What I Think and Have A Right to Say

By ELTON R. EATON

WHAT ABRAHAM LINCOLN SAID

"Let us have faith that right makes might; and in that faith let us to the end, dare to do our duty as we understand it."

—from Copper Union Address, New York,
February 27, 1860

"Trusting to Him who can go with me, and remains with you, and be everywhere for good, let us confidently hope that all will yet be well."

—from Farewell Address, Springfield, Ill.,
February 11, 1861

"Beware of rashness, but with energy and sleepless vigilance go forward and give us victories."

—from Letter to Major-General Hooker,
January 26, 1863

"That this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

—from Gettysburg Address, November 19, 1863

"And having chosen our course, without guile and with pure purpose, let us renew our trust in God and go forward without fear and with manly hearts."

—from Special Session Message, July 4, 1861

WHAT THE SIGN SAYS.

Walking down a street the other day in a city that has been known in the past as a stronghold for Fair Dealers, noticed a rather interesting sign in the window of a store. It said "Better trade with me or I will vote for HIM again." That, seems to me, is a sort of unusual way to get business. But it doubtless produced results.

EXTRA! BULL-ETIN! EXTRA!

Here is a Washington prediction—Attorney General J. Howard McGrath who was appointed by the President to investigate Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, has made a report to the President that he finds J. Howard McGrath and his department to be as clean as a hound's tooth.

SOAPY WILLIAMS PICKS 'EM.

Soapy Williams, the poor little millionaire kid who ran for Governor of Michigan on money he said he borrowed by mortgaging his home, declared he was going to pick only honest men to fill various positions within the state government. Among the many phonies he has picked it seems there are indications that some of them are not so honest after all. Now a Wayne county grand jury has indicted the Governor's state fair board president for the alleged acceptance of a $300 bribe for giving some carnival outfit a preferred location on the state fair grounds. Soapy sure does pick 'em.

A GOOD BILL — AND IT SHOULD PASS.

State Senator Clarence Reid of this district has introduced in the Senate a bill which will authorize police to tap telephone or telegraph wires, with court sanction, in order to obtain evidence in criminal cases. It is a good bill and it should be made into law as quickly as possible. But we doubt its enactment.

It seems that the trend of the times in recent years has been to provide crooks, thieves and grafters with every sort of legal protection. In fact it has become in many cases almost an impossibility for law enforcing officers to get convicting evidence because of restrictions thrown up against their activities.

It is about time that some laws be enacted giving to police officials rights that should not be questioned, rights that will help them to convict vast numbers of crooks who now are able to get away because of some legal technicality. We hope that the legislature will speedily enact the bill and that our foolish Governor will sign it, but we doubt that he will give it his approval—not unless the boss goons give him the clear sign.

HOW DO THEY SELL THEIR BUNK?

To me it is an amazing thing how it is possible for Drew Pearson, Marquis Childs and some of these other alleged Washington political columnists to peddle their bunk to many of the daily newspapers of this country. Much of their stuff is devoted to spreading propaganda against people they do not like and in patting themselves on the back.

As an example of what we mean—a short time ago in a Childs' column he said that, "Taft is judged by many to have a poor television personality, seeming to talk down to his audience with the strong implications in his manner that anyone who disagrees with him must be stupid."

To me, that statement is just pure, unadulterated bunk and written for the one purpose of misleading newspaper readers.

I've seen Mr. Taft on television and my reaction to his appearance was entirely different. He appears sincere, frank and absolutely honest, with no thought of evading any question put to him.

I have talked with other people who heard and saw Mr. Taft on television and their impression of him was most favorable. Childs' statement that Mr. Taft gives strong implications that any one who disagrees with him must be stupid is just pure rot, and written for the one purpose of misleading those who are foolish enough to read his bunk.

How the public stands for such stuff as Childs, Pearson and some of these other bunk "artists" put over, is more than I can understand.

MORE BLUNDERING IN KOREA.

Walter Lippmann, one of the accurate and careful writers serving American newspapers in Washington, the other day had considerable to say about one of the tragic blunders the present administration has made in Korea. So you may know what Mr. Lippmann thinks about this frightful error made by the Truman crowd, we are quoting at length from his article as follows:

"The heart rending problem of the prisoners of war in Korea need never have arisen. With reasonable care in Tokyo and Washington the problem would not have arisen."

"We have captured some considerable number of North Korean and Chinese troops who do not wish to be returned to the Communist governments. Some of them have deserted to our lines because they were lured by our leaflets promising them security. Some of the Chinese have been tattooed with anti-Communist slogans by other Chinese in our camps. We can't in honor and decency force these prisoners of war to go back to what for many of them would be torture or death."

"But with a little foresight and common sense we would have had no prisoners of war who could not be repatriated. We would have released them long ago. We would be holding no prisoners of war today who could not be exchanged. The anti-Communist Chinese would be on their way to Formosa. The anti-Communist North Koreans would have disappeared among the South Korean population."

"Instead of doing that we have not only detained them as prisoners of war but we have actually transmitted their names to the enemy authorities. By this monumental piece of stupidity we have made it certain even if the enemy were to agree to our position that no prisoner must be forced to go home, those who do not now choose to go home have to realize that their families are marked and in danger."

"We have also made it virtually impossible for the Communist governments to agree to an exchange of prisoners. For now—if they agree to our demands—it will be known and it will be published to the world exactly how many of their own soldiers have turned against them, each of them identified by name and by regiment."

"Had we had the sense not to list the anti-Communists as prisoners of war, and to let them out of the camps, there would have been no problem of prestige or propaganda involved in the humane business of exchanging these prisoners."

New Landscape Series Offered Mail Readers

Through arrangement with Professor Harlow O. Whitte-more of the University of Michigan, readers of The Plymouth Mail, will have an opportunity to gain first hand information on landscaping for their homes during the next 10 weeks.

Professor Whitte-more, head of the University's Landscape Architecture department has prepared a series on this interesting subject and because of the authenticity of the material The Mail feels it will be more than helpful to its readers as they start thinking about their spring yard and garden projects.

Since there are so many new homes now being finished in this area and others under way there should be much information in the 10 week series that would be helpful to the newer residents and the new home owners of the locality. The first of the series appears on page three of the first section of this issue.

Summer Camp for Crippled Tots at Scout Cabin

Representatives from various organizations met Monday evening, January 28, at the Girl Scout cabin to discuss plans for a crippled children's day camp this summer. Circled around the huge fireplace in the cabin were representatives of the Kiwanis club, Wayne County Health department, Girl Scout Council, Board of Education and members of the Wayne Out-County chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Kiwanis president, Michael Huber, gave a brief history on how the cabin project was developed. It began with a committee appointed in 1943 to raise funds for a Girl Scout cabin. By means of minstrel shows, theater guild plays, and various other shows, funds were finally available to begin the project. In 1947 a large lot was purchased three miles south of Plymouth, near Plymouth road, overlooking Plymouth Park. Construction on the cabin began in 1948 by members of the Kiwanis club.

The cabin was first used by the Girl Scouts for a summer camp in 1950. In September, 1951, it was turned over to them although there is still some interior finishing work and landscaping to be done.

Mrs. Joseph Witwer, of the Girl Scout Council, told how the troops had worked to furnish the recreation room with rustic furniture, contributed the major cost of the heating plant and are now paying the utility expenses. Mrs. Witwer stated the Girl Scouts are happy to share their home with the crippled children and would be even willing to help with the day camp.

A schedule has been worked out whereas the cabin will be available to approximately 25 crippled children from the middle of June to August 15. The camp will operate from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Girl Scouts will use the cabin after August 15.

The committee hopes to find other ideal facilities such as the Scout cabin, in other sections of the country for more day camps for handicapped children.

Club to Hold Benefit Dance

Rural-Urban committee of the Plymouth Rotary club is sponsoring a dance Saturday, February 16, in the Masonic temple. Proceeds from the affair will be used to build a hog barn on the Wayne County 4-H fairground at Belleville.

Robert Waldecker is chairman of the Rural-Urban committee. Assisting him are Earl West, Joe Wickins, Bill Taylor and Perry Richwine.

Cliff Basha's orchestra will furnish the music. Refreshments will be served.

Tickets which sell at $1.00 each may be purchased from Rotarians or from any member of the 4H club.

Mr. Waldecker states that about $700 is needed to buy materials for the barn. Labor will be provided by the members of Rotary. If the first dance does not net enough for the materials, another will be held.

Civic Chorus Rehearses

Rehearsals are now underway for "Down in the Valley," an operetta by Kurt Weill, to be presented April 6 by the Plymouth Civic Chorus.

Anyone who is interested in singing is invited to attend the rehearsals on Monday evenings at 7:30 p.m. Basses are especially needed.

Bob Burns Uses Story From One of Charles H. Bennett's Articles

It is nothing less than amazing how quickly "gag" writers will pick up some unusual story or funny anecdote to be used by radio and television story tellers.

Plymouth Mail readers will recall that in one of the early articles written by Charles H. Bennett about life in this city some 75 or 80 years ago, he recalled a story pertaining to how moonshiners up around Brighton made whiskey back in the old days. He referred to a test they were said to have used in order to find out when the whiskey was ready to drink — by throwing a horseshoe in the mash and if it floated then the whiskey was ready to use.

If you heard Bob Burns on Bing Crosby's program on the radio last Wednesday night, you heard him tell that story almost in the exact words used in Mr. Bennett's article when it appeared in The Plymouth Mail.

There is no question but what some one of the several clipping agencies that subscribe to The Plymouth Mail, caught this interesting story as written by Mr. Bennett and sent it on to some of the "gag" writers employed by radio and television story tellers. They apparently thought the story good enough for Bob Burns to use — and he did, without giving credit where credit was due.

Kiwanians Need Items for Their Rummage Sale

"We can use anything from a thrashing machine to a needle," stated Earl Willoughby, chairman of the Kiwanis rummage sale. "If you have anything which you wish to get rid of, call 799, 864, or 1229-J and a member of the club will pick it up at your home," he continued.

The sale will be February 14, 15, and 16 in the D. and C. and S. S. Kresge stores on Main street.

Proceeds will be used to send a boy to Boys' state, to send three crippled children to day camp for eight weeks at the Kiwanis Girl Scout cabin, and for toys for the Maybury Sanitarium and the Goodfellows. The remainder of the money is used for children's philanthropic purposes.

The Kiwanians purchased a tele-ocinocular visual testing machine for the school district several years ago. This machine is used to test children from kindergarten up through high school. It gives a good picture of the child's visual acuity.

Isbister Named to State Committee

Russell L. Isbister, superintendent of the Plymouth Public Schools, has been notified by the State Board of Education, through Superintendent of Public Instruction, Lee M. Thurston, that he has been appointed to the Advisory Committee on Education and Certification.

It is quite an honor to be selected to this Board since of the 17 members chosen, many are leading educators in the state.

The purpose of this Board is to advise the State Board of Education on matters, such as, teacher certification, standards for graduation from Michigan colleges, and many other educational problems. The State Board has the legal authority on all decisions.

Others from this area named to the Board are: Dr. Robert V. Dixon of the School of Education, University of Michigan, and Superintendent of Schools Stuart Openlander of Wayne High school.

Earl Willoughby of Willoughby Brothers shoe store has purchased Stib's Brothers shoe store in Racine, Wisconsin. Mr. Willoughby will leave for Racine sometime after February 15.

ONE OF THE FASHION-conscious and fashion wise Michigan State college coeds who appeared in the annual Farmers' Week style review was Marion Amrhein, Miss Amrhein, a 19 year old sophomore, is shown modeling a purple broadcloth dress with a tucked yoke and mandarin collar. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Amrhein, 46150 Ann Arbor Trail.

Pastor Sees Billy Graham Revival

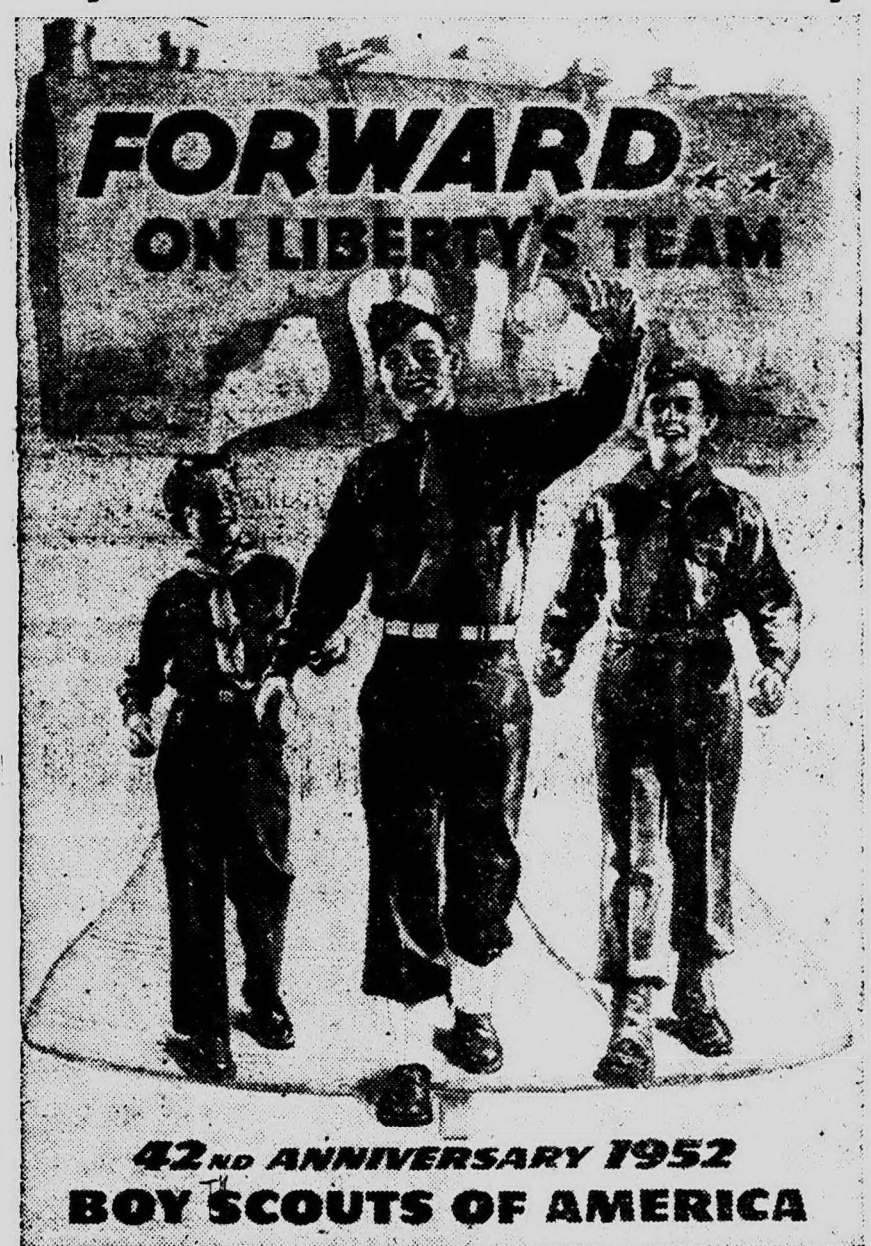

Rev. Patrick Clifford

Reverend Clifford was one of 65 pastors and 8 laymen from the Detroit area, who flew to Washington D. C., to attend the "Christ, for the Capitol" meetings conducted by Evangelist Billy Graham. Twenty-six different denominations and religious organizations were in the group.

The purpose of the trip was to hear the famous Evangelist and to try and induce him into making an appearance in the Detroit area in the near future. After the Tuesday night meeting, the men met with the Evangelistic party, and were encouraged when the Evangelist stated that he would (Continued on Page 5)

Boy Scouts Observe 42nd Birthday

Official Boy Scout Week Poster

President Truman will greet 12 outstanding Boy Scouts in the White House during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12, marking the 42nd anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. Boy Scout Week will be observed throughout the nation by more than 2,900,000 boys and adult leaders. Since 1910, more than 19,000,000 boys and men have been members of the organization. "Forward ... on Liberty's Team" is the birthday theme.

New Cars Cause Much Interest

There is no doubt but what the Plymouth car dealers are the happiest group of businessmen in this city at this writing. The introducing of their new models to the buying public has provided them a new enthusiasm and all are in accord on the fact, that they have the best product, on their show room floors this year that their respective companies have yet provided.

Local residents who haven't visited the local show rooms are invited by all of the dealers to inspect their new models on display and all would welcome the opportunity to demonstrate their cars.

Of general interest to the community is the list of local residents driving the first of the new cars about the city streets. Carl Shear of the Plymouth Buick Sales delivered his first 1952 model to Glen Cogsdill and Clyde Smith of the Smith Motor Sales reports that the first 1952 Hudson was delivered to Eugene Wilson.

Dr. Walter Hammond is the proud possessor of the first new Ford from Paul J. Wiedman, Inc. as is Leo Matheu the first possessor of the new 1952 Cadillac delivered by the Beglinger Cadillac agency.

Frank Van Dusen displays the first Packard delivered by Earl S. Mastick and George Witkowski owns the first 1952 Oldsmobile delivered also by the Beglinger agency. Proud owner of the first 1952 Chevrolet delivered by the Allison agency is Lowell Sweeney and Walter Sittman is now driving the first 1952 Pontiac delivered by Berry and Atchinson.

Gerald Stubbs will be the first local owner of the new Willys which will be delivered shortly by the Johnson Motors and The Forrest Motor Sales announces that Edward Nidy is the first owner of the new 1952 Dodge and that Warren Todd was delivered the first new 1952 Plymouth. Ann Arbor Road Motors delivered their first 1952 DeSoto to Frank Bazo and their first 1952 Plymouth to Richard Twining.

Cannon K-F Sales announced that the 1952 Henry J's will be shown February 19 and that on March 15 the 1952 Kaiser's will be on public display.

Wrong Mail Box
Plymouth Postmaster George Timpona relates that quite a few persons are depositing mail in storage mail boxes. These storage boxes are not for the deposit of mail by the public.

In the very near future these boxes will be identified by the following inscription "Not for the Deposit of Mail."

Merchants Discuss New Store Hours

The Retail Merchants' committee, of the Chamber of Commerce, has held several meetings lately to discuss the problem of uniform business hours for merchants in Plymouth.

The committee feels that some types of business will not permit adhering to a set pattern, but nevertheless, they feel that a uniform program of business hours for those that can adjust, will best serve the entire group.

As a result a questionnaire was prepared to find the merchants' thoughts on problems confronting them at this time.

Results of the questionnaire will be printed in a later edition of The Plymouth Mail.

March of Dimes Nears $1000 Mark

The citizens of Plymouth responded well to the call from the March of Dimes. According to Walter Goodwin, March of Dimes chairman, $975.10 has been collected thus far. The familiar canisters placed in various business establishments netted $492.30; another $194.21 came from checks and contributions from individuals and business concerns; and $288.59 was collected in the door-to-door canvass conducted by the high school Hi-Y boys.

Mr. Goodwin states that if there are any who still would like to contribute, a check or money order made out to the March of Dimes may be sent to him at Plymouth High School. The campaign is open until February 29. Let's go over the thousand dollar mark!

Livonia Plans For New Schools

Growth of this area is being reflected in Livonia as well as Plymouth and already the neighboring community is faced with school growing pains as is Plymouth. According to Livonia superintendent of schools Harry Johnson Livonia taxpayers will soon be asked to provide three new grade schools to accommodate the constant influx of children to that city.

Approval of Board of Education in Livonia was given early this week to the demands of the superintendent for three new grade schools to be located in the following areas. One in the Dutch Mill area near Middle Belt and Five Mile roads, another in the Plymouth and Middle Belt road area and the third in the Farmington and Seven mile road area.

Voters will be asked for additional millage to provide for the new schools within the next few weeks to allow the system to take advantage of the building priorities which they now hold and will expire in March.

A survey of growth shows that there are at present 2,200 grade school children and the school system has proper, modern facilities for only 1,500 children. That leaves 740 some children that are getting education in sub standard housing conditions. At least one new grade school child has entered the system every day since December which means that the schools have to provide one new class room each month. "From present day trends there isn't much choice for Livonia school voters except to provide additional rooms for their children," say school officials.

Installation for Hi-12 Officers

Last night the Hi-12 club held their annual dinner and installation service in the Masonic Temple. Several state Hi-12 officers were on hand to assist with the impressive ceremony.

The new officers installed were David Thompson, president; Harry Brooks, 1st vice-president; Kenneth Harrison, 2nd vice-president; Rex Hoffman, secretary; Henry Grimm, treasurer; Russell Kirkpatrick, international representative.

Scott - Nielson Rites Solemnized on Saturday

Hosanna Evangelical Lutheran church on Plymouth road was the setting for the impressive candlelight ceremony last Saturday evening, February 2, uniting Wanda Lou Nielson and Private Arthur W. Scott. Wanda's parents are the Arthur Nielsons of Bainbridge road, Livonia and Arthur's parents are Mrs. Eleanor Scott of Garden City and Arthur W. Scott of Campbell, California.

Reverend R. W. Pranschke officiated at the eight o'clock rites before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and palms. Traditional nuptial music was played during the services. Wanda chose for her marriage a purple suit with orchid accessories and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and hyacinths. Her only attendant was her sister-in-law, Faye Nielson who wore a flamingo colored suit with navy accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and carnations. LaVern Nielson, the bride's brother, served as best man.

Mrs. Nielson selected for her daughter's wedding, a blue and white print dress with blue jacket and navy accessories and Mrs. Scott was in a navy blue suit with black accessories. Both mothers wore yellow and white carnation corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents in Garden City for 50 relatives and friends coming from Livonia, Plymouth, Garden City, Detroit, Muskegon and California. Following a honeymoon through the Eastern states Mrs. Scott will return to Livonia where she will make her home with her parents while Private Scott is stationed with the Army Occupational Forces in Germany. Both young people are graduates of Plymouth High school.

Loren Goodales Celebrate Silver Wedding Anniversary

On January 22, 1952 Loren J. and Caroline M. Goodale repeated the vows which they spoke 25 years ago. It was a double ring ceremony at the First Methodist church performed by the Reverend M. I. Johnson. The bride wore a corsage of white carnations on a royal blue street dress. A buffet dinner was enjoyed following the services. The table was centered with a tiered wedding cake decorated in silver.

Guests included Barbara, Beverly and Loren J. Goodale Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. McMullen and son, Alan, children of the Goodales; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Goodale, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goodale and sons, Bobbie and Ronnie; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Croft and sons, Howard and Terry; William Taft, and Rod Juve. The Goodales who reside on Hamilton street received many lovely gifts, cards and flowers.

An open house was held on Sunday, February 3 from 4 to 8 o'clock with over 200 guests coming from Flint, Wixom, Inkster, Northville, Livonia, Detroit, and Plymouth. Pouring at the tea tables were Mrs. Lloyd Croft and Mrs. Howard Goodale.

Joan Stover Weds Kenneth Boland on Saturday

Miss Joan Stover, daughter of Mrs. B. D. Sutherland of Farmington and Charles Stover of Durand, repeated her nuptial vows to Kenneth Vincent Boland at 9:30 o'clock in St. Michael's church in Rosedale Gardens Saturday morning, February 2. Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Boland of Livonia. She was given in marriage by Joseph R. Casselman.

Joan's candlelight satin gown was fashioned with a nylon yoke edged in Chantilly lace, long pointed sleeves and full gathered skirt which extended into a long train edged with two rows of lace. Her fingertip length veil was attached to a coronet of pearls fashioned in orange blossoms. She carried a prayer book centered with white orchids and satin streamers tied with hyacinths.

Rosemary Stover, sister-in-law of the bride was her matron of honor. She wore antique gold nylon net over gold satin with which she wore a shoulder cape of matching net and a gold quilted cap. She carried talisman roses.

Jerome Boland assisted his brother as best man and Richard Boland, another brother, seated the guests.

Mrs. Sutherland, the bride's mother wore a navy taffeta print suit with navy and white accessories and Mrs. Boland chose hunter's green with black accessories. Both wore yellow rose corsages.

A wedding breakfast immediately following the ceremony was held at "Cassades", home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Casselman on West Six Mile road for the families. Open house was held in honor of the couple by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Boland Saturday evening in their home on Sanbury after which the young couple left on a wedding trip to Chicago, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Boland will be at home after February 11 at 29950 West Six Mile road.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith of Newburg recently returned from a trip to Florida conducted by Michigan State College. The trip included a tour of vegetable farms in Florida. The Smiths traveled about 15,000 miles and also made a side trip to Cuba before returning home. They were gone about three weeks.

Suggestions for Landscaping

How to Achieve Balance Between House, Lawn and Your Garden

By Harlow C. Whittemore
Professor of Landscape Architecture
University of Michigan

The architecture of your house and its various lawn and garden features must be carefully analyzed as to form, color and texture if you hope to achieve a proper and pleasing balance.

Maybe yours is one of those tall, old-fashioned houses with high roofs, doors and windows to correspond. This was thought necessary because of the narrow lots on which they were built. You can make it appear lower by planting very tall trees near it, and by placing tall shrubs and evergreens near the foundation. If the house walls are of brick or stone, you can use tall growing vines to counteract the height of the house.

Before and after sketches show proper landscaping of an older home.

Proper balance suggests adding more horizontal lines. This may be achieved by the use of such features as a terrace or flat-type porch roof, and trees with horizontal branches near by, in addition to the taller trees already mentioned. Also, it is desirable to carry hedges right and left from such a house. The hedges should be fairly high and should be carried over to the boundary line and then forward a reasonable distance along the boundary. To get through the hedge, you can either have a clipped archway or a wooden doorway.

Material similar to the house walls, if these are brick or stone, will also help tie your house to the ground. If there is a terrace, it could be made of similar material. In place of a hedge you could use a wooden fence or stone or brick walls. A porch-like car-port can often be added to even an old-type house with very beneficial results to the appearance of the house and the convenience of the car owner.

(This is the first of a series of ten articles. The second will deal with ways to soften the exterior of a home by using trees and shrubs.)

Last Rites Held for Henry Grimm

Funeral services were held Saturday, February 2 at 1 o'clock from the Schrader Funeral home for Henry William Grimm, Sr. who passed away early Thursday morning, January 31 at the age of 90 years. He resided at 34615 E. Ann Arbor trail, Livonia.

Surviving are his wife, Bertha; two sons and one daughter Henry and Raymond Grimm and Mrs. Clara Campbell, all of Livonia, also surviving are seven grandchildren and four great grandchildren, other relatives and a host of friends. He was preceded in death by five children.

Mr. Grimm came to Detroit from German in 1872 and moved to Livonia in 1903.

Rev. Robert D. Richards of the Newburg Methodist church officiated. Hymns were rendered on the organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. The pallbearers were Robert Grimm, John Campbell, Howard Corst, Walter Snyder, Chris Jakewell and Frank Oldenburg. Interment was made in Newburg cemetery.

Florence Webber Rites Wednesday

Mrs. Florence L. Webber, who resided with her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Carl January at 1408 Sheridan avenue, passed away Sunday, February 3, after a short illness. She was 80 years of age.

Mrs. Webber has lived in Plymouth for the past 30 years. She was preceded in death by her husband, Samuel in 1913.

Surviving are her two daughters, Mrs. Louise January of Plymouth and Mrs. Marion Hornbeck of Indianapolis, Indiana; one brother, Floyd W. Hillman of Sutton's Bay, Michigan; two grandchildren and three great grandchildren, other relatives and many friends.

Mrs. Webber was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, February 6 at 1 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home with Rev. Henry J. Walsh, officiating. The pallbearers were Ralph Lorenz, Harry Reeves, Kenneth Harrison, Austin Whipple, Harvey Springer and Dr. John Olsaver. Hymns were played on the organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. Interment was made in Lyons cemetery, Lyons, Michigan.

Last Rites Held for Roman Leskiw

Funeral services were held Monday, February 4 at the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church for Roman Orest James Leskiw.

Jimmy, as he was known, was the fourth month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephan Leskiw. His parents came to this country from Ukraine by way of Germany less than a year ago. The parents were displaced persons brought to the United States by the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church and have been the personal concern of the church and the congregation since their arrival.

The known survivors of Jimmy are his parents, Stephen and Maria Leskiw and his sister Natalia. Whether or not the maternal and paternal grandparents survive is not known since no word has been heard from them in Ukraine since the Leskiw family arrived in the United States.

Rev. J. Woodrow Wooley officiated at the services which were conducted by the Schrader Funeral home of Plymouth. Hymns were played on the organ by Mrs. William Koenig. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Rites Held for Mrs. M. Turnbull

Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Turnbull who for the past two years resided at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Kelley at 11449 East-side drive in Plymouth Township, passed away Thursday morning, January 31 at the age of 86 years.

Surviving are her three daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Wilson of Delhi, Ontario; Mrs. Pearl Kelly of Plymouth; and Mrs. Katherine Norton of Detroit and her two brothers, John Fisher of Chatham, Ontario and Charles Fisher of Tillsonburg, Ontario; also surviving are three grandchildren, other relatives and many friends. Her husband, Lawrence Turnbull preceded her in death.

Mrs. Turnbull was brought to the Schrader Funeral Home and later taken to the Porter Funeral Home at Delhi, Ontario where funeral services were held Saturday, February 2. Interment was in Delhi cemetery.

When you're young you do a lot of wishful thinking. As you grow older you do a lot of thoughtful wishing.

Mrs. Dobozy to be Buried Today

Mrs. Charles Dobozy, 78, died suddenly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Esten Gray, 1086 Starkweather avenue, Monday. She was born in Hungary and came to this country 62 years ago. She is survived by two sisters, one in Hungary and one in Duquesne, Pennsylvania; seven children, Charles and Kenneth of Wayne, John of New Boston, William of Farmington, Mrs. Esten Gray, Mrs. Foster Kisabeth of Plymouth, and Andrew of Waukegan; 18 grandchildren; several nieces and nephews; and a host of friends.

Burial was held at the home of her daughter, Wednesday. Services are from Our Lady of Good Council church, this morning, Thursday, at 10 a.m. Burial is in St. Stephen's cemetery, New Boston.

DeMolay News

Plymouth Chapter of De Molay held its business meeting and first Degree Wednesday evening, with the new Master councilor, Tom Guthrie presiding.

Richard Huebler, State Scriber, was among the 21 state officers who traveled to Escanaba recently to initiate 33 new members and to install the new corps of officers in the evening. They were accompanied by six dads.

Sunday, February 19, the district board of DeMolay will meet at 2 p.m. in the Plymouth Masonic temple. Peter Lesmon and Dale Blackmore are the Plymouth representatives on this board.

Theatre Guild to Cast

Tryout meeting and casting for the Plymouth Theatre Guild spring production, "Two Blind Mice," will be Friday, February 15, at 8:00 p.m. in the Junior High school gymnasium.

All persons interested in trying out for a part should attend the meeting.

Tri-City Players Production to be February 15, 16

Tri-City Players, a group of amateur players, under the direction of Stewart Dodge will present their first production, "Take Your Medicine" February 15 and 16 at the Northville Presbyterian church.

The Tri-City Players will be sponsored in the play by the White Shrine of Jerusalem, Trinity number 44, of Farmington. Proceeds will go into the groups general fund for local charitable work.

Players organized late in August 1951 when Stewart Dodge began looking for men and women who wanted to belong to an acting group. The Players now number 18 with room for more. Originally the players were to contribute to a specific Plymouth group.

"Take Your Medicine" by Felicia Metcalfe and published by the Heuer Publishing company, Iowa, a comedy, concerns an old rich man and a pleasant old gentleman who are hospitalized. Confusion results when the wealthy uncle thinks his niece's boyfriend is about to become a medical doctor.

Players are a non-profit organization seeking sponsorship of various organizations interested in adding to funds for charitable work.

Stewart Dodge is president; Mrs. Patricia Roginski, vice-president; Clyde Davis Business manager; and Norrine Kleinschmidt, secretary-treasurer.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. R. H. Lang, Gainesville, Ala.: I remember when I was a little girl my father had a cotton gin. I would go to the gin sometimes and the woman driving the mules would pick me up and hold me on the lever as she drove the mules around to gin the cotton.

From S. I. McGinnis, Culloden, W. Va.: I remember when my father ran tobacco off the top of a hill on a large wire stretched to the barn down at the house. One man hung the tobacco on the wire and one man at the barn took it off. When the wire got rusty and the brackets would not slip so well, father would lower the wire and run a meat skin over it.

From F. L. Slaven, Ravenswood, W. Va.: I remember my father built a fire on a sloping flat rock with pine knots to get something to grease the spindle of his wagon. He caught the tar and used it on the spindle. In place of a lantern he used a torch of pine, and sometimes burnt pine in the fireplace to light the house.

From Mrs. Ida Kittleson, Mt. Horeb, Wisc.: I remember when the butcher would come with his meats to our village. He had a bell which he would ring. We all would go out to see his wares, and mother would buy enough meat for a long time for 25c. He would give a few scraps to our yellow cat.

From Mrs. S. P. Ace, St. Petersburg, Fla.: I remember when we had a tin pail and dipper on the side bench in the schoolroom and everybody drank from the same dipper.

BYE-BYE BACHELORS . . . The gals are loaded, it's leap year again. The women are out in full force, hunting the bachelor male.

Future Homes Appeal Denied

City commission sitting as a board of appeals denied the appeal of Future Homes, Inc., to construct a Gunnison home within the city limits of Plymouth. The original petition was denied by the building inspector. The city commission then went to Ann Arbor to view the model home, and some which had been constructed several years ago. (The commission did not go to the plant as was previously stated in the MAIL). After viewing the houses, the commission denied the request. Future Homes, Inc., then applied for a hearing.

The commission heard John Fish, lawyer representing Gunnison Homes Inc., Leo Meyers, builder of the homes from Ann Arbor, and William Markwell, general manager of dealer operations and service of the Gunnison Homes, Inc., at the appeal on Monday, at the regular meeting of the commission.

The opinion of the city is that the house does not meet the requirements of the building code, passed in 1930. The city code calls for 2x4 studs, the Gunnison home use only 2x5. The Gunnison home has exterior walls of two inch plywood instead of the usual 3/4 inch sheathing, siding and a veneer.

Harry Duerson, who was to construct the home states that there have been more than 20,000 Gunnison homes built in the country, and that they have withstood both wind and weather.

Water Granted to New Subdivision

Request submitted by Dr. J. M. Robison to have use of Plymouth Water supply in Plymouth Colony subdivision, consisting of 53 lots outside of the city limits, was approved by the city commission at its regular meeting, January 4.

The water was allowed on the condition that all installations be made at no cost to the city and that an engineer chosen by the city approve all plans.

The subdivision is located south of Ann Arbor trail and west of Hough park woods. There will be a tap at Sheldon road and one on Elm street.

Girl Scouts to Attend Circus

Girl Scout winter rally sponsored by the local Girl Scout council will be a trip to the Shrine circus on Saturday, February 9. The girls will leave from the Junior High school at 10:30 a.m. and return between 5:30 and 6:00 p.m. Approximately 190 scouts and their leaders are expected to attend.

Each girl is to bring her own pack lunch. Arrangements were made by Merle Atchinson, program chairman of the Plymouth Girl Scout council.

A combination of beef suet, sunflower seed and finely cracked corn will satisfy both insect-eating and seed-eating birds this winter.

Local Boy Honored

C. Douglas Huebler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huebler of Berry road, was elected to the national honorary society of Tau Sigma Delta. Huebler received his degree as Master of Science and Design from the University of Michigan in January. He was one of two artists and two architects to be elected to the society from the University.

FOWL MEDITATION . . . Black Japanese Bantam Cockerel in Madison Square Garden poultry show ponders question—'which came first, the chicken or the egg?'

Mrs. Ray Currier of Shearer drive underwent surgery again on Friday of last week and is doing as nicely as can be expected. Her daughter, Mrs. Bertha Pervine of Augusta, Michigan is with her mother for a few days.

Social items can be phoned to 1600.

Betty Roberts to Lecture Here

Plymouth branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association will meet Monday, February 11, at 2:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Earl Russell, 1321 West Maple.

The program will consist of an illustrated talk, "Garden Glories," by Betty Roberts of Birmingham. Miss Roberts has presented programs to the garden club before. "Garden Glories" is a series of colored slides of gardens. Miss Roberts took the pictures herself. They were taken all over the continent from Central America to the British Yukon territory.

The pilgrimage includes Michigan gardens and wild flowers, private estates in New England, the Smokies in springtime, the Floating Gardens of Xochimilco, Arizona desert cactus, and on into Alaska and the Yukon.

Mrs. Clarence Elliot is tea chairman. Assisting her are Mrs. Earl Myers, Mrs. Louis Truesdell, Mrs. Peter Leemon, Mrs. Carl Shear, Mrs. Arthur Mills and Mrs. Horace Hatcher.

Hunters Spend More Time in Jail

Violators of conservation laws spent more than twice as much time in jail in November than in the same 1950 month, the conservation department discloses.

Arrests increased slightly from 1,084 to 1,122, but jail terms were hiked from 185 to 483 total days. Fines and costs amounted to $33,943, about $500 more.

As expected, deer hunters were responsible for the bulk of the court cases. Conservation officers made 314 arrests for possession of loaded firearms in cars. Another 133 were caught transporting firearms in deer areas during closed season and 79 attempting to hunt deer with artificial light.

If you plan a buffet supper for one of your winter parties ask someone to help keep the table cleared. This is the only important detail in buffet service—remove plates as soon as put down.

Installation for Hi-12 Officers

Also a comedy skit was given by Kenneth Thompson, followed by a short talk from Rev. Robert Richards, pastor of the Newburg Methodist church.

Last week, former president Loren Goodale was in charge of the program and secured Melvin Blunk, the Occupational Training instructor at the high school, who gave a very interesting talk on the Occupational Training program. He explained how it operates, how the course began, what it is and how it can serve the members of the Hi-12 who employ help. Also how it helps students at Plymouth High School, and the method of cooperation between trainers, parents, employers and the school.

Partners Illness Closes Business

Because of the illness of Paul Grooms, the partnership of the Grooms and Young Sinclair Gasoline, has been dissolved, and they have given up their gasoline service and repair business at Starkweather and Pearl Streets.

This action was necessitated when Mr. Grooms was recently confined to Maybury sanatorium. He is progressing nicely under treatment, and it is expected that during the latter part of 1952 he will be able to again resume a business career.

Prosecutor Has Out-County Office

Residents of this area will now be served by the Wayne County Prosecuting Attorney's office without having to go all the way down to the main Detroit office according to Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien.

An Out-county branch office was opened Tuesday, February 5, at the Allen Park Post Office building at 6605 Park avenue, Allen Park. It is located on the second floor of the Allen Park postoffice and the telephone number is Dunkirk 2-8155.

This branch office will be in charge of Garfield A. Nicholas, assistant prosecutor, with a staff of assistants helping him.

The office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8:30 a.m. until 12 noon on Saturday.

All cases demanding immediate attention on Saturday afternoons, nights, Sundays or holidays will be handled by the main office in Detroit.

This branch is being opened for the convenience of the Wayne county citizens in the outlying areas of the county.

Brotherhood To Sponsor Banquet

Men's Brotherhood of the Rosedale Gardens, Presbyterian church will hold its annual father and son banquet on Tuesday, February 19, at 6:30 p.m.

Featured on the program will be Don Carlson, life boy scout. Carlson was one of the Boy Scouts from the United States attending the Jamboree held this past summer in Austria. While in Europe, he took colored movies of the countries through which he traveled. These movies will be shown by Scout Carlson.

Carlson attended the Jamboree held in Valley Forge in 1950. He is a junior at Bentley high school, plays in the BHS band, is a member of the cast of the junior play, chairman of J-Hop, and has been a counselor at the boy scout camp for the past three years.

Group singing led by a father with an outstanding voice will be a part of the program.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Brotherhood or call Plymouth 168.

Science Gives Us the Latest News On Breakfast Efficiency

YOU are efficient in the morning if you get breakfast on the table on time. Too, you're an efficient homemaker if you regularly serve thrifty yet adequate breakfasts.

Nutritionists and physiologists have taken just a slightly different approach to the subject of breakfast efficiency. As you might expect, they look at it from this angle: Just how efficient are the foods you get at breakfast as far as your body's use of them is concerned? Does the body really put to work the important B vitamins, minerals, and protein a good breakfast provides?

Science Says This

The researchers found the answer in a breakfast study conducted at a prominent medical college. The efficiency of two types of breakfasts, a basic cereal breakfast and a basic bacon and egg breakfast, was studied. It was found that both breakfasts are equally good sources of the B vitamins, thiamine and niacin, B vitamins, and the minerals, calcium, phosphorus, and iron. You have two basic meal patterns from which to choose: fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter, or fruit, bacon, one egg, toast, butter, jelly and milk.

Here's more good news. This scientific proof now tells us that we can get all the food needs our bodies require from everyday foods—no need to shop for "fadist foods" or to resort to other sources for nutrients.

Homemakers with one eye on the budget and the other on the clock will find that they can be most efficient in the morning by serving a basic cereal breakfast. You can have it on the table in the time it takes the coffee to perk.

Here's an appetizing version which is just one of hundreds of menu possibilities based on this pattern. Combine the first three foods of the pattern, fruit, cereal, and milk, into a cereal banana split. Look's festive, but it's easy. Just line the cereal bowl with banana quarters and crisp whole wheat flakes, and top with milk. As a sweetener, use honey butter; add wedges of coffee cake from the bakery, butter, and milk and coffee to drink.

"On August 12, 1949, a year before the Korean War began, 59 governments signed a treaty dealing with the protection of the victims of war. The third of the treaties has to do with prisoners, and it is the existing law by which we live. It is plain the treaty does not contemplate the problem we now have before us in Korea—namely how not to repatriate prisoners who do not wish to go home. It is strange the treaty says nothing about this problem in view of the horrible experience at the end of World War II, to which the Alsop brothers have just called attention, when nearly 1,000 Russians who had been prisoners in Germany committed suicide while they were being forcibly repatriated to Russia.

The Geneva Convention of 1949 has nothing in it for men like these. We had forgotten that experience, and we were intensely pre-occupied with an even more dreadful, though different, experience. This was the prolonged detention by the Russians of the prisoners they had captured, and their refusal to return so many of them on the ground these men preferred to remain in the Communist world. To prevent that sort of thing from happening the Western powers wrote into the treaty, in Article 7, "prisoners of war may in no circumstances renounce in part or in entirety the rights secured to them by the present convention, and then in Article 118 the treaty says "prisoners of war shall be released and repatriated without delay after the cessation of active hostilities." There is not a word in the treaty about voluntary repatriation. When we were writing the treaty, we were thinking only about how to get people we are interested in back home if they were captured, and not about what to do with men we might capture who did not wish to go home.

As soon as we began to take prisoners in the Korean War, we began to have men who would never, who could never, go home again. This has been evident from the start. It is not some unexpected new development of the past few weeks. It has been our open and avowed policy to persuade North Koreans and Chinese to desert to us.

How, then, could the State department which negotiated the Geneva conventions, have failed to explain to the Pentagon and to Tokyo the legal trap in which these defecting and deserting Chinese and North Koreans were caught? Once the legal situation was realized, the remedy was obvious: it was to open the trap and let the prisoners out. For there is nothing in the convention which expressly forbids such a humane and sensible way of dealing equitably with a treaty which is in its strict letter unjust and irrelevant.

Now that the names of all our prisoners have been transmitted to the enemy, the problem is extremely difficult to solve. There is an ingenious proposal to build a large stockade on the armistice line, to put all the prisoners from both sides within it, and then to open the gates going north and going south, letting each man make his own choice. It would be a pleasant surprise if the Communists agreed to that. We must, however, remember that having listed all the prisoners we hold, not all who would prefer to come to our side have a truly free choice any longer. Their families are now hostages. An enormous blunder has been committed by our own officials. It is not the first of their great and critical blunders in the conduct of this war. Before the war in Korea is renewed and enlarged, there should be an accounting to the people.

Turning over a new leaf doesn't count so much as the writing done on it. Unfortunately, the man who loses his head always keeps his tongue.

Square Dancers Elect Committee

At their first meeting of this year, the Plymouth Square Dance Group elected a new committee for the coming year. Those elected were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gongs, Mr. and Mrs. John Lodge, Willard Wilson and Lucy Clair.

This committee extends a cordial welcome to all adults in this area who are interested in square dancing. The next dance will be held tonight in the Junior High School gymnasium, and one will be held every second Thursday thereafter.

Dancing starts at eight o'clock with special beginners instruction for those interested. The regular dance period begins at 8:30 with the popular Dave Palmer calling.

Come and meet your friends, bring a cup and a snack—coffee will be furnished.

Youth Problem Met by Parents

The problem of what to provide in the way of entertainment for the leisure time of children in this area has been met by the parents of four local boys. The sons of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Goubeuse, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Young and Mr. and Mrs. Pohn Shellock, organized a band and after practicing faithfully for weeks by themselves, decided that they would like to play for the public.

These parents being interested in the desires of their children, contacted Mr. Clark at the Michigan Barn Dance on Seven Mile road in Livonia, and asked if he would be interested in cooperating with them in inaugurating a youth program featuring square-dancing, and let their sons orchestrate "The Rhythm Rascals" furnish the music. Mr. Clark, not only agreed to that, but said he would do the calling for such a program.

Before the program could be started it had to meet with the approval of Chief of Police Harmon of Livonia. Chief Harmon gladly endorsed the program.

The official opening of the youth program will be tomorrow night, February 8, with square dancing from 8:30 to 11:30.

If you live in Livonia, Brightmoor, Farmington, Northville, Redford or Plymouth, and your parents will bring you to the dance, the parents managing this program will see that you are furnished transportation home after the dance.

Pastor Sees Billy Graham Revival

The five weeks' meeting in Washington is having good results in the lives of many people, state Washington pastors, as they are all experiencing an increase in attendance and new memberships in their churches.

Wednesday morning, Representative Dondero met with the Detroit delegation for breakfast in the Dodge hotel. Senator Ferguson met the group at three o'clock in the Senate Office building.

Both men stated that what the country needs is a spiritual revival.

Dean Bartlett said he hoped universities, such as his own, would make wider use of TV. He said that they need to do so that people will find out what universities are like.

He urged courses in radio and TV to lift broadcasting to the rank of a profession such as law, medicine and engineering.

Dean Bartlett said "Personality captures programs. They steal the show." He recalled a panel on which three brilliant men served. Two were just brilliant men. The third had personality, plus brains and he stole the program from the other two.

Finally he took apart scholastic which prohibited the televising of football games. He said the man who pay the taxes to maintain the school has every right to see its football games and other games on his TV set.

Everyone in Pittsburgh said his talk was the best the radio and TV club had ever heard.

Sheep need plenty of exercise if they are to stay in a thrifty condition.

WEEKLY SERMONETTE

Is the church only for 'good' people?

In answering that question it is interesting to see in our lesson how Jesus deals with an individual who by many Christian people would be considered outside of their range of responsibility.

Here is the case: The woman had been married five times; she was now living with a man who was not her husband; and her own townspeople shunned her to the extent of forcing her to draw water at the village well at a time when she would surely not come in contact with any of the other women.

Jesus knows her history but does not avoid her. Rather, He seeks her out and engages her in conversation with a very normal request. After the long journey from Judea, He was exhausted and resting at the well while his disciples went into the village for food. He asks her for a drink of water. "How is it," she says, "that you, a Jew, would ask a drink of me, a Samaritan woman?" (The Jews had no dealings with the Samaritans.)

Jesus arouses her interest. His statement intrigues her. "If you knew the Gift of God, Me who asks thee for a drink, you would have asked Me for the Water of Life."

Thoroughly aroused, she asks indignantly, "Art thou greater than our father Jacob who gave us this well and drank of it?"

Jesus leads her to thoughts of more than mere material things. He tells her that He is speaking of the New Life which He would give her so that she might have an end of all futile labor and trouble. At once she asks Him for that gift.

Jesus is willing to give her this gift of God, a share in the joy and peace of true Life with God. Her past does not bar her from the company of those for whom He has prepared that gift. But she cannot receive it and still cling to her past, she must be brought to break with that past hopeless existence.

Ever so patiently and considerately Jesus leads the woman to renounce her past and to surrender to him completely. What an indictment against us who often feel free to trample on the souls of those who have slipped and fallen into grievous error, like this woman. So often we are inclined to write them off, to shun them, or, when we deal with them, to consider them unworthy of decent, considerate and loving treatment. How often this is merely because we are punishing our own guilt feelings which we have projected into those who come under our admonition. There were no guilt feelings in Jesus. He, the Holy God, does not resort to arm waving, to horrified, pious denunciation and condemnation, to solemn, lengthy lectures on the consequences of her life, to making her grovel in the dust with tears and sobs to show the depth of her penitence.—There is none of this here. (Nor is there any of this in His dealing with the adulterous woman, Zaccaeus or Simon Peter.) Jesus makes the calm statement, "Go, call thy husband and come hither." She still tries to cover up with the half-truth, "I have no husband." Even then the Lord does not lose His patience and uses no strong rebuke, but His words sink deep into her soul and His love accompanies the words and she sees her whole wasted past held up before her in His accurate resume. "Thou hast well said, I have no husband; for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband; in that thou saidst truly." How sparing of her and at once how effective to get her to loath that past and to want to break with it! She perceives Him to be a prophet and asks Him what He would advise her to do about resuming her worship, whether she should go to Gerizim, the Samaritan temple, or to Jerusalem, that of the Jews. He states the profound truth: They that worship the Father must worship Him in spirit and in truth. The spirit of the worship of the sinner, based upon the Truth, indeed committed by God to the Jews of the Old Testament and now revealed by Him the Savior, these are the important considerations, and not the ceremonies and rituals either here or there. Her reference to the accepted fact that the Messiah would clear up all these matters, brings Him to the plain admission, "I that speak unto thee am He, the Christ."

Now not even the looks askance of the disciples, returning from their shopping tour, can disturb her happy faith. She hurries into Sychar and, despite her past, she wins some of her townspeople to faith through her witness; others who are persuaded to come and see "if this be the Christ," declare, "now we have heard Him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world."

Is the church only for 'good' people?

No, my friend, it is also for YOU, for you who would like to break with your past and walk with Him, and for you, 'member' of the churches, who might be inclined to say, "All these things have I kept from youth up: what lack I yet?"

"For the Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

Schedule Tractor Overhaul Now

Schedule your tractor overhauls now and avoid the big rush that always occurs just about the time that field work is getting under way. This is the suggestion of Bill West, service foreman of the West Bros. International Harvester. By scheduling overhauls early, owners will be sure tractors are ready to go on the first day field work can begin.

Mr. West also stated that too much emphasis could not be placed on the benefits of timely overhauls. He quoted from a recent survey among tractor owners who "thought" their tractors were in fair shape. The survey showed that their tractors were wasting an average of 15 percent of their fuel per year, and some tractors were wasting as much as 35 percent because of engine troubles which an overhaul would have corrected. Mr. West listed faulty ignition, misadjusted carburetors and worn valves as examples of the common troubles which waste fuel.

Mr. West felt that, in many cases, overhauls would restore to old tractors many hundreds of hours of efficient performance. He named several owners in this area who had brought their old tractors in for overhaul. "Like-new" performance and appearance were restored by a complete overhaul.

Dr. Stevenson Has Leadership Class

Dr. Fred Stevenson conducted the first of his three sessions in parliamentary law last Thursday at the group leadership training class in the high school library. The method used was a demonstration—a chairman and secretary being elected from the class and business being transacted by the group. Motions were passed and the various things that can happen to them were explained. Dr. Stevenson explained and commented to the class as they worked, answering questions as they came up.

A clear concept of the simple rules governing parliamentary procedure is of value not only to the elected officers of an organization, but to the members, that they may readily participate in the conducting of the meeting and the transaction of business.

Dr. Stevenson is consultant in leadership training, Extension Service, University of Michigan. He has taught in the Muskegon high school and at Youngstown, Ohio. He was superintendent of schools at Dubuque, Iowa; Superintendent of the LaSalle, Peru Township school, and Director of the Junior College. Prior to his appointment on the Leadership Training Program at the University, he was in charge of the Correspondence Study department of the University. His most recent publication is "Primer for Parliamentary Procedure," a booklet chosen by the Michigan Congress PTA to be placed in the kit they send every PTA president.

A judge in Akron, Ohio, ruled that a man should not be imprisoned for cursing his wife, since "that's a man's prerogative."

Scoutmasters To Get Instruction

A training course for Scoutmasters will start a seven-week series Thursday, February 7, 7:30 p.m., at Plymouth Junior High school. Officers for the course will include, Scoutmaster Horace Cooke, Garden City; Assistant Scoutmaster J. B. Baker, Romulus; Patrol Leaders Monroe Weston, Northville, Bernard Lary, Plymouth, Bob Johnson, Plymouth, Clarence Artley, Belleville.

Special guest instructors will be Norman Reckling of Detroit and Robert Tower, Royal Oak. Both men have attained national recognition in Scouting's Wood Badge Training Course.

The opening session will include a 45-minute film depicting the Patrol Method of troop operation. Four other training films will be shown during the succeeding meetings. Subjects covered are Patrol and Troop meetings, hiking, camping, equipment, advancement and record keeping. The series will conclude with an over-night camp.

This course is open to any man who wishes to know more about Boy Scout troop operation. Assistant Scoutmasters and Commissioners are expected to attend with the Scoutmasters.

A six-week series of training meetings for Cub Scout leaders will open on Thursday, February 26, at the Bird Elementary school in Plymouth. This course will be open to both men and women.

SWEET VALENTINE

Fanny Farmer
CANDIES

By Carl Peterson

If you wonder about some of the mail you get, blame it on clipping bureaus that clip names from newspapers all over the country. Then these lists are sold to interested companies. No matter how your name gets in print . . . if you're a hobbyist, gardener, photographer, tea drinker or service club member, someone's interested in you. It's a nice thought, even if it's commercial. We all like to feel important. And I guess we've all had mail come to us when we've said, "I wonder how they got my name?" The answer, of course, is that you've been clipped . . . from a newspaper I mean.

Superb Fanny Farmer Chocolates . . . smooth, luscious, more tempting than ever in this beautifully wrapped "Sweet Valentine" assortment. Stop in for bers, tomorrow!

Customers' Corner

We've 93 Candles on Our Cake!

Your A&P is 93 years young this week. For it was about this time in 1859 that our founder, George Huntington Hartford, proudly opened the doors of his modest little store on Vesey Street in downtown New York, the forerunner of today's A&P.

Even with his vision, we suppose he'd be surprised to see how his little business has grown.

We think he'd be proud, though, to know that the basic idea that guided him then, "to bring more good food to more people for less money," has been the reason for our growth.

We pledge to maintain this principle as long as there's an A&P!

Charles Bennett Recalls First Fatal Accident in Plymouth

Fanning Mill Factory One Time Had a Payroll of 15 Workers - Two Plymouth Structures Bought by Henry Ford and Moved to Greenfield Village

By Charles H. Bennett

Charles H. Bennett

As a small boy I remember our first sawmill as being located about where Mr. Hoyt built his brick house next to my present home on Main street. The Hoyt house is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Milton Laible. The hardwood logs to be sawed in summer were dumped about where the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Huston now stand. The sawmill was owned by a man named Scattergood and he did a thriving business in those days. The small engine room and boiler house of this sawmill was of brick construction. The bricks were made at a brickyard located at that time about where the small tenant house on my farm now sits away back in the field on the north side of Ann Arbor Trail west of the city.

Logs were also piled in front of the building, and covered most of the ground from the mill east to where the home of Lawrence Lyons now stands at 164 North Main street.

In this sawmill occurred the first fatal accident ever to happen in Plymouth. It was caused by the carelessness of the engineer of the sawmill who allowed the water in the boiler to become too low. When he turned a stream of cold water into the boiler, it blew up, causing the death of the engineer. It blew out three sides of the boiler room and did other damage.

The mill was never rebuilt and sometime later the late Joseph Tessman bought a lot next to my home. He also purchased the bricks which were left after the explosion and used them in the building of his home, the brick from the old sawmill boiler room forming the rear or back wall of the house. The front of the house he built of wood. This house stood on the same lot until quite recently, when I purchased it and removed the old structure to make room for the garage I built at my home some years ago.

Just past where the old sawmill stood and where logs were piled here, there and everywhere, stood the home of Jacob Bromfield. How many times this house has been changed over and remodeled I cannot say. It would be correct to say, very, very many times. It is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lyons.

Adjoining the site of the Bromfield residence which stood at the corner of Main and Union streets, stood a large two-story wooden building known in my days as the "Fanning mill shop." It was built long before I was born by Henry Ledyard, but during my boyhood days it was owned and operated as a fanning mill factory by an uncle of mine, named Charles H. Bennett, after whom I was named, and my father, L. H. Bennett.

This so-called fanning mill shop was in reality the first factory ever to be built in Plymouth. The building and the large quantity of lumber used in the manufacturing of fanning mills covered a large area of ground. The fanning mill property extended from Main street way back to the corner where Union street makes its turn towards Kellogg park, near the present plant of the Davis Manufacturing company. The fanning mill plant and lumber covered much of this entire area.

This factory at one time had a grand total of 15 men on its payroll. Work started at 7 o'clock in the morning and continued until 6 o'clock in the afternoon, with one hour out for dinner at noon. There were no bonuses, no vacations and no division of profits, if there were any profits. But a dollar was worth a dollar back in those days and men were glad to work to do, and they were also proud of the work they did. Despite the present vogue we hear some people crying for the good old days.

It was at the corner of Union street and Main street where Charles Roe built a home for his family. This house as well as the one that gave me shelter in my childhood days, still stands, as does the brick structure next to the railroad tracks known in years gone by as the Bode hotel.

Beyond the railroad track to the north and east as far as Mill street was a forest of second growth timber, all owned by Siron Kellogg.

On the corner of Mill street and Main stood a toll gate, where upon the payment of a small sum one could drive on the Plymouth road into Detroit over the "delicate" and soft pine log road as far as Grand River, where one hit a two-lane plank road running into Detroit.

One could make this trip in two days easily with a loaded wagon, including the luxury of an overnight stop at the Half Way House, a tavern which at that time stood almost opposite the present River Rouge bath house on Plymouth road. Returning, one could make the trip in one day without a load. (I refer to the wagon load.) That is a far cry from this year of 1952 when one can make the trip over the same route in an automobile, down and return, in one hour or thereabouts, a saving of some 47 hours over the time it took to make the same trip back some 75 or 80 years ago.

Let us stand for a while at the corner of Main and Mill street and see what we can see back some 75 years ago. Looking to the north on the east side of the street we can see only three or four small houses, until we reach the corner where Mill street bends to the right towards the old Wilcox grist mill. On this corner stood the large two-story home of Monroe Stevens. Beside it Mr. Stevens had built one of the largest wagon shops in Plymouth and here Mr. Stevens carried on a thriving business until his death, which occurred in December, 1893.

From the same corner of Main and Mill streets we take a glance to the west, again looking north. That outstanding structure which stood next to where the present Baptist church now stands, was the old colonial style home of the Kensler family that lived in Plymouth for many years.

Henry Ford in driving through Plymouth one day saw this old home. It was so typical of the homes of old colonial days that he purchased it and moved it to his historic Greenfield Village in Dearborn, where also now stands the old wool carding mill that he purchased in Plymouth and moved to Greenfield Village. These two Plymouth buildings now located in Greenfield Village will probably stand long after every other building in Plymouth has been forgotten.

In 1870, if memory serves me correctly, there was but one street which crossed Mill street at any point in its entire length, and that street, now known as Liberty street, was in my "salad days" as it still remains, the busy mart of trade for the north end of our growing city.

On Liberty street in 1871 George A. Starkweather erected a fine block of brick business structures that still stand as a monument to his business foresight and high regard for his home town of Plymouth.

During my boyhood days, Mr. Starkweather occupied the largest store of the block. His dry goods store, through his efforts became second to none in the village. Mr. Starkweather also erected a fine home almost opposite his business block in 1875, the home being located on what is now known as Starkweather avenue. In 1870 Mr. Starkweather owned the property now bounded by the C & O on both the east, and south and by Main street and Starkweather avenue, which was all vacant farm land at that time.

Adult Education May Aid Oldsters

A summary of reports from 54 school systems listing enrollments in general adult education classes by age groupings find that older people constitute the most rapidly growing portion of our population. Since 1900, the total population of the United States has doubled. But an interesting fact is that the number of persons over 65 years of age has almost quadrupled.

By 1960 it is estimated this group will number almost 15 million, and by 1975 almost 20 million. The coming problems will be some of the following: How are these older people to live? What resources do they have? Can we provide jobs for them? How can they develop new interests in their later years? How should we educate ourselves for approaching old age?

A survey of the 54 adult educational programs finds that biggest percentage enrolled in these programs are in the age groups from 20 to 40 years old, with the 30 to 40 age group leading the list.

The local adult education classes, handled through the city recreational program, is offering several courses of help to citizens of this area in personal and community problems. Anyone interested in any class should contact the recreational department immediately by calling 2075.

Vets Should File Tax Claim

City Clerk Ed Potthoff states that many eligible persons in this area have not filed their claims for tax exemptions, and as the deadline is near, this should be taken care of immediately.

Disabled Veterans of World War I and II, and those of all prior wars, widows of disabled veterans, who have not remarried, and men in service now, are all eligible for this exemption. The first $2000 of assessed valuation is nontaxable, however, if an eligible person has property with an assessed valuation exceeding $7500 he is not eligible for any exemption.

These exemptions must be filed annually. Mr. Potthoff states that it is best to bring along some proof, such as a pension check, to facilitate filing.

Tytton Wallace Dies in Ann Arbor

Tytton Wallace, 60, of 1027 Starkweather avenue, passed away at University hospital, Ann Arbor, January 27.

Mr. Wallace was born March 14, 1891 in Tennessee.

He is survived by his wife, Willie May; a son, Jack; a daughter, Virginia; both at home, seven sisters, Mrs. Annie Hemphill, of Caruthersville, Missouri; Mrs. Dela Neely, of Millington, Tennessee; Flora of Detroit; Lila, Mrs. John Booth, both of Ferndale; Mrs. Carl Glasscock, St. Louis, Missouri; and Mrs. Lindell Owens, Plymouth; and one brother, Donald, with the U. S. Paratroopers.

Funeral services were held from the Sonderegger Funeral home, Reverend David L. Reider officiated. Mrs. Robert Kine sang two hymns. Active pallbearers were William Fann, Neil Walker, Mayfield Clark, Thomas Owens, George Humphries and Don Auggenbaugh. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Garchow and son, Richard were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Paul Dunlap in Frains Lake on Sunday.

Joseph Labbers' Return From Illinois Honeymoon

Following a honeymoon to Chicago, Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edward Labbe are making their home at 9530 Brace avenue in Detroit. Mrs. Labbe is the former Ester Spitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen D. Spitz of Merriman road, Plymouth, and the bridegroom's parents are the Roland Labbees of Detroit.

The ceremony was performed at St. Michael's church, Livonia on Saturday, January 26, with the Reverend Father John Contway officiating at the 10 o'clock rites. Low bowls of white carnations and mums were placed on the altar with arrangements of candleabra and bouquets of mums and snapdragon placed on their side of the altar. The organist,

Mary Agnes Ryan accompanied Shirley Benning the soloist. Ester was lovely in a gown of eggshell candlelight satin made with a high neckline and sleeves embroidered in seed pearls. The full skirt extended into a four yard cathedral train. Her fingertip length veil fell from a tiara of orange blossoms worn by her mother. She carried a bouquet of white roses and hyacinths.

Dolores Mitchell came from Seattle, Washington to be her sister's matron of honor. She was gowned in bronze tissue faille and carried a net fan of bronze color centered with pink carnations and blue hyacinths. The bridesmaids, Joan Labbe, sister of the bridegroom and Pat Spitz, cousin of the bride were identically gowned like the matron of honor and in bronze. They also carried bronze fans like that of the honor matron. Sharon Barnes, niece of the bride was the flower girl and was gowned exactly like the bride and carried a miniature bridal bouquet.

Robert Ruedisueli of New York assisted Joseph as best man and seating the guests were Robert Labbe and Jack Labbe. Mrs. Spitz chose for her daughter's wedding, a teal blue street length dress with white accessories and Mrs. Labbe wore navy blue. Both mothers had orchid corsages pinned to their shoulders.

A reception for 250 guests was held in St. Michael's church hall that evening. For traveling Mrs. Labbe wore a burgandy suit with pale pink accessories and a white corsage.

The bride is a graduate of the St. Joseph School of Nursing and the Margaret Hague hospital in New Jersey. Mr. Labbe attended Michigan State College in East Lansing.

Mary Ostrander and Alden Sawyer Wed in Morning Rites

Mary Louise Ostrander and Alden A. Sawyer were united in marriage on Saturday, January 12, at St. Michael's church in Rosedale Gardens.

Father John E. Contway performed the double ring ceremony at 9:30. The bride was given in marriage by her father, before an altar decorated with orange and white gladioli.

Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Ostrander, of Ferndale, and Alden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sawyer, of Farmington road.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a train, lace bodice and long sleeves, and her fingertip veil was fastened to a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli, centered with a rose corsage.

Beverly Ann Noel, of Detroit, attended her cousin as matron of honor and was attired in an ice blue satin gown and carried salmon pink gladioli.

Lester Sawyer, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and seating the guests were Anthony Snycerski and Lester Ostrander, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Ostrander chose a gray dress with powder blue accessories and wore a pink and white carnation corsage. Mrs. Sawyer wore a dusty rose dress with white accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

Following the wedding, a reception was held for 75 guests at the home of Mrs. V. Ostrander, grandmother of the bride.

Alden is a graduate of Plymouth High school and Mary was a student at Bentley High school.

The young couple plan to live in Livonia.

The Nankin Mills Extension group met at the home of Mrs. Ray Dunham of Ann Arbor Trail on January 22. The lesson was greatly enjoyed by both members and guests.

Engagement of Mrs. Alice O'Meara Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Sibbold announce the engagement of their mother, Mrs. Alice O'Meara to L. C. Blood of Ann Arbor road. Both have resided in the vicinity of Plymouth for the past 15 years. No date has been set for the wedding.

The regular meeting of the Lydia Missionary group of Calvary Baptist church will be held next Tuesday evening, February 12 at the home of Mrs. W. Sullivan on South Harvey street. Members are reminded that the South Africa General Mission semi-annual box-opening will take place at this meeting. Every woman of the church is a member of the Missionary group and is invited to join us.

Hints for Plymouth Homemakers

Try "Valentine Loaf" At Dinner February 14

Say a Happy St. Valentine's Day to your family at dinner! Here's a Valentine meat loaf—prepare a Valentine meat loaf. Bake the meat loaf, then unmold it on a large platter. Using mashed potatoes in your pastry tube form an arrow-pierced heart over the top of the loaf. Outline the loaf with more of the potatoes. If you do not have a pastry tube make your design with a spoon.

Remember that a meat loaf should be cooked slowly the same as any other roast. Slow roasting assures you of a finer loaf to serve. The recommended temperature for beef, veal, lamb or smoked pork loaves is 300 F.; fresh pork loaves is 320 F.; mixtures containing fresh pork, 350 F.

Valentine Meat Loaf

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 pound ground pork
- 2 cups soft bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons grated onion
- 3 tablespoons salt
- 4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon sage
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

2 cups seasoned mashed potatoes. Combine all ingredients except mashed potatoes and mix thoroughly. Pat into a rectangular shaped loaf in an open roasting pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) for 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 hours. With pastry tube or spoon make a heart of mashed potatoes around loaf and shape a heart on top of loaf. Return to oven until potatoes are lightly browned. 6 to 8 servings.

Better see Berlinger for better deal. New and used cars.

Double Treat Variety Bread

- 1 cup scalded milk
- 1/3 cup shortening
- 1/3 cup brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 4 to 4 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1 egg
- 1 package compressed or fast granular yeast.
- 1 cup quick or regular rolled oats, uncooked

1. Pour scalded milk over shortening, sugar and salt. Add cold water and cool to lukewarm.

2. Stir in 1 cup of the flour. Add egg and crumbled yeast; beat with rotary egg beater until blended, about 2 minutes. Fold in rolled oats. Stir in enough flour to make a soft dough.

3. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny, about 10 minutes.

4. Round dough into ball; place in greased bowl; cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk (about 1 hour).

5. Punch down; cover and let rest 10 minutes. Shape into two loaves or four dozen rolls. Place in greased pans; brush lightly with melted shortening; cover and let rise until double in bulk (about 45 minutes).

6. Bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) 40 to 50 minutes for loaves or 20 to 25 minutes for rolls. Makes 2 loaves or 4 dozen rolls.

VARIATIONS

Fruited Oatmeal bread or rolls: Add 1 cup chopped dates, figs or cooked prunes (drained) with rolled oats in Step 2.

Cinnamon Twist bread: Roll out the dough for each loaf into a rectangle about 8 inches wide and 15 inches long. Combine 2 tablespoons cinnamon and 1/3 cup sugar. Sprinkle this mixture over the dough. Roll up each rectangle lengthwise (like a jelly roll). Seal edges. Let rise and bake as directed above.

Butterscotch Rolls: Roll out the dough to form a rectangle about 15 inches by 24 inches. Brush lightly with melted butter. Sprinkle with 1 cup brown sugar and 1/2 cup chopped pecan meats. Roll up like a jelly roll and seal edges. Cut in 1-inch slices placed in greased baking pans. Let rise and bake as directed above. If using granular yeast, dissolve according to package directions.

"VALENTINE" LOAF

Make this Valentine meat loaf for gay dining on St. Valentine's Day. Arrange the loaf on a large platter, design a heart on top of it and outline the loaf with mashed potatoes put through your decorating tube.

Serve These Individual Pot-Roasts

Individual pot-roasts—you can prepare them by using cross-cut beef shanks made by cutting across the small meaty portion of the beef shank.

Cook the cross-cut shanks the same as any other pot-roast. First, brown the meat in a small amount of lard or drippings. When thoroughly browned, add from 1/4 to 1/2 cup of water, cover the utensil tightly and let the meat cook until it becomes tender, about 1 to 1 1/2 hours.

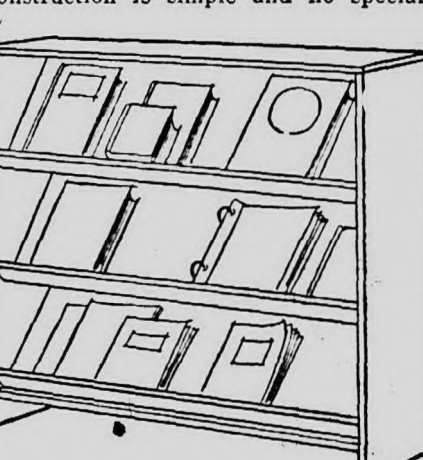

Add vegetables, left whole or cut in large pieces, to the cooking utensil in time so they will be cooked when the meat is done. Along with the old standards—carrots, onions and potatoes—add parsnips, Brussels sprouts and turnips. Cook separately and serve green beans, peas or green limas with the pot-roasts.

For a decided change, serve these braised cross-cut shanks in a vegetable gravy. Add green peas, onion slices and diced carrots to the cooking utensil. When the shanks are cooked, remove them from the pan, then thicken the liquid for your vegetable gravy.

Cross-cut shanks may be barbecued for another tempting braised dish. In barbecuing, follow the same cookery steps as for a pot roast—brown, then add barbecue sauce, cover and cook until tender.

Slanting-Shelf Bookcase
A BOOKCASE especially designed for a child's use has three slanting shelves which hold either books or magazines flat. On top is a conventional shelf for smaller books that are stood up in the usual way.

Just three feet high and three feet wide, this attractive piece may be built readily in the home workshop, as the construction is simple and no special tools are required. The top, bottom and sides are one-inch white pine, 12 inches wide.

The back is a panel of Masonite 1/2" Tempered Presdwood, the same material that is used in the construction of the shelves. Each slanting shelf is made by fastening the board to a framework of 1 1/2" by 2" white pine, the top one being fastened to the ends with screws so that it has a slant of 65 degrees. The center shelf is similarly attached, but here the slant is 60 degrees. The lower shelf, which incidentally is the widest for the largest books and magazines, is slanted at 45 degrees.

Pieces of lattice lumber form the lips against which the books rest on each shelf.

This sturdy bookcase will take considerable abuse. It will be attractive in a child's room, in the recreation room or on a porch. The bookcase should be given a prime coat and two finish coats of paint or enamel to harmonize with its surroundings.

In Washington, D.C., after taking a count of ten, Boxer James Walker staggered up from the canvas to challenge a jeering ring fan, who floored him again with one haymaker.

In Santa Clara, Calif., Jackie Cambra, 6, started down his chimney, got stuck, finished the trip with aid from firemen, wrote to Santa Claus: "Use the front door or window."

Braised Steak May Be Served In Many Ways

When something different can be done to a favorite old dish that's good news to most homemakers. Take braised steak, for instance. Folks have long applauded this dish of tender beef in a savory sauce, and here are ways to vary it. You may use either round or chuck steak.

The secret to all good braised steak is thorough browning and long, slow cooking. Dredge the steak with flour, then brown in lard or drippings. The next step is where variations come into the picture. For a country-fried steak simply add a little water, cover the utensil tightly and cook until tender. Some prefer to use milk as the liquid for this steak version.

Of course, Swiss steak is prepared in this exact manner; however, onion rings and tomatoes are added to the meat.

As for still another braised steak dish, Spanish steak, onions, tomatoes and green pepper strips are the ingredients.

For one more change—to these ingredients for Spanish steak add sliced olives and the dish becomes Italian steak.

4 Area Men Leave For Marine Corps

Four men from Plymouth are undergoing training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, California.

They are Donald F. Gottschalk, 21, son of George Gottschalk of Kellogg street; Roger R. Corey, 20, son of the Kenneth Coreys of West Ann Arbor road; Donald P. Stiers, 20, son of Mrs. Alice L. Willet of Joy street; and Donald W. Livingston, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Livingston of Five Mile road.

Livingston attended Cooley High School, Detroit, and was employed by Vickers Inc., Detroit, before being inducted into the corps. Gottschalk, a former Plymouth High school student, was employed by Daisy Air Rifle company before reporting for service with the Marines.

Corey was employed as a truck driver previous to his induction into the corps. He attended Wentworth Military academy. Stiers attended Northville High school and was employed by the Dearborn Ford plant before he was inducted.

Upon completion of recruit training they will be granted ten day leaves, and if they maintain good records will be promoted to Private First Class. They will then be assigned to a Marine post or station for duty or to a Marine corps school for advance training.

V.F.W. News

Instead of the annual essay contest this year, the Auxiliary will present a cash citizenship scholarship of $100 to a graduate of the class of 1952 of Plymouth High school. There are several qualifications which are: the student must have a "B" average for the first three and one half years of high school; the students need for a scholarship will be considered; the money must be used for college or forfeited; the student should apply by letter to Mrs. Helen Shepard, 14920 Northville road, Plymouth (our Americanism chairman), and the student must have a personal interview with the VFW scholarship committee. The final date of application will be announced later.

The draftees from Plymouth were served coffee and donuts again on December 20. Those who helped serve were: Virginia Bartel, Kay Coolman, Fern Harnett and Gerry Olson, Community Service Chairman.

Jean Olson has resumed her duties as Service Officer of the Auxiliary. She has a new telephone number, 2229-W, which she hopes you will call whenever you know of anyone's illness, death, birth, or need of any kind.

We have neglected to mention the details of our Christmas trip to Maybury. Through the many efforts of Virginia Bartel and her hospital committee, pajamas and cookies were delivered to each veteran there. Cookies made by the Youth Activities committee of which Grace Smith is chairman were given to the children at Maybury. Gifts were also taken or sent to the child of each veteran. Those who went were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gust, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bartel, Geraldine Olson, Grace Burley, Bettie Neale, Alba Van Meter, Robert Smith, Stanley Kava, Jennie Konazewski, Winnie Konazewski, and a friend, Georgina Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Chaudoin.

Sunday, January 20, another trip was made to Maybury. This time white socks and a choice from a grab-bag were given to the veterans. The boys were also given valentines to send to their children. Those who went were: Virginia Bartel, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elliott, Grace Smith, Ann Thompson, and Marion Warner.

The January draftees were served coffee and donuts by the Community Service Chairman, Geraldine Olson and several Auxiliary members.

Then, too, we are to have the showing of the film of the Spicer Golden Wedding and I know you will all want to see that.

Several of our members attended Grange day at Lansing last Friday so we hope to have a few brief reports on what they saw and heard. Mr. and Mrs. Spicer, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tritton, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore, Mrs. Jackson and Isabelle Taylor were those who went from this Grange.

We are happy to report that Elsie Ehrenberger is feeling quite well again after being a "shut in" for three weeks.

Don't forget the Lily Club next Monday evening, February 11. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore will be the hosts. Members please bring sandwiches or cake. Bring your card table and invite your neighbors to come with you.

Grange Gleanings

Is everyone all set for the meeting tonight? Potluck supper you know, about 6:30 and don't forget the special birthday table for those whose birthdays come in January or February. If your birthday comes in either of those months you surely must be there.

We are going to have a speaker tonight. Mr. Curry from Ypsilanti will speak on the topic "Promising Prospects for Successful Citizenship" which should be of interest to everyone, perhaps especially to the younger members.

Then, too, we are to have the showing of the film of the Spicer Golden Wedding and I know you will all want to see that.

Several of our members attended Grange day at Lansing last Friday so we hope to have a few brief reports on what they saw and heard. Mr. and Mrs. Spicer, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tritton, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore, Mrs. Jackson and Isabelle Taylor were those who went from this Grange.

We are happy to report that Elsie Ehrenberger is feeling quite well again after being a "shut in" for three weeks.

Whether you own your own home or just rent an apartment, fire insurance is a sound investment for you since it guards against financial loss.

THE PUBLIC LETTER BOX

To the Letter Box:

What's happening to the proud America I grew up in? What's happening to the American dream of Four Freedoms that, four years, I fought for in the Navy.

Why must we cravenly coax Britain, France, and the other NATO nations to supply enough men and arms to defend them against THEIR enemy?

Why are we still dickering, after eight months, with Russian-trained liars who don't really want peace in Korea—who only want to weaken American manpower? Where are the weapons we've been "stock-piling" to stop just this kind of aggression? And why was McArthur wrong for wanting to win that Korean war?

Why is traitor Judith Coplon still free to walk the streets? Why was Alger Hiss protected by Mr. Acheson? and Mr. Truman?

Why this bowing and scraping to Russia—why this unwillingness to treat with her directly as the lying, ruthless destroyer of men's bodies and souls that she is? Why must we pay bribes to free Vogeler and the American fliers from Red clutches?

Other readers, doubtless, are anxious for answers to these questions. They're on my conscience, as an American; probably on yours, too.

Write your senator (Ferguson) and your Congressman (Dondero) to demand answers before election time.

Only the Congress can restore America to the Americans. Not Harry, nor any other President, for that matter, because one man couldn't possibly handle all the messes he's gotten us into.

But write your Congressmen and Senators today!

Very truly yours,
Navy Veteran

To the Letter Box:

I might suggest that the city officials consider the possibility of buying a little salt and putting it on the side streets when they are covered with ice.

In my particular neighborhood I have noticed the city garbage trucks spend more time trying to get traction than they would normally collecting from 100 homes in the city.

A small expenditure on this item would more than save extra costs in garbage collection alone and certainly afford the residents of the city some safer side streets for them to travel on.

Albert C. Holcombe
1150 Carol Street

To the Letter Box:

Why can't something be done on our streets? I've owned the property at 456 Holbrook since 1946. I've improved my house since then. The city has done nothing about the street. Why can't we have at least a curb?

We don't even get salt or sand on the street anymore during the icy periods. It's ridiculous.

On January 29, I slipped on the ice and fell in front of Starkweather school. I certainly pay enough taxes to keep the sidewalks clear of ice and snow. If the school board can't afford to buy the salt to put on the ice, I'll furnish it myself.

I called the city manager to report unshoveled walks. These walks were never cleaned by the city. The city ordinance reads that the city will clean all unshoveled walks and then charge the offenders. They don't do it though.

When a man can't walk down the street without falling or sliding on the ice, it's a pretty poor situation. Although I have only one leg, I shovel my snow whenever it falls.

I recommend the passing of a law fining the persons who don't get out and shovel.

Since I started paying taxes in Plymouth they have almost tripled. What is the city doing with this money? Perhaps there should be some investigations made in the small towns as well as in the large.

F. J. Lemm
456 N. Holbrook

To the Letter Box:

The major problems in this community do not relate to brick and mortar, parking, taxes, teenage dances or such other superficialities, but to spiritual matters and the art of getting along together. The people of Plymouth are living lives, individual lives, and their success or failure in that endeavor will determine, in the longer run, the kind of community Plymouth will be.

This is the age of mediocrity. The thinking of our youth, if not, indeed, of our adults, is at the comic-book level. Platitudes and inanities of the air-waves, and even symbols, are used to paralyze the mind, already circumscribed by barbarous ignorance, and men prate about security and worship rank, heroes, power, and money—and everything is at stake! The problems of Plymouth are the problems of every other American community. What is Plymouth doing to meet them?

With the best of intentions, we emphasize everything divisive, we organize, over-organize and re-organize. We fear the collectivists, and adopt their techniques. We confuse activity for accomplishment. We deify something called "the American way of life," but cannot define it, because we never think about it, and there seems to be abroad in the land a great conspiracy to prevent our thinking about it. With no adequate sense of values, we are willing victims of a sinister propaganda designed to standardize our living from the cradle to the grave. Already, I fear, to the average American, "freedom" means nothing but the freedom to be and act just like everybody else.

It is that is the problem—and who can deny it?—what is the solution? Let us mount the heights and look at Plymouth as it really is, let us look at it steadily and see it whole! Look at our struggling people, their hopes, their fears, their ambitions, their heartaches! When we do that, our petty distinctions and grievances will fall into their proper places; and we will no longer think of ourselves as members of this or that selfish little group, and each group will see that it is not the whole but only a part. We will stop thinking in terms of landlords, renters, employers, employees, rich, poor, aristocracy or commons; we will put first things first and recognize our duty as Christians—I use the term in the broad sense that embraces all men of goodwill, including our Jewish brethren, for spiritually we are all Semites.

After all, what is the American way of life but the pursuit of happiness, in ordered liberty, by an individual who fears nobody but God and His final verdict? If we truly fear God, if we truly love Him, we will try to serve Him. We can do that and still maintain our essential differences, under common sanctions. We can still hate injustice, intolerance, neglect of the poor and unfortunate, and oppression of minorities. Yes, dear friend, it can be put in even simpler terms: Saint Paul did it when he said, "Do not let anybody have a claim upon you, except the claim which binds us to love one another. The man who loves his neighbor has done all that the law demands. Love of our neighbor refrains from doing harm of any kind; that is why it fulfills all the demands of the law." Let Plymouth approach its problems in that spirit and its problems will vanish.

Junior Optimists Lead "F" League

Optimists' Jr. won its fourth straight game last Saturday, January 26, downing Fisher's Shoe Store 50-0. Fisher's had many opportunities to score, but could not take advantage of them. Jack Carter, Lindy Mills, and "Buber" Brinks each had ten points for the winners.

In the second game Davis and Lent came from behind to down the Colts 17-13. David Colar led the way for Davis and Lent with six counters. Foster Brown dumped in five for the losers.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

It looks like the bowling pin setter is on his way out. Over in Mt. Clemens they are experimenting with an automatic setter which is really doing a grand job according to those who have seen it perform. Recently it set 1200 games without a slip—and much faster than the manual setters.

The boys will soon have to find some other means of picking up a little "pin" money. It has helped many a boy get a start, including this writer—yes, I set pins to supplement my meager allowance in college.

The small tots and older children in this community are going to enjoy something this summer that they never have had a chance to before—they will be able to swim in one of the most modern pools in this area under the direction of a capable instructor. Swimming provides one of the best recreational activities there is, and the results will be beneficial to the whole community. Many people think only of the material things in life, but the more activities we can provide for our youngsters' leisure time will result in a happier childhood, and again I say a happy child seldom gets into trouble.

Livonia is beginning a campaign for a youth center. They recognize the fact that money spent on their youth will make them better citizens. A good youth center, with proper guidance, facilities and a good program can pay rich dividends to any community.

The high school cagers won another game the other night and at the same time got revenge for a beating administered to them over at Allen Park. You will see these boys improve with each game and practically the same team will be back next year. I have been "kidded" about the remark I made last week that they could win the district tournament again this year. I still think they have a grand opportunity to do so, particularly after the grand scrap they displayed the other night.

At Fort Devens, Mass., Donald Potter began Army paratrooper training after the Navy rejected him because he would neither remove his nude tattoo nor drape her.

Rock Cagers Win Over Allen Park

In a see-saw battle where the final outcome was in doubt until the closing gun, the Plymouth High School basketball team emerged a close winner over Allen Park, at the high school gymnasium last Friday evening by a count of 42 to 39. Thus the Rocks avenged an earlier four point defeat over at Allen Park.

The Rocks were ahead at the quarter 10 to 7 and maintained the same margin at the half, the score then being 21 to 18. Allen Park narrowed the lead to 26 to 25 at the beginning of the fourth quarter, and went ahead midway through the final stanza by 4 points. But then Casey Cavell took over, when with the Rocks enjoying a one-point lead, he tossed in two free throws and followed with a basket to give Plymouth its margin of victory. Allen Park made another basket just before the final gun.

Bud Lanphear played one of his best games and was high point man with 14 points. The rest were evenly divided with Jerry Kelly getting 8, Al Williams, Jim Bloomhuff and Casey Cavell 6 each.

The Rocks take on Belleville away tomorrow night in what looms to be another close battle, as these two teams played a thrilling game here earlier in the season when Belleville edged the Rocks 42 to 40.

Wolverines Win

In recreation basketball this week the Wolverines are still on top in the "E" league. On Tuesday, January 29, at 4 p.m. the Indians of the Wayne County Training School defeated the Junior Optimists by a score of 35-27. At the half the score was 19-16 in the Indians' favor. Shannon led the scoring for the Indians with 16 points. Schwandt led for the Optimists with 22 points.

In the second game the Wolverines of W.C.T.S. beat Twin Pines 45-22. Armstrong was high scorer for the Wolverines with 13 points. Baell led with 6 points for Twin Pines. Both games were played in W.C.T.S. gym.

The standings are as follows.

W	L
Wolverines	6 0
Indians	3 2
Jr. Optimists	1 4
Twin Pines	0 4

Daisy Drops Two

The in-and-out Daisy team lost their second game of the week last Thursday night when DeHoCo turned the trick by a score of 58 to 56. A last quarter rally enabled the institute lads to edge Daisy as they outscored the losers 12 to 8 in that quarter.

Daisy had led all the way through by scores of 16 to 12 in the first quarter; 28 to 25 at the half and 48 to 46 at the end of the third quarter. The highscoring Robinson led DeHoCo again with 35 points, while Young had 16 points. Wally Dzurus had 19 for the losers, and Charles Stark had 10.

Gaff's Win Two

Gaff's Cleaners won two games last week to remain a serious threat to Tai's for the leadership in the senior men's basketball league. On Tuesday, they squeezed out a win over Daisy when they overcame a 7 point Daisy lead at the end of the third quarter to win by a 72 to 71 count. Daisy had led all the way but the final Gaff spurt meant victory for them.

Woznick led Gaff's with 18 points Woods had 16. For Daisy, Dzurus had 25 points and Huebler 15.

In the Thursday night game, Gaff's defeated Livonia by a score of 46 to 32, but the game was declared a forfeit to Gaff's because Livonia used an ineligible player. The scoring was evenly divided among the members of the winning team, and Tarzy was high with 8. Klassen and Mossman had 10 each for the losers. The ineligible player, Low, had 9.

Craft Class for Scout Leaders

The Recreation department is sponsoring a craft class for Girl Scout Leaders at the Gilbert Community House in Ypsilanti. It will be a eight weeks' course which will start tonight, and continue each Thursday night through March 27. Felt, clay, water color, leather, cork, weaving, stencil work and glass etching are being offered. A leader may take any one or all of them.

The Girl Scouts are paying the Registration fee so that the only cost to a leader will be for the material used.

Lafontaine Win and Lose

The LaFontaine in the senior mens' circuit won one and lost a game last week. On Tuesday night they took the measure of the Plymouth United Bank by a score of 63 to 48, but lost to the leader Tai's quintet on Thursday by a score of 61 to 51.

In the first game LaFontaine was behind during the first half, but a big second half brought them home the winners. Gillis led the winners with 13 points. Thompson topped the losers with 16 points.

In the game on Thursday night LaFontaine lost to Tai's when they were outscored the first half 40 to 21. They came back to outscore Tai's in the second half 30 to 21, but never could make up the deficit.

Keith Ebersole led Tai's to victory with 18 points. Brodie, Pierce, and Paige each had 10. Hall, of the losers led both teams in scoring when he pumped 20 points through the hoops.

HS Reserve Win

Coach Charles Ketterer's high school reserve basketball team got back into winning ways last Friday night, when they topped Allen Park, for the second time this season, by a score of 56 to 45. The classy reserve team rushed to a 33 to 12 half-time lead and coasted to their eighth win of the season. All 14 of the reserve players saw action with 10 of them scoring points.

Tyler Caplin and Ken Kisabeth were tied for scoring honors with each having 13 points. They were closely followed by Cole with 12. They made good on 45 percent of their free throws making 12 out of 27 tries.

Tomorrow the Reserves journey over to Belleville, where they will meet the Tigers for the second time this year. The first meeting between these two teams was a close battle until the final quarter.

A very pretty wedding took place Saturday evening, January 29, at the Jefferson avenue M. E. church, Detroit, when Daniel Welter of Plymouth, and Miss Alma Berger of Detroit, were united in marriage. Guests were present from Toronto and Windsor, Ontario; Lansing, Jackson, Ypsilanti, Wayne and Plymouth. After the ceremony, a splendid luncheon was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alma Berger, 507 Fairview avenue, Detroit, to about one hundred guests.

New seats have been placed in the Penniman Allen theatre this week, to take the place of the seats which have been in use since the theatre was first opened. The new seats are much more comfortable than the old ones.

The members of the Plymouth Rotary Club had the very great pleasure of listening to a most interesting talk by Gilbert King of Ann Arbor, late of the Consular service in China, last Friday, at their noon-day luncheon. Mr. King, an American, was born in China, and lived there for a number of years, and was manager of the American Oriental Bank in Ching King, in the western part of China.

The Plymouth Grange presents a three-act comedy, "Always in Trouble," at the High school auditorium, Tuesday evening, February 15.

The second annual Father and Son banquet sponsored by the Hi-Y club of the Plymouth High school for all the fathers and sons of the community will be held at the High school auditorium on Tuesday, February 22.

"We Offer the Kind of Service

One ride and You'll say:

"That's the Smartest Million Dollars BUICK Ever Spent"

WHEN we tell you that every 1952 Buick rides like a million dollars, we're not just slinging slang—we're talking real money—right-on-the-barrelhead cash.

A million dollars and more were poured into research and testing—design and tools—engineering, production and components—to team up the combination of ride features you'll find on a Buick—and on no other car in the world.

A million dollars and more was the price paid to work out control of end-sway and side-roll on curves—to double-check vertical "throw" with shock absorbers and big soft-acting coil springs for all four wheels—to V-brace the torque-tube keel and X-brace the frame—to cushion body and engine—and to silk out the whole operation with Dynaflo Drive.*

You may not care how the job was done, or what it cost. But we'll lay you this:

You're going to say "thanks a million" to Buick engineers once you get this spirited smoothie under your hands and haunches.

Old familiar roads take on a new smoothness. Gone are the weave and wander, the jitter and jounce that you've felt in lesser cars. You ride with road-hugging assurance and level ease.

All of which only begins to tell you what really great cars these 1952 Buicks turned out to be.

Never before have style and stamina—comfort and character—power, performance and price been brought together with such satisfying skill.

The obvious thing for you to do is come in and look them over. How about taking half an hour off to do that—today?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

PHS Students Begin New Semester

Anticipating another hard grind, the students of Plymouth High school sauntered back in to begin a long second semester when school opened January 28.

After racking their weary brains over the final exams at the close of last semester, they have to muster courage to attack the situation for another 20 weeks. Most of the students had come through the exams still standing, but a few will be taking some extra subjects this year.

A subject offered this semester that wasn't offered last year is Commercial Law, the only new subject.

Biology Students Make Survey of Animal Life

Ross Hedrick's biology classes are now making a careful and systematic survey of the various phyla of the animal kingdom. They will learn the distinguishing characteristics of the phyla by studying representative members of each group.

They shall see, also, how animals have developed from simple to more complex forms, and how many of them have changed from water to land habitats. As with plants, they will note the marvelous ways in which each type of animal, from the simplest to the most complex, is adapted to the environment in which it lives. They have, in their classroom, pictures, and preserved specimens representing each phylum for observation and study.

Plymouth High School News

Senior Trip Date Changed to May 7

The Senior trip originally planned for some time in April has been changed to May 7 because the date of another activity conflicted with the time set earlier. The Seniors will be excused from school Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, May 7, 8, and 9. Leaving by bus at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon they will go to the Michigan Central Station where they will board a train for New York Thursday morning where they will stay at the Sheraton Hotel. After spending Thursday and Friday enjoying various sightseeing tours they will board a train back to Detroit Saturday morning.

Other Senior activities are the Senior Prom, the date of which has been changed from March 29 to April 26 and a Senior Mixer which is being planned for February.

Junior High Library Opens

With the opening of a new Junior High school library on Wednesday, January 30, the seventh and eighth graders will find it helpful in completing many assignments, such as reports and other important activities, as well as having many enjoyable books to read. The new library is located in room 14 on the second floor of the Junior High school building, where there are plenty of tables for the students to work at.

The library will hold approximately 36 students which is capacity for the space to be had. The library received 116 new books and 339 books were transferred from the Senior High school library. This gives the students more than plenty to read. Fictions and biographies will be the only books carried by the library until the collection is larger.

Nancy Worth will be the student librarian in the morning from 8:30 to 11:30, while Glendora Cole will be in charge of the library in the afternoon from 12:30 to 3:30. About 400 more new books will be added to the library this semester.

Close to 400 students are enrolled in Junior High this semester and with the addition of the new books, Mrs. Esther Ham, Senior High School librarian, hopes to have on the average two books per student.

The new library will have many useful sources like the Senior High library has, such as the card catalogue, the readers guide, dictionaries, encyclopedias, and other useful references. The library has been organized to allow the students to complete their assignments, as well as for enjoyment.

Nurses' Club Plans Party

With Valentines day showing on the calendar, the Plymouth High School Future Nurses club will have a party February 11, in the office of Mrs. Mary Strassen, club advisor. All club members will bring food and Mrs. Strassen is trying to schedule a movie for the occasion.

Ten Seniors Finish High School Course

With the ending of the semester ten seniors, Stella Brown, Shirley Freeman, Arthur Karnatz, Grace MacDonald, Jerry O'Neil, Cordia Pursell, Ray Schraufnagl, Bill Wall, Robert Bailey, and Doris Fisher have graduated. Since there are not enough students that finish in January to hold graduating exercises these students will come back in June to get their diplomas.

Stella Brown, salesgirl at S. S. Kresge Co.; Arthur Karnatz, who works at Stop & Shop and at Burroughs "Newspaper Agency"; Grace MacDonald, secretary and general office clerk for the Automobile Club of Michigan; Ray Schraufnagl, produce clerk at Stop & Shop; Robert Bailey, shipping clerk for H & H Supply Co.; and Doris Fisher, salesgirl at Graham's Ladies Apparel Shop were on an Occupational Training Program in high school and will continue with these same jobs.

Shirley Keehl Speaks at PHS Club Meeting

Shirley Keehl, a former officer of the Commercial Club and now secretary to Carvel Bentley, Plymouth High school principal, was guest speaker at the Commercial Club meeting held February 1. Miss Keehl talked about business training at the Detroit Business Institute which she attended and problems involved in business.

Plans were also discussed for a Valentine party to be held in the near future, and the dime dance which the Commercial Club will hold after the Bentley game here on February 15.

To Check Hearing Feb. 18

Plymouth Junior High, grades 7-9 will have their hearing checked the week of February 18, by Mrs. Mary Strassen, school nurse. She will use a group audiometer for the checking that will take all day.

Annual Staff Sponsors Dance After Home Game

Committees were chosen at a meeting of the annual staff held on Monday, January 28, for the dime dance after the Allen Park game at PHS on Friday, February 1.

The following form the committees: general chairman, Alex Paskevich; ticket chairman, Sally Gyde with Ellen Daane, Gary Kopen, and Betty Bowden assisting. Working on chaperones are Beth Douglas and Sally Morgan.

With approximately 50 out of the 600 Plytheans yet to be sold, sales will continue each noon hour until all are sold. The colors for the cover were chosen as green and copper. The group pictures have arrived and the first 20 pages have been sent in for the set up of the annual.

Library Club Sponsors Dance, "Fiesta Bailor"

Fiesta Bailor is the name of the dance sponsored by the Library Club to be given February 8 in the Plymouth High School Gymnasium from 8 to 11 p.m. All students in the grades seven thru twelve are invited to the dance which will have a Mexican theme.

Judy Lockhart is general chairman. Assisting her are decorations, Donald Lightfoot; publicity, Anita Mosher; refreshments, Hanice Yeoman; clean up, Louis Schomburger.

Dining Room Remodeled

Redecorating the Home Economics dining room is the new project undertaken by the Home Economics class III a. They will paint the dining room furniture gray with a design on the table and seat of the chairs. A plywood valance will be made for the windows and white curtains will help soften the old fashioned structure of the windows. The walls will be painted cerise and the ceiling chartreuse.

Another improvement is the new cupboards in the dining room which cover almost all of one wall. They are expected to be finished sometime this week.

Now you can judge car value for yourself!

Get the complete facts and figures the "Show Down" Way!

THIS FREE "Show Down" booklet gives you proof instead of "sell"... presents the facts about features, arranged for easy comparison. For example, you can quickly compare Dodge head room, seat width and stretch-out room with that of other cars costing hundreds of dollars more. You get the actual specifications instead of vague generalizations.

Only when you compare this big-value '52 Dodge the "Show Down" way can you appreciate how much more Dodge gives you for your money in comfort, economy and safety.

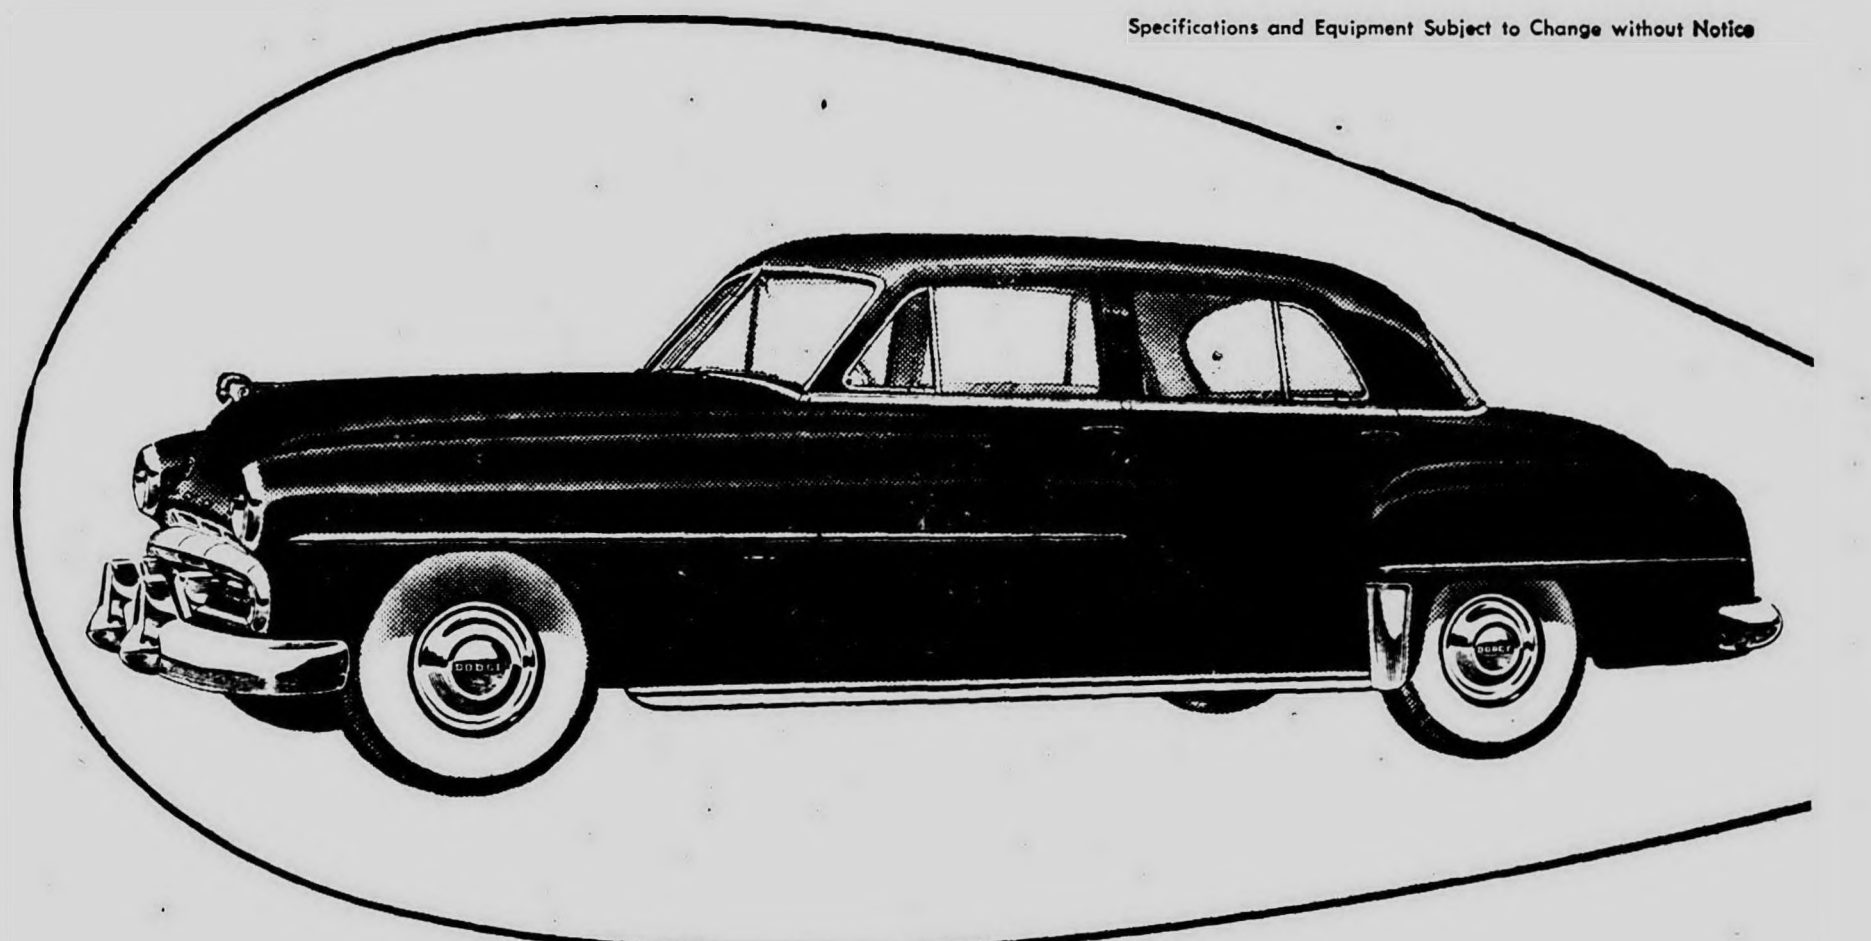

Though Dodge costs less than the other cars compared, you will see that only Dodge gives you the wonderfully smooth Oriflow Ride. In the group of features classified under "Safety," you'll see for yourself that only Dodge gives you Safety-Rim wheels and longer-wearing Cyclebond brake linings. Score the proof for yourself!

No "Strings"—No Obligation Come in today and get your own copy of the "Show Down" booklet. It's convincing, it's convenient, it's free. Take it home and make money-saving comparisons at your leisure. You'll learn what thousands of new Dodge owners will testify: "You could pay hundreds of dollars more for a car and still not get all Dodge gives you!"

Roger Babson Says---

Babson Forecasts World Truce Babson Park, Florida, Feb. 8. I am writing this column after returning from a Foreign Missions meeting. It has reminded me of the great missionary movements of my youth, which older readers will remember. Unfortunately, our children never experienced and hence will not be interested in what I am about to write.

Songs We Used To Sing Those were great days! The country was then stirred up about foreign missions as it is now excited over inflation. We wanted to "save" the heathen of

Estimates Cheerfully Given EL ROY JUVE Lathing & Plastering Contractor

Try Us for Price -- Phone Plymouth 2323 467 Arthur St. Plymouth, Michigan

China, India, and Africa. Great mass meetings were held when many of my friends dedicated themselves to go to foreign lands to tell of the "Love of Jesus." My Father and Mother were very active in raising funds to support the missionary cause.

Picking up an old hymn book of my boyhood, I note the songs which we all enthusiastically sang "From Greenland's Icy Mountains to India's Coral Strand." Another was "Rescue the Perishing, Care for the Dying." Another "Arise, Ye Soldiers of the Cross." Another "Christ for the World We Sing." Then we all would repeat: "Take my life and let it be consecrated, Lord, to Thee; take my hands and let them move,— take my lips and let them be filled with messages from Thee,— take my silver and my gold—"

What We Now Do I do not question the present military policy of President Truman. I am not a pacifist—if a mad dog should come into my house, I would shoot it. Probably the world is not yet ready for peace. Perhaps the Korean-Chinese campaign is sound.

It, however, certainly does not make sense to have been teaching the "heathen Chinese" of the Love of God in my youth and then now shooting and bombing these same people, many of whom are graduates of our missionary schools. They certainly must think we Christians are a nation of hypocrites.

What About Point Four? It is popular for some conservative church people to wildly criticize President Truman. Probably he has been misled and has made many mistakes. His desire, however, to help backward nations surely accords with Bible teachings. All serious church members who believe in foreign missions should endorse Point Four.

We Americans cannot indefinitely "live the life of Riley" with our reckless waste and pleasures while so many of the world's people are starving. Ultimately, either our living standards will be lowered or else we must help other nations raise their living standards. Perhaps the first persecuted race we should help is the displaced Jews of Israel; but first we need a World Truce.

Known By Our Fruits A professor under whom I once studied at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology would prove that God has given the world new discoveries only as soon as the people were ready for them. This was his interpretation of the old saying, "Necessity is the mother of invention." May this now bring us a World Truce.

I wish that preachers, instead of praying for peace, would pray that we be worthy of peace and be willing to make the necessary sacrifices therefor. Then peace will come naturally, as have other great blessings. The Apostle Paul must have had this in mind when he said: "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him." (1st Cor. 2:9)

Final Thought It certainly seems as if some mistake has been made. Either the leaders of our mission schools did not properly teach the right Gospel, or else we in this country have set such a poor example as to undo all their efforts. Jesus said: "By their fruits ye shall know them." Did He expect this would be applied to our foreign missionaries or to us churchmen here at home who are urging Truman to bomb China?

The eleventh of February is the birthday of Thomas A. Edison for whom I had the honor of working. When anything which he did failed to give the desired results, he always blamed it on himself,— never on the chemicals or other materials with which he was experimenting. He would then try to find the mistakes which he had made. I believe in foreign missions and in present day churches, but certainly this Korean-Chinese situation makes me feel that there has been a mistake somewhere. Let us remember Edison and see that it will be corrected, if we hope to have further prosperity and avoid unemployment. We now need a World Truce,— not simply a Korean Truce.

College Banquet to be February 14

Guest speaker at the All College Banquet, February 14, at 6:30 p.m. in the Presbyterian church will be Dr. Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan. The University of Michigan club sponsors this banquet.

Dr. Hatcher is a member of the Modern Language association, American Association of University of Professors, National Council of Teachers of English, the Great Lakes Historical Society and Phi Beta Kappa. Among the clubs in which he holds membership are Rotary, Crichton, Torch, Players, Kit-Kat, and the University Golf.

Among his better known books are: "Tunnel Hill," "Patterns of Wolfpen," "Central Standard Time," "The Great Lakes," "Lake Erie," and "The Western Reserve."

He has been described as a noted scholar and author, an inspiring teacher, and an efficient understanding educational administrator.

Reservations for the banquet may be made by calling Mrs. Austin Pino, 1443-W, or Mrs. Harold Pine, 1842-M sometime today.

School Board at Educational Meet

Members of the Plymouth Board of Education along with the Superintendent of Schools, Russell L. Isbister, attended a dinner meeting of the Wayne County School Board Members Association at Wvandotte last Monday, January 28. Those attending were James Gallimore, Maxine Wiloughby, Kenneth Hulsing, Warren Smith and Wallace Laury.

The feature speaker was Dr. Howard Jones, professor of education at the University of Michigan. His topic, "Moral and Spiritual Values in the Public Schools" was very interesting to those in attendance.

Dr. Jones emphasized that moral and spiritual values should be a part of the total instructional program, but to teach religion is in conflict with our basic concept of the separation of the school and state. He did state that the school should teach about religion in relationship to the valuable contribution community life.

The promotion of any particular religious creed should not be under any consideration be recognized in the school curriculum.

Fund Names Secretary

Plymouth Community Fund board of directors has appointed Joan Karner as secretary. Miss Karner will fill the unexpired term of Dora Grabner, who resigned.

Next meeting of the board will be February 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the Veterans' Memorial center.
