

NO LONGER JUST A COG—NOW A WHEEL.

Dale Stafford one of Michigan's best known newspaper editors, has decided that he no longer desires to be just a cog in a big wheel. He has assumed the duties and responsibilities of the whole wheel. He has resigned as managing editor of The Detroit Free Press and purchased the excellent newspaper up in Greenville, one of Michigan's most beautiful and progressive little cities.

Editor Stafford, a Michigan bred and reared newspaper man, has done much to help build The Free Press into a high standard newspaper. His knowledge of Michigan affairs and his close contacts with people about the state have been important factors in his success.

He is an important cog The Free Press will miss as time goes on. The Greenville Daily News has been a good newspaper for many years, but Publisher Stafford will make it a much better newspaper, and one that will truly reflect the progress of a great state. We wish him unbounded success.

MORE OF THE SAME KIND.

So hot did public pressure become a couple of weeks ago that Harry Truman had to ask for the resignation of a high up assistant United States attorney general, who became mixed up in some of these investigations into alleged income tax frauds.

But who do you suppose Harry appointed in his place? According to newspaper dispatches out of St. Louis, the fellow Harry named to fill the vacancy was none other than one who had been charged with an attempt to interfere with the St. Louis federal grand jury investigation of tax fixing. Maybe you remember that this jury indicted one of Harry Truman's "best friends" on charges of income tax juggling and grafting. And from reports here, there and everywhere around the country, it seems that inquiries up to the present time in tax scandals have barely scratched the surface.

ITS GREATEST WEAKNESS.

We have always been strongly in favor of the city-manager form of municipal government. We think it the only system that will produce for the taxpayers full value for their tax dollars.

During the past few weeks, however, we have read of numerous city managers resigning their positions to go to some other city to take similar positions. We assume that they are doing so because the "other city" will pay them more than does the city where they have been employed.

In fact we know of no other occupation where changes are so frequently made. It is this constantly changing about on the part of city managers that we regard as the greatest weakness of the city-manager form of government.

Of course no one can be blamed for seeking positions where they can get bigger salaries, but it is our belief that a worthwhile city manager can make himself so valuable to a community that his remuneration will be in keeping with his excellent services. Of course a city government will now and then pick a lemon as a city manager and his resignation to take another position is desirable. But this is not generally the case.

And the change is not always based upon the desire of a city manager to go elsewhere to gain higher pay. Sometimes the local governmental administration is of such a type that a city manager has excellent reasons to leave for some other position. This, however, is not frequently the case. To our way of thinking, the city managers should give some serious thought to this question of jumping from one job to another. We believe that they would be better satisfied and the municipalities they serve would be better off, if there is less job hunting on the part of city managers.

A TAX EXPERT DIES.

Newspapers recently reported the death of George Lord of Detroit, who lived to be nearly 90 years of age. Back a generation or two ago, Mr. Lord was regarded as one of the greatest tax authorities in the country. He served for years as chairman of the Michigan tax commission.

Old timers will recall that he believed that the tax burden should be shared equally and on a fair basis, all paying alike in proportion to what they possessed. He believed that there should be as little taxation as possible, that governmental costs should be held to the lowest possible point.

During his day he did a great service for Michigan and for the city of Detroit where he helped to right its tax problems.

Let's hope that the day is not far away when we again have men of the type of George Lord directing our governmental tax affairs.

TRUMAN'S FOREIGN POLICY.

Talking to a bunch of women party workers in Washington a few nights ago, Harry Truman challenged the Republican party or any one else to make "his foreign policy" an issue in the forthcoming election.

Well, Harry, the folks back home would like to know what your foreign policy is. All we know about any foreign policy is what we read in the newspapers. And that tells us over one hundred thousand American boys have been killed or wounded in a war in Korea which you say isn't a war.

These same reports also assert that we haven't got left a single honest friend among all the nations of the world, that everybody now hates us and only act friendly when they want a handout of American dollars or are taking out of the pockets of the people of this country.

Tell us, Mr. "Pendergast" Truman, what is your foreign policy, we'd like to know.

THEY'RE AFTER SENATOR MCCARTHY.

Heard Edward R. Murrow blurring away about "McCarthyism" the other night. Why we listened to his screed we don't know, maybe because we were too lazy to get up and turn the radio off.

Like a lot of other political bunkers, Murrow tried to paint Senator McCarthy as a bad influence because he, McCarthy has been hot after Stalin's scum planted in various governmental jobs in Washington.

Haven't been in Wisconsin in a year or so, but if sentiment over there remains as it did at that time, Senator McCarthy will be re-elected by the biggest vote any man ever got in Wisconsin.

We're for him one hundred percent because he has had the nerve to show up a lot of these political fakers in Washington. He has not only exposed them, but he has been putting up a real fight to get them out of their jobs.

They are damning McCarthy because he has said there are a bunch of Stalin's boys in the state department. But what about the things that Vice President Barkley, a DEMOCRAT, said about this same condition?

Auto Club Soon to Move into Larger Offices

Workmen are rapidly changing the former location of the Box bar at 479 South Main street, directly across the street from the Ford garage and Mayflower hotel, into new offices for the Michigan Automobile club.

Manager L. B. Rice stated yesterday that he hopes to be able to move into the new offices not later than December 15.

"We are moving from our present offices in the Mayflower hotel with the greatest of reluctance, but our business has grown with such rapidity that we now require three times the office space we have here—and there is no way additional room can be provided for us in the hotel building," said Mr. Rice.

Amazing as it may seem, since Mr. Rice came to Plymouth from Ann Arbor to assume management of the AAA offices, the local membership has increased from a bare 300 to more than 3,500.

When the move is made into the new quarters two more employees will be required, making a force of 10 people now serving the AAA in Plymouth. These employees have already been engaged.

The decision of the Auto Club to locate in larger offices, removes from the hotel one of its first tenants. It was when the hotel first opened that the Automobile Club, the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and the Western Union combined to open an office in the Mayflower building. A year or so later the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce brought about the establishment of a branch office of the Secretary of State where local residents could secure their automobile licenses. One girl did the office work for all four of these various agencies.

The first year the Chamber of Commerce thought it had issued a good sized number of automobile licenses when the total went to over 1,000. One can gain some idea of the growth of Plymouth during these years when reports of Frank Rambo, manager of the present license office, states that considerably over 10,000 automobile licenses were issued this year.

During the early days, residents of Northville came to Plymouth to get their licenses but some seven or eight years ago a branch office of the Secretary of State was opened in Northville, so the nearly 11,000 total number of auto plates issued is for Plymouth and the immediate vicinity.

Manager Rice is pushing work as fast as possible on the new offices so that the move can be made as near December 15 as possible.

Walter Goodwin To Direct March of Dimes Campaign

Walter Goodwin, high school teacher, and director of the Hi-Y was chosen to direct the local March of Dimes campaign for 1952, according to Neva Lovewell. The Hi-Y which has assisted in past years will take over the campaign this year.

Miss Lovewell was asked by Edward Haare, Wayne county organization chairman of the March of Dimes, to assist him in the choice of a director for the campaign. Mr. Haare was in Plymouth Monday, November 26, to lay the foundation for the 1952 drive which will begin the latter part of January.

For the past six years, Miss Lovewell has either been chairman of the drive, or has assisted in the choice of its director.

Catholic School Wins Safety Cup

Selected from among 2,113 Michigan schools for the honor, Our Lady of Good Counsel school is one of 85 to receive a cup this year. The cup is awarded for an effective school safety education patrol corner - guarding. The award was initiated 20 years ago to give recognition for outstanding contributions to child safety.

Our Lady of Good Counsel school's cup will be presented by Auto Club's safety patrol supervisor, Vernon Martil.

These were the surprised hunters that couldn't believe their eyes when novice hunter Mercy Bathey bagged her 10 point buck on the opening day at Gaylord, Michigan. Caught by the photographer at Sunday morning breakfast were the following hunters including two well known Plymouthises

PROUDEST HUNTER in Plymouth and so far the only woman known here to bag a deer this year is Mercy Bathey, wife of Douglas Bathey of the Bathey Manufacturing company of this city. It was the first time she ever fired a gun and one shot brought down the prize.

TWO WELL KNOWN CANDY MAKERS, Mr. and Mrs. George Kennitz, announce the opening of their new candy store at 896 west Ann Arbor Trail on Friday of this week. The store, which is located next to the A & P grocery, will feature a full line of Chicago's famous Mrs. Steven's Candies. However local people who have enjoyed the Kennitz home made candy line will still be able to secure their favorite brands at the store as the busy Kennitz candy kitchen, located in their home on Ravine Drive, will be working full time to supply the demands of their customers.

Kaiser Explorer on Display Here

The $14,000 Kaiser Explorer custom made auto is now on display in the showroom of Cannon's K-F in Plymouth. The car is one of four custom models built for the Chicago Automobile show. Representative of the "car of the north" it has an icy blue finish with white vinyl sport toping. Two polar bear skins serve as upholstery for the seats while the side panels and floors are covered with mouton fur.

Novice Hunter Surprises Old Timers With Buck

Of all things! And are the faces of old time Plymouth deer hunters as red as fire! Some are even so mad they are boiling over.

It was the day before the deer season opened when Douglas Bathey of the Bathey Manufacturing company of Plymouth showed his wife how to shoot a deer rifle. They were in the deer camp of Howard Walker up near Gaylord, with the Nelson Schraders of Northville.

Bright and early on the morning the deer season opened the old experienced deer hunters put Mrs. Bathey on a "deer run." It was barely an hour after they had left her alone in the woods when she heard a cracking in the brush.

Right there in an opening was a big ten point buck. Following instructions that had been given her raised her deer rifle—and bang! The big buck keeled over as though it had been hit by an atomic bomb. She had bagged her deer!

It was with the first shot she had ever made with a gun and it proved a perfect hit. The other interesting feature about it is this—Mrs. Bathey was the only member of the deer hunting party to get a deer.

School-Community Planning Group Studies Problems

The newly formed Plymouth School-Community Planning group met for the first time Tuesday, Nov. 20, at the local high school. The group leaders were elated at the enthusiastic response of 25 of 26 persons invited attended this first meeting. The group unanimously expressed their desire to organize and to hold regular meetings.

Carvel Bentley, principal of the high school, was elected chairman of the group, and Mrs. Esther Franklin of Smith school PTA was elected secretary.

The group proposed some problems and issues for study. They felt one of the purposes was to alert the community to the school needs and particularly school building needs.

They also directed the Superintendent of Schools, Russell L. Isbister, to make a population survey as to the location of pre-school, elementary school, high school and non-public school children.

Other proposals included making a study of recommended policies for after school use of the new health and physical education facilities. They would also like to direct attention to some aspects of the curriculum.

This new planning group is composed of the board of education, the superintendent of schools, the principal of each school, one teacher and two parents from each school. It is hoped that the combined thinking coming from the group will help solve some of the educational problems facing the community.

Another meeting has been planned for the evening of Wednesday, January 2.

Lady of Fatima, Daughter of Isabella number 764 held their installation of officers at the K. of C. clubroom in Wayne on Tuesday, November 20. State regent, Mrs. Louis Kelly was the installing officer assisted by Ann Howard, K. F. F. and Ann Steinhilber.

Police-Firemen Request Raise

The Plymouth Police and Firemen have requested a ten percent raise in salary to cover the higher cost of living expenses. The request was made to the city commissioners at the November 19 meeting of the Commission.

The Commission directed the city manager to make an investigation of what the city can do and to consult with the city attorney to determine whether these salaries are subject to wage stabilization rules before any action is taken.

The last raise granted was last July 1 when an increase on the average of $10 per month was granted all city employees. At present a recruit policeman or fireman begins at a salary of $3360 and reaches the maximum of $3720 in three years.

The members of these departments have more expense connected with their work than most employees as they have to buy their own clothing, which amounts to quite a substantial sum in a year's time.

The city purchases the first uniform and equipment, but after that these come out of the individual's salary.

The policemen have suggested a change of uniform and the city manager has agreed to include the suggested changes in rules and regulations of the police department.

The change in uniforms will come gradually for when a uniform wears out the individual will buy the new uniform. Replacing the old traditional dark blue police uniform will be a new outfit consisting of blue-gray trousers, gray broadcloth shirts, single breasted blouses, light blue ties and a soft crush cap.

These new uniforms will be similar in appearance to the ones used by the Michigan State Police.

Mrs. Frank Allison is entering the members of her bridge club tonight, Thursday in her home on Church street.

City Buys 8 Voting Machines

Voters in the city of Plymouth will soon be using voting machines to cast their vote in all elections. In a recent City Commission meeting the Commission voted unanimously to accept City Manager Albert Glassford's recommendation to purchase 8 voting machines for the city of Plymouth. These machines will be purchased from the Shoup Automatic Voting Machine Corporation of Canton, Ohio, to be delivered by February 1, 1952, at a cost of $1396 each.

A down payment of $1168 is being made with the balance of $10,000 to be paid over a ten year period with interest at the rate of 2 1/2 percent per annum. The funds needed for the purchase will be borrowed under certificates of indebtedness. This will leave the city funds available for the city's share of improvements to streets, etc.

Mr. Glassford predicted the savings in election costs will practically cover the yearly payments of the voting machines.

City Clerk E. H. Potthoff estimated an annual savings of $1282 by using the voting machines through the reduced cost of personnel and the printing of ballots. The present system requires 24 board members working an average of 18 hours each election. The salaries of three elections a year cost $1296. The new machines can be operated with 12 board members each working 14 hours at a cost of $504. Savings on lunches and ballots would amount to $150.

Under the present system Plymouth would soon have to form another voting precinct as the third precinct is nearly at the maximum 1200 registered voters limit. The third precinct had 1173 registered voters at the 1950

Symphony Notes

By line or no—some folks seem to know that this writer is responsible for bringing to the readers of this newspaper, the reviews and symphony notes from time to time of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

Whether or not to become a permanent column writer at the insistence of some readers has prompted a to-be or not-to-be attitude, until last Sunday when the question was again foisted—and with this issue, it is hoped that the matter will resolve into a permanent feature of this newspaper, depending upon the editor, too, of course!

For with the coming of the symphony to Plymouth, a new outlook on the press and its importance to a community has likewise impressed itself upon those persons who heretofore may have thought it just a newspaper... but when that newspaper has an editor who lists this same paper as one of the Symphony's patrons—a new attitude is definitely established.

Perhaps in ten or twenty-five years from now, we, too, will be interested in reading in those old established news columns—just what happened to our symphony orchestra and its personnel in the years of formation. The historian depends greatly upon the source of information recorded as news by the press and gathered into scrapbooks throughout the years.

It is the aim of this humble reporter to publish those facts and news items pertinent to the growth of the community through the orchestra, the society, and whatever ties into a column to be headed Symphony Notes.

The rehearsals for the "Messiah" under the direction of Fred Nelson, the associate conductor of the orchestra, having started in the early fall, now reach their consummation with the Christmas season at hand.

It has been interesting to note the exhilaration of young student singers after Messiah rehearsals, standing on the stairway to the band room of Plymouth High, listening to the last portion of the orchestra's rehearsals.

These young folk are an attentive, appreciative audience, and a credit to their families. One young lady during an instructive pause in the music turned a rapturous smile and exclaimed in a whisper: "Isn't it wonderful!"

Listeners at rehearsals sometimes include symphony board members and sometimes former board members turn out to spend an evening as they do in hearing the formal concert presentation. At the November 19 rehearsal, the youngest listener was the four year old daughter of a member of the orchestra, and the oldest listener was a 67 year old former board member.

Have you ever been so busily engrossed in the task at hand that time out for lunch was of the least consideration? Whipping a program together to meet a deadline found the writer in such a predicament lately.

Arriving at Plymouth for rehearsal with an empty feeling more in evidence, a hurried run down to the Mayflower Hotel Coffee shop was achieved just two minutes before closing time. Such goings on and eating habits are not recommended, but the hostess was willing to serve a cup of coffee and a piece of pie.

The coffee was steaming hot and the pie was delicious—and most inviting of all was the dining room hostess in the coffee shop—it again was a reminder of the neighborliness of Plymouth—and its people!

WHAT I THINK AN
HAVE A RIGHT TO SAY

wrote in The Detroit Times a week or so ago about this question, take time to do it now. He reveals what a lot of political fakery are trying to do to Senator McCarthy. It follows in part:

It is a curious phenomenon that wherever I go these days, and I travel constantly to all parts of the country, soon enough political conversation veers toward McCarthyism. Is Joe McCarthy right, wrong or crazy?

The fact is that Senator Joe McCarthy has managed to get into the hair of those politicians who prefer smooth sailing and who find the issues that he has raised distasteful because they cannot be answered in principle even if they may be contested in detail.

For many years, other senators and representatives and public men have raised the same issues that McCarthy has now forced two Senate committees to investigate, but none of them got very far because they lacked his skill or dramatization and his courage to fight to a finish.

The result is that McCarthyism is an issue in the 1952 campaign and no candidate will be able to avoid it. He will have to say whether he favors or opposes the employment of Communists in public positions. That is all that McCarthyism means.

Vice President Barkley, interviewed on "Meet the Press" last summer, fully supported McCarthy's data, giving figures that far exceeded anything that McCarthy ever said.

This is the colloquy:

Jack Bell: "On the basis of that and other views which you probably have, do you think the state department has done a good job of getting rid of Communists?"

Vice President Barkley: "I think it has. I think not only the state department but all the departments."

"The public doesn't know really what has happened in that field, and I am not going to say it because the departments haven't announced it. I don't care, so, but the public will be surprised if they knew the number of employees who have been dismissed because of either the discovery of their Communist leanings or the suspicion that they were leaning toward the Communist theory."

The Associated Press report of this statement said: "Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—Vice President Albin W. Barkley told a reporter today that 2,500 to 3,500 persons had been separated from government service after loyalty inquiries."

"He previously had told a television audience that 'the American people would be surprised at the number of employees who had been weeded out of the government because of suspicion directed at their loyalty.'"

At no time did McCarthy put his figures as high as 3,500 Communists in the government. Certainly he never asked that 3,500 be dismissed for being Communists. He did not know there were that many, not being on the inside as Vice President Barkley is.

I have recently been having lots of excitement with this question because I have been trying to solve the problem as to how so few Communists and fellow-travelers do so much mischief.

For instance, the intricate nature of the dockers' strike in New York, which prevented ships from landing strategic war materials in this port while our sons are fighting in Korea—and dying there—has not yet been disclosed in all the antagonisms over closing down America's greatest port.

A few men did that, not as an act of leadership in the achievement of a social end, but as an exercise of force in a contest for power. Into this situation entered the underground Communists as wreckers of American industrial strength.

And no matter how costly this is to the United States and to the city of New York, the administration of the city has become paralyzed, incapable even of exercising its ordinary police power. The leader of the union insurgents, Gene Sampson, is the brother of the assistant to the mayor, Frank Sampson.

It is not necessary to be a party of large numbers to accomplish much when innocents can be used to do the work of our enemies. Interests are mixed.

Men who would say that they despise Communists, and are sincere about it, play the Russian game to advance their temporary private affairs.

As long as men will lend themselves to be used, they will be used.

New 1952 Pontiac Features Performance

First of the General Motors divisions to announce 1952 models, Pontiac is currently displaying what's new for '52 in dealer showrooms here and throughout the country. Shown above is the popular Super DeLuxe Catalina. Higher standards of performance and fuel economy are achieved by a newly designed "power train".

November election, and the law states that when a precinct reaches 1200 another has to be formed—this would create an additional expense of around $350. The limit for a precinct using voting machines is 800 where one machine is used and 1400 where more than one is used. Mr. Glassford states that it is improbable that the third precinct will reach the 1400 mark in the foreseeable future because of the virtual exhaustion of building sites in that area. The majority of the building will occur in the first and fourth precincts where land is available, and where the number of registered voters is far below the permitted maximum.

The Shoup voting machines are used in the city of Livonia where they are considered a great improvement over the ballot system.

It is expected the machines will be used for the first time in the April election. They will be delivered in time for the February primaries, but Mr. Glassford states that it will take time for the public to become accustomed to the use of them and therefore they probably won't be used in the primary.

The use of the machines will guarantee a mechanically accurate count of the vote cast. Provide a faster and easier method of voting. Provide immediate results of the election—at the recent recall election in Dearborn, the results from over 40 precincts were in and tabulated in about one hour after the closing of the polls. Assure absolute secrecy in Counting. Eliminate spoiled and defective ballots and thus prevent a voter inadvertently from losing his vote. Effectively reduce the opportunity of fraud in any election. Effectively permit a voter to correct a mistake in voting without spoiling his ballot or being compelled to secure a new ballot. Provide a substantial savings in election costs by the entire elimination of long vote-counting sessions, by enabling the elections to be conducted with only three members on a board, by eliminating the cost of a new board, and by eliminating any recount costs.

It has been recommended that these machines be distributed as follows: Precinct 1 will have 2 machines, Precinct 2 will have 1, Precinct 3 will have 2, Precinct 4 will have 2 and one machine will be in reserve for emergency use.

Each machine will have 10 rows with space for 50 items in each row making a total of 500 different voting choices.

It is planned to place them at convenient places in the city for display and inspection by the public. Trained instructors will be there to demonstrate the correct use of each machine. In that way voters may practice and become familiar with them before election.

W. Burton Injured as Car Hits Train

William Burton of 9024 Elmhurst was rushed to Sessions hospital, Northville, Sunday, November 25, after hitting the caboose of a train at the C. and O. crossing on Starkweather.

Burton was treated for a cut over one eye and an injured knee. He was released Tuesday. The car he was driving was demolished. "I did not see the train until I was almost upon it; it was impossible to stop, so I dropped to the floor of the car," said Mr. Burton. At the time of the accident, it was raining.

Would You Believe It? Children See Nice Big Deer Near Plymouth

"Oh Grandma! We just saw one of Santa Claus's deer. It was right out there," said grandchildren of Mrs. Hazel Grunst who lives out on East Ann Arbor trail as they ran into the house a few days ago.

No, the children were not wrong. Sure enough a day or so later Mrs. Grunst and some of her neighbors saw a young doe deer strolling across the fields as though it was the most carefree deer in the world.

Michigan's deer herd in southern Michigan has increased to a remarkable extent in recent years. So welcome are the deer to residents in this part of Michigan that some are thinking of asking the legislature to make it illegal to kill deer in any southern Michigan county.

COMEDIAN ALAN YOUNG'S ailing appendix forced him to withdraw from a leading role in a new film with Bob Hope... There would have been a team to end all teams... Instead of Alan, however, Hope will combine forces with Mickey Rooney, married and divorced three times but still in the Andy Hardy stage at heart... David Niven has written a novel which will be published this month... It's entitled "Once Over Lightly"... Maggie Whiting is making two TV pilot films, one for a half-hour weekly series in which she'll play a singing teacher, and the other a 15-minute musical.

PLATTER CHATTER
CAPITOL: Kay Starr's latest is "Two Brothers" backed by "On a Honky Tonk Hardwood Floor"... Gordon MacRae does his usual neat job on a couple of new ditties, "Be My Guest" and "Laughing At Love"... "I'll Remember April" is revived in a lush rendition by popular Ray Anthony... It's backed by "My Concerto"... Norman Kaye offers "A Petal From a Faded Rose" in a new waxing that should go big... "Blue Velvet" is on the flip... You'll like "Domino" as done by pert Mary Mayo... "Find Me" backs it... And Dean Martin comes up with one of his best recordings to date in the haunting "Solitaire".

COLUMBIA: This company offers a terrific album called "Hawaiian Blossoms" featuring Hawaiian Godfrey on his ukulele and the Godfrey on his ukulele and the Haleloki Kahanolopa, who has been on his radio and TV shows for almost a year... Lovely standards such as "Lovely Hula Hands", "Sweet Leilani" and "Hawaiian War Chant" are augmented by new songs of the island that include "Kuu Ipo," "Lei Aloha," "Kaaka Hula Hickey Dula", "White Ginger Blossoms" and "Ke Kal Nei Au"... This is a must for discriminating record library owners. In singles, best Columbia gem of the week is Frankie Laine's latest, "Jealousy."

Business Alley Hearing Dec. 17

A hearing for all interested parties on the improvement of an alley in the block bounded by W. Ann Arbor trail, Forest, Wing and S. Main streets will be held at the city commission meeting on December 17.

A hearing had been set for the November 19 meeting, but since the new city charter is now in full force and effect it was deemed desirable to proceed in accordance with it, so the new hearing date was set.

The commission made a resolution directing the city manager to submit a report consisting of necessary plans, profiles, specifications, estimates of cost and life expectancy of the new improvement for the commission's consideration.

City Manager Glassford estimates the drainage will consist of 236 lineal feet of 12" concrete pipe, 160 lineal feet of 15" pipe and 5 manholes or catchbasins. He further estimates 1600 square yards of 8" reinforced concrete integral curb pavement with center of pavement drainage.

The total estimated cost is $25,434.50. The estimated life is 20 years.

It is further recommended that the entire cost shall be assessed upon the property benefited, and the method of assessment be on a pro rata share per front footage abutting the improvement subject to modification based upon special consideration for benefits derived by corner lots, that special assessments be spread over ten equal installments, the first installment to be due upon confirmation of the assessment roll and a like installment due annually thereafter until all are paid. The rate of interest to be 6 percent per annum.

All interested parties are requested to be at the hearing on the night of December 17.

Clinging to a rope she had lassoed around a chimney, Mrs. Bessie Hale of Los Angeles went about the business of applying tar to the steep roof of her rooming house. "I don't see what is so unusual about it," said the widow as she descended a ladder for more tar. Mrs. Hale is 81.

Fire Prevention and Civil Defense Go Hand in Hand

Fire prevention is an important part of civil defense. If an enemy attacks this country, his bombs, whether they be atomic, high explosive, or incendiary, will cause more damage by fire than they will by blast. Hence, anything done to make it hard for fires to start is a step towards preparing your community to protect itself if war comes.

The majority of all fires start in attics, basements, or stored odds and ends that accumulate around the house. Closets, attics, and cellars are the main source of home fires, and plain ordinary good housekeeping is a strong line of defense against them.

Clean out your storage places. You will be surprised at how many burnable odds and ends are really useless to you. Don't let them make your home a fire hazard. Get rid of them. If local welfare agencies can't use them, call the junk man.

Don't stop when you've cleared out the inside of your house. Go after rubbish in your back yard, in alleys and in vacant lots near your home. Collect the rubbish and burn it. Don't leave it around to burn if an enemy bombs your city. Be sure to burn rubbish in metal containers.

Take a look at your electrical system. Buy new plugs and cords if yours are worn. Get advice from an electrician if your fuses blow frequently. They may be dangerously overloaded. His advice may prevent a bad fire.

Every winter costly fires are started by faulty furnaces, stoves, and other heating plants. Some result from too much soot in chimneys. Others are caused by rusted or cracked pipes and fittings. Look over your heating system now. If your chimney needs it, clean it out. If the furnace pipes and connections are cracked and rusted, replace them.

Teach your family not to put magazines, papers, or clothing on radiators or near open flames. Don't hang flimsy curtains near your kitchen stove. Don't allow lamp shades to come in contact with light bulbs. Remember that such things don't have to touch flame to burn. They will catch fire simply because they are too close to the heat for too long.

Gasoline, benzine, naphtha, and similar fluids should never be used indoors. When mixed with air, their vapors can be ignited by the spark of a light switch or an electric fan, or the tiny flame of a pilot light. Keep such fluids in tightly closed metal containers outside your home.

Remember: oil-soaked rags, especially rags that have been used to spread quick-drying liquids such as turpentine, paint thinners, and some furniture polishes, can catch fire by themselves. Oily rags should be stored in air-tight metal containers. It is best to keep them outside the house.

Throwing a plow furrow up hill instead of down hill will help stop erosion. Getting a man's wage is nothing new for women; they always have, one way or another.

The modern girl's method of choosing a sweater is to find one that fits her perfectly—then take a size smaller. An older person may not be able to do as much work as a younger one, but can do as much as the younger one will do.

Policemen Attend Special Courses

Members of the Plymouth police department in striving to give our city one of the most progressive forces in the country have been attending various classes and schools to learn up-to-date methods in all phases of police work.

The city commission has authorized expenses for Lt. Vanderveen to attend classes at Michigan State College for five days beginning December 3.

This school is for ranking and command police officers of all municipalities in the state.

Capt. Fisher attended a similar course at Northwestern University during the past summer, and came back with many worthwhile modern ideas about police work.

City Manager Glasford and Captain Fisher have been going to Birmingham since October 3 to a school sponsored by the city managers and police chiefs in this area. It meets once every two weeks for two hours with three hours of outside work. This course continues through February 20.

Among the problems studied are: The Police Problem, Organization, Personnel, Training, Prevention of Delinquency, Patrol, Crime Investigation and Vice, Traffic, Communications, Records, Property, Equipment, Police Public Relations and many other phases of police work.

All recruits attend a recruit area school for two hours, one night a week for 16 weeks. This school is conducted by the South-eastern Police Chiefs Association of which Police Chief Carl Greenlee is a member.

Plans are in the making for a Narcotics school to be set up in the Plymouth area in the near future. An officer from the Detroit Police Narcotics Squad will be in charge of the class. The Livonia police will also participate in this school. The date of the first meeting is Wednesday, December 5.

Other special advanced training courses will be conducted in the future on finger-printing, police work in general, lectures by local attorneys on legal procedure. All these are offered with the idea of raising the standards of the department to a professional level, and to prepare for the new police problems that may arise with the increase of local population states Mr. Glasford.

Beef cows should be fed well during cold fall and winter months if they are to produce and care for vigorous calves in the spring.

Oily motors and wiring systems, and dirty engines reduce a machine's efficiency, according to Michigan State College agricultural engineers.

FAMILY OF ELEVEN EVICTED . . . Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mazalatis and their nine children were evicted from their home in Brooklyn by a landlord who wanted his premises for other uses. The family was given no time to look for other quarters before the ouster notice. Sympathetic neighbors are caring for the children.

Township Asks Extension of Water Main on US 12

Plymouth township has requested information from the city of Plymouth regarding conditions under which the city would extend a water main into the township along US 12 from the intersection of Lilley road and US 12. The distance would be 900 feet east of the intersection.

The matter was referred to the city attorney, Harry N. Doyo. At the commission meeting November 19, his communication regarding the proposition, together with a proposed form of agreement was read, and the commissioners moved that the city manager be instructed to submit this agreement to the township for their approval or disapproval.

Rev. Walsh to be Speaker at Starkweather P.T.A.

The November meeting of the Starkweather P.T.A. will be held in the school gymnasium on Thursday, November 29, at eight o'clock.

The Reverend Henry J. Walsh, of the First Presbyterian church will be the speaker. Rev. Walsh has chosen for his topic "Delinquent Parents."

Musical entertainment will be provided by the Starkweather Junior Chorus.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Business Women Hear Sen. Reed

The Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club had the Honorable Clarence A. Reed, who is serving his sixth term as state senator from this district, as the guest speaker at their regular monthly meeting in the Mayflower hotel last Monday evening.

Senator Reed outlined the various functions of the state government in an interesting and entertaining talk. He discussed services rendered by the departments of Welfare, Civil Service, Care of Mental Patients, Good State Highways, the State Police, State Aid to Education and State Payroll. He gave a very vivid picture of the cost of all these services for which our tax dollars go.

The Legislative committee, with Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple as chairman, was responsible for bringing Senator Reed to Plymouth for this meeting.

This was the first meeting in the new Mayflower room and everyone expressed admiration for the newly decorated room and satisfaction in the wonderful service received.

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

One Problem at a Time

SONIA KOSTA, New York City, had more than one problem to solve when she was discharged from the W.A.C. after the war was over.

But, first, she had to rid herself of an inferiority complex for that would stand in the way of anything she attempted. The crux of this trouble was an additional 56 pounds she had gained.

She had been a nurse before entering the service but she decided definitely that she wanted another vocation. This meant spending money to prepare herself for other work, and all she had was her "muster-out-pay" amounting to $200.

Taking a temporary job while preparing for new work meant she had to spend money on new clothes for none of her old civilian clothes were now large enough. If she spent her money on new clothes, they would become less and less suitable as she got rid of her excess weight.

Maybe this seems little to worry about, but not to one who has had to tackle it. So worry she did, until she didn't sleep at night and her nerves were on edge. In addition, she was fast making enemies of her entire family.

Carnegie

Suddenly she thought of how much the army's rehabilitation centers had done for the army. She went to see one of the doctors. Nothing she had to say was a surprise to him. Hers, he told her, was a common case of postwar adjustment—and he suggested a common method of cure: to go to the foundation of her trouble, and to tackle one problem at a time.

She found the matter of reducing down deep at the bottom. So she spent some of her money on a success school to which she could wear her uniforms. When she had lost 31 pounds she could then wear some of her civilian clothing. There was enough money to enroll in a business school where she took a junior executive course. Now, doing work she enjoys, she says she accomplished her aim because she got at the bottom of her trouble, and then tackled one problem at a time, instead of wandering around in confusion as she had started out doing.

Plymouth Pastor Gets High Praise

Seldom does a minister of a big church always know all the people who make up his congregation. There are invariably strangers who happen to be in a city for some purpose or who may be passing through, who on a Sunday morning, desire to attend a religious service.

It is not surprising therefore when Dr. Henry Walch of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth in looking over his congregation frequently sees strangers who have come to worship in his church.

Only because there appeared in a recent issue of the "Friendship Bulletin," a publication issued by Detroit's largest Masonic organization, reference to a sermon preached recently by Dr. Walch did it become known that the Master of Detroit's largest Masonic lodge was one of these Sunday morning strangers who happened to attend church in Plymouth.

W. G. Robert Maw, master of Friendship lodge, writing a column in a recent issue of the lodge Bulletin, made the following highly complimentary reference to the services he attended in Plymouth:

"And by the way, Brothers, if any of you are out on a Sunday morning drive and want somewhere to go, or if any of you are interested in hearing a preacher preach a sermon where he pulls no punches, that is to the point, like it or not, kind of a sermon, drive out to Plymouth and hear and meet one of our very likeable chaplains, Henry Walch, who you will find at the red brick Presbyterian church right in the middle of Plymouth. I know you will enjoy his sermon and he will enjoy your presence."

How many things by season season'd are to their right praise and true perfection.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mary E. Crane, Ashland, Me.: I remember when it was a common occurrence to borrow a cup of yeast.

From J. E. Glathart, Olney, Ill.: I remember August, 1862, we went to the depot (Ohio and Mississippi R. R.) to see the cars come in. The engine was stopped close to a rick of cordwood and some of the citizens helped the trainmen load wood on the tender as fuel for the wood-burning engine. After the cars left, three men mounted their horses and ran a race up Whittle avenue. The winner received a gallon jug full of two-bit whisky.

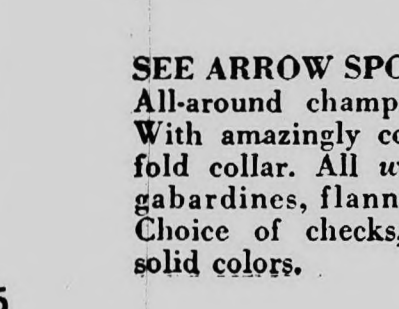

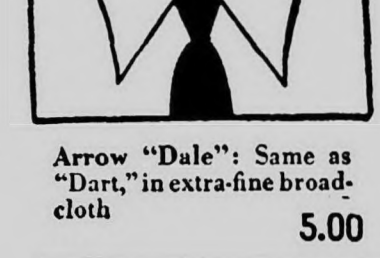

From Edwin E. Jacobs, Kingsburg, Calif.: I can remember when if a girl refused to go out with a man she was said to have given him the "mitten."

From John Rusk, Webb City, Mo.: I remember when we used to butcher a hog every winter. Not having a sausage mill, we would take all the sausage meat all chopped up ready for grinding to the town butcher. He would grind all the sausage in return for the hog's liver.

From "the Old Cuss," Chicago: I remember when I came home with a strong word that I had picked up in school my mother would wash my mouth out with laundry soap, which wasn't the weak soap flakes of today. But it didn't do any good. It made me so mad, I repeated all the bad words I knew—under my breath, of course.

From Presley Stewart, Somerset, Ky.: I remember the old ox yoke, the old fire place. I remember when our streets at Somerset had sawed boards for sidewalks. I remember when Mom made my coat and pants. I remember the old time shouting in the church.

UNCORKING THE NEWS
By Carl Peterson

A Yale University anthropologist declares that we face the possibility of a "woman's world" . . . in which the male will get about as much attention as a push on a disconnected doorbell button. The Prof. sees woman as the family boss. Who said, "Isn't she already?" Right now the "weaker sex" owns more than half the corporate wealth of the U. S. and does about 80% of the family buying. That's a big stick in any society. The Yale laddie who is playing peekaboo with the foggy future says there was a time when Iroquois squaws outranked the males. But where are the Iroquois today? We don't often try to predict what lies ahead, but we feel safe in forecasting that 1952 will be a promising year for politicians. We promise you that we can make your Christmas shopping easier. Yep . . . we're stocked to the ceiling with gifts for everybody. For instance . . . a top selection of Yardley and Dorothy Gray cosmetics and toiletries . . . beautifully gift-wrapped for your convenience. Come in now and browse around. We'll be pleased to see you at PETERSON DRUG, 840 W. Ann Arbor Trail. Phone: 2080.

ST. PETER'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH, 261 Spring St. Edgar Hoencke, pastor. Morning Worship: 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. Sunday school 9:30 a.m. The Season of Advent, the four weeks of happy expectation before Christmas, will begin next Sunday. May we suggest that you use this season for a proper preparation for receiving the great Gift of the Son of God in the following way. AT CHURCH—Come and let your heart be warmed away from all the turmoil for one "sweet hour of prayer" that calls me from a world of care. The sermon topics have been selected to banish the "mess" out of Christmas and to put the sweet Christ with His love and peace back into His place of honor for His birthday. Our sermon series for Advent and Christmas is entitled: "Our Advent and Christmas Songs of Faith." Dec. 2. I Advent—Come, Thou Precious Ransom. Come—Dec. 9. II Advent—"Arise, Sons of the Kingdom." Dec. 16. III Advent—"O Lord, How Shall I Meet Thee?" Dec. 23. IV Advent—"Behold, a Branch is Growing!" CHRISTMAS DAY—"Beautiful Savior!" Dec. 30—"Come Into My Heart, Lord Jesus!" AT HOME—Would you like to revive a sweet old Advent custom? Here's how: Make a wreath of some greens, preferably white pine, because it will keep until Christmas. On the wreath fasten securely four candle holders. Set the wreath on your dining room table as an Advent center piece. Before the evening meal on the first Sunday in Advent, with the family in their places, let the father light the first, pure white Advent candle and set it in the holder. Then let the family, the children joining with their parents, recite or read the first of the Christmas prophecies: Numbers 25:17. On each succeeding Sunday another candle is lighted and another prophecy recited. You may choose the following: Isaiah 7:14—Isaiah 60:1-3—Isaiah 9:6. The candles are pure white for the goodness and the holy innocence of the Christchild. The little ceremony may be greatly enhanced by concluding it after the meal: After Grace has been spoken, the father or mother may read the Story of Christmas in the following four sections: Dec. 2—The Great Prologue: John 1:14. Dec. 9—The Announcement to Mary—Luke 1:25-38. Dec. 16—The Announcement to Joseph—Matthew 1:18-25. Dec. 23—The Wonderful Story of Christmas—Luke 2:1-20. Here's a time, then, for the whole family to join in; the children will know the story by heart; let them recite it with you. And then get out the song books and let the whole family join in singing one or two of our sweet Christmas carols. The holy joy of this Advent season will be complete, if during these four weeks the entire family, parents and children, join in preparing a secret Christmas surprise for someone who cannot repay you. A little bank is set up in the home and every one sacrifices a little each week out of his allowance, or by doing something extra, or by doing without something himself, and places it into the bank. On the Sunday before Christmas the gift is wrapped with no other identification of the donor than just words like, "From a happy family who wants to share the joy over the Christchild with you on this day of His birth." Building such traditions in your family, you will find, brings such sweet peace and holy joy stealing over you and your loved ones on Christmas, that the very doing of it will be your richest reward and the memory of it will live in your family forever. Will you join the happy circle of unknown Christmas friends this year? Will you, please drop me a note after Christmas and tell me how you fared and what you and your family did to bring Christmas joy to someone from an unknown friend? Don't sign your name; I'm merely interested in sharing your happy experience and spreading the custom among others. Write to Rev. E. Hoencke, 261 Spring street, Plymouth.

Sunday School, 10:30 a.m., for pupils up to twenty years of age. Is hypnotism a true remedial agent? This important question is discussed in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 2, under the title: "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced." The Golden Text is from Proverbs (14:22): "Do they not err that devise evil? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good." Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Deut. 18:13): "Thou shalt be perfect with the Lord thy God." Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "In no instance is the effect of animal magnetism, recently called hypnotism, other than the effect of illusion. Any seeming benefit derived from it is proportional to one's faith in esoteric magic." (p. 101) have you been wondering . . . Why Prescriptions Cost So Much?

HERE'S THE ANSWER!

THE PROBLEM CONFRONTING YOUR PRESCRIPTION DRUGGIST

Your prescription druggist usually has two strikes against him from the beginning! Imagine the reaction of the buyer, who is already ill, when charged, say $7.00 for "a few pills"! Illness is an unpleasant experience and paying for it only makes it more so.

A recent survey by the Brooklyn College of Pharmacy reveals, however, that "many, if not most, prescription prices are too low to assure profitable operation of the average prescription department." The survey reports that most pharmacists are afraid, or unwilling, to charge what their technical knowledge, training, degrees and licenses actually should demand. In other words, your pharmacist, in comparison with a painter or bricklayer, charges very little for his "labor", or technical skill.

THE TRUTH BEHIND THE PRICE OF PRESCRIPTIONS

Other than the professional skill of your pharmacist, let's examine the factors that determine the cost of prescriptions. Pharmaceutical manufacturers invest millions in discovery and production of new miracle drugs. Squibb poured 6½ million dollars into new facilities to increase production of streptomycin. Merck spent 7 million dollars on cortisone research before releasing the drug for sale. To produce ONE DAILY DOSE of cortisone for one patient, it requires the bile fraction from 40 head of cattle.

Although the price of your prescription may seem higher today—ACTUALLY, IT IS LOWER! Whereas in the old days you might pay one dollar for a prescription, stay in bed for 3 weeks and require six visits from your doctor, today's miracle drugs enable you to return to work in less than a week, require perhaps two visits from your doctor with a prescription cost of perhaps seven dollars.

WHAT YOU SHOULD EXPECT OF YOUR DRUGGIST'S PRESCRIPTION DEPARTMENT

1. It should be "hospital clean".
2. License should be on display.
3. Your prescription druggist should never suggest a substitute, "something just as good".
4. If prescription can't be filled and customer can't wait for order of new supplies, he should go to another pharmacist.
5. Beware of markedly lower or higher prices—choose a pharmacist whose prices seem consistent and fair. Cutting corners can be dangerous.

WHAT THE PRESCRIPTION DRUGGIST SHOULD EXPECT OF THE CUSTOMER

1. Do not ask for Rx-legend drugs without a prescription or refills without authorization.
2. If pain needs narcotics, or your nights barbituates, see a doctor.
3. Don't plead with your pharmacist, he is obeying laws designed for your protection.
4. Don't rush him—haste has no place in a safe prescription department.
5. Your pharmacist is under the supervision of the local Board of Health, State Department of Health, State Board of Pharmacy, local Fire Department, State Narcotics Bureau, Federal Narcotics Bureau, Food and Drug Administration.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

It is about time for our all-league football team to be announced, also, the all-state, and soon the all-American. Here's one writer who refuses to name an All-star team—just because I think it an injustice to the thousands of boys playing football to name such a team. The ballyhoo for all-American, and even all-state, begins before the season opens when the college and high schools publicity departments begin writing columns of copy about how great Joe Blow is going to be this season. His name becomes familiar to the public, and as the season progresses anything he does becomes great news.

Many small college, or small high school athletes, are as good or better than some of those chosen. This is attested to by the fact that many small college players prove to be better in the professional game than some of the high-touted all-Americans.

Too, I don't think it good for athletics for the so-called experts to pick such a team. Some schools in trying to place a back on the all-state team, let him carry the ball many times and score as many points as possible—just to get such recognition. Many times teamwork and cooperation suffer plus player hard feelings.

One of the most ballyhooed players this year has been Tracy of Birmingham. All the Detroit papers have featured him each week—of course, he will make the all-state, but how far would he have gone without all the publicity.

We'll give you the all-league team when it comes out. This is a selection of the coaches, and as each coach sees each team play, it may be more justified than one that covers a larger area. Still it must be difficult to select all the linemen.

Remember last August when I said that if Michigan State played the way they were capable of playing each Saturday they would go through an undefeated season even though they had Michigan, Ohio and Notre Dame on their schedule? Well, they did it even though they didn't play as well as they were capable each Saturday, but when the chips were down in the big games they really showed class. I still think when State is near the peak they can beat any team in the country today—a truly great team.

State has always taken a back seat to Michigan, but from now on her teams will be equal to or better than the Wolverines. Yes, MSC has reached the big leagues and no one will find lacking in the quality of play demanded there.

We also said the Detroit Lions would be up in the race this year. They are in first place now even though they had three games of mediocre football. They should go all the way, and if they do I'll predict they take the luck out of the Cleveland Browns and trounce them but good.

Hoopsiers Play Farmington there Tomorrow Night

Basketball, the popular winter sport, begins tomorrow night when the local high school cagers journey to Farmington for a game with the Falcons. Last year the Rocks knocked the Falcons off their perch when they won by a score of 42 to 33.

Coach John Sandmann says the starting lineup is a wide open scramble. He has been working on various combinations hoping to find one that will click. This game will give him some indication of what the boys can do under real conditions. Some boys look good in practice but not under pressure in a game.

Next Tuesday the first home game of the season will be played when the Northville Mustangs open our home season in the high school gymnasium. The Rocks bested Northville twice last year.

A preliminary game will be played by the reserve squads from each school on each of these nights. The reserves are coached by Charles Ketterer this year, and, like the varsity, their capabilities are of an unknown quantity.

Next Tuesday the first home game of the season will be played when the Northville Mustangs open our home season in the high school gymnasium. The Rocks bested Northville twice last year.

Symphony Review

The getting acquainted phase of orchestra and conductor having been established, the second concert of the sixth season now under the direction of Wayne Dunlap, proved most interesting.

For one thing, the program was varied and different. It began with well-known time honored favorites and ended with an exciting presentation of Kodaly's "Hary Janos Suite."

The Roman Carnival Overture, Opus 9, by Berlioz set the pace for an opening number. The second number "Symphony in B minor" also known as Schubert's "Unfinished" work fell into a more subdued tempo. This symphony was performed under Paray's direction at the Detroit Symphony concert earlier in the week, and it was most interesting to note how well the Plymouth orchestra performed it—as well as performing for the first time a Scherzo orchestrated from sketches left by Schubert and complemented by Dr. Hans Theodore David. (The writer hopes to present a short biographical sketch in a future column.) This scherzo is a blithe, lulling piece of melody that lingers with the listener and obscures the most sonorous melodies of the symphony itself.

Mr. Dunlap presented Mr. David who was present on the occasion, and also Mr. Kenneth Hulsing, a member of the Plymouth Board of Education who spoke briefly during the intermission.

The Carmen Suite No. 2 by Bizet brought many eloquent solo passages from the principal players, and Josef Lazaroff, concert master was again in his usual good form.

Nestor Sibbold, baritone, sang two solos, Toreador's Song from "Carmen" and The Two Grenadiers by Schumann. For an encore he chose Victor Herbert's "Kiss Me Again." He has very fine stage mannerisms and a pleasing voice, commensurate with his background. He will appear as one of the soloists in this year's presentation of the Messiah.

Mr. Sibbold is most engaging as a romantic singer and it is hoped that he will be heard more often on the concert stage.

The Hary Janos Suite included four movements, all most interesting—especially the Viennese Musical Clock where all the percussion instruments are given an opportunity to show off their technique, and the Intermezzo with its wild Hungarian tempo.

A good crowd was in attendance. The usual beautiful tea was held at the Veterans' Memorial Center with a former president of the Symphony Society, Hanna Strasen, and Neva Lovewell presiding at the table. The tea chairman of the day were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Law.

Ushers at the concert were Sally Canning, Susan Simmons, John Braka, and Godfrey Mende. They are student members of the Symphony Society under the direction of Mrs. Earl Demel.

by Grace Von Bergen
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wheeler of West Ann Arbor trail were in Utica on Saturday as dinner guests of Reverend and Mrs. G. McDonald Jones, formerly of the Newburg Methodist church.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Wise use of every bit of left-over food is important these days. The homemaker who constantly adds to her list of favorites with planned or "just happen so" leftover meat will be way ahead with her food budgeting.

Suggestions for use of leftover meat include dipping thin slices of roast in batter, then frying until nicely brown. Cubes of cooked meat served in cream sauce is an old stand-by. For a change, serve this creamed meat on hot corn bread squares. Or heat the meat cubes in condensed mushroom soup and serve over hot biscuits or in a noodle ring.

Beef cubes may be combined with a moist bread dressing and baked for a tasty serving. Or the chopped meat may be seasoned with onion and moistened with thick gravy, then rolled up in biscuit dough, sliced and baked for clover pinwheels. Chopped beef or ham is always tasty added to scalloped potatoes or macaroni and cheese. Slices of meat loaf may be lightly spread with catchup or mustard then broiled or panbroiled for a second serving.

Still another treat is hot sandwiches, French toast style. Spread ground leftover meat between two slices of bread, dip the sandwiches in a beaten egg-milk mixture and fry in a small amount of fat the same as French toast.

Scrappe makes use of left over meats in a way to make the family delighted. This tasty dish from out of the past presents hearty, thrifty eating for families today.

The basis of scrappe is corn meal which is combined with finely chopped or ground meat, according to Reba Stags, home economist. In preparing, boil 1 quart of water, then add 1 1/2 cups of corn meal, stirring constantly until thick. Add 2 cups of chopped or ground cooked meat, 1/2 teaspoon of salt and 1/2 teaspoon sage. For additional seasoning, 1 tablespoon of finely chopped celery leaves and 1/2 cup chopped parsley may be added. Pour the mixture into a loaf pan and chill until it is set. Then simply slice and brown in lard or drippings. Or first, dip in beaten egg, then in cracker crumbs or corn meal and brown. To out preparation time in the morning, prepare scrappe the night before. Mix, then pour into dish and chill in the refrigerator. For breakfast, slice and pan-fry.

Ham or rabbit makes tempting use of that leftover ham in your refrigerator. Simply add cubed cooked ham and a bit of grated American cheese to a medium cream sauce. Serve over slices of bread that have been toasted in the oven for about 15 minutes.

Fluorescent Dyes May Change Color With Age

Those dazzling colors you see in shirts, sweaters, jackets, caps, socks and ties are probably fluorescent colors says Clifford Tait of Tait's Cleaners and Tailors. This class of dyes was developed during World War II. For better visibility, landing signal officers on U. S. carriers wore fluorescent striped uniforms and signaled planes to landings with fluorescent paddles. Since the war, this type of dye has found wide usage for dyeing and printing of fabrics for wearing apparel, accessories and household fabrics.

Fluorescent dye differs from other classes of dyes used in coloring yarns and fabrics. It is made of transparent substances that fluoresce or glow when the invisible ultra-violet light of daylight hits or contacts it. These dyes are usually very vivid in hues of blue, red, sapphire green, neon red, and yellow, signal green, flag red and flag blue. They are used on fabrics of various fiber content—acetate, nylon, and wool. Just recently it was announced that a new modernized cotton yarn has been developed that can be dyed with fluorescent dyes.

Textile manufacturers have found that this type of dye stuff can also be used to make screen and rolled printed fabrics. There is a fluorescent printed fabric called "Colorvision Print". These colors are not as vivid as the dyed fabrics.

The National Institute of Cleaning and Dyeing has found that fabrics dyed or printed with fluorescent dyes can bleed and change color under certain conditions of wear and cleaning. They are very sensitive to light. Upon long exposure to sunlight, some of the dyes become lighter, others darker in color. They are very sensitive to alkalis. Staining substances that are alkaline in nature—alkaline perspiration, alkaline soaps and detergents—can cause a color change in this class of dye stuffs.

Unwrap Fresh Meat Before Storing

To get the most from the meat you buy, it's important that you take proper care of it from the time purchased to the time it is cooked. The first step in correct care is removing the heavy store wrappings from the meat. A little drying of the meat surface is desirable for best keeping. Unwrapped, the meat should then be left uncovered or lightly topped with a sheet of waxed paper in a shallow dish or in the refrigerator, meat keeper and placed in the coldest spot of the refrigerator.

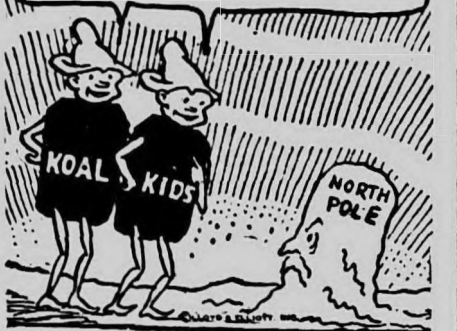

Cured hams, bacon and other wrapped cured meats, and canned hams should be stored in the refrigerator. When cooking bacon, remove only the slices to be prepared. When left outside, moisture will condense on the bacon and lessen its keeping qualities.

After meat is cooked, it should be removed from the bone in as large pieces as possible, then tightly wrapped for storing in the refrigerator. Cooked meat is always closely covered to prevent further drying.

POPULAR PARTY FARE

By Barbara B. Brooks

Children's party? Club refreshments? There is always an occasion when hostess or committee is faced with the problem of simple refreshments other than the traditional ice cream and cake. Here is a dessert that is quickly and easily made in large or small quantities. Its variations are legion. Its popularity is assured. Call it Cereal Marshmallow Dessert or Sally's Choice—but serve it once and it will be the choice of everyone who tastes it.

CEREAL MARSHMALLOW DESSERT

1/4 cup butter or margarine 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 pound marshmallows 5 cups oven-popped rice cereal

Cook butter and marshmallows in double boiler until syrupy. Add vanilla, heat thoroughly. Put cereal in greased large bowl and pour on marshmallow mixture stirring briskly.

Ice Cream Sandwiches—Spread mixture very thin in greased shallow pans or on trays. Cut into 3-inch squares and put together in two's with a slice of ice cream between.

Party Sundaes—Cut in 3-inch squares, top with a scoop of ice cream and your favorite fruit or flavored sundae sauce.

Party Pies—Place small amount of mixture in greased muffin pans. Shape to form tart shells. Just before serving fill with ice cream or fresh fruit topped with whipped cream. Full size pie shells may also be made, filled and cut into wedges for serving.

Balls or Lollipops—Shape warm mixture quickly into any size balls desired. Wrap in cellophane or decorate with faces, if desired. Skewers may be placed in balls before they harden.

Holidays and Special Occasions—Cut in fancy shapes to suit the holiday, i.e., Christmas trees and stars for Christmas, rabbits and chickens for Easter, etc. Decorate as desired.

VARIATIONS

Chocolate and Marshmallow—Stir in 4 ounces melted semi-sweet or 2 ounces melted unsweetened chocolate into marshmallow mixture just before pouring over cereal.

Peanut Butter and Marshmallow—Stir 2 tablespoons peanut butter into marshmallow mixture just before pouring over cereal.

Compact Home Laundry Centers Ease Washday Blues

One remedy for washday blues, is a compact home laundry center, designed to cut down time and effort in washing—and thus fatigue. The Washington State Experiment Station points out that in most homes today family washing is done at home, that housewives still report it as their heaviest job—yet little research has been done on arrangement of equipment or routine of work to make it easier.

Tests of three possible home laundry arrangements were made using the typical or average home equipment—non-automatic washer, stationary tubs, clothes lines and tables. In all arrangements, the tubs were installed against the wall where the plumber usually puts them.

For saving trips, time and effort the best arrangement proved to be a U-shape where the work progressed from right to left. The tubs with washer in front and clothes basket on wheels took the center of the U, while a sorting table, (with clothes chute above) stood on the right and the clothes lines and stretching table on the left.

Tubs were installed with tops 35 inches from the floor so the wringer of the washer cleared them. Directly above tubs were one double mixing faucet and, above that, another faucet for the hose to fill washer. The clothes basket was placed on a sturdy cart. An open wall cupboard (21 inches high, 25 inches wide and 7 inches deep) was placed 19 inches above the tubs so that supplies kept there were easy to reach from both sides of the tubs.

Tests of family washing showed many trips between washing and sorting center in all arrangements, showing that the sorting table needs to be within easy reach of tubs and washer. Of all the washing processes, soaking, washing and cleaning up called for the greatest number of motions—which means effort. The distance walked in the three compact arrangements differed only slightly, but the U arrangement took the least.

The studies indicate that a compact convenient center is the first step toward easier washdays.

Don't let your cows try to be patriotic during scrap metal drives by picking up nuts, bolts, and baling wire, warn Michigan State College extension dairymen. Pick up such items around the lots and fields.

Give Children A Normal Place In Christmas Preparations

Within the past two years the trend has been to push Christmas upon weeks before that great day arrives. Store windows have been giving us more than sly hints since late October. Santa Claus appears on the streets much earlier in recent years and parents wonder how to keep the excitement down to a normal level.

Miss Jean Foulkrod of the Michigan State College home economics faculty, sees the impact of this premature Christmas as she works with young children in the campus nursery schools. She says that while one month for Christmas preparation seems all too short to a busy mother it seems an eternity to a child. To most little children even a week is a long time.

Let the child have a normal place in preparations for the Christmas holiday. His very activity and sense of being a part of it will relieve the strain of wondering what he's going to get for Christmas. If parents want to avoid that over-stimulation, harmful to the health of the child, the simplest way is to take it easy on pre-Christmas preparations. Miss Foulkrod suggests. Over-stimulation over a long period will begin to show up in irritability and restlessness which are symptoms of fatigue. When children are unhappy the whole family is upset.

Parents often become over-anxious to provide too many toys and too many thrills for their child—all at once. This deprives him of his normal right to grow up, a stage at a time. The most marvelous thing about Christmas is that you can have it anywhere so long as there is someone to love and share with; it is not merely a matter of glitter, glamour, high excitement.

Schultz Farm Named Typical "Family Farm" by Edison Co.

The Schultz farm on Proctor road west of Plymouth is typical of the many modern, well-equipped "family farms" of Wayne County.

Operated by Elmer W. Schultz and his 18-year-old son, Raymond, the 360-acre Northville Township tract is devoted mainly to dairying and sweet-corn raising.

Besides Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Schultz have three other children: Barbara 16; Robert, 10; and Richard, who is eight. The family is active in rural community affairs. Mr. Schultz is secretary-treasurer of the Cherryhill section of the Wayne County Farm Bureau and also serves as a reserve aid and advisor to the local Boy Scout organization.

Although the farm was partly modernized when the present owners took it over in 1933, both Mr. and Mrs. Schultz have memories of long ago when farming meant kerosene lamps, rim lanterns, pumping and carrying water, and milking by hand. "Everything depends so much on electricity these days," says Mr. Schultz. "It is our best hired help."

Electrical equipment on the farm includes a range, refrigerator, and complete line of household appliances, as well as a milker, cooler, barn cleaner, and many other aids to dairying.

It is this electrical help, with its saving of time, work and money, that makes possible an abundant farm life like that lived by the Schultz family. Before electricity came, increased farm productivity usually meant increased ef-

Cards with first class postage are delivered and dispatched first from the Post Office.

A first class card is forwarded or if undeliverable it is returned to the sender with out additional charge, he concluded.

It gives you a lot to be thankful for

Let's suppose that this is you. The car you're riding in, as you can see, is a Buick. But what you can't see is the satisfaction which being behind that wheel brings to every day in the year. Take the feel of it—the way it goes into action when you nudge the gas treadle. Quick. Eager. Willing. No effort at all. You just swoop up to the miles per hour you want. That's because there's a high-powered, high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball Engine under the hood that makes every drop of gas do extra duty. And it's because there's a Dynaflo Drive,* feeding that power back to the rear wheels as smoothly as cream flows from a pitcher. Take the way it sits the road. Balanced. Poised. Sure-footed. Snug. That's because of a long list of things that Buick engineers have done to its ride—including a torque-tube keel that keeps rear wheels tracking true—and soft coil springs that individually cushion each wheel. Take the way it steers. Easy. Light. Firm. On a straightaway—or coming out of a curve—it seems to know what you want it to do. That's because of something the engineers call "front-end geometry"—and because 60 steel balls roll in their own little race track to ease each turn of the wheel. Take its room, its comfort, its smart good looks—and its price. Any way you size it up, here's a car to make you thankful for your good judgment in picking it, against the field. All that is needed to complete this picture is you at the wheel of a flesh-and-blood Buick—out on the road for a sample of what we've been talking about. That's easy to arrange. Just give us a call, and we'll do the rest. Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Roger Babson Says---

Babson Discusses Causes of Unemployment
 Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 29. Every manufacturer, retailer, and consumer is affected by market movements. This especially applies to a consumer whose family depends upon the employment of its father or other members. Therefore, whether you own a business or a share of stock, or are dependent on a job, you should be much interested in this column suffers. As voluntary increases in indebtedness stimulate business, so forced reduction of debt hastens a decline. It would be unwise to say that we are now heading for a depression; but it is generally believed that business is now on a plateau and the next move will be downward with much unemployment.

Importance of Entertainment
 Although the superficial factor of the business cycle is debt, yet I ask: What causes the public's changed psychic attitude as to debt? Why do people some years do a lot of buying before any change in wages or prices occurs, while in other years follow a reverse policy without apparent reason? There is some basic spiritual, unseen cause for this changed attitude. Here is where

Choral Society to Perform Sunday

A Christmas Concert of the Wyandotte Choral Society will be held at Madonna College Sunday, December 2, at 8 p.m. The performance will be open to the general public.

The Choral Society, widely renowned for the excellence of its performances, will present a choice repertory centered about the theme, "Christmas Vespers." Some of the numbers to be included in Sunday's concert are: "Ave Maria" by Gounod, "Pueri, Concinite" by Handel and Geer, selections from Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite," such as "The Dance of the Toy Flutes," "The Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairies" and "The Waltz of the Flowers." The Society, now in its 21st year of existence, consists of 45 active members, women only. First organized by Mrs. Mildred Watring Ford, the Society is now under the able direction of Lyle H. Lyon. Members are all between the ages of 18 and 60, well versed in music and accepted into the Society only after passing a vocal tryout.

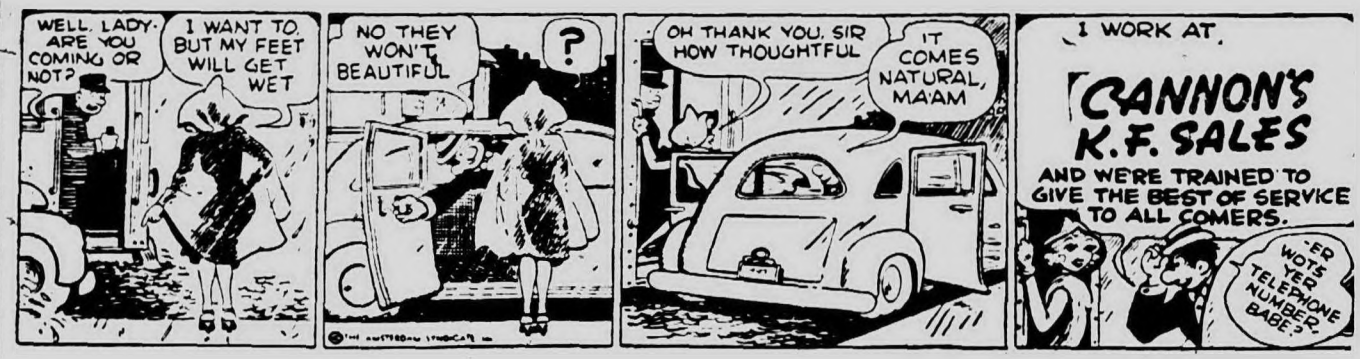

The two annual concerts presented in Wyandotte at Christmas and in the spring always draw capacity crowds. Sunday's performance at Madonna College is a special favor granted to music lovers at the college and to interested persons in the vicinity. Tickets may be purchased through any Madonna student or at the door Sunday night.
