

Lauds Golf After Terming Game "Aggravating"

"It's aggravating..." That was the opening statement of "Chick" Herbert, Meadow Brook golf professional, who told Rotarians last week that "golf is strictly a game of aggravation."

Addressing a capacity audience at Hotel Mayflower, Herbert also had plaudits for the game that more than once has made the air blue with invectives as a button hook curve sliced into a forest of trees and rough.

"Golf is a character revealer," he asserted, claiming that no other game will show character and general attitudes of politeness and tolerance like golf.

Herbert pegged the game of skill as a good game "for everyone." Most persons, he said, are always critical of their own scores, always wanting to become more skillful.

He pointed up to Rotarians that the aggravating part of golf came as the player fought it against the golf course and against par—two factors that do not change from day to day.

Changing the tenor of his speech, Herbert gave his listeners a run down on organizational work necessary to put a national golf tournament on the fairway.

An outstanding figure in professional golfing for over 10 years, Herbert is vice-president of the National Professional Golfers' Association. A 1952 runner-up in NPGA competition, he is famed as the longest ball hitter in the game.

Besides a standing recognition as one of the top 15 NPGA pros, Herbert is also known as a member of the Ryder Cup team that played in England in 1947.

Publisher Eaton Paid Official City Tribute

Journalist and publisher of The Plymouth Mail, Elton R. Eaton was given official tribute last Tuesday in the name of the City of Plymouth for "his never failing interest and helpfulness."

Framing a resolution, City Commissioners permanently recorded in the official records of the City "our deepest sympathy and condolence" to Mrs. Eaton and the Eaton family.

Reprinted below is the resolution in its entirety. WHEREAS, God, in his wisdom, has seen fit to call home Elton R. Eaton, our honored fellow citizen, and WHEREAS, he long has served his community through his never failing interest and helpfulness, and WHEREAS, many benefits have accrued to this City through his leadership in thought and deed, and WHEREAS his high moral standards have been an inspiration to the many residents of the city, both young and old, and WHEREAS, we as Commissioners of the City of Plymouth know the loss, sorrow and loneliness the death of our late friend has occasioned his family, NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that we, on behalf of the citizens of Plymouth, tender his wife and family our deepest sympathy and condolence in their time of sorrow, BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this resolution be spread upon the official records of the City of Plymouth and a copy thereof sent to Mrs. Eaton.

Mr. Eaton, for 22 years owner and publisher of The Plymouth Mail, died August 21 at 71. He was entombed at the Riverside Mausoleum following last rites here on August 25.

"Greatest Show" to Play Here

"The Greatest Show on Earth," a movie of circus life will be shown at the Penn Theater from September 7 through 13.

Performances will be at 6:30 and 9 p.m. nightly, at 3:45 and 8:30 p.m. on Sunday and at 2 p.m. on Saturday. The box office will open 45 minutes before each performance. Prices for this film will be slightly higher than usual.

The movie, like the circus, has an appeal to persons of all ages. The youngsters will thrill to the lions, tigers, and aerial exhibitions. Their older sisters will enjoy the romantic theme. Father will appreciate the philosophy of But- tions, the clown. The older boys will be interested in finding out just who the clown is. Mother will enjoy the problems involved in keeping house in a circus train, and the situations which arise following the fall of one of the acrobats.

Blood Bank Here, September 11

A Plymouth Red Cross sponsored blood drive will kick off here September 11, seeking a 150 pint goal of sorely needed whole blood for men in the Armed Forces and the community.

A mobile unit will be set up at the Masonic Temple from 3:00 to 9:00 p.m., accommodating all comers.

L. J. Norman Guest of Woods & Waters Program

Plymouth fisherman Louis J. Norman was a guest of Jack Van Covering on his Woods and Waters television program last Tuesday night. The popular sports show which appears on Channel 7 each week featured some of the larger fish caught in Michigan waters this summer, one of which, was the bass caught by Mr. Norman near Milford a couple of weeks ago.

Community Fund to Start Drive That Supports 8 Social Services

Early in 1952 the Plymouth Community Fund quietly — and without fanfare or recognition—gave away $17,000. By this act, it signified another milestone in a design to make Plymouth a better place to live through acting as a central collecting agency for eight medical, dental, recreational and social service organizations set up for you—the resident.

But this wasn't the first time PCF had come forward to help community growth and security. Since its organization before World War II, it has turned over an estimated $150,000 to 200,000 community organizations.

And last year's budget support is indicative of a need that will be fulfilled again this year. Starting October 18, the Community Fund kicks off a drive that lasts for two weeks.

It will send subscription notices throughout the City, petitioning city-wide support of industrial leaders, businessmen, service organizations and just plain you—the homeowner and resident.

Yearly, about $9,500 of the PCF budget comes from all local manufacturers, including the Ford Motor company and the Kaiser-Frazer corporation. The rest comes by subscription from generous businessmen and residents who contribute a combined total of about $7,500.

Its current president and board of directors emphasize that the Community Fund is not a charitable organization. Set up with the one objective, "to make for better living," they insist that the Community Fund "just makes possible necessary health and security organizations."

One "disaster" organization — The Salvation Army—is just one example of a PCF supported group whose work crosses community lines.

Supported yearly with a $4,500 budget from the fund, The Salvation Army gives welfare aid after making home calls besides giving emergency aid and disaster aid where needed.

One striking case where the PCF supported Salvation Army put its resources to work for the community is told of a family whose home was burned out from under them. Destitute, with no place to go, their clothing and household furnishings destroyed in the building razed by the disastrous fire, the family was fed, clothed and relocated in another house by the organization working in conjunction with heads of the Community Fund.

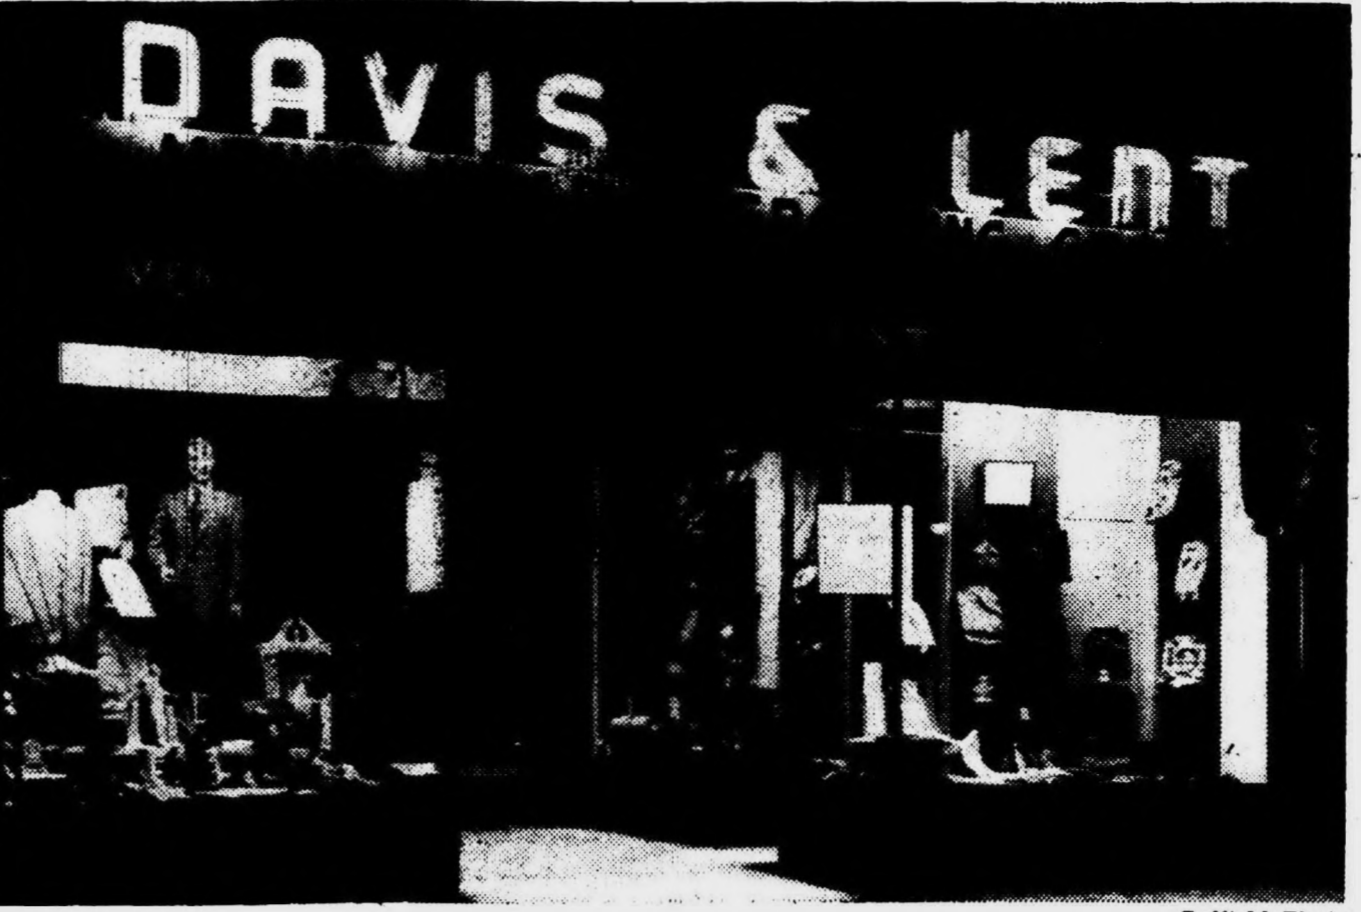

More Parking Area Purchased By Commission

The City Commission authorized the city manager, A. F. Glassford, to purchase the rear parts of lots 174 and 175 on Ann Arbor trail next to the A & P store for use as alley and parking lot.

The property which is owned by Robert Willoughby consists of approximately 6,000 square feet. Purchase price is $2,700.

Also authorized at the regular commission meeting Tuesday evening was the acquisition by gift, purchase, or condemnation parts of lot 173 commonly known as the Jones property.

Negotiations are underway for the acquisition of lot 172 also in the central parking lot area. This property is owned by Carl Peterson.

FINAL INSPECTION of Plymouth High School's gymnasium-swimming pool addition is being made by three school officials preparatory to opening the new structure to students starting the school-bound trek, September 4. Shown from l. to r. on the inspection tour are: Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister, James J. S. Gallimore, President, Board of Education, and Carvel M. Bentley, principal of Plymouth High School.

Building Permit For "E" Shaped Structure Denied

A building permit for an 18-unit multiple dwelling to have been constructed on North Mill street at Rose, was denied by City Engineers last week because of "fire limit" regulations.

The denial revolves around a building permit sought by Joseph Kaufman, vice-president of the Plymouth Development company, with offices in Detroit.

According to the city engineer's office, Kaufman planned to build an 18-unit multiple dwelling in the shape of an "E".

The proposed structure, however, would overlap into the city's "fire limit" that calls for an eight-inch masonry construction as a fire-safety precaution.

Kaufman's building plans called for a four-inch brick-faced structure with frame construction.

The building permit denial was reviewed by City Commissioners who deferred final appeal action on the structure until "more detailed specifications are forthcoming."

Cost estimates of the building project are not immediately available.

Harold Belch Named President of Association

Lincoln Federal and Savings Loan Association of Detroit will hold its grand opening celebration today, Friday and Saturday. The building is located at 17000 Plymouth road near Southfield.

The organization named Harold Belch of Ridge road, president. Charles Wise of Burroughs avenue is secretary of the board of directors. Perry Richwine, also of Plymouth will be the legal counsel.

2 Hurt Seriously as Car Hits Tree

Two Plymouthites received serious injuries last Sunday when their car skidded out of control crashing sideways into a tree.

The accident that occurred on M-66, five miles south of Ionia, put Albert Hubbs, 46, 11021 McClumpha road, and Merritt Rorabacher, 39, 845 Church street, on the critical list at St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Hubbs, most seriously injured, was listed as having a multiple leg fracture, a broken nose and severe head and face lacerations. Rorabacher suffered deep head and facial bruises and lacerations.

Robert D. Burley, 525 Irving street, a member of the Hubbs-Rorabacher party, travelling in another car, said the crash came as Rorabacher avoided crashing into his car, which had slowed down for traffic ahead. He said Rorabacher swung sharply to the right, onto the shoulder of the road, losing control of his car that careened into a tree. Well known among townpeople, Hubbs is part owner of Hubbs and Gilles, electrical contractors, with offices at 433 Auburn St.

Rotary Club Offers Financial Aid to Tight Budgeted College Students

Right now the Plymouth Rotary Club is hunting for university or college bound students from the township school district to whom they can loan money for tuition and supplementary expenses.

This peculiar turnabout offering to help financially "pinched" students through college doors comes as a result of the Rotary's "bill of rights"—an endorsement called The Student Loan Fund. Administered by a scholarship committee of Rotarians and school officials, the Fund works this way, explains Chairman David Mather: "After a student is granted loans from the Fund, he (or she) does not have to begin paying back the loan until six months after graduation from college. Then, he states, the interest rate of four per cent is due periodically along with payments on the principal."

Teacher Wins $100 Prize for "Cathedral" Painting

Donald Thrall, 288 Irving street, came home $100 richer after winning first place award money for a water color painting "Cathedral" in calligraphy.

Thrall was one of 47 artists who won prizes in Michigan exhibits at the Michigan State Fair being shown through September 7. A graduate of Plymouth High school in 1936, he is an art instructor at Cass Technical High school in Detroit.

Plymouth's Hi-12 Club Has First Fall Meet

Plymouth's Hi-12 Club kicked off its fall round of club meets last night with dinner at Mayflower Hotel.

Boasting a membership of 59 Plymouth business and professional men, the club outlined its format for the coming year during a business meeting that followed.

Lent Opens New Store; Names Beegle Partner

Weeks of planning and hard work reach a climax today with the grand opening of Davis & Lent's new store for men and boys at 336 South Main street in Plymouth. Occupying three floors formerly housed by Taylor & Blyton department store, the new home of Davis & Lent offers complete departments for men and boys plus a basement sporting goods department.

Advent of Fall Enlivens Social Clubs Activities

With the arrival of Labor Day and the tolling of the school bell, the various clubs and organizations will again resume their duties and obligations. The majority of the groups have been dormant during the hot summer months and with the advent of fall, will start operation once again.

The Maccabees held their first meeting yesterday, September 3. A pot luck dinner was held in the new hall which is located on Elizabeth street. The dinner meeting was held at 6:30 p.m.

The Masonic Temple will be the scene for the meeting of the Rainbow Girls. This will be held on Monday, September 8. The Eastern Star met on Tuesday, September 2 for their initial meeting.

Members of the American Association of University Women will have a general business meeting on Wednesday, September 17. A dinner meeting will be held at the Mayflower Hotel on Monday, September 15 for all members of the Business and Professional Women.

The Soroptimist Club held a luncheon on Wednesday, September 3. The members will attend a business meeting on Wednesday, September 17. Members of the Plymouth Grange will have a pot luck supper and the usual birthday party tonight at the Grange hall.

The Plymouth Branch of the Michigan Division of Women's National Farm and Garden Association will hold its first meeting on Monday, September 8. The functioning of the Woman's Club will not take place until Friday, October 3, at which time the first meeting of the new season will take place.

Definite plans for the Girl Scout Leaders Club haven't been revealed as yet; however, the first meeting will take place sometime in October. Members of the Plymouth Historical Society will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jolliffe, at 974 Penniman avenue, on Thursday, September 11. This will be the first meeting of the new term for this organization.

Daughters of the American Revolution, Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter will meet September 15 at the home of Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill.

U of M Club Plans Send-Off Dinner

The annual college send-off dinner sponsored by the University of Michigan club will be held Thursday, September 11 at 6:30 p.m. in Bird school.

All present and prospective college students and their parents are invited to attend. All attending except the college students should bring their own table setting and a dish to pass. Coffee will be furnished by the club.

Following the dinner there will be the singing of college songs and entertainment furnished by J. Fred Lawton, co-author of such Michigan songs as "Varsity," "Take Me Back to College," and "Michigan, Good-bye." Mr. Lawton will reminisce about college days at Michigan and give his rendition of Fielding H. Yost during half time and the mob scene from "Julius Caesar".

For reservations call Mrs. W. E. Ackerman, 1333-W or Mrs. Nellie Bird, 289-M. All persons living in Plymouth and vicinity who attended the U. of M., whose children do, or who are interested in the University are invited to become members of the club.

Fall Rains Prove Boon to Farmers

Before the month of August blew out, giving way to September, it caused some persons a lot of concern—especially hard-pressed farmers. And well they might be concerned, for at stake were late summer corn and wheat crops, pumpkins, squash and fall potatoes all drying up for lack of rain that this last month was nearly an inch below normal.

The U. S. Weather Bureau also reports that August temperatures ranged upwards to four degrees above normal. During the hot, dry month, Plymouthites sought everything to escape four days of 90 degree temperatures held up by an additional 12 days of 85 degrees or above heat spells. With normal rainfall averaging 2.73 during the month, farmers really sweat out the 1.86 inches of actual rainfall. The thing that really hurt was the way the rain was spread out. Lent

Wendell Lent, proprietor, announced that the grand opening celebration would take place Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 4, 5 and 6. Gifts and prizes will be given to all visitors. Formerly located at 811 Penniman, Davis & Lent is Plymouth's oldest downtown men's store.

In announcing the grand opening plans, Lent also revealed that Charles Beegle has become a partner with Lent in the Plymouth store. Beegle has been associated with Davis & Lent for nearly nine years and Lent stated that he was given the opportunity to become a partner in the business because of the store's policy to promote its own employees.

Beegle, formerly business manager, will become general manager taking overall charge of the three departments. Lent will continue as a principle owner and direct operations of the Plymouth store as well as his Wayne store.

When customers visit the new store, they will be greeted by a strikingly modern interior scheme with blond cabinets, fixtures and display stands contrasting with deep green wall shades. Glass show cases offering "serve yourself" display counters make it

Cars of Future Shown Kiwanians

Plymouth Kiwanians were given a "look into the future" of the automotive field Tuesday evening as Program Chairman John Bloxom presented a Ford Motor Company engineering film. The program took place at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club in the Mayflower hotel.

The highly interesting film, shown in color, introduced the method by which a dream in an artist's mind is transferred from the drawing board to a reality. Step by step the procedure involves first the sketch, then a more complete drawing, next a miniature clay model. If the model is considered worthy, its next step is to become a full scale clay reproduction. Finally, after this long series of operations including both body design and engine experimentation, the first true model is ready to be built.

The cost of this first car is, of course, impossible to estimate. However, after it has been thoroughly tested both on our highways and in the laboratories, mass production then takes over and the automobile is available to the public at a cost that can be afforded by millions.

Re-Opens Dental Office

Dr. S. N. Thams, a former Plymouth dentist, announced this week that he has re-opened dental offices in Plymouth.

Dr. Thams left this city 11 years ago to practice in Ypsilanti. His new Plymouth office is at 1100 W. Maple.

Davis & Lent Opens Today

 simple for shoppers to inspect merchandise even without the help of a clerk.
 The main floor is entirely devoted to men's suits, coats, hats and accessories. It offers more than ample floor space with wide aisles and many open displays. The basement store is devoted to sporting goods. Included is a complete line of equipment for the fisherman, hunter, golfer, tennis or archery enthusiast, baseball, football and a host of other sports and games.

Lent is particularly proud of the new second floor department, a complete store for boys from age six to 18. In addition to boys' clothing this department also features Boy Scout apparel and equipment. Lent particularly stressed the fact that this department is owned and operated by Davis & Lent and is a new part of their store operation.

Thus far only one new face has been added to the roster of Davis & Lent clerks. Mrs. Mildred Levering, who is familiar to many in Plymouth in the boys' wear field, will manage the new second floor department. Edwin Wingard, for six years a member of the Davis & Lent force has been given complete charge of the main floor men's wear department. The basement sporting goods floor will be supervised by William Farwell.

Directs Women's Childrens' Play Activities With Professional Touch

By Jack H. Lewis

Tiny, diminutive Jennie E. Donnelly, for all her five feet height, is one more added proof that men can no longer scoff or look down their nose at women as inequals in professional life.

Married, with two children nearing adulthood, 40-year-old Mrs. Donnelly maintains a stolid, respected position as director of women's and childrens' recreation for all Plymouth's eight schools.

Youthful, with the zest of a teen-ager, Mrs. Donnelly has left behind her a record of accomplishments. In just a two-year span she has given Plymouth two additional playgrounds, a doubled playground attendance, a new teen-age program, sports and activities for girls and a "small fry" pre-school program where none existed before.

She first became interested in juvenile and teen-age recreation as youth director, heading Plymouth's Girl Scout Troop 13, a position she held for five years, until 1950.

A day camp counselor and later women's recreational director for the city, she recently received a boost up the professional ladder—and a hike in salary—when the recreation department was transferred to the school system last July.

An advocate of teen-age and juvenile "rights", Mrs. Donnelly believes her charges should have a voice, helping chart the course of recreation.

"Anything teen-agers feel is lacking in the recreational format," she stated, "they certainly should come forward and ask for it."

Though she mentioned nothing about a teen-age youth center where dances, social gatherings and "coke" parties could be held, it was (and still is) a subject open to exploration by teen-age leaders within their own groups.

Working closely with school officials to give youth a large and varied recreational program, this and her other background, has given Mrs. Donnelly not only her youthful appearance but has left her with an attitude of the "young in heart."

I feel duty bound, she stated, "to give every child an opportunity to participate in activities that will help him recognize his talents and hobbies—to give him (or her) a sufficient variety of activities that are character and moral builders."

Posing these questions: Do we listen to teen-agers, do we know what they need and want? Mrs. Donnelly indicated they were two guide posts that are equally valid in the recreational realm or in the home.

Highlighting "guidance" of youth rather than strict authoritarian thinking, she warned that parents "must remain flexible in their thinking" about their offspring.

Taking a deep interest in her own children, she steered her son, Arthur, 18, in through college doors, starting this Fall. Her daughter, Joan, 15, is a Plymouth High school student.

Not satisfied with grooming her own children, running a busy household and directing the recreational course of school-age youth, Mrs. Donnelly is also a youth advisor for the Presbyterian church, helping set up a youth program under religious guidance.

An alumnus of the University of Michigan and Oberlin Conservatory of Music (Cleveland, Ohio), Director Donnelly was a music major while in college.

James Potters to Reside in Plymouth

Announcement is made of the marriage on Friday, August 29, of Cecil Thorne and James Potter. The ceremony was held at the Bethesda Evangelical Lutheran church in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Paulson were the couple's only attendants. They are cousins of the bride.

After a honeymoon to Chicago, Illinois the young people returned to Plymouth where they will make their home on Joy road.

Mrs. Potter has been with the City of Plymouth for the past few years and Mr. Potter is with Dunn Steel Products Company.

The 6,430 hospitals in the nation admitted 17,023,513 patients last year to their 1,456,912 beds. Total cost of care: $3,650,000,000.

PROFESSIONALISM IN RECREATION with a woman's touch has made Jennie E. Donnelly, director of women's and childrens' recreation, outstanding in her career helping build character and healthful "play" attitudes among school children of Plymouth's eight schools. "I believe," says youthful Mrs. Donnelly, mother of two children, "that teen-agers should have a growing recognition and voice in affairs that are peculiar to their age groups."

Grows Peaches Foot in Circumference

Welcome Hale peaches 12 and a quarter inches in circumference were grown by Mrs. Thomas Price and her son Thomas, junior, on their farm at 40721 East Ann Arbor road. Mrs. Price reports that they have approximately 200 bushels of the peaches which they sell from their house.

Three of the giant peaches are on display in the window of The Plymouth Mail.

Hand Fans 'Lose Face' as Women Use Other Wiles

A MINOR casualty of the mechanical age is the fan, not the electric fan but the "light instrument held in the hand and used for the raising of a current of air to cool the face."

In more delicate, pre-mechanical times, ladies often depended on fans to signal swains—summoning them or dismissing them, encouraging or discouraging them. "Women," said an English wit of a gentler age, "are armed with fans as men with swords—and sometimes do more execution with them."

The fan itself is an ancient device. Fans have been found in the tombs of Egyptian pharaohs; they were known to the Chinese 5,000 years ago, and they were made by the ancient Greeks and Romans.

Probably the first fans were used in prehistoric times for the winnowing of grain and as bellows to fan the flames of campfires. They are still employed for this purpose in many parts of the world. Their first use as cooling devices probably was purely coincidental.

A more romantic version of the origin of the fan is found in mythology. Cupid is said to have plucked a wing—or maybe just a handful of feathers—from the back of Zephyrus, god of the west wind, to fan his beloved Psyche as she lay sleeping on a bed of roses.

Feathers have been used in fans from the first. The ancient Egyptian fans employed peacock and other feathers; the oriental fans often were made of feathers, and they were sometimes incorporated into European fans which reached their peak in artistry in the 18th century.

The folding fan was invented by the Japanese in the seventh century, A.D., and probably was brought to Europe by Portuguese traders a thousand years later. These folding fans used many materials, such as ivory, mother-of-pearl, tortoise shell, and carved sandalwood for the sticks, or ribs.

An exhausted householder in Sacramento, California, begged authorities to change the neon sign outside his house which, though it pointed to the hospital two blocks away, appeared to point to his door, had him up all night answering calls of expectant mothers.

Wheelchair Now Available To Plymouthites

A wheelchair is now available to residents of Plymouth and surrounding area due to the efforts of the Soroptimist club of Plymouth. The wheelchair may be obtained at no cost by calling the Sonderegger Funeral home. Members of the club recently donated a pair of occasional chairs. The proceeds from this were used to purchase the wheelchair. Mrs. Chris Burghardt was the winner of the chairs.

"The next thing which the club plans on buying is a hospital bed," stated Mrs. John Henderson, president of the organization.

"The purpose of the club is service," she continued, "and any ideas of ways we could serve would be welcome. Persons with suggestions may contact Neva Lovgwell, service chairman, or any member of the club."

Gas Space Heating Unit Installation Still Restricted

Removal of Petroleum Administration for Defense restrictions on use of natural gas in this area involves no real change in the local situation, according to District Manager George L. Mayhew. "Connecting of additional gas space-heating customers," Mayhew said, "will continue for the present time on a restricted basis."

"Some months ago, the Company found itself in a position to connect 15,000 additional space-heating customers," said Mayhew. "We asked and obtained the approval of both the Michigan Public Service Commission and the Petroleum Administration for Defense. We are now well along with the connecting of those 15,000 customers."

"The removal of PAD restrictions is a welcome development. We have always felt that the Michigan Public Service Commission, which is thoroughly familiar with local conditions, was the proper agency to exercise control in Michigan."

"Consumers is now free to supply natural gas to large industrial customers without asking the approval of any regulatory body. It formerly was necessary to obtain a certificate from PAD. Certificates were granted to all industrial cases submitted."

Bainy Biographies
MARK TWAIN and Chauncey M. Depew once went abroad on the same ship. When the ship was a few days out they were both invited to a dinner, and when speech-making time came, Mark Twain had the first chance. He spoke twenty minutes and made a great hit. Then it was Mr. Depew's turn. "Mr. Toastmaster and Ladies and Gentlemen," said the famous raconteur as he rose, "Before this dinner Mark Twain and myself made an agreement to trade speeches. He has just delivered my speech, and I thank you for the pleasant manner in which you received it. I regret to say that I have lost the notes of his speech and cannot remember anything he was to say." Then he sat down, and there was much laughter.

"My rubber," said Nat Goodwin, the famous actor, describing a Turkish bath that he once had in Mexico, "was a very strong man. He laid me on a slab and kneaded me in a most emphatic way. When it was over and I had gotten up, he came up behind me, before my sheet was adjusted, and gave me three resounding slaps on the back with the palm of his enormous hand."

"What the blazes are you doing?" I gasped, staggering.

"No offense, sir," said the man, "it was only to let the office know that I was ready for the next bath. You see, sir, the bell's out of order in this room."

A story of Winston Churchill—told by Gertrude Atherton: "Shortly after he left the Conservative side of the House (of Commons) for the Liberal, he was taking a certain young woman down to dinner, when she looked up at him coquettishly, and remarked with the audacity of her kind: "There are two things I don't like about you, Mr. Churchill. "And what are they?" "Your new politics and mustache." "My dear madam," he replied suavely, "pray do not disturb yourself. You are not likely to come in contact with either."

Last Rites Read For Iva Richards

Mrs. Iva Richards of 15593 Wakeden, Redford township passed away August 26 in Mount Clemens where she was visiting a sister. She had been ill for two weeks.

Mrs. Richards was born in Gallia, Ohio, in June 1881.

She is survived by two sons, Blaine of Petersburg, Ohio, and Earl of Redford township; three sisters, Grace Clark and Bertha Macomber of Rio Grand, Ohio, and Maude Schafer of Mount Clemens; a brother Charles Evans of Fostoria, Ohio.

Services were held Thursday, August 28 from the Sonderegger Funeral home at 2 p.m. Reverend R. R. Feuill officiated. Interment was in Parkview cemetery, Livonia.

A "blind" panhandler in Chicago who was asked by a policeman, "Didn't I arrest you a few months ago?" was carted off to the clink after answering, "I never saw you before in my life!"

FROM OUT IN SALINA, COLORADO comes this action shot of an old narrow gauge railroad engine being operated by Plymouth's Robert Shingleton. Mr. and Mrs. Shingleton are again vacationing in the mountains they love so dearly where they pass their days searching old mines and panning for gold. The railroad is one which was familiar to Mr. Shingleton in the old days when he spent much time in that section of the country. Here reminiscing with old friends he takes time out to remember his Plymouth neighbors and say that he will soon be home and after all there is no better place to be than Plymouth.

Funeral Services Held For Infant

Graveside services were held Tuesday, September 2 at 10 a.m. at Cadillac Memorial Gardens, Nankin township, for Baby Boy Pardon, the infant son of Dwight J. and Irene Pardon, who passed away Sunday, August 31. Mr. and Mrs. Pardon reside at 42008 Cherry Hill road in Canton township.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his brother, Allen Ross; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glass of Plymouth, aunts and uncles and other relatives.

The service was under the direction of the Schrader Funeral home of Plymouth.

Hens with lice usually are "lousy" layers.

Services Held For Laura M. Bender

Mrs. Laura M. Bender, 72, formerly of Plymouth, passed away at her home in Chandler, Indiana, August 28.

Surviving are her husband, Karl; two daughters, Mrs. Helen Elliott of Plymouth and Mrs. Edith Christen of Chandler; a son Oscar, of Houston, Texas; a brother, Dr. L. E. Werry of Hartford City, Indiana; a sister Mrs. Sam White of Elberfeld, Indiana and four grandchildren.

Active pallbearers were six nephews, Les Werry, Norman Preston, and Forrest, Maurice, Mason and Sam White.

Funeral services were held from the Koehler Brothers Funeral home, Boonville, Indiana. Interment was in Maple Grove cemetery, Boonville.

FALL

Fall is a-hustle, a-bustle, a swift arrow whistling from the past straight to the future. Fall is the harvest of yesterday's labors and it is the planning for tomorrow. Its sparkling spirit, its crisp and crackling air, hasten us to our preparations, just as it sends the wild goose swiftly soaring on its way to warmer climates. Its tempestuous turmoil of color, copied in clothes and furnishings, beckons us to our shop windows. Its message is this: Prepare now. I am Fall... messenger of Winter.

objectives with students. And school officials evaluate the applicant's probable "degree of success" doing college work.

The Student Loan Fund is largely the work of the late George A. Smith, first president of the Plymouth Rotary club. He was largely responsible for the start of the fund that since has been merged with the George A. Smith Memorial Fund.

That fund was set up by friends and associates of Mr. Smith who died in July, 1951. Since the Rotary and Memorial Fund were similar in objectives, the two were merged earlier this year. The combined funds are now known officially as "The Plymouth Rotary Club Student Loan Fund. Founded by George A. Smith, 1945".

Members of the loan fund besides Chairman Mather are: Russell Isbister, Frank Henderson, Robert Willoughby, Lewis Goddard and Evered Jolliffe. Any student who attended school in the Plymouth township school district and desiring to apply for a loan may receive application forms from any one of the six board members.

In Youngstown, Ohio, Nurse Gwendolyn Owens, 24, ignored the railroad brakeman's red lantern, drove on until she crashed into a train, later explained: "I didn't want to stop in that neighborhood after dark."

Thirty-eight of every 100 men shopping for a suit of clothes take their wives along to help select it. Incidentally, only 37 per cent of men want vests with their suits, and most of these live in—of all places—the Deep South.

WELL, fans finally got a look at Bing Crosby on television recently when he and Bob Hope combined talents and efforts in a 14 1/2 hour telethon to raise funds for the Olympic teams... We can only go along with the others in saying that Bing is perhaps the greatest TV natural to come along since Godfrey... The wildest enthusiasm heralding his debut wouldn't be overdone... The man is all showman, quick-witted, talented (this is not news, of course) and easygoing.

When he and Hope can team up and read just pages of contributions for hours and make it entertaining, that's showmanship! In addition, there was a lot of wonderful entertainment by such luminaries as their sidekick, Dorothy Lamour, who, incidentally, stayed up through the whole 14 1/2 hours with them (and the three of them looked just as fresh at the end as they did when they started), Ezio Pinza, Martin and Lewis, Rosemary Clooney, Robert Young, Fred MacMurray, and many, many others.

Highlights were probably the half-hour of lunacy contributed by Martin and Lewis and the priceless trio comprised of Hope, Crosby and Pinza singing "Doodle-Dee-Dee"... Just hope now that Crosby will consent to having his own show this fall for he is sadly needed by a medium floundering for talent.

PLATTER CHATTER

COLUMBIA:—Doris Day has a good disc to follow her sensational "Guy Is a Guy"... It's "Take Me in Your Arms" backed by "When I Fall in Love"... Quite a change of pace for madam after her "Guy" hit, but the nice thing about Doris is that she is versatile and can sing a novelty or ballad equally well... Toni Arden does a super job on the new "Take My Heart," a tune headed for the big time... "Tell Your Tale, Nightingale" is on the flip side... Arthur Godfrey keeps rolling with two tunes, "Buzzybody" and "Can You Whistle Johanna?"

Hold Last Rites For Livonia Crash Victim

Funeral services were held early today for a mother of three who died last Monday following an auto crash that injured two other members of the family.

Dead is Mrs. Isabell Sheets, 48, 30451 Plymouth road, Livonia, for whom last rites were paid at St. Michaels church in Rosedale Gardens.

Rosary for the dead woman was said during brief ceremonies at Schrader Funeral Home, at 8:30, last night.

Surviving Mrs. Sheets are her husband, Leo J. and three sons, Richard, Robert and James. Seven brothers and four sisters are also listed as survivors of Mrs. Sheets.

Arrangements for the 10:30 a.m. funeral were made by the Schrader Funeral home.

on ability to pay.

"With hundreds of local nursing calls behind it, the Visiting Nurses association is calling upon the Community Fund for an additional budget allocation of $1,000, indicating a 100 per cent growth of area-wide nursing care of Plymouthites.

The Well Baby Clinic that meets once a week at Plymouth High school during the fall and spring semesters is attended by a physician and nurse. Valuable nursing and feeding hints as well as physical examinations make this an outstanding service to mothers.

Dental care for youngsters at reduced costs is one result of the Plymouth Dental Fund. Parents whose tight budgets do not permit ready dental care are given a boost here by the fund that works this way:

After a school dental technician discovers the need for dental repairs, the youngster is sent to a dentist by his parents who receive a helping hand from the fund to pay the dental bill. After the minimum charge is made to the fund, the parent pays back the loan in easy installments.

The Veterans' Memorial Fund is another allocation accounted for in PCF budget ledgers. Yearly, it receives $2,700 to pay the cost of maintaining the Main street building—meeting place of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and their auxiliaries. Deeded to the city by the Hough family, support of the veterans' memorial is being reduced by 27 per cent.

Receiving over one-third of the Community Fund's budget are three organizations who have as their objectives character building through recreation. They are: the school recreation fund which receives $3,000 each year, along with the Boy Scouts, Sunset division, $1,948, and the Girl Scouts who get $1,325 to support the troop's day camp.

Concerning the yearly campaign for funds to support the eight community organizations, fund officials point out that there is a continual need for support.

"We receive funds committed to us throughout the year, we never stop accepting contributions—there is a constant need," says one official.

He points out that nearly every person participates at one time or another in the groups supported by public contributions that can be mailed in any amount to the Plymouth Community Fund, Plymouth, Michigan.

They say that many a fellow who boasts of being a self-made man shouldn't have quit work so soon. Actually, a self-made man is as rare as zipper on a banana. We all owe a lot to other people. And the chances are that we all owe plenty to school teachers. Teaching is not the easiest or the best paid profession in the country... and that's the understatement of the month. With school just starting again for another year, millions of tomorrow's adult citizens will be getting a head start in the nation's classrooms. And teachers deserve a world of credit for making big ones out of little ones. See where there's a new kind of fragrant spray that is being used on pigs to make them smell like hyacinths or roses. Sounds like they're going hog-wild. There's always something new at PETERSON DRUG. Whether it is cosmetics, drugs or greeting cards. Besides we have the newest and most modern drug store in Plymouth. MILAN LEGGETT, Dallas, Texas, one day was at work when a man walked in and introduced himself as representing the light and power company of his city. Milan is employed with a broadcasting station and their electrical service had recently been switched from another company to the one his caller represented, and he had come to see what their total power consumption was so that a contract could be drawn up for their electrical service. The two men made the rounds of the building, and Milan told the other man just what the power drain of the water cooler, water pump, and air compressor was. He explained the transmitter stepped outside and looked up the towers, he gave the figures for the tower lighting system.

During this time he noticed that his visitor was fascinated by the transmitter, so he explained its operation as best he could. They went from one end of the transmitter to the other and he told why they were necessary. He showed the large tubes that cost $400 each, and again as they stepped outside he explained why they had five towers and why they were a certain height.

Before his caller left, he gave Milan his card on which he wrote his residence phone number, and said: "If you ever have a power failure or other trouble with our electrical service call me. You can call the trouble division, but if you call me, perhaps I can expedite matters." This meant that someday he might be able to save Milan's company a loss of revenue by expediting power line repairs. Since this courtesy was volunteered, Milan is sure that talking in terms of the other man's interest is what prompted it.

Opossum "Thief" Caught Trying to Raid Store

O la la, de thief, he was caught red-handed. And he got thrown in the garbage can amid screeching howls. Mon golly, he was darn mad.

The alleged thief, says Dean Saxton, owner of the Saxton Feed Store, 587 West Ann Arbor trail, was a brown-haired opossum—a foot-long fillet de fury.

And he was really spitting mad, says Saxton. "We caught him trying to raid the store for a free meal."

Caught by his son, Dr. Dean Saxton, a veterinarian, about midnight, last Monday, the 'possum didn't play dead. He backed up against the door hissing and splitting the air with screeching howls.

Lodged in a garbage can prison with a piece of mesh wire over the top, the Saxtons are at a loss as to what to do with the thief. Says elder Saxton: "We might take him up north..." Before concluding, however, he mentioned something about 'possum steaks. "They're pretty good," he says.

In the two days during the month, an inch of rain was recorded with three other days yielding the majority of the remaining .86 of an inch. Then came the heat that took the rain right back where it came from.

With September already yielding three-quarters of an inch of rain, the month ahead looks like it may run a natural course, say weather experts.

An average September to them is a mean temperature of 62.9 degrees with a daily maximum of 73.3 degrees and a low of 52.3.

Precipitation average for the month is 2.36 inches.

Weathermen point out, however, that September can do funny things. They report that in 1943 the temperature one day of the month surged to 93 degrees. A 1942 low, on the other hand, was recorded at a cool, cool 33 degrees.

With the way pointed to cooling temperatures, the Weather Bureau warns that we are getting closer to dew-hardened (frost) weather.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Ad Zachary Martinville, Ill.: I remember when we broke a hamestrung or a trace chain, we made one out of hickory bark—also we spliced trace chain with same.

From S. I. McGinnis, Calloden, W. Va.: I remember when my parents stored 60-gallon barrels of pickle beans, saur kraut, and sorghum molasses in our smoke house every fall.

From Mrs. Grace DuEr, Marysville, Wash.: I remember when my grandmother took all the dishes and other glassware that was broken in the household out to the chicken yard, where she put them on a flat rock and pulverized them with an old hammer so the hens would have grit.

From Mrs. Frank Johnson, Fayetteville, Ark.: I remember when we made hats out of corn shucks. We didn't have screen doors at that time, and when we went to eat, we children had to keep the flies away with buck brush.

From Amelia Doctor, Denver, Col.: I remember when we cooked apple butter in large quantities outdoors in big iron kettles and everybody took turns stirring the apple butter while it was cooking.

From E. E. Meredith, Fairmont, W. Va.: I remember when young men showed off by jumping off the streetcar before it came to a stop.

WHERE IT PINCHES... New York cop hovers over Marcia Yonushewski who sits with her diaper caught between steps of escalator at IRT subway station. She received only fundamental bruises.

"EASY DOES IT"

EVER THINK of mustard with string beans? It's a new flavor treat well worth trying. The beans, whether they're canned, frozen, or fresh, will taste better, you'll find, if you blend a pinch of dry mustard with the minced parsley and melted butter as a sauce just before serving.

You can fix leftover corn stewed, in a pudding, or perhaps in a creamy corn soup. For a more flavormore second appearance, try using ground allspice as a seasoning. It makes a wonderful "pepperupper."

Allspice is good too, with other vegetables such as carrots and tomatoes. Just add 1/4 teaspoon ground allspice to melted butter before pouring over vegetables.

On a slice of rye bread, place a slice of "boiled" ham and a thick layer of lettuce. Top with a slice of Swiss cheese, another slice of ham and more lettuce. Pour Thousand Island dressing over all. You can eat this one with a knife and fork! Serve sizzling pork sausage links with mashed potatoes, cooked peas heated with undiluted cream of mushroom soup, and a crisp tossed salad.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Welsh Rarebit (Serves 5-6)
1 tablespoon butter or substitute
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cayenne
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 cup milk
1 egg, beaten
3 cups shredded nippy cheese

Melt butter in saucepan (or top part of double boiler). Remove from heat. Add flour and seasonings. Stir until smooth. Gradually stir in milk. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Stir in cheese and heat until melted, stirring frequently. Just before serving, stir in egg. Serve on crisp crackers or toast triangles garnished with a sprinkle of paprika.

Ever serve sliced green peppers as an accompaniment to veal, chicken or lamb? Slice the peppers in rings about one-half inch thick. Season with salt and paprika. Then coat lightly with flour and fry until tender.

Scalloped potatoes are such a rib-sticking dish, you've probably wondered why they wouldn't make a main dish. Why not, if you add some sliced leftover ham, salami or bologna to the potatoes?

To solve her problem impartially, a woman in Cookeville, Tennessee, reserved space for her grave between the graves of her two husbands, ordered the tombstone to read: "Their Wife".

These Events Were News

25 Years Ago

With almost double the number of prizes offered in any previous year, and with numerous new and interesting attractions, all indications are that the gala day of Farmington American Legion on Labor day will draw the largest crowd in years. Arrangements have been completed for the presentation of three performances of high-class vaudeville. Stars of note on the vaudeville stage have been secured, among them Marino Brothers, musicians; Jack Gregory and company, of "Novelty Land," and the "Rex Trio," a father and two small sons of exceptional acrobatic ability.

Sometime ago the Chamber of Commerce appointed C. H. Rauch and Paul Lee as a committee to present some suitable signs to be placed upon three of the main highways entering Plymouth. The committee has contracted for three large signs, 13 x 27 feet in size, which are to be constructed of metal and wood. They are to be done in colors and when completed will be very attractive indeed. Across the top of the sign in large letters will be the word "Plymouth." Beneath this will appear the words "The Air Rifle City of the World." In the panel in the center will be something relating to the new Mavilower Hotel. At the sides of this panel will be the Rotary and Kiwanis emblems.

On another page of this paper will be found the announcement of the People's Bargain Store, which will open in the store room recently vacated by the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, in the Plymouth hotel block, Saturday. They will carry a line of dry goods and shoes.

H. R. Lush, manager of the Penniman Allen theatre, announces that starting Sunday the local theatre will be open every evening. There will be changes of program on Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturdays. Some splendid big feature pictures and comedies have been booked for showing this fall at this popular playhouse.

It was a hundred years ago that William Duntop drove his covered wagon into the wilderness of Michigan and founded a home upon the site upon which the village of Northville is now located. Our neighboring village most fittingly observed this event last Friday and Saturday, when Northville celebrated its centennial with games, races, a barbecue, dancing, speaking, a monster parade and the renewing of old friendships.

Henry Hondorp, village commissioner, was quite painfully bruised last Sunday evening when he turned out to avoid hitting a car driven by John Rattenbury, also of this place, one and one-half miles west of Salem, and his car hit a bridge abutment. Several other passengers in the Hondorp car were uninjured. The car was badly demolished.

According to a statement released a few days ago by Raymond M. Foley, Federal Housing Administration director of Michigan, Plymouth will be permitted to build 125 new homes in the immediate future. This new home construction program is a part of an effort of the government to relieve the housing situation around the Ford bomber plant.

Kenneth Groth has bought out the interest of his partner, Orlo Owen, in the business of the Ken and Ork lunch room on Penniman avenue. The Ken and Ork enterprise was started in 1938.

Plymouth's first collection of tin cans for salvage, made last Saturday by city trucks, netted approximately 1,500 pounds states City Manager C. H. Elliott.

Fire destroyed the sawdust bin of the Plymouth Mill supply building located at the northwest corner of Ann Arbor trail and Mill street Tuesday night with an estimated damage of $700. Spontaneous combustion is believed to have caused the fire in the bin which was filled with wood shavings, according to the fire department.

The local ration board which serves Plymouth and surrounding area has issued an average of two tons of sugar for canning purposes every day since August 17 when the fall canning rush started. More than 150 applicants have been served at the ration board office each day.

According to an announcement from U. S. Naval procurement officers in Chicago, Miss Lorraine Corbett of Plymouth has been accepted for midshipman training in the WAVES, the Women's Auxiliary Voluntary Emergency Service.

Mrs. R. L. Hills and daughter, Shirley have returned home after spending the summer in the east visiting relatives and friends. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Hill's mother, Mrs. W. E. Baker, who will remain for an indefinite visit.

Marcia Wilkie, who on September 8 enters St. Joseph Academy in Adrian, was given a most pleasant surprise by some of the younger children, Friday at the home of Jack Ridley. A luncheon was enjoyed with games afterward which included a treasure hunt. Those planning the party were Jack, Bob, Patsy and Shirley Sexton and Irene, Mary Jane and Betty Dely.

Dorthea Hance was the guest of honor at a personal shower last Thursday evening given by Miss Dorothy Ebersole in her home on Maple avenue. The bride to be was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mjstick announce the marriage of their daughter, Betty Ann to Ernest Gauss of Ann Arbor. The ceremony took place on Monday, August 24 at Toledo, Ohio.

Mrs. Charles Westfall of Holbrook avenue announces the engagement of her daughter, Helen J. Jones, to Stanley Schlieve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schlieve of Muskegon.

Annual Flower Show to Be Held September 11

"Fall Glory" is the theme of the annual flower show of the Rose-dale Gardens Progressive club, garden division. The show will be presented September 11 at Bushnell Congregational church, on Southfield near Grand River.

Entries will be accepted from 9 a.m. until noon. The public is invited to view the exhibits which include arrangements, educational exhibits and cultural displays from 2 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Rats may raise four or more litters a year, averaging from six to ten a litter. They are expensive boarders. Controlling them will save grain, help control disease and save possible losses of young farm animals and poultry.

"I never cease to marvel..."

writes Mrs. Mabel Sykes of Lansing

Dear Friends:

When I started to write a check for my bill this month, I couldn't help but think how much service it represented.

Friends in Grand Rapids were moving to New Jersey. A call to them made it possible to make arrangements for them to stop here on their way.

I received word that a sister was very ill out in Iowa. Just by lifting my receiver and giving a number in Cedar Rapids, I was in touch with home and assurance that all was coming along fine.

I never cease to marvel how easily we call across the country now without even a wait for the call to go through.

I am not unmindful of the multitude of people who make this service possible, and I wish it were possible to say "thank you" to each one of them.

Sincerely yours,
Mabel Sykes

Continued Use of "Wonder Drug" Okay'd by FDA

Federal health authorities have OK'd the continued use of the "wonder drug" Chloromycetin providing, they said, that bottles containing the disease killing drug are properly labelled indicating the dangerous after effects on some types of persons.

The Food and Drug Administration of the Federal Security Agency announced last week that it had given the go-ahead after weighing the value of the drug against its possible harmful effects. The Administration decided that the drug "should continue to be available for careful use by the medical profession in those serious and sometimes fatal diseases in which its use is necessary."

Chloromycetin, an antibiotic (bacteria-killing) drug, has been administered to 8 million patients since it came on the market three years ago. The drug came under suspicion when reports began to come in of blood disorders attributed to its use. The Food and Drug Administration immediately started a nation-wide survey in June of the case records in hospitals and clinics of patients who had used the drug.

The findings of this survey were turned over to a committee of outstanding authorities on blood disorders and infectious diseases. The committee, in its report on the findings, confirmed the belief that some blood disorders have been associated with the use of Chloromycetin.

It pointed out that even though such complications in the use of the drug have been uncommon, they were sufficiently important to justify a warning label on the drug.

The committee also advised against its use in minor infections where it is not absolutely necessary, and concluded that blood studies to determine the reaction of the patient should be carried on by the doctor when he is administering Chloromycetin.

This marks the third intensive investigation which the wonder drug has successfully passed. The effect of the investigation is to allow physicians to continue to use the antibiotic according to their own best judgment, and to make them aware of the precautions they should take in using this valuable and powerful aid in fighting infections.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE
 Default having been made in the performance of the conditions of a mortgage made by NICHOLAS C. KARAGAS and MELANTHEE B. Here's how

In painting wicker chairs and furniture use a stiff, long-handled brush to reach down into the small openings. Enamel for this type of furniture should be thinned with a bit of turpentine. In doing other porch and lawn furniture don't forget it requires a different type of enamel than indoor pieces.

Humane Society News

In our past articles we have dwelled on dogs and cats. Today we are going to brief birds that are pets in the home.

Give the little fellow a bath quite often. This should be done in the morning in order to guarantee that he will be dry before night. Never put your bird in a draft.

Persons who work and for other reasons who can not have a dog or cat, have turned to the parakeet. This talkative little fellow needs a balance diet of good fresh parakeet seed, parakeet gravel, peatlime, and fresh cuttlebone. This can be found at any bird fancier.

Unlike other creatures, the sun can be harmful to birds. The heat of the sun will cause a premature moult. This will weaken your bird. Cely greens are very good for your parakeet.

Parakeets might have been vegetarians at one time but our dogs and cats here at the Humane Society are not. Some of our bigger dogs get over 15 pounds of food, which includes meat, once a day. The amount of food consumed by our hungry animals is tremendous.

Stray dogs and cats should be brought to 311 1/2 Cherry Hill Road, in Dixboro. If it isn't possible to furnish transportation, telephone 1243-M or 786-J. We are in need of new members. Are you interested in helping unwanted animals? If so, contact the Humane Society Auxiliary.

Lamb Kabobs
 Prepare lamb kabobs this tempting way. Cut lamb shoulder into 1-inch cubes, then cover with French dressing and a half garlic clove. Allow to stand for 1 1/2 hours. Then alternate meat on skewers with bacon strips and mushroom caps. Broil 2 to 3 inches from the heat for 12 to 15 minutes.

Noel Hover Weds Illinois Girl

In a recent ceremony in Highland Park, Illinois, Miss Chelsia Webster became the bride of Noel L. Hover of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Webster of Cherokee road, Highland Park, Illinois, are the bride's parents. Noel is the son of Mrs. William C. Schoof of Roosevelt avenue, Plymouth, and the late Dr. Freeman B. Hover.

The Reverend William Young officiated at the rites, which were held at 2:30 o'clock on July 26 in the Presbyterian church in Highland Park. Large baskets of white gladioli, ferns and lighted tapers formed the setting for the ceremony.

Chelsia approached the altar on the arm of her father. Her gown was of white marquisette over taffeta. The full skirt extended into a short court train and her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from her rose point lace cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

Her only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. G. Chandler Webster who was gowned in delphinium blue lace with which she wore a yellow picture hat and carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli and ivy.

Noel asked his brother, Freeman B. Hover to assist him as best man. The ushers were Charles Peterson of Rockford, Illinois and G. Chandler Webster of Evanston, Illinois.

A reception for about 300 guests was held immediately following the ceremony at the Highland Park Woman's club. Mrs. Webster selected a pink shantung dress with which she wore white orchids. Mrs. Schoof was in blue silk shantung with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pinnocchio roses.

For traveling the new Mrs. Hover wore a navy blue suit and matching hat. The young couple are making their home in Denver, Colorado.

The bride is a graduate of Newcomb College, Tulane University and is affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Noel is a graduate of Colorado College, Colorado Springs and Northwestern University. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Hopefully, a newly married young couple put an ad in the Halifax, N. S., Mail Star: "Want modest home large enough to keep the bride from going home to her mother and small enough to keep the mother from coming to visit."

North-Tomkins Rites on Saturday

A lovely wedding was solemnized in the Church of the Nazarene on Saturday, August 30, when Orma Bertina Tomkins, daughter of the Reverend W. J. Tomkins of Dayton, Ohio, and Carl R. North repeated their nuptial vows. Carl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton North of Brown City, Michigan.

The Reverend H. P. Putnam of Mason, Michigan read the candle-light service before the altar which was decorated with palms and baskets of pink and white gladioli. He was assisted by the Reverend W. O. Welton of Plymouth. Ray Willard, the soloist, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. G. F. Fletchall, of Ann Arbor, sister of the bride, sang "The Day of Golden Promise" and "The Lord's Prayer".

For her wedding the bride wore a white marquisette gown which featured tiers of ruffles cascading from the waistline and extending into a chapel train. Her fingertip length veil was fastened to a tiara of illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Ina Tomkins was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a pink gown of slipper satin fashioned like that of the bride's, with net yoke and puffed sleeves. She too carried a cascade bouquet made of white gladioli. The bridesmaids were Laura Tomkins, another sister of the bride, and Mrs. Irene Bosca, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns were identical to that of the honor maid and of a shade of glacier blue with matching tiara and they carried bouquets of pink gladioli. Little Vicki Lynn Mewbourn of Toledo, Ohio, preceded the bride to the altar scattering petals from her little basket of flowers.

Assisting the bridegroom as best man was his brother Edwin North and the ushers were Paul Hockenberry of Plymouth and Gene Bosca of Detroit, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

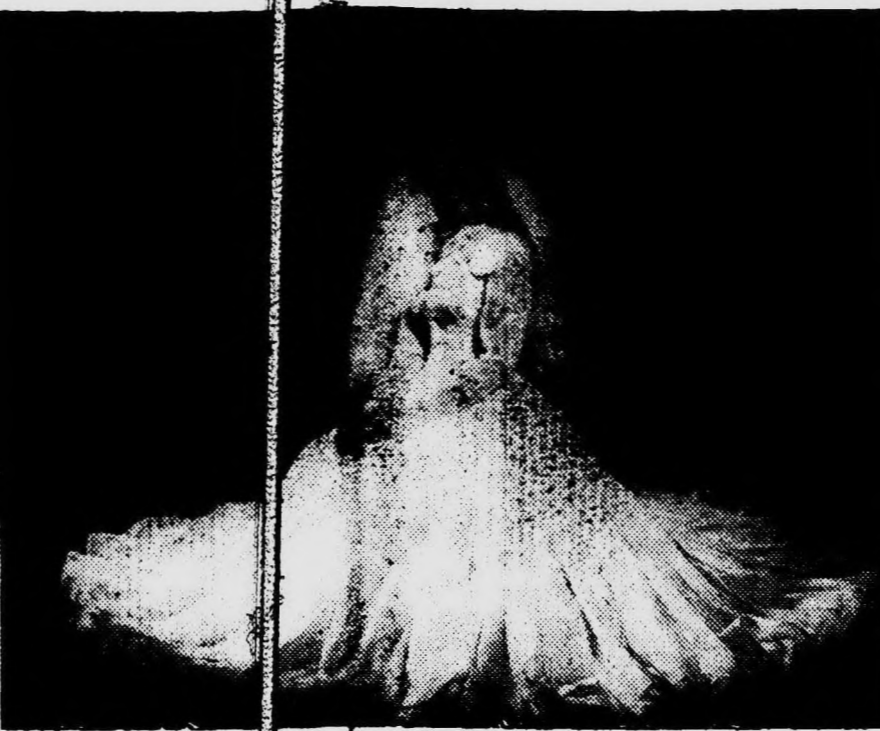

Guests were received after the ceremony at a reception held at the Masonic Temple. Mrs. North wore a pink crepe dress with lace trim and navy accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to northern Michigan the bride was wearing a pink suit with dark green accessories. An orchid corsage, pinned to her shoulder, completed her ensemble. Upon their return they will reside in Plymouth. Guests were present from Belleville, Ontario; Toronto, Ontario; Listowel, Ontario, and St. Louis, Missouri.

The bride is a graduate of Lisgar Collegiate and Gowing Business college of Ottawa, Ontario and has been engaged as a song evangelist. Her husband was graduated from Marlette High school and is employed with the Mayville State Bank.

Nathalie Alex and Thomas Dutch Married in Early Fall Ceremony

Mrs. Thomas Dutch

One of the loveliest of early fall weddings was solemnized last Saturday morning, August 30 in St. Michaels in Roseale Gardens, when Nathalie Marie Alex became the bride of Thomas Anthony Dutch. Mrs. Alex of Newburg road is the mother of the bride and Thomas' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dutch of Monongahela, Pennsylvania.

The nuptial mass was given at 9:30 o'clock by the Reverend Father Jerome MacDonchin of East Lansing. Large bouquets of white flowers adorned either side of the altar.

Nathalie, who was given in marriage by her uncle, William Wilson, wore an exquisite gown of nylon marquisette over satin. The fitted bodice had a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves which extended into points over the wrists and gathered bands of the marquisette banded with seed pearls surrounded the bodice. The hooped skirt was many yards of net and was developed at the hemline. Her fingertip length veil fell from her Juliet cap of seedpearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Shirley McGill, of East Detroit, was the bride's maid of honor. She wore a pink nylon net and she carried deep pink roses. Her gown was of a special design with pleated bodice and skirt and she wore a large satin bow of pink tied at the back of the waistline. She wore pink roses in her hair from which fell a short pink veil.

Francis Dutch assisted his brother as best man. A breakfast at the St. Michael's Hall was held following the ceremony. Mrs. Alex wore navy blue lace with white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of orchids.

The young couple are on a trip through the West. For traveling the bride chose a gold wool suit black accessories and the orchids from her bridal bouquet. Mrs. Dutch graduated from McKenzie High school, Detroit and received her degree in Nursing from Mercy College. Thomas received his Masters from Michigan State college. The couple will make their home at 813 Maplelane, East Lansing, Michigan.

Annual Oldenburg Reunion Held Sunday

The 6th annual Oldenburg reunion was held on Sunday, August 24, 1952 at Riverside Park, Plymouth, in the same location that it had been held for the past six years.

It was a wonderful day and relatives numbering 122 came from Detroit, Lansing, Farmington, Wayne, Northville, Ann Arbor, Romulus, Mulliken, Gary, Indiana, Ft. Walton, Florida, and Plymouth.

Following a potluck dinner at 12:30 and coffee, ice cream and soft drinks for everyone, a business meeting was held. Minutes of last year's reunion were read with a good report by both the secretary and the treasurer following which a number of items were discussed and adopted. Election of officers took place with the following results: President, George Oldenburg; Secretary, Earl Thomas; Treasurer, Harvey Thomas; Entertainment committee: Darlene Proctor and Violet Duff; Refreshment committee: Tony Scanlon and Evelyn Scanlon. Following the adjournment of the meeting the afternoon was spent playing ball, horse shoes and other various games.

Lighted tapers, palms and baskets of white gladioli formed the impressive background for the 8 o'clock ceremony on Saturday, August 23 when Dneyse McKinley became the bride of Keith Ebersole. Dneyse is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. McKinley of North Harvey street and Mrs. U. R. Sutfin of Maple avenue is the mother of Keith.

The Reverend Melbourne Johnson officiated at the rites at the First Presbyterian church. Fred Nelson was the organist. Miss Vera French of Ann Arbor sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Dneyse, who was given in marriage by her father, was in a lovely gown of white tulle with a long cathedral train. She carried a cascade of white roses.

Miss Donna McKinley, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of white net over white tulle with a short lace jacket. Her corsage and bouquet were of pink carnations. Donna Hunt, a cousin of the bridegroom and Carolyn Smith were the bridesmaids. Donna wore pink net over taffeta and carried blue carnations. Carolyn was in blue net over taffeta. Her flowers were of pink carnations.

Derald McKinley, brother of the bride, and Jerome Korte assisted Keith as best man.

Mrs. McKinley chose a navy blue nylon with red accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Sutfin was in cocoa brown nylon with tan accessories. Her corsage was of yellow carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church dining room with over 100 guests present, coming from Northville, Detroit, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Plymouth.

The newlyweds are vacationing in northern Michigan. Mrs. Ebersole chose a suit of light blue with white accessories and a corsage of white roses for traveling.

Both young people are graduates of Plymouth High school. The bride graduated from Cleary college and Keith is a student at Michigan State Normal college. They will make their home at 823 West Cross street, Ypsilanti.

Garden Birthday Parties Summer Fun Fashion

For folks who have their birthdays in summer, it is gay to have the party in the garden, or on the terrace or porch.

Using a pastry tube, decorate the cake with names of the friends who are guests at the party and make ice cream an easy-to-serve accompaniment to the cake by buying the pre-packaged kind. Just bring the neat pint cartons to the garden table and slice the ice cream into convenient cube portions by cutting the ice cream across each way.

Pre-packaged ice cream is ready to take home, no waiting for a container to be filled. You'll find both pint and half gallon pre-packaged cartons of ice cream to serve groups large and small.

The first fall meeting of the Vivien's club will be held on Thursday, September 18 at 8 p.m. instead of September 4 as originally planned. This meeting will be held in the new Elk's Temple on Ann Arbor road.

Planners Approve Alley Addition

With an eye toward the future, telescoping city development bottle necks before they even arise, City Planners added another alley thoroughfare to their master development plan.

This time it was an alley, 20 feet wide, that revolves around an area bordering Ann Arbor road, earlier zoned for commercial buildings.

Added is the proposed alley that would run north of and parallel to Ann Arbor road, from Harvey street to Sheldon road. To run for more than a mile, the east portion of the alley when constructed would run from Main street to a point 100 feet west of the east line of the Davis property.

Also discussed during its August 24 meeting was another proposed alley addition to be located from Main street east to Mill street. Action on this "behind the building" addition, however, was tabled until the Planning Commission's next regular meeting, September 18.

Furniture Fashions

No item of furniture delights the young boy quite as much as the bunk bed. It is rugged and masculine in design and lends itself admirably to a keshon decor. Mother likes it, too, for its space-saving advantages.

It provides an appropriate background for baseball mitts, footballs, tennis rackets, fishing gear and all sports paraphernalia; for colorful prints and scenes of great adventure. If there are two boys in the house—or an occasional overnight guest—it is indeed the answer to a Mother's prayer. See your catalogues, especially, find it of great convenience.

There are a variety of models on the market—in maple, oak and pine. The boy's room shown above is a complete pine group, consisting of a bunk bed with ladder, a five-drawer chest, a student's desk, a cabinet chair and a desk lamp. Furniture manufacturers today are catering to the men of the family as well as to the ladies of the household and make it possible for a guy to establish his own private sanctum, strictly male style.

Madonna students eagerly check through a list of fall semester courses to be offered at the College. Pictured above are (l.) Edna Rheault, Senior, and Joan Petro, Junior. Registration for regular classes is scheduled for Wednesday, September 17. Evening class registration will be held Monday, September 15.

Madonna College to Open Doors September 17

Madonna College will hold its registration for the fall term Wednesday, September 17, at 9 a.m. Regular classes will begin the following day, Thursday, September 18.

A three-day orientation program for new students, scheduled for September 15, 16, and 17, will precede class sessions. This program is meant to acquaint new students with the spirit, the opportunities and the facilities of the College.

New courses to be offered this fall for regular students include two Business courses: Principles of Marketing and Advertising, and Advanced Accounting. Also introduced for the first time will be a journalism course in Editing and Copyreading. The Music Department will offer new courses in the History of Music and School Music Methods.

Sister Mary Raynelda, CSSF, has been added to the college faculty for the coming school year. She has just completed her doctoral studies in the field of English language and literature at the Catholic University.

Night adult education classes at Madonna College will be resumed this fall. Three courses are scheduled for the coming semester. A three-credit hour sociology course in Social Problems will be given Mondays at 6:30 p.m.

A second art course in Painting, consisting of instruction in all media and in the use of various techniques, will be offered on Tuesdays at 6:30 p.m. Tuition for this course is $14.

Instructor for the art courses is Sister Mary Angeline, CSSF, who received her Master of Fine Arts degree at Catholic University, where she has also taught art courses during the past three summers. Last year Sister Angeline was on a leave of absence at the University of Michigan pursuing doctoral studies in her field.

Registration for these evening courses will be held at the Registrar's office Monday, September 15, from 7 to 8 p.m.

Beginning its sixth year of operation as a four-year liberal arts institution, Madonna College offers majors in the general fields of language and literature, science and mathematics, social studies and education, and fine arts. Of special interest to students in the past year was the Medical Technology curriculum, which requires three years of courses on the campus and one year of internship at a hospital. Resident students enjoy the facilities of a 320-acre campus and a new four-story dormitory equipped in the many modern conveniences for living and indoor recreation. Single or double rooms are available upon application.

Grangers Fete Country Fair, Awarding of Quilt

With the blaring of the barkers, the aroma of hot coffee and doughnuts, and the outline of the many gaily colored booths, the Grangers "Country Fair" will make its appearance in town on Friday, September 26.

Residents of Plymouth and vicinity will crowd to the Grange Hall, located on Union street to witness the many displays of fancy work, handicraft, aprons, and baked goods. Young and old alike will enjoy fishing in the fish pond, attending the white elephant sale and indulging in the eating of the coffee and doughnuts, which will be prepared by the home economics department. Features of the evening will be the awarding of a beautiful quilt, which the Grange ladies have made, to some fortunate individual. This quilt is currently on display in the window of Blunk's. Later it will be viewed from Dunning's department store window.

The Grangers are featuring a parcel post exhibit whereby one can purchase a package for a small fee, and be greatly surprised by the contents, as no one knows what the package contains. General chairmen for the festivity are Mrs. Albert Groth and Mrs. Charles Rienas. The sale of candy will be sold by Louise Hutten; fancy work by Ethel Grammel; and the apron booth will be supervised by Anna Chappel.

The country store will be clerked by Elsie Ehrnsberger, while the fish for the pond will be supplied by Angie Blunk. Postmistress Minnie McConnell will be in charge of the mail and packages for the evening. Auctioneer Hilda Lunn will preside over the White Elephant Sale while Molly Tracy entices everyone with her baked goods. Mary Fillmore and her numerous assistants will supply hungry visitors with hot coffee and home made doughnuts.

All the money received from the Fair will go into the Grangers treasury in order to carry on their numerous activities of the year.

By LYNN CONNELLY

FRED ALLEN'S prolonged illness has his friends worried. It undoubtedly will cause cancellation of his new show, "Two for the Money," which was scheduled to bow on TV this fall. This is a bad break as it was the first time Fred had shown the old spark of showmanship on TV and it would have been the making of him. It probably will fall to another comedian now. Jack Benny, back from abroad, found playing the London and Scottish vaudeville halls a real vacation. . . no mantines or Sunday performances. . . The Robert Young situation-comedy radio series, "Father Knows Best," will "go television" shortly on film with Bob starring in both versions.

There's talk of a video film series being produced based on the famed "Topper" characterization, in which Alec Guinness, British movie actor, would star. Wonder if that is wise since all the "Topper" films starring Roland Young have been seen zillions of times on TV already and it undoubtedly would have taken the edge off a new series. . . Radio, which still serves the nation so well with music and other features, may have Andre Kostelanets and his orchestra back at the old network stand in the fall. . . A top sponsor is currently mulling the idea.

IDOL CHATTER An experimental course in religious TV, the first of its kind, will be given at Yale Divinity School this fall by Rev. Everett C. Parker. . . Texans, who do things in a big way, have done it again. . . An all-night telethon for the Cerebral Palsy fund over a San Antonio station gathered in more money than TV viewers had pledged. . . This rates as news because generally the opposite is true. . . Bing Crosby and Bob Hope, who worked over 20 hours on their super telethon for the Olympics, collected only a scant $200,000 instead of the pledged $1,000,000.

The decision to switch to situation comedy primarily instead of gags on next season's Milton Berle show, now seems to be definite.

Warm Air Perimeter Heating Now Used in "Middle Age" Homes

Owners of "middle age" houses may now enjoy modern warm air perimeter heating according to the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning association. Perimeter heating is the heating of rooms from the perimeter by installing registers at the perimeter of the house, usually under the windows.

Perimeter heating allows more basement head room through the use of pipes of a small diameter. Also of a smaller size are the registers which may be as small as two and a quarter inches by 14 inches. They fit into the space below the windows, in the floor or baseboard, and are hardly discernible to the human eye.

The association concludes its report with the fact that perimeter heating can be used with practically every type of forced warm air furnace with savings over the older style systems.

Plymouth Colony Announces Sales

Reflecting the progress of Plymouth itself is a new, carefully planned subdivision immediately adjoining the city on Sheldon road just south of Ann Arbor trail. Plymouth residents have been observing its development with pride since its entire theme harmonizes well with Plymouth's own historical background and traditions.

Judging from its carefully planned restrictions and general atmosphere, Plymouth Colony seems to be well on the way toward making a substantial contribution to the well-being of the community. It appears to fill a need for families interested in building homes where values are permanently protected and where suburban living is combined with close proximity to the center of town.

City water is provided and has been piped to all lots through larger than average mains. Fire hydrants are located within 300 feet of every lot.

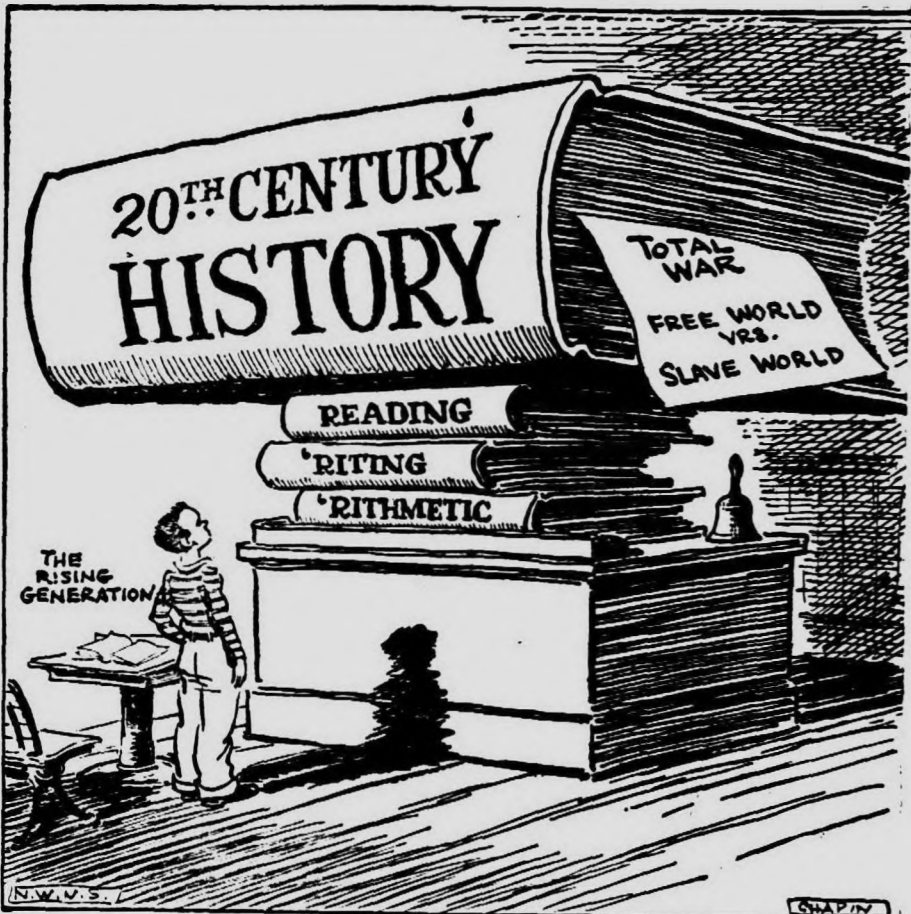

Among its other features are wide streets named in keeping with the general theme of the original Plymouth Colony—John Alden Road, Priscilla Lane, Governor Bradford Road and Turkey Run.

Considering its handy location close to city schools and shopping centers, the width of its lots is most desirable. All are nearly 100 feet wide by 150 feet deep. A variety too is available to suit different tastes, some lots being beautifully wooded while others provide a view of the open country.

Though the finishing touches are still being completed, several sales have been concluded. A home is already under construction for Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wilson of Detroit and another due to start for Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stadtmiller of Plymouth.

For the convenience of those interested, lots have been made available at attractive prices through any Plymouth Real Estate agent.

Madonna College Test Student's Reading Skills

Diagnostic and instructional help for below average readers is one benefit of the Madonna College Educational Clinic.

Opening its doors for preliminary diagnostic testing of new pupils at 9:00 a.m., September 6, the clinic determines a student's ability to read textbook material on a college level.

Those falling below par will begin a reading instruction course, beginning September 13. Time of attendance will be arranged with parents. However, students must spend at least one hour each Saturday bringing up reading skills in the event they do not meet college standards, report college officials.

Before applying for preliminary reading tests, students or parents are asked to contact the clinic by telephoning, Plymouth 526.

Adolph B. Ruehr Dies at 58

Adolph B. Ruehr, 58, 1029 West Ann Arbor road, was paid a final tribute during funeral rites held last Tuesday, at 1:00 p.m.

Ruehr, a partner in the Heide's greenhouses, a local floral concern, has been ill for nearly two years preceding his death August 30 at Little Traverse hospital in Potosky.

Following services at Schrader funeral home, Ruehr was buried at Riverside cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Anna E., a son, Hans, and a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Perkins. Other survivors are Reinhold, the other partner in the Heide's Greenhouses, and a second brother and three sisters, all living in Germany.

Reverend William O. Welton officiated at the last rites.

Garden Club Sponsors Annual Flower Show

Members of garden clubs throughout the area are invited to attend the 13th annual flower show of the Northville branch, Women's National Farm and Garden association, to be held at the Northville Methodist church September 11.

Mrs. R. D. Merriam, president, has named Mrs. F. S. Jennings general chairman, and Mrs. Jennings and her committee have arranged a diversified program for the day. The theme of the show will be "Autumn's in the Air." It will feature prize exhibits of flowers, fruits, vegetables, specimens and arrangements, as selected at a judging immediately preceding the show. The judges will be Mrs. A. T. Peterson of Livonia and Boyd Candlish of Farmington, grower of prize glomexias.

There will be booths for the sale of baked goods, jams and jellies, and Mrs. Frank C. Zbornick of Farmington has again presented one of her original oil paintings for sale by the club. Afternoon tea and tropical garden punch will be served.

Plymouth's Emergency-Rescue Squad Helps Accident Victims, Saves Lives

Gaffield Photo

By Jack H. Lewis
Revising sick or accident victims with life-giving oxygen, administering first aid or speeding toward a hospital—a life hanging on a thin thread of time—they're all part of a routine for the fire department's Emergency-Rescue Squad.

Equipped with its versatile, radio-equipped rescue car—call number 60—the three-man rescue team will tell you saving lives is a pretty gratifying business. But sometimes through the excitement of restoring a rhythmic pulse comes a shocking disappointment—death has ridden on the canvas stretcher more than once as the rescue car paced its way toward a hospital miles away. Experts in first aid, Fire Chief

Robert McAllister, 31, Ass't Chief George Schoeneman, 31, and Captain Charles Groth, 35, make up the three-man rescue team on 24 hours alert, seven days a week.

The rescue crew, all firefighters, are equipped for just about any emergency that arises. Standard equipment is a two-tank resuscitator used extensively on shock victims or persons suffering respiratory-circulatory ailments. Since its inception three years ago, the Emergency-Rescue Squad has racked up nearly 4,000 miles in emergency runs helping build hundreds of victims out of trouble. Notable among these, says Ass't Chief Schoeneman is a "resuscitator run" to a local physician's office. He recalls that a patient (a Farmington man, Junior R. Miller, 29,) collapsed suddenly after complaining of a "pain in his chest."

They help that high-flying "stork" bring babies into the world.

"Nature will have its way," Schoeneman states. He recalls getting one expectant mother medical attention. "She was lying helpless on the hospital lawn at 3 a.m., moments from childbirth," Schoeneman relates. "The woman's husband," he says, "was too small to carry his wife the remaining distance." About this case, Schoeneman indicated it was just another rescue call now docketed on the records showing that the mother and child were no worse off from the outdoor birth under the stars. Not all the rescue squad's work is done on a suffering accident-injury victim. The rescue car is equipped with high-voltage wire cutters "used more than once to snip off dangling lines dangerous to public safety." Portable fire extinguishers have been released against damaging car fires. Insulated rubber and asbestos gloves, boots and coveralls insulated against 50,000 volts along with a smoke and toxic fumes gas mask beside other safety-rescue "gadgets," line the walls and floor of the emergency car. About one recent accident case that should help local residents point the way toward a tri-community hospital (Northville, Livonia and Plymouth areas) is this story told about an eight-year-old girl suffering severe leg injuries: After gashing her leg on a jagged bottle edge, Susan Fullford, 15805 Farmington, was rushed to Plymouth after an hour-long search in Livonia failed to reveal a doctor available for emergency service. According to the Emergency-Rescue Squad, medical attention wasn't to be found in Plymouth either. It was Memorial Day—"every physician in the City was gone," they assert stating that Susan's father, E. Fullford, walked the streets with the child in his arms for nearly an hour, frantic—not knowing where to go next. Treated at Sessions hospital after being taken there by the rescue squad, the eight-year-old at last reports is fully recovered. Looking at their combined fire-fighting and emergency-rescue jobs philosophically, McAllister, Schoeneman and Groth generally agree that sometime, someone will need help. "That's what we're here for," they comment, "telephone number 93 is always at the public's service."

There were red faces in Greensboro, North Carolina, after a weatherman, accidentally put on the air a few seconds ahead of scheduled time for his broadcast, mumbled into the "live" microphone: "If I read this long enough I'll begin to believe it."

German Pointer Gets Blue Ribbon at Dog Showing

FIRST BABY CHIMP . . . "Sam," baby chimp held by mama "Susi" has distinction of being first baby chimp born in Berlin zoo in 108 years.

A short-haired German pointer took top "blue ribbon" honors at a championship dog show held in Detroit.

Champion Fieldborn Tempo II, owned by Lester M. Garner, 33130 Schoolcraft road, Livonia, set the honor roll pace for two-year-olds of his breed.

A mixture of Spanish pointer, English foxhound and bloodhound, dogs of Tempo II breed, reports Gardner, are sired as an all purpose dog.

"They're easily trained either for field or obedience or companion dogs," he says.

Breeders of German pointers for the last five years, Gardner indicates the dogs are characterized by a keen sense of smell. They have webbed feet and a water resilient coat, permitting them to retrieve from water as well as land.

Gardner claims German pointers are becoming popular in the midwest as a bird dog during the day and a trailing dog at night.

Here's a hint for berry pickers who may get stains on rayon clothes. If it is a washable rayon, rinse the stain thoroughly with warm water and if the stain persists use a mild bleaching solution (on white fabric only) and then rinse in a weak solution of vinegar and water. For non-washable rayons, sponge with lukewarm water immediately.

Roger Babson Says---

Babson Discusses Employment
 Gloucester, Mass., September 4, 1952. As this is Labor Day week, it is fitting to write about "jobs." This year jobs are plentiful for all who are willing to work. This, however, may not be true in 1953.

This does not mean that the "bust" will come next year. But I do feel that whatever Party is elected on November 4—burst—will stop inflating the balloon and perhaps gradually let the air out. This would be the safe thing to do; but it might make fewer jobs.

Jobs and Politics
 This year it has been easy to get a job for three reasons: (1) because of the great military expenditures; (2) because there has been almost no curtailment of "peace consumer goods"; and (3) because the present Democratic Administration is spending all the money it can to keep business prosperous until after Election.

As I have explained before, our country is no longer under the Gold Standard, which prevented Washington from making jobs artificially. We now are under a "Paper Standard", which enables Washington to expand the job balloon until it bursts.

Watch Imports
 It may be that through increased advertising and better selling methods consumer demands here at home can be built up to offset the natural decline in war orders. If labor leaders will be reasonable, this can be done. Savings have been increasing and wages continue high.

But what about imports? Every store you enter is now offering foreign-made goods of all kinds. These are being made by people who work 10 to 12 hours a day to keep their families from starvation. You say: "Put on more tariffs to keep out these foreign goods." This is possible; but it would surely force these foreign workers into Communism and lead to World War III.

What Is The Remedy?
 The only sane way to prevent such a catastrophe within the next few years would be for our people to work harder and longer hours without now asking for more wage increases. This would reduce the prices of goods made in this country. If costs and prices here can be reduced, then our people will have enough money to buy both the goods made in the U.S.A. and also the foreign goods.

If you now have a job, make the best of it. Be the first to arrive every morning; and the last to leave at night. Subscribe to the Trade Magazine of the industry in which you are employed. Take a correspondence course to become more efficient. Be loyal to and speak well of your employer. He has more troubles than you have. He has the job of selling the goods or services which you are helping to make or render. His job will be especially hard in 1953.

What About Labor Unions?
 Labor unions are here to stay, especially in large cities. Where big business exists, we must expect big unions to follow. This means steel strikes and textile strikes will continue. In these large cities where employees are more impersonal reasonable labor unions and collective bargaining are convenient and serve as a protection to both wageworkers and employers.

There, however, is no excuse for labor unions in small cities where all know one another. Labor unions are unnecessary where an employer knows all his wageworkers by name and is acquainted with their hopes and troubles. Moral for manufacturers: Don't allow your plant to get too big. Don't try to be the richest man in the cemetery!

2 Agencies Work Jointly to Cut Builders' Costs

What the nation needs is a good $5,000 house. Whipping up this cliché is easy but it has taken the combined efforts of the Federal Housing Administration and the National Association of Home Builders to do something about reducing the cost of buying a house.

For more than a year now both organizations have been working jointly on ways and means of cutting high costs of construction and material going into "dream houses."

Latest word from NAHB's materials experts, Leonard G. Haeger, reported by INS, is that real results are in the offing. In fact, Haeger says builders in many sections of the country will be offering new homes to the general public next spring at amazing low prices.

Antiquated building codes have been struck at by some men high in building circles, who claim construction costs can be pegged between $500 and $1,500 lower just by modernizing codes using practical knowledge gained of material strengths and engineering design.

Though this has been one objective of NAHB, Haeger isn't ready to report on this achievement yet. Rather, he says, "it will be a slow laborious job" that probably will take time. The big push now centers on FHA and joint industrial-government efforts to cut waste out of home building.

Helping to offset the growing costs of new houses have been methods devised to reduce the amount of concrete used in foundations, add to the roominess a new house without enlarging the structure and make better use of plumbing facilities.

Now under discussion between FHA and NAHB is the federal agency's trend toward wider and heavier streets in new developments to handle growing traffic problems. The industry, however, disallows the envisioned raising of standards of street, curbs and sidewalk construction, all of which would hike building costs considerably. NAHB experts feel the government could forego this proposal inasmuch as residential sections should be closed generally to commercial thoroughway traffic. A meeting of NAHB minds has led the industry to offer a change permitting only two coats of paint on each new house instead of three. Another added suggestion to help cut building costs is the construction of bathrooms without windows.
