

THE CITY COMMISSION'S BIGGEST AND MOST IMPORTANT JOB FOR 1952.

We have only the highest of praise for the many Plymouth business men and citizens who during the years have given much of their time and effort to the city's serious parking problem. They have studied it and worked like Trojans to bring about a solution so badly needed.

But this is NOT a job that the business men of the community can solve.

It is a DUTY and a RESPONSIBILITY of every member of the city commission.

Public automobile parking has become a civic responsibility. This community years ago, in the face of strenuous opposition, accepted the duty of supplying Plymouth with a water supply. Some opposed the plan. They even went to court to prevent the little village of Plymouth from putting in a PUBLIC water supply. But the court decided with the majority of the citizens, that the village council had the right and responsibility of providing Plymouth with a sufficient water supply.

So it is with lighting, with sewage disposal, with street improvements, and all other public conveniences.

With the changing in our methods of transportation and the necessity of providing facilities for the use of automobiles, no one has ever questioned the right of city, county and state officials to pave our streets and thoroughfares.

Along with this change in transportation has also come the necessity for providing the public with proper parking facilities for their automobiles.

Mayor William E. Brown of Ann Arbor, some five years ago fully recognized the civic responsibility for public parking. He not only recognized the responsibility but he set out to do something about it.

He has frequently declared that parking is the third municipal utility, the other two being water supply and purification and sewage disposal.

As we see it, the same rule applies to Plymouth. Mayor Brown in Ann Arbor did something about this third municipal public utility — parking.

As a result of his efforts Ann Arbor now has six city-owned parking areas and a large downtown parking building. These parking spaces, which provide parking for more than 700 cars, were located primarily for the convenience of shoppers. Their development did not cost the taxpayers of Ann Arbor a single red cent.

The cost of parking in any of the Ann Arbor lots is only ten cents for the first two hours and five cents for each additional two hours.

Mayor Brown frankly states that the public officials of Ann Arbor fully realize that the business men of that city or any other city are not in a position to provide parking facilities for all the people who come to Ann Arbor to trade, and thereby help build up a good city.

His position, of municipal government responsibility for parking is being accepted throughout the country.

There are no local organizations that have authority to take any legal steps of any kind. All a Chamber of Commerce, a committee or other organization can do, is suggest ways to accomplish things. But they possess no right to spend public funds. They possess no right to condemn property. These are rights possessed only by public officials such as our city commission.

From recent actions of our city commission we believe that they fully realize this responsibility. In fact the members have made it manifest in more ways than one. We believe that with the backing of the progressive business men of Plymouth and immediate action upon the part of our city commission, much can be accomplished within the present year.

We can enlarge the Central parking area. It may take a little time as some property purchases will be involved, but these are not difficult problems to surmount.

Then too, we think the past practice of the city government in designating certain property areas for parking purposes and then doing nothing to develop these parking areas is dead wrong.

When the city commission designates a section for parking, that immediately takes away from the owner of the property any right to use it or sell it for any sort of building purposes. The land must lie there year after year, awaiting the pleasure of the city when and if it ever acts.

That's all wrong. If the city does not intend to develop a parking area, then it should lift its restrictions as to the future use of the property. But as we see it, the city needs all of the additional parking facilities it can create—and not much time should be left if doing so.

No—the parking problem is NOT that of a few business men who have no legal authority to do anything—it is strictly a city government problem—and we respectfully suggest that our city commission make the parking problem of this fast-growing city its NUMBER ONE project in connection with street-widening and improvement.

The commission will win the everlasting gratitude of not only the entire city, but of our surrounding territory, if immediate steps are taken towards solving our serious parking problem.

A DREW PEARSON TRICK.

During the past few years I've had one or two people ask me why I so detest Drew Pearson and his distorted and misleading news column that old "Grandma" Free Press flaunts in front of its tolerant readers every morning.

Well, here is an example. As you know Senator Homer Ferguson has for years been trying to smoke out all the traitors, disloyalists and scum that have, during New Deal and Fair Deal days, attached themselves like barnacles to our government in one way or another.

One of Senator Ferguson's targets has been the notorious Owen Lattimore who has been mixed up with the China-Communist problem over a long period of years. Lattimore is a slippery guy, who knows how to use words and how to evade direct questions.

Senator Ferguson has been trying diligently to get at the bottom of Lattimore's activities, and to find out how much damage, if any, he has done to American relations in the Far East.

Slippery Pearson is smooth enough not to openly defend Lattimore, but he seeks to accomplish his purpose by insinuating that all is not well on the part of those who are patriotically endeavoring to serve and save our America.

Note carefully how Pearson does it in this recent reference in The FP, to the Lattimore quiz:

Senator's memory fails — Michigan's tousle-haired Senator Homer Ferguson would rather ask questions than answer them about the Institute of Pacific Relations.

As a member of the Senate Internal Security Committee, which is trying to prove the I.P.R. is Communist-dominated, Ferguson fumed and snorted at Owen Lattimore last week about his association with I.P.R.

At the session's close, Ferguson lingered to chat with reporters and review his afternoon's triumph. But a reporter cut him short by inquiring sweetly: "Senator, have you ended your own association with the Institute of Pacific Relations?"

Ferguson's lips drew tight, and he snapped: "It's in the record." "Can't you tell me yourself whether you quit the I.P.R.?" pressed the newsmen.

"I can't remember the exact date," barked the Michigan Senator, and he marched out of the room.

School Planning Group Discusses High School Need

The fourth meeting of the School - Community Planning Group was held last Wednesday, March 5, in the library of the high school, where they discussed the possible needs of the high school to more ably suit the changing curriculum demanded by a changing community.

Melvin Blunk, chairman of a committee to make a survey of the needs reported his findings to the group. The committee composed of a representative of each department in the high school, a school board member, the senior high principal and two members of the Planning Group, made a tour of the building, and readily agreed that the present 35-year old high school plant (1) was most inadequate, (2) that improvements must be made, (3) that the condition of classroom student desks was shocking and most unsatisfactory, (4) that possibilities exist for improving the high school to fit curriculum changes of the past 20 years.

The consensus of opinion was that all immediate improvements be made with the thought in mind of future necessary improvements.

Some of the immediate improvements suggested were the following: Converting the old gymnasium into an all-purpose room, re-arranging the present cafeteria and homeroom rooms,

Easter Seal Sale Opens This Week

The 1952 Easter Seal sale, an annual event, opened this week in Plymouth and vicinity with the mailing of 5000 letters containing Easter Seals. The local drive is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Plymouth and a committee composed of Russell M. Daane, Chairman, John Blickenstaff, Edward C. Hough, and Robert Willoughby. The local group cooperate with the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., Wayne Out-County Chapter. Proceeds of this are some 1500 cases in the active files of the Wayne Out-County Chapter of which Mrs. Leslie Taylor, R. N. is Executive Secretary. This annual drive, nationwide in scope, is being conducted simultaneously in all of the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

A goal of $20,000.00 has been set by the Wayne Out-County Chapter serving the area in Wayne County outside of the City of Detroit. Of all funds raised 91.3 percent will be retained for local use. Services supported by Easter Seal funds include: Finding the handicapped individual and arranging for proper care including diagnostic clinics, transportation to and from clinics, physical therapy, occupational therapy, special shoes and braces, wheelchairs, hometeaching for those children unable to attend school. Plans are also underway for the organization of a recreational day camp near Plymouth. These are a few of the many services made possible by your contribution to this worthy project.

Your support has been wonderful in past years and is very much appreciated by the members of the committee and by the child that benefits as a result of your generosity.

Garden Club Hears Mrs. Dyer

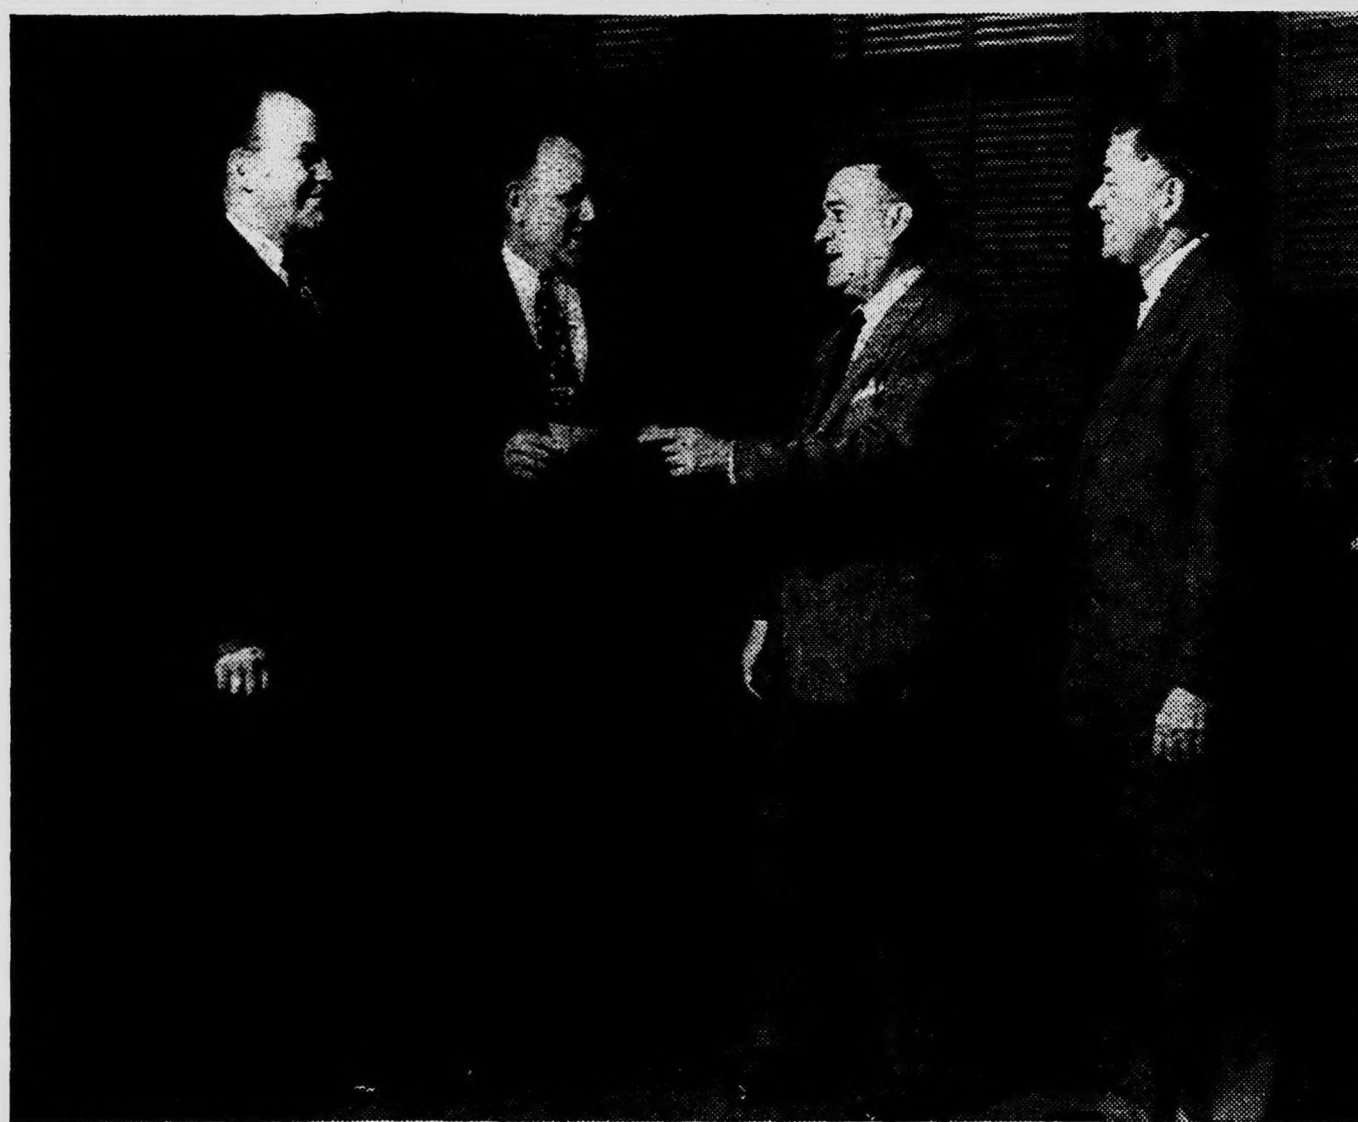

"Color in Your Garden" was the topic of a talk given by Mrs. Herbert Dyer of the Detroit Garden Center to the members of the Plymouth Branch of the National Faim and Garden Association at their regular meeting, March 10. The club met at the home of Mrs. George Chute at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Clarence Elliott reported on the bird house and bird feeder contest.

This contest is open to students in the 7th, 8th, and 9th grades. Entries must be in the hands of Mrs. Beatrice Besse by March 19. Judging will take place on March 20. Judges will be Edward Mollema, Paul Christensen and John Ort. The houses and feeders will be on display in Huston hardware on March 22.

Members were reminded that tickets for the Detroit Flower show are on sale at the Beyer drugstores at a reduced rate until March 28.

Tea was served, with Mrs. Roy Lindsay pouring.

AMONG THE FIRST OF THE LARGE INDUSTRIES of Plymouth to remit their check in full to the Chamber of Commerce for 1952 membership was the Burrough's Adding Machine Company. Burrough's president, John S. Coleman, third from the left is pictured presenting the $700.00 check to Chamber of Commerce president, Harry Roberts. Witnessing the presentation are Chamber secretary, Helmer Nelson, on the left, and Robert Marsdon, on the right, Burrough's personnel director, who is also active in the local affairs of the Chamber.

PLYMOUTH'S NEWEST PARKING LOT now under construction as a private project by the merchants on the west side of Main street and the north side of Penniman avenue. The area when completed will accommodate some 50 cars, in the rear of the stores of this area. This picture was taken from the back of Pease Wall Paper store, looking out at Fralick avenue. The building shown in the foreground will be removed and the entire area covered with gravel.

Voting Machines to be on Display

Voting machines will be on display in the city hall from now until election time in April. There will be someone there to explain the Shoup voting machine and the proper way of using it.

The machines will also be shown to service clubs and other groups shortly before the election so that every voter understands the machines which will be used for the first time April 7.

Joseph Cardinal of Dearborn met with the election board and future custodians at the city hall Tuesday evening. He explained the machines and their use to this group.

New Sports Dept at Davis & Lent

Sportsmen are in for a pleasant surprise when they visit the basement store of Davis & Lent Men's Wear. They will find that one complete section has been redecorated and a sports' department has been added.

Charles Beegle, store manager, announced that this department will provide a selection of sports' equipment by Wilson. Included will be golf, tennis, football, baseball, track, badminton, softball and other games. Uniforms as well as accessories will be available for individuals or team organizations. Bill Farwell will be in charge of the department.

Northville Elects Village Officials

C. E. Langfield was elected president of the Village of Northville at an election held Monday. Mr. Langfield was unopposed and received 255 votes. Total number of votes cast were 352; there are 1,232 registered voters in the village.

Other candidates elected unopposed were Claude N. Ely, commissioner, four year term, 267 votes; Alton Peters, commissioner, four year term, 248 votes; A. Russell Clark, treasurer, 306 votes; and Mrs. Mary Alexander, village clerk, 310 votes. Mrs. Alexander received the largest number of votes cast for any one candidate.

A. Malcom Allen was elected commissioner for a two year term. He defeated Levi M. Eaton by a vote of 226 to 118. Edward M. Bogart received 218 votes to defeat Harry G. Rackham for the office of village assessor. Mr. Rackham received 132 votes.

City to Hold Election April 7

Two city commission seats are to be filled in the regular spring election, April 7. Mrs. W. W. Hammond, Floyd Tibbitts, and Harry Hunter are competing for the two positions.

Mayor Tibbitts and Mrs. Hammond are incumbents Harry Hunter was defeated in the last regular election for commissioner.

Kiwanis Club Hears Missionary

Our present day world problems, how they effect us, and their relationship to our religion were discussed by Dr. Petzoldt Tuesday evening before the members of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club. Dr. Petzoldt has been a missionary with the Crow Indians of the West and has the reputation of being one of the country's leading speakers.

The spring division conference will be held next Monday at the Stathamoor Methodist church in Detroit. Presiding will be Lt. Gov. "Duke" Holmes of the 3rd Division of which the Plymouth Kiwanis is a part. Officers of the Plymouth club in addition to several other members will attend the meeting.

Dedicate Church Sunday Morning

Methodists will dedicate their newly decorated sanctuary and refurbished chancel at special services at eleven o'clock next Sunday morning. The dedication service will be conducted by Dr. Frank Fitch, superintendent of the Ann Arbor district of which the local Church is associated.

An open house will be held in the Church Sunday afternoon between 4:30 and 6:30 for all who wish to see the new sanctuary on that day.

Allen Industries Has Costly Fire

Members of four fire departments were called to fight flames in the plant of Allen Industries Wednesday noon. A flash fire ignited bales of stored bagging on the second floor of the plant just before noon, and at two o'clock in the afternoon firemen from Plymouth, Plymouth township, Livonia and the House of Correction were still pouring water on the blaze.

Smoke from jute stored on the first floor, which was also ignited, made it impossible for firemen to find their way throughout the huge building which seemed to be completely enveloped by the spreading flames.

Damage estimates could not be completed until the smoke cleared away, but conservative estimates put it at above $60,000.00 and possibly much more, depending on the amount of damage done to plant machinery.

The 275 employees of the company faced a work stoppage until repairs could be made. Officials of the company were hopeful that clean-up squads could be working by today so that production could be resumed within the next few days.

According to plant superintendent, Henry Lorenz, it was the worst fire the company had experienced in the 16 years he has been in Plymouth.

Dollar Days Hailed Success By Most Local Merchants

Helios, God of the sun, smiled brightly from Olympus on the merchants of Plymouth last Friday and Saturday. Restraining the rains and the snow until late Saturday night after most of the local Dollar Day values had been sold, weekend shoppers were treated to two spring-like days, in which to take advantage of the many bargains offered in local stores.

Local residents awoke on Sunday morning to find nearly two inches of snow, but in most cases, it made little difference. Larders in the community were well stocked with food bargains selected from local food markets, and merchants, tired from caring for their many patrons, were glad of an opportunity to relax after one of the most active weekends the city has ever known.

Parking space was at a premium on both days, and practically all stores reported an unusual amount of heavy traffic during the sales event. Generally speaking no records were broken, except in a few cases, but in view of the retail business recession reported throughout the country, local stores received a substantial boost which will help their March receipts stay on a level with those of last year.

The thousands of shoppers who thronged the local streets were well pleased with the hundreds of bargain items that were offered in the stores. Although many merchants reported that necessities, and selected items, seemed to get the major share of the shoppers attention, they also were pleased with the response to their efforts.

Elton Ellis of Ellis restaurant on Main street, stated that he had a steady flow of dining patrons throughout both days. Herman Bakhaus of the Cloverdale Dairy said things went "especially well" at their store, and the event was even better than last year.

James Houk, of the Fisher Shoe Store, said both days were very gratifying, and the customers shopped for the advertised specials.

Maurice Kirkpatrick, manager of Kresge's, said his store experienced the two best days aside from the opening of the store and the Christmas season.

Ralph Rostow of Graham's saw many new faces in town, and hailed the promotion as a great success.

Sam Verona, of Plymouth Men's Wear, summed up what most of the Plymouth merchants commented, when he said, "Both Friday and Saturday were very good shopping days."

Skate Varieties to Begin Sunday

Two hours of high-class entertainment are in store for all those who attend the Riverside Skating Varieties of 1952. The 92 members of the Figure and Dance Club have been practising for weeks on the difficult acts that will feature this year's show. The gay attraction will open Sunday at 2 p.m. for an afternoon show, and will repeat the performance again at 8 o'clock in the evening. The spectacle will conclude with a performance at 8 p.m. Monday evening.

George Petro, former roller vantages star for five years, will skate a comedy number with John Dayne.

Zel Massine will exhibit her fine skating, portraying "Madame Fifi."

There will be a large juvenile group headed by Vivian Heard. Some of these juveniles just began skating a few weeks ago.

Many of the skaters are national champions, and are known throughout the country for their great ability.

Nat Sibbold will again be master of ceremonies this year.

Shrine Club Elects John Lietz President

John Lietz of Sheridan avenue was elected president of the Suburban Shrine club recently. Other officers elected were Jack Gage, of Clemons road, first vice-president; Walter Michael, second vice-president and C. D. Huebler of Berry road, secretary-treasurer.

At a meeting held Monday evening the group decided to hold a dinner party at the Hawthorne Valley golf club on April 18.

Donna Carr Bride of William Kehrer

Mrs. Winam Kehrer

At a very pretty wedding Saturday, February 23 in St. Mary's church, Wayne, Donna Mae Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carr of Warren road repeated her nuptial vows to William J. Kehrer of Newburg road.

The bride wore a gown of slipper satin with fitted bodice which extended into a peplum edged in flowered lace. Her Queen Anne collar was of matching lace over satin. A hoodband of satin and seapearls braided together held her floor length veil of illusion in place. Donna carried a cascade of white roses and carnations.

Patricia Kehrer, cousin of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Elizabeth Petrinias and Gloria Chaney. All attendants were dressed identical and in pastel shades. Each wore a headband like that of the bride in shades matching their gowns. All attendants wore shoulder length veils. Their flowers were cascades of pastel flowers. Little Colleen Kehrer, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore a floorlength gown of light blue and carried a basket of flower petals.

Edward Kehrer served his brother as best man and the ushers were Ronald Carr, brother of the bride and Ralph Smith, an uncle.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was held at Arbor-Lill for the families and the attendants. A reception followed in the evening in the Grange Hall. The orchestra playing at the reception were all friends of the bride's father. Three hundred guests were present from Wayne, Dearborn, Detroit, Berkley, Birmingham, Romulus, Pontiac, Walled Lake, Northville, Highland Park and Plymouth.

Both young people are graduates of Plymouth High School. They are now making their home in Wayne.

THE PUBLIC LETTER BOX

Dear Editor:

Thank God for the gift of free speech and assembly! To think that American boys and girls are given an actual, practical demonstration and participation in the workings of the United Nations assembly at Hillsdale! One learns best by doing. Certainly, these young people will be better equipped to understand the great problems confronting a world of different, national ideas and interests after they have, first, thoroughly studied the political thought and interests of the particular nation they have been chosen to represent and, then, have actually had to debate and defend their hypothetical positions with all the other varied groups and interests.

When, however, I was told at the Rotary Club meeting last Friday that this study, presentation and defense extends also to the Russian Communist position, I had strong misgivings for two major reasons:

1.— We may unwittingly be giving this insidious and sinister system a most welcome forum before our youth.

The student selects on the basis of his mental ability, is expected to study, present and debate a given position. He is required to do original research work and to present as strong a case as he can and to defend it to the best of his ability.

I do not believe it to be sound and good practice to present and defend the basic fallacies and vicious half-truths of Marx, Engels, Stalin and Company before a young American audience, as little as I believe in giving this set the privileges of free speech and assembly at Grand Circus Park or any other place in this land of ours. Because of its slippery nature, Communism has always been only too happy to get a forum anywhere and under any circumstances.

2.— We may unwittingly be exposing our young people to grave danger.

It is one thing to present the slippery arguments and trumped-up proofs for Communism before seasoned veterans in the school of political philosophy (and some of these have been taken in by them!), but it is an entirely different matter to send rookies in Americanism into action, first, to read, digest and appropriate, and then, to defend the stuff and, finally, to expect them to throw it overboard. Remember, we are dealing here with a "strong delusion".

It is not easy to keep the matter on a hypothetical basis once you have worked your way into its net. It is not easy for anyone's pride, either, to be shown to have been wrong entirely. Above all, the examples adduced by Communist writers and apologists to demonstrate "capitalism" and "American imperialism" as wrong are only too often the sober truth (even though they do not demonstrate the superiority of the Communist system) and have been topics for criticism of the American administration of the present too long to be ignored by a sober student.

Let us not become guilty of exposing our young people to a potent poison in the hope that we will be able to apply the antidote in time. The doctor may come too late!

Sincerely and seriously,
Rev. Edgar Hoenecke

Gladys Witt Has Highest Average

Ten senior students were named by Principal Carvel Bentley as the class of '52 honor students. Based on scholastic performance only, the ten honored students were chosen on their record of having maintained a 93 plus average, or better, for the past seven semesters of high school.

Eight girls and two boys make up this select group. Gladys Witt, who maintained a perfect scholastic record throughout her high school career, leads the group. Others are: Brenda Covell, Robert Keeney, Donelda Lewis, Lynn Osen, Shirley Pine, Beverly Ross, Betty Salmon, Norma Van Dyke, and Phyllis Wilkins.

All plan to further their education at some school of higher learning.

Local Boy Sings Lead in Operetta

Roger Staples, son of Mrs. Lloyd Flood of 142 Rose street, sang the part of Major-General Stanley in the presentation of "The Pirates of Penzance," presented by the Glee Clubs of Kingswood and Cranbrook Schools of Bloomfield Hills.

Supporting Roger was a chorus of 115 boys and girls and an orchestra of 25 students. The shows were given on March 7 and 8 and an additional benefit performance on Sunday, March 9 for the Children's Hospital of Michigan.

The Operetta was under the direction of Mrs. E. R. Chapman of the Kingswood Music Department. This is the eighth in a series of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas to be presented by the two schools.

Roger has been very active in Cranbrook life. This is his second leading part in an operetta, despite the fact that he is only a junior. He also has been a member of the varsity soccer, wrestling and track teams.

Post Holds Dance

Myron H. Beals post is sponsoring a St. Patrick's day dance March 17 at the post home on Newburg road. Part of the proceeds from this dance will go to the Red Cross, stated Donald Ryder, service chairman.

Music for the annual dance will be furnished by Tim Doolittle and his orchestra.

Services Held For Frederick W Bird

Frederick W. Bird passed away March 5 at his home 36451 East Ann Arbor trail, at the age of 63 years. Mr. Bird was born in Plainfield, New Jersey, June 30, 1888, moving here 16 years ago from Detroit. For the past 29 years he was employed at the Ford Motor Car Company.

He is survived by his wife Frances, one daughter Mrs. Eileen Harris of Washington, D.C., two sons, Fred at home, and James now in the U. S. Air Force stationed at the Sewart Air Base, Smyrna, Tenn.

Funeral services were held Saturday, March 8 at the Sanderger Funeral Home. A hymn was sung by Rev. Robert Richards with Mrs. Betty Cutler as accompanist. Rev. Robert Richards officiated at the services. Interment was in Cadillac Memorial Gardens West, Wayne, Michigan.

Woman's Club Hears Professor

Dr. Claude Eggersten, professor of history and philosophy in the school of education at the University of Michigan spoke to the Woman's club on the topic of the United Nations Economic, Social, and Cultural organization.

The group met Friday, March 7, in St. John's Episcopal church. Dr. Eggersten has been at the University of Michigan since 1941 except for a leave of absence while he served in the Navy. He spent a year studying the work of UNESCO in Europe.

Mrs. Warner who was to speak was ill and unable to appear.

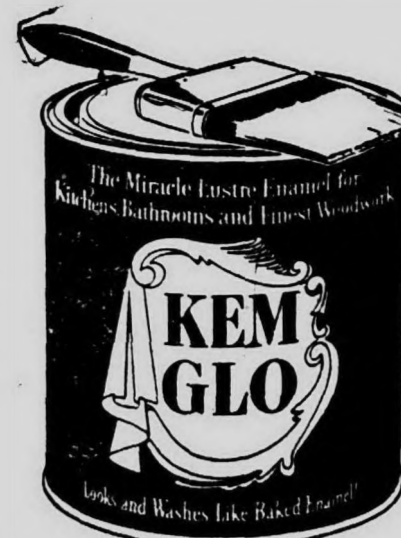

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Archer and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Tee of Pontiac were weekend houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry of Union street.

Daisy Manufacturing Company Sponsors National Rifle Contest

Get your shootin' irons ready, boys and girls of Plymouth! The Daisy Manufacturing Company, one of America's outstanding business institutions for 66 years, is sponsoring a nationwide Shootin' Contest for boys and girls, 14 years old or younger, commencing March 15 and ending May 29.

According to Robert O. Wesley, Director of Sales and Advertising, the primary purpose of the Shootin' Contest is to encourage more Daisy shooters to enroll as junior members of the National Rifle Association, America's oldest national sportsmen's association, which has conducted America's civilian program of instruction in safe, proper handling of firearms for 81 years. The entire Contest program has been planned to achieve this objective.

The most valuable prizes, consisting of four all-expense paid vacation trips next summer to Red Ryder's Colorado ranch, home of Fred Harman, top cowboy cartoonist of the daily and Sunday comic strip "RED RYDER", and one hundred brand new No. 141 Daisy Defender Air Rifle, will be awarded only to shooters now members of the NRA, or who accompany their completed Contest Target and Entry Blank with 50c plus an Application Form for Junior NRA membership before May 29. Secondary prizes in the "NRA Division" of the Daisy Shootin' Contest division, fifty No. 155 1000-foot repeaters will be awarded. In both divisions, it will not be necessary to own a Daisy to compete. Contestants may borrow a friend's Daisy and shoot their official 10-bull target.

Mr. Wesley stated that a smashing national advertising campaign consisting of full page, four color advertisements, most of them of back pages, will start appearing in leading comic magazines March 1, and continue through April and May. These advertisements offer a Free Contest Kit to every boy and girl consisting of an official 10-Bull Contest Target Sheet, Entry Blank, Junior NRA Application Membership Form, full list of prizes and complete contest details including a day-by-day description of the four prize winners' vacation trip to Red Ryder Ranch. Prospective contestants are urged to secure this Free Contest Kit by writing to Daisy or stopping in at their local Daisy Dealer.

Commenting further on the contest objective, Mr. Wesley added that the extension of the NRA junior program to include spring-type (like a Daisy) air rifle a little over a year ago, gives national recognition to the fact that for more than 66 years, thinking parents have purchased the short range, spring-air Daisy with low "factory-limited" power because it is the safest gun of its kind for youngsters to learn safe gun handling and shooting on.

Mr. Wesley further pointed out that today it is possible for any young Daisy shooter to join the National Rifle Association and complete for official junior NRA medals, brassards, lapel pins and diplomas, under the time-tested NRA junior program of supervised instruction in marksmanship and gun handling. A special junior air rifle target has been developed by the NRA for the use of spring-type air rifle shooters only and all qualification firing is done at the new, official NRA fifteen foot "short range". The new Daisy Shootin' Contest, set up to strongly favor junior NRA member contestants by awarding them the most valuable prizes, would seem to be the kind of worthwhile project dealers can get behind.

"We at Daisy believe it is just good business to promote supervised shooting thus protecting future sales," concluded Mr. Wesley.

Red Cross Drive Now in Progress

The March fund campaign of the American Red Cross, to complete a quota of $1,833,000 in Detroit and Wayne county, is well under way in several county areas, and first reports will be made March 18 at a luncheon meeting in the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel.

In the March campaign Detroit Chapter and the Wayne county branches are seeking $381,000 to supplement $1,452,000 raised for Red Cross in the Torch drive last October.

A chairman for Plymouth and vicinity has not as yet been named.

Rehearsals Continue

Experienced singers are welcome to attend the rehearsals of "Down in the Valley", an operetta. The Plymouth Civic Chorus rehearses every Monday evening at 7:30 in the High school.

It is only three weeks until the date of the performance and any person interested in singing with the group should come to the rehearsal on Monday.

Elks Sponsor Good Citizen Contest

The BPO Elks Youth Activity Committee announce a citizenship contest for boys and girls residing in Plymouth. The best boy citizen will be chosen to represent Plymouth at Boys' State, and the best girl will go to Girls' State. The winners there will go to a national meet. The local winners will be announced on May 1, which is National Elks Youth Day.

Any boy or girl under 18 years of age is eligible for this contest. All one has to do is secure a questionnaire from James Latture, at the high school, fill it out and return it to Mr. Latture.

Mr. Latture states that this contest is purely based on citizenship and not on scholarship. On the questionnaire all the activities one has engaged in must be filled in, citizenship honors and anything else about the youth that will help the committee choose a winner. This is not an essay contest, but merely good traits of citizenship displayed by an individual.

Mr. Latture states that children wishing to enter this citizenship contest should secure an entry blank as soon as possible.

The Elks also are contemplating reviving the decathlon event in Plymouth, which was very popular among the younger folk a few years ago. More will be written about this in a later edition.

Under the new tax laws, it appears that everybody has become an income tax payer.

Back in the days when the income tax laws were first enacted, the man who wrote income tax checks to Uncle Sam was looked upon as about the richest man who ever walked the streets of Plymouth or any other city.

He was an oddity, because he had so much money that he had to pay an income tax on it! But now the "exception" of 25 or 30 years ago is just one of the ordinary mine-run among income taxpayers. Everybody who has a yearly income of $600 or more must file an income tax return, and that's why Uncle Sam is this week getting so many nice greetings from residents in and about Plymouth. It just seems that there isn't anybody who isn't sending good old Uncle a nice big fat letter with check enclosed.

Postmaster Timpona after looking over all the big mail sacks going directly to Uncle Sam said it looked very much as though Plymouth was going to do its share towards helping to pay off Uncle's debts.

Mrs. Edward Dobbs was hostess at a luncheon Tuesday in her home on Adams street to the members of the board of the Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church.

Group to Attend Service

Special guests of the Newburg Methodist church, Sunday, March 16, at the morning service will be the members of the Plymouth chapter of DeMolay. Tom Guthrie is Worthy Counselor of the group.

Plymouth Floods Post Office With Income Tax Cash

Greetings to Uncle Sam! "During all the years I've been postmaster, we have sent out thousands of greeting cards at Christmas time—thousands at other times. But never before anything like this!" exclaimed Postmaster George Timpona a day or so ago as he looked at mail sacks filled with letters going to Uncle Sam.

"No, they are not going directly to Uncle Sam," explained Postmaster Timpona, "but they are all addressed to the Collector of Internal Revenue, Detroit, Michigan—and who is that but Uncle Sam?"

It seems that nearly everybody under the sun, including Missouri's President Harry Truman, has put off mailing their "greetings" to Uncle Sam until almost the last day—and the last day is Saturday, March 15.

Local News

WEEKLY SERMONETTE

Christianity Without Sacrifice is Ineffectual

During the past great war and likewise in the present Korean conflict many members in our Armed Forces have received citations for performing deeds of courage and valor "beyond the call of duty". It was an extra measure of sacrifice which brought them these special honors.

Jesus Christ summed up many of the cardinal teachings of Christianity in His great Sermon on the Mount, in the Gospel of St. Matthew, chapter 5, 6, and 7. He placed particular emphasis on this spirit of sacrifice which is so important to effective Christianity.

Jesus said, "If a man asks you to walk a mile with him, walk two. If a man asks for your coat, give him your cloak also. If a man smites you on your right cheek, turn your left also. If a man hate you then bestow love on him."

In other words, walking the first mile is a matter of compulsion, or sense of duty. Walking the extra mile (or more) voluntarily is the measure of sacrifice. Of course the great motivating principle is Love. In biblical days the Jews were often called on to perform acts of servitude to the Romans. Many times it involved carrying heavy burdens for great distances. No doubt Jesus had this in mind in teaching this truth.

By applying and practicing this measure of sacrifice Christianity becomes a living and vital force. Attendance at church services will not be an act to ease a guilty conscience, or a matter of compulsion, but will become an event looked forward to with anticipation when we can worship God and fellowship with God's people.

God's Word "The Holy Bible" will literally be a "Lamp unto our feet, and a light unto our path" Psalm 119:105. It will be cherished with reverence. The reading of God's Word in public and in private devotion will become a regular and systematic habit of life.

Giving for the support of Christian work will also become a regular and definite habit of life. Jesus said "It is more blessed to give than it is to receive." Sharing with those who are less fortunate than we are will take on new meaning. Indeed much of the pain and suffering could be eased by applying this principle of the "extra mile". Not to help only from a standpoint of necessity but to offer that neighborly service of kind interest and practical help which is beyond the call of absolute necessity. How much better and more willingly will Christian people support God's work, and perform those acts of kindness when this measure of sacrifice is applied to giving.

This principle not only carries its blessing to others in acts of service but like wise brings blessing to the individual for now these acts of service will be spontaneous—not from a feeling of necessity, or fear, Jesus said, "Give, and it shall be given unto you." It will bring the blessings of health, prosperity and good will to the individual, and the greatest of blessings—that inward peace which comes with the knowledge that blessing has been brought to another through our effort.

Suggestions for Landscaping

Plants and Shrubs Can be Used as Specimens or in Masses

By Harlow O. Whittemore
Professor of Landscape Architecture
University of Michigan

To give your house an attractive setting, you will probably need to employ trees, shrubs and plants both as single specimens and in groups and masses.

It is possible to find what appear to be well-formed trees and shrubs and combine them into a group unit which looks as if it had been grown naturally for a good many years. In the mass, of course, the individual form of the plant is almost entirely lost. The form of the mass as a whole—its height, length and thickness and growth line—is the important thing. Individual plants will be blended, intermingled closely with the rest.

One thing to remember is that a mass of large trees has an interior as well as an exterior. While you are composing the exterior of the mass, you can also arrange the interior by grouping the trees in such a way as to make an interesting composition of the trunks and branches, opening winding glades through the woods.

Probably you will employ your specimen trees primarily for form and shade. For this purpose, the canopy type of tree is preferred. Others, such as the soulange magnolia or the yellow-wood tree, may be planted for their beauty of form plus their color and texture of leaves. You can use orchard fruit trees as attractive specimens in the garden but don't forget you will need to keep them shaped and pruned for ornamental appearance as well as sprayed for their fruit.

If you are planning a group unit, don't overlook the possibilities of using nursery stock. Most nursery stock is planted to be grown as specimens. However, irregular or what would be discarded trees from a nursery or regular or one-sided trees from the woods can be used for very fine group units.

A group unit which gives a gorgeous year-round effect combines blue spruce with scarlet oak and either white birch or yellow stemmed dogwood or yellow stemmed willow. A group of flowering dogwood and red bud, blooming white and pink at the same time, along with the taller Canada shadblow, which blooms earlier, is a very fine spring flowering combination. Group units of lower plants and lower evergreens such as red cedar with a group of barberry, or blue cedar and winged burning bush produce striking fall and winter effects.

(This is the sixth in a series of ten articles. The subject for the seventh will be grouping of plants for form, color and texture.)

Fair in the Light of Memory Shines

M4 MICHIGAN

BY ELTON R. EATON

Late reports to the Conservation department at Lansing reveal the fact that so far this year the number of deer found starved to death in the woods is far less than a year ago. The total up to a week ago was only 18. This did not include a half dozen or so that had been killed by dogs, which have become a pest in both Gladwin and Iosco counties.

Six of the starved deer were found in the Mio district, up where former Past President Brick Champe of the Western Wayne County Conservation club and several other Plymouth residents have hunting cabins and where they have been urging a regular deer feeding program. The department states that the critical period lies ahead but old time hunters like Dr. Champe say they believe that with the snow fast disappearing in the woods that the critical period has already passed and that the hunger-kill this winter will be the lowest in years. Last year over 50,000 starved deer were found.

Here's bad news for hundreds of Plymouth fishermen who get a great kick out of fishing through the ice. Saturday at midnight, March 15, ends the ice fishing or any other kind of fishing for walleyes, northern pike and muskellunge on most inland lakes.

But most non-trout streams are open the year 'round and there also is no closed season on these species in Muskegon, Spring and White lakes, Muskegon county; Macatawa and Spring, Ottawa county; and Pentwater, Oceana county. Others open are Pere Marquette lake, Mason county; Bar at Arcadia, Manistee and Portage, Manistee county; Betsie, Benzie county; and Lake Charlevoix and Round lake, Charlevoix county. Lesser exceptions are listed in the anglers' fish law digest.

Bluebill and sunfish season on regular inland lakes and streams continues through March 31. Other pan fish still may be taken in the southern third of the state after March 31, as the result of legislative action last year. As already applies on non-trout waters in the northern two-thirds of the state and on Great Lakes and connecting waters, this means perch, crappies, rock bass and warmouth bass are open to year 'round fishing on like lakes and streams in the southern third of Michigan. Connecting waters include Lake St. Clair as well as the St. Clair, St. Marys and Detroit rivers.

Week of March 16-22 will have special meaning for members of Michigan's numerous conservation-minded organizations and should get more than a polite nod from other persons, the conservation department notes.

March 16-22 is National Wildlife Restoration Week. Sponsored by the National Wildlife Federation annually since 1938, the week this year is dedicated to helping the nearly extinct Key deer herd in Florida.

The department calls attention to the fact that the week, with its deer theme, deserves extra attention in Michigan... a state with a problem herd of close to one million head.

Michigan United Conservation Clubs are among the organizations arranging special programs during the week. In proclaiming observance of the week in Michigan, Governor Williams appealed to all citizens to recognize the importance of the problems of wildlife conservation and to work for proper protection and preservation of our wildlife assets.

When will the smelt run? Scooping up the little silvery fish in hand nets actually is legal now in non-trout streams. However conservation department records show most runs do not begin before early April and peak runs until days later.

An early spring hastens the start of the annual spawning runs; continued cold will delay the seasonal dashes up the many tributary streams of the Great Lakes. Usually, over 40 degree water temperatures are needed to induce a run and peak upstream movement develops in close to 50 degree temperatures.

Two of the biggest run areas in recent years have been: 1. Green bay tributary streams in Menominee and Delta counties. 2. Saginaw bay tributary streams in Arenac, Huron and Iosco counties.

Substantial runs have developed in tributaries in Alcona, Alpena, Leelanau, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Antrim, Charlevoix, Mackinac and Chippewa counties. Most runs finish for the season by the first or second week of May.

There are no limits on number and size of smelt which can be taken, but the hand nets used cannot exceed five feet in circumference, with or without handles. Fishing license is required.

Streams in 40 counties, bordering Great Lakes or connecting waters, are open. Some streams have been newly added to the list. For the most part, all tributaries in which smelt runs occur are open to hand nets. The local conservation officer can advise as to streams or sections of streams open to smelt dipping.

Meter Expense Is Paid Out of Fund

City officials have requested that it be made clear that the cost of new parking meters and their repairs is regarded by the city as an expense which is chargeable to the parking meter fund.

This request grows out of the statement made last week that all parking meter funds henceforth will go into a fund to be used for parking development.

The fines from over-parking, which during January ran up to $119 and over $200 in February still go into the city's general fund and can be used for any purpose the commission may designate.

The purchase of new parking meters and their maintenance is generally regarded as an expense which is chargeable to the parking meter fund.

Mrs. Vera Marks Dies in Key West

Many of the older residents of Plymouth who well remember Mrs. Vera Grace Marks, the former Vera Lawrence of Northville, will be surprised to know that she died suddenly recently at her home in Key West, Florida.

Although she was born in Wyandotte in 1884, she spent most of her early life in and around Northville until she was married in 1908 to Julian J. Marks, a former official of the Packard Motor Car company of Detroit. Following her marriage she lived in Detroit until his retirement some 18 years ago when they moved to Key West where they built a beautiful home in the north side of that city.

It was a most unusual coincidence that both of her brothers, Leo Lawrence of Northville, and W. M. Lawrence of Muskegon should have been visiting at her home when she was stricken. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence had gone to Key West some weeks ago not only to visit Mrs. Marks but to see their son, Sam and his family, who also reside in Key West.

A son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Marks of Detroit and their son, Robert Jr., and a sister, Mrs. A. S. Matteson of Alpena, also survive.

The funeral was held last Friday from the Warwick Funeral home in Detroit, burial taking place in the family lot in that city.

Birth of Air Rifle Industry Quickly Followed Closing of Windmill Factory

Plymouth Was One of First Producers of Fanning Mills, Windmills and Air Guns—Plymouth Invention Took Place of Old Wooden Air Gun

By Charles H. Bennett

Charles H. Bennett

It has been suggested that I finish this brief history of my home town by naming a few of its first factories and some of Plymouth's former residents, as well as several now living, and how they happened to become financially interested in them.

The first factory ever to be erected in Plymouth was a wooden structure built and operated by a man named Henry J. Ledyard and was called a Fanning Mill Factory. This factory was located at the corner of North Main street and Union street, on the site of where now stands a double house; the west side of which is at present occupied by Mr. Harry Mohrman and wife; the east half, or side, by Mrs. Garnet Baker. This first factory was a large building in its day. The property upon which it was built had a frontage of 140 feet and a depth of 340 feet. It was a two story front and did not extend back more than 80 feet. The rear being but one story in height.

However, as it took a great quantity of lumber in the building of fanning mills, Mr. Ledyard purchased the full 340 feet of land from Main street to Union street in order to have plenty of lumber space. This first factory was erected about the year 1850.

When Uncle Henry purchased this property from Mr. Ledyard, our village was in some need of a jail. Having a Justice of the Peace there was some need for a place in which he could hold court and pass sentence on evil doers. In this emergency, Uncle Henry deeded a corner lot of some 80 by 60 feet bounded by Union street on the east side and Union street on the north—the corner lot across the street directly west of the Daisy factory.

This first of Plymouth's "clinks" was built shortly after, and our first Justice of the Peace, Charles W. Valentine, had the honor of having a few out-of-town rowdies, who usually got into trouble by drinking too much firewater, locked up in our calaboose.

The jail was of wood, about thirty feet long by twenty feet wide and had two cells in the rear of its only room. These cells were about the size of the elevator in our present Hotel Mayflower. A glorious spot for a night's lodging. However, there was a clause in the deed that read that the lot revert to the giver, his heirs or assigns whenever said property ceased to be used as a jail. Not many years since this event happened, the building was removed.

Henry Ledyard moved to Grand Rapids, Michigan in 1860 after the sale of his factory and equipment to my father's oldest brother, Charles Henry Bennett. You can guess after whom I was named.

Uncle Henry later took my father into partnership and this factory continued to manufacture fanning mills until about 1890. Charles Roe, father of Ernest Roe, now a resident of the Mayflower Hotel in our city, was what we now call superintendent of this old-time factory for more years than I care to remember. Then in 1882 was erected the second factory to be built in Plymouth. It was built by The Plymouth Iron Windmill Company which some years later, in 1895, became The Daisy Manufacturing Company.

A few years previous to the year 1882 a watchmaker by the name of Clarence Hamilton, father of our fellow citizen, Coella Hamilton, moved to Plymouth from Ohio and opened a watch repair shop and the sale of jewelry and watches in the left hand corner and window of the store which, at present, is occupied and known as the Community Drug Store.

At the date of Mr. Hamilton's arrival in Plymouth, this store was owned and occupied by a Roswald L. Root. "Raws" Root was well known and well liked by every man, woman and child in our village. He was affable and jolly and was probably one of the busiest men in town. For in addition to having the only watchmaker doing business in the left side of his store, he had the only soda water fountain in town right opposite Mr. Hamilton's counter, on the right hand side of the store. From the soda fountain extended the usual glass show case as far back as the partition, which today separates the front of the store from the large rear room of Community Drug Store. Of course, the front window on the right contained the two large bowls of red and green liquid which in 1882 were the unmistakable sign that drugs were on sale inside. Carters little pills for pale people and Lydia Pinkhams Compound for ladies seemed to be the tops in sales volume. Just to keep busy and avoid mischief, on the left side of this store, from Mr. Hamilton's counter to the partition I have mentioned, was located the U. S. Post Office, as Mr. Root was at that time postmaster of our community. He held the office of postmaster for several years. As if getting your liver pills and your daily mail were not enough, you also had to enter "Raws" Root's store if you needed ready cash, for back of the partition I have mentioned, in 1882, was then located the first National Bank of Plymouth, whose first president was Mr. E. J. Penniman, whose name is now borne by one of our principal streets.

In passing let me say that Plymouth had no mail carriers in 1882 and usually every citizen of our village passed the portals of Mr. Root's store at least once each day. As a young man, it was my good luck to be hired as a clerk in this store on busy days, usually on Saturdays. The hours of labor were reasonable for store clerks in those days. All I had to do was to be on hand at 7:00 a.m., work until 12 noon, then home one hour for lunch, (although what I ate for lunch in those days would now be called dinner for two) back to work at 1:00 o'clock p.m., off duty again at 6:30 for a glass of milk and a sandwich, back at 7:00 and stayed until closing time, 9:30 p.m. For this day's work I received the sum of one dollar. Today a young man would feel he had lost his self respect if he worked or even boondoggled for less than one dollar per hour, not a day. No wonder I sit here wiping the tears from my eyes.

Part of my duties while working for Mr. Root was to sort the mail when it came in and place it in the boxes that were rented, much the same as today. However, in my days of sorting I was seldom without help from some of the townspeople. Anybody in town who was expecting a letter or postcard, or who felt that he should know what sort of mail was arriving for his Aunt Sue or Uncle Joe, was welcome to come behind the counter and find out. It certainly was a quick way of handling the incoming mail and none of our townspeople were ever jailed or brought before a Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee.

Some change since 1882. Today one can hardly get in front of our mail boxes, much less get behind them. If you wish to consult the postmaster of Plymouth today, you would have no trouble whatsoever, if you could produce a signed certificate from the Postmaster General showing that you had voted a straight (or crooked) Democratic ticket for at least 16 years, or had a pass signed by piano-playing Harry of Washington. Why not change the picture this year of 1952. We could not make it worse. I'll wager that at this point some reader is going to think that Bennett is a Republican and that he has switched from factory buildings to politics. The reader is right on both counts and it's sure time I made the switch and built a factory.

The reason I mentioned Mr. Root's store was because he had the first soda water fountain in town and in no other place in Plymouth could a customer walk in the door and while having his watch fixed on one side of the aisle indulge in a choice of ice cold, different flavored, drinks at the fountain directly opposite, then pass on down the aisle and pick up his mail and, if so disposed, walk on a few feet further and ask the bank's cashier, Mr. O. A. Frazer, for a loan. This last move was not as easy to accomplish as picking out your own mail. I feel quite sure of this because I tried it on several occasions.

Clarence Hamilton, the watch repair genius, with the aid of Mr. Root, was responsible for the second factory building to be built in Plymouth, and the first stock-held manufacturing company in the Plymouth area. This company was chartered under the name of The Plymouth Iron Windmill Company, later to become the Daisy Manufacturing Company, whose first president was Henry W. Baker, with R. L. Root as its first general manager and Clarence Hamilton as superintendent.

The Iron Windmill manufactured by this company during the first few years of its existence was the invention of Clarence Hamilton, who had an inventive brain of no mean ability, and was thought out while Mr. Hamilton was still at his work of watch repairing in R. L. Root's store. Having made a small model of his invention, Mr. Hamilton showed it to prospective purchasers of stock in order to raise enough cash to erect a factory and start operations. The 30 thousand dollars needed was soon sold to the residents of the town and our second factory saw its completion, as before outlined, in 1882.

The third factory in our town started building operations in the late fall of 1886 and was finished late in the spring of 1887. This factory has been known in these later years as the King Factory, located on the south side of North Main street directly opposite the Plymouth Elevator. This structure was erected by a fellow-townsmen by the name of W. F. Markham.

Phil Markham, as he was generally known, claimed that a short time previous to 1886 he had had a dream in which was revealed to him a model of an air gun made entirely of wood. Those who saw the first model of this gun claimed that Mr. Markham must have had a nightmare and not a dream. In either case the idea paid off. Mr. Markham, not having enough capital funds to erect a factory and conduct a manufacturing business, induced Elmer Chaffee, who, at the time, was in partnership with Cyrus Pinckney in a fine grocery store in a two story wooden building which stood on the corner now owned and occupied by the Plymouth United Savings Bank. Mr. Pinckney purchased Mr. Chaffee's share in the grocery business thus leaving Mr. Chaffee free to get into the air gun business with Phil Markham.

Elmer Chaffee was to look after the office and sales end of this air gun partnership, and his first step was the hiring of his older brother, Alfred Chaffee, as salesman for the firm. Mr. Al. Chaffee, as he was called by his friends, made his first trip as an air gun pioneer to Chicago. In this city he contacted the largest toy jobbing and toy importers in the United States. This was The Strobel and Wilken Company. They offered to place a large order for air guns on the condition that no other jobber in Chicago should be sold or visited for a period of five years and that the air gun be named the Chicago Air Rifle. This offer was accepted and was carried out as agreed. So was born the first air rifle ever to be made in these United States, so far as I know or have ever heard of.

The Plymouth Iron Windmill was not a success and the company was on the point of closing its factory and taking its loss when its inventor, Clarence Hamilton, walked into the office of the company where a meeting of its directors was being held prior to winding up the business of the company's affairs. In his hands he held a new invention, which he had thought out and made a model of.

About a year after the wooden air gun, the Chicago Air Rifle, had appeared on the market, this model Mr. Hamilton brought in was an air gun not of wood, but one whose barrel was made of zinc and the stock was made of wire (a round wire bent in the shape of a gun stock).

When this model was handed to the president of the company, H. W. Baker, his comment was, "Clarence, that is a DAISY!" Thus, a name that had never been given to anything but a flower became the name of an air rifle and is still going strong.

I have often thought of what might have happened had this same scene been enacted in our own day. Mr. Baker would probably have used a slang word of our time, as "It's a Daisy" was the top slang word of the 1880's. "Clarence, that is a lahhahpaloozer!" What a name that would have been to go down in history. Mr. Hamilton, who, at this time, was the owner of $12,000.00 of P.I.W. stock, offered the directors the right to all patents on his air gun. Together with the rights of sale manufacture of same at no further cost to the company, this offer was accepted and so in the early spring the Daisy Air Gun was put into production.

Harmon Schraders Share Anniversary With Their Son and Daughter-in-law

Sunday, March 2 marked a milestone in the lives of two well known Plymouth families. Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Schrader of Canton Center road celebrated 60 years of wedded life together. On the same day their son, Oweh and his wife celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary.

Open house was held in the Owen Schrader home also located on Canton Center road from 2 to 5 p.m. with about 150 guests coming from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Wayne, Detroit, Wixom, Northville and Plymouth.

Mrs. Charles Ferguson of Pontiac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Schrader served at the table with Mrs. Joseph Oakley of Wayne. A beautifully appointed tiered cake with the 60th and 30th wedding dates prominently displayed graced the center of the table.

Both couples received many lovely cards and gifts as well as numerous floral remembrances which adorned the house. Both families have resided in Plymouth for many years and their friends extended them hearty wishes and many more years of happiness together.

Grange Cleanings

The Grange meeting of March 6 was quite an important business meeting and quite a lot was accomplished. The supper was as always, very good. The birthday table was decorated in green, the birthday cake was beautiful and delicious. Mrs. Bert Karhl was the chairman. There are a lot of birthdays coming in April so don't miss coming on April 3—if your's happens to be one of them.

We had the pleasure of having Lawrence Livingston and a clarinet quartette come and give us some Irish music. Mr. Livingston was a Plymouth graduate and is well known here.

Mrs. Carlson spoke very clearly on a topic of intense interest to everyone.

Our next meeting on March 20 is of special importance to all of those who have not yet had their pictures taken for the Grange picture. Mr. McClure, the photographer who has taken a good share of the members pictures will be at the hall on that evening ready to work at seven o'clock so let me urge all of those who care to have their pictures taken must be there as this is the last time he will come. And be there on time. There will be no charge.

There is to be a bake sale and rummage sale together on Friday, March 21 at the new Kresge store, sponsored by the Grange of course. You may bring any thing you have for the rummage sale to the Grange the night before or at anytime through the week before you may leave articles at 197 Union St. Bring articles for the baked goods sale to the store early on the morning of the sale. Some one will be there as early as 9:30.

Be sure to come to Grange on March 20.

Just Browsing

New at MARTIN'S this past week are decorative tiles in both round and square shapes. The round ones are Pennsylvania Dutch designs and are hand painted in colorful Dutch patterns. The square ones come in a number of attractive designs such as geometric, fruit, scenes, etc. All patterns are under the glaze for permanence. These tiles are wonderful for kitchen or dining nook decorations. Used to frame a kitchen window they are most attractive. We have also just received another shipment of those wonderful Blue Gate Candles like we had for the holidays, only these are in lovely pastel colors for Spring such as orchid, peach, yellow, turquoise, chartreuse and Spring green, and of course the always popular white. All colors come in both square and round shapes from the short fat ones up to 10 inches tall. Used alone in groups of two or three, or with a few flowers or a figurine they make unusual centerpieces. We also have the real squatty, fat ones in different shapes for either outdoor or indoor use. Used on a mantle or other high shelf they are especially lovely. No flame is visible, only a soft glow the color of the candle. Come in and browse and see them at MARTIN'S on Ann Arbor Road (US 12) one mile West of Plymouth. Open daily including Sundays until 7 P.M. Fridays 'till 9 P.M. Phone 1943W.

Hints for Plymouth Homemakers

Fish and Cheese Economical, Plentiful; Ideal for Lenten Meals

Fish and cheese are plentiful and economical foods to serve during the Lenten season. Changes in the laws of fast and abstinence have eliminated some of the problems from Lenten cooking. However, there are still meatless lunches to be prepared.

In planning these meals, consider fish and cheese and the many ways in which they can be used.

Frozen fish supplies are exceptionally large, so even the increased demand should not raise the price to any great extent. Fresh fish supplies will be smaller than the frozen supply with smelt probably leading the list of fresh fish available.

There are large supplies of canned tuna fish but sardines and canned salmon are not plentiful enough to meet the usual demand.

Besides being economical in cost there is little waste to fish steaks and no waste to fish fillets. One pound of fish fillet makes four servings. One pound of dressed whole fish makes only two servings.

Select fish carefully. Check to see that frozen fish is frozen solid and the package tightly sealed.

Fish deteriorates very rapidly and must be kept cold. Fresh fish should be wrapped in moisture-proof paper or placed in a tightly covered dish and stored immediately in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Frozen fish should be wrapped and kept frozen until just before use. Once thawed, it should be used immediately, never refrozen.

Fish have very tender flesh and require very little cooking. They should be cooked just enough to allow the flesh to flake easily. Overcooked fish will be dry and have poor flavor.

Try serving fish with a horseradish, tabasco or tomato sauce for a change from the lemon or tartar sauce favorites. Use cooked or leftover fish in salads or casserole dishes to give variety.

These are excellent meat alternatives because they supply adequate protein and minerals. American cheddar or cottage cheese are also versatile foods since they can be combined successfully with a great many other foods to add flavor, food value and variety to the menu.

Try combining either cheddar or cottage cheese with eggs in souffles, omelets or even scrambled eggs. Serve cheese in the form of a cheese sauce with vegetables such as cauliflower, broccoli, spinach or string beans. Add cheese to tossed or molded gelatin salads for a more substantial meal. Use cheese in casserole dishes with spaghetti, noodles or scalloped potatoes. Serve plain in sandwiches, with crackers or with a bland dessert.

Cottage cheese is one of the better protein buys right now. Processed cheese or cheese food is usually made from cheddar cheese but is less expensive. Processed cheese has less food value per pound than cheddar because liquid and a stabilizer have been added. This makes a softer cheese that will melt more easily.

All cheese should be kept covered or tightly wrapped in the refrigerator to prevent drying and giving the flavor of cheese to other foods.

Cheese and cheese dishes will not be stringy or tough if a low to moderate temperature is used in the cooking process. The purpose of cooking cheese is usually just to melt the fat or blend the flavors.

Cottage and cheddar cheese can be used interchangeably in many recipes. Just remember to use the plain cottage cheese which has not been creamed. The cottage cheese will have a milder flavor than cheddar cheese and have more liquid. It will also take approximately one-fourth more cottage cheese than cheddar to give the same food value as a meat alternative.

For Lenten dishes or for just all-round good eating and economy, cheese and fish are good buys.

Shop the easy way. Read our advertisements first, then you will know where to buy, at the price you want to pay.

Tips on Determining How Much Meat to Buy

When you're choosing such things as chops or frankfurters, it's easy to determine just how much meat you will need. You simply count noses. But other meats sometimes require a bit of estimating. Here's a general rule on how much to buy per serving:

Boneless Meat— as boneless round steak, cutlets, liver, stew meats, ground meat, and rolled roasts— allow 1/4 pound per serving.

Meat With Average Amount of Bone— as bone-in roasts, steaks, ham— allow 1/3 to 1/2 pound per serving.

Meat With Larger Amount of Bone— as short ribs, spareribs, pork hocks—allow 2/3 to 3/4 pound per serving.

Try Colorful Fruit Salads

Grapefruit sections alternated with unpared apple slices make a pretty combination. Dried apples can combine with raisins or with orange or tangerine sections. Avocado slices alternate prettily with grapefruit sections.

Here's an idea for a peanut-prune salad: For 4 servings, use 12 cooked prunes, 1 1/2 cups of cottage cheese, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons of chopped peanuts, salt to taste, and mayonnaise.

Pit and chill the prunes. Combine the cottage cheese, orange rind, peanuts and salt. Moisten this mixture with mayonnaise dressing and stuff it into the prunes. Serve on salad greens.

Another salad bears the name of the red apple salad—because it's colored with red cinnamon candies. Use 4 firm tart apples, 1/2 cups of sugar, 1/4 teaspoon of salt, half a cup of the cinnamon candies, three cups of water, and 1/2 cup of cottage cheese. Pare and core the apples. Add sugar, salt, and candies to the water, and heat this mixture, stirring until it's dissolved.

Cook the apples slowly in this syrup in a covered pan until they're just tender, turning them occasionally to color them evenly. Drain and chill the apples—then stuff with cheese. This is a perky salad served on dark greens.

The crow is a scavenger bird common to Michigan, which is found in practically every country in the world.

The Top O' The Mornin'

That's the time to prepare this handsome dessert for your St. Patrick's Day party in the evening; and, sure, folks will flock to the table for this festive and delicious fruit-flavored gelatin shamrock. Moreover, they are in for a wonderful taste surprise because oranges, dates and coconut combine in this dessert to put it in the "special" class.

One of the nicest things about this party gelatin mold is that you can prepare it ahead of time—all except the whipped cream and coconut topping.

Undoubtedly, on such a gala day, the flavor of this dessert is enhanced by the shamrock shape. So, if you do not have this kind of a mold, just use a cardboard pattern to cut out the shamrock. The trimmings won't be wasted—they can be piled lightly into sherbet glasses and served at another meal.

Jellied Coconut Fruit Mold

- 1 package raspberry-flavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1 orange, sectioned and diced
- 10 cut dates
- 3/4 cup shredded coconut

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water and orange juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in orange, dates and coconut. Turn into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Using pastry tube, make an outline of a shamrock on the mold with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Note: For a larger mold, double this recipe.

Recipe of The Week Easy Tea Cake

Easy to make—takes no shortening or milk, but has a surprise texture. Something different at tea or snack time, or with fruit.

- 4 eggs, separated
- 1 cup beet or cane sugar
- 2 tablespoons cold water
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup blanched, coarsely chopped almonds
- 3/4 cup seedless raisins
- 1 tablespoon powdered sugar

Beat egg whites until stiff and dry. Then, in a second bowl, beat the yolks, about 5 minutes (will be thick and lemon-colored). Continue beating as sugar, water and flavorings are added. Stir in, all at once, sifted dry ingredients, almonds and raisins. Fold in egg whites. Spread out evenly in a well-greased and floured oblong pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) about 30 minutes or until center springs back when touched lightly. Remove from oven. Sift on powdered sugar for more even distribution. Cool. Cut into 16 fingers (about 1-3/4 x 3-in.).

Spring Cleaning Need Not be Chore

Snowdrops and pussywillows may be the poetic harbingers of spring, but for most homemakers this is primarily the season for that annual upheaval—spring housecleaning.

If home management specialists had their way, there would be no such thing as a general housecleaning at certain times of the year. They suggest that housekeeping should be spread over the entire year since modern equipment enables women to keep up with their work from day to day.

Spring is a logical time to make changes. Put away the winter clothes and clean the closets, take down heavy draperies, clean the fireplace and make way for the ease of summer living. But don't bother with tugging the rugs out of doors for the usual shakedown. It is too hard on the fabric. Fifteen minutes a week per rug will keep them amply clean. For the rug pads use straight suction cleaning several times a year. If your electric sweeper is an agitator type, you can get straight suction by disconnecting the band.

Another woman-killer is the mattress beating process that grandmother thought essential. Use vacuum attachments on the mattress surface and forget the beating that is, again, too hard on the fabric. A mattress cover that fits and is easily put on will be a boon in keeping the mattress clean.

As for bed springs, blow the dirt off with an attachment if your suction vacuum does not make contact with the springs. Or use a dish mop to get into coil springs. In any case, put dampened newspapers underneath to catch and hold the dirt.

Just because there is no great polio epidemic is no reason to forget the need for funds to fight this dread disease.

SCOTCH HOT CROSS BUNS

By Marguerite Mickelsen

- 1 cup scalded milk
 - 1/2 cup shortening
 - 1/2 cup brown sugar
 - 1 tablespoon salt
 - 1 cup cold water
 - 5/8 to 6 cups sifted enriched flour
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 package compressed or fast granular yeast*
 - 1 1/2 cups quick rolled oats, uncooked
 - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1 cup currants
 - Confectioners Sugar Icing
1. Pour scalded milk over shortening, sugar and salt. Add cold water and cool to lukewarm.
 2. Stir in 2 cups of sifted flour. Add eggs and crumbled yeast; beat with rotary egg beater for 2 minutes. Combine rolled oats, cinnamon and currants and add to yeast mixture. Add enough flour to make a soft dough.
 3. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny; about 10 minutes. Round dough into ball; place in a warm place until double in bulk (about 1 hour).
 4. Punch down; cover and let rest 10 minutes. Shape into buns, place on greased baking sheet 1-inch apart. Flatten each bun slightly. Brush lightly with melted shortening, cover and let rise until double in bulk (about 45 minutes).
 5. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400°F.) 20 to 25 minutes. While warm make a cross on each bun using a stiff Confectioners Sugar Icing. Makes 4-dozen buns.

*To reduce rising time, use 1 1/2 packages yeast.

Retreats to be Held at College

Three groups of Catholic young women will make weekend retreats during the Lenten season at Madonna College, in Plymouth.

The first retreat will be conducted March 14-16, for 10 members of a lay Catholic action group, directed by Father Leo Tese. Together with 20 other young women, the group, all of whom are office employees, will follow the "Mass" theme throughout the conference.

The other two retreats scheduled for March 21-23, and 28-30, are for members of the Northern Deanery Sodality Union of the Detroit Archdiocese Council of Parish Sodality Unions. Rev. Edward Will, spiritual director of the Deanery, and assistant at Resurrection parish will be the retreat master for the first retreat. In his conferences, Father Will will emphasize mental prayer and the importance of true Sodalists.

These weekend retreats on the Madonna campus first began in October, 1941, with the permission of His Eminence Edward Cardinal Mooney, Archbishop of Detroit.

The retreats are open to all women, individuals and organizations, upon application to Sister Mary Paula, Dean of the College. Retreatants occupy the second floor of the newly constructed residence wing. Spiritual exercises are conducted in the main chapel under the direction of a selected retreat master.

Retreatants arrive at 7:30 p.m. Friday and leave Sunday at 5 p.m. Three conferences are delivered daily. Free time is provided for Confessions, Stations of the Cross, and other private devotions.

In the past, three retreats have been held for students of Felician Academy October 26-28, Sodalists of St. Andrew parish January 25-27, and students of St. Stanislaus, St. Casimir, Ladwood, and Felician Academy high schools, February 15-17.

Peanut Farmer Awaits Good Weather for Planting

He Has California, Georgia and Michigan Seed to Try Out

Now the genial Frank Rambo has all of the automobile owners in this locality properly fitted out with next 1952 license plates, it wasn't a bit surprising the other morning when The Plymouth Mail's farm editor found Mr. Rambo delving deep into seed catalogs, farm journals, government reports and what-have-you seeking information as to the best ways to plant a peanut crop in a cold climate and then get some peanuts when the frost is on the "punkin".

It seems that Peanut Grower Rambo is a bit confused. Some friends brought him some seed from Georgia a while ago. These peanut seeds are known as "Carolina runners," grown chiefly for the makers of peanut butter and to fatten southern hogs for the fall market.

Then, along came a big package of peanut seeds grown in California!

"I didn't know they could grow peanuts out there. But Harry Lush says they can. He not only says they can, but the peanuts they grow in California are better than peanuts grown anywhere else in the world. They are not only better, but bigger says Harry. Maybe I'll plant 'em and see what happens," said Mr. Rambo.

"I guess he has gone native O.K., because along with them peanut seeds he sent me a lot of books and other information from the extension department of that college they've got out there. Those books say there's nothing like California peanuts. If his peanuts do all that he claims for them, I'll have to build another barn for storage, because he says every peanut grown in California is a perfect nut, almost as big as a hen's egg. Well, if 'em bluejays try to swallow one of them California nuts, he is sure to strangle," added Mr. Rambo.

Readers will recall that after Mr. Rambo harvested his first peanut crop last fall, he stored the peanuts in his garage to let them dry out. When he went to get some a few weeks later, it was discovered that the bluejays had grown fat and sassy on his first crop. A while later he found one single little peanut that the bluejays had overlooked. He carried it around in his pipe pocket to show doubting friends that he really did grow at least one peanut.

But the seeds from California with all the California propaganda that Mr. Lush sent him, and the seeds from Georgia are not the only peanut seeds Mr. Rambo has received to try out in his peanut garden this year.

The other day some Plymouth lady brought into his office some Michigan grown peanut seed she had raised in her garden, and she wanted Mr. Rambo to try them in his garden. He was so sort of babbled over this gift from such a generous lady that he forgot to ask her name, so here's some news the Farm Editor can't print because of Peanut Farmer Rambo's failure to get the donor's name.

At any rate there are now three kinds of peanut seed out at the Rambo farms just waiting to get planted. Mr. Rambo declares that he's going to mark each row carefully showing where the Georgia seeds are planted, which rows are the California seeds as well as the Michigan seeds. His experiment will be watched with more than ordinary interest.

Y-Teens Initiate 14 New Members

Recognition for new members of the Y-Teens Blue Chapter was held Thursday evening in room 21 of the High school.

Parents were invited as well as Student Council members. Following the Recognition Service refreshments were served. Those recognized were sophomores: Beverly Buchanan, Shirley Zimmerman, Janice Gustin, and Carolyn Hill and the freshman Pat Keefer, Jackie Pomroy, Judy Lockhart, Nancy Travis, Cheryl Ritter, Betty Simmons, Jean Rowe, Nancy West, Marilee Watson and Kay Zarr.

Plans are under way for a theater party in the near future. The Y-Teens Adult Council had a pot luck supper at the home of Mrs. Harold Pine before the Recognition Service. Plans were discussed and made for the rest of the year for both groups.

Engineers of the Wayne County Road Commission are working out plans for the proposed widening of Plymouth road between Haggerty highway just east of the Burroughs plant and the junction with U. S. 12 two miles east. Also being drafted in the same plans are specifications for a 40-foot paving on Eckles road between Plymouth road and the Schoolcraft road to take care of the traffic to the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant.

A Plymouth Rent-Control Committee was appointed by Commissioners Robert Jolliffe, Henry Hondoip and Mayor Ruth H. Whipple at a special meeting of the city commission Tuesday. The appointees who have agreed to serve on the committee are Roy A. Fisher chairman; Lawrence E. Lyons and Mrs. Caroline Dayton.

"What A Life," by Clifford Goldsmith will be the senior play presentation March 19 and 20 in the Plymouth High school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The play is about Henry Aldrich, the famous juvenile character of screen and radio, and all his scrapes and troubles.

The robberies of the Edwin Schrader and Fred Ballen residences in Plymouth were solved with the apprehension of the burglar by the Ypsilanti Police department last Friday morning. The two local robbery victims have identified a few of their stolen articles.

"Fighting the Fire Bomb," a motion picture prepared by the Office of Civilian Defense under the technical direction of the Chemical Warfare service of the U. S. Army and the National Fire Protection association, has been purchased by the City of Plymouth. The Plymouth school board has donated its movie projector to permit the film to be shown before clubs and citizens' groups throughout this area.

As a wartime "home defense" measure, Plymouth citizens are urged to fill their coal bins now and keep them filled. Local coal dealers state that coal in your bin during times like these is the best possible protection against shortages. This will help the war program and not be detrimental hoarding.

P.H.S. Students See Western Film

An interesting assembly was held on Tuesday, March 4, for the students of Plymouth High school when Chet Samson showed colored slides and a movie on his travels through the western part of the United States.

The slides showed scenes of western states and many pictures of national parks. They showed Hollywood, California and many of the movie stars.

The movie showed the way a group of vacationing youngsters would live. The group toured through the western states and saw Old Faithful, Grand Canyon, the Giant Redwoods, and many other scenic places where they enjoyed swimming in many huge pools and also a trip in the Great Salt Lake. The trip moved through Hollywood where the youngsters met movie stars like Alan Ladd, Shirley Temple, Glen Ford, and Bing Crosby.

The assembly was attended fourth hour by the eleventh and twelfth and fifth hour by the ninth and tenth grades. Gary Hees was master of ceremonies.

You're off in a Swirl of Power!

And to add this all up: clean, complete combustion—10,000 times per mile—is the secret of getting more power—more miles—from each gallon of gasoline.

So we're not simply using picture words when we tell you that Buick—and only Buick—has a FIREBALL ENGINE—or that you're off in a swirl of power with one of these high-powered performers under the hood.

1952 has brought a lot of sparkling new improvements which you'll want to see and admire when you come to our showrooms.

But the thrill of thrills is still what you and a Buick—and a Fireball 8 Engine—can do out on the road. When do you want to try a sample?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Every charge of fuel rushing into a Buick engine becomes a twisting, swirling, high-compressed ball that flashes with sudden, consuming completeness the instant the spark sets it afire.

But most important of all—Buick adds one more twist which others still haven't copied.

So—it's important to know that Buick uses a deep-breathing valve-in-head design that shoots a fuel charge in—cleans exhaust gases out—in a hurry.

It's important to know that all the power released by the fuel concentrates its driving force right on the head of each Buick piston. (Everyone who has recently built "new" high-compression engines copied this "Buick first.") and that's 100 times per second at 35 miles an hour!

WE'RE willing to wager that not one person in a hundred knows what really goes on inside an automobile engine—so let's take this by easy stages.

The instant you nudge Buick's Fireball 8 Engine into action—a whole string of things starts to happen.

Eight sparks begin to crackle in well-timed sequence. Eight pistons start gliding up and down with rhythmic precision. Eight pairs of valves dance open and closed—to let fuel charges in, exhaust gases out of cylinder after cylinder.

All right, you say, what's so complex about that? Can't anyone build an engine that does this to perfection?

Well, we'd better add, these things happen at the rate of more than 10,000 times per mile—

When better automobiles are built

Sure is true for '52 BUICK will build them

Rocks Win District Trophy

Win Each Game by One Point Margin

The battling Plymouth high school cagers earned a beautiful trophy for the new trophy case, in the new gymnasium, last weekend when they fought through two exciting nip and tuck games in the district tournament, at Bentley High school, to cop the district crown.

On Friday night, the Rocks played Farmington, and took the measure of the Falcons by a one-point margin 34 to 33. In this evenly played tilt, the Rocks came from behind to win. The Falcons were ahead 22 to 20 at the half, but by the beginning of the last quarter, Plymouth had forged to the front by a single point.

Coach Sandmann surprised everyone by playing many of the players up from the championship reserve team in this game. In fact, Ken Kisabeth was high scorer with 14 points, and another former reserve Ron Cole, was second high with 6 points.

The Rocks made good on 8 out of 13 foul tosses and the Falcons on 9 out of 15 losses.

On Saturday night, in the finals against the host team Bentley, it was another ding-dong battle with the outcome in doubt until the final whistle. The Rocks emerged the winner 45 to 44. Two one-point victories for the inspired young Rocks, gave them the coveted prize.

In this last game, Coach Sandmann again started Cole and Kisabeth from the reserves, and Caplin, another former reserve played, most of the game. Pat Robinson saw a lot of action also. These former reserves along with Williams, Lanphear, Bloomhuff, Cavell and Kelly carried the brunt of the final game. Foul tosses accounted for this win as the Rocks hit 17 of 22 charity tosses for a 75 percent average. Bentley made only 12 out of 21 tosses. The Rocks have been off all season on foul tosses, but have been hot in tournament play having made 25 out of the 35 tries for a 74 percent accuracy average.

Bentley jumped off to an early lead, but the Rocks narrowed it to a 14 to 12 disadvantage at the end of the first quarter. By half time, Bentley had increased it to 28 to 25. After intermission Plymouth managed to gain a one point advantage by the beginning of the final quarter, when they led 37 to 36.

The final eight minutes saw the frenzied crowd on the edge of their seats most of the time. Plymouth built up a three point lead with a couple of minutes to go, but Bentley hooped a basket to narrow the margin to one point. The last minute and a half saw the Rocks successfully hold onto the ball, and the victory was theirs when a final desperation Bentley shot was wide of the basket as the final gun ended the game.

Young Ken Kisabeth was again high point man with 13 points. Jim Bloomhuff had 9, as did Al Williams. Cole had 7.

Bentley's lanky Ford had 14, mostly on tip-in shots. Kime had 10.

The Rocks are eligible now to compete in the regional tournament at Pontiac this week. The drawing was made too late for this article, but if we know by Monday night we may find a place on another part of this page.

Tails Play Monroe Here March 24

The State Recreational Basketball tournament gets under way at Albion March 28 and 29. Tait's Cleaners, the local winner, will compete against 14 all-star teams in this state tournament. Strong teams from Mt. Pleasant, Sault St. Marie, Albion, Trenton, Adrian, Monroe, Marshall, Hastings, Marysville, Mt. Clemens, Wayne, Roseville, Hazel Park and Plymouth will vie for the lovely trophy which goes to the winner.

The first round will be played at various places throughout the state, and the eight teams remaining will journey to Albion on Friday, March 28 and 29 for the quarter, semi, and final rounds.

Tait's drew Monroe as their first opponent, and the game will be played in Plymouth on Monday evening, March 24, at eight o'clock. The place will be announced on next week's sport page. If the new gymnasium is not ready at that time, the game will be played at DeHoCo, where most of the recreational games have been played this year.

Masons Welcome

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

To all the scoffers, who thought I was a little "tetched in the head" when I remarked twice recently, that I wouldn't be surprised to see the high school cagers win the district tournament this year, I say "I told you so."

Yes, the team brought back a nice trophy for the splendid case in the new gymnasium. This is a young team, and I was surprised when Coach Sandmann started three of the reserve cagers in the tournament games, but I guess he knew what he was doing. John should have a couple of good seasons in front of him for most of these boys are sophomores and juniors.

The boys gave their followers a few heart-stopping moments though, and both games were won by the least possible count—each by one point. As a rule any team that can count on 75 percent of its foul shots will win most ball games. In the final game, Plymouth hit on 17 of 22 charity tosses. Bentley hit on 12 out of 21. There was the difference.

Because of their inexperience, I don't know just how far the youngsters can go into tournament play—in the district tournament all the teams have won district tournaments, and the competition will be much more keen. But we appreciate the fight and calmness they displayed to bring this nice new trophy to Plymouth, and know that they will be in there fighting every minute for a win. They, and the coaches deserve a big hand.

Trenton, the 6-B league winner, also advanced to the regionals when they won the district tournament the hard way. They disposed of River Rouge, a state finalist last year, Melvindale and Ecorse to win the crown. As a result they must be considered a possible state class B contender. Inkster romped over undefeated Romulus, to win another district tournament, and I still think that Inkster is one of the better class B teams in the state. Other class B contenders are Davison, Ishpeming, Traverse City, Detroit St. Andrews, Niles and East Lansing.

Class A play begins this week and Highland Park, Ferndale, East Detroit, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids Union and Muskegon seem to have the best teams.

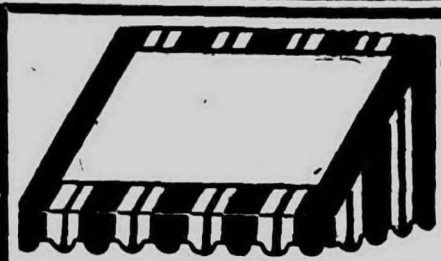

In class C, St. Louis is favored. Former Plymouth coach, Wayne Falen's Paw Paw team beat two good Kalamazoo class C teams to win the district tournament there. Lakeview has a good team, and Grand Rapids Wyoming Park will be a top-notch contender.

In Class D, Fowler seems to be head and shoulders over the rest of the field. Gwinn, Mio and DeWitt will prove the main opponents.

Another prediction I made at the beginning of the season was, that the Rocks wouldn't end up in last place in league play, even though they had to build an entirely new outfit this year. My prediction came true by an eyelash as they ended up in fourth place, Bentley and Redford Union tied for last place, and Plymouth ended a game above them and a game from a tie for second place. A lot of credit to good coaching. Yes, Charles Ketterer, of the Reserves, John Sandmann, of the Varsity, and John McFall, of the Fresh, deserve a big hand for a job well done.

The past two weeks I have had the flu, a touch of pneumonia, laryngitis and what not. I wish to thank all those who sent cards, flowers, and other remembrances. Also wish to thank those who made up this page last week during my illness.

Wolverines Sure of Championship

In "E" league basketball last week, two teams won by lopsided scores. In the first game, the Jr. Optimists swamped Twin Pines 22 to 7. Schwandt led with 8 points for the winners, and McKenna was high for the losers with 7.

In the second game, the Wolverines ran over the second place Indians by a score of 28 to 8. Armstrong and Goff, both had 8 points for the Wolverines. Nance had 3 points for the Indians.

With only two games to go for most of the teams the standings are as follows.

Officials Choose All-Star Grade 5

With the first season of Inter-Grade Basketball drawing to a close, some players have shown outstanding ability in the playing displayed in these games.

According to officials Jim Bloomhuff, Ken Kisabeth, and Larry Jolliffe, Joe Barraco of the Starkweather Jets was the Most Valuable Player of the league. The others on the all-star team are:

- Guard—David Conrad, Catholic
- Guard—Joe Barraco, Starkweather
- Center—Larry Bogenschutz, Lutheran
- Forward—Jim Dzurus, Bird
- Forward—Bob Isbister, Bird

See Beglinger for a better deal.

LaFontaine Wins

Last week the second place LaFontaine five were fortunate to edge the lowly Livonia team 44, to 40 in a senior men's league tilt.

The contest was a close one throughout with LaFontaine holding a few points advantage all the way. At the half it was 21 to 19 in favor of the winners.

Hall led the winners with 14 points. Bennett had 12 and Norman 10.

Fischer had 13 for the losers and Mossman 10. Each team made 6 foul tosses good.

Rocks Draw a Bye Play Friday Night

By virtue of their winning the District tournament last weekend, the Plymouth High School cagers compete in the Regionals at Pontiac this weekend.

All the six schools competing in this Regional have won District tournaments, and the competition will be extremely keen. In the drawing Monday, Plymouth drew a bye for tonight. Tomorrow night at 7:30, in the Pontiac High School gym, Plymouth plays the winner of tonight's game between Utica and Rochester.

In the other bracket, Walled Lake drew the bye, and will play the winner of tonight's Roseville-DeARBorn Lowry game, at 6 o'clock tomorrow night.

A class "A" game will be played at 9 o'clock tomorrow night. All Friday night winners play in the finals Saturday night.

Inter-Grade Won By Starkweather

With the regular season completed the Starkweather Jets emerged the champions of the Inter-Grade School League, with a 10 won, and 2 lost record, but Starkweather won the title by one game.

All the Starkweather players received emblems for capturing the crown, and Joe Barraco was voted the most valuable player in the league.

The playoffs started last week with the first game between Smith and Bird schools. The Bird school won by an 8 to 5 score. Jimmy Dzurus was high point man when he collected 6 of 8 Bird points.

The playoffs are a two game knockout between Bird, Smith and Starkweather schools. The Catholic and Lutheran schools did not win enough games to qualify for the playoffs.

Junior Optimist Win "F" Crown

The Junior Optimist ended a very successful season, Saturday, March 1, downing Davis and Lent 40 to 10, for their eighth straight win, without a loss. The Optimists jumped off to a fast start and led at the half 20 to 5.

Lindy Mills was high man for the Optimists with 15 tallies, while Ronald Markham scored 4 for the losers.

Fisher's Shoe Store lacked enough players to start the second game so it was forfeited to the Colts.

"F" League playoffs began Saturday, March 8, with the Jr. Optimists playing the Colts.

For Normal Driving - It Loafs!

You cross over the boundary into another state—and there are the posted rules and regulations.

Maybe the daytime limit for passenger cars is "forty-five"—or "fifty-five." Or, maybe no limit at all... just your own good common sense and the general rules of safety.

Well, whatever the legal limit, your Golden Anniversary Cadillac is going to "loaf"!

Down under its hood is the most powerful engine ever used in a standard American passenger car. There's more power there than you'll ever need—except for emergency.

But don't think that power doesn't work for you—even when you're driving within the legal limits!

It works for your safety... because a great reserve of power is a wonderful safeguard in most of the driving emergencies that present themselves.

It works for your comfort... because no car rides so well, or handles so superbly, as when it "coasts along," with a great percentage of its power still under the accelerator.

And it works for your peace of mind... for it is unbelievably comforting to know you have tremendous acceleration, should the necessity for it arise.

Of course, power has to be harnessed and handled in order to be your friend and servant.

So the Golden Anniversary Cadillac has superb new brakes—larger and more efficient—and designed and built to double the span of their endurance.

And those who want the ultimate in easy handling may order at extra cost Cadillac's new power steering that eliminates up to seventy-five per cent of normal steering effort.

It would take a volume to tell you all the things that have been done to make this a "car among cars." But it will take but a mile or a minute for you to sense what it means in terms of pleasure and satisfaction.

It means something wonderful... too wonderful, in fact, to miss!

Better come in today—for a look—and a ride—and a revelation.

Old Weather Man
Just Raised Hob!

What a fast week-end! And what a disappointment!

Everybody thought that with the sun shining as brightly and as warm as it was last Friday and Saturday that Sunday surely would be a swell day.

A number of Plymouth folks packed their cars and were going to go up north early Sunday morning to see if their hunting cabins and summer hide-aways had properly survived the winter.

But when they woke up early Sunday morning it was snowing—and the weather man said it was going to snow or rain all day Sunday and maybe Monday and Tuesday, too. So most of the folks rolled over and went back to sleep until it was time to get up and put that old snow shovel in operation.

Folks shoveled snow most of the day and a Sunday night rain helped remove some of it that had not been shoveled off the walks.

It just seemed that the old Weather Man thought that Plymouth merchants were entitled to a good break for their Dollar Day sales on Friday and Saturday. He did his part to make the weather perfect for these big sales events—but after they were over, he turned the faucet the wrong way and gave not only Plymouth but the entire state snow, rain, sleet and everything that goes with it.

But remember, spring is just around the corner—it arrives in Plymouth on Friday, March 21.

The trouble with too many systems and schemes is that they omit an important ingredient, hard work.

NEW CAMERA FANS and winners of the opening gifts given by the Photographic Center on the event of their opening last week-end. Dances Scheduled
For Rest of Year

Dances are scheduled from March 7 to May 16 in the Plymouth High school gym. Planning the dance schedule for the remaining weeks of the school year are Jane Carney, eighth grade; John Agnew, ninth grade; Jane Nulty, ninth grade; Bruce Green, tenth grade; Mrs. Joan Hayskar, junior high faculty; Miss Alita Hearn, senior high faculty; Arthur Alford, junior high principal; and Carvel Bentley, senior high principal.

This committee met at 3:30 p.m. January 14, 1952 and after considering all requests for dances and those, perhaps, who were most entitled to sponsor a dance, came up with the following schedule:

Ninth grade, March 7, Chaperones—Miss Sarah Lickly, Miss Anita Hearn, Ross Hedrick, and Gerrit Kramer.
Girls' Glee Club, March 14, Chaperones—Fred Nelson, Keith Baughman, Miss Ruth Butts, and Mrs. Dolores Caldwell.

Photographic Club, March 21, Chaperones—Robert Smith, William Campbell, Mrs. Virginia Calligari, and Mrs. Esther Ham.

Junior Class, March 28, Chaperones—Edgar Brown, James Latture, Miss Irene Waldorf, and Miss Virginia Olmsted.

Senior Prom, April 26.
Seventh Grade, May 9, Chaperones—Mrs. Beatrice Besse, Mrs. Marguerite Bromley, Wilks Huntz, and John McFall.

Varsity Club, May 16, Chaperones—John Sandmann, Charles Ketterer, Miss Freda Olsen, and Mrs. Crystena Soule.

Scholarship Open

For the past two years the University of Michigan Club of Plymouth has sponsored a scholarship for the graduating students of Plymouth High School. They will continue with the same program this year.

Applications will be open to any Plymouth High School graduate enrolled in the University of Michigan as an undergraduate. Application blanks may be obtained from the President of the University of Michigan Club or from the Chairman in charge of the scholarship at high school.

All applications must be in the hands of the Club president not later than March 15 of each year.

Applications will be acted upon by the Regents Scholarship Committee of the Club in conjunction with an advisory committee consisting of high school personnel. Names requested for consideration by the scholarship committee will then be submitted to the Board of Governors for final selection.

The Board of Governors of the club may, at their own discretion, choose an alternate for the award in the event the original student should be unable to attend the university.

In making the award, the scholarship committee and the Board of Governors shall be guided by the candidates' scholarship, his qualifications as a useful citizen, and his financial status. The award shall be for $100 per year to be made in two installments of $50, each. The recipient of the award will have the privilege of one renewal application.

Librarians Visit U of M Bindery

Student library staff and student librarians in the elementary school and junior high schools are making an excursion to Ann Arbor March 19, to visit several types of libraries. Arrangements have been made with Mr. Paul Craven the manager of the University Bindery to take the entire group in two groups for one hour touring the Bindery.

While one group is touring the Bindery the other is exploring the University Library and Clemons Library and University High School Library.

The librarians will eat lunch at the new Tappan High School on Stadium Boulevard. Then they will be conducted through Tappan Library by Mrs. Elizabeth Mauerhoff, the librarian.

In the afternoon the group will take a tour of the Kaiser-Fraser plant at Willow Run paying special attention to the Industrial Library.

Two Chosen to Attend Homemakers Convention

The Hesco Club of Plymouth High has appointed Betty Bowden and Charlotte West as representatives and Mrs. Howard Bowden as Chapter Mother to attend the sixth annual Future Homemakers of America Convention of the Michigan Association to be held March 27 and 28, at the Michigan State College in East Lansing.

The convention sessions will start at 10 a.m. Thursday, March 27 and will continue through to Friday noon, March 28, in the Fairchild Theatre.

The girls will stay over Thursday night and will sleep in the Quonset Village on the Campus. They will also attend the banquet held in the dining room of the Shaw dormitory Thursday night.

Having practically guaranteed the security of most of the world the U. S. will just have to have some fighting power.

Grange Hears Quartet

A clarinet quartet composed of Freda Killingsworth, Eric Eklund, Wayne Smith, and Arlene French played for the Plymouth Grange on Thursday, March 6. A special air of Irish Melodies was arranged for the quartet.

Lawrence Livingston, band director, is going to Wayne on March 19 and 20, to conduct the Wayne University Band in an original piece "The Colors of Kewanaaw" written by Mr. Livingston. A trip to the Upper Peninsula two years ago inspired the writing of this piece of music.

Vocal Groups Give Concert, March 19

Singing in the annual Spring concert which will be presented Wednesday evening, March 19, will be the Junior High Girls' Chorus, the Junior High Boys' Chorus, the Girls' Glee Club, the Twin Trios, and the High School Choir. The program, held in the Plymouth High school auditorium at 8 p.m. will have a charge for admission.

The selections will include "The Palms", "Estrellita", "Cindy", sung by the Junior High Girls' Chorus.

"Somebody's Knockin' at Your Door" will be sung by the Junior High Boys' Chorus. Also "Ode to Joy" and "Oh, Meadowland" will be sung.

Also on the program will be the Girls' Glee Club singing "Grant Us Peace", "In These Delightful Pleasant Groves", "The Gardner", and "Dancing in the Dark", followed by the Twin Trios singing "You Are Free", "When I Have Sung My Songs", and "Rio Rita".

Concluding the program will be the high school choir singing "Beautiful Savior", "April Is In My Mistress' Face", "The Paper Reads by the Brooks", "On Top of Old Smoky", "Oklahoma", and "Were You There?"

All choral groups will be under the direction of Fred C. Nelson.

Entries in Birdhouse Contest Due March 19

The Plymouth Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association is sponsoring a birdhouse and feeding station contest for seventh, eighth, and ninth graders. Judges will be Paul Christenson, John Ort, and Edward Mollea. Judging will take place March 20 in the Junior High auditorium.

Birdhouses and feeding stations will be on display March 22, at Hustons Hardware.

PHS Library Receives Shipment of New Books

The Plymouth High School Library just received a new shipment of books to be used for supplementary reading in the eleventh and twelfth grade English classes. Among those received are: "Intruder in The Dust", by William Faulkner; "All the Kings Men", by Robert Penn Warren; "The Wall", by John Hersey; "Yankee from Olympus", Justice Homes and his family, by Catherine Drinker Bowen; "Interrupted Melody", by Marjorie Lawrence; Autobiography of Robert A. Millikan: The Builders of the Bridges", by D. B. Steinman.

Superintendent Attends Meeting

Russel L. Isolter, Superintendent of Schools, has returned from St. Louis, Missouri, where he attended the American Association of School Administrators Regional Convention, February 23-27.

The program centered around the theme of Leadership for American Education. Speakers on the program were such persons as Senator Estes Kefauver from Tennessee, Kenneth Oberholzer, superintendent of schools in Denver, Colorado, Willard E. Given of the National Education Association and William Russell, a teacher at Columbia University.

The speakers placed great emphasis on the citizens obligation to the schools. Two exhibits were presented which gave new ideas for better schools. One was an exhibit of books, educational materials, and school equipment. Highly trained teachers, and professional experts demonstrated the use of the materials which gave the administrators new insights in to the instructional program.

The other exhibit consisted of plans, photographs, and models of the latest developments in school plans, designs, and construction, which have been built since 1947 or are in the process of construction.

High School Gains Five In Student Exchange

Plymouth High School has been exchanging many students since the beginning of the second semester of this year and has come up with a gain of five students.

In the seventh grade William Pruett, Hal Bailey, James Obate, and Walter Smith are new students. Jean Ofchar transferred to Bentley and Barbara Wall has moved to Wayne.

There are no new students in the eighth grade but Lawrence Owens left; Darlene Burghard and Bill Baker moved away and returned again to Plymouth.

Freshman, Edith Wasalaski moved to Midland, Mona Rippie moved to Wayne, and the new students are Calvin Dunningan, Shelvie Dunningan, and Aloma Jenkins from Tennessee.

Sophomores gained two students, Richard Bessey from Northville and Diane McKay from Saint Marys' of Redford.

From the Junior class Ira Skinner moved to Ohio, John Dawson is new from Garden City and Ralph Bakewell is from Ford Trade school.

The seniors had no gain or loss in the student body.

Roger Babson Says---

Babson Again Discusses Our Highways

Babson Park, Fla., March 13. I have had so many letters from readers, "pro and con", regarding my column in this paper about highways—(see January 18, 1952) that I have collected some more facts which for two reasons I should pass along to my readers. First, because I was perhaps unfair to the trucks; and second, because I wish to submit a constructive suggestion to road builders.

The Truth About Highways
My first job after graduating from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a Civil Engineer was to build State Highways. I soon learned that the politicians want to spend money on the "black tops which can be seen" instead of on the highway foundations "which the voters do not see." Then when a road cracks, these politicians blame it on the motor vehicles.

That these politicians are wrong is proven by driving along any state roads with cracks or patches. If it were the motor vehicles which cause the cracking then every slab or section would be cracked or patched. The fact that only a few are cracked or patched proves that the foundation was skimped at certain points when being built. Let me here add that in 1950 motor vehicles paid about three billion dollars in taxes.

"Hoggin" The Roads
If motor vehicles do not move to the side when you blow your horn, or if they cross two solid lines painted on the center of a road, then you should report them. In this connection, state officials say that ignoring and crossing double solid lines is responsible for most of the bad accidents.

The real "hoggin" is done by us privately owned car drivers who park on streets from which trucks are excluded. Furthermore, this parking by us is so choking the downtown business streets that—if not forbidden—it will severely harm retail trade and depress the value of business property. I am very serious about this and—if space permitted—would like to say a good word for the bus companies.

What About More Legislation?
I am opposed to the so-called ton-mile tax unless it applies to all vehicles. In fact, there are only three legitimate purposes for the regulation of highway traffic: (1) Safety of all cars and persons; (2) Honest foundations for all roads; and (3) Making both trucking and railroad rates so as to be fair to every business and section. When railroads or trucks object to any of these goals, they are "hogging" legislation.

It surely would seem reasonable to give the Interstate Commerce Commission the right to designate the construction of all highways to be used by trucks whose rates it now regulates. This Commission already closely watches the roadbed and traffic regulations of the railroads.

The Real Solution
Both the protection of our highways and lower taxes will come from the discovery of some alloy which will partially reduce the pull of gravity. Studies to accomplish this are being encouraged by the Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, New Hampshire. In other words, the goal of all highway engineers, all vehicle owners, all consumers and all taxpayers should be to reduce weight. Excess weight is the real cause of highway trouble and excessive trucking rates.

I visualize before many years, large trucks will have "air-tight" bodies such as are now used by refrigerator trailers to carry perishable or frozen foods. The body of such future trucks will be made of an alloy which will partially deflect the gravity waves from the contents of the trucks thus reducing the weight of the contents from 30,000 pounds to perhaps 5,000 pounds. Such gravity resisting alloys have not yet been discovered, but some alloys have been found to partially deflect magnetic, heat and light waves.
