

Juvenile Advisory Commission Exists Here in Name Only

Plymouth's Juvenile Advisory Commission—set up by charter authority—exists in name only. Its appointed three member group, lacking organization, objectives and funds, has never been put into operation since the City's charter was adopted in October, 1951.

"Yet," agrees Mrs. Gladys Tillotson, one of the Commission's members, "there is a definite need for active participation of a youth commission to co-ordinate varying local groups interested in youths activities." Mrs. Tillotson also sees an urgent demand for the Commission that would act as a liaison between local school groups and State guidance centers.

She cautions that parents and school officials must realistically face the fact that there are youth who need guidance to stabilize them in the face of an environment that does not "completely meet the needs of youth."

The Juvenile Advisory Commission with its trained social worker, Neva Lovewell—local high school teacher, is thought by Mrs. Tillotson to be potentially valuable to handle juvenile cases, on the community level, referred to them by the police or court.

Some school officials say they are not aware that a Juvenile Youth Commission had ever been authorized by the 1951 charter.

Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister states that the school system has its own guidance and counselling service for maladjusted students coming to the attention of teachers. This service consists of one visiting teacher who takes under advisement all cases referred to her by the varying school principals, says the superintendent.

As established by the 1951 city charter, the Juvenile Advisory Commission has broad consulting and advisory powers.

In part, the charter states: "A Juvenile Advisory Commission shall consult and cooperate with the education, recreation, judicial and law enforcement agencies of the City, the county of Wayne and the State of Michigan."

Its consulting powers indicated by the Charter are in respect to programs, undertaking and "actions of agencies affecting or pertaining to the youth of the City."

The structure of the Juvenile Advisory Commission suggests that referrals could be made to it of cases coming to the attention of the police or courts.

It is not unmindful of action taken by parents, juvenile anti-crime leaders and court officials in Monmouth county, New Jersey, who, under a similar law, removed most juvenile cases from the hands of local courts, and stemmed juvenile delinquency by 95 per cent.

The committee of this "unofficial" court examines the youth's individual problem, recommends a solution, considering the youngster's environment and attitude.

The voluntary aspect of the committee has given the plan its phenomenal success, declares Chief Justice Arthur T. Vanderbilt, of the New Jersey Supreme Court.

"The committee thrives on the co-operation of all, even the delinquent and his parents," he said.

Happier lives for the youthful offenders has been one of the results of the plan.

One 10-year-old boy, arrested for a series of thefts, was found to have come from a poor home. His schoolmates continually teased him for his dirty, ragged clothing. Then he began to steal.

Removed from the custody of his parents by the committee, he is reported to be living a normal life with relatives in Ohio.

Of the more than 1,400 youths appearing before the committee since 1948, less than 70 have become second offenders, it is reported. Not one committee decision has been appealed to a court.

"So far as we know," says one committee member, "nothing of this nature has been attempted in any other locality in the country. We feel that results have been unbelievably good. We feel that delinquencies can best be solved by dealing with them on the lowest governmental level."

Added proof for an active Juvenile Advisory Commission comes from statistics released by a State commission on juvenile crime.

'Kiddie Karnival' Set to Entertain Parents August 12

A "Kiddie Karnival" bill of fare is being offered to local parents, August 12, 6 to 8:00 p.m., on the tennis courts at Plymouth High school.

The carnival, to be run entirely by children, is an annual feature of the playground division of the Recreation Department.

It will feature "small fry" staffing refreshment, games of chance and sports booths, serving parents and awarding winners prizes donated by 30 local merchants.

Funds obtained from the carnival will go toward sending 50 children on an August 15 trip to Bob-lo Island, a windup event of the summer playground.

Playground Recreation Director Mrs. Jennie Donnelly says the children to be chosen for the Bob-lo Island treat will be picked on the basis of playground attendance and helpfulness throughout the summer program.

The "Kiddie Karnival" participants are children from Starkweather, Bird, Green Meadows, Smith and Central playgrounds.

They will urge parents to participate in rounds of fortune telling, fish pond, penny toss, weight guessing, balloon, bowling, bingo and other games.

There will be a talent show and refreshments (parents will also pay for these)—added attractions that will give Mother and Dad an opportunity to see their offspring in action.

Designed to bring adults and their children together in a carnival atmosphere "where understanding between them is fostered," Mrs. Donnelly urges parents to participate fully in the carnival fare.

Backed generously by merchants who are making "worthwhile" prize contributions, the Recreation Department anticipates a turnout of nearly 300 persons.

Merchants participating in the affair are: Community Drug, Dodge Drug, Peterson Drug, Sam & Son, Cut Rate, Blunk, Inc., Donnelly Home Supplies, Galin & Son, Better Home Appliance, Eger-Jackson, Inc., Liberty Street Hardware.

Also contributing are: Huston & company, Plymouth Hardware, Heide's Greenhouses, Bullard's New and Used Furniture, Norma Cassidy, Dunnings, Minerva's,

Two-Car Collision Causes Minor Damage

A two-car collision last Saturday that did minor property damage was the only weekend accident reported in the Plymouth area.

The two-car crash came when Eleanor Micol, 18, 918 Hartsough, smashed into the rear of another vehicle driven by Robert Davis, 24, Plymouth Hotel.

According to police reports, the accident occurred when Davis attempted to make a left-hand turn off Plymouth road on to Eckles.

Mrs. Micol, traveling east on Plymouth road, said she did not see the Davis car stop, stating that no tail light was visible.

In Boston, Mass., 2,000 economists, attending an American Economic Association meeting to discuss inflation, found the registration fee had been increased from $1 to $2.

In Detroit, when Bennie Evans was hauled into police court for drinking whisky, insulting women and eating popcorn in a movie theater, Evans indignantly protested: "I have never eaten popcorn in my life."

Ex-Servicemen See Dried Up GI Bank Loans on New Houses

Plymouth's "lead slinging", fighting ex-servicemen are in for a rough time as far as getting GI home loans are concerned. This is the consensus of opinion from local bankers who point to "inadequate administration" of GI loan accounts on the Federal level. The crux of the dried up loan support from bankers here, and in Detroit, is that the "secondary resale value of GI loan mortgages have dropped to 94 cents on the dollar."

Health Experts List Eight Ways to Fight Polio

Though Plymouth has had just one infantile paralysis case so far this year, here is an eight-point program that may help ward off the dreaded disease.

Suggested by the State Health Department, Lansing, it is hoped by officials there that this anti-polio program may have some effect in retarding the alarming State outbreak that so far has topped all previous records.

Michigan's polio count that stands nearly 100 above last year's count at this time, still has to account for August and September, generally months recording the heaviest polio toll.

The Health Department's anti-polio program is listed below.

"1. Insist on rest periods of an hour or two a day for your children. Do not allow them to play to the point of exhaustion. This does not mean rest in bed, but an hour or two of reading, sitting-down games or any quiet activity that can be carried on at home without much physical exertion. This precaution will not prevent polio, but may help to prevent the development of more serious polio if the child already has the virus. Experience has demonstrated that persons who are over-tired when the polio virus is already in their bodies are likely to develop a more serious form of the disease.

"2. Do not allow your children to become chilled. Don't let them stay in swimming until their lips are blue, their teeth chatter and they break out in "goose pimples." Chilling has the same effect as exhaustion in bringing about a more serious condition if the polio virus is in the body.

"3. Keep children within their own circle of friends. There are several strains of the polio virus and it is probable that persons who have acquired immunity to the strains in their own neighborhood may be susceptible to different strains in other areas.

"4. Be alert to detect early signs of sickness, particularly signs similar to the common cold. Low fever, upset stomach, intestinal disturbances, headache, backache, stiff neck or back, tenderness or weakness of muscle groups, may mean polio. Report such signs to your doctor immediately, calling the doctor early is important. Although he has no specific remedy that will stop the disease, he does have a number of methods of treatment that will influence its course and possibly prevent the development of serious paralysis. Early diagnosis, prompt hospitalization and proper treatment are the doctor's weapons against the disease.

"5. Don't allow fear to cloud your judgement. Your anxieties will instill fear in your children. Even if your child should get polio, he has an excellent chance for full recovery. Half of those who get paralytic polio recover completely. And three out of four recover to the extent that they are not handicapped.

"6. Keep your children clean, well-rested and well-fed. See that they wash their hands and face thoroughly before eating, and wash their hands after going to the toilet.

"7. Consult your physician about postponing nose and throat surgery and your dentist about postponing tooth extraction if there is polio in your community.

"8. Observe these same precautions yourself. While 75 per cent of all polio cases occur in children under 16 years of age, the remaining 25 per cent occurs among adults of all ages."

Rosemary Guthrie in Whirl of Pre-Nuptial Festivities

Bridal parties for Rosemary Guthrie, who is to marry Lewis Clinton Litzberg in the First Presbyterian church, Plymouth on Wednesday evening, August 18, continue as hosts from St. Clair Shores, Detroit and Ann Arbor honor her.

Mrs. Clyde Smith of Newburg road entertained at a noon luncheon for 12 on July 23, followed by a linen shower. The guests were old friends of the bride's parents for the past 30 years.

Wednesday evening, July 30, Mrs. Frank Conley of Glastonburg road, Detroit, entertained a group of 15 at a cocktail party and miscellaneous shower. Beautiful five candelabra holding pale blue candles on a blue taffeta cloth matched the cocktail dress worn by Rosemary.

On August 6, a family dinner was given by an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Robert Rankin, at her home on Lake St. Clair.

A noon luncheon was given by Mrs. Dean Zahn, the former Nancy Groth, in her new home

Carrie Denning Bride of Raymond Roy

On July 26 in the First Presbyterian church Carrie Denning repeated her nuptial vows to Raymond Roy of Ann Arbor. Carrie is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Denning of Union City, Tennessee and Raymond's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Roy of Obion, Tennessee.

The candlelight ceremony was performed at 5:30 o'clock in the evening with the Reverend Henry Walch officiating. Large baskets of white gladioli and baby mums adorned the altar.

Carrie, who was given in marriage by a friend, Walter Frost, was lovely in a gown of white nylon tulle and lace. Her veil fell from a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a white Bible centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Walter Frost of Northville assisted the bride as matron of honor. Her gown was of blue lace fashioned with a high neckline and a full sweeping skirt. She carried red roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Mayflower Room of the Mayflower Hotel.

After a honeymoon of two weeks the couple will be "at home" at 531 South Main street in Plymouth.

Many relatives and friends were present from Stockbridge, Byron, Durand, Webberville, Brightmoor, Wayne, South Lyon, Freeland and Plymouth.

The Tobey's received many lovely cards and gifts from their many friends who wish them many more happy years together.

Violet Moore to be Fall Bride

Humane Society News

Since summer is here our pets are having all the discomforts that come with the heat.

Did you know that cats suffer with mites that live in the ear channel? This can be avoided very easily. Just drop a few drops of sweet oil into their ears with an eye dropper. The mites can not live in oil and by doing this once a week they can not get a serious infection.

This treatment also applies to dogs but use a larger dose of oil. Swabbing the ears with cotton batton between treatments of oil, will keep your dog or cat comfortable.

Be sure to see that your dog, cat, and all your pets, have at least one good meal a day. Also, another very important thing is to have fresh water at least once a day and if possible twice a day.

Don't forget that your Humane Society, at 3113 Cherry Hill road, Dixboro, just off of Ann Arbor road, is at your service.

Any animal, large or small, that needs a home will be taken care of here. We have a large selection of dogs and cats, that need you to give them a loving home.

Bring that stray dog or that stray mama cat to us. Give the animal a chance to live and be wanted.

Any donation is sincerely appreciated. For further information telephone 1283-M or 786-J.

To Hike Monthly Pension Checks September First

Nearly every family in the Plymouth area now getting old-age and survivors insurance payments will receive more money beginning with September payments due about October 3.

If the increase does not show on an October check, and an increase is due, a later check will make up the difference. It is not necessary for people already receiving benefits to apply for the increased payments.

Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest social security office, 14600 Grand River avenue, stated last week that recent amendments to the law mean monthly payment increases will range from $5 to $8.60 for practically all of the retired insured workers in this area.

The average increase for retired workers will be about $6.

In general, benefit payments to wives, widows, children, or parents will be increased proportionately.

The increases for dependents and survivors will be about $2 to $5. In a few families the increase will go only to the retired insured worker.

"The reason for this," Baltuck explained, "is that the law always has provided limits to the total of benefits which are paid to any one family in a month."

In some cases, the increased benefit of the retired worker alone will absorb all of the permissible increase. Under these circumstances, he added, the full increase will be given to the retired worker and the benefits to the remaining family members will remain unchanged.

The 1952 amendments to the law also provide for larger payments to future beneficiaries.

Until now, the law has provided for payments to most newly retired persons, equal to 50 per cent of the first $100 of his average monthly wage after 1950, plus 15 per cent of the next $200.

The new law just passed provides for a benefit of 55 per cent of the first $100 of average monthly earnings, plus 15 per cent of the next $200. The effect is an increase of up to $5 a month.

Proportionate increases for dependents' and survivors' benefits will be based on that of the worker. This revised formula will apply generally to most persons who will become eligible for benefit payments in the future, Baltuck said.
