THANKSGIVING

By Dr. Henry J. Walch,
The First Presbyterian Church

The heritage and spirit of America stems from a small group of people who came in the year 1620 to the shores of what is now Massachusetts, and who founded the city we know as Plymouth, Massachusetts. The story of that landing and the founding of that colony is very appropriately the theme in a beautiful set of murals in the Mayflower Room of the Mayflower Hotel in our own city of Plymouth. The story of those hardy souls is one of the heroic epics in history.

They came to a howling wilderness, peopled by savages with no trace of civilization as they knew it. While the subsequent history of their small beginning was the history of a nation which is now the United States, they did not come, as did the Spanish conquistadors in the southern part of the country, for loot or conquest; they came that in peace and in freedom of conscience they might worship God as they wanted to. It is a story of the search of man for the meaning of his life.

That heritage has always been a part of American life. It has been a guiding light in all our history. Only that strong sense of personal devotion to the best that man knows made possible the courage and moral strength which carried our forefathers through the dark years of the Revolution, and guided them into the moral insight of the Constitution which they produced. Running strongly through all their tradition was the sense that they were led of God, that they were helped of God, and that they trusted in God. The compelling witness to that statement is the motto of this country, "In God we trust"; not in man, nor kings, nor rulers, but in God.

The tradition of Thanksgiving, in its truest sense, is that we recognize that all that we have, and all our well-being, is from above, and not just the result of our own efforts or cleverness. It is the recognition of a Hand other than our own, which has made possible to us both the prosperity and freedom which we enjoy. And even if one should say that it is merely the fact that this country has been rich in resources, it is still true that all that we have has been given, and will some day be taken, and life is a trust.

To deny this, and to say that all man is can be summed up in material terms is to state that "man is an ape, reft of his tail, and grown rusty at climbing." To deny the spiritual relationship of man is to reduce living to the place where man is simply an ape, on a higher level, but still grubbing for ground nuts. This attitude is the prelude to decadence and destruction. To give thanks is to remind ourselves that we come from God, belong to God, and depend on God.

"More light shall break from out Thy Word
For Pilgrim followers of the Glean,
Till, led by Thy free spirit, Lord,
We see and share the Pilgrim dream!
The ancient stars, the ancient faith,
Defend us till our voyage is done;
Across the floods of fear and death
The Mayflower still is sailing on."

Wilson's to Open Dairy Store Here on December 5

A $15,000 Ira Wilson & Sons Dairy Store at 770 Penniman officially opens December 5.

An ultra-modern installation, finishing touches are now in progress on the vari-colored interior featuring a 40-foot long stainless steel dairy bar.

Located adjacent to the Penn Theater, the exterior of the store blends in with the theater building.

When opened, the dairy bar will serve breakfast to early risers, light lunches during the noontime and snacks to late theatergoers. Store hours will be from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Candy, ice-cream, a carryout service and a complete line of dairy products besides conventional ice cream sodas and sundaes will be available.

Under construction since last summer, the 22 by 70 foot building is a completely new addition to the Plymouth skyline. Construction of the installation, owned by Harry Lush, was done by William Fehlig, contractor, with sub-contractors here doing the electrical work and plumbing.

Unique in the interior of the store is its vari-colored interior decorations. The rear wall is wallpapered with a rose design against a black-gray background. The east sidewall is painted a restful green with the west wall set off in a rose-beige color.

Serving 27 persons at the modernistic bar will be six employees, serving under the management of Donald G. Smith.

Smith, 37, lives in Ann Arbor. He currently has management of a Wilson store on Washtenaw road, about two miles east of Ann Arbor. Prior to that time he worked for Warner Dairy at the Washtenaw store, until the installation was sold to Wilson's.

"Blood for Korea" Donors Sought as Drive Steps Up

With registrations nearing the 500 mark for the local Elks' lodge "Blood for Korea" campaign, Chairman Joseph Elliott heading the drive, stated that the need for blood in Korea is still critical.

Elliott urged blood donor registrants to call the Masonic Lodge, telephone 1274, from 4 p.m. until 12 midnight and "pledge your blood for a worthy American fighting boy."

Blood donations will be taken when the Red Cross Bloodmobile unit visits Plymouth Masonic Temple to receive blood for our fighting men in Korea.

The hours scheduled for Thursday, December 11, are from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m., and on Friday, December 12, from 2 p.m. until 8 p.m.

"Right now the need for blood is urgent. In hospitals—at home—and overseas, many men require four and six transfusions during delicate operations. And the blood must be there—when it's needed," Elliott stated.

"Be assured that giving blood is neither difficult or distressing," Elliott continued. "What a thrill it is knowing that you've performed a really unselfish act." "Blood is a God-given miracle for which there is no substitute," he concluded—"and when a man's life hangs in the balance and blood is needed, there is nothing else that can take its place."

City Commended on Traffic Record

For the second straight year, the American Automobile Association has cited Plymouth's "no pedestrian deaths" record.

Mayor Russell Daane will receive a framed citation honoring 1951's traffic safety record in a ceremony at the Plymouth Commission meeting, 7:30 p.m., Monday, December 1, Vernon Martin, Automobile club of Michigan's traffic-safety consultant, will make the presentation.

"The winning of this national award reflects great credit on the city's administration, the departments dealing with traffic matters, the schools, cooperating safety organizations and citizens," said Martin. "Deserving of special recognition are your chief of police and police department which has taken such a splendid interest throughout the years in pedestrian safety."

Martin pointed out that since Michigan entered the contest in 1939, pedestrian fatalities in the state have been reduced 17 percent, from 543 pedestrians killed in 1939 to 452 killed in 1951. And at the same time, he said, motor

Board Gives Teachers Pay Hike Retroactive to Sept. 1 Increase Will Amount to $34,500 for 115 Teachers

The teaching staff of Plymouth schools last week was awarded a $300 yearly salary hike by the Board of Education at a special meeting called to make the favorable decision into law.

Retroactive to Sept. 1, the salary increase goes to 115 teachers and top administrators, totaling each year $34,500. The increase will be paid out of present operating expenses.

All instructors with from one to 10 years of teaching experience will benefit by the salary hikes. Teachers just coming out of college hired into the Plymouth system with an A.B. degree now will draw $3,150 each school year while teachers with 10 years (five of them here) of teaching experience will draw a yearly salary of $5,300 if they have a Master's degree. "Ten-year" teachers with an A.B. degree will be limited to $5,100.

Though non-teaching personnel of the schools did not figure in the teacher salary hike, the Board of Education is currently studying uphill salary adjustments for the non-professionals. Indications are, Superintendent of Schools Isbister said, that the "Board of Education will hand down its decision on salaries of non-teaching personnel in about two weeks."

Local Merchants Announce Hours For Christmas

Announcement of Christmas store hours for Plymouth merchants was made this week by Wendell Lent, chairman of the retail merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce.

According to Lent, most Plymouth stores will remain open evenings until nine o'clock beginning Friday, December 5.

The decision, said Lent, was reached by a vote of the retail merchants' division board of directors. He stated that, although the vote was not unanimous, it was agreed upon by the majority.

The weekend of December 5 will also mark the official opening of the Christmas season. According to Nat Sibbold, secretary of the Chamber, a treasure hunt beginning Friday, November 28, will be climaxed Saturday evening, December 6. He stated that all Chamber of Commerce retail merchants will participate in the treasure hunt and that customers may learn details at any of these stores.

Mail to Publish Santa Claus Letters, Dec. 4

Christmas belongs to children, perhaps more so than to anyone else.

In keeping with this theme, The Plymouth Mail urges parents to send us their children's letters addressed to "Santa Claus." We would like to publish each Santa Claus letter in next week's edition of The Mail. Each letter should contain the name and address of its sender.

Leader-Dog Week Set to Help Blind Gain Social, Mobile Independence

RESOLUTION
I, G. Mennen Williams, Governor of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the week of December 1 through 7, 1952 as LEADER-DOG WEEK and call the attention of citizens of our state to the successful program of Leader Dogs for the Blind in helping the blind overcome their handicap and to live lives of independence.

The answer in part is to get back his sight for him. But sometimes this isn't possible, medically. The other answer is to furnish him with a Leader-Dog to see for him.

But leader dogs cost $1,250 to train, money that many thousands of blind persons throughout the country do not have. Because of a Leader-Dog Training School in Rochester, Michigan, blind persons actually do not have to pay that $1,250 price. The cost of the dog to him is $150. The remaining $1,100 is paid through contributions that go toward help pay the cost of training seeing eye dogs.

Next week those contributions will be sought here by the Lion's Club who will turn all monies over to help train a seeing eye dog so that someone may gain his livelihood and live outside the fear

Canadian Speaks to Local Rotary

Rotarians heard an explanation of the Canadian loyalty to the king or queen of England by Rev. David Davies of Walkerville, Canada last Friday noon. The speaker was brought to the club through the efforts of the community service committee of which Pat McQuire is the chairman.

Rev. Davies is the Rector of St. George's church in Walkerville and has conducted the Quiet Sanctuary on radio for several years. He is also at present the speaker on the House of Representatives of Canada.

He compared the Canadian loyalty to the queen as a likeness of the American's respect of the flag. He stated that it was a spiritual feeling different only in that they revered an individual instead of the flag.

He further pointed out that Canada paid no taxes to England, they made their own laws without influence from England, they declared war at their own discretion and could if they so chose discriminate against the mother land in their immigration procedure.

The speaker was introduced to the club by Rev. David Davies (who had the same name) of Plymouth (who had been a friend of the visitor for many years.

11 Local Men Get December Induction Call

A 60-man selective service call from Wayne out-county will see 11 local men inducted into the Armed Forces in December, local draft board officials said today.

Scheduled to report at Fort Wayne in Detroit, then Fort Custer Reception Center are:

Carl E. Hoenecke, Keith Miller, Norman F. Treadwell, Sheldon S. Fulton, Donald K. Vandemark, Bobby G. Davis, Paul W. Denski, Edward J. Konazeski, George F. Gibbs, Jr., Robert A. Sheets and Lee Junior Engle.

December 1 to 7 is Leader-Dog Week. The man you see in the above picture is blind—he lives in a world of darkness.

Of course, how he got that way is important; too, it is tragic. But what is of more concern to society is the question: How can we (the more fortunate public) make the blind economically and socially

Persons Seeking Voting Privilege Urged to Register

Pre-election registrations for the April 6 election here are now open. City Clerk Lamont C. BeGole, said today.

He urged all non-franchised among the electorate to validate their "voting privilege by registering with his office."

Four top city legislators seeking four-year terms in the City Commission and a six-year municipal judgeship will be polled on by the franchised, next April 6. Also in the non-partisan local races will be the office of Wayne County Supervisor, currently held by city commissioner, Mrs. Eleanor Hammond.

BeGole noted that petitions bearing between 25 and 50 signatures for any of the municipal offices so far have not been filed.

Speculation at this time would indicate that the early date precludes the filing of nominating petitions. However, it is pointed out by election officials that the deadline for these petitions is approaching rapidly. All petitions for local offices must be filed with election officials before 12 noon, January 24.

If petitions filed exceed twice the number of offices vacant a primary election will be held here February 17, with spring elections on April 6.

A poll of four City Commissioners up to this time indicate the incumbent office holders will seek voters' support at the polls. They are: Mayor Russell M. Daane and Commissioners Ernest Henry, George T. Bauer and Henry Fisher.

The Plymouth Assembly of God will hold a Youth Rally on Saturday, November 29 at 7:45 p.m.

Rotary Anns to Hold Xmas Sale

The Rotary Anns of Plymouth will sponsor their fourth annual sale of articles made by the crippled children and adults, December 2 through December 6, at Stop and Shop market.

Many items such as aprons, table mats, handmade rugs, jewelry, and things for baby are among the gifts offered for the holiday shopper.

The full amount charged for each item purchased is returned to the handicapped person who made it. Over 600 adults and children are taught to help themselves through the work of the Occupational Therapy department of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The articles on sale are made by the handicapped working with the Wayne out-county chapter. In many cases the handicapped is able to support himself through the sale of the articles he makes for the annual Christmas sale and during the year.

The joy of giving a Christmas gift will be doubled by buying it from a selection of articles made by the crippled children and adults on sale at Stop and Shop, whose management donated the space, Tuesday, December 2, through Saturday, December 6.

Members of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Presbyterian church will have their Christmas dinner on Thursday, December 4 at 6:30 p.m. Music will be supplied by the Women's Glee Club.

Chamber Offers Events' Calendar For Local Clubs

A new Chamber of Commerce service designed to create a "clearing house" for activities of Plymouth organizations and clubs is now in the planning, according to an announcement this week by Chamber Secretary Nat Sibbold.

The plan, says Sibbold, would require that all organizations planning special events of programs register these events with the Chamber. A giant calendar will be kept to record the affairs and each week they will be published in the Plymouth Mail as a schedule of "events to come".

A second, and perhaps most important, function of this service, says Sibbold, is that it will allow local organizations to call the Chamber before setting a date for any event to avoid conflict with other organizations.

"At present we're sending cards to all service organizations, church groups and other clubs urging them to cooperate in this new plan," said Sibbold. He stated that the service is being adopted on a six months' trial basis to discover how well it is received.

Mothers' Club Names Officers

A DeMolay mothers' club was organized during this past month. The object of this club is charitable and social. The mothers are willing to help the Plymouth DeMolay chapter in any of its activities at any time, said Mrs. Vera Gutherie, president of the group.

Mrs. Gayle Kine, the soloist, sang "I Love You Truly", "At Dawning" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Jane chose a lovely gown of white satin in ballerina length. The picture neckline of illusion was attached to the bodice with a scroll of rhinestones and the long sleeves extended to points at the wrist. The bouffant hooped skirt fell into a cathedral train. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a crown of rhinestones and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Marvel Sambrone was Jane's matron of honor. Her gown was of rose net and was strapless. She wore a matching stole and carried a bouquet of deep rose carnations. The bridesmaids, Freeda Benton and Ann Sambrone were gowned in toast net over aqua and they carried bouquets of aqua carnations.

Wendall Johnson served his brother as best man and seating the guests were Edward Veresh, Walter Adams and Edward Sawyer.

Immediately following the wedding a reception for 120 guests was held in the church parlors.

Rock Swimmers Prepare for First Tank Competition

Another sports event will be added to the many now available to Plymouth sports fans when Coach John McFall introduces his Rock swimming team to a Plymouth audience for the first time next January 8. The tankmen began practice a couple of weeks ago in preparation for the first season of competition.

Because of the necessity of developing material in this new sport, Coach McFall has lined up a limited swim schedule for this winter. Three teams are definitely scheduled—Trenton will oppose the local swimmers here on January 8. A home meet has been arranged with a good Birmingham squad, the first meet to be here on January 20, and the second at Birmingham on February 10.

Coach McFall hopes to develop a few swimmers good enough to compete in the state Class A meet at Lansing on March 13 and 14. Previous to engaging in scheduled competition, a school swimming meet will be held sometime in December.

Events this year will consist of the 50 yard free style; 100 yard breast stroke; 100 yard back stroke; 100 yard free style; 200 yard free style; 150 yard individual medley; diving; 150 yard medley race; and the 200 yard free style relay.

8 Games on 1953 Grid Schedule

Next year's football schedule finds the championship Plymouth Rocks playing virtually the same schedule as this year with the exception that Wayne High school is being dropped.

The season will begin with the Rocks travelling to Northville to open the season against the Mustangs on Friday, September 13. The locals will play Trenton early next year as the Trojans come here for a game on Friday, September 25. The rest follows much the same schedule as that of the past season. All the opponents are Class B schools.

The big change is the dropping of Wayne, a team they have played each year since 1899—thought by some to be the longest continuous rivalry in Michigan. The oldest rivalry began in 1893 but the two schools involved did not play for a number of years in the early nineteen hundreds. Throughout the years Plymouth and Wayne have bickered about even in the number of wins over each other, including the last few years, and as a rule the games have always been close contests attracting a huge crowd.

Next season the schedule will include 8 games instead of the 9 played this year. Next year's schedule is as follows:

Sep. 13 Northville	Away
Sep. 25 Trenton	Home
Oct. 2 Redford Union	Away
Oct. 9 Allen Park	Home
Oct. 16 Belleville	Home
Oct. 23 Bentley	Away
Oct. 30 Garden City	Home
Nov. 6 Southfield	Away

First HS Cage Game in New Gym Next Week Friday

The 1952-53 high school basketball season will get underway next week Friday evening when the Northville Mustangs come to Plymouth to play the first game in the new high school gymnasium. Coach John Sandmann has arranged for 8 home games on the 15 game schedule. Each of the 6B league opponents will be met at home and away, plus games against Northville and Garden City, home and away, and a lone contest against Southfield at home.

Mr. Sandmann states that the tickets for all home games will be as follows: grade school children will be admitted for 25 cents if they buy the tickets at school; junior and senior high school students 35-cents if bought at school; all pre-school children will be admitted free of charge if accompanied by their parents—all tickets will be 60 cents at the gate.

Coach Sandmann's hoopsters have been practicing for some time, and he has several veterans back which should give Plymouth a good representation on the court this season. He has already divided his charges into varsity and junior varsity squads. These are subject to change at any time, but as of now he has on the varsity squad: Co-captains Casey Cavell and Bud Lanphear, Philip Straub, Kenneth Kisabeth, Tyler Caplin, Roger Pagenkopf, Roger Bogenschutz, David Finney, Russell Brown, Ronald Johnson, Bob Angevine, Barry Lightfoot, Larry Wood, Jerry Kelly, Gary Gotherd, Charles Wyse, Herbert Olsen, Leonard Ferguson and Richard Huebler.

Listed on the junior varsity are such promising lads as Wayne Smith, Marlin Chaney, Larry Wilhelm, Danny Clifford, Bill Sorenson, Larry Tillotson, Tom Davis, Dick Almborg, Bob Middleton, Leslie Ferenczi, Kenneth Church, Henry Bongo, John Agnew, Lee Juve, Jack Spanier, Melvin Sawyer, Jim Arnold, James Zukosky and Chuck McKenna.

The team last year started slowly and came on fast toward the end of the season to win the district Class B tournament, and give a good account of themselves in the regional.

The reserves are being coached this year by Bill Harding, while Charles Ketterer will handle the freshman team.

The schedule for this winter is as follows:

Dec. 5 Northville	Home
Dec. 9 Garden City	Home
Dec. 12 Redford Union	Away
Dec. 19 Allen Park	Home
Jan. 9 Belleville	Away
Jan. 13 Garden City	Away
Jan. 16 Bentley	Home
Jan. 21 Northville	Away
Jan. 23 Trenton	Away
Jan. 27 Southfield	Home
Jan. 30 Redford Union	Home
Feb. 6 Allen Park	Away
Feb. 13 Belleville	Home
Feb. 20 Bentley	Away
Feb. 27 Trenton	Home

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

For the first time in history, sporting fans in this area will be able to witness a local swimming meet between two high schools. Coach John McFall is busy picking a team to compete in a few meets this year.

The pool bleachers seat around 250 comfortably. This just gives the many loyal sports enthusiasts of this area something else to attend, and there are quite a few here who are interested in swimming.

The local entry this year cannot be expected to do very much in the matter of victories, but they will get the feel of the new pool. One thing a lot of pool records will be set this coming year for there are none at the present time.

The city recreational basketball program will get underway shortly and those closely-fought contests have always provided many thrills for the older sports fans of this community, as well as the younger fry. Bill Foster will again be in charge of the league this year, so another successful year is in prospect for the Class B recreational teams.

For many years, the caliber of basketball played in this Plymouth league has been thought highly of throughout the state, and Plymouth winners have gone on to give splendid competition to teams from much larger cities in state competition.

Rumor has it that the parents of the football and cross-country squads are planning another pot-luck dinner such as they staged last year. That was a real treat and one that will be long remembered. I think these are much more important than those formerly sponsored by service and church groups in that the athlete and his family gather together for an evening of good entertainment and fellowship with the coaching and administration staff. As I said last year these should be an annual event just as they are now.

There is a little inside story on the success of the football team this year that should be mentioned. As I walked through the locker room each week I noticed in big letters on the bulletin board some little saying concerning the next game. Coach Charles Ketterer had such writings in big letters as the one before the Trenton game: "Are you going to be champs or second best." "A man who can think, block, tackle and have the will to win will enjoy victory." Such psychological contributions acted favorably upon the players—nothing was mentioned by the coaches, but each lad thought all week about them, and come Friday night he interpreted them to the satisfaction of his coaches. Such things help to develop spirit, fight and the qualities of a winner in a quiet sort of a way. Yes, a lot of various factors entered into the past winning season. I'll even wager that the parents helped condition their lads to get out there and do their best by proper diet and rest, etc. I would say that the cooperation was splendid between players, parents, fans and coaches. That's the way it should be.

Employees, employers, and self employed individuals covered by the social security program, are contributing to old-age and survivors insurance which provides a continuing monthly income to the worker, upon retirement.

City Recreation BB Begins Soon

Today is the last day for teams to submit their entries in the Class B recreational basketball league. So far 7 teams have entered and one more is needed to make scheduling more simplified. Anyone wishing to enter a team should contact Bill Foster, who is in charge of the league this winter. His telephone number is 1702-W.

Play begins Thursday, December 11, and games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday evenings throughout the winter. Tad's Cleaners, last year's champs, are again back with a goal outfit. Capitol Shirts will sponsor a team this year, and the local Lions club will also enter one for the first time. Detroit House of Correction will be back, and a few other teams have indicated a desire to enter a squad. They will be mentioned next week.

Anyone is eligible to play in this league who is not on a high school or college varsity basketball team—also junior varsity or freshman teams in high school.

In the past this league has provided local fans with a high-class type of basketball and many of the games have been hard-fought, close contests. It is expected by Mr. Foster that this will again be the case this year.

Army-Navy Game on TV Nov. 29th

With 65 television and approximately 100 radio stations combining to provide the largest audience ever to sit in on any sports event, General Motors will finally climax its "TV Football game of the week" series on Saturday, November 29, with the airing of the annual Army-Navy classic from Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium.

Best estimates indicate that more than 60,000,000 listeners and viewers will be tuned in at 1 p.m. EST, when the colorful pre-game ceremonies will begin for this record breaking "attendance." Mel Allen and Russ Hodges will be at the play-by-play microphones with Bill Henry providing color and background. Kick-off time for the game itself is 1:30 p.m.

The meeting will be the 53rd in the series between the two service schools. Of the 52 which have preceded, Army has won 27, Navy 21 with four tied.

Teen-Age Swim Saturday Night
A teen-age swim is scheduled for this coming Saturday night in the new pool at the high school. These swims have been proving very popular among the younger set, and it is expected that many local boys and girls home from college for the Thanksgiving vacation will take advantage of the opportunity to use the new pool.
These teen-age swims alternate every other Saturday night with the teen-age dances sponsored by the Optimist club at the Bird school.

Melows Celebrate Half-Century of Married Life

It was their Golden Wedding anniversary.
Last Thursday was a long to be remembered day for Charles and Mary Melow of 14353 Haggerty highway—celebrating half a century of married life.

The Melows (Charles, 69, Mary, 70) didn't celebrate the occasion until last Saturday, however, when 70 relatives and friends deluged the "half-centurions" with dishware, blankets, lamps, a silver center-piece and other gifts more reminiscent of a wedding shower than a golden anniversary.

Married in Plymouth in 1902, the Melows have spent most of their married life in this area. Mr. Melow is still active operating his farm which has served the family since early married days. They have one daughter, Mrs. Helen Eckles of 41066 Schoolcraft, at whose home the celebration was held.

Services Friday for Amy Williams

Funeral services will be held Friday, November 28, for Amy Williams, 70, who died suddenly Sunday, November 23 at Sessions hospital.

She was born July 5, 1882 in Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania. She married Harry Williams 44 years ago. They moved from Detroit to Plymouth in 1939 and at the time of her death were residing on North Territorial road.

She is survived by her husband and several nieces and nephews. Services will begin at 1:30 from the Sonderegger Funeral home with Reverend Henry Walch officiating. Burial will be in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Makes Stocking Dolls
Intermediate Troop number 9, under the leadership of Mrs. Warren Bassett and Mrs. J. C. Bowly, reported that the troop was making stocking dolls for the Children's hospital.

Council Meeting Held
The November meeting of the Girl Scout Council was held Tuesday, November 18 at the home of Mrs. E. Readman of Blunk street.

Troop Makes Favors
As part of their second class badge requirements, the girls of Troop 14 made pine cone turkeys for a ward at Maybury Sanatorium.

The turkeys, which are to be used as favors on the trays of the patients on Thanksgiving Day, were made of pine cones and had pipe cleaner heads and legs and gayly colored cupcake container tails. A half of walnut shell was attached to a cardboard base along with the turkey so that the turkey could be "eating" a gum drop.

At their November 24 meeting Mrs. James Lyons, director of Girl Scout Day Camp, exhibited part of her collection of dolls. Many of them were from foreign lands and others were old fashioned dolls which had china or bisque heads. She also showed dolls made of yarn, corn husks, peanuts and pipe cleaners. Mrs. Lyons told the troop that they would be taught to make several of these dolls at Day Camp next summer and she also invited the girls to her home to see the rest of her collection.

Louise Spence and Betty Hosier are the troop leaders.

Service Bars Awarded
At a recent meeting of Brownie Troop number 17, the Brownie leaders Mrs. Wayne Rubey and troop members, entertained their mothers. At this ceremony members received their pins and service bars. Later the Brownies served refreshments to the guests.

New members who received pins were, Delia Bradley, Nancy Richards, Jeanie Schwartz, Gay Shirley, Karla Sonderegger, Sharon Sprague, Sue Terry, Ann West and Martha West.

Service bars were awarded to the following girls: Elaine Calahan, Barbara Gooch, Sarah Goddard, Nancy Houseman, Madelyn Johnson, Sheila Lorenz, Marsha Rubey, Ann Thorpe and Janet Witkowski.

Mrs. M. Terry, Mrs. W. Rubey and Mrs. J. West attended a troop committee training course at the Scout cabin on Monday evening.

Varied Agenda Discloses Joint Meet on Zoning

Planning Commissioners last Thursday announced a joint meeting with the City Commission—held Tuesday night—too late for publication in this week's edition of the Plymouth Mail.

Detailing the long-awaited meeting, Thursday, was City Clerk Lamont C. BeGole, also secretary for the zoning body.

"It is felt that a joint meeting between the two groups should be held to evaluate the proposed zoning ordinance," BeGole said, stating that such a meet would tend "to eliminate any possible objections City Commissioners might have."

He pointed out that the year-long efforts of the Planning Commission have resulted in an entirely new and revised proposed zoning ordinance. "It will have a tremendous impact on the future of the city both from the residential and industrial standpoints," he declared.

"All interested citizens will have ample opportunity to critically examine the proposed ordinance and participate in public hearings and discussions before both Commissions before final adoption," BeGole noted.

Already a "watchdog" group of the Chamber of Commerce is watching the proposed ordinance from a business-industrial point of view. Minor adjustments on industrial zoning have been made as a result of studies and discussions made between the groups.

"It is felt that this is one of the better, more flexible ordinances planning closely the community's future," BeGole said. He stated that other communities are already reviewing the proposed ordinance "with an eye toward incorporating some of its provisions in their own city-sponsored zoning laws."

Other Planning Commission business was also conducted at this same time.

Thomas O. Baker of Dearborn petitioned the city's Planning Commission seeking rezoning of his property at 1287 South Main street to Residential "B".

In a letter to city planners, Baker said he was seeking to "erect a multiplicity of dwelling units on the entire lot."

The petition was held over pending receipt of more specific information.

Before the final stamp of approval is placed on the rezoning request approval of adjacent property owners must be obtained, public hearings held and permission obtained from the Planning Commission and City Commissioners.

A preliminary report was also heard at this same time "on possible initiation" of a petition by local property owners seeking abandonment of Elmdale street between Sheldon and Garfield road. Persons seeking the abandonment claim that area of Elmdale is not used for through traffic. If the city waives ownership the "street" property would revert to abutting property owners.

FAST LOAN SERVICE AND NO WAITING when making payments on cars, appliances, FHA improvement loans as well as dealer purchases or floor plan "paper," keynote First National's Instaloo office opened just last week. A department of the Penniman branch, the office is newly located at 811 Penniman, formerly occupied by Davis and Lent. Staffing the office from left to right are: Mrs. Joyce Stevenson, Robert K. Baubar, assistant manager, Mrs. Lee Rambo, standing behind Baubar, and Mrs. Irene Rowland. In charge of the office is Manager Jack E. Taylor, assistant vice-president of the Penniman branch of the First National Bank of Detroit. The Instaloo office was opened "to give space relief for the Penniman branch's saving and commercial loan departments," says Vice-President Floyd Kehrl. Emphasizing "fast loans" and "no waiting," Mr. Kehrl states his office "would appreciate loan applications and payments for cars, appliances, FHA improvement loans and dealer "paper" made directly through the new office.

Leader-Dog Week Set to Help Blind Gain Social, Mobile Independence

that total darkness is certain to bring.

Just in case you're a little skeptical, here is what officials of the Rochester training school say: "Blindness isolates its victims. They cannot see to walk, eat, read, work or play as normal persons. They are often dependant on the kindness of relatives or friends to help them through the day."

"The blind man's restored mobility open to him a new world of freedom," these officials assert. "With his Leader-Dog he can go to a store, he can shop, he can board a bus and go across town, he can take a train across the country—alone."

But leaders in helping the blind reveal that there are thousands of blind persons who do not have Leader-Dogs.

The reason they point out is because only a few hundred dogs, can be trained each year because of limited training schools facilities and the high cost of the dog's "education."

Most Leader-Dogs, Fred L. Maynard, Director of the Rochester training school, says, are German Shepherds, German Boxers, and Labrador Retrievers. Collies and other breeds that measure up to the school's standard are also used, he notes.

Dogs must have size, good health, sound nervous systems, high intelligence, sense of responsibility, friendly disposition and even temperament, the director states. This is just the beginning of a training of Leader-Dogs that may exceed 18 months, costing $1,250.

Along with training the dogs, personnel at the Rochester school also train the blind. To be eligible for a Leader-Dog blind persons must be between 18 and 55 years old.

These students live under constant supervision during a minimum of four weeks of instruction. The training is the blind man's re-education emotionally and physically to "an entirely new way of effective living."

He learns how to follow the dog, obey its movement as the dog winds its way through hazardous traffic, over broken pieces sidewalk, hydrants and round curbs and through doors and other devices dangerous to the safety of the blind.

An average of eight years of freedom from travel dependence may be expected from every Leader-Dog — plus $150 from the blind and your contributions.

City Commended on Traffic Record

vehicles have risen from 1,472,311 to more than 2,500,000.

The award, part of AAA's annual nationwide Pedestrian Protection Contest congratulates Plymouth for its "excellence of pedestrian record and no pedestrian deaths during 1951." Last year the city received a similar award from the AAA for its perfect record in 1950.

"The results achieved and the recognition accorded your efforts should provide an incentive to keep up the fine program this year and in the future," Martin said.

Police Chief Carl R. Greenlee is also expected to attend the presentation.

Working Permit Forms For 1953 Now Available

Forms for working permits for 1953 may be obtained from Melvin Blunk, coordinator of the high school's Occupational Training Program.

Blunk warns all minors under 18 years of age seeking working permits for next year that signed forms requesting a working permit number must first be submitted to him.

Working permits for 1952 are effective until December 31. After that date, however, 1953 occupational approval numbers will be required before permits are issued.

Employers are cautioned to note that minor employees have validated working permits before employing underage persons.

Blunk can also be contacted by telephoning 895.

Working permit approvals for Wayne county will be issued by the State Labor Department's Detroit office, 1500 Cadillac Square Building, notes John Reid, commissioner of labor.

Deadline for Tax Exemption Affidavits Set for January 3

Persons seeking homestead tax exemptions were today warned by Acting City Assessor Kenneth E. Way to file their affidavits by the January 3 deadline.

Assessment exemptions are granted to disabled veterans of both World Wars, the Spanish-American War, the Philippine Insurrection, China Relief Expedition and widows of war veterans who have not remarried, as well as other war veterans.

Persons seeking the exemption, Way said, "must show my office pension checks as proof of their claims before they can be validated," stating that claims received after January 3 will "automatically be void."

He urged prompt return of the Homestead Exemption Affidavit that has already been mailed to persons who last year claimed exemptions on the basis of a service-incurred disability. He also urged any person who has a valid tax exemption claim, but has not exercised it, to file through his office where forms may be obtained.

Persons eligible for tax exemptions are allowed $2,000 off the assessed evaluation of their property, up to $7,000.

Final approval of claims rests with Wayne county.

Gelatine Presents Turkey Anew

Turkey left over from the holiday meal and cranberry jelly make a new and festive reappearance in a two-tone gelatine salad. Both layers of the cranberry turkey salad are prepared with unflavored gelatine, the kind that allows maximum enjoyment of natural flavors and colors. One envelope of gelatine combined with mayonnaise and left-over turkey makes a creamy layer, and the second envelope molds the cranberry jelly to supply brightness and tartness to the dish. Serve salad on cabbage slaw and surround with bread and butter sandwiches cut with turkey cookie cutter.

- |                                |                                      |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatine | 1 tablespoon lemon juice             |
| 1/2 cup cold chicken bouillon  | 3/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing |
| 1/2 cup hot chicken bouillon   | 1 cup diced cooked turkey            |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt              | 3 tablespoons minced green pepper    |
|                                | 3/4 cup diced celery                 |

Soften gelatine in cold chicken bouillon. Add hot bouillon and salt and stir until dissolved. Cool, add lemon juice and mayonnaise. Stir in turkey, green pepper and celery. Pour into large mold; chill until almost firm. While this mixture is chilling, prepare the following cranberry mixture.

- |                                |                                          |

- Soften gelatine in cold water. Dissolve in hot water, stirring thoroughly. Add salt and lemon juice. If desired, cut a 1/8-inch thick slice from jellied cranberry sauce; cut with scalloped cookie cutter; reserve for garnishing finished mold. Crush remaining sauce with a fork. Add to gelatine mixture; beat with rotary beater until smooth. Turn on top of first layer. Chill until firm. Unmold and surround with cabbage slaw. YIELD: 10 servings.

Hunters go Back to Woods For Weekend Doe Shoot

Open Season to Draw Largest Invasion of North on Record

Crossed fingers are the high sign as Michigan's first large scale "Any Deer Season" draws near next Friday. Hunters and game technicians are hoping for the best while half way expecting the worst. Probably more Plymouth hunters will be in the woods this weekend than at any other time since hunting started in Michigan. The "any deer" season means just what the term implies. During the last three days of the regular season, November 28-30 inclusive, hunters can take any deer in the north half of the lower peninsula.

Bucks, does, even fawns—all will be legal targets. It's a drastic measure designed to make a bad condition better. The bad condition is the demonstrable fact that there are too many deer in large areas—even whole counties—in the lower peninsula deer range. The consequence has been that many thousands of deer—an estimated 40,000 in one recent winter—have starved.

The condition isn't something that has come about overnight. It has been building up over a period of a quarter-century or more. In brief, what has happened is this: The herd never was large until woodsmen chopped down most of Michigan's trees. Deer don't have giraffes' long necks, and they can't get enough to eat when trees grow tall. In the first decades following the lumbering era when second growth trees were small, deer multiplied rapidly. But the new trees grew taller and the deer range shrank as intensive resort development materialized.

And the herd was in trouble as soon as the food supply started to dwindle. Areas in the north half of the lower peninsula where losses of deer from starvation have been heaviest include Oscoda, Crawford, Roscommon, and parts of surrounding counties, running north through Montmorency county into the southern edges of Presque Isle and Cheboygan counties and including the Pigeon River country in Oscoda county and, farther west, taking in the northern part of Newaygo county, all of Lake county, and running northward into Wexford and Manistee counties.

Michigan's deer are a valuable asset. They represent a good many million pounds of edible meat-on-the-hoof, they attract close to a half million deer hunters annually who spend a good many millions of dollars in their pursuit. What threatens the herd is a threat also to Michigan's economy. Michigan has been slow in applying standard farm practice to the control of its deer herd. No farmer who hopes to keep solvent will pasture more cattle in his fields than can find food there. But legislators, badgered by resort interests who believe with good reason that deer attract paying guests in summer and by soft-hearted citizens who shudder when the "slaughter" of does and fawns is mentioned, have been loath to approve measures designed to bring the herd in line with food supply.

Heavy starvation losses in recent seasons have forced the issue; legislators during the last regular session gave the conservation department limited authority to liberalize regulations to permit taking of "any deer" in a section of the state where the problem is most acute.

Fingers are crossed because bad storms during the three-day special season can reduce the kill and leave the herd little benefited, or because of so many deer might be taken that alarmists who fear for the herd's future may demand, and get, all-out protection.

By Carl Peterson

In case you've been too busy discussing the President's new cabinet or straightening out the affairs of the world over a chocolate malt, I'd like to remind you that the sound of bells in your head is not necessarily the overture to a mental crash. Christmas is coming this way like a chow hound heading for the mess hall. And if you want to dodge the last minute chaos of Christmas shopping... now's the time to buy those gifts. Remember what you said last year after going through the crushing counter campaign? Yup... next time you'd do it early. Well, it's early... and how's your shopping coming?

Best wishes for a very happy Thanksgiving. Enjoy your dinner, but don't overeat. A Cumberland, Maryland, man got up on the wrong side of the bed and fell out of a second-story window. Just as we've always said... some days it isn't worth getting up. The Holiday season is approaching quickly, and it's time to get that Christmas shopping done. Remember we have many fine toiletries and a wide variety of other things that would make excellent gifts. Come in and shop at PETERSON DRUG, 840 W. Ann Arbor Trail. Phone: 2080.

Society Packs Boxes

The ladies of the Dorcas Society of Seventh-day Adventists of Plymouth meet last week and packed a shipment of warm clothing for Korea in response to an urgent plea received from Reverend Henry F. Brown of Washington, D.C. leader of Dorcas Society—Welfare Work in America telling of the suffering and privation of thousands of persons in the war stricken area.

He pointed out that many innocent people suffer at a time like this and we are admonished to "visit the fatherless and the widows" and "when thou seest the hungry that thou feed him and the naked that thou clothe him," for this is the Love of Christ.

Church Receives New Members

Thirty persons were received into full membership at the First Methodist church this past Sunday, announced Reverend Melbourne Johnson, pastor.

Next Sunday all those persons who wish to present their children for the Sacrament of Holy Baptism, or those who wish to join the church by either Confession of Faith or Transfer of Letter may do so, he said.

For further information, call Reverend Johnson at Plymouth 1173.

Bible Society Bookmarks to be Distributed

The American Bible Society's annual Worldwide Bible Reading program will receive a boost Saturday, when Seventh-day Adventist church members visit homes in this city to encourage greater study of the Bible, according to A. J. Lock, pastor.

Church members will distribute bookmarks suggesting selected passages of Scripture for daily reading from Thanksgiving to Christmas, centered on this year's theme, "The Word of Life."

This marks the ninth year the American Bible Society has sponsored the plan to promote wider use of "America's unread best seller." Last year 14,000,000 copies of the bookmark were distributed. In addition the reading list was copied in at least 22,500,000 newspaper and magazine printings.

The idea began with a young Marine on Guadalcanal who asked his parents to join him in daily reading of identical passages in their Bibles. Since that time it has spread to 38 countries. This year for the first time the reading list has been issued in Braille for the use of the blind.

The daily habit of carrying a Bible in their shirt pocket has even been known to have saved several soldiers lives both in World War I and II as when hit by the bullet penetrated only part way through the "Book of Books."

A fitting window display at 1058 S. Main street this week will feature a Bible carried by John E. Johnson of the Plymouth church throughout World War II also other interesting things.

United Service at Livonia Churches

Protestant churches of Livonia will meet together at St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Fenkel near Inkster road, on Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock for a United Service of Thanksgiving. As they do, they will be observing the 331st anniversary of the first Thanksgiving worship, when Governor William Bradford summoned his chastened Plymouth colony to join together in rendering thanksgiving to God for all His benefits of the past year.

This annual community-wide service is sponsored by the Livonia Ministers' Association, with the ministers and people of Hope Chapel, Trinity Church of the Brethren, Elm Baptist, Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian, Newburg Methodist, and St. Paul's Presbyterian churches participating. All who would offer thanks to God on this Thanksgiving Day are cordially invited to share in this united service.

Commissioner to Speak Friday

Benjamin Oramas

Special guest speaker at the Salvation Army citadel on Friday, November 28, at 8 p.m. will be Commissioner Benjamin Oramas who has been an officer in the Salvation Army for the past 53 years.

Starting as a member of a brass band in 1893, Commissioner Oramas graduated from The Salvation Army Training College in Australia in 1899. After service in Australia, he was appointed to New Zealand in 1908; then, after two years, went back to Melbourne, Australia, where he was editor of the War Cry until shortly after the first World War began.

In the 1914-1918 War, Commissioner Oramas journeyed from Australia to Egypt with the Anzacs, and accompanied them to France. As an Army Chaplain, he was with the men when they were in the front line or resting, caring for the living and burying the dead, often under fire. He held the rank of Honorary Major, and is still on the Australian reserve list of Chaplains.

After serving for some time in charge of Salvation Army work in North China, with Headquarters in Peiping, he was appointed as Territorial Commander for the 11 Western States, U.S.A., and Hawaii, with Headquarters in San Francisco. Seven and one-half years' service in America was followed by an appointment which included the oversight of all Salvation Army work in Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda (and part of the time Alaska), during the whole of the 1939-1945 War period.

The Commissioner's last appointment was at the Salvation Army headquarters, London, England, as International Secretary for Canada, United States of America, West Indies, South America, Australia and New Zealand, and, at the same time, he was a charter member of the General's advisory council.

Roger Babson Says:

BABSON DISCUSSES WEATHER

Babson Park, Mass., November 26. During my recent trip through the Central West I heard much complaint due to the drought. Some sections of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas have not had a drop of beneficial rain for six months.

EFFECTS OF DROUGHT

Good pasture and good crops need sunshine and rain, as well as good soil and cultivation. Especially, without sufficient rain, the crops fail. This, in turn, means less feed for the cattle, hogs and other livestock, forcing them to market at lower prices. Furthermore, the longer a drought lasts, the more serious are the results.

Hence, everyone is asking: "How long will the drought last?" Statistics indicate that no one can answer with certainty. Some droughts last only six months; others have lasted three years. Due to the many recent fat years which the Central West has enjoyed, it is logical that a drought is now due and that it may last longer than we all hope. Certainly, our new President cannot make clouds; even scientists cannot make rain when there are no clouds.

CHANGING CLIMATE AND TEMPERATURE

Businessmen are not only watching the rainfall (or lack of it), but also the temperature. Whether traveling in the United States or Canada, people tell me that both the winters and summers are getting warmer. This is true with the exception of Florida, which is having cooler winters and more rain. Believing the above is a permanent change, some investment counselors are advising their clients to sell out their fuel oil businesses, woolen factories and even certain stores—but to invest in air conditioning, synthetic fibres and soft drink stocks.

While in Gloucester, Mass., last summer, I found the fishermen much disturbed because the fish had gone farther north and forced the vessels to go much farther north to fish. This they claim, is one reason for this. They claim, is one reason for the higher price of fish. In some places—off the coast of California—the fish have left altogether and scores of great canning plants are idle. Also, fish which heretofore were found only in southern waters are now being caught off New England.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS?

Without doubt the temperature of certain portions of the ocean has increased. This, however, does not justify the common belief that this change to warmer weather will be permanent. It is true that the mean temperature of the United States and Canada and adjoining waters has increased 3° during the past 100 years. But this is nothing for us now to get excited about. This 3° is not the cause of fish going north, nor a cause for you to change your business.

The changes in temperature from year to year which you, the cattle and the fish recognize are due to the changing winds. What causes these changes in the direction of prevailing winds is debatable. It may be supports, but I believe Gravity is the basic cause of the warm winds blowing over the Northern Hemisphere.

The fact that more cold winds are, at the same time, blowing over the Southern Hemisphere should interest every farmer in the study of Gravity. In the meantime, don't believe that we will not have more early frosts.

JESUS AS A WEATHER PROPHET

When discussing the winds with a famous weather expert, he referred me to Jesus' comments on the winds of 2000 years ago. In the Eighth Verse of the Third Chapter of St. John we find Jesus saying: "The wind bloweth where it will and thou hearest its sound, but dost thou know from where it comes?"—or a better translation is "why it comes."

Jesus discouraged His followers from depending upon the weather or other material things, urging them to "be born again"—this time to be born "of the spirit." This surely is the advice America needs today. Only by a spiritual rebirth can we forge ahead—as did the founders of our nation—irrespective of weather, stock markets, business or even foreign nations.

Packard For '53 Sees New Models Added to Market

The Packard Motor Car company last week introduced its 1953-model automobiles headed by an entirely new upper-priced line and a series of medium-priced vehicles.

Packard's return to the higher bracket models marks the first time in 15 years the firm has returned to upper-priced vehicles, known as the "Packard" models since their introduction. The medium-priced line are called "Packard Clipper".

Prices for the Clipper line will range from $2,534 to $2,795; the Packard line will carry price tags from $3,234 to $3,735 and will also include three custom models priced up to $6,900.

The new lines are the first to be brought out by Packard under the new company administration headed by James J. Nance, former head of Hotpoint, Inc., appliance manufacturing subsidiary of General Electric, said the new price schedule includes a couple of reductions of from $50 to $62. The company's pricing program, Nance said, was designed to "hold the line" on prices.

Price changes, he added, were made "in both directions on specific models."

The new Packard cars will offer power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission, air conditioning, more powerful engines and numerous other mechanical advances.

In the upper priced line, horsepower output has been stepped up from 155 to 180; on the Clipper Standard from 135 to 150. The horsepower increases, Packard reports, have been achieved through a redesigning of the combustion chamber in the cylinder head.

New on the 180-horsepower engine is a four-barrel carburetor designed to more evenly distribute fuel to the combustion chambers.

The contour styling which Packard adopted in 1951 has been retained for the 1953 models, emphasizing low hood and high fenders. The body silhouette has been altered and greater glass area has been provided in both windshield and rear window.

Packard once dominated the so-called quality car market, with about 60 per cent of its market.

Krachenfels Burk Rites Reads

Before an altar decorated with large baskets of white mums, Dorothy Jane Burk became the bride of Eugene Leo Krachenfels. Father Haney read the nuptial rites at St. Mary church on November 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan J. Burk are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John Hayes, and the late Herman Krachenfels.

A gown of ivory slipper satin made with a basque bodice, an illusion neckline and a "v" shaped waistline emphasized with chantilly lace was the choice of the bride. The long sleeves which ended in the traditional point over the wrist were edged with matching lace. A fingertip veil fell from a tiara of rhinestones and seed pearls. The bride carried a spray bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Joan Krachenfels, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length dress with a burgandy velvet bodice and a pink net skirt and stole. A picture hat of pink net and a colonial bouquet of yellow mums completed the ensemble.

Irene Hunt and Jennie Bedwell were bridesmaids. Their dresses were identical to that of the maid of honor in two shades of green with matching green picture hats. They carried colonial bouquets of white mums.

Jack Burk assisted as best man. Ushers were Tom Gray and Robert Postlewait.

Ann Thorne, Mary Ann Schmitter, and Jean Yester sang the "Ave Maria."

Mrs. Burk chose a street length dress of silver and blue changeable taffeta with rhinestone trim, black accessories and a purple orchid corsage.

Autumn brown silk with brown and white accessories and an orchid corsage were worn by the bridegroom's mother.

Following the ceremony there was a reception for 150 guests in the Knights of Columbus hall. Guests were present from Plymouth, Wayne, Northville, Livonia, Florida, Ohio, Lansing, Detroit, and Pennsylvania.

Leaving for her honeymoon Mrs. Krachenfels wore a powder blue faille dress, a winter white coat, black accessories, and a corsage of white roses.

After returning from their honeymoon, the couple will make their home in Plymouth.

Hints for Plymouth Homemakers

Mincemeat Cheese Cake Rates as a Meal in Itself

When you need more than a snack, and there's no time for a full meal, try Mincemeat Cheese Cake and hot coffee... a healthful, stimulating meal in itself.

There are some desserts whose function it is to put a finishing touch to a hearty meal, and there are others that deserve to be treated as the main course. In fact, they rate as a meal in themselves.

Just such a special dessert is this mincemeat cheese cake. The recipe introduces tangy, spice-laden mincemeat as an inspired flavoring, while fluffy cottage cheese ensures that unique cheesecake texture.

This dessert can truly lay claim to being a meal in itself, its main ingredient being a complete protein.

Because of its nutritional nature, seconds on mincemeat cheese cake are in order—as if anyone could resist, anyway—and it is seldom that anything so utterly delectable is as easy on the conscience.

Mincemeat Cheese Cake

Crust
 1/2 6-oz. package zwiebach, crushed (12 pieces)
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1/2 cup mincemeat.

Thoroughly mix crushed zwiebach, sugar and butter or margarine. Pat crumb mixture on bottom of 8-inch greased spring mold pan, reserving a few tablespoons for topping cake. Spread mincemeat over crumb layer.

1 1/2 lbs. creamed cottage cheese (3 8-oz. containers)
 1/2 cup mincemeat
 1/4 cup flour
 2 whole eggs
 2 eggs, separated
 3/4 cup sugar
 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Put cheese through food mill to break up large curds. Combine cheese, mincemeat, flour and 2 whole eggs. Blend thoroughly. Beat together 2 egg yolks, 1/2 cup sugar, lemon rind, salt and vanilla until very thick and light. Stir cheese and egg mixtures together. Fold in whipped cream. Fold in 2 egg whites beaten stiff with remaining 1/4 cup sugar. Blend thoroughly. Turn into prepared pan. Sprinkle top with reserved crumbs. Bake in a slow oven, 250° F., 1 1/2 hours. Turn off heat and let cake stand in closed oven one hour longer. Remove from oven and cool in pan at room temperature. Remove spring form when cake is cold. Makes 6-8 servings.

Sports story in the "Hopewell (Va.) News" explaining a proposed coach-to-quarterback radio: "The transmitter would send beans onto the field, where it would be absorbed by the gas."

Tipson Handling Frozen Poultry

Thaw poultry in the package on a shelf in the refrigerator; or, if time does not permit, at room temperature; or in front of an electric fan. The time for defrosting depends upon the size of the bird. Allow 6 hours per pound to defrost a bird in a household refrigerator and approximately 1 hour per pound to thaw at room temperature. Poultry may also be thawed, in an emergency, in cold running water, allowing approximately 2 hours.

When thawed, cook at once. Cook thawed birds like you would freshly dressed poultry. Poultry that is not thawed before cooking requires a longer cooking time and should be started at a lower cooking temperature, in order to give a uniformly cooked product.

For frying, dredge pieces of chicken in seasoned flour or crumbs. Brown pieces on both sides in a skillet with hot melted fat. When browned, cover and cook slowly over low heat until tender. Another method is to cook in boiling water for 20 minutes and then finish cooking and brown in deep fat (350°) for 10 minutes. Unless chicken is thawed there will be considerable spattering of fat and crumbs until it will not adhere to meat.

Wipe dry the thawed halves of broilers and brush with melted butter or fat if you plan on broiling poultry. Place on greased broiler rack, skin side down. Broil the chicken on the rack, 4 inches below the heat. Turn every 10 minutes, brushing with fat after each turning. Cook 40 to 60 minutes, until tender, according to the weight of the bird. Turn heat off, season and serve. Chicken may be left in broiler 10 minutes longer after the heat is turned off for further cooking.

To roast, remove the giblets from the cavity. Sprinkle cavity of thawed bird with salt, and stuff with a favorite dressing. Truss. Brush with melted fat. Place on rack, breast down, in a shallow pan. Roast in a slow oven at 325 degrees until tender. Baste with drippings or cover bird with cloth dropped in melted unsalted fat. Do not add water. Do not cover. If meat thermometer is used, cook to a temperature of 190 degrees.

Complete thawing is not required for fricassee chicken. Separate pieces; dredge in seasoned flour. Brown slowly in a small amount of fat. Place in a well-greased casserole, cover with hot milk or light cream, cover casserole, and bake in a slow oven, 300 to 325 degrees, 1 to 3 hours, or until tender.

Tamale Pie, Good Way to Use Meat Leftovers

If you have left-over cooked meat, you can make tasty use of it in tamale pie. You'll need 1 1/2 cups of the cooked meat, ground.

Start by stirring 1 cup of corn meal slowly into 3 cups of rapidly boiling water to which 1 1/2 teaspoons of salt have been added. Bring to a boil over direct heat. Then cover and cook for 45 minutes over boiling water, stirring the mixture occasionally. Cook 1 diced onion and 1 diced green pepper in 3 tablespoons of fat until the vegetables are tender. Remove them from the fat and add to the fat, the meat, and 1 1/2 cups of drained canned or cooked tomatoes, and chili powder and salt. Heat the mixture thoroughly.

Pour a layer of the cooked corn meal into a greased baking dish, add the meat mixture, and cover with the rest of the corn meal. Bake in a moderately hot oven for half an hour. Serve the tamale pie with a crisp green salad.

PERFECT PUMPKIN PIE

Pumpkin Pie time is here again, though we can't understand why such a favorite should know a season. Made up as it is with good nourishing milk and eggs, and housed in an energy-rich crust, it can play a mighty big part in rounding out the meal. Add to that its spicy goodness and you have a dish that's just plain "Good Eating".

Here's our recipe, to which you'll want to give your own little twists, no doubt, and the serving tricks your family likes:

GRANDMOTHER'S PUMPKIN PIE

2/3 cup sugar, granulated or dark brown
 1 slightly rounded cup of pumpkin
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 eggs, unbeaten
 1 tall can (1 and 2/3 cups) undiluted evaporated milk
 2 teaspoons cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon ginger
 1/4 teaspoon mace
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/3 cup boiling water

Combine first four ingredients, mixing well. Gradually add the undiluted evaporated milk. Mix together in custard cup or small bowl the spices, then stir in slowly the boiling water. Stir this into the pumpkin mixture. When well blended, pour most of it into a nine-inch pie dish lined with your favorite pastry. If this has been brushed with melted butter and chilled for a little while, under-crust soginess will be prevented in this type and in fruit pies.

Place on oven rack, slightly below the middle of the oven. Add rest of filling. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees, for 10 to 12 minutes or until the crust begins to brown, then reduce the temperature to 300 degrees, a moderately slow oven, and continue baking for around 40 minutes or until a silver knife inserted in the side of the filling will come out clean. The center of the filling will be somewhat soft but the heat of the pie will cause it to set while cooling. Cool on a cake rack, not in the refrigerator. This is a pie best served at room temperature.

Shoulder Butt Ideal For Small Family

A small family size roast—is that what you are looking for? A smoked shoulder butt is one answer for you.

This roast is the eye of the Boston butt (weighing from 2 to 4 pounds) which has been cured and smoked. It may be roasted the same as a ham. Place it on a rack in an open roasting pan. Use a roast meat thermometer if you have one. Insert it so that the bulb of the thermometer reaches the center of the meat. Leave the pan uncovered and cook without water in a slow oven (300° F.) until the thermometer registers 160° F. This will take from 35 to 40 minutes per pound.

Give this small roast a glaze the same as the ham. About 30 minutes before it is cooked, remove it from your oven and pour off the drippings. Mix 1/2 cup of brown sugar with 1 tablespoon of flour, 1/2 teaspoon mustard and 2 tablespoons of vinegar. Spread this mixture over the smoked butt and stick it with whole cloves. Place the meat back in the oven to finish cooking and for setting the glaze.

"Bridgeport Alcoholic Year Old Wednesday" read a headline in the "Waterbury (Conn.) American". The story explained that it was the birthday of an alcoholic clinic.

Try These Tricks For Making Fresh Applesauce

There are tricks to making even as simple and familiar a dish as fresh applesauce—if you want to save time and fine flavor.

If you are making sauce in quantity, cookery specialists suggest the following method to save time in peeling: Wash, quarter and core apples. Cook until soft in a small quantity of water in a covered pan. Put apples through a food press that removes skins easily and rapidly and gives a smooth sauce. If red apples are used, sauce made this way has an attractive pinkish tint from the peel. Add a few grains of salt and sweeten to taste while still hot.

The quantity of water used depends on the juiciness of the fruit and also on how thick you like your sauce. If you add too much water and then have to cook the sauce down, the flavor may be changed. By having the pan closely covered, you can use just a little water and cook only until the apples are soft. Even so, it pays to "watch the pot" and adjust the heat to avoid scorching.

Another way to make applesauce is to pare quartered and cored apples, cook as above, and, when apples are tender, crush pieces with a potato masher or stir until smooth. Add salt and sweeten to taste.

Early fresh apples usually have so much flavor of their own that the sauce needs no extra touches. But for variety, brown sugar or honey may be used for sweetening, or the apples may be cooked with raisins, a few whole cloves or a stick of cinnamon. Remove the cinnamon before serving.

If apples are very mild, cook with a little lemon juice for tartness.

Plymouth's commuting problem to the city of Detroit has been solved, for the present at least, by the action of the Pere Marquette in re-routing its famed "Sportsman" from Washington to Detroit so that it will pass through and stop in Plymouth each morning at 7:25 to pick up passengers for Detroit.

When writing to Plymouth soldier boys overseas and using the air mail for that purpose, use light weight paper, urges Postmaster Harry Irwin. He has been advised by the department in Washington that so heavy has become the air mail to foreign countries where American troops are stationed, that it has become essential as far as possible to reduce the weight of the mail being sent by air over the oceans.

Appointment by Mrs. Mildred Barnes, general chairman of the Plymouth city salvage committee, of Mrs. Walter Harms as divisional chairman of the "explosives" committee—the committee which collects fats and grease to be made into powder and other explosives—was approved at Monday's meeting of the City Defense Council.

Unless there is a change in present prospects, Plymouth workers who depend upon downtown restaurants for their breakfasts will soon find themselves standing in line to be waited upon. One downtown restaurant has already stopped serving breakfasts and there are hints that one other restaurant as well as the hotel may close their dining rooms for the early morning meal because of the employment situation as well as the delivery of supplies.

Plymouth's tin drive last Saturday was by far the most successful of any so far conducted in the city, reports from the various chairmen now indicate. In fact, City Manager Clarence Elliott, who checked the loads as they came into the city warehouse, stated that he believed there was probably five times as much tin collected in last Saturday's drive as on previous collections.

The sixth birthday of Lynn Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Becker was celebrated Saturday afternoon when several little friends joined him in games and dainty refreshments.

In honor of the 90th birthday of Lewis Holloway on Thursday of last week, Mrs. Merritt Crumie, a granddaughter, entertained at a dinner party for him. Covers were prepared for Mr. Holloway, his son, Dewey Holloway, and his grandson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Holloway of Ann Arbor.

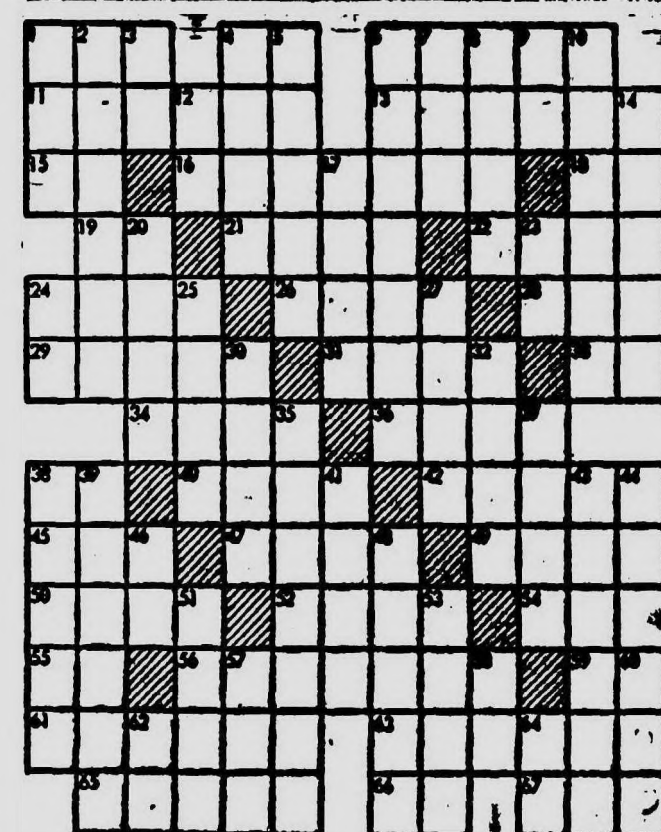

Mr. and Mrs. George of 1260 Junction avenue, are the proud parents of a six and a half pound baby girl, Janet Grace, born November 18. Both mother and daughter are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Beach, of 674 Auburn, announce the birth of a baby boy, born November 21. The baby has been named David Marshall.

Korea, Belgium, Netherlands, China, India, Italy, Mexico, Turkey, Philippine Islands, Newfoundland, Syria and Libon. In addition, all the girls wrote a note either to Sophie Nemeyer or Traudl Briens, the two German girls who attended Plymouth High school last year and were members of Y-Teens. These notes were placed in two big envelopes and sent to Germany.

From the "Pittsburgh" (Pa.) "Sun-Telegraph": "When Mrs. M. . . gave the signal, her husband and father burst into the office through a keyhole...."

Carvel Bentley Attends Meeting

Carvel Bentley, principal of Plymouth High school, traveled to Lansing on Wednesday, November 19, to the annual Freshmen-Principal Conference. Mr. Bentley interviewed personally all freshmen at Michigan State college, who have graduated from Plymouth High school, in an effort to determine whether Plymouth High school is adequately preparing its students for college.

Mr. Bentley then went on to Grand Rapids to attend the Annual Michigan Secondary School association meeting. Dr. Marie Rasey, Professor of Educational Psychology at Wayne University, gave the address in the general session Thursday evening.

Athletics was a subject of the meeting. It was an opportunity for high school principals to discuss problems, and policies. Consultants were called in from various colleges, universities, and high schools, both state and national, to help in the solution of high school athletic problems.

Thursday morning Delbert Oberteuffer, of Ohio State University, was the principal speaker at the annual Athletic Association meeting. Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson, Commissioner of the Western Intercollegiate Conference, also spoke.

Speech Class Presents "Day of Thanks"

The Plymouth High school speech class is preparing for a Thanksgiving play called "Day of Thanks" which will be taped and broadcast over the inter-communication system in the high school.

Those participating in the play are Bill Moore, Jim Isbister, Joanne Oliver, Larry Tillotson, and Dick Huebler.

Carl Kranish, Plymouth High speech teacher, is directing the play with Frank Taft and Bob Moran in charge of sound effects.

The Plymouth High school choir will also participate in the program singing vocal numbers.

Chips from the Rock

It sounds like a busy winter for Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Lewis who left Monday for their winter home in Bradenton, Florida. According to Mr. Lewis the first project on his schedule is to get his garden of table vegetables started then he plans on building a home on his vacant, next door lot. Needless to say his car was well packed with the tools of his trade.

Rain or no rain last week Farmer Wilford Bunea says he still is unhappy about the future of his wheat crop. In the first place he fitted 200 acres for the crop and because of the dryness he could only plant 125. Now he looks forward to the extra work necessary next spring planting the remaining 75 acres with the possibility of tearing up the 125 of wheat which he might have to plant to another crop also.

Cecil Packard was a visitor in Al Hubbs "private office" at St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor last weekend. Mr. Packard says the recuperating Hubbs looks fine and is making a good come back on the road to recovery from his recent auto accident.

To get a blow by blow description of interesting hunting items one only has to take a leisurely hour in any of the local barber shops. Your reporter learned that Herbert Malcolm got a spike the first day and that the afternoon their camp ran out of water they couldn't get their car started so cold coffee, a big pot which was on hand, quenched their thirst for about 30 hours.

Further he learned that Robert Lorenz got a nice buck hunting in the Otsego State park with Don Gray and Mike Spitz. Spitz should have had one too but nine shots from his cannon at a standing target not 100 yards away failed to score and the buck walked off wondering what all of the noise was about.

From the front seat in the barber shop show window your reporter also watched Dr. B. E. Champe and his hunting pardner, Russel (Shorty) Davis, drive up with two nice bucks and a 250 pound bear the latter shot near McMillan in the upper peninsula. They had intended spending another week in the woods but rain and warm weather drove them home.

The last observation to be made from this point of visitation was the new picture that hangs on the barber shop wall. It is a typical Mexican barber cutting the hair of a youngster in Mexico City. Curley Gray, who runs the shop recently returned from that city and said the Mexican barbers' way of doing business on street corners, equipped with only a hand clipper and pair of shears was most fascinating to him. He also mentioned, off the cuff, that hair cuts were only 40 cents in that far away land.

News of election bets still rolls in and one of the most interesting is the story of the "killing" made by Ted Box of Box Bar. Odd twist to Ted's picking like to win is the fact that, as a boy, Ted can remember going fishing with Harry Truman.

Wendell Lent of Davis & Lent Men's Wear has been boasting lately about his "international business." We just found out what he means. It seems that "Mort" Mortensen, formerly of Plymouth and a D & L customer, writes regularly for apparel. His last stop was Casablanca — now he's in Stephenville, Newfoundland.

Inch-by-inch, crawling, creeping five o'clock traffic at Main street and Penniman avenue intersection, moves past the town's biggest bottleneck. Traffic piles up for a block at the height of the rush hour. Verbal drip with venom from ordinary smiling countenances as the "clutch" foot trembles with an aching palsy. Horns bark in an impatient crescendo; briefly, motorists are getting mad. Maybe, now, city fathers should turn off the traffic light and put a traffic cop at the intersection. Too, maybe someone should get out there with a pick and shovel and push back the curbs.

No one knows the value of good eyesight better than Dr. Elmore Carney. He not only makes his living keeping vision up to par but prides himself on the fact that his own is better than usual and offers this proof. He says he probably shot the smallest buck ever taken from the woods at Mio and this was possible due to his 20-20 vision. Now it turns out he will probably win the smallest buck prize given by the Burley Service Station in their contest this year along with sighting and buying the winning ticket in an American Legion raffle at Mio which netted him the grand prize of a beautiful new 30-30 Winchester deer rifle. Some sight we'll say.

In the midst of every deer season, there is a group of Michiganers who deny the annual migration into the northland. While they have a valid criticism of the needless human deaths that occur from carelessness or accident, they seem to devote most of their denunciation to the "cruelty" of killing poor dumb animals.

Now rises George A. Petrides of the department of fisheries and wild life at Michigan State College.

"Wild game is a crop," he contends; "it should be harvested." In fact, he makes a strong case for the humanitarian aspects of hunting. "Every spring the breeding pheasants, quail, grouse, turkeys, ducks, geese, rabbits, squirrels and deer begin to raise families," he points out. "These young animals grow up during the warm months when food and weather are kind."

"By the time autumn comes, the original spring population of wild game has increased manifold. "But what is to happen to these animals? Are they to live happily through the winter and in turn all raise more families in the spring? In order to protect the species, only the hardiest are chosen to live to spring. The surplus animals are lost to starvation, freezing, predators or disease."

This is a wasteful process, charges Petrides. "Thousands of animals die every year," he points out, "and death by starvation or freezing is a cruel death."

There is nothing cruel about hunting, he contends. "As grains and fruits, timber and beef are harvested as gifts of nature, so the harvest of game is given us. Man lives by nature's laws; he lives or he dies according to whether he wisely uses the gifts, the resources, given him."

"The wise use of the game crop definitely includes the understanding that it should be harvested. As a renewable resource under proper management, the wildlife of America can always be with us and our children and their offspring."

Just how valuable a resource Michigan game is illustrated by some figures compiled by Charles Shick of MSC's department of conservation.

The value of Michigan's fur crop last year was greater than $2 million. Rye crops that year were worth $1.38 million.

Seventy-six hundred tons of wild meat went to Michigan tables in '51. Its value was more than $10 million (sugarbeets in '51 totalled $7 million) and it would provide food for a whole year for over 21,000 families of four persons each.

The cash value of fur and meat taken from Michigan woods last year was $12 million, enough to purchase a thousand average-sized homes at today's prices.

Hunting provides another great economic factor in Michigan life . . . the money spent by hunters and their parties.

There were 700,000 small game hunters, 400,000 deer hunters and 20,000 trappers. To that can be added the great army of tourists, picnickers, naturalists and photographers who simply enjoy seeing wild birds and animals.

Michigan farms can be mighty dangerous.

In the first eight months of this year, 35 people were killed in farm accidents. There were 603 serious mishaps and 14 persons were permanently disabled by them.

A hundred eighty-two were using unsafe methods; 39 didn't use safety devices which were available; 191 were hurrying so they grew careless and 33 were too tired to take proper care.

Farm homes aren't the havens we dream of them as. A hundred fifty-eight serious accidents occurred in rural homes; 270 at farm work.

While Houston and New Orleans have been waging a Deep South battle for the honor of being America's second largest port, Michigan just quietly ups and walks away with the title for the third straight month.

It was Detroit that brought the honor to our state. It handled dollar volume of imports and exports second only to New York City. During the first six months of this year, imports entering this country through the Motor City port were 1,483% greater than in 1933. Export trade in that same period, increased 1,132%.

It's probably no accident that the 21 largest cities in the United States are located on navigable waters.

More Michiganers vacation in Florida than in any other state except their own. It's been estimated that over 200,000 from Michigan visited Florida last year.

Look for demands upon the Michigan Legislature to revise that law which whacks up the cost of railroad grade separation. Typical is a Detroit case where 12 such grade separations are proposed. The five railroads involved would be assessed a total of $2.94 million compared to the public's cost of $16.66 million.

The Detroit Times puts the argument in a nutshell: "The taxpayer can't understand why he should pay huge amounts to keep out of the trains' way. It would seem more logical that the railroads pay the cost of keeping out of the taxpayers' way."

A Michigan survey shows that the average allowance for high school youngsters is $2 to $3 per week. It also shows that inflation-day rates for baby sitting and other teen age chores bring an average income of almost $10.

Michigan's Isle Royal is the only national park which cannot be reached by automobile. The National Parks Services of the U. S. Department of Interior has just announced that 96.5% of all visitors to national parks travel there by auto. Isle Royale's 2,370 visitors in 1951 came by boat or plane. That number is the smallest of any national park; even Alaska's Mt. McKinley had 8,634. Then comes Big Bend in Texas with 82,956 and after that all parks number visitors in six figures.
