

ONE THING CALLS FOR ANOTHER.

There is a lot of merit in the proposals being considered in Washington that the voters of the nation should have a direct hand in the selection of candidates for president and vice president. We are very much in favor of it.

We favor it, with the proviso that the members of EACH party select their own candidates. And when this responsibility is given to the party members, that calls for the reenactment of the party enrollment law.

That means that Republicans ONLY will select their candidates and that Democrats ONLY will name their candidates.

Without the enrollment law it would be possible for Democrats to go into the Republican primary and help name some weak-sister Republican for office and Republicans could go into the Democratic primaries and help nominate some unfit candidate on the Democratic ticket.

If we are to have direct primary nomination of presidential candidates by the various parties, then by all means we must have the party enrollment act to go along with it.

Some states now have such a law. Many others do not. Michigan at one time had it and for various hidden motives it was repealed. But as long as the question has again been raised, and parties are held directly responsible for their candidates, then let's protect that responsibility by enacting a national enrollment act, if and when we do pass a law providing for direct primary nomination of presidential and vice presidential candidates.

WHAT GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID.

"Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy holy protection; that Thou wilt incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government; to entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another and for their fellow-citizens of the United States at large."

—Prayer after Inauguration
"To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace."—from First Annual Address, to both Houses of Congress, January 8, 1790.

"I hold the maxim no less applicable to public than to private affairs, that honesty is always the best policy."

—from Farewell Address, 1796
"Labour to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire—conscience." — Rule from the copy-book of Washington when a schoolboy.

"That unmeaning and abominable custom, swearing,"

—from Orders Against Profanity in the Army

"WE CAN'T WIN IN KOREA."

General MacArthur was fired by Harry Truman, as commander of the American armed forces in Korea because we wanted the AMERICANS to WIN the war, said General MacArthur's friends after he had returned to America. Vast numbers believed that this was the honest reason why Truman did fire him. Others doubted it.

The other day in a public address News Commentator H. V. Kaltenborn said: "We can't win in Korea. General Ridegway told me in answer to my query as to why we can't win that he was under orders not to win but to fight a war of containment."

Do you know of any period in American history when such a policy ever prevailed? And meanwhile while we were engaged in "containment" our soldier boys are being killed and our enemies are shooting down the greatest number of American planes ever lost in a war.

And on top of all of this, we are permitting Communists to continue to hurl lying charges at the United States — and we retaliate in a weak voice and say simply "It ain't so, so there."

A MOVE IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

Just how much chance there is for the bill to pass in the legislature which places the primary election day in June instead of September we do not know. But the proposal is a good one and we hope that the legislature enacts it into law.

The trouble with fall primaries has been with conflicting interests. While the residents of the state should always have the good of their state and county governments at heart first, last and all the time, that seemingly is not the rule.

We have the wind-up of the summer vacation period, with vast numbers of our residents away from home, thousands of them out of the state. We have mothers busy as a bumble bee getting the kids ready for school—and then along with it comes the tail end of the baseball season with the Tigers generally holding the spotlight.

These things should not matter, but they do, and seriously so. We believe, too, that voters do not have sufficient time between mid-September and the first of November to hear all of the candidates and to become thoroughly posted on the issues of the day. A June primary will give candidates plenty of time to meet the voters and voters will have plenty of time to make up their minds as to which party and which candidate are the right ones to support. Yes, we are very much in hopes that this proposed bill will eventually become a law.

IF CAPITALISM—IF SOCIALISM—IF COMMUNISM.

If Capitalism is wrong, why don't the people who hate it leave America?

If Socialism is more desirable than our way of life was before Fair Dealers and Screwballs took over why don't the people who like Socialism go to England to live?

If Communism is what the so-called common man wants, WHY doesn't he go to Russia?

But here is the strange thing about it, as far as we can find out, no one wants to leave America. But millions and millions of people under Communism, Socialism and other forms of government want to come to America to live. In fact, if we opened the gates to immigration, we would be flooded with people from all parts of the world—we would have so much population we could not care for it.

As we see it, it is about time for the crackpots and screwballs who talk about the "advantages" of Communism and Socialism and the like to shut up or get OUT of America and stay out.

THE USUAL REPORT.

Harry Truman evaded a direct answer to a question a few days ago about the charge that Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin had made that there is some fellow of Communist leanings associated with the Truman office force. He retorted by the usual Fair Deal answer to these charges that McCarthy wasn't telling the truth.

That's what they have been saying about the Senator's charges for sometime, but it seems when they get right down to the bottom of things, the Wisconsin Senator hasn't been so far off on the charges he has been making.

Recall all the denials about this fellow Service? And recall what happened? Wait a few months and see what develops in connection with this latest Communist charge made by Senator McCarthy. Meanwhile the public hopes that the political fakery in Washington do not scare McCarthy. He is doing the country a real service, maybe crudely, but nevertheless he is getting results—results that are GOOD FOR AMERICA.

David Heinzman Wins 1st Place In AAU High Jump

A local boy won high honors for himself at the Michigan AAU indoor track meet held last Saturday in Yost Field house, Ann Arbor. David Heinzman, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Heinzman of 31181 Schoolcraft, placed in a three-way tie for first place in the high jump. David leaped 6 feet 3 inches for the first place tie, to beat 25 of the best jumpers in the Midwest. Tied with him were his University of Michigan teammates, Howard Liverance, and Howard Flicke of Miami University in Ohio.

David graduated from Plymouth High School in 1949, where he was an outstanding high jumper for three years. In his senior year, he won the state class "B" high jump title, and always could be depended on for points in this event.

Dave is a sophomore at the University now, and should contribute a few points to Coach Don Canham's track team this Spring.

Two other former Plymouth High school athletes competed in this meet—Louis Vargha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Vargha of Gold Arbor, ran the dashes and a leg in two relay races for Michigan State. His team finished second in the latter event.

Paul Harding, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Harding of Ann street, competed for Western Michigan College and also ran the dashes and the 800 college relay. His team finished third in the latter event.

These two boys graduated from Plymouth High School in 1950, and were members of Coach Conrad Moiso's great team that finished third in the state meet.

All three of these lads are sophomores in college, and much is expected of them before they graduate.

City Saves Money on Street Signs

The city firemen, and other city hall workers, are doing a marvelous job of reconditioning the street signs throughout the city. These signs are being taken down and removed to the city hall basement, where they are being repainted, at a great savings to the taxpayers of this community.

First, they are placed in an acid solution, which softens the old paint, and makes the removal easy when a stiff brush is applied. After the paint is off the sign, all the dents are hammered out, and two white coats of paint are sprayed on the whole sign. When this is dry, black paint is applied with a roller, which leaves the indented street names in white. The signs are then set to dry, and look like a new sign.

City Manager Albert Glassford says the city is saving a lot of money by this method as a new sign costs around $7.50, and new posts would have to be provided for the new signs, as they would not fit the present ones. All this would be an additional expense to the city.

By doing it the present way, a savings of one-half, or more, is realized, and these present signs are made to last a life-time, being made of metal.

Firemen Make 2 Emergency Runs

The fire department was called for two emergency runs last week, both being resuscitator cases.

On Friday, a run was made to the home of Ray Southerland on Elizabeth street, where their young son was administered oxygen. He had been ill and had a high fever. He responded to the treatment and is doing nicely now.

Saturday, the seven-week old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hines of Fairgrounds street, was strangling, and the department arrived in time to revive the infant, and take him to a hospital in Garden City, but later that evening he died.

During the absence of Fire Chief Robert McAllister, due to an operation, Assistant Chief George Schoeneman and Captain Charles Groth made both these runs.

Must Have Cash to Continue With Local Symphony

"Immediate financial aid from the community is needed to help the Plymouth Symphony orchestra functioning," stated Mrs. Lila Humphries, president of the Symphony Society, at a recent emergency meeting of the board.

Due to the increased costs of presenting the concerts, the funds derived from memberships and the collections taken at the concerts are not sufficient to cover the expense of the productions. The average amount spent per concert is $400. The yearly budget is less than $4,000. Other orchestras of the same size operate on a budget of $45,000 per year.

"The orchestra is rendering a real service to the community by bringing to Plymouth free concerts. It enables talented persons in Plymouth to make use of their talents for the enjoyment of others," says Mrs. Humphries.

"The Symphony Society provides scholarships for graduates of Plymouth High school giving them a chance to continue careers in music. A chair in the orchestra is a goal to which younger musicians aspire," she said.

There are two more concerts scheduled for this season, one February 24, and the other April 6. The former with Douglas Marsh, cellist, and Joseph Lazaroff, violinist, will be presented as scheduled. The concert scheduled for April 6 featuring the Broadway production, Down in the Valley" with orchestra and chorus and now in rehearsal will of necessity be cancelled if the residents of Plymouth and surrounding area do not do their bit.

Contributions and memberships may be sent to the Plymouth Symphony Society, Inc. Box 99, Plymouth. There are three different memberships, Active, $5.00 per year; Sustaining, $25.00; Patron of the Arts, $50.00 or more per year.

The city of Plymouth has attained national prominence for its leadership in the field of music. An article will soon appear in the publication of the "American Symphony Orchestra League" showing the progress the Symphony Society has made here in Plymouth.

Committee Favors Meter Revenues for Future Expansions

Members of the civic parking committee feel much progress has been made on the final solution to the local, acute parking problem. Two meetings have been held within the last two weeks and many ideas are now under discussion from which a definite parking plan should evolve.

Outside investors, with properties in the city have indicated their willingness to provide help with financial details and three offers have been made to the committee of land to start parking developments.

Robert Willoughby, of the Willoughby Shoe store offered the committee the back end of his lots on Ann Arbor trail east of the A & P store which join the present city parking facilities. The offer was to give the city free usage of an area of about 30,000 square feet for 10 years for parking development, if the city would waive taxes on the same during that period.

The second offer was made by Sterling Eaton of The Plymouth Mail of free usage of the property directly behind the present Mail building from its cinder block east wall to the line abutting the Cassidy property which runs through to Pennington avenue. This area would approximate about 15,000 square feet which would be and is immediately available to the city on the same basis of the Willoughby offer.

Roderick Cassidy of the Norma Cassidy store offered an area approximating 15,000 square feet also on the back of his property east of The Penn Theater. This particular piece, offered on the same basis, joins The Mail property and would open an area of about 30,000 square feet in this section which could be immediately accessible from Union street back of the Masonic Temple.

The three parking areas, Willoughby, Eaton, and Cassidy would provide area for parking approximately 100 automobiles.

Other property owners in the downtown area have been contacted on similar propositions and there is a definite possibility that other land may be made available in the very near future.

The committee seems to be of the opinion that all city lots must be metered and that a substantial portion of the meter revenue less reasonable city expense must be available for future parking developments if this area is to keep pace with the heavy traffic that it is now enjoying.

The immediate aim of the committee is to develop several areas through out the business sections so that the benefits can be wide spread.

Under consideration at the present time is the matter of hiring someone to follow through with the development and for that person to investigate all of the possibilities and ideas that the committee may develop.

The group also is in accord on the fact that funds must be forthcoming from local business men, who will also benefit by the increased parking areas. Funds are needed at once to hire expert personnel and funds will also be needed to probably secure some land that may become available in the future.

According to committee chairman Ralph G. Lorenz, no stone will be left unturned in the next few weeks to bring about action that will provide additional parking early this spring.

Gould's Celebrates Fifth Anniversary

Gould's cleaners, 212 South Main street, is celebrating its fifth anniversary this week. The cleaning and fur storage plant has been in the same location for the entire five years.

Loren Gould, owner, states that there will be gifts to customers during the anniversary celebration.

Petition was received by the city commission for curb and gutter on Fairground between Ann Arbor trail and Fair street. A hearing will be set following the report of the city manager.

Supt. Isbister in Panel Discussion

Two representatives from the Plymouth High school will be on the panel discussion of the Michigan Association of School Librarians at the Association's Winter meeting, Saturday, February 16, at Bentley High School in Livonia.

Russell L. Isbister, superintendent of the Plymouth Public Schools, and Esther Ham, librarian of Plymouth High School, were those chosen for the morning panel.

The subject discussed will be "School Administrators and Librarians Working Together." The moderator will be Miss Louise Rees, School Library Consultant, of the Michigan State Library. After lunch, Miss Laura Martin, president of the American Association of School Librarians, will deliver the main address. Her subject will be "Tasks Ahead for the School Librarian."

Since the school libraries have a definite connection with education and educators, the problems are to be concerned wholly with professional problems dealing with schools. There is a special area of work including administrators, teachers, pupils, and the library. This specialized organization gives them a chance to pool their problems, and thus receive mutual help.

Others from this area participating on this ten-member panel are: Stuart Openlander, superintendent of Wayne Public Schools, and Miss Sarita Davis, librarian at the University Elementary School in Ann Arbor.

Cartwright-St. Louis Wedding Solemnized on Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert St. Louis, Jr. are "at home" at 811 Holbrook avenue following their marriage on Saturday, February 9 in Our Lady of Good Counsel church. The Reverend Father Mooney officiated at the 10 o'clock rites before an altar graced with baskets of white gladioli and mums and lighted candleabra. Mrs. Clyk presided at the organ and sang "Ave Maria."

Mr. and Mrs. William Cartwright of Northern avenue are the bride's parents and Gilbert's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert St. Louis, Sr.

Sue chose for her wedding, a satin gown with fitted bodice and tul skirt ending in a long train. Three tiers of ruffled lace were attached to the hemline of the skirt and around the fingertip length veil of illusion which fell from a tarr of seed pearls. Her long fitted sleeves extended to points at the wrist and she carried a cascade of white roses and carnations.

For her only attendant Sue asked Mrs. Rosalind Dyer. She was gowned in rose taffeta and wore a white rose headband from which fell a blue shoulder-length veil. Her bouquet was of blue carnations.

Gilbert asked William Dyer to be his best man and seating the guests were Clarence Rogers and Frank Heike.

Mrs. Cartwright selected for her daughter's wedding a street length dress of navy blue crepe with pink trim and navy and white accessories. Mrs. St. Louis was in wine gabardine with which she wore black accessories. Both mothers pinned pink corsages to their shoulders.

Following the ceremony a reception for over 120 was held in the Newburg Hall with guests present from Northville, Pontiac, Livonia, Detroit, Bad Axe, Wayne and Plymouth.

Both young people are graduates of Plymouth High School.

Antelopes are amazingly well-adapted for life on the open prairies. They have large trachea for easy breathing, large leg bones for strength and speed, and large eyes with excellent vision. Their body hair is hollow and acts as good insulation against the prairie winds.

Volunteer Fire Dept. Seek Raise

The volunteer firemen of the Plymouth Fire Department have requested a raise in pay. The fire department has two regular firemen, but all the others are volunteers receiving pay only for the amount of hours worked during a fire.

At present the pay scale for volunteer firemen is $3 for the first hour with $2 for each additional hour during a day fire, and $6 for the first hour with $2 for each additional hour during a night fire.

The volunteers are asking that the pay be hiked to $5 for the first hour and $3 for each additional hour during a day call, and $8 for the first hour and $3 for each additional hour during a night call.

The matter has been referred to the city manager for further study.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. R. H. Nobles, Chadbourne, N.C.: I remember when you never saw linoleum on floors. They were scrubbed to snowy whiteness with lye and coarse sand. I remember when people called the porch the "piazz."

From H. B. Smith, Ault, Colo.: I remember when in Kansas the churches used ordinary trees for Christmas programs after wrapping the branches with colored papers as there were no evergreens grown there. I remember wearing heavy leather shoes with one-buckle like the overshoes today. Also the "hammock cart" with shafts extending straight past the buggy body which was hung on four coil springs. Also the storm front for buggies, which was a window raised up into the top when not in use. We cut ice from the river and stored it in a cave, covering it with fine straw to keep until summer.

From Mrs. A. J. Kronewitter, Elkhart, Ind.: I remember in Montana when our barley flour cakes ran out, we drank meat grease mixed in melted snow water. When that gave out, we crawled into bed and lay as quiet as we could to conserve our strength. We were settlers on a God-forsaken 360-acre of sand, rock and sagebrush. It was 40 below zero and snow drifts were as high as a house.

From C. E. Pleas, Chipley, Fla.: How I remember cutting wheat and oats with a cradle. It took considerable skill to make an even swath and lay the straw straight, so that it could be gathered into neat bundles and bound by hand. And I remember how sore my thumb got in tucking the knot under the band, if it was bound tight enough to hold good.

School Program Meets Approval

The regular monthly meeting of the high school teachers was held Tuesday, with Principal Carvel Bentley explaining the results of the recent physical education group meetings.

As a result of these group suggestions, the following program, concerning the use of the new physical education plant, was adopted by the school board.

Physical Education will be required in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, and a student may take one more year as an elective beyond the ninth grade. If a boy participates in athletics it may count as a semester of physical education.

The physical education program will consist of a five-day week, having gym three days, swimming one day, and health the remaining day.

Beyond the ninth grade, the program will depend upon the size of the classes, ability, etc. Over 200 students in the upper two grades have expressed a desire to take physical education as an elective next year. This may mean keeping 2 1/2 men teachers and 2 1/2 women teachers in the physical education department at all times.

Each semester of physical education will give the student one-fourth of a credit, and he may not count more than two credits in this department.

A boy can participate in but three sports a year, one each season. He must choose between cross-country and football in the fall; basketball and swimming in the winter, and baseball, track and golf and tennis in the spring.

The teachers also agreed with Mr. Bentley that a child should be in school 8 semesters and have at least 17 credits to graduate.

Plymouth Mail Read in New York

The reading scope of the Plymouth Mail is far-reaching. Many people in various sections of the country have heard of Plymouth's little weekly newspaper, and think highly of it.

A short time ago, Samuel Dibble, Jr., of Harding street was representing his company, General Motors Fisher Body, at a meeting in New York. While there he stayed at the Essex House. During the course of the evening a group of men were gathered in the lobby, and the assistant manager of the hotel asked if they would like to have a copy of their home newspaper.

Many in the group from Chicago, Detroit, and a few of the larger cities asked for, and got, copies of the big city papers. Mr. Dibble, in a joking manner, asked for the Plymouth Mail. He was surprised when he learned that many in the group had heard of it, and the assistant manager said that if it had been a few weeks previous, he could have complied with the request. It seems he had been on a trip through the mid-west earlier and had picked up a copy of the Plymouth Mail. It had impressed him so much, that he remembered the publisher, and thought well of his viewpoints on various subjects.

This is not the only instance in which people in far-away places have read the local newspaper, and have commented favorably on it.

In Elk City, Okla., Clyde Brewer, on trial for possessing liquor in a dry state, was held in contempt of court when he admitted that during a recess he had swigged half a pint of Exhibit A.

Service Station Changes Hands

Vacant business locations in Plymouth are at a premium. This is illustrated by the fact that when the firm of Grooms and Young at 1008 Starkweather avenue which operated the Sinclair service were forced to dissolve due to illness, it was only a matter of days until a new partnership took over.

Raymond Johnson and Edmund Roginski, two young GIs from Plymouth will reopen the service station February 18. They will handle the complete line of petroleum products dispensed by the Sinclair Refining company.

Johnson formerly worked at this location several years ago and was recently employed at Burroughs. Roginski was associated with Beglinger motor sales.

Library Story-Telling Hour Still Very Popular

The Plymouth branch of the Wayne County Library states that the story-telling hour is proving very popular with the younger folk of the city.

This thrilling hour has become an educational and entertaining event for the smaller members of this community. It is open to all children interested in being entertained, by a member of the library staff, with the traditional stories children love to hear.

These hours will continue each Tuesday at 4 p.m. until after Easter.

Smith PTA Host to Bird and Starkweather PTA

At the invitation of the George A. Smith Parent-Teacher Association, the faculties and PTA members of both the Bird and Starkweather schools, will be special guests at a Valentine Dance to be held at the Smith school. The dance will be held on Valentine's Day, tonight, from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Music will be furnished by William Thomas and his orchestra.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

Relax With a Hobby

WHEN W. LEE LINKOUS, Pylesville, Maryland, was a small boy he was a good boy, but he felt very much misunderstood by everyone but one uncle. They were very fond of each other. His uncle was a hunter and trapper and spent a lot of time teaching him how to shoot with a rifle.

World War I came along and he enlisted in the navy. There also was a lot of misunderstanding. He wanted to shoot. They wanted him to scrub deck and paint. He could not help it if they were wrong!

In the navy, he, like a lot of other young men, built up a desire to return home after the war, marry the girl of his choice and get into politics. When he placed the ring on the girl's finger his worldly possessions consisted of 60 dollars in cash, a gun and one-half interest in a dog.

He was going into farming, a profession he knew absolutely nothing about. He had had eight years of schooling, was a Republican with the odds four to one against him. Also, he was a newcomer with 10 natives to one newcomer in the county. But he was determined to get into politics.

There was one thing he could do! He could shoot rings around anyone he knew. He joined a gun club and consistently made the headlines of the local papers. This gave him a lot of pleasure plus relaxation. He dug into his business with everything he had. He bought 50 dollars worth of books at one time. He borrowed books by mail from the University of Maryland and other places. Slowly but surely he made a success in both farming and politics.

Now, our point: He says he never could have crossed the humps and carried the load that he is carrying today if he had not learned to find complete relaxation in the pleasure he gets from the gun, in the club, on the Susquehanna flats, in the field and in the mountains and swamps.

Because they're "Job-Rated," these trucks stand up better, save money. Come in today for the complete economy story. Let us show you how a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck will cut your hauling costs. Reduce costs with economical power—Dodge truck engines have four rings per piston, lightweight aluminum pistons, compression ratios as high as 7.0 to 1, and other economy values. Reduce costs with low upkeep—You get such money-saving advantages as chrome-plated top piston rings, exhaust valve seat inserts, positive-pressure lubrication, and many others. Local Church Has Sunday Broadcast

For the first time in the history of Plymouth, a Sunday morning church service will be broadcast from a local church. Next Sunday morning a radio broadcast has been scheduled from the Presbyterian church beginning at eleven o'clock. This radio message will come over station WPAG, Ann Arbor, which is 1050 on the dial.

For some time the Ann Arbor Council of Churches has been broadcasting from churches in Ann Arbor. Now they are extending this service to communities near Ann Arbor, and the Presbyterian church was the first one selected outside the Ann Arbor area.

Reverend Henry Welch states that this will be a splendid opportunity for those persons who have been unable to attend church because of illness, or other reasons, to listen to this program coming from the local church.

Father Mooney Attends Lecture

Father William P. Mooney of Our Lady of Good Counsel Parish and Paul T. Bollinger attended the lecture of Father C. P. Crowley, C.S.B., on "The Search for Values in Contemporary Literature," before The Detroit Liturgical society on February 8.

Father Crowley, Professor of English Literature at Assumption College, Windsor, received his Doctorate in Philosophy at the University of Michigan. After reviewing the pessimistic turn taken by English and American literature after the First World War, Father Crowley described the more cheerful note that followed the great depression and the current emphasis on religious themes. He dwelt at length on the writings of Charles Williams, the contemporary British author, whose versatility and profundity are so little known in America.

At the meeting it was announced that Doctor Evangeline G. Bollinger, of the English Department of Saint Joseph's College, West Hartford, Connecticut, will address the June meeting of the Society on "The Philosophy of Dante." Special arrangements will be made to accommodate a large number of guests from Detroit and Ann Arbor. Doctor Bollinger, an authority on modern criticism of Dante, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Bollinger, of Ivin street.

WEEKLY SERMONETTE

"Our Question Marks"

Open the Bible anywhere at random, and you will find a sentence expressing surprise, wonder, thrill, joy, and admiration. The sentences of this type are most often introduced by the word "Behold!" Sometimes it is an imperative verb that calls on the spectator to use all his powers of observation. But more often the word expresses a palpating sense of joy and wonder, like that of George MacDonald's little child:

"I am a little child and I Am ignorant and weak; I gaze into the starry sky And then I cannot speak For all behind the starry sky; Behind the world so broad, Behind men's hearts and souls doth lie The infinite of God!"

This is the stirring of that very pulse of hush and awe and reverence which has made man in all ages and in all lands a religious being. It marks as well as anything can do the difference between religion and science. Religion approaches the world and life with the attitude of wonder, which we denote in America by the exclamation point, and which English people finely call the point of admiration; while science on the other hand uses everywhere the interrogation point. We have been living for a whole generation in the era of the interrogation point. We have opened all the doors in the vast house of the universe and like little children we have looked under all the

This is explained in the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, February 17, under the subject, "Soul." The Golden Text is from Psalms (35:9): "My soul shall be joyful in the Lord; it shall rejoice in his salvation." Among the Bible citations in this passage, (Ps. 34:22): "The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants; and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate." Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal unfolding of Life as immortality brought to light." That Penny Post Card Costing "2 Cents" Really Costs 12 Cents

Consider the mystery of the 12-cent "penny" post card. It has local post office officials and many patrons of the post office baffled.

You can, for instance, buy 49 post cards (the old penny type is now 2 cents) for 98 cents.

But if you buy 50 of them in a bunch, you have to pay Uncle Sam $1.10—or 12 cents for the 50th card.

It seems the law sets a special 10-cent charge for every 50th card bought in bulk. Why? Postal officials just shake their heads and reply, "That's the law."

When the government increased the cost of the former penny card to 2 cents the first of the year, there wasn't any great complaint.

But when large users of cards went to buy them, they bumped into this cockeyed requirement of paying 12 cents for the 50th 2 cent card.

"Don't ask me what the reason is," said Postmaster George Timpona of Plymouth the other day. "We just collect the postage. We don't make the laws."

Tells About Coming of Rail Roads To City and About Spring Floods

Flooding of Creeks Flowing Through Town Disturbing Factor—Christmas Days Made Happy for Kids in Town by Banker Who Paid for Greetings

By Charles H. Bennett

Charles H. Bennett

During my boyhood came the railroads to Plymouth. Previous to that time our only method of transportation was by horseback, wagons or stages. Needless to say much of it was on foot. Main street during a rainy spring was a sea of mud and I have seen a farm wagon pulled by a strong team of horses stuck fast in the extremely bad mud hole that existed directly in front of the home where the mother of E. C. Hough lived.

There was not a sidewalk of any kind on Main street. Later I was to see the first wooden walks built, followed in time by our cement walks.

There used to be a wooden bridge on Main street, this bridge being built to span quite a good sized creek or stream that came down what is now known as Fralick avenue and ran east past the side of the present Plymouth Mail building and through the property of the late Mrs. George Wilcox.

I was not the only Plymouth youngster who often used his straw hat to scoop up a few minnows under this old Main street bridge with which to go fishing. Let me add that during spring rains I have seen this bridge on Main street in grave danger of being washed away. Some days it was quite impossible to walk from where Mrs. John Henderson resides to Conner's store unless one took to the high muddy road, as the sidewalk which was then only on the west side of the street was under water sometimes to the depth of three or four feet.

And in this connection let me say that a wooden bridge over the Tonquish creek in front of where the Cloverdale Dairy store now stands was washed down stream so often that it became a standing joke—but not too laughable to those few people living west of the hotel on Ann Arbor trail, who during a rainy season could not get down town without a boat or a mighty long roundabout walk.

My daddy being very fond of home-produced milk always kept a cow. Our cow shed stood about where the Grange hall is now located and it was my duty to milk that cow twice each day. I would like to know who the guy was that told the world never to shed tears over spilled milk. He certainly didn't know about me. I used to shed 'em twice, at the time the cow kicked the pail over, and a bit later when Dad discovered that a six-quart milk coupon had disappeared from his ration book. Often have I heard Dad quote, "Spare the rod and spoil the child." I did not see eye to eye with Dad on that one until some years later.

Our cow pasture covered much of the ground of that creek that came down across Fralick avenue. High water in those days meant that you didn't go very far anywhere.

In the early days of Plymouth my father carried the U. S. mail to and from Ann Arbor twice each week from Plymouth. It was a long day's ride on horseback over and back. It was all woods in those days and Dad being very young and his legs short, he was tied to the saddle to keep him from falling off his horse as he wouldn't be able to climb back on again.

When the first railroad office was opened in Plymouth Mr. Kimball, then president of the railway company, sent a Hugh Smith to Plymouth as the first telegrapher and agent at the new depot, which was built in a clump of woods near where the old Plymouth Electric Light building now stands. The light building still stands near one of the Daisy plants, never having been removed or torn down.

With the coming of the railroads naturally an express agent, one Daniel Penny, came to Plymouth and opened an office about where the new Kresge store is located on Main street.

Through the courtesy of Karl Starkweather I am able to present more authentic data on the advent of when and how our railroads came to Plymouth. In the beginning there were two roads entering our town. These were the Holly, Wayne and Monroe line and the Detroit, Lansing and Lake Michigan line.

The first mentioned later became the Pere Marquette and the other the Detroit, Lansing and Northern. These two railroad companies consolidated about the year 1893 and became the Pere Marquette of yesterday, which is now the

This is the old Fanning Mill, the first factory ever built in Plymouth, according to Charles H. Bennett. It was located on the southeast corner of Main and Union streets. A complete description of the building was given in his last week's story. Mr. Bennett, as a youngster, is pictured in front of the mill, standing with a derby on, beside two other small children. The above picture is one of his most prized possessions.

Chesapeake and Ohio railroad.

Concerning the Holly, Wayne & Monroe, the construction was from the south to the north rather than north to the south. Both roads were built at the same time and both entered Plymouth in the year 1871.

There was some strife to see which road would first reach the point where they were to intersect in Plymouth, the last road being required to furnish and install the crossing frogs. The north and south line reached the intersection point first.

A "Grand Excursion to Plymouth By Rail" from Wayne to Plymouth and return, took place on Thursday afternoon, April 27, 1871. A big crowd accompanied by the Wayne Brass band came to Plymouth on that day.

On May 16, 1871, the company completed the laying of rails into Northville and on that date the citizens of Northville turned out in a grand celebration. For the participating railroad workers, the village provided 100 free dinners at the old Ambler house in Northville.

Then on May 29, 1871, regular service was established between Northville and Detroit, through Plymouth by way of Wayne. From Wayne the right of way of the Michigan Central was used. There was one train a day each way except on Sundays. The train left Plymouth at 8:15 a.m. and arrived in Detroit at 10:00 a.m.

There was a stage connection at Northville for Novi, New Hudson and Milford. Trains started running from Holly to Detroit via Wayne on October 30, 1871. The tracks were all laid from Monroe to Holly by December 31, 1871.

Regular service on the other road, the Detroit, Lansing and Lake Michigan, started on June 12, 1871. This service was between Detroit and Plymouth only. The rails were laid to Brighton on July 4 and on that date the people there turned out for an extra special celebration.

On Wednesday, August 23, 1871, there was a grand excursion on the D. L. & L. M. from Detroit to Plymouth and return. It was sponsored by the Lafayette avenue Methodist Sunday school. There were 14 coaches on the train drawn by two locomotives. The excursionists were joined by other Sunday school excursionists from Wayne and the Plymouth churches.

Plymouth boys back in those days used to wait for Christmas with just as much if not more concern then than they do now.

It was the custom of E. J. Penniman, one of the "Big Five" and who was the president of our first bank, to give a quarter to every boy and girl in Plymouth who would come to his bank, which was in the rear of a store located in about the middle of the block on Main street, and wish him a Merry Christmas.

Silver coins were rather scarce in those days of paper "shin plasters" and it had to be a very sick child who failed to show up at Cal Crosby's store on Christmas mornings, and I was one who was never ill, for 25 centavos went a long ways in those days—and most Plymouth youngsters would go a long way for 25 cents.

While I have endeavored to give you a tintype photo of Plymouth as I in my boyhood days remember it. I have hardly touched upon the characters and idiosyncracies of many of its inhabitants who walked the streets and made up its daily routine in times gone by. I am convinced that if a writer would ever set down on paper the doings and sayings and peculiar characteristics of certain inhabitants of those days here in Plymouth, it would be a best seller beyond the wildest imagination.

Like Peanuts? Here Are Various Ways You Can Use Them in Cooking

Frank Raambo's efforts to produce a peanut crop in this part of the country, have created considerable interest in peanuts—the kind of peanuts one roasts and eats. Because of this interest in peanuts, the "Farm Editor" of The Mail is producing an article which has much to say about the peanut, and how it can be used by the busy housewife who now and then likes to produce something for the table that is "different."

It follows:
Do you like goobers? If you don't, you're an odd character. For Americans eat goober butter at the rate of about two pounds per person a year. Goobers, if you don't know, are peanuts.

Peanuts came to this country, not from South America, their native home, but on slave ships from Africa. They were cheap food for the captives being brought to these shores to be sold as slaves. Later, in Civil War days, they were found to be nutritious food for soldiers. But it took the famous Mr. Barnum to popularize them by peddling roasted peanuts at circuses.

The term goober is of African origin. The goober, or peanut, is not really a nut but a legume, like a bean or pea. Nut or pea, it's popular food. More than half the peanut crop goes into peanut butter, the bread spread dear to childhood. Candies and bakery products take much more of the crop, and peanut oil for cooking requires an unusually large share. Peanuts also are used for feeding those pigs so proudly labeled "peanut fed" when they turn up as ham.

If you haven't looked into peanut oil for cooking, I suggest you do. The oil can be used nicely in salad dressings, for frying and deep fat frying, and as a shortening in bakery.

The nuts themselves aren't used in cookery as much as they might be. That may be because they don't be kept from the peanut nibblers long enough. If you can manage to hide them for cooking, try some of these suggestions:

Chop salted peanuts and combine in equal parts with ground or grated carrots. Add a little chopped pickle (sweet) and mayonnaise to moisten, and serve in a mound on lettuce.

Chop peanuts coarse and add to creamed or scalloped onions, or to any casserole of vegetables.

Add chopped peanuts to creamed bean or chicken or to a casserole of either.

Try carrot and peanut soufflé. Carrot and Peanut Soufflé (Five servings)

1 1/2 cups ground carrots (3-4 medium size)

1 1/2 cups peanuts

1 small onion

1 1/2 cups cooked or canned tomatoes

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon pepper

1/2 cup parsley

Measure carrots after grinding in minimum blade of food chopper. Put peanuts and onion thru chopper. Combine these ingredients with tomatoes, salt, pepper, and beaten egg yolks. Beat egg whites until stiff, and fold into mixture. Bake in 2 quart casserole in pan of water at 350 degrees for an hour. Serve with sliced onion which you've added to chopped parsley.

A.C.S. to Study Smoking Habits

The smoking habits of Plymouth and Plymouth Township men between the ages of 50 and 69 will come under scrutiny in a health survey to be conducted by the American Cancer Society starting February 15.

Mrs. Austin Stecker, chairman said the purpose is to help determine whether smoking influences the development of lung cancer. The local study is part of national survey in which 100,000 to 500,000 men will be questioned.

Many volunteers here are being trained to obtain smoking histories from male relatives, neighbors or close friends. Each researcher will interview about ten men and ask them to fill out a four-page questionnaire concerning cigarette, pipe and cigar smoking habits. Both smokers and non-smokers will be interviewed.

The questionnaires then will be sent to the ACS national office in New York for preliminary analysis by statisticians. At the end of each one-year period here, the volunteer researchers will researchers will report whether or not the men they interviewed are still living. If not, medical committee will check death certificates and other records to determine the cause of death.

When a sufficient amount of data is available, the ACS statisticians will analyze the number of lung cancer deaths among smokers and non-smokers to determine whether smoking is a contributing cause of the disease.

There will be about two and one-half per cent deaths per year from all causes in the 50 to 69 age bracket, Mrs. Stecker said. One of every 35 of these deaths will be caused by lung cancer according to predictions based on national cancer mortality figures.

"The ACS is making this survey because previous studies on the subject have not produced conclusive evidence," she asserted. We have no idea what our survey will show but we hope, after several years of study, to reach a definite conclusion.

"Statistics show that cancer of the lung in men has increased six-fold since 1933. It is the only form of the disease that has shown such a rapid and unexplained increase."

The survey is the first health study of such magnitude to be conducted by volunteers, Mrs. Stecker said. The job would be prohibitively expensive if volunteers were not available.

Well Baby Clinic, Feb. 20

Well Baby clinic will be held in the health room of the high school from 10 a.m. until noon Wednesday, February 20.

Dr. Milo Brady, pediatrician, will offer advice to any mother who brings her baby to the clinic.

With farm cost rising faster than farm income, the best chance for farmers to earn a profit in 1952 still lies in efficient production.

This is a great year for White House hopefuls. There is more Presidential timber than you can shake an axe at... and if you did, they'd keep coming. If any more hats are thrown into the ring, we'll need a bigger ring, or smaller heads. We don't know who'll win, but the field's fabulous... President Truman, Ike, Warren, Taft, Kefauver, Mac, Stassen and a flock of dark horses who answer to everything but "Whoa!" Albert S. Falk, of Wheaton, Minnesota, is a recent starter. Candidate Falk looks like Santa Claus and offers $60 to $100 a month to everyone over 21. And probably everyone under 21 pays it. Parking in Plymouth is quite a problem. Hints for Plymouth Homemakers

Pork, Poultry, Fish Help Keep Food Costs Down

Pork, poultry and fish will be seen often on the family table of homemakers who want to keep food costs down and still furnish appetizing meat dishes for their families.

Supplies of pork will be larger during the first half of 1952 than during the last six months but the total supply will be about the same as last year.

Most families are prone to limit their use of pork to roasts and chops. Lean pork can be used in almost any way other lean meat can be used. Pork fits well into casseroles, dishes, meat loaves, meat soups and stews as well as the more familiar chops and roasts. Select some of the less expensive cuts and try dressing them up for greater variety.

Pork will be more flavorful, shrink less and be more tender if it is cooked at a moderately low temperature. Cook all pork to the well-done stage—185 degrees when a meat thermometer is used or allow about 35 to 40 minutes per pound with the oven set at 225 degrees for oven cooking. For top of the stove cooking use medium heat and cook until all pinkness disappears.

Poultry, both chicken and turkey, is available still at reasonable prices. Most of the turkey is oven-ready frozen turkey and of excellent quality. Chicken is available in fresh, frozen and canned form. Fresh or frozen ready-to-cook chicken will probably be found the most economical. Most of the chicken on the market will be fryers at this season of the year, although some stewing fowl and a few "roasters" may be found.

Frozen poultry should be kept frozen until the homemaker is ready to cook it. Low-temperature cooking of poultry will give a more tender and tasty bird without drying out the meat. Depending upon the kind of poultry, usually three-fourths to one pound is purchased for each person to be served.

Fresh or frozen fish will continue to be one of the good protein buys. Canned salmon will not be as plentiful and so will be more expensive. With cod, halibut, whitefish, perch, mackerel and lake trout to be found in most stores in frozen form and in some stores as fish fish, homemakers should be able to find much low cost eating from the variety offered. Just remember that fish needs only a moderate temperature for cooking. When fish is broiled on the outside and heated through so the flesh will flake it is ready to eat.

House for sale? Use a classified ad. Call 1690. Deadline is Tuesday at 5:00.

Q. What is this method of meat cookery?

A. Broiling — cooking by direct heat.

Q. How should meat be broiled?

A. It should be placed on the broiler rack with the top surface of the meat two to three inches from the heat, the thicker the meat the farther from the heat. The meat is broiled until cooked approximately half way through, then seasoned, turned and cooked on the second side, seasoned and served immediately.

Q. What meat cuts are cooked by this method?

A. Beef — steaks (rib, club, tenderloin, T-bone, porterhouse, sirloin, top-round), patties. Veal — liver, smoked pork — ham slice, Canadian-style bacon, loam. Lamb — chops (shoulder, rib, loin), patties, liver, kidney.

Hot Iron May Damage Rayon

There are times in life when one does not strike when the iron is hot. One of those times is while ironing rayons.

On a rayon blouse or slip the fusing together of two thicknesses, or the shiny patches around buttons and shoulder seams are sure indications that the iron was too hot.

All rayons must be given cool-iron treatments. Special care should be taken with acetate rayon that tends to wilt and shine more readily than another common rayon, viscose. The trouble is, there is no real means of identifying acetate or viscose from the fabric itself unless the garment is labeled.

So best be safe with a cool iron for all rayons. "Cool" means 300 degrees or less.

Happiness is spiritual, born of Truth and Love. It is unselfish; therefore it cannot exist alone, but requires all mankind to share it. — Mary Baker Eddy

Try Lamb Riblets in Stew

Here's something different in the way of stews that's designed for cold day enjoyment—lamb riblet stew. In case these riblets are new to you they are prepared from a lamb breast. The meat dealer simply removes the breast bone and cuts the breast between the ribs with the resulting meaty riblets.

When you are preparing a stew, dredge the riblets with flour, then brown them well on all sides in lard or drippings. Pour off excess drippings. Season with salt and pepper. The next step is to cover the meat with water, then place a tight fitting cover on the cooking utensil and let the riblets cook quite slowly for about 1 1/2 hours. At the end of this time, add vegetables, recover the utensil and cook until the meat and vegetables are tender. Lastly, thicken the liquid for gravy. This stew may be served over boiled rice or noodles if you like.

Feature Pork Hocks In This "Boiled" Dinner

Prepare a "boiled" dinner with pork hocks. These are the round, tapering pieces of pork containing shank bones that you'll frequently find a thrifty buy in your meat dealer's display case.

This "boiled" dinner is not boiled at all, rather it is cooked slowly in moist heat. The hocks are completely covered with water, the utensil covered and the meat allowed to simmer on top of the range until nearly tender. This will be approximately 1 1/2 hours. At this time, add the vegetables to make your dinner complete—carrots, onion and potatoes. These vegetables require about 45 minutes cooking time. Add cabbage wedges from 15 to 20 minutes before the end of cooking. Serve with vegetables arranged around the pork hocks.

Here's one more dish to prepare with the hocks. Cook them until tender, completely covered with water, then serve on a platter of noodles generously sprinkled with caraway seed.

Unusual Ideas For February 22

Salute February's notable birthdays! For instance, remember America's first President on February 22 to your family with a gayly garnished meat platter.

In keeping with the occasion, decorate your roast beef, ham or pork platter with potato "hatchets." Simply cut potato slices to resemble little hatchets, then fry them in deep hot lard as for French fried potatoes.

If the main dish for dinner is a stew, turn it into a meat pie. Merely top the meat chunks and vegetables in gravy with minute "stars" and "stripes" cut from pastry or biscuit dough. Biscuit or pastry hatchets make another clever topping for your stew.

They'll be all the more interesting if you serve the stew in individual table casseroles. Or you can cut your pastry or biscuit dough in the form of Washington's famous tricorne hat, then decorate the hat with bits of pimiento.

Unsulphured Molasses Sweetens Chewy, Bar-Type Cookies

A track will be made to the cookie jar that contains bar cookies plumped with the goodness of unsulphured molasses and shredded coconut. Unsulphured molasses is the sweet, old-fashioned kind with the flavor that children have liked for generations.

Cookies enriched with unsulphured molasses are nutritious. This molasses is a natural sweet, being derived from the concentrated and mellowed juice of sugar cane. It contains valuable iron needed to build red blood, also calcium and vitamin B.

Many pediatricians are recommending the use of high quality molasses in milk drinks as a good way to obtain some of the daily iron requirements. A tablespoon of molasses stirred into a glass of milk is a delicious flavor addition to this beverage.

Here is the recipe for the easy-to-make chewy molasses cookies.

Molasses Chew-Cakes

1 1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 cup unsulphured molasses
1/2 cup unbeaten egg whites (about 4)

1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoon soda
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups shredded coconut

Cream together shortening, sugar and unsulphured molasses. Beat in egg whites. Add flour, soda, salt and coconut; mix until blended. Spread batter on a greased, waxed paper lined, jelly roll pan, 15 x 10 x 1-inch. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Turn out on baking sheet, remove paper; turn right side up. When cool, cut into bars 1 x 2 inches. YIELD: 75 bars.

Tool Up for Spring... Now

"Easy does it" when you have a good farm workshop powered by electricity.

On the Dean Ruggles farm near Marlette the workshop is used during the winter to get tools and equipment in apple pie condition for spring work in the fields. In the summer, it helps speed machinery repairs when delay would be costly.

The picture above shows Mr. Ruggles using a portable electric farm welder to fix up his homemade wagon unloader.

You, too, will find a farm workshop a real time and money saver.

With electricity supplying the muscle for saws, drills, grinders and welders, you can easily repair hard-to-replace equipment —also build many labor-saving devices yourself.

Your Edison Farm Service Advisor will gladly help you plan a farm workshop that will more than pay its way all year long. Call or write any Edison office.

It looks like a "POWER YEAR"

New Horsepower—new Brake Power—and new Power Steering blossom on Buick's ROADMASTER for 1952

MAYBE you've heard—horsepower has hit a new high on the ROADMASTER. Brake power has done the same. But today, we'd like to concentrate on the third member of the power trio—Buick's own version of Power Steering, available on ROADMASTERS at a moderate extra cost.

What is this Power Steering like? It's something like a helping hand, something like a "hydraulic slave"—that relieves you of all steering strain, but lets you keep command.

What we mean is this: Power Steering is handled by a special hydraulic unit—and engineers can design this unit to take over any amount of steering effort—even to a point where the wheel seems to float in your hand. But in that case, you'd surrender all control to that hydraulic unit—get no steering "feel" from the wheel. Now suppose you're telling two agile tons of automobile what to do in traffic. We think you'd like to have it know that you're in command.

And—out on the straightaway—we believe that a part of the joy you get from owning a Buick is the sensation of having something alive and eagerly willing beneath your hands. So we're glad to announce that Buick engineers didn't spoil this thrill. They've kept the fun of driving, and simply eased the effort. When you're rolling along smooth and straight, it takes almost no effort to keep any Buick on course.

It almost steers itself, as every Buick owner knows. But—when you want to get away from a curb—back into a parking spot—make a turn—Buick's Power Steering comes into action, saves four-fifths of the effort required with ordinary steering. Power Steering does the extra work. And—in case you wonder what happens if Power Steering gets out of kilter, the answer is nothing. Your Buick steers just as it always has. That's why we've been saying, "This is Power Steering as it ought to be." Come in. Try it out. We think you'll agree.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Sure is true for '52

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

THE PUBLIC LETTER BOX

To the Letter Box:

Sincere congratulations to the Plymouth Mail on the launching of "The Public Letter Box," which is undoubtedly the best possible way of getting a good cross-sectional view of public thinking. It should be of considerable assistance to our public officials in the matter of determining policies and improvements, providing, of course, the letters contain constructive suggestions and are not used for the airing of pet peeves.

For a long time the writer has thought that Plymouth's progress would be aided very materially if we can really get our main thoroughfare completely modernized. To be sure this cannot be done in a hurry, and it is known that the authorities are working on it. Let's all concentrate on the early widening of Main street and a grade separation at the railroad crossing. We are part of a great Metropolitan center and we must not let other suburban communities outdistance us.

Sincerely,
Much Interested

To the Letter Box:

It is my opinion that the Plymouth Police Dept. could and should do a better job with the stray dog situation. This problem has become rather acute during the past few months, dating back, no doubt, to the opening of the new grade schools. A visit to any of our schools will show our officials what I mean. The presence of fighting, snarling, biting dogs around small children is certainly something definitely not wanted in a city the size of Plymouth.

When a 10 man Plymouth Police Dept. impounds approximately 100 dogs during 1951 as compared to a 12 man force impounding approximately 1900 as was done in Livonia, then the planning of the force must be wrong. Remember, also, that the total area of Plymouth is about 1/4 that of Livonia!

I understand that one man takes care of all licensing in Livonia; dogs, driving, beer, vending machines, etc. He also picks up all stray cats and dogs, issues tickets and makes arrests pertaining to the same. The city furnishes es him a truck with a special cage built in the rear, thus saving a patrol car for other purposes. It is nothing for this one officer to pick-up and impound 100 dogs in one month, while still handling his other duties in an efficient manner. Do you not think Plymouth is large enough and progressive enough to have something similar?

To the Letter Box:

Volumes have been written about Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Other volumes have been written about communists in government. There have been charges and counter charges. The present and past democratic administrations have been attacked for playing the communist game. What is the story? Perhaps no one will ever know. However, certain facts stand out like a sore thumb.

It is a tragic but irrefutable fact that America won the war and lost the peace. The present and past Democratic administrations cannot deny responsibility for losing the peace. Dean Acheson played an important role in this tragedy; the Truman administration cannot deny responsibility for Acheson.

Two outstanding factors contributed heavily in the losing of the peace. First, the vast stores of American military material and equipment which we had at the end of the war were dissipated or destroyed within a very short time after the fighting of World War II ceased. We finished the war with the most formidable striking force the world has ever known, yet within a relatively short time it was reduced to a shadow of its former self. With the excuse that our material and equipment were outdated, orders came from somebody in Washington to destroy or get rid of it. We did just that. It has been reported that enough equipment and material to fully equip 33 divisions, most of it new and still in the crates, was destroyed in India. It is said to have taken 80 ships three months to dump this equipment into the Indian Ocean, that 15 American personnel were killed and 150 wounded in demolishing what was left on land. It is also reported that Lauchin Currie, alleged communist, gave the order for the destruction of this material.

These supplies were sorely needed by our friend and ally, Chiang Kai Shek, in his desperate struggle with the communists, and would have been a Godsend to our forces in Korea.

Although we produced at least two hundred and fifty thousand tanks during the war, yet shortly after the cessation of hostilities we could find no more than eight thousand. Soldier witnesses have testified to the wholesale destruction of American military material and equipment throughout the world. One of my neighbors, stationed on Guam as a Navy storekeeper, has pictures of the vast military stores on that island containing supplies estimated at five million dollars, which were put to the torch. Navy planes were flown in and then wrecked and burned with all instruments aboard.

It is reported that sufficient equipment and material for 44 divisions was likewise destroyed in Germany. Billions of dollars worth of clothing and other military supplies were sold to surplus stores for five cents on the dollar. Yet our boys were soon to freeze for the lack of proper clothing on the bloody fields of Korea. The amazing fact is that our boys were forced to fight without the help of even outdated equipment in Korea, while the North Koreans and Chinese Communists used this same "outdated" equipment so effectively against them. Another amazing fact is that Stalin hoarded not only his own material, but all that he could get, buy or steal from us.

America was and is the chief stumbling block in Stalin's path to world conquest. The wholesale destruction of American military stores served his purpose in two important ways: First, it reduced our immediate power to resist communist aggression. The most powerful military nation in the world was, almost overnight, reduced to virtual impotency. Second, it cost the taxpayers of the nation billions of dollars in unnecessary expenditures, and thereby coincided with one of the fundamental aims of communism as expressed by Lenin, who stated, "We (the communists) will force the United States to spend itself into destruction." Was this wanton destruction and dissipation of American military stores stupidity or treason?

The second important fact is that the past and present Democratic administrations actually did more than Stalin himself to build up his empire to its present proportions. With Alger Hiss as his adviser, former President Roosevelt, in the secret conferences at Yalta and at Teheran turned over to the tender mercies of the gangsters of the Kremlin, Poland, Manchuria, Roumania, Lithuania, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, half of Germany and other vast areas. At both of these conferences Stalin seemed to be coach of both teams. At Potsdam, Truman agreed to occupy part of Berlin, but didn't have the sense enough to reserve a right of way into and out of the city. If a farmer were to buy a piece of land out in the middle of somebody's field without securing a right of way, he would be the laughing stock of the community. Yet Truman did just that at Berlin and it cost the American taxpayers untold sums in life and dollars.

After the war, when tractors were unavailable to American farmers, we were sending thousands of them behind the Iron Curtain. During the war Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau it is reported, and so far as I know has never been denied, gave the communists our plates for printing money, and we are reported to have redeemed some three hundred millions of dollars worth of this money printed by the Communists. How many more millions or billions were placed and distributed, no one will ever know. It is said Secretary of State Acheson's law firm received a fee of fifty thousand dollars for securing a ninety million dollar gift from the United States to communist Poland. Of course Acheson calls it a loan.

Now let us look at both sides of the ledger. Our forces and material were dissipated as soon as possible after the war. Stalin's empire and stocks of material and equipment were built up. This is the picture. A situation that traitors and fools let loose upon them. For them it was a fatal issue. We were told blithely by Gen. Marshall that the Chinese Communists were only agrarian reformers. That was a fatal mistake. Fatal to twenty thousand American lads from twenty thousand American homes. Boys that were torn from twenty thousand weeping American mothers. We were told that Chiang Kai Shek's soldiers must not be allowed to fight those who had destroyed the last visage of freedom in China. Instead a quarter of a million American boys must pay in blood, suffering, and with their lives instead. For them, yes for us all, Democrats and Republicans, communism and those responsible for its scourge becomes the all important issue.

Rest Home Adds Space

Orchard Haven rest home has been enlarged to accommodate substantially more patients than before. The home, owned by Russell and Julia Spalding, is located at 7505 Canton Center road.

The new section is a separate building. Patients living in this house go to the main building for one meal a day.

The home is licensed by the state of Michigan and a member of the Association of Approved Nursing Homes. Orchard Haven ranks high among institutions for the care of invalids and convalescents.

A physician and nursing staff are on call 24 hours a day.

Grange Cleanings

Our Grange meeting of February 7 was splendid. The attendance was unusually large. The birthday supper was very fine and the tables looked very pretty with the decorations in the Valentine order and a gorgeous birthday cake graced the center of the birthday table. Mary Filmore and her committee merit great credit for making the affair such a success.

The speaker, Mr. Curry, from Ypsilanti was very good and held his hearers interest to the last word. Many expressed regret that he did not speak longer.

The Golden Wedding pictures were beautiful and everyone was thrilled to see them. It was too bad that more were not there to enjoy them.

Mary Filmore is our new Home Economics chairman and she is planning for several committee meetings at her home to get the business of the year under way. On Friday of this week, February 15 all those who have children or are interested in children are asked to come to her house, 197 S. Union Street at 1:30 p.m. On February 18 those who are interested in card parties, bazaars, bake sales and other large projects are asked to come at 1:30 p.m.

On Tuesday those interested in health projects such as sanitation, diets, cooking etc will come at 1:30 p.m. And Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. will those come who can not come during the day. This will be the last meeting as there will be no meeting on Wednesday.

Our next card party will be March 1 in the Grange Hall of course. The committee in charge will be Mr. and Mrs. Grammel, Mr. and Mrs. Spicer and Mr. and Mrs. Coverdill. Bring your card table and your friends and neighbors. There will be table prizes also door prizes. Lunch served.

On February 21 we are going to have as our speaker Rev. Henry J. Welch of the First Presbyterian church and many of us know what a fine speaker he is. We hope if there are any of the members who have never heard him, that they will make a special effort to come to that meeting as I assure you it will be worth while. There will be pictures shown too.

Old Newspapers Tell of Problems Faced by Public In Years Gone By

What was news 128 years ago? And what was new around the country 89 years ago, just a few months before Charles H. Bennett arrived in this troubled old world?

From two old newspapers saved by Mrs. John McLaren from a large amount of old keepsakes and other material she was disposing of at the home of her mother, Mrs. Floyd Babbitt in Northville, who died recently, one would gain the idea that there were plenty of troubles and problems in those days, just as there are now.

One of the papers Mrs. McLaren left at The Plymouth Mail office was named The Western Spectator and Public Advertiser, published at Palmyra, New York. It was the issue of December 8, 1830, back in the days when all of the type used in printing the paper was set by hand.

Besides several articles dealing with scientific questions, there was apparently a hot fight in New York state over public school education. The editor wanted some one to tell a state convention to be held in Utica what the "defects and evils were in the present system of common school education?"

He wanted to know, too, whether the amount of money to be raised by the several towns for the support of common schools should be larger than the proportion that was paid by the state.

It appears, too, that papers were not quite as thoughtful of the feelings of their readers in those days as they are in these times.

There was a report of a "Shock ing Accident" in which a man fell from the top of a three story building where he was employed as a mason tender. He was killed and the newspaper added, "He was about 32 years old and had a wife and child and we regret to add, as we feel in duty bound to do so as a warning to the living, was intoxicated when he fell, which was no doubt the cause of his sudden and awful death."

The editor also reminded his readers that the Governor of New York had set aside Thursday, December 9, 1830 "to be observed as a season for public Thanksgiving and prayer."

The other newspaper that Mrs. McLaren found among her late mother's belongings was The Rochester Daily Democrat of Rochester, New York. It was the issue of February 26, 1863. That was during the Civil war period and much of the paper was devoted to reports of events taking place in the south.

Apparently the editor of the Democrat didn't agree with the editors of some other New York state newspapers. He referred to Lyons, N. Y. Press as "Copperhead Democratic."

The word "copperhead" was freely used by the Republicans during the last years of the Civil war period and for a number of years after, when assailing Democrats.

In reporting the nomination of a candidate for mayor of Rochester, the Democrat in part said: "His nomination was not secured by weeks of persistent personal solicitation and pipe laying in the most disreputable grog shops and corner groceries of the city; it was the free tender of his political and personal friends and as such it conveys the highest compliment that can be paid a man."

Both of these aged newspapers that the late Mrs. Babbitt of Northville, had saved so carefully over the years were filled with interesting news reports of this nature. The Mail is grateful to Mrs. McLaren for the use of these newspapers.

Reserves Score Ninth Cage Win

The high-flying Plymouth Rock Reserves won their ninth game of the season, last Friday evening over at Belleville, when they downed the Tigers by the score of 39 to 31.

The pattern of this game was similar to that played earlier in the season between these two teams, with Coach Charles Ketterer's lads enjoying a slim 18 to 17 half-time lead, and increasing it to 32 to 26 by the end of the third quarter. With about two minutes to go the young Rocks had increased the lead to 12 points, and Coach Ketterer then inserted his second stringers for the remainder of the game.

The scoring was evenly divided with Ken Kisabeth leading his teammates to victory with 10 points. He was closely followed by Cole with 9, Angevine with 8, Robinson with 7 and Caplin with 5.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

Soon you will see the infant daughters of Coaches Sandmann and Ketterer bouncing about in a bright new Michigan State College sweater, Ted Cavell, a loyal MSC rooster, made both parents very happy recently when he presented their daughters with the sweaters. (Of course, you know, all four of the new parents are graduates of the University of Michigan.)

I journeyed over to the State AAU track meet at Ann Arbor last Saturday to witness the big Michigan AAU winter track meet. All the Michigan colleges were represented, and many good track teams from outside Michigan.

Plymouth's Dave Heinzman, tied for first in the high jump with a leap of 6 feet 3 inches. Tied with him were his teammate at the U. of M., Howard Liveness, and Howard Ficke of Miami University, in Ohio.

State Parks Now Year-round Camp

Organized camping, solely as a summer out-door activity, has become a thing of the past with many state park and recreation area group camps practically filled every weekend this winter.

In developing into a year-around event, the conservation department reports total group camp attendance has bolted upwards from nearly 5,000 persons in the 1944 original year to nearly 43,000 persons last year.

Lure of all season camping is not confined to youth groups (either Church, Boy Scout, school club and other youth organizations) dominate the camping scene but adult clubs and organizations are showing more interest in what the outdoors has to offer. Organized camping by family and neighborhood groups is encouraged in the 19 camps located in 16 mostly southern park, recreation and forest areas. In fact any group, under responsible leadership, is welcome to use the modern rustic accommodations.

Permits for winter use, which should be requested in advance, are issued by resident park and area managers. They also handle spring and fall use permits but requests for summer dates are sent to the department's parks division, Lansing.

One or more group camps are located in the Ortonville, Waterloo, Yankee Springs, Pinckney, Island Lake, Highland, and Bald Mountain recreation areas; Bay City, W. J. Hayes, Ludington, Muskegon, Sleeper, J. W. Wells and Warren Dunes parks; and Black Lake and Allegan state forests.

Gaffs Near Title

Gaffs Cleaners, the only team to take the measure of Tail's this season, continued their winning streak when they downed DeHoCo last Tuesday by a score of 56 to 34.

The game was relatively close throughout and the losers were only behind 23 to 15 at the half, and 32 to 28 at the beginning of the final quarter. Gaffs then turned on the power and smothered the losers in the fourth period, outscoring them 24 to 6 in that stanza.

Toth led the winners with 16 points, while Robinson was the leading scorer for DeHoCo with 19 points.

If you have a social item, or any other local news, phone 1600.

Many of you remember Dave as he graduated from Plymouth High School in 1949, and was one of Coach Konrad Moisie's better class "B" high jumpers while in high school. Dave won the state class "B" high jump in his senior year.

Also saw Louis Vargha and Paul Harding, Louis competed for Michigan State and ran a second leg on the distance medley relay—his team finished second to Michigan. Paul competed for Western Michigan, and ran in the 600 and on a relay.

Coach Moisie has turned out some outstanding performers in track from the local high school, track from the local high school, crack outfit each year.

One thing I did notice at the track meet was a spirit of friendliness between the colored and white athletes. Most of the barriers have been broken down concerning the color line in athletics, and it might be well if some of our professions, particularly in certain sections of the country, followed suit. If a colored person could compete on an equal basis much of our racial problems would be solved.

I feel much as the man, whose birthday we celebrated last Tuesday, did about this matter. When someone who calls himself a good person can walk up to a colored person and say, "Brother"—then we may have a basis for a peaceful world in which to live.

Noiseau Too Much For Rock Cagers

Belleville's Royal Noiseau provided the big noise in the Tigers' 63 to 59 victory over the Plymouth Rock cagers, last Friday evening, over at the Belleville gym.

Young Noiseau established a Team scoring record when he pumped in 17 baskets and 3 free throws for the grand total of 37 points.

The Rocks stayed within a respectful distance of the winners during the first half when they trailed 37 to 28, but the second half was a different story. The Rock defense collapsed considerably throughout the game, and proved a deciding factor in the loss.

Jerry Kelly was high for Plymouth with 17 points. Casey Cavell had 11 and Phil Staub, playing his first real game, contributed 10 points.

Training School Teams Too Good

Wayne County Training School teams are still leading the "E" league as they proved they should be on February 5, when they defeated both teams they played.

In the first game the Indians were leading at the half by a close score of 14-8 and they held their lead throughout the game to win 31-24 over Twin Pines. The leading scorer for the Indians was Shannon with 10 points. High point man for Twin Pines was Buell with 10.

In the second game, played at 6:30 p.m. the league leading Wolverines swamped the Jr. Optimists by a score of 61-25. At the half the score was 24-13 in the Wolverines favor. High point man for the Optimists was Schwandt who has led the team in scoring in every game he has played. The Wolverines points were evenly distributed. The league standings are as follows:

Team	W	L
Wolverines	7	0
Indians	4	2
Jr. Optimists	1	5
Twin Pines	0	5

Tail's Win Two

The league leading Tail's Cleaners maintained their first place position last week with two wins as they defeated Livonia 79 to 42 and Plymouth United Bank 33 to 35.

In the first game the winners led 37 to 17 at the half, and a big third quarter put them out of reach.

Paige was high for Tail's with 19 points. Brodie had 17 and Morva 14. For the losers, Fisher had 13 and Low 10.

In the second game, the half score was 47 to 14. Brodie led Tail's with 30 points in this game, with Morra contributing 16. Ron Heos led the Bank team with 14 points to 10 for Singleton.

Trenton Assured a First Place Tie

Trenton continued its unbeaten season last Friday night as they shellacked Redford Union 69 to 47. Allen Park bested Bentley in a 40 to 32 game.

In other games around this area, Ford Trade beat Wayne 43 to 40, Northville continued their winning ways by trouncing Clarkston 59 to 45, Ann Arbor edged Lansing Eastern 29 to 26, Brighton handed South Lyon a 46 to 34 trimming, Romulus beat Ypsilanti in a low scoring game 24 to 21. Garden City took the measure of Way St. Mary's 45 to 32.

With three games remaining in league play, Trenton is assured of at least a first place tie even though they lose all their remaining games, and this is highly improbable.

LaFontaine Wins

Last Thursday, LaFontaine nearly doubled the score on DeHoCo to win by a 65 to 38 count. The winners led all the way and continued to build up their lead in all quarters.

Bob Norman led the winners with 18 points with Hall having 16. Again Robinson led DeHoCo with 16 points to 13 for Krider.

Play Bentley Fri Northville Tues.

Both the high school and reserves engage Bentley High school in games tomorrow night on the local basketball court. These should be close, hard-fought games as the Rocks eked out two wins over at Bentley earlier in the season.

Next Tuesday night the two Plymouth teams journey over to Northville for a return engagement with the Mustangs.

In the first game played here earlier in the season the Rock 5 varsity more than tripled the score on Northville. However, Northville has won nearly all their games since that encounter, and are a vastly improved ball club. The coach shifted a few players around, and has come up with a good, scrappy quintet.

How Plantings Can be Used to Soften the Exterior of a Home

By Harlow O. Whittemore
 Professor of Landscape Architecture
 University of Michigan

How to soften the appearance of a home.

If you are the owner of one of the older houses or buildings and are not to happy with the exterior appearance, something can be done about it.

If you do not wish to spend the money necessary to have the house or building remodeled, you can find ways to make it more attractive or capable of commanding a better rental. To a certain extent this can be accomplished by careful study of the existing lines of the house and the colors and texture of materials used. Ingenious use of trees and shrubs will bring out the best effect of the color and texture and will enhance the more pleasing features of the front, while concealing or drawing attention away from the unattractive features.

A house front can be softened by filtering the view of the house through branches of light foliage, which will cast a sort of open screen or veil in front of the building without hiding it or shutting out too much light. A good tree of this type is the honey locus or honey acacia (not black locust). This tree is suitable to city conditions of heat and drought, provided the soil is good. Another tree which could be used for this purpose would be the canoe birch, which looks good against red brick. One of the most brilliant effects can be obtained by using the scarlet oak. This tree will brighten up the dull building and looks especially effective when the house is white, yellow or grey.

There are also one or two shrubs, which when planted near the corners of two-story buildings, also help in this respect. The common lilac—purple against white or yellow house, white against red brick—is very suitable. The Amur honeysuckle can be used on the shady side of corner of the building, as can the Japanese Kerria, the slender Deutzia, and the double-file Viburnum.

Large evergreens should not be used, especially in the city. Dwarf evergreens, like the Japanese yew, are good city dwellers and are especially useful on the shady side of the building.

(This is the second of a series of ten articles. The third will deal with use of trees for background and framing.)

Feels Sorry For Friends in North

Writing from his new home in St. Petersburg, Florida, former real estate man G. A. Bakewell of Plymouth says that the warm sunshine there brings him vivid recollections of the snow, slush and sleet so familiar to Michigan at this time of year.

"Not that I wish to make anyone envious of our weather down here but for the record I would like to tell my friends back up north our temperatures have stayed continuously in the high 70s with an occasional slip into the low 80s," he writes.

He further states that many Plymouth folks have visited them at their winter home during the last few weeks and names Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Mack, Mrs. Irving Blunk, Mrs. Manna Blunk, Mrs. Chas. Mather, Leon Terry, Kenneth Kahl, Robert Jolliffe, Arlo Soth, Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips, and Mrs. Katherine Jennings Adams among their friends that have stopped to say hello.

25 Years Ago

Sunday, February 6, the old Episcopal church on Union street was vacated and services were held in the new church. This building, which was dedicated by Bishop Williams in September, 1920, although having been of very good service, was thought to be inadequate to carry on the work of the church. The new church is a very modern building.

Next Sunday, February 13, Rev. H. E. Sayles, pastor of the First Baptist church, will preach his farewell sermon in the local church, after a most successful pastorate for the past several years, during which time the church has had a good growth, and is in excellent condition in all of its departments. Rev. Sayles has accepted the pastorate of the Baptist church at Stockbridge.

D. A. Holloway has been making some extensive improvements in his wall paper and paint store at the rear of his home at 263 Union street. Mr. Holloway has built an addition on the south side of the original building that gives him much additional room for the display of his wall paper and paint stock. New fixtures and shelving have been installed and the whole store presents a neat and attractive appearance.

A very pleasant occasion was the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Elliott's youngest daughter, Inez, to John R. Campbell, of Plymouth, at 512 North Mill street, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. H. E. Sayles, pastor of the Baptist church, read the ceremony and then introduced Mr. and Mrs. Campbell.

William T. Conner and John Wilcox leave today, for a several weeks' sojourn in Florida.

Mrs. Gertrude Blackwood and sister, Miss Margaret Miller, left this week for Indianapolis, Indiana, to spend the remainder of the winter at the home of their brother, Owen L. Miller, who with his wife and daughter will leave next week for a trip to Florida and Panama.

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Mason and Miss Brooks are leaving for St. Petersburg, Florida, this Friday evening, to spend the remainder of the winter.

Henry Ray leaves next week Thursday for Dayton, Ohio, where he will take a course of instruction at the Vaile & Kimes Pump Co.'s factory. He will be gone one week.

Dora June, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gruebner of South Main street, was christened last Sunday afternoon, at the home of her parents, Rev. Charles Strasen officiating.

The concluding event of the current "Town Hall" series in Plymouth will be the presentation of a play by the Workshop Civic Players of the Wayne University theatre at the Plymouth high school auditorium next Monday evening. The Wayne University group will present William Soroyan's two-act play, "The Beautiful People," directed by Richard Dunham.

Announcement was made Tuesday night by State Commander Herman Luhrs of the American Legion of the appointment of Lisle H. Alexander of this city as department adjutant of the organization in Michigan.

Improvement in the mail service between Plymouth, Northville and Detroit, with connecting points out of Detroit, will be greatly improved as the result of the establishment beginning Monday, February 15, of a "star route" between Northville, Plymouth and the Redford branch office of the Detroit post office.

Charles Gehring, baseball star of the Detroit Tiger team, and James Stevenson, WJR radio announcer, entertained more than 400 guests at the annual father and son banquet under the auspices of Troop P-2 of the Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by the Ex-Service Men's club of Plymouth Tuesday evening at the Plymouth high school.

Through the cooperation of the city commission the city health department has established a blood bank, to be kept at the city hall health department offices as a precaution to provide emergency medical service for civilian defense. Dr. Luther Peck states.

Mrs. Carl Miller left Wednesday for Kansas City, Missouri to attend the wedding of her cousin, Kathryn Faby. She will remain a few days to visit with relatives.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mack in St. Joseph hospital, Pontiac, Sunday, February 8, a son. He has been named Phillip Brooks. Mr. and Mrs. Mack, former residents of Plymouth, are making their home in Birmingham.

The engagement of Miss Alice

Criger to Walter Allen was announced Friday evening by her mother, Mrs. Adella Criger of 633 Dodge street, when she entertained a group of friends. The date for the wedding will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. David Mather, (Elizabeth Nichol) announce the arrival of their daughter, Susan Marie, on Monday, February 9, in the St. Joseph hospital, in Ann Arbor. The young lady weighed seven pounds and 13 ounces.

Babson Discusses Present Troubles

Babson Park, Florida, Feb. 14. Since leaving Massachusetts for my usual winter in Florida, I have had a chance to observe and ponder. Perhaps readers will be interested in my conclusions.

Outlook in Asia Mainland
I find very little interest in the Korean War, except to get the boys home! Most people can't tell you where Korea, Indo-China or Iran are located. There is no "will - to - fight". I have been through World War I and II; but never experienced the present indifference.

The United Nations—under our leadership—did right in attempting to defend South Korea. Since, however, the North Koreans got the backing of China and Russia, the situation does not look good. If we attempt to defend Indo-China, Iran, the Suez Canal and Persia, we may get licked or busted. We must, however, hold Japan and Formosa.

Graft in Government
President Truman is probably doing his best to eliminate the graft. But it has started a "chain-reaction," which is spreading over the entire country. It is "smart" to beat the tax collector today, the same as it was smart to beat the prohibition officer 25 years ago.

The exposures have made the racketeers more careful; but the public is turning to more gambling, liquor drinking, and sex carelessness than ever. Only a religious awakening can save us.

Commander Wilson Praised
Church attendance is falling off, especially among the youth. Sunday schools are folding up. Sunday observance and Family

Prayers have almost entered "horse and buggy" history. But the American Legion has started what may cause a great religious revival, backed by Com. Wilson. Newspapers give too much emphasis to football, baseball and basketball. Chambers of Commerce had better work to have their communities lead in spelling, arithmetic and decent English!

Are Wages Too High?
Another mistake is the Minimum Wage Law, giving youth so much wild money to spend. A Minimum Wage Law should apply only to those who have worked a required number of years. Present Wage Laws are unfair to experienced workers and are harming millions of young people.

Salaries, wages, and even profits, should be dependent upon production. For wages to be increased with the cost-of-living will hasten the next depression. It is like trying to put out a fire with kerosene.

Truth About Inflation
I am tired of hearing politicians talk about inflation, without explaining that it is a result of our troubles, rather than a cause. When labor asks for more wages "because of inflation," its leaders are "putting the cart before the horse." Their arguments are false.

Inflation starts from three causes: (1) Higher wages. (2) Higher taxes and (3) Reduced production compared with demand for goods. When wages, taxes and demand increase, then farmers, manufacturers, merchants, doctors, lawyers and everyone else raise their prices to cover this increase in wages, taxes, etc. This is the real truth about inflation.

A Warning
Doubtless pensions, subsidies, and old-age benefits are temporarily good for business, but these inventions are also responsible for wasting billions of dollars. In a way, the same reckless spending is proportionately going on in England, France, Germany and S. America. The motto there is: "Eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow Russia may strike."

With out a world awakening and new sources of power—from gravity or the sun—the United States and our Allies may be beaten in our Asiatic mainland war campaigns. If so, this will be followed by an economic collapse in the United States, with unemployment and lower wages and lower prices for everything. Russia hopes this will lead to Communism in this country and make the entire world Communist. This latter I do not fear. Rather, I believe that such an economic collapse could redeem our people's souls—like purifying gold with fire—and be followed by many years of great prosperity.
