The thunder and wind storm that swept through the Middle West Friday evening about 10 p.m., tore limbs from trees, damaged cars, broke the windows of homes in the area, and in addition blew down electrical and telephone lines.

Residents on Wilcox street were without electricity, and Union street residents couldn't use their telephones. Although a pack of power prevented the city's four water pumps from operating, residents were provided with water from an auxiliary pump.

The four pumps can pump 1,800 gallons of water a minute, and the auxiliary pump was able to give service at 600 gallons a minute.

In some parts of the city residents received water which was a trifle rusty due to the reduction of water pressure, stated City Manager Glassford.

"This was the first time the auxiliary pump was used in an emergency and we are very satisfied with its performance," said Mr. Glassford.

Full service was restored Saturday at approximately 5 p.m.

Police state none of the business in town reported windows shattered or property damaged. The Department of Public Works throughout the week have been clearing the streets of broken tree branches.

Revised Charter Nears Completion

The final draft of the proposed city charter, prepared by the nine man charter revision committee, will be ready for public hearing by the committee member Russell Daane expresses hope that two more meetings will conclude the committee's work.

The contents of the proposed charter will be published for the benefit of Plymouth voters as soon as possible, but a vote for adoption must await approval by the Attorney-General's office and the signature of Governor Wilhoit.

Appointed by Plymouth voters last fall, the committee has been meeting each week since the first of the year. One of their first steps was to obtain the services of George R. Sidwell, Lansing attorney, as consultant. Mr. Sidwell specializes in such work, having participated in the preparation of 33 charters in towns ranging in size from 1500 to 100,000.

"A lot of constructive work has gone into the proposals," says Mr. Daane, "much of which is not easily discernible to the casual reader. We have been looking ahead during our discussions and have tried to make such provision as will provide for the future growth of Plymouth."

One of the more important changes in the charter is the shift of the appointive power from the mayor to the city manager. Under the proposed system, the manager will appoint city officials by and with the advice and consent of the city commission. In the event that the commission does not act readily on the selection, the selectee will go into office for a probationary period of thirty days, during which time the commission may approve or disapprove his appointment. It, by the end of 30 days, the commission has taken no action on the appointment, the selection is considered approved.

"We have tried to benefit the two most important groups, the mayor or city manager," says Mr. Daane, "and have strived to obtain balance."

Two changes have been made in the city commission set-up. One provides that the commission will consist of seven rather than five members. The other would have the members serve for rather than two years. Such a system would prevent members of the commission from going out of office as soon as they had learned the routine.

"It takes a year or two to get acquainted with the job," says Mr. Daane. "This way a man will have a chance to put his knowledge to work. The increased number will benefit the city by giving representation to a larger cross section of the public. It will also do away with three-two votes."

Many other changes are incorporated in the new charter, among which are the following: 1. The Trial Board, authorized by voters last fall, will be continued but will be known as the Personnel Service Appeal Board.

2. The City Treasurer is authorized to levy taxes in advance if he suspects someone of preparing to move property from the city to avoid payment of taxes.

3. The owner of a vacant lot will not be able to hold up paving or other improvements on the other block residents desire it.

Commission Sees Voting Machine Demonstration

Highlighting the Monday evening meeting of the City Commission was a demonstration of voting machines. But before an Automatic Voting Machine Corporation representative explained the machine's mechanism, the Commission passed a resolution.

Introduced by Commissioner Fisher, the resolution put the city's lawmakers on record as opposing rent control in this area. The resolution stated the Commission would oppose enactments of rent control by Congress.

The resolution will be sent to Michigan's two U. S. Senators, Ferguson and Moody and the 17th Congressional district's representative Dondero.

Next permission was granted to the Chamber of Commerce to hang banners over the streets, hold a parade and fireworks display and arrange for carnival events for Plymouth's Fourth of July celebration.

A contract for the construction of curb and gutter on Arthur street was awarded to the William Klout company in Grand Rapids and the work will be done in the early part of this summer.

Blacktopping on Arthur street will be started after construction of curb and gutter. The contract was given to Detroit Concrete Products.

The City Commission authorized the employment of Donald H. Sutherland to make the annual audit of the books of the City of Plymouth for the fiscal year of 1950-51.

The Commissioners, who are considering the purchase of a voting machine, asked Mr. Gustavson, representative of the Automatic Voting Machine Corporation of Jamestown, N. Y., questions regarding the machine's operation and advantages.

Mr. Gustavson told the Commissioners that if the city used voting machines, the election results could be known in half an hour.

One half million voters in Michigan now vote with the automatic machines, and 55 communities in the state use voting machines. Bay City began using voting machines in 1908 and recently exchanged its machines for machines of a newer type, said Mr. Gustavson.

Name Isbister as Superintendent of City's Schools

Former mayor of Center Line and superintendent of schools in that city, Russell L. Isbister, will be Plymouth's new superintendent of schools.

The Board of Education says that they believe the city is fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. Isbister, who will take his position in July. Mr. Isbister, the Board said, did not apply for the position but was highly recommended by four educational institutions.

Mr. Isbister has served as Center Line's superintendent of schools since July 9, 1948. He began teaching in 1927 and was appointed high school principal in 1929.

Built on a 80 by 100 foot lot, the building will feature an auditorium with a 170 person seating capacity, a meeting room, kitchen and dining room.

All the Salvation Army's local activities will be housed in the new structure and the increased facilities of the church will provide opportunity for additional activities. Captain William Roberts stated that in the future the Salvation Army will give more attention to a youth program.

The handicraft, nursing, sewing, home training, and ceramics classes going on now will be continued. New inductees are also given services by the Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army hopes the building can be open every evening for youth activities.

One half of the property was given to the Army by Albert Smith of Hollywood, Florida, through the efforts of Perry Richwine, attorney. An adjoining lot on the east was purchased from George Zietsch of Plymouth by the Army.

Road Treatment to be Completed

Drivers are asked to cooperate with the city in its blacktopping program, stated City Manager Glassford. The Department of Public Works are laying an asphaltic coating on all streets, and the blacktopping is expected to be completed this week.

After application of asphalt, the streets can be used in 24 hours. If the streets are used before, the asphalt rolls off the street onto the tires, and a chuck hole results.

"The blacktopping program was held up due to rains, but if the fine weather continues, the roads should be completed by this weekend," stated Charles Rathburn, clerk.

Emigh - Shear Rites Solemnized on Saturday

Mrs. Gerald Emigh

Geraldine Ann Shear repeated her nuptial vows last Saturday evening, June 2 to Gerald Madison Emigh at the Aldergate Methodist church in Detroit. Geraldine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Shear of Plymouth road and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Emigh of Southwestern avenue, Detroit are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend Jesse DeWitt officiated at the 4 o'clock double ceremony. Lighted candelabra and large baskets of white peonies and white gladioli formed an impressive setting. Preceding the ceremony Fred Kendall sang "Our Wedding Day," "Benediction" and "The Lord's Prayer." Geraldine wore a gown of white dotted organdy with full skirt and Peter Pan collar. Small self covered buttons extended the length of the waist. She wore gauntlets of matching material and carried a white fan of dotted organdy centered with a single orchid and streamers tied with stephanotis. She wore a floor length veil of illusion fastened on either side with orange blossoms. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Barbara Brandon, a sister of the bride, was Geraldine's matron of honor. Mrs. Betty Shear, a sister-in-law, and Lynn Kempes were the bridesmaids. All attendants wore identical dresses of ice blue dotted swiss with matching gauntlets. They wore halos of orange roses in their hair and carried fans made like that of the bride centered with tea roses.

Mrs. Shear wore for her daughter's wedding a dress of dark blue with blue accessories while Mrs. Emigh selected light blue trimmed with lace. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Richard Bentley served Gerald as best man and the ushers were Albert Shear and Larry Bentley.

Following the ceremony a reception for 300 guests was held in the church dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Emigh are on a wedding trip through the Smoky Mountains. For going away Mrs. Emigh wore a dress of aqua linen with navy accessories and the orchid from her bridal fan.

Graduates Stage Class Reunion

A class reunion will be held by the graduating class of 1951 on Saturday, June 16. The graduates will meet at the front of the school at 11 a.m. and then drive over to Kent Lake.

Someone will be present at the school until 1 p.m. for late-comers and the boys who must take army tests. Transportation will be available for those who can not drive, but seniors who can drive their own cars are requested to do so.

The picnic will be potluck and everyone is asked to bring their own food. Everyone in the graduating class may bring a friend. It is requested that those who haven't returned their cards to Roger Kidson, do so as soon as possible.

Plymouth Mail Want Ads will get you fast results.

Price Policy

"How Much Should a Funeral Cost?"

Many people in Plymouth have asked us this question—and our answer is always the same. A funeral should cost as much—or as little—as the family wants to spend—and is able to pay without straining their finances.

When a Sonderegger funeral is selected at a certain price, there are no hidden charges—no extra prices added in. Because sudden expense of any kind is a heavy burden on many of today's budgets, we offer—

- Complete funerals from as low as $200.
- Assistance in securing insurance, Social Security and veteran's benefits.

And, of course, no matter what price funeral the family selects, the service is dignified and beautiful—a memory to cherish.

The way television's developing, it'll wind up with all the educational possibilities of a library card. U.S. televisioners have been getting dramatic shots of a gambler's hands, while learning how the other half lives and grows fat. And in England an overplump ex-chorus girl and a chubby housewife are dieting for the edification of the TV audience. The lady scale punishers are to appear on a program every two weeks. This should furnish fortnightly fodder for arguments in all homes where Mama is on the heavy side. Anyway, it proves the new TV medium is not afraid to tackle weighty problems.

See our wide selection of cards and gifts for the young graduate... cosmetics, compacts, stationery, shaving sets, candy, manicure implement sets, and many hundreds of other suggestions. Come in and you, too, will be amazed at the variety of really nice gifts we have.

Oregon lawmakers are considering a bill to guarantee theater customers double their money back if they can't find a seat within 30 minutes. That should settle a long standing problem.

Fifty citizens of the state, the Starkweather fifth graders, were in action in Lansing last week. They were accompanied by their teacher, Miss Verthe Crawford. The fifth graders gave Governor Williams a "Little Beaver" from the Daisy Manufacturing company, and in turn they received one of the governor's "Big Top" pens. The next day the students received a thank-you letter from Governor Williams. After the students shook hands with their governor, they visited the House of Representatives and the Senate. Other highlights of the trip included tours of the state capital, Lansing Museum, and the Supreme Court. Although the students were making a day of formal school work, their education continued with an informative talk by the director on the activities of each branch of the state government. The pupils met Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Thurston, who talked to the children and gave them his autograph. The fifth grade had been planning their trip to the capital for weeks and they report they had an enjoyable and educational trip.

Careful, Mother!

Be Sure Farm-Fresh Milk is Safe—Use an Electric Home Pasteurizer

Easily, economically and right in your own kitchen, you can provide your family with all the healthful benefits of fresh milk—without running the risk of disease. Simply pour raw milk into an automatic home pasteurizer and flip the switch. Electricity does the rest; shuts off automatically when pasteurization is complete.

Why take chances with undulant fever and other diseases? Even if cows are tuberculosis-free and tested for Bang's Disease, raw milk can still menace your family's health. See an electric home pasteurizer at your appliance dealer's today.

Barbara Ann Ward Becomes Bride of James Ramsay

The First Methodist church of Plymouth was the setting on Saturday evening, June 2 for the candlelight ceremony uniting Barbara Ann Ward and James Roger Ramsay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison C. Ramsay of Lander avenue, Detroit. Barbara's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Ward of Pacific avenue.

The Reverend Melbourne L. Johnson officiated at the seventy-three rites before the altar festive with lighted tapers and large baskets of white peonies and gladioli. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Donald Foster sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Through The Years" accompanied by the organist, Richard Miller.

Barbara, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white lace over white satin. Tiny satin buttons extended from the Peter Pan collar to the full skirt. Her fingertip length veil fell from a satin cap trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Eleanor Kinghorn, the matron of honor, was gowned in white organdy over green taffeta and she carried a colonial bouquet of pale roses. Barbara asked Miss Joan Ramsay, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Richard Warka to be her bridesmaids. Their identical gowns were of white organdy over lavender taffeta fashioned like that of the matron and they also carried yellow roses in a colonial bouquet.

Archibald Ramsay assisted his cousin as best man and seating the guests were Ford Lawrence and Eugene Parker.

Mrs. Ward selected a gown of dusty rose lace and wore a corsage of pale yellow roses while Mrs. Ramsay chose beige lace. She wore an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for over 200 guests was held in the Veteran's Memorial Center after which Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay left on a honeymoon trip through Northern Michigan and Northern Wisconsin. For going away the bride chose a black and white checked suit with white accessories.

Barbara is a graduate of Plymouth High school and attended Alma college, and James graduated from Cooley High in Detroit.

ENGLISH STUFFED LAMB
Spring lamb with a special herb dressing is as traditional with the English as bowling on the village green. This fine old Jolly Good You Know

English stuffing recipe with lemon zest and herb is built up the delicate flavor of the lamb.
A lamb shoulder usually weighs between two and one-half and three and one-half pounds. This makes an ideally sized roast for three or four people.

Prepare Lamb for Stuffing
Form a pocket in the lamb shoulder for stuffing by cutting around the blade bone with a sharp slender-bladed knife. Care should be taken not to cut through the outer covering of fat.
The thin paper-like covering called the "fell" should not be removed. The meat is juicier and cooks in less time if it is left on. The fell does not affect the flavor.

Lemon-Herb Stuffing
1 1/2 cup butter or margarine
3 cups toasted bread cubes
1 lemon rind, grated
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 egg
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/2 teaspoon marjoram
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Melt fat and combine with remaining ingredients. Stuff lamb shoulder and fasten opening to keep the dressing in place with skewers or tie with a cord. Rub the outside of the roast with additional salt and pepper.

To Roast Lamb
Place the roast fat side up on a rack in a shallow open pan. Roast in a moderately slow oven (325° F.) until it is well done. Allow 40 to 45 minutes per pound. If you use a meat thermometer the temperature should read 180° F.
Hot spiced peaches instead of a salad and fresh buttered broccoli go especially well with roast lamb.

A safety procedure regularly followed in U. S. mines is the application of rock dust on sides and roofs of entries to prevent explosions. The rock dust, which is powdered limestone, keeps coal dust from becoming combustible.

Spinach greens and eggs are the headliner in the Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful food for June. Happily, these two food items make a company.

Chopped or fried hard cooked eggs are often used to garnish green. Many people like poached eggs served on a nest of hot cooked greens. Shredded eggs on spinach are served as a money saving main dish. Fried or cooked or deviled eggs of a good tender succulent, rich cream in potato salads.

The greens on markets next month will vary with the locality. For a good buy, choose those that look crisp, young, tender and fresh green in color.

As for fruit, fresh apples and canned applesauce still will be in good supply.

The plentiful protein foods due next month includes: Broilers and fryers; fresh or frozen fish; dry beans; cheese; cottage cheese; peanut butter.

For those tender baby beets, so popular these days for home-canning, pickling and cooking, we recommend that you grow them in fact and pull them young, when they are about an inch in diameter. Fast growth makes beets tender and for it, beet plants need fertile, non-acid, well drained soil. They thrive in rich sandy loam or friable silt loam, but in heavy clay the struggle may make them tough and of poor quality.

Beets are very sensitive to acid soil, so lime should be applied as needed. Beets are also sensitive to heat and will not do well in the hotter parts of the country in the summer.

About one ounce of beet seed is enough for 100 feet of row. Because beets are hardy to cold, they can be planted two to four weeks before the frost-free date in most areas.

Freeze Berries When Abundant

Not ripe all over, sound, firm and brightly tart in flavor are the way to have strawberries for home freezing. And strawberries are among the fruits that freeze most successfully.

Home freezing specialists. Berries may be frozen whole in sugar syrup or as puree or juice, but for finest flavor the specialists recommend sliced or crushed berries, sweetened with sugar. Here's how to prepare sliced, sugared berries:

After sorting berries to remove any that are green or imperfect, wash in cold water, a few at a time, lifting them gently out of the water to prevent bruising. Drain in a colander. Then remove hulls and slice into a bowl.

Sprinkle on sugar, allowing 1/4 cup sugar to each quart (4 cups) of fruit. To draw out juice, turn fruit over several times with a large spoon. (Use granulated sugar, either beet or cane, or one-half cup sirup and three-fourths cup granulated sugar.)

Put berries in moisture-vapor-proof containers. Rigid containers such as the new square plastic boxes with press-on lids or glass freezer jars are easy to use. The berries will expand as they freeze, so one-half inch headspace should be left in pint containers, and one inch headspace in quarts. Be sure juice covers all the fruit. Press berries down with a spoon if necessary to let the juice rise.

Seal the container. Then label to show the date and also the type of product. For example: "Sliced sugared strawberries, June 15, 1951."

Freeze and store at zero F. or lower.

BETTER THAN A DINNER BELL

It's the hickory-wood smoked fragrance of bacon cooking that will get the family to the table on time. Whether it's breakfast, lunch or dinner, bacon makes any meal an easy and flavorful one.

To protect its fine flavor, buy bacon only for immediate need or select the flavor-protecting, vacuum sealed package that comes in one-half pound or pound sizes. Keep it carefully refrigerated away from strong flavored foods and keep it well wrapped in its original package.

The method by which you cook bacon can match almost anything else you're cooking and use the same part of the range. Broiled, pan fried, or baked, it should be watched carefully and removed when it is just crisp, but not brittle.

You'll want to save the bacon drippings for frying eggs, apple slices, or for seasoning for mashed potatoes, cauliflower, green beans, and other vegetables. It's a good idea to cook an extra slice or two, cut into bits, and cook it with your favorite vegetables for added flavor. It works wonders!

For an easy-to-prepare and satisfying meal, reheat canned baked beans in individual casseroles and serve with crisp strips of baked bacon and pickle fans. Greet your family with this meal soon:

A new McCormick Farmall Super C tractor, with 17 major improvements, is International Harvester's latest addition to its line of five Farmalls. This new two-row, two-plow tractor, according to the manufacturer, puts into the hands of the operator "more power, more pep, more pull." IH dealers are now displaying and demonstrating this new tractor. A full line of direct-connected and mounted McCormick machines are available for use with the Farmall Super C. Each machine is raised, lowered and adjusted for exact working depth by positive Farmall Touch-Control.

A new McCormick Farmall tractor, the two-row, two-plow Super C, is being introduced in this community this week by West Bros., Inc., International Harvester dealer in Plymouth. Polk Delivers City Directory

Delivery of the 1951 Plymouth and Northville City Directory to subscribers' homes and offices completed by R. L. Polk & company, of Detroit. It is the last of a line that began here in 1927—24 years ago.

The new edition is a compact volume of 447 pages listing 10,320 names in Plymouth and Northville and surrounding rural routes, with 18 continued as the minimum listing age. This count considers the combined names of man and wife as only one name, the publishers said.

Special features of this new guidebook include the designation by symbol of tenant-owned homes and homes and places of business having telephones; marital status, wives' names, heads of households, and lists of government offices and officials also are shown. Two stories, describing each of the communities separately, appear in the book as well.

A classified department reveals that Plymouth and Northville combined have 229 distinct varieties of business endeavor, catalogued from "Accountants-Public" to "Yarns-Retail."

Following the usual Polk practice, the latest Plymouth and Northville city directory will again be distributed to the free-reference Directory Libraries maintained by the members of the directory publishers' association at Chambers of Commerce in other cities, the publishers announced.

This is a special service administered by the Association of North American Directory Publishers, to which the Polk firm belongs, it was explained. The local unit of this out-of-town directory service is maintained at the offices of R. L. Polk & Co., 431 Howard street, Detroit.

James V. Aceto is number one and Peter Zylstra, Jr. is last on the Plymouth roster, while Horace Aeschbacher and J. Zwirner are the same roles in the Northville line-up. Surnames which seem to "go together" are Pardon and Makepeace and Sailer and Helm.

Raccoon Visits City, to His Own Misfortune

Plymouth received its second recent visitor from the wild-life animal world Sunday evening, May 27, when a large raccoon stalked across busy Pennington avenue near the Post Office and was struck by an automobile.

Only last week, a deer was spotted near the outskirts of the city and one wonders if Plymouth is going back to the Indians. Residents of the city are concerned whether the city will be besieged by an animal invasion.

The police department no doubt will have to haul in the unruly visitors for disobeying city ordinances. Or another possibility would be to start a city zoo. Persons interested in starting a zoological garden need not go out into the wilds to capture the animals, for apparently the animals are coming to Plymouth.

Canada has abundant coal fields, but they are so far removed from Quebec and Ontario—which contain 75 per cent of the population—that 60 per cent of the Dominion's coal supply comes from the United States.

Milton Katz, E.C.A. envoy, points out that European industrial productivity is between one-third and one-fourth that of the U.S. It is even less in the case of man-made production of bituminous coal.

"Some day I'm going to own a Roadmaster"

ONE thing that interests us mightily is the fact that so many people are stepping up, when they buy automobiles.

We've been looking at surveys, and it seems that just about everyone wants a better car than the one he's now driving.

So we know how you feel, and we'd like to help you make your dreams come true.

We'd like you to discover how fine a fine car can be.

We'd like you to stretch out in the room of a ROADMASTER—feel the luxury of its double-depth cushions—stroke the fine texture of its fabrics.

We'd like you to know the proud levelness of its coil-spring cushioned ride—as well as its gentle obedience to your hand on the wheel.

We'd like to show you the many extras this custom-built Buick provides—at no extra charge when we come to make out a bill of sale.

But above all, we'd like you to experience two thrills found exclusively in ROADMASTERS.

One is the smooth might of its Fireball Engine. The other is the supreme simplicity of Dynaflo Drive, which is, incidentally, one of the many features included in the price.

We try to hold down our enthusiasm in talking about this masterful beauty.

We might claim—you'll find more room—more comfort—more luxury—a smoother ride—more conveniences—more thrill in a ROADMASTER than in any other car in the fine-car field.

But why spoil the thrill of discovery? Come find out for yourself how completely a 1951 ROADMASTER fulfills the dreams of the car you hope sometime to own.

And let us whisper something to you: The cost of making this step to ROADMASTER ownership is less than most people believe.

Roger Babson Says --

Babson Discusses Prices New York City, June 7. What is the outlook for prices of foods, clothing and rent for the balance of this year?

Government Price Fixing The Federal attempts to lower prices is largely a political gesture. Very few high-quality goods will sell for less for some time.

Prices in New York City is the great central market for men's and women's clothing. Upon inquiries today I learn that the prices which you see in windows and advertisements may be kept down, but the quality will not be good.

good quality you must buy a brand which has always cost more. This applies to almost everything - clothing, furniture and canned goods.

What About Wages? The "take home" wages are determined by supply and demand. Labor Unions can make manufacturers pay more wages, but they cannot make the public buy more merchandise.

Dollars Are Worth Less Another reason why the Government cannot now reduce prices is because the dollar will be worth less next year.

Shall You Buy Now? Don't buy now for hoarding. Prices will not skyrocket. There will continue to be enough necessary goods.
