

HERE IS JUST ONE of the gaily trimmed floats in the Kiddies Section of the 4th of July parade. The boy and girl who are dressed in colorful costumes decorated their own Miss Independence float on a little wagon. The 120 kiddies in the parade marched bravely down Main street even though a brief shower blew up in the middle of the parade. The kiddies pictured here got away before The Mail photographer could get their names.

FIRST PRIZE WINNER in the bicycle division of the Kiddies Section was Franklin Smith, who received an air rifle for having the best decorated bicycle. Franklin, who is 10 and a half, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Myrn Smith of Sheridan street. Fifty-seven children received prizes of dolls, tennis rackets, cameras, cowboy jackets, swim suits, portable swimming pools, and many other lovely gifts. This particular youngster got up at 3:30 in the morning the day of the parade and used nearly 2000 roses from his mother's garden to decorate his bicycle.

Mrs. Rogers Tells of 3 Month Trip in British Isles

Colorful folk dances of England, Scotland and Wales, a passion play, quaint, Elizabethan towns and villages, beautiful scenery, and visits to historical landmarks were all taken in by Mrs. Barton Rogers of Blunk street and her mother, Mrs. George Williams of Oshkosh, Wisconsin during their three month visit.

Mrs. Rogers, who has lived in Plymouth since 1945, says that she especially enjoyed viewing the folk dances of the English and the Scots because her hobby is folk dancing. Her visit was made more enjoyable by the Folk Dances Society which entertained her during her trip.

The sword dancers in Scotland, said Mrs. Rogers, were very colorful and graceful clad in their kilts and dancing to the music of bag pipes.

In Edinburgh castle, the Plymouthites saw the two British regiments stationed there perform traditional dances, which were also very thrilling to see.

A highpoint of her trip through England was viewing the first presentation of a mystery on passion play since 1600. The drama of the crucifixion was set against the ruins of a monastery.

She also saw an exciting polo game in Midhurst, an old village of Elizabethan houses.

The Plymouthite, who stayed with relatives in New Markets near Cambridge, says she found the Shakespearean plays, which were produced in several communities, very interesting.

Mrs. Rogers and her mother also spent a week in Paris where they visited all of the points of interest.

One of the most remarkable things about her trip, said Mrs. Rogers, was the fact that she didn't meet one American tourist. This was probably because her mother and she stayed at the historic hotels, she says, which were stop-overs for coaches in Elizabethan times.

Mrs. Rogers and her mother returned on the liner Liberty last week.

Tot Lot off to Good Beginning

The Plymouth Co-operative Tot Lot, aided by the Department of Recreation and carried on by the mothers is off to a good start with lots of enthusiasm for the new project being planned. The Tot Lot is open to children from two to five years of age.

Its main purpose is to help children who do not have play-mates become better adjusted towards other children before they reach school.

The Tot Lot is operated with each mother taking her turn at supervising the play periods. The mothers say they as well as the children are enjoying these constructive play experiences. A study group is being planned so that informed speakers will address the group.

The mothers are so enthused about the success of the Tot Lot, that a co-operative nursery school is being planned in the fall.

Sessions are held Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9 to 11. Any mother who would like to observe the group is cordially invited to attend.

On rainy days the children may use the kindergarten room of Central grade school. Activities planned for inclement weather include finger painting, music and rhythm and many other games.

Other days are spent at River-side Park, off Wilcox avenue, in a special location where the children can have a large well planned play area. Swings, slides, teeter-totters and a large sand box are at the disposal of the children.

The morning activities are broken by a quiet period at 10 a.m. when the children are served juice and crackers. They are then divided into older and younger groups and the two mothers, in charge each morning, read stories to the children.

If a mother feels that her child would enjoy the experience of the Tot Lot and if the mother can give a small amount of time, mothers may call Mrs. John R. Kaiser at Plymouth 1854-XJ.

Over five thousand people from Plymouth and the area participated in Plymouth's giant Fourth of July celebration. Except for a sudden downpour of rain on the morning of the Fourth, skies were fair for the festivities which began on the evening of July 3rd.

FAIR IN THE LIGHT OF MEMORY SHINES
MICHIGAN
My MICHIGAN
ELTON R. EATON

Michigan is a commonwealth of unlimited opportunities—where there is a chance for any intelligent person, possessed of ambition, a willingness to work and a sense of responsibility and fairness, to win unbounded success, if he will look about him in this beautiful peninsula and seek out a worthy field of endeavor.

One can find examples of this truth almost anywhere you might look.

Plymouth a few days ago paid final tribute to a former Michigan lad who sought the right road to success and won the rewards that come to those who make good in this troubled old world.

He was an orphan lad, without relatives, influential friends or worldly goods—but that made no difference to George A. Smith, a ward of the state government of Michigan during all of his childhood days.

When Michigan said to this lad alone in the world as it removed him from its custodial care and placed him with a country family where he could earn his "keeps" and spend a few weeks during winter months in a district school—"The state can no longer care for you in our institution for homeless children because of your age, but we are opening the door of opportunity for you and from now on life will be just what you make it. We will guide and direct you as much as we can, but the heaviest burden lies with you."

The youngster realized fully his problem and the task before him. Working like a Trojan, he earned his "keeps", studied tirelessly during long evening hours, made friends with the elderly people he came in contact with, and in a few brief years this lad enrolled as a student in one of Michigan's leading educational institutions.

From there on his success story is pretty well known. Very early in life he won distinction as being one of Michigan's outstanding school executives. He was time after time honored by the educators of Michigan—and in return for the goodness shown to him by this grand old commonwealth, he gave freely of his time and efforts to the state institutions that had benefited him in his childhood—and to the educational field in which he later achieved such outstanding success. Various governors of Michigan retained him over a long period of years on the board of control of the State Public School—and during much of his lifetime he gave to another generation of orphan boys and girls a service such as displayed only by a most devoted father.

Truly, no man lived a more useful life and no citizen of Michigan was more devoted to such a glorious state as ours than was George A. Smith.

Two Weeks of Free Camping Awaits Local Youngster if he Can be Found

Some little Plymouth boy has an opportunity to have a dream come true if his folks will help the editor find that particular youngster.

From way up in northern Michigan comes a letter to the editor from the director of Camp Mahn-go-Tah-See asking for help in finding the young man in Plymouth that directed a letter to the camp asking for information. According to S. N. Geal, director of the Oakland County YMCA camp at Hale, Michigan a letter postmarked on the envelope from Plymouth arrived at his office asking for information about the camp.

That was all the letter said and other than the post office cancellation on the envelope, camp authorities have nothing else to go on. However camp director Geal says that if he can find the boy that wrote the letter, he will be glad to give him two weeks camping absolutely free because of his interest. So parents, all you have to do is help the editor find the young man and have him identify the letter which is now in the Mail office and two weeks at a wonderful Northern camp will be his for the asking.

Incidentally the camp is beautifully located on Loon lake and the junior section of the organization is under the direction of Sanford Burr, of Plymouth, who has been there for several summers as a counsellor and now is in charge of the younger campers and the camp's religious services. Sanford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Burr of Secorville avenue.

However the young man that wrote the letter failed to sign his name or attach his address to either the letter or the envelope. The letter read: "Dear People, I would like to have an application blank for the Mahn-go-Tah-See camp and the monthly cost of camp."

Sewing Sheer Fabrics Require Special Care

Sheer summer fabrics like rayon sheer, lawn, pure silk and batiste require special care when you're finishing the edges with a bias binding. Sewing center experts advise that the binding be as narrow as possible and be applied double.

To do this, cut the bias strip six times the width you want the finished edge. Now fold the binding through the center, right side out, edges even, and press lightly. Pin the raw edges of the binding to the right side of the garment, doing this smoothly without stretching. Baste and then machine-stitch.

Finish by turning the folded edge of the binding over the seam to the wrong side and whip by hand, catching a stitch under each machine stitch.

Hand tools, when not in use, should be kept in tool cabinets or in a tool rack on the wall, say Michigan State college agricultural engineers. This practice will aid efficiency and safety.

Fish deteriorate very rapidly and must be kept very cold. Fresh fish should be wrapped in moisture-proof paper or placed in a tightly covered dish and stored immediately in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Frozen fish which is not to be used at once should be wrapped in another wrapping of paper before being placed in the refrigerator. It should be kept frozen until just before use, and can be thawed in the refrigerator or at room temperature but not in water. Once thawed it should be used immediately, never refrozen.

Social items can be phoned to 1755.

CABBAGE, lettuce, cauliflower and greens which may have insects in them should be placed in cold, salted water so the insects can be drawn out. Wash the vegetables thoroughly after this treatment, before cooking, to float out any dirt.

Fried oysters are delicious and puffy if you add some baking powder to the flour in which they are rolled before frying. A bit of celery salt added to the flour, also, gives them a delicious flavor.

When you boil ham or roast beef, add a few whole cloves to the meat before cooking to give it a delicious, very delightful flavor.

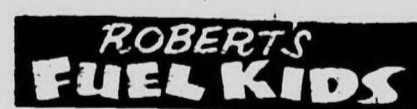

If you have trouble with fish while frying, getting it burned, sprinkle a bit of salt on the bottom of the frying pan before placing the fish in it. This also helps to give it a nice even brown.

Muffins will be much lighter if you grease the pans and place them in a hot oven for a few minutes before spooning in the muffin batter.

Exercise Care in Buying Curtains

Window curtains represent enough of an investment these days so families can't afford to go wrong in choosing them. Careful planning is needed so that curtains have eye appeal and also serve a useful purpose, say home economists of the U.S.D.A.

A good buy in curtains gives the color, texture, design, style and size that puts the whole room in harmony. In addition, curtains need to be useful. For example, sheer glass curtains may prevent glare by softening and diffusing strong light in a room. Those less transparent can be used to give privacy or screen off an unattractive view.

Draperies offer greater variety in color, design and texture than glass curtains so are more important to the decorative scheme of the room. But they, too, can be useful. By day, they can frame a view; by night, be drawn across the window to give greater privacy than glass curtains.

To help families make a good buy in curtains, a new Department of Agriculture publication called "Window Curtain, Planning and Selection" illustrated in color, is available and can be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C. for 20 cents (coin, not stamps).

It offers suggestions on choice of color, texture and design in curtain, lines and proportions. It is illustrated in color and recommended by your home editor.

Unpainted Pieces Easy on Budget

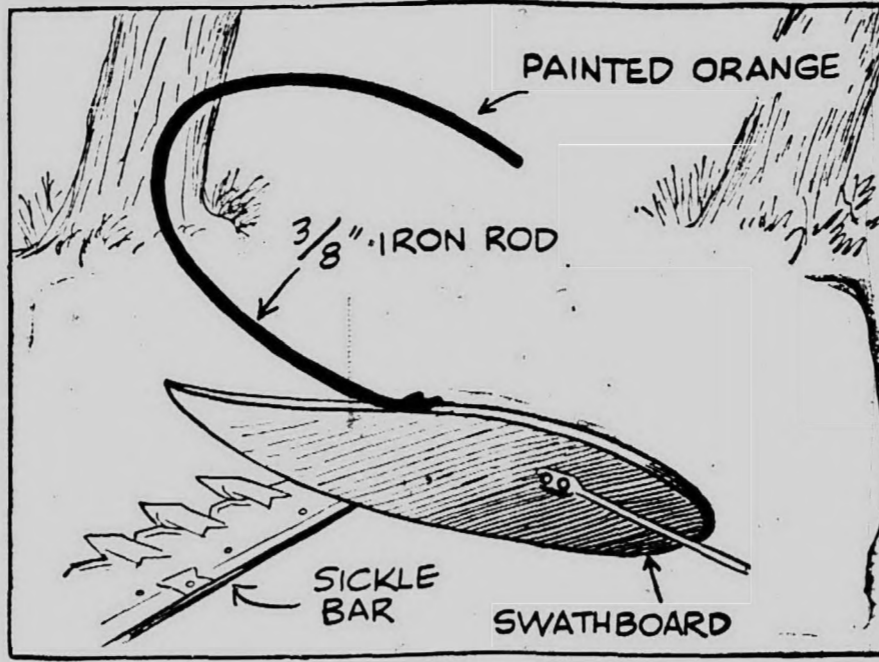

Buying unfinished pieces can be a real help to your furniture budget and very satisfactory for your home if you finish them correctly.

You can paint or stain or leave them in their natural color. First, be sure the furniture is clean and remove any stains or finger marks with No. 00 sandpaper. Fill in nail hole indentations with plastic wood. Let dry and sand until smooth. In case goods remove the drawers and paint them separately. Do not paint the drawer runners. When painting tables, set them upside down and paint the legs first. Don't paint furniture out-of-doors and avoid wearing clothing that sheds lint.

For a painted finish use one coat of undercoat and two coats of quick drying paint. Sandpaper between each coat. If flat paint is used, finish by waxing.

To stain the finish, use any penetrating oil stain. Wipe off surplus stain as you brush it on. Finish with two coats of shellac and a coat of wax.

For a natural finish, be sure the surface is clean and all finger marks removed when you sandpaper. Apply varnish and then steel wool is smooth. For a heavier finish apply a second coat of thin varnish and then use the steel wool again. Use wax as a final coat with either method.

Iron rod screwed to forward end of swathboard of mower sickle bar will serve as guide when mowing weeds along fence rows or close to trees.

Choosing the right vase for the right bouquet doesn't have to be difficult, say Michigan State college home economists. Just keep in mind the part the container plays—it should never detract from the flowers.

For a quick "facial," slather on cleansing cream before you pop into your bath. The steam from the tub will open the pores and the cleansing action of the cream will do a thorough job as you bathe.

Grandmother 3 Times in 1 Day

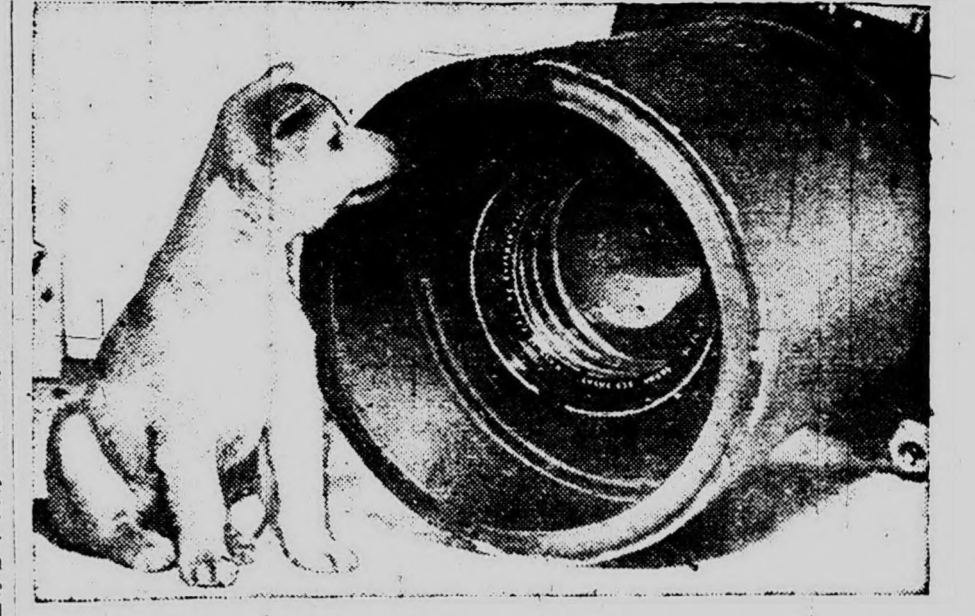

A busy lady in Plymouth is Mrs. Helen Edwards of 1050 Dewey street, who received three grandchildren in one day.

On June 21, in Beyer hospital, Mrs. Edwards' two daughters, Mrs. Melvin Griffith of Hix road, Plymouth and Mrs. Eugene Campbell of Wayne gave their mother three grandchildren—all in one day.

At 7:30 a.m. Mrs. Griffith gave birth to a boy, who was named Bruce Melvin. Then in the evening at 9:20, the stork left a package of twins for Mrs. Eugene Campbell. The twins, a boy and girl, were named Bonnie May and Timothy Wendell.

Mrs. Edwards is now the grandmother of nine grandchildren and she says that she considers herself very lucky. Mrs. Edwards has resided in Plymouth since 1940.

The new TVA steam electric plant at Johnsonville, Tenn., will burn 300 tons of coal an hour when operating at capacity to supplement water power.

WHAT'S UP, DOC? . . . An unabashed Korean puppy holds his ground in an eye-to-eye encounter with a huge aerial camera, one of the "eyes" of the far east air forces.

Remember to take good care of your toast in many forms makes a wonderful base for creamed food mixtures. Buttered triangles of toast make an easy topping for meat pies; squares of bread with crumbs removed can be buttered and pressed into muffin pans and baked crisp for toast cups.

Cards of Thanks 27
DEAR friends of George A. A few days before George's passing he received a "Get Well" card containing a cash gift. It was to be used for something that he wanted. After thinking it over he said that he wanted us to "tell every one who has sent a card or done anything nice, how much I appreciate it all." There were so many kindnesses during the weeks of illness that is beyond my ability to reply to each. This is the best way I have of bringing his and my deep appreciation back to his many friends. Michigan My Michigan

Charles Peterson of Wolverine was Michigan's first state forester. Mr. Peterson, a long time resident of the once heavily wooded section of the state, knew the forests well—and he knew, too, the danger confronting the forests of the state. When former Governor Alex Groesbeck organized Michigan's first conservation department, he placed Peterson in this responsible position—and Peterson immediately took steps to protect the forests in which he lived and worshipped. He was the builder of the first forest fire tower, and the second and the third. During the early days of this new and experimental method of seeking out and controlling forest fires, his resources were limited, but out of his early experiments grew the vast net-work of towers that now spread over the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula.

Other states were quick to see and adopt this method of forest fire control. Mr. Peterson now rejoices in the benefits of his efforts of years ago. He is now living in retirement, the late Governor Fred Green having disposed of Peterson's services to the state in order to make way for a political appointment. Then, too, Peterson had been appointed by the Governor that Green looked upon with green eyes of jealousy. Green, to rub a bit of salt into the wounds he thought he was inflicting on Peterson, also closed the state trout fishing hatchery at Wolverine.

But Peterson kept on living in Wolverine on the edge of the forests he loved so well and did so much to save. Wouldn't it make the former Governor from Ionia turn over in his grave if he knew that sometime ago ex-forester Peterson had purchased the Wolverine fish hatchery from the state, now lives in the former home of the superintendent of the hatchery and has restored to service as a personal venture the fish hatchery that had been closed down because of political spite?

Mr. Peterson is raising trout as a hobby and those who have visited the hatchery say he spends most of his time in caring for the speckled beauties that fill his rearing ponds—that is all of the time he does not spend roaming the woods around Wolverine. Sorry to have missed the annual summer convention of the Michigan Outdoor Writers held recently at Escanaba. The meeting was an outstanding one, according to reports, because it was held in connection with the annual meeting of the Outdoor Writers Association of the United States. At Escanaba during the meeting were many of the outstanding conservation leaders of the nation, as well as numerous prominent and nationally known writers. It was due entirely to the efforts of retiring President Don Gilles of The Detroit Times that the national association meeting was brought to Michigan. During the two days as president of the convention, Mr. Gilles has set up a record that will be hard to match for outstanding accomplishments.

Fortunately, however, the organization has elected as its new president James Crowe, chief of the Lansing office of the Associated Press. Mr. Crowe has a reputation of being one of the most factual writers serving in Lansing. He is an expert conservationist and will without question make a most worthy successor to Mr. Gilles of The Detroit Times. Elton R. Estep of Plymouth was re-elected a member of the board of directors for two years.

Missionary To Speak at Church

Reverend Robert Loveless, recently returned from Honolulu, Hawaii, will speak in Calvary Baptist church, Sunday night, at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Loveless, with his family went to Hawaii in 1948 to take charge of a Bible school in a Japanese community known as the Kaimuki Bible Training School.

Following one year of work, the school became officially organized as the Kaimuki Evangelical church. Within this church there are people from nearly all races represented in Hawaii—Japanese, Chinese, Filipino, Korean, Hawaiian, and Haole.

The purpose of the Hawaiian Bible Training School is the training of young men and women, high school graduates, to enable them to assume places of spiritual leadership among their own people.

Mr. Loveless is a talented and able young minister, states Reverend Clifford. The public is cordially invited to hear him tell of this gospel work in the Hawaiian Islands.

Social items can be phoned to 1755.

Give Buying Tips for New Washers

Will your new washing machine be the automatic or the conventional type? This will depend upon what you need—the amount of laundry you have to do, other demands on your time and your pocketbook. Take your time in choosing one and be sure you buy the right kind for your needs.

An automatic can take the drudgery out of washday and lets you do other jobs while it does the washing. This may make it worth the cost to you, and it may cost more than twice as much as a good conventional type washer.

You must have an ample supply of water, both hot and cold, for an automatic to work satisfactorily in your home. You must also have adequate water pressure. Ask about the requirements for hot and cold water and water pressure as you examine different kinds of automatic washers.

Check on installation costs, too, for they may add considerably to the cost of the washer. If you can have your washer bolted down, you may want to consider the bolt-down type which is less expensive than the models which don't have to be bolted to the floor.

If you choose a conventional type washer, will it have a wringer or a spinner? The spinner is to be desired from the standpoint of safety and it is less damaging to clothes. Most machines of this type have a separate spinner tub so that the wet clothes must be lifted by hand from the washer to the spinner. A wringer helps to lift the clothes. With a wringer, the safety release is very important and should be easy to reach and to operate.

Dishes that are cracked should not be used. Water and food seep into the cracks and provide a breeding place for germs of all kinds.

More than one hundred mine foremen received National Coal Association safety awards at special ceremonies in Washington on May 11 and 12.

The giant shovels used in the surface mining of coal have 60 cubic yard dippers that can be lifted to the top of a seven story building.

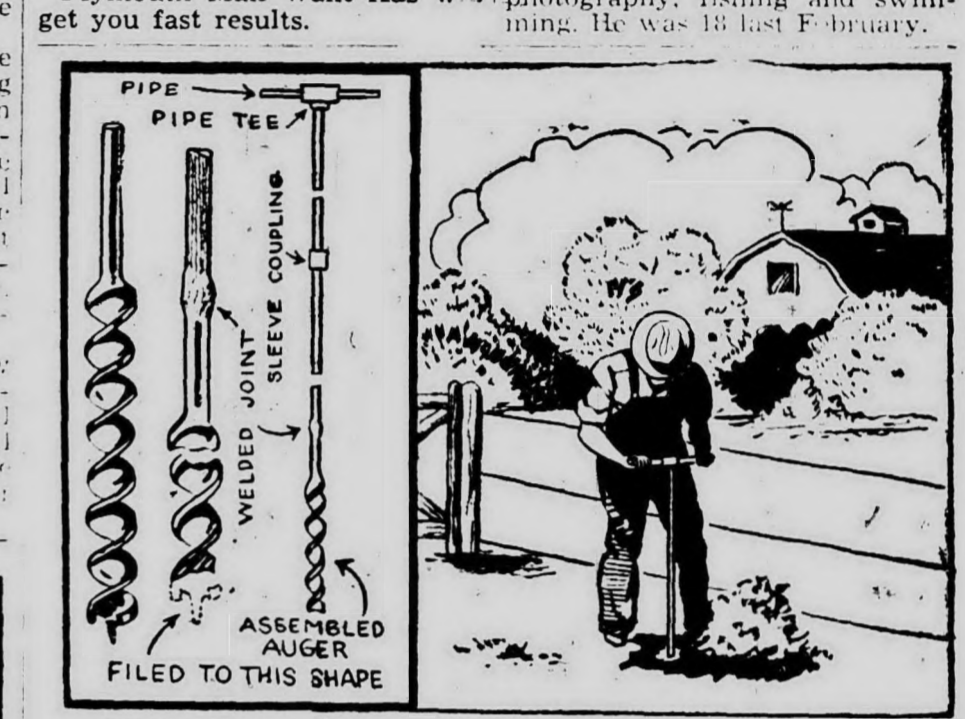

Wholesale Arrests Follow Party Here

Wayne County deputy sheriff had a field day last Friday when some 25 arrests were made on the Burroughs Adding Machine property between the railroad tracks and Schoolcraft road. Charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors were some five or six adults from this area who were found guilty and fined in Wayne justice court, according to Sheriff's officers.

Throughout the afternoon some 100 men from this section of Wayne County were stopped by police from visiting the scene of the outing which apparently had been a regular weekend function for the last several weeks. Quantities of beer and empty beer bottles were confiscated by police who were at a loss to understand just how the party came about or just who was entirely responsible for the undertaking.

Almost every television station in the country has presented coal mining films made available by Bituminous Coal Institute, Washington, D. C.

Church to Show Film on Jungles

Primitive tribes, strange customs and weird rites in the depths of the South America jungles are included in the latest film, "To Every Creature," produced by the Moody Institute of Science, Los Angeles. The film will be shown at the Calvary Baptist church, Sunday, July 22, at 7:30 p.m., according to the Rev. Clifford, pastor. Outstanding sequences in the picture reveal the brewing of manatots, a deadly liquor produced and used by the Shipibo Indians; a monkey killed, cooked and eaten; a Piro witch doctor incanting his evil and furious tribal dances. Besides, there is an interesting sequence about the use of the airplane and radio to reach these pagans with Christianity. Many subjects seen in the film have never been photographed before.

During his recent trip through the South America mission fields, Dr. Irwin A. Moon, director of the Moody Institute of Science, turned his movie camera on these dramatic scenes as he traveled in dangerous, unexplored areas of this jungle country. Typical of unusual subjects his discerning lens captured on film were the odd "square-headed" people. One fascinating episode in the picture presents the Moody Bible Institute training of missionary technicians, who on graduation will aid missionaries with their travel and communication problems. The Institute maintains its own planes and airfield at Wooddale, Illinois. Students are taught to fly and maintain their planes in various climates and for various terrain. When a student goes to the mission field, he is then able to understand and cope with actual flying problems he must face in such places as the South American jungles and mountains. Admission is free.

This is usually the season for flying saucers to hit the headlines, which gives a lot of folks a chance to air their opinions and some of them may need an airing. You don't have to be an authority to explain the celestial crockery... but no one has to accept your explanation, either. Up to now no political party has blamed flying disks on the others, so it's one subject that you can discuss without getting into politics. This makes it as welcome as payday. We imagine chiropractors hope the saucers will return every summer. They're guaranteed to produce a bumper crop of stiff necks around town.

List Accident Prevention Rules

Carelessness has been cited as the main cause of accidents, safety councils have stated at many times. Listed below are nine simple rules which may save a great deal of grief, time, and trouble and perhaps even lives.

Keep passage ways and stairs in good repair, unobstructed, and well lighted.

Keep ladders in good repair and easy to get at in emergencies. Don't wear loose or floppy clothes around machinery, or when doing cooking or housework.

Keep your back straight and lift heavy loads with leg muscles. Don't try to lift anything that is too heavy for you.

Use the right tools for the job, keep them in good condition, and in a safe place.

Don't use kerosene to start fires.

Always stop a machine before starting to repair it. Disconnect electrical appliances or equipment before working on them.

Give prompt attention to even small injuries.

Never swim alone. Never dive into water without first determining the depth. Be careful around any boat and never stand up in small boats.

Obvious as these rules may seem, studies of accidents each year show how often they are overlooked, forgotten, or never thought of until after the accident happened.

SUCCESS AT LAST . . . Ann Pezzano spent life savings and devoted a decade to free her brother Frank, serving 30-60 year sentence for robbery. Victim recently cleared her brother with signed statement.

EMPHATIC . . . Ex-Defense Secretary Louis Johnson gestures convincingly as he testifies during senate probe of MacArthur dismissal. Johnson said he was overruled on Formosa.

Don't use kerosene to start fires.

Always stop a machine before starting to repair it. Disconnect electrical appliances or equipment before working on them.

Give prompt attention to even small injuries.

Never swim alone. Never dive into water without first determining the depth. Be careful around any boat and never stand up in small boats.

Obvious as these rules may seem, studies of accidents each year show how often they are overlooked, forgotten, or never thought of until after the accident happened.

All in the Game:

SCRIBES and experts around the major circuits are all speculating as to when the hot-White Sox will start plunging cellarward . . . Charges of the "foul" by Sugar Ray Robinson in his Berlin bout smell foul, even clear across an ocean . . . It's a distasteful sight in baseball to see a batter stick his frame in front of a pitched ball just to get on base . . . Bill Veeck can "bring back the Browns", if it can be done at all . . . The Cincy Reds will rely on the relief pitching of Frank Smith to help them finish in the first division . . . LaMotta-Murphy, another boxing bout denied to popular radio and television, must mark the beginning of a trend in that sport . . . The smart boys continue to give Jim Farley the favorite's spot in selection of a Happy Chandler replacement, because the game "needs his executive ability" . . . a Dothan, Alabama, ball club dropped out of league play rather than fill an engagement against an opposition pitcher who fatally injured a team player with a wild pitch in a previous game.

Freezing the right varieties now can make a big difference in the quality of frozen foods you take out of your locker next winter. Be sure you freeze only the recommended varieties of fruits and vegetables this summer.

Soak colored cottons which have never been washed in a solution of salt in cold water. Salt helps to set colors.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMERS

From John L. Simpson, Cincinnati, Ohio: I remember when my brother and I used to go barefoot until December before father would get our winter boots. He would come home with them strung across the horse's back. The shoes had red tops and brass caps across the toes. If we got them wet we had to pull them off at night with what we called a bootjack . . . a board with a fork in the end, in which we placed the heels to pull them off. Mother cooked cornbread in the hearth and spun yarn on a spinning wheel to make our socks.

From Mrs. Emma Salisbury, Blue Mound, Ill.: I remember when tea, coffee, navy beans, and oysters were displayed in the grocery stores in paper-lined gunny sacks . . . sixty years ago.

From Elsie L. Parker, Farmersburg, Ind.: I remember, back in the gay '90's in school the Spencian Copybook was daily placed before us. All too often the copy at the top of the page could not recognize itself, by the time it was reflected on the bottom line; yet this old Spencian system produced many outstanding artistic pen-men, compared to the great multitude of illegible writers of our present-day system. There were many artistic flourishes.

From Mrs. Olive Price, Spencer-ville, O.: I remember when as a young girl I wore around my neck a bag of asafetida to keep away diseases. The prevention was worse than the diseases.

From H. B. Smith, Ault, Colo.: I remember when we used to clear fields by breaking cornstalks with a long railroad iron. A team of horses at each end of the iron pulled it through the fields. The stalks were gathered with a hand-hewed rake, pulled behind the wheels of a farm wagon. A special lever was designed to dump the stalks in a neat pile. The stalks were burned in the early evening, lighting the countryside for miles around.

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

Worry Works Its Way

A STORY TOLD ME BY M. M. Henry, 313 Chestnut Avenue, Anniston, Alabama, relates an experience which he declares was based entirely on Worry.

About four years ago he developed a cold. This worried him because he had no time to spare. He had no appetite; that wasn't alarming, but the condition of his throat was. His worry increased. One night after he had gone to bed he struggled. Switching on the lights his wife saw that his lips were purple, and that he was getting black in the face. She called the doctor, who, after examining him, said, "Mrs. Henry, I don't know what the trouble is nor what I can do for your husband. Tomorrow I'll arrange to have a specialist examine him."

Carnegie

But the specialist didn't help, and Mr. Henry's condition continued to grow worse. After a few more days, he took a plane to Atlanta, Georgia, and went to the best authority the city afforded. But this learned man only shook his head, laid down his instrument and walked out, saying that he would return in a few minutes. Soon a second doctor looked at Mr. Henry's throat and advised hospitalization and an operation. (Later Mr. Henry learned they thought he had cancer of the throat.) After the operation, he was sent home, but was to return in two weeks for a second operation.

At home, his family doctor told his wife there was little hope of his ever getting well, and advised sending him to John Hopkins in Baltimore. His wife urged this and accompanied him to Baltimore, where he started on the routine of X-rays and medical examinations which lasted three weeks.

He felt very hopeful now, and his wife was very encouraging. They decided to see something of the town, make it a sort of holiday period. There was nothing said against eating what he liked, so they visited the best eating places, too. And they thoroughly enjoyed their visit, almost forgetting what they were there for except at the times they must keep appointments with the medical men.

In three weeks, the doctor who headed the nose and throat department said, "Mr. Henry, we are going to dismiss you today."

"But, Doctor," said Mr. Henry, "you haven't told me yet what was the matter with me."

"Oh, nothing serious," was the reply. "You began to improve shortly after you got here."

What was the matter with him? Well, as stated above, Mr. Henry says it was nothing but worry working its way out of his system. And he has learned to put aside worry as he would the plague, for it can really bring on all sorts of things to plague a man.

LADIES! WE RESCUE YOUR 'Stranded Hair'

Today, hair coloring and tinting is as popular with the ladies as the crew cut is with College Joes—... sadly, however, amateur methods of home hair coloring end disastrously with streaked color, split ends, dryness, brittleness, and a totally artificial over-all effect—as socially improper as the Bikini beach suit would have been in Grandma's day.

But all is not lost! Should you be in such a "stranded dilemma"—don't fret and fuss—call 644 for a LOV-LEE rescue treatment. We can salvage your discolored chaos with hair coloring that not only provides thorough coverage, but guarantees a completely new and perfect color beauty, no matter what coloring process was used previously.

At the same time ask about the Weck Hair Shaper. This instrument is indispensable to the professional hair stylist. The modern woman realizes current hair modes demand that molded "sculptured look"—... an effect impossible to achieve with old fashioned scissors. Our beauty technicians are thoroughly trained in the use of the Weck Hair Shaper, so that we feel absolutely certain the results will more than please you with a shower of compliments. Call us today at 644 and make an appointment.

Calvary Baptist church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday evening, July 7, when Violet Norgrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell of New Buffalo, Pennsylvania and Curtis Powell repeated their nuptial vows before an altar graced with baskets of white gladioli. The eight o'clock ceremony was witnessed by the Reverend Clifford. Song organ music formed a background for the rites. Curtis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lzaton Powell of Kite, Georgia.

Violet chose a gown of ballerina length in a shade of orchid organdy over dark orchid and carried a white bible centered with an orchid. She was given in marriage by her father. For her matron of honor the bride asked Stella Brown. She wore a gown of white organdy over light green, also in ballerina length and wore a pink rosebud corsage. Carole Whitehead, the usherette wore a pale yellow gown and a corsage of tea roses. Elmer Blankenship was the bridegroom's best man and seating the guests was Virgil Norgrove.

Mrs. Russell, mother of the bride wore a white carnation corsage with her navy blue dress and Mrs. Pullen, an aunt of the bridegroom a light blue frock with navy accessories. Her corsage was also of white carnations.

A reception for 50 was held in the church dining room following the ceremony with guests present from Pennsylvania, Wayne, Detroit, Northville, Livonia, Owosso and Plymouth.

The young couple are honeymooning in the Southern States and the Smoky Mountain region. For traveling the bride wore a dress of aqua nylon and white accessories. They will make their future home in Plymouth.

EXPECTED BACK this week from a honeymoon through the New England states are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Foreman, Jr., who were wed in a candlelight double ring ceremony in the First Methodist church in Northville on June 23. The bride is the former Margaret Ellen Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burke of Traverse City.

Currahee street in Toccoa, Georgia where they will both attend the Toccoa Falls Bible Institute in preparation for the African Mission Fields.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Combine Hot and Chilled Foods To Spark Menus and Appetites

Light food during hot weather can be carried far. People who lose their appetites when the thermometer shoots up, often get dragged out simply because they won't eat enough.

Except for energy needs, there's no change in the body's demand for food according to the Food and Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross. Everyone still requires efficient lean and blood building protein, and a good quota of regulation, and B vitamins, promoting minerals and vitamins.

Individuals who sit and wait about the heat, need fewer calories than they do during cooler weather. Others who take advantage of balmy days to get more outdoor exercise may increase their energy demands.

Obviously patterns for meals should remain about the same all year around. It's necessary to vary the choice of foods to tempt appetites which are dulled by hot weather, selecting a greater quantity of salads and chilled desserts and beverages.

Because everyone feels better after a meal that contains something hot, it's wise to include at least one such food. Unless the weather is unusually torrid this may be the main dish, but often it may be just soup or a beverage.

Experienced homemakers realize that it takes just as much actual cooking to prepare a cold meal as a hot one, unless we depend on foods bought ready prepared. The only advantage, as far as the cook is concerned, is that the preparation can be done during the morning when the temperature is lower.

The best solution to keeping the cook and the house as comfortable as possible is to alternate meals planned around chilled and hot foods, choosing those that take a minimum amount of preparation and cooking time.

Here are two suggestions for hot weather dinners: one which can be prepared almost entirely in the morning, the other a combination that requires only a short cooking time.

BRIDAL FOOD IDEAS

Whether your reception is elaborate or very small, a warm spirit of hospitality and friendliness can make it a charming and dignified affair. Party-perfect food that's delicate and festive, yet easy to prepare, is suggested here for your reception.

Bride Cake Sandwiches

These attractive sandwiches are two and one-half inch rounds of bread put together layer-cake fashion and frosted all over with white cream cheese.

The cheese should be softened to spreading consistency by adding a few drops of cream or evaporated milk. They may be decorated with pastel tinted cream cheese.

For nine miniature cakes you will need twenty-seven rounds cut from a loaf of sliced sandwich bread.

Fillings for Sandwich Layers

Mix six ounces of soft pimiento cream cheese with one-third cup chopped stuffed olives for one layer.

Chop three hard-cooked eggs, three small sweet pickles and one tablespoon pecans and combine with enough salad dressing to moisten for the other layer.

Tiny Tea Puffs

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup sifted flour
2 eggs, unbeaten

Combine fat and water. Heat until fat melts. Add flour and stir. Cook until mixture leaves sides of pan. Cool one minute.

Add eggs one at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Drop from spoon one inch apart on greased baking sheet, forming round and high in center.

Bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) 45 minutes. Cut puffs in half and fill with strawberry meringue filling.

Yield: 25 small puffs.

Strawberry Meringue Filling

To one egg white add one-eighth teaspoon salt and beat until foamy. Gradually add three-fourths cup sugar and continue beating until light and fluffy. Fold in one cup crushed strawberries.

NUTRITIOUS FRENCH PORK BIRDS

By Marguerite Mickelson

High in its good eating and nutritional qualities is this one-dish meal of frenched pork birds and vegetables. The bread stuffing holds the rich gravy flavor and food value of the meat juices of the pork, which is particularly high in protein and B vitamin values.

FRENCH PORK BIRDS

1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon ground marjoram or sage
6 lean pork shoulder steaks, 1/4" thick

1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 cup finely chopped carrot
1 egg, beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup hot bouillon or milk

2 slices bacon, chopped
1 1/4 cups toasted 1/2" bread cubes
1/4 cup flour
1 cup cider

Combine salt, pepper and marjoram. Sprinkle over pork steaks. Fry bacon until crisp. Place bacon and drippings in a mixing bowl, reserving 2 tablespoons drippings for browning meat. Add toasted bread cubes, carrots, onion, beaten egg, salt and pepper. Add bouillon and mix well. Spread stuffing on pork steaks, roll up and tie with string. Roll in flour and brown birds in bacon drippings. Place pork birds into a 1 1/2 quart casserole. Add cider. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for one and one-half hours. (If desired, scraped small carrots and peeled small onions may be placed in casserole forty-five minutes before pork birds are done). To serve: remove strings, place pork birds on a platter and pour a little of the gravy from the casserole over them. Thicken gravy if desired.

Yield: 6 French Pork Birds

Serve Cold Cuts on Summer Menu

Get out your platters or trays or even your bread board for it's cold meat platter time. The wide assortment of cold meat cuts in your meat dealer's display case is ready to brighten many a hot weather menu.

Purchase cold cuts with your tray arrangement in mind. Various colors, shapes and sizes of meat make your platter all the more fun to arrange. Select both the light and the rich dark cuts, the round, square and rectangular shaped loaves. For a wide assortment of flavors include such cuts as summer sausage or cervelat, thuringer, liver sausage or Braunschweiger, meat and macaroni loaf, pepper loaf or pimento loaf, "boiled" ham, souse and veal loaf.

Also, be sure to have slices of bologna handy for clever connoisseurs. Roll the meat rings, then fasten them with gay wooden picks. Stuff with potato salad, with pickle relish or with thin carrot sticks to add a cheerful note to your various platter arrangements.

The beavers yield an oily, heavily scented substance formerly used in medicine and now used in the manufacture of certain perfumes.

Berry Time Inspires Main Dish, Desserts

Berry time's here! That means homemakers will be proudly serving a host of family-favorite desserts, and main dishes too, stemming from the berry.

Red ripe cherries are on the list. This makes an extra-good excuse for serving a tender ham slice that's been slowly broiled then topped with rich cherry sauce. Serve this same sauce over slices of smoked tongue for more mealtime interest.

Strawberries, blackberries, gooseberries and blueberries are on the list too. And with this line-up comes thoughts of cobblers, dumplings, shortcakes, upside-down cakes, tarts and pies. Also add these berries (with the exception of strawberries) to muffins. They make such a refreshing hot bread for breakfast or brunches.

Tender hot breads, pies and tarts and cakes are the pride of any homemaker. This means that quality products must be used. The homemaker who follows the advice of grandmother knows that the economical shortening, lard, will insure prize baked goods.

PARDON us if we play switchman with a familiar railroad phrase, but we aim to flag down some certain people . . . Those folks who've always had a great big yen for a new Buick, but a big worry that Buick prices ran too high for their budgets. Now we'll have to grant you that—on style and beauty and size and impressive appearance—a 1951 Buick looks like a pretty high price tag. And we'll have to grant, too, that the zooming power and the luxurious ride and the heavyweight steadiness you get in a Buick would also indicate prices beyond the reach of most people. But honestly, could anything be farther from the truth when you note the sample prices for 1951 Buicks in the panel yonder? Isn't that beauty—with the big-power, big-mileage, eight-cylinder, valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and with prices starting below those of many of today's sixes—really within your budget picture? Won't you admit here and now that you can have Buick room and comfort, can have Buick ride and handling, can have Buick style and size—for little, if any, more than you've been paying for lesser cars? That leaves the next step up to you—stopping in to see us. Come in soon, look over the SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER you've always wanted—and let that happy glow go surging all through you as you sign up for your smart-buy Buick.

FROM THE "HOT CORNER" TO A COOL KITCHEN . . .

Cook like the Kells . . . ELECTRICALLY!

Charlene and George Kell are real boosters for electric cooking.

"It's much easier, cleaner and cooler with an electric range," says bonny Mrs. Kell. "It saves loads of time, too."

"And that means no extra 'K.P.' for me," adds George.

"It broils and bakes beautifully," continues Mrs. Kell. "The even heat of electricity makes a big difference."

"Try Charlene's recipe for ham and biscuits," urges George. "That'll prove there's nothing like electric cooking."

Take a tip from this attractive housewife and her famous husband. Go electric! See your appliance dealer tomorrow.

George's "after game" favorite: CORN MEAL PIMIENTO BISCUITS 'N' HAM
Time 12-15 minutes

Temp. 450 degrees
1/2 cup white corn meal
1 1/2 cups flour
4 tps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 cup shortening
1/2 cup pimiento, chopped fine
1/2 cup milk

Sift corn meal, flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut the shortening with two knives or a dough blender. Add the chopped pimiento. Mix well. Add milk to form a soft dough. Put out on a floured board and place on a lightly greased cut with a biscuit cutter and place on a lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake. Fry ham in shortening, turning until both sides are a golden brown.

Roger Babson Says --

Babson Discusses the Housewife's Dilemma
Babson Park, Mass., July 12. The housewife complains that food prices are too high. Her budget is showing—in the red. No wonder! Only during the last 12 months, consumer prices for moderate income families have risen approximately 8.3 percent. Food prices have climbed 11 percent, clothing 10 percent, and rents 3 percent.

Living Standards Endangered
Higher and higher prices are endangering the living standards of millions of moderate income.

middle-class families. The record shows that their food prices have increased 105 percent in the last decade; — apparel, 95 percent; rents, 30 percent; house furnishings, 100 percent; and such miscellaneous items as recreation, toilet articles, dry cleaning, and doctors' bills, 60 percent. The earnings of this group just haven't kept pace with prices.

This unfortunate situation especially hurts that large segment of professional and white-collar workers. These feel the squeeze most—doctors, lawyers, teachers, clergy, civic leaders, accountants, office workers—and others with fixed incomes and pensions. In a very real sense many of these workers of our communities are the people who create ideas, those most interested in moral and spiritual values. These men and their wives are the forgotten people of today. For the good of our country, they need to be remembered.

Inflation and Simple Economics
Ever since the depression of the thirties we have been scared to death of Deflation. Everyone has wanted economic security. For the farmers this has meant price-support and subsidies. Labor leaders have encouraged price rises in order to give the unions good ammunition for wage rises. Business, in turn, has sanctioned wage increases and then encouraged inflation to pay the worker.

The unjust part of high prices is that they suck the life from the public for the benefit of the privileged few. The manufacturer anticipates enjoying inflation because he can get more money for his products. Sooner or later his employees want more and more of his profits to pay the grocer's bill, and either he pays or their standard of living goes down. The worker, at the outset, enjoys inflation because of his hopes of higher wages, but both employer and employee lose in the long run. They find the price of the new car they want or the supper steak has gone up.

What We Need to Do
In short, we have been kidding ourselves into thinking that we can gain more in an inflated seller's market than we can lose in a deflated buyer's market. The history of Germany, Italy, Great Britain, France, and Russia clearly indicates that unbridled inflation undermines private enterprise, causes industries to shut down and throws people out of work.

I may be old-fashioned, but years of experience tell me that you won't ever remove the housewife's burden by rationing or allocations or price or wage controls. These current stop-gap measures, in the long run, will deprive you of your economic liberties. The way to lower prices is to balance the national budget, raise interest rates, increase legal reserves ratios, curb installment buying, and ESPECIALLY INCREASE PRODUCTION WITH LOWER COSTS.

Up To The Women
If a large enough group of determined housewives decide to bring prices down, they can! My suggestion to the housewives is to band together and work together. Bring your group influence to bear day in and day out, not only on your congressman but also upon manufacturers and labor leaders. I, for one, do not want to contest the power of a woman!
