TAKING AMERICANS TO HELP FRANCE.

Only the good Lord knows how many millions of American tax dollars we have shipped to France to help that country right itself. But what about France? What is France doing to help itself? Responsible American newspaper correspondents say that the French resist successfully every effort not only to raise their taxes, but to collect what taxes they now owe their government. But we poor saps in America keep on voting for the saps in Washington who keep feeding our tax dollars to a France that absolutely refuses to help itself! But why waste the space and time to talk about it!

ONE BRIGHT STAR.

As we look ahead to the future session of congress, we do see one bright star in the sky—it is the fact that a coalition of patriotic, American loving southern Democrats and northern Republicans, will maintain control of congress. For that, all true Americans can be thankful. The more we read about the south, the more we see of it, the higher grows our esteem for that section of our great America. These people are loyal Americans to the core, think American, act American and actually BELIEVE in America. That's a lot more than can be said about many, many of the nincompoops now running around in Washington.

DON'T BLAME THE KIDS.

There has been a lot of talk since Halloween about the conduct of some of the young people who raised havoc on Halloween. Much of the comment has been directed to the profanity and filth marked onto the most attractive Halloween scenes painted on store windows at the solicitation of school authorities.

Within hours after the students had performed such attractive work, much of it was shamefully lettered and smeared—so disgusting was some of it that one citizen who happened to see what had been done early in the morning, went about blotting much of it out.

But do not blame those who did the smearing too much. When those in a position to know better and to whom children go for guidance, give encouragement to what happened, place the blame where it squarely belongs.

Plymouth merchants have for years been doing all within their power to encourage and direct Plymouth youngsters into the right channels for fun and pleasure on Halloween. Up until two or three years ago they thought they were heading in the right direction.

Personally we still think they are on the right track—but where we fall down is in the proper guidance on the part of the elders. The hundreds and hundreds of boys and girls who filled the streets last week on Halloween, were seeking only fun. Possibly it is true that a half dozen or so, didn't know just what fun really means, but on the whole all the children wanted was something to do and something to laugh at. How easy it would be for Plymouth citizens next year to unite to make Halloween all that we hope for—and the kind that children will enjoy. It does take a little time, however, and a lot of wholehearted guidance.

THE INMATE SPEAKS.

The other day some one at the Detroit House of Correction kindly sent the writer a copy of the recent issue of the De-Ho-Co News, a publication issued once each month by the inmates of that institution. We have had occasion previously to say kind words about the publication and much of the matter it publishes.

In the last issue, however, there was printed an especially good article, written by two of the women inmates whose names were not given. There is so much of merit in the article that we think it worth publishing in full. While the article has been prepared chiefly for the benefit of prison inmates, we are sure you, too, will find it of interest. It follows:

It is an axiom that grief cannot be actively sustained over a long period of time. Shock subsides and bitterness dulls. These things may stay in us for years. There may be periodic outbreaks of tears and lamentations, but gradually these diminish in frequency and intensity. Nature has a way of offering substitutions for loss and heartbreak. It's up to the individual to take advantage of this. If one has character, strength of purpose and pride, one can force oneself to overcome "the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune and the mortal ills that human flesh is heir to." It isn't easy. God has given us free wills by which we may achieve our salvations, saying in effect "it's up to you."

Upon entering prison life most of us feel that we have had a raw deal, or if our attorneys had done such and such, things wouldn't have been so and so. Or we have in mind a dozen examples of more horrid crimes and guiltier people who "got away with murder." We can't stand being locked up, we hate the inmates, the officials, the food, the clothes—in fact we are inconsolable. Then old Ma Nature takes a hand. We look out a window, we hear a gay laugh. We hear a poor soul in the torments of delirium-tremens. There are shouts from the ball field, a clatter of pans from a kitchen. Someone puts a chair leg through a window in the hospital. Gradually, what has been shock and bewilderment becomes a dawning interest in a kaleidoscopic view of life—with a capital "L."

That first breath of outside air on leaving quarantine, is like a draught of wine to the weary traveler.

In becoming adjusted to cottage life, one is apt at first to try too hard to be a good fellow. You're an eager beaver and you talk too much. Result: Ostracism—by the gang on top. It takes a while then to get back in stride. But there are a precious few, salt of the earth, who stick by you from the beginning, steer you clear of entanglements, and put you stirwise. These few will be remembered and helped by you in their turn if the need should arise, because they stood by you at what was probably the most critical period of your life.

After a few months one finds that work, recreation and friendships have become one's little world, proportionately, as our interests build upon this new life, the things we have left behind begin to fade. Herein lies a great danger of becoming institutionalized, to a degree where we lose our sense of responsibility, loyalty and love for the existence from which we have been temporarily removed. Just as our fighting men became so integrated in military routine that it spoils numbers of them for civilian life; so are we liable to lean too heavily on supervision. We are apt to sink so deeply in the rut of a passivity as to lose all individuality. Psychologists agree that some hobby or activity is necessary for balanced living. These things are easily found here. But one must become interested. The late Gilbert K. Chesterton said: "There are no uninteresting things, there are only uninterested people." To retain our individuality, the thing we must avoid is idleness, physical, oral and mental. How easy it is for one to become immersed in petty intrigues, gossip and talebearing, just through idleness.

To avoid becoming too enveloped in this, our temporary life, we must not forget that beautiful world awaiting our return with all its opportunities, loved ones and the dear familiar things we cherish. Those of us who know in our hearts that we are guilty of that for which we were committed, should accept this supervision, discipline, separation and small deprivations as a golden opportunity to expiate our crimes here on earth. To quote once more from Bill the Bard: "To thine own self be true, and it must follow as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

Football Team Entertained by Presbyterian Club

Rising Costs Force School Board to Seek More Building Funds

Rising costs have brought members of the board of education face to face with the cold fact that the remaining $800,000 left in their building fund is insufficient to complete their building program. When bids were opened last weekend on the new school addition, to house the gymnasium and swimming pool, it was found that at least $800,000 was needed to complete the program voted by school electors here in March of 1949.

The increase has been brought about by increasing prices since the time the first of the projects was started last year. Actually the amount represents a 15 percent increase in the total amount of $1,350,000 voted by the people, which was considered enough to do the job last year.

Members of the board will submit immediately a bond issue to local voters in the amount of approximately $200,000 so that the entire program may be completed as planned in 1948. Actual cost to local taxpayers per year will be about 60 cents per thousand valuation during the next 15 years, the time which the bond issue will run if approved.

In fear that further price raises may send costs still higher before the bond issue can be done the board intends to let contracts immediately for as much work as the $600,000 that they have on hand will do. This means that the high school addition will be built and the gymnasium can be completed at once but that the swimming pool can only be formed of concrete and covered with a roof. The tile work and machinery which operate the pool cannot be

Kills Self With Accidental Shot

An accidental gunshot took the life Tuesday of Thomas G. Price, Sr., of 40721 Ann Arbor road as he sat in the kitchen of his home cleaning the shotgun. The bullet went through his heart.

Price had been playing cards with his wife, Lilly, and two of his daughters, Mrs. Stanley Prys-tup and Mrs. Elvin Fielhaber, when the accident occurred.

Surviving Mr. Price besides his wife and two daughters are two sons, Thomas, Jr. and William. Other survivors are a brother, William Price of Detroit and a sister Mrs. Mary Bendelow of Farmington and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow, Friday, at 2 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home, The Rev. Henry J. Walch will officiate at the service. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery.

Police Called to Graham's Aid

The doors opened Friday morning for the removal sale of Graham's apparel shop—and then it happened. Eager customers swarmed the store and by the time Manager Ralph Rostow had time to count, he realized the store capacity of 40 had almost been reached. Rostow appealed to the police department for help and Acting Chief Carl Greenlee came to the rescue. He cleared the store and stayed around for half an hour to make sure the limits would not be exceeded again. During the melee a table loaded with stock was turned over.

Fire Chief Robert McAllister stopped in the store later during the sale to make sure the crowds would not create a fire hazard.

Desperate Family Seeks Home Here

A mother and father and their six children are homeless, and are desperately seeking a place to live. The parents and three of the children are now living with relatives in one room and the other three children are now being boarded out.

Since all the children are under 16 years of age, all must live with their parents according to law. The father, an employee of the city, states that he is willing to pay 50 to 60 dollars for an unfurnished home but has been unable to find a place for his family.

Anyone who may have or know of a place for this family to live is asked to call The Plymouth Mail.

Holiday Street Decorations Set

Mammoth red bells and plastic Christmas figures will decorate the streets of the Plymouth business area during the Christmas holidays. This year's plans will be the first approach to obtaining real Christmas decorations for the city since before the war.

The work is being done through the efforts of Bert Giles, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee, who has launched the work this year as part of a three year program to give the business area a holiday spirit. About $1500 has already been spent for the decorations.

Prizes will also be awarded this year for the best decorated store front, the best decorated home front and the best decorated gas station. Mr. Giles also states that the committee would like to have residents place a Christmas tree or decorations in front of every home in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Taylor and small son, who have been residing on North Main street, have purchased a new home in Dearborn.

Landslide Vote For The G.O.P.

Plymouth, following its long established tradition of not going into hysteria at election time, went to the polls and voted as it always has, giving Republicans a nearly three to one vote over the Democrats.

It gave its local candidate for state representative, George A. Smith, the highest vote received by any candidate.

Local citizens also indicated to Congressman George A. Dondero that they highly approve of his work in congress, also giving him a high vote.

In the non-partisan election for probate judge, Plymouth gave its home town candidate, Judge James Sexton, the highest vote received by any candidate on the non-partisan ticket. His vote was 1787. The other two candidates on the non-partisan ticket running for reelection had something like 650 votes less in Plymouth than received by Judge Sexton.

The vote for candidates on the county ticket ran slightly under the average vote for state candidates, with Republican totals predominating strongly.

Plymouth Votes Charter Revision; Names Commission to Do The Work

Plymouth voters indicated by nearly a three to one vote that they want the city charter revised and brought up to date. It also adopted the two amendments asked by the city commission, which will be effective up until the new charter is written and adopted by the voters.

The total vote for charter revision was 1559 yes and 584 no votes. To prepare the new charter for the city of Plymouth, voters exercised their usual good judgment and elected nine for this important civic duty. There were ten candidates, Ruth Whipple, a candidate for something in nearly every election, being eliminated as a member of the proposed charter commission.

Margaret Jean Willoughby Is Bride of Stephen Carlson

St. John's Episcopal church was the scene Saturday, November 4 of the wedding of Margaret Jean Willoughby and Howard Stephen Carlson.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Willoughby of 44661 West Ann Arbor trail, was given in marriage by her father. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Carlson of Huntington, Indiana.

The double ring candlelight ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Alexander Miller before an altar of cascade mums and palms and huge candleabra.

Organ music was played by the organist, Mrs. Bonamici, preceding the rites and wedding hymns were played during the ceremony.

For her wedding, Margaret Jean chose a gown of exquisite blending of point de Venise lace and shimmering ivory satin designed in Florentine court lines. Accenting the long-sleeved, molded bodice was a capelet collar of lace outlining a deeply pointed neckline and winging out over the shoulders. The lace was repeated again in a peplum effect at the tiny waistline, and the gathered skirt flared gracefully to a wide circular train. She carried a lace handkerchief made from her mother's wedding gown. White roses and pinnocchio mums in a shower bouquet were carried by the bride.

Miss Georgia Madison, a college friend of Margaret Jean, performed the duties of the maid of honor. She was gowned in a bouffant dress of brocade in Gainsborough blue and her flowers were Johanna Hill roses in a colonial bouquet.

Miss Joan Willoughby, cousin of the bride, came from Ypsilanti to be a bridesmaid and she was gowned in duchesse satin of Gothic gold, waltz length and featuring a bustle back. The neckline was heart shaped, and she wore matching gauntlets with the cap sleeves. Her bouquet was of Talisman roses in colonial bouquet. Both attendants wore matching headbands.

Janet Willoughby was her sister's junior bridesmaid and wore a long blue taffeta gown with ruffle trim and a headband of pink taffeta. Her flowers were pink sweetheart roses.

George Kuebler of Angola, Indiana was best man and ushers were Robert G. Willoughby, brother of the bride, and John Sumner.

A reception was held following the rites in the home of the bride's parents on Ann Arbor trail.

For her going away outfit, Margaret Jean wore a suit of black and gold checks with a gold hat and brown accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Willoughby selected for her daughter's wedding a suit of charcoal grey crepe with a coral hat and black accessories with a corsage of chartreuse orchids and coral pinnocchio roses. Mrs. Carlson wore for her son's wedding, a suit of brown faille.

The young couple left by plane for Indianapolis, Indiana and then went on to Bloomington, Indiana where both will continue their studies. Margaret Jean working for her bachelor of music degree in church music and Stephen his master's degree in engineering.

Judge Nandino Perlongo, who with other lawyers of the city, has long been working for installing such fixtures and has collected funds to cover the expense from local business men and firms. The judge wishes to extend his thanks to all who aided the project.

Those who have contributed are as follows:

- Dunbar Davis $100
- Perry Richwine 100

Hold Offices in Retail Groups

The election of two local shoe retailers to executive offices of Michigan retail organizations was announced this week. James Houk of the Fisher Shoe store was elected to the board of directors of the Michigan Retailers' association and secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Shoe Retailers' association. Jack Wiloughby of Wiloughby's Shoe store was named first vice president of the Michigan Shoe Retailers' association.

The shoe retailers held their election Monday at the Hotel Statler in Detroit in conjunction with the Michigan Annual Shoe Fair. Houk will attend an annual meeting later in Lansing of the shoe retailers' association. Rowland Jones, Jr., president of the American Retail Association, will be the main speaker.

If you have any local news items, club news or any social news, call 1755.

Burroughs President to Be C of C Speaker

John S. Coleman, president of the Burroughs Adding Machine company, will be the guest speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce scheduled for November 30.

The yearly event will be held at the Hotel Mayflower at 7 p.m.

Engineer Speaks at U of M Club Meeting Nov. 15

P. H. Farrar, assistant to the director of the Engineering Research Institute of the University of Michigan, will be the guest speaker at the meeting next Wednesday, November 15, of the University of Michigan club of Plymouth.

The meeting will be held at the Veterans' Memorial center at 8 p.m. Mr. Farrar will tell of some of the work of the institute and illustrate his talk with slides.

The research institute has been doing industrial research for the past 30 years and is constantly carrying on projects that give valuable contributions to science and industry. Mr. Farrar was graduated from the university in 1929, receiving his degree in mechanical engineering. He is a member of the honorary scholastic societies Tau Beta Pi, Phi Kappa Phi and Sigma Xi.

Since his graduation he has been associated with the Packard Motor Car company, the United Engineers and Constructors of Philadelphia and the Columbia Mills Incorporated.

PTA Schedules Father's Night

Father's Night is featured at the next meeting of the Starke Weather PTA November 16 at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

A colored sports film entitled "Tuna Tournament" will be shown, according to Mrs. James Thrasher, program chairman. The visiting teacher, Miss Mildred Field, will speak briefly on various phases of her work. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. D. Wood, Mrs. V. Peck, Mrs. J. Johnson and Mrs. E. Ebersole.

Co-chairmen Mrs. H. Paulger and Mrs. E. Ebersole state that the rummage and white elephant sale October 26 was a successful undertaking, gross proceeds were $20.

An unusual feature of the event was the special advertising done by members of Miss Verlie Crawford's fifth grade. The children marched uptown wearing colorful costumes assembled from the donations and carried placards announcing the sale.

In North East, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Alice K. Montgomery tried again in the "For Rent" column of the North East Breeze: "68 calls for the apt. I advertised last week but still for rent. No children over 6 mos. No dogs. No drinkers. No cigarette smokers."

Weather Man Turns Off The Heat With Severe Snow and Sleet Storm

That Weather Man! He certainly upset the applicant last weekend.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, he showered his beaming, sunny face on Plymouth and the rest of Michigan to such an extent that folks thought the summer that didn't arrive during the summer, was making a belated appearance.

But Thursday, Friday and Saturday! What a "hack" he proved to be. The mercury skidded from 81 on Wednesday to 55 the next day, then down to freezing Friday and Saturday.

Not only did he turn the freezer button on, but he gave this area a shower, then turned the shower to snow. It snowed Friday night. It snowed Saturday and Saturday night.

It not only snowed, but it froze the mudpuddles that dotted the streets and other low spots.

It was about as wintry a weekend as this section of Michigan ever experienced so early in November.

There have been other early snowstorms, but none quite so early as this one for a number of years back. Last year it was after mid-November before weather like such as experienced last weekend was experienced.

Fortunately all crops have been harvested so no damage resulted to farmers—but numerous traffic accidents in the snowstorm resulted in several deaths about the state and damage to many automobiles that went skidding along highways. A few frozen radiators resulted because of the belated action of some auto drivers in having sufficient anti-freeze in their cars. It looks very, very much like an early winter.

Announce Hours For Red Cross Blood Donations

Hours for receiving blood donations at the high school, when the Red Cross mobile unit returns to Plymouth on Tuesday, December 5, will be from 2 to 8 p.m. Mrs. Lee Sowle, blood program chairman of Plymouth branch, announces.

Prospective donors will save themselves time and avoid confusion by registering in advance. Appointments may be made for any quarter hour between the hours stated by calling Mrs. Henry Penhale, branch chairman, at Plymouth 252-W.

While the primary object of the return visit of the mobile unit is to replenish the local blood bank and keep it in readiness for any emergency, Plymouth residents may also donate blood for the armed forces on this occasion, Mrs. Sowle said. With fighting still going on in North Korea, regular shipments of type "O" blood from the Detroit center are continuing. These shipments are sent to San Francisco by air express in refrigerated cases, and from there are flown overseas by the Military Air Transport Service. Blood shipped from Detroit is being administered to wounded GIs in Korean hospitals within 48 hours. Red Cross officials report.

Army doctors say that whole blood from the United States has been an important factor in the quick recovery of the wounded. As many as 20 pints of blood have administered to a single soldier.

What to Do in Atomic Attack

You can live through an atomic attack—if you follow the directions issued this week by the Plymouth Civil Defense Council. By following the council's advice, survival is possible if an atom bomb were dropped in the area.

The council's directions follow: 1. If outdoors—and given an air raid warning—get to cover. This may be a public shelter, the nearest building, your own cellar. Even a tree will shield you from bombs, a thick wall from most gamma rays.

2. If outdoors—and given no warning—you will know the burst by the sudden glare in the sky. Keep your back to the glare and drop to the ground with your face on your arms and eyes closed. Cover your head and any exposed part of your body with anything available—newspaper, coat, scarf—just anything. Stay in that position for a full minute.

3. If indoors, drop to the floor with your back to windows to avoid being hit in the face by flying glass. Get behind or under a desk, table or bed. If you have time, get to the basement. Either way stay where you are for a full minute at the least.

Increase Traffic Violation Fines

Fines for traffic violations are being increased. Judge Nardino Parlono of the Municipal court warns drivers. The hike in fines is due to the growing number of violators issued tickets by the city police in the past few weeks.

Judge Parlono states that the increased fines may help in reducing traffic violations. He added that fines for violations of city ordinances go into the city treasury as well as fines for county and state offenses.

Woman Struck by Auto on Main St.

Elsie Mae Tomes of Ferndale was injured last Friday night when she was hit by a car driven by Douglas H. Shaw of 15674 Stamford road, Livonia, as she crossed Main street in front of the Veterans' Memorial center.

She was taken to Sessions hospital in Northville. She received a fractured leg, a head cut and bruises. Shaw, a student at Michigan State college, was not held by the police. ### Report Increase of 33 Percent in Natural Gas Use

George L. Mayhew

James P. Thomas, Jr.

A growth of 33 percent in the number of natural gas customers of Consumers-Power company in western Wayne county was reported today by George L. Mayhew, district manager of the company's new West Wayne district. This district includes Plymouth, Wayne, Northville, Farmington and the townships of Plymouth, Northville, Novi, Farmington, Livonia and Inkster.

"At the end of the war there were 7,900 natural gas customers in this area," said Mr. Mayhew. "By the end of 1950 the number will be about 10,500, a gain of 33 percent. It was this rapid growth that led to the establishment of the West Wayne district. With a district office and staff in Plymouth we will be in a better position to meet the needs of our customers as western Wayne county continues to grow."

The West Wayne district is one of four districts just established in the former Pontiac division, now the Southland division.

James P. Thomas, Jr., formerly was distribution assistant of the Flint division, has been appointed district gas distribution superintendent of the district.

Mr. Mayhew joined Consumers as a storeroom clerk in Charlotte in 1937 and later became office clerk and senior clerk. Since 1945 he has been local manager in Howell. During World War II he served in both the European and the Pacific theaters, winning four battle stars and other decorations.

Mr. Thomas, a graduate of Michigan State college, joined the Consumers graduate student training program in 1947 in Jackson. In April 1949 he went to the Lansing division as a gas distribution assistant, and three months later he was transferred to the Flint division.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From J. Risor Camryn of Seattle, Wash.: I remember an annual chore right after Halloween. It was moving the back house. It was my job to dig the new hole. I got so good at it I could have qualified for membership in the grave-diggers' union. A new coat of whitewash inside and out completed the job. It smelled sweet and clean — better than some modern bathroom installations, for there was no odor of disinfectant. We always did it after Halloween for pranksters upset it for us on Halloween.

From Mrs. Mary Stewart of Chicago: I remember when these remedies were used: flax, honey and lemon syrup for colds, paregoric for stomach ache, a hot salt bag for earache, tea leaf poultices for sore eyes, a live leech for a bruise or black eye (leeches were sold in drug stores), pitch and resin poultices for backaches, onion poultices for bronchial coughs and brown sugar and soap for a boil or carbuncle. How many other old-timers can remember remedies used in the old days? Let's hear from them.

From Mrs. Camille Culotta of Melrose Park, Ill.: I remember when the streets in Melrose Park were made of cedar wood blocks and the sidewalks were made of planks. The fields were full of wild flowers such as goldenrod, Shooting Stars, daisies. Those were the good old days!

From Mrs. Emma Howell of Angola, Ind.: I remember when these songs were popular: "After the Ball," "Beautiful Katy," "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," "The Maple on the Hill," "Red Wing."

This Hunter Sure To Get His Deer

There is one Plymouth deer hunter who is going to get his buck this year—there isn't much question about that.

For the past week or so Glenn Smith has been tramping the woods up around his cottage on Pettibone lake, looking for a good deer trail.

A few days ago he came across a trail down through the woods that looked like a cow path, so many deer had tramped over it. After finding the trail and to make sure it was a good one, he did as all good deer hunters do—he watched it for a day or so to make sure that it was as good as it looked.

It wasn't long before he was fully convinced that the trail was as fresh as a daisy in May. Then it was that he started to build a blind that would fool the most wary of cagy bucks. He's got port-holes through the leaves and brush so that he can look and shoot in any direction. Not only that, but he's been watching the direction of prevailing winds in that locality and discovered that most of the breezes that blow up around Pettibone lake are from the north, west or south. Seldom is there an east wind to carry the scent of a hunter. Being a good deer hunter, he located the blind a hundred feet or so to the east of the trail—and now all he has got to do is wait for the season to open, take some reading matter, hot coffee and a hamburger with him out to the trail and blaze away at the first buck that dares show his antlers anywhere near that blind.

P.S.—Don't ask him just where the blind is—all he will tell you is that it's somewhere up north.

Officials of the Champion Corrugated Container corporation were guests of the Rotary club last Friday. Representing the company at the meeting were Secretary John M. Falda and sales service manager, Ronald Healy.

Mr. Healy outlined the type of work done by Champion and gave a brief background on the materials that the company fabricates from kraft paper. Several interesting packages were displayed that had been designed by Champion designing engineers and the process of die cutting and in printing corrugated materials was told about by the speaker.

The company is one of the leaders in industrial box manufacturers and specializes in corrugated containers for all types of merchandise.

Cross - Country Squad Takes First in League

Rocks Finish Fifth in State Competition

The Plymouth Rock cross country squad is having one of their best seasons as they topped the league meet October 27. This was the first time a Plymouth team has done this. The Rocks placed five men in the first team for a score of 31.

The squad has been aiming for this meet all season. Coach Moiso states that he is very proud of his boys for the fine showing they have done this year. In the State meet held November 4 the Rocks again fulfilled Moiso's hopes as they finished fifth in a field of 27 schools and about 160 boys running. Alma surprised everyone as they finished first with a very good score of 73 by taking first, second, 15th, 27th and 28th. Dick Rucinski finished first for Plymouth being 24th in the field of 160 which is very good. Balogh came in 37th, Briolat 40th, Beaver 45th and Davis 56th. The meet with Cranbrook this afternoon will be the Rocks' last meet of the year. So far the squad hasn't lost a dual meet.

Recreation Dept. Classes

CERAMICS
The first ceramics class of the year, under the direction of Mrs. Meier, concluded Tuesday evening. Many beautiful china dishes, figurines and jewelry were made by the members of the class. Another class will follow immediately on Tuesday evening, November 14. If you wish to register, please call Mrs. Donnelly at the recreation office, 2975.

TYPING CLASS
Miss Olson's typing class which meets Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. will continue for three more weeks. We hope to have another class starting in January.

SEWING CLASS
Many attractive garments were made by members of the two sewing classes taught by Mrs. Lila Humphries. Since the classes were small, Mrs. Humphries was able to give a great deal of individual attention. The next six weeks course will begin early in January. Register now if you are interested.

The swimming class for women at the Wayne County Training school on Wednesday evenings is now full. Registrations for the class beginning January 3 can be made by calling Mrs. Donnelly now.

Better Lock That Door at Night

Did you lock that store door last night? Did you leave one of your windows open when you went home after closing hours? You did? Or didn't you?

Any way you had better look out—or the police man might be sending you a bill or a warrant or something.

No—not quite yet. He's going to give you another chance, but if the carelessness of Plymouth merchants does not end pretty soon, the city commission might pass an ordinance making it an offense for any business man to leave his place unlocked at night.

The city authorities are going to be more than fair about it. City Manager Al Glassford has sent out a very kindly hint to all the business men of the town as to what might happen if they keep on leaving their places of business unlocked at night.

It seems that a lot of local business folks can't get over the habit of thinking that Plymouth is the same sort of a law-abiding city it was back some 30, 40 or 50 years ago, when no one ever thought of locking up his store or even his house at night time. The stores did have locks on the doors, but they were seldom locked except when Night Watchman George Springer would stroll by and turn the key in the door—just because something might happen, which never did in the old days.

But things are different now. A lot of folks haven't got the same ideas they had years ago—so you'd better lock-up at night-time, or you may be looking outside from inside the city house-gov.

Rivals Deadlock 0 - 0 in Final Game of Season

In one of the best played and most exciting games of the season, the Plymouth Rocks and the Northville Mustangs came out in a deadlock 0-0. Both teams fought very hard and several times threatened to score. However, the defense of both teams was very sharp. The Rocks had several bad breaks throughout the game that saved Northville from defeat. In the third quarter the Rocks had only six inches to go for a touchdown but the Rocks were penalized five yards for off-sides and this saved the Mustangs.

The starting lineup for the Rocks was Dick Cramb and Charlie Stark at ends, Gary Sockow and John Britcher at tackles, Jack Robinson and Bob Keeney at guards, Bob Gow at center and in the backfield, George Hunter, Dave Travis, Phil Jacobus and Ron Davis.

Northville kicked off to Plymouth to the 33 where the Rocks were held and Gow punted to the Northville 30. However, the Mustangs were off-sides so the Rocks took the penalty and Gow kicked again to Northville with Northville coming back to the 40. Plymouth's line was all pepped up as Bob Gow stopped them for no gain and Jack Robinson pushed them back for a yard loss. A pass was incomplete making them kick to the 30 with Plymouth coming back to the 45. Jacobus then picked up five yards and on two runs Davis made it a first down on the Northville 49. A pass from Hunter to Jacobus got them to the 30 but a five yard penalty and a 15 yard one forced Plymouth to kick to the 33. The Rock line held as Charlie Stark made a neat tackle for no gain and Northville punted to the 45. Jacobus then picked up four yards and Travis about six yards with three inches left for a first down. George Hunter picked this up with a quarter back sneak giving the Rocks another first down. On a pass the Rocks line failed to hold the Mustangs and the Rocks lost eight yards. On the next play Northville intercepted a pass but was called back as the Mustangs were handed a 15 yard penalty giving the Rocks a first down on the 35. Again Northville intercepted a pass and this time it was good. Northville started to roll picking up two first downs to the 36. The Rocks held here and Northville punted to the 20 with Jacobus coming back to the 28. The Mustangs held Plymouth here and Lanphear punted to the 40. Travis then intercepted a pass on the 35 and moved back to the Northville 40. A pass from Hunter to Jacobus brought the Rocks down to the 13 yard line. Northville intercepted a pass here and when they attempted a pass Travis intercepted again. This didn't help much as Northville just intercepted another Plymouth pass as the half ended.

Gow kicked off for Plymouth in the second half to the 30. On the first play John Britcher recovered a fumble on the 28. Dave Travis then moved the ball for a first down. Hunter picked up six yards and a five yard penalty to Northville gave the Rocks another first down on the seven yard line. On three plays the Rocks had six inches left for a touchdown when the Rocks were handed a five yard penalty for off-sides. A Northville line man had started to charge when a Plymouth man jumped over the line so it was just a bad break for the Rocks.

Northville then took over and moved to a first down. Britcher made a nice tackle for a yard loss but the Mustangs raked up another first down on a five yard penalty to the Rocks. Plymouth then stopped Northville and they punted to the 49. After Davis had picked up five yards Plymouth fumbled and Northville recovered on the 45. Daggett made a good tackle for no gain as the third quarter came to an end.

Northville then kicked into the end zone giving the Rocks the ball on the 20. The Rocks could not do anything so they punted to the 45 with Northville coming back to the mid-stump. After a five yard penalty the Mustangs completed a pass to the 33 for a first down. Another pass to the 25 gave them another first down. Tackles by Daggett and Gow for no gain didn't stop Northville as they picked up another first down to the 13. A Northville pass was no good and after two running plays they had three yards left for a first down. Here the Mustangs tied a field goal which was no good and gave the ball to the Rocks. Lanphear kicked out to the 43 with Northville coming right back with a first down. A 15 yard penalty set them back to the 40 and saved the Rocks. Two passes were no good and Northville punted to the 15. The Mustangs then intercepted a Plymouth pass taking the ball over again. A pass was no good but a 15 yard penalty to the Rocks gave them a first down. A Northville pass was incomplete with 14 seconds left in the game. On the next pass Dave Travis moved in to intercept again and almost got away for a touchdown before being tackled on the Northville 40 yard line. This ended the game and the season for the Rocks.

Grange Gleanings

The Grange meeting of last Thursday night was well attended. A fine pot luck supper was enjoyed as usual. Mr. Austin Pigno gave us a great deal of information on the Blue Cross. The election of officers resulted as follows: master, Charles McConnell; overseer, John Oldenburg; lecturer, Isabel Taylor; secretary, Elsie Ehrensberger; treasurer, Henry Ehrensberger; steward, George Loomis; assistant steward, Charles Rionas; lady assistant steward, Mildred Rionas; chaplain, Della Hauk; gatekeeper, E. Vealey; Ares, Marilla Coverdale; Pomona, May Bridger; Flora, Mrs. Jackson. Plans were made for the coming year.

Be sure to come to the big party on November 11. Bring your friends and there will be door and table prizes. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Cole is still confined to her home, she is very lame.

The membership contest under the leadership of Louise Tritton will close at the next meeting of the Grange which will be on November 16.

Lily club next Monday evening at the hall as usual with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oldenburg and Mr. and Mrs. McConnell as hosts. All members, old and new, are invited. Bring your neighbors, your card table and either sandwiches or cake.

The beautiful quilt on display in Plymouth Hardware window will be given at a later date to some lucky person. Watch for the date.

In Bloemfontein, Union of South Africa, a bulky lion that had refused to move into its new cage at the Bloemfontein zoo scrambled right in when an attendant gave its tail a hard bite.

GIVES 12 TO 64% MARGIN OF SAFETY OVER OTHER TIRES UP TO 24% GREATER PULLING POWER!

It's a fact! The new B. F. Goodrich mud-snow tire lets you stop on slippery ice or snow in from 12 to 64% shorter distance than other leading tires—a margin of safety that can make the difference between a safe stop and a collision. And the BFG tire gives you up to 24% greater pulling power to get you through deep snow, ice, by Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory, famous independent testing agency from 1907.

The new mud-snow tire is not just an "improved" tire. It has a real, big, new, scientifically designed tread. The new flex-lug cleat digs deep, pulls you through mud and snow. It combines tremendous traction with long wearability. Yet it runs quietly on the open road.

PULLS YOU THROUGH MUD TOO! The BFG mud-snow tire digs into mud like a tractor tire. Lets you drive over bad roads or open fields without getting stuck.

Get winter-driving peace-of-mind like you never had before. Small down payment puts a pair of B. F. Goodrich mud-snows on your rear wheels now, before the first snowfall.

Quaker Miller to Appear Before Methodist Club

Kenneth Bisbee, vice president of the local Methodist Men's club and chairman of the program committee, announced today that one of the most dramatic and deeply stirring human interest stories in all history will be shown to the public, free of charge, next Thursday, November 16, at 8 p.m. at the First Methodist church.

The program will feature Perry Hayden, the "Quaker Miller" of Tecumseh, Michigan, who in 1940 planted a cubic inch of wheat that grew in six years to cover 2,666 acres of land, producing a harvest of 72,603 bushels of wheat worth $150,000.00. Mr. Hayden will speak and show his world famous color sound movie, "God is My Landlord."

The inspiration for Mr. Hayden's experiment was the text of a sermon preached September 22, 1940, which spoke of wheat. It attracted the attention of Hayden, head of a milling firm in Tecumseh, an active Christian layman and an enthusiastic tither. He decided to "take God at his word and see what would happen" by planting, harvesting and tithing wheat.

That very week, Hayden planted one cubic inch of wheat seed, 350 kernels, on a tiny plot of land, 4 feet by 8 feet, furnished by the late Henry Ford. Hayden determined to pay a tithe of the crop, as commanded in Malachi 3:10, and to replant the remaining nine-tenths, repeating this for six years as God commanded in Leviticus 25:3. The 1941 harvest was one quart; the 1942 crop 70 pounds; the 1943 harvest 16 bushels; the 1944 harvest 370 bushels. The 5th harvest in 1945 amounted to 5.55 bushels, all grown on land furnished by Henry Ford who said "This will go around the world."

The sixth and final harvest in 1946, required 2,666 acres of land, supplied by Christian farmers of 30 denominations, Protestant and Catholic, and the result of that harvest was 72,150 bushels of "Dynamic Kernels of Wheat." Robert Ripley of "Believe It Or Not" fame, stated that if the project continued until 1950 it would require all the land in the United States, and by 1953 would cover every acre of land in the whole world.

Perry Hayden is a dynamic speaker and has addressed audiences in the United States, Mexico and Canada, covering most of his engagements now by plane. The film "God is My Landlord" taken over a six year period, is packed with human interest, and graphically depicts what has been called the "greatest tithing demonstration in all history." The public is cordially invited. There is no admission charge. A free-will offering will be received.

A Midwest atomic scientist says it is possible to make a hydrogen bomb to destroy all human beings. It may be possible, but it's hardly profitable. Give a scientist a few chemical test tubes, and then leave him alone for a while... and he never seems to know where to stop. A bomb that would destroy everyone is carrying the idea of quality too far. The way this atom juggler tells us, the universal boom would take 5 to 10 years to concoct and would cost about 40 billion dollars. That would take a lot of taxes, and there would be no one left to pay them. It just isn't practical.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Care When Cooking Brings Out Rich Flavor of Stewing Chickens

The rich flavor of stewing chickens and the large proportion of meat to bone make them a good choice for Plymouth shoppers who need to watch the food budget. Of course, they take longer cooking than tender young birds, but the delicious results are well worth the time.

For soup, salad, fricassee, pie, and most of the other dishes in which chicken is combined with a variety of ingredients, stewing hens or fowl are the best choice. Most of these require cooking the chicken until tender before boning and combining with the rest of the ingredients.

Except for soup, it's important to keep as much of the flavor as possible in the chicken. To do this, add enough boiling water to the chicken to barely cover it and simmer for two to three hours or until tender, adding 1/2 teaspoon of salt per pound of chicken after the first hour of cooking. Leave the chicken in the stock to cool; otherwise, the meat is likely to dry out.

These older birds, even when cooked for a considerable time may have a tendency to be stringy. To offset this, cut the meat across the grain after removing it from the bones. There will seem to be a more generous portion of meat if you keep it in slightly larger pieces than the dark meat.

To get all the good out of these old birds, utilize the fat for various cooking purposes. Its flavor is delicate enough so it can be used in baking, especially for space or cake for cookies, and toppings for meat or chicken pie.

When the chicken is being prepared for a pie, strip off all the large pieces of fat you can. Cut it in small pieces or put through a food grinder and place in the top of the double boiler over boiling water. Heat until fat is melted, then strain through fine sieve. Cool and store in the refrigerator.

After the cooked chicken has cooled thoroughly there will be a layer of fat on the stock. This may be scraped off carefully and used for cooking. This is fine for making sauces and gravies, while the other is better for baking.

It isn't necessary to have special recipes for using chicken fat for such things as cookies and gingerbread, but you will need to make a change in the amount of shortening because of the richness of the fat.

For one cup shortening called for in the recipe, substitute two-thirds cup chicken fat, and increase the liquid in the recipe one-fourth cup.

IT'S WISE to have two types of pressing cloths for keeping clothes in good condition. One should be of muslin, while the other should be a drift cloth.

When you need assistance in pressing a garment, as in some silks and rayons, cover garment with a dry drift cloth, then with damp muslin cloth. Steam penetrates the drift cloth but does not leave sheen on garment.

If you press woolen garments until they're completely dry, you will undoubtedly have sheen on them. If they're left slightly damp, the garment looks better.

Keep a small sponge in a dish of water right on the ironing board. When parts of fabric dry before they're pressed, they can be dampened readily without your moving away from the board.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Raisin-Peanut Clusters
 1/2 cup dark molasses
 1/2 cup corn syrup
 1 teaspoon vinegar
 3 tablespoons butter
 2 cups shelled peanuts
 1 cup raisins

Cook molasses, corn syrup and vinegar until hard ball stage is reached (230 F.). Remove from heat and add butter. Stir until blended with syrup; add nuts and raisins. Drop by spoonfuls on greased pan. If candy hardens while you work with it, put pan over low heat and stir vigorously until it softens.

To prevent seam marks on the right side of the fabric when pressing dresses and suits, slip a narrow strip of cardboard between seam and garment while pressing. If sheen appears on cotton garments while you're pressing them, use a damp muslin pressing cloth.

Does the garment you have possess lots of gathers? They'll look more perky if you lift the clothing as the point of the iron goes into the gathers.

All seams should be pressed up from the bottom or in towards the center of the garment. Keep the iron moving as you work; never let it rest on the material.

Darts on light fabrics should be pressed to one side, either up or towards the center. On heavy fabrics, slash the darts and press open.

If you have trouble with skirts bagging in back, choose or make a style with two or three gorges across the back. They do not have the tendency to bag that a narrow cut in two pieces—front and back—does.

This is the season to apply the old saying about eating an apple a day. They are plentiful and offer economical and nutritious additions to your menus.

Prune Pie Makes Economical Autumn Dessert

Prunes, we know, are good for us, and make particularly fitting fare for small fry. Besides, they're plentiful and economical. And even this elegant chiffon pie is economical, for it's one of the delicacies so easy to concoct with the new gel-cookery methods utilizing unflavored gelatine.

A good and glamorous selection for an autumn dinner dessert, it's one that will tax neither your time nor your funds.

Prune Chiffon Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatine	1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup water	3/4 cup cooked prune liquid
1/2 cup sugar	2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt	3/4 cup chopped, cooked prunes

Soften gelatine in water. Mix together sugar, salt and flour in saucepan; add prune liquid. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from heat; add gelatine, stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice. Chill until slightly thicker than unbeaten egg white. Beat with rotary egg beater until fluffy. Stir in chopped prunes. Whip evaporated milk. Fold gelatine into whipped milk. Turn into pre-baked pie shell. If desired garnish with whipped cream and pieces of prune. YIELD: 1 9-inch pie.

Shorter Skirt Lengths Seen in Winter Fashion Previews

The sheath silhouette, the shorter lengths, the free use of braiding, cord and velvet, the abundance of plum tones, plaids and weaves and woolsens of many textures all predict the casual, accented with the elegant, for the fast-approaching season of winter, 1950.

Choose fall '50's suit of sleek sheen gabardine. It will be deep plum in tone, styled with a slim, slim skirt relieved for walking by pleats placed low or a buttoned slit. It will have a long-line jacket (26-inches) with sleeves that melt into the shoulders; a long, narrow rever collar or French-imported horseshoe neckline and gently padded arched hips.

Choose your first dress of fall. This year, it's the color "black." It's a wallpaper-slug sheath of wool crepe, relieved by a pleated flounce around the hemline; femininely lovely with its scooped-out neckline, its unmounted sleeves and exciting touches of self-color braid or velvet.

Choose your all-important coat. The "Pyramid" that surrounds you; close at the shoulders, voluminously full with a surprisingly slender look down to your seven-eights or full-length hemline.

Choose your furs. Select the "little pieces," the muffs and the stoles and the capes that lend such great elegance to your every costume. Or make yours one of the shorter length, narrow-line coats of heavenly midnight blue Persian Lamb with sleeves that push-up to reveal dramatic up-to-the-elbow-and-then-some crushed gloves, with a lining of burnt orange contrast to the blue of your coat.

Choose your late occasion apparel with an eye to the "separates." Take, for instance, a clan plaid pure wool floor-length skirt (in a clan that complements your escort's dinner jacket or trousers) with a linen blouse that carries out one of the brilliant colors in the plaid of your skirt.

Choose your country-time clothes and include sweaters that are designed as blouses and developed to match the banker's grey or vintage tones of your flannel arrow-narrow skirt.

Choose leisure-time wear, again with an eye to the "separates." This time, you want a just-like-real zebra workkit; a vivid green wool jersey blouse; a plaid smoking jacket with deep revers of velvet; and a corduroy skirt that billows and is in sharp difference to the rest of your fashions for fall, 1950.

HALF A BIRD AS GOOD AS ONE

It's true! Turkeys are bigger and better this year and what's more, the large birds are budget buys. Small families may take advantage of these low prices by buying half a bird.

Better yet, buy the whole bird, have it cut in half and put one half in your freezer.

Turkey Frozen Solid?

Frozen turkey may be thawed in the refrigerator, at room temperature or by running cold water over it. It takes about one hour per pound at room temperature.

To Make Ready

An oven-ready turkey is ready to stuff when you get it home. Rub the cavity with salt. Skewer the skin over the breast meat on the bone edges to keep the meat moist. Tie the leg to the tail and leave the wing flat against the breast. Tuck the neck skin under the back.

Now for the Stuffing

Prepare savory stuffing, allowing one to one and one-half cups cubed bread per pound of turkey. The bread should be two to three days old.

Savory Stuffing

3 quarts bread cubes
 1/2 cup minced onion
 1/2 cup minced parsley
 1 cup diced celery
 1 1/2 tablespoons salt
 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar
 2 teaspoons rubbed sage
 1 teaspoon pepper
 1 cup melted butter
 1/2 cup giblet broth

Toss all ingredients together

lightly. Place wax paper on the rack of the roaster. Make a mound of the stuffing and put the bird over it, cut side down.

Juicy and Golden Brown

Brush the bird with melted fat and cover with cheesecloth dipped in melted fat. Roast without covering and without adding water in a moderately slow oven (325° F.). Allow 25 to 30 minutes per pound.

Faithfully,

Harry Kelly Met Old Friend Here

When former Governor Harry Kelly visited Plymouth the other night with a group of Republican candidates and was making a brief but interesting campaign talk, he noticed a familiar face in the audience.

Several noted the fact that he diverted his attention to a couple sitting not too far from the back of the room.

When the meeting was over and he was starting to leave the hall, he made his way to where the couple was standing in the hallway.

"I'm sure I know you, but I just can't recall," said the busy former Governor.

"Yes, we know each other. I knew you back in Illinois where I lived when you were a boy," said Mrs. Leo Kowalek, 412 Main street. Her maiden name was Pauline Wilkinson.

It seems that the Kellys and Mrs. Kowalek were childhood acquaintances. Not only were they acquainted with each other back in Illinois, but after both families had moved to Michigan, Mrs. Kowalek had been in the Governor's office in Detroit way back when he was practicing law with his father. The senior late Mr. Kelly had been attorney for Mrs. Kowalek's grandmother and she had visited the Kelly law offices with her grandmother.

They took time to exchange greetings and recall some of the old days back in Illinois.

Hunt Elk, Bag Wild Flowers

That 4200 mile trip taken by Matt Powell, Bert McKinney and Dewey Cobb to hunt duck, geese, bear and elk up in the wilds of Canada some 300 miles north of Lake Superior, ended—in what do you think!

A flower picking expedition! That's the confession of Matt Powell, who frankly admits that the three daring hunters never saw a thing to shoot at.

"One day we thought we did see some elk up on a hillside but they were so far away that even one of Uncle Sam's long range guns couldn't have reached them with a shell. We even tried to catch a trout or two in Lake Superior. We trolled that rolling old lake like nobody's business but we didn't get a strike," admitted Mr. Powell.

"But we did thoroughly enjoy the weather. We took felt boots along and enough clothing for an Eskimo, but all we needed was summer shorts—and we didn't have those. When we got tired of looking for game, we started picking wild flowers that were in blossom everywhere throughout the woods. Never saw anything like it. Last year we got frozen out and the snow was so deep we could hardly wobble around—and we were up there at the same time of year. It's a wonderful trip, but I guess next year we'd better go some other way, maybe up in Labrador," he said.

Ladywood High School News

By Betty Wilhelm
By Way of Introduction—Have you heard? A new school has been added to the state of Michigan—Ladywood High school, for girls interested in a Catholic education. What about me? Well I'll just let you in on what will be happening at Ladywood every month.

Three courses were offered to the girls at the beginning of the year. They were commercial, general and academic. The faculty consist of Sister Mary Laudine, principal; Sister Mary Claver, Sister Mary Joela, Sister Mary Paulette, Sister Mary Petronia, and Sister Mary Sophronia. On Wednesday, Miss Lucas teaches ballet to those who are interested. The rest of the week Miss Newcomb teaches modern dancing and sports.

There are 42 girls attending Ladywood, coming from eight neighboring parishes. The sophomores proudly have 13 and the freshmen have 29. Four girls are from Plymouth.

Ladywood Echoes, our school paper, is published monthly. We are very proud of it and in order

Bird in hand that's a Beauty

and a Buy!

Now it can be told. This clean-lined, smart-stepping 1950 version is the most popular Buick ever built.

Ever since early in the present year, a value-wise public has been taking them away from us as fast as—or faster than—the great Buick factories could roll them out. Within recent weeks, production and sales have set an all-time record.

Count off the distinguished and time-tried features of this winner and you'll know why:

It has a Very Exclusive Motor—Buick's own high-compression Fireball—which gets its driving power from a combustion chamber found in no other car in the world.

It has the bump-smothering softness of coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube drive—a comfort combination that no other car provides.

It has Dynaflo Drive®—which ushered in a whole new concept of effortless travel.

It has a brilliant styling which sets it apart from every other car on the road.

And it has prices which say "buy me" to any motorist who's looking for maximum money's worth.

Isn't it sensible, while these great cars are still coming off the line, to check with your Buick dealer about getting one to call your own?

Only Buick has Dynaflo—and with it goes:

- HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.)
- NEW PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fender, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights.
- WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road-view both forward and back.
- TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius.
- EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles.
- SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube.
- WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Buick by Fisher.

Students Collect Over $700 For Fund Campaign

Failing to meet a goal of $1,000, Plymouth High school students ended the United Plymouth Community Fund and Torch campaign Monday, October 30.

At the last collection the students contributed a total of $704.65. In addition the three grade schools contributed $240.99 which brought a grand total of $705.55. The money will be distributed as follows:

40% Plymouth Community Fund and Torch Drive	$282.22
10% Tuberculosis	$70.55
10% National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis	$70.55
10% Red Cross	$70.55
10% National Cancer Foundation	$70.55
10% Crippled Children	$70.55
10% Reserve	$70.55

From the 40 first hour classes only 19 contributed better than 50 cents per student.

Junior Committee Selects Class Rings

Members of the junior class committee selected their class rings last week when a representative from the Terryberry company met with them.

Rings may now be ordered from Hernek's Jewelry store. Juniors may choose from three varieties. Members of the committee are Betty Salmon, chairman; Marjorie Thomas, Jane Truesdell, Marilyn Strautz, John Baiteher, Lee King, Gay Boes and Charles Merryfield.

English Students Attend U-M Play

Attending the department of speech's presentation of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by William Shakespeare, in the Lydia Mendelssohn theater in Ann Arbor, Thursday, November 2 were 32 students from the English classes of Plymouth High school.

The play, which was presented November 2, 3 and 4, was produced by the Speech department assisted by the Little Symphony, chorus from opera workshop and chorography by physical education for women, University of Michigan.

The students, supervised by Miss Elizabeth McDonald and Miss Louise Spence, went to Ann Arbor by school bus.

Burroughs Have Library Display

A display by Burroughs main plant in Detroit was arranged in the high school library last week as the first of a series of displays on local industry.

Photographs show the production in the plant from the raw materials through the finished product. Also on display were books about industry and an adding machine, calculator, and schematic accounting machine from the Burroughs plant.

Senior high students will be shown a movie, "In Balance," in a few weeks. This is a story of the distribution of profits in industry. Robert Marsden has charge of the arrangements for introducing the film to the students.

Don't Fear Failure

HERE'S THE STORY of a young man who was so afraid of failing that all he could do was to fail.

He is Wilham M. Brass, who has told me this story in the hope that it will help someone else who is beset by nervous fears.

He awoke one morning nervous and ill at ease. Perspiration was actually pouring from his body before he had done anything to warrant it. He had failed at his first job, and felt he would do no better in another. And he had a family to take care of.

Carnegie

This morning, with his nervousness at an all-time high, he went to the kitchen for a cup of coffee to bolster his morale. His father was visiting him at the time and as Bill entered the kitchen, there he stood. "Bill, what's wrong?" he inquired.

Bill told him he was afraid to tackle the job ahead of him, for since he had failed at the other one, there seemed little hope for this one.

"Bill," said his father, "you had to fail, first because you have had no experience; second, you're too young, but, third, and far more important than the other reasons, you were so darned afraid of failing that it was the only thing you could do. Now knowing this, it's up to you to figure out what to do."

Bill's new job was selling. He decided he'd lick it, and this is how he won:

- 1—He placed himself in the position of meeting and talking with a lot of people.
  - 2—He made up his mind to use youth as an asset.
  - 3—He had the strength of youth, and could do more than some older people who hadn't his physical stamina.
- 3—He would not think about failure and he wouldn't worry.

That was two years ago. Just now Bill is leading his firm in a sales contest.

Costume Parade Lead by Bands

Witches and ghosts rained the streets of Plymouth Tuesday afternoon when the Central, Smith and Starkweather grade school children held a parade with one half of the high school band leading the Central grade school, one half the Smith grade school and the Cub Scout band leading the Starkweather grade school. After the parade the Chamber of Commerce sponsored a party with ice cream and refreshments for all.

The children wore a wide variety of costumes suggesting that some mothers spent a long time and much hard work on them.

Hi-Y Chapters Show Film on Senior Prom

"Senior Prom," a movie in color sponsored by both chapters of the Hi-Y, was shown during the noon hour on November 1 in the auditorium. This movie covered the subject of invitations, dress and preparations for the party, corsages, meeting parents, conversations, exchange dances, refreshments, leave-taking, after party supper and far-wells.

Your Police Department Speaks

Written by members of Plymouth's Police department

Last year in Michigan 49 pedestrians were killed in traffic accidents and another 7,494 were injured—some of them very seriously. Who was to blame?

The facts, and the question they pose, are the reasons behind the State Safety Commission's current traffic safety education program.

Last November 27 pedestrians were killed—more than in any other month of the year. Saturday was the worst day, accounting for 22% of the total, 6,247 were killed during hours of darkness, and the worst three hours were 4:00-5:00 P.M.

The theory of the pedestrian safety program, according to the State Safety Commission is that nearly 90% of all traffic accidents are caused by the pedestrian. The most common cause is carelessness, according to the National Safety Council, are collisions between intersections and crossing against the light.

Nearly one-half of the pedestrians who are killed in the city each year are crossing between intersections, from behind parked cars, walking in the roadway, playing or lying in the roadway, or hitching onto vehicles. With such a widespread disregard for their own lives, is it any wonder pedestrians kill themselves off with such amazing regularity?

The November traffic safety theme, "Beware of the Careless Walker," is sponsored by the State Safety Commission and is being conducted in cooperation with the National Safety Council's "Operation Safety" program of traffic safety promotion.

News Of and For the Farmer . . .

Efficiency to be Dairy Profit Key

Good dairy farm management in 1951 will call for a large output of milk with continued emphasis on efficiency. Total milk production in the year ahead will be about the same as for 1950—dairy product prices* will be slightly higher.

The economists point out that while dairying will be profitable, dairy prices will continue low relative to beef and hog prices, as they have for several years. Demand is expected to rise faster than dairy product supplies, but price rises will be slowed down because of the storage stocks of butter, cheese and dry skim milk.

A changing fats and oils situation is seen as a favorable factor in the dairy outlook. Edible vegetable oils production will be lower. Reduced cottonseed and peanut production is expected to more than offset increases in soybean production. Higher fats and oil prices will bolster butter and other dairy prices.

Many farmers who have switched to marketing cream off the farm in recent years are expected to go back to selling milk in 1951. Less butter will be produced as demand for other dairy products expands. Continued high consumer incomes will result in a greater proportion of milk used for fluid purposes.

Economists believe that with volume a major goal in 1951, it may not pay for the dairyman to cull as closely as in the past year unless he is sure of replacements. They also suggest feeding grain at fairly liberal rate to high producing cows. The farmer who can substitute high quality roughage for expensive protein supplement will be able to reduce costs without lowering production.

In Richland Center, Wisconsin, awaiting a hearing on charges of stealing a car from a used-car lot, Ervin Kristiansand and Herb Weiland broke out of jail, escaped in another car stolen from the same lot.

Send Michigan Produce Abroad

The farmers of Michigan contributed one railway freight carload of beans to the Christian Rural Overseas Program's Friendship Food Ship which was dedicated to hungry people overseas on United Nations Day in Chicago. Raeburn D. Rosendaal, CROP's Regional Field Director for Michigan, is seen above with part of the cargo during loading ceremonies at a busy downtown Chicago river pier.

From the farms of Michigan and 16 other states the flow of food directed by the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) to feed the needy in Europe and Asia is gaining volume for the fourth season of CROP activity.

How the sharing of food by individual farmers with the world's needy amounts to a substantial total has been demonstrated by CROP in its first three years. More than 3,550 freight carloads of various foods have been collected, sent abroad and distributed through the three parent agencies: Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service and Lutheran World Relief. This year they are aiming at 1,450 carloads.

The central ideas of CROP's program are that food in kind sent by bona fide farmers is a lot better than money and (2) that the spirit of Christian good will is essential in a gift, even in such practical items as corn and beans.

These principles were emphasized when CROP ceremonies started a Friendship Food Ship from Chicago on United Nations Day, October 24. Aboard the freighter were quantities of food symbolizing the carloads soon to move from farm centers to seaport, and dried eggs and powdered milk contributed from government surplus stocks. Children in the costumes of their parent lands brightened the scene and a band provided by the courtesy of the Chicago Federation of Musicians played the national anthem.

Peerless Worker Grows Big Corn

Besides his ability to build a home for his family, Martin O'Konski, an employee of the Peerless Products company of West Territorial road, has just demonstrated the fact that he knows too, how to grow yellow corn that is corn.

As proof of his ability to produce the unusual in corn raising, there was brought to the office of The Plymouth Mail from the O'Konski farm, which is located on Weed road just off Territorial, an ear of corn that measures more than 13 inches in length and eight inches in circumference.

This ear of corn was said to be just a sample of a small field of exceptionally large corn. No special care was given the field, except that it was well cultivated and planted early in May, when all good farmers should plant their corn. The corn is DeKalb No. 406.

When he built his home he did all the mason and carpenter work only calling in help when one man could not do the work alone.

In Toronto, at the Canadian National Exhibition, a thief stole wax hands from two dummies in the "Crime Does Not Pay" exhibit.

Potatoes Need Good Ventilation

Well-ventilated potato storage will minimize losses from late blight and other soft rot.

One thousand bushels of potatoes put in storage at 52 degrees and cooled to 44 degrees in one month will give off about 75 gallons of water, they say. Electric fan forced ventilation is recommended, especially when air space is limited between the top of the potato pile and the warehouse ceiling.

Michigan fruit and vegetable growers may run into local insecticide shortages in 1951, say MSC agricultural economists in their outlook opinions. Orders should be placed early, particularly for those containing chlordane and benzene, such as DDT, toxaphene, chlordane and benzene hexachloride.

The increased use of milking machines is the most important development in handling milk on the farm in the past 30 years. The U.S. Department of Agriculture says that mechanical cooling systems are second in importance.

A good ventilation system is a necessity for the dairy barn, say Michigan State college agricultural engineers. Continuous breathing of damp, foul air lowers the vitality of cows and makes them more susceptible to disease.

A litter at least six inches deep in the floor of the laying house will help keep the house dry during damp winter months, say Michigan State college extension poultrymen.

Don't plan on applying lime on top of snow, caution Michigan State college soil scientists. As the snow melts, even on almost level land, the lime will be moved some and give uneven distribution.

Artificial breeding permits service from a bull of much higher quality than a farmer can usually afford.

Greeley's New York Tribune was the first paper in America to recognize Charles Dickens as a great writer.

Next Thursday, November 12 the Michigan Fire Prevention association will make a fire inspection of the mercantile houses and industrial plants in the village. Once every month the association designates one town in the state where inspections of this kind are made, and Plymouth was the fortunate town to have this inspection made this month.

Miss Lulu Barnes entertained the Junior Bridge club Thursday, October 23.

A quiet home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Beyer at eight o'clock last Saturday evening, when Miss Gretchen Kopp and Herman Weiblen were united in marriage. Rev. Charles Swasen performed the ceremony in the presence of only the near relatives of the bride and groom.

The conference of the Michigan District of the Joint Synod of Wisconsin, Michigan and other states, which held its sessions at St. Peter's Lutheran church of Plymouth, October 27-29, was attended by 45 pastors from all over the state.

Next Saturday, November 7 marks the 90th birthday anniversary of one of Plymouth's most honored citizens, Edward C. Leach, who was born in Livonia township November 7, 1835, and is one of the oldest, if not the oldest man in Plymouth.

Mrs. Warren C. Hull of Lansing is visiting her sister, Miss Anna McGill.

The next meeting of the Young People's Society of Livonia, will be held November 10 at the home of Harry Pankow.

Roger Babson Says...

Babson Discusses Elections And Where Money Is Safest

In the even-numbered years, such as this, the spotlight—even locally to some extent—is thrust upon candidates for the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives. Yet, the hillybobs of congressional campaigns should never divert our attention from our local state elections.

Importance of the States

While the results of contests for places in our national congress will vitally affect all of us, we cannot afford to ignore our state elections if we expect to preserve the Federal System which our forefathers so carefully planned and for which they sacrificed so much. We should be intensely interested in seeking men of the highest ability, integrity and foresight as our representatives at the capital of each individual state. The legislation enacted in the States and administered by the governors surely determines the stability of our Federal System.

The times are now so many and so delicate that every mediocre state government impairs the welfare of the whole country. Recent trends from democratic forms of government to dictatorship have occurred only in those nations where mediocrity and sometimes downright stupidity have prevailed in local and national government circles. In all such cases, this mediocrity and the stupidity of the government officials can be traced to indifference and sheer laziness on the part of the people as a whole.

Need for Able Governors

When I was a young man, the office of governor of a state was a highly honored one. In those days, even the governors of our sparsely settled mountain states, which had so many money problems, had to do much good American civic and common sense to go to the Great Father in Washington with hand outstretched, seeking financial aid. In those days, the states were independent and proud of their independence, and well run.

This year 22 of our states will elect governors and 11 of these governors will serve four-year terms. I am a statistician, not a politician. I have no political axes to grind. However, I strongly urge upon businessmen and investors the importance of voting next Tuesday for good men in the selection of governors and other state officials. Capable men are as much needed in these state offices as in the national government in Washington. Sometime, in the not too distant future, the present business boom will be over. When that time comes, we shall have need of strength in government at the state, as well as the national level.

Our State Legislatures

Congress now overshadows our state legislatures, particularly in troublous times like these when so much of our attention is focused on foreign affairs. Yet, this is no reason why we should neglect our state legislatures as we do. We ought carefully to select worthy men to represent us at our state capitals. When we do elect them, we should see to it that they do our bidding. It is shocking to observe people failing to vote and even ignoring the work of the state legislature after voting. Yet, in states where the legislature meets in a large city, a mere handful of citizens will attend public hearings on very important pending measures. This is a crime against democracy.

Perhaps, we could arouse more interest in our state governments and actually achieve better government if legislative hearings were held at more convenient times. Such hearings are now held weekdays in nearly all states. Only 18 states regularly hold public legislative hearings during the early evening hours.

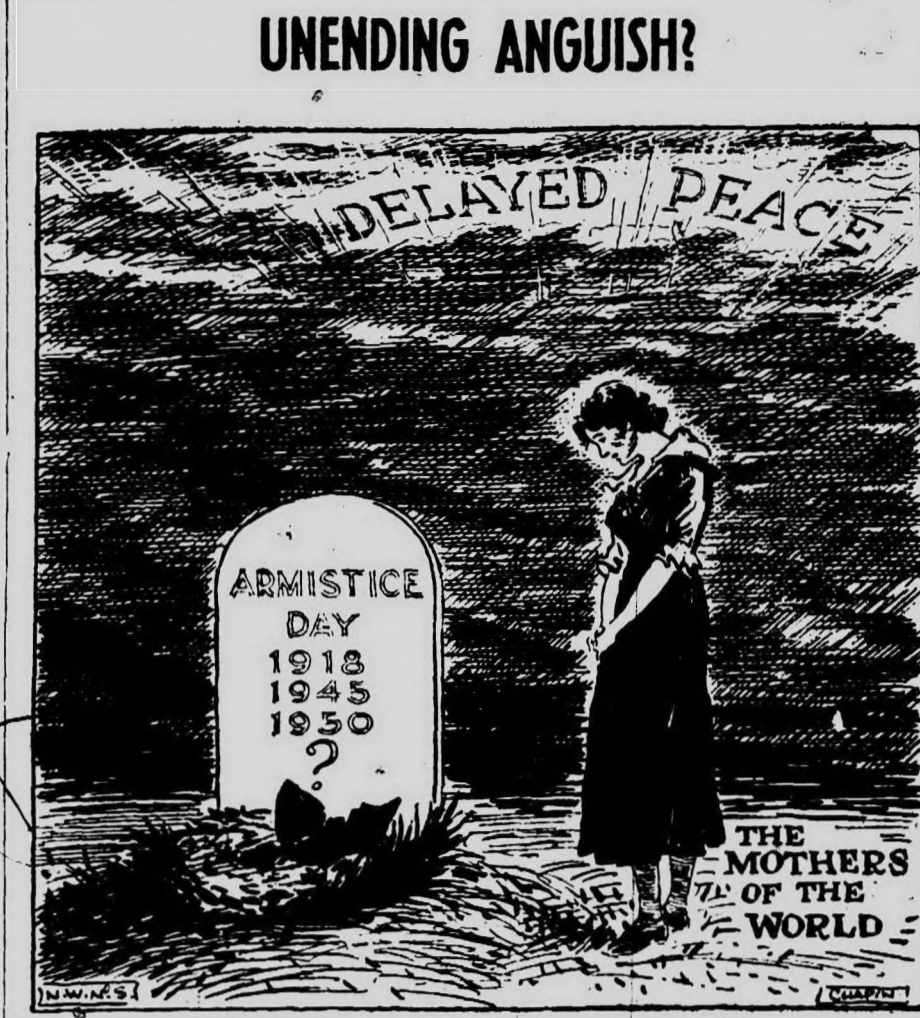

Twelve other states hold evening sessions for very important hearings. Does your state hold night hearings at a time when working and business people would be free to attend? Saturday is the one day in the week when farmers could pay special attention to the problems of state government, yet only eight states regularly hold public legislative hearings on Saturdays. A more intelligent policy in this regard would make for better business, safer investments and hence better wages. I recently decided to deposit money in the safest sections of the U.S.—I selected banks in the capital cities of 20 interior forward looking states.

Students Attend Region Congress

Fifteen Madonnites and two faculty members, Sister M. Joella and Sister M. Assumpta traveled to Cleveland, Ohio during the weekend to attend the regional congress of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Sister M. Paula, president of Madonna college, and nine other faculty members were among the administrators present at the annual meeting of the Association of Catholic Colleges of Michigan. The meeting was held at Sacred Heart Seminary, Detroit. The main address, "Theological Background of the Catholic College: Theology, Queen of the Arts and Sciences" was delivered by the Very Rev. Walter Farrell, O.P., author of the celebrated "Companion to the Summa, a modern commentary on the work of St. Thomas Aquinas."

A meeting of the Michigan Association of College Registrars and Admissions Officers was attended by Sister M. Paula and Sister M. Romiga, registrar, at Central Michigan State college in Mt. Pleasant. College enrollment data was stressed at the meeting.

Overseas Mail Deadline Nov. 15

The Post Office department again this year is making a special effort to move Christmas mails early.

The department reminds postal patrons that November 15 is the deadline for mailing all packages destined for overseas delivery, but the department urges that such parcels should be sent as soon as possible.

In order to carry the mail early to the public, the Post Office department is presenting a series of radio programs over the Mutual Broadcasting System network.

The programs, all dramatic documentaries, in the series are scheduled for November 19, "American Railroads Carry the Mail," December 3, "United States Airlines Carry the Mail," and the final show on December 17 will be "Uncle Sam Delivers the Mail." All of these shows are scheduled to appear on "Washington Report."

THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

"KUKLA, FRAN AND OLLIE" recently celebrated its third anniversary in television along with the 33rd birthday of their genius creator, Burr Tillstrom. . . . Being a veteran in an infant industry is certainly unique, but the fact remains that Burr and his lovable Kuklapolitan players were in TV long before the medium caught the nation in its visor grip. . . . They'll be here for many moons to come — the only show of its kind we can honestly say this about. . . . And all the credit goes to Mr. Tillstrom who has made such endearing personalities out of his creations. . . . Incidentally, the gang has made its first record album and it's a honey for the kiddies. . . . On RCA Victor (what else?), it's entitled "Happy Mother Goose" and we take this opportunity to nominate Ollie the singer of the year for his stirring baritone rendition of "Sing a Song of Sixpence."

TILLSTROM

PLATTER CHATTER

COLUMBIA: Edith Piaf has recorded "La Vie En Rose," which she popularized, and it fits her like a glove. . . . The other side has "Three Bells" . . . Dick Jurgens has a lovely number in "Just a Baby's Prayer at Twilight" with "Under a Polka-dot Sky" on the flip. . . . "Autumn Leaves" is given an excellent send-off by Mitch Miller. . . . "Song of Delilah" backs it. . . . Jimmy Dorsey revives two oldies which were popular once and threaten to repeat. . . . "Let a Smile Be Your Umbrella" and "In a Little Spanish Town" . . . New, pert Rosemary Clooney has two winners in "I'm the One Who Loves You" backed by "Where Do I Go From You" and "Wobblin' Gobbler" backed by "Punky Punkin'."

CAPITOL: Stan Kenton returns with a sizzler, "Be Easy, Be Tender" with "Love for Sale" on the reverse. . . . Peggy Lee's latest is "Life Is So Peculiar" with "Once in a Lifetime" on the flip. . . . Jan Garber does a fine job on "Rainy Day Refrain" and the bright new "So Long, Sully."

Madonna College Adopts Projects

Madonna college will officially adopt the work of two more NFCCS commissions on its campus this year, namely, Liturgical-Marian and Mission work.

The decision was reached at a student assembly held on November 3, as an aftermath of the NFCCS Regional Congress.

Reports of the 15 Madonnites who attended the Regional Congress at John Carroll university in Cleveland on October 28-29 were submitted at this meeting. During the discussion that followed, a majority decided that the Socialis group on campus was active enough during the past year to take on commission projects.
