THE PUBLIC LETTER BOX

EDITOR:
You have published several articles about parking space in this area for the business men. Here is something you can do and it would help the situation a lot. First take an inventory as to where each business man and their employees park. Then see if the area up the Tonquish river bed, west from Harvey street, can be used for parking, by covering the stream. I notice in the parking area back of the stores is not being used efficiently. There is no time limit. There is a space along the west side, that can be used for straight parking and would accommodate 15 cars.

To sum it up, if you get the business people that park all day long, to park further away or walk to work and use the present parking facilities efficiently there would be room for 200 cars, more or less.

I work at the Ford Motor Co. Rouge plant. I and ten thousand others either walk a distance of five to eight blocks or take an inner plant bus to my place of employment.

In the morning from my door I can count two bankers, a doctor, three clerks all parking for all day. If they are thinking they are losing business, they'd better examine themselves first.

EDITOR:

Haircuts are lower in price today than at any other period. In 1910, when a license became necessary at a cost of 50c—a three-chair barbershop was worth about $400, rent $15 a month and haircuts were 25c in a dirty shop with a dirty towel and a dirty barber plus tobacco juice.

A workman has only man-hours to pay for anything he buys. At that time, 15c per hour was the usual rate. Therefore, a haircut cost about one and a half hours labor. In 1920, haircuts cost 35c and wages were about 25c per hour. In 1930, haircuts were 50c and wages less than 50c per hour.

Today in Plymouth the very lowest pay is $1.50 per hour and you can get a haircut in a state inspected fairly clean barbershop for $1.25 by a barber who has spent two and a half years at least in training and experience to secure a license and his wages may amount to $60 per week providing he is a fair operator.

A three-chair barbershop in Plymouth, today, is worth $2,000. If the owner should be fortunate enough to have one good operator and they work 40 hours each, the operator should get about $75 and the owner who pays $10 for this year's license plus the cares of an employer will probably net $100. There have always been homespun haircuts free and just so—likewise better shops for the better trade. I recommend that shop owners loan tools to their customers who cannot afford to pay, just to try a few of those beautiful homespun haircuts and forget about another barber who just don't think the same as you or I.

L. J. Ranch Inc Presents 5th Horse Show

The fifth annual spring all western horse show sponsored by the L. J. Ranch Incorporated, at 37910 Amrhein road, will be given Sunday, June 15. There will be two performances, one held in the morning at 10 a.m. and the other scheduled for 1 p.m.

During the morning show there will be such exhibitions as the junior horsemanship, western, during which there will be walking, trotting and catering; the junior potato bending stake race, the junior speed and action class and the junior trail class.

In the afternoon show, the exhibitions will be very different from those presented in the morning. Among some of the events scheduled for the afternoon are the presentation of the junior awards, the broom and ball contest, western parade class, the figure eight race, the speed and boots and saddle race and the musical chairs.

The L. J. Ranch Inc. was organized by 18 ardent horse lovers and owners on March 14, 1948 with one idea in mind, the promotion of interest and appreciation of horse and idealism of horse shows. The vastness of the Club has grown by leaps and bounds to the extent of being known throughout the country.

The ranch is located on one of the finest sites in Michigan—near Plymouth on Amrhein road, adjacent to the Plymouth park containing miles and miles of bridle paths where the majority of the members promenade night after night.

Theater Guild Elects Officers

The board of governors of the Plymouth Theater guild elected officers for the forthcoming year. Effie Kuisel was named president.

Charlotte Gaffield was named vice president and recording secretary; Maude Laury, corresponding secretary; and C. V. Sparks, treasurer. Completing the list of members of the board of governors are Betty Jacobs, J. H. Wilcox, Adele Miller, Warren Worth, and Stanley Lawler.

The annual spring social will be held at the Roy Jacobus' residence on Warren road, June 15. Mr. Wilcox is directing a play to be presented at this time. The name of the play has been kept a secret.

All guild members are invited to attend the party and bring guests. Lydia Argo, house chairman, would like to know in advance the number for which to plan.

Fencing Contract Let

The fence around the Arthur street garage belonging to the city of Plymouth will be erected by the Wayne Fence and Supply company. This company presented the lowest bid to the city manager.

Total cost for 1,000 feet of six foot high fence will be $2,622. This includes a gate and three inch posts.

Collectors Will Cherish Recent Book Selections

Recently the young lads of the community have been swarming to the Wayne County Library for books and magazines on reptiles and amphibians, stated Mrs. Ada Murray, librarian. With the arrival of Spring, the snakes also make their appearance. "Reptiles and Amphibians" which was prepared by the Workers of the Federal Writers Project of the Works Progress Administration in the city of New York, is a new addition to the library.

"The Antique Collector's Manual", compiled and arranged by Raymond F. Yates, is a price guide and data book for 14,000 items. The book will serve as an invaluable aid to the average American collector or dealer in antiques of all kinds, pattern glassware, prints, music boxes, mechanical banks and many other items.

"Coins of the World" written by Wayne Raymond contains a complete list of all coins issued by the countries of the whole world, their colonies or dependencies, with illustrations of most of the types and the average valuation among collectors and dealers.

"Radio Physics Course" compiled by Alfred A. Ghirardi is a complete authoritative course which explains in simple language everything about sound, electricity, radio, public address, phototubes, television and sound motion pictures.

"The Complete Home Handyman's Guide" by Hubbard Cobb can instruct the reader in wiring and appliances, property improvements, plumbing, painting, carpentry and building, furniture care and repair, heating systems, tools and workshops and masonry and concrete.

Nina Brown Baker's "Cyclone in Calico" is the story of a Civil War nurse of whom General Sherman said, "She has more power than I, she outranks me!"

The Executive's health book, "This Will Kill You", written by Charles Furcolow, will give the reader added enjoyment, even though the articles which one reads are about aches and pains.

"SPQR" or Senatus Populusque Romanus written by Paul Hyde Bonner is a novel of modern Rome. A recent novel depicting the lives of eight flyers who refused to surrender is the "Angel of Attack" composed by Joseph Landon.

A distinguished trial lawyer presents for your verdict as the 14th Juror" the threefold drama of crime and trial in four notable twentieth-century cases. "Guilty or Not Guilty" written by Francis X. Busch, gives an account of the trials of Leo Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan; D. C. Stephenson for the murder of Madge Oberholtzer; Samuel Insull for use of the mails to defraud and Alger Hiss for perjury.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

Sunday Morning Services, 10:30 a.m. Sunday Evening Services, 7:30 p.m., every fourth Sunday of the month. Sunday School 10:30 a.m., for pupils up to twenty years of age. That "God is the Only Cause and Creator" is clearly shown in the Lesson-Sermon under that title which will be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, June 8. The Golden Text is from Malachi (2:10): "Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us?" Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Rev. 4:11): "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honor and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created." Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected." (p. 512)

R. E. Key Named Head of Christian Science Mother Church, Boston

Lt. Col. Rob't Ellis Key

The Christian Science Board of Directors announced the appointment of Lieutenant Colonel Robert Ellis Key of London, England, as President of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston. The announcement was made at the annual meeting attended by Christian Scientists from all over the world. Colonel Key, associate of the Christian Science religious periodicals and former lecturer, is a Christian Science practitioner and has been an authorized teacher of the religion since 1937.

"The keynote of this century is not chaos, but Christ," Colonel Key stated in his address to those attending the meeting. "War and destruction have been associated with the first half of the twentieth century, but progress and spiritualization will mark the succeeding years." George Channing, manager of the Christian Science Committees on publication, reported increasing official state and local recognition of the right of the individual to exemption from compulsory physical examinations in good faith on religious grounds. He said fluoridation of the public water supply is being opposed on the grounds that it represents state medicine. Relief totalling $200,000 was voluntarily contributed by Christian Scientists to aid sufferers in the Kansas-Missouri valley flood, Roy Garrett Watson, treasurer of The Mother Church reported.

Fishermen Get Caught in Snow

While the folks back home were wiping beads of perspiration from their foreheads, a group of Plymouth fishermen were holding fishrods in one hand and covering chilled ears with the other hand as they fished for trout some 600 miles directly north of Plymouth up in the Chapleau Game Reserve of the province of Ontario.

That all happened one day last week when Charles Beegle, Don Lightfoot, Frank Terry, Gar Evans, Gus Lindquist and Ralph Taylor were caught in a sudden snow storm that swept the country where they were spending a week doing some fishing in the wilds of Canada.

These Plymouth fishermen who believe in fishing where one can catch brook trout that weigh four and five pounds just as easy as one could catch a chub back in the old days in Tonquish creek, had some good luck on their fifth annual tour into northern Ontario.

But they did hit some bad weather. They had rain and snow much of the time they were in the north, Don Lightfoot and Gar Evans made the trip by automobile, traveling north through the Soo and the Thessalon highway which has been extended during the past two years to the northern lakes and streams where they like to fish.

TWO OF THE TOP-NOTCH performers appearing with the Charokee Ranch Rodeo in Plymouth July 2 and 3, are shown above. The Rodeo will present wild steer riders, bulldoggers, ropers and rough riders, merged in the wildest meleé of western sport and entertainment ever offered to the residents of this area. The rodeo is one of the many attractions planned by the Chamber of Commerce for the four-day celebration from July 2 through July 5.

Longest Day of The Year To Arrive in Plymouth on Saturday June 21

Prepare for some big news!

Exactly at 6:13 in the morning, residents will be thinking of getting out of bed on June 21, summer will arrive in this part of the world.

That's according to Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan.

She adds that the longest days of the year will be around June 21, as the sun will have reached its most northerly point on that date this year.

When the sun goes down on the night of June 21, it will begin backtracking over the route it has been following since last December when it reached its most southerly point.

Just as in winter when colder weather comes several weeks after the winter solstice in December, the usual weather pattern brings the warmest temperatures in August, Professor Losh explains. This "lag of the seasons" occurs in the summer because the earth continues to receive more heat during the day than it loses by radiation at night. It takes until late August or early September before the earth begins to cool off.

The reverse applies during the winter. Then it takes until early March before more heat is received during the day than is lost at night.

Among the planets, Saturn and Mars continue to be the main attractions during June, she reports. June also brings the constellation of The Scorpion into view each night around sunset in the southeast sky. As this collection of bright stars appears at the time Orion, which dominates the heavens during the winter months, disappears in the west, Professor Losh recalls the old stories handed down in mythology.

The Scorpion is supposed to have sprung out of the earth at the command of the goddess, Jino. She had become incensed at the conceit of Orion, the Mighty Hunter, who had boasted that he could conquer any creature on earth," the astronomer says. "The insignificant Scorpion stung the boastful hunter, causing his death, and now, by appearing in the sky, forever teaches the

Grange Presents Contest Judging Weaving Lecture

A large crowd of people is expected to attend the local meeting of the Grange which is to be held tonight at the Grange hall.

The members will witness the crafts and arts of the artist-craftsman and director of the weaving shops at the Plymouth Colony Farms, Karl Laurell. Mr. Laurell's lecture will be illustrated with a film depicting important phases of the four major crafts: weaving, pottery, metal and wood working.

Mr. Laurell accepted the directorship of the weaving shops at the Plymouth Colony Farms because of the philosophy of its founder, Dr. Ralph H. Pino, in regard to the crafts is so much in line with his own that the offer represented an irresistible challenge.

In the opinion of Mr. Laurell, the organization at Plymouth Colony should be ideal for providing many Americans with fabrics of good design and quality at a fair price.

The Grange wishes to extend a special invitation to the public to attend this meeting. Besides the lecture, the judging of the winners of the home economics contest will take place.

Local Netter Earns Letters In College Tennis.....

William Bateman, a senior at Adrian college and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bateman of 1347 West Ann Arbor trail, earned his third varsity letter in tennis at the college this spring. Bill was Adrian's number one netter for the second year in a row and compiled a record of five wins and three losses on a team that won but two matches. It was his consistency that paid off. Often he played men with better shots than his, but he would usually edge out by his determination. Bill also played number one doubles and there his record was four wins and three losses.

New Proposed Shopping Center For City of Livonia Takes Shape...

Plans for the construction of a $5,000,000 shopping center to be located in the city of Livonia at the intersection of Plymouth and Farmington roads were announced Thursday, June 5 by W. Warren Sheldon, Pres. of the Sheldon Land Company. He stated that construction was to be started this summer under schedules now being established.

Leonard P. Reaume, nationally known Detroit Realtor and a group of other experts to determine the best type of shopping area for this rapidly growing west side market area. Among the experts consulted were Hugh Potter, developer of the River Oaks community with three shopping centers in Houston, Texas; (Mr. Potter is Chairman of the Community Builders Council of the Urban Land Institute); Mr. John Taylor, Chairman of the Board of the J. C. Nichols Company of Kansas City, Missouri, developer of the fabulous Country Club District and its outstanding shopping centers; Parker Webb of Boston, Mass., nationally known chain store leasing expert and developer of shopping centers in the Boston area.

Project Based on Extensive Studies During the investigation upon which plans for the Sheldon Shopping Center are based, the newest shopping centers in California, Texas, Florida, Kansas City, Washington, D. C., environs of New York City, Buffalo, N. Y., the Boston area, Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio, were visited and studied. These studies were expertly analyzed with the view of incorporating proved successful features in the new development and avoiding any elements shown to be undesirable by experience. It is believed the new center will establish a pattern of style, appeal, convenience and facilities which will be adopted in later projects.

maximum benefits of the center to tenants, shoppers and the community it serves. No part of the center is permitted to deteriorate in character under such centralized management control. Shopping Center to Meet Growing Need "A market analysis undertaken for preparation of this project by David Geer and James Rogers, land planners and land economists, shows that an extraordinary retail buying power exists among the thousands of home owners in this area," Reaume continued. "The Geer and Rogers studies also reveal the fact that shopping facilities in this market area have not kept pace with the growth of the market and than an immediate and growing need exists for the modern complete, efficient shopping center now to be built by the Sheldon Land Co." he added.

Need for Owner Management Shown

"Our studies show an urgent need for owner management in the operation of a shopping center as a whole," stated Leonard P. Reaume in discussing the project. "Such management assures maintenance of the character of the entire center at high standards of appearance, cleanliness, and convenience and so maintain the Plans Nearing Completion Final plans for construction are being prepared by Charles N. Agree who has had many years of experience in designing stores for leading local merchants.

Albert Fisher Says Building Boom Still Prevails in Florida

Albert Fisher, well known Plymouth builder who has been pending recent winters in Orlando, Florida, back in this city for the summer, declares that the building boom which has been sweeping Florida for the past few years, continues unabated.

"Not only is there plenty of building going on in and around Orlando, but one can find plenty of activity in most any place in central and northern Florida. I do not know much about conditions in the southern end of the state, but reports say that builders are nearly as active as ever 'down there' he said yesterday.

Mr. Fisher expects to remain in Plymouth until fall when he will return to Orlando.

Hints for Plymouth Homemakers

Dainty Bridal Shower Treats from Canned Meat

Feting the bride-elect? This special occasion calls for attractive and ever so dainty refreshments. And what could be more appropriate than a tray of colorful canapés—flavorful tidbits smartly garnished and served with chilled fruit juices.

Many canape trays look far too complicated for the average homemaker to duplicate. However, you can prepare a tray of appetizers (guaranteed to be the talk of your guests) quite simply with the aid of canned meats on your kitchen shelf. Here's a list of canned meats you need for an outstanding platter arrangement—smoked tongue, chipped beef, Vienna sausages and deviled ham. Cream cheese is handy to have for decorating the canapes along with tiny pearl onions, olives and parsley.

You'll find day old bread easier to work with than fresh bread. Use your small cookie cutters for cutting it into various shapes and designs—crescents, rounds, triangles, rectangles and etc. Then let your imagination rule. For instance, spread some designs with deviled ham. Top with minute pearl onions, then outline the design with finely minced parsley. Top other bread designs with cream cheese, then arrange paper-thin slices of Vienna sausage over the top.

Here's a tip—it's wise to spread bread with softened butter or margarine to prevent soaking. Or for a grand flavor combination you might spread bread with mustard butter, then top with a matching slice of smoked tongue. Horseradish butter is another choice. Cream butter and add a bit of drained horseradish, then top with smoked tongue.

Chipped beef rolls are another appetizer for your tray. On thin strips of chipped beef place a little cream cheese slightly thinned with cream. Roll up the chipped beef and stick with a colored pick.

If you make the canapes earlier in the day wrap them in waxed paper or aluminum foil and immediately place in your refrigerator. Plan, however, on making these appetizers as late as possible before serving so they will be at their best.

June Is The Month For Crisp Vegetables

Bright crisp spring vegetables are much in evidence during June. They are coming from the markets and home gardens to add variety and flavor to meals.

Green onions, radishes and red table beets are among the first to arrive and add the springtime note. They make excellent relishes and go well in many spring and summer salads.

Look for green onions with bright green tops and 2 or 3 inches of white at the root. Store them in the refrigerator tightly covered. A few sprigs of parsley in a small glass of water will help to absorb any odor that might escape and flavor other foods.

Select radishes that are not too large, are free from growth cracks and have fresh, green tops. The smaller radishes are apt to be milder in flavor and free from pithiness. Radishes which grow rapidly will be more mild than those that grow slowly, so you'll find them at their best before the weather becomes hot.

Both the tops and roots of red table beets are edible in either the raw or cooked form. Tender beet tops make a crisp green salad or tasty cooked greens. The beets themselves have many popular uses in cooked form—as Harvard beets, pickled, or as a hot buttered vegetable. Their crisp, bright appearance and mild sweet flavor make them equally acceptable when shredded raw and used in salads or as garnishes.

Buy bunches of red table beets that are uniform in size—they will cook done more evenly—and with crisp bright tops. Five medium-sized beets will weigh about a pound and give you 1 1/2 cups of cooked beets. A teaspoon of vinegar added to the cooking water will help to brighten the color and will not harm the food value or flavor.

CANNED MEAT "PARTY" TRAY

Straight from the canned meat shelf come the spreads for these gay appetizers which you can easily duplicate in your own kitchen. Try Ham and Egg Pie for Club Day Dinner Club day, and you'll be away from home until late afternoon? Here's your dinner dish—Ham and Egg Pie. Prepare the ham and egg mixture (according to the recipe below) in the morning, then store it in your refrigerator. Also, combine the lard and dry ingredients for biscuit dough. When you get home, add the milk to the mix and prepare the biscuits to top your casserole. Bake the casserole for about 30 minutes and your dinner is ready with the addition of a vegetable, salad, dessert and beverage.

Ham and Egg Pie—Biscuit Top
2 cups cubed cooked ham
1/4 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped onion
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
5 tablespoons enriched flour
2 cups milk
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
2 hard-cooked eggs, cut in fourths

Biscuits
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
1 1/3 to 1 1/2 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in lard until mixture has fine even crumb. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Turn onto a lightly floured surface and knead gently for 1/2 minute. Pat or roll 1/2 inch thick and cut with a medium-sized biscuit cutter, dipped in flour.

Brown celery and onion in butter or margarine and blend in flour. Add milk gradually and stir until thick. Season and add the cubed ham and the eggs. Place in a casserole and cover with biscuits. Bake in a hot oven (400 F.) for 30 minutes or until crust is well baked and golden brown. 4 servings.

Try Glazed Carrots To Garnish Veal Roast

With a new season it's wise to inject variety into menus. Perhaps you've overlooked serving a veal roast lately. It's an ideal choice for a spring day.

Veal, the same as beef, lamb and cured pork, is roasted in a 300° F. oven. Through extensive research it has been found that this low temperature produces a juicier, more tender roast.

Because veal is a young animal and has little fat, it's suggested you lay strips of bacon over the top of the roast before cooking. Then place the roast on a rack in a shallow roasting pan and cook without a cover and without water. A leg roast requires approximately 25 to 30 minutes per pound cooking time. Garnishes show off your roast. Perhaps you'll want to center canned pear halves with bright red maraschino cherries and circle them around the roast. Whole cooked carrots with a brown sugar glaze make another colorful companion for the veal roast.

Strawberries Tops in Spring Dessert Appeal

Tops in appeal! Those are the words for strawberries with many folks. From breakfast time through dinner they're a perfect addition to your meal.

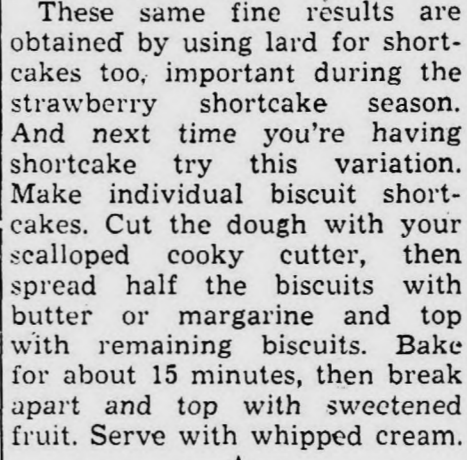

For one strawberry pie triumph try this. Slice strawberries into a baked pie shell. You'll need a quart of berries for a 9-inch pie. Sprinkle them generously with sugar, then completely top with meringue or with a seven-minute frosting. Brown in a moderate oven for about 15 minutes.

Of course for the flaky and tender pastry that makes your pie make sure that you use lard, the same shortening your grandmother used. This shortening is so easily worked into the dry ingredients and guarantees the finest of pastries.

These same fine results are obtained by using lard for short-cakes too, important during the strawberry shortcake season. And next time you're having shortcake try this variation. Make individual biscuit short-cakes. Cut the dough with your scalloped cookie cutter, then spread half the biscuits with butter or margarine and top with remaining biscuits. Bake for about 15 minutes, then break apart and top with sweetened fruit. Serve with whipped cream.

Local Executives Speak at Wayne U

Seventy-five students, enrolled in Detroit's Wayne University basic survey course in Materials Handling, last night heard industry spokesmen discuss the fundamentals of modern packaging, shipping and warehousing.

Two of the speakers, R. B. Evans and Harvey Cooper, represented the Evans Products Company, Plymouth. Their company, first to make a financial grant toward support of the Wayne University Materials Management Research and Training Center—the first of its kind ever established, is recognized as a pioneer in the field of scientific loading, both in the field of rail and air shipping.

Mr. Evans, who is vice president of the company, reviewed the basic principles of packaging, materials handling and warehousing and emphasized the importance transportation of goods and materials plays in modern industry. Briefly, he told of the work his company had done in developing and proving the value of modern box car and aircraft shipping devices that have eliminated millions of dollars worth of damage and have made more efficient use of railroad cars and cargo craft.

Mr. Cooper described the work the company has done over the past 30 years in developing specialized car loading devices to meet the needs of all shippers. He also discussed the various types of box cars which are being provided to shippers by the railroads in an effort to reduce damage losses in line with today's improved materials handling techniques.

The Materials Handling course, conducted by John Anderson, consulting assistant professor, is part of the Wayne University Materials Management Center and is equally divided between class and field work.

Tree Planting Profitable

Owners of private lands can use trees profitably for many purposes in addition to soil erosion control. A group of trees around the homestead helps to beautify the grounds and may serve as a windbreak where necessary. If the trees reduce the wind from 12 to 3 miles per hour at 32°F., it takes only half the amount of fuel to heat an ordinary house. Planting America means beautifying home grounds for comfort and better living.

A farm woodlot on eroded areas gives will furnish posts and firewood. The trees may be harvested for a profitable crop of pulpwood, or timber. Field windbreaks, especially in the Great Plains area, help to protect land against wind erosion. A good stand of trees and the forest litter that accumulates beneath them will prevent rapid runoff from sloping watersheds during heavy rains, thus helping to reduce flood crests on creeks and rivers.

Tree seedlings for planting may be obtained from nurseries specializing in them at very nominal costs. Commercial nurseries sell "graded" stock, which is uniform in both size and quality. For the varieties recommended in your locality consult with your local nurseryman, your soil conservation district, your county agent, or your state forester, or conservation department. For planting around the home consult your local nurseryman, or a state extension landscape specialist at a state university.

Somebody's Going to be Surprised!

Well, it's Junetime—and the top is down—and his heart is filled with memories . . . and where do you think he's going?

He's going halfway up the hill, to a spot where a lane strays into the wildwood and he can glimpse the top of a fieldstone chimney above the trees. That's his lane—and he's going home!

It has been a well-guarded secret. Just two people have known about it all these months—himself and his Cadillac dealer.

To make doubly sure, he has hinted at everything under the sun as a fitting tribute to this wedding anniversary — except a Cadillac!

Well, it won't be long now. He's getting closer and closer. And now the stones in the driveway crunch under the wheels . . . he gives the familiar three "toots" on the horn . . . and then she sees him, with his cap in his hand, bowing and pointing to the driver's seat.

Surprised? Never so much in all her life. And never more thrilled—for it's the "car of cars" for the "day of days"!

And is he happy!

Maybe it has taken him ten years—or fifteen—or even twenty . . . to make his dream come true.

But during all this time he never wavered in what he wanted. He wanted to make one anniversary mean something special above all the rest . . . by the gift of a Cadillac.

Perhaps, as you read this, you are looking forward to some very special anniversary of your own.

If you are—and you're planning on giving the gift of gifts—then you'd better come in and see us soon.

We've kept many and many a secret, for many and many a man—so you may trust us not to tell!

We'd be delighted to see you . . . at any time you find convenient.
