In Ottawa the Canadian govt. is minting a special coin to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the five-cent piece. The nickel of today bears a family resemblance to the jenny of yesterday... but the resemblance is hardly financial. It is within the memory of living men when the nickel was a sizeable fortune that would give a kid a real workout trying to decide what to buy with it. Nowadays the choice is as restricted as a monkey on a short leash. If there is any question as to what to put on the commemorative nickel, we suggest the simple word, "Goodbye" if we may phrase a coin.

We are planning a list of Big Specials for next weekend. Watch for our space in the Plymouth Mail.

I.O.O.F. News

Brother F. G. George Mott and his wife were pleasantly surprised last Tuesday evening, February 7, after our regular lodge meeting. Several Rebekah members and their families came to the hall bringing with them Sister Mott. They also brought sandwiches and cakes. The occasion was the Mott's 45th wedding anniversary which was February 3. The evening was spent in playing card games and about 10:30 p.m. lunch was served. Perry and Roma Krumm's daughter, Dorothy, also had a birthday February 7 so all sang Happy Birthday to her.

A number of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, turned out for work. The men under P. G. Hunter's direction, took steam pipe joints apart and set up and mounted most of the steam radiators. The women painted cupboards, lodge room doors and so forth. February 11 members brought in a larger boiler and some of the lodge furniture, and the women put away dishes and cleaned. At 1 p.m. a lovely dinner was served by the Rebekahs.

F. G. Wagoner and P. G. Trinka and Brother Harry Johnson are on our sick list. Brothers, try and visit the sick. Come to lodge as often as possible.

Gives Practical Gardening Hints

Practical hints for practical gardeners were given to the Plymouth branch of the National Farm and Garden association at their meeting last Monday, February 12. Mr. Kidder spoke on "What does your soil need?" to a small group of members.

Undoubtedly the ice and rain kept the attendance low for the meeting.

Tickets at a reduced price will soon be available at Wimsatt's appliance store.

Students Meet at Madonna College

A regional council meeting of the National Federation of Catholic College Students convened at Madonna college last Saturday, February 10.

Larry Badar, of John Carroll university in Cleveland reported on the national council meeting that he and regional secretary Joan Kaminski of Madonna college attended at St. Joseph college, Collegeville, Indiana, in January.

He disclosed that although administration on national and regional levels was good, it was a problem on campus level. Student government can be an effective tool by aiding students in understanding the nature of the Federation on campus. Badar said.

The group was advised by the State Department against traveling to Europe this summer because of the present world crisis. Tours to Mexico and South America were discouraged.

The Constitution of the Detroit region was rated "very high" by the national council, stated Badar. This was the highest rating given to any region in the United States.

College Deans and student government moderators received questionnaires on student rights and the results will indicate if Catholic colleges need a formulation or clarification of student rights.

Costumes for Historical Meeting

Members of the Plymouth Historical society donned old fashioned costumes that have been in their families for years for the society's Valentine meeting last Thursday at the Veterans Memorial center. Mrs. Grace Brown, president, pours tea for Mrs. Fred Truesdell, vice-president, and Mrs. Arthur Mills, right, while Karl Starkweather and Mrs. H. G. Culver examine a vest worn many years ago. The doll held by Mrs. Mills is 75 years old. The Singing School conducted by Clarence Stevens and accompanied by Mrs. Roy Fisher entertained at the meeting.

Fire Dept Adds New Apparatus

Recently acquired apparatus by the Plymouth fire department for the public's benefit includes a resuscitator and a new lighting system.

Lately the fire department answered a call to help a baby who had smothered in a crib. The child had been dead a few hours and the fire department could not revive it. Perhaps if they had been notified immediately, the child's life could have been saved.

The fire department wishes to remind the public that the resuscitator, a breathing apparatus, is available for anyone who suffers heart attacks, or who are overcome by gas, or who are drowned.

When the individual is totally unconscious, the apparatus is set to the individual's breathing rate and helps the patient to breathe.

Another addition is a new lighting system for fighting night fires. A 2500 watt generator, powered by a mixture of gasoline and oil, operates the two 500 flood lights.

A reminder from the fire department is that the emergency ambulance equipment is used strictly in emergencies. However, it can be used if the funeral directors' ambulances are out on calls.

It is very important that the fire department's telephone number, 1656, be used only for reports of fires. The public is asked to use 93 for other fire department business.

Explains How GI Keeps Insurance

GI Joe is being told this week that there are at least five arrangements he can make to help keep his private life insurance in force for the benefit of himself and his family.

In a letter made public by Fred Van Dyke, a field underwriter in Plymouth for the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, and being sent to all company policy holders who are in the armed forces or who will be entering the services, the company is explaining that the serviceman can:

1. Authorize the government to pay his premiums for him, by deducting the money from his monthly service pay.
2. Ask to have the premiums on up to $10,000 of private life insurance guaranteed by the U. S. government, under provisions of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act. This is in effect, an arrangement for a "loan" from the government, which the serviceman must repay, with interest, after he completes his military service.
3. Authorize a member of his family to pay the premiums for him.
4. Pay premiums six months or more before they are due, and at a discount.
5. Arrange for premiums to be paid automatically by a loan on the policy.

In Ballston Spa, N. Y., sheriff's deputies arrested four strangers whom villagers considered "suspicious-looking," released them when they identified themselves as Internal Revenue agents looking for an illegal still.

Historians Say Underground Slave Route Passed Through Plymouth

A shawl which Laura S. Haviland wore as she "conducted" on the Adrian-to-Detroit branch of Michigan's underground railway is shown around a statue of the famous anti-slavery leader by two Wayne University coeds. The display, located in the Michigan Historical Museum in Lansing, was visited by Arvy Abbot of Lansing (left) and Lillian Carlson, of Walled Lake.

In the years before the Civil War, when slavery was an issue between the states, Michigan ran "underground railways" to aid Negroes fleeing bondage. Laura S. Haviland of Adrian was in the thick of that struggle.

Famous enough to have had a statue erected in her honor, she found time not only to participate as a leader in the underground movement, but to raise her family of six children, start a school for teachers, and operate an industrial school for girls. A Quaker preacher, she became an author at the age of 73. Her autobiography, "A Woman's Life Work," went through three editions.

As a "conductor" on the underground railway, she faced many dangers. The Southern slaveholders resorted to every legal device and often to desperate measures to prevent aid for runaway slaves. The kind of perils faced by "Aunt Laura," and the wide range of operations of the underground railway in Michigan are described in a recent book, "Michigan: From Primitive Wilderness to Industrial Commonwealth," a history of the state written by Dr. Sidney Glazer, associate professor of history at Wayne University, and Dr. Milo M. Quaife, formerly a special lecturer at Wayne.

Two main lines of the underground railway, each with regular "stations," crossed Michigan. Escaped

In Chicago, Hudson Dealer Jim Moran, who had been advertising that he would pay any prospective customer's transportation to his showroom, got a faker, shelled out $700 to Bernard J. Mentch for a plane ticket from Sydney, Australia.

Negroes were hidden, fed, and sent forward from one station to another until they reached safe territory. Aunt Laura was a conductor on the main line that began at Adrian and ran through Tecumseh, Saline, and Ypsilanti to Detroit.

After having been hidden in barns, cellars and fields for many days, traveling only by night, the fugitive would finally reach Detroit; then would cross into Canada, and thus escape recapture. Michigan's other main route, known as the Central line, ran from Cass county through the communities of Schoolcraft, Battle Creek, Marshall, Albion, Jackson, Grand Lake, Dexter, Ann Arbor, and Plymouth to Detroit. It was on this line that the celebrated "Crosswhite incident" occurred.

Adam Crosswhite, a slave who had escaped with his family from Kentucky when his children were about to be sold, chose to settle in Marshall, rather than proceed on to Canada. Here a spy from the Kentucky slave owners found him and tried to effect his return. Anti-slavery people forcibly prevented this—at the expense of a $1,900 fine finally levied against them in federal court. Eventually, Crosswhite and his family had to be spirited away to Canada.

Michigan's underground railways continued to operate until Abraham Lincoln emancipated the slaves in 1863.

Second League Defeat Puts Rocks in Three-Way Tie for First Place

The Rocks were handed their second loss in a row in the Suburban 6-B league Friday as the Trenton Trojans dumped the Rocks 35-27. This loss to the Rocks has put three teams, Plymouth, Ypsilanti, and Trenton in a three way tie for first place as Ypsi also won Friday over Belleville.

Next Friday the Rocks will meet the Redford Union Panthers on the latter's court. The Rocks will have to win this one to stay in contention for the title. While the Rocks are meeting the Panthers, Trenton will meet Ypsi so one of these teams will be knocked out of the title on the outcome of this game.

The Trenton contest was a heartbreaker for the local fans as the Rocks held up to the Trojans throughout the game only to lose in the final quarter.

The first quarter was completely dominated by Trenton as they scored 10 points to the Rocks' five. The local quintet had a hard time working the ball in against Trenton's close-knit zone defense. In the second quarter Dzurus started rolling for the Rocks and scored eight points of the Rocks' 11 during this quarter. This brought the Rocks up within two points of Trenton with the half time score being 18-16.

After intermission both teams cooled off and played a better defense with each team scoring five points to still have a two point margin for Trenton 23-21. In the final period Trenton took advantage of the Rocks faltering defense and scored 12 points to the locals' six. Trenton controlled the ball most of the final quarter due to their stalling of the ball.

Wally Dzurus again paced the Rocks with 12 counters while Lower led the visitors with 11.

In Muskegon Mrs. Ada Vader, 63, was arrested for knocking a policeman's cap off with a snow-bath.

Refrigerators by the Carload....

Dave Galin loads refrigerators from what he believes to be the first carload of refrigerators ever to be shipped directly to Plymouth. He and his employees picked the refrigerators up at the C & O station and they are in stock at the appliance store this week.

Davis-Lent Beat Optimists 25-2

Davis & Lent pulled into second place in the "F" league Feb. 10 as they trounced the Optimists 25-2. The Optimists had been tied for second place previous to this contest.

Davis & Lent had a 8-0 lead in the first quarter and in the second period 18-0. The third quarter ended 24-0 and the final quarter Sagers scored the Optimists first and only field goal. Agnew led the visitors with 12 points followed by Clifford who collected eight points.

Ken & Ork continued to lead the "F" league as they won their 5th game by defeating the Globetrotters 48-2. Campbell led the victors with a total of 32 points.

Mustangs Hand Rocks 10th Win

The Plymouth Rock Varsity basketball squad finally got back on the winning side to trounce the Northville Mustangs 53-39 for the Rocks 10th victory. The contest was played on the Mustangs' floor Tuesday, Feb. 6.

Northville got off to a good start in the initial quarter as they led the Rocks 15-11 mainly due to the eight points collected by Prom. In the second period the Rocks erased the Mustangs lead as Dzurus and Young each hit for five points to help the Rocks outscore their opponents 16-7 to take a 27-22 lead at half time.

In the third quarter the Rocks really got hot as they dumped nine field goals through the hoop while holding Northville to six points. In this decisive third quarter, Finney dumped four baskets, Dzurus three and Young two. In the final quarter Coach John Sandmann substituted freely giving all the Rocks a chance to play. In this period the Mustangs scored 11 points to the Rocks eight but the Rocks still had a comfortable lead at the end of the game.

Captain Wally Dzurus set a new high for the Rocks this season as he dumped 20 points through the hoop. Al Finney and Bud Young were next in scoring with 16 and 11 points respectively. Prom led the losers with 14 counters.

Printers Whip DeHoCo Gagers

The Plymouth Mail edged out a close victory against DeHoCo Feb. 6 as they managed to come from behind to win 42-41. This was the Mail's sixth victory while DeHoCo lost its 13th contest.

Plymouth Mail led 12-8 in the first quarter to hold a short lead but in the second period were outscored 15-8 to be on the short end of a 23-20 score. DeHoCo increased this lead by three more points in the third period to lead 36-30. In the final quarter Plymouth Mail held DeHoCo to five points while scoring 12 to take the game 42-41.

Ron Hees was high scorer for the winners with 17 points closely followed by Cecil who had 16 counters. Gidley paced DeHoCo in their defeat with 11 points followed by Dobbins and Slessor who had nine each.

The Plymouth Mail was not quite so lucky in their second game of the week as they lost to the Northville Merchants 31-20. The game was called in the third quarter by Foster because of disagreements among some players and managers.

Northville led in the first quarter 17-7 for a ten point advantage but this was reduced to eight in the second period as Plymouth Mail scored 11 points to Northville's nine. The game was called in the third period after Northville had scored five points to the Mail's two.

Ron Hees collected 16 of his team's 20 points while Stanley paced the visitors with 12 points.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Urges Vaccination of Children To Safeguard Their Health

While a child is protected in case of an epidemic, the possibility of a smallpox epidemic if vaccinations are not up to par.

At such times, when the population is completely disrupted, there is greater exposure to infection. Whooping cough and diphtheria immunizations should be at their peak. Children should be protected against whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus in infancy, and booster doses of toxoid should be given at properly timed intervals.

This protection is vital in peace time, but more so in case of an emergency. Therefore, Dr. Littlejohn urges all parents to immediately take their children to their physicians for immunization and vaccination if they have not done so.

BRAISED SHORTRIBS DELUXE

For years you have been cooking pot roast by browning in a little fat, perhaps adding a little tomato juice or water, covering tightly and cooking slowly for a long time at low heat.

You're right—that is braising! It's a good way to cook other cuts of meat such as shortribs.

Braised Shortribs of Beef

4 pounds shortribs of beef
Salt, pepper, flour
1 cup water

Dredge shortribs in seasoned flour. Brown well in fat. Lay shortribs on rack in roasting pan, add water or vegetable juices drained from canned vegetables.

Cover closely and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 1½ hours or until meat is tender. Make gravy with drippings seasoned with prepared horseradish to please your taste.

Yield: 4 or 5 servings.

The sauce on these barbecued shortribs will be rich and thick.

Barbecued Shortribs

3 pounds shortribs of beef
1 large onion, sliced
1 cup catsup
½ cup vinegar
1 teaspoon paprika
1 to 2 teaspoons chili powder
2½ teaspoons salt

Brown shortribs in hot fat in heavy skillet or Dutch oven.

Cover with sliced onion. Blend remaining ingredients and pour over all.

Cover closely and simmer gently over low heat on top of the stove until meat is tender (about 1½ hours).

Yield: 4 servings.

Nonfat Dry Milk Adds Flavor and Nutrition

Here's nutritious goodness! This cream of turkey soup is made with economical nonfat dry milk which is high in protein, calcium, riboflavin and lactose.

There's nothing more warming nor more nourishing than a bowl of steaming hearty soup on cold wintry days. Soups can be made even more nourishing and flavorful when economical nonfat dry milk is used.

Nonfat dry milk is fresh pasteurized milk with only the fat and water removed. It contains these important milk nutrients—protein, calcium, riboflavin and lactose. Nonfat dry milk is extremely economical for a one-pound package costs from 35 to 39 cents, and this quantity yields five quarts of nonfat milk.

Homemakers are learning of the many advantages of nonfat dry milk. It is available at the grocer's in convenient one-pound packages and it will keep almost indefinitely on a cool dry shelf if the package is opened and closed carefully after each using.

It can be used in most recipes calling for milk. It can either be liquefied easily first, or in some recipes it may be used in its dry form and water added as the liquid.

Here is a tasty soup recipe which can be made with either left-over turkey or chicken:

Cream of Turkey Soup

(Makes 6 servings)

3 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon chopped onion
5 cups water
1 cup Starlac (nonfat dry milk)
5 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon curry powder, if desired
½ teaspoon salt, about
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 bouillon cubes
1 cup cooked shredded turkey
1 tablespoon finely chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley

Melt butter in top of 2-quart double boiler over direct heat. Add onion and cook until tender but not brown. Remove from heat. Pour water into pan. Combine Starlac (nonfat dry milk), flour, curry powder, salt and pepper; sprinkle over top of water in pan. Beat with rotary beater until Starlac (nonfat dry milk) is dissolved. Add bouillon cubes. Cook over simmering water until thickened, stirring constantly. Add turkey and pimiento and continue cooking until heated through. Serve at once. Sprinkle each serving with chopped parsley.

The VFW maintains a blood bank at the University hospital in Ann Arbor. This bank is not reserved for members only, but for any needy person in our community. In case of an emergency, contact the VFW service officer for information.

The veterans hold their meetings in the Veterans Memorial center on North Main street the first and third Wednesday of each month.

AFTER a trip to Michigan, Thomas H. Mullen, a Chicago store supplier, wrote this letter to Michigan Bell's Battle Creek office:
"I want to thank your office for the fine co-operation extended to a stranger in your city. I arrived in Battle Creek where I was to be met by business friends and taken to a sales conference in Coldwater. There was no one on hand to meet me. Furthermore, there was no way to get to Coldwater that night and I could not make contacts by telephone since the plant was closed. I told my predicament to your operator and asked her help. She made call after call until she located an executive of the plant. A car was sent for me and I reached the sales conference on time. Thanks a million for getting me out of a very tight spot."

Albert F. Gassford, City Clerk

If there is a duck hunting season this fall—and no one knows just what we will all be doing when October rolls around—prospects are that there will be some good hunting for Plymouth duck hunters.

Read a report the other day where the late fall southward flights of ducks over the Mississippi "flyway" were the largest in years.

Have been surprised to note the large number of teal one sees in the drainage ditches and backwaters around the Florida Keys. Some weeks ago one would see just a few ducks here and there. Now one can see big flocks of them—sometimes numbering into the hundreds.

It is possible, that like the blackbirds and robins, they are getting ready to make their return flights to northern states and Canada. Some of the natives who spend the entire year on the Keys say they have been surprised at the large number of ducks they have seen around this year. Maybe this is a good indication of what the all hunting may bring forth.

Unfortunately the duck hunting in Michigan was not of the best yet year. Those in a position to know say that the unseasonable weather was responsible for it. It was so warm during most of the duck season that the big flights took place after the season had ended. Some Plymouth duck hunters thought the poor hunting was due to a decreased supply of ducks, but the late flights and the appearance of large numbers of ducks about here, indicate otherwise.

George C. Williams, retired New York state college president and for the past dozen years or so leader of the famed William Jennings Bryan Bible class of Miami, took an odd way recently to tell several hundred Rotarians his impressions of European people he gained during an eight months' trip he recently completed through most of that continent.

He said he wasn't going to make a speech—but instead proposed to try and answer questions that were asked him about the people and conditions as he found them on the other side of the Atlantic. The very first question was about France—would France help in case of war? His answer was definitely NO. There is really no government in France he said. It is ruled by a dozen or more parties and from his conversations with American officials and people living in that country, he gained the impression that all France wanted was what it could get out of America.

Speaking of the English people and not the English officials, he asserted that they were most appreciative of all that America had done to help England. In every way possible, he declared, they tried to impress upon him their gratitude for what the aid given by the United States has done for them. There will be no question about English help in case of trouble, he said. In Italy, a country America has done more for than any other place on the continent, there was not the slightest gratitude expressed for anything this country had done—the people care nothing about their government and seemed perfectly willing to let any group, Communist or otherwise, try to run it. There will not be the slightest help from Italy, he believes.

Smaller nations on the continent can be expected to give some help. His impressions were not gained, he said, from a sight-seeing bus, but from contacts with the type of people who make up cities like the smaller communities of these United States. He branded Italy as a spineless, ungrateful country. In Spain there was but one thing that impressed him—and that was the poverty of its people. What might be expected of Spain, he declared he could not find out.

As much space, if not more, is devoted in Florida newspapers to its gambling problem than to the threat of another world war. But that is not surprising, as the newspapers of Florida are trying to drive out the racketeers, mobsters, and others of their kind who have invaded this state in recent years.

One can realize just how bad the situation is by one incident recently revealed in the senate crime inquiry. Miami had asked the Governor of Florida to send a special investigator to look into the crime situation of this city. What did the Governor's personal investigator do? He helped a Chicago gangster to "muscle in" on the Miami Beach gambling racket. The president of the Miami Crime Commission recently asserted that seventeen billion MORE dollars were spent last year in gambling in these United States than was spent on national defense.

Delas W. Rentzel, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, while in Florida, recently making an inspection of the civil air bases in this state, declared that "business as usual is right out of the window." "It might be," he added, "that it has been, ever since Franklin and Harry had anything to do with it."

Haven't been out to the races since coming to Florida. Maybe some day we'll go out just to take a good look—not at the races—but at the people who are betting more than a million dollars every day. While claims are being made by some that the tourist business is up, the more cautious local resident, will tell you on the side that it is down—that people are not spending their money as in past years—but no one tries to explain the tremendous sums that are flowing through the betting windows out at the Hialeah race track. Not only are the betting totals making new highs, but attendance at the races it is said is greater than ever before. If by chance we are able to get away some afternoon for three or four hours, we may write something about our impressions of the people who are betting such vast sums on the horses.

Not so many years ago Jack Talbot was one of the outstanding labor leaders of Detroit. Jack always seemed to be a sort of clean-cut, ambitious fellow who really wanted to do something to help everybody else. He was and is entirely different than the racketeer type of a labor boss. He refused to have anything to do with New Deal politics and was active in Detroit Republican circles. Had the surprise of my life a few days ago when we discovered that he had quit the union business and is now owner and manager of the Rainbow Tropical Gardens, a big nursery at Boynton Beach. Jack says he is doing well—and that he is all washed up with this labor union business.

BUILD BETTER LAYERS
This Easy Way!

It's easy the Larro way. Only one mash for the first 12 weeks. Then only one change of mash and grains. No hand feeding of grains after 12 weeks. What could be easier? The best of all, this simple Larro plan has been tested and proved by thousands of poultrymen. It's the way to grow uniform pullets that have big, big frames and fully developed egg-laying ability at housing.

Low protein growing mash does not supply all the nutrients needed by a half-grown chick, and they do mean another change of feed. If you want to save work—if you want to grow profitable layers—come in or phone for your free copy of the Larro Chick Builder folder. It can pay you well.

What's its Power? FIREBALL!

(Only Buick can make this statement)

Bend an ear to the deep baritone song of this marvel motor, and you'll know we aren't fooling when we call it Fireball.

Mister, that's Power, with a capital P!

What happens beneath that brawny Buick bonnet happens in no other car in the world.

Years ahead of the rush to high-compression valve-in-head engines, Buick was in there pitching for more power from every drop of fuel.

The result was—and is—a spectacular engineering phenomenon that makes itself felt the instant you touch toe to gas treadle.

You command a rapid-fire sequence of tiny tornados, letting loose their pent-up power every five inches that a Buick travels.

If you could look inside that Fireball engine, you'd see the reason. Instead of the flat-topped pistons used in other cars, Buick uses a turbo-top piston, contoured like this:

So the inrushing fuel whirlwinds into a compressed ball that adds a super-urge to the downstroke of the piston.

And you get the thrill—and thrift—of this Buick "first" in every mile you drive.

More than that, you get an engine tried-and-true—an engine that's been polished and perfected in every detail up through the years.

Again and again, compression ratios have been stepped up to keep pace with advances in fuels. Self-setting valve lifters contribute to silence. Micropoise balance and Hi-Poised engine mountings add two more Buick exclusives.

And the silken might of this Fireball's power has been made more beautifully obedient by still another "first"—Dynaflo Drive.*

So we list as a prime reason why "smart buy's Buick" this Fireball power plant—and a host of happy owners will say "Amen."

Better see your dealer soon, to find out what you've been missing.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Buick Series.

Last year, the State of Michigan's total expenses for repair and maintenance of trunk lines was just over $12,000,000.

Thus commercial vehicles paid taxes for their use of the highways totalling 2½ times the state's cost of maintaining and repairing all trunk highways.

Roger Babson Says --

Babson Discusses Our Population

Washington, D.C., Feb. 15. During the past year, Uncle Sam spent huge sums of money for many things of doubtful value. Yet, there was one particular Government project, undertaken in 1950, which will prove its worth — namely, the Federal census.

Make the Most of Census Figures

Complete breakdowns of last year's decennial census are not yet available. However, figures for the States and for most of the country's larger cities have already been released. They are very significant. Those who own their own business, interests in other businesses, or make their living by selling can save time and money by studying these census figures. They give you, free of cost, elaborate surveys on quotas, routes, territories and other sales problems.

When all 1950 census figures are released, they will tell much on local merchandising conditions and opportunities throughout the nation. However, compiling census figures is a big job and it will probably be many months before all details are published. Meanwhile, readers should watch for the preliminary summaries as they are released each month.

Population Increases

On April 1, 1950, our population was 152,340,000. Since then there have been 3,704,000 births and 1,461,000 deaths and a net emigration of 10,000. This gives us about double the annual gain of ten years ago. Those States possessing the advantage of a mild climate show the greatest population increases. California is up 51.6 percent from the 1940 level and is followed closely by Texas, Arizona and Florida. This increase of population is not coming from "playboys," but from good substantial Northern people who are retiring from work on pensions. They make excellent citizens for any community.

Undoubtedly, the national trend is toward greater increases in leisure time. Firms engaged in the production of recreation equipment will more than hold their own in the years to come. Not only in the above States but elsewhere throughout the nation.

States That Have Stopped Growing

Nearly half of the States—22 to be exact—show population increases below the national average in the ten-year period from 1940 to 1950. Five States register actual population losses for the period. Many of these 27 States were sparsely populated anyway and their poor showing in this census is due in part to the fact that proportionately the number of men they sent into the armed forces during the Second World War was high.

The Rural States

The gains in population shown by the Far Western States reflect clearly the wartime migration to the West Coast to fill jobs in the huge defense establishments out there. California has the double advantage of mild climate and plenty of jobs for everyone.

Many cannot understand why I continue to call attention to the "Magic Circle," comprising the States of Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma, as being "the richest in time of peace and the safest in time of war." They point out that three of these States—Arkansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma—actually lost population during the past ten years, while the other three enjoyed only nominal increases, which in each case were far below the national average. The reason for this apparent contradiction is that these six states have few large cities. Too many people foolishly continue to want to live in a large city. Numbers do not necessarily represent true progress. The first consideration should be economic opportunity. I maintain that more economic opportunity exists in the more sparsely settled States. Readers should not forget that food experts, economists, and leaders in the conservation field consider the rural states the hope of North America in the years ahead. Recent events have made it clear that our Communist enemies will try to destroy not only our position as a leading power but our very existence as a nation. It is not at all improbable that the large cities of the nation may someday be begging the rural sections for life and protection.

QUICK, EASY and CONVENIENT PARKING MAKES SHOPPING A PLEASURE

Startling and wonderful results are being obtained with the potent new hormone drugs, Cortisone and ACTH. Within a few days after treatment starts, many hopelessly crippled arthritic and rheumatic fever patients get up from their sick beds with a general feeling of well-being.

Persons plagued for years by allergies such as asthma and hay fever have experienced dramatic relief. Certain skin diseases, gout and migraine headaches also yield to these wonder-working drugs.

Understand, however, that these hormones do not effect a complete cure, and must be administered at intervals as determined by your physician.

Should your physician prescribe either of these drugs for you, our prescription department is at your service.
