Symphony Notes

by Grace Von Bergen

"Strauss Under the Stars" may well have been the thought of Paul T. Wagner, after having received many requests for Strauss music to balance the heavy symphony programs of the winter months.

The long drenching rain of the previous day failed to dampen the spirits of the musicians or the listeners who came to the park to listen to the first "pop" concert of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra last Thursday night.

The program opened with "Die Meistersinger" overture by Wagner which is a number which requires an orchestra twice the size of the Plymouth organization. The many myriad melodies that blend into this masterful piece of music are intricately worked together and the music, if played by smaller groups, sound disconnected. However, the orchestra handled it well, and it served as a good number to warm up for the balance of the program.

The second number "Spielerei," a selection for string orchestra by Stix, was played in perfect unison, with Josef Lazaroff, concertmaster, having an opportunity to show off the string section of the orchestra to good advantage.

Balance of the program consisted of "Magic Flute" overture by Mozart; "Tales from the Vienna Woods" by Strauss; the stirring "Radetzky" march by the same composer; "Oberon" by Weber, and concluding with the ever beautiful "Artist's Life Waltz" by Strauss.

The music was haunting, of lulling qualities, perfect for a summer evening—in spite of the coolness of the weather.

A large stage had been erected in front of the high school with appropriate lighting, loud speakers, and chairs for the audience arranged in the park immediately in front of the school.

The members of the orchestra appeared in black and white clothing which added to the harmony of coloring—but had to don their jackets and coats for the second half of the program.

Dr. Henry J. Walsh appeared at the intermission and paid tribute to Paul T. Wagner, the conductor of the orchestra, who is one of the few privileged pupils of the great Pierre Montaux, this summer at his summer place in Hancock, Maine.

Doctor Walsh said that some cities gain publicity in their papers because of the crime news, but that Plymouth gets into the news on account of a symphony orchestra—which is something which the city of Detroit cannot boast.

Dr. Harold Todd, president of the Plymouth Symphony society, was on hand and also seen in the audience was Hanna Strasen, the retired president of last year. Both were enthusiastic about the concert. There were a number of persons who expressed a desire for more "pop" concerts.

A highlight of the evening was the appearance of Plymouth's own Fred Kendall, as soloist. He chose as his selections: "M'Appari" (from the Opera Martha) by Plovet and "Thine Alone" from Victor Herbert. Mr. Kendall sang with a rich, full voice, that required no amplification. His singing is marked with ease and a sincerity that is most gratifying to the listeners' eyes—as well as ears. Mr. Kendall has gone far since he sang with the orchestra earlier in the year, and is now handling his own programs on radio station WJR, Detroit.

As one listens to the Plymouth Symphony orchestra and hears the artists, one has the feeling that they are fortunate indeed, to have the experience of hearing them "first" on the ladder of fame—and national acclaim.

A man in St. Louis with an incurable yearning to play one-armed bandits bought and installed an old slot machine in his home, announced he had solved his problem: Now he's happily losing money to himself.

An animal is the perfect "machine" for harvesting grass. Pastures are converted into feed with no labor and at little cost. Agricultural experts say grass silage and good quality hay are next best to pasture in feeding value.

STAYS WHITE AND BRIGHT FOR YEARS

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT cleans itself!

1. All paints collect dust and dirt during the first few months.
2. With Du Pont House Paint, a fine white powder forms on the surface after a few months.
3. Rains wash off this powder—and with it, much of the accumulated dirt and grime.
4. Self-cleaning leaves surface clean and white... keeps it sparkling white for years. This cleaning process is gradual and does not adversely affect the long life of the paint.

For lasting home beauty, make sure your painter uses Du Pont House Paint. Made of an exclusive Du Pont combination of pigments and oils, it literally sheds dirt and dust during every heavy rain... leaves your home handsomely white, sparkling bright for years. Normally, this "Self-cleaning" action starts in a few months on most surfaces. However, excessive soot or heavy shade, or stains from metal surfaces such as copper screening, may interfere with or delay the process.

Consider the other advantages of Du Pont House Paint. As it keeps your house beautiful for years, it also protects against rust, rot and decay. Smooth, easy application, excellent spread and high-hiding—all these factors work in your favor when Du Pont House Paint goes on. It's available in "Self-cleaning" tints as well as white.

And here's a tip for your painter: When working on new wood or excessively weathered paint films, a prime coat of Du Pont House Paint Primer is recommended. It assures maximum adhesion and performance of the finish coat.

What a stepper!

V-8 or "Six" she steps out like no other low-priced car. Yet you can own a V-8 for hundreds less than most "Sixes"—a Ford "Six" for even less.

What a stopper!

Ford's 35% easier-acting King-Size Brakes use car momentum to help you stop. Like Ford's extra-rugged "Lifeguard" Body, they give you the kind of protection you'd expect only of costliest cars. And for added safety and comfort, there's the low and level "Mid Ship" Ride—you're cradled between the wheels.

What a looker!

Ford's the "Fashion Car of the Year." And Fords stay good looking with baked-on finish "made to live outdoors." That means high resale value which, with Ford's low running costs, spells real savings.

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

By Mrs. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents Magazine

WHAT MAKES A HABIT desirable or undesirable? Sometimes it seems to be mostly the effect the particular habit has on parents! Take clothes sucking in which a lot of children seem to find comfort. It is fundamentally annoying to see a child with a sleeve or the point of his collar in his mouth. Mild suggestion that he doesn't look his most attractive when sucking at his clothing and pointing out how much nicer clothes look without telltale damp spots—these are gentle ways of discouraging the habit. But constant nagging and letting the child see how it gets on your nerves may cause him to hold on to a babyish pastime long after he might have otherwise dropped it.

Actually, there aren't many childish habits that are worth a mother's worry. Those which should cause you concern are the ones which indicate that the child is a step or two behind in his emotional adjustments. Inability to play with other children is a serious lag, as is a constant unwillingness to do what you ask. This latter is a stage, called negativism, that two-year-olds go through, as any parent can tell you. But if prolonged beyond four or five the child, for some reason, is probably using no as a weapon against his parents. Because by then a child should have learned that it is more fun, and decidedly to his advantage, to be cooperative at least part of the time.

Failure in school, night terrors and serious feeding problems are other signs of maladjustment that parents should be concerned about. Sometimes it requires the help of a psychiatrist to get at the basic trouble—but often thoughtful parents can discover by close observation what is causing their child so much unhappiness. For example, is it jealousy of a younger or older brother or sister? Often this is expressed in the opposite way you'd expect, such as in extreme demonstrativeness. Making a fuss over the baby may seem to a child who is worried about the loss of part of his mother's love to be a way of winning more of her approval.

Then there is habitual behavior that, while not serious in itself, may handicap the child in making friends. Excessive roughness in play and prolonged sulking come in this category. Usually these result from improper handling and guidance—that is, father plays roughly with his son from boyhood, glorying in the child's hardihood. The youngster doesn't know that other children don't welcome the mauling his father enjoys.

The important thing is for parents to see their child's annoying habits in proper perspective. Most of them are harmless, so trivial that they are better overlooked. Others are signs of serious difficulties, wordless cries for help in learning how to live comfortably and happily in the world. Still others, such as habitual rudeness, are stumbling blocks in the way to being accepted by others. Parents should try to grow in understanding of their child's needs for guidance and not create additional tensions by reacting strongly to every small departure from becoming behavior.

Barn curing of hay, according to tests, saves from 30 to 50 per cent of the protein-rich leaves. Grass chopped fresh and then made into silage saves even more of the protein content.

In St. Louis, Earl ("Tiny") Bechtold won first place in a contest at Barney's Army Store for the man with the biggest waistline (62½ inches), claimed his prize: a pair of tailored slacks.

Auto License Office Breaks Summer Records

All records for the issuance of new automobile titles and transfers have been broken during the past six weeks at the Secretary of State's branch office in Plymouth, according to Manager Frank Rambo.

"Never saw anything like it. Why, there have been some days lately when we have issued as many licenses as we do during the busy season at the beginning of the year," stated Manager Rambo.

"One day we had more than 70 transfers of licenses in just one day—and that's a lot of work. Besides all of these transfers, we have unusually heavy demand for new titles to get out. It looks as though the automobile companies are trying to get a new car out for everybody as quickly as they can. We've been running this office for over 12 years, and never before have we at anytime issued so many auto licenses during the summer months," he added.

Lansing newspaper reports also advise that Secretary of State Fred M. Alger's office is experiencing a similar rush from all other parts of Michigan. But Plymouth records go far beyond the highest of any year since the decade was opened here over a decade ago. The additional work is being handled as quickly and as efficiently as it is conducted during the weeks and months when the demand for titles and transfers is only normal.

Service Stations Add New Gas Storage Tanks

In order to serve the ever-increasing demand for the new Sinclair RD 119 gasoline, Morgan and Burley, Sinclair dealers at South Main and Wing streets, are having installed additional storage for the amount of 4,000 gallons in two storage tanks of 2,000 tanks each.

Additional storage of 3,000 gallons is also being made at the service station of Grooms and Young, located at Starkweather and Pearl streets.

The trend toward growing more grass is just beginning to spread across the country. Yet nearly 200 years ago George Washington wrote: "My countrymen have too little knowledge of the profits of grassland."

Five local Girl Scouts have completed a busy week of hiking, canoeing, swimming and camping at Cedar Lake camp in Chelsea. A special award was given to Madeleine Jones of Plymouth for the marking of a nature trail, beginning at Waterloo area headquarters and ending at the south end of Crooked lake.

Scouts Donna Reed, Charlotte West and Martha Raum of Plymouth took a special canoe trip following a difficult canoe test given in rough water. Doris Mae Fischer was another Plymouth girl at the camp who participated in the carnival presented by the Scouts last week.

First Daisy Employee Retires on Company Plan

The first employee of the Daisy Manufacturing company to retire under the company's retirement plan is Elmore Reedy, 65, an employee of Daisy for the last five years.

Reedy worked in the steel handling department and retired on July 1. He and his wife, who have lived on Lilley road have moved to Troy, Tennessee, Mr. Reedy's former home.

The company's present retirement plan was inaugurated shortly after the war in 1946.

A modern grassland machine like the field forage harvester can automatically pick up, chop and load a wagon with up to 15 tons of grass an hour.

After marrying his son's divorced wife, a man in Chicago discovered that he had become his granddaughter's stepfather.

SPOT AND STAIN removal is not the simple job it used to be because of the combinations of fibers used in the same material and the new and varied finishes employed. Many stains, however, can be removed if they're treated as soon as they occur.

If you're in doubt about the material, you can always try sponging with warm water as the first step. This will not usually affect even materials which are non-washable. Rinse thoroughly and carefully so there will not be a ring around the stain you have removed.

Bleaches are not recommended except on solid white cottons as they are frequently too harsh. If you do have to use them, make a mild solution and apply carefully.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Broiled Fish Puffs (Serves 6)
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup sweet relish
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
2 egg whites
1½ pounds fish fillets
Combine the first five ingredients and fold into stiffly beaten egg whites. Cut fish into individual servings and place in baking dish. Broil from 6 to 10 minutes, about 4 inches from flame or heat. Remove from broiler and cover with sauce. Broil 3 minutes longer or until puffy and golden brown.

The first rinse should be vinegar and water to neutralize the bleach, and the following rinses should be clear water.

If acetate is present in the material, many cleaning agents will have to be eliminated. Test for acetate in the fabric by placing a drop of acetone on an inconspicuous seam of the material.

Some stains can be removed if treated immediately, while if allowed to remain can never be removed. These include fruit and berry stains, soft drink spots, cod liver oil, iodine and mercuriochrome, grass, paint, mildew and ink.

Soap and water removes mildew stains. Let the sun bleach out what remains.

Hold Funeral For F. J. VanHousen

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, July 25 at 11 a.m. from the Schrader Funeral home for Frederick James VanHousen who passed away Saturday morning, July 22, at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, at the age of 78 years. Mr. VanHousen resided at 45775 Proctor road in Canton township and has been a resident of that community for the past 36 years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary VanHousen; his son, Harold F. VanHousen of Auburn Heights, Michigan, and his daughter, Miss Etha VanHousen of Plymouth, one grandchild, Donna, and other relatives and friends.

The Rev. Henry J. Walsh, D.D. officiated. Hymns were rendered on the organ. The active pallbearers were C. V. Dennis, Grover Funk, Charles Finnegan, Clyde Truesdell, Frank Mott and Arthur Huston. Interment was in London cemetery, Milan, Michigan.

CORN FRITTERS
1 c canned corn
2 eggs
6 T flour
2 t baking powder
½ t nutmeg
2 T butter

Mention corn fritters and the vote for them will be unanimous. For best results, make the batter just before using.

Drain and mash corn with potato masher. Beat eggs until light and add with flour, baking powder and nutmeg. Melt butter in small skillet. When very hot, add the batter by tablespoons. Permit the bottom of the cakes to brown, reverse them and brown the other side. Serve at once.

City's Growth to Mean More Cash From the State

If the state of Michigan can continue the same rate of per capita payment to cities, townships and villages in sales tax refunds as it did last year, the city of Plymouth will next year receive as its share of sales tax refunds more than $40,000.

This total is based upon the increased population of Plymouth and the expectancy that the state sales tax refunds will continue at the same ratio as at present.

Plymouth last year received something like $32,000 from the state sales tax refunds. This amount was based upon a population of 5,360. The new census gives Plymouth a total population of 6,649. Many believe that this total should be higher as there have been reports that some families were overlooked entirely by the census takers. But the estimated income to the city treasury from the state is based upon the total population figure given out by the census headquarters.

There is a possible hitch, however, as to when Plymouth and other Michigan cities will receive this increase—and there is also a question as to just how much the increase will be.

Auditor General Aten advised The Plymouth Mail a few days ago that he had not yet received from the federal government a certification as to the new population count within the state. He declares that all payments to the various governmental units entitled to sales tax refunds, will for the present be made upon the 1940 census tabulation. Some cities have asked him to make payments of the increased amounts simply upon the press reports given out by some of the census taking officials. This he has refused to do.

There is also a question as to whether the per capita rate will remain the same under the new census as the old, as it all is dependent upon the amount of sales tax money collected.

The state makes payments to Plymouth and other municipalities in four quarterly periods during the year. These payments are made in January, April, July and October. Plymouth has received two payments so far this year, the amounts being based upon the 1940 census.

The January payment received by Plymouth was upon a ratio of $1.57 for each person. Upon the old census figure Plymouth was paid about $8,000. The April payment was upon a per capita basis of $1.53 per person.

The next payment which is due in October may be based upon the new census figures, providing the auditor general gets the census certification from the government in Washington. If he does not get it, the October payment will be based upon the same census figures as were used for the January and April payments.

The total per capita payment for the entire year of 1949 amounted to $6.13 cents for each resident of a city, township or village. There are many communities in Michigan like Plymouth which show a substantial increase in population. A few show a decrease. If the sales tax increase does not maintain a similar increase as does the population, the total payments for the next year may not be in the same ratio as during past years, but there is no question but what Plymouth will get more sales tax refunds in the next year than ever before due to our increased population.

WHAT I THINK AND HAVE A RIGHT TO SAY

restored through the United Nations, it is already evident that international body is without potency and that there is no hope for us in that.

"That body is stalemated beyond hope, except as a United Nations organization of free nations, with Russia and her satellites out of it.

"If our policy is 'dollar diplomacy of the new order,' that scattering of our wealth throughout the world in the hope that we can buy nations and influence their decisions, then we have failed, for no nation has given another subventions of so great an amount as the United States has been handing to Great Britain; yet there is a tendency even in that country to seek a neutral position between the United States and Soviet Russia.

"It cost us $11,000,000,000 to buy an enemy, Soviet Russia; how much did it cost us to buy frightened neutrals?

"No matter what the outcome of the Korean situation, whether it be localized or leads to a general war, no nation will long be able to remain neutral.

"Either they are for us or against us. That Northern Korea was being prepared for war has been known for at least a year.

"As soon as Soviet Russia conquered China, with the aid of the American state department, the next steps were inevitable unless stopped.

"The next steps were Korea, Burma, French Indo-China, the Philippines. Then they would attempt to drive Gen. MacArthur out of Japan. That would probably be the first step in their march of empire toward the United States.

"And on the other side, there is Germany to conquer, and Iran, and Iraq and even Turkey.

"We are facing one of those movements that has changed the course of human history. A nation which prefers whodunits to history cannot be sure that it quite understands the march of empire. Alexander, Caesar, Genghis Khan, Napoleon, Hitler — there have been predecessors to Stalin, but the patterns of their activities do not vary too much.

"They move wherever they can and when they succeed, they build enormous states that seem to encompass the entire human race. But never quite all of it, because always they expand beyond their tensile strength; always there is a cracking of the controls, particularly on the periphery of empire.

"Meanwhile humanity suffers.

"Those who conduct the foreign policy of the United States should have known and understood all this. It is written in the story of man's inhumanity to man. But they did not understand.

"They confused obstinate private judgments for high principles."

WE WISH OUR NEW NEIGHBOR SUCCESS.

To the new city of Livonia, Mayor Ziegler and the other city officials, we wish unlimited success in the establishment of Michigan's newest and highly important city. The City of Livonia will not have to wait to become an important municipality—it is that right now. But it does have a tremendously long list of highly important civic problems that will have to be worked out. Our advice to all of the people of our progressive neighbor is to be patient and co-operative with the new officials. It will work out to the advantage of all, if such an attitude is assumed.

HELPING OUT THE TAXPAYERS!

Our Democratic congress has decided to cut taxes in order to help out the poor, underpaid workers of the nation. First it was decided to slash the taxes on night clubs—these ritzy places where it costs a ten or twenty dollar bill to just look inside. That tax cut will help the pork-choppers without much question. Now comes a decision of congress to cut the taxes on low priced cigarettes—and reports indicate that these are used by an exceedingly small percent of "sig" smokers. They're thinking of cutting taxes on fur coats, "chawing" tobacco and other real (?) NECESSITIES to modern day living. It's a great world—if you don't weaken.

QUOTING THE UNITED STATES NEWS.

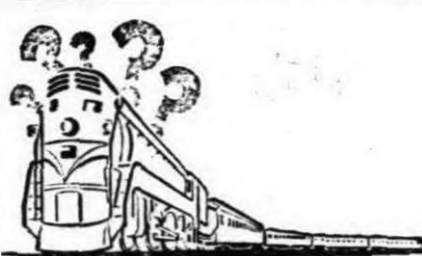

In a recent issue of The United States News we read the following paragraph: "President Truman, it turns out, rejected the policy set by his predecessor, Theodore Roosevelt, for the United States to 'speak softly and carry a big stick.' The United States spoke loudly under Mr. Truman and carried a little stick, with embarrassing results."

Railroad "Whys", "Whats" and "Hows"

EVERY time a Canadian National passenger train goes through a tunnel some traveller wants to know how long it is and every time a train crosses a long bridge somebody on board asks "How long and how high is it?" "Whys", "whats", "hows", and so forth are not the private property of youngsters and every railroad man, especially if he belongs to a train crew, needs to be something of an encyclopaedia as well as a railroader.

Now, to provide the answers to all such questions that might be asked about the Canadian National Railways would be an impossibility. There are more than 33,000 miles of track on the Canadian National, something more than 6,500 bridges and more than 63 apertures that are classified as tunnels. As a matter of general interest, the longest bridge is 6593 feet and it is the Victoria Bridge spanning the St. Lawrence River at Montreal. The highest bridge is over the Niagara River and it rises 250 feet from water level to the base of the rails. The longest tunnel like the longest bridge also happens to be at Montreal and it is the tunnel leading from Central Station under Mount Royal. It is 16,641 feet or 3.3 miles long and it is double tracked throughout. Just in case this other matter is worrying you any, there are more than 5,000 stations on the Canadian National Railways. On the Canadian National there are more than 87 million ties and the rails are fastened to them by more than 429 million spikes. Six to eight tons of coal are sufficient to meet the annual needs of the average householder. To keep the trains moving, the CNR burns about 440 carloads a day and has an average annual consumption of between seven and eight million tons. Last year, almost 19 million people travelled on the CNR. To provide them with meal service, the company operated 93 dining cars and 27 cafe cars. Among the many items stocked by these cars were 68,500 pieces of silverware, 91,500 pieces of chinaware and 32,700 pieces of glassware. Two hundred and sixty-three chefs and cooks were employed to prepare the meals which were served by 350 waiters. The cars themselves were under the supervision of 111 stewards.

Bedding used in the sleeping car service is nearly enough to supply a town of about 20,000 population. On its 366 sleeping cars, the company uses 16,300 blankets, 42,000 sheets, 35,200 pillow slips and 52,300 face towels.

Canadian National trains and locomotives travel astronomical distances. Last year, in freight and passenger service, CNR trains chugged up a total mileage of 68,901,035 miles. This is equivalent to approximately 280 trips from the earth to the moon. The Canadian National provides work for more than 111,000 people, making it the largest employer in Canada. In this family of workers, located from Newfoundland to British Columbia and in 11 of the United States, there are representatives of every skilled trade as well as members of the professional world as doctors, nurses, lawyers, economists, engineers, metallurgists, physicists and chemists.

The Soviet Union has announced a three-year plan to improve its backward animal husbandry. The Reds demand a 50% increase in butter, milk and eggs. This will take more than a law . . . because cows and chickens can't read. And if they can they probably think they're too smart to be wasting their time on milk and eggs. You wouldn't think the Russians would want anyone laying for them. Generally animals aren't very co-operative. We had a cow once that wouldn't give milk. We had to take it away from her. This is one spot where a veto won't do the Russians the slightest bit of good.

Last Rites Read For Mrs. Leonard

Funeral services were held yesterday at 2 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home for Mrs. Jessie M. Leonard who passed away Sunday, July 23 at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, after a long illness.

Mrs. Leonard has resided at 810 South Main street with her sister, Mrs. Grace B. Singer, for the past ten years. She was a member of the American Legion auxiliary.

Surviving are her two sisters, Mrs. Coda Kelly and Mrs. Singer, both of Plymouth, and other relatives. Her husband preceded her in death in 1933.

The Rev. Henry J. Waich, D.D. officiated. Services were under the auspices of the American Legion auxiliary. The active pallbearers were George Shetterloe, John Lutz, Bill Donovan, Warren Smith, Brodie Card and Jim Shetterloe. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

The field forage harvester is typical of the effort of manufacturers to give farmers double-duty machines. Attachments let this machine work for the farmer in chopping grass from a windrow or corn from the row. Improper filling is responsible for much of the spoilage of silage. New auger-type blowers now on the market spread the chopped material evenly to get a tight pack which helps prevent spoilage.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

Samuel, the Upright Judge
Lesson for July 23: 1 Samuel 7: 3-6, 15-16; 12: 1-5

Memory Selection: 1 Samuel 3: 19
Samuel was one of the great characters of early Israel and there was a potent reason for it—in infancy he was dedicated unto God, and his pious mother's act had much to do with his great career. His early life should be familiar to the reader.

The first of the lesson text shows Samuel as the strong leader of Israel. After the ark's return from Philistia, Samuel gathered his people to an assembly at Mizpah, and led them to repentance and new consecration to Jehovah. The Philistine regarded the occasion as a mobilization and they came up with a great army upon the Israelites. And they were terribly defeated.

Living at Ramah, Samuel held court there and at other places. He was an early "circuit judge." At length, after Saul had become the first king and Samuel had grown old, he brought the people together and asked them for a kind of vote of confidence, not that he might remain in leadership among them, but that he might depart in peace. Conscious that he had walked in integrity before God, the old man also desired the approval of his people, and they gave it with one voice.

Thus, approved by God and men, Samuel came to the end of his pilgrimage, and left an example of his righteous service. Let the upright judge be an example unto all who hold high office, and to all others as well, influencing them to be true and sincere in all their dealings.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE, Holbrook at Pearl streets. K. G. Swain, Supt. Sunday school at 10 a.m. with classes for every age group. FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST. Sunday services at 10:30 a.m. Sunday school, 10:30 a.m. for pupils up to 20 years. "Love" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 30. The Golden Text (I John 4:7) is: "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God." Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Rom. 13:8): "Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 454): "Love for God and man is the true incentive in both healing and teaching. Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right motives give pinions to thought and strength and freedom to speech and action."

Tell Plans For Scot Band Show

A. Laurie Vincent of Plymouth, secretary of the St. Andrew's society of Detroit, announces that the organization will sponsor the Scottish Bandsmen Show beginning August 12 at the University of Detroit stadium.

Highlander and pipe bands from all over the country will compete for prizes in the show. Scots will parade in clan costumes in the massed band performance and honored guest of the show will be Gilbert W. Carmichael, royal chief of the Order of Scottish Clans.

Ready for quantity production is a new wire-tie baler which eliminates an old complaint of farmers—bits of loose wire left in the field where cattle may swallow them. One strand is tied in each wire automatically, leaving no loose ends to be clipped.

Baler twine, first developed 10 years ago, has been steadily improved. Some twine available today is so strong that it would take 1300 bales piled one on top the other before the strands on the bottom bale broke from the tremendous pressure.

OUR SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Sixty Years Ago the "Pearls" Played Ball For Plymouth High . . . . .

Long before the Plymouth Rocks became the official representatives of Plymouth High School, as a matter of fact about 60 years ago, a baseball team was formed among the high school boys and they called themselves the Pearls. At present there are no official records of the years they played or of the various games they had but according to Sam Spicer, a former member of the team, the team disbanded in 1896 after playing for six or seven years.

The Pearls played most of their games with Northville, Wayne and Farmington, transportation being somewhat of a problem in those days. All games were scheduled on Saturday afternoons and the teams traveled by horse-drawn lumber wagons from one town to the other. "It used to take us nearly three hours to get over to Wayne on Saturday morning and if we were lucky after the game the Wayne team would give us our dinner. If not, we sometimes came home mighty hungry," said Mr. Spicer who clearly remembers the good old days of the Pearls.

Most of the games played by the Pearls were held on the old Fairgrounds and back in those days the boys furnished their own equipment. The two large mitts shown in the picture belonged to the team. Balls cost $1.35, bats 50 cents and the majority of the members of the team wore their father's old gloves that had the fingers cut off and were padded in the palms with old rags sewn in by their mothers.

One of the outstanding games played, according to oldtimers was the one between the employees of the Markham Rifle company here and the Pearls. Markham superintendent, Ernest Roe, had convinced W. F. Markham that there were enough good ball players working for the company to beat the local favorites. So Mr. Markham gave members of his team free afternoons for a week to practice for the game. In reminiscing about the outcome of the game Ernest Roe, who furnished us the information, merely stated he had forgotten just how the game turned out but that he did keep his job as superintendent of the Markham company.

Wall Wire Climbs From Last Place

Wall Wire pulled a surprise on July 18 by downing Whitman-Barnes 12-10 and climbing out of last place in the Industrial league. Broome was the winning pitcher and was tagged for 11 hits. Frost was the loser and gave up nine hits.

Wall Wire scored first on a walk and an error. In the second Wall Wire pushed across three more runs, still without a hit. Then in the third for Whitman-Barnes four men scored to tie up the game. However, in the last of the third Wall Wire pulled ahead again by scoring two more runs but this time they collected three hits.

In the fourth Wall Wire pushed ahead with four more counters, as three men were hit by the pitcher. In the fifth two more men scored to give Wall Wire 12 runs.

Whitman-Barnes scored two runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth for their 10 runs.

After being beaten by a last place team, Whitman-Barnes defeated Daisy 15-2 on July 20. Premiau pitched for the winners while Cecil and Benjamin hurled for the losers.

Beglinger Loses to Cavalcade 5-4

Cavalcade climbed back to a tie for first with DeHoCo again by downing Beglinger 5-4 July 20. Thibodeau was the winning pitcher while Street hurled for the losers. Beglinger only had three hits and two of these were off of LaRue who pitched the first two innings for Cavalcade.

Cavalcade scored once in the first frame when Craigie, leading off, singled and scored on an infield out. Beglinger came back in the second with two runs. Egloff walked, Street singled and Dobbs walked. Sasal was then hit by a pitched ball for one run and a fly out resulted in another.

Cavalcade started over again in the third as they scored four runs on four hits. Cavalcade was then held hitless the rest of the game. Beglinger made a comeback in the sixth with two runs when Gilles was hit by the pitcher and a single by Egloff.

Explain Harness for Trotting Race Fans....

The well turned out harness horses at the Detroit Race Track these days wear suspenders and knee boots, and carry numbers so that their fans can readily identify them.

The grand old pastime of trotting and pacing races is more popular than ever here, thanks to the high level of competition at the Detroit Race Track where eight top-notch harness races are presented nightly, except Sunday, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Fans will get even greater enjoyment out of these cards if they understand the purpose of all the gear which a harness horse wears to the races. Here, briefly described, are the parts of the harness which are depicted in the above sketch:

Shadow Roll—This is laid across the horse's nose to prevent him from seeing objects on the track, or from jumping at shadows.

Check Rein—Enables driver to hold horse's head at proper height. Some go with head checked high, others checked low.

Head Number—Corresponds to horse's number in program.

Reins—The lines with which the driver guides and handles the horse.

Head Pole—Keeps the horse's head straight. Without it, some would race with their heads turned sideways.

Suspenders—Hold up knee boots. Knee Boots—A pair of strongly reinforced leather pads, used to prevent the horse from hitting and bruising his knees while going at top speed.

Hobbles—Pair of leather straps that enable pacers to keep their proper gait, and prevent them from breaking. Trotters do not wear hobbles.

Quarter Boots—Stiff leather boots that keep a horse from injuring his quarters.

Hobble Hanger—Leather strap to keep horse's hobbles at the proper level.

Hand Holds—Part of the reins, a place where the driver can get a grip and prevent the reins from slipping through his hands.

Sulky—The lightweight vehicle in which the driver sits. It weighs between 27 and 30 pounds.

Pettit Pitches Win For DeHoCo

In the girl's league on July 18 DeHoCo trounced Champion Corrugated 16-3. Pettit was again DeHoCo's pitcher and she allowed only six hits. Hopkins hurled for Champion Corrugated and DeHoCo touched her for 20 hits.

It was a close game up to the fourth inning when DeHoCo scored six runs and pulled away from Champion Corrugated.

In the other girl's game, Blick's lost out to Jackson Coal 6-2. Rutherford was the Plymouth hurler and was tagged for seven hits. Jackson Coal lead all the way as they scored once in the first and third, three in the fourth and one in the seventh.

Blick's scored their two runs in the fifth when Mandell walked and scored on a single by McIntosh who scored on an infield out when Tate hit to the pitcher. Konazeski and McIntosh led their team with two hits each.

The game was called at the end of 6 2/3 innings because of rain.

Gabby Street Hurts No-Hitter For Beglinger in Exhibition Game

In the exhibition games played last Friday Beglinger downed Dunn Steel of the Industrial league 3-2 behind the no-hit pitching of Gabby Street. Marshall hurled for the losers.

Dunn Steel drew first blood by scoring twice in the third inning. Pierce, leading off, walked, Litzenberger was hit by Street and Marshall struck out. Then Allen hit an infield ball and was safe as both runners scored.

Beglinger came back in the half of the third with two runs. Dobbs, leading off, was hit by a pitched ball but was thrown out at second on a fielder's choice by Wilkie. Schultz then singled, and scored Wilkie and Schultz scored when Newton was safe on an error.

Beglinger then won the game in the last inning when Street scored on a single by Dobbs who had two hits in the game.

In another close game in the Old Timers' league on Friday, VFW won a close game over Allen Industry 2-1. Atchinson was the losing pitcher while Burley hurled for the victors. Allen Industry scored their only run in the fifth frame when Atchinson singled and came home on another hit by Wall.

VFW also scored one in the fifth when Gust singled, Smith singled and Mulligan singled driving in Gust. In the sixth VFW won the game when Epps walked and scored on a hit by Burley.

Dunn Steel Leads Industrial League

Dunn Steel continued to pace the Industrial league by trouncing Champion Corrugated 16-4 on July 20. McIntosh was the winning hurler while Sinta was the loser for Champion Corrugated.

As usual, Dunn Steel started out in the first frame with five runs. In the third five more men came across, in the fourth three men scored, in the fifth one and in the sixth two. This resulted in 16 runs.

Champion Corrugated scored twice in the third and twice in the sixth.

South Side Loses to DeHoCo 3-1

DeHoCo is back in first place again due to their victory over South Side Merchants July 20. It was a very close game but DeHoCo came out ahead 3-1. Harrison again paced DeHoCo as he held South Side, Merchants to three hits. Wellman pitched for South Side and he allowed eight scattered hits.

DeHoCo scored a run in the first inning as Meadows, leading off, was hit by the pitcher. After two outs Harrison singled and drove in Meadows. South Side also scored one run in the first frame. Robinson, leading off, walked, Wagenschutz singled and Lyke singled driving in Robinson. After that inning South Side got only one hit and no runs as Harrison pitched beautifully.

After DeHoCo's first inning there were also held unless until the last inning when DeHoCo won by pushing two runs across. Gregory, leading off, singled and with two; outs Williams tripled and came across on a single by Harrison.

Utilities Win Over Great Americans 10-2

In the "F" league on Monday the Utilities squad turned down the Great Americans 10-2. Coonce was the losing pitcher while Kisabeth hurled for the winners. The Great Americans had only two hits and both of these were in the first two innings. The game was close up to the fifth when Utilities scored six men.

In another "F" game the Cardinals just edged out Northville 9-8. Tom Rutherford went the distance for the Cardinals and allowed six hits. Nalley hurled for Northville.

Going into the fifth inning the score was tied up. Then in the last half of the fifth the Cardinals scored on a wild pitch to win the game.

The Plymouth Blue Sox of the "E" league trounced the Inkster Aces 24-4 July 17. Finney was the winning pitcher allowing four hits.

With modern equipment a farmer today worries less about the weather. He still makes hay while the sun shines, but machines like tractor rakes and automatic balers have cut his hay-making time in half.

85 Girl Scouts Enjoy Day Camp at Kiwanis Cabin

There have been 85 girls enjoying the Girl Scout Day Camp for the past two weeks. The first week, from July 17 to July 22, was Brownie week. The following week the Intermediates took over the camp. The Kiwanis cabin proved a delightful spot for rainy days with its huge fireplace for roasting hot dogs and marshmallows and the large living room for games and dancing.

When the weather permitted, the girls went into the park where they were able to cook on their tin can stoves. Both Brownies and Intermediates enjoyed catching insects in the nets they made.

Leathercraft proved a favorite handcraft project with purses for the Brownies and arm guards for the Intermediates to use for archery which was taught by Mrs. Alex Miller.

On Friday of each week the mothers of the girls were invited for lunch which the girls cooked themselves. A short program followed in which all Scouts participated.

Mrs. Arthur Donnelly was the camp director with Mrs. Sheldon Baker, Mrs. Manwaring, Mrs. Thornbury, Mrs. Earl West, Mrs. Lomas, Mrs. Goodhand and Mrs. Higgins as counselors. Nancy Worth, Freida Killingsworth and Ann Preston worked as assistant leaders. Mrs. Homer Frisbie, a trained nurse, was on duty at all times.

In the Michigan Recreation association meeting held at Muskegon on July 14 and 15, the following dates were set for the different tournaments.

For the golf players there will be a tournament September 9 at the University of Michigan course. The following teams will compete: Battle Creek, Saginaw, Pontiac, Highland Park, Ypsilanti, Plymouth and Allen Park.

In the Class "B" softball, which is the Open league, the first place team will play in the tournaments at Coldwater August 25-26-27.

The Class "F" baseball league from Plymouth will not be represented this year due to the use of overage boys on the teams. This year the M.R.A. has changed the base lines to 75 feet and the pitching to 50 feet.

The Class "D" and "E" baseball tournaments will be held at Pontiac on August 21-22-23. For the first time the American Legion players will be eligible for this tournament.

The ladies golf tournament will be held at Hilltop on September 16. It will be composed of seven or eight teams. The Girls' softball tournament date will be determined this week.

Farmers have discovered a way of making "winter pastures." By chopping grass and putting it into a silo, they make a feed which is higher in feeding value than corn silage and is less expensive to produce.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

It's Cherry Time - So Brush Up on Favorite Cherry Recipes

Billy Boy had better brush up on all of the family's favorite cherry recipes in addition to pie. Unusually heavy supplies of them are in Plymouth markets now. This year's Michigan crop is expected to be even better than last.

This means ample makings for delicious pies and tarts, cobblers and muffins, with plenty left over to store away for winter meals. With such excellent commercially canned and frozen fruits available at reasonable prices, you may prefer to limit your cherry preserving to such specialties as jams, preserves and conserves.

Cherries don't rank among the important foods, nutritionally speaking, but their vivid color and tempting flavor make them good sources of what someone has named "vitamin Z for zest." Just for making meals more appealing in appearance and taste they can be rated as important additions to the diet.

Here are suggestions for interesting ways of serving the luscious fruit.

CHERRY TURNOVERS
One recipe of plain pastry, 2 cups pitted sour cherries, well drained, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1 cup diced marshmallow, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Mix all ingredients, except pastry 1/4 inch thick and cut into 4 inch squares. Place a tablespoonful of filling on half of each pastry square. Wet edges with cold water and fold pastry over to form triangle. Press edges together with floured fingers of fork. Prick top. Chill turnovers for about 1/2 hour. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees F., for about 15 minutes. Makes about 14 turnovers.

CHERRY COTTAGE PUDDING
One and three-fourths cups sifted, enriched all-purpose flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup shortening, 3/4 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup pitted, sweet cherries, well drained.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually and cream until fluffy. Add egg and flavoring and beat well. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk, beating until smooth after each addition. Stir in cherries. Turn into greased square pan, 8x8x2 inches. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 35 to 40 minutes, or until done. Serve warm with hard sauce or with stewed, sweet cherries, sweetened to taste and slightly thickened with cornstarch.

CHERRY PRESERVES
Use 1 pound of sugar for each pound of sour cherries. Pit large, firm cherries and drain well. Put sugar in preserving kettle and add just enough water or juice drained from cherries to dissolve it when brought to the boil. Cook until a little of the syrup forms a soft ball in cold water or reaches the temperature of 238 degrees. Add cherries and leave kettle where fruit will stay hot for 10 minutes, but do not cook. Skim top.

Remove fruit with skimmer and put in bowl. Cook syrup again to 238 degrees or until small amount forms a soft ball in cold water. Add cherries and let stand in a hot place for 15 minutes. Skim out fruit and again cook the syrup as before. Add the cherries and cook rapidly until the juice falls in thick, clinging drops from the side of the spoon. Let stand, covered in cold place for 24 hours so cherries will absorb syrup and become plump. Bring to full, rolling boil and seal at once in sterilized jars or glasses.

CHERRY MARMALADE
Two pounds pitted sour cherries, 3 cups sugar, 2 cups water or cherry juice, grated rind and juice of 1 orange and 1 lemon.
Combine cherries, sugar and water or cherry juice. Bring to boiling point, stirring frequently, then reduce heat and simmer for 15 minutes. Add rind and juice of the orange and lemon and continue cooking until cherries are clear and juice is thick enough to drop from spoon in sheet. Seal in sterilized jars or glasses. Makes about six 6-ounce glasses.

Social items can be phoned to 1755.

EASY DOES IT
BY... NEDD HALL

IF YOU LIKE to have a lovely salad as the main dish for a hot weather luncheon, try this: arrange a mound of cottage cheese on shredded lettuce, then top with peach halves, fresh dark cherries which have been seeded and pineapple spears. Serve with creamy French dressing.

For a dessert that's a real treat, make two or three thin pancakes for each serving. Pour over them maple syrup and garnish with whipped cream.

Sandwiches that are excellent for a backyard picnic or snack are made with long finger rolls, hollowed out and filled with a mixture of chopped, hard-cooked eggs, chopped ripe olives, sliced celery and mayonnaise to moisten.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Tropical Freeze
(Serves 6)
1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup sugar
1 cup whipping cream
Combine fruit juices, peel and sugar. Whip cream until stiff. Fold juice mixture into whipped cream. Pour into freezing tray and freeze, stirring once when half frozen.

Sunday night suppers will be popular if you place thin slices of luncheon meat in a skillet to brown with lard. After turning meat once, break an egg over each piece and top with grated Swiss cheese. Cover pan and cook slowly until egg sets and cheese melts.

A quick appetizer to serve with chilled vegetable juices can be made by mixing grated tuna fish with tartar sauce and heaping the mixture on toasted crackers. Serve with lemon slivers and olives.

You can add interest to your next meat loaf by placing hard-cooked eggs, arranged end on end, in the center of the loaf when packing the meat mixture in the pan. When served, each will get a slice of egg.

Make balls of cantaloupe, honeydew and watermelon. Serve in sherbet glasses with a sprinkling of lime juice for a delightful first or dessert course.

Easy Mixes Come To The Rescue Of The Inexperienced Cook

Mixes are a bride's best friend, since they make it possible for even the most inexperienced cook to turn out tasty dishes with a minimum of preparation. Here are recipes that make use of mixes:

EASY SPOON BREAD
3 eggs
2 1/2 cups milk
1 pkg. corn muffin mix
1 teaspoon salt

Start your oven at 350° F. or moderate. Separate eggs. Grease a 1-quart casserole. Heat milk slowly until a film forms on top but do not allow milk to boil.

When milk reaches this point, pour corn muffin mix into it in a slow stream, stirring constantly. Continue cooking, stirring every minute, until mixture is a thick mush (takes about 4 minutes). Then stir in salt and egg yolks, one at a time. Stir very hard. Then take off the stove.

Now beat the egg whites until stiff enough to stand in peaks. Then gently fold or mix into the cooked mixture and pour into casserole. Bake 40 minutes. Serves 4 to 6 and tastes mighty good with any meat. Very especially beef.

TUNA FILLED BISCUIT FISH
2 cups biscuit mix
1/3 cup milk (about)
1 10 1/2-ounce can cream of celery soup
1-7 ounce can tuna fish
8 ripe olives (If you have some pimiento in the house, chop up a half of one and add to sauce.)

Start your oven at 400° F. or moderately hot. Prepare biscuit mix according to directions on package. Then divide the dough in half and roll out, cutting it into 8 biscuits or into two fish-shapes. Place biscuits or biscuit fish on baking sheet and bake for 10 minutes or until golden brown.

In the meantime, break up the tuna fish into fairly good chunks and chop up the olives (not too fine). Next stir the milk into the cold soup slowly and bring to a boil over low heat. At the boiling point add fish and olives, bring to a boil again.

To serve, split biscuits and fill with the tuna mixture or cover one fish biscuit with mixture and top with the other. Garnish with parsley. Serves 4.

GRAPEFRUIT CAKE

1 pkg. prepared white cake mix
Rind of half grapefruit
Grapefruit juice equal to liquid called for in cake mix
Set your oven at whatever temperature the directions on package say. Then grate and squeeze your grapefruit. The trick in this easy recipe is to give your white cake a grapefruit flavor. So, you substitute grapefruit juice for the amount of milk called for in the package directions. To mix, proceed exactly according to manufacturer's instructions, stirring in the grapefruit rind just before pouring batter into cake pan. Bake as directed.

Frost with boiled icing or 7-minute icing (see any cookbook), coloring the frosting with green food coloring.

LUNCHEON TRICK

Serve hot potato salad with frankfurters for a quick luncheon dish. Cook potatoes with the skins on and dice, but not too finely. Season the potatoes with salt and pepper, dry mustard and a touch of sugar. Add 1/2 cup vinegar. In the meantime cook diced bacon until lightly browned, add grated onion and cook until tender, then mix with potatoes and just heat. Simmer franks until heated through and arrange them on a platter 'round the hot potato salad.

One average serving of carrots will provide one day's requirement of vitamin A. In addition, they're a good source of other vitamins and contain essential calcium.

Here are some things to watch for when buying carrots. Good quality carrots are firm, fresh in appearance, smooth, well-shaped and brightly colored. Avoid those that are wilted or shriveled, even for cooking purposes. They lack flavor and may be lower in food value than the fresher vegetable. When buying bunched carrots, the tops usually indicate quality. Look for fresh, green tops.

If you buy carrots with tops on, the tops should be removed before they are stored in the refrigerator. Store carrots in the hydrator, or wrapped in waxed paper, to keep them fresh and crisp.

Gardeners Warned to Use Lime With Safety

Home gardeners are warned by the National Safety Council to be careful of the lime they use on their lawns. Spreading of the wrong kind of lime can cause serious burns if the feet are moist. Even perspiration can be dangerous.

Lime is a loosely used term, the Council says. The pure oxides of calcium or magnesium, known as burned lime, never should be used on lawns and are dangerous to have around the house.

Slaked lime or builders' lime is slightly caustic and is not recommended for lawns. Impurities usually remain in commercial hydrated lime which can cause painful burns when uniting with moisture on the skin.

Carbonated lime or ground raw limestone are recommended for lawns because they are not caustic, and they act more slowly in neutralizing the acid soil condition, which brings about the change at a rate more beneficial to grasses.

SWEET 'N SPICY PICKLES
There is only one thing better than sweet ripe melon and that is spiced melon pickles. You will want to add these recipes to your collection of favorites.

These watermelon pickles are crisp, sweet and spicy.

Spiced Watermelon Pickles
2 pounds watermelon rind
4 cups sugar
1 pint white vinegar
1 pint water
1 lemon, thinly sliced
1 tablespoon cinnamon or 2 or 3 sticks
1 teaspoon whole cloves
1 teaspoon whole allspice

Peel and trim pink from thick firm rind. Soak overnight in salt water (1/4 cup salt to 1 quart water). Drain off brine and simmer in clear water until tender. Combine and heat the remaining ingredients while the rind is cooking. Keep the brine clear by tying the spices loosely in a little cheese cloth bag. Add the drained rind to the pickling solution and boil rapidly until they become clear.

Remove the spices. Pack the pickles in clean hot jars, cover with pickling solution and seal immediately.

For melon pickles that are different make these cantaloupe chunks.

Cantaloupe Pickles
3 pounds prepared cantaloupe
2 quarts water
6 cups sugar
2 cups vinegar
1 stick cinnamon
1 tablespoon whole cloves
1 tablespoon whole allspice

Pare melon and cut into cubes. Three pounds prepared melon equals three quarts. Soak three to four hours in salt solution (one cup salt to 1 gallon water). Drain and rinse thoroughly. Boil water and 4 cups sugar five minutes. Add cantaloupe, simmer thirty minutes. Allow to stand overnight in sirup. Add remaining sugar, vinegar and spices. Cook gently until melon is clear. Pack in clean hot jars and seal at once.

Yield: 3 pints.

Exhibits Ceramics Collection .....

PLYMOUTH PHOTO

Mrs. Carroll A. Davis of 37800 Grantland holds one of the ceramic pottery figurines, which she has made. Mrs. Davis, who studied the art at Wayne university, began her hobby 15 years ago. She now has almost two dozen articles in her collection, which will be on display this week in the lobby of the Plymouth United Savings bank.

The colorful and artistic ceramic collection of Mrs. Carroll A. Davis of 37800 Grantland road will be on display this week in the lobby of the Plymouth United Savings bank.

Mrs. Davis has been making ceramic pottery for about 15 years and has nearly two dozen pieces, including candy dishes, figurines, vases, flower pots, a tea pot, serving dishes and ash trays. She has taken classes in ceramics in the art education department of Wayne university.

Mrs. Davis does not use molds as a pattern believing that shaping the article from the wet clay by hand is far more creative and more of a challenge to her artistic ability. The decorative patterns on all the ceramics were designed by Mrs. Davis. She either cuts the pattern in the piece of pottery before it dries or applies a design of pieces of wet clay known as slip.

The articles are then glazed, giving the soft pastel coloring. A wooden tray and serving dish are also included in the collection and were hand-carved by Mrs. Davis.

Baling as a method of "putting up" hay has increased from 14 per cent of the crop in 1939 to more than 50 per cent in 1949. Most of this is now baled automatically.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company

We will resist all unwarranted price rises with all our might.

We will make every effort to hold our inventories at the lowest point consistent with good service to our customers, because hoarding, whether by wholesalers, retailers or consumers, will cause higher prices.

We will continue to maintain the lowest profit rate generally prevailing in the entire retail industry. Our net profit now is less than one cent on each dollar of sales.

We will continue to strive for more efficient distribution.

We will fight waste of food, or time, or money all along the line so as to narrow the spread between wholesale and retail prices.

We will devote all our energies to giving you the most good food for your money every day of the week.

We will strive always to do what is honest, fair, sincere and in the best interest of our country and our customers.

As most of you know, this company and the low cost, low profit policies that built it are under attack.

We are defending ourselves against a suit brought by the anti-trust lawyers to put A&P out of business.

But the greater conflict in which our country is now engaged takes precedence over all else.

Today, with our boys fighting in Korea, we believe that all citizens and all businesses, big and little, should devote themselves wholeheartedly to the public interest.

We promise the American people that we will cooperate unhesitatingly with our national government in the present crisis.

We promise you that we will continue to do everything in our power to put more buying power in your food dollar and more good food on your dinner table.

At the last regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary Tuesday, July 18, a new member, Mrs. Samuel Wilhelm, was initiated.

The ice cream social, which was to have been held June 30 in Kellogg park had to be postponed on account of the unseasonable cold weather. It will be held tomorrow, instead, from 3 to 10 p.m. There will be a band concert at 9 o'clock, by the high school band. Stop by for ice cream and homemade cake before or after shopping or during the concert.

Auxiliary members were happy to see Mrs. Isabelle Lueke at the last meeting. She had been absent for some time due to illness.

Plans for the Annual Bazaar to be held in November are underway and Virginia Bartel was chosen as general chairman of the event.

Summertime with its increased activities and vacations is bound to mean a drop in attendance at meetings but unless we are going to be on vacation... let's plan to get to the next one on August 1. Everyone's help is needed in planning the fall program. Good attendance makes a good Auxiliary.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. R. E. Volk of Omaha, Neb.: "I remember when I was a kid back in the 1890's, my folks made a unique cereal for us. They ground the 'old man' left from popped corn, put cream and sugar on them and served them for breakfast."

From S. J. Benton of DeKalb Tex.: "I remember when just a child, the cold winter nights by the big fireplace, with Father on one side, reading the Bible, Mother on the other, knitting, and us kids in between." At bedtime Mother would pull the little trundle bedstead from under the big bed. She would then tuck us kids away for the night. Some families had one-poster beds in the corner of the bedroom, with the other posts attached to the walls."

From Lee Jones of Monongah, W. Va.: "I remember when women would shear sheep. I don't know that the fair sex generally ever engaged in this occupation, but when I was a lad, I remember seeing my father tie the legs of our sheep and Aunt Drue Tucker, who lived near us, would shear them."

From Mrs. Byron Thompson of Granger, Wash.: "I remember when I went to a one-room country school, the teacher would appoint two pupils to bring a pail of water from a nearby well and pass it with a dipper, so each pupil could have a drink of fresh water. Each pupil usually took a dipper full and poured back into the pail what he did not drink."

Dealers Report Fish Plentiful-Minnnows Scarce

Before Plymouth anglers take off on that fishing trip, they should take some advice from the conservation department about bait. Biggest headache to bait dealers, according to their reports to the conservation department, is not a lack of business but too much of it—for scarce large-size minnows.

The department points out anglers might ease the situation by not taking a larger supply of bait than needed for the fishing trip. A considerable amount of bait is wasted. Another conservation measure suggested is that the fishing party not insist on giant minnows when smaller ones or other bait might actually be more desirable for certain types of fishing. Perch and calico bass, for example, would be equally apt to strike a smaller minnow.

When large minnows are in tight supply, walleyes and black bass fishermen might not go wrong in choosing night crawlers or other live bait. Frogs are considered ideal bass bait.

The department's fish division again cautions fishermen against dumping unused minnows and other live fish in the water.

Conducts U of M Band Concert

The University of Michigan Summer Session Symphonic band presented its first concert at the University of Michigan in Hill auditorium Monday, July 24.

The band concert was a highlight of the second annual Band Conductors conference - workshop being held at the university from Monday, July 24 to Saturday, July 29. More than 130 conductors from 28 states attended.

Among conductors, who lead the band in the various numbers was Paul T. Wagner, supervisor of instrumental music in the city schools of Plymouth.

The program is intended to offer the nation's band conductors an opportunity to absorb the latest developments in the many problems pertaining to their field.

The Summer Session band, which has an enrollment of 85 members, played 14 numbers, each under the direction of a guest conductor from the conducting class of William D. Revelli, conductor of University bands.

The Letter Box

The Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Michigan
Dear Mr. Eaton:

Last evening we had the pleasure of attending the first Plymouth Symphony outdoor Pop Concert on the lawn of the High School.

It proved to be a wonderful experience which, we feel, ought to be repeated more frequently and should be shared more widely by our people. With so many of us suffering from the 'jitters' because of the world situation such community musical events would certainly be excellent therapy to bring back some composure and confidence.

Mr. Wagner and the orchestra, as well as Mr. Kendall, treated us to some of the best music of the world beautifully rendered and succeeded in carrying at least one of the audience back into that realm of genteel "Gemuetlichkeit" which we like to call "the good old days, gone but not forgotten."

Those days are not gone at all, they are an attitude of mind which we need to cultivate by just such means as these fine community concerts. I am proud to know that our community has the spirit of appreciation and devotion to these better things in life to make an effort to recapture the "good old days."

It is my sincere hope that this may serve to express the feeling of all of us in this community and that it may compensate the artists who worked with Mr. Wagner to achieve this by encouraging them to present more frequent Pop Concerts under the stars.

Very cordially yours,
Edgar Hoenecke

Conservation Department Reports Record High Revenue from Licenses

Final reports for 1949 from conservation department license agents confirm previous estimates of a record-breaking high for fishing and deer hunting license sales and a new high in revenue from all hunting and fishing licenses.

The state took in a total of $5,098,609 in 1949 for hunting and fishing license sales. Previous high revenue was $4,985,711 in 1948.

Resident fishing licenses sold in 1949 increased to 819,702 from the 1948 high of 807,911 and annual nonresident fish licenses rose to 127,430 from 121,745. Temporary nonresident fish totaled 154,740, slightly less than in 1948 when 160,245 were sold.

Sale of trout stamps increased from 169,498 in 1948, first year they were required, to 182,058 in 1949.

Resident deer hunters bought a record 375,077 licenses in 1949 as compared to the previous high of 373,146 in 1948. Fewer non-residents bought deer hunting licenses, 7,212 in 1949, 8,012 in 1948. Camping permits dropped from 1,522 in 1948 to 1,322 in 1949.

The increased popularity of Robinhood style hunting was shown in the all-time high of 11,937 bow and arrow licenses purchased by resident archers and the record 668 by non-residents. In 1948, 9,012 resident and 579 nonresident licenses were sold to bowmen.

Resident small game hunters bought 624,733 hunting licenses in 1949, more than the 583,360 sold in 1948 but less than the all-time high of 687,085 in 1946. A total of 4,031 nonresident hunting licenses were sold, 257 more than in 1948.

Other high records set in 1949 license sales were retail minnow, 1,881; wholesale minnow, 163; and cisco netting, 264.

Sale of trapping licenses continued the downward trend of the past few years with a total of 18,129 sold, 3,532 less than in 1948.

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

Let Him Think He's Boss

GEORGE APPLETON, now of Chicago, formerly was the head of the shipping department in a plant in an eastern seaport town. The foreman of the plant, to put it kindly, was not in the least popular. If anything was asked of him he ranted and raved, threw his arms about, and swore at the pitch of his voice. George says he knows now that was the way this foreman got his feeling of importance, and his antics revealed his spirit of frustration in not being looked up to.

Carnegie

One day George received a call from a man in the New York office saying that one of their export customers had made a mistake on a delivery promise that had been given him. This man had committed himself for space on a steamer sailing the following day, whereas the promise of the plant called for delivery ten days later. George was asked to see what he could do about it. Naturally, George wanted to make good when called upon for help by the New York office. Of such is the measure of a man! But there was nothing he could do about it without the cooperation of the foreman.

Something suddenly told George that the foreman acted as he did because he wanted to show who was boss. Well, let him demonstrate his superiority, if he did what was necessary. So he decided to approach him with a view to helping him. If that didn't work, there'd be some other way. So he checked the order and found that of 50 bales promised, only 40 were ready for shipment. He went to the foreman and said, "Bill I have the opportunity of shipping some of those bales that are cluttering up your shipping; but under such difficult circumstance that I hesitate to ask if even you can accomplish it." Then he explained.

"Hell, that's nothing," said the foreman. "I'll have that shipment on the pier before noon tomorrow." And that foreman was as good as his word. George wrote the New York office and asked them to write a letter thanking the foreman, which was done by no less a person than the president of the company. The foreman never mentioned receiving the letter, but from that time on he was most pleasant to George and went out of his way to do favors for him.

Advise Anglers That Cooking Will Destroy Parasites of Fish

All parasites of fish are destroyed by cooking. Dr. Leonard N. Allison of the conservation department's institute for fisheries research advises anglers asking if it is safe to keep and eat fish with minor abnormalities.

Fewer game fish would be thrown away. Dr. Allison believes, if anglers realized that fungi and larvae found growing on some fish and embedded in their flesh do not make the fish inedible. Only a few such parasites can infect humans and even these are harmless when the fish is thoroughly cooked as high temperatures destroy them.

Most common parasites and diseases which occasionally show in the skin and flesh of fish are described by Dr. Allison as: black-spot, cysts which appear as black spots about pinhead size; yellow grub, a worm that embeds in the flesh, yellow in color, and may be nearly one-eighth of an inch long; gyro, a small parasitic worm about one-fiftieth of an inch long that lives on the body, fins or gills and whose presence is shown by frayed fins and patches of fungus; cataract worm; larvae blinding the fish; fish lice, small white or yellow wormlike organisms usually less than half an inch long that attach to gills, fins or body; fungus or water mold, a tuft of fine white threads which radiate about a third of an inch or more from the body; ulcer disease, ulcers or sores caused by bacteria action or injury; lymphocystis, a disease that produces groups of jelly-like tumors or warts on body and fins; lampreys, which attach themselves to body of fish and leave large, ulcerous wounds; leeches or bloodsuckers, greenish or brownish color, one-quarter of an inch to an inch long, found in mouth or on gills, fins or body. Internal parasites and diseases causing anglers to question edibility of a fish but destroyed by thorough cooking are, according to Dr. Allison: liver cysts, similar to black-spot; yellow grub, sometimes buried deep in muscle tissue; tapeworms, flat, ribbon-like, whitish, sectional worms in the intestine; roundworms, found in digestive tract and sometimes in swim bladder, encysted in muscles or fat, or attached to lining of body cavity.

Roger Babson Says...

Babson Discusses Forecasting
 Forty years ago this week I compiled my famous Babson-chart—upon perfecting which I have since spent nearly one million dollars. It has been used by tens of thousands of bankers, manufacturers, merchants and investors to forecast business conditions. When reading this chart, however, it is necessary to realize that it forecasts "danger" when it is registering the highest prosperity, when stocks are going up, and when full employment exists. This "upside-down" reading is what fools people.

Don't Be Fooled by Prosperity
 Hence, when a crash comes, there is no public warning; it comes as a terrific "bolt out of a clear blue sky" to most businessmen. In my forty years I have seen six of these, one in 1907, 1914, 1921, 1932, 1937 and 1942. When the next one comes it will again appear as a great surprise to 95% of the people, especially young businessmen who have never been seriously caught before.

The future of many businesses depends very largely on keeping in step with the market trends. Today there are many good arguments for continued good business. Among these are the inflationary pressure, and the military expenditures, and the civilian supplies which we are sending abroad. But, when I think of our consumer installment indebtedness, of the homes which are being bought with almost no down payments, and of the attitude of labor leaders I am bearish.

As I look back, however, over the last forty years I find that bankers have usually been too early in their forecasts both of prosperity and of gloom. This means that they have turned bearish a year or two before the bear market really came, and also turned bullish a year or two too early. Hence, I discard both the opinions of optimistic young businessmen, and of older pessimistic bankers, but I am content to watch my Chart.

Employ More Young People
 On the other hand, every successful business needs vigorous and optimistic young people as well as conservative oldsters. Statistics on business failures will show that disasters have come when either the executives were all young or all old. This is very important to remember. It means that business firms to be successful should have their executives consist of both young and old, as well as men and women.

Younger people have more energy, are more susceptible to new ideas and do not become set in their ways as older ones do. This is especially important at the present time as our nation is in a truly New Era which we older ones do not like but which the younger ones—who knew not the "good old days"—are adjusted to and are content with. One more thing for me personally to think over in this connection:—When recently going over my record of income these past forty years I find that—even before taxes—it was at its maximum when I was only 50 years old. Apparently, I have been slipping a little ever since—This should be a warning to middle-aged readers!

Importance of Pensions
 The above makes me believe that the rage for pensions may be a good thing for stockholders as well as for wageworkers. Unlike many wage increases, which come wholly out of the stockholders or those who purchase the factory's products, this is not so with contributory pensions. Pensions may be an excellent investment for the company because they should keep the organization virile and give the younger and more efficient ones something to look forward to.

When cutting out a garment from a paper pattern, cut the notch out instead of in. There is less danger of cutting too deep and fraying the fabric. Cut-out notches will not interfere with letting out seams, add clothing instructors at Michigan State College.

THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

HAIL THE RETURN of the warfarer! After years away from his home town, during which time he hit the peak of a successful career, Don Ameche has returned to his starting point and Chicagoans are rejoicing in the reunion even though it's for a brief spell as fill-in for Don McNeill while the latter is vacationing with his family in Europe... ABC was faced with a ticklish problem when McNeill announced that he would like to take a six-weeks vacation, his first extended one since he started "Breakfast Club" 17 years ago.

After careful deliberation on the part of network officials and sponsors, it was happily decided that the appropriate emcee to replace Family Man Don McNeill would be Family Man Don Ameche, popular radio and movie star who had led an exemplary life in a make-believe town of many pitfalls... So it was goodbye to McNeill and hello to Ameche, and the arrangement has worked out beautifully.

While it's true, Ameche is no great wit, still he has a warm sense of humor and a personality that exudes charm, and these assets are all the more appealing on "Breakfast Clubs"... Stepping into the shoes of a man who has worn them well for 17 years is no mean feat, especially when McNeill worked a strictly ad lib show and Ameche had always been a script man... His supporting cast of lovely Patsy Lee, bouncing Sam Cowling and rhythmic Johnny Desmond was strange to him, and their antics have caught veteran emcees flatfooted for an appropriate remark...

Still Don has done well, considering his many obstacles on the show... Fan mail has been strongly in favor of his homey style... He doesn't mind the early hour rising since he is habitually an early riser anyway... However, for "Breakfast Club" he's up at 5:00 a.m. Rather than leave his family behind, he brought the whole clan, including his wife.

Hay presses—now known as balers—were in the minds of inventors as long ago as 1814 when the first patent was issued. But it was not until 1940 that the first automatic pick-up baler was produced at New Holland, Pa.

Feature Pet Show at Playgrounds

The big features at the playgrounds last week was the Pet Show which took place on Thursday afternoon at 3 p.m. Several children had their pets decorated with bows. Three judges were chosen from the spectators to select the pet with the longest tail, the shortest hair, longest hair, most unusual, largest, smallest and best of show. A Hershey bar was awarded to the boy whose dog was chosen best of the show, and the others received gum.

During the handicraft period most of the children have been making aluminum ash trays, using an aluminum disk, a wooden mold and a hammer to shape the disk. The results have been very good. Some of the children have been finishing up woven pot holders while others continue to work on jewelry boxes.

Central playground will be open only on Mondays for Day Camp registration and swimming registration. The schedule for Sutherland and Starkweather will remain the same.

The special event for the next week will be a scavenger hunt Thursday at 3 p.m.
