"Newspaper advertising will continue as a 'great force' for selling goods. Throughout its long experience, Campbell-Ewald has firmly believed that newspaper advertising is the master key of any successful selling campaign, especially in the field of durable goods. It opens up the locked purchasing power in local markets, and recent surveys show that it has lost none of its effectiveness."

What I Think and Have A Right to Say

By ELTON R. EATON

SUCKER NEWSPAPER EDITORS.

Apparently with an idea that they are doing what they think is for the good of their readers, there are some 18 or 20 weekly newspaper editors in Michigan that are falling for the alibi bunk letter issued by the press agents who are on the payroll of the executive office of the state of Michigan.

These letters are supposed to be "news" letters, telling in an impartial way about Soapy Williams and what he thinks he is doing for the good of Michigan. But they are strictly political advertising which a few papers are running free of charge.

Up to the present time we have read, but have NOT printed, all of these press agent letters. One we are keeping on file is the faking statement he issued that the law under which some law violator was sent to prison over in Berrien county had been passed to fit another type of crime, therefore the governor turned the violator free.

The prosecutor of Berrien county did well to point out this fake in the Governor's statement—but while a number of weekly papers published the Governor's press agent alibi, we haven't seen one weekly paper that published the truthful account that was issued by the prosecuting attorney of Berrien county.

Mind you this press agent stuff out of the Governor's office is paid for out of YOUR pockets—out of the sales tax money the grocer, the butcher, and the shoe dealer takes out of your pockets every time you make a purchase. The chief publicity bound of the Governor gets something like $10,000 per year as his share of the cut of your tax dollars. Ordinary "copy" paper isn't good enough, so the Governor's press bureau buys the best grade of mimeograph, and extra strong manila envelopes, that are hard to get, to enclose the bunk that comes by first class mail to every newspaper in Michigan. Yes, there are suckers, easy suckers, even in the newspaper business.

SCRATCH THIS ONE.

Dick Osgood writing in the Detroit Free Press says that there is going to be a big battle for listeners on television this year between Milton Berle and "that" Frank Sinatra. Well here's one television "looker" that will not only scratch the Sinatra show but will urge the family to boycott any product that puts up the dough for his television appearance.

WHY "THEY" ARE BETTER OFF.

Read the boast of some one the other day that "people are better off today in this country than ever before" and that as long as we are "better off" it would be well to let things ride along as they are.

Why are people better off? The answer is an easy one—if you look at it from strictly the money angle, do you or any one else know of a time in American history when the good old fashioned American home had so completely disappeared as in the last 18 or 20 years?

And why has the American home become a thing of the past? Because both mother and father are working. Their combined incomes do provide them possibly a little more income than the "man of the house" used to make.

But what about the little boys and girls left at home to run the streets? What about the juvenile problem resulting from the disappearance of all home life? What about the tremendous growth of juvenile crime, resulting from broken homes that have come as a result of close association of married men and women in places where they work?

Yes, maybe we do have more of the dollar bills, once worth one hundred cents on the dollar, but now worth around 50 cents, to spend in the beer gardens and elsewhere—but how much better off do you really think we are than some 18 or 20 years ago when THEY began to reform the nation and the world? Think about this for a minute and if you really THINK—we know your answer.

DeHoCo Only Prison in Country to Make Profit

Believe it or not—but the Plymouth area is the site of the only prison in the United States that makes a profit for the taxpayers of the city of Detroit and the state of Michigan.

A financial audit of the records of the institution over which A. Blake Gillies has served as chief administrator for the past two decades just completed, reveals the fact that the Detroit House of Correction during the last fiscal year turned back into the general fund of the city of Detroit a total of $172,771.54.

The net profit made by the operation of various prison industries, its farms and orchards and the boarding of prisoners for both the state and county, was fixed at $118,973.56.

This total is minus the disputed revenue of $68,319.92 received from Wayne county for the care of county prisoners.

The report also shows that the population of the prison during the past fiscal year was slightly under that of the previous year. The average daily inmate population during the past year was 1110, about 75 less than the previous year. Both the number of men prisoners and women prisoners showed slight decreases.

As far as records show no other prison in the United States ever showed a profit in the care of prisoners, except Jackson prison during the last two or three years of the administration of former Governor Alex Groesbeck. That was when William

Youths Arrested By Local Police

Arrested in Plymouth September 26 on a non-payment of gas charge which was later changed to a stolen car charge were three Detroit youths aged 18, 19, and 20.

Plymouth police intercepted the car, a 1949 Lincoln registered in the name of Emanuel E. Marshall, 3929 French road, Detroit, on the corner of Main and Penniman as it came in from Ann Arbor Trail. The driver then speeded out Penniman.

Earlier the youths drove away from Ed's Friendly service station on East Ann Arbor trail without paying for $4.25 worth of gas which they had put in the car. Mr. Schwandt, owner of the station, notified police to be on the look out for this car.

The youths deserted the car on Territorial road, five miles outside of Plymouth. After the car was deserted, local police located and arrested the young men whom they recognized as being chasing the car.

Car Hits Train

A car driven by Ralph V. LaPointe, 21, of 43936 Joy road, hit a train at the C. & O. crossing on Starkweather late Saturday evening.

The glare of lights prevented LaPointe from seeing the train. He was taken to Wayne County Hospital and released Sunday.

Charter Signers Mail Letter to Plymouth Voters

Members of the Charter Commission mailed the following letter to the residents of the city yesterday urging all out support for the new charter which is being submitted to local voters next Monday.

"On November 7, 1950 the electors of Plymouth voted to revise the charter of the City and also elected nine residents of the City as Charter Commissioners to do the work.

The Charter Commission has completed its assignment, the Attorney General has passed on the legality of the new charter and the Governor has officially signed it. It is now ready for your approval.

We, the members of the Charter Commission, urge you to vote for its adoption.

Frank Arlen, Howard E. Carson, Russell M. Daane, Catherine J. Henderson, James C. Houk, Clarence E. Moore, Robert L. Nulty, Gladys K. Tillotson, and Donald H. Sutherland."

George A. Smith Memorial Fund Now Established

The Board of Directors of the George A. Smith Memorial Fund met at the home of Harry E. Reeves, 1224 W. Ann Arbor trail, Wednesday, September 12, for their regular meeting, and reported that the fund is steadily growing with voluntary contributions coming in each week.

Mr. Reeves, chairman of the board, states it is the plan of the Board of Directors to set up an organized effort to seek contributions to this fund the last two weeks in October. It is hoped that all organizations in the Plymouth area, and all individuals, particularly those who graduated while George A. Smith was superintendent of the Plymouth schools,

This week, more than one hundred and sixty thousand members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, observe the 24th Anniversary of National Business Women's Week. They invite you to help them achieve their goal—full partnership for the job ahead. They urge everyone to assume the responsibilities of good citizens and loyal Americans.

Governor G. Mennen Williams has designated the week of September 23-29 as National Business Women's Week. The theme for this week is, "The Partnership for the job ahead." The Governor

Timpona Named City Post Master

Official notification of the permanent appointment of Dr. George Timpona as post master of Plymouth came to the city Monday. Acting in the capacity as acting postmaster since September 16, 1949 the post was confirmed by the senate and approved by the president in Washington last week.

During the two years that Dr. Timpona has served as postmaster of this city postal cancellations have increased from a yearly total of $132,000 to some $400,000 this year. In spite of the unusual growth in this area and the heavy demands on the post office local residents have enjoyed

COMMUNITY CHEST CHAIRMAN Norman Marquis and co-chairman Tom Kent check last minute details in preparation for the annual chest drive which opens here next month. For the first time a mail solicitation will be used and its success, according to these two busy civic leaders, will depend on the immediate response of all of the residents of this community.

NO STONE is being left unturned by the above group in making plans for the dedication of Bird school next Sunday afternoon at 4:00 p.m. The public is invited to attend the affair and the building will be opened at 3 p.m. so it may be inspected before the ceremony takes place in the gymnasium. Seated left to right are Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Mrs. John Bloxson, school principal Mrs. Nancy Tanger, Mrs. Bruce Mackie and Mrs. E. J. Readman. Standing in back and giving full approval of the plans is left, school superintendent Russell Isbister and Dr. Elmore Carney. Missing from the group making final arrangements was Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing who was ill at the time the picture was taken.

Training School to Observe 25 Years of Public Service

Outstanding Program Has Been Prepared for Events on October 5-6

On October 5 there will be observed an important event in the field of education. The date will mark the ending of the first quarter of a century of the existence of the Wayne County Training school, an institution that was regarded in the beginning as somewhat of an experimental venture into a new type of public service.

At that time a group of Wayne county officials and citizens had come to the conclusion that there was need for a school that would prepare the children of broken homes, children without relatives or friends and those who through some environmental condition had developed some unusual mental quirk, for useful citizenship and service. It rapidly developed into one of the leading schools of its kind in the country.

These same public officials and citizens in seeking an administrator for the institution 25 years ago brought Dr. Robert Haskell to Plymouth from one of Michigan's largest mental institutions to become chief executive of the Wayne County Training school. From its founding up to the present time he has been its only superintendent.

Theater Guild To Cast Friday

Friday evening, September 28, starting at 8:00 p.m. the Veteran's Memorial Home in Plymouth will be a lively scene of actors and actresses reading lines. The cause for this activity will be the casting of the first fall production scheduled by the Plymouth Theater Guild.

After many hours of discussion A. B. Shiffman's hilarious comedy "I Like It Here" was chosen by a group of Guild members and visitors at the last meeting. So

Busses To Run

According to Vern Emmett, manager of the Plymouth Coach Company, it is hoped that full time coach service will be resumed in this area on full schedule next Monday.

Settlement of the strike was announced the first of this week and as soon as operating schedules can be worked out the coaches serviced for operation local service will again be underway. There is a possibility it may be started sooner but at least patrons of the line can be assured of full operations by Monday.

Electors to Vote on Charter Monday

Local voters will go to the polls Monday to decide the fate of the new city charter. At the same time, the voters may vote for two additional members of the city commission.

The new charter calls for a seven man commission instead of the current five man board. The three men competing for the offices are Frank Arlen, 735 Burroughs; Russell M. Daane, 530 Garfield; and Theodore Gronowick, 736 Church. The winning candidates will take office only if the charter is approved. The candidate with the greatest number of votes will serve until the Monday after the regular election of April 1955. The person with the second number of votes will serve until April 1953.

Polling places are the City Hall, Starkweather school, Plymouth High school, and the George A. Smith school. Smith school replaces Forest Motors as a polling place.

Find Body in Hough Woods

The body of an unidentified man was discovered at 1:30 p.m. in Hough Woods Wednesday hanging from a tree. The body was discovered by Fred Dayton of 907 Irvin, who was hunting red squirrel.

Patrolman Ben Williams, Don Pinckney and Lt. Van der Veen of the Plymouth police department stated that it was a case of obvious suicide. They withheld attempts at identification until arrival of the coroner.

It was estimated by Patrolman Williams that the man had been dead for approximately two months. Weather and insects had made any visual identification impossible.

The body was in a sitting position at the base of a large tree. Patrolman Williams opined that the man had thrown the clothes line over the twenty-foot high branches, tied a slip-knot around his neck while in a standing position and then sat down.

He was wearing a blue work shirt, brown work cap and black work pants and shoes. A gold fountain pen was snapped in his breast pocket. His face and darkened skin made an age estimate difficult, although he was thought to be in his middle thirties. His approximate height was six feet and weight about 180 pounds.

Mildred Barnes Claimed by Death

Mrs. Mildred Barnes of 413 N. Harvey street, passed away suddenly Thursday, September 30. She was a life-time resident of this city.

Mrs. Barnes is survived by her daughter, Belva J. of New York, her brother, Harry Mills of Plymouth, other relatives and many friends.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth and the Business and Professional Women's club of Plymouth. Mrs. Barnes was employed at the Daisy Manufacturing Company.

Private funeral services were held Saturday, September 22 at 10 o'clock from the Schrader Funeral Home with Rev. Henry J. Walsh officiating.

All checks were made out to Edward Riley, believed to be fictitious, and were from 41 to 43 dollars each. The only tangible clue is an old pair of shoes left at a men's store when he purchased a new pair.

He had attempted to cash checks at other business places but was refused because it is their policy not to cash checks of strangers.

Bad Check Artist Visits City Again

Once again a clever check artist has visited the city and departed with over $150 in cash from Plymouth merchants.

Last week a man, claiming to be Edward Riley, opened a small checking account at one of the local banks, and then proceeded to write checks on it to pay for purchases at four local business places.

He had attempted to cash checks at other business places but was refused because it is their policy not to cash checks of strangers.

Commissioners Explain More Charter Changes

The new charter provides for a commission consisting of seven commissioners instead of five. Four are elected each two years, three of whom will serve a four year term while the one receiving the lowest number of votes will serve a two year term. This provides for a complete change of the majority of the commission each two years if the electors so chose. The longer term retains experienced people on the commission, but, no commissioner may serve more than two consecutive terms so the commission can not become static and consist of the same people for too long a period of time. New people are thereby given an opportunity to serve the city as commissioner.

While the old charter specifically prohibited the second taxing for street improvement, while permitting it for every other form of improvement, the new charter has eliminated this distinction between paving and other forms of improvement such as for sewer and water. There are, however, adequate safeguards for the people under the provisions as written in the proposed charter. No special assessment may be levied for street repairs or ordinary maintenance. This

Lodge Honors Frank Henderson

Michigan Knights of Pythias gave signal honor to Plymouth's Frank Henderson last weekend at their annual convention when they elected him to the state office of grand vice chancellor. Active in the work of this lodge for many years Mr. Henderson now stands ready to advance to the top lodge office next year.

The convention was the largest held by the order in many years. The Pantland hotel in Grand Rapids was the scene on the convention last weekend and from all reports the program presented to the membership far surpassed any of past years.

Other officers elected at the convention were, grand chancellor

EDITORIAL The New City Charter

Monday is an important day for the legal voters of the city of Plymouth. It is the day when we have the American right to vote upon the question of whether this fast growing community shall adopt a new basic law to meet the requirements that an increased population has brought about. With this growth has come additional civic problems that cannot be met under our existing basic law.

Plymouth voters realized this fact a year or so ago when by a substantial vote they elected a commission to draft a new charter. These members, all of them respected citizens of our city, have worked diligently to prepare a new charter that they believe will meet the needs of our community in the years to come.

It has been published in full, as required by state law. You have had an opportunity to study it, to note the changes that have been made. Members of the charter commission have pointed out that it is the intent of the new charter to fully advise the citizens about every detail of the city's business. There can be no executive sessions of the commission. They MUST be open to the public. Charter commission members also state that it is the intent of the new charter in addition to the open meetings, to have all official proceedings published just as at present although the charter does not make provision for the "posting" of official proceedings in three different places under the provision that there must also

Attends Madonna With Scholarship
Joyce L. Kubick, last year's graduate of Plymouth High school, has begun her Freshman year at Madonna college. She won a scholarship to the college at a test administered last spring to applicants from the high school. This scholarship was made possible by the contributions of the following Plymouth residents-Eger-Jackson Co., Dr. John C. McIntyre and Dr. L. E. Rehnert.
As Miss Kubick is planning on a teaching career, her college program throughout the four years will include the education courses required for State certification. She intends to major in English and history, with language and science as minors.
Daily before driving down to the campus for her 8:30 class, Miss Kubick performs a good-natured deed by transporting a group of children, including her two sisters, to the elementary schools in Plymouth.
Outside of scholastic interests, Joyce finds pleasure in practicing her accordion lesson, which she has just recently resumed after a lapse of a few years. She also admits modestly that she possesses some proficiency in the handwork and in sewing.
Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kubick, reside at 49429 Ann Arbor road.

Two Ex-Prisoners of Japs Recall the Fall of Bataan

Two ex-prisoners of war met in Plymouth last week as Joe Merritt, local insurance agent, played host to Clyde Hillhouse, postmaster of White Springs, Florida. The two were both captured by the Japanese at the fall of Bataan in April, 1942 and spent almost three and a half years in captivity.

Both being ardent fishermen, they spent an enjoyable week at Joe's cottage near Pinckney, fishing and talking over their past experiences. It was their second meeting since their liberation in 1945.

Joe was a rear gunner in the Army Air Force and was wounded during the now-famous fight on Bataan. Clyde, a truck driver, was also wounded and both ended up in the same field hospital.

"If you could call it a hospital," says Joe, "my bed was a cot under bamboo poles and shelter halves. Following our capture we were taken to Manila where we were finally put to work on the docks as stevedores. There we spent 25 months."

Clyde was eventually sent to Japan in one of the "horror" ships, a six week trip locked in the hull of a dirty, sweaty, Japanese transport. A 185-pound man, he landed in Japan weighing only 100 pounds.

Joe followed him to Japan several months later where he was sent to work in a copper mine at Nanawa on northern Honshu. He had lost track of Clyde and heard nothing more from him until he was finally liberated and returned to the United States in 1945. He wrote to him on his arrival and on his first leave went to Florida to see him.

Joe tells of many interesting experiences during his captivity. One of his pet peeves was the necessity for bowing to any Japanese he met whenever he had to do so. When he wore a hat he had to salute.

Joe used to entertain the other prisoners in their spare time by doing various tricks. One day he was performing a simple trick of letting his friends tie him with rope and then slipping out of it. One particularly mean sergeant was watching and was not very impressed.

"Phoney," he said, "I could do that." "OK," said Joe, "you do it." Joe then proceeded to tie the sergeant securely with several tight square knots. Then the sergeant tried to slip out of the rope but was unable to do it. As he struggled, trying to free himself, the Japanese Officer of the Day came along and everyone snapped to attention. Everyone, that is, but the poor sergeant. He stood cramped and red, trying to get out of the ropes which bound him.

The officer ordered the man freed and then took him aside where he delivered a 20-minute lecture, punctuating it with several severe blows with his scabbarded sword.

Joe looks back on the incident now with a smile, but at the time, he says, it was far from funny. He feared that any minute the officer might turn the sword on him.

Joe, who is married, with one daughter, lives at 8959 Lilley road. He and Clyde are among 200 survivors of 39,000 G.I.s captured at the fall of Corregidor and Bataan.

Football Ticket Prices Explained by Principal

Because of the confusion as to the price of a ticket at the gate the night of a football game at the local athletic field, Carvel Bentley, principal of the local high school issues the following statement concerning policy on student tickets.

There is only one price ticket at the gate on the night of the game, and that price is 75 cents for all.

The remaining home games this season are: Sept. 28 Belleville Here Oct. 12 Trenton Here Oct. 26 Wayne Here

The Bentley game will also be here on the night of October 5, but Bentley High school handles that game, and the price of admission for students is not known at this time.

Rotary Club to Hear Governor

The Rotary Club of Plymouth tomorrow will be host to John D. Maynard, Governor of the 223 District of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 37 Rotary Clubs in Canada and Michigan. He will confer with President David Mather, Secretary Everett Jolliffe and other local officers of Rotary administration and service activities.

Mr. J. D. Maynard is President and Gen. Mgr. for Knorr-Maynard, Inc. in Detroit and is a member of the Rotary Club of Detroit. He is one of 203 Rotary District Governors supervising the activities of some 7,300 Rotary Clubs which have a membership of 350,000 business and professional executives in 83 countries and geographical regions throughout the world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Plymouth because they are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

Each year, this world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength. During the last fiscal year, for example, 257 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 35 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Islands of the Pacific.

Vern Van Horn, office manager of The Plymouth Mail will return to his home in Royal Oak this weekend after being confined to the Royal Oak General hospital for the last three weeks with a heart ailment. Doctors say that he will soon be able to resume his duties at The Mail.

More than 6,000,000 children are carried to and from school in 105,000 buses which travel about 885,000,000 miles a year over routes about 5,000,000 miles in length. One of the longest one-way routes is 82 miles.

Optimists Hear Speaker Tell of Youth Problems

The Plymouth Optimist club was honored by the presence of District Lt. Governor Carl Stasne at their regular weekly meeting last Monday evening in the Hotel Mayflower.

Following a short talk by Mr. Stasne, Lloyd Clark introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Robert Mathieson of the Wayne County Juvenile Court. Mr. Mathieson has been with the Juvenile Court for 31 years and presented a very interesting talk on all phases of juvenile problems.

Among the many things that he speaker emphasized as contributing factors to juvenile delinquency were: a weak home training program—some parents think it is the duty of the community to train their children. Mr. Mathieson said that 80 percent of the youth cases coming before the court do not have a religious affiliation of any kind.

Family life has broken down in many cases—thinking and acting as a family unit is disappearing. These juvenile problem children are the result of insecurity, poverty, housing conditions, both parents working, pampered children, etc.

Mr. Mathieson concluded his fine talk by saying that such groups as our Optimist club are doing much to help these young people, and such organizations can do a lot more by helping them before they get into trouble.

The club is conducting an attendance contest the first week in October and Dr. Robison, Floyd Brandon and Bob Smith have been chosen as the leaders in this contest.

Offer to Explain Charter Changes

Members of the Charter commission have volunteered their services to speak before any group that wishes to know more about the charter.

To obtain this service, call any member of the commission. These persons are, Frank Arlen, Howard E. Carson, Russell M. Daane, Catherine J. Henderson, James C. Houk, Clarence E. Moore, Robert L. Nulty, Gladys Tillotson, and Donald Sutherland.

Polls will be open for voting of the charter issue from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. October 1. There will be two ballots at the election. One ballot for approval or disapproval of the charter. The other ballot is for the election of the two additional members of the City commission. The election of these two men is contingent upon the passage of the charter, which increases the size of the commission from 5 to 7.

Candidates for these two commission posts are Frank Arlen of 735 Burroughs, Russell M. Daane of 520 Garfield, and Theodore Gronowick of 746 Church. After approval of the charter, the candidate receiving the greatest number of votes will serve until the Monday after the regular election in April, 1954. The person with the second highest number of votes will remain in office until April 1953.

If approved, the charter takes effect on November 1.

Suggestions May Have Changed Senate Thinking

It may or it may not have been on the advise of Plymouth attorney Perry W. Richwine that members of the Senate in Washington Monday adopted his suggestion of a 10 percent tax on building and loan associations.

At any rate when the bill finally passed on the floor of the Senate the bank tax would apply when reserves reached 10 percent of total deposits and this was the only formal change in the Senate's $5,500,000,000 tax-increase bill which had seen four days of debate. The vote subjects all mutual savings banks and all building and loan associations to regular corporate taxes after their reserves now hit the 10 percent level.

When the bill first came up for consideration attorney Richwine took exception to it as it was presented and wrote Senators Blair Moody and Homer Ferguson setting forth his 10 percent proposal. Both confirmed receipt of his letter and said sincere consideration would be given his suggestion when it came up for debate. Now that the change was made exactly according to his suggestion of some two weeks ago the local savings and loan executive is wondering just how far his clear thinking penetrated the inner chamber of the majestic body in the nation's capital.

Ray Williams to Move to California

Plymouth will lose one of its most loyal citizens when Ray Williams, the congenial vice-president of the Plymouth United Savings bank, moves to Santa Anna, California, next November 1. Mr. Williams had decided to leave Plymouth because of the illness of one of the members of his family.

Ray has been a community-minded resident of our city for the past few years, and in that short time has done much to improve this community.

Mr. Williams has been active in many community affairs and has served as president of the Kiwanis club, president of the Chamber of Commerce and treasurer of the Community Fund.

Before coming to Plymouth, Ray was a member of the banking staffs at Belleville and LaPeer.

Mr. Williams plans are uncertain as to the future, but one thing is certain—Plymouth's loss will be Santa Anna's gain, for he will be working just as hard for the betterment of the California community as he has with us.

Police Crack Down on Hot Rods

City police are cracking down on local hot rod drivers. In a special meeting on Tuesday evening Judge Nandino Perlongo, city manager Alfred Glassford, Mayor Floyd Tibbitts, Chief of Police, Carl Greenlee, and police officers discussed the hot rod problem, especially as it exists on Forest street. They decided that the entire police department would concentrate on the hot rod problem.

Drivers are warned that a complete stop is necessary at every stop street, that excessive equipment is a violation of statute, and that a stop is required before driving across a sidewalk.

Plans were discussed for an additional man either full or part time on the police squad.

George A. Smith Memorial Fund

who wish to contribute to this fund will do so at this time. Gifts may be mailed, or taken, in any amount, to Edna Allen, 305 Arthur street, or to either bank in Plymouth.

Many graduates of our local high school living in Livonia have expressed a desire to participate in this project, and may do so by mailing, or taking, their gifts to the new bank in Livonia.

The Board of Directors feel that there should be some fund bearing Mr. Smith's name which can be used for the purpose to which Mr. Smith dedicated his life; that of helping young people get an education. The fund should also be a revolving and perpetual one.

The Board also feels that many organizations can, over a period of years, gain sums which are not so large as to constitute a drain on their resources, but which can, in time, amount to a very useful amount.

College expenses are mounting steadily these days, and it is the aim of this Memorial Board to allow worthy and needy students to be able to draw upon this fund if they need money to begin, or to complete their education.

This appeal to replenish and build up this fund will occur once each year from September 15 to October 15.

The next meeting of the Board of Directors will be on November 13, at the home of Lewis Goddard, 1227 W. Maple.

A Truly Remarkable Product

Dr. Wm. A. Lane, called the world's greatest medical authority on medicine states: "Iodine is an element absolutely necessary for life."

Dr. Carl Ramus, M.D., U. S. Public Health Surgeon, states "The Physiological and chemical reasons for the known effects of Iodine are: (1) That it makes the blood more fluid and (2) It tends to dissolve out masses of abnormal deposits left by certain diseases. The greater fluidity imparted to the blood by Iodine, gives better and quicker circulation through the minute blood vessels supplying all tissues with nutrition, and carrying away waste products which, when there is stagnation in the microscopic vessels, tend to irritate tissues and to leave insoluble deposits in their surfaces."

IN-FLAM-GO is iodine with all the poisons and caustics removed. Therefore it can be used in enough quantity to do the good which it has been noted for, without causing irritating and other distressing effects. IN-FLAM-GO after being rubbed on both humans and white rats showed complete absorption in laboratory tests.

A Gesture to Health:
After using In-Flam-Go for three weeks I have complete relief from my Varicose Veins which have been real bad for the past thirty years. It is hard to realize they could disappear so quickly. It is also wonderful for sunburn, cuts, and any place where there is any infection. We would not be without it in the house.

EDITORIAL — The New City Charter

be published a notice of the posting and what, in brief, there can be found in the proceedings that have been posted.

It has been the intent and purposes of The Plymouth Mail for nearly a quarter of a century to see to it that the voters of this area know at all times just what their public officials are doing. That is why we have always believed it a good thing for the PUBLIC to have all proceedings of the city commission as well as the board of education published in full. IN THIS WAY THE VOTERS KNOW JUST WHAT THESE GROUPS ARE DOING THAT SPEND OUR HARD EARNED TAX DOLLARS. It is one of the strange things of public life every once in a while there will be some one or more persons who become elected to public offices and then somewhat resent the fact that the public has a perfect right to know how they vote on various questions before the city commission, the board of education or other public bodies that have to do with spending tax dollars deciding public issues. Fortunately there are not many of this type. They usually base their intent for concealment of what they are doing upon the claim that it is for "economy" reasons. The public years ago learned to discount this theory for just what it was worth, a lot of "baloney."

We believe what members of the charter commission say, that there is not the slightest desire of the writers of the new charter to conceal from the public any information to which it is rightly entitled by FULL PUBLICATION of all the official acts of the commission and its members.

All of the members of the charter commission are in agreement as to the advantages of the proposed charter. They have given it much time and study. You have had the opportunity to read it and decide in your own mind as to its advantages over the present charter.

Go to the polls Monday and VOTE as you believe for the best interests of the city you are proud to call your home. We have many highly important problems to face - and let's face this immediate one by voting in the charter election Monday.

DeHoCo Only Prison in Country to Make Profit

Porter of Lansing was serving as chairman of the Michigan state prison commission. But even Jackson as well as all other state penal institutions for the past 25 years or more have operated at a heavy expense to the taxpayers.

The prison furniture factory, the prison dairy, piggery, laundry, and cannery all show far profits for the institution.

The prison farms show a loss during the past year of some $10,000.

Much of the laundry work of various city institutions is now done by the women of the Detroit House of Correction. The cannery is operated almost entirely by women prisoners—and these two departments are among the prison's best money makers. Nearly all of the products of the cannery not used at the prison are sold to other Detroit institutions.

The Warden and Mrs. Gillis are just back from one of the few vacations he has ever enjoyed—and it was during one of the enjoyable moments he spent telling about his vacation that he revealed the fact that his penal institution is no longer a tax burden—but a money maker for the taxpayers.

Theater Guild To Cast Friday

No parts have been assigned, announced Mrs. Peter Miller, president of the Guild. Mrs. Miller also added that there was a particular need for young men to take roles in the play. As has been the custom in the Plymouth Theater Guild, membership in a cast is open to anyone willing to try out.

Real actual participation in the play there are a great many other positions to be filled. People are needed for the design and construction of scenery, for makeup, publicity, and sales. With the play scheduled for production the first part of November, the Guild is loosing no time in getting under way.

Theater goes will remember "I Like It Here" as the lively comedy about Willie Kringle, a naturalized American who "likes it here" and sets himself to make the ideals of his new found home a reality. Willie, the gay philosopher who's agile hands can repair anything, embroils himself in the family troubles of a henpecked college professor. He disrupts the love life of the professor's daughter, and calmly stands into the political fight of her two suitors. By the final curtain, however, Willie's antics have won the hearts of the characters as well as the audience.

Among other recent presentations of the Theater Guild were "Blithe Spirit," "John Loves Mary," and a one act play by George Ade, "The Mayor and the Manicure."

Commissioners Explain More Charter Changes

has already been determined by the State Supreme Court so it would be needless to include such a specific limitation in the proposed charter. If the project, about to be undertaken, constitutes an improvement, as distinct from repairs, the Commission may, if it so decides, determine what portion, if any, of the cost shall be assessed against the property benefited. A public hearing is necessary at which time the public may ascertain all of the facts and state any objections to the project. If the owners of 50 percent of the privately owned real estate or 50 percent of the number of owners object to the improvement the Commission may not proceed with the improvement without the affirmative vote of 5 of the 7 commissioners. Sufficient confidence must be placed with the duly elected commissioners that they will use good judgement in applying this provision. We can not believe that any commission, without a real cause and justification, would proceed with a program involving a second assessment, or even a first assessment in the face of this objection by the representative group of the affected owners of the property. To do so would indicate that there was a real need for the improvement for the good of the city as a whole despite the objections of this group. It is worthy of note that in practically all of the charters being written today the language used in our proposed charter is being followed.

The proposed charter prohibits having the City Manager act in the dual capacity of City Clerk. The offices of the City Manager, Clerk, and Treasurer shall not be combined one with the other in any manner, but, each may be combined with any other city office. This provision allows the manager more time for City planning and removes the cumbersome and time consuming detail that is the work of the clerk. The provision recognizes that the position of clerk, if not a full time one at a particular time, may be combined with any other position except that of the Manager or Treasurer. As this provision is now written the Commission may arrange these duties to the best interests of the City as a whole consistent with the finances and prosperity of the City at that particular time.

All meetings of the Commission, regular or special, must be open to the public at all times and the order of the meeting must provide time for the public to be heard. Notices of special meetings must reach Commissioners six hours prior to the meeting and state the purpose of the meeting so only that subject matter may be officially acted upon. At the same time such notice is given the Commissioners the notice must be posted on three official bulletin boards in the City. The clerk must record a certificate of such posting in the journal of such meeting. All meetings, regular or special, must be held in the regular meeting place of the Commission. To change the regular meeting place proper notice thereof must be given publication and no meeting may be held in the new location until 10 days after such publication of the notice of change. These provisions are all made with the intent of protecting the public and to keep them informed of the time and place of meetings so that they may attend for themselves and know what action the Commission is taking in the operation of their city. It puts an end to so called "secret meetings" and to meetings held in other than the regular meeting place.

Many of our present ordinances are many years old and have been amended several times. In recognition of this, the proposed charter stipulates that within 2 years after the adoption of the charter and once each 10 years thereafter, the Commission shall direct and complete the compilation or codification and publication of the Charter and all ordinances then in force. This may be in loose leaf pamphlet form and the City is permitted to make a reasonable charge for supplying such copies. Placing 500 or more copies of such compilation or code in the office of the Clerk for public inspection and distribution constitutes publication. No further publication is necessary to establish the validity thereof.

New Worthy Advisor of the Rain-bow Order of Girls is Dawn Huebler. The complete story appears in section 2 on page 6.

Club Observes Business Women's Week

error states, "The Women of our nation have amply demonstrated their capabilities, and "full partnership" is not just something we would like to have, it is a quality we must have if we are to take fullest advantage of their skills which enable us to safeguard our rights and freedoms, and ensure our continued prosperity and enlightened progress."

Mrs. Agnes Pauline, president of the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club states that the purpose of National Business Women's Week is to dramatize women's contribution to the economic, social and political life of the community.

Mrs. Pauline says the idea of National Business Women's Week was conceived by Miss Emma Dot Partridge, executive director of the National Federation from 1924 to 1927, to call attention to the achievements of women in business and the professions and to give the community at large an opportunity to become acquainted with the program of the National Federation. The first annual observance was held April 15 to April 22, 1928.

This 24th anniversary is being celebrated by 2700 local clubs throughout the United States, Hawaii, Alaska and the District of Columbia.

Training School to Observe 25 Years of Public Service

Each child enrolled in the school must attend classes similar to those taught in the public schools until he is 14. The student is then given a try at various vocations. After a year, he may choose his favorite vocation and is thoroughly trained in it. Often a person changes his mind, if so, he is then trained in some other field.

Plumbing, carpentry, gardening, sheetmetal, printing and bartering are a few of the more than 40 vocations open to boys. Girls find opportunities in sewing, cooking, cosmetology, and many other fields.

Dr. Haskell says, "A well trained person will hold his job during a depression while others of more mediocre skill will be out of a job." For this reason, when a student leaves the training school to take a job, he is thoroughly grounded in his field.

It has been the driving force of Dr. Haskell for the past 25 years which created one of the finest schools of its type in the country, if not in the world. Most of Dr. Haskell's success stems from his attitude toward the children who are under his care. "To attach the term delinquent to a child," he said, "makes one think of punitive measures. These children do not need punishment, but special care that an institution such as the training school can give them."

The backbone of Dr. Haskell's activities at the school is to learn more of the exact nature of each child's problem. Once the exact nature has been determined, it is much easier to help the child develop normally. The doctor stresses the importance of this by citing examples of children who have been problems for some time and then become co-operative and easy to manage. This change is due to suddenly hitting upon the key to the child's special disturbance.

Sometimes the problems are mental, others are physical, and still others are environmental. Reports show that most students who leave the institution adjust themselves and fit into normal community life. Many of them marry and raise families.

While talking to Dr. Haskell, one receives the impression that he is interested in each of the 600 children at the school. These children are not just case "histories," they are human beings.

One of Dr. Haskell's favorite conceptions of the school is a "Community of Children." To further this idea, the children live in cottages with about 40 in each of the homey brick buildings.

The most valuable and useful idea in the 25 year history of the school is, according to Dr. Haskell, the creation of three "self-determining" cottages. These are smaller cottages in which the children plan what they would like to do. One of the self-determining cottages now owns a television set and new furniture purchased out of a fund to which each boy contributes a specified amount.

In commemoration of the 25 years of the training school, a special program on October 5 and 6 is planned. Among the speakers on the program are several persons who formally were on the staff of the training school.

Dr. Alfred A. Strauss, now president of the Cove Schools, Racine, Wisconsin, and Evanston, Illinois, was with Dr. Haskell for eight years. At the training school for five years was Samuel A. Kirk Ph. D. now professor of Education at the University of Illinois. These two men will speak Friday, October 5 at the Veterans' Memorial building in Detroit. Also on the program which starts at 3:00 is Leo H. Bartemeir, M. D. of Detroit, president of the American Psychiatric Association.

Saturday, Boyd McCandless Ph. D., professor of Sociology and director of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station at the State University of Iowa and a member of the Training school staff for three years will be one of the speakers. The Saturday sessions will be at the Training school starting at 10:00.

Dr. Haskell will speak on the "Training School Through Twenty-Five Years" at the luncheon which follows the morning meeting, October 6.

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Let unselfishness, goodness, mercy, justice, health, holiness, love—the kingdom of heaven—reign within us, and sin, disease, and death will diminish until they finally disappear." # Rocks Defeated 19-12

Allen Park made their debut in the 6-B suburban league a victorious one last Friday night when they outscored a die-hard Plymouth eleven on the local athletic field 19 to 12. A crowd of around 2000 fans witnessed this thrilling game.

The locals were completely out-classed by a quick-charging Allen Park team the first half and found themselves on the short end of a 13 to 0 score at intermission time. They were unable to stop Verducci, Allen Park's driving halfback, who made many spectacular runs for long gains.

The second half was vastly different when the Rocks passing attack began to click. Shortly after the second half began, Plymouth gained possession of the ball and on a series of short gains, and passes, carried the ball to the 30 yard line. Then Bill Runge took over and romped the last 20 yards on a beautiful broken-field run around left end to score standing up. The conversion attempt was wide of the uprights leaving the score 13 to 6.

Again with passes, and the aid of a penalty, Plymouth invaded the enemy territory, and Don Beaver, who played a steady game for the Rocks, scored on a 3 yard off-tackle smash to make the score 19 to 12. There was a fumble on the conversion attempt.

Into the last quarter Plymouth again marched toward the Allen Park goal on some good passes to Huebler and running by Beaver.

With the ball on the 12 yard line and 20 seconds to play, Plymouth elected to run with the ball and got as far as the eight yard line, where the game ended as they were in a huddle for the next play.

Plymouth's chances of winning their first league game were dealt a severe blow when Dave Travis was injured in the second quarter and was forced to retire for the remainder of the game.

A surprising passing attack developed in the second half which threatened to overcome the Allen Park lead. With Don Beaver, Donald McKinley and Bill Runge tossing them, Plymouth completed six passes out of eight attempts. Five of the six were caught by glue-fingered Dick Huebler, who picked up 85 yards in the five he snagged.

Plymouth had 8 first downs to 11 for Allen Park. The Rocks gained 6 of those on passes and 2 on penalties—none on rushing, while Allen Park gained all but one of their 11 on rushing.

The locals completed 6 out of 8 pass attempts—two others were incomplete, but there were penalties on those plays. Allen Park tried three passes and completed two.

Plymouth had a net gain of 92 yards rushing and 125 yards on passing. Lanphear punted four times for an average of 33 yards. Each team fumbled three times. Allen Park was penalized 60 yards and Plymouth 15.

Another game is scheduled for tomorrow night when the Belleville Tigers will invade our athletic field for a game beginning at 8 o'clock.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

If the Plymouth High athletic teams don't win all their games this year it won't be the fault of the cheerleaders. A veteran cheerleading squad is back this year, and they will be trying their best to bring forth cheers from the stands to bolster our boys spirits.

This squad is composed of nine girls, five of whom have been cooing yells from fans for four years now. The five, Carolyn Smith, Nancy Beegle, Nancy Schroeder, Elaine Lietz and Joyce Forshee began cheerleading in the ninth grade. The new leaders that were chosen this year are Marilyn Rowland, Glenn Fraleigh, Betty Tibbitts, and Margie Thomas.

It is a pleasure to watch these girls go through their graceful maneuvers—made easy for them by years of faithful practice. If all our athletes had as much determination and spirit as these girls have, they would be near unbeatable. Plymouth High can well be proud of the cheerleading squad.

Red Wings Trade Players: Season Begins October 11

With the baseball season drawing to a close and the football season getting underway, little has been thought of hockey, but the Detroit Red Wings are one of the four National league teams that will swing into action October 11. Detroit will be host to the Boston Bruins on that date.

Unlike the Detroit Tigers, the Detroit Red Wings don't intend a collapse because of a "stand-pat" policy on veteran players.

Manager Jack Adams proved that when he traded one-third of the team that won the National league title last year. For the most part untested rookies will fill the gap.

Some of the veterans to go were Jim Peters, George Gae, Jim McFadden, Clarence Martin, Max McNab, Clare Raglan, Doc Couture and Gay Stewart. For the most part untested rookies have to fill the gaps.

The cash received in this deal was the largest in hockey history—$75,000—but those greenbacks can't skate.

The four top defenseman still are present. Leo Reise, Red Kelly, Bob Goldham and Marvel Pronovost. Back at goal is reliable Terry Sawchuk.

Adams wanted to bring up some rookies from the farm system and had to clear out some old-timers to do this. Also a new NHL rule reduced a squad from 18 to 16 players this year.

Center is the most dangerous spot, with only Skov to be depended on to hold up for the full 70 games. Other leading candidates at this position are rookies Frank O'Grady, Larry Wilson, Bert Giesbrech, and Alex DelVecchio.

Right wing also is weak with only two top performers. The best prospects are Fred Glover and Louis Jankowski.

While four men are available for left wing, John Wilson is expected to bump any of them out of contention.

Sawchuk is up to par already as attested by his 175 minutes of shutout hockey against Indianapolis last week.

Color of northern pike vary with the locality and water tending to resemble the color of the water, the weeds and the bottom.

Touch Football League Comprised of Five Teams

The new nine-man football league got underway Monday with five teams in the 12 year old and under league. Teams competing are the Spartans and Jr. Spartans from Bird school, the Rockets from Smith school, the Jets from Starkweather school and the Tigers from Our Lady of Good Council.

Monday saw the Rockets meeting the Spartans; Tuesday the Tigers engaging the Jets and today the Tigers meet the Jr. Spartans. All these games are played on the high school football field at four o'clock.

This is a touch football league and games will be played each Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday. Next week's schedule is not available at this time.

Fans Should Stay Off Sidelines at Football Games

Are you one of those football fans, who seemingly has to be as close as possible to each play, and follows the team up and down the sidelines obstructing the view of the fans in the bleachers? If so, this article is written for you.

Each football game the announcer, police and school officials have to plead, beg and demand that the crowd get back from the sidelines of the field. This should not have to take place each game if we but thought of someone besides ourselves for awhile.

Last Friday night the public address system was off for a while because someone tripped over the wire and pulled it from the plug. The announcer could not see the play at the other end of the field because of the crowd on the sidelines. Some fans were right on top of the bench of football players.

Anyone not having something to do inside the track should not be there.

If we all try to be a little more courteous and think that the other person also paid to see the ball game, everyone concerned will be much more happy.

We have one of the best athletic plants in this area for football—let's all stay off the sidelines unless we are authorized to be there.

Football Contest With Belleville Tomorrow Night

The Plymouth Rocks will strive to cop their first football win of the year tomorrow night when they engage the Belleville Tigers in their second league game on the local athletic field beginning at eight o'clock.

Belleville is of an unknown quantity as they have lost to class "C" Milan by the lopsided score of 40 to 2, and then held a good Trenton team to a 12 to 0 win. Trenton defeated class "A" Monroe the previous week by two touchdowns.

The Rock attack is becoming more polished as the season progresses. The middle of the line, which was considered a question mark before the season began, is becoming more experienced and made two grand goal-line stands for three downs against Allen Park, only to see the Packers score off-tackle, or around end, on fourth down.

The fans are promised another sparkling exhibition of football tomorrow night on the beautiful high school football field. This field is the best of any in this area.

The band will again stage a half-time exhibition under the direction of Larry Livingston and Fred Nelson.

Cross-Country Team Wins 15-49

The high school harriers slammed the first six places in their cross-country meet with Allen Park last Friday and won with the lowest possible score 15 to 49.

The first five to finish for each team count. This is the first year that Allen Park has had a Cross-Country team, and all the boys were inexperienced.

Balogh came in first for Plymouth and ran the two-mile course in 12:02. Grosjean was second in 12:24. Blanton third in 12:46. Marvin Green fourth in 12:46. Ferguson fifth in 12:55, and Jogenschutz sixth in 13:12—this last one did not figure in the score.

This week the local boys travel to Belleville for a meet with the strong Tiger squad. Belleville is considered to have the strongest team in the league this year.

Coach Konrad Mosio says the rest of the schedule is as follows: Oct. 5 Bentley—Home Oct. 12 Trenton—Away Oct. 19 Redford Union—Home Oct. 25 League meet at Belleville Nov. 3 State meet at Ypsi Nov. 9 Garden City—Away

I have often wondered where some of our savings that we hear so often came from. I find that the old expression "Got his Goat" has a beginning from a sports event.

The expression "Getting his Goat" originated in thoroughbred racing. Goats were used as animal mascots in the stalls of nervous horses to quiet them.

Stable hands often abducted goats of rival outfits to throw the thoroughbreds off their feed, thus bringing the expression into general usage.

For the first time since 1931 a major league team has three pitchers on its staff who have each won 20 games. For the Cleveland Indians, Bob Feller has copped 22 victories; Mike Garcia and Early Wynn have each won 20 games.

A fourth pitcher may be added if Bob Lemon can win three more games for he has now won 17—(up to last Friday).

These four have kept Cleveland up in the league race this year.

Much has been mentioned about over-emphasis of sports and whether too much emphasis is attached to winning. I feel sports should be for fun, but any red-blooded American boy is going to play to win. In competitive games, from marbles in the first grade to athletics in high school, boys play to win. After they graduate they are going to play to win in the game of life. I do feel that along with winning a boy should be taught to lose gracefully.

Much good can come to a boy if the right winning and losing attitudes have been developed.

Plymouth High's football boys came back in the second half of the Allen Park game to delight some 2000 spectators in a thrill-packed last quarter, but time ran out before they could get the last eight yards for the tying touchdown.

Little Larry Wood made some fine tackles and saved one or two touchdowns by bringing the runner down from behind. This pint-sized player is a deadly tackler and hits them where they should be hit—low and hard.

Another good game is in prospect for tomorrow night when Plymouth takes on Belleville under the lights on our athletic field—(By the way, buy a lot of hot dogs and pop as the Junior class has the concessions tomorrow night, and they can sure use the money.)

In games played this last week it looks like Ypsi will hold its own against Class "A" competition as they have two victories over Class "A" schools to their credit already. Last Friday they upset a favored Detroit Catholic Central eleven 13 to 0. Ypsi's Bill Jones scored twice for the Braves.

Clarenceville upset Northville 19 to 13. Farmington defeated Rochester 13 to 12.

Wayne scored as a result of a last minute pass to edge River Rouge 26 to 20.

Trenton bowled over Belleville 12 to 0.

No report on the other two 6-B league members, Bentley and Redford Union.

I'll still bet a half dozen raw oysters that Michigan State will defeat Michigan Saturday by at least two touchdowns.

Bye now—buy pop and hot dogs at the game tomorrow night.

Thanks to advances in treatment, 3 of every 4 victims of infantile paralysis now recover completely or suffer no disabling after effects.

Cottontail rabbits are the most prolific reproducers of upland game animals, with females averaging 45 youngsters per year.

9th Grade Team Loses to Bentley

The Plymouth 9th grade team opened their season last Thursday afternoon by bowing to the Bentley high frosh 20 to 7 at the local athletic field.

The young Rocks did fairly well considering the fact they had only had 6 days of practice. The Bentley boys had the edge in that they had been practicing since August 27.

Bentley scored twice in the first half to lead by a score of 14 to 0 at intermission time. Two of the three touchdowns counted by Bentley were on long returns—the first on a punt return of 55 yards and the second on a kick-off return of 65 yards. The third was scored on a 5 yard plunge through center.

Ferenzi scored the Plymouth touchdown on an end around reverse for the last 15 yards. Gobiell galloped through center for the extra point.

These games are played at 4 o'clock on the football field, and are free to the public. There will be one night game on November 2, when the varsity has an open date, which will be 25 cents.

This afternoon at four o'clock the Northville frosh will play on the athletic field.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows:
Sept. 27 Northville Here
Oct. 4 Bentley Away
Oct. 11 Trenton Away
Oct. 18 Redford Union Away
Oct. 25 Wayne Here
Nov. 2 Trenton (Night) Here

Touch Football League

The new nine-man football league got underway Monday with five teams in the 12 year old and under league. Teams competing are the Spartans and Jr. Spartans from Bird school, the Rockets from Smith school, the Jets from Starkweather school and the Tigers from Our Lady of Good Council.

Monday saw the Rockets meeting the Spartans; Tuesday the Tigers engaging the Jets and today the Tigers meet the Jr. Spartans. All these games are played on the high school football field at four o'clock.

This is a touch football league and games will be played each Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday. Next week's schedule is not available at this time.

Fans Should Stay Off Sidelines

Are you one of those football fans, who seemingly has to be as close as possible to each play, and follows the team up and down the sidelines obstructing the view of the fans in the bleachers? If so, this article is written for you.

Each football game the announcer, police and school officials have to plead, beg and demand that the crowd get back from the sidelines of the field. This should not have to take place each game if we but thought of someone besides ourselves for awhile.

Last Friday night the public address system was off for a while because someone tripped over the wire and pulled it from the plug. The announcer could not see the play at the other end of the field because of the crowd on the sidelines. Some fans were right on top of the bench of football players.

Anyone not having something to do inside the track should not be there.

If we all try to be a little more courteous and think that the other person also paid to see the ball game, everyone concerned will be much more happy.

We have one of the best athletic plants in this area for football—let's all stay off the sidelines unless we are authorized to be there.

Football Contest With Belleville Tomorrow Night

The Plymouth Rocks will strive to cop their first football win of the year tomorrow night when they engage the Belleville Tigers in their second league game on the local athletic field beginning at eight o'clock.

Belleville is of an unknown quantity as they have lost to class "C" Milan by the lopsided score of 40 to 2, and then held a good Trenton team to a 12 to 0 win. Trenton defeated class "A" Monroe the previous week by two touchdowns.

The Rock attack is becoming more polished as the season progresses. The middle of the line, which was considered a question mark before the season began, is becoming more experienced and made two grand goal-line stands for three downs against Allen Park, only to see the Packers score off-tackle, or around end, on fourth down.

The fans are promised another sparkling exhibition of football tomorrow night on the beautiful high school football field. This field is the best of any in this area.

The band will again stage a half-time exhibition under the direction of Larry Livingston and Fred Nelson.

Now, more than ever, the price tags sum it up:

You're paying for a Packard...why not own one?

Packard is holding the line on prices!

We can't tell, of course, what may happen in later months. But in the face of industry-wide price boosts, Packard has made today's decision: No price increases now!

And why is it possible for Packard to continue holding the line on prices?

Answer: Because Packard "got in under the wire" on its latest (and greatest) new-model changeover.

That was a wise move for Packard to make—and it points to a wise move for you to make...

You're paying for a Packard... why not own one? *

One easy step never took you so far! Just compare the slight difference in your monthly payments (after 1/3 down payment), between one of the lightly built "low-priced" cars and a new 1951 Packard... the newest new car of them all!

If you've been planning to pay... a Packard can be as low as...

$2100	$11*
$2200	7*

*And remember: a generous trade-in allowance can make these figures even smaller. Note: Figures above are based on Detroit-delivered prices—but cash differences are comparable throughout the country.

Local Kroger Manager Sights Florida Vacation

Roland Widmayer, Kroger store manager here, has entered a company-wide sales contest in which an all-expense paid winter vacation in Florida is offered as first prize.

He is competing against all other store managers in this area from which the winners will be picked. In all, 48 Kroger store managers and their wives will leave for Florida on January 4, 1952. During their Florida visit they will see St. Augustine, Marineland, Daytona Beach, Silver Springs, Cypress Gardens, and Miami Beach, where they will stay at the exclusive Vanderbilt Hotel.

In addition, more than 3,000 prize awards will be divided by store employees throughout the company. The local store will compete against six other stores of comparable size, with all employees of the store showing the highest sales gain during the eight-week period of the contest receiving prize awards. Prizes will include home appliances, home furnishings, sporting equipment, jewelry and clothing.

To assist Mr. Widmayer in winning these awards, the company has scheduled an anniversary sale during the contest week, September 17 to November 24, celebrating Kroger's 69 years in the food business. Founded in Cincinnati, Ohio, by the late B. H. "Barney" Kroger, the company has grown from one store on Cincinnati's river front to over 2,000 stores in 19 middlewestern and southern states.

Enrollment At Ladywood Grows

At the end of last week 112 girls answered "Here" to the morning's roll call in contrast to last year's 40.

St. Michael's, Rosedale Gardens, hosts of 100 newcomers to Ladywood; Good Counsel, Plymouth eight; St. Valentine, Detroit six.

Courses for freshmen include: ethics, English, speech, algebra, science, French, Latin, music appreciation, art; sophomores: ethics, modern history, English, speech, typing, shorthand, art; juniors: ethics, English, speech, typing, shorthand, biology and art. Sports, dramatics and dancing are offered as extra-curricular activities.

Sidewalk Hearing Adjourned To Oct. 2

The twice adjourned hearings of the sidewalk grade and installation on the north side of West Ann Arbor trail from lot 691 to the C. & O. Railroad will be completed at the next meeting of the City Commission.

The next scheduled meeting of the commission is October 1. Because this is the date of the special election, the commissioners must meet on this date long enough to adjourn to October 2.

City Engineer Stanford Besse will present his report on this section of sidewalk at the October 2 meeting. At this time the Wayne County Road Commission report will be presented. The commissioners have requested that the county absorb some of the cost of the repair. It is the failure of the county to report that caused the previous two hearings to be adjourned.

Dawn then presented Katy with a white Rainbow Bible from her officers.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by members of the advisory board.

Adult Education to Feature Two More Courses

Most classes in the Adult Education program begin next week, as few have begun already. The sewing class begins tonight and anyone wishing to join this class may do so by going to the meeting tonight and room 21 at the high school.

Mr. Woolweaver further states that two new classes will begin in January. The first, a Retail Sales Training Course, similar to the one held last year, will again be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, and taught by Richard Cook, a professor at the University of Michigan. The second, a class in Leadership and Parliamentary Law will be conducted by Dr. McCluskey, Dr. Stevenson and William Robinson from the U. of M. faculty.

Grange Gleanings

"Booster Night" is over and while there was a fairly good crowd there were many who were not there. Where were all the new members? Don't they enjoy dancing?

The music was good and those who were there had a good time. There was a very good display of baked goods and vegetables and we did very well on the sale.

Next Thursday night, October 4, is the annual election of officers so it is very important that all the present officers shall be in their place at that meeting. It is a supper meeting as usual, about 6:30.

Leaders' Club Plans Hayride

Leaders' Club met last Monday, September 17, for their first meeting of the year. Pat Wassenaar, president of the club, presided over the meeting where current business was brought up for discussion.

Plans for a hayride were the main points of business. It was decided that the party be held September 29 at Korte's farm. From the ride the girls will go to a wedding at Thelma Trombly's home.

The meetings for this year will be held every Monday at noon hour and will last until 12:15 o'clock.

Hesco Discusses Initiation, Sales

Betty Wagener, president, called the first Hesco meeting of the school year to order at 11:45 o'clock on Monday, September 17 in room 21.

Because Madelon Crossley has moved, Betty Wagener, the elected vice president, is taking over her position as president. The club elected Carol Olenburg, vice president. The secretary for the year is Betty Bowman and the treasurer, Pearl Kemnitz.

Plans for the information initiation were discussed. Pat Wahn was elected chairman and Pat Wendland, co-chairman of the initiation. Plans for the pennant sale, a pencil sale, and a dance were also discussed.

Miss Ingeborg Lundin is now taking over as the adviser of the Hesco Club since Mrs. Barbara Parkes, last year's adviser, has taken a position elsewhere.

After the day for the meeting was officially changed from Monday to Tuesday the meeting was adjourned at 12 o'clock.

Hi-Y Names Officers

Officers of the Hi-Y for the year of 1951-52 year were elected at a meeting, Wednesday, September 19, in Room 27 at 11:45 o'clock. The officers are: president, Neal Bowyer; vice president, Jack Dagggett; secretary, Lee King; treasurer, Tom Guthrie; and sergeant-at-arms, Larry Jolliffe. The chaplain will be chosen at a later date.

At a previous meeting it was voted that the two chapters would combine to form one chapter with Mr. Reeves, chairman and Mr. Walter Goodwin, co-chairman.

High School Choir Elects New Officers

Lee King was elected president of the high school choir on Wednesday, September 19; Jean Tetzlaff was chosen vice president with Norma Van Dyke, secretary; and Nancy Kropf, treasurer.

Janet Lamerand volunteered to be robe chairman with Marcia Woodworth as her assistant. Terdy Carney is the librarian for the group with Joanne Pursell assisting.

The officers will take care of the non-musical activities.

It's been said that "a boy's best friend is his mother" and it looks as though Mom has quite a hold on the girls, too. A recent survey indicates that mothers have more influence on the kids than fathers do. The score came out: 48 for Mom, 22 for Pop, 25 for both equal, and 5 didn't know. Of course, Dad's at a disadvantage because he's out lifting that load and totting that bale all day long, and he sees the kids only in the evening or when they want to borrow the car (or gas money). But no matter how you alibi it, Mom is usually the influence. How're things at your house?

P.H.S. Paper Wins 1st Place Award

Plymouth High school recently received notification from the Quill and Scroll, International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, that the local school publication had again received top honors for the fifth consecutive year. This year's paper received an 18 point higher score than last year's first place winner in the Critical Contest.

Edward Nell, executive secretary of Quill and Scroll, had this to say of the "Pilgrim Prints"—"Congratulations! Your publication has won high honors in the 1950 Critical Service. The judges of this year's service, under the auspices of the Medill School of Journalism, recognize your paper as one of outstanding achievements and bestow upon it the First Place Award."

A summary of the comments of the judges was: "Pilgrim Prints is an excellent example of what can be done on a limited budget. The paper is dignified without being dull—a credit to the school in every way."

The high school publication has also received all-state honors for the past two years at the Journalism Conference at Michigan State college.

Much credit must go to the students who publish this paper, and to their advisor, Miss Elizabeth McDonald for her excellent guidance, in winning these top awards.

Plymouth Lad Helps in Rescue

Wilfrid Robinson, 49601 Powell road, a long time employee of the Ford Rouge plant, left recently to spend a few days visiting his son, T. Sergeant Arthur E. Robinson, a former Plymouth boy, now stationed at the Luke Air Force base near Phoenix.

His visit will probably be a most interesting one, because Arizona newspapers have had much to say about the part Sergeant Robinson and one or two other soldiers took in the rescue work of an automobile party that went over the side of a mountain near Phoenix.

It was by chance that the young Plymouth soldier happened to be near the point when a speeding automobile went over the side of South Mountain near what is known as Lookout Point.

Two were killed and four injured as the car leaped some 250 to 300 feet down into the Canyon. Highway traffic officers pressed into service Sergeant Robinson and other soldiers who were with him. Because of the steep and rocky climb it took the rescue party nearly three hours to get the dead and injured back up to waiting ambulances on the highway.

One of the killed was Dr. Glenn Anderson, acting superintendent of the Arizona State hospital who had recently accepted this post. He had resigned but a few months ago from a position at the Kalamazoo State hospital to go to Arizona.

During the time that Mr. Robinson is in the west with his son they expect to visit the Pacific coast. Mr. Robinson expects to be back in Plymouth in about three weeks.

Why Mayflower Is Always Filled

There is more than one way to get good business if you know just how to go after it—and it seems that Manager Ralph Lorenz of the Mayflower hotel knows just how to go after good business.

During recent months he observed the fact that a number of customers who dropped into the hotel were anxious to see what morning newspapers had to say about the stock market but for some reason they didn't get just the information desired.

Without consulting these somewhat infrequent visitors to the hotel, he subscribed for the Wall Street Journal and when it came it was left in convenient places about the lobby of the hotel.

What has been the result? There is rarely a moment from the time this financial publication arrives in the hotel early in the forenoon that it is not being read.

The clerk asserts that he knows of at least eight customers of the hotel who have taken up permanent residence at the Mayflower because they can get Wall Street news quicker at the Mayflower than they can in Detroit. Most of these customers are associated with some of the new industries locating in this vicinity or are engaged in some of the vast building projects about here.

Not only are there at least eight new residents of the hotel who have come there to live because of their ability to get complete Wall Street news of today the first thing early in the morning, but Manager Lorenz states that he is sure that a number of "Monday Luncheon" customers have become "regulars" because of the fact that they have not only an opportunity to get a good lunch at the hotel but because they can check over the Wall Street Journal after lunch.

Through the untiring efforts of Mayflower manager Ralph G. Lorenz copies of original paintings from the art galleries and museums of Plymouth, Massachusetts have been brought to the city and will be enlarged to make photomontages for large panels around the room. The dining room will simulate the famous one in the Schuler Hotel in Marshall, Michigan which is known to travelers from all over the nation. Both rooms are the work of the Grand Rapids firm. In addition to the complete renovation of the dining room and the kitchen, the latter which is being given a thorough modernization, the addition of a fireplace and the rebuilding of the dining room entrance lobby are also part of the program. Installation of an airconditioning system and an electric airpurifier also will be made so that patrons of the room will breathe only the purest of fresh air which will change constantly while the room is in use. # Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Casserole Dishes Are Easy to Prepare

The casserole has been around a long, long time—but it has taken the modern thrifty-wise, time-conscious homemaker to realize the full potentialities of casserole cooking.

Historically, the casserole appeared with other primitive pottery vessels. It was originally fashioned of clay or brick. Most casseroles today are made of earthenware, with glass, aluminum, stainless steel, and enameled-ware also used for this purpose. They are made in a wide variety of sizes. Most useful for a family of from four to six is the popular two-quart size. Individual casseroles are particularly good for company suppers. They add a festive air, and the one and one-half cup small casseroles hold just enough for a single serving.

The casserole dish has many charms for the homemaker. First of all, it is easy to prepare. It eliminates the hustle and bustle of last minute preparation. You can prepare the ingredients early in the morning, store the casserole for cooking, and go about your business, shopping or bridge partying.

Since the casserole is virtually a meal-in-a-dish dinner, it makes serving a meal a much easier task and, better still, it means fewer dishes to wash! Because the casserole goes straight to the table, its appearance is important. Give special thought to selecting attractive casserole dishes to make foods more appetizing. Pottery is especially good for casserole dishes, because it can be obtained in gay, colorful designs. Like glass, it holds heat well, and its smooth surface is easily cleaned by soaking and washing. To prevent breakage, it should be protected from sudden temperature changes.

There's economy in a casserole dinner. Recipes for casserole dishes usually call for economical foods. Prepared in the tasty, rich style afforded by the casserole, thrifty cuts of meat come forth as tempting and succulent as more expensive cuts. Casserole cooking keeps the steam in the dish and makes it possible to cook the tougher cuts to tender perfection, retaining all the juices and flavor.

There's bountiful nutrition value in a casserole dish, too. Such dishes usually contain at least one valuable protein ingredient—meat, fish, eggs, or cheese; a carbohydrate, such as potatoes, beans, noodles, macaroni, or rice; healthful, mineral-rich vegetables; and vitamin-rich margarine or butter. The beauty of the casserole dinner means that one dish provides the main course. With the addition of a salad or dessert, the meal is complete and the family of guests.

There are many reasons why casseroles have been developed for casserole cooking—the ingenious homemaker finds the casserole an excellent way to express her individuality in the creation of original dishes. The talented meal planner uses her knowledge of cookery, food value, and flavor to prepare one-dish meals that utilize leftovers in appetizing, attractive combinations. It used to be said that the European housewife could maintain her family on what goes to waste in the American kitchen. The modern American homemaker could challenge that statement, for she is proud of putting all her food resources to best possible use. She could cite her way with a casserole as a mark of her efficiency, for with it she turns leftovers into glamorous and nutritious dishes.

Chicken Casserole with Dutchess Potato Topping
Here is an idea for a delicious casserole fit for a king's taste. You will shine as a hostess when you serve this rich, savory meal-in-a-dish. Accompany it with a crisp, green salad and a light dessert to round out your menu for an informal supper party.

Chicken Casserole
2 cups diced cooked chicken
1 cup cooked carrots
1 cup cooked peas
2 1/2 cups chicken broth
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
salt and pepper

Heat 2 cup broth; thicken with the flour stirred into 1/2 cup cold broth, stirring constantly. Arrange the hot cooked chicken, carrots, and peas in layers in a well greased casserole or baking dish. If left-overs are used, reheat all food. Taste and adjust salt and pepper, if necessary. Pour the thickened broth over the meat and vegetables. Arrange the Dutchess potato topping. Brown in a moderate (325 to 375 F.) oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until delicately browned.

Dutchess Potato Topping
4-6 potatoes
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, if desired
2 tablespoons margarine or butter

Peel the potatoes, cook in boiling salted water until soft. Drain very thoroughly. Dry out on the surface or in the oven. Mash thoroughly or rub through a sieve. Add margarine, pepper, egg, and nutmeg (if desired) and mix thoroughly. Use in a pastry tub or arrange with a spoon or fork around edge of casserole for garnish.

Budget Day Casserole Dinner
If your food allowance is in danger of running in the red, try this budget day dinner to help keep it in the black. This delicious meal-in-a-dish, low in cost, stretches a pound of steak a long way by combining it with other nutritious, tasty ingredients. This dinner is easy-to-serve at the table from the casserole.

1 pound steak, cut into number of servings desired
3 tablespoons margarine or butter
1/2 to 3/4 cup rice, washed
2 onions, sliced
1 small green pepper, sliced
salt and pepper
1 cup tomato sauce
1 tablespoon meat concentrate or 1 bouillon cube
1 cup hot water

Brown the steak in margarine or butter. Put it into a one-quart casserole. Sprinkle in the rice, onions, and green pepper. Season with salt and pepper. Pour tomato sauce over the rice. Dissolve the moderate oven (350 to 375 F.) for about one hour.

PRUNE HARVEST IS LUSH

The abundant harvest of Italian prune plums in Idaho means the supply is plentiful and the price is reasonable. Prune plums are on display everywhere.

Plan on Plenty
One twenty pound lug will yield about eight quarts of fruit. Plan on plenty to last through the winter. Frozen plums are especially good used in pies and up-side-down cakes.

Freezing Plums
Select soft ripe plums with firm skin free from bruises. Wash, halve or quarter and remove the stones. Leave the peeling on. It is important to prepare a small amount of fruit at a time, packing it quickly to prevent discoloration.

Prepare a forty percent sugar syrup by dissolving three and one-fourth cups sugar in four cups water. About one cup of syrup is needed for each quart container. Cool the syrup.

Pack the plums in moisture-vapor proof cartons on top of the fruit and cover with the cold syrup allowing one-half inch headspace.

If glass jars are used allow one to one and one-half inches headspace. Place a crumpled piece of cellophane on top of the fruit to hold it under the syrup.

The plums should be placed in the freezer immediately after packing and frozen at a temperature of zero to ten degrees below.

No one should let prune plum season pass without making a few jars of conserve.

Prune Plum Conserve
3 pounds prune plums
1 pound seeded raisins
3 oranges, thinly sliced
Juice of 2 lemons
6 cups sugar
1 large stick cinnamon
1 cup pecan meats, if desired

Wash and stem plums; remove pits; cut into small pieces. Mix with next five ingredients.

Simmer over low heat, stirring frequently until fruit is clear and syrup as thick as honey. It will thicken as it cools.

Remove cinnamon stick and add nut meats. Turn into hot sterilized jars or glasses. Seal.

Vary Your Fall Vegetable Menu

At no other time of the year are there so many opportunities to make the food dollar go farther and give greater variety to the menu as during the Fall vegetable harvest season.

Without a general pattern to guide the homemaker in her produce buying she may be both amazed and confused as she looks at the over 300 different vegetables ready for her selection in the produce department or in the public market.

Good buymanship and meeting the nutritional needs of the family are the two essentials if the homemaker is to get the most she spends for vegetables.

To meet the vegetable nutritional requirements of her family the homemaker will need to serve daily:

1. At least one serving of green, leafy or yellow vegetables.

2. One serving of a vitamin C food.

3. At least one serving of potatoes and two or three other vegetables.

The homemaker's guides for good buymanship are knowing what makes for quality in each vegetable she buys, knowing the use that she expects to make of the vegetable before she buys it and being sure that another vegetable equally desirable cannot be substituted at a lower cost.

In buying the leafy green vegetables such as spinach, kale, mustard and turnip greens quality is indicated by fresh appearance, lack of wilting, freedom from spots and blemishes, and tenderness. Usually about 4 quarts of greens will weigh a pound and will give 2 cups of cooked vegetables that will serve 4 to 6 people.

The head type vegetables such as cabbage, cauliflower, Chinese cabbage and head lettuce should be firm, compact and heavy for their size. They should be crisp looking and without any discolored leaves or evidence of spoilage. They are usually sold by the head or pound.

Among the vitamin C vegetables in addition to cabbage and cauliflower the good buys are apt to be tomatoes, broccoli and Brussels sprouts.

Excellent opportunities for buymanship, particularly from a dollar-saving standpoint, are found in the many other Michigan vegetables which are needed daily and add variety to the diet.

Here the homemaker will find many favorites such as celery, radishes, snap beans, sweet corn, cucumbers, turnips, parsnips, red beets and a host of others.

Plymouth duck hunters are not at all disturbed about the fact that the forthcoming duck hunting season will open two or three days earlier than usual. Some Detroit "experts" contended that it is going to make duck hunting a "riot" during the early part of the season because of the fact that the pheasant season will not open until the 15. But most local hunters see nothing to that complaint.

At any rate, as the Conservation Department says, "Downstate wildfowls get all the shooting time that federal regulations allow, the conservation commission turning down a recommendation that would have delayed the opening until October 15 to spread first-day hunting pressure over both wildfowl and small game."

And if federal authorities hear the pleas of the commission and update sportsmen, opening of the 1951 season in the upper peninsula will be advanced to October 5.

Concurrent openings of duck and small game seasons in the lower peninsula had been ordered by the commission in recent years as a means of spreading first-day hunting pressure when both ducks and pheasants were in short supply.

There are more ducks and more pheasants this year, according to federal and state biologists, and the commission acted to give wildfowls an additional three days of shooting.

The commission bases its appeal to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service for an earlier opening date in the upper peninsula on the wide differences in climate that influence the movements of wildfowl. It is pointed out that the average arrival and departure dates for ducks are about October 1 and October 30 in the upper peninsula and about October 15 and November 15 in the southern half of the lower peninsula.

Gunners may take four ducks daily, have eight in possession. Bag limits on geese are increased to five a day, five in possession, one more than in 1950, including not more than two Canada geese or two white-fronted geese, or one of each.

Opening hour on the first day of the season is 12 o'clock noon, eastern standard time and except on opening day it will be unlawful to shoot waterfowl except from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

The season for taking woodcock in the lower peninsula opens concurrently with the small game season, October 15.

The Western Wayne County Conservation Association for years has been urging that land owners make some provision for better winter cover for pheasants and other wild life in this part of Michigan. That the local association has been on the right track, is indicated by a report from the Wildlife Management Institute, which says that tests conducted by the Army to obtain information on the winter survival of man in the armed forces have unintentionally revealed the fact that what helps human life also helps wild life.

The research work, carried on at the Medical Division of the Army Chemical Center in Maryland, used pigeons in experiments to determine the mechanism that permits birds to cope with extreme cold and to find clues that might be applied to military problems. The same experiment demonstrates the extreme importance of adequate winter cover to game birds. In the test, pigeons were placed in sealed jars in cold chambers whose temperature was maintained at 40 degrees below zero Fahrenheit. Many survived as long as six full days without food. It was found that the pigeons were able to mobilize food stuffs stored in the body very efficiently even though the extreme cold required an energy expenditure up to four times the normal rate. In the presence of wind, resistance to cold decreased rapidly.

This experiment, reported in the "Bulletin of the National Society for Medical Research," demonstrates the great need of game birds for winter cover in the northern states. Well dispersed cover to reduce wind may well mean the difference between death and survival of game birds in farming areas when a blizzard strikes.

Acquisition of 2,126 primarily southern Michigan acres suitable for public hunting is being made by the conservation department at a cost of $64,623.

Funds, for expanding state game, forest and recreation areas, are from a federal excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition, and from state hunting license fees.

Game area additions are: 710 acres, Muskegon River; 544 acres, Kent county; 160 acres, Maple River, Clinton and Gratiot counties; 160 acres, Tuscola county; 65 acres, Cass county; 70 acres, Tuscola county; 60 acres, Haymarsh Lake, Mecosta county; 40 acres, Gratiot-Saginaw, Gratiot and Saginaw counties; 48 acres, Tuscola, Tuscola county; 35 acres, D'ford, Tuscola county; and 35 acres, Cannonsburg, Kent county.

Other expansions are: 52 acres, Holly recreation area, Oakland county; 39 acres, Pinckney area, Livingston and Washtenaw counties; and 52 acres, Fife Lake state forest, Benzie county.

FRESHMAN COEDS gather on the University of Michigan campus to look over registration forms during Orientation Week for new students. Judy Parmenter, left, and Lois Hoenecke, both of Plymouth, are pictured here, their first day on the "M" campus. Lois is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Hoenecke, who makes the fourth member of her family enrolled at Ann Arbor this year. An older sister, Paula, is in the public health school, brother Heinz is in the medical school, and brother Carl is a dental student. Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Parmenter of Mill street.

Full planting of 50,000 trees and shrubs in 12 southern Michigan state recreation areas will be started by state prisoners in October, the conservation department's parks division reports.

Providing shade and beautification of recreation sites will be some 30 varieties of hardwood seedlings and shrubs. Planting of another 50,000 pieces of stock is planned for next spring.

Supervised prison labor crews will fall plant the Waterloo recreation area, Jackson and Washtenaw counties; Rickney, Livingston and Washtenaw counties; Rochester-Utica, Macomb and Oakland counties; Ortonville, Lapeer and Oakland counties; Metamura, Lapeer county; and Brighton and Island Lake, Livingston county. Others are Bald Mountain, Highland, Holly, Pontiac Lake and Prud Lake, Oakland county.

50,000 different plant diseases have been identified to date. They cost the American farmer $2,000,000,000 a year.

A graduate of Plymouth High School with the Class of '40, Earl enlisted in the Marines shortly after Pearl Harbor and served with the famed Second Marine Division in the Pacific during World War II. He participated in the amphibious assaults on Tarawa, Saipan and Tinian, receiving the Purple Heart for wounds received in action.

Earl credits his start in the field of Journalism, which led to a career in the Marines, to his High School English teacher, Miss Neva Lovewell, who once told him that he would "go far" as a writer. Earl attests that to being an understatement for his travels with the Marine Corps have covered half the world.

Assigned to recruiting duty in Detroit as a Public Information Sergeant in 1948, he was a familiar figure around Plymouth in his colorful Marine Corps "Dress Blues," residing at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Wilson on Deer street.

Sergeant Wilson was later transferred to Camp Lejeune, N. C. where he served as a Radio Correspondent, writing, producing, and announcing for the Marine Corps over Mutual's WJNC.

RECEIVING THE PRESENTATION and a congratulatory handshake from RADM William J. C. Agnew, Ninth Naval District Medical Officer, is William E. Burger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Burger of 40971 E. ### Young Librarians Earn and Learn

The opening of the school year finds four student librarians working in the elementary and the junior high schools. These students, who work half days and attend school for the other half are members of Melvin Blunk's occupational training class. They receive credit and wages for the work.

Their duties include reading and telling stories to the primary grade children, helping teachers to choose books for the class room, repairing old books, and doing supervised typing and filing. These students are Glennette Cole, Bird school; Janice Yeoman, Starkweather school; Jacqueline Smith, Smith school; and Doris Landan, Junior high school.

The high school library staff consists of 30 students who receive no pay and no credit. These students work one hour a day each week. They sign out and receive books at the circulating desk, check permits, collect fines, keep circulation statistics, issue magazines, fill requests at the magazine table, label and repair books in the work room, and type and file catalog cards.

The library has a committee working with Mrs. Esther Hamm and C. W. Bentley to obtain credit for their work.

Club members are planning for the annual Librarian Assistants' Conference, which will be at Clear Lake Camp, Dowling, Michigan, on October 5, 6, and 7. The Plymouth club will be responsible for a talent show at the conference. Two students will have one half of their expenses paid by the club.

ELECTRIC COOKING!

Nothing compares with an electric range for cooking, in the opinion of football's famous Leon Hart and his pretty wife, Lois.

"It's really fun to cook electrically," says Lois. "There's no guesswork involved, no fussing with heat adjustment. It's clean, cool..."

"—And the results are terrific!" adds Leon. "Makes me wish I didn't have to watch my weight."

"Lee loves to eat," laughs Lois. "Roast beef is his favorite... with Bermuda Salad Bowl for good measure. Try it some time."

Like the Leon Harts, you'll be enthusiastic about electric cooking the moment you try it. And why not now? See your dealer today.

Harry C. Robinson, president of the village of Plymouth, will initiate the new local telephone central office equipment into service next Tuesday when he will press a button giving the signal for what is known in telephone circles as the "cutover" from the old apparatus to the new. And thereafter, Plymouth users of the telephone, customers of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, will enjoy a new and improved service, given through an office and equipment of sufficient capacity to permit considerable growth of the community and of its employment of the telephone in their daily lives and business.

Establishing a record equalled only by one other community in a similar undertaking, Plymouth's campaign to raise $200,000 by the sale of six percent preferred stock for a modern and up-to-date hotel, was completed in one half day. A total of $175,000 was reported at the "kick-off" banquet held Monday evening at the Masonic temple. At the first luncheon held Tuesday noon, the reports announced brought the grand total up to $209,000.

a visit with relatives. The suggestion made in the Mail last week that a bronze tablet be placed in the lobby of the new community hotel to be erected in Plymouth, containing all the names of the persons who made the new building possible through the purchase of stock, was brought to the attention of the executive committee, at their meeting last Friday evening, and received the unanimous endorsement of that body.

Electrostatic duster developed for farmers

This farmer is holding two apples which were dusted with the same amount of insecticide. The apple on the right had insecticide blown on it from a conventional dusting machine. The heavily coated one on the left was dusted by a new electrostatic process developed by agricultural engineers at Michigan State College. As it leaves the duster's nozzle, dust is highly charged with electricity from special equipment carried on the farmer's tractor and is strongly attracted to plants or fruit, covering them underneath as well as on top. Laboratory tests have reported coverage up to eleven times greater than that accomplished with dusters not equipped with the electrostatic device. Information on this new electrostatic dusting process for insecticides or fungicides can be obtained from the Michigan State College Agricultural Engineering Department, East Lansing.

New battery helps telephone service

In Michigan Bell's telephone central offices there are giant storage battery cells, some of them 5 feet high! They operate some of the telephone switching equipment, and provide power to carry your voice over telephone lines. Not long ago Bell Telephone Laboratories developed a new type battery which uses calcium instead of antimony as a hardener in the battery lead. It holds its charge five times longer, uses less water, goes many months without attention, and stands up many more years. Bell System research is one of the reasons why the most efficient telephone service in the world is yours for such little cost.

Program For BETTER LAWNS

Late summer — early fall is the ideal time to beautify your lawn. A beautiful, sparkling Scott's LAWN costs no more than the ordinary kind. Here is all you do:

- 1 Apply Scott's 4-XD to dispose of broad-leaved weeds.
- 2 If Crabgrass is present, wait 2 or 3 days, then apply SCUTL to stop further growth. Repeat SCUTL in a week.
- 3 If weather is dry and lawn cannot be watered, delay further treatment until after a soaking rain.
- 4 Apply TURF BUILDER lawn food.
- 5 Seed sparingly — you need so little when you use Scott's.

Autumn is also the best time to build a NEW LAWN.

Scott's LAWN SEED

Economical — 3,000,000 seeds per pound so you need sow only a third as much as ordinary seed to get a permanent lawn.

I'm making a list of calamities that could happen to me

Gloomy, maybe, but SMART

It's better to be gloomy like this for an hour than sorry for a lifetime that you didn't have complete insurance protection against possible disasters.

List 'em now and do something about insurance—then forget your fears and BE HAPPY.

Might your car be stolen or burn up? Might you kill or injure somebody with it? Might your house or business burn or be blown away? Might your valuables be lost or stolen? Might an employee or tradesman sue you for injury on your premises? Might your dog bite a neighbor? Might you hit somebody with a golf ball? Might an employee embezzle from you?

Worry hard about these things for a while. Then let us protect you against 'em with America Fore policies.

Roger Babson Says --

Babson Discusses Men Versus Machines Babson Park, Mass., Sept. 28. The Babson Organization has 2,000 corporations on its Master List which it constantly watches. In other words, out of the 16,000 corporations whose securities are publicly traded in, we select 2,000 which we believe to be the cream.

Curing Slipping Departments Notwithstanding our careful selection, some of these corporations are at times suffering from one department slipping. This naturally worries the head of the department. The more he worries, the more the department slips; the more it slips, the more he worries. If this continues too long he has a nervous breakdown or a heart attack. This is a loss to the corporation and stockholders.

The real purpose of my story is to emphasize that men are more important than machines—in fact, all machines were invented by men and we must depend upon men for coming great inventions. I have in mind electronic devices which should reduce prices and increase the wages of intelligent workers. The value of foremen and department heads is not fully recognized by many corporations. Their accumulation of experience and their years on the part of their successors to duplicate.

Entitled To More Rest Corporations judge employees by their hours of work and—directly or indirectly—by their production in physical units. But a department head or foreman may be able to develop original ideas in a few hours that can be worth large amounts to the corporation. To accomplish this, however, such a man should not be worried, and should keep himself in good health. If I should tell the president of the corporation that he could save thousands of dollars annually by spending $1,000 on repairing a certain machine, he would gladly do so; but most corporation heads can't see this when it comes to repairing men or keeping them in A-1 condition.

When I tell the corporation president that he could save and make large sums by spending $1,000 to give the head of a shipping department a complete rest for a month, the president often fails to see the point. Of course, this rest must be away from home and under supervision. Yet, such an investment by the corporation would produce more in dividends to stockholders than if spent in any other possible way. This is the next great lesson which corporations must learn.

Preventing Heart Attacks During the past year, I have been especially distressed because so many of my friends and clients are dying from heart attacks. This is not only a loss to the family, but often a severe loss to the corporations with which such men were connected. Often the death of such a man is ultimately unfavorable reflected in labor relations, sales programs and the earnings of the corporation, and hence a loss to stockholders. With special interest in the 2,000 corporations above mentioned, I am anxious for the support of all attempts to reduce these heart tragedies.

Doctors tell me that these heart attacks are unnecessary and could largely be prevented if corporations would insist on annual physical audits of their head executives. When finding one of their executives threatened with a heart condition, the corporation would find it an excellent investment to give this executive a supervised vacation with pay at a restful spot catering to the "tired businessman." This is not charity or of a "welfare" nature. It is sound, hardboiled business sense.

Repairing Versus Preventive Tests The so-called "six weeks cure" for heart attacks can be taken at home or at a hospital if the patient will absolutely obey the doctor's orders; but this is not true of preventive heart repairing. Those showing a tendency to heart trouble, but who have not yet been attacked, need not stay in bed. They should, however, be away from home and office, in a restful spot in the woods until all these symptoms vanish.

In this connection let me say that great progress is being made by physicians in detecting possible heart troubles. The electrocardiograph is now being supplemented or anticipated by "flicker tests," blood tests and ingenious gadgets which give an executive a warning to take a rest and avoid further trouble.

Finds Summer Weather in Southern Florida to be Most Delightful

"I've never been to Florida in the winter time, but I will say this, that the summer weather down around Miami is as pleasant and as delightful as a person can find anywhere in this big world of ours," stated Arthur Ottowitz a few days ago when he returned from a brief vacation trip to Florida with Mrs. Ottowitz and their daughter, Dianne.

"We flew down and from Miami we used an automobile to see that part of the state. One of the most interesting trips we have ever taken was that ride down to Key West. It is all that they say for it—beautiful weather and interesting sights as you ride over the bridges between the ocean and the Gulf. A Florida trip in the summer time is a most pleasant experience, that is if you can land right in the southern tip of the state a few hours after you leave here," said Mr. Ottowitz, a well known advertising writer and designer who lives on Ann Arbor road but has offices in Detroit.

Bungling Will Delay Big County Sewage Project

Hopes for the immediate construction of a truck line sewer to serve Plymouth and this fast growing section of Wayne county went glimmering a few days ago when county officials rejected bids for its construction because of alleged bungling by other county officials.

The County Board of Auditors rejected the proposal because of uncertainties in obtaining steel and selling bonds for construction of the project. They had met to consider awarding contracts from bids submitted by 24 companies.

Board members Charles F. Edgecomb, Jacob P. Sumeracki and Arthur A. Sumeracki expressed resentment at being presented final details on the Middle Rouge projects only Saturday morning. They said it allowed them insufficient time to consider such an outlay, according to one newspaper report.

The Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer would serve a fast-growing area of some 70,000 property owners in the townships of Canton, Dearborn, Nankin, Northville, Plymouth and Redford, the municipalities of Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth and Northville.

Petitions for the sewer were first circulated among residents of the area in 1947. Saturday was the final day on which the project could legally be authorized under the old petitions.

George A. Dingman, Wayne County drain commissioner, claimed that the almost three years the project has been in his office was not sufficient time to gather all the details of the project.

He blamed the hold-up on an eight-month delay by the Dearborn city council in replying to his specifications.

Jacob Sumeracki, chairman of the auditors, rebuked him for not checking earlier with the National Production Authority on an allocation of 600 tons of steel needed.

Albert Roth, consulting engineer to the drain commissioner, had recommended that the auditors approve low bids by small firms on each of the seven sections of the project.

Commissioner Dingman said petitions would be circulated once more. And, he added, "when the bids are advertised for the next time, we'll want only overall bids."

An underground tank with a pump similar to service station equipment will provide the safest storage for large supplies of farm tractor fuels, gasoline or kerosene on farms, Michigan State College farm safety specialists point out.

Ranking as one of the most common of all afflictions, athlete's foot bothers two thirds of the population—about 100,000,000 people—in a single year.
