

KEEPING AHEAD OF THE TIMES.

That's an interesting announcement that just came from the Michigan Bell Telephone company pertaining to extended phone services for Plymouth. The company sometime ago gave Plymouth free telephone service to Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, and other nearby places. Now the company states that we will soon have free phone service to Northville. We would have had it sometime ago if the Public Service commission had been given accurate information pertaining to the Northville situation. But that has all been cleared away and the Phone company which has given such excellent service to this area is again stepping out in its desire to keep ahead of both the times and the need.

THE BEST KIND OF PROOF.

We all know that Plymouth is growing by leaps and bounds, but sometimes folks like to see something which indicates proof of this belief. Of course you read in The Mail the past week that some 19 additional teachers have been added to Plymouth's school faculty in order to take care of the increased school attendance. Well what better proof do we need than that? School attendance is one of the best indications of growth any community can boast. We predicted sometime ago that in a very few short years Plymouth will have a population of ten thousand or more—and that time is not far off.

HOOVER'S MISTAKES.

The following editorial is taken from a recent issue of The Sturgis, Michigan, Journal, an editorial well worth reading if you have followed historical events carefully in recent years:

An inspired publicity release from one of Truman's propagandists says that "Hoover was a complete failure."

So he was. He failed in many things.

He failed to draw his salary of $76,000 a year while he was our President—turning it all back into the treasury.

He failed to have his sons organize insurance firms to write insurance on Government enterprises.

He built a Rapiad resort for fishing and recreation at his own expense and gave it to his country.

None of his sons went racing through the divorce courts. He never bundled up a lot of Government documents to sell as a book to the faithful at a large profit to himself; and he never sold himself to a labor organization for a $500,000 campaign fund.

He gathered a marvelous collection of war-and-peace documents, and built a museum to house that collection, but failed to ask Congress to pay the bill. He paid it himself.

He did not preach and promote class hatred, and he did not try to pack the Supreme Court.

He did not plow up every third row of cotton, and he did not promise the American people one thing while at the very same moment permitting "pressure groups" to accomplish the directly opposite result.

He did not try to assess the taxpayers a billion dollars every year to shoot off a fire-cracker in Europe, and he did not try to sink Government warships accompanied by a fleet of destroyers.

Yes, there were many foolish things that Hoover didn't do that some people have done.

There are many constructive things he could have done if he had not had the opposition of a Democratic Congress; but anyway, he did not leave the American people $250,000,000,000 in debt.

Mrs. Hoover never made speeches, nor raced hither and yon on unimportant matters.

She never sold soap over the radio.

And she never invited Communists to White House soirees as her guests, or protected Russian spies in the U. S. Department of State.

The Hoover family seems to have made a failure of about everything that's fashionable nowadays.

THE CLIMAX OF THE NEW DEAL AND THE FAIR DEAL.

What a terrible, tragic thing this war is proving to be. A nation that had dreamed of everlasting peace—spurred on by new deal and fair deal promises of a life of ease without effort or sacrifice—is now fighting for its very existence.

The Fair Deal crowd has not had the courage or the fortitude to tell the people how serious is the conflict we are in—you know it's near election time—and what is more important than electing some nincompoops to public office to do the bidding of a mess of Kansas City politicians?

But even though they say in Washington "we haven't anything to worry about," the people ARE WORRIED. They are alarmed. Walk up and down the streets of Plymouth or any other community made up of truly American citizens. Note the changed attitude—the trend of all conversations—and you can't help but come to the conclusion that people are really frightened and will willingly make any sacrifice necessary to preserve a Christian government from the Pagan Russian hordes.

All of this trouble is the climax of an administration that opened wide its door of welcome to crawling, poisonous vipers, and called them only red herrings.

What a terrible penalty we must now pay for it all! But let's pay it as quickly and as effectively as we can—and save as much of the world as possible for those who will survive the holocaust.

SO GOES MAINE.

Up in Maine the voters gave anti-New Dealers, Fair Dealers and Phony Dealers (one and all the same thing) a better than two to one vote. Michigan's turn comes in November. Let's make it a hundred to nothing against the putrid outfit that has been muddling affairs up both in Washington and Lansing.

MY! MY!! "AIN'T" IT AWUL, MABLE?

Out from Lansing floats another charge that somebody paid somebody something like $5,000 to get a liquor license from Governor Williams' liquor commission. Is that really news? Such common, everyday reports about the state's liquor commission just seems silly. What can be done about it, if true? Didn't the Governor sign the bill which knocked out the grand jury law in Michigan which enabled REAL investigations into charges of this nature?

Elks Hold Family Picnic Sunday

A special prize will be awarded the Elk who brings the largest crowd to the Elks Lodge No. 1780 picnic next Sunday, September 17 at 2 p.m. on the grounds of the Western Wayne County Conservation clubhouse on Joy road.

Pop and ice cream will be furnished and games for the whole family are planned by the Elks committee with prizes in every event. In case of rain the club house will be used. All Elks, their families and friends are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reber and Sandy were dinner guests of the Randolph Edsons in Dearborn on Wednesday evening.

To Favor Lifting Of Rent Lid

If the majority of opinions expressed at the public hearing on rent control last Monday are any indication, rents in Plymouth will be decontrolled at the city commission meeting next Monday night. In the crowd-packed commission chambers Monday, both landlords and tenants had an opportunity to voice their opinions. A show of hands at the hearing made it obvious that 75 per cent of the citizens present were very much in favor of decontrol.

Miss Neva Lovewell, rent coordinator for the city, stated at the hearing that many landlords had undergone severe hardships under the rent control law and she felt that controls should be lifted. "I have enough faith in the landlords of this city to say that they will not be unjust in raising rents, should controls be lifted," Miss Lovewell said, "and I feel that landlords should have the right to decide who will live in their homes."

Landlords at the hearing held to the argument that inflationary prices on utilities and building maintenance materials force them to suffer a loss when charging pre-war rents. But the renters at the hearing felt that a serious housing shortage in Plymouth still existed and controls should not be lifted. Many of them felt that landlords should be entitled to a specified rent raise but that controls should still be maintained.

Property owners retaliated on the housing shortage argument by saying that more rental property will be available if controls are taken off. As one landlord put it, "The law of supply and demand will take care of shortages."

After giving everyone ample time to express their opinions, Mayor Cass S. Hough called for a show of hands on the matter. Thirty-seven voted for decontrol and ten for maintaining controls. The final decision will be made by the city commissioners Monday night.

Kiwanis Observes 25th Anniversary

The Plymouth Kiwanis club will observe its silver anniversary on October 10 with one of the most outstanding celebrations the club has ever planned.

Bob Jolliffe is ticket chairman for the event and the exact time and place for the party will be announced later. At that time the club plans to hold the dedication of the Kiwanis Girl Scout cabin which will be fully completed by that time.

Correction

In an article published in the September 7 issue of The Plymouth Mail it was incorrectly stated that Calvin Williams of 15830 Northville road was charged with leaving the scene of an accident, was fined $75, had his license revoked and was put on two years probation.

The article should have read that Edward Carl Long of 34685 Northville road was the guilty party and not Mr. Williams. The complaint against Mr. Long was filed by Mr. Williams whose car had been sideswiped by Long's car. The Plymouth Mail regrets this error.

Horse Deal of Half Century Ago Finally Pays Off to Matt Powell

It was just 57 years ago when Matt Powell, then a youngster working on a farm near Dakota, Illinois, located over near Freeport, Illinois, bought a horse from a neighboring farmer.

Then Matt decided to leave Illinois and come back to his native Michigan. He left his horse with the farmer where he worked.

The other day Mr. and Mrs. Powell went back to Dakota to visit some old friends and look over the country to see what changes had taken place during the half century.

Imagine Mr. Powell's surprise when the administrator of the estate of the farmer where Matt

Plymouth Teachers Are Guests of Local Manufacturers.....

In a well organized program all of the teachers in Plymouth public schools participated in a Business-Industry-Education day here last Wednesday. Through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce three local manufacturers, Daisy Manufacturing Company, Whitman & Barnes and Burroughs Adding Machine Company, played host to the teachers in their plants for the better part of a day that included plant visitation, a luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel and a round table discussion in the high school auditorium at the close of the visitation. Pictured above Daisy Advertising and Sales Director and school board president Robert O. Wesley points out the features of Daisy's fine pump gun to, left to right, William Campbell, Mrs. Stanford Besse, Melvin Blunk, Carvel Bentley, James Gallimore, John Sandman and Harry Fountain. Additional pictures of this most worthwhile educational program appear on pages 4 and 5 of the second section in this issue of The Plymouth Mail.

Colored School is Subject of Rotary Address

Rotarians were told the story of "Piney Woods" at their meeting last Friday by Laurence C. Jones, an outstanding, nationally known Negro educator. Brought to the meeting by School Superintendent Helmar Nelson the program was a most interesting one.

Jones told how he went to the deep South, where he had never been before, and worked as a farm hand, a cattle herder, a porter. In the heart of the piney woods, 25 miles south of Jackson, he found hundreds of blacks who sharecropped cotton, watched over a few razorback hogs, drank corn liquor hot from the still. They were 80 percent illiterate.

Here Jones started teaching, his pupils three illiterate boys. He made his living picking cotton and peas and cutting hay. When he tried to interest Negroes in the region he met suspicion and misunderstanding. They didn't want education, especially from a "furriner." With-

Peterson's Marks 2nd Anniversary

Peterson's Drug Store on Ann Arbor trail will observe its second anniversary this week with a sale on many special items of merchandise.

Every customer, during the anniversary celebration, will receive a special free gift. Carl Peterson, owner of the store, states the gift offer is being made to express his appreciation to his many friends for their patronage.

Blytons Move to Alma, Michigan

Local business people were surprised last week to learn from John Blyton that he was leaving Plymouth and will make his future home in Alma, Michigan. Mr. Blyton stated that he had disposed of his home here and that with Mrs. Blyton and his son, George, they will open a drapery and curtain store on the main street of Alma within the next few weeks.

The Blytons have leased a store in Alma and rented a home in that city where they will now reside. Mr. Blyton has been associated here in the Taylor and Blyton department store for the past 10 years and has been active in many worthwhile civic projects.

Rocks Play First Game Tomorrow

The football season will officially open tomorrow night, September 15, when the Plymouth Rocks will play their first game of the year. The local squad will meet the Farmington High school team at 8 p.m. on the Plymouth athletic field.

According to Coach Hilton Ponton, the Rocks seem to have an improved team this year. The squad is built around such returning lettermen as Bobby Gow, Bob Keeney, Jack Robinson and Charlie Stark in the line. The backfield has four lettermen returning in Phil Jacobus, George Hunter, Ron Davis and Dave Travis.

Other players who have received their uniforms and will be on the field ready for play against Farmington are Dick Nelson, Jack Daggett, Gary Socokow, Jim Burger, Peter Leemon, Gerald Huddleston, Jack Kropf, Bud Young, Bud Lamphear, Dick Cramb and Bill Bunge.

Smith Nomination Practically Assured - Bowles 3rd in Hot Race

Both Plymouth candidates for state office were still in the running at press time yesterday afternoon when only 34 precincts had reported George A. Smith as having 1755 votes to his closest Republican rival, William Eaton of Wayne, holding a total of 860 votes. If Smith continues to hold the two to one lead throughout the rest of the district there will be no question about his election.

In the race for the State Senate, Plymouthite George Bowles was trailing his two closest contenders by merely 300 votes. Leading in that race with 239 precincts reporting was William J. Ryder with 6534 votes. Second was John H. Snyder with 6400 votes and Bowles with 6246 votes.

According to election commission officials in the Wayne County Clerks office it might be late Thursday (today) or even Friday morning before final tabulations would be made on these two offices.

Light Vote Cast Here In Primary

Plymouth voters quite clearly indicated by their votes on one of the wettest primary election days this section of the state has experienced in years that it is just as strong Republican as ever, if not a bit more so, the total Republican vote cast for the governorship being 808 to 197 for the unopposed Democratic governor G. Mennen Williams seeking re-election.

While Plymouth favored Secretary of State Fred Alger for the governorship nomination by a vote of 344 to 255 for former Governor Harry Kelly, there was support, too, for former Lieutenant Governor Eugene Keyes and Congressman Albert Engel. Keyes had a total of 92 votes and Engel 97 in Plymouth.

Thomas Leith of Brighton, who formerly lived in Plymouth, gathered a total of 20 votes in Plymouth.

Congressman George A. Dondero did as well as usual in the primary here. He had a total of 672 votes his opponent receiving but 102.

Plymouth voters gave Governor G. Mennen Williams a total of 197 votes for re-nomination. Lieutenant Governor John W. Connolly had a total of 161. Democratic county auditor, Harold Stoll, had a total of 167 votes and Sheriff Andy Baird with seven Democratic opponents running against him, picked up 122 votes in Plymouth.

County Clerk Edgar Branigan had a total of 151 and County Drain Commissioner George A. Dingman had a total of 115.

Although probably not a dozen people in Plymouth know State Senator William Vandenberg of Holland, his name got him 373 votes in Plymouth, with Harry Henderson, his nearest opponent, picking up 214 for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

There is not much question but that the name of Senator Vandenberg who has won national fame, was the factor that gave William Vandenberg the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, although the Holland senator does have to his credit a commendable record in the Michigan legislature.

Scott-Bennett Rites Performed at St. John's Episcopal Church

St. John's Episcopal church was the scene of the wedding of Marilyn J. Bennett to Burton E. Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Scott of Everett, Michigan. Marilyn is the daughter of Mrs. Edith Bennett of Irvin street. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Alex-Miller at 2 p.m. on Sunday, September 10. She was given in marriage by her brother, Dr. George M. Bennett. White gladioli and mums adorned the altar for the ceremony. Nuptial music was by Davetta McBride.

White satin and lace formed the bridal gown and her illusion veil was outlined in the same lace. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Robert Ermatinger as matron of honor wore a gown of robin's egg blue with a bouquet of pink and white asters. For her bridesmaids Marilyn asked her sister, Mrs. Lester Bassett, Miss Mary Vincent and Miss Margie Krause. Their gowns were of pastel shades in green, gold and dusty rose.

Jackie Fulton, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Robert Ermatinger performed the duties as best man while the groom's brothers, Roy and Dean, and his brother-in-law, Clifford Galdeen of Toledo were ushers.

Mrs. Bennett chose a dress of soldier blue with black velvet accessories. Mrs. Scott wore all black. Both mothers corsages were of pink and white flowers. A wedding reception in the church parlors followed with over 130 guests present. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Scott will make their home in Everett, Michigan.

Corinne Rathbun Becomes Bride of George Kolb of Garden City

Corinne Clara Rathbun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oral B. Rathbun of Plymouth, and George Kolb, III, son of Mrs. George Kolb and the late George Kolb, II, of Garden City, were united in a double ring wedding ceremony, Saturday, September 9, at 8 p.m. in the First Methodist church.

The Reverend Melbourne Johnson officiated at the ceremony. The former Miss Rathbun chose a white lace gown over satin and net. She carried a cascade of roses with a white orchid centering the bouquet.

Mrs. George Rathbun, of Plymouth, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, and was gowned in blue lace and satin, carrying a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Gladstone, Mrs. Ella Louise Miller and Mrs. Lila Alula, the bridesmaids, were costumed in orchid, pink, yellow and light green satin respectively. They also carried roses. Barbara Miller, niece of the bridegroom, served as the flower girl.

Charles Kolb, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The ushers were George Rathbun, Ford Kolb, Donald Miller and John Armstrong.

Donald Miller, nephew of the bridegroom, was the ring bearer. The bride's mother chose a dusty rose dinner dress accented with white roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Kolb, wore a wine dinner dress with pink roses.

Mrs. George Kolb III

Harold Koch was the soloist. He sang "Because" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony. Mrs. Richard Miller was the organist.

The altar decorations included palms, candelabra, baskets of gladioli and mums.

A reception at the American Legion hall in Newburg followed the ceremony. Guests were present from Plymouth, Detroit, Bay City, Northville, Saginaw, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Inkster, Garden City, Owosso and Cleveland.

For traveling the bride chose a maroon suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. After a honeymoon in northern Michigan and Ohio, a new home in Garden City awaits the newlyweds.

Kennedy-Adams Nuptial Rites Read at Home of Bridegroom

In an evening ceremony Saturday, September 9, Virginia Adams became the bride of Robert Lloyd Kennedy. Virginia is the daughter of Mrs. Lena Adams of Lansing. The wedding, in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kennedy of South Harvey street, was performed at 8 p.m. with the Reverend Benjamin Eicher of the First Baptist church officiating. Pink and white gladioli in large vases formed the background for the ceremony. Virginia was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Christie.

The bride chose a suit of white linen with navy accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Her only attendant, Evelyn Elliott, wore a suit of forest green linen with black accessories. Her corsage was of red roses. Don Ritt-nour of Plymouth was best man.

Both mothers wore dresses of navy blue print with corsages of red roses. Thirty guests from Lansing, LaPorte, Indiana, Detroit and Plymouth attended the reception which followed the wedding. Robert is a graduate of Plymouth High school and Virginia graduated from Wayne.

After a short wedding trip to Monroe the couple are "at home" on North Harvey street, Plymouth.

Mary Jane Thompson Wears Pink Nylon Gown for Saturday Wedding

Pink nylon in ballerina length with matching shoulder length veil and mitts was chosen by Mary Jane Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson of Sutherland avenue, for her marriage to James Robert Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Mitchell of Gyde road.

The Reverend William Mooney officiated at the 9 o'clock ceremony in Our Lady of Good Counsel church on Saturday morning, September 9. Large baskets of white gladioli decorated the altar. The nuptial mass was sung by Phyllis Mitchell.

With her pink nylon gown Miss Thompson carried a prayer book centered with a white orchid. She was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Ted Malik. For her only attendant Mary Jane chose Mrs. William Sexton, sister of the groom. Her gown was of light blue taffeta and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Francis Mitchell acted as best man for his brother and the ushers were Joseph and Martin Mitchell, also brothers of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding,

Mrs. Thompson wore a blue satin dress while Mrs. Mitchell chose aqua crepe. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

A wedding breakfast for the immediate family was held at Farm Cupboard with a reception in the home of the bride's parents in the afternoon. For her going-away outfit, Mrs. Mitchell chose a black and blue iridescent taffeta dress with navy accessories. Both young people are graduates of Plymouth High school. After a honeymoon to Mississippi, where they will visit Sister Eucharista Marie, the former Harriett Mitchell, sister of the bridegroom, they will be at home to their many friends on Kellogg street in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Williams and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Davis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Gottschalk and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Dodge and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bolton are among those from Plymouth who will attend a family reunion in Saline on Sunday.

Traffic Violators Mop Floors Pull Weeds, Clean Barns at DeHoCo

"What do you do with all of the traffic law violators you get out to the Detroit House of Correction from Detroit?" someone asked Superintendent A. Blake Gillies the other day.

"That's easy. The five day boys we just check up and right out gain—almost. The time is too short to give them much more than a ride from Detroit in the prison wagon and back again to town," said Supt. Gillies.

"But those who get ten days or more—well that's a different story. Some of them pull weeds in the gardens. Some of them help to clean the barns. Some of them spend their time mopping up the corridors—and they certainly do not like that job," he added.

"We find plenty of work for them to do. Some we even put in the chair factory. Of course these jobs are of a nature that any common laborer can do, such as carrying materials to the machines and away from the machines. But they work—and we give them plenty of it to do."

Detroit judges are sending anywhere from a half dozen to twelve or more traffic violators out to the Detroit House of Correction every day. The total serving time frequently reaches as high as 75 or more during the same period. If the practice of the Detroit judges continues, the total number of traffic violators confined at one time may exceed that of a hundred or more, so frequently are they being sent out to the prison.

Apparently the "get tough" policy of the Detroit courts has not yet convinced the crazy auto-drivers of Detroit that it doesn't pay to break traffic regulations.

MR. BRIDEGLOOM writes:

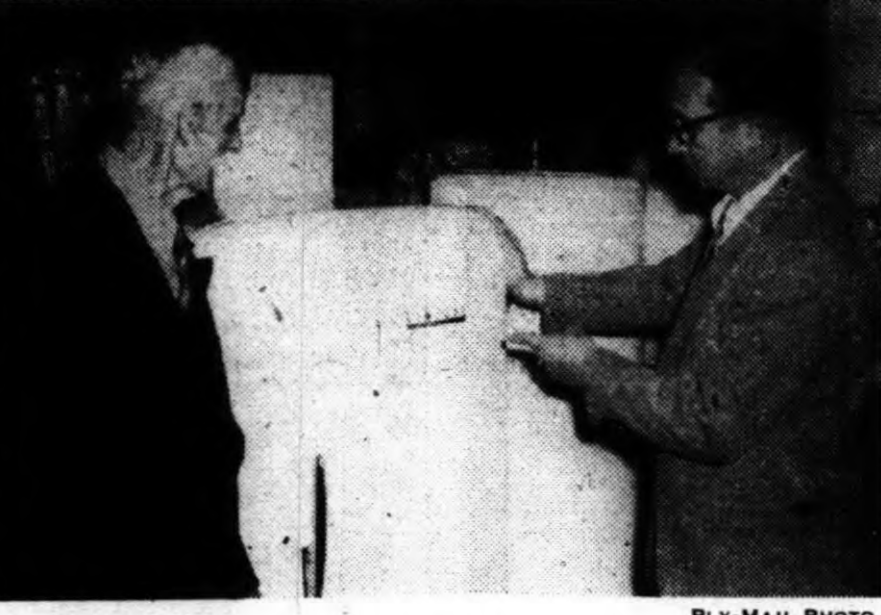

"How can I tell whether I'm too neurotic to make a success of marriage?"

Psychoanalyze yourself with Dr. Shakewell's special introvert-outboard, hit-the-crackpot hypochondria indicator quiz that follows. Correct answer to questions is "no." One "yes" indicates normal neuroses—you will continue to kiss and make up. Two indicate unfitness for marriage and imminent divorce. Three affirmatives indicate mental collapse. Throw yourself upon the mercy of your spouse and beg her to lock you up—you just ain't bright enough to be running around loose. The quiz:

- Are you afraid to meet her people just because her father was carrying a shotgun at the wedding?
- Do you indulge in self-pity every time she catches you looting baby's piggy bank?
- Do you have strong feelings of guilt about breathing?
- Do you worry needlessly just because the F.B.I. is about to catch up with you?
- Do you have a strong inferiority complex around General MacArthur and find it awkward to make chit-chat with him?
- Are you shy around goldfish?
- Are you abnormally suspicious of convicted hatchet murderers among your acquaintances?
- Are you inordinately concerned about your collapsed lung because the other one is punctured?
- Are you too easily depressed or elated by 15 martinis?
- Do you spend more than eight hours a day before the mirror?
- Do you have a morbid fear of escaped orangutans?
- Do you suffer from insomnia at the burlesque theater?

In Denver, a group of citizens filed a petition asking the city government to replace the spittoons in the West Side courthouse, since their removal was, among other things, unconstitutional.

Buys First Refrigerator at 81....

Dave Galin said he experienced one of his greatest thrills last weekend when he had the opportunity of selling Grant Barret, pictured above left, of South Lyon, Michigan his first electric refrigerator. Mr. Barret, the father of Mrs. Arthur Burden who resides on Hamilton street here in Plymouth, was visiting at the home of his daughter when he decided to make the purchase for his invalid, 76 year old wife who celebrated her birthday last Saturday. Mr. Galin said he was not only thrilled to sell Mr. Barret the refrigerator but he was more than pleased that he selected one of his late model Admirals.

Today's Recipes

WHEN YOU PLAN sandwiches to go with another food, vary their flavor with proper seasonings, and they'll be more tempting.

For an apple-cheese salad, spread sandwiches with butter that has been creamed with a dash or two of nutmeg.

Stir in a bit of shredded orange or lemon rind for sandwiches that are intended to be served with a fruit and cottage cheese salad plate.

Those who like a cold glass of milk with a sandwich find that

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Peach Bavarian
(Serves 6)

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2½ cups sliced peaches, fresh or canned
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve over hot water. Put peaches through sieve to measure 1½ cups; add with remaining ingredients, except cream, to gelatin. Chill until partially set. Beat fluffy. Fold in cream. Chill in an oiled 1-quart mold. Unmold and garnish with sliced peaches and maraschino cherries, if desired.

a spoonful of honey or chocolate sauce mixed with butter for spread is refreshing.

Add just a touch of prepared mustard or horseradish to give zest for sandwiches which are to be spread with cold cuts or eggs.

With a chilled pear salad or a molded salad that contains other fruit as well as pears, you'll like sandwiches spread with butter that has a dash of ginger mixed in with it.

When you're serving applesauce with a soft custard sauce, team this with bread and butter sandwiches to which has been added a dash of vanilla extract and cinnamon.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. James Montgomery of Blackwell, Okla.: "I remember the high snow drifts back in Pennsylvania when the weather was below zero and folks would hitch horses to bobsleds and go to a neighbor's to spend the evening. The women sewed carpet rags or quilted while their men talked politics and the children popped corn and cracked nuts. At 10 o'clock a supper was served. After supper we'd return to the parlor for a Bible reading, a prayer and a hymn before going home, tired but happy.

From Andrew Manning of Sandusky, O.: "I'm a Spanish American war veteran and my wife and I remember some of the songs that were popular in my soldiering days. Like "Break the News to Mother," "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" and "My Sweetheart Went Down With the Maine."

From Mrs. Willie A. Emanuel of Lumberton, N. C.: Here are some of the old-time song-titles I remember: "Sweet Marie," "Bill Bailey, Won't You Please Come Home?," "I'm Nobody's Darling," "Away Down In My Heart I Got a Feeling For You" and a song the darkeys used to sing on the plantation that went "Oh, It's Almost Morning, Don't You Hear That Shanghai Crowing?" I also remember hearing my mother sing "Home Sweet Home" and it made a lasting impression on me.

Former Sheriff Edward Behrend had a total of 489 Plymouth votes, his nearest opponent Fred Castator getting only 120 votes in this city.

To Hicks Griffiths, candidate for nomination to the non-partisan judge of probate position, and an active New Deal Democrat, went the highest vote among the Democrats in Plymouth. His total in Plymouth was 216 compared to 197 for Governor Williams.

This city indicated that it preferred Eugene Donohue for the Democratic nomination for Congress, giving him 68 votes to 46 for John Brown, his nearest opponent. Plymouth did well over George E. Bowles, who sought the Democratic nomination for state senator. His total Plymouth vote was 106, William Ryder, his nearest opponent receiving but 36 votes in this city.

Clarence Reid, a Republican candidate who has served as state senator, had a total of 587 to 110 votes for Franklin L. Hileman, his opponent.

In all four precincts of the city there were contests for the Democratic nomination as delegates to the county convention.

In Precinct 1, Norman Marquis won out with a total of 37 votes. Gwynne Fulton had a total of 13 votes and there were ten void ballots.

Precinct 2 elected Steve Veresh as a delegate over Lowell Dulton. The winner's total vote was 27 to 17 for Fulton.

Precinct 3 named Clifton Dillotson as its delegate to the Democratic convention, with a majority of two votes. Doris Root received a total of 47 and the winner had a total of 49 votes.

Precinct 4 provided another contest among the Democrats seeking a place as a delegate to the convention, with George E. Bowles a winner over Francis J. Walsh and Joseph Haefner. Bowles had a total of 40, Walsh 25 and Haefner, who was not a candidate, picked up a scattering vote.

Republicans named a full slate of delegates to the Republican county convention. In Precinct 1, Elton R. Eaton had a total of 166 votes, to one write-in vote.

In Precinct 2 Karl Starkweather had a total of 99 votes, with no scattering votes. Precinct 3 provided the only Republican contest for delegate to the county convention, Mrs. Catherine Henderson winning with a total vote of 154 to 129 for Frederick Thomas.

Voters of Precinct 4 gave George A. Smith a total of 215 votes for delegate to the county convention.

In Little Rock, Ark., Dorothy Tillman admitted shooting Fred Friedburger in the leg with a shotgun but said she couldn't remember why.

Colored School is Subject of Rotary Address

(Continued from page 1) in three months, however, his pupils showed off their newly acquired learning so well that he had 29 students. A well-to-do Negro in the community donated a tumble-down cabin and 40 acres of land. Jones and his pupils fixed up the old cabin for a schoolhouse and living quarters for himself. The county board of education appropriated $18 a month.

As the school grew, another building was needed. Jones approached a wealthy white mill owner, who listened to his story and said: "I've always claimed it was dumb silly to try to educate these Negroes. But, young man, you've got guts and a practical idea. I'll give you 10,000 feet of lumber, and you can have credit for any more you need."

Now, in addition to a fine farm which produces 60 percent of the food consumed by the students, the school has five handsome brick buildings and 20 frame structures. Students made the brick, cut the lumber and put up the buildings.

From the beginning Jones' formula has been: Teach boys and girls how to work with their hands so they will be able to make a living, academic subjects to make them articulate and adjusted to American culture, and sane moral and religious training as a substitute for superstition and fear. Today 30 teachers, mostly Negro, offer first-class vocational training in agriculture, carpentry, plumbing and steam-fitting, auto mechanics, masonry, printing, cooking, sewing, laundry work, bookkeeping, stenography. Every student must learn at least two trades, so that if work is scarce in one he can turn to the other. Courses range from primary grades through junior college.

"That's pay for that horse you left with the farmer you worked for. When he died we found in his old iron chest $50 in the old fashioned bills they used at that time—and they were gold certificates, too—tied up and marked for Matt Powell. We changed the bills into present day currency, but we didn't know where you were, and so we just held the money thinking some day we'd hear from you" said the administrator to Mr. Powell. The administrator, Harry Walker, seemed delighted to get rid of the money—and Matt since his return home has been trying to recall whether he left the horse with his employer as a gift or whether he told him to sell it. At any rate he's got the cash for a horse transaction that took place over half a century ago.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
James, Leader of the Jerusalem Church
Lesson for September 17: Acts 15: 13-20; Galatians 2:9-12
Memory Selection: James 1: 22

IN THE GREAT CONTRAST between his early and later life, James may remind us of the two preceding lessons. Like Peter and John Mark, James made good in his later life. Jesus had four brothers and at least two sisters. One brother was James. He and others of the family did not at first realize the greatness of their brother. Not until after the resurrection did they become Christians.

James became known as the Just. As head of the mother church in Jerusalem he had the opportunity of making a decision that saved Christianity from being a small Jewish sect. Twenty years had passed since the resurrection. The church in Antioch had some Gentile members. A discussion arose as to whether or not the Jewish rites, still followed by Jewish converts, should be imposed upon Gentiles. The Antioch Church sent Paul and Barnabas to inquire of the mother church in Jerusalem.

James handed down the decision that Jewish rites should not be required of Gentile converts. They were to abstain from pollution of idolatry and gross immorality. Though James never quite overcame his Jewish prejudices, the decision he handed down freed the Christian church to begin its career as a world-wide church.

Let us in our churches today be firm and uncompromising in the fundamentals of our faith, but let us be tolerant in non-essential things.

U of M Instructor Speaks at Rosary Society Meeting

"All of us, whether we are wives and mothers or professional women, are in a position to influence, directly or indirectly, the thinking of young people. In the face of this significant responsibility all of us should ask ourselves how we can most effectively assist the young men and women whose lives we touch to face the complex problems that confront them in contemporary society, a society which, as we all must recognize, is in many respects flagrantly pagan," Miss Evangeline Bollinger told the members of the Rosary Society of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic church at their September meeting.

Miss Bollinger, instructor at the University of Michigan and a specialist in the field of literary criticism, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Bollinger of Irwin avenue.

"Reflecting on my experience in dealing with students of college age, I have come to the conclusion that one of the most important ways in which we can assist young people is by guiding them, by precept but even more important perhaps by example, in developing an adequate sense of values," she said. "To assert that the primacy of the spiritual is a basic principle in the Catholic's sense of values is merely to point out the obvious. But, however, obvious this may be, I believe it cannot be emphasized too strongly, for I think it quite possible that even people who are constantly engaged in some form of church activity may lose their perspective regarding this matter. Certainly it is well for any parish organization to take stock of itself periodically in order to estimate what proportion of its annual program consists of essentially spiritual activities having as their purpose the sanctification of the individual members."

"Closely related to the development of an adequate sense of values is the obligation incumbent upon all of us Catholic laywomen of being well informed regarding the teachings of the church. Surely in these times, in which we constantly hear remarks about religion which betray a lack of precision in thinking, it is particularly important that we think clearly about religious questions," Miss Bollinger concluded.

Wednesday, 4 p.m., Junior choir practice; 8 p.m., Mid-Week service. You are cordially invited to attend any or all of these services.

THE WEST SALEM COUNTRY CHURCH, 7150 Angle road, Salem township. Service every Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Good Gospel music. Christ centered messages from God's word. Patrick J. Clifford, pastor.

Students and Teachers Guests at St. John's

The annual pre-school Eucharist and breakfast was held last Thursday morning in St. John's Episcopal church for all Episcopal high school and college students and teachers.

Guest celebrant was the Rev. James Guinan of Trinity church, Belleville. He gave a brief talk following the breakfast.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN Church, Rev. Henry Walch, pastor. Sunday, September 17. Church school at 9:45 a.m. with the Church school classes beginning the fall quarter. Morning worship at 11 a.m. Dr. Walch will be back in the pulpit preaching on the theme, "Reflections on a Journey." The choir will resume rehearsals as follows: The Cherub choir directed by Mrs. Esther Pimper meets each Tuesday from 3 to 3:30 p.m., members are of pre-school age up through the second grade. The Junior choir is directed by Mrs. Frances Kellogg and meets each Tuesday from 3:30 to 4:15 p.m., members include third through sixth grade children. The Carolers' choir is directed by Fred Nelson and meets each Tuesday evening from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and members are those in grades seven through nine. The Chancel choir is directed by Fred Nelson and rehearses every Thursday evening at 7:30, members include those in the tenth grade and on up and adults. Membership in a choir constitutes a real contribution and service to the church. If you are interested in singing in a choir you are urged to acquaint yourself with the director and come to rehearsals. Senior Westminster Fellowship will meet on Sunday, September 17 in the parlor at 6:30. All young people of senior high age, 10th, 11th and 12th grades are welcome to this group.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST. Sunday services at 10:30 a.m. Sunday school, 10:30 a.m. for pupils up to 20 years. "Matter" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 17. The Golden Text (Matthew 15:13) is: "Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up." Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Ecl. 2:11): "Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do; and behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 287): "All creations of Spirit are eternal; but creations of matter must return to dust."

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH, Rev. Melbourne Johnson, pastor. During the coming year the Methodist church will use the following schedule: 10:15 a.m. to 12 noon, Church school, (nursery through Junior high - students going directly to Church school. Methodist Men to Meet Sept. 21

The Methodist Men's club will hold an organization meeting at the church Thursday, September 21, at 6:30 p.m. Decisions are to be made regarding programs for the present year and new officers are to be elected.

The speaker for the evening will be Harold Hudson, an active worker in the St. James Methodist church of Detroit. An official of the Detroit office of the National Labor Relations Board, his chief church interest has been in connection with men's organizations. In addition to his own church activities, he is responsible for the development of men's clubs in the Detroit district of the Methodist church. He has been instrumental to a large extent in the formation of about 60 clubs. From that experience, he will explain activities that have worked in other men's clubs and offer suggestions for consideration by local men. His ideas are practical and presented in an interesting manner.

Dinner will be served by the W.S.C.S. All men of the church are invited and urged to attend but reservations must be made by Sunday evening, September 17. Telephone reservations to Austin Pino, 1448-W.

Every Week This is our regular Message to you:

By CARL PETERSON

Maybe we'd better uncork a champagne bottle today! Or maybe it would just be better to begin with THANKS. That's because we're truly grateful to all you swell folks for making it possible for us to celebrate our Second anniversary in Plymouth this month. You see . . . it takes friends to help a business along. And we've made a lot of good friends since we've been in our spot across from the Mayflower Hotel. The thanks is for your help in making us a part of a really fine community. We're proud to belong here. And we hope that we'll be able to go on and on being "the family drug store" for all of you. Thanks too for being interested in our little weekly column. Many of you have told us how well you like it and follow it . . . and that makes us feel good too. We feel fine . . . and that really puts us in a celebrating mood. So drop in and help us, won't you?

Sunday visitors in the Bracy and McPherson home were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, Neal, Arthur and Marie Born of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Elburn Wagner and son, Tommy, of Cleveland, Ohio were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumby on Sheridan avenue and on Saturday evening attended the Kolb-Rathbun wedding.

Miss Mildred Bracy left Saturday morning for the west coast where she expects to be for several months working in the interest of the National Travelers Aid Bureau of New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Werry and Mrs. James Billups of Porterville, Indiana, and Mrs. Bertha Garrison of Walled Lake have been spending the past two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott of Roe street.

Mrs. Harriet Clugston of Temple City, California was an overnight guest last Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Austin of Rose street enroute to Portland, Oregon, where she will join her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Griffins. They will all return on a trip which will include the eastern and southern states. Mrs. Clugston expects to return to her home in California about October 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Jervis Wendland and daughter, Wendy, of Starkweather avenue have returned to Plymouth after spending the summer at their cottage on Walled lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Vealey, who for many years resided on South Harvey street have sold their home, and are now located at 352 Adams street.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Russell will entertain 16 guests from Detroit at their home on Maple avenue Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Manley Smith of North Mill street spent last weekend at East Tawas inspecting their new lot located on Lake Huron. They expect to build there starting this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Scheel of Bradner road returned Monday evening from a two weeks' visit with their son, Edward Meilbeck and family, at Cheboygan.

Sunday, September 3, marked the fourth annual Oldenburg reunion which was held in Riverside park at 1 p.m. A pot luck dinner was served and enjoyed by 108 members and their friends, after which a short business meeting was held. Plans were made to hold the fifth reunion on the Sunday before Labor Day, 1951. Later games and refreshments were enjoyed, many choosing softball games and horseshoe pitching, while others renewed old acquaintances. Relatives were present from Orchard Park, New York, Lansing, Mason, Detroit, Dearborn, Belleville, Farmington, Wayne, Northville and Plymouth. All reported a good time and expressed their hopes of returning again in 1951.

Mayor Cass S. Hough Shows Daisy Assembly Operations.....

Whitman & Barnes Vice President Joins Teacher Party, Too

Taking an active part in teaching the teachers how famous Whitman & Barnes twist drills are made the cameraman caught W. B. Fetner, Whitman & Barnes vice president and works manager in the middle of a serious conference with one of the groups that toured their factory on the Industry Day visitation. Exhibiting one of the drills just produced by Whitman & Barnes workman Clarence Miller on his left, Mr. Fetner was amazed at the knowledge of Plymouth teachers who readily understood some of the company's more technical processes. Teachers left to right in the picture are, Robert Smith, Donald Rank, Millicent Smith, Phyllis Park, Myrtle Read, Chrystena Soule, Irene Waldorf and Dorothy Rollins.

Fire Control Plan Fights Forest and Grass Fires

To show what hunters and fishermen can do to combat forest and grass fires, the conservation department cites the development of a local fire control program by one organized sportsmen's club.

The club's first cooperative efforts were marked more with failure than success, but by the 1949 fire season the members had reorganized and devised a plan which has survived to this day.

The revamped fire organization is headed by two chief keymen who are charged with both the prevention and suppression phases of fire control. Under the chief keymen are three or four master keymen who in turn are responsible for four to six regular keymen. Each keyman, including the chief and master keymen, are in charge of a three to six man crew.

The club prints its own organization list which gives the names, addresses and telephone numbers, both business and residence. Brief instructions as to how the organization will function are outlined on the first page of the list.

When the conservation fire officer needs aid, one of the chief keymen is called, advised as to fire location and number of men required, and then the club organization goes into action. In event a chief keyman cannot be contacted, a master keyman is called to assume charge. Master keymen are expected to keep their keymen alerted during fire weather.

Each keyman is responsible for his own crew and no keyman is permitted to call any men from another's crew unless instructed to do so by the chief keyman. When possible, men who compose the crews are neighbors of the keyman. They are usually club members, but not in all instances.

Individual instruction to keymen and their crews on use of equipment, fire organization and fire tactics usually is given at department equipment stations. Club firemen pick up equipment at a department equipment station or at the fire location. Most keymen carry shovels in their cars during the fire season.

Grange Cleanings

Degree staff members, do not forget tonight is practice at 7:30 p.m. Please try and attend—lots of work to be done.

Thursday evening, September 21, will be "Booster Night," with an open meeting and program. All members come and bring a friend who is interested. A special invitation is extended to the new candidates and anyone who has ever been a Grange member. This is a fine opportunity to see and visit with old friends. Let's make it a happy gathering.

Sister Della Hauk underwent an emergency operation Monday evening at St. Joseph hospital. Her condition at this writing is reported favorable. The room number is 212 and in a few days she will appreciate hearing from friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vealey are very comfortably settled in their new home at 352 Adams street. Let's go and call on them.

Several ladies of the Grange attended a luncheon and meeting last Friday at East Lansing. They report there were about 800 there and a very interesting meeting.

Introduce New Heating System at Cadillac Co.

A new and radically different type of warm air heating system developed by the Crane company of Chicago, representing a development of the combustion principle employed in jet aircraft engines, is being introduced in the Plymouth area by the Cadillac Millwork and Lumber company, 31720 Plymouth road. It was announced by Richard Gaad, owner of the company. The system will be displayed at Cadillac Saturday.

Called the "Jet-Heat" system, it has sufficient capacity for heating the average five room insulated home, Gaad said. Unlike the conventional warm air system with its large furnace, big tailored pipes, registers and cold air ducts, "Jet-Heat" is small and compact, requiring a minimum of space. No conventional duct work or cold air returns are needed.

The furnace and conditioner is only 24 inches wide by 23 inches high and 38 inches long—no larger than a small trunk.

"In this unit is the high efficiency burner with its special high pressure recirculating nozzle that burns only 0.57 gallon of oil per hour," said Gaad. "Combustion is actually completed in the small combustion chamber and takes place under pressure instead of a draft."

"A new spiral type heat exchanger removes every BTU of heat from the flue gases. Exhausted flue gas (stack temperature) is only 300 degrees compared to 450 degrees to 600 degrees in the ordinary furnace. If building codes permit, a brick chimney is not necessary and combustion gases can be vented to any available opening."

Because of the extremely high temperature generated in the combustion chamber by the jet nozzle, new refractory materials and alloys have been developed by Crane engineers. Only a single one-fourth horsepower motor is used to serve both the oil burner and the fan to blow the heated air through the unit and the delivery tubes.

The furnace may be located anywhere in the basement, utility room, attic or closet.

In Grafton, North Dakota, Postmaster George W. McIntyre considered a letter addressed to the "Chief of the Communist Party" in Grafton, returned it to the sender, Richard Rolnick of Pfaffenhofen, Germany, with a little note: "We had a little ring rot in the potatoes, the snow is up to our belts, the water is up to our necks, and... we expect a mild infestation of grasshoppers. But, thank heaven, we have been unable to find a Communist."

Junior High Teams Organized

Instead of having seven man football teams this year it has been decided by the recreation department and school authorities to combine efforts and have a regular junior high school team. This squad of 30 or 40 boys will be fully equipped. Head coaching duties will be assumed by Tom Green, former coach of Davis and Lent. Other assistants will be named later. Regular days of practice will be Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

It is the feeling of all concerned that this will be a big improvement over the past years because these boys will be getting expert training in football fundamentals and will strengthen Plymouth's future football teams. It is probable that this squad of boys will have games with surrounding towns with similar teams.

Ann Arbor Takes MRA Golf Crown

In the second annual MRA Golf tourney held at the University of Michigan golf course Saturday, September 9, Ann Arbor came in first with Ypsilanti second. Ypsilanti also had the medalist for the tourney with Jim Dixon shooting a 71. Bill McAllister was tops for the Plymouth squad with Jim McAllister coming in second.

All the players agreed it was a very successful tourney. Seven teams from the following cities competed: Ann Arbor, Saginaw, Ypsilanti, Pontiac, Plymouth, Highland Park and Dearborn. This was a very good improvement over last year when only two teams were entered. Herbert Woolweaver, recreation director, thinks that next year there will be twice this number of teams competing due to the success over last year's tourney.

First MRA Golf Tourney Here

The first annual MRA Women's Golf tourney will be held at the Plymouth Country club golf course Saturday, September 16. Six teams have been entered from Dearborn, Jackson, Plymouth, Ypsilanti and two from Pontiac. Four teams, Dearborn, Pontiac, Plymouth and Ypsilanti, will compete in the advanced group and two teams, Jackson and Pontiac, in the novice group. This is a very good turnout for the first tourney and next year should find more towns competing.

Daisy Girls Take Wayne County Crown In Times Tourney....

The Daisy Girls softball team took a second championship this season by winning the Wayne county championship in the Times tournament last week with four wins and no losses. Earlier in the season they came out on top in the Central Michigan Softball league by winning nine and losing five. The team includes, left to right, Coach Will Rayburn, Lee Feidler, Dolly Bouterse, Marion Kraft, Floyd Fleming, manager, Gloria Fellows, Eleanor Hoelscher, Dot Clatterbuck, Betty Ross, Joe Sowa, coach; front row, Verna Rayburn, Nan Johnson, Alma Forester, Marjorie Sowa, Margaret Satterla, Mary Spitz, Jean Siterlet and Faye Melton.

The Daisy Girl's softball team won the Wayne County crown in the Times tournament last Thursday with four wins and no losses. This was the second softball championship taken by the team as they won the Central Michigan Softball league crown by winning nine and losing five.

This season the girls played 32 games with 22 wins and 10 losses. The team traveled all through central Michigan on a chartered bus furnished by their sponsors,

Give Report on Summer Program of Recreation Department

Labor Day marked the close of summer activities for the Plymouth Recreation department. Recreation Director Herbert Woolweaver has issued the following report on the department's summer program:

Playgrounds carried on a full program of activities including athletics, arts and crafts, story telling, picnic hikes, dress-up parades, and games presented at each play center. Central, Starkweather, and Sutherland were the centers involved, but Central was closed in July because of lack of attendance.

As a part of the in-service training program a diversified training class was planned for the summer staff with all phases of the playground program being given detailed consideration.

The meetings were devoted to instruction by the playground supervisor outlining departmental policies to familiarize new workers with the regulations and activities of group work on the playgrounds.

Playground leaders included Miss Beth Hebeisel, supervisor; Mrs. Arthur Donnelly, day camp supervisor; Mrs. Ruth Kurtz, assistant; Barbara and Sue Daniel, Pat Pine, Sally Holcomb, Wilma Latture, Sue Woolweaver, Ronald Beaver and Dick Cramb.

Designed to care for the pre-school children, tot lots were equipped with play apparatus, sand boxes, tables and drinking fountains. They are located in residential sections and serve as community backyard playgrounds.

The 1950 summer proved to be one of our outstanding seasons in all phases of swimming activities. Boys and girls took advantage of Tuesday and Thursday morning bus trips to the Brennan Pools in Northwest Detroit on Plymouth road. About 1,036 attended.

Day camping was held for the second time this year with 690 children enjoying this venture two days a week at Kensington park. James Henry, bus driver, transported children to and from the park. Nature study, hiking, swimming, fishing and cooking over an open fire were camp activities. Next year the commission hopes to offer the day camp program to 100 children each day for four days a week.

Teen age dances were held every Wednesday night under the sponsorship of the Plymouth Optimist club at the Masonic Temple. Average attendance was 220.

The Plymouth band under the direction of Paul Wagner presented eight concerts to the public in Kellogg park two of which were "exchange nights." The band played selections of classical and semi-classical nature. The community showed its appreciation of the concerts by attending them regularly.

Preparation for band members is aided by band classes through the summer. Classes, group and individual, were held for beginners, second year students, grade school students and junior high pupils. Paul Wagner instructed band classes in the Central school.

The first summer outdoor "pop" concert was presented July 27 by the Plymouth Symphony orchestra in the high school park under the direction of Paul Wagner. The Symphony society sponsored the concert.

Baseball was the only recreation activity which showed a decrease in interest this year. Three leagues, however, were still maintained.

The "F" league for boys 14 and under was composed of Utilities, Great Americans, Cardinals and Northville. Utilities were champs and team members received a free airplane ride from Bob Mettetal of Mettetal airport as a special prize.

The "E" league for boys 16 and under consisted of Plymouth Blue Sox, Papp's Market, Inkster Aces and Inkster Boys' club. Papp's team just eked out a championship from Plymouth in an extra playoff at the close of the season.

The "D" league for boys 18 and under included Daisy, Garden City, Wayne and Inkster Harrison. Wayne took the league championship.

Plymouth entertained the Detroit Times Hearst baseball tournament this summer with eight teams competing. Several Plymouth boys received all-star recognition and played at Briggs stadium in the state section of the tourney.

An inter-city girls' softball league was again formed in this locality consisting of Twin Pines, Blick's Pharmacy and DeHoCo of Plymouth, two Ypsilanti teams, Wayne and Northville, Jackson Coal of Ypsilanti won top honors with Twin Pines as runner-up.

Beglinger Oldsmobile won the men's softball open league playoffs from Cavalade Inn who had the best seasonal record. Beglinger's is playing in the state MRA tournament at Coldwater. DeHoCo and South Side Merchants were the other teams in the league.

Whitman-Barnes, a new team in the area, won the Industrial league playoffs by defeating Dunn Steel, the team having the best seasonal record. Other teams in the league were Champion Corrugated, Daisy and Wall Wire.

The real measure of a man's resources, the true test of one's genuine worth, is not the fact that he can be fair and square with those who trust him, but that he can be big enough to rise above those who are unfair to him.

was her battery mate and did a wonderful job behind the plate. Eleanor Hoelscher, third baseman, took the season's batting crown with a .336 average, 34 RBI's, 3 home runs and eight 3-base hits. Betty Ross and Gloria Fellows were next with three home runs each and then Jean Siterlet with two home runs. All players did an excellent job this season and deserve a lot of credit.

Tonight at 5:30 p.m. the girls play the Daisy management team at the Daisy field. This is one of the inter-plant teams that gave a good account of itself in the shop league.

The girls' manager is Floyd Fleming and coaches are Joe Sowa and Will Rayburn.

The players will now take a brief vacation from sports to rest up for the basketball season. Last year the team took the Inter-City league championship with one loss in 14 games.

The Old Timers' league had an unusually close season with four teams tying for first during the regular season. The Contractors beat Dunn Steel in the finals of the playoffs. VFW and Allen Industries were strong contenders all the way while Twin Pines were the losers.

The "E" league, composed of Plymouth Elks, two Wayne County Training school teams and Northville. The Elks won the finals in the playoffs.

The "D" softball league consisted of the Training school, Northville, South Side Barbers, Panthers and Hoots. The latter team were the victors.

The adult tennis group met every Sunday in Cass Benton park and on Wednesday evenings. Doubles and single matches were played by 120 people this last year.

Mrs. Alex Miller was the instructor for women's golf this past year, assisted by Max Todd. Golf sessions were held every Thursday morning at Hilltop Golf club.

Announce Plans For Adult Classes

The recreation department is setting up the fall program of adult education classes. It is hoped that classes can be formed to include: ceramics, Mrs. Meier of Wayne, instructor; art, Harold Stein of Plymouth; sewing, Mrs. Humphries of Plymouth; metal etching, Miss Ware of Northville; retail selling, University of Michigan extension course; women's gym class, Mrs. Alex Miller; women's swimming at training school; typing class at the high school; and lecture courses on mental hygiene, with outstanding speakers in the field.

Anyone interested in any of the above classes call Mrs. Jennie Donnelly as soon as possible at the recreation office—phone 2075.

Choose Class "F" All-Star Team

An all-star team was chosen from the four teams in the Class "F" baseball league. Following are the names of the boys picked on the "Coaches Dream Team." The Utilities squad led with five boys chosen.

First base, Blomberg of the Great Americans; second base, Ruberski of Northville; third base, Brown of Utilities; short-stop and sub infielders, Carter of the Great Americans; Angelvine of the Cardinals and Tillotson of Utilities; outfield, Stout of Utilities; Gust, of Great Americans; Ribar, Cardinals; Signorelli, Utilities; catcher, Nix, of Northville; pitchers, Kisabeth of Utilities, and Nalley of Northville.

Recreation Dept. to Form Typing Class

A typing class will be offered at the Plymouth High school two evenings each week if enough people wish to participate. The class is sponsored by the recreation department.

A competent teacher from the high school will be the instructor. A small fee will be charged to partially cover expenses. Please call Mrs. Donnelly at the recreation office if you are interested—phone 2075.

D of A Projects Aids Orphans

One of the newest projects of the Daughters of America for benefiting orphans and the D of A home for the aged is a series of "galloping breakfasts" held once each week at the home of a member. Mrs. Lorraine Aquino is in charge of the orphan committee.

The breakfasts have been held at the homes of Mrs. Minnie Cherosky of Walled Lake, Mrs. Leo Kowalcik and Mrs. Edith Rorabacher.

The D of A is also sponsoring a Rummage Sale October 6 and 7 to assist in raising funds for flags for the new George A. Smith school.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ritchie Take Wedding Trip To Niagara Falls

Harry Ritchie, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Belleville, claimed Loretta Buckmaster as his bride last Saturday at 4 p.m. in a double ring ceremony at the Northville Evangelical Lutheran church. Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Nagel of Plymouth are the parents of the bride. The Rev. E. E. Rosow performed the nuptial rites.

The bride chose a maroon suit for her small informal wedding. Her accessories were navy blue and she wore a corsage of gardenias and orange blossoms.

For her only attendant the bride asked her sister, Ruth Nagel, to be her maid of honor. Ruth chose a navy blue suit with maroon accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

Francis D. Sala, a friend of the bridegroom, performed the duties of best man.

Mrs. Nagel wore a navy blue dress with grey accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Smith chose a brown dress with brown and gold accessories and also a corsage of pink carnations. A reception for the bridal party, immediate family and close friends was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Plan Lunchbox With Variety and Nutrition Value in Mind

Planning the meal that goes into the lunchbox for work or school requires even more imagination and loving care than planning stay-at-home meals, because there is some limit to foods that carry well. Any woman whose husband or children continue to compliment those packed lunches deserves a blue ribbon.

A good packed lunch should meet all the requirements of any other meal. It supplies a generous number of calories for energy—at least one-third of the total number of the day. The bulk of these will come from bread of some kind and the dessert.

There must be efficient protein there, too, for building body tissue and blood. This means meat, fish, cheese or egg in one form or another, plus milk as a beverage.

Add foods to supply minerals and vitamins as body regulators and general health promoters and you'll have a well rounded combination. Fruits and vegetables, whole grain or enriched bread and milk score high in these factors.

The form in which these foods are carried depends largely on the container. A strong box with a thermos bottle allows a great deal of variety, permitting the use of soups, salads, puddings, stewed fruits and similar liquid or semi-liquid foods.

When, for any reason, the meal is carried in a paper bag, the combination must be limited almost entirely to solids. It's always possible, even in such a case, to tuck in an occasional juicy bit by packing it in a waxed carton with a tightly fitting cover.

More times than not, sandwiches will be the main dish of the packed lunch. To make them as nutritionally satisfying as possible make them with either whole grain or enriched bread as the usual thing. For the sake of variety include fruit or nut bread occasionally.

Filling for the sandwiches will most often be made with one of the good protein foods which have such excellent staying qualities as well as delicious flavor. A chunk of meat may be the easiest thing to use, but it's frightfully monotonous. A few combinations suggested below are only an indication of what can be done.

Sometimes bread and butter sandwiches can be used if a fried chicken, some deviled eggs, a cold stuffed, baked pork chop, or meat or fish salad are included. The last two are best used in cold weather and must be icy cold when they're put in the box. Wrap the container in several thicknesses of paper to keep them cool.

Vegetables and fruits are best planned for eating out of hand unless they can be placed in waterproof containers. Celery, lettuce, carrots, cucumbers and green onions will all add pleasant flavor and crispness to the meal if they are well chilled and wrapped in waxed paper before packing. It's best to keep the pieces fairly large—they wilt less and lose flavor and food value.

Fresh tomatoes are perfect for packed lunches. They're easier to eat if they aren't skinned. A small packet of salt and pepper will season them delightfully. Wrap them in paper, too, just so they won't leak over the rest of the lunch if they happen to be squeezed accidentally.

The fruit that goes into the lunch needs a waxed paper wrapping, too, to keep it cool and to prevent mixing of flavors. Those people who carry boxes can manage stewed and canned fruits as well as gelatin desserts in addition to any of the fresh fruits.

Cup cakes baked in paper cups and cookies are the best bets for sweets, but fruit turnovers carry fairly well. There are plastic containers just right for wedges of pie which would delight almost any man. Milk or a milk beverage is a must for the children and would be fine for adults, too. In many places it's possible to buy milk even when nothing else is available and then it would be fine to use the thermos bottle for hot soup at least occasionally. It's especially appetizing in cold weather.

BEEF-CELERY SANDWICH FILLING
Combine 1/2 cup ground, cooked beef, 1/4 cup finely chopped celery, 2 tablespoons pickle relish and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Makes enough filling for 3 or 4 sandwiches.

SAVORY SANDWICH FILLING
Put equal parts of dried beef and American cheese through a food chopper. Stir in enough tomato soup to moisten well. This mixture keeps well in a covered jar in the refrigerator.

SUNSHINE SPECIAL
Combine 1 cup grated carrot, 1 cup chopped dates, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, and 1/2 cup cooked salad dressing. Season to taste with salt.

SURPRISE ROLLS
Combine 4 chopped, hard-cooked eggs, 4 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 cup grated American cheese, 1/2 cup catsup, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 6 chopped, stuffed olives. Cut tops from 6 frankfurter rolls, hollow out inside and then spread with creamed butter. Fill with mixture, cover with tops of rolls and chill. Makes 6.

COOKIE FAVORITES
By Mary Alden

For a mid-afternoon snack, oatmeal cookies, milk and fruit have always been a great favorite. These Old Fashioned Oatmeal Cookies are quick and easy to make for they are made by a one-bowl method that eliminates many time-consuming steps.

For year-round cookie eating pleasure, try these old-fashioned favorites.

OLD FASHIONED OATMEAL COOKIES
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening, soft
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons water
2 cups rolled oats, uncooked
1/2 cup chopped nutmeats
1/2 cup raisins (optional)
Sift together flour, soda and salt into bowl. Add shortening, sugar, egg, vanilla and water. Beat until smooth, about 2 minutes. Add rolled oats, nutmeats and raisins, mixing thoroughly. Shape by hand or drop from a teaspoon onto greased baking sheet; flatten with the bottom of a glass covered with waxed paper. Decorate with additional raisins if desired. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

SPICY TOMATO SAUCE

By Nancy Haven

10 lbs. ripe tomatoes
8 small or 1 lb. white onions
8 medium or 2 lb. green peppers
1 medium-sized apple, diced
1 quart cider-vinegar
4 tablespoons salt
1/2 teaspoon cayenne
2 teaspoons each of ground spices: allspice, cloves, nutmeg
1 tablespoon cinnamon
6 cups Beet Sugar

Scald, peel, core and quarter tomatoes (2-1/3 c.); wash, core and dice peppers (4 1/4 c.); do same with apple, after peeling. Apple takes up some of extra liquid. Combine all ingredients in large preserving kettle (if very light condiment desired, use whole spices and tie in a bag). Bring to a rolling boil; simmer-boil mixture 3 hours, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Pour into hot, sterilized fruit jars. Seal at once. Makes 7 to 8 pts.

In using Beet Sugar will I have success with this Spicy Tomato Sauce? With Beet or Cane Sugar you will have "family approved" home preserves. The two are alike and, therefore, will give identical results.

Answer Question of Vitamin Loss In Canned Juice
During this season when fresh citrus fruits are not as plentiful as they will be in a few months, many Plymouth homemakers will turn to canned citrus fruit juices, but wonder whether they are getting the same amount of vitamin C.

Here are some answers to the question of whether vitamin C is destroyed by heating the juices for canning. Modern methods of commercial canning have greatly increased the percentage of vitamin C that may be saved. Experiments show that almost all of the precious vitamin is retained in canned juice. However, there may be some loss during storage if the temperature of freight cars, warehouses, or groceries is too high. This applies to your own home storage. Canned goods should be stored in a cool cupboard.

Many homemakers also ask about the loss of vitamins after the can is opened. Here again the temperature as well as the air are the enemies of vitamin C. It is best to open the cans with a small three-cornered opening and keep this opening tightly plugged. If possible, keep it at a temperature below 50 degrees Fahrenheit and there will be a minimum amount of loss of the vitamin C.

Don't be afraid to store the juice in the tin can in which it is purchased. It is quite all right to leave foods in the original can after they have been opened. They should, however, be kept very cold to prevent spoilage.

HAM BUNDLES
Wrap slender stalks of cooked asparagus with broiled ham slices, fasten and heat in a frying pan until the ham is lightly browned. Serve with a cream or cheese sauce.

COLD MEAT DRESSINGS
Provide a set of dressings for your cold meat platter. Simply start with mayonnaise, then add horseradish, chives, olives, parsley or chopped hard-cooked egg.

IN A CASSEROLE
Here's a casserole that's prepared in 30 minutes. Place sliced canned tongue in a greased casserole and add thinly sliced potatoes. Pour a can of onion soup over the meat and potatoes and cook in a moderate oven.

QUICK LUNCHEON AND SUPPER DISHES
"Hey, Mom, I got play practice at seven. How soon do we eat?" This familiar question calls for some fast thinking and action. It's a real change from the lazy summer meals.

Hurry-up Chili Con Carne
1 pound hamburger
1 onion, chopped
2 tablespoons fat
1-1/3 cups cooked tomatoes
1 1/2 cups cooked kidney beans
1 tablespoon chili powder
2 teaspoons vinegar
2 teaspoons salt
Pepper
2/3 cup water

Crumble hamburger and fry with onion in fat, stirring to cook evenly. Add remaining ingredients. Heat 15 to 20 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

While the Chili Con Carne is simmering, slip open faced cheese sandwiches under the broiler long enough to melt the cheese.

"Quick" Salad
Head lettuce salad with 1000 Island Dressing is easy to prepare. One-third cup chili sauce and one teaspoon lemon juice added to two-thirds cup sandwich spread makes dressing in a hurry.

Serve fresh fruit for dessert. Or try open-faced hamburgers instead of the Chili. Sliced tomatoes and buttered green beans will complete this menu.

Open-faced Hamburgers
1 pound hamburger
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
Salt and pepper
3 tablespoons evaporated milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Toast 8 slices of bread on one side. This can be done in the broiler. Turn and spread with meat mixture. Be sure the meat covers the bread completely. Broil. Yield: 4 servings (8 sandwiches).

Detroit Plans to Use Plymouth Water if Bombed

Little did a number of Plymouth business men who during the past ten or 12 years worked diligently to provide this city with a big supply of good drinking water, realize that upon the completion of the new water system that Plymouth's water supply would be counted upon to help provide Detroit with water in case that city was bombed by Russian Communists.

Not only do the plans call upon Plymouth to provide water for Detroit in case of emergency, but Detroit's civilian forces also plan to utilize water from Northville as well as from some of the nearby lakes.

This fact became known a few days ago when Laurence G. Lenhardt, general manager of the Detroit water board, made known the fact that an atomic bomb dropped into Lake St. Clair could knock out Detroit's entire water supply for a period of from 14 to 20 days.

It would take that long for the lake water to clear into the Detroit river past the intake of the department after a bombing.

Discussing the dangers of this situation, Lenhardt suggested means for Detroit people to protect themselves in the event of a sneak attack.

He also revealed that plans are underway to provide at least 4,000,000 gallons of water daily if the Detroit water system is shut down because of radio active conditions, or otherwise crippled by bombs to such an extent that the city will be unable to get water in the mains.

Milk trailers, tank trucks and railroad steam engine tenders would be called into service to haul water from such towns as Plymouth, Northville, Pontiac and inland lakes.

He said: "During the last war many persons took precautions against water shortage from possible bombings in their own homes, and this could be done again.

"I would recommend that a supply of water for family use be stored in gallon glass jugs. These should be thoroughly cleaned and sterilized. If they cannot be boiled, about three-quarters of an inch of ordinary household chlorine-type cleanser in a water glass should be poured into the jug.

"Add about two glasses of water and swish the contents around thoroughly. Then rinse with clean water.

"The jugs should be filled to the brim, allowing no air on top, and tightly corked. They should be stored in a cool, dark place in the basement, where most people would be if we are attacked.

"The water should be renewed about every three days but once a week wouldn't be too bad."

Lenhardt said it has been found that the individual can get along on a gallon and one-half of water a day.

In Portland, Me., when Robert B. Boyle told the court he was going to be married in five days, Boyle's $3 fine for traffic violation with the comment: "You will probably need all your spare money."

VFW News

Auxiliary members have chosen Thursday, November 9 as the date of their annual Smorgasbord and Bazaar. It is to be held this year at the Masonic Temple which will provide more space for serving and display of the articles for sale. General Chairman Virginia Bartel states that committees have been appointed and are at work preparing for an event that promises to be well worth your while to attend. Circle the date on your calendar now and plan to be there. Excellent food, door prizes, music, a wide selection of gifts for sale, canned fruit, baked goods, candy and aprons.

Ann Thompson, hospital chairman, announces the new hospital visiting day as the second Wednesday of each month from 3 to 4:30. Those who are able to be on hand for the trip to Maybury Sanatorium on that date are asked to sign their names on a bulletin board at the regular meetings. Let's give our hospital work priority. Sign up and follow through by being there.

At the last Auxiliary meeting, Georgia Elliot gave an interesting report of her trip as delegate to the VFW national convention, held recently in Chicago, Illinois. The convention is to be held next year in New York City.

Auxiliary Members Katherine McLellan and Helen Schomberger are confined to their homes with illness at the present time. We extend our best wishes for a speedy return to health to both of them.

The Mayflower Post No. 6695 announces a change of plans in regard to the picnic, announced in last week's column. It was decided at the last meeting, September 6, to cancel plans for a picnic and sponsor a Feather party instead. Date of this event will be the latter part of November—date to be published later.

The two little Plymouth girls who spent two weeks at the VFW Buddy Poppy camp at Union lake had a wonderful time. The program there included swimming lessons, nature study, hikes, handcraft, organized sports and Americanism programs plus what most important of all to the kiddies—plenty of the hearty food they wanted. Camp directors and courses were carefully selected and year after year the camp has been given highest rating by the state authorities. Youngsters live in modern cabins (six in number) and there is a large dining hall and modern kitchen nearby where meals are prepared and served. Mayflower auxiliary has been selecting two Plymouth youngsters each year, to attend camp—all expenses paid, including money and the Home Fund chairman arranges transportation.

"Better Balance" makes MERCURY
just right for you!

1. You get the right riding comfort!

Almost the very moment you set foot in the Mercury you know you've found the car you've always wanted! Big! Roomy! Leg roomy, too! And so quiet! So utterly QUIET! You hardly know you're moving—so smooth and silent is that Mercury ride!

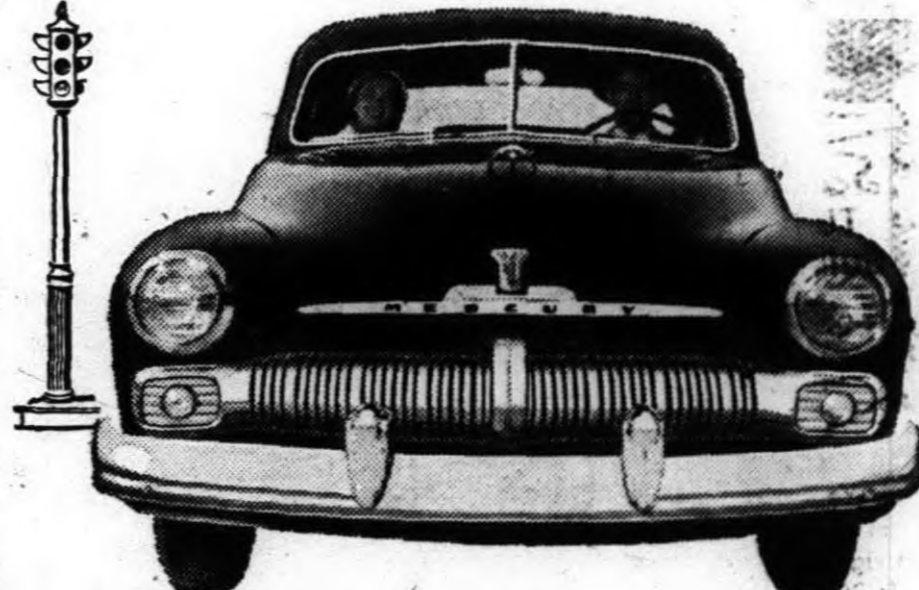

2. You get the right roadability!

Try it on a curve... a rough road... a tight spot in downtown traffic. This big Mercury handles them all—and with ease. "Stedi-Line" steering... "Cushion-Coil" springing... a super-rigid chassis make owners call it the smoothest riding car they ever drove!

3. You get the right power!

You've got "get-up-and-go" to spare in Mercury! Its big, V-type, 8-cylinder, made-only-for-Mercury engine is right for the car—and the car is right for the engine! Mercury is "America's No. 1 Economy Car"! Drive it yourself—and see why!

Your Police Department Speaks

Written by members of Plymouth's Police Department

"Don't let school bells sound the death knell for YOUR child!"

This grim warning was issued today by officials of the State Safety Commission's September program of traffic safety education, as millions of youngsters trooped to classrooms throughout the country—many for the first time.

For the beginner this may be his first tussle with reality—with the dangers of the street, and the problems that he must face for himself without mother's personal guidance. For that reason, the danger to the very young is extreme at this time of the year.

This emphasis on child safety—the necessity for thorough safety education by both educators and parents and the driver's responsibility for child safety—is part of the State Safety Commission's program this month.

Another important part of the program will be devoted to acquainting the public with the record of young drivers as a group, and how this record can be improved.

Traffic safety education is not a thing that we can arbitrarily end with the student's fourth, eighth or twelfth year of formal education. Adult—so-called "mature"—drivers themselves have much to learn about traffic safety, so the process is obviously a never-ending one. Instruction early in a child's life, however, will do much to make things safer for him, and in 10 or 20 years when he is of driving age, for all of us.

Using the slogan, "WATCH OUT FOR KIDS," the State Safety Commission hopes to convince all adults that their teachings may mean the difference between life or death for some youngster.

In Boston, Mrs. Madeline H. Sweney, founder and president of The Order of the Olive Branch, an organization devoted to plumping for world peace, appeared in court on a charge (later dismissed) of assault and battery.

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

Appreciation Pays Off

TODAY'S PIECE is for those in authority who find that disciplinary measures have failed. And it comes to you from experts in handling people.

The first principle that every one of these experts propounds, in different words, of course, is that unless a person is happy in what you have persuaded him to do you are getting only 50 per cent efficiency.

William James, eminent professor of Harvard University, seemed to have thought that you can best get the most out of a person, that you can most easily persuade him to "do it your way" by showing him appreciation, for said Mr. James, "The deepest principle in human nature is the craving to be appreciated."

Charles M. Schwab, 'one-time chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, said that the best way to influence people is by making them happy in what they are doing — is to "be hearty in approbation and lavish in praise."

When Napoleon created the legion of honor, he did it to show his appreciation of his men. Did those men care about the bits of metal in the little crosses they received? Certainly not. But they did care about the approval of their emperor; they were happy in serving him; they craved his praise, and those little crosses were the symbol.

Henry Clay Risner used Napoleon's technique when he wanted to influence the conduct of the American doughboy. He had been told by General James Harbord that in his opinion the two million American soldiers in France were the cleanest and most idealistic group of men with whom he had ever come in contact. So Henry Clay Risner took occasion to repeat that statement to those men time after time. It made them happy. He knew that that was a sure-fire way of inspiring them to be clean and idealistic.

One more: Warden Lawes, for 20 years Warden of Sing Sing prison, told me once that he had in nearly every instance found that when he treated a prisoner as if he were a gentleman and on the level, that man responded in kind. (And since every man, even though he may have committed a crime, has good in him, he was truly at the time what the Warden seemed to believe him to be.)

So in dealing with people, with your children, with your helpers, make them happy by treating them as if you expect the best of them, and you will be likely to get the best.

Migration of War Workers From The South Starts

Plymouth's population is just now taking on a sudden increase that will not be a bit helpful in adding to the totals recently figured by the census takers.

This increase, which is in addition to the more than 2,000 people who moved to Plymouth during the past ten years to make this city their permanent home, is all due to a new migration that has recently started from the south due to war conditions.

Clarence Jetter, manager of the Plymouth unemployment office, states that there is a steady stream of former war workers who left here after the end of the last World War, returning to Plymouth from the south.

"But we are glad to see them, as we have jobs for every competent worker. We haven't been able to fill the demand for help for weeks. It seems that nearly every factory in this entire locality is in need of help, even those that do not yet have any war contracts," said Mr. Jetter the other day.

The migration is chiefly from Kentucky, Tennessee and Arkansas. A very large number of those who have returned to the city from the south were located here during the last war, but went back south to their old homes when the war ended.

Nearly all of these former residents are having no difficulty in getting immediate employment. But it seems as though the big problem is that same old bug-boo, the housing shortage. Even though there have been several hundred new homes built in this locality in the last few years, the demand for homes far exceeds the supply.

But many desirable families who came to Plymouth from the south previous to the last world war, did not return south after the war and they are having no housing problems at all. Many of them built or purchased permanent homes here. They are doing what they can to help house the workers who went back home because they were not quite sure as to whether they desired to make their permanent homes in the north. Steady employment will doubtless result in many of the latest new comers deciding to make this locality their permanent homes.

In Pittsburgh, Daniel A. Marra admitted in court that he used to beat his wife, but give it up "when I found out it was not doing any good."

Merlin Datcher Dies Suddenly

Funeral services were held on Monday for Merlin Homer Datcher, 23 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Datcher of 7422 Deering street. Merlin passed away suddenly last Friday in Corning, New York, where he was employed by the Corning Glass company.

The Rev. Eugene Friedrich of St. Matthew's Lutheran church officiated at the services conducted at the Caldwell Funeral home on Ford road. Burial was in Glen Eden cemetery.

Besides his parents, Merlin is survived by a sister, Rita. The Datchers have made their home in this area for the past 12 years. Merlin attended Cooper school and was graduated from Plymouth High school in 1945.

He enlisted in the Navy in May, 1945, and served in the reserves until his discharge in January, 1947. In 1950 he graduated from the Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland and has been employed at Corning as a shift foreman since June. He was a member of the SAE fraternity.

Earns Seamen 2nd Class Rating in Naval Reserve

The rating of seaman second class was earned last week by Ronald Pelley, 17, of 46689 Saltz road, upon completion of two weeks training with the Naval Air Reserve at Grosse Ile.

Ronald, who joined the reserve in April, is receiving specialized training in radar and electronics. He is a senior at Plymouth High school.

Food For Fed-Ups

By Melbourne Johnson
Pastor First Methodist Church

Is one's real self one's better self? That may not be as idle a question as some might think. The philosophy which says that it is as unlike that which says that it is not as could possibly be imagined. If my real self is my better self then I can take this very comforting and inspiring thought to myself that it is in me to be better; that that is what I was made for; that better things are native to me, to be reached and attained if I only give myself a real good chance. If I am more at myself when I am at my worst then heaven pity me and my chances of ever making any great improvement.

If it be true that my better self is my real self then it means that the least worthy and the second-best part of me is holding me back from the better things for which I was made. I am like a runner held back from the goal which I have the strength and the swiftness to reach if I were not thus hampered. And if it be true that my better self is my real self it means that my purpose and aim in life should be to like somebody else, or to copy any other human pattern, but to give myself a chance to be at my best. And that means individuality: it does not mean a taking on of something, but a growth from within, a conforming to an inner quality and not an outward.

When we look into the life of Jesus do we not find that He was a thoroughgoing believer in the idea that a man's real self is his better self. He always seemed to be running into people whom He thought might become their better selves with His assistance. He was so sure that there was something fundamentally good in every one to which He could appeal that He never in all His ministry met a man who was a hopeless case. And we must admit that, from our point of view, He met some very unlikely specimens, but to Him that better self was so surely there that He was full of hope for them all. Even in that greatest of all His parables, that of the Prodigal Son, it is when he "comes to himself," that is, when the real self gets a chance, that new life and all its possibilities begins. We can surely take it from the Great Master of Men that a man's best self is his real self and that the best self is the most real thing in any one of us.

Photographs To Be Displayed...

Mort Walton reads his Graflex camera for a new shot of his two siamese cats, his favorite models. Walton's collection of unusual photographs, all of which he has taken, developed and printed, will be on display this week in the lobby of the Plymouth United Savings bank.

With four cats around the house, Mort Walton seldom runs short of subjects for his photography hobby. The cats, three of them siamese, are Walton's favorite models and pictures of them in dozens of unusual poses are in his collection.

A former newspaper and free lance photographer, Walton is now a television cameraman for Station WJBK-TV. His pictures will be on display this week in the lobby of the Plymouth United Savings bank.

Walton develops and prints his pictures in the well-equipped dark room in his home at 9229 Ball street. He uses a modern Graflex camera.

A lifelong railroad enthusiast, Walton also has a varied collection of pictures of trains. He has built a miniature train to scale, with 100 cars and three locomotives, which he has used for a number of interesting shots. Looking for a Money Saver?

Better Buy Buick!

YOU CAN SEE here how smart it is—don't have to be told that it's the most quickly identified car on the road today.

You probably know that the engine under that broad bonnet is a Fireball straight-eight valve-in-head engine and a lively stepper in any company.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

You can check the abundance of its room by the simple expedient of taking the family and trying out its spaciousness at the nearest Buick dealer's—and a very few minutes on the open road will satisfy you that all-coil springing, low-pressure tires and Buick's torque-tube drive really do produce a ride that is matchless for its soft comfort.

BUT RIGHT NOW, it may be that the money angle is the thing uppermost in your mind, and on that we'd like to make two points:

All our records go to show that this is the most economical Buick ever built. It is easy on gas, on oil, on tires, on upkeep.

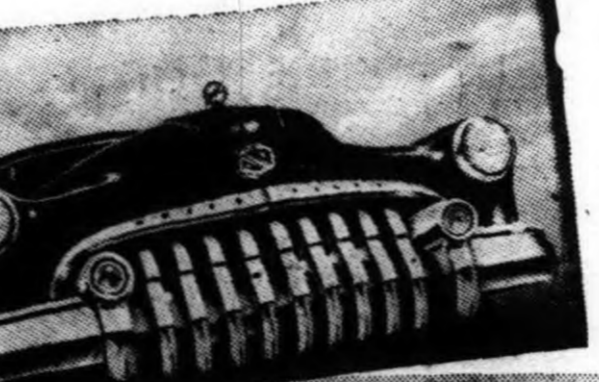

And if you choose it with Dynaflow

Drive,* it immediately eliminates all chance of friction-clutch repair and replacement—not to mention greatly reducing rear-axle and transmission maintenance.

Best of all, your initial outlay is a highly favorable one—whatever Buick you buy. For these brawny straight-eights—built rugged and solid for durable service—are priced at a level that makes them a standout buy in any price class.

Yes, better buy a Buick. Your dealer will be glad to demonstrate, glad to work out all the arithmetic of a deal. See him right away and get an order signed.

Northville citizens are following their usual custom of holding a Wayne County Fair this year, from September 22 to 26, and Thursday, September 24, has, as usual, been set aside as Plymouth Day. The citizens of Plymouth in general and the officers of the local Chamber of Commerce in particular are more than anxious to keep up Plymouth's good reputation for showing our good will toward our neighboring village by turning out in large numbers for Plymouth Day. Harry Lush is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Plymouth Day committee with Frank Rambo, W. T. Pettigill and Fred Schrader.

The sewer contractors are through with South Main street, both sewer and culvert, except for a little more attention to the backfilling. On Pearl street, the sewer is laid nearly to Starkweather avenue, providing an outlet to the sewer laid there three years ago. On Ann Arbor street, the big sewer is nearly under the Pere Marquette tracks. The Plymouth Public schools opened Tuesday with the largest enrollment in the history of the schools. The total enrollment has reached 1016 pupils. The first of next week will without a doubt see this number increased to 1050.

Mrs. E. V. Jolliffe and children returned home last week after a four weeks' visit with relatives at Reed City.

Mr. and Mrs. George Richwine and sons, Perry and Walton, returned Tuesday evening from a few days' motor trip to Cleveland, Ohio and Pittsburgh and LaTrove, Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Streng, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schoof, Mrs. Henry Fisher, Will Streng, Mrs. George Robinson and Mrs. O. F. Beyer attended the funeral of Charles Streng in Detroit, last week, Sunday.

Mrs. James Dunn picked five quarts of red raspberries one day this week. They were not of the ever bearing variety.

Mrs. C. H. Bennett and Miss Pauline Peck were hostesses at a luncheon last week Thursday, given for Mrs. Gardner Tilton of Concord, New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reamer and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rorabacher were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grandy at Grand Rapids several days last week and spent Sunday at Grand Haven beach.

A ten pound baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bassett last week Tuesday. Their many friends extend congratulations.

Born September 1 to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kincaid, a son, Clarence Eddie.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hunter are making a motor trip with Detroit friends in the northern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Coello Hamilton and children arrived home Monday from their summer's stay at their cottage at Black Lake in northern Michigan.

Commencing Tuesday, September 8, the Detroit Motorbus company are operating their buses to and from Plymouth direct to the General Motors building, via Plymouth road, Division road, Tireman avenue and West Grand boulevard.

R. R. Parrott, William Petz, Fred Thomas, Bert Giddings, Raymond Bachelder and Frank Rambo, of this place, attended the state convention of the Michigan Real Estate association, held at Port Huron Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

A "sendoff" party for students entering the University of Michigan in the fall will be given by the Plymouth U. of M. club at the Hotel Mayflower Monday evening, September 16 at 6:30. Students who will be honored guests of the U. of M. club are Dorothy Bohl, Richard G. Dunlop, Vera A. Enss, Richard Strong and Margaret Bently Thompson, freshmen; Belva Barnes, Carol Campbell, Jack DeLaurier, Betty Mastick, sophomores; Lawrence Smith, junior; and Elizabeth Hegge, George Stateznik and Joe Rogers, seniors, and Roland Rhead, student in the university law school.

Harry Mumby, chairman of arrangements for the donkey baseball games to be held at the Central Grade school playgrounds next Tuesday and Wednesday, September 17 and 18, at 8 o'clock, announced this week that the Ex-Service Men's team would be captained by Commander Melvin Algure and that Chief of Police Vaughn Smith would have charge of the City Employees team.

Ralph "Gobby" Lorenz was awarded a trophy and a set of Walter Hagen golf clubs for winning the Hotel Managers' association golf tournament at Mackinac Island last weekend.

A committee to lay plans for the annual Christmas gift mart to be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce was appointed at the group's meeting Monday night at the Plymouth Country club. The committee includes Lionel Coffin, Frank Walsh, Jack McAllister and Dewey Taylor. Bob Wesley was delegated to handle publicity for the program.

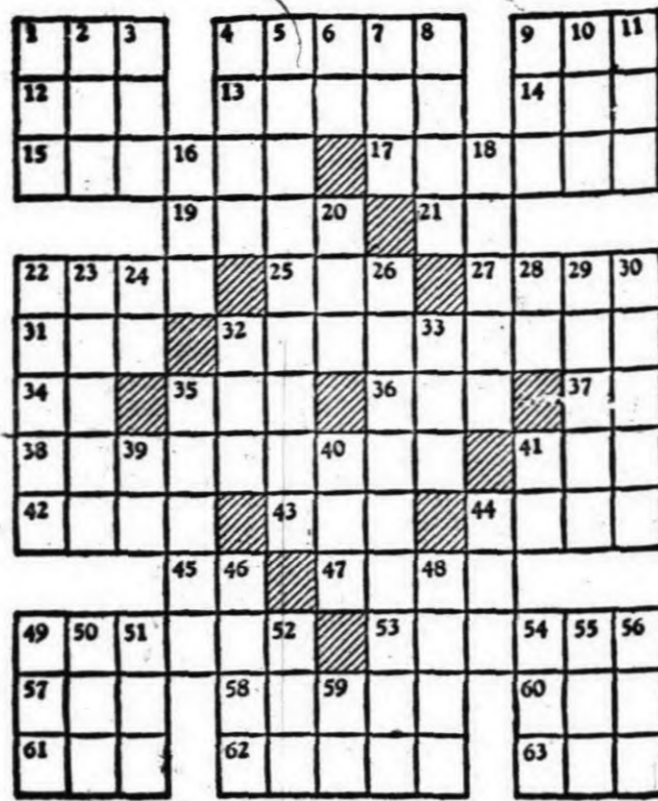

The Plymouth Civic committee at its meeting in the city hall Friday night appointed a subcommittee to plan arrangements for a civic Halloween celebration. The committee plans this year to hold several parties to accommodate different age groups instead of one large party. Harry Mumby was appointed general chairman, and Walter Harms, finance chairman. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Jewell Bell, Mrs. Nellie Bird, C. J. Dykhouse, James Sexton, James Gallimore, Charles Thumme, George Smith, John Jacobs and the president of the Parent-Teachers associations at both Starkweather and Central schools.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Chute and sons attended the Chute family reunion Sunday, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wells in Toledo, Ohio.

Mrs. Floyd Burgett entertained her contract bridge group Thursday evening, at its first meeting of the season. The guests were Mrs. Francis Beals, Mrs. Harold Finlan, Mrs. Edwin Campbell, Mrs. Arthur Minthorne, Mrs. Clifford Tait and Marian Beyer.

Answer to LAST WEEK'S Puzzle:

Plymouth Ships More Than 50,000 Bushels of Wheat

Believe it or not—over 50,000 bushels of wheat have been shipped out of the Plymouth area since the 1950 mid-summer harvest.

Not only were more than 50,000 bushels of wheat raised in this vicinity, but J. J. Wickens of the Specialty Feed company, Inc. states that he believes that more than 100,000 bushels will be produced and shipped next year.

"We are going to make preparations to handle that much grain during 1951. When we first started shipping wheat last year we handled less than 30,000 bushels, but we never expected to jump to more than 50,000 bushels this year. We are fully convinced now that we can ship through Plymouth more than 100,000 bushels next year, if we are prepared to handle that amount of grain, and before the 1951 harvest we will be able to not only handle 100,000 bushels but much more," said Mr. Wickens yesterday.

Years ago Plymouth was a large grain shipping center, but before the last war the McLaren company which for more than half a century had operated a large wheat shipping business decided to close that branch of its business out. As a result there was no grain market in Plymouth for some ten or twelve years previous to the inauguration of the new Specialty Feed market service a year ago.

Mr. Wickens states that the farmers received an average of nearly $2.00 per bushel, making a total of nearly $100,000 that was paid for the wheat crop grown in the Plymouth area.

Not many would believe that in this highly developed residential and manufacturing center that there are a sufficient number of farmers who grow a great amount of wheat, but Mr. Wickens states that he believes that when farmers again find out that they can dispose of their wheat crop in Plymouth there will be hundreds of thousands of bushels shipped out of here each year, "just like it was some 20 or 25 years ago," he said.

Most of the wheat grown in this area was sold by the Specialty Feed company to the National Biscuit company, shipments being made to both Detroit and Toledo, with Toledo receiving the biggest share of the 1950 crop.

The Specialty Feed company is especially well located to handle large grain shipments. Its plant is located on the main C & O lines and farmers can easily bring their crops in almost all the way on paved roads and without the necessity of going through city traffic.

It Adds So Much to the Joy of Living!

You walk out of the house, and there it stands—waiting for you in the driveway.

You've seen it hundreds of times before—but it's so attractive, there in the sunlight, that you stop instinctively for a second look.

The sun lights up the gleaming chrome and frames the whole gorgeous picture. The soft finish shimmers in the shadows. A pattern of hand-tailored fabric shows through the open window. And there's the beautiful steering wheel—inviting you in.

Yes, it's a lovely day! And the next thing you know, you're out in traffic—and the powerful, soft-throated engine is gliding you along as if by automatic propulsion.

You ride so softly and quietly and easily that judging time and distance is the hardest work you do!

The lights turn red and the lights turn green—the hills and valleys flow under the wheels... and every stretch of highway ahead is a study in enchantment.

Though you take to the highway ten times a day, each trip is a thrill all over again. You thrill to its beauty, the way it rides, the way it behaves, the way it handles—and, being human, you like the admiring glances which other motorists toss your way.

Happiness, as everyone knows, is a state of mind—but it is aided and abetted by your satisfaction with the things about you.

And this we can promise for Cadillac: It will add to your satisfaction every mile you drive. Many say it enriches their lives to an unbelievable degree.

Why not get one for your happiness—today?

Roger Babson Says...

Babson Discusses New Houses

Many people ask me what I think of the present housing boom, how long it will last and whether it is wise to buy or build new homes now. Briefly, these are my conclusions.

Why The Current Boom?

During the first seven months of 1950, nearly 800,000 new non-farm dwellings were started in the United States. In July a new monthly record of 144,000 units was chalked up. What is the reason for this unprecedented high volume of new home construction? The answer can be summed up in just two words: easy credit. Of course, there are other factors, but it is this ready availability of mortgage loans guaranteed by the government which has created and sustained the housing boom.

What Is Wrong?

Government pump-priming is not bad in itself. In a complicated and highly industrialized economy such as ours, it may become a necessary device in the promotion of our national interest. However, I am opposed to the abuses of pump-priming. The powerful Housing Agency is fostering today's dangerous housing boom. Through its easy credit terms, it is encouraging individuals to discard the principles of industry, thrift and resourcefulness which have made our nation great.

Easy mortgage loans are of dubious value if you take a long range viewpoint. They can prove disastrous following times like these when wages and prices are on an artificially high basis. I am greatly disturbed when I see young people getting involved in operations and commitments that can be justified only if these extremely favorable business conditions should persist. Some will lose the new homes which they so proudly and so easily acquired. Others will be able to keep them only at the price of difficulties due to expecting something for nothing.

Buy Larger Houses

Another aspect of the housing situation which distresses me is the size of the majority of the new houses now being built. In their zeal to keep costs at or near $10,000 per unit, builders seem to have concentrated on too small houses, many of which have only four rooms. Certainly these latter are not very practical for family living in the American tradition. Nor will they have a very good resale value. G.I.'s and others, lured by the bait of no, or at best a small, down payment and the promise of easy mortgage terms, should take time to think of these purchases in terms of future needs and future values. Perhaps if they were required to proffer a substantial down payment as were their fathers, they would be more discerning and more practical.

What Should We Expect?

A sharp decline from the present peak activity in home building now appears imminent, owing to the Korean trouble. However, I believe that the accumulation of deferred housing demand would have been satisfied before long anyway. Recent tightening of federal housing credit and a very material increase in government stockpiling of strategic materials should hasten the return to a more normal market in new home construction to provide for our expanding population.

It is probable that the present scarcity of housing in our larger cities may suddenly turn into a surplus. The day may not be far off when it will be difficult to sell some of these city units at any price because of the possibility of their being bombed and because of high city taxes and living costs. Also remember that today there is a home to every 4.1 persons; while the previous saturation point came in 1930 when the people were satisfied with one home for each 4.4 of population!

Don't Overlook Small Cities

I would not buy a house today in any of the larger cities of the United States unless it was essential that I live within the limits of one of them. Big city property valuations are too vulnerable. Yet, I would not hesitate to build or buy a house for my family's use with a 30% down payment in the better sections of most small American communities. I am convinced that the population trend away from the larger cities will continue, thus decreasing big city real estate values.

It also may be that an older type, well-built house in the best sections of these smaller cities is a better buy than a new house in the present crazy market. You may pay more for such a house than it originally cost to build, but you will still be getting it for about half of what it would cost to build today.

The Letter Box

Editor Plymouth Mail

"Re: Article Would Give Some Historical Name to New Street. I was interested in the name for the new street in front of the Geo. A. Smith School, as I have just read The Plymouth Adventure by Ernest Gebler—a chronological novel of those forgotten people whose spirit brought life to a New World.

"Do not by any means allow the new street to be called 'Tomato' or 'Turnip.' 'Corn Street' or 'Maize Street' would be more appropriate if we wish to be gustatory, for the 'New World Wheat' was planted the first year by the colonists with gardening instructions from the Indians.

"Among the names of the settlers these stand out: Brewster, Fuller, Allerton, Capt. Miles Standish, Gov. Bradford and John Carver. However, I would suggest John Alden for the name of the new street. Every one would connect it with our namesake town, and every child would know its meaning before leaving the Geo. A. Smith school. He was a cooper and carpenter, but mostly noted for marrying Priscilla Mullins. He lived in the New World longest of any of the ones who came on the Mayflower. He died in his 80th year—1687.

"These are suggestions only—something better may present itself."

Sincerely, Theresa Hamilton

Begin Children's Dancing Classes

Classes in tap, ballet, ballroom and square dancing are being offered to all children in Plymouth from four years of age on up, under the auspices of the recreation department. The classes will start on September 20 in the Central Grade school gym between the hours of four and seven and will continue through the entire school year. A nominal fee will be charged for the semester and will be payable at the first class.

The instructors will be Mrs. Parry and Mr. Van Pragg who are qualified under the Dancing Masters Association of America. Dancing gives children an opportunity to express themselves easily and well thus building up their self confidence. Every child participating in the program will take some part in the May Festival, which is produced by the staff at the close of the school year.

Blanks will be sent home with the school children. Parents of pre-school children may obtain blanks at the first class September 20.

By LYN CONNELLY

BY THIS FALL most of the big names in radio and screen will have entered television and it will mean the day of reckoning for amateur comedians, jugglers, acrobats and other vaudeville acts that have no place in the television world of tomorrow... Of the video pioneers, there are two great troupers who will be to the new medium what Hope, Cantor, Benny, Skelton and Allen were to the development of radio... They are Imogene Coca and Sid Caesar, stars of NBC's great program, "Show of Shows."

The fairer sex member of television's pride and joy is a veteran of the stage although she, according to her own opinion, has played in "nothing but dogs" on Broadway since she broke into show business 15 years ago... A dynamo on the air, in person she is so shy and retiring you hardly know she's in the same room... A dramatic actress, she was backstage one evening when she put on her director's polo coat, about six sizes too large, to keep warm. She appeared so comical that the producer of the show thought she would be a natural for comedy... He was so right that today we have TV's top comedienne and one of the few pantomime experts in the business.

Sid, too, became a professional by accident... He was a musician when he enlisted in the coast guard during World War II... Because of his natural wit, he was given the role of a comedian in the coast guard's great production, "Tars and Spars"... He played the same part in the movie and made his television debut last year... There was no intention of teaming Imogene and Sid... They were terrific as solos but it was inevitable that they would combine their talents in some of television's most hilarious moments... They go together like taffy on an apple.

Yes, television has come of age and a great deal of the credit will go deservedly to these two.
