What I Think and Have A Right to Say

By ELTON R. EATON

CONGRATULATIONS — AND GOOD FORTUNE.

Residents of Plymouth and vicinity this week are extending congratulations, as well as congratulating themselves, over the fact that the S. S. Kresge Company is opening in this city one of the most up-to-date stores of its kind in any city of this size in the country.

The new building which has been erected to house this modern mercantile institution is a credit to the city, and located in one of the most desirable places within the community.

We do not know positively, but we have always felt that Attorney Paul Voorhies, one of Detroit's prominent lawyers and a former resident of Plymouth, who is attorney for the Kresge company, had something to do with the decision of the Kresge company to locate such a fine store in Plymouth. If this belief is correct, we also desire to commend Mr. Voorhies for what he did to help his old home town, one of the fastest growing municipalities in this part of the country.

It is our prediction that the Kresge Company will never regret its selection of Plymouth for such a store as has been built here. The community appreciates what the Company has done and it extends to both the officials of the Company and its employees who will operate the store a most cordial welcome.

WHILE YOU GET POORER, THE TRUMANS GET RICHER.

Probably there is not a good American citizen living today who isn't feeling the pinch being imposed upon him through Truman taxes. Outside of the Fair Deal was contractors, the Fair Deal five percenters and the other Washington hangers-on and the Truman family, we know of no one who is not feeling the pinch the Truman politicians have got the country in.

But while you are getting poorer and poorer as the result of taxes and of high prices, these are great days for the Trumans.

A reader the other day brought to the writer a page out of a publication known as "The Methodist Challenge", a denominational publication in which the editor discussed "A Moral Debacle."

In the article he pointed out how the President and his family are enjoying the services of a personal staff of 33 domestic servants, including the chauffeurs of his (Truman's) 29 automobiles—and that the upkeep of the President's plane amounts to more than $10,000 a month. He had congress pass a law so that a good portion of his income is non-taxable. But why go on?

We wonder who under the sun could vote again for any group of politicians who will stand for all that is taking place down in Washington?

STEPPING BACKWARDS.

Like many others, we have believed over a period of years that it would be for the best interest of Michigan if the Conservation Commission had the authority to issue certain regulations pertaining to hunting and fishing, a right now solely vested in the legislature.

We have held to this belief because of the fact that the Conservation Commission is in a much better position than the legislature to decide on hunting and fishing seasons, and other problems that have to do with control of Michigan's fishing and hunting rights.

But recent decisions of the Commission pertaining to a number of controversial questions have raised a very serious doubt in our mind as to the advisability of making any change whatsoever.

We think the decision of the Commission in permitting the use of rifles in the thickly populated sections of the state during hunting seasons is about asinine a ruling as was ever made by any public commission. It is as unfortunate as have been some of its other actions in recent months.

As we see it, the Commission has removed for many years to come any possibility of the legislature ever granting the department some of the rights to issue regulations that it has been seeking—for which we are sorry.

SUPPORT "OUR FOREIGN POLICY."

Every once in a while you hear some ward-heeling Washington politician or some out-state yipping "me-tooter," declaring that if we don't support our government's so-called "foreign policy" we are isolationists or something supposed to be as terrible as that or something else.

Well, will some one of these money-grabbing politicians tell us what the administration's foreign policy is? We'd like to know.

Yes, we would like to know very much about what it is and what it is going to be.

Up to the present time, as we see it, our Harry Truman-Dean Acheson foreign policy has been a policy that has lost for these good United States of ours every friend we ever had anywhere in the world.

There was a time when we had the friendship and the good will of nearly every foreign nation. Then when the New Dealers, the Phoney Dealers and the Fair Dealers came into power, we began to find out that this foreign country was no longer friendly with us, that that other foreign country was also our enemy—that it was with difficulty to even buy with the billions of dollars squeezed out of the pockets of the taxpayers, the good will and friendship of any foreign country.

Oh yes, some may profess to be our friends—they profess it because they want another hand-out of our badly deflated dollars. But try and find a sincere friend of our country—the kind of friends we had at one time.

Ya—what is our "foreign policy" and where are the foreign friends we enjoyed having as friends before the dawn of the New Deal—and the crooked political deal?

William Merrill To Direct Guild

The Plymouth Theater Guild feels quite fortunate in having obtained the services of Mr. William W. Merrill as director for its November 7 and 8 production, "I Like It Here." Just why can best be explained by knowledge of Mr. Merrill's background.

At the age of three, Bill Merrill was working with the Jesse Bonstell stock company. Here his experience with personalities such as Katherine Cornell and Franklin Douglas was enough to secure him a contract with Paramount Pictures. For the next few years Bill spent his time dashing between Paramont and the Pasadena Playhouse doing boy parts.

Unable to play the boys part any longer, he returned to his hometown of Bloomfield Hills to complete high school. Bill's next move was to acquire some formal education in his chosen profession. For two years he attended Bay View Summer college and Ohio Wesleyan studying speech and directing at both. He then moved on to New York and completed his formal background by attending the American Academy of Dramatic Arts.

In 1940 Mr. Merrill returned home and launched The Will-o-Way Playhouse in his father's

The ceremony is scheduled for 9 a.m. immediately after which a giant selling event will mark the formal opening of the beautiful new store. A four page section appearing elsewhere in this issue covers completely the announcement of the stores opening event.

IF FRED HARMAN and LITTLE BEAVER have anything to do about it Plymouth's Community Chest drive will have extra help from local children this year. On a hurried visit to friends at the Daisy Manufacturing Company plant Monday, the famous twosome was prevailed upon to visit the three local grade schools, where comic strip "Red Ryder" creator Harman made several sketches and Little Beaver told the importance of the RED FEATHER, now a symbol of Chest drives throughout the country. Pictured at the Bird school above are left to right, artist, Harman, Little Beaver and Daisy sales manager, Robert O. Wesley.

Home Accident Results in Death

An unfortunate home accident resulted in the death of a middle-aged Plymouth township woman Wednesday, October 10.

Mrs. Frances Mae Smith, who had been working in the basement of her home at 4184 Wilcox road, went upstairs for some article, and on returning down the steps, fell and landed on her head.

Her father, John E. Spencer, who was present at the time, immediately called the Plymouth Fire Department. The firemen tried to resuscitate Mrs. Smith, but to no avail.

Mrs. Smith was 37 years of age, and had been a resident of this community for the past 30 years. She is survived by her husband, Clarence L. Smith; her daughter, Mary Lou Smith, and her father John E. Spencer of Plymouth; her

Visitors to the store during the two Grand Opening days will be given free souvenirs and interesting callers will be eligible for gifts to be awarded Saturday 27.

Remember When You Give

Residents of this area who are subject to payroll deduction Community Chest contributions are reminded that in order for their contribution to be given to the Plymouth Chest it is necessary for them to so designate when they sign their pledge at the factory in which they work.

This is an important item for the local Chest and unless Plymouth is especially designated the amount contributed will go to the Detroit Chest.

Brief Illness Ends in Death of Herbert Swanson

Herbert H. Swanson, aged 49 years and one of Plymouth's best known and highly respected business men, died Tuesday afternoon after an illness of only a few weeks. It was on August 3rd when he went to St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor because of illness. It was then that physicians and specialists discovered that he was suffering from cancer and that it was so far advanced that an operation could not be performed.

He was returned to his home in Plymouth where he continued to direct the operation of his service station on South Main street from his bedside until a short time before his death.

He was born in Astabula, Ohio on July 18, 1902, the son of Andrew and Olga Swanson. In 1929 he came to Plymouth as service manager for the Paul J. Weidman Ford sales agency and in 1940 he opened his own service station at the corner of Ann Arbor trail and Forest street.

About a year ago he sold this site where three new stores have been erected and purchased the Dettling Service station on South Main street.

It was on June 5, 1924 when he was married to Hilda Keefer of Orville, Ohio. Mrs. Swanson, two daughters, Mary Helen and Margaret, and a son Herbert Jr., survive. A sister, Mrs. Marie Burnette of Astabula, a brother Eric Swanson of Minneapolis, Minnesota, also survive. Another brother preceded him in death.

Mr. Swanson was a member of the Masonic lodge, the Hi-12 club and the Eagles.

The funeral will be held from the Schrader Funeral home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Henry Walch officiating. Burial will take place in Riverside.

G. O. Jackson Residence Suffers Smoke Damage

Boiling baby bottle nipples proved dangerous in the George O. Jackson residence, 279 Evergreen on October 10. The water in the kettle boiled away and the heat caused the nipples to ignite, firemen state. The only damage was smoke damage to the kitchen, the report concluded.

Cemetery to End Year Free of Debt

For the first time in years the Riverside Cemetery is going to end a year without going in debt states Nat Sibold, who has been placed in charge of collecting delinquent accounts on lots that date back a number of years. More than half the $4000 in delinquent fees on lots have been collected to date.

Mr. Sibold says that many had forgotten, or did not realize that they had not paid, and all the ones contacted have cooperated splendidly in the settlement of the account. Some have paid in full while others were given a liberal payment plan on a weekly or monthly basis.

The city found through legal advice that it is possible to reclaim the unused portion of a lot if it has not been paid, but are reluctant to do this only as a last resort.

There are a few lots that have not been used in years, and no one has been able to contact anyone knowing of a relative of the owner. If anyone knows any living relative of any of the following people, Mr. Sibold will appreciate it very much if the information is brought to him at the City Hall. The whereabouts of the following persons are unknown: Robert O. Schmitling, Ernest Lee, Mrs. Thelma Tait, Frances and Edith Hubert, Thomas Smith, Mrs. James Healey and Ralph D. Nathan.

At the present time there is

Chest Drive Opens

The drive toward the $17,000 goal set for this year's Community Fund began in earnest today. During the next three weeks a letter will be sent to each home, a solicitor will call on each business and professional person, and the schools and industrial plants will conduct their own fund-raising campaigns.

Co-chairmen Norman Marquis and Tom Kent and their committee chairmen have spent hours in organizing an all-out effort for everyone to contribute as much as he can to this worthy cause.

Helping Mr. Marquis and Mr. Kent this year are Rex Purkey, of the Champion Corrugated Container Company, who is the industrial unit chairman; Robert Stewart, of the Ford Middlebelt plant, who will be the professional unit chairman; Duane Parkes is the publicity chairman; Dora Gruebner and Betty Brake will jointly canvass the local schools; Dean Saxton is the business unit chairman and Mrs. Dan Mills will be in charge of the general residential units.

This year a mailing campaign will take place of a house-to-house canvass. In this way the contributor will be able to send his contributions in at his convenience.

The following benefitting organizations are sponsored by the City of Plymouth: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Veterans Memorial Foundation, Visiting Nurse, Recreation Department, Well-baby clinic and the Plymouth Dental Fund.

Mr. Marquis and Mr. Kent state that it takes much unity to make this drive a success. It is a united effort of all citizens enthusiastically working together and it takes the spirit and determination of all groups, factions and classes to work together for a common cause. If we do this our quota will be met with ease.

The Co-chairmen say, "despite the increase over last year, the goal represents the minimum needs of the 24 benefitting agencies."

"The generosity and patriotism of the people of Plymouth are well known to everyone. We must not fail in this hour of need."

First Birthday of Pease Store October 19

Pease Paint and Wallpaper is celebrating its first anniversary October 19. A. G. Pease, opened the business a year ago in a small store on Penniman avenue. Since that time he has built an addition to the store, leased a warehouse and factory for window shades and venetian blinds, and planned color schemes for many homes.

The store carries wallpaper from such places as China, England, the Philippines, and Hawaii, as well as the standard brands made in the United States. He does a great deal of custom color mixing to match certain fabrics or to conform to a special idea.

Mr. Pease was recently initiated into Rotary by the district governor, John Maynard, who was here to address the club several weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Pease are now building a new home on Penniman avenue, so they can settle in their adopted city.

Mail Christmas Parcels Early

Christmas packages and cards going to distant states should be mailed before December 11, and greeting cards for local deliveries prior to December 15, stated Dr. George Timpona, postmaster. Latest mailing date for calendars is December 1, he continued.

Wherever possible, use the delivery zone number on cards and packages. This avoids delay, concluded Dr. Timpona.

Federal Hearing Involves Local Gas Supplies

In a brief filed with the Federal Power Commission in Washington, Detroit's Michigan Consolidated Gas Company is charged with seeking an unfair advantage over Plymouth and other Michigan cities in the matter of natural gas.

The FPC issued an order a few days ago under which Michigan Consolidated would receive less than it had requested from the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company. Michigan Consolidated has petitioned for a rehearing, contending that the order gave too much gas to the Michigan Gas Storage Company (a subsidiary of Consumers Power Company) and not enough to Michigan Consolidated.

Michigan Gas Storage has replied with a brief asking that Michigan Consolidated's petition for a rehearing be dismissed and that the original FPC order be allowed to stand.

Michigan Gas Storage Company operates large natural gas storage fields in Clare, Missaukee and Oscoda counties. It purchases natural gas that has been brought from Texas by the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, much of which gas is placed in storage. Eventually the gas is delivered to Consumers Power Company, which distributes it to users in Plymouth, Flint, Pontiac, Saginaw, Bay City, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lansing and more than 20 other Michigan cities and villages.

Under authority of the Michigan Public Service Commission and the Petroleum Administration for Defense, Consumers Power Company is arranging to connect 10,000 additional natural gas space-heating customers, a fact that has been cited as proof that Detroit's Michigan Consolidated has been treated too generously.

Michigan Gas Storage points out in its brief, however, that Michigan Consolidated added 10,000 space-heating customers between July 1, 1949 and the end of 1950 and is now supplying gas space-heating service to 40 percent of its gas customers. Consumers now has a space-heating saturation of less than 33 percent.

and after the connecting of the 10,000 additional space-heating customers the figure will still be less than 36 percent.

Michigan Gas Storage Company also points out in its brief that its construction program and that of Panhandle have for several years been directed toward making additional supplies of gas available for the area served by Consumers. In the meantime, according to the brief, Michigan Consolidated has repeatedly told the Federal Power Commission that it wanted to buy less gas—not more—from Panhandle after the end of the present year.

Originally, Panhandle supplied all the gas for Detroit. Then the Michigan - Wisconsin Pipe Line Company, an affiliate of Michigan Consolidated, built a new pipeline to serve Detroit, and the FPC was informed that Michigan Consolidated would not want any gas from Panhandle after 1951. Later, Michigan Consolidated went on record to the effect that it would want only 87,500,000 cubic feet per day from Panhandle after 1951. It was not until 1950, according to the brief, that Michigan Consolidated asked for an increase in its daily delivery from Panhandle.

"In the light of the foregoing," says the brief, "it is respectfully submitted that Michigan Gas Storage Company and the other utility customers of Panhandle could have reasonably anticipated that they, rather than Michigan Consolidated, would provide the future markets for Panhandle's increased capacity, and such has been the determination of this Commission."

The FPC order of August 31 allowed Michigan Consolidated the same 125,000,000 cubic feet per day it has been receiving. Michigan Consolidated wanted 200,000,000 cubic feet "firm" and an additional 100,000,000 cubic feet on an interruptible basis. Michigan Gas Storage argues that in view of the advantage Michigan Consolidated already holds in the matter of space-heating saturation and in view of the gas available to Michigan Consolidated from other sources than Panhandle, the FPC order should stand.

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

'Nothing Too Darn Important'

THIS STORY, told me by Earle B. Johnson, Jacksonville, Fla., I give you exactly as he gave it to me.

"One night I received a long distance telephone call. It was our family doctor in DeLand, Fla. My father was not expected to live—a serious heart attack. I was shocked—stunned. It was unbelievable—my father, who had never been sick! A few hours later I was there. The doctor told me Dad had had an acute attack of coronary thrombosis, and that slowly through the years he had developed hardening of the arteries.

"Dad was always a good fighter in anything he did—and contrary to predictions he was sitting up several months later. When he was able to make the trip, I arranged for an examination by an eminent heart specialist who started in with Dad's case history from the time he was a boy to the birth of his three sons, his early businesses, then the Florida boom in 1923, and its disastrous crash in 1926.

Carnegie

That is when it started—worry! Dad had set a pretty high standard of living for his family, and after the crash he did his best to keep up that level for us. Then the bank failures of 1929—depression of early 30's. How much we took for granted and how little we realized what this broken man had gone through with worrying about finances, family and business—never burdening us with any of it. It all came back to me as I sat there watching my Dad going to pieces. This two-listed business man emotionally collapsing. It was unbelievable!

"When the doctor finally dragged the whole story out, he explained that every condition Dad had was THE NATURAL RESULT OF WORRY OVER THE YEARS, that the daily worry he had gone through set up an organic condition that slowly hardened the arteries and finally resulted in the heart condition.

"Dad's future was outlined with brutal frankness. It was almost too late, but he had one chance to live. 'Do not think, talk about, nor transact any business of any nature. Instead, go fishing, go walking, grow flowers.' After a year of this, he was re-examined, and his improvement was remarkable. With the same program he could hope to live nearly his normal life span.

"A few months ago Dad said, 'Son, I want to give you a little sound advice. I hope you will always remember it. When you get my age and look back, you will find there are many things you used to think important that really do not amount to much. Everything you do is important, of course, but none of it too darn important.'"

UM Club to Hear Of German Life

The next meeting of the University of Michigan club will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader, 127 N. Main street next Thursday, October 25, at eight o'clock.

A discussion group under the leadership of Russell L. Isbister, superintendent of the Plymouth Public schools, featuring the seven German students attending our local high school will head the program for the evening. The topic will be "Life in Germany."

Irene Walldorf, chairman of the Fall discussion group program announces that another discussion group is forthcoming, the date and time to be announced later.

Refreshments will be served with Mrs. Harold Pine as chairman of this committee.

Laundromat Installs Dryer

A new commercial dryer, the largest of its type, was installed in the Plymouth Laundromat during the past week, announced Glen and Stan Krieg, owners.

This dryer will hold four wash-loads of wet clothes. The addition of this new equipment raises the number of dryers in the establishment to three. There are 20 Westinghouse automatic washers in the laundromat.

The owners hope that the addition of the new dryer will take care of the overflow which they have had especially during cold or rainy seasons.

Senator Taft Wins Thousands of Supporters by Detroit Visit

By Elton R. Eaton

Went down to Detroit Monday night to hear and see the next President of these United States of ours. I was not disappointed, and I returned home one of the most enthusiastic boosters in this glorious state of ours for Senator Robert Taft of Ohio for President.

He tore the crooked, ignorant, faking and lying Truman administration into a thousands of bits, then literally carried the refuse into a back lot and buried it under that dying, scabby old apple tree.

For more than 50 years I've been attending and reporting political meetings. Never before have I ever listened to a more sincere, straight-forward and honorable plea for Americanism than that delivered Monday night by Senator Taft.

I can plainly see now why the thousands and thousands of farmers, business men, working men and women, and professional people of Ohio rushed to the polls in Ohio's last senatorial campaign to return him to the United States senate by the biggest vote any candidate ever received in any Ohio election.

He won out in face of Harry Truman's snarling threat to purge Mr. Taft from the senate. He won in spite of the millions and millions of dollars extracted from the pockets of American working people by the Reuthers and his goons and spent in an effort to buy up the Ohio senatorial election. There were no flights of eloquence in his 30 minute talk. It was the appeal of an honorable American to other honorable Americans to rid the country of the grafters, the thieves, the fakery, the Communists, and other ilk of its kind that now infests Washington.

He pleaded for the restoration of a loyal, honest administration possessed of American ideals and purposes. There isn't much use in devoting additional space to his speech, because I guess from what I hear around the city there are few people hereabouts who did not see it on television or hear it on the radio. But here is one American citizen who believes that America's hope lies in the election of Senator Robert Taft of Ohio as president.

One of the brief preliminary speakers had a line in his talk worthy of reproduction. Among other things he said: "No house is a good house unless it is a clean house." Not bad, would you say?

Previous to the big meeting I heard a considerable comment about the let-down of the Republican party by Governor Dewey. Many felt that he is chiefly responsible for the fact that Pendergast is still in the race. Dewey is now the nation's chief executive.

Old time patrons of the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth will be interested to know that the hotel's new head waiter, Catherine C. K. K., is now in Detroit, had the distinction of waiting on Senator Taft and other high Washington and State officials at the speaker's table. The 100 guests at the banquet had only praise for the excellent service provided at the banquet. It was one of the largest ever held in Detroit's big Masonic temple. Nearly 3,000 who could not get into the main banquet hall were served in other dining rooms in the hotel where they saw and heard Senator Taft by television.

Congressman George Meader of Ann Arbor, whose district runs up to the Plymouth township line on the west, asked to be remembered to his friends in and around Plymouth.

Present were all of the Republican members of congress except one. Saw Congressman George Dondero from this district, but had to leave before I had an opportunity to talk with him.

Mrs. Ray Hooker, national committeewoman from Mt. Pleasant, who visited Plymouth some months ago, asked to be remembered to her Plymouth friends. Mrs. Hooker is one of those tireless political workers who has been able to build up many excellent women Republican organizations around the state.

Mrs. Margaret Norton of Rochester, a sister of Mrs. Maude Schrader of this city and well known in Plymouth, now associated with the Republican National Committee, was present and sent greetings to Plymouth friends.

Dick Hedke, former president of Rotary International and one of Detroit's leaders in charitable and community activities, was among the large number of those present. Mr. Hedke has frequently addressed the Plymouth Rotary club.

Senator George Higgins of Ferndale told the writer that he is definitely a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress in the Oakland county district. The contest between Congressman Dondero and Mr. Higgins will be an interesting one. His decision to enter this race will leave the way open for a new state senator for the Washenaw-Oakland district. There are almost twice as many voters in the Washenaw-Oakland senatorial district as there are in the newly created Oakland county congressional district.

Smith Memorial Fund Progresses

Harry E. Reeves, chairman of the Board of Directors of the George A. Smith Memorial Fund says the fund is steadily growing and more than $500 has been given thus far. Mr. Reeves states that gifts from admirers of the late Mr. Smith are coming in each day in various amounts.

A few organizations have contributed and many more have indicated a desire to do so. Some of them have just reconvened from summer vacations and are working on this now.

Mr. Reeves states that this organized effort to seek contributions will continue throughout the month of October and it is hoped that all contributions can be in by November 1.

This fund will be used for the purpose for which Mr. Smith dedicated his life; that of helping young people get an education. College expenses are mounting these days and it is the aim of this Memorial Board to allow worthy and needy students to be able to draw upon this fund if they need money to begin, or to complete their education.

Gifts may be mailed, or taken, in any amount to Edna Allen, 305 Arthur street, or to either bank in Plymouth. Many of our Livonia neighbors, who graduated from Plymouth High school have expressed a desire to contribute and they can do so at the branch bank in Livonia.

The next Board meeting will be on November 13, at the home of Lewis Goddard, 1227 W. Maple.

The commissioners took the oath before the city commissioners and the members of the charter commission. City Clerk, A. F. Glasford, administered the oath of office to the new commissioners.

Commissioners Arlen and Daane may not participate in official city business until November 1. However, the city commission does not meet again until November 5, and there is the possibility of having to transact urgent official business between November 1 and 5.

Later in the meeting Mr. Glasford resigned as city clerk. The resignation is effective November 1. Under the new charter, one person may not hold the position of city manager simultaneously with that of the city clerk. A new city clerk will be appointed in the near future.

New Sidewalks To Be Straight

Sidewalks constructed in Plymouth in the future shall follow a straight line regardless of trees, is to be the future policy as decided upon by the city commissioners, at the regular meeting, October 15.

At several locations in the city, the sidewalks were built around the trees. The majority of the commissioners felt that these sidewalks are inconvenient and spoil the planning of the city.

Mrs. Harry Mack of North Mill Street has been visiting in the home of her son, Norman Mack and family in Birmingham.

Mrs. William Squires of N. Canton Center road had an Easter Lily given her last Spring. It was in full bloom at Easter time and again in July it had two blooms, and now it has one more bloom.

Two more buds are out and will bloom soon if the frost doesn't come before they get out.

The flower has a bell 6 inches in length.

Anyone desiring to see this out-of-season blooming will be welcomed at the home of Mrs. Squires on Canton Center road.

If the lot had been purchased beforehand much thought as to location and detail could have been decided on under normal circumstances.

New sections have been opened up in the cemetery and these lots are on sale now. Over $1000 in pre-need lots have been sold during the past few weeks. Mr. Sibold says there are also many beautiful spots in the older developed area of the cemetery.

Anyone desiring any information on these lots contact Mr. Sibold at the City Hall.

William Merrill To Direct Guild

(Continued from Page 1) apple barn. The start was short however for Bill was soon inducted into the Army where he served with the Signal Corps doing radar work. But the Army, recognizing his ability in theater work, sent him to New York. There, for two years, he worked with the special services section producing and directing all the legitimate stage shows sent overseas.

Following his five years in the Army, Mr. Merrill returned to Detroit where he produced and directed shows at the Music Hall. Here under his able hands appeared, among others, Lucille Ball in "Dream Girl," Jose Ferrar and Clare Trevor in "Goodbye Again," and Brian Donlevy in "What Price Glory."

In 1948, after the successful downtown season, Mr. Merrill reopened Will-O-Way, and then in the winter of 1948-49, started the Sombro Playhouse in Phoenix, Arizona. In Phoenix, Mr. Merrill was again able to secure the services of such modern and old time greats as Clare Trevor, William Bendix, Jane Cowell, and Gregory Peck.

At the present time Mr. Merrill has dropped his interest in the Sombro Playhouse in order to concentrate his efforts around the Detroit area. Besides directing the Plymouth Theater Guild's next show, Mr. Merrill is also working on "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," a television show to be presented October 31 on Channel 7 for the Detroit Edison Co.

UNCORKING THE NEWS
By Carl Peterson

We managed to control our surprise when Pres. Truman announced that Russia won't settle its bill to the U. S. We don't feel we're fumbling away any state secrets when we admit we sort of suspected it for some time. The U.S. has been asking the Soviets for $300 million to pay for the $11 billion we let them have in Lend-Lease supplies during World War II. Even at the bargain price the Russians are no more ready to settle than dust in a windstorm. Bill Shakespeare once said, "Never a borrower nor a lender be, for you lose the loan and the friend." Maybe we need a few more classic scholars in govt.

We wish to extend a hearty welcome to the new Kresge store. Best of luck.

Antique Collection of Hosiery at Dunning's

A collection of antique hosiery features an unusual window display this week at Dunning's store on Forest avenue.

The Alba Hosiery Company of New York have collected stockings that were made in France between the years 1830 and 1920, which are fascinating examples of the elaborate style of that period.

These antique stockings have been on display all over the nation in the larger cities and recently thousands saw the same collection at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

Mr. Howard Holder from Alba's New York office will be at Dunning's Saturday, October 20, from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., and will answer any questions customers may ask about hosiery.

An ad on another page of this issue gives more information about this collection.

Plymouth Sees Fire Equipment Demonstration

(Continued from page one) they would use if there were a real fire. The firemen sprayed approximately 1500 gallons of water a minute on the street, the spectators, and themselves.

This demonstration, a part of the city's observation of Fire Prevention week, should ease the minds of Plymouth residents who worry about the amount of fire equipment in case of a large fire. According to Fire Chief Robert McAllister, the Plymouth township fire department arrived only one minute after the city department. Northville arrived a short while later. The eight rigs involved are only a few of those available in case of extreme emergency.

The cooperation displayed by these companies in coming out to demonstrate their equipment is indicative of the cooperation the city will receive in time of emergency.

"These volunteer firemen are firemen not because of the pay they receive, but because of the service they can give to the community," said Plymouth township fire chief, W. C. Koch.

After the demonstration, the firemen returned to the city hall for coffee and donuts, furnished by Terry's bakery, Stop and Shop and the D. and C. store.

IT TAKES the scripting efforts of seven full-time writers to keep those laughs coming Milton Berle's way," says a press release.

When you consider that most of Berle's laughs are induced by his running around in his underwear, making faces that would make a garage look like Prince Charming and such hilariously riotous lines as "I'll kill you a million times!" it causes one to speculate as to why seven writers are needed and how they justify their salaries.

Although they have not been too successful with radio thus far, Martin and Lewis are said to be considering another plunge into the medium, via NBC. . . . Ezio Pinza, who has just been signed to a five-year radio and TV contract by NBC and who made a very successful debut recently, may be teamed by that network with Cass Daley on TV guest shots, along the lines of the Jimmy Durante-Helen Traubel success. . . . The latter experiment was good fun, but combining opera and comedy all the time can be overdone and more detrimental than good to opera.

OFF-THE-CUFF CHAPTER

That adventure series, "Space Cadet," will shortly be featured as a comic strip in some 40 newspapers across the country. . . . "The Pickersoons" may invade TV again with Lew Parker and Claire Trevor in the roles made famous by Don Ameche and Frances Langford. . . . Lew and Frances went on TV in this show last season but it died a quiet death and no one could figure out why. . . . The reason was the absence of Don who was the perfect John Bickerson. . . . Now they want to eliminate the perfect Blanche in replacing Frances with Claire Trevor. . . . will one ever understand the reasoning behind moves by these big-time radio, movie and television producers?

"Any reduction to the trade?"

Spicer Speaks To Local Society

Forty members of the Plymouth Historical Society attended the regular monthly meeting on October 11. It was held in the Arthur Mills home on North Harvey street. Mrs. Grace Brown, president, presided.

Samuel W. Spicer, treasurer of Plymouth township exhibited two land grants, one signed by President John Quincy Adams, the other bearing the signature of President Andrew Jackson, which were issued to Archibald Y. Murray. Mr. Murray was the grandfather of Mrs. Samuel W. Spicer, the former Miss Alma Murray. The land conveyed by these grants is still in the possession of the Spicer family.

The original set-up of Wayne county was then traced by Mr. Spicer as follows: A Proclamation of August 15, 1796 declared the area around Detroit as Wayne Co. This area was all of the Lower Peninsula, most of the Upper Peninsula, a substantial part of Eastern Wisconsin, naming Milwaukee, a strip of Eastern Wisconsin, naming Milwaukee, a strip of eastern Illinois, naming Chicago, northern Indiana, Ohio, and into Pennsylvania. At various dates parts were taken from and later restored as it became more explored and settled until by proclamation January 15, 1818 Wayne County was only about twice its present size. The extra area was the east part of Washtenaw county and southern Oakland county. In 1822 it was ceded by most of Washtenaw county but by an Act of November 20, 1826, after the organization of Washtenaw county Wayne county was cut to about its present area.

On April 12, 1827 Wayne Co. was divided into Seven Townships of various sizes. Huron in the Southwest was four of the present townships. Bucklin was the Livonia, Redford, Nankin and Backlin. In 1832 Bucklin became Dearborn Township. Plymouth composed Northville, the present Plymouth, and Canton townships.

On March 7, 1830 Plymouth lost the south 36 square miles and Canton township was formed. Then on April 1898 Plymouth township again lost when the north 13 square miles were taken to form the present Township of Northville. On May 20, 1932 portions of Plymouth Townships comprising parts of Sec. 22 and 23, parts of Sec. 26 and 27, and parts of Sec. 54 and 35 were incorporated as the City of Plymouth, leaving about 14 sections or square miles of the prosperous Township of Plymouth of today.

Lee King played several sections on the guitar and banjo and also sang.

Mrs. Hugh Means and Mrs. Fred Truesdell assisted Mrs. Mills in serving refreshments.

The November 8 meeting will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cassady, North Territorial road.

Miss Virginia Sessions who has been the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groth and daughter Molly for the past few weeks has gone to New York state to visit with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sessions before returning to her home in Tajuaga, California.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

The Rocks engaged in a tough football game last Friday evening. I can easily see why this boy Gerry Lowe is rated as a good prospect for all-state honors. Without him Trenton would have been just another so-so football team. What I can't understand is where was he last year when the Rocks ran all over Trenton and trounced them 39 to 6.

There were times though when it looked as though some of the boys had formed an opinion about his greatness and sort of shied away from getting too near him. The tackling in this game was below par and that more than anything else can be blamed for losing the game.

The two important fundamentals of football—blocking and tackling—are needed to win any game in this fall sport. By tackling I mean a good, clean tackle around the legs and not a necktie tackle, or grabbing the shirt, or trying to push the runner out of bounds when he may be 10 yards inside the field.

That was a rough game Friday night as attested by the number of penalties assessed against Trenton. But I have said before—the Rocks should be able to hit just as hard and do it in a clean way. If we can't hit as hard we had better change our nicknames from the "Rocks."

All in all I think the boys played a good game of football the other night, and they deserve much credit for the way they have played and the spirit they have shown this year. May we get bigger and better each week as we go along!

Remember Keith Ebersole and Pat Kearney. Keith is playing football at Michigan Normal now and has been doing the kicking and line-backing for the Hurons. Keith graduated from Plymouth in 1949 after starring in football and basketball for four years.

Pat is playing football down at Concord college at Athens, West Virginia. He writes that I made an error some weeks ago when I stated that Plymouth and Northville would not be playing this year for the first time in history—Pat, I meant to say that it was for the first time since the Elton R. Eaton Friendship trophy was inaugurated. (You are better at checking errors now than you were in my law class in 1948.)

I'll have an article on these two boys in the near future. The last few issues we have been without that article on some of our graduates, but it will be resumed shortly. Many have asked about it, and I am glad to see that you are interested.

Visitation was held in Plymouth on Friday, October 12, when Mabel Rebekah's presented the Bluebird to Plymouth. There were 108 Rebekahs present and I'm sure the wonderful evening was enjoyed by each and everyone present.

The Michigan Rebekah Assembly was October 15, 16, 17 in Grand Rapids. Representatives attending from Plymouth were Roma Krumm and Mable Hunter. Lydia Drove attended the assembly on October 16.

Lowe Beats Plymouth

In a thrill-packed gridiron encounter last Friday night Plymouth bowed to a hard-hitting Trenton outfit 19 to 14 before a capacity crowd at the high school athletic field.

The whistle denoting the start of hostilities had no more than stopped blowing when the thrills began. Al Williams kicked off to Trenton's Long, who ran it back 80 yards and was pulled down from behind on Plymouth's 5 yard line. On the third try, Lowe carried it over for a touchdown from the one foot line. The conversion attempt was wide of the goal post.

Plymouth received the kickoff and began a march up the field and without yielding the ball scored a touchdown. Dave Travis, Ron Ritter and Don Beaver tore the Trenton line to shreds for several long gains during this march. Don Beaver swept around his own right end to score from the 5 yard line. Al Williams extra point kick split the uprights and Plymouth was out in front by a score of 7 to 6.

Trenton received the kickoff and roared back without giving up the ball and scored on a 50 yard pass play from Lowe to Deerfield, who was all alone and ran unmolested across the Rocks goal line to make the score read 12 to 7 at the end of the first quarter.

Trenton's all-state prospect, Lowe, again proved to the fans why he is rated so highly when he scampered 60 yards around his own right end for Trenton's last points. Then he passed to Deerfield for the extra point making the score 18 to 7 as the half ended.

Plymouth came out determined to get back in the ball game and when Trenton fumbled in mid-field and Plymouth recovered the drive was on. With the three backs, Travis, Beaver and Ritter aided by Ron Finney, going for much yardage, the Rocks finally scored when Travis sliced off tackle and on a cutback went 13 yards to score standing up in the end zone. Al Williams converted making it 19 to 14 in favor of Trenton as the third quarter ended.

The game was quite rough with Trenton being penalized a total of 95 yards and Plymouth 20. Twice penalties prevented other Trenton scores as Lowe once romped 40 yards to score, but was called back when the Trojans had been guilty of an infraction of the rules. Again they reached the Rock 4 yard line only to be penalized twice for 15 yards each time.

Plymouth made more first downs leading Trenton in that department 14 to 9. The Rocks gained 200 yards rushing with Dave Travis leading the way with 16 rushes good for a total of 106 yards.

Plymouth completed 4 passes out of 10 attempts. Trenton completed 2 out of 7.

Inability to stop Lowe, or to tackle effectively were contributing factors in this loss.

Tomorrow Plymouth travels to Redford Union to tackle the league leading Panthers, who haven't lost a game this year. They won from Trenton by a score of 8 to 0.

Rocks Take On League Leaders

Tomorrow evening the Plymouth High Rocks travel to Redford Union to tackle the unbeaten Panthers.

The Panthers have swept aside all opposition this year and have a good defense as none of their wins have been by large scores. They defeated Bentley in the opener 20 to 0. Then they handed Trenton their only defeat 8 to 0. Next they squeezed past Belleville 13 to 12, and last week they downed Allen Park 6 to 0. They have blanketed their opponents in all but the Belleville game.

Many local rooters will follow the team to Redford Union tomorrow night to lend support to the Rocks, who are playing some good football despite their two setbacks—each by a single touchdown.

Redford Union Alone in 1st Place

In games around this area last weekend Redford Union continued unbeaten in league play when they tripped once beaten Allen Park 6 to 0. Belleville won over Bentley 6 to 0. Northville won from Center Line 27 to 7. Walled Lake edged Berkley 21 to 18. Inkster won the title in the newly formed Metro-Suburban league by handling Garden City their first loss 13 to 0.

Wayne defeated Bay City Handy 13 to 6 and Ypsilanti downed Romulus 18 to 7.

The 6-B Suburban standings are as follows:

W	L
Redford Union	4 0
Trenton	3 1
Plymouth	2 2
Allen Park	2 2
Belleville	1 3
Bentley	0 4

7th and 8th Graders Open Grid Season With Loss

The 7th and 8th grade football team opened their season last week by absorbing a beating from the Trenton 7th and 8th graders to the tune of 27 to 0.

The Trojans crossed the Junior Rocks goal line four times and counted three points after touchdowns. The half-time score was 21 to 0.

Two of the touchdowns came on long end runs of around 60 yards. The third on a pass play and the last one on a five-yard plunge through center.

Trenton had one advantage in that they had already played one game, and Trenton also had a team last year, whereas this is the first year for a 7th and 8th grade team in Plymouth.

Yesterday Trenton returned to Plymouth for a game, and next Thursday the Rocks conclude their brief schedule with a game at Allen Park. All games are at 4 o'clock.

Balogh's Record Paces Rock Loss

The Plymouth thincads were outrun by the Trenton hill and dale boys and came out on the short end of a 25 to 35 score. The meet was held over at Trenton last Friday afternoon.

John Balogh, Plymouth's star distance man, set a new record for the Trenton course when he chalked up a time of 10:47 for the two mile grind.

Balogh was followed by Ed Grosjean, who finished fourth, Jim Blanton 7th, Marvin Green 8th and Roger Bogenschutz 10th. Trenton finished 2nd, 3rd, 5th, 6th, and 9th for their 25 points.

Tomorrow the Plymouth Cross-country team takes on another good team when they meet the Redford Union Panthers at 4 o'clock on the Riverside Park course.

Next week Thursday, the league meet will be held at Belleville at 2:30 p.m. This meet determines the league championship, and this year that promises to be close as there are four teams with about the same strength.

Plymouth Mail Want Ads will get you fast results.

Ninth Graders Wallop Trenton on Grid 33-0

The 9th grade team did something the varsity couldn't do last week for they trounced the Trenton 9th graders on the Trojans home field by a score of 33 to 0.

The Rock's Juve led the Plymouth scorers when he romped over the goal line for three touchdowns. Fienczi made one, Luker one and Gobil made a touchdown and also scored three extra points.

All 6 touchdowns were made on runs. The junior Rocks led at the half 21 to 0.

Every player on the squad played well.

"Get Permission" Before You Hunt

Many hunters have been bringing back those pheasants and many more will get their bird before the season closes. Jack Van Coevering, Free Press Hunting and Fishing writer says the slogan this year is "Get Permission From the Farmers First." Implied in this new slogan is the obligation to conduct yourself as a guest on the farmer's property. That means to put yourself in the farmer's place when you are tramping over his land.

Some things to remember—If you had worked all summer over a field of soy beans, you would not walk through that field in October when pods burst at the slightest touch.

If you had a herd of cows that you expected to bring in at night, you would not want to spend half the night getting them out of a neighbor's pasture or the woodlot where they had gone after some hunter had left the gate open.

If you had worked a week or so fixing up the fences you would not feel too kindly over the hunter who broke them down by pulling down the wires.

If you had a flock of chickens, you would not feel too good if the city hunter's "bird" dog began chasing them.

And if you were doing chores on the farm you would not be too happy to hear birdshot peppering the sidings.

No farmer wants to see an army on his farm. And play fair. Don't get permission for one car and have the other one waiting around the corner. That's one way to make it tough for the next fellow.

She is survived by two sons, Stanley Pytlewicz of Detroit, and George Coppersmith of Livonia, and one daughter, Pauline Gorel. Services were from St. Michael's church with interment in Riverside cemetery.

Jean Carmody Bride of Charles Finlan

Our Lady of Good Counsel church was the scene of the wedding of Jean Ann Carmody, daughter of Donald M. Carmody of Plymouth and the late Mrs. Mrs. Carmody, to Charles Peter Finlan, son of Mrs. C. Harold Finlan and the late Mr. Finlan also of Plymouth.

The nuptial high mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock on October 13 with the Reverend Father McClear officiating before an altar of white mums. Father McClear is a cousin of the bridegroom and is on leave of absence from his parish in Guatemala. Altar boys were Patrick Carmody brother of the bride and Richard Bennett.

For the double ring ceremony Jean chose a gown of white satin and Belgian lace fashioned with sweetheart neckline trimmed in seed pearls and a hooped skirt which swept into a cathedral train. Her fingertip length veil of silk illusion, a family heirloom, fell from a cap of Belgian lace. She carried a cascade of stephanotis, white orchids and ivy.

The maid of honor, Elsie Buga of Detroit, wore a gown of hunter green velvet with a sweetheart neckline and hooped skirt. Her small cap and gloves were of matching material and she carried a cascade of bronze mums and ivy.

The bridesmaids, Virginia Despres of Grand Rapids and Susan Bergeon of Mason, both cousins of the bride, wore gowns of bronze velvet fashioned like that of the maid of honor. Their bouquets were cascades of bronze mums and ivy. The flower girl, Rosemary Mieden of LaSalle, cousin of the bridegroom, wore a gown of buttersweet taffeta.

Charles chose his brother, Patrick for his best man. Seating the guests were Thomas Carmody and Donald Carmody, Jr. brothers of the bride.

A quaint, old-fashioned touch was lent to the ceremony when the newlyweds were taken to the Mayflower Hotel for the wedding breakfast and later to the Carmody home on Wilcox road for the reception, in a horse drawn surrey.

Mrs. B. N. Guedry of Grand Rapids, aunt of the bride, wore a green taffeta costume suit and brown accessories. Mrs. Finlan chose a sapphire blue costume suit with black accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

The young couple left immediately for an Eastern honeymoon. For traveling the new Mrs. Finlan wore a frost brown wool suit with an orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return the newlyweds will make their home near Ft. Riley, Kansas where Mr. Finlan is stationed in the U.S. Army.

William Powell of Union street is still confined to St. Joseph's hospital Ann Arbor. This is his 10th week at the hospital and his condition is still critical.

Bernice Warren of Dearborn and Charles R. Rowe of Ford road, Plymouth repeated their nuptial vows at the Calvary Baptist church, Dearborn and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rowe of Ford road are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend William Montgomery officiated at the rites before an altar banked with palms, baskets of gladioli and candleabra. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Thomas Warror of Flint sang "Through the Years," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" preceding the ceremony.

Bernice chose for her wedding a gown of ivory satin trimmed in Alencon lace studded in seed pearls. The portrait neckline was of illusion and the long sleeves extended into points over the wrist. The full skirt fell into a cathedral train. She wore a Juliet cap of satin etched with seed pearls from which fell her fingertip length veil of illusion. Her bouquet was of white phalaenopsis and ivy and centered with a white orchid.

Miss Nadine Pesh, the maid of honor, wore a coral rose gown with velvet bodice and full nylon tulle floor length skirt. They carried bouquets of yellow Fuji mums and pompoms with ivy. The bridesmaids, Helen Ross, Jean Sutter, Janet Roberts, and Barbara Gibbs wore gowns made identical to that of the maid of honor maid but in aqua. Raymond Pesh assisted the bridegroom as best man, Ushers were Bud Sutter and Robert Roebke.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony for 300 guests. The young couple spent their honeymoon in Washington, D. C., New York City, New Jersey and Niagara Falls. # Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Apples Win Praise As Top Health Food

Michigan's four favorite apple varieties— Wealthy, McIntosh, Jonathan and Delicious—are being offered to consumers at every grocery store. Because of the abundant supply at reasonable prices they are being used in lunch boxes, as apple pie, apple sauce, baked apples and other apple desserts. The question now arises as to how much truth there is in our oft repeated "Apple a day..." slogan.

Mary Bodwell, food economist for the agricultural economics department at Michigan State College, answers this way: "Although eating an apple a day is no guarantee of perfect health, apples are one of our best health-giving foods."

Since the beginning of mankind the apple has been looked on as a healthful food. Now modern science has proved it.

Apples add bulk, acid and pectin to the diet as well as fruit sugars, vitamins and minerals. Pectin, which makes jellies "jel" is considered an aid to good intestinal health. For that reason apples are often used in the treatment of intestinal disorders. They are one of the few fruits used in the first solid food of infants' diets.

Apples generally contain a fair supply of vitamin C, the vitamin which cannot be stored in the body so is needed in the daily diet. The amount of vitamin C varies greatly with apple varieties, the length of time they are stored and the way they are prepared. Miss Bodwell explains. Overcooking, for example, destroys much of the vitamin C content. It is most available when the fruit is eaten raw.

In addition to being an excellent food apples have for centuries been a favorite fruit because of their flavor, crispness, color and good keeping qualities. Because of the excellent quality and good supply of Michigan apples they find many places in the daily diet.

To keep your family from becoming tired of apples try some of these different recipes.

Cheese Apples

1 jar nippy processed cheese-5 oz.
2 teaspoons green sugar
1 teaspoon red sugar
12 whole cloves
Mold cheese into 12 balls, 3 1/2" in diameter, roll balls in green sugar, leaving a few bare spots. Roll lightly in red sugar. Stick a whole clove in top of each. Serve with apple pie.

Apple Strudel Moderne

For a "quickie" try making Apple Strudel with a layer of corn flakes, then thinly sliced apples, sugar, cinnamon, and a dot of butter. Repeat layers. Bake in moderate oven. Serve with cream if desired.

Vary your apple pies with some of these unusual ways.

For instances, the filling of the pie may be made entirely of grated raw apple. Raisins may be included with the apples for more flavor variation. Grated cheese may be sprinkled under the top crust or even added to the crust. A mixture of flour, butter and sugar may be sprinkled over the top of the filling before adding the top pastry.

Open-face pie versions present an opportunity to show off the filling. Design an apple from the pastry for topping big pies or tarts—not forgetting the apples leaves. Or weave pastry strips over the filling. For the finest results in tenderness and flakiness every time, use lard as shortening. Cut the lard into the flour-salt mixture until the crumbs are pea size. Then add water, a little at a time, working it quickly through the mixture. Roll the pastry out to about 1/8-inch thickness.

Special Apple Pie With Bran Crust

1/4 cup shredded bran
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 3/4 cup lard
3 to 6 tablespoons cold water

Roll bran and combine with flour and salt. Cut lard into flour mixture until crumbs are about the size of small peas. Add cold water, a little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly through flour with a fork until dough just holds in a ball. Use as little water as possible. This makes enough pastry for a two-crust 9-inch pie. Roll one-half the dough to about 1/8 inch in thickness and line pie pan, allowing 1/2 inch of the crust to extend over the edge. Add filling. Roll out remaining pastry, making several gashes or a design to allow escape of steam, and place over filling. Allow top crust to overlap lower crust. Fold top crust under the lower. Crimp edges. Bake in a hot oven (425° F) for 35 minutes or until apples are done.

Apple Filling

5 cups grated red apples, peeling on
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Combine all ingredients except the butter. Pour into unbaked pastry and dot with butter.

MULLED CIDER AND DELICIOUS DOUGHNUTS

The pungent bouquet of mulled cider, the familiar tastiness of bakers' tender doughnuts will bring gaiety to any gathering of young or old. With these, serve caramel apples or peppermint stick candy.

MULLED CIDER

8 whole cloves
1 stick cinnamon
1 quart apple cider
Sliced lemons
Add cloves and cinnamon to apple cider. Heat well, but do not boil. When ready to serve, pour hot cider over lemon slices.
Yield: 4 servings.

How to Cook Meat in Liquid

1. Brown meat on all sides in own fat or lard, when desirable.
2. Season with salt and pepper.
3. Cover with liquid, cover kettle, cook below boiling point until tender.
4. Add vegetables just long enough before serving to be cooked.

Meat Cuts for Cooking in Liquid

BEEF: Neck, Shank, Heel of Round, Plate, Brisket, Short Ribs, Corned Beef, Stew Meat.
VEAL: Neck, Breast, Shoulder, Stew Meat.
SMOKED PORK: Ham, Picnic, Shoulder Butt.
LAMB: Shanks, Stew Meat.
VARIETY MEATS: Heart, Kidney, Tongue, Brains, Sweetbreads.

Special Points on Cooking in Liquid

1. Many large cuts such as corned beef, cured pork and tongue are not browned before adding liquid.
2. If the meat is to be served cold, let it cool, and then chill in the stock in which it was cooked. It will be more flavorful and juicy and will shrink less.
3. Simmer meat cooked in liquid, never boil. Boiling makes the meat stringy, dry, less flavorful and more difficult to carve.

Short Ribs and Vegetables

2 lb. short ribs
1/2 cup flour
4 tablespoons shortening
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 cups cooked tomatoes
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup diced carrots
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Cut ribs into serving pieces and dip in flour. Melt shortening in skillet and brown meat well. Season. Add remaining ingredients. Cover. Cook slowly for 2 hours. Gravy may be thickened if desired.

MEAT CUT Quiz

Q. What are these meat cuts called?
A. Beef short ribs.
Q. Where do they come from and how are they identified?
A. They are cut from ends of beef ribs and contain layers of lean and fat.
Q. How are they prepared?
A. By braising or cooking in liquid. In both cases the meat is first browned. In braising from 1/2 to 3/4 cup of liquid is added, the utensil covered and the meat cooked until tender. When cooking in liquid, the short ribs are completely covered with water, the utensil covered and the meat simmered for 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

Kitchen Doors May be Drawback

Doors often are a drawback to an efficient kitchen by being placed where they break into the line of work by separating equipment or bringing in traffic, or opening in an inconvenient direction.

Modern kitchen designers generally aim at just two doors, one to the interior and the other to the outside, with both, if possible, at the same end of the room where they will not interrupt the smooth working line of equipment. In remodeling an old kitchen, consider the possibility of closing off a door or two and using the space for needed cupboards. If the room is large, it may be possible to save steps by placing some equipment in an "island" or peninsular arrangement in the center of the kitchen instead of having it scattered about the walls.

Every time you have to go past a door to get from one piece of equipment to another, you walk five or six feet farther than if there were no door. The two and a half or three feet width of a door may not seem very much, but, doubled, this distance can add up considerably while you are getting just one meal.

The direction in which doors open also deserves consideration, especially the doors of refrigerator and cupboard door should open toward the counter to save steps and time. Refrigerator and standing floor cupboards should be placed so that the door handle is nearest the counter. Then supplies may be stacked or held conveniently while door is opened. Though most refrigerators are made with the hinge of the door on the right and the handle on the left, some models open in the opposite direction. This is a point to check in planning a kitchen or buying a refrigerator. If the hinge is next to the counter, you will have six feet or unnecessary walking every time you go to the refrigerator.

Gives Tips on Use of Honey in Home

The new crop of Michigan honey is being harvested and offered to consumers in markets all over the state. Most of it will be offered to homemakers in the form of extracted honey, but comb, cut comb, chunk, and solid or finely crystallized or creamed honey is also available says Mary Bodwell, food economist for the agricultural economics department, Michigan State college.

The delicate flavor of honey is produced by the blossoms from which the bees gather nectar. Most of Michigan's honey comes from clover which gives a mild flavor and a "white" honey. Some amber honey will be available but only a small quantity of dark honey is sold here. Honey sold in Michigan is required by law to be graded and labeled as to color.

If you have storage space, it is more economical to buy honey in large size containers. Store extracted honey in a dry place. Honey must be kept dry because it absorbs moisture readily. Freezing will not injure the color of flavor but may hasten granulation. Since bacteria which cause diseases cannot live in honey it does not need to be sterilized. Honey should not be refrigerated.

Honey which has granulated can be liquefied by placing the container in a bowl of warm—not hot—water until the crystals are melted.

Here are a few points to remember in using honey, which Miss Bodwell gives.

1. One cup of honey contains 1/4 cup of liquid. In using honey in place of sugar use a quarter cup less liquid in the recipe for each cup of honey you use.

2. It is customary to use from a quarter to a half teaspoon of soda for each cup of honey in addition to the amount of baking powder called for in the recipe. This neutralizes the acidity in the honey and gives a milder flavor to the baked product.

3. A lower oven temperature is required for baked goods made with honey. Honey products brown very quickly.

4. Honey is easier to measure accurately if the spoon or cup is greased first with a little fat.

5. Granulated honey may be used with equal success to the liquid form if the product is cooked or baked so the granules have a chance to meet and blend.

6. Cakes and cookies made with honey retain their moisture and keep for long periods without drying out and staling.

Pioneer Turkey Growers of Plymouth Decide to Retire

There will be regrets among hundreds of Thanksgiving turkey buyers when they learn that Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hersh of Joy road, who for more than half a century have grown turkeys for the Thanksgiving day dinner tables, have gone out of the turkey business.

"We just feel that we are getting too old to do all the work connected with raising turkeys. You know, in order to keep your flock in good condition and see to it that night prowling dogs or hieves do not stampede your flock, you have to stay up all night during the weeks just before Thanksgiving to watch the turkeys. We used to take turns in doing that. One night Mrs. Hersh would sit up and watch the flock, then the next night would be my turn," said Mr. Hersh the other day when telling of their retirement from the turkey business.

It was more than 50 years ago when the then youthful Hersh couple started raising a flock of turkeys every year. There was such a demand for their turkeys that it wasn't long before they raised flocks of a thousand or more for their holiday trade.
There was one year they skipped however. That "skip" was due to one of the many dirty, low-down tricks played by New Dealers and their political stooges during the year of price regulations and juggling in the days of the New Deal of Crooked Deal or whatever you might call it.

Some club over in Dearborn came over to Plymouth to buy two or three turkeys for a special dinner it was giving. They said they had heard about the wonderfully good turkeys that the elderly farm couple out on Joy road produced. The Hersh family, although growing the top grade in turkeys, never charged more than the regular market price, and they sold these two or three turkeys to some outfit over in Dearborn for the same price that everybody else had to pay.

Some weeks after, they were summoned to appear before the rationing board at the Plymouth city hall, where they were threatened with all the penalties, plus a jail sentence, that could be found in the books. It is said the tongue lashing this elderly couple received by a New Deal stooge was of such a nature that it would have done credit to the Hitler Gustapo. It appears that, either through a frame-up or the cheapness of some member of the Dearborn club, they had reported that they paid a cent or two for dressed turkeys more than what the New Deal said they could charge. The elderly couple left the city hall almost in tears. They didn't know anything about any regulations of farm products at the time.

It was the next year after this happened that they skipped the production of a turkey crop. They didn't want to get mixed up any more with the brand of politics that even to this day seeks the control of the rights and actions of every individual.

How many thousands of turkeys the Hersh couple have raised during the past 50 years or more, they are unable to estimate. But it would run high up into the thousands.

So if you have been one of the regular customers who for years have bought your Thanksgiving or Christmas turkey from the Hersh family, better begin to plan now for some other source, because this elderly and highly respected couple raised no turkeys this year and they do not plan to raise any next year. Fortunately, however, there are a number of other turkey growers in this vicinity who have gone into the business in recent years, so if you desire to buy a nice home-grown turkey for the holidays, you will find other growers who will be able to supply your needs.

All of which adds up to one conclusion: the smart thing to do is come in and give this neat and nimble new SPECIAL a thorough going-over.

Try out its power—the power of its high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball Engine.

Try out its ride and handling—and you'll discover it has the "big-car feel" that you'd expect from a Buick.

Try it out for size — for room — for comfort — for all the things that you've dreamed someday of having in a car—and you'll thank your stars that you found out the facts of life in time.

Duck Hunter Gets A Good Ducking

Plymouth duck hunters had good luck during the first two or three days at the opening of the season, but it was certainly a tough time for pheasant hunters in this vicinity.

They drove up and down the highways, across fields and through the woods trying to find some place to hunt that was not posted.

Some crawled over the back fences of posted places. A few paid little or no attention to posted property—and some of these face trouble as farmers got their numbers and may retaliate.

Some few hunters got their pheasants, but not many. Everybody seemed to be wearing a hunting license—and growling about so many posted farms.

The posting was chiefly due to the fact that the conservation commission openly defied farmers and gave hunters permission to use rifles during the hunting season. As a result of this action thousands and thousands of acres of farm lands was closed to hunters.

As far as can be learned there were no accidents in this vicinity, but one well known Plymouth sportsman got a good ducking up on Saginaw bay.

Don Lightfoot had taken his young son up on the bay to show him how to hunt duck properly, as any good sportsman should.

They had brought down a duck and Don was punting their duck boat over near some reeds to retrieve the bird. As he stood in the back of the boat, a wave hit it broadside and over into the waters went Mr. Lightfoot. It was a complete "ducking" as he went way under. The son helped pull him back into the boat and even though he was thoroughly soaked, he continued to hunt the remainder of the day.

Russell Powell, Jack Selle and William Ranbo report good luck. They hunted duck at their favorite spot near Sebawaing. The first day didn't bring any luck because there was an "army" there, said Duck hunter Powell.

But we waited until the army returned home and as a result had very good luck on Monday. We got mostly red-heads, one of the best ducks on the bay" he said.

Not many others have reported as to their good fortune, but it is stated that most duck hunters, while not filling their limit, had fairly good luck.

P. T. A. Stresses Cooperation

"Overlapping of interests and responsibility for the children will keep the cooperation working between the home and the school", said Rev. L. F. Heins in his talk to the teachers and parents gathered at the meeting last Monday of the Cooper P.T.A., adding, "The objects of the Parent Teachers are worth while and a high goal towards and for which we all should strive."

The Parent Education Institute will be held in Ann Arbor November 7 and 8. Mr. E. Erdman has volunteered to take a carload with him, those interested in going please contact the secretary, Francis Gaffney.

The turn out at this meeting was exceptional and most encouraging to the new officer. The singing and games were enjoyed by all. To further stress the topic of cooperation the teachers took the parents on a tour of the class rooms and were shown some of the children's handy work. To develop between educators and the general public such uniting efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education is one of the principal objects of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers of which you can be a part, by attending and joining your P.T.A.

Roger Babson Says --

Babson Doesn't Fear Inflation

Now Babson Park, Mass., October 18. Most people worry at the wrong time, and worry about the wrong thing. A few years ago when no one was fearful of inflation, readers know I was continually warning against it. In fact, the Frederick A. Stokes Company of New York published in 1937 a book by me entitled "If Inflation Comes." At that time no one paid any attention to the book or to inflation; but recently the book has gone through ten editions. People are now frightened about inflation.

People Are Usually Wrong
In 1937 the cost-of-living index was 103. Since then it has risen 80 percent and average weekly earnings have risen 160 percent. Now all the columnists are warning of inflation! It is just like the stock market. When stocks are cheap, as they were in 1932 and 1933, no one was interested in buying them; but in 1951 when they have risen 175 percent and the Dow-Jones Average is up from 100 in 1933 to 275 today, people want to buy stocks.

I am not condoning inflation. It is bad. But there is no legitimate excuse for the increase in prices and the cost-of-living. If people had been worried about inflation in the thirties, as they are today, inflation would not have happened. It is just as bad now to fear inflation will "bust the country" as it was then to ignore it.

Let's Look at the Record

After every great war, until now, there has been a decline in the cost-of-living. After the Civil War, 1861-1865, the cost-of-living gradually declined until 1896. After World War I, the cost-of-living, beginning in 1920, declined until it reached a low point in 1933. The cost-of-living then fluctuated for a few years and again increased during World War II. The natural thing would have been for it to be on the decline again today. If it followed the course of all previous wars, including the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, and World War I, we would now have deflation instead of inflation.

The truth is that the present trend is contrary to previous economic history. Inflationary prices are due to Organized Labor, aided by the politicians reducing working hours. Labor leaders yell about the high cost-of-living and blame it on "inflation," but they will not tell you the real cause for inflation. This is not necessarily a criticism of labor unions. I have always defended collective bargaining. The fact, nevertheless, remains that if the labor leaders had been reasonable, the cost-of-living would have gone down following World War II.

No Reason to Fear the U.S. Will Bust

The talk now is that the armament will "bust the country"; but I don't believe this. Bankers point to the fact that an expenditure of $50 billion a year on armaments will either result in taxes so high that the people cannot stand them, or else will cause our Government to get into terrible debt. The facts do not uphold this nonsensical talk. Labor leaders can solve the problem whenever they wish and this will not require a reduction in "take home" wages. Fifty billion dollars a year can be spent on armaments, the cost-of-living can be reduced, federal employees can continue to hold their jobs, the Government can operate with a surplus, instead of a deficit, and taxes can be reduced by extending the working day from eight hours to ten hours without pay increase.

The total income of the country for 1951 will be about $275 billion. Of this amount about $175 billion will go to wage-workers on the basis of an eight-hour day. If we all worked two hours more—which would be no reason to doubt but what it is still there and waiting for them to come and take more pot shots at it. That's their story for it—but friends say these so-called Canadian big deer hunters have never been known to take their "shooting irons" out of the trunk of the car when on these trips into the Canadian wilds. "They simply go to see what they can see," said a friend as he saw them drive out of town.

Hunting Big Deer Up In Canada

There is nothing like trying and trying again—if once, twice or three times you do not succeed.

It appears that Matt Powell, Bert McKinney and Dewey Cogg are three firm believers in that old saying—so that is why they are again on the way up to a wild section in the Province of Manitoba, east of Winnipeg to hunt down what they claim is the biggest deer that ever roamed the forests of North America.

They saw it—and missed it—last year. They claim that they saw it two years ago and if that deer can get away from them twice, there is no reason to doubt but what it is still there and waiting for them to come and take more pot shots at it.

Kresge Started as School Teacher

S. S. Kresge

The S. S. Kresge Company, second largest organization of its kind in the retail field, represents the realization of the dream of a farm boy of the 1880's—a dream that could only be realized in a country of free enterprise.

Early privations and experiences of the founder, Sebastian S. Kresge, created in him a desire to establish a store where families of moderate means could buy household necessities and perhaps a few small luxuries.

Born on a small farm at Bald Mount, Pennsylvania in 1867, he attended small country schools and local academies. Mr. and Mrs. Kresge believed their son, Sebastian, was fated for the role of a back-country school teacher. But young Kresge's ambitions early ran toward a mercantile career. Before he was 30 he had worked for a wholesale concern, he had run a bakery, sold insurance kept books for a general store and sold tinware specialties through the Pennsylvania countryside.

It was while he was traveling as a salesman in Pennsylvania that he recognized the need for a store which would bring a wide range of household and personal items within the reach of every family.

Kresge conscientiously saved money for ten years and in 1897 he joined with J. G. McCrory—one of his customers—to open a store in Memphis, Tennessee and one in Detroit, Michigan. Two years later Kresge traded his half interest in the Memphis store for McCrory's half interest in the Detroit unit. This small Detroit store, bearing a sign, "Nothing Over Ten Cents," was the nucleus of an organization that within the next half century was to develop into a company of approximately 700 units distributed throughout the United States and Canada.

At the time of World War I the "five and dime" stores had proved so popular that the second step in Sebastian Kresge's plan became possible. To offer a wider range of merchandise, the ten cent limit was abandoned and a twenty-five cent limit substituted.

A natural development from this was the opening of separate stores selling articles up to fifty cents and, later, up to a dollar and more. For the most part, these stores were opened near or next door to the five and tens.

The more recent development has been the construction of such stores as the one in Plymouth, single large units that are shopping centers for a wide range of ready-to-wear and household necessities, as well as the customary ten-cent store items. For the customer, this has meant a wider assortment of merchandise, increased range of quality and quicker shopping.

Ownership of the company founded by Sebastian Kresge is now shared by over 28,000 stockholders. Kresge is still active as chairman of the board of directors.

In 1924 he established the Kresge Foundation to give monetary assistance to worthy philanthropic, religious, educational and public health institutions. Mr. Kresge is treasurer of the foundation.

Offices of the company and the foundation are located in Detroit, the city where Kresge opened his first store.

William Lee is District Manager

William H. Lee

Working hand in hand with Manager Kirkpatrick in preparing the new Plymouth store for its grand opening is the Kresge superintendent of this territory, William H. Lee.

The "Detroit district" in which the Plymouth store is located, is divided into six territories, each under the supervision of a superintendent.

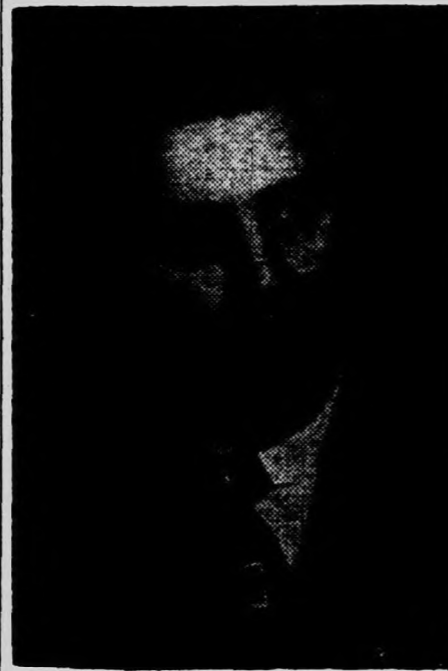

The superintendents work closely with the store managers. Being the contact men between the company's main offices and the store managers, the Kresge superintendents are a vital link in the company's organization.

Lee, who was born in LaPlata, Mo. and attended Macalester college and the University of Missouri, served with the U. S. army in Europe during World War I and World War II. He entered the Kresge employ in 1923. For two years he rustled stock in a Kresge store in Detroit and then was promoted to assistant manager of one of the Cincinnati stores.

His unusual ability gained him a promotion within a year to manager of one of the Hamtramck stores. During the next 22 years, Lee managed five different Kresge stores—the Hamtramck store, and stores in Olean, N.Y., Paterson, N.J., Niagra Falls, N.Y. and Jackson, Mich. For three years during this time he was on a military leave of absence while he served in the U.S. army during World War II.

In 1948 with a quarter of a century's experience in store merchandising, Lee was promoted to the position he now holds, a superintendent of stores in the Detroit district.

Store Manager 20 Years With Kresge Company

Marshall W. Kirkpatrick

The Kresge Co. selected one of its most outstanding men—Marshall W. Kirkpatrick—to manage its new Plymouth store.

Kirkpatrick has been with Kresge's for 20 years, and was managing the Kresge store on Grand River and Joy road in Detroit when he was chosen for this job.

He has worked for the company since 1922 when he took a part-time job in the stockroom of the Kresge store in Dayton, Ohio. He started working full-time for the company in 1928 when he enrolled in the manager-training course.

Like all Kresge store managers, Kirkpatrick received his training through actual experience in the stores, and his first responsibilities were those of a stockman in one of the Cincinnati stores.

From Cincinnati he was promoted to an assistant in one of the Detroit stores. An assistant, his further training took him to Kresge stores located in seven different cities, all in the Michigan-Ohio-Indiana area.

Thoroughly trained in all phases of variety store operation, Kirkpatrick in 1943 was made the manager of a store on Vernor Highway in Detroit. He managed this store for four years and then was promoted to the store on Grand River in Detroit. He has been managing this store for three years when he was selected in August to take charge of the new Plymouth store, then nearing completion.

With his wife and son, Kirkpatrick will be moving to Plymouth at an early date.

Kresge Makes Own Pottery

That the S. S. Kresge Company operates the largest pottery company under one roof in the country is one of the little known facts about the company. Almost all in dinnerware sold in Kresge stores is manufactured in the Mount Clemens Pottery, located in Mount Clemens, Michigan, about 30 miles from Detroit.

The Kresge Company bought the pottery in 1920 and soon after began a program of mechanization which has made the plant one of the most modern potteries in the country. Here was installed the first continuous "tunnel kiln" in the pottery industry.

Clay from Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia and North Carolina, feldspar from Maine and flint from Illinois are mixed to make the glistening plates, bowls, creamers, pitchers and cups that stand row upon row in the shipping department of the pottery.

The clay mixture is made smooth and flexible by straining, washing and pressing. In thick discs like huge pancakes it is then fed into a machine which forces it out through tubes in toothpaste fashion. From these ribbons of clay a machine methodically stamps out cups, plates, saucers and bowls.

From this rough stage the dish goes on the "potter's wheel" for trimming. Deft hands smooth out any imperfections which remain, handles are attached where necessary, and the dish is ready for the first baking in the kilns.

The tunnel kilns are constructed of brick and are 400 feet long. Operating through this tunnel is a small railroad, which travels at a snail's pace and at certain points passes through heat of over 2,000 degrees. The trip through the tunnel takes three days and the ware emerges hard-baked but with a dull finish.

To obtain the glistening glass-like surface of finished dinnerware, the baked ware is sprayed with a glaze solution and placed in another kiln for 24 hours. The ware goes into the kiln covered with chalky solution and emerges shiny and white.

Unless the dish is to receive a colored pattern it is then ready for packing and shipping. The pattern and gold-border dishes receive special handling at the Mount Clemens Pottery. The color design for the Mildred pattern is applied after the second baking with a "decalcomania" transfer—a decal very similar to those children plaster on books and pencil cases.

So that this design will not wash off with washing, the dishes are placed in a special kiln and subjected to heat of 1,200 degrees for an additional 12 hours, which softens the finish and allows the design to bake in.

Gold bands are painted on dishes after the second baking. Each dish is placed on a turntable which is given a spin. On flat dishes gold-banding is done by machine; on cups, pitchers and creamers it is done by hand. In the hand process, the painter lowers her brush point as the turntable slows almost to a stop. The slowly revolving dish takes the gold in a perfect, circular band.

Like the pattern dishes, the gold band dishes go back into a kiln to bake the gold into the glaze of the dish.

If you have a social item or any other local news, phone 1755.

Kresge's new store opening here this weekend is a far cry from S. S. Kresge's first 5 & 10c store opened in 1899.

Phone Company Warns Hunters

Hunters, please spare those telephone lines!

This was the appeal of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company on the approach of the 1951 hunting season, which opened October 15.

Michigan Bell believes that many persons are not familiar with the extent of trouble that can be caused by a bullet or even a BB shot into one of its cables. A pellet need not sever the many wires inside a cable to cause extensive damage, it was pointed out, for even a small hole in a cable's lead sheath would allow water to seep in and short out circuits. Aside from the normal traffic of emergency messages that telephone lines carry regularly, there are more calls being made in connection with national defense, and serious consequences could result if some of these were disrupted.

Prospective hunters are also reminded that it is against the law to willfully damage telephone facilities by gunfire, an offense which carries a felony charge if the damage exceeds $50. Michigan Bell said that cable damage by bullet or buckshot usually means more than $50 in repair expenditures.

Social items can be phoned to 1755.
