What I Think and Have A Right to Say

By ELTON R. EATON

IT'S CHRISTMAS TIME AGAIN.

It seems just yesterday, doesn't it, that we celebrated last Christmas? How time does roll along. But so does the world and all of its problems. So does the everlasting struggle between right and wrong, between belief and disbelief, between faith and non-faith.

At times the struggle of mankind seems hopeless — but surely victory will come to those who fight for righteousness, as it always has down through the ages.

This does not seem, however, the proper time to give emphasis to the struggle that has been going on since the beginning of time.

It is the time for joy, for happiness, for thanksgiving for all the blessings we do have.

It is the time to make the most of the joy that the little boys and girls get out of the quiet, hurried visit of Old Santa while they were sound asleep. Let nothing happen to disturb their belief in old Santa! Keep them believing in old Santa as long as they will — because there is no greater joyous belief that a child can have.

Yes, Christmas should be the happiest day of all the year because it marks the anniversary of the beginning of all good things in this troubled old world. Live for a day, with the children, in its joy. And Merry Christmas to you!

A WORTHY PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT.

Have you driven down around the neighborhood of Main, Starkweather and Mill streets lately? Possibly you have done so, but the next trip you make down that way, take the time to observe what a desirable public improvement has been made in that locality.

Main street has been widened some seven or eight feet between Starkweather and Mill street, a sidewalk has been completed along the north side of Main street between these two streets, and a curb and gutter built.

Believe it or not, for the first time since Plymouth was laid out as a village, residents in the northwest area of Plymouth can now walk for a good long block along the north side of Main street on a well-built, concrete sidewalk.

For generations, it has been necessary for any one living in that area who desired to walk along the north side of the street, either to cross over the street a couple of times or walk in the street.

We commend the property owners and the city officials as well for this one hundred percent improvement that has been accomplished in that area. It took years of complaining on the part of many people to bring about the accomplishment, but there has been ACTUAL improvement in recent months — for which every one is grateful.

THIS GOVERNMENT EGG BUSINESS.

The Fair Deal boys and girls down in Washington have decided that they have made such a scrambled mess of the egg business that they are going to "de-control" eggs after the first of the year. Meanwhile millions of government purchased eggs are reported to have spoiled in various storage units and more millions of taxpayer dollars have been wasted.

The de-control of eggs raises another fair question for the Fair Dealers to try and answer. Chief food of the hens that lay the eggs are grain products.

With de-control of eggs, the market price is bound to fall, but how about the price of feed for the chickens the Fair Dealers have shot skyward as a result of trying to regulate the production of corn, wheat and other grain crops?

Maybe they had better call in some of the big-shot gamblers who have so liberally financed the New Dealers, to answer that one.

WHO KEEPS THE SPITOONS CLEAN?

We've at last figured out in our own mind, we think, what was really back of that recently threatened television strike. Apparently it was staged in order to force television producers and advertisers to take up valuable television time in reeling off a long list of names of whodoneit and who cares a rap who turned the crank of the film, blurred the pictures, lost the sound or what have you.

Who cares who the costume director is, the stage director, the film slasher, the technical director, the stage hands, the producer, the writer of the script, and so on.

As important would be the names of the keeper of the cuspidors, the window swipes, the grease paint dabbers and the "operators" of the brooms and mops who go around cleaning up the floor, and the stage-door Johnnies, if they still have 'em.

It has been bad enough in motion pictures, but now to think television has got to be infested with this sort of a pest. It is all so silly and disgusting.

HITTING AT A WEAK SPOT.

Retiring Attorney General Stephen J. Roth for some reason waited until after election to issue a timely statement. It pertained to the tendency among various state boards and commissions to set up rules and regulations which have the "force and effect of law."

He believes that this practice should be ended and that the legislature should take steps to correct it as quickly as possible.

We are in full agreement with him. The idea is one of the innovations of the New Deal. It crept into the various state capitols from Washington, where the idea was first created when the New Deal came into power.

Mr. Roth says, and we fully agree with him, that "A bureaucratic government has lost contact with the citizenry. Often it takes an autocratic, dictatorial form. There is a responsibility, but it is not the type which the people can call to account and say: 'Let's have a record of your stewardship.'"

"Many people in various bureaus are splendid and do a good job, but most of them, whether they know it or not, have fallen victims to the system. Not only do they not feel a responsibility directly to the public, but their loss of contact with the citizen raises serious question about the benefits the public derives from their pressure for changes in the law."

DOING IT THE RIGHT WAY.

Winter months lie ahead, although we have already had a pretty good share of some mighty bad weather. But that late November storm did indicate one thing—Plymouth's street department is right on the job. The storm had barely ended before big snowplows were out cleaning the streets from the heavy snowfall. As a result, within hours after the storm ended automobile traffic was normal and there were no accidents caused by snow-drifted streets. As we see it, that's the way to do it. But might we suggest that merchants get their walks cleaned BEFORE the snowplow comes along. That would help a lot.

Canvass City For Evacuee Housing

A house-to-house canvass is now underway to determine the number of refugees that could be housed in Plymouth in case of extreme emergency. Arrangements for the canvass were made by Mrs. Mervin Arnold, member of the Plymouth Civil Defense Council.

In view of the seriousness of the war situation, the council felt that such a canvass should be made in case residents of Plymouth would be called upon to house evacuees from the Detroit area. The council hopes to obtain a definite amount of bed and cot space available in Plymouth in case of an emergency.

Mrs. Arnold has obtained the services of all women's organizations in the city to assist in the canvass. Seven clubs are now canvassing eight designated sections of the city. Clubs cooperating are the Plymouth Women's club, the Plymouth branch of the National Farm and Garden association, the Moms club, the Navy Mothers, the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, and the Myron H. Beals and Passage-Gayde post auxiliaries.

The canvass is expected to be completed by the end of the month. Mrs. Arnold asks that all those not contacted in the canvass please call her at 1035, giving her the amount of bed space available at their homes. She added that any extra room, a recreation room, a usable attic or basement, any place where a cot could be set up should be listed with the canvassers.

ALLISON REAPPOINTED TO BOARD OF APPEALS

Ernest J. Allison was re-appointed to membership on the board of appeals by Mayor Cass S. Hough at the city commission meeting Monday night. His term had expired December 1.

The Plymouth Theater Guild enjoyed their Christmas party on Monday evening in the Roy Jacobus home on Warren road.

Christmas Picture

Bank Cashier Aids in Capture of Check Thief

The capture of James Wilson of Detroit who stole travelers checks from the Western Union office in Ann Arbor, December 9, is largely due to the alertness of Mrs. Jeanne Duggan, cashier at the Plymouth United Savings bank.

Wilson attempted to cash one of the checks at the bank last Wednesday afternoon. As Mrs. Duggan examined the check to see if it were one of those reported stolen, Wilson got worried and ran out of the bank.

Mrs. Duggan followed after him and shouted to pedestrians on Penniman avenue to stop him. Angus Diack, cost engineer of Wall Wire Products, chased Wilson as he headed for the city parking lot and then back to Penniman. Austin Whipple joined in the chase down Penniman. Police Chief Carl Greenlee, in a squad car, finally caught Wilson as he neared the Lutheran school at Garfield avenue.

Police believe Wilson's wife was waiting in a car parked in the parking lot and that is why he headed in that direction. He gave his address as Avery avenue in Detroit. He is now being held in Ann Arbor.

Wilson who is 26 years old has already served two jail terms and was wanted in Chicago and Toledo for cashing bogus checks.

Mail Rush Breaks All Records Here

All records on incoming and outgoing mail have been broken at the Plymouth post office this week, according to Postmaster George Timpona. Dr. Timpona stated that the peak of the mail rush was expected late yesterday, marking the biggest volume of mail ever handled through the local office.

To speed up service and keep up with the rush, mail was even sorted and delivered on Sunday. Day and night crews have been on duty daily during the past week so that the steady flow of holiday mail will be delivered as soon as possible.

A Christmas Message Prepared by Members of The Plymouth Ministerial Association

Long ago there took place an event so important that it has become for our world the center of history. Time was divided; all before it was B.C., all after it A.D. It was a unique event, a turning point, a happening concerning which every man must make a decision.

Men did not divide the calendar because another man of great nobility was born; they divided the calendar because God Himself entered history and visited his people, "to give light to them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death, and to guide our feet into the way of peace." It was not God speaking through a prophet as in former years, but God Himself coming to His world.

The entire direction of the event is downward from God to man; "who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven." God came down to raise us up; God became man that we might become the Sons of God.

The essence of the Christian Faith is not what we do for God, but what God has done for us. Our part is simply to receive Him, and with grateful hearts to return His love. "We love Him, because He first loved us." And since He so loves us, we ought to love one another. And only when we love can we be happy.

So our hearts are glad at Christmas when we consider the mystery of God's love that results in human love. It is the happiest, the most wonderful, the most exciting time of the year, when the Scrooge in every one of us gives way to the coming of the Lord. It is a feast day of rejoicing that reveals itself in song, feasting, and bright decorations, for the great Guest comes to your feast and mine. "Joy to the World! The Lord is come. Let earth receive her King."

Christmas is a children's day, for children in their natural humility and wonder know how to receive gifts with joy and excitement. Children know how to kneel beside their beds and say their prayers. They have not in their gladness and innocence been corrupted by the pride of years. So our Lord took a child in His arms and said, "Except ye become as little children, ye shall not enter the kingdom of Heaven." Let us be as children, as little children, as we receive the greatest gift of all.

On Christmas let us love one another, forgive one another, and come out of the hard shells of pride. Let every old Scrooge become a child when Christ is born. Let every heart in this community rejoice, for nothing can separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Daisy Holds 41st Annual Employee Christmas Party

Employees of the Daisy Manufacturing company enjoyed their 41st annual Union-Management Christmas party at the Penn Hotel last Saturday afternoon, December 16. The feature of the afternoon was the payment of year-end profit sharing dividends, which averaged $1,183 for the year for each employee, one half being paid in cash and the other half going into the retirement fund.

A re-union of the year's business activities of the company was presented by Executive Vice-President Cass S. Hough, who pointed out that since 1946 profit sharing dividends had been paid on the following basis: In 1946 the dividend amounted to $595. In 1947 it was $466. In 1948 it was $634, as against $754 in 1949, and now it reaches an all time high of $1,183.

Mr. Hough stated that, during the year just closing, the company had produced 1,750,000 air rifles and 60 billion BB's, or in other words, 3,300 tons of BB shot. He said the company had forecast a 30 percent curtailment in actual production for 1951, prior to President Truman's announcement, but that they had intended to secure had been given to the production of models that would require more man hours which would make up the difference and require the same number of people.

He outlined the efforts the company had been making to secure defense contracts and stated that the last three jobs they attempted to secure had been given to other companies at prices actually less than the cost of the materials to Daisy. He further pointed out that the company had nothing particularly suitable for defense production from an equipment standpoint to make them especially desirable, but that some $25,000 worth of special equipment has already been ordered to make the plant more versatile.

Checks for 54 months perfect attendance were presented to Louis Geist and Hugh Schoof by Company President Charles H. Bennett; and service pins went to

With Our Churches

Erect Nativity Scene at Convent

A crib representing the Nativity of Jesus is being erected on the grounds of the Catholic Convent on Penniman avenue at Arthur street by the Rosary society of Our Lady of Good Counsel church, beginning Friday, December 22, the public will be invited to enter the grounds and view the scene depicting the birth of Our Lord. Non-Catholics will be especially welcome, according to the announcement by Father William P. Mooney, pastor of the local parish.

Special devotion to the Christmas mystery dates from early in the 13th century when Saint Francis of Assisi made his visit to the Holy Land. Authorities on the life of St. Francis say that he wished to establish a memorial to the Divine Child that would show His hardships as He lay in a manger on the hay, with the ox and the ass standing by. Accordingly, Francis caused a stable with a manger, and near the manger an altar, to be built near the Franciscan hermitage at Greccio in the majestic and secluded valley of Rieti, Italy.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST Sunday services at 10:30 a.m. Sunday school, 10:30 a.m. for pupils up to 20 years. "Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 24. The Golden Text (Isaiah 9:6) is: "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder." Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Jer. 23:5) "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 321) "Christ is the true idea voicing good, the divine message from God to men speaking to the human consciousness."

Returns Still Coming in For Christmas Seals

Although Wayne county is still short of its 1950 double-headed cross Christmas Seal quota, the TB and Health society which conducts the sale, is hopeful that the difference will be made up soon by the returns now coming in, according to a report made this week by Mrs. Wayne Smith, chairman for the Christmas Seal sale.

"The quota is $135,000," Mrs. Smith said, "and to date $75,000 has been contributed. We wish to report that it is not too late for any Detroit or county resident to acknowledge his seal letter."

"As a matter of fact, we are counting on those delayed returns to meet our quota. The 1951 program of our Society and its plans for the necessary expansion of its tuberculois control projects, depend on our meeting that quota."

Mrs. Smith pointed out that the campaign for funds for the fight against tuberculosis in Wayne county is officially conducted during the Christmas season, but the work of the Society is not limited to any one season. Its major projects go on 12 months of the year.

"Projects such as rehabilitation service for patients at Herman Kiefer and Maybury sanatoriums must continue," Mrs. Smith said, "not enough patients are getting this service. Expansion is needed in all phases of the TB and Health Society's program and this can only be accomplished through Christmas Seal sale support."

Get Word Son Safe in Korea

Christmas will be a merry one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Westfall of 840 Irving street this year. Having no word from their son, Louis Jr., since he crossed the 38th Parallel in Korea a Monday letter informed them that he was safe and well and was among the fortunate that managed to get back across the fighting lines ahead of the Communist hoards.

The letter was written on December 6th and told of the extreme cold the troops were encountering but added that they were warm and well taken care of by the army. He added that their fighting group had lost all of its equipment but it didn't matter to them since they managed to get away themselves.

Student Council Receives Pins

National Association of Student Council pins were presented to members of the Student Council at an evening party held in the high school cafeteria last Thursday.

The ceremony started with the members of the student council reading the code NASC members are expected to believe in and live up to. The president, Bud Young, then read the NASC pledge to all the S. C. members. After the pledge was read the members passed by the table and were presented with their pins.

They were welcomed into the NASC by Miss Irene Waldorf, the S. C. adviser.

Following this program the students decorated the Christmas tree in front of the drinking fountain on the first floor.

The party ended with refreshments being served to all those present.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Yuletide Mince Meat Pie Holds To Tradition For Centuries

A wealth of tradition is covered by the crust of the Yuletide mince-meat pie.

Although few people today know it, the pie represents the cradle of the Christ Child surrounded by the gifts of the Magi. It was made originally in oval form to symbolize the cradle, and the varied ingredients were the gifts.

The time mince-meat pie was made, and still another tradition is that it was the custom of Christmas Eve being observed in the past.

In the New World, during the first half century after the Pilgrims arrived at Plymouth, some of the troubles caused by the mince-meat pies and Christmas. In 1659, and for several years thereafter, there was no Christmas in New England as a result of an argument over the shape and meaning of mince-meat pies. Eventually the indignation against itself, and the ban was lifted.

A pie which no other can approach in the intricacies of its creation, mince-meat pies originally were made almost entirely of meat seasoned with spices. Fruit, chiefly currants, was added, and probably because the dish was regarded as a sweet, the fruit content was gradually increased until mince-meat became a mixture of fruit and spices with or without the addition of meat.

The whole world has a part in the making of a mince-meat pie, according to the American Bakers' association. There are lemons, citrons, and oranges from Florida and California; apples from a half a dozen states; currants from Greece; raisins from the Pacific coast; sugar and syrups from Louisiana and Cuba; nut from the Middle West; spices from far-away Ceylon; and other ingredients from far and near.

By the large, mince-meat pies have not changed noticeably since the early days when New England cooks began preparations to making the mince-meat works in advance of the actual pie baking.

The great difference occurs not in the ingredients, but in the preparation. The American housewife now depends on the baker to perform all the labor of preparation. The American Bakers' association says that American use tons of the same high quality ingredients as are used in the home in taking care of the demand for this traditional part of the Christmas dinner.

History, tradition and its own merits have made mince-meat pie one of the most interesting of all food products—rightfully occupying its place of honor at the Yuletide feast.

As Samuel Pepys stated in his famous diary about his 1662 Christmas dinner:

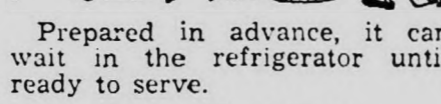

"We had, besides a good chine of beef and other good cheer, 18 mince-meat pies."

There are more than 100 different kinds of bituminous coal.

Bon Bon Tarts For Christmas

Christmas cheer in a tart shell is what you'll call this elegant egg nog chiffon in chocolate candy cups. The creamy richness of egg nog and the fluffiness of unflavored gelatine make a filling to delight Santa himself, with a chocolate shell added for real luxury.

The egg nog filling has the delicate texture which you can always count on in gel-cookery.

Egg Nog Filling
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
3 eggs separated
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups scalded milk
2 teaspoons rum flavoring
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Soften gelatine in cold water. Beat egg yolks slightly in top of double boiler; add 1/4 cup of the sugar and salt. Gradually stir in scalded milk. Cook, stirring constantly, over very hot water until mixture coats a metal spoon. Add softened gelatine, rum flavoring and vanilla, and stir until dissolved. Chill until the mixture is slightly thicker than the consistency of an unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in remaining 1/4 cup sugar. Fold into custard. Spoon into chocolate tart shells. Decorate in Christmas motif.

Bon Bon Tarts
1 package semi-sweet chocolate
2 tablespoons shortening
Place semi-sweet chocolate morsels and shortening in a pint measuring cup; place in water in a saucepan, or in the top of double boiler. Melt over hot, not boiling water, to prevent steam from condensing inside cup and prevent chocolate from thickening. Stir occasionally until melted. Place 8 2-inch paper baking cups in muffin pan. Divide equal amounts of chocolate among baking cups. Swirl completely around sides and bottom of cups with back of a teaspoon. Store in refrigerator for several hours or in the freezing compartment for 30 minutes. To remove paper, pull around sides from left to right, and then from bottom. YIELD: 8 Bon Bon Tarts.

Budgets Christmas Dinner For Six

How much of a dent will Christmas dinner make in your food budget purse this year?

Let's consider family groups of six or more for dinner, since reunions and "company" are traditional during the holiday season. For a family of six the cash outlay for a typical dinner in Michigan will be slightly over $10.

This would amount to about $1.70 a plate if all the food were eaten at one time. Cost of the leftovers, is charged against the Christmas dinner.

An example menu includes tomato juice, 32 cents; 15-pound turkey, $8.25; dressing, 13 cents; potatoes, 15 cents; celery, cranberry sauce and apple salad, 46 cents; homemade rolls with butter, 29 cents; vegetables, 21 cents, and pumpkin pie, 32 cents.

Some families may not want to buy a 15-pound turkey. Buying a half turkey for example, would reduce the cost and amount of leftovers considerably.

With the same size turkey the cost of this menu for a family of eight would be about $11.11, or $1.42 per plate. For the family of 10 it would cost $11.47 or about $1.14 per plate.

Specific costs outlined here will vary for each family. Prices between stores vary from day to day. Current average prices were used for the estimated amounts of each food item needed.

Variations in the menu will also alter the cost. You may prefer ham, goose, duck, chicken, mince pie, fruit cake, puddings or cheeses, or many other food items in place of those used in the above sample menu.

Estimating the cost of the usual "extras" such as fresh fruits, nuts and candies is not so easy. How much to allow depends on the tastes of each individual family.

Make Your Own Christmas Gifts!

The real spirit of Christmas isn't spending money for elaborate gifts, but rather giving something of one's self. And no present means more to the recipient than that which reflects a good cook's handiwork.

Here are two thoughtful ideas from Florida that illustrate homemade Christmas gifts right down to the tinsel and the wrappings.

Florida Marmalade
1 large Florida grapefruit
2 large Florida oranges
Water
Sugar (about 6 cups)

Cut Florida grapefruit and orange peel in eight lengthwise sections. Remove peel; cut into thin strips. Cover peel with water; boil 5 minutes. Drain; repeat process twice. Dice pulp, discarding core and seeds. Combine diced pulp with drained peel; measure. Add twice that amount of water; bring to a boil and cook rapidly 30 minutes. Measure; add an equal amount of sugar for each cup of pulp. Bring to boiling point, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Cook mixture rapidly, stirring frequently to prevent scorching, until thick and clear, about 25 minutes; pour into hot sterilized glasses. Seal with hot paraffin immediately. YIELD: 10 6-ounce glasses.

Florida Orange Bread
1/2 cup Florida orange rind (3 Florida oranges)
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1 cup Florida orange juice
1 egg, well beaten
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

Wash oranges; dry. Remove the thin orange rind with a sharp knife, cutting around the orange; cut rind into very thin slivers with scissors. Combine sugar and water, add the rind; stir constantly over heat until the sugar is dissolved; cook slowly about 5 minutes. (The peel and syrup should measure 2/3 cup.) Add butter; stir until melted; add orange juice and beaten egg. Sift together into mixing bowl, flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Mix in pecans. Add orange mixture and mix just enough to moisten ingredients. (Batter should be lumpy.) Turn into greased loaf pan 9 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 3 inches. Bake in slow oven (325°F.) for 1 hour and 15 minutes, or until done. Turn out on rack to cool. YIELD: 1 loaf.

Grade B Eggs Good for Cooking

Using fresh, Grade A eggs in all your cooking is not absolutely essential. Grade A eggs "stand up" better and so it is best to use them for serving poached or sautéed. However, for cooking purposes as in cakes, puddings, custards or scrambled eggs, the Grade B eggs are perfectly satisfactory. Also, their cost is less.

If you try to poach an egg that isn't quite up to Grade A freshness, you will notice how the yolk tends to flatten out. The white has lost its consistency, and because it is thinner, it spreads out. This change in the appearance of the egg starts to take place soon after the egg is laid and cannot be avoided.

To keep your eggs as fresh as possible, keep them in your refrigerator. They should be kept in the regular egg carton. If eggs are kept up right with the large ends up, the yolks will stay centered when the eggs are hard-cooked.

Roger Babson Says --

Babson Tells What New York Thinks

During the past few days, I have talked here with leaders of the nation's largest banking, insurance and industrial groups.

What About Korea?
To my great surprise, they are fairly a unit in believing that the United Nations should at once get out of Korea. Some think we should try and make a deal to remain south of the 38th Parallel; but to do this would mean to let the Red China Government into the United Nations and to give up Formosa. The ablest men think this is too high a price and prefer to withdraw altogether but defend Formosa and all of our Pacific bases. This would largely be a task for the Navy.

Military men are opposed to landing any troops in China and, if possible, avoid using the Atom Bomb on Chinese territory, but if necessary, we could blockade her ports and perhaps bomb them. As to whether we should mix up with Indo-China, Burma, or India is very debatable. I am surprised at the number who are willing to arm the Japanese and let them decide this question—promising they can keep any territory they seize. I am also sorry to find so many of my New York friends becoming discouraged with the English and European situation and turning to the Isolationist or Nationalist views.

Business Outlook
They all are agreed that 1951 will see the nation's greatest national income, with full employment and large retail sales. As to profits, they will vary much with different industries. Investors should be choosy in 1951—selling some stocks and buying others. Inflation will surely continue to help the stock market, especially stocks of companies with their assets underground and chain store stocks with a constantly rapid turnover. Stocks of public utilities in big vulnerable cities should be avoided. The only bonds advised are "convertibles."

Although New York now looks for a good investment market in 1951, the wise ones do not overlook the smash which will come with a revolution in Russia or anything else which will end the cold war or the hot war which ever we may be in at that time. (By the way, a general feeling is that upon declaration of World War III, the stock market would have a sharp drop for a few weeks and then begin to climb to relatively high averages.)

Reasons for Business Cycles
During my active business life, I have been through four complete cycles with their booms and panics,—also three wars and "old deals" versus "new deals."

I was taught, at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, of which I am a graduate, by one of the best professors of economics in America, Dr. Davis R. Dewey. Since then I have been in constant contact with the best economic minds. The following are my mature reasons for these economic cycles. Let us start with normal conditions.

Business then has an upturn accompanied by full employment, increasing profits and finally a boom. This encourages carelessness among employers, wage-workers and investors. This results in inefficiency, speculation and even dishonesty. Finally, the moral fiber of the people gets so bad that the prosperity era collapses as in 1929. Then follow unemployment and financial losses as from 1930-1933. These have a long enough period to awaken the people to substitute efficiency for inefficiency, thrift for speculation, honesty for dishonesty. Finally, after enough persons repent, business starts up again and once more we enjoy prosperity. Then history again repeats itself and the country passes through another cycle as began in 1937.

Stock Margins vs. Labor Bosses
Of course, there are other reasons for business depressions, the chief of which are debts and taxes. For this reason, I beg readers to clean up their debts at this time—whether employers, consumers or investors. When the next depression comes, the stock market, due to the very small margin business, will not go so low as after preceding panics. But, now, instead of borrowing on stocks, the public is borrowing on autos, television sets, mechanical refrigerators and fur coats as never before. These installment loans accompanied by increasing taxes are very dangerous.

In addition, today we have two new factors, viz. conflicts abroad between the United States and Russia; conflicts here at home between selfish labor bosses who could easily bring on a business collapse. In fact, were it not for the stimulus of defense orders, we now would be suffering from unemployment, declining profits and low stock prices. But of course, this means that business now is like a man depending upon whiskey to keep him going when he really should get on his knees and repent of his sins.

Former Resident Passes in West

Word was received in Plymouth Monday night of the death of Harry Davis, former part owner of the Davis and Lent Men's wear store. Ailing for a number of years, ill health forced Mr. Davis to retire from active business here and move to California a few years ago.

After partially regaining his strength he opened another store in South Pasadena and was there at the time of his passing. He was 48 years old and is survived by his wife, Florence, a sister of Wendell Lent of Plymouth, and four children, Mrs. Kenneth Hart, Mrs. Larry Potter and two sons, George and Michael. Funeral services will be held at the Eggleston Mortuary in South Pasadena.

 Music by BERNIA'S Dance Band

It happened this year—just as it has happened every year since they were "planted" in Michigan. Some "dirty" deer hunters or hunters have killed a number of the elk that were transplanted in the Pigeon river valley east of Vanderbilt some 25 years ago. They killed them just for the sake of killing something, because the hunters knew that if they brought the elk out or tried to save any of the meat of the animal that they run the chance of being arrested and prosecuted, which they should be. In spite of these unlawful killings, the herd has shown a fair increase. It is said to number now between 250 and 300. There were 50 in the beginning. There should be two or three thousand of these animals living now in the Pigeon river area—but "dirty" deer hunters by their unlawful killings, keep the increase of the herd down.

We've got a remedy for it. The state conservation department should CLOSE the entire Pigeon river valley and territory to deer hunters. Maybe if that was done there would be some opportunity for the elk herd to grow and increase.

No one can mistake an elk for a deer any more than a hunter can mistake a man for a lawful deer. The elk is almost as big as a cow, three and four times the size of a deer. It would seem that it is about time something is done.

Seth Gordon, noted consultant to the California Wildlife Conservation Board and former director of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, reported recently on a survey of North American state and provincial wildlife agencies to the 40th annual convention of the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners. The results are of direct concern to every sportsman in America, the Wildlife Management Institute believes, because the sportsmen are the people who should take the lead in demanding that the reported deficiencies be corrected.

Under the broad subject, "The Future of Hunting and Fishing in America," Mr. Gordon reported some rather startling facts.

With hunting pressure at an all-time high, only 13 of the 54 states and provinces have laws which prohibit shooting close to residences and other buildings. Those states which have laws giving landowners this logical protection are, in general, those in which land posting has been materially retarded. Only 11 report that their conservation laws contain adequate punishment for those responsible for injury or destruction to private property. Only 14 states and provinces of 54 have features in their conservation laws which operate against "trigger-happy fools" who have little regard for human life. Only 21 have laws against carrying loaded weapons in automobiles. Only five states and provinces give their field officers the right to seize licenses when violators are apprehended. In 17, the administrative agency does not have the power to deny further hunting privileges to convicted violators; in 13, even the courts hearing the cases do not have this right. When such situations exist and where courts deal lightly with fish and game violators, as many do, it is not difficult to find part of the cause for lawlessness among some elements afield and for a wave of land posting on the part of landowners.

The state administrators, except for those who have not presented these problems clearly and emphatically to the sportsmen and to the legislatures, cannot be blamed. Conservation directors seldom make laws; the sportsmen, through their elected representatives, do. Whether this continent continues to have free hunting or adopts the European system of hunting for the privileged few depends upon you.

Trapping wild fur animals offers the farm boy a good chance to earn extra cash, says Charles Shick, extension specialist in game management for Michigan State college and the Michigan Conservation department. Correct handling of pelts will help increase the income of trapping efforts, he points out. Time and care should be taken when skinning, especially around the head regions of a fur animal. Use stretchers that shape pelts to their natural size. Never overstretch a pelt since this will thin the fur and make it look poor. Shick advises that all excess fat and tissue should be removed from pelts before they are allowed to dry in a cool, airy place. Fire and direct sunlight should never be used in drying. Pelts should remain on stretchers until dry enough to hold their shape. Never ship green or unstretched pelts, he cautions.

Come in and see the New Silver Anniversary
 Pontiac

① A look at the Car proves its Quality
 ② A look at the Price proves its Value!

In the short time since it was presented, thousands of people have flocked to see the great new Silver Anniversary Pontiac—few cars have ever had a reception to equal this. Most people came to admire, which is natural enough. But a great many people do more than admire, they start figuring—they begin to compare this wonderfully beautiful and desirable car with the modest price tag it bears. The conclusion is obvious—no car, at any price, offers more for every new car dollar you invest than a great new Pontiac! Drop in any time and look at the car—then look at the price—you'll be doubly sure that dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac!

Double Proof
 that Dollar for Dollar you can't beat a Pontiac!
