Charles Stoneburner Suffers Heart Attack While Fishing

Charles Stoneburner, a life time resident of Plymouth, died Sunday morning at about 1 a.m., suffering a heart attack while he was fishing in Mud Lake with Wallace Ebert.

The two were on their way to shore, said Mr. Ebert, when Mr. Stoneburner suddenly stood up in the boat trying to catch his breath. He then fell overboard and as he grasped the side of the boat the boat capsized.

Mr. Ebert said he tried carrying Mr. Stoneburner and pulling the boat as he swam toward shore, and it looked almost as if they were going to make it toward safety, when Mr. Stoneburner let go of him.

"I tried searching for him, but it was so dark that I couldn't see him," said Mr. Ebert. Mr. Ebert suffered shock and exhaustion.

Mr. Ebert called the sheriff and called the Wayne County Sheriff at a nearby cottage. The body of Mr. Stoneburner was recovered an hour later. Doctors stated that he did not drown, but died from a heart attack. The 68-year-old resident had suffered a stroke just recently.

Mr. Ebert stated that he and Mr. Stoneburner had fished many times in Mud Lake, which is 12 miles west of Pontiac. That Saturday evening they began fishing at 6 p.m. for bullheads, and were just on their way home when Mr. Stoneburner fell overboard.

Mr. Stoneburner, who resided at 1051 Hartsough, was employed by the Pere Marquette railroad for 24 years until 1947 when he retired.

Surviving him are his two daughters, Mrs. Vera McFarlane of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Margaret Robinson of Plymouth, and three grandchildren, Jimmie, Danny and Suzanne Robinson. His wife, Grace, preceded him in death on June 19, 1947.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. from Schrader's Funeral Home, with the Reverend Henry J. Walsh, D.D., officiating. Hymns were rendered by Mr. Nat Sibold, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Edna O'Connor.

The pallbearers were Beryl Baskins, Holland Baskins, Max Farquharson, Arthur Mills, Jack Giles and Edward Ebert. Interment was in Newburg cemetery.

The lease was signed after a visit by liquor control chairman George Dalko to this city last Thursday when he approved the signing of a new lease in this area. The property was leased from Kaufman and Spears who recently purchased the building from Mr. and Mrs. Bev Smith.

The state plans to have the new store in operation by the first of July.

James Latture will officially open his new real estate offices at 630 South Main street this Saturday. Plymouth's well known former debate coach, who has sold real estate in the city for the last few years, will after this week devote his full time to his new undertaking.

Associated with Mr. Latture in his office will be Vaughan Smith, David Gates, and Elmer Witt. The office is located next to the Herald Cleaners and will be open seven days a week to accommodate people looking for real estate services here at any time.

Announcement was made Monday by Alex Gillikin, district manager of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, of the leasing of the former Forest Motor Sales building in the corner of Wing and Forest avenue. The building will be used to house a new retail and wholesale liquor store to have package outlets in this section of Wayne.

Playgrounds, Day Camp, Tot Lot Open for Summer

The recreation program is in full swing for the summer. Playgrounds open for the summer on Monday, June 25. Central, Sutherland, and Starkweather playgrounds will be open daily from 12 and from 1 to 5 p.m. The latter two playgrounds have evening hours from 7 to 9 p.m.

Playground leaders at Central are Pat Pine of Michigan State college and Dolly Lewis, high school student. Starkweather is under the supervision of Michigan Normal student, Helen Strickland and Beverly Balsley of Michigan State college.

Kathleen Shaw, teacher, with Beth Douglas, high school student assisting, will supervise the Sutherland and Forest playground.

Activities which will be held on the playgrounds include arts, crafts, games, singing, story telling, softball, baseball, tennis, parades, and special day programs. Three leagues will be formed in softball and baseball for the following age groups: 12 years and under, 12-15 years, and 15-18 years.

Activities at the playgrounds are all free of charge to the youngsters except where an added expense of making articles in arts and crafts might come up.

Beginning Tuesday, June 26, is Day Camp. Open to boys and girls in the 9-14 age group. Day Camp will be held in the Kensington area on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 9 to 4 p.m.

On the agenda for the boys and girls are swimming, hiking, fishing, cooking, conservation, and nature study. Only a very nominal fee is charged for Day Camp to help defray expenses.

Registration blanks can be obtained at the playgrounds on Monday, June 25.

A bus will pick up the children for the camp at 9 a.m. at the high school. During the first week, the children must bring their own food. Later out-door cooking will be scheduled.

Day camp leaders are Beth Holsel, Kathleen Shaw, teacher, and Ronald Beaver, Sue Woolweaver and Jo Woolweaver, who are high school students.

All children over 14 will have the chance to go swimming every Monday and Friday beginning June 25 at Kent Lake.

Previous summers, the recreation department took the children to Rouge Pool, but due to new arrangements which had to be made, the swimming program has been transferred to Kent Lake.

A bus will leave at 9 a.m. from the high school and return 12:30. "A life guard is on hand at all times," said Mr. Woolweaver, recreation director, "and the group is under constant supervision."

Something new in the recreation facilities is the co-operative Tot Lot which is supervised by mothers. The Tot-Lot at Central playground will be held every day from 12 to 13 in the morning, beginning Monday, June 25.

Planned for children from two to five years old, the Tot Lot will especially provide children, who do not have playmates, with the opportunity to become better adjusted and acquainted with other children.

Mothers are asked to call the recreation department, phone 2075, for more information.

A leader's training period will be held next Monday from 10 to 12 every morning at the City Hall for all teachers, leaders, and substitutes in the summer program of the recreation department.

"In this way," said Mr. Woolweaver, "everyone will be well-versed in procedures and methods before the beginning of the summer program on June 25."

Next week, starting Monday evening, and continuing for an entire week, up to and including Saturday night, the Legion will sponsor a carnival which will be held on the site of the proposed Veteran's Memorial home, on Farmer street near Arthur.

Boys and girls are advised to watch for the red, white and blue balloons. The veterans hope to make this a worthwhile event, something that will please the children as well as produce some revenue for the treasury of the organization.

Passage-Gayde Post Conducts Paper Drive

Plymouth residents will have the opportunity to get rid of their old magazines and newspapers Saturday, when the Passage-Gayde Post No. 391 of the American Legion conduct their paper drive.

All funds raised by the sale of the newspapers will be used to further community activities carried on by the local American Legion Post.

Flag Day Today in Plymouth

Today is Flag Day! "Everyone who has a flag should display it," stated Elton Knapp, Americanism chairman of the Passage Gayde Post 391, American Legion.

By an act of Congress, the flag was authorized as the United States' official flag on June 14, 1777. Throughout the country, that date is observed as Flag Day.

The "Old Glory" is the third oldest of the National Standards of the world, older even than the Union Jack of Britain and the Tri-color of France.

Now flown in U. S. possessions all over the world, the flag was raised first at Fort Stanwix, where Rome, N. Y., stands. It flew first on foreign soil on January 28, 1778, at Nassau, Bahama Islands. Fort Nassau was captured by the Americans in their fight for independence.

The flag received its design when it was decreed that there should be a star and a stripe for each state, making 13 of both; for there were 13 states at that time. The stars and stripes grew to 15, when in 1791, Vermont, and in 1792, Kentucky were admitted to the Union.

On the Fourth she will lead the big parade through the heart of the city.

Much interest has been evoked by the contest and numerous entries have already been received. Many stores and business establishments have entered their choice for the Queen.

The high school grounds have been selected as the site of the program. Refreshment concessions will be operated by city firemen and an ox roast will be sponsored by St. John's Episcopal church.

4 Beams for Pool Go to Government

Despite the fact that four steel girders slated for the swimming pool's roof in the Plymouth High school new addition were seized by the government for emergency uses, construction will not be held up, stated Fred Coverdill, superintendent of construction.

The work on the natatorium and gymnasium is instead ahead of schedule," he said.

The steel beams were routed on their way to Plymouth, and even though additional beams cannot be acquired until August, progress will continue, said Mr. Coverdill, for well concentrate on the front of the addition.

Complete construction on the new addition includes the main corridor floor, paving of the court between the two buildings, brick walls of the band room, yellow tile work in the girls' locker room, plumbing in the shower room, ventilation and sheet metal work in the gym and construction of the gym's roof.

At a saving to Plymouth residents, the originally planned construction of a planting box in front of the gym has been dropped from the design, said superintendent of construction Coverdill. The planting box was also dropped to make provision for future classrooms in the front of the gym in the future.

"Offices could be built over the roof of the main corridor if additional expansions were necessary," stated Mr. Coverdill.

In addition to his interest in the motion picture show business, Mr. Lush has developed an interesting hobby on his little ranch located some four miles back from the Pacific ocean and not so far from the well known sea coast city of LaJolla.

Mr. and Mrs. Lush expect to be in Plymouth for nearly two weeks before returning to the new home they recently completed out where the state boosters claim that every day is a perfect day.

Can Expect More Pupils in School

The number of school-age children in Plymouth's school district has increased during the last year, show the school census figures. This year there are 2,701 boys and girls in the 5 to 19 age group, an increase of 160 over last year.

There will also be more children in school in the years to come, for in the from birth to four year age group there are 104 more children. Plymouth's school district contains 1,274 children in that age bracket.

The purpose of the school census is to determine and predict the future needs of space for the new pupils. With the addition of the Bird Elementary and George A. Smith schools, Plymouth has kept up with the increased school population, stated school officials.

The total number of children in the area adds up to 3,975. Census figures show there are more boys in the district than girls. There are 1,905 girls compared to 2,070 boys.

The school census was taken during the last 20 days of May. Census enumerators were Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Geraldine Hopkins, and Miss Dora Graebner.

Fishermen Back From 'North Pole'

There is a certain group of Plymouth fishermen, who, when they go fishing, go fishing where it is nothing at all for the "big ones" to jump right in your boat when the fishermen try to get their Dane Devils back in the boat before a fish can strike them.

This fishing party, made up of Frank Terry, Ralph Taylor, Gar Charles Beagly, Don Lightfoot and son Barrie, not only go where the fish can be caught, but they go perfectly willing to travel half way between here and the North Pole to find the right kind of a fishing lake.

The group left Plymouth some ten days ago, some by train and others driving. They met at Sudbury, Ontario, and from there took the Canadian Pacific north to a point near the Chapleau Game Preserve. Some nine or ten miles from the railway stop, the fishermen were taken by canoe to Dog Lake, where they spent a week enjoying some of the best fishing an Isaac Walton devotee could hope to find anywhere on this continent.

They caught Great Northern pike, walleyes, and some trout. Even though they were some 700 or 800 miles nearer the North Pole than when home, they experienced some hot "August" weather that made them all wish for the cooler climate of Plymouth. But notwithstanding the hot hot days, members of the party declare they enjoyed one of the most successful and pleasant fishing trips they had ever taken.

Construct Dairy Store on South Main Street

City's Streets Treated for Dust

The Department of Public Works is presently conducting the city's new dust treatment program.

All of the city's streets are being covered with asphalt, which will settle the dust and provide a basis for blacktopping of the streets in the future.

After the asphalt is applied to the streets it takes approximately 24 hours to become permanent, depending on the composition of the street. If a street is made up of sand and cinders, the asphalt application will not take long to "fix".

Streets of clay material, like loam, will become permanent. Drivers are asked to cooperate and not drive upon the streets, until the asphalt layer is ready to be driven upon.

The asphalt laying program is expected to be completed this week.

Michigan Bell Closes Office Saturdays

Trained Crew, Latest Equipment Ready to Protect City from Fire

"Operator, give me 1656!" "I want to report a fire at..." Inside of two and a half minutes, men trained in the latest fire fighting methods, a fire truck, and the most modern equipment are on their way to save the lives and property of Plymouth residents.

Under the leadership of Fire Chief Robert McAllister, the fire department consists of two full-time firemen and 15 volunteers.

The minute the fire siren sounds, the volunteers drop what they are doing and come to the firehall, reporting for duty. Immediately when the fire department receives a report of a fire, a truck is dispatched to the scene of the fire. The fire department's other truck and another crew follow.

Plymouth residents can be assured that they are given the most complete protection and possible in fires and other emergencies.

There are two pumps, with one pumping 500 gallons a minute, and the other pumping 750 gallons of water a minute.

The fire fighting equipment also includes modern fire extinguishers used for petroleum and electrical fires, two self-contained breathing apparatuses for enlatest methods and techniques in fire fighting.

Besides Chief McAllister, Kenneth Veal and George Schoene are the two full-time firemen. The volunteers include Harold Secord, assistant chief; Leo Lohr, assistant chief; Milan Frank, John Fulton, Gwynne Fulton, Thomas Charles Groth, Dick Johnson, John Leitz, John Radtke, Cliff Reddeman, Dale Robinson, Bob Secord, Francis Sacker, and Roy Bennett.

The Reverend Alexander Miller is the former chaplain of the fire department.

The importance of turning in fire reports correctly can not be stressed too strongly," said Chief McAllister.

"Do not get excited," he said. "Talk clearly into the phone and give the street and address distinctly. Please use the fire department's new telephone number, which is 1656. This number should only be used to give fire alarms."

"If the resident does not know or remember the fire department's number, he need only ask the operator for the fire department and he will get the number," added Chief McAllister.

Fire fighting trucks are also assured that they are given the most complete protection and possible in fires and other emergencies.

Softball Talk

At the close of the first week of play by four leagues composed of 23 adult teams many interesting events took place. Too numerous to mention however, so we'll resort to facts and a few high lights.

TEAM STANDINGS
Men's Open League:

Whitman & Barnes	W	L	T	Pct

Daisy Mfg. Co.	0	2	0	.000
Local III	0	1	2	.000
Bill's Market	0	2	0	.000

Two of the four games played were 1-0 scores which certainly reveals the fact that this league will produce some interesting developments before the season closes. Wells, the DeHoCo pitcher pitched a no-hitter and still lost the game 1-0. All teams are well balanced in this league.

Miss Ruth Hadley Tells of Work in The Philippines

"I don't think any of us know what Orientals are like. Not at any time since I was in Japan and the Philippines did they commit open acts against us. They were always subservient, but no one knows what is on their minds."

This is the opinion of Miss Marjorie Ruth Hadley, who has spent the last 10 years in the East working for the Red Cross Special Services.

Miss Hadley is staying with her mother, Mrs. Edith Hadley of 683 Dodge street for a short time until she goes to Washington for another assignment.

With the outbreak of World War II, Miss Hadley, who had worked with the recreational department in Plymouth, signed up with the Red Cross Special Services, which was under Civil Service. Special Services are now attached to the Army.

"It was the job of the Special Services department," said Miss Hadley, "to provide recreation for servicemen during the war and in peacetime. The recreation people established clubs for the boys where they could relax and enjoy themselves after they were through with their duties.

The Special Services staff provided every type of recreational activity for every different type of servicemen. For example," said Miss Hadley, "facilities for sports including ping pong, horse-shoes, and other games were available for the athletic type."

"Then there were also reading rooms with the latest books and magazines for the studious type of serviceman. Darning, needle, group singing, and games were available to the naturally inclined."

Other activities included beach parties, film shows, variety programs, banquets, and other seasonal programs.

During the war, the Red Cross did not relax on any front. The front lines by providing the boys with recreation and an opportunity to get a brief rest before returning to battle.

The Monday, attractive, and famous Plymouth girl, states that a service club in the Philippines is very beautiful and has the best of facilities. Miss Hadley had a staff of five girls working with her and the club was open every day from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Dances were held twice a week and for four shows entertainment was provided by the Philippine "top talent."

How different is a modern city in the East from that of a city in the West? Miss Hadley stated Manila is very modern with all of the facilities and the tropical climate is pleasant.

When it became hot in Manila, people went up to mountains where it was always cool, she said. A rest camp was established for the armed services in Baguio, in the mountains, which is called the playground of the East.

Colorful native tribes reside in the mountains, said Miss Hadley. The Igorote and the Bontoc tribes are tribes which are similar to the American Indians. The Igorotes are the gaudy ones and wear gay clothes, which the women weave themselves.

Miss Hadley said that unfortunately she missed the typhoons, which blow up frequently in the Philippines, but she did experience the torrential rains which affect the islands for eight months.

The recreational worker's travels also took her to Australia and Japan. In Australia, the Special Services operated a Navy club for combat men. Miss Hadley said she found the people in Australia very friendly and cooperative.

"The cities in Australia are not modern as U. S. cities, but"

Miss Hadley said, "we must remember that Australia is a young nation." Miss Hadley was there in 1943.

Miss Hadley said she was in Japan when the Korean war broke out and the Special Services maintained a club for American troops who were in combat.

"Japan," Miss Hadley declared, "is slowly recovering. Many of her bombed cities are being rebuilt."

"The one good sign for Japan's chances as a democratic nation is the fact that Japanese women are taking part in government affairs."

Formerly the women held a very subservient place in Japanese life. In 1946, Miss Hadley said that women were even being elected to public office.

"The women are now given more equal opportunities and it will be interesting to see if Japan will become a democratic nation."

Miss Hadley states that she finds her work very interesting, and that she is looking forward to her next assignment.

Home Seekers May View First of Prefabricated Houses in South Lyon

First of new low-cost prefabricated Gunnison Homes now erected in South Lyon, is located at the corner of Whipple boulevard and Warren street, it was announced today by Future Homes, Inc., the local dealer for Gunnison Homes, Inc.

Gunnison Homes is the prefabricated housing subsidiary of United States Steel Corporation, which has been actively engaged in prefabricating homes since 1936.

Raymond M. Foley, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, who has supported special aids for the prefabrication industry, recently pointed out its new importance.

He said: "Our immediate concern with prefabrication is not as a means of increasing current production, but more than ever we are concerned with whatever possibilities it can develop of reducing costs — by improving techniques, on site or off — by conservation of materials and by reduction of man power requirements."

The new home is the "Coronado" and "Champion." These homes are available in five different sizes, and with two or three bedrooms. Size number 3 is now available for inspection in South Lyon.

Features of "Coronado" or "Champion" homes to be erected here include: Streamlined kitchen with double compartment sink and enameled steel cabinets, adequate closet space, combination living-dining room, bath, utility room, built-in linen closet, two or three bedrooms, depending upon size, forced air heat, either oil or gas, depending upon the community, automatic hot water heater, and complete insulation.

The entire packaged "Coronado" or "Champion" also includes a modern built-in bathtub, medicine cabinet, chrome finished soap dishes and towel rods. The interior walls are in mellow-tone finish which requires only damp cloth cleaning.

The Gunnison "Coronado" or "Champion" home is approved by the technical division of FHA, and is made in accordance with the code of the U.S. Bureau of Standards. It also has been approved by the technical committee of the Savings and Loan Association.

West's Show New Lawn Mower

How would you like to mow your lawn someday by just lying on a couch on the front porch, manipulating a few switches and watch the mower trim the lawn neatly and thoroughly? This isn't a dream.

On display at West Brothers Friday will be the only remote control power lawn mower in the United States. Demonstrations will be held several times during the day. For information regarding the time see West's advertisement in the Plymouth Mail.

It will be quite a while before the neighborhood hardware store has such a model for sale, says Sam Briggs, sales manager of West's Lawn Mower Division, Lansing, Mich., as it stands today the West remote control job probably would require a price tag of around $800 or $900.

The mower itself is a Reo Trimalawn with a 25-inch cutting blade and a 1 1/2-horsepower gasoline engine designed and built by Reo, a recognized pioneer in the automotive and combustion engine fields. It logs around a lawn at 3 miles per hour and is capable of trimming three or four acres of grass per day.

Wheels of the Trimalawn are located so that they ride on the cut areas only. The cutting unit which rides ahead of the wheels is supported by two "knee-action" skids which glide easily over the turf. A pivot wheel at the rear enables the mower to make 360-degree turns.

Mounted on the mower is a 25-pound, high-frequency receiving set and battery, complete with a small antenna. The one-watt transmitter, powered by a storage battery, is contained in a knapsack which may be slung over the operator's shoulder and operated somewhat like a "walkie-talkie." Or the transmitter, which weighs 20 pounds, may be placed on the floor or ground while the operator carries just the two small controls.

The mower may be radio-operated at distances up to 500 yards. The controls consist of a simple start-and-stop key operated by one finger. Releasing the key automatically stops the mower, the controls of which are connected to the receiving set by a hydraulic mechanism.

Another key is a directional control. Holding this key steadily at either left or right, for example, will make the mower literally "turn on a dime." The mower will cut grass within 1/4 inch of obstructions.

The Reo Trimalawn has a sulky attachment as optional equipment enabling the operator to ride behind his mower while he guides it.

My MICHIGAN

ELTON R. EATON

Two well known Michigan editors during recent months have been reading much in The Plymouth Mail about the tremendous industrial development in this area. So they decided to come down to Plymouth to see at first hand what is going on around here.

Murl H. DeFoe, editor of The Charlotte Republican-Tribune and Richard Cook, publisher of The Hastings Banner, were these outstanding Michigan newspaper men who popped in suddenly one morning to spend the day in Plymouth.

They were not only surprised but amazed to note the tremendous size of some of the new industrial plants going up in this area. But the thing that took Editor DeFoe's interest was the beautiful park development that runs for miles along the Rouge river and that was made possible to a very great extent by the late Henry Ford.

I am sure readers of The Plymouth Mail will find Editor DeFoe's comment published in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune recently of special interest. It follows:

Elton R. Eaton, editor of the Plymouth Mail, says the late Henry Ford is his selection as the best one-man representative of American qualities from Plymouth Rock to the present hour. This is a broad assertion, but there is much in the record to justify the Eaton accolade. Few Americans have excelled in more accomplishments. The versatile Plymouth editor, with much satisfactory experience of his own in public and private endeavor, made this statement after a drive through the famous Parkway in the western end of Wayne County. Mr. Ford unwittingly made a high contribution to this beautiful park area, but the entire district is another facet of his love for nature and its protection and promotion for public enjoyment. After his own industrial empire had been firmly established, he built seven little industries along the River Rouge which program, it developed, had more to do with beautifying the area than for their utility, although the little plants for several years provided employment for many. Each plant was operated by water power created by dams, making for as many small lakes, and all creating new beauty and additional coastlines for recreation. One of the plants, the Phoenix, was operated exclusively by women. All the employees were screened to find out if their wages were a part of other household income. Mr. Ford's idea being that each employee was on her own, rather than being a secondary wage-earner in the home, another theory of his ideas of wage distribution. These seven plants were all abandoned following Mr. Ford's passing, showing that his successors looked upon these ventures more as a hobby of the great industrialist. The beauty spots growing out of this "practical" weakness still remain, however, and leave the visitor with a new facet of respect for the motor king and his "commoner" qualities of kinship and affection.

Add to this the generally-known attributes of Mr. Ford, such as his initiating the then-famous five-dollar-a-day wages for his employees, and scores of other efforts to improve the social status of his employees, plus his many other civic qualities born of a genuine desire to help the so-called under-dog segment of our society. What name, in any field, would you suggest as excelling that of Mr. Ford as the greatest American, at least of our time?

Plymouth is now bulging at its seams. There are said to be less than 50 lots for building purposes within the city limits. Livonia, an adjoining township, voted to become a city, the supervisor at the time of the election now serving as the first mayor. The once-bucolic Plymouth is about to become an all-out machine shop. Within a year, an estimated hundred acres of nearby soil will be under roofs of several mammoth plants already under some degree of construction. Most of them, like the tank plant being put up by the Ford Motor Co., have to do with the threat of war, but all are likely to continue in their respective industrial fields as permanent shops. The Detroit area is likely to come out of this present war scare as the greatest collection of machine power in America, which, of course, means the world, itself.

Being in the neighborhood of the Detroit House of Correction, near Plymouth, the writer thought of Ed Braden. Accordingly, we made a call on A. Blake Gillies, superintendent, and for nearly 40 years one of the highest-rated penologists in this country. His mark of 87 plus for prison management is in the top bracket of this field. Found that Mr. Braden, who was transferred to this penal institution after it was moved out from Detroit to its present location, was returned to Jackson a year ago next month. Inasmuch as Jackson is crowded to the limit with the highest population in its history, there is some likelihood of his being returned here directly. Ed has a good record here.

The very-adequate Mayflower Hotel was financed a few years ago by 396 stockholders, an exhibit of civic loyalty and support. The Krege and Kroger concerns have built recently four store-front retail plants in town. Two big money racetracks close by; one is being investigated since the K-fauser hearings to determine its stockholders. 139 prisoners in the Women's Division of the Detroit House of Correction gave 134 pints of blood in a recent drive. Incidentally, this is the only women's prison in the state. Fred Kendall, the popular WJR soloist, lives in Plymouth. The C & O Railroad passes the entire back boundary of the large House of Correction property.

Otwell Attends Heating School

Bill Otwell attended recently a Warm Air School held at the Rackham Institute in Detroit and sponsored by the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association of which he is a member.

Most of the discussion, he stated, centered on the Perimeter Heating System, which Otwell Heating inaugurated in this area as their Barefoot Comfort System. New ideas Otwell has obtained will enable him to improve his system of warm floor comfort in both wood and concrete floor ranch homes.

Otwell Heating has just finished a large 2-zone Perimeter Heating System for the Industrial Diamond Corporation of Farmdale. Their first job in Northville was done for Mr. John C. Burkman. Several jobs are under construction in the Plymouth area.

Perimeter Heating combines the advantages of both radiant and forced air heating, according to Otwell. "In a true perimeter system," he states, "air from a down-flow furnace is forced down and out through 3 or 4 radial ducts, buried in the slab, to the outside 'loop' duct that encircles the slab next to the outer edges."

"Running the perimeter loop close to the slab edge keeps the floor warm near exterior walls and this radiant heat plus the air from registers counteracts the downward 'draft' or flow of cold air over windows and walls. A circulating blower keeps the air fresh, summer blower operation is possible without heating, and humidity is controlled as required for comfort."

Because of the defense program, Otwell believes that new homes will be smaller and he recommends Perimeter Heating as the best low-cost way to heat them.

A crack on the inside of a range can be mended by using a filler made of equal parts of common table salt and wood ashes, moistened with water to the proper consistency. The filler will dry hard and will be lasting.

A surprise on your appetizer tray can be French fried liver strips. Brown liver slices, then cut in julienne strips. Roll in flour, then fry in deep hot lard (350 F.) for about 5 minutes. Drain, season, and serve.

FREEDOM'S OPEN DOOR

By Shirley Pine

In this great country we have achieved the open door to freedom. That door was not just thrown open; our forefathers forced it open inch by inch with bloodshed, sorrow and a determined faith to win the rights and freedoms they had traveled so far to gain.

The opening of this great door led to a long corridor with many adjacent doors, each disclosing a new kind of freedom. This great combination of freedom have become the backbone of our country.

This new opportunity gave us the freedom to set up a new government proposed and approved by the people. We had the freedom to elect our own leader and legislature. With the strength of this new government we secured and protected the freedom of speech, the freedom of the press, freedom of religion, and the freedom from fear.

We have grown to take our freedom for granted which is one of the worst things we could do. We don't have to worry about being dragged off to some remote concentration camp because we expressed our opinions to the wrong person. We don't have to worry about someone barging in and throwing us out, or maybe taking our belongings or even splitting up our families. We don't have to worry about our homes being searched unnecessarily or our land being taken by the government. We can work where we want to work, go where we want to go, live where we want to live, and buy what we want to buy, as long as we don't break any of the laws which were made to protect us by the legislative body we elected.

Our freedom of religion is one of the most important freedoms we have and it is one of the great things for which our country is known. We should exercise such a great privilege every chance we get. We don't realize how fortunate we are to be able to go to any church we wish and worship God in any way we wish without being punished or discriminated against.

The achievement of freedom and the setting up of a Democratic government in this country sets an example for the rest of the world. It has given oppressed people in other countries a faint light of hope and something to work for. Many small countries have achieved their freedom after following our example and demanding their rights. It has been the policy of the United States to help these struggling countries financially so they might share in the great opportunities of independence and freedom. The United States is a big step toward securing peace, harmony and freedom for the whole world and with the help of the United States and other peace-loving countries we hope that this will be accomplished.

However, we can never hope to secure freedom for the world unless we can maintain the freedom of our country. The only way we can do this is by educating our people and by exercising our freedoms every day, being sure that we vote and knowing whom we are voting for.

Freedom's door is open to us but that does not mean that it will stay open. If we do not exercise our freedoms and opportunities and keep enough traffic going through that open door to keep it open, it will slam in our face and be a great deal harder to open the second time.

Flag Day Today in Plymouth

As more and more states came into the Union, it became evident that there would be too many stripes.

Congress in 1918 ruled that the stripes should be reduced to the original 13, and stars would be added to the flag as the states were admitted to the Union.

Although everyone is familiar with the Flag's appearance, perhaps not all know what the flag symbolizes.

The American Legion have explained the meaning of the colors. "The red is for valor, zeal and fervency; the white for hope, purity, cleanliness of life, and rectitude of conduct; the blue, the color of heaven; for reverence to God, loyalty, sincerity, justice and truth."

The father of our country, George Washington interpreted this symbolism as "We take the stars from Heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing Liberty."

The American Legion stated that "The United States Flag is unique in the deep and noble significance of its message to the entire world, a message of national independence, of individual liberty, of idealism, of patriotism."

We all, the American Legion declared, should show our respect, loyalty, and patriotism to the flag by displaying it in front of every home and business in the community.

With Our Churches

Dr. Walsh States Law of Love Key to Family Life

"If our law is the law of love our nature must be a loving nature and therefore we are fulfilling our nature and destiny when we learn to love as Christ taught us to love, and as Christ taught us to love by the words of Christ 'If you love Me, keep My commandments.' Doctor William E. Walsh, Professor of English, Mercy College, Detroit, and father of 12 children, told the Holy Name Society of Our Lady of Good Council Catholic church in a recent address.

The speaker emphasized in his talk on family life on the primacy of the law of love as stated by Christ Himself: 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, with thy whole soul, and with thy whole mind, and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.'

From this statement of the law of love, Dr. Walsh went on to define the use of the law of love as it applies specifically to family affairs.

"Our basic task," he said, "is the perfection of our love and since to labor is to play we play well when we strive to implement the law of love in human affairs. Love takes us outside of ourselves, from a self-centered to a God-centered universe. It makes us aware of the reality of love and provides us with a sense of direction toward fulfillment in our lives because it helps us to help Christ in His mission of restoration and redemption. Therefore we become responsible men and women, willing to sacrifice personal interests for the common good."

Dr. Walsh pointed out that "when a little child loves a dog he wants to make the dog happy and is willing to make personal sacrifices in order to delight the dog. If a child is trained to love his brothers and sisters in the way that he does not think himself imposed upon when he must take his share of chores in the family, and when he loves God he finds that, indeed, the yoke is sweet and the burden light because he knows that he is delighting God by his willingness to keep the laws of God."

Dr. Walsh included in his many stories of the application of the law of love in family affairs and quotations from prominent Catholic writers. He ended his talk with a quotation from G. K. Chesterton: "There was something that Christ hid from all men when he went up a mountain to pray. There was something that He covered constantly by abrupt silence or impetuous isolation. There was some one thing that was too great for God to show us when He walked upon our earth; and I have sometimes fancied that it was His mirth."

THESE folks are enjoying something that's being pioneered by Buick. It's freedom from the blinding glare of bright summer sunlight. It's freedom from hot laps—caused by the sun's rays beating down through the broad expanse of windshield. These freedoms trace to a new feature you may have noticed in '51 Buicks—a new kind of glass† with a cool, soft, blue-green tint, in every glass area of the car, front, side and back. Buick engineers tell us that this "Buick first" reduces glare 18% over conventional glass—cuts sun heat as much as 45%—and Buick engineers are very conservative fellows.

This glare-and-heat-reducing Easy-cyc glass is factory-installed at moderate extra charge. It gives you a built-in transparent "sun visor" right in the windshield—and it also dulls the dazzle of oncoming headlights at night. As we've said, this is something Buick owners were the first to enjoy. It takes its place with such exclusives as the valve-in-head Fireball Engine—coil springs on all four wheels—the firm power linkage of torque-tube drive—and the magic of Dynaflow.***

Buy the newest new car of them all!

As every thoughtful person knows: the car you buy today is a car you should be proud to own "for keeps!"

In times like these, it's actually extravagant to buy a lightly built car that begs for frequent trading.

That's the big economy reason why so many far-sighted buyers are now taking the easy step up to their first Packard.

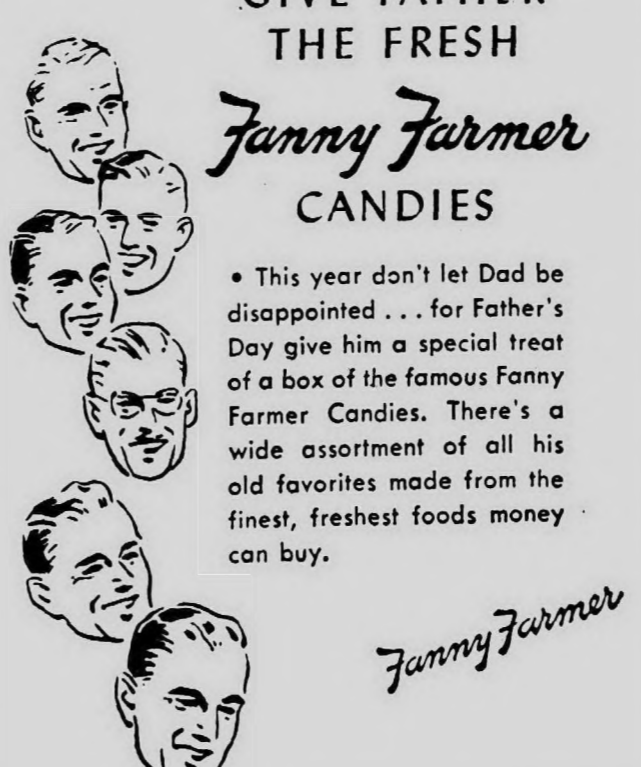

And here's what they enjoy: Exclusive, award-winning beauty to keep it distinctive, regardless of its age. A lastingly new brand of performance from America's highest-compression eights... and Packard's exclusive Ultramatic Drive. A matchless combination of gentle smoothness and firm, road-bugging safety with Packard's famed Limousine Ride. All backed by the greatest durability record in motordom.

Of all the Packards built, in the last 52 years, over 50% are still in service!

UNCORKING THE NEWS

There's been a lot of discussion over the tests being given to college students to see whether they stay on the campus... on head for army camps. 175,000 took the first test on May 26, and the only refrigerator offered for a prize was a possible tour of duty in Iceland. Three more groups are taking tests during the summer, but some folks think it's working to concentrate on college students. There are plenty of smart lads who can't afford the cost of pennants, proms, books and tuition. But whatever plan is worked out, the quizzes are certainly encouraging the collegiates to study.

Although it may seem like the "last minute," we still have a nice selection of Father's Day cards and gifts. You'll find just the right thing for him, and you'll like the fast, courteous service our clerks will render.

In Memphis, Christine Doss, who was to be crowned "Queen of Health" came down with a case of chicken pox. It kind of put her on the spots. When you're downtown shopping these warm days to come, you'll be wanting a spot to get cool relaxation and to meet your friends. So just remember that there's no better fountain and luncheonette service in Plymouth than that which you'll find at PETERSON DRUG, opposite the Mayflower Hotel, at 840 Ann Arbor Trail. Phone: 2080.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Poite of Schoolcraft. Melvin will have served in the army four years this October.

When it comes to spaghetti and meat balls, the Italian touch is almost a necessity.

Many of the U. S. Army's 40th Infantry Division tankers undergoing advanced training at Ojohari, Japan thought so when they forced Pfc. Mike Cicirelli from Plymouth into the kitchen to prepare tomato sauce recently.

A driver with the 223rd Regiment's Heavy Tank Company, Private Cicirelli, reluctantly entered the field kitchen to add Latin refinement for cook Charles Kraft, Mountainville, New York.

"If the stuff tastes good," he said, "the first sergeant will make me a permanent KP so I can cook Italian dishes. If something goes wrong, the guys will chase me all the way to Tokyo."

His culinary skill proved satisfactory though, and after accepting congratulations from fellow tankers, Cicirelli had a concession to make.

"I'd never made sauce before in my life. I just did the same things I used to watch my mom do," the smiling Cicirelli revealed.

The Villager, a New York City weekly, gave the account of coal's early history in that region. The first coal New York used came by ship across the Atlantic from Newcastle-on-Tyne, in England. It is sold by the caldron, which meant 3,000 pounds, and was bought by the rich. It was hardly a d-ent in the use of wood.

Plan Auto Trip to Northwest

Up where the wild horses stampede is so exciting that native folks sometimes faint and where the chuck wagon races are so furious that one wonders how any of the drivers or horses survive these events is the "nice quiet place" that Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bachelder of this city, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Chrysler of Chatham, Ontario, plan to spend a month's vacation.

Late in this month these two couple will start on an automobile trip that will take them to Calgary, Alberta, where one of the most famous of western events, generally known as "The Big Stampede", is scheduled for early in July.

On the way to the Pacific northwest the group will stop in the province of Saskatchewan to visit with a brother of Mr. Bachelder who has lived in that part of Canada for many years. They expect to return to their homes late in July.

No time-out is needed for the coal industry to convert from peace to war. Coal mines do not require retooling, and no change-over in facilities is required.

Japan's imports of American bituminous coal are rising because Red China wants industrial products—mostly motors—in exchange for Manchurian coal.

Hold Services for Former Resident

Mrs. Pearl A. Hamilton, a former resident of Plymouth and who for the past 40 years has resided at Colorado Springs, Colorado passed away Friday, June 8 at the age of 75 years.

Her husband, Herman Alfred Hamilton preceded her in death in 1938. Her sister, Mrs. Mamie Patterson preceded her in death in 1938. She is survived by her nephew, Donald T. Patterson of Plymouth.

Mrs. Hamilton was brought to the Schrader Funeral Home, in Plymouth, for graveside services were held Wednesday, June 13 at 1 p.m. at B.H. Branch cemetery, Redford, with Rev. Henry Walch, D. D. officiating.

The Irish Republic in January and February of this year imported more than 150,000 tons of bituminous coal from the United States to meet fuel needs.

Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us, or we find it not. Emerson

In the mechanized coal mines of the U. S. only one haulage worker is needed for every 50 tons of coal produced; in Great Britain this ratio is one haulage worker for every five tons.

Some 25 million tons of bituminous coal were shipped out of the country in 1950, or about 5 per cent of the national production. Ninety per cent of these exports went to Canada.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Expect Top Year for Berries

Now that those tempting boxes of fresh strawberries are back many homemakers may like to quickly review how the supply situation looks for this season, how long the "season" will last, and when to expect the most reasonable prices.

From all appearances this is going to be a top strawberry year, both in supply and quality, and the price is expected to be reasonable.

The heavy marketing period may be longer than usual this year because many berries from the slightly late southern states crops will be reaching our markets after local harvests are well underway. But with Michigan being a leading strawberry state, the best "buys" should still be in the locally grown fruit.

The Michigan season, just getting started, will last until about the middle of July. We can expect rapid increases in supply in the next 10 days, with the peak of production from about June 15 to 25. This should be the time for most economical buying for home freezing and preserving.

Most homemakers know what to look for when buying strawberries—color, moisture—firm berries with caps on. But quite often the berries are not handled properly at home, which raises the cost per serving of edible fruit.

These precautions are advised: Don't wash or stem berries until just before use, to avoid crushing and rapid spoilage. Store the berries in the refrigerator so they have plenty of air circulation. A tray or colander is a good storage container.

Strawberries are on one of our easy-to-freeze fruits. Sort, wash, hull and drain the berries thoroughly. They may be packed whole, cut or crushed, in a dry pack with or without sugar, or in a sugar syrup.

If sugar syrup is used, cover berries with a 20 to 30 percent syrup made by mixing 1 to 1½ cups sugar with 1 cup water. Bring sugar and water to a boil and the berries. One part sugar mixed with 3 to 5 parts berries is the recommended dry sugar pack.

Remember that whenever you buy strawberries you're getting much more than delightful flavor and color for your money. Our shortcake favorite is an excellent source of vitamin C which we need daily in our diets.

In Chicago, Mrs. Josephine De Franca sued her husband for divorce, charging that he 1) forced their eight-year-old son to tackle multiplication problems involving ten-digit numbers, 2) twisted her arm when she tried to help the boy, 3) pounded the child's knuckles for wrong answers, 4) rewarded correct answers with raw meat on the theory that it improved the brain.

Give Bride Useful Gifts

Almost everybody's budget-conscious these days. So, now more than ever before, friends of the about-to-be bride will want to give showers that will be really useful to her, but not bank-breaking for them. Happily, a kitchen shower fills both bills. It offers the opportunity of giving economically but on a grand scale of useful gifts for lifetime use.

Here is a list of kitchen essentials for the convenience of kitchen shower givers:

General Equipment
Coffee maker
Tea Pot
Shallow roasting pan with rack
Casseroles for oven cooking
Food grater
Sharp knives
Sauce pans for top-of-stove cooking
Can opener
Paper towels
Pot holders
Double boiler
Kitchen salt and pepper shaker
Frying Equipment
Standard Measuring spoons
Flour sifter
Long handled fork
Pancake turner

For Deep Frying
Heavy sauce pan, 2 or 3 qt. size
Frying basket 6" deep
Slotted metal spoon

Baking Equipment
Mixing bowls
Wooden mixing spoons
Standard Measuring spoons
Flour sifter
Egg beater
Cake pans
Pie plates
Muffin tins for large and small
Cookie sheet
Standard measuring cups
Rolling pin

If each gift is wrapped in the same kind of paper and ribbon, the assembled collection will be beautifully awe-inspiring. Or, you might like to wrap gifts and place all of them in a collective gift of a large white enamel disposal pail complete with a huge bow on top.

Another interesting and very personal touch can be achieved if everyone includes a favorite recipe that can be made with the aid of the gift they've chosen.

A Bureau of Mines demonstration plant in Louisiana, Mo., is producing quality gasoline from coal at costs ranging up to 12½ cents a gallon. Secretary of Interior Oscar Chapman says that a commercial plant using the same process would pay for itself—as a business enterprise—in ten years.

DAD'S DAY PORTERHOUSE

For Father's Day of the year, here's a broiled porterhouse simply garnished with broiled tomato halves. The steak has been cooked at the recommended moderate cooking temperature to be at its finest.

Try Salads for Warm Weather Menu Variety

Salads continue to grow in popularity and at this season especially often become the main dish at a meal. An assortment of fruit, fresh, canned, or a combination of both, attractively arranged in a salad bowl or on a plate on a bed of lettuce, kale, spinach, endive, romaine, chicory or other edible green leaves, will give a lift to even a warm-weather appetite.

Recommended dressings: Mayonnaise blended with whipped cream, or thinned and sweetened with fruit juice; clear french dressing, or a serving of slightly sweetened cottage cheese.

Vegetable salad when served as the main dish can be made completely satisfying by a garnish of hard-cooked eggs, strips of cheese, and strips of cold chicken, roast, ham, tongue, — in fact, any cold roast meat.

However, when cold roast is used it is enhanced by the addition of some strips of salty meat such as ham or fried bacon. Tart french dressing goes well with all leafy vegetables but some folks prefer a cooked salad dressing or mayonnaise.

Salads made with fish and hard-cooked eggs together with celery or other raw vegetables call for mayonnaise type dressings but may be served with a tart dressing made from salad oil and lemon juice or vinegar well seasoned.

The general directions are to chill salad ingredients before mixing, and provide tartness in the salad or in the dressing. For tossed green salads, tear greens in fairly large pieces. Avoid wilting and sogginess by drying the greens used in salads, draining canned food thoroughly before adding to salad, and using just enough dressing to moisten those salads which are blended with dressing before serving.

Any fresh fruits that tend to discolor should be sprinkled with orange, lemon or lime juice or be submerged in pineapple juice for a few minutes.

Roger Babson Says --

Babson Discusses Outlook for World War III

New York City, June 14. During the past few days I have talked with some important people here regarding the possibility of World War III—and when it may or may not be expected.

No War This Summer in Europe

My financial friends insist we have nothing to fear during this summer or early fall. The chief assets of Russia and her satellite nations of Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Poland, etc., are their crops, especially their wheat. Hence, Russia will not start World War III until those crops are gathered, transported, distributed and safely stored.

My military friends go further and explain that Russia will not start World War III until the rivers of eastern Europe freeze over so her supply lines cannot be cut by our airplanes bombing bridges. You will remember that the Chinese invasion of Korea did not occur until the Yalu River froze over; but now the invasion supply lines are apparently licking the Chinese.

Coming Winter Critical

The above means we have nothing to fear from Russia before winter comes. This coming winter, however, will be a very critical time, especially as the Russians are more accustomed to living, moving and fighting in winter than are the U.S. forces or the Europeans. It is also said that atomic bomb operations can be more effective in winter weather. Russia may start World War III this winter.

The Russians further realize that the United States and the Allies are now arming at a more rapid rate than the Russians can possibly meet. Russia can raise more men than we and our Allies, but Russia cannot produce airplanes, tanks, guns and other war supplies as fast as we can. All of this leads me to believe that, if the Russians do not strike early in 1952, they have decided to forget World War III for some years to come and await further political developments.

Stocks, Bonds and Commodities

Business and investing may remain on a dead center for the next six months or more. There should be no important price changes until the spring of 1952. If Russia has not started War III by that time, there may then be a letdown in business and prices. Certainly, taxes would not be increased further. But, if Russia should strike next winter, taxes are sure to be raised again.

As to general business during the remainder of this year, I look for a lag this summer during the "tooling up" period when industry is switching from peace to war work. This may be accompanied by some unemployment. By fall, however, business should again be good. This up-let should continue throughout the winter whatever Russia decides to do. All skilled workers will be in greater demand, even at higher wages.

Presidential Election Next Year

Added to the above comments, do not forget that another national election comes next year. If Mr. Truman can go to the voters under the slogan "I kept you out of war," he may have a fair chance of re-election. Therefore, the entire Administration will try to delay World War III until after 1952, which may result in pushing it indefinitely away. Do not sell Mr. Truman "short" yet, especially if the fighting in Korea stops. This does not change the importance of the prediction that this coming winter will be a very critical period.

But, personally, I go further and say "anything can happen during the years ahead, from a devastating War III to World Peace and a 'Golden Age.'" This means that the most important program is to so plan our family's education, business and investments that we will be able to get on "some way whatever happens." This is a goal very important to pray and work for this month of June as our young people are now graduating from schools and colleges.

To Head Relief Agency in Area

The appointment of Rev. Willis B. Hunting of Plymouth as CROP Supervisor for District No. 3 was announced in Lansing this week by Russell Hartzler, State Director for CROP in Michigan.

District No. 3 includes Lenawee, Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Mr. Hunting will work in direct cooperation with the Lansing office in establishing county organizations in this area, including the procurement of a county chairman and publicity director for each county.

The Christian Rural Overseas Program is an organization of church and farm people dedicated to the relief of persons living in the hunger-stricken areas of the world. It is maintained through the joint efforts of the three parent agencies, Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service and Lutheran World Relief.

This year CROP is inaugurating the "Friendship Acres" plan in this area as well as in other Michigan Districts. Under this plan farmers will be asked to set aside a portion of their 1951 yield to be shipped overseas through CROP. Those farmers joining "Friendship Acres" will be given a large sign to be posted in a conspicuous place designating their farms as "Friendship Acres" farms.

The "Friendship Acres" project is auxiliary to the regular CROP campaign scheduled for this fall.

TO COMPLETELY POWER THE FAMILY FARM

It's just as wasteful to overpower a job as to underpower it.

Every farm has jobs the Model G tractor will do better or at lower cost than any other kind of power. On many farms the Model G serves every power need—turns part-time farming into profitable relaxation.

If you now own a larger tractor, why tie it up with light jobs the Model G can do on quarts of fuel instead of gallons! During busy seasons, this extra tractor can prove "worth its weight in gold."

Quick-hitch, front-mounted G implements include a field-weight 5-foot mower and two-row planter. On many farms, mowing and planting alone more than justify investment in this tractor.
