

THINGS WE LIKE TO SEE.

By chance the other day we just happened to hear James Houk say that it was ten years ago when he went into business with the Fisher shoe store. Ten years! How time does roll along. It seemed but yesterday.

But those ten years have been most eventful ones for both James Houk and his associate Blake Fisher for in that period these two highly respected Plymouth citizens have developed a high-type shoe store that any city can well be proud to possess.

They have enjoyed a success far beyond their own expectations when they went into business. Knowing them as well as we do, we predict that the next ten years hold for them even greater success than they have experienced during the first ten years of the existence of the Fisher Shoe store.

They are entitled to continued success—and we know that they will have it. Congratulations! And good luck to both of you!

NORTHVILLE WAKING UP.

The beautiful little village of Northville is just waking up to the fact that it is missing out on some $50,000 to $75,000 a year income from the race meets being held in that community once each year. It is all because Northville is a village instead of a city.

If Northville should become a city, it is entitled to a percentage of the tax money that now goes to the state. It has been figured out that this year's tax return to Northville if it had been a city would have exceeded $60,000. As it now stands the state gets all of it.

So progressive Mayor Conrad Langfield and members of the village commission have decided that the time has arrived to take action. The village at present does not get a return of something like $25,000 or $30,000 from the race meet, but that is for police, fire, water and other services that are provided by the community. This money all goes into a civic building fund for a combined school and community auditorium that the village hopes some day to build.

The additional income of more than $50,000.00 the community could get if it was a city, would help solve many of the financial problems of that delightful community. Do not be surprised if you begin to read soon about steps being taken in Northville to become a city.

In addition to getting the additional returns from the annual race meet of the Northville downs there are many other advantages the community would receive if it became a city.

A WORTHY LIFE ENDS.

Not many residents of Plymouth will recall the days when Myles F. Gray was editor and publisher of The Plymouth Mail. That was in the long ago—but many of the older residents will remember him well. He died the other day at his home in Lansing after a long illness, his passing ending a most useful life.

It was after he had disposed of his interests in The Mail that he entered upon a career of wide public service. He became one of the outstanding leaders of a great fraternal organization of this state. Then he was honored by being elected clerk of the house of representatives in Lansing, a position he filled over a long period of years with distinction and honor. It was failing health which forced him to resign his long association with the Michigan state legislature.

Myles Gray believed in not only doing a "good turn" every day, but many, many times each day. He was well past 80 years of age when he died. Members of the family and his host of friends throughout the state will remember him always as one who was ever looking to do a bit of good here and there. His life was a worthy one—and well spent.

IT CAN'T BE DONE BY LAW.

Charlotte Williams, retired Detroit school teacher who early in her career was the Plymouth public school instructor of many of the business and professional leaders of Plymouth today, the other day gave to The Plymouth Mail a newspaper editorial that correctly sums up the deplorable corrupt situation that exists in our glorious country today:

When the Republic of Florence was breaking up, following the subtle corruptions practiced by the Medici, a minority of high-minded, patriotic Florentines believed the evils of the state could be corrected with airtight constitutions which, among other things, would inflict the most hideous punishments on bribers and bribe takers.

Even Machiavelli wrote one of these constitutions, and a good one, and when it failed, the disillusioned statesman wrote "The Prince," which is a book saying that people get the kind of government they deserve and advising their prospective rulers how to rule those who are incapable of governing themselves.

Machiavelli was not old enough to have seen one of his fellow citizens at work on the same problem, a man who was burned in chains. This man was Savonarola, a reformer who realized that the basis of Florentine corruption was the corruption of most of the people. He had some dangerous notions about theocratic government, but he was basically correct: the people of Florence could not be saved from themselves or their rulers unless they took a sterner view of the corruption that was around them and in them.

The present attempts at purging the U.S. government of the corruption which stems from the Presidential toleration of it seem to contain the same error as the Florentine constitutions. There is talk of a court of ethics—a board of wise and incorruptible old men—who would judge the rascals and purge them from the government.

This court would not enter into matters where some law had been violated; it would have jurisdiction over those fringe cases in which morals were not covered by statutes.

Most of the offenses that men commit are not covered by statutes, even in a country in which almost everyone shouts, "There ought to be a law!" The fellow in the RFC who took free board and room in a luxurious Florida hotel which was seeking a government loan told the Fulbright committee that he had broken no law and that he was not conscious of wrongdoing.

He had, indeed, broken no law and his ethical sense was so dull that no law could have corrected it. He was one of a great many persons with vestigial or eroded conscience who work for our government and would have done just as he did. Such persons can't be cured by racks and hangmen; their disease is a matter of the spirit. They are living in a moral vacuum in which disgrace is no longer a thing that is dreaded more than death—but is not dreaded at all.

The Hoey investigation of the 5 percenters, the Fulbright investigation, the Kefauver hearings on organized crime, which has its cancerous threads running through all the tissues of government, show that disgrace or the fear of it is no block to the fast buck. What good could be done by a half dozen pious and upright old men who said, "Shame on you!" to the moral culprits? The culprits would still have their well-filled strongboxes to comfort them as well as the assurance of their top boss, who told the press last March while he was vacationing at Key West that his people are honorable, all of them, and that his house is clean.

Sen. Douglas of Illinois is all wound up about the Washington corruption and it is from him that the suggestion for a court of ethics and a code of ethics for government employees have stemmed. Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, who was a Cincinnati lawyer and former Ambassador to Belgium

To Build 40 Homes

Contracts have been let for the construction of 40 new homes on a 10 1/2 acre plot just north of the George A. Smith school. The Garling Construction Company, builders of the homes, have already put in $27,000 worth of sewers in the area and have deposited $8,000 with the city as an escrow to be released from time to time to cover 80 percent of the cost of improvements: sidewalks, street grading and graveling.

The area is to be divided by the continuation of Ross and Hartough streets. The land was purchased by the Garling company from Anthony Ugolnik, 646 Maple, and Frank Patrick of Detroit. Work on the homes, all in the $10,000 to $12,000 class, is expected to begin in the very near future. The first building contract on the project was awarded to the John Campbell plumbing firm on Tuesday of this week.

Public Schools Open September 6

Plymouth Public Schools will open on Thursday, September 6, Superintendent Isbister announced today. Full day sessions are planned for the first day. Parents of kindergarten children are being notified through the mail and asked to bring their children to school for early registration prior to the opening day. These notices will designate the school and the time.

High school students who have not previously made out schedules for this year, or who are new to the district, are urged to come to the high school offices for registration, either during the week of August 20 through 24, or the week of August 27 through 31. New seventh and eighth students will report to the Junior High school office in the Central school.

Elementary school offices will be open for registration of students Wednesday, and Thursday, August 29 and 30. Parents of new students in the Kindergarten and through Grade 6 are urged to bring their children to the nearest elementary school for registration on these days.

A two-day work conference for teachers has been planned for September 4 and 5. Tuesday will be given over to general staff meetings. These meetings will be held in the new Bird school and attention will be given to orientation of new teachers, organizational plans for the year, and plans for a discussion by teachers of over-all instructional problems. James Gallimore, president of the Board of Education will extend greetings to the teachers. Al Glassford, city manager, will talk briefly on the topic, "What We Should Know About Plymouth."

School faculty groups will meet in their respective buildings on Wednesday, September 5. Teachers will devote part of the day in preparing their rooms and planning their work for the opening of school.

Celebrate 10th Anniversary

Congratulations are in order this weekend for Blake Fisher and James Houk of the Fisher Shoe store on the event of their 10th anniversary. These two well known business men are observing the birthday in the traditional Plymouth style by passing along to their many customers substantial savings on all of the merchandise in the well known Main street store.

An announcement elsewhere in this issue gives full details of the attractive savings offered the residents of this area.

For over 30 years Mr. Fisher has been identified in the shoe business in Plymouth having operated a shoe repair shop here previous to the opening of the present shoe store. In August of 1941 James Houk joined the firm and since that time the store has enjoyed an enviable reputation throughout this area as one of the most progressive stores of its kind.

Both of these public spirited businessmen invite all of the people in this locality to visit their store during the birthday event and receive one of the many attractive gifts they are giving away in celebration of the anniversary.

Brothers Meet After 12 Years

Marsden, whom he had not seen for 12 years, arrived from Japan for a short visit. Lt. Col. Marsden was on his way home to Massachusetts, and dropped off in Detroit

Local Taxpayers Benefit by Early Gym Completion

In a recent letter to the Mail, Fred Coverdill, superintendent of construction on the gymnasium, bandroom and natatorium project, states that Plymouth taxpayers are very fortunate that the building is as far advanced as it is today, since the bids being received now for similar construction jobs are much higher than when work began here. The 1950 cost of $11.50 per square foot has risen to $19.50 per square foot now.

The front of the building is nearing completion, glass blocks on the sides are being laid, and the new boiler house was started Monday, August 13, in order to get it enclosed before cold weather sets in. The roof slabs, for the gymnasium roof, have arrived and erection will begin immediately.

Mr. Coverdill says they are still plagued by natural spring waters, but he hopes to have the entire building enclosed and under roof before the fall rains begin, so all the various trades can follow up on their work in the gymnasium, lockers, and band room, leaving the pool and natatorium bleachers until the last.

The natatorium is still far behind schedule on account of the beams for the roof of the pool. Three of the four beams needed were acceptable, but one of them was rejected as unfit. It should be coming all right.

Mr. Coverdill further states that they have agreed to let the school use the band room in the "rough" if it is possible to do so—he remembers the trouble they ran into last year when they let the students in too soon at the Smith elementary school.

The general public is warned that there is a penalty for trespassing on the construction site after the workmen quit for the day. Youngsters have been tampering with the huge cranes and trucks, removing track wiring and filling gas tanks with dirt and small stones, and have even broken windows in the equipment. It is dangerous to be around this project after working hours, and anyone caught committing any of the above acts will be prosecuted.

Big Restaurant, Bowling Alleys to Occupy Willoughby Building, Corner Lilley and Ann Arbor Roads

What suppliers and equipment dealers declare will be one of the finest recreation centers and eating places in the metropolitan area of Detroit will during the forthcoming fall be opened in the Willoughby building at the northeast corner of Ann Arbor and Lilley roads.

In the building will also be located the Lee Butler new bowling alleys, which are now being laid. There will be eight alleys, the best that are made. It is anticipated that the alleys will be ready for use in the very near future as workmen are rushing this construction so that they will be ready for use by the time of the opening of the bowling season.

The new eating place will face Ann Arbor road and the entrance

Banquet chairman Frederick Foust announces that the speaker for the event will be Dr. Hayward Keniston, Dean of the college of Literature, Science and the Arts at the University of Michigan.

New Gas Tax Cash Goes on Pavings Around Plymouth

Residents of Plymouth and vicinity are rejoicing over the fact that the additional gas tax money being received by the county is already being used to take ruts, bumps, and rough spots out of some of the highway pavings in this vicinity.

Ann Arbor trail from the western city limits to Ann Arbor road, for years probably one of the roughest pieces of highway in the state of Michigan, has been completely black topped its full length. From one of the worst roads in the state, it has now become one of the best.

The badly damaged section of the parkway road due to the floods and excess traffic from

He was born on the street where he resided at the time of his death, on January 24, 1854. Mr. Trinkaus was Michigan's oldest living Oddfellow and devoted many years of his life to work for the lodge. He was also one of two surviving charter members of the Plymouth Rebekah lodge no. 182.

Plan Rail Vet Reunion

Plymouth's veteran Pere Marquette employees and their families are now making plans to attend their annual district outing at Grand Ledge on Saturday, August 25.

This will be the 17th annual reunion of the group that has a wide membership throughout southern Michigan. Special trains will carry the members from their homes to Grand Ledge where a basket picnic and a wide variety of games will be held to make the day a success. Plymouth members of the organization are urged to send their reservations immediately to the secretary at the C & O Diesel House in Grand Rapids.

Reunited With Brothers After 40 Year Period

"It's a thrilling sensation," says Jack Miller, "to meet two of your own brothers who you have not seen in 40 years." That was the situation that developed for Mr. and Mrs. Miller of 41956 Ann Arbor trail, who returned Friday from Regina, Saskatchewan where for the first time in 40 years Mr. Miller became reunited with two of his older brothers.

Accompanying the Millers on the trip was Mr. Miller's sister, Mrs. Cecil Warmington of Fenton, Michigan, who also enjoyed a reunion with her Canadian brothers after some 25 years. According to Mr. Miller the last time he saw his brothers was when he was living in Ontario in 1911 and after joining the Canadian army and serving overseas he never had the opportunity of meeting them again due to the fact that they moved during that time to Saskatchewan.

Both of the brothers, David and Bert are retired farmers having devoted most of their time to the raising of wheat which according to Mr. Miller is the main product of that country and wheat fields stretch as far as the eye can see in every direction.

In addition to becoming acquainted with the brothers again many thrills were in store for the Plymouth visitors in seeing and knowing many of their nieces and nephews for the first time. According to the Millers the trip was a most enjoyable one and except for a few bad roads encountered along the way it was one of the nicest vacations they had ever had.

Lutherans Heed "African Call"

The sequel to the African Mission Safari of Rev. Edgar Hoenecke of St. Peter's Lutheran church from April to August in 1949 finally came last week, when the Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin decided to open its first independent mission in Africa.

The battle for this mission actually began back in 1949 when the Lutheran pastor, then director of the Apache Missions in Arizona, urged consideration of an expansion of mission work into foreign fields upon the Synod's convention of that year.

After much opposition the Lutheran Synod authorized an on-the-spot investigation of mission opportunities. Rev. E. Hoenecke was persuaded to be one of the expedition with Rev. A. Wacker of Ann Arbor, when it became

Community Which Made Possible Pettingill Estate, is Willed Nearly All of His Property

In gratitude to the community in which he had been able to create a modest sized estate, the late William H. Pettingill returned to the city of Plymouth and some of its various organizations all of his property except a few thousand dollars that was bequeathed to a number of relatives and close friends, according to the terms of his will, which is now being probated according to his directions.

Like, too, to the families of Henry Ford, John Hagerly and other well known citizens of Wayne county, the settlement of his will by request is being made in the court of Judge James H. Sexton of this city.

After the specified bequests have been made, Mr. Pettingill's will directs that one half of all the rest of his estate shall go to the city of Plymouth. It is directed that this money shall be added to the perpetual care fund of Riverside cemetery, and that the interest earnings of this fund shall be used for the purpose of providing flowers for the Mausoleum. The other one half of the remaining estate shall be paid to the Masonic Home at Alma.

It is directed that $2,000 shall be paid to the Presbyterian church of Plymouth, $1,000 to the Plymouth Rock Masonic lodge of this city, $1,000 to the Plymouth Eastern Star organization and $1,000 to the student fund of the Plymouth Rotary club.

Four surviving cousins are given $1,000 each and $2,100 is to be divided among a number of close personal friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Pettingill.

The inventory reveals the fact that the estate is valued at $41,000, consisting of stocks, some cash, the homestead on East Ann Arbor Trail and vacant real estate on Dodge street. "One of the finest and most remarkable wills ever filed in this court" commented one of the officials of the court a few days ago.

Because of the fact that the estate is made up chiefly of liquid assets, it is believed that the cost of administering its terms will be a minor factor, thereby assuring payment almost in full of the amounts specified after tax settlements.

The death of Mr. Pettingill took place last winter, a brief time after the death of Mrs. Pettingill who had been ill for a number of years. Mr. Pettingill came to Plymouth when a young man, first being employed on the old street car line that operated between Plymouth and other communities in the Detroit area. He quit his position as a conductor to enter into the grocery business. The Pettingill city, Mr. Pettingill sold it a few years ago in order to be able to give more time to the care of Mrs. Pettingill. Both during most of their lives were active members of the various organizations which are among those to be benefited by the terms of the will, which is being administered under direction of the document by Attorney Perry Richwine.

Joseph Elliotts Return from Trip to British Isles

Forty years of dreaming came true for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elliott of 876 Church street when they visited their childhood home in Ireland and Scotland recently for seven weeks. It was the first time Mr. Elliott has seen his two brothers and his sister, of near Belfast, since he left there 40 years ago. Mrs. Elliott also saw her two sisters for the first time since she left 35 years ago when she visited them in South Wales and Peterhead, Aberdeenshire, Scotland.

The Elliotts sailed aboard the ocean liner "Samaria," a ship of the English Cunard line. The voyage was uneventful and Mr. Elliott states the roughest water they had was on a short trip from Wales to southern Ireland, when the Irish sea really acted up. Joseph says he missed his car tremendously, but the British Isles have a wonderful transportation system and they got to most of the historic places. Their American passport was a ticket to anything, as the British people seem to cater to the American tourist.

In Wales they visited the famous Welsh mines. The miners receive about $15 or $20 dollars a week, but seem exceedingly happy. The Welsh people take life a lot easier than we do in America, and are very hospitable. They sing a lot and have many singing clubs. The Welsh don't talk much about war as they went through so much in the last war and are hardened to it. Wales was hit hard in World War II by the many German bombings. The British has been removed and the business and residential sections are partially rebuilt—most of the homes are built of pure granite.

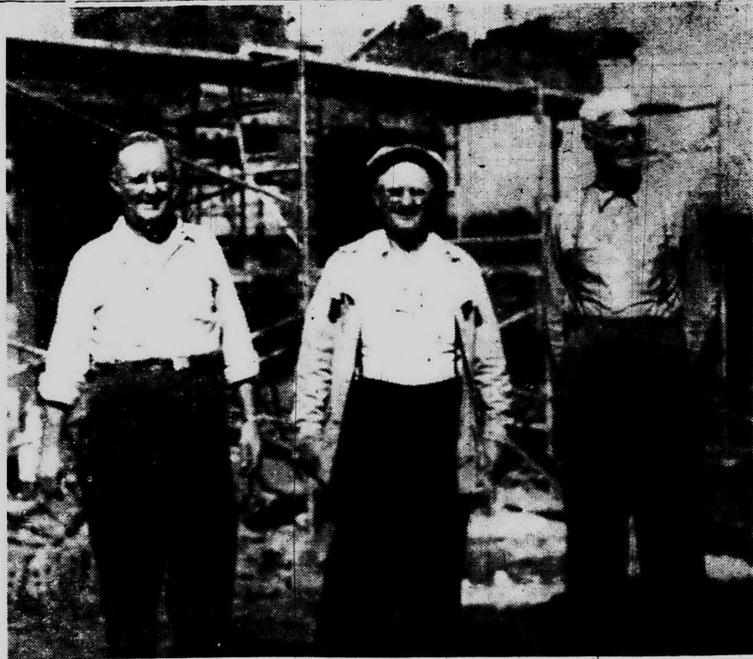

Wales has many beautiful mountains, which are suited for the grazing of cattle and sheep. Most of the inhabitants were interested in the American automobiles and wondered how such a high horsepower engine could be made—they use a very low horsepower engine in their small cars. In Scotland they visited Ellensburg castle, which is a Scottish museum, containing relics from the 11th Century, and they saw the world famous Ellensburg gardens near the castle. They were fortunate to be in Scotland at the most beautiful season of the year as the famous Scottish "heather" was in bloom.

They also saw the Abbey in Scotland where the stone of Scone was recently hidden after being taken from London. In London the Elliotts saw the Festival of Britain, and at 10 Downing Street they saw Whitehall and witnessed the changing of the guard. The section of London is very crowded most of the time with visitors from all over the world getting a view of this famous spectacle.

Dublin is a well-built city and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott were fascinated by the double-decked buses seen in operation there. While in Northern Ireland Mr. Elliott helped his relatives make hay. The farmers seem to have lots of food, but most of the workers cannot afford to eat in a restaurant because of the cost, even though it is cheap considering American prices—a full course dinner at a leading hotel costs $1. Meat, coal, sugar, tea and sweets are rationed.

Mr. Elliott states that there isn't much unemployment in Britain. The national sport is cricket, which is similar to our baseball, and in Scotland it is soccer. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott enjoyed their trip very much, but say it was grand to see the "grand old USA" again. Mr. Elliott is back to his job at Dinn Steel, where he has been employed for many years.

Big Restaurant, Bowling Alleys to Occupy Willoughby Building, Corner Lilley & A.A. Rds.
The new building will occupy a space 60 x 100 feet. The building is 60 feet wide and 175 feet long. There will be an additional space which may at some future time be used as a beer tavern. The Plymouth township board has already approved of the location, but the state has not yet issued the permit.
The place was known as the Arbor-Lid Recreation Inc., Attorney Earl J. Demel, serving as president of the organization, and Robert Willoughby, owner of the building, sometime ago started construction of a new building, 110 x 50 into which he will move his apple plant as soon as the structure is completed. The new structure is located on the north side of Plymouth road just east of the Plymouth township hall. Provision is being made in the new building so that an addition of at least 80 feet long can be added at some future time. The new building was to have been completed by September 1, but present prospects are that it will not be finished at the time specified.
It is estimated that there will be a total expenditure of around $70,000 made on all of the improvements that were started some time ago.
The site is regarded as most ideal for the purposes for which it is going to be used. Easy access is possible by two main highways, with a large space available for parking purposes.
In San Antonio, after a horde of red ants, brought into court on three logs as evidence, had swarmed over Judge Delos Finch's desk, he adjourned the trial.

Lutherans Heed "African Call"

apparent that the project would fail, because no one could be found who was willing to undertake the long safari. The columns of the Plymouth Mail reported on the safari's progress repeatedly during the pastor's absence and ran a complete story upon his return.

The sound color film "Africa Still Calls," which was filmed by the local pastor in Africa, together with sound tapes of the native chants and music, made by the expedition, was produced in the studios of General Motors at Detroit and has greatly contributed to the success of the proposal to open a mission in Africa. It is booked in three prints into 1952 and is expected to repay the entire cost of the expedition by the end of 1951.

Lutherans will open their mission operations in Northern Rhodesia in an area just north of the "Hook of the Kafue," a tributary of the Zambezi river. The place is 250 miles north of the great Victoria Falls at the southern rim of the tropical savannah land of the Rhodesian plateau.

The climate is like that of South Carolina and the country abounds in vegetation, forests and mining opportunities. With the new railroad being built to Berra on the Indian Ocean, Northern Rhodesia's distance to the sea and to world markets will be cut to one-third of what it was in the early days through the Congo to Lobitola-Benguela on the Atlantic, or via Johannesburg to Capetown.

The work is welcomed by the government of Northern Rhodesia because it will offer spiritual aid to natives who are being attracted in new development centers to improve the country's production and to forestall racial conflicts. The country is a British protectorate and the most enlightened in the treatment of the native problem among all the countries visited by the Lutheran expedition.

A new mission will also be opened in Tokyo, Japan.

Nights Too Cold, so Well Known Former Residents Fly Back to Florida

Lots of folks in Michigan have been complaining about the cool summer weather. They say that they'd like to see a few warm days and nights. But would you believe it! The "cold" nights are to blame for the early return of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Goodhue back to their winter home in Lake Worth, Florida.

"Just can't stand these cold nights any longer" they said as they boarded a plane one night last week for the warm and beautiful city of Lake Worth where they have resided for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Goodhue have been spending the summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garlett. Mr. Goodhue has not been in the best of health, and he thought, too, that it might be better to be back where there aren't so many changes in the weather.

Local Dance Teacher in Television Program

Dianne Lovett attended the National Association of Dance and Affiliated Artists convention at the Sheraton hotel in Detroit last week, where she had an opportunity to appear in a television show of one of the dance classes. The purpose of this convention was to present new ideas and modern teaching methods of dancing. Special classes were conducted for dance teachers hourly each day of the week.

Great name artists such as Alexandra Danilova and Leon Danilov conducted ballet classes. It was in one of these classes that Mrs. Lovett appeared on the television program. Other classes included those in tap, modern, Hawaiian and ballroom dancing. Mrs. Lovett is operator of the Lovett School of the Dance on Schoolcraft road.

Son Joins Father in Hospital After Auto Accident

Shortly after visiting his father in the Wayne County General hospital Lloyd W. Busha, 52, of 6285 Tower, Plymouth, was a patient in the same hospital. He, too, was the victim of an automobile accident. The elder Busha, Frank, 78, of 7088 Sheldon road was injured seriously last Friday afternoon when his car collided with another at Michigan and Belleville roads. Charles J. Hood, 31, of Wayne, suffered serious head injuries in this accident.

The younger Busha visited his father early Saturday. On the way home, the son's car was involved in a collision at Ann Arbor and Sheldon roads. He, too, wound up in the same hospital. Since Lloyd was not seriously hurt, he was released later that day. Bernard Stone and his wife, Evelyn, of Detroit received head injuries in this collision. The elder Busha still is in serious condition.

Playground Kids Get Bob-lo Trip

Approximately 50 playground children experienced a thrill in their young lives, when they were presented with a boat trip to Bob-lo island last Friday, as a reward for their excellent attendance at the playgrounds this summer. The trip was sponsored by the city recreational department, and was made possible from the proceeds taken in at the Kiddie Carnival staged last week.

He then entered the service and, at the request of the army, remained in after the war to train recruits for the service.

A few months before the conflict broke out, he was assigned to Japan. His wife and two children were on their way to join him when the Korean war began, and he was transferred to Korea. It was 9 months before he saw his family. Lt. Col. Marsden has now been assigned as an instructor in the R.O.T.C. unit at the University of Rhode Island.

WHAT I THINK AND HAVE A RIGHT TO SAY

before he entered the Truman Cabinet, has answered him pretty well: "Any man who must look to his code of ethics to find out what is proper or improper for him to do is too innocent to be around Washington. The very man who would be most unlikely to do the unethical thing will be the least influenced by the fact that the code says he shouldn't." This is probably true in most cases. The man who must read his code of ethics after he has taken a Federal job lacks the basic preparation for it. There was something wrong with his rearing, with his community. He doesn't have the background. He is, alas, a typical citizen of the United States and the typical citizen has blurred his sense of right and wrong. Anybody who denies that charge should ask himself why, if this ethically obtuse person is not typical, the outraged citizenry does not see that he is gotten rid of. He and many like him are still working for the government. What is needed is not a court or a code but a national ethical regeneration. That can't be accomplished by law, as Machiavelli figured out 300 years ago.

Finds Excellent Way to Get Pickers for His Big Fruit Crop

There's more than one way to "skin a cat" as the old saying goes. Ed. Ayers, who operates the well-known Hope Fruit orchards out on East Ann Arbor Trail, like everybody else, has trouble in getting enough help to harvest his big crop of fruit this year.

"Guess there is just one thing to do," he said a while back, "and that is to let folks pick their own apples, plums and pears." And that is just what they are doing. Drive along the Hope farm any day of the week and you will see apple pickers, pear pickers and plum pickers on the ground, up in the trees or most anywhere one might look picking baskets full of nice fruit. "The plan is working like magic," said Mr. Ayers as he directed one carload of pickers to the pear orchard and told another party where they could find some nice sweet apples.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Bartlett and their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bartlett and family of Syracuse, New York were Sunday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dyer in Ann Arbor.

Many to Attend State GOP Rally

Members of the United States Congress, State Officials, State Senators and Representatives, and State Party Leaders will also participate in the program. The program consists of races and games of all types for grown-ups and children, with many prizes, entertainment by a movie star from Hollywood, U. S. Sen. room dancing, a beauty contest to name "Miss Republican Party of 1951," Congressional and State Officials ball game and tug-of-war, and fireworks in the evening. Harry Lush Harvesting First Herb Crop Sends Sample Back East

When Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lush were home in Plymouth during the summer months he had told some of his friends that he was being kept busy at his new winter ranch home near Rancho Santa Fe in California, growing various herbs for spice purposes.

"I'm specializing in one kind that seems to be rather a favorite out there. It's called 'peppercorn' and is very popular in the spice trade," he said.

The other day a sample of the peppercorn plant came to The Plymouth Mail from the "Red Hot Spicy Ranch" out in California. No one in the office had ever seen anything like it or had smelled anything quite as different as was the odor of the small box of herbs sent by Mr. Lush. And only one in the office knew much about such a plant.

Noah Webster in the dictionary has never printed, says that peppercorn is a small, round, black berry related to the wild marjoram of the East. It is a plant that has been used extensively for flavoring in the East.

Mr. Lush said in the first part of harvesting his first crop and prepared to send a sample to the East.

It appears that the peppercorn plant was brought to a couple of years ago from the East and some time ago revealed the peppercorn plant. The peppercorn plant about the big "peppercorn" crop he is growing in California. It is a plant that he had read in the Mail about a year ago.

At about a year and a half later in which Mr. Lush hinted that "white peppercorn" is a peppercorn plant. Frank seems to be growing and producing a peppercorn plant on Ann Arbor Trail."

At one time Mr. Lush has been a lot of pleasure in growing peppercorn. It is a plant that is not only unusual to his friends but also to the public.

P.S.—Frank Rambo has requested that it be said that his crop of peppercorn is going to be a handsome one and he invites any one who has never seen peppercorn growing to stop by his place some weeks end and he will not only show them a nice big crop of peppercorn, but he will tell them all about the secrets in growing peppercorn in Michigan. It seems that the battle between the spice grower and the nut grower is not yet ended.

Nearly 20,000,000 young trees, largest stock the conservation department ever has been able to offer for private reforestation work, will be available for fall planting.

Farmers and other landowners now can send requests to the department's forestry division, Lansing.

For the first time the department can supply some trees from old federal Wyman nursery near Manistiquie, supplementing output at the Higgins Lake and Hardwood nurseries.

Eight classes of pine can be had at slight price increases ranging from about $1 a thousand more for seedlings and $2 a thousand more for transplants. Included are the first stock pine seedlings to be supplied in nearly 20 years, to meet the demand for Christmas tree stock in southern Michigan. Others on the new list are two-year-old red, jack or Banks, and white pine seedlings; three-year-old jack seedlings and red and white transplants; and four-year-old red pine transplants. Only the scotch pine supply is limited.

Nursery shipments will be made about September 15 - November 1 for fall planting.

Stock is distributed at cost for reforestation purposes only and may not be resold or otherwise used commercially.

For many years Michigan has been able to observe the trend in fishing through its general creel census. Figures for 1950 have now been released. They are based on interviews with 53,844 anglers. The year was one of extremes. Catch in the Great Lakes waters was at a record high of 4.84 fish per hour. On trout streams the average catch was .63 fish per hour, a record low. On inland non-trout waters the average catch was 1.65 fish per hour, best in 13 years and almost on a par with the all-time high (1.68).

Bluegills and perch accounted for over 72 percent of the non-trout catch.

This kind of sampling by the game wardens is extremely useful. Other states might well carry on a similar program.

Rough fish are quite a problem down in Mississippi. So the state fisheries folks are doing some experimentation on these fish in Moon Lake, Coahoma County. A third of a million pounds were removed in seven months. Age and growth studies are being made to see what effect this rough fish removal may have on the growth of game fish. Creel census studies are in progress to note changes in the game fish catch, and a tagging program has been initiated to learn more about the habits of the game fish. The rough fish problem is an important one. It needs study in a number of states.

The California Wildlife Conservation Board has prepared a detailed report on the question of access to coastal waters. Three-fourths of the coast line is privately owned, and most of this is closed to the public. If it can obtain the necessary funds—some $400,000—the Board hopes to provide numerous public access points. The beach to the mean high-tide line belongs to the public but the public can't use big sections of it because of the access question. This is an important project in a state where the population is increasing rapidly, and where nearly everyone seems to be interested in fishing.

Cool thought for August. Already preparing for winter sports at the Highland Lake state recreation area, which conservation department crews have graded out two ski runs and the tow area.

Bear cubs are surprisingly small at birth, being about eight inches long, and weighing from nine to 12 ounces.

Changing color with the seasons, deer have a reddish or rufous shade in summer and a grayer, rougher looking coat in winter.

To "know" an animal is to know the location of his home, his food, his enemies, and his habits.

With Our Churches

Lawn Festival Proves Success Despite Weather

A standing joke among our Lady of Good Counsel parish members is that any church-sponsored activity outdoors is certain to bring inclement weather. The tradition was continued last Wednesday with somewhat dubious enthusiasm. Naturally the evening turned out to be beautiful, but the most morning and the unpredictable afternoon caused a sudden shift in original plans. Nevertheless the "lawn" social held at the parish meeting hall proved to be an overwhelming success, the ample supply of refreshments, the gaily decorated hall and the music all contributed to a festive atmosphere that was easily seen in the happy faces of all who enjoyed the "get acquainted" get-together.

The pastor, Father William F. Mooney, and the ladies of the Rosary Society were unanimous in their appreciation of the interest displayed by parishioners, friends and neighbors in and around Plymouth. The co-chairmen of the festival, Mrs. Pierce Butler and Mrs. Robert Bohannon, wish especially to thank all who labored so industriously to insure the fine support and cooperation of all concerned.

During the month of August the Methodist church secretary may be reached at—phone 415-M or 1173.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, Sunday Services at 10:30 a.m. Sunday School, 10:30 a.m., for pupils up to 20 years shown in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 26. The Golden Text is from 11 Timothy (1:7): "God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." Among the Bible citations is the passage, Job 26:15: "Elhim also proceeded: He is mighty in strength and wisdom." Corollary passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor Mind, that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle." (P.275)

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH, Hurvy & Maple Sts. Sunday, August 26, 14th Sunday after Trinity, 11 a.m. Morning Prayer and Sermon. Sermon Subject: "The Strength of Christian Confidence." Church school and junior church school begin on September 9. Plan to attend, 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. each Sunday.

Homecoming Big Success at West Salem Church

Last Sunday, August 19, two hundred friends and former residents of this community gathered at the spacious church lawn to renew their acquaintances and friendships.

Friends came from Flint, Ann Arbor, Holly, Kalamazoo, Fowlerville, and Detroit to enjoy this perfect day of fellowship together.

At twelve-thirty they sat down to beautifully appointed tables laden with fried chicken and the finest of foods.

At two-thirty a lovely worship service was held in the church with Reverend Patrick Clifford presiding. The able speakers were Judge Pray of Ann Arbor, who emphasized the fact that only the work of the Christian church can make and keep alive the freedom and democracy of this, our great nation. Food for serious thought in that statement.

Reverend Fred Bunnett spoke so earnestly of the true and lasting friendships that are made in the lives of those who seek loyal church affiliations.

Beautiful violin solos were rendered by William Groth accompanied by Mrs. Myron Atchinson on the piano. Vocal solos were sung by Mr. Jones, who has assisted Reverend Clifford throughout the summer and by Mr. Richards, the church chorister.

Mrs. Clifford had her talented part in the program by playing the cowbells—always enjoyed by all.

Mrs. McLaden read a lovely poem that so clearly depicted the constructive and permanent values of the little country churches situated in any community.

A very interesting letter written to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stanbro was read by Mrs. Elizabeth Tait, who formerly taught school almost directly across the road from this church. She brought to mind many of the older families: the Simmons, Sobers, Stanbros and many others who played such a vital part in making the Salem community a fine Christian influence which spread for miles around. Mrs. Tait, who is now 92 years old, has always had a large share in setting a pattern of the finest Christian living and without doubt her influence has made many a better life.

After the service watermelons, donated by the Salem store proprietor, Mr. Bond, and ice cream were served.

William Schneider and his horse, Ranger, were present. This horse has been trained to answer Bible questions, count, add and subtract. This feature was enjoyed by adults and children alike. Mr. Schneider has refused $5000 for Ranger.

Reverend and Mrs. Clifford desire to sincerely thank all the special committee members and the entire congregation that made possible this red-letter day one to be long and pleasantly remembered in the history of this thriving and prosperous little community church.

ST. PETER'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH, 261 Spring St. Edgar Hoenecke, pastor. Sunday school sessions will be suspended until September 9. This service will begin at 9:30 a.m. The sermon topics during August will continue the series on "Outstanding Men and Women of the Old Testament." Please begin to plan your contribution of farm and garden produce for our Harvest Home Festival now. The ladies are canning extra cans of fruit and vegetables during the summer for our school at Saginaw and for the Deaf Institute at Detroit. Enrollments for the fall term of our Lutheran Day school ought to be made as soon as possible to avoid disappointment. Announcement will be made as to the opening date as well as of a parent round-up before the fall session.

NEWBURG METHODIST CHURCH, 9614 Newburg road. Phone 761-J. Robert D. Richards, pastor. Rev. Richards will preach on the topic—"The Gospel of the Three Gardens"—at the 10:00 a.m. service of the Newburg Methodist church on Sunday. Sunday school will be at 11:00 a.m. with classes for every age.

Salem Church Members Meet to Discuss Repairs

There will be a meeting of the members and friends of the Salem Congregational church in the church at eight o'clock on Monday evening, August 27, for the purpose of considering ways and means of repairing the parsonage basement, and installing a furnace.

We hope all interested friends and members will attend.

Bible School to Close on Friday

Monday morning, August 20, marked the opening day of the 1951 Vacation Bible school of Calvary Baptist church. There were 203 present for the opening exercises—Tuesday morning there was an increase in attendance, the number being 282.

Rev. Earl Gilmore, of the Rural Bible Mission, presents the Bible stories with large illustrated models and beautiful oil-painted pictures.

The children look forward every morning with great interest to the special feature of seeing Mr. William Schneider and his trained horse, Ranger, perform on the church lawn. Tuesday the children were permitted to ask questions which Ranger answered. Wednesday morning there will be a contest between the pupils of the school and Ranger to see which can answer the most Bible questions.

The school will continue throughout Friday at which time a closing contest will be presented in the church auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Gilmore will be in charge, with the boys and girls assisting. Mr. Schneider and Ranger will appear on the church lawn giving parents an opportunity to see this unusual horse. Ranger, answer many Bible questions. The other day the Navy sent a rocket 135 miles in the air... but they're still having trouble trying to guide the gadgets by radio. With all the experiments that have been tried the guided missile seems as vulnerable as a clown skidding on a banana skin. The radio-controlled boom works fine as long as there's no interference, but it's as easy to detour as a small boy on his way to the dentist. Naturally, if we turn a heavily loaded flying bomb loose, we want to be pretty sure it isn't going to get off the beam and come back like a homing pigeon. Otherwise, we are throwing ourselves a curve.

We read about a fashion show held at Mavs Landing, N. J., by 500 nudists. We presume bare midriffs are all the rage. We're fully aware of the tremendous responsibility we have in fulfilling prescriptions exactly as the doctor has instructed. His patient is our patient... and both are our we appreciate. ### Savings Started Early Insure Child's Future, Teach Thrift Getting children ready to go back to school is really a long term project when one stops to consider that it occurs regularly every year from the first grade on through college.

Under the circumstances, wise parents who take the long range view will review savings and insurance programs planned for the future of their children, as the new school term approaches.

Savings accounts in the name of the school child, with the youngsters instructed as to their meaning insofar as the future is concerned, can teach thrift and appreciation of the value of money, as well as help to provide for his future education. For the older ones, and especially those who are earning money for themselves, and have earned also the privilege of buying things for themselves, a checking account would contribute to teaching them how to handle their funds.

The college student especially should be encouraged to have his own checking as well as savings account.

Educational insurance policies, endowment policies for the parents are recommended safeguards against problems which may arise in the future with respect to providing a higher education.

The unit was sent direct to Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, where it was in training until being called to Fort Riley to help the military post recover from the flood.

Pfc. David McIntosh left Saturday for Williams Air Force Base in Arizona after having spent a two week furlough visiting friends and relatives in Plymouth.

Pfc. McIntosh entered the service a year ago. He graduated from Plymouth High school with the class of 1947. Dave will be remembered as a stellar athlete while in high school and was captain of the basketball team in his senior year.

The Plymouth Mail received a card from T Sgt. Melvin Larson from Luke Air Force base in Arizona sending his regards and saying it was pretty hot there—110 degrees. Sgt. Larson has been assigned as a negotiator in the Purchasing and Contracting office at the air base. Sgt. Larson expects to be home on furlough in September. His brother Al is also stationed at Luke.

Corporal Tom Hirzel is home on furlough after having completed his air police course in Florida. He graduated with the highest honors in a flight of 70 men, and was immediately made a corporal along with two other honor students of the class.

Tom enlisted in the Air Force on March 13, and received his basic training at Lackland Air Base, Texas.

He is spending his furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Hirzel of 14592 Northville road.

U of M Offers New Work Curriculum

The new University of Michigan idea of granting credit toward a degree for work experience on a job, which is similar to that adapted to Plymouth High school, is no longer unusual, but has been found to be most valuable in preparing girls and boys, either for their life's work, or for the vocational teaching profession. Students under the new program at the University of Michigan will receive college credit for their work experience on a job, just as the students of Plymouth High school have received since the local Occupational Training program was adopted 14 years ago, states Melvin Blank, Coordinator of the Plymouth High school Occupational Training program.

Professor Ralph Wenrich, who will be in charge of the new curriculum, says he believes the university is one of the first to recognize the appropriateness of the part-classroom, part-factory type of training in the preparation of vocational teachers.

Plans are being worked out with the cooperation of management at three large automotive corporations. The corporations have agreed to assist in the instruction of the prospective teachers by furnishing work for them and participating in the program of instruction on the job.

The student will be able to receive up to 25 hours credit, or one-fifth of the total credit required for a degree, through work experience on a job. Professor Wenrich points out that besides earning credit toward a degree while working, the student in this new program will earn money for his labors.

Rotary Founder is Club Visitor

Dr. Edward Lee, former well known resident of Wayne who was selected by the Rotary club of that city to organize a Rotary club in Plymouth and is now a resident of Miami, Florida, was a guest of the Plymouth Rotary club at its meeting last Friday.

With him was former President Clyde Maben of the Wayne club who designated to Dr. Lee the responsibility of starting a Rotary organization in this city.

Mr. Maben said that at that time there were two places he felt where there should be Rotary organizations, so he assigned Dr. Lee to the Plymouth task and he took upon himself the responsibility of organizing a club in Birmingham. That was nearly 30 years ago.

It was a few years after the organization of Plymouth Rotary that Dr. Lee decided to retire and move to Miami, where he again became active in Rotary club affairs. One of his responsibilities during recent years has been to assist in greeting visitors to that organization. At times there are nearly 400 or more visitors in attendance at Miami Rotary meetings. According to the many Plymouth residents who have at various times attended Rotary meetings in Miami, the cordiality of the greetings extended by Dr. Lee and his associates help to make the Rotary visits in Miami a most pleasing experience.

With Dr. Lee and Mr. Maben last Friday was W. L. Weber of Wayne, a well known retired business man of that fast growing community.

In Redwood City, Calif., after a telephone tip from the repentant thief who found he had heisted $100 from the wrong man, Restaurateur George Stoltz went to the public library, recovered his money from behind Spangler's Decline of the West.

Helen Eileen Moore Bride of Ralph Pocklington

The Bushell Congregational church in Detroit was the scene last Saturday afternoon of the wedding of Miss Helen Eileen Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Moore of Barroughs avenue, Plymouth, and Ralph W. Pocklington.

The three o'clock rites were read by the Reverend Ellsworth Richardson before an altar banked with bouquets of white gladioli. Mrs. Frank Arlen sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Promise Me" preceding the ceremony. Ralph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pocklington of Santa Rosa drive, Detroit.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar in a lovely Chantilly trimmed gown of nylon marquisette with long sleeves. Her fingertip length veil was caught to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids on a white Bible.

Helen asked Miss Joanne Moore to be her maid of honor.

Mrs. Ralph Pocklington

She wore a gown of blue net over taffeta. The bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Baumann of Wisconsin and Miss Lois Phillips wore gowns identical to that of the honor maid. Barbara wore yellow net over taffeta and Lois was in green. They all wore bands of roses in their hair and carried colonial nosegays of talisman roses.

Russell Koch served as best man and the ushers were Richard Moore, Edgar Pocklington, Don Moorehead and Ray Hilzinger.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Moore wore a dress of aqua shantung with pink accessories. Mrs. Pocklington selected powder blue crepe with pink accessories. Both mothers wore pink rosebud corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 150 was held in the church parlors with guests coming from Wisconsin, New Jersey, Canada, Ohio, Indiana, Detroit, Adrian, Northville, and Plymouth.

The young couple are now vacationing in Indiana. For going away the bride chose a red and blue checked suit with navy accessories and the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Pocklington was graduated from Michigan State Normal in Ypsilanti and Mr. Pocklington was graduated from Michigan State College in East Lansing. They will make their home in Plymouth where Mrs. Pocklington will teach in the George A. Smith school.

In Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, after announcing herself a candidate for mayor, Irene B. Green, 40, ran an advertisement in the "Female Help Wanted" column of the Press for women to fill posts in her proposed all-woman city council.

Trinka-Keeping Rites Solemnized on Sunday

Lighted tapers, palms and bouquets of white gladioli formed the setting for the Sunday afternoon wedding of Miss Elsie Mae Keeping, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Keeping of Irvin street to George J. Trinka son of Mr. and Mrs. George Trinka of Schoolcraft road, Livonia.

The Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson officiated at the 4:30 o'clock rites in the First Methodist church. Following the singing of "The Greatest of These is Love," "With This Ring I Thee Wed," and "The Lord's Prayer" by Jean Moberg and the playing of traditional wedding music by the organist, Mrs. Edna O'Conner, Elsie Mae approached the altar on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of bridal satin in princess style with Belgium lace yolk. The skirt extended into a medium train and she wore a fingertip length veil. She carried a white Bible to which were attached two white orchids and sprays of stephanotis.

Kathryn Trinka, sister of the bridegroom was Elsie Mae's maid of honor. She wore a gown of aqua satin and marquisette with a satin apron effect. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow talisman roses and daisies.

Margaret Weyermler, sister of the bride and Wanda Nielson served as bridesmaids. They wore yellow gowns fashioned like that of the maid of honor and carried colonial bouquets of red talisman roses and bronze daisies.

A brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Jack Kiger, served as best man and seating the guests were Ronald Keeping, brother of the bride, and Jerry Yatzeck a cousin of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Keeping's dress for her daughter's wedding was of teal crepe with lace yoke with which she wore white accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Trinka chose slate grey with lace and orchid accessories. Her corsage was also of orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception for 250 was held in the church dining room with guests present from Detroit, Birmingham, New York, Ohio, Ontario, Northville and Ann Arbor.

The bride chose a navy blue suit with white trim, blue and white hat, white gloves, blue bag and shoes and the orchids from her bridal bouquet. Following a honeymoon into northern Michigan Mrs. Trinka will make her home with her parents on Irvin street while her husband is stationed with the Marines at Camp LeJeune, North Carolina.

Social items can be phoned to 1755.

Salow-Jahn Rites Solemnized in Livonia

Miss Beverly Diane Jahn repeated her nuptial vows to Private Harold Everett Salow on Wednesday evening, August 8, in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Livonia with the Reverend Theodore Sauer officiating at the 8 o'clock rites.

Palms and arrangements of white gladioli and larkspur formed an impressive setting. Mrs. Everett Salow presided at the organ with Stamford Willing as soloist.

Beverly's parents are Councilman and Mrs. Harvey R. Jahn of Oakdale avenue, Coventry Gardens and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Salow of Newburg road, Livonia.

Beverly was radiant in a floor length gown of white lace over satin fashioned with long pointed sleeves, Peter Pan collar and small buttons extending down the back. Her fingertip length veil was of illusion. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Laura Jean Ackerman was the bride's only attendant. She wore a gown of ice blue with matching hat of tulle and carried a bouquet of miniature pink rosebuds. Harold asked his cousin, Gerald Salow to assist him as best man and seating the guests were Edward Allen Jr. and Robert W. Fritch, cousins of the bride.

A reception for over 250 was held in the Hotel Mayflower following the ceremony. Mrs. Jahn, mother of the bride, received the guests in a dress of navy blue taffeta with pale pink accessories. Mrs. Salow wore blue with matching hat and pink gloves. Both mothers wore corsages of pink roses. Mrs. Paul Jahn, grandmother of the bride, wore a white corsage with her black and white silk print dress. Guests came from Northville, Detroit, Livonia,

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Salow

Ann Arbor, Howell, Ypsilanti, and Plymouth.

Music during the reception was supplied by Miss Huetgren at the piano and her violin accompanist.

For going away the new Mrs. Salow wore a faille suit of variegated shades of brown with pearl buttons extending down the front, black accessories and the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

The young couple are now in Atlanta, Georgia where they will make their home while Private Salow is stationed at Camp Gordon with the Army Security Agency. Both young people are graduates of Plymouth High school.

SALMON CASSEROLE

By Marguerite Mickelsen

A Lenten entree with high food interest is this casserole of salmon, combined with toast. The smooth texture of the creamed fish and the crispness and piquancy of the lemon-butter toast combine to produce a dish with both flavor and texture contrast. Either steamed haddock or cod may be used in place of the salmon. This dish is inexpensive, of good quality in minerals and in proteins.

SALMON CASSEROLE

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 2 tablespoons flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 cups milk
 1 (No. 1) can salmon and juice
 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley

1 teaspoon minced onion
 1/2 cup finely chopped celery
 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
 1/8 teaspoon pepper
 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped

Melt butter in a saucepan. Blend in flour and salt. Add milk and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Bone and flake salmon. Combine salmon, salmon liquid, dry bread crumbs, parsley, onion, celery, horseradish, mustard, pepper and chopped eggs. Fold salmon mixture into white sauce. Spoon mixture into 6 greased individual casseroles, or into a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) for thirty minutes for individual casseroles or for fifty minutes for large casserole. Yield: 6 servings.

LEMON BUTTER TOAST

6 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
 2 teaspoons lemon juice
 1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
 12 slices enriched bread

Combine butter, lemon juice and lemon rind. Toast sliced bread on one side. Spread lemon butter on untoasted side of bread slice. Cut each slice in half. Place bread, spread side up, on an ungreased cookie sheet. Toast under a preheated broiler (400 F.) for five minutes until golden brown. Serve with fish entrees or salads. Yield: 12 servings—1 slice toast per serving.

Give Pointers on Picking out Peaches

Popular as peaches are, many a food shopper does not know them well enough to do an expert job of buying. With the peach season coming up, USDA food specialists cite the following pointers for those not sure of themselves as grocery store peach pickers.

Choose mature peaches, which have a creamy or yellowish ground color. This is more important to look for than the pretty blush which some well-flavored varieties never have at all. Avoid peaches with dark green ground color, for these are immature and will not ripen satisfactorily.

The firm-textured clingstone peaches are grown mainly for commercial canning and are also well suited to home pickling. The freestone varieties are favorites for table use and also for home canning because of fine flavor, even though they do not hold shape so well.

Yellow-fleshed peaches offer a bonus of somewhat more vitamin A value than the white-fleshed kinds. But generally speaking, you can expect a half cup of sliced raw peaches to provide about 15 percent of the vitamin A and about 10 percent of the vitamin C recommended daily for an adult.

You can figure on about 4 medium-sized peaches to a pound or 4 servings. A bushel basket of peaches will yield 18 to 24 quarts of canned peaches, or 36 to 48 pints of frozen.

Peach Freezing Time
 Peaches just right for eating fresh are just right for freezing. Select them juicy and firm-ripe.

Allow 1 to 1 1/2 pounds of peaches, as bought or picked, for each pint container to be filled. After washing the fruit, halve and pit it, and remove the skins without dipping them in hot water as this dipping would cause the outer layer to soften in frozen fruit.

Slice the peeled peaches directly into the cold syrup in a freezer jar or other container. The syrup should be made in advance, by dissolving 3 cups of sugar in each 4 cups of water. To help peaches hold color and flavor while in the freezer, add ascorbic acid (vitamin C) to the syrup, putting 1/2 teaspoon (1,000 milligrams) in each four cups of cold syrup.

After pressing the fruit down in the container, add enough cold syrup to cover it. A piece of crumpled parchment or locker paper on top helps to hold fruit under the syrup. Syrup should be left at the top, since fruit will expand in freezing. In containers with straight sides and wide top, leave 1/2 inch of head space in pints, 1 inch in quarts. If containers have a narrow top, leave 3/4 inch head space in pints, 1 1/2 inches in quarts.

When container edges have been wiped clean and dry, screw the lids on tightly, or seal as the container type requires, and the peaches are ready for freezing and storage at Zero degrees F. or colder.

Peach Parfait

1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 cup water
 1 egg white
 1 cup heavy cream or 3/4 cup of evaporated milk, chilled few drops almond extract
 1 cup strained stewed peaches or 2 cans infants strained peaches
 Heat sugar and water together, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Boil without stirring until a thread is formed. Beat egg white until stiff and gradually add the syrup in a fine stream, beating constantly until mixture is cool. Chill. Whip chilled cream or evaporated milk until it will just hold its shape and fold into the chilled egg white mixture. Fold in almond extract and peaches. Freeze without stirring. Yield: 6 servings.

If you substitute powdered sugar for granulated sugar when whipping cream, the whipped cream won't set watery in the bottom of the dish after it sets while, MSC specialists point out.

Congressmen Get City's Protest on Rent Controls

Members of Congress from this area know that Plymouth does not favor rent control in spite of the fact that both houses passed a one-year extension last month.

Copies of a City Commission resolution terminating local rent controls were sent to Senators Moody and Ferguson and Representative Dondero early in June. The resolution was passed unanimously by the Commission last September after they decided that there was no longer a local shortage in rental housing accommodations.

In acknowledging receipt of the resolution, both Senators Moody and Ferguson were non-committal about Plymouth's stand. However, Representative Dondero agreed wholeheartedly with the Commission's decision.

"I doubt if anyone will ever again build a house for rent as long as this type of legislation hangs over the heads of a free people," said Mr. Dondero in his letter.

Following are the letters received from the three Congressmen, in their entirety.

Dear Mr. Glassford:
I have your letter of June 6 and the attached resolution passed by the City Commission of Plymouth in regard to rent control.

The City Commission is opposed to further extension of rent control, so am I, and have been since the end of the war. Rent control makes its own problems. I doubt if anyone will ever again build a house for rent as long as this type of legislation hangs over the heads of a free people.

Very sincerely yours,
George A. Dondero, M.C.
Dear Friend,

This is to acknowledge your message urging the end of price, wage and rent controls.

Whether or not this legislation should expire on June 30 depends upon the extent to which this country expects to use its industrial capacity and manpower for the production of war materials. If we go beyond a certain point in our economy, and produce materials for mobilization, some controls seem to be necessary to prevent a run-away inflation. If the administration is able to get the appropriations and determine the extent of mobilization beyond a certain point, then, as I have said, some controls will be necessary. Members of Congress must give this matter their very careful and thorough consideration. I am not a member of the Committee to which this legislation is referred but assure you I shall have what you say in mind when it comes to the Senate floor.

With very best wishes, I am
Yours sincerely,
Homer Ferguson

Dear Mr. Glassford,
Thank you for your communication regarding the extension of rent control. As a member of the Banking and Currency Committee, I have been studying all phases of this legislation thoroughly.

Like all other believers in our American economic system, I am against controls in principle. I do not believe they should be applied to our economy over any extended period of time. However, I feel this is a time of national emergency, and after a careful study of the testimony before our Committee, I feel that fairly-administered federal rent control is necessary for the time being in order to assist in the achievement of overall economic stabilization and in the interest of our vast defense effort.

Provision is made in the Defense Production Act for the correction of inequities and hardships. The local rent advisory board machinery is continued to provide a means of equitable treatment for both landlords and tenants at the local level.

In my judgment, our defense mobilization program is one of the most important issues facing us today, and I am sure you would want me to speak frankly concerning it. Wages, prices and all other phases of the economy must be stabilized in the interest of our national economy and our broad mobilization program.

Sincerely yours,
Blair Moody
U. S. Senator

FREE SOUVENIRS TO ALL DURING THIS EVENT

Blake W. Fisher

James C. Houk

Ten years ago—August 22, 1941 to be exact—our newly organized Fisher's Shoe Store opened its doors publicly for the first time. On that occasion, partner Blake Fisher operated the shoe repair section of the enterprise while partner Jim Houk managed the shoe sales. The partners then had little more than an honest desire to serve Plymouth with the best in shoes, with a stress on comfort, fit and service. Fisher's through the years expanded and to such an extent that we were forced to sell the shoe repair section and remove it from the store, both partners devoting full time to the selling and fitting of shoes. This expansion was made possible by our customer's confidence in the store's providing them with America's foremost brands of shoes, fitted in such a way as to provide them with the utmost in foot comfort and service.

Credit for the outstanding success of our store belongs to you, our customers. Without your loyal cooperation this tenth Anniversary would not have been possible. Therefore, to celebrate this event, Fisher's offers a blanket 10 per cent dividend on all merchandise during this ten day period. With a grateful "Thank you" to past, present and future customers, Fisher's hopes to serve every member of the family as well, if not better through the coming years.

When City Buried Tonquish Creek It Covered a Lot of Early History

Remember back in the old days when the beautiful little stream known as Tonquish creek was so cold and clear that one could dip his "cupped" hands into the creek and get a good drink of cold, pure, sparkling water?

Remember back a few years ago when it became so filthy from refuse and sewage that the city of Plymouth had to "bury" it under the ground to keep the stench from contaminating the air along the creek?

Yes sir, the city had to bury a beautiful little creek named in honor of one of the well known Indian chiefs of southeastern Michigan, because the white man who chased the Indians out, had made an open sewer of the creek.

Interesting details of the troubles of the early settlers with Chief Tonquish and his band are given by Melvin D. Osband in Volume 3 of the Pioneer Collections of Michigan, and the following account is collected from that and other sources:

After the peace of 1815, the Pottawatomie Indians were disaffected and troublesome, and frequently committed little depredations on the settlers along the River Rouge in this area.

They manifested no open hostilities, but were indifferent to the rights of the whites.

Tonquish, their chief, was a leader in these acts of lawlessness, arrogant and imperious.

Followed by his band, he would enter the houses of the settlers, and demand and obtain various articles.

Upon one occasion he called at the home of Alanson Thomas, who lived on the brow of a hill on the north side of the River Rouge, about two miles below the village of Dearborn.

Mr. Thomas was fixing some shelves for his wife's convenience, when he heard a voice behind him, and turning around, he saw Chief Tonquish, who ordered Mr. Thomas's wife to hand him something which he coveted.

Upon Mr. Thomas demanding, "What are you doing here," the chief sprang at him, but he met the brawny fist of Thomas, and was landed senseless on the other side of the room.

Mr. Thomas then administered several kicks to the fallen brute, and finally threw him out the door.

Then, looking up, he saw several of the band standing near by, who had evidently witnessed the discomfiture of their chief.

One of them, a young son of Tonquish, scowled, shook his head and said, "Bime-by you be dead."

"Well, dead or alive," said Thomas, "I'll venture to give you a fighting and picking up a green switch that had been used to fix his fence, he chastised the Indian severely.

He jumped up and down and yelled, and gave the war whoop in vain, as none of his companions came to his rescue.

Mr. Thomas anticipated trouble as a result of the encounter, but the Indians after that were afraid of and avoided him.

Subsequently, Chief Tonquish called at the cabin of Thomas Johns and demanded of Mrs. Johns that she supply them with food.

The best that she could do did not please them, and throwing the victuals in her face, they went on.

Some two miles west near John Sargent's place, they met Simon Shover with a basket of bread which he was carrying to some men who were cutting timber for a dock. The Indians attempted to take the bread, and Shover resisted and called for help, which speedily came from the lumbermen.

Check List Will Help Mothers Shop for Back to School Shoes

Children's feet grow rapidly. From six to ten years of age sizes change every eight or twelve weeks, even more rapidly before they become of school age. Thus youngster's feet are in the formative stage which means that unless they are correctly fitted complications dangerous to health and posture ensue later.

One of the most important tasks mothers have to undertake at the beginning of each new school term, is to see to it that their youngsters are properly shod.

Here is a check list for shoe shoppers, prepared by the National Shoe Institute and observed by personnel of all good shoe stores.

great toe should lie out straight. 10. Sufficient space in the toe of the shoe should be allowed for elongation of the foot in motion and permit the toes to function freely. Roomy in the toes and snug in the heel is a good shoe rule to remember.

The above check list is equally applicable as a guide, to correct fitting of all growing children and adults as well. Feet do not stop growing until the individual has achieved maturity.

Foot sizes of children in their early teens change about every 16 to 20 weeks; after that, and until they are about 20, sizes change about every six months.

1. Heel seat of shoe should be shaped to accommodate broad base of the heel.

2. Contour of heel should be shaped to insure a snug fit around top.

3. Shoe should fit snugly and smoothly under the arch.

4. Shoe patterns should be selected for low or high insteps to permit comfortable fit.

5. Ball point should rest in widest area of fore part of the shoe.

6. Vamp seam should not be over the ball joint.

7. There should be sufficient width across the ball of foot to allow for spread of feet in motion.

8. Shape of the last should conform to shape of fore part of the foot.

9. Toe shape should conform to the shape of the toes. The

A Little Wait—or a Big Compromise!

If you have a Cadillac on order—or if you are giving thought to placing your order for one—we want to talk frankly with you about the matter.

There is, of necessity, some delay in delivery of new Cadillacs. You have to wait a while to get one—the time depending somewhat upon the model you select.

Naturally, you are being urged to purchase other makes of cars—which can be had almost as soon as your signature is on an order blank.

For the sake of your own welfare, we hope you will turn a deaf ear to all this—and hold firm.

If your order for a Cadillac is already in—let it stand, and be patient until your car is ready.

If you want a Cadillac, but haven't yet ordered it, do so at once—so the delay may be as short as possible.

It is a simple choice you have to make. You must choose between a little wait—or a big compromise.

You must make this choice because there is no substitute for a Cadillac.

There is no substitute for the deep world-wide respect in which it is held—

—there is no substitute for its marvelous over-all performance... so smooth, so quiet, so steady that to drive is to relax and to ride is to rest——and there is no substitute for the sheer joy of owning and driving it, so great that you will actually think up excuses for taking to the highway!

If you want a Cadillac—stand firm until you get it.

There is nothing else like it—nothing in all the wide, wide world that can take its place!

Flash! Flash! Plymouth Daisy in State Finals

We have just received word that the Daisy hardball team, champions of the Western Wayne league and currently playing in the Class D state recreational tournament at Pontiac reached the finals when they defeated Saginaw and Dearborn last Monday.

Against Saginaw, the locals were locked in a tight ball game and were leading 1 to 0 until the sixth inning, when they increased their lead to win by a score of 5 to 1.

Southport "Wally" Dzus was the star of the game, hitting a home run and driving in three runs. More details are unavailable at this time.

Rows pitched against Dearborn and hurled a steady game to win easily 10 to 2.

Plymouth Daisy played Grand Rapids for the state class D title Tuesday at 11 o'clock.

Wayne Gridders Show Promise

Coach Lou Zarza, reviewing Wayne's 1951 Spring Practice sessions, has announced himself satisfied with the progress shown by his gridders.

Especially pleasing to the Tartar Head Coach, was the hard earned 7 to 6 victory of his youngsters over a much heavier and more experienced Old Timer team. Trailing the Oldsters into the final period, the Varsity managed 68 yards in 11 plays with quarterback Dick Brown plunging over the line one sub-quarterback Ray Marusa kicked the game winning point. The Old Timer went 56 yards for their TD also on a sneak with alumna Gene D'Ambrosio scoring.

As a whole, the Tartar blocking and tackling seemed sharper than it has been since Zarza became head man two years ago. The Wayne pass defense was good, and the line backing was commendable. Offensively right half Elbert Richmond showed that he will continue to be a threat as a ball carrier, while the passing combination of Brown to right end Jack Crittendon has improved over a year ago.

"If we can pick up some reserve strength during the summer months," said Zarza, "I think we can view the 1951 schedule with some optimism." He added, "Our biggest problem at the moment is a lack of depth."

With only 11 lettermen returning from last year's team, the Tartar coach is counting upon incoming Freshmen to help out with his manpower problems. Zarza expects to take about 50 men to Wayne's fall training camp at Brighton, Michigan, and intends to invite about 70 out for a week of training preparatory to leaving for camp.

Consideration for others usually means that I take a win when I would prefer a slice of white bread.

Uniforms Issued Football Squad Today at PHS

Initial practice for all candidates for positions on the 1951 Plymouth High school football team will begin next Monday.

Charles Ketterer, high school football coach.

Physical examinations, free of charge to the athletes, are being taken care of today, and equipment is being issued. Coach Ketterer states that for the protection of the athletes, no one should participate in practice unless he has had a physical examination. If he is unable to be at the high school today, he may get one at his own expense at his family physician, or wait until the freshmen have theirs later on.

Each player should bring $2.50 for insurance and $1 for towel fee before he receives his uniform.

Any boy who is unable to attend the football meetings today, and wishes information, may contact Coach Ketterer at the high school any time Friday.

This year the 6B league was reorganized and two new teams have been admitted to replace Ypsilanti and Wayne, who moved up into class A. The new teams are Bentley and Allen Park, and they, along with four old members—Plymouth, Redford Union, Belleville and Trenton, will constitute the new 6B league. The high school schedule will appear at a later date.

Pinch Hit Homer Wins Game For First National

The homerun bats of George Newton and Phil Bosman enabled the First National Bank nine of Plymouth to edge the Romulus team 4 to 2 in the first round of the Inter-County league playoffs. Romulus had won the Red division championship and Plymouth finished third in the White division during the regular season just ended.

Newton's big bat paced the Bank boys as they came from behind in the 8th inning to win the game. Trailing 2 to 1 going into the 8th, Newton was sent in to pinch hit for Bridge—George justified Manager Bassett's merrymaking by knocking in the winning run. Bone was on first as a result of his single and two men were out when George stopped up; after he had worked the count to two balls and two strikes, he picked on the next pitch and sent a tremendous homerun into the brush in deep left center field. This put Plymouth ahead 3-2 and Carmichael, who had hurled a good brand of ball up to this point, was replaced on the mound for Bob Bosman, first man up, greeted the new hurler with another long homerun drive to the same spot Newton had banged his homer. That ended the scoring for the game.

Three errors played an important part in the scoring of the two Romulus runs in the second and third innings. Plymouth counted first in the first inning when DeWulf walked, stole second, and scored when Dobbis banged a single to left center. Two were out at the time. From then on the gate closed until Newton's great clutch hit in the eighth.

Little Tommy Shraake pitched great ball throughout the contest, gave up four scattered hits, walked four, and 12 men went down on strikes. A. Stillwagon and Lombardi got all the Romulus hits, each getting two.

For Plymouth, Dobbis had two hits in four times at bat, Bone had two in four and Bosman had two in three; Newton, Williams, and Kubitsky each had one.

Plymouth plays host to Wyandotte Sunday at Riverside park at 3 o'clock. Neither team has lost a game in the playoffs, yet.

State Loses 11 1950 Key Players

Michigan State faces its rugged nine-game 1951 schedule with a total of 25 lettermen returning, but confronted with the problem of replacing 11 key players who played vital roles in the success of the 1950 team that won 3 and lost 1.

Despite the losses, there is still hope in the Spartan camp. Coach "Biggie" Munn has on hand seven members of the 1950 offensive unit as a nucleus for operations during the '51 season. Tops among the returning lettermen are Captain Bob Carey, a real All-American candidate, at left end; Don Coleman, a standout lineman at left tackle; center Jim Creamer; right guard Frank Kappal; right tackle Marv McFadden; quarterback Al Dorow; and right halfback Vince Pisano. Don McAuliffe, a reserve tailback last year, appears ready to move into Grandelius' spot; Wayne Benson following a position switch from right halfback, is in line for fullback duties along with letterman Dick Pann; Dean Gardner is a likely successor to the left guard post; and letterman Bill Carey and reserve Doug Bobo are waging a battle for right end duties.

Inexperience, especially in the defensive unit, is a real problem for Spartan coaches. The loss of ends Dibble and King, tackle Deane Thomas, and safety man Jess Thomas will leave the team hard-pressed, even though guards Frank Kush and Dick Kuh, tackle Jack Morgan, linebacker Bill Hughes and Ed Timmerman, and halfback Ray Vogt and John Wilson are on hand. The latter pair may be switched to offensive duty this year, leaving a bigger gap to fill. Top choices for defensive end play are Orlando Mazza and Ed Luke, but the other spots are wide open as fall drills begin.

Hunters Should Understand the Farmers Problem

The vandals who destroy farmers' property got a good lambasting last July at the meeting of the Outdoor Writers Association of America in Escanaba, Mich.

The scribes suggested stricter laws against trespassers, publishing game law violations; junior education and closer cooperation between the hunter and farmer.

One writer suggested that conservation clubs would do well to conduct sportsmanship classes for boys. He maintains that such junior training would aid in cutting down game and fish law violations for future sportsmen.

Another said if sportsmen would become better acquainted with the farmer and understand his problems, there would be less resentment to the city nirod.

The average farmer is somewhat of an outsider. When you show him the respect due him and recognize him as the judge of whether you will be permitted to hunt on his property—he loves it. Hunters do not need to humble themselves in seeking hunting privileges. All that is necessary is to meet the farmer on even ground and conduct themselves as true sportsmen.

Jim Crowe of Lansing, state outdoor editor of the associated press, was elected president of the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association; Berkeley Smith, editor and publisher of the Iosco County News, was named vice president. Directors are Bill Duchaine, Escanaba Daily Press; Jim Dobson, Northern Michigan Review; Bert Mackey, Elton Easton, Plymouth Mail; Gregg Smith, Boyne City Citizen; Vic Baresford, Wayne County Sportsman; and Don Gillies, Detroit Times Outdoor Editor.

Beverly Goodale Wins Bay View Tennis Crown

Beverly Ann Goodale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren J. Goodale, summer residents of Bay View, will bring to Plymouth the Girls' singles championship of the Petoskey Open Tennis tournament sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Beverly won this honor Friday, August 17, by defeating Cary Ambler of St. Louis, Missouri, who is also a summer resident at Bay View. Beverly won by scores of 2-6, 7-5, 6-1.

Following the final sets Saturday evening, a representative of the Chamber of Commerce presented medals to the winners, and also to the runners-up.

Kiwanians and Wives at Detroit-N.Y. Game

A number of Kiwanians and their wives attended the Detroit-New York baseball game at Briggs stadium Tuesday evening, August 21.

Two chartered buses provided the transportation to the ball park.

Duane Parkes was in charge of the ticket reservations.

Local 111 Wins Championship in Industrial

Local 111 gained possession of the trophy in the Industrial league when they defeated Whitman & Barnes 8 to 2 in the finals in that league last Wednesday, August 21.

Local 111 finished third in the regular season behind Evans and Daisy.

Local 111 wrapped up the game in the first inning when they scored four runs on one hit and some sloppy playing by the W & B team. Pierce, first up, struck out but was given a life when Bishop led the ball get away from him. Pommell, the next batter, slapped a triple to left center scoring Pierce. Becker walked. Turner fled out to center and then Taylor and Fann were safe on fielder's choices. Becker scoring. Turner scored as Gardner grounded out. Oineck struck out and ended the first.

Pommell and Turner each had a single and a triple for the winners. Becker and Gardner had the other two safeties made by Local 111. McCanna had two hits for the losers.

Laskowski pitched a steady game for the winners as he allowed only five hits and struck out 11 batters. Nagy was the loser.

Department Has Suggestions For August Fishing

With a larger and more frequent fishing army now making a beeline for the lakes at a time when the fish are playing harder to get, the conservation department offers a reminder and several suggestions.

The re-emphasis is on the fact that the very August weather which encourages more daily, weekend and vacation marches to the lake, discourages the fish from biting.

For the person having trouble getting his share of strikes at this time of the season, a change in fishing habits and out and out experimenting is in order. Night fishing is a good bet for the black bass willing to sacrifice a little sleep.

Go down deep enough to find a temperature layer attractive to fish life. Stay high enough to be in a layer with sufficient oxygen for the creatures. Surprising is the number who know this but still stick close to more shallow, well-vegetated areas and catch small fish, if any.

When bait minnows die soon after being placed in the water, frequently it is the angler's cue that he is fishing in a lake zone devoid of oxygen.

Fish gain most weight in spring and early summer; they seek cooler water in summer, are less active, and devour a lot less food. However, gorging characterizes feeding behavior at times.

Since it is permissible to thread two hooks on one line, the angler might bait each at different level or with a different lure. One might be a live and artificial bait combination. By trying several innovations, the most attractive menu for the day might be more quickly found. Another approach is to cut open the first fish caught and see what the food choice is.

Grasshoppers now are more abundant and crickets are becoming more plentiful. Either could be a likely strike-producing morsel for panfish now. Small fish are a top die item with northern pike, suggesting lure possibilities.

W-B Knocks Daisy Out of Playoffs

Whitman and Barnes knocked Daisy out of the playoffs in the Industrial league, Monday, August 13, by the score of 5 to 2.

W & B scored four times in the first three innings and maintained that lead until the finish. Daisy outhit W & B, 8 to 5, but good clutch pitching by Nagy kept the Daisy runners from scoring except for the fourth inning when Daisy scored all their runs.

Roy Williams and Hadley had two hits apiece for W & B, with McCanna getting the only other hit, a solid three-base blast.

Harold Williams had three straight hits for Daisy in three times at bat, and J. Williams had two hits for the losers. Mandler was the losing pitcher.

The Boosterettes of Ypsilanti, winner of the local Girls' Intercity league, went on to win the Michigan Recreation Association's Women's softball championship by trimming Lansing Eastern 2 to 0 in the finals of the state tournament at Saginaw which ended last weekend.

Contractors Bow to Dunn Steel

Dunn Steel extended the playoffs into another week as they came from behind to defeat the Contractors team 10 to 7 in the Old Timers' league playoffs last Thursday, August 16. These two teams have each lost a game now and the championship hinges on the game to be played Tuesday, August 21. That result is too late for the deadline of this page.

It looked like a run-away for the Contractors team as they scored 6 runs in the first two innings, but Atchinson tightened up and allowed only one run the rest of the way. In the meantime, Dunn Steel kept whittling away at the lead until they went ahead to stay in the 4th inning and continued to increase it.

Dunn Steel had only 6 hits, but they came with men on bases, which meant the victory. The big blow was a homer by Pankow after two walks in the first inning. Levy had three hits and a walk for the winners.

Bob Norman, Schumann, L. Norman and Walker had two hits each for the losers. Atchinson was the winning hurler and Walker was the loser.

Sports Glances

Plymouth Sports fans got their money's worth the other night as they watched a thrilling softball game between Cavalcade and Beglingers in the finals of the Open league. "Gabby" Street pitched a beautiful game and has lost none of his old form—he played "heads up" baseball all the time and his quick thinking saved a run in the mixup at home plate when two runners tried to score on a bunt. (We think this saved the umpires some bad moments, too, as they may have had to call an interference.) Much credit must go to Thibadeau as he pitched a "whale of a game" for Cavalcade.

Beglinger Edges Cavalcade 1 to 0 and Takes Final

In the best played game of the playoffs Beglinger Olds won the Open league crown when they edged Cavalcade 1 to 0—thanks to nifty hurling by "Gabby" Street and some timely hitting by "Mugs" Hunt.

All the scoring was completed when Olds got their run in the second inning—after two were out Egloff got a single and Hunt brought him home with a ringing double down the right field line. That was the ball game as each pitcher hooked up into a duel that will long be remembered.

Cavalcade blew a chance to score in the third inning when two men were out at the plate. Gadwa got on through an error by Wilkie, and Cook scratched a hit through the box. After Craig grounded out, Loudeau bunted and Gadwa came in and bowled over the catcher Gillies—with Gadwa atop Gillies. Cook rounded third and headed for the plate, but Street, being alert, got the ball from Gillies and tagged Cook for the final out.

Hunt had two hits for Olds, and Dobbis, Gillies, Egloff and Newton one each. Cook and Legget each had one of the two hits collected by Cavalcade.

Street pitched magnificent ball allowing two hits, striking out 6 and walking none. Thibadeau allowed 6 hits, struck out 8 and walked two.

A crowd of 150 witnessed the contest, with another 150 outside the fence sitting in their cars.

Beglingers now will represent Plymouth at Marshall in the Michigan Recreation Association tournament which begins tomorrow.

Daisy Shuts Out Willow Run 10-0

Daisy continues its winning ways in the Class D hardball playoffs in the Michigan Recreation Association tournament by mowing a 10 to 0 shutout on Willow Run last Tuesday, August 14 at Willow Run.

Quatrow displayed a nifty bit of pitching for Daisy as he allowed only three scratch hits and struck out 14 Willow Run batters.

This past Monday the Daisy team played at Pontiac with either Flint or Saginaw as their opponent. The results of this game were not available when the Mail went to press.

The Daisy team has enjoyed a very successful season this year. They copped the Western Wayne league crown by winning 12 games and losing none, however, they were tied once. They are expected to go a long way in the state tournament this year.

How Mother Rates Will Often Depend on Lunchbox Contents

When youngsters compare the contents of their school lunchboxes, a mother's rating among them may sink or soar.

The child who gobbles every bite with good appetite—and considerable pride—is the one whose mother understands that lunchbox menus should be different from day to day, and that no meal is complete without a yummy surprise.

The surprise may be a jar of salad or mustard; it might be a very special big orange, or a few dates with walnut meats, or a stalk of celery "partied up" with filling from the jar or sandwich or cheese spread.

Sometimes the cookies or cupcake will be an extra good homemade kind—and no child will know or care that mother took the easy way and baked it from a packaged mix.

The boxed lunch, like any other meal, needs differences of taste and texture, something crunchy as well as something soft, something sweet as well as something piquant. With a well-stocked pantry, even the busiest mother should be able to provide variety.

Cream cheese and cottage cheese are always a good beginning for a sandwich filling. For a vegetable spread, combine either one with shredded carrot or chopped raw spinach. Or make a sweet spread by mixing with nuts, jelly, or raisins.

Most youngsters like peanut butter, and will like its variations: either bits of crisped bacon, or a blend with banana and honey.

Hard cooked egg and mayonnaise may fill a sandwich or be combined with celery for the salad jar. For other filling suggestions, consider the following:

Liver Sandwich Spread
Slices of beef liver
Mayonnaise
Hard cooked egg yolk
Salt

Pan broil liver over low fire. Cool and chop fine. Combine with other ingredients and spread on buttered dark bread.

Meat Salad Spread

Ground meat
Chopped pickle
Mayonnaise
Use left-over meat, canned deviled ham, or ground canned luncheon meat. Spread on buttered white or rye bread.

Tuna Salad Sandwich

2 7-oz. cans tuna fish
1 cup diced celery
1 tablespoon lemon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 egg, diced
Mayonnaise to moisten
Combine ingredients. Spread on buttered whole-grain or enriched bread slices.

Salmon Salad Sandwich

1 16-oz. can salmon, flaked
1/2 cup celery, finely chopped
1/2 cup green pepper, finely chopped
1 egg, diced
Juice of half lemon
Salt, pepper
1/2 cup mayonnaise
Combine ingredients. Spread on buttered whole-grain or enriched bread slices.

You can Beat the Bushes—but you can't Beat this

If you want to know why shrewd car shoppers are saying "Smart Buy's Buick," take a look at this.

It's the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan—and it's roomier than most 4-door sedans, higher-powered than many costlier cars—and priced, as you can see, right down near the lowest.

Now, we ask you: where can you beat it for the money?

Can you beat this beauty on looks and style and rich bearing in any other car near its price?

Can you match, at the same money, the big power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine (128hp with Dynaflo Drive*)—or the big miles-per-gallon figure it delivers with such thrills?

Can you equal this traveler's roominess in any other car of comparable cost—get full-size headroom, legroom and hiproom both front and rear in any other 2-door automobile?

Can you come even near the gentle levelness of its ride and the solid steadiness of its going—have coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube keel beneath you—except in another Buick?

And where can you top the restful ease and luxurious smoothness of this sweetheart's Dynaflo Drive® in any other automobile at any price?

The answers, from a lot of certain- sure folks, sum up to a great big, "YOU CAN'T!"

But why take anyone else's word for it?

Come in and get your own answers. Look over this bedrock-priced Buick—compare it with any other automobile at the same money—and you'll agree you can't beat this smartest of buys.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. $50 standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Buicks.

At Fort Devens, Mass., Donald Potter began Army paratrooper training after the Navy rejected him because he would neither remove his nude tattoo nor drape in North Adams, Mass., seeking summer caretakers for their fraternity house. In Hartford, Conn., a 66-year-old movie patron laughed so heartily at the comedy on the screen that she had to be hospitalized for a ruptured abdominal muscle.

Roger Babson Says --

Babson Discusses Where to Work
 Gloucester, Mass., August 24. Many young people are now wondering where it is best for them to get a job and settle down. This year they have a choice of several jobs and can pick and choose.

Avoid Big Cities
 I advise against taking a position in one of the biggest cities; certainly not in one of the 12 cities which Washington says is liable to be bombed in case of World War III. As for settling down and raising a family in one of these 12 cities, this seems almost suicidal to me. Here is the list: New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Baltimore, St. Louis, Boston, Pittsburgh, Washington, D.C., and San Francisco.

A study of the latest atomic bomb information leads me to believe that about 60 miles from the center of such a big city is the safest location. You will then be both free from bombing and free from the radio waves; also you should not suffer from the refugee problem which could be very serious to the suburbs of these 12 big cities.

Small Cities Look Good
 Not only are small cities better places to bring up a family, but they offer the best long-run business opportunities. Before the present day of high taxes and high living expenses the big city offered attractions to the young man who wanted to make money quickly; but not now.

Today, smaller places offer the best long-run, money-making opportunities. Real estate in the above cities is now at top prices; but real estate in most smaller cities could double in price. Some day the manufacturers who are now in these 12 cities will flock to the smaller places. The time to buy small city property is now before the rush begins.

When to Buy or Sell
 The time to buy most property is when no one wants it. Such opportunities always exist somewhere, —but few persons are wise enough to take advantage of such bargains. The time to sell property is when someone else wants it badly. But there again most people will not sell then. The average man will not use his brain or else lacks courage when he buys or sells.

Here is another thought: Buy land by the acre just outside any good city and later sell it by the foot. But buy it on the right side of that city, —that is, in the direction where the community is growing. Every city — large and small — is growing best in some one direction where the best houses are being built.

Better for Small Businessmen
 A small city is sure to offer opportunities for young businessmen. "A small town is better off in a small puddle," —he is apt to get drowned in a big pool. In the same way the small businessman may get drowned easily in some big city where he may be forced to pay tribute to racketeers or be bled by crime gangs.

In the smaller cities any young man of good character can join the local Chamber of Commerce and one of the Service Clubs and work up to be a director thereof. This he cannot do in one of the above 12 cities. He can buy stock in a local bank of smaller cities and thereby become a director thereof. His wife can become active in the Women's Club and the Parent-Teacher Association.

Have a Church Affiliation
 I never feel so lonesome as when I go into a big city Church. It is not the fault of the Church; I do not blame the members for having no interest in me. The same applies to the Y.M.C.A.'s of the biggest cities. But a small city Church always makes me feel at home.

Certainly no one should attend any Church just to help himself in business or even to get acquaintances. Yet, we all must have some social life and it is best to find our friends at a Church rather than anywhere else. That is where I found the girl with whom I have lived fifty happy years! Moreover, this was in Gloucester, Massachusetts, where I am writing this column. It was then a small city, while Wellesley, where I started in business, had, at that time, only about 5,000 inhabitants.

In Birmingham, England, Edward Mason sued the driver who injured him in a collision for $33,860 damages, including $30,450 to cover his probable earnings from playing the horses.

It's the newest, finest, most flexible Automatic Drive ever!

● Here's an automatic drive that combines the best features of earlier automatics. It gives you the smoothness and flexibility found only when automatic mechanical gears are combined with a torque converter. And it keeps Ford savingful!

*Optional at extra cost. Fordomatic Drive available with V-8 only. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

FLASHING GETAWAY. Fordomatic offers you getaway that will take your breath away. Intermediate gear and torque converter combine to give fast, smooth starts—automatically.

INSTANT ACCELERATION. For passing or hill-climbing, just step down on the gas pedal and Fordomatic automatically shifts you down into an "acceleration" gear... release your pedal pressure and you're back in high!

● And Ford offers you dozens of other "Look Ahead" features. You'll find the smoothness of new Automatic Ride Control... the savings of the Automatic Mileage Maker (on Ford V-8 or Six)... and the safety of Double-Seal King-Size Brakes.

EASIER ROCKING. It's even easier to "rock" out of mud, sand, or snow with Fordomatic than with a conventional transmission. Just move the selector back and forth between low and reverse.
