. Preceding the nuptial rites Dick Miller sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." During the ceremony Mr. Miller, accompanied by organist, Fred Nelson, presented "The Lord's Prayer."

As she repeated her vows after Dr. Henry J. Walsh, the bride wore a gown of white satin designed with fitted bodice buttoned to the waist in front, Peter Pan collar and long fitted sleeves pointed at the wrists. Unpressed pleats detailed the skirt which ended in a circular train. A headpiece of satin and imported Chantilly lace trimmed with orange blossoms held her lace edged fingertip veil of nylon net.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride carried a colonial arrangement of white roses and ivy. A white orchid corsage centered her bouquet.

Acting as matron of honor to the bride was Mrs. Mary Jane Good. With her orchid dotted swiss gown, Mrs. Good wore a white picture hat with orchid net trimming and apple blossoms. Her flowers were yellow roses.

Wearing gowns styled identical to the matron's of honor, Marie Thorne and Evelyn Bruny were the bridesmaids. Miss Thorne, the bridegroom's sister, selected Nile green for her gown while Miss Bruny's choice was pastel yellow. Pink roses were used in their colonial bouquets.

Health Department Issues Do's And Don'ts For Swimmers

Michigan's mounting toll of drowning brings serious warning from the Michigan Department of Health. Keep your children out of quarries, water holes, creeks and rivers, the department advised.

Teach your children to swim, but teach them swimming and boating precautions as well. If you cannot swim yourself now is a good time to learn. National studies show that the majority of drownings are avoidable and that eight out of ten who drown do so within 50 feet of shallow water or safety.

MELON FOURSOME

Luscious summer fruits form an unlimited parade of refreshing combinations. First in the line is cantaloupe.

Vine ripened melon means flavor at its best. You will recognize these melons by a smooth slightly sunken stem end. The netting will be coarse, corky and grayish in color standing out in bold relief over the entire surface.

Encores in Order

You will have calls for a repeat performance if you serve a thick peeled crosswise slice of cantaloupe on crisp lettuce. Fill the center with fresh grapefruit sections, diced apple and celery. Garnish the plate with big juicy Bing cherries. Honey dressing with celery seed is ideal with this combination.

Honey Dressing with Celery Seed

1/2 cup honey
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika

Bring above ingredients to boiling. Cool. Add 1 cup salad oil beating constantly. Soak 1 teaspoon celery seed in 2 table-spoons water overnight if possible. Drain and add to dressing.

Appetizers or Desserts

Watermelon and cantaloupe balls sprinkled with lemon juice and powdered sugar are good served in chilled grape juice or gingerale.

Pink, yellow and pale green melon cubes—watermelon, cantaloupe and honeydew—are colorful and delicious sprinkled with lime juice and served in frosty-cold sherbet glasses.

Dessert Only

Ice cream sprinkled generously with shredded cocoanut served in the center of a cross-wise slice of cantaloupe makes an unbeatable dessert.

Cantaloupe in Refrigerator

Just wrap the cantaloupe completely in aluminum foil or the new self-sealing wax paper. This keeps the flavor in the melon and out of the other foods.

MEAT CUT QUIZ

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Beef rib steak.
Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. Beef rib. It contains a rib eye and may contain a rib bone.
Q. How is it prepared?
A. By broiling or panbroiling. In broiling the steak is placed on the broiler rack so that its top surface is 2 to 3 inches from the heat (the thicker the farther from the heat.) When the top side is browned the meat is seasoned, turned and browned on second side, and seasoned. From 15 to 20 minutes is required for 1-inch steak; 35 to 45 minutes for 2-inch steak. In panbroiling thinner steaks, the meat is placed in a frying-pan and turned occasionally for even cooking. Excess fat is poured off as it accumulates.

Salt Roast and Steak Properly

When is a roast salted? This is a frequent question of new, as well as experienced homemakers.

A beef, veal, pork or lamb roast may be salted before, during or after cooking. The time does not make any difference, as the salt will not penetrate to a depth of more than 1/2 inch.

However, when it comes to seasoning a broiled beef steak or lamb chops there is a definite time for salting. Broiled steaks and chops are first browned on one side, then seasoned. The meat is turned and the second side browned, then seasoned and the meat is ready for serving.

The reason for this is that steaks and chops for broiling have a comparatively large cut surface and salt tends to draw out the meat juices, thus retarding browning. For the same reason this procedure is also followed when panbroiling thinner cut steaks and chops.

A little girl in Newton, Mass., reported, in some puzzlement, that her cat bites people, hates catnip, is friendly with mice.

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

By Mrs. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents Magazine

A CHILD who cannot entertain himself is apt to be unhappy, and we might as well admit it, rather a chore for his mother to take care of throughout the long day. Yet how many times do you squelch an idea your child has for amusing himself because you think it is too much trouble to help him find the materials to carry out his project? Creativeness grows only by being exercised—and the child who finds himself balked every time he imagines something that would be fun to do, may develop into one of those bored, what-shall-I-do-now youngsters.

Suppose five-year-old Susie takes a notion she wants to make a dress for her doll out of some pieces of gingham from her own new play suit. You know very well that sewing is beyond a five-year-old—moreover you were probably taught that little girls should begin sewing lessons by learning to make neat hems. But why not let Susie chuck away at a doll dress even if she does get scraps and threads on the rug? The fun she will have will do more to interest her in sewing later on than any amount of practice in sewing fine seams.

Then suppose your little boy decides some dark, rainy day that he'd like to go camping in the living room. You could insist that he pitch his tent in the basement instead, but where but in the living room fireplace, could he build a fire, and what is camping without a log fire? Out of childhood make-believe grow many of the ideas that lead to grown-up inventiveness. Moreover, a creative idea is worth encouraging for the many other avenues of interest it opens up, one of which may lead to a life work.

The interest you show in your child's ideas must go beyond the smacking of lips over delectable looking mud pies. Children old enough to have a cherished idea can sense insincerity. Also, for the child's protection you must really listen to his plans and oversee them a bit, for you never know when an idea will take a dangerous turn. Usually, a way can be figured to keep things on a safe and sane basis so you rarely need to call off the project altogether and discourage the young "idea man."

One of the worst things parents can do when an idea is brewing is to give the child too much help with it. Think back and you're likely to find that the play projects that died aborning were the ones where father literally took over. It is better just to give encouragement and a little help or a few suggestions when things strike a snag.

But your greatest contribution to the development of your child's creativeness is to refrain from complaining about the trouble and mess involved. And above all, try not to say, "Couldn't you wait until tomorrow when I'll have more time to get the things you want from the attic?" "Tomorrow" has killed off more ideas—and in later life more hobbies—than any other word.

Drop Cookies Quick Dessert

Simple desserts are popular these warm days. For a quick sweet treat to serve with fresh fruits, prepare frosted drops. They are also a right find for youngsters when hard play brings, "May I have something to eat, Mom?"

Plain drop cookies are especially tempting with a fruit frosting—strawberry, orange, apricot, peach, cherry. Simply add confectioner's sugar to thicken a fruit sauce, then spread over the baked and cooled cookies. Chocolate and maple frostings are two other favorites.

Bake a large number of drop cookies at one time, then topping with a variety of frostings. Made with lard, the cookies will stay fresh and moist for several days in the cookie jar.

Movies, radio or television are not a satisfactory entertainment substitute for outdoor play with other children for your child, advise child development authorities at Michigan State College.

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

"Happiness Comes From Within"

MRS. EVELYN BIRCHLER, Newton, Mass., writes me that she has just begun to live. Until a short time ago she lived wholly for herself. Even in doing for her family, she says she was still living for herself, inasmuch as she was living and doing for her own.

She had suffered an inferiority complex since childhood, wholly unwarranted, but still it was there. This caused her to think of others as not being her friends, and as a consequence she didn't like people. She told herself that people were hateful. She had never admitted the big truth that all people have some wonderful qualities, and all have faults. She saw only the faults. Of course, she was unpopular.

Carnegie

Then one day she read somewhere that "Happiness comes from within." Did it? Does it? Well, there was nothing within her prompting her to be happy. This sentence, however, stuck in her memory. She began to note others who were happy; they didn't seem to have so much more than she had to make them happy; some of them didn't have anywhere near as much. She listened to some of her friends as they talked, even as they talked of troubles. She began to show real interest in them. She felt better after she had assumed this helpful attitude. One day she loaned her automobile to a prospective mother who was due at the hospital. Now she did feel better, more kindly toward the world and its people. Then she did other nice little neighborly acts. Felt better after everyone of them. There were so many nice people in the world that she felt like smiling. So she did. That seemed to loosen tension somewhere, so she adopted the smiling habit.

She says all she has now that contributes to unhappiness is her regret over the wasted years when she hadn't learned what she now knows.

Here's News For Local Travelers

Many Plymouth residents who have traveled from Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, northwestward along the shore line of Lake Superior to Batchawana Bay and the Montreal river will be interested in knowing that there are good prospects for the extension of the highway which now ends at the Montreal river to Port Arthur, where it will connect with a highway to Duluth. This highway around the north shore of Lake Superior to Michipicoten, in Ontario, may materialize before long, according to Sault Ste. Marie and Toronto interests.

Algoma Ore. Properties, subsidiary of the Algoma Steel company in this city, is now employing 700 men in the development of extensive iron ore bodies, aggregating several hundred million tons, in the Jamestown and Michipicoten area north of here. Several hundred men are working underground, while the rest are busy with the beneficiation and shipping of ores from the Helen Mine.

WAWA station, on the Michipicoten branch of the Algoma Central railway near the mine, now has a population of 1,800. The community has been renamed Jamestown, after Sir James Dunn, president of the company.

"The developments of Algoma Ore Properties now have no highway connection with the outside world, and the situation urgently calls for relief," said Wilfred J. Hussey, secretary-manager of the Sault, Ontario, Chamber of Commerce. "Residents of the district are asking for an extension of the present road from its terminus at Montreal river to Jamestown. This would involve about 60 miles of new highway. Apart from servicing this important new mining development, the highway would open a beautiful and varied scenic area to visitors, and its building should offer possibilities of new mineral finds. "The district is a unit in urging this construction," added Mr. Hussey. "The extension would form another link in the proposed around-Lake Superior highway, which has been for years the dream of Canadian and American tourist promotion interests."

Mr. Hussey said that plans are now being made for an autumn conference of the Lake Superior Highway association at the Sault or one of the lakehead cities. Discussion of the around-Lake Superior highway project will be the main topic.

Look Out For Ivy Poisoning

Farmers around Plymouth as well as local residents who have visited northern Michigan say they have never seen so much poison ivy growing as there is this year. Possibly it is due to the late, wet spring the state experienced. But look out, when you are tramping along the roadsides or through fields and forests. There is lots of poison ivy everywhere.

The state health department looks upon the situation as so serious that it has issued a special warning to Michigan people. It advises every one to learn to recognize the three-leafed poison ivy—and to keep away from it. No one is immune to ivy poisoning. Exposure to poison ivy may result in serious month-long illness which may require hospitalization.

The poison of the plant, a non-volatile oil, can be carried on dust, on soil, in ashes, in fire smoke, on the fur of pets, on clothing, on garden tools or on wood for the fireplace.

Any person who thinks he may have been exposed to poison ivy should wash thoroughly with a strong laundry soap. If blisters appear, he should go to his doctor at once for medication and for shots.

Eradication of the plant is the only real protection from the poison, according to the department which is especially urging resort and urban areas to see that the plant is eradicated from parks, playgrounds, golf courses, bathing areas, along pathways and walks.

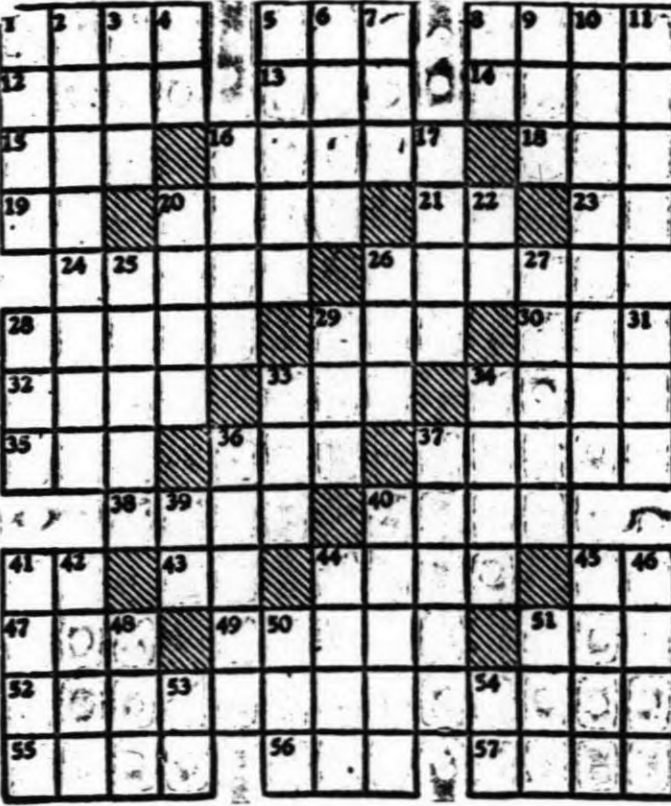

Either an "ammate" or 2-4 D solution sprayed on the leaves of the plant will kill it. "Ammate" takes five to ten days and 2-4 D, about three weeks. If the plants are still green at the end of these periods, they should be sprayed again. Spraying should be repeated each spring until plants no longer appear. The sprays are non-poisonous to man or animals, but care should be used to keep the mist away from valuable cultivated plants.

About three-quarters of a pound of "ammate" in a gallon of water will treat a square rod of dense ivy foliage. Spraying is inexpensive compared with the cost of treatment of even a slight case of the poisoning, the department said.

Answer to LAST WEEK'S Puzzle:

Here's Bad News For Pheasants

Here's good news for Plymouth pheasant hunters and bad news for the pheasants! The game division of the Michigan Conservation department reports that there has been such a good comeback of pheasants throughout the state that the department has fixed a 22 day pheasant hunting season for this year.

The season will open on Sunday, October 15 and continue through November 5.

The action restores the maximum season allowed by law. Seasons were cut back to 12 days in 1947 and 1948. Last year, a 16-day season was ordered. Allowable daily take is two birds, four in possession, eight in the season.

Hunters must wait until 10 a.m. Eastern Standard Time to unlimber their guns in the lower peninsula on opening day; thereafter opening hour will be 7 a.m. Last year a 10 a.m. opening hour was declared for the entire season. Closing hour each day in Zone 3 will be 6 p.m.

The commission also reopened Alcona, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Iosca, Leelanau and Wexford counties to pheasant hunting. They had been closed for seven years.

Menominee county south of highway US-2 again is opened in pheasant hunting during a shorter season, October 1-10, with daily limit of one bird, two in possession, three in season.

Conservation department game men believe that the pheasant kill in Michigan in the 1950 season again may exceed one million birds as was the case in former years of pheasant abundance. A slump that was nation-wide dropped the kill in 1947 to a record low of 453,000. It has been climbing since, to 653,000 in 1948, to 864,000 in 1949. Checks of pheasant populations in recent months indicate increases.

Searching for a missing 90-year-old woman, police in Vancouver, B. C., finally caught up with her—en route to her honeymoon after eloping with an 86-year-old swain.

Postponing World War III

These men insist that neither the United States nor Russia can afford a World War III at the present time. It certainly would result in destroying some of the larger cities of both nations and millions of innocent people. To prevent this we must gradually by infiltration extend our influence by appeasing, compromising or scaring Southern Asia and Western Europe into stopping the Communists. Added to this we must keep our own people happy by providing full employment.

At first thought this seems a cowardly belief for us to take, but it is believed that Russia also is anxious to prevent war and is willing to compromise to keep the peace. For instance, the United States might get out of Korea, while Russia might get out of Berlin and East Germany. A divided Korea or Germany would always be a tinder box for war. Russia would not suffer from atomic bombing as much as the United States; but the thought of the new H-bombs which can be used by artillery against her armies if they attempt to overrun Europe, makes Stalin hesitate. Both sides may soon be looking for a "face-saving" way out.

More Inflation Inevitable

The high level of U. S. production should continue as long as the Cold War lasts. When this comes to an end, either by a Hot War or by Peace, then will be the time for an economic crash. Even then a period of unemployment could be postponed further. Assuming people then stopped buying autos and the employees of the automobile companies are thrown out of work, the New York guess is that the government would loan people money to buy automobiles on ten year payments and at a low rate of interest! Even now congressmen are asking "Why is not the government as justified in loaning money to buy furniture as to buy homes?" But, although the effects of Newton's Law of Action and Reaction may be postponed, the law cannot be repealed. Trouble is coming someday.

I asked, if under these conditions the automobile companies would be allowed to make money for their stockholders? To this my friends answered, "Yes, because the taxes which the federal government collects are dependent upon these auto companies and, in fact, all other companies paying dividends." Of course, such a "stop-gap" program requires continued high taxes, more borrowing and more inflation, war or no war. Such will then be all the more necessary because import duties will gradually decrease. World peace ultimately requires "free trade." Furthermore, the government will someday not be collecting in part payment so much as it does now. When that happens mortgages and other debts of individuals will have to be extended and increased by the government.

Russia Does Not Need War

To repeat: The Cold War will be continued until there either is a Hot War or Peace after which mass unemployment can be prevented only by the U. S. government adopting a more or less socialistic program. Hence, Stalin figures that if he is patient he is bound to reach his goal in the end, namely, the spread of Communism throughout the world. As one New York banker expressed it, "The market may have one more big whirl upward, but I fear that large investors are becoming 'like sheep being led to the slaughter' through destruction of property, or high taxes or inflation."

In the meantime, the U. S. will require vast sums: (1) For defense AND ESPECIALLY FOR THE REMOVAL OF BASIC INDUSTRIES FROM OUR BIG CITIES; (2) For subsidizing consumers purchasing power to prevent unemployment in the U.S.; (3) To bribe Europe and other nations to keep out Communism and (4) To help out domestic manufacturers facing destructive foreign competition due to the absolute necessity of reducing tariffs.

Suggestions to Investors

STOCKS TO AVOID: Those of companies with most of their assets in big cities; those having a high proportion of labor expense and thus very subject to labor pressure; and those which will suffer from foreign competition and imported goods. STOCKS TO BUY: Those of companies which will profit from the great building dispersion and decentralization program in the moving industries out of the big cities; stocks of merchandizing companies especially the chain stores; and stocks of the public utilities serving small cities of the Central West and South.

Displays Horse Statue Collection

Elaine Rich holds one of the two dozen statuettes in her collection which will be on display this week in the lobby of the Plymouth United Savings bank. Elaine, who also raises horses, has been collecting statuettes for the past two years. The white horses in the center of the picture were sent to Elaine by her aunt, Marjorie Hadley, who is stationed in Japan with the armed forces.

Horses—whether they be Arabian colts or china statuettes—are the hobby of 14 year old Elaine Rich of Brookville road. Elaine has been raising horses and collecting horse statuettes for the past two years, but only the statuettes will be on display this week in the lobby of the Plymouth United Savings bank.

Elaine, who will enter the 9th grade at Plymouth High school, now has over two dozen little statues. Eight of them were sent to her from Japan by her aunt, Marjorie Hadley, who is stationed there with the armed forces. They are made of oyster white china and, unlike others in the collection, they have very short legs and long necks. Each horse is in a different position—sitting, standing, jumping or rolling over. Others in the collection include a tiny one about one inch in length given to Elaine by her father, a gold colored saddle horse, and several china statuettes.

When she's not looking for unusual statuettes to add to her collection, Elaine is raising a mare and a colt. The colt, Elaine's fourth horse, is half Arabian and was sired by Amidore of Michigan State college.

By LYN CONNELLY

REMEMBER way back almost two decades ago when you used to tune your crystal set into a completely unorthodox bit of entertainment called "The Three Doctors?" And how, during the lush days of the golden era, one of the popular doctors, name of Ransom Sherman, went off on his own and conducted a daytime program from Chicago that is still discussed as one of the best radio of the best radio medium's history?

SHERMAN

If you remember the delightful nonsense written and delivered by "Dr." Sherman, you'll be glad to know he's come out of his hide-out in Hollywood to star in his own television show.

Ransom is back in Chicago where, "when someone says he's glad to see you by golly he means it." He chose the Midwest city for his TV debut because he likes the natural, homey type of show that NBC Chicago develops. "New York and Hollywood only think in terms of fabulous productions," he explains and, rather than get lost in a maze of arty background, he came back home where he could be himself. It was a wise decision and we can safely predict that Ransom will do as much for the early days of TV as he did for the pioneer days of radio.

PLATTER CHATTER

MERCURY—Bill Bickel's Starliners turn out a nifty platter in "Sometime," an oldie that is scoring big again. A pretty little ditty, "Marianne," is on the flip. Frankie Laine and Patti Paige combine voices effectively in "If I Were You Baby, I'd Love Me" and "I Love You for That" backs it. Jan August is at his best with a pair of unish tunes—"A Day at the Seashore" and "Egyptian Ella."

COLUMBIA—Frank Sinatra turns out a nice rendition on that old favorite, "Poinciana." "There's No Business Like Show Business" backs it. Frank combines with Rosemary Clooney in a real cutie, "Peachtree Street."

VOICES WITH A SMILE: Many Michigan Bell operators have attended meetings recently to hear themselves talk—in wire-recorded conversations with other girls who took the part of customers. They've learned that the tone of their voices often can make a big difference in the quality of telephone service. Perhaps you've already noticed an improvement in your service as a result of these meetings.

MORE JOBS: Twelve years ago, only one-tenth of the telephones on Michigan Bell's rural lines were dial. Today, more than two-thirds of the rural-line telephones are dial. And yet Michigan Bell now employs more than twice as many operators as twelve years ago.
