Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gow and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Runge are Bill's parents.

Congress Shall Make No Laws Abridging the Freedom of The Press

What I Think and Have A Right to Say

By ELTON R. EATON

PLYMOUTH TURKEY GROWERS.

A while back there was published an article in The Plymouth Mail pertaining to the somewhat extensive turkey growing business in this vicinity. Shortly after that there was much printed in the Detroit newspapers about the bad conditions of a turkey farm over in Oakland county near Farmington.

To the credit of all the turkey growers in this area, their turkeys are raised under as near perfect conditions as are possible to maintain. Not since the beginning of the industry in this area has a flock ever been infected with any poultry disease. One can visit any of the turkey farms in this area and see for themselves how well these flocks are cared for.

ONE PLACE TO SAVE TAX DOLLARS.

Now that the people of this country have indicated that they do not want any part of socialized medicine, there is one place where congress can go to work with the meat axe. It can trim the appropriations that has enabled a fellow known as Dr. Ewing to spend your tax dollars and my tax dollars in a nationwide propaganda campaign in favor of socialized medicine.

Maybe, Republicans, with the aid of some of the Democrats in congress, can eliminate him entirely from his government pay check. And wouldn't that be a good thing to do!

Our School Tax Rate

Because of the fact that Plymouth school district voters will on Monday, December 11 be asked to vote an increased bond issue in order to secure sufficient funds with which to complete the badly needed school buildings that have been started, The Plymouth Mail recently requested county authorities to provide accurate information pertaining to existing tax rates for school purposes of other districts in this part of Wayne county.

You will be amazed to discover, as we were, that Plymouth's school district is one of the lowest in the entire area.

It not only proves that Plymouth's schools are operated most economically and without waste, but that the taxpayers of this vicinity pay the smallest school tax rate in the extensive area where there is a remarkable industrial development.

Those in a position to know, have figured it out with the increased valuation that has been added during the past year to the assessment rolls and that will be added within the next year, even though the new bond issue is voted, there are prospects of even a lower tax rate than the present one. It is for our children — therefore let's everybody vote YES at the school election on Monday, November 11.

The comparative tax figures for 1950-51 for school districts in this area follow:

District	Tax Rate for School Purposes
Nankin 3 (Patchen)	26.90
Taylor Township S/D	26.329
S/D of Village of Wayne	24.599
Ecorse 9 (Allen Park)	23.599
Redford 1 (Redford Union)	23.40
Nankin 1Fr. (Cooper)	22.90
Romulus Township S/D	22.899
Livonia Township S/D	22.68
Ecorse 11Fr. (Melvindale)	20.899
School District of Garden City	20.899
Northville 2Fr. (Northville)	19.50
Northville 3 (Deckay)	17.50
Northville 6Fr. (Hinman)	17.50
Plymouth Township S/D	15.899

Form Association of Band Parents

Parents of members of the three Plymouth school bands will hold the initial meeting of the Band Parents association next Monday, December 11, at 8 p.m. in the high school. Special music will be on the evening's program.

W. O. Revelli, director of the University of Michigan band will be on hand to address members of the newly formed organization. A steering committee consisting of 18 parents met Monday night to coordinate plans for the group. The association will meet once a month.

U-M Club Sing on December 10

The University of Michigan club Christmas Sing will be held December 10 at 8 p.m. at the home of Evered Jolliffe. Everyone interested in the university is invited to attend the holiday event.

Mrs. Charles Root, Jr. is the chairman of refreshments and reservations. All who expect to attend are asked to place their reservation by calling Mrs. Root at 1939-J. Mr. Jolliffe is in charge of the music for the evening's program of Christmas carols. This will be the fourth affair sponsored by the club this season.

School Board Meets Dec. 14

The board of education will meet December 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school instead of December 12 as originally scheduled.

Vote Monday to Decide Whether This Will be a Shell or a Completed Building

The responsibility of finishing the interior of the proposed High School addition, shown above in a sketch by Thomas Moss, will lay directly in the hands of local voters next Monday. The school board is asking for an additional mill of taxation and voters must approve this issue if the interior of the building which will house the gymnasium, swimming pool and band room are to be entirely completed. Funds voted by the electors in 1949 were not sufficient to bring the school building program to completion because of rising prices. However the board has been able to reduce the original schedule of tax assessment to the point where local taxpayers by voting the increased funds will still pay less for all school building taxes than they had thought they would when they voted the original $1,350,000 appropriation. "Give Your Children a Real Christmas Present This Year." VOTE YES on Monday.

Complete City's Christmas Street Decorations....

Bert Giles, right, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce city decoration committee, points to where one of the giant ornaments are being strung across Main street in preparation for the Christmas holidays. The work will be completed by the end of this week. Others working on the annual project are, left to right, George A. Smith, chamber secretary; Frank Terry and Marvin Partridge.

Latvian Family Brought Here by Methodist Church

A Latvian family was welcomed to Plymouth last week by the congregation of the First Methodist church who sponsored the family's trip here in cooperation with Church World Service.

The Latvians, Mr. and Mrs. John Bortins and their 11 month old son, will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Root Jr. of Ann street. The church paid their expenses here from New York City and will assist them in settling in their new country.

Both the Bortins attended universities in Latvia and Mr. Bortins is qualified as an agricultural expert and mechanic. He is now arranging for work of that type here. The family formerly made their home in Riga, Latvia.

Mr. Bortins was a schoolmate of the son of the Rev. M. A. Burghman of Canton, Michigan, who met the family in Toledo and accompanied them to Plymouth. The family was greeted last Thursday at the Methodist parsonage by the pastor, the Rev. Mcbourne I. Johnson, and members of the Women's Society for Christian Service of the church. George Bowles was in charge of the committee that made arrangements for the family's trip here.

Utilities Crews Go to Storm Areas

Six crews from the Utilities Line Construction company of Plymouth were sent to the east coast last weekend to assist in the repairing of wires downed by the recent storms in that area.

Use Evening Hours to Avoid P.O. Rush

Post office hours have been extended to 8 p.m. daily until December 23 to accommodate the Christmas rush. Postmaster George Timpona urges that residents avail themselves of these later hours and avoid the crowds doing business during the day.

Detroit offices of the Edison company also sent two crews east for emergency work.

Coleman Spurs Chamber to Greater Accomplishments

About a hundred local business men and representatives of local industry were in attendance at the Chamber of Commerce annual meeting at the Hotel Mayflower last Wednesday evening. The principal address of the evening was given by John S. Coleman, president of the Burroughs Adding Machine company.

Mr. Coleman did an outstanding job in outlining the functions of a Chamber of Commerce and told of the many benefits an industry as well as a city itself receives from an active Chamber organization.

"The Chamber of Commerce is an American institution and it must work for the whole community in which it operates," Mr. Coleman said. "A good Chamber of Commerce must also have the support of the entire community to be an effective agent. To many times it is taken for granted that new industry will be done but that thing never come to pass unless the members of a Chamber of Commerce take an active part in their organization. You get more out of this organization than you put into it."

"One of the Chamber's most important functions is to stand as a vanguard between government and local industry. England governmental controls have never been lifted and it is the responsibility of a Chamber to see to it that war time controls are temporary and that the voices of the people can always be heard. A Chamber should be the focal point of a community. It should help its industry expand. It should devise ways to attract new industry. It should at all times work to create an atmosphere in which industry can work."

Take Entries For C of C Contest

The Utilities Line Construction company will complete all the city street decorations this week, according to Bert Giles, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee.

Mr. Giles also announces that entries are now being taken for the Christmas decoration contest for homes, service stations and store fronts. Entry blanks for the contest are on page eight, section one of this issue of The Plymouth Mail.

Prizes for the contest, in each division, are $25, first prize; $15, second prize, and $10, third prize.

Use Evening Hours to Avoid P.O. Rush

Post office hours have been extended to 8 p.m. daily until December 23 to accommodate the Christmas rush. Postmaster George Timpona urges that residents avail themselves of these later hours and avoid the crowds doing business during the day.

Voters Go to Polls Monday on School Building Program

Next Monday, December 11, is the date of the special election called by the board of education when Plymouth voters will consider the proposal of an additional mill to school taxes. The additional mill is necessary to raise $245,000 needed by the board to complete the present school building program.

The new addition to Plymouth High school, now being started, cannot be completed without additional funds. The addition is to house a gymnasium, swimming pool and band rooms. Since originally the board has found the cost of the addition, the board has found the cost to absorb the one mill tax increase and also help reduce the millage previously voted at the time the school board launched the building program.

With present funds the board could only partially equip the gymnasium, house a pool and eliminate the band rooms. With the growing enrollment in Plymouth schools a much larger gymnasium is definitely needed and a pool without necessary plumbing would be useless.

Every voter of the school district is urged to go to the polls on Monday to vote on this important issue. The polls are located at Plymouth High school and will be open from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Masonic Lodge Elects Officers

William Michaels was elected worshipful master of the Plymouth Rock lodge, P. & A. M., at the annual meeting last Friday night. He succeeds his son, Mel Michaels, to the leadership of the lodge.

Other officers elected Friday were Walter Gregory, senior vice warden; Earl Ottensman, junior warden; Leslie Evans, treasurer; Dick Strahl, secretary; Wang Livingston, senior deacon; Charles Chappell, junior deacon; Henry Agosta, chaplain; Paul Simon, pianist; Harold Mackander and Harry Gerst, stewards.

Annual reports of officers and committees were presented and plans for the lodge's trip to Milwaukee in the spring were discussed.

126 Donate to Local Blood Bank

The Red Cross Bloodmobile's visit to Plymouth Tuesday was successful with 126 pints of blood donated by Plymouthites. A total of 171 people registered. This brings the Plymouth Blood bank quota beyond its goal of 100 pints. A number of pints of blood will be sent to Korea.

Mrs. Lee Sowles, chairman of the Blood Bank, wishes to thank all donors and registrants for their cooperation in making the drive a success.

Three Enlist in Army Air Force

Three recent enlistments of Plymouth boys was announced this week by Sgt. William Long, local army recruiting officer. Those signing up include Thomas E. Fisher, 425 West Ann Arbor trail, air force; Charles J. Krawczewski, manager of the local Western Union office, air force, and Harold A. Secord, Jr., 671 Jener street, air force.

Plan For 50 Homes

Ten acres of property adjacent to the new George A. Smith elementary school may be made into a new subdivision if the plans of the Garling Construction company are accepted by the city.

Garling's purchased property from Frank Patrick of Detroit. Plans for subdividing the area are now in the hands of City Manager Albert Glassford and will be brought before the city planning commission soon. Forty to fifty new homes will be constructed in the subdivision pending approval by the commission.

The plans will have to conform to Plymouth's subdivision ordinance regarding lot sizes, street widths, sewage disposal and other regulations involving the building of a new residential district. If the plans are approved by the commission, construction of the homes will probably not begin until next spring.

Charles Adams, Garling official, stated, in announcing plans for the subdivision, "We have always had excellent cooperation and assistance from the city of Plymouth in our new building programs. We hope that our present plans will be accepted as we feel the project will be for the good of the community in offering better housing at moderate cost."

The site was chosen by Garling's because of its proximity to the Smith school which would serve families living in the subdivision. The type of home planned has not been announced but they will be of modern construction in the moderate price range.

Local Man's Life To be Dramatized

The life of Robert Wesley, the sales and advertising director of Daisy Manufacturing company, will be dramatized Thursday, (tonight) over Detroit radio station WWJ. The Mark Adams program which is sponsored by the Employer's Association of Detroit will present the program on their regular dramatization feature hour.

Each week the life of some Wayne county resident is dramatized and Mr. Wesley will be the first from Plymouth to be on the program.

Cass S. Hough, executive vice president of the Daisy Manufacturing company, also is interviewed in the Wesley story and presents an interesting history of the company and explains many of the company policies.

Lions District Officer Speaks

Cecil Creel, Lions deputy district governor, will address members of the Plymouth Lions club tonight at the meeting in the Hotel Mayflower. Every member is urged to be present to hear this important speaker.

The local Lions board of directors announces that a ventilator fan has been donated by the club to the Leader Dog school at Rochester. The fan was originally donated by Lion Ward Jones for the club's golf party last year and will now be presented to the school.

Fire Damages Cards Garage

A fire in the garage of the Brodie Cards home at 354 North Mill street caused about $250 worth of damage last Monday night. The Cards' automobile was not parked in the garage at the time of the fire but a new work bench and other materials stored in the garage were destroyed.

Fire Chief Robert McAllister was attending the city commission meeting at the time the alarm came in. The fire truck reached the fire in less than one minute after the alarm was sounded.

U-M Instructor Talks on Charter

Marvin Tableman, assistant in the government research department of the University of Michigan, discussed procedures of city charter revision at a meeting of the Charter Commission Tuesday night at city hall.

Donald Sutherland, chairman of the commission, urges every citizen to attend the charter commission meetings and offer any suggestions that may assist the members in the revision work. The group meets on the first and third Tuesdays of the month at 8 p.m.

A bake sale will be held at Our Lady of Good Counsel church on the mornings of December 10 and 17.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

Don't Fight the Uncontrollable

WHEN J. B. Ogle, Owings Mills, Maryland, was serving under Admiral Ted Chandler he was ruffled every time he stood before the Admiral's desk—and those occasions were frequent. The thing that annoyed him was a beautifully inscribed and colored phrase on the wall over the Admiral's desk. When he reported to the admiral these words glared at him: "I care not a damn what the weather be, did you bring in the ship?"

Carnegie

"You'd care about the weather if you had to be in it," rose to his tongue. But you don't say things like that to your admiral. The only relief he got was in talking it over with a fellow officer who agreed with him and said the sentence irritated him, too.

One day it became the painful duty of his fellow officers and himself to report to the admiral, that what was left of their convoy was safely anchored in the harbor. J. B. Ogle was so worked up that nothing mattered, and he blurted out "What is left of those fine ships is just so much junk, but they are still afloat and I want to tell you that sentence over your head didn't help in any way."

To his surprise, the admiral didn't get angry. Instead, he smiled and replied in calm, even tones: "Ogle, I've known for a long time that that statement bothered you and I expected you to blow up about it before this. It has annoyed you because you have worried about it, and you haven't taken the trouble to think about it. I do not care about the weather, and if you face the facts, you don't, either. You or I can do nothing about it, but we can do something about the ship. You can take all the necessary precaution to weather the storm, you can make preparations for facing the enemy—the rest remains with God. You'll find, Ogle, it will be like that all through life. Don't torment yourself about things you can't control but use your ability on what you can control—and then have faith."

Later the admiral was mortally wounded in the Lingayan Gulf and Mr. Ogle's former fellow officer was with him. The officer sent Mr. Ogle a simple card on which he had written: "Joe, he cared not a damn about the enemy, but he brought in the landing force—successfully."

Aid Farmers in Water And Soil Conservation Methods

Soil conservation districts and their benefits are now available to 82 percent of the farmers in the United States. Michigan has kept pace with other states with 65 organized districts and 57 counties, covering more than 80 percent of the actual farm land in the state.

Many people ask the question: are farmers and soil conservation districts cooperating with each other? They wonder if there actually exists a "movement" toward adoption of soil conservation practices.

Russell G. Hill, Michigan State college extension soil conservationist, makes this comment as an answer: "It is true that only approximately 12,000 Michigan farmers have obtained detailed farm planning assistance in soil and water conservation from soil conservation districts. However, it is estimated that more than 50,000 farmers in Michigan have greatly increased their use of soil and water conservation practices in the past 11 years as a direct result of district activity."

He credits demonstrations, tours, field days, and numerous other educational methods and events for farmers using an increasing number of conservation practices, based on the capability and needs of the land.

Hill claims that the ultimate goal is the development of "conservation farmers." He defines a "conservation farmer" as one who really believes that soil and water conservation practices are necessary, that their application will result in more efficient farming for an indefinite period, and one who actually applies conservation practices on the land.

This individual, Hill believes, will practice conservation farming on whatever land he may be located. Such an attitude is important on the part of land operators, since more than 6,000 farms in Michigan change hands each year. In this educational process, the aid from many public agencies and civic groups, working through local leadership provided by soil conservation districts, will be needed, Hill believes.

He concludes by pointing out that "The adoption of conservation farming must be based not only on immediate profits, but also upon a realization that each generation has a moral responsibility to maintain natural resources for use by future generations."

Farmers Must Start Collecting Wage Help Tax

It's great to be a Plymouth farmer—or a farmer anywhere else in this country—providing you are a good bookkeeper, know as much about tax laws as the best tax lawyer—and can collect taxes for both the state and federal government just like any other good tax collector.

But there's more troubles in store for the farmer-tax-collector on and after January 1st. If he hires help, and the same fellow works for you more than three months on any one period at a time, you collect taxes from him, you pay taxes because you hired him and you then settle with Uncle Sam. If your wife keeps a cook or other help, she's in the same boat.

It is urged that every farmer with hired help and other farm workers should become familiar with the new amendment to the Social Security program as soon as possible, advises E. B. Hill, agricultural economist at Michigan State college. Social security for farm workers will be effective January 1, 1951.

Here in brief are some of the important provisions listed by Hill:

"Regular" farm workers are covered—farm operators and their families are not, with the exception of children over 21. A regular farm worker is one who works three months during one calendar quarter for one farm operator and who works at least 60 days and earns at least $50 cash in the succeeding 3-month period for the same farmer. Non-cash "wages" such as room, board or farm products cannot be counted.

The 3-month periods begin in January, April, July or October. Workers may use the last quarter of 1950 to qualify. They pay no tax during the quarter in which they qualify.

Household workers on farms are considered farm workers. The wages paid by a farmer to his children under 21 do not count toward social security. Neither do wages paid by a husband to his wife, by a wife to her husband, or by sons and daughters to parents.

The farm workers should get a social security card from the nearest social security office if he does not already have a card.

Hill emphasizes that the program is compulsory and the operator will be held responsible for the collection and remission of the tax.

The farm operator should get the proper forms from the United States Collector of Internal Revenue. He fills in the name and social security number of his hired worker, number of days worked, and amount of cash wages paid the worker in that quarter. At the end of each quarter the employer sends this report to the Collector of Internal Revenue along with the social security tax.

The tax is 3 percent through 1953—1½ percent is deducted from the worker's wages and 1½ percent is contributed by farm operator. It will pay farmers with hired help to keep an accurate record of days worked, wages paid and taxes deducted.

Further details about how the social security program affects you can be obtained from your nearest social security office.

Coleman Spurs Chamber on to Greater Accomplishments

(Continued from page 1) and thrive. The Chamber should look for ways to improve all transportation facilities and see that their rates are at all times competitive. Another important Chamber function is that of having a loud voice in legislation, taxation and municipal service. It should act as a clearing house for information and lately should be a rallying point for its members in civic improvement, public health and civil defense.

"The accomplishment of these functions can be done by the establishment of a clear cut policy and a long range goal. Members of the Chamber should review these items periodically and check the progress being made. By a continuation of this policy a Chamber will flourish and its members and residents of the community in which it serves will all receive greater benefits," the speaker stated.

The only other item on the program of the evening was a year-end report given by Chamber President Ray Williams telling of the accomplishments of the organization this year and outlining briefly the plans for 1951. The budget according to Mr. Williams has been raised from $4,000.00 next year to $10,000.00.

Feed The Birds? Fix That Counter

There are probably more winter bird feeding places in Plymouth than any other city of its size in Michigan. As one drives up and down the streets of the city and along some of the thoroughfares leading into Plymouth, careful looking will generally reveal one or more bird feeding places than can generally be found in most areas of Michigan.

But if you are contemplating changes of location for these feeding stations or plan new ones, it is well to decide on a sheltered spot, safe from pouncing cats and strong winds, if you want more birds to come to your winter feeding station. Dr. George M. Sutton, associate professor of zoology at the University of Michigan, advises.

No special equipment is needed for such a counter, the University professor pointed out. In selecting the spot for lacing the food, a partial roof or awning above the window is a good thing, though not absolutely essential, Dr. Sutton said.

People who want to attract birds to the feeding station should take advantage of the snowfalls. Many birds will come to the feeding counters when they must take shelter from storm. Michigan birds have perfectly adequate feather covering and if they have food, they are safe, Dr. Sutton said. But wait for that first heavy snow fall. In just a couple of days, the birds will develop a habit of coming to your feeding station.

Discussing the favorite food items, Dr. Sutton noted that many birds are very fond of sunflower seeds. Bird lovers can usually make arrangements with a farmer to save complete sunflower heads for them. These are then strung up for the birds and are a great favorite with downy and hairy woodpeckers, chickadees and tufted titmouse. The cardinal likes this food, too, but for this bird the seed should be placed on the ground, as he dislikes flying up to get it.

Other foods which will attract the birds are cracked nuts, hickory nuts, peanuts and black walnuts, and of course, the lump of suet tacked to the trunk of a tree or placed in a container of kitchen wire through which the birds can peck.

One of the prettiest birds you can have as a "guest" during the winter is the evening grosbeak—black-white-olive-green and yellow bird about the size of a robin, Dr. Sutton said. Bobwhites may be seen at winter feeding stations occasionally.

The brown creeper, a small defenseless brown, grey and white bird with slender curved bill, will often slip in when the other birds have finished and will stay as long as the others will let him. The titmouse and chickadee may get bold enough to eat out of your hand, Dr. Sutton said.

Many a man is forced to turn over a new leaf because his wife can read him like a book.

See 1951 A Good Year For Poultry

A profitable year for egg and poultry producers is in sight for 1951 say agricultural economists at Michigan State college.

Increases in net returns, however, will be limited by higher feed costs—particularly protein concentrates.

Egg prices are expected to be higher in 1951, especially the first nine months, than in comparable periods of 1950. The usual seasonal price decline in late fall and early winter this year will not be as drastic as last year because fewer pullets were raised to reach full production by December. More government buying for military use is expected.

Producers who plan for January and February hatched chicks will have pullets ready for large-scale production to take advantage of seasonally good prices in the late summer and fall of 1951.

The economists look for a higher annual average price for broilers and fryers than in 1950. Michigan broiler raisers generally will find it more profitable to improve labor efficiency by increasing the number of birds raised per man.

Turkey growers with access to good feed supplies at reasonable prices will also have a good year ahead, the economists believe. This will be especially true in Michigan and other midwestern states. Some growers will probably reduce production because of moderate prices for the large 1950 crop, large storage stocks and no price support program, and relatively high feed costs.

The M.S.C. economists' views on this and other phases of farming in 1951 are contained in the special outlook (October) issue of Michigan Farm Economics. Copies are available from Department of Agricultural Economics, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

The farmer now uses mechanical coal stokers for greenhouses, poultry brooders, bake ovens and—of course—for home heating.

In a typical year, nearly 300,000 entire animal carcasses are condemned in federally inspected meat-packing plants.

Improving the milking routine can be done by milking cows in order, keeping the units together, cutting out hand stripping and not leaving the units on the cow too long.

Records from Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement associations show that it takes three cows producing a 260-pound butterfat level to return as much income above cost of feed as one cow producing 490 pounds of butterfat a year.

Michigan State college agricultural authorities say young stock can be kept in a pen where hay can be self fed and silage fed once a day. The pen does not have to be heated or closed. In fact, a straw shed makes a good shelter for young stock.

Improved stabling and lack of good bedding are among the most common causes of foot injuries in cows, say Michigan State college dairy penologists.

Local Farmer on Radio Broadcast

Glen Truesdell of 1224 Haggerty road, will be interviewed on the December 13th broadcast of "Electricity at Work For You" on Station WKAR. The program will be on the air from 1:15 to 1:30 p.m.

In farming his 250 acres and milking 30 head of Holstein cattle, Truesdell has turned many music-making jobs over to electricity. He has two feed grinders, also a five horsepower feed mixer, an electric corn dryer, barn gutter cleaner, hay finisher and filler.

Truesdell also has a completely equipped work shop for maintaining and repairing farm tools and equipment. "We can take care of any job that comes along right here on the farm," he says proudly.

Don Hamilton of Michigan State college and William Scott, Detroit Edison farm service advisor, will appear with Truesdell on the broadcast.

Cooper PTA Has Holiday Program

"International Christmas" will be the topic of the talk to be given by William P. Holmberg, guest speaker at the Cooper P.T.A. meeting December 11 at 7:30 p.m. This theme will be carried out in the evening's program, with members of the PTA and the community furnishing the entertainment. A Grab-Bag Christmas surprise is scheduled, with gifts for the men wrapped in green paper and the ladies' gifts wrapped in red. A group of parents, accompanied by Mrs. Kelly, will sing popular Christmas carols.

During the social hour, cookies from other countries will be served. They will be donated by the mothers of the P.T.A. Members are urged to bring books to the meeting to complete the association's Book Exchange.

V.F.W. News

Inequities in present regulations regarding the call to active duty of reservists and guardsmen and of men drafted for the Armed Forces were scored today by Commander-in-Chief Charles C. Ralls, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Ralls said that the present system of calling National Guardsmen and Reservists, without regard to family ties, former disabilities or other causes for which draftees are deferred, is not compatible to the V.F.W.

He called for early revision of these regulations so that a more balanced and justifiable program could be arranged in building up Armed Forces personnel.

"Men who served their country," Ralls declared, "have never hesitated to answer that call again; but we do feel that there should be an equalization between those who have never worn a uniform and those men who have previously jeopardized their safety in the nation's interest."

"One glaring inequity seems to be that inactive Reservists with service disabilities ranging up to 30 per cent of men are being recalled and placed on limited active duty. Certainly, some of the deferred draftees could also serve on limited duty where some physical qualification may be lacking."

"The V.F.W. is also on record as favoring the advance of the draft age to 15 years and tightening up on deferments which might give the Selective Service boards a greater opportunity to work out a justifiable program," he said.

"While I understand that the House Armed Services committee, of which Rep. Carl Vinson is chairman, has under consideration corrective legislation to prevent to Congress upon its return to Washington on November 27, the V.F.W. feels that something should be done for those who have already been inducted under this unequal act."

"It seems to me to be eminently unfair to call Reservist and Guardsmen regardless of age or disability, dependencies and jobs which they may hold, and then to exempt from the draft men over 25 years of age with a dependent. Most of these Reservists have already served in military service in World War II."

"This manner of selection," Ralls continued, "for Armed Forces duty seems to place the burden pretty much on the veterans, many of whom have already served a number of years on active duty—and in combat."

"The Veterans of Foreign Wars sincerely hope that Chairman Vinson and his committee will wipe out these inequities and see to it that the disparity now prevailing between the two groups will be ended," Ralls concluded.

THE NAME LANNY ROSS and "singer" have been synonymous since his early choir-boy days in old St. John the Divine Church in New York and though he was more interested in a career as a sprinter at that time, he settled for music and has been speeding along in the public favor as a singer ever since . . . He now sets a new pace with his Mutual network program "Lanny Ross Calling," heard every week-day . . . Planned as a thoroughly enjoyable, relaxing and informative 15-minute mid-morning affair, Lanny lends his off-heard voice to new tunes, oldies and a bit of advice inserted primarily for the purpose of aiding and abetting Mrs. John Q. Housewife in her daily tasks.

LANNY ROSS

He unravels stories of the novel manner in which Mrs. America obtains many of her household items, how they came to be developed and by whom . . . He interviews, entertains and boosts the General Federation of Women's Clubs, investigates safety campaigns and every year sponsors a "Catfish Derby" for children of all ages on his 450-acre "Melody Farm" in Bangall, N.Y. Great care is taken in making sure the pond is well populated with the catfish product . . . These underprivileged children from greater New York are hauled in by the truckload.

The addition of Louise Carlyle and Buddy Weed's Quintet to the cast, provides Lanny with fellow artists of a proven calibre for each of his week-day programs . . . Miss Carlyle is the sister of orchestra leader Russ Carlyle and was formerly featured as that orchestra's soloist . . . Now a supper club favorite, Louise wielded the baton for the Carlyle orchestra during the war years when brother Russ was in the army . . . Buddy Weed, on the other hand, heads up a newly organized group which is fast becoming one of the most popular recording teams in the country.

Brothers, it begins to look like we will have a lodge hall of our own in the near future. At this writing the roof will probably be on and then glass will have to be installed in our steel sash and flooring will have to be poured. Wiring for lights and sewers on drains will have to be dug and installed. A nice turnout Sunday put on some of the roof. There is lots of work to be done and of course, the more we brothers turn out, the more we can save on our cost of the building. Remember to send your building pledges to the B. E. Gets Biggest Buck Known so Far

The happy hunter above is Forrest H. Truesdell, who resides at 42863 Cherry Hill road, and probably brought home from the Porcupine mountains one of the largest bucks shot in Michigan this year. The buck dressed out at 234 pounds and had a beautiful 8 point rack. Entered in many Detroit contests for size and weight the lucky hunter is awaiting final tabulations to learn just how his prize stands among the hunters of Michigan.

Rock Quintet Downs Farmington 43-33 in Basketball Opener

Behind the accurate shooting of Captain Wally Dzuris and Alan Finney the Rock quintet defeated Farmington by the score of 43 to 33. Available records show this to be the first time Plymouth has defeated Farmington.

The Farmington five took a quick lead and never relinquished the lead until the second quarter. The first quarter score was 14 to 9, Plymouth being on the short end of the score.

In the second quarter the Rocks settled down and with Phil Jacobus, Alan Finney and Charlie Stark doing the greater share of the scoring Plymouth narrowed the margin but the score board still showed the score 21 to 19 in Farmington's favor at the half.

At the start of the second half Plymouth's scoring ace Wally Dzuris started tossing in one hand shots from all angles of the court.

In two minutes Wally had sunk three baskets to put Plymouth in the lead 25 to 21. Charlie Stark and Phil Jacobus made two more to add to a lead that Farmington could not overcome.

During the third quarter the Rocks defense never weakened as the Farmington Falcons scored only one point throughout the quarter.

Missing from the Falcons team this year was much needed height. In the last three years Farmington has had teams whose average height was approximately six foot two inches. Six foot four inch Foster Aschenbrenner was missing from the lineup due to a back injury received from playing football.

Charlie Stark led the team in defense as he gathered in 30 rebounds off the back board. Teammate Wally Dzuris was just a little behind with 28 rebounds.

High point men were Dzuris with 14 points and Finney netting 12 points.

Adventists Take Part in Civil Defense Program

The Plymouth congregation of the Seventh Day Adventist church attended, in a body, the meeting of 1500 Seventh Day Adventists of the Greater Detroit area last Saturday to hear General Clyde E. Dougherty...

The Plymouth church members joined in the civil defense program launched by the assembly at the meeting and have taken steps to have a definite part in the project.

General Dougherty graphically told what would happen should an atomic attack be made on Detroit and how everyone should be prepared to meet such a situation.

Evangelist A. A. Lieske of Detroit, now holding a large Evangelist Effort in the Masonic Temple pressed the need of everyone joining as many of the various units of civil defense as they could consistently take part in.

The Color Guard of the evening and the Medical Cadet corps were from Adolphian Academy of Holly, Michigan, and represented many like units throughout the United States.

S. M. McCormick of Lansing, secretary of Home Mission and Welfare work of the state of Michigan, then urged that everyone in the state join some part of this great defense program.

At this time Mr. McCormick told the General that the Seventh Day Adventist campground located at Grand Lodge, Michigan, consisting of over 200 acres with an auditorium seating 10,000, a kitchen and dining room facilities to feed this number, 238 permanent cabins capable of housing 12 to 14 persons each and 400 family size tents which could be quickly pitched, water and sanitary facilities; also the Boy's Camp of 860 acres at Grayling, with refrigeration, water, large kitchen and dining room, 21 large dormitories, and sanitary facilities also will be available to the state in time of emergency.

Churches Mark Bible Sunday

This Sunday, the second Sunday in Advent, is recognized throughout the Christian church as Universal Bible Sunday. Most local churches will mark the event at services.

Although Bible reading is fostered year 'round by the churches, on this day a special stress is put upon the Word more than usual. The Collect for the Day asks that we "may in such wise hear... (the reading of God's word)... read, mark, learn and inwardly digest them, that by patience and comfort of thy Holy Word, we may ever embrace, and hold fast, the blessed hope of everlasting life, which thou hast given us in our Saviour, Jesus Christ."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Matt. 7:7): "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." More Players Needed to Form F League

The response to the 14-and-under boys' basketball league has still been very slow. A last effort will be made this Saturday in the high school starting at 9 a.m. All boys in this age group who want to play basketball should report at this time. A regular practice will be conducted by Mr. Foster, Mr. Woolweaver and Mr. Ponto to organize a league. At least four teams should be formed to make up the "F" league.

The best time to learn the fundamentals is during this age group. After learning the fundamentals of the game the finer points will come to the player in time to be of help to the high school varsity teams.

How can you pass up prices like these?

As we've been saying for quite a spell—"Whatever your price range—Better buy Buick."

But maybe we'd better get down to brass tacks, as to just what this suggestion means.

In the lower-price field, this has been happening:

Four out of ten Buick SPECIALS—bought by people with a car to trade in—have been bought by folks who formerly drove one of the so-called "low-priced three." They found they could afford a Buick!

In the fine-car field, something even more impressive has happened:

Four out of five people who looked at a ROADMASTER and another very distinguished automobile decided in favor of ROADMASTER!

So—whatever your price range, take a look at our prices—and at what you get for your money.

What you get is the thrill of owning the greatest Buick of all time—as registered by record-breaking sales.

What you get is power and style and comfort and performance that are hard to match in any other automobile.

More specifically—you get the power-with-thrill of Buick's famous Fireball high-compression engine—a style that stands out in any company—a ride with the comfort of coil springs on every wheel—and performance that makes you feel like the head man on any highway.

Better come in today—and see what can be done about getting quick delivery.

WHATEVER YOUR PRICE RANGE

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Oranges Have Important Part In Making Holiday Treats

Experts predict a good crop of oranges this year. Heavier supplies are coming in from Florida as the Valencia from California are piling up. Soon there will be the navels to replace the Valencias.

These more generous supplies at lower cost are welcomed by Plymouth homemakers. It means more oranges in everyday meals, not only for the breakfast eye-opener, but for desserts later in the day. No need to worry about vitamin C deficiency as long as each person gets the equivalent of an orange a day.

Besides regular mealtime service, more plentiful oranges assure special treats. Some delicious orange marmalade or candied peel may be just the thing for a Christmas gift for the friend to whom you want to send a remembrance that isn't an important gift.

Here are some recipes for a few tempting orange concoctions. Some of them use honey whose delicate flavor is perfect with oranges.

ORANGE HONEYED HAM
One ham, whole cloves, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1 cup orange juice, 1 cup strained honey.

Place ham, fat side up, on rack in uncovered shallow pan or roaster. Bake in slow oven, 300 degrees F., adjusting time to suit type of ham used. About 45 minutes before ham is done, remove rind and pour off most of the fat in the pan. Score surface in diagonal lines with a sharp knife and stud with whole cloves. Blend grated orange rind with the orange juice and honey. Spread over surface of ham. Return to oven for 45 minutes, basting often with mixture in pan.

ORANGE COCONUT COOKIES
Two cups sifted enriched all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon iodized salt, 1 cup shredded coconut, 1/2 cup butter or other shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1/4 cup orange juice.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and combine with shredded coconut. Cream shortening and add sugar gradually, beating until fluffy. Beat in egg and orange rind. Add flour mixture alternately with orange juice, beating until thoroughly blended after each addition. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet and bake in moderately hot oven, 375-400 degrees F., for 8 to 12 minutes. Makes about 2 1/2 dozen cookies.

Quick Dinners Are Helpful to Busy Shoppers

With Christmas shopping frequently keeping the homemaker away from home until late afternoon, a quick easy plan is vitally needed for dinner. Spicy pork sausage and apple rings can be a tempting answer.

Typifying winter, these two foods fit together in numerous menus. For instance, bulk pork sausage may be formed into patties and unpeeled apples sliced into rings. The two are placed in a frying-pan with two or three tablespoons of water. Sugar is sprinkled over the apples, the pan is covered tightly and the sausage and apples cooked for about 15 minutes. At the end of this time the cover is removed and the sausage patties allowed to thoroughly brown. Sausage links which require slightly less cooking time are another choice for this dish.

To complete the menu, buttered spinach or other green vegetable is added along with a salad of tossed fresh vegetables, bread or hot rolls, a dessert and beverage.

Metal Added to New Fabric for Warmth

Would you like a metal lining in your winter coat to make it warm and cozy in zero weather and still as light in weight as the very lightest summer coat?

Now coming on the market is a new fabric called "milium" which is made by impregnating cotton, rayon, nylon, wool or any cloth with minute particles of metal.

This new fabric makes you feel as warm as you would in mink because it keeps the warmth from the body in while in the past wool fabrics and bulky furs were used for warmth because they would keep the cold out. When wearing this new fabric you quickly reach the warm comfortable stage and stay that way without becoming too warm.

Putting the metal in a fabric adds only a few dollars to the cost of the garment and it is porous enough to be cool in the summer as well as warm in the winter. The process can make a piece of rayon twill coat lining warmer than a much heavier piece of wool material. Fabric thus treated can be washed or dry cleaned.

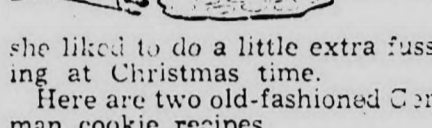

Watch for this new fabric that will be used for drapery linings, bed covers and clothing. It will be ideal for construction workers, traffic cops and soldiers who have to work outside in cold weather.

Better Earing

OLD FASHIONED COOKIES
There is mysterious magic in grandmother's Christmas cookie recipes. Perhaps this is because she liked to do a little extra fussing at Christmas time.

Here are two old-fashioned German cookie recipes.

Pfeiffernesse
4 eggs
2 cups brown sugar
5 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon ground cloves
1 teaspoon nutmeg
3/4 teaspoon cinnamon

Beat eggs slightly, add brown sugar slowly, then flour, soda, and spices sifted together. Roll to 1/2 inch thickness and cut with a small round cutter. Let stand overnight on a greased baking sheet to ripen.

Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 15 minutes. Cool and frost with white icing. Pfeiffernesse softens as they ripen.

The true German cook would beat Springlerle for one hour. We lucky moderns can use an electric mixer or draft the family to take turns.

Springlerle
2 eggs
1 cup powdered sugar
1 1/2 cups flour
Few grains salt

Beat egg whites until frothy. Gradually sift in three-fourths of sugar, beating constantly. Beat remaining sugar into beaten egg yolks. Combine two mixtures and beat thoroughly.

Add flavoring. Fold flour in gradually. Roll dough to 1/4 inch thickness, and press the springlerle board well into it, or use a rolling pin on which the springlerle forms are marked. Cut cookies apart and allow to dry overnight. Bake in moderately slow oven (325° F.) for about 20 minutes.

CANDIED ORANGE PEEL
Peel four oranges, cold water, 2 cups sugar.

Remove peel from oranges in lengthwise sections, cover with cold water, bring to boiling point and boil gently until soft. Drain, reserving the water. Scrape out inner white portion with edge of spoon. Cut peel into narrow strips with scissors.

Add sugar to 1 cup of water in which peel was cooked. Boil until syrup reaches 212 to 234 degrees F., or spins a thread. Add peel and cook gently until almost all of the syrup is absorbed. Drain and spread out on waxed paper. Let stand overnight, then roll in granulated sugar until well coated. Shake to remove excess sugar. Store in tightly closed container. For a moister peel, add 2 tablespoon white corn syrup to sugar and water.

HONEY ORANGE MARMALADE
Three medium sized oranges, 1 cup water, 1 1/4 cups honey, 6 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 cup liquid pectin.

Wash oranges and put through food chopper, using fine knife. Measure to be sure there are 1 1/4 cups of ground orange. Add water. Bring to boil and simmer for 15 minutes. Add honey and simmer for 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add lemon juice, then liquid pectin. Bring to full, rolling boil and boil for 30 seconds. Remove from fire at once. Skim and stir for 5 minutes. Pour into hot, sterilized jars or glasses. Seal at once with a thin layer of paraffin. When cold, add a second layer of paraffin.

CHRISTMAS DECKED HALF HAM

It's a merry Christmas dinner featuring a shank half of ham. To add to the holiday touch, red maraschino cherries dot the ham surface.

Baked Ham, Potato Puffs on Festive Menus For Entertaining

With young people home from school and with out-of-town guests in the home the yule season becomes a popular time for entertaining. Another trend of the season is serving a perfectly baked ham brightly garnished with Christmas colors.

Broiled Grapefruit Baked Ham
Sweet Potato Puffs
Buttered Broccoli
Cranberry Nut Salad
Cloverleaf Rolls
Butter or Margarine Mince-meat Tarts with Hard Sauce Beverage

A baked ham always makes a grand appearance on the serving table; however, for a small group a half ham may be preferred. Both the shank and the butt half of ham may be decorated with a Christmas air. For example, red and green maraschino cherries may be alternated over the surface of the ham and the platter brightened with green parsley. Or for a different serving, the ham may be carved in the kitchen, then the attractively arranged slices are placed on a platter or tray garnished with cranberry nut salads in lettuce cups.

However the ham is served, proper cooking is most important. First, it is placed on a rack in an open roasting pan. Placed fat side up, the juices will run down through and over the ham as it cooks in a self-basting process. Water is not added to the roasting pan and it is left uncovered. The ham is roasted in a 300 degrees F. oven. A roast meat

California boosters take to the apple box at the drop of a hint to ballyhoo the Golden State's growth... but for the time being Calif. will have to take a back seat to Alaska. Despite the climate, our northern state-of-the-near-future is being left out in the cold. The population increase in the past decade for "Seward's Folly" was 75%... which means a jump from 72,534 to 126,661 people. Of course our military establishments have helped in the expansion... but that's only part of the story. However, with Alaska bigger than Texas, chances are it won't be pressed for space for a while.

The "Bells of Sarna"

SO VERY LOVELY — AND DECORATIVE — IN SO MANY DIFFERENT WAYS.

The "Bells of Sarna" from Romantic India are a delight to see, a melody to hear and, hung alongside a fireplace mantel, window or in any nook that needs brightening, they make comment-causing, lovely decorative accessories. They are all entirely hand cast and come in a never ending variety of rainbow hues, sizes, shapes and tones. In the land of their origin each was made for a specific purpose, some to dangle from the necks of animals, others to announce a vendor and too many other purposes to describe... but each has a tag doing just that... telling its history in India and also telling you how to take full decorative advantage of their unique beauty... All make truly stunning gifts.

Who Is This Good Looker?

What's His Name?

Here's another one of the "mystery" pictures that has been unearthed by The Plymouth Mail. He is someone you know, or think you know. That "conquering" look he wears seems to say that he knows that all the girls like him whether he likes them or not. He doesn't look like a farm hand or an office man or one of the many extractors (of teeth) about town, but he may be an extractor, that's for sure. That is as far as the "Mystery Picture Editor" of The Plymouth Mail will go in providing you with a lead. No telephone identifications will be accepted. In order to win that outstanding prize package of blackjack gum or a stick of licorice, you must write a letter to the "Mystery Picture Editor," give his name, and tell what you may know about him in the years and years ago. The first correct identification letter gets this handsome prize. Maybe it isn't silver plated or looks like gold, but it's good, nevertheless.

Local News in Brief

Plymouth friends of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Raum and family, who have resided on South Main street for several years, will regret to learn that they have moved to Grosse Ile where they plan to make their future home.

Plymouth Corner's Society of the C.A.F. met in Northville on Thursday afternoon, November 30, at the home of Conrad and Carolyn Burkman. The business meeting was presided over by Conrad Burkman, the first vice president. Plans were made for the society to play Santa Claus to a little boy at Maybury sanatorium. Nancy Werth gave a talk on "Flags of the United States." Conrad Burkman read an original paper on "Why I Want to Grow Up in America." Mrs. Burkman served refreshments to the 25 guests who were present.

Mrs. Marion McPherson and her sister, Mrs. Leone Kenley, were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous bridal shower last Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Kenley on Huntington road in Detroit. The honored guest was Miss Beatrice Robertson, who on Saturday became the bride of Rex Baxter of Plymouth. Thirty-two guests, all of them office employees or former employees of the Daisy Manufacturing company, were present. The house was beautifully decorated in pastel shades which were used throughout the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kenyon and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minock were guests Saturday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Richard I. Daniel at canasta at their home on Adams street.

Pvt. Lee Owens is spending a seven day furlough in Plymouth with his wife and parents. He will return to Camp Carson in Colorado today, Thursday.

Mrs. Carl Hartwick entertained 10 guests Saturday evening at dinner honoring her aunt, Mrs. Mary Clohset of Bay City, who was visiting here last week.

Miss Athalie Miller was honored Wednesday evening, November 29 at a personal shower given by Mrs. Dwight Morris in her home on East Ann Arbor trail. Twelve guests were present from Ann Arbor and Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. West returned to Plymouth Sunday from Englewood, Florida. They will visit here for two weeks before returning to Florida where they will spend the remainder of the winter.

Kimbrough Boy Seriously Hurt

Donald Kimbrough, 29 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kimbrough of Main street, is recovering in Mercy hospital in Monroe from injuries received in an auto accident last week.

Donald suffered serious facial injuries which will require about 14 plastic surgery operations. His right leg was also broken and his collar bone put out. The accident occurred on U. S. 25 near Monroe. The car in which Donald was riding collided with the back end of a steel truck. He was asleep at the time of the collision.

His two brothers, Lee and Dick, were home over last weekend to visit Donald from Wentworth Military academy.

Eighth Graders Present Plays Friday Night

Eighth graders at Plymouth High school will turn dramatists tomorrow night, December 8, when they present two plays, "Don't Call Me Junior" and "Wildcat Willie." The curtain will go up at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.
 The first play concerns a sophisticated young boy who always gets his way until he ends up in trouble. Those taking part include Sally Morgan, Larry Davis, Larry Wilhelm, Thaba Bauas, Norma Leslie, John Zimmerman, Peg Wingard, Charlie Buell and Dave Vincent.
 The second presentation is about a typical boy named "Willie" who hates to do household chores. Unfortunately he is called a sissy by the boys in the neighborhood but Willie works his way out and is once again the winner.
 The cast for the play lists Tom Sawyer, Chuck McKenna, Joyce Smith, Sally Block, David Daly and Marjorie Alford. Ticket chairman for the plays is Jane Nutty, with Katherine Bauas handling publicity and Wayne Smith in charge of properties. Further committees were to be chosen, according to Mrs. Pauline Morgan, eighth grade adviser.

Junior Y-Teens Hold Initiation

The Junior Y-Teens held their formal initiation November 29 at 7 p.m. in Room 21 of Plymouth High. Thirteen girls were recognized in a candlelight service.
 The new girls dressed in white blouses and dark skirts entered the room holding candles. As the candles were lighted the girls took places in the semi-circle which had already been formed by the old members. Benediction followed lead by Sally Truesdell. Afterwards Nancy Kropf sang "Thy Would Be True" accompanied by Delores Nesbitt.
 Nine women including the council members and some of the girls' mothers were present. Following the initiation punch and cookies were served.
 Inoculation of legumes before planting can mean adding 75 pounds of nitrogen to an acre of soil... the equal to the nitrogen is 7½ tons of manure or 2500 pounds of 3-12-12.

Libraries Toured by Assistants

The student library assistants enjoyed an all day excursion on Monday, December 4, when they visited some school and public libraries.
 The first stop was the George Bentley High school library that is located in the new wing of the school. Next they toured the new Thomas Jefferson Elementary school in Wyandotte and after lunch they visited the Detroit Public Library.
 To learn how the libraries function and the qualifications and duties of library assistants in other schools was the primary purpose of the trip.
 The group also learned how books are mended in these libraries and what system of fines is used.

FAIR IN THE LIGHT OF MEMORY SHINES

MICHIGAN
My
MICHIGAN
ELTON R. EATON

It has been sometime since the deer hunting season ended but there is one little thing Mr. My Michigan would like to comment about. Just happened to see an item in the extensively read Charlotte Republican - Tribune that Judge Emerson Boyles, who is a resident of Charlotte, returned from a deer hunting trip without a deer. In fact no one in his camp got a deer.

The Judge said to his Charlotte paper that he wasn't at all disappointed, that his brief stay in the deer hunting camp and his tramp about the woods with sometimes its absolute silence except the squeaking of the boots on worn soles, was just as enjoyable as though he had brought down the biggest deer that roams the north woods.

That's just what Mr. Michigan thinks, too. Have been deer hunting but once in recent years and during the last hunting season we spent our time in a hospital getting fixed up so we can go hunting next deer season.

Michigan does have thousands and thousands of deer hunters who feel just as Michigan's distinguished chief justice of the supreme court does—a week or ten days in the woods during the early winter is about as enjoyable an experience as one could ask.

To protect against possible infringement of public fishing rights on Michigan lakes and streams, the conservation department has filed a petition as intervening defendant in specific cases involving two southeastern lakes.

Injunctions have been asked by certain property owners on Oakland county's Pleasant lake and Livingston county's Whitmore lake which is some 20 miles west of Plymouth, to prevent persons who are fishing from anchoring their boats on the bottoms. These owners claim that anchoring a boat on the bottom of the lake constitutes property trespass.

Trial dates have yet to be set, in Oakland and Livingston county circuit courts, according to N.V. Olds, assistant attorney general assigned to the department.

Olds says the department has a general concern—and a particular concern in that it maintains 452 public fishing sites on the state's lakes and streams and plants certain species of fish in waters, where deemed advisable, for the benefit of all anglers.

He says that if anglers are not allowed to anchor their boats, as an incident to fishing and navigation, their fishing operations will be seriously impaired and curtailed. Olds states that the conservation department has a responsibility to the public to protect its use of public waters. He is dead right and we hope that he licks the pants off these fellows.

State Birds—Many states of the Union have adopted some member of the feathered tribe to be their official bird. Here is the list:

Alabama's bird is the flicker. Utah, though far from the sea, chose the sea gull. A state law protects it, and a monument in Salt Lake City honors it.

Maryland's choice is the Baltimore oriole. Louisiana honors the brown pelican. Florida, with many beautiful tropical native birds to select from, adopted the mockingbird. Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas also have this chorister for their favorite bird.

Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Wyoming and Oregon all selected the meadowlark—the most popular of state birds. Colorado has chosen the lark bunting.

New York, Missouri, Nevada and Idaho favor the bluebird. Delaware, Kentucky and Illinois chose the cardinal. Massachusetts's bird is the veery.

Michigan, Virginia and Wisconsin selected the robin. Rhode Island and Oklahoma both chose the bob-white. Pennsylvania's bird is the ruffed grouse.

California selects the quail. New Mexico makes a strange choice—the road runner. Arizona's choice falls on the cactus wren. Maine and North Carolina both adopted the chickadee.

New Hampshire's state bird is the purple finch. Ohio's and South Carolina's is the wren.

West Virginia selected the tufted titmouse. Vermont and the District of Columbia both claim the thrush.

School District No. 1, Township of Canton, County of Wayne, and State of Michigan

SERIAL BONDS

Sealed bids for the purchase of the general obligation serial bonds to be issued by School District No. 1, Township of Canton, County of Wayne, and State of Michigan, of a par value of Twenty Thousand Dollars, will be received by the undersigned at his home, 7655 Koppernick Road, R.F.D. No. 2, Plymouth, Michigan, until 7:00 o'clock P.M., Eastern Standard Time, on December 18, 1950, or they may be personally presented at the Hough School at the southwest corner of Haggerty and Warren Roads, Canton Township, Wayne County, Michigan, on the same date, at 8:00 o'clock P.M., after which time no further bids will be received. All bids will be publicly opened and read at the latter time and place.

Said bonds will be dated September 1, 1950 and will be in the denomination of $1,000.00 each, and will be numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 to 20 both inclusive, and will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not to exceed 4% per annum, expressed in multiples of 1/4 of 1%. Said interest will be payable by endorsement on March 1, 1951 and semi-annually on March first and September first thereafter. The interest rate at each interest period on any one bond shall be at one rate only. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Such bonds will mature serially, $2,000.00 on the first day of March, 1952 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, 1960 and 1961. Both principal and interest will be payable at the Commonwealth Bank, of Detroit, Michigan.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from January 1, 1951 to their maturity, and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the School District. No proposal for less than the par value nor for the purchase of less than all the bonds will be considered.

The bonds are payable from ad valorem taxes subject to such limitation upon the taxing power as may result from provisions of Section 21, Article X of the Michigan Constitution and the Michigan Property Tax Limitation Act.

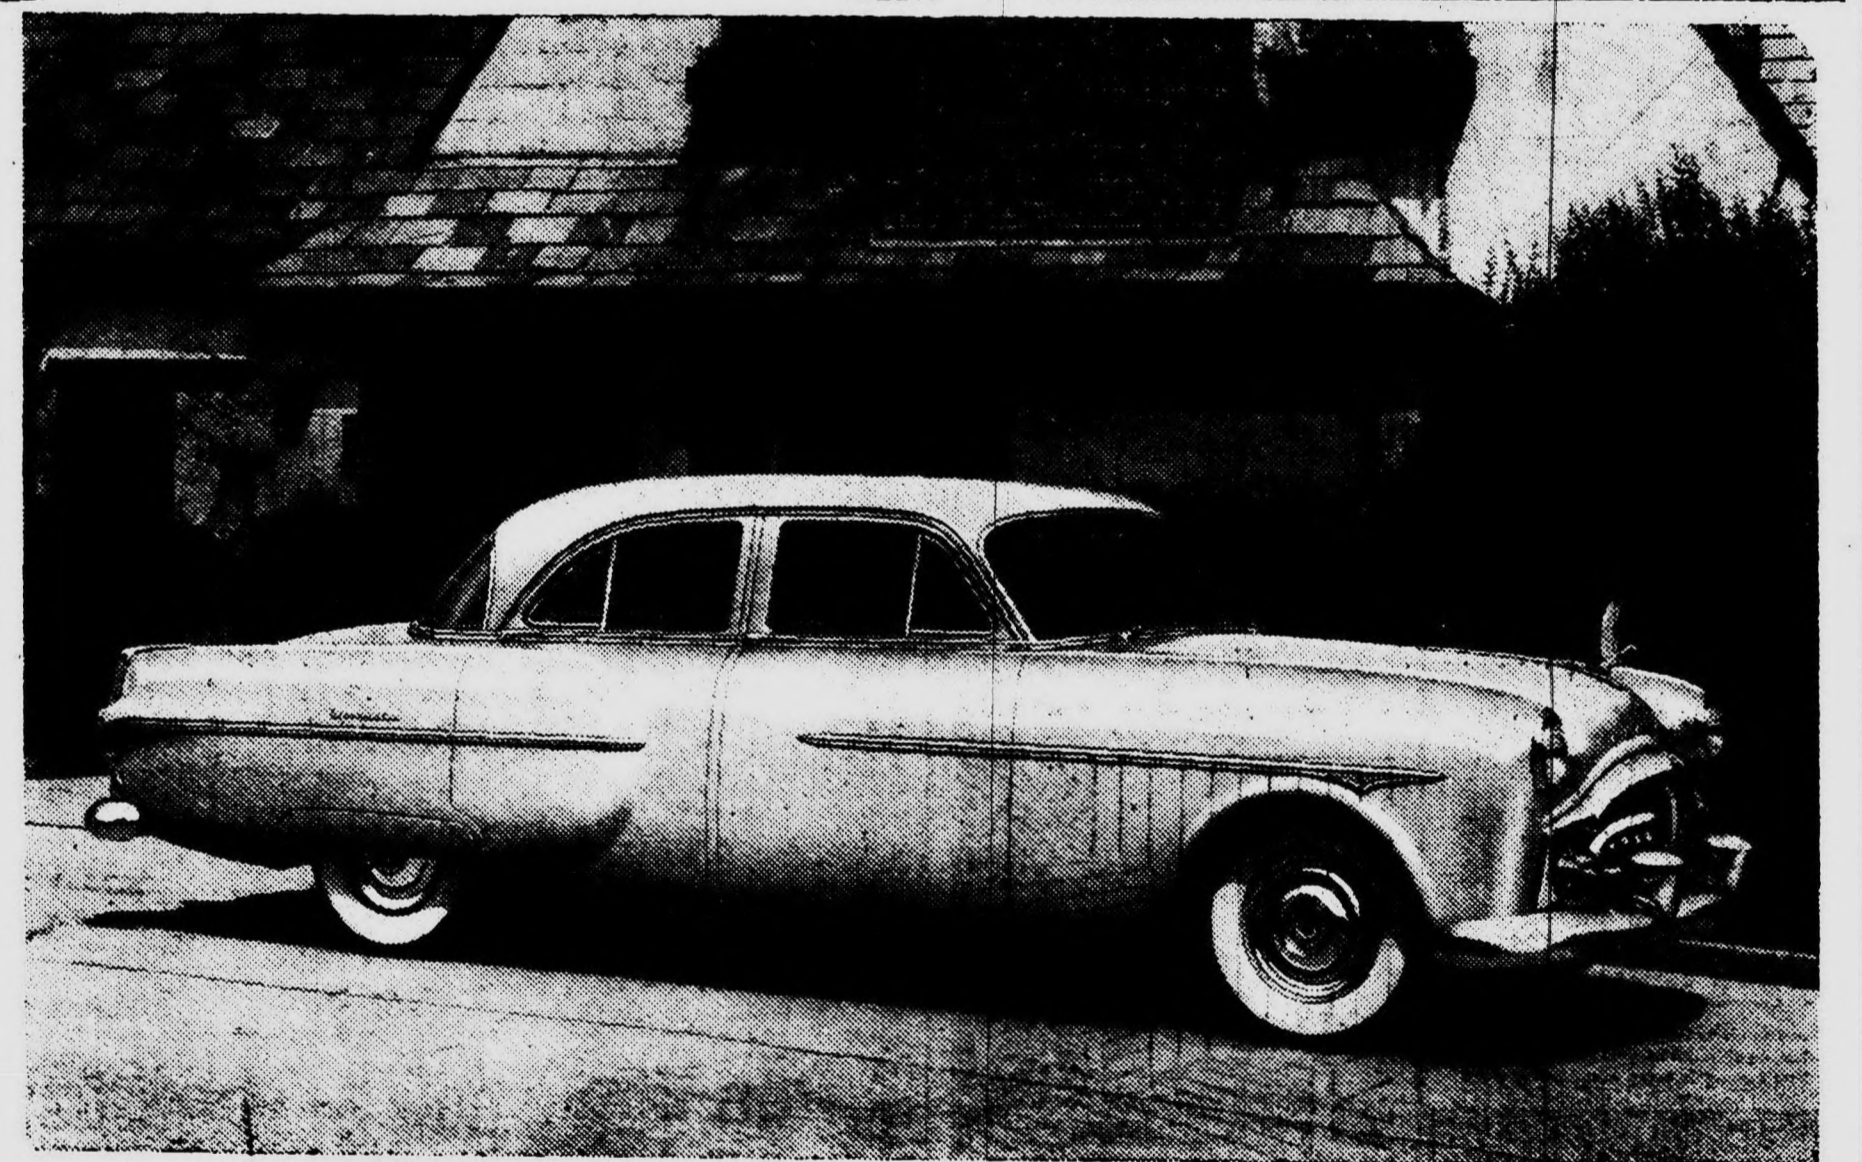

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $480.00 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the School District must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks, and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of the purchaser's attorney, to be secured at the purchaser's expense, approving the legality of the bonds. The purchaser shall furnish bonds ready for execution at his expense. Bonds will be delivered by the Treasurer in the District or at such other place as may be agreed upon with the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Envelopes containing bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

Roger Babson Says --

Babson Discusses Winter Business Outlook
 The prospect of higher taxes and credit restrictions is casting a shadow over the Business Outlook for the coming winter. These apply to automobiles, refrigerators and television sets; but not as to most consumer items.

Hasty Forecasting Now Dangerous
 During recent months we know that the output of industry has exceeded consumption. Automobiles and trucks have been produced at the unprecedented rate of ten million per year; over 20% of all units now on the road. The recent rate of home construction has exceeded previously recorded annual output of over 50%. Scarcely buying lifted the sale of household appliances to unprecedented heights during the summer.

However, we find already that reaction has set in, with lumber prices breaking during the last few weeks. The sales of many consumer items are back to pre-June levels. New construction is currently off sharply. We know that the easy credit policies of the Federal Government Agencies have artificially stimulated home building. With the tightening up of credit controls further cut-backs will continue. Recent increases in bank loans outstanding have been largely siphoned off into consumer credit expansion. This caused a tremendous boom in the purchase of consumer goods during recent months. Much stricter credit regulations will certainly have a depressing effect on the inflationary spiral. Now, is no time to buy everything in sight.

Outlook For Defense Spending
 Defense orders in 1951 will undoubtedly maintain high employment, at least during the coming winter. Due to the allocation of certain materials in short supply being funneled into defense activities, business profits will not be uniformly good. Dislocations throughout the nation which can have an adverse effect on the normal flow of business and profits. Government bureaucrats do queer things.

Investors who search for an inflation hedge in common stocks should watch their step. The Dow
